Expect Higher Taxes, 'Key' Legislators Say

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — The two key men in the Legislature, House Speaker Mallory Horne and Senate President Wilton Carraway, said Monday that Floridians can expect higher taxes and a billion-dollar state budget for the 1963-65 biennium.

Speaking to the annual convention of the State Association of County Commissioners, Carraway said the upcoming Legislature must find additional state funds to meet educational, conservation, mental health and correctional institution needs.

"I wish I could tell you and all other people in Florida that there will be no new taxes voted by the 1963 Legislature, but I can't," said Carraway.

The Senate president promised to cut every frill and to do all he could to cut down expenditures in some fields. But, he said if the state is to keep pace with private business, "we must adjust the salaries of our public employes."

House Speaker Horne indicated that the budget for the 1963-65 biennium will top the billion-dollar mark for the first time. He also put in a plug for the proposed 46- senator, 135 - representative reapportionment plan facing voters Nov. 6.

Groundbreaking Set For College

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Board of Control today set Dec. 8 for ground-breaking ceremonies at the new Florida Atlantic University, expected to open for classes in the fall of 1964.

President Kenneth Williams said planning for the two-year university at Boca Raton was on schedule. He said a skeleton administrative-academic staff was being hired this year and department heads would be picked next year.

Flood Kills 'Thousands'

BARCELONA, Spain (UPI) — More than 1,000 persons were reported dead or missing today in the worst flood in modern Spanish history. Fresh rains threatened Barcelona province.

A spokesman for the civil governor's office announced that the flood casualty toll as of late this morning was estimated at 841 dead, 464 missing, and 836 injured.

A U. S. embassy spokesman in Madrid said that no U. S. citizens are among the casualties. Unofficial estimates put the total property damage at more than $25 million. The scene was catastrophic at Tarrasa and Sabadell, Spain's two biggest textile centers.

"This has ruined our textile industry," a textile engineer said. "I say he sadly surveyed the debris, mud and ruins which were once his factory."

Mayor Lawrence Swoford and City Attorney J. Sylvan Davis said their reception was very good, and the government officials agreed on the town's need for a municipal water system. The local men were urged to get the necessary papers into Atlanta as soon as possible, in view of the deadline for starting the installation which is rapidly approaching.

The city commission of Altamonte Springs discharged the previous fiscal agent who had been working on the revenue bond issue for nine months, and the possibility of rapid service out of Atlanta, after the recent stalemate, was, as Mayor Swoford says, "very, very encouraging."

The interest rate on the government loan will be 3 1/2 percent, as opposed to the 4 1/2 percent rate for private financing. "This in itself gives us every reason for bending all over efforts to do business with the Federal agency," said Swoford.

Board Hit On Purchases

The County Commission during a three year period made numerous purchases of pipe, culverts, chemicals and lumber in small quantities without competitive bids, an analysis of State Auditor Bryan Willis' report revealed today.

"The attorney general has ruled," the audit said, "that where materials and supplies needed in quantity can be reasonably ascertained in advance, then the board should comply with the spirit and interest of the law and purchase pursuant to bids."

Willis said at the end of the audit period from September of 1959 to 1961, the board began to call for bids on quantity purchases.

Centralized purchasing, fundamental to proper financial control, was not in use by the County Commission, Willis added.

Willis released a generally good report for the commission and most other county offices, noting however, that constables and justices of the peace failed to comply with all regulations for handling and safeguarding public funds. He said most of the constables and peace justices didn't keep balanced cash-books or use official pre-numbered receipts.

The report listed a $337 deficit in the accounts of tax assessor Mary Earle Walker as of Feb. 28, 1962, caused by charging some 1960 employee overtime work against 1961 expenses. It said the assessor repaid the money from personal funds on July 1, 1962. In an audit of the county commission for the 1959-61 fiscal year, Willis said the board's financial condition was good and financial management was good, with some exceptions. Property records were incomplete, Willis said.

Some travel vouchers did not contain enough supporting data for audit purposes, Willis said. He also reported that the board, without appropriate legal authority, au-

Execution Wave Ravages Cuba

United Press International Smuggled dispatches from Havana report a new wave of executions and arrests as Premier Fidel Castro moves to crush internal unrest under cover of world-wide attention on the massive Soviet buildup of arms and men in Cuba.

Informed sources in the Cuban capital said at least 75 persons have been shot down by firing squads in the past month and 28 others sentenced to long prison terms.

The specific charge against them: allegations they were plotting to assassinate Castro and other top government officials.

The new executions bring to more than 1,000 the number of Cuban victims of Castro firing squads since Jan. 1959. Estimates of political prisoners range as high as 150,000.

So far, the Cuban people have heard officially only of the arrest of five rebels in Havana's Miramar suburb, and the seizure of arms and documents alleged to involve them in a "counter-revolutionary" plot.

Pastor Gets Six Months
CHICAGO (UPI) — A pastor has received a six-month sentence for having sexual relations with a 17-year-old girl.

Pleas for probation by former parishioners failed to deter the sentencing of the Rev. Hiram B. Holdridge. He was suspended from his pastorate at the Logan Square Methodist Church after he confessed his relationship with the girl, saying it had begun when she was 13.

Evansville Municipal Court Judge James M. Corcoran, who passed sentence, called the case the "most shocking, repulsive and nauseating I have ever tried."

Duncan Takes Issue With Audit Report

Justice of the Peace W.H. Duncan today took issue with the report of State Auditor Bryan Willis on the condition of his office records as revealed Wednesday.

The local Justice declared he did not handle any public funds through his office whatsoever, and that he kept his financial records strictly in accord with the instructions given him by Willis when the State Auditor set up his books.

He also said, "The records concerning my dockets have always been kept according to law, and I will continue to do so. As for the $238 alleged shortage, if my books were not in balance when audited, nothing was said about it at the time."

Duncan denied any mis-handling of funds, and related that he handled no public funds through his office.

When contacted today, Justice of the Peace Thomas Moon, of Oriedo, said he had no previous instructions on keeping the required records, and he was "learning from scratch, this being my first term." He pointed out he was doing things as his predecessor had done them, and would make the necessary changes to bring the records into line.

Justice of the Peace Elmer Ashley was not available for comment.

Kennedy Gets Buildup Support

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy had full congressional backing today for whatever steps he considered necessary to deal with the Communist military buildup in Cuba, including use of U. S. troops.

The House completed congressional action on a fight-if-we-must resolution Wednesday. It cleared the House by a 384 to 7 vote. The Senate had passed it previously, 86 to 1. The few opponents contended the resolution was not strong enough.

The lopsided House vote did not indicate the strong criticism of Kennedy which preceded it. Many lawmakers, especially Republicans, said he was not being tough enough in handling the Cuban situation.

Moose Wives Hear Report On Convention

Reports on the State Moose Convention held in Hialeah last weekend were given by Chuck Poteat at Monday night's bi-monthly meeting of Sanford Lodge 1861 Moose Wives.

Sanford members attending the convention, which opened on Thursday and continued through Sunday, were Ole Sjoblom, governor of 1861, Chuck and Donna Poteat, Mrs. Edith Dixon, Bill and Lera Harris, Harold Patterson and Roger Crocker.

Jay Stosh, assistant enrollment director from Moosehart, Ill. and principal speaker for the four-day meet, gave the opening address on Thursday afternoon.

Poteat reported that the announcement stating that the Sanford Lodge was the first in the state to already meet its membership quota for the year was met with thunderous applause in congratulatory recognition.

A nationwide drive for new members is being staged by all Moose Lodges this year in celebration of the Order's Jubilee Anniversary.

In conjunction with the drive Poteat advised the wives that during the month of November any of their group credited with bringing about the enrollment of a new lodge member will become an honorary mayor of Moosehart and also will receive a copy of the Moosehart Choir's special Christmas Carol record.

Also of interest to the Sanford group was the announcement that the Degree Team from the neighboring Orlando Lodge won the State Ritual Championship Award.

Orlando's Marching and Drill Unit from the Women of the Moose, which performed here at the last Lodge Dance, also appeared for the convention.

Many sessions and study courses of interest for both men and women made up the daytime schedule and on Saturday night a Grand Ball was held in the huge ballroom at the Hialeah Race Track.

During the business meeting following Poteat's report, the wives planned to take Halloween treats and toys to the youngsters at the Methodist Children's Home in Enterprise and to see that each child in the hospital receives a toy on Halloween, celebrated by the Moose as annual Youth Day.

Results from the recent "bakelass" bake sale were given by Mrs. Jean Aul and Mrs. Myrta Akers, co-chairmen, who reported that a total of $48 made through the project will be turned over to the lodge.

The group also began tentative planning of the entertainment program for the next dance which has been scheduled by the lodge on Oct. 27. Final details for both the program and the dance will be announced.

Prior to the meeting, the group had dinner at Mrs. Appleby's Restaurant and enjoyed trying the new grapefruit sherbet.

Oct. 1-7 Set As Florida Eye Bank Week

All interested persons will have an opportunity to see the Eye Bank color film, "Boy in a Blindfold" Wednesday at the Mayfair Ballroom.

Admission is free to the film which illustrates how it is possible to transplant the cornea of a deceased person to the eye of a living person so that they may see.

Thousands of people who might have remained blind because of injury or disease have had their sight restored by means of corneal transplants.

An eye bank has now been set up in Sanford, through the efforts of the Ladies Auxiliary of the hospital and the Lions Club, in cooperation with the North Florida Eye Bank for Restoring Sight, Inc., at J. Hillis Miller Health Center in Gainesville.

The film will be seen twice in Sanford and once in DeBary during Eye Bank Week, Oct. 1 to 7. In addition to the showing Wednesday at the Mayfair the film will be seen at the noon luncheon meeting of the Lions Club at the Capri Restaurant. Members of the Pink Ladies have been invited to attend the luncheon "Dutch treat" and see the film at this time.

★ ★ ★ SHEBA Receives First Gift

The first pair of eyes donated to the new Seminole Hospital Eye Bank Association by an area citizen has been received, Mrs. Frank Woodruff, chairman of SHEBA, reported Wednesday. The donation of sight for someone was the gift of William Hibbard of DeBary, whose death set in motion the bequest he made recently, when by a pre-arranged chain of action Mrs. Woodruff was called into her first duty to deliver the gift of sight, sealed in special containers to the Florida Highway Patrol troopers.

The FHP troopers in a relay action sped the eyes quickly on their way to the J. Hillis Miller Medical Center Eye Bank at Gainesville, where two receivers were already quickly notified to be waiting and prepared for the surgery that will make it possible for them to receive their sight.

IN THE Outdoors

By JACK TRIM
There seems to be little joy among the outdoor types around here right now.

Fishing hasn't been too hot, hyacinths have walled up the Wekiva River and the best dove hunting area in these parts is up for a posted sign.

Undaunted by the temporary lack of everything, the Seminole County Sportsman's Assn. has called for a public meeting Monday to try to keep the section southeast of Sanford open for dove shooting.

The group's directors voted to rent the Civic Center and try to get as many people as possible to turn out and voice an opinion on the importance of keeping lands open for hunting.

They also voted to volunteer their assistance to the sheriff's department and wildlife officers in trying to protect landowners' rights and prevent violation of privacy and negligent shooting.

Some residents may not care particularly whether lands are available for hunting, camping, recreation, etc., or waterway facilities left available to the public and improved.

They make a serious mistake if they do not care. The way Florida's lakes, river frontages and lands are being turned into developments of various sorts, it won't be but a few years until boaters will have a hard time getting their craft into the water and campers, picnickers and others seeking a little fresh air and sunshine will have to sit in the back yard, if the lot sizes leave enough room for that.

Nature first attracted people to Florida, not anything man built and that still is the state's biggest income producer—tourism.

Continue to let that be eroded by closing of hunting areas, loss of ample places to launch boats and have a picnic and all that Florida has meant to millions will be a thing of the past.

Sure—a strong program of enforcement of game and fish regulations is needed to protect the rights of property owners whose lands become involved in this problem by virtue of location.

Sure—the careless hunter is to be disciplined. But he is not so much different from the careless driver, who might just be one of the people opposed to hunting, for all I know. The proper law should be applied in either case, because the rights of other people are violated by carelessness anywhere.

The Sportsman's Assn. has said it will pledge its 450 member organization, fired with new vigor this year in an effort to be of public service, to help enforce sportsmanlike conduct on field and stream. The association can be a factor in preserving and improving natural resources, but a lot of other people, including public officials, are going to have to help out too.

In the meantime, the dove season opens Oct. 6, with the hunters taking to the field legally at the stroke of noon.

About those other items I mentioned in opening—fishing has not been spectacular, but bass are being caught in spots and Jerry Warnke and Ben Howland brought home 19 last weekend and said they threw back that many small ones.

They just laughed when asked where they fished. Earl Evans and James McAlexander caught eight bass and 50 bream in Lake Monroe and said they have had good luck each time they've been out recently.

And—the Wekiva has been choked up with hyacinths banking against fallen tree limbs and brush, but there is a chance this will be remedied next week.

B. R. Law, head of a U. S. Corps of Engineers crew on a hyacinth eradication sortie in this area, said a new spray will be tested in the Wekiva starting Monday and another crew will be working in that river from the mouth of the St. Johns while Law's workers start at Camp Seminole.

Crooms Drops First Game

The Crooms High Panthers lost their first conference game of the season to the Ocala Wildbulbs.

The Panthers' squad was unable to reach pay dirt in either quarter, and threatened only once during the game.

The Ocala Wildbulbs, after a slow start, managed to start their passing offense clicking and moved to pay dirt three times to win 20-0.

Sure—the careless hunter is to be disciplined. But he is not so much different from the careless driver, who might just be one of the people opposed to hunting, for all I know. The proper law should be applied in either case, because the rights of other people are violated by carelessness anywhere.

'Bama, Buckeyes Top Choices

NEW YORK (UPI) — Alabama and Ohio State, who finished 1-2 among the nation's top college football teams last season, are listed as heavy favorites for their engagements this week-end.

Alabama, which opened its season last week with a 35-0 victory over Georgia, is picked to defeat Tulane by at least 17 points. Ohio State is a 20-point choice for its season opener against North Carolina.

Oklahoma, fresh from its 7-3 triumph over Syracuse, is only a 1-point pick over Notre Dame in their nationally televised "Game of the Week." The Irish, who will be making their 1962 debut, have lost only two openers since 1900.

Seminoles Prep For Apopka

There was no Miap this week as the Seminole High Gridders prepare to meet Apopka on the road this Friday night.

The Blue Darters sport a tough team this year. The Seminole coaching staff has been working on defense and offense but most of the time has been devoted to the defensive game. If the Seminole defense can hold up Friday night, the Seminoles will have no trouble. The offense has been up to par lately and is steadily improving with each day's work.

One boy that the entire coaching staff was well pleased with was little Jack Caolo. Caolo played offense and defense, the line and the backfield and excelled in all. Always digging whenever he had the ball, Caolo was always on hand when needed to relieve a regular back. A versatile man in the backfield, he plays either halfback or fullback with lots of skill. When the going got rough on defense last week, Pigott called on Caolo to play the line. Caolo rushed in to a guard position and promptly fell on a tumble to stop a sure score for the Seminole opponents. You can be sure that he will be right there when needed in the upcoming contest.

Regular quarterback Tommy Hinson should be in tip-top shape for the game, after a knee injury in the last tilt. There is a chance that number two quarterback Billy Lovelace might be dressed out for the first time against Apopka. Lovelace has been sitting on the bench for the first two games and is anxious to see some action Friday night.

Guard David McLean is a possibility to see action in Friday's tilt. McLean has been nursing a back injury for the last week and is another man who is needed in the lineup.

Also very valuable to the Seminole offense is David MacGillis. MacGillis has also been on the injured list for some time with an ankle injury which is steadily improving. Only light workouts have been facing the injured boys and the majority of them should be in top shape for the tilt in Apopka.

JV' Host Leesburg 11 Tonight

The Seminole Junior Varsity will be seeking their second victory in a row tonight as they play host to the Leesburg Yellow Jackets at Memorial Stadium. Game time is set for 7:30 p.m.

The JV's knocked off Seabreeze last week in a come-from-behind victory by a 12-6 score. Coaches Ralph Stumpf and John Colbert look for a real close game as the Yellow Jackets may be tough.

Agree To Bout

BLACKPOOL, England (UPI) — Brian London of Britain and Von Clay of Philadelphia will meet in a 10-round heavyweight bout here Oct. 11. London defeated Howard King of Reno, Nev., at Blackpool last month.

Brave New World

Seminole County's acceptance of the brave new world of the '60s has been adequately demonstrated by the response of the citizenry to the proposal to build an air-conditioned school for English Estates, in the south end of the county.

Supt. of Schools R. T. Milwee says, "We have been greatly encouraged by the response from citizens outside the school activity, on the possibilities of the program."

The school board is in the business of producing educated children within the limits of their purview, which, at present is the 12th grade. To do this properly, they must have the finest tools available for the performance of their task. Anything less would be a compromise.

Surveys, taken nationally, have demonstrated beyond any doubt that the air-conditioned school is not only a more efficient item of equipment, but also, that it is less costly to construct and has greatly increased usefulness to the community due to its year-around capability.

Here, in the reasonably subtropical zone, it means, for one thing, that summer school sessions will have a productivity unknown in non-climate controlled buildings. No longer will Johnny have to sit and study with the sweat dripping from his forehead, but now his attention span will be greatly increased and his desire, also.

Nationwide, the response of teachers to the new type schools has been one of unqualified approval.

They can work more efficiently, and with the increased response from the students they are able to teach more and cover more work in a given period of time without danger of mental rebellion by the pupils.

In the business of education the important point is to do the job as efficiently as possible, from the standpoint of the teacher and the student. Anything that increases the efficiency of both has a definite place in the educational scheme of things.

A much stressed point in the literature on the subject of air-conditioned schools is economy of construction and maintenance.

Because of reduced area occupied by a climate controlled building, much less has to be paid for land on which to build.

The new structures are much more compact than formerly. This is especially true of Florida, where state law has defined the type of building that can be considered. The non-air-conditioned school must be of the familiar "finger" layout, but this is not so for the new schools with conditioned air.

It is also true that a combined heating and air-conditioning unit can be purchased and installed for no more cost than for a conventional heating unit, needed for the "finger" type building.

This newspaper wishes to go on record as heartily in favor of the new "bold step into the future" taken by the Seminole County school board.

Helen Fuller Says

New York Needs A Kennedy

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Helen Fuller, former managing editor of the New Republic, analyzes for The Herald the results of the Massachusetts Democratic primary and the forthcoming congressional elections.)

By Helen Fuller
Herald Correspondent
WASHINGTON — After Massachusetts, it seems safe to suppose the President of the United States must feel that instead of "too many Kennedys in politics" there are still too few. If only he had another brother to give to the voters of New York as an alternative to Nelson Rockefeller, he may wish. Or another to offer to the voters of Michigan as their governor in place of Republican George Romney this year for the moral of the Massachusetts primary seems to be that Democrats like to vote for people named Kennedy. And there are more Democrats than Republicans in the country as a whole according to the polls.

There are those in Massachusetts who think that the issue of "dynasty" will yet rise up to plague the President when it can hurt him most—when he runs for reelection in 1964. Rockefeller might use that charge to good effect. Egghed friends of JFK at Harvard and MIT worked against his brother Teddy to "protect the President from himself," they explained. Democratic senators privately admitted they were rooting for Teddy's opponent because they feared having the President's little brother in position to tackle to him the private affairs of the Senate "Club." But the public evidently thinks differently—at least in Massachusetts.

Even Teddy Kennedy, it is reliably reported, was surprised, by the 2-to-1 trouncing he gave Edward McCormack in the September 18 senatorial primary. The youngest Kennedy made full use of "the power of money and meretricious political pressure," to which Republican National Chairman William Miller attributes his victory. There was money and organization wall-to-wall in the Kennedy campaign. And Teddy proved a strong and effective campaigner.

There are other facts the White House prefers to ignore. Kennedy did not help Democratic candidates for Congress in 1960 even when his name was on the ballot as it will not be in November. In 411 of the 437 districts in the nation he ran behind the winning candidate for Congress. The 191 Democrats elected to the House of Representatives received 5 per cent more votes in their districts than JFK.

In many areas the religious issue cut much more ice in 1960 than it will in 1962. But still history will be against Mr. Kennedy as he lays his Presidential prestige on the line in this year's election contests.

Pot Luck Supper Set By Village Civic Group
By Mona Grinstead
Plans for a pot luck dinner for the North Orlando Civic Assn. were completed at a meeting of the executive board last week.

The dinner, for members and their husbands or wives, will be held at the Community Building in the North Orlando Recreation area on Oct. 6 beginning at 6 p.m. A small program of entertainment is being planned and some lucky person attending will be in for a happy surprise.

Those wishing to participate are asked to bring a covered dish and a beverage and to "come as you are for a happy-go-lucky evening."

First railroad west of the Alleghenies was at Toledo, Ohio.

McCormack undoubtedly threw sympathy votes to his opponent when he made slashing personal attacks on the youngest Kennedy in their joint TV debates. There is little doubt, however, that the Kennedy name was the secret of Teddy's success. With more than the total vote of his two opponents in the Republican primary Teddy can almost certainly be addressed as "Senator" right now.

But having run out of brothers to give to his party, how can the President work more miracles for the Democrats in November? Can he assure the election of others of his party merely by identifying himself with them? The record of the past suggests that the answer is no.

"History is against us," the President himself says. He is referring to the fact that the party in power customarily loses seats in Congress between Presidential elections. Historically, the 1962 elections should cost the Democrats 30-35 seats in the House of Representatives.

With the single exception of 1934, the peak year of FDR's popularity, the party in power has lost Congressional seats—an average of 38 in the House—in the off-year elections of the last 30 years.

For awhile early this year talk around the White House was of overturning this tradition completely. The administration would win seats in 1962, not lose them, was the confident claim. That hope was rooted in the high popularity rating the polls were giving to the President; and in the effect his personal campaigning had produced in several special elections last year.

In New York City, New Jersey, and in one district in Texas where Kennedy went in to help in 1961, all three of the Democratic candidates won. On the basis of that record and the dire need of the Democrats for votes for their programs in the Congress, the President is booked to appear in a multitude of Congressional districts in the next six weeks.

To what effect? There are other facts the White House prefers to ignore.

Peter Edson Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — The 202-to-197 vote by which the House of Representatives approved the compromise Food and Agriculture Act of 1962 gives a good indication of how big and close an issue the farm problem will be in this year's congressional election.

It will be strictly a party line battle. Only two Republicans supported the program put forward by President Kennedy and Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman. The opposition came from 160 Republicans and 37 Southern and big city Democrats.

Republicans may claim they won a big victory in that the legislation finally approved is only a small part of what the administration wanted and started out to get early this year.

But before taking this action the House definitely killed off by a 165-to-104 vote a GOP effort to go back to the Benson plan of a $1.05 support price on corn with unlimited production.

The new legislation will in effect set up support prices of $2 a bushel for wheat, $1.50 for corn, including an 18-cent-a-bushel bonus payment in kind for farmers who cooperate with the program and stay in compliance on production controls.

So for the long haul, the administration is getting a good start on its program. Its two-price, certificate plan for wheat production will go into full effect for the 1964 crop. The temporary feed grain program now in effect is extended for another year. A long-range program will have to be considered by Congress next year.

There is nothing in the new legislation on cotton or dairy products. Both will have to be taken up by the next congress. But there is a definite start on the "land use" program which Freeman proposes, to take 80 million acres of cropland out of production by 1970.

The new program will provide assistance loans and grants to local communities to convert unneeded acreage to recreational and other non-farm uses.

The Democratic reply to these charges is outlined in a letter which Freeman sent to all members of Congress as a reply to the Farm Bureau attack on him and his program.

Freeman maintains that the 1961 feed grain program has reduced government stocks by 400 million bushels; saved the government $200 million in storage and interest costs; increased farm income by $1 billion. Farm Bureau President Shuman charges that this program is a failure.

The administration counters that the program has been far more successful than was anticipated. If it is equally successful for the full 1962 and 1963 crops, it is predicted that United States feed grain production may be brought into balance with demand.

Freeman denies that his wheat program is the Brannan plan. He says it is essentially the same program which Congress approved in 1956 as a domestic parity plan. He says the voluntary wheat program in effect for 1963 only is similar to this year's wheat stabilization program, which he expects to reduce wheat stocks by 150 million bushels, saving millions of dollars.

recreational and other non-farm uses.

So the new farm legislation is by no means a defeat for the administration, even though Congress did kill the full program on the first round by another close 215-to-206 vote three months ago.

The pressures on Congress to keep it killed in the last battle was terrific. American Farm Bureau President Charles B. Shuman used all the influence of his 1.8 million-member organization that he could muster to defeat the watered-down, compromise version which the House finally passed. Leaders of both parties agreed in advance that the Senate would also accept this bill.

Farm belt Republican candidates are nevertheless expected to go into the campaign charging that the new legislation provides for regimentation of American agriculture on a scale never before attempted. It is being branded as a new Brannan plan.

The Republicans are also expected to get considerable campaign mileage out of references to the Billie Sol Estes scandal.

The Democratic reply to these charges is outlined in a letter which Freeman sent to all members of Congress as a reply to the Farm Bureau attack on him and his program.

Freeman maintains that the 1961 feed grain program has reduced government stocks by 400 million bushels; saved the government $200 million in storage and interest costs; increased farm income by $1 billion. Farm Bureau President Shuman charges that this program is a failure.

The administration counters that the program has been far more successful than was anticipated. If it is equally successful for the full 1962 and 1963 crops, it is predicted that United States feed grain production may be brought into balance with demand.

Freeman denies that his wheat program is the Brannan plan. He says it is essentially the same program which Congress approved in 1956 as a domestic parity plan. He says the voluntary wheat program in effect for 1963 only is similar to this year's wheat stabilization program, which he expects to reduce wheat stocks by 150 million bushels, saving millions of dollars.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Mary's breakdown came because she had tried to stuff all love and affection except toward her parents. Then, she did not have the diversity of emotional roots that would carry her through a storm. So send for the booklet below and insure your children against insanity. Schizophrenia grabs thousands of brilliant teenagers every year.

CASE N-440: Mary X, aged 20, is the beautiful coed who had to leave college for a mental sanitarium.

Shock treatment served as the psychiatric aspirin to relieve her problem temporarily. But once per year she'd burst out with: "Mother, take that dog away from me."

This was the psychiatric "sura" that preceded another breakdown, so her parents would then return her to the sanitarium.

After a few weeks of additional therapy, Mary would go home, apparently quite normal. But it wouldn't last more than a year or so.

For the basic cure of Mary's dilemma was not touched by the shock treatment.

If you have a headache due to astigmatism, then aspirin may mask the pain temporarily.

But aspirin does NOT correct the astigmatism. So the real cure for your headache must be a visit to an eye doctor for properly fitted glasses. So it is with Mary and all such cases. Intensive psychoanalysis may be required to uncover the basic difficulty.

Mary was an only child of socially prominent parents. Her mother was active in society. And her father was a prominent doctor, who had expected a son.

So Mary sensed from childhood that she wasn't exactly wanted.

To win more attention from her parents, she hit on the idea of being an honor student. For if she brought home straight "A" grades, they praised her.

So Mary became a bookworm. And resolved to become a physician, too, which meant intensive study of chemistry, physics, math, and other tough courses.

To keep up her "A" ranking, she shunned social affairs and dates, so she didn't develop the diversified emotional roots that most young folks sprout.

Figuratively, therefore, Mary carried all of her emotional "eggs" in one basket. She lived primarily for more affection from her parents.

In college, too, she launched upon the tough pre-medical course. So she shunned dates with college boys, shutting herself within her shell.

But her normal physiology made her crave romance. Had she dated a few boys and experienced their good night kisses, she might have developed enough extra emotional roots to remain sane.

But she was like a tree with only one root, which can thus be blown over in a severe windstorm. It takes many roots in all directions to make a rugged tree.

That's also one reason why you high schoolers should not "go steady" for you need a wider emotional range in the teens to give you adult stability.

Mary finally experienced a temporary and unnatural erotic episode. That produced a severe guilt reaction and in the resulting conflict, she broke down and suffered a split personality (schizophrenia).

So will you parents please insure your children against insanity? The first step is to realize that insanity is a flight from an apparently cruel, forbidding or loveless environment.

People do not run away from pleasure! So show your youngsters you love them. Hug them occasionally. Kiss them goodnight. Have more family camaraderie, as at shows, picnics, hikes, vacation trips.

And send for my booklet "How to Prevent Insanity and Nervous Breakdowns," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 4-cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Phil Newsom Says . . .

Promises, Promises!

UPI Foreign News Analyst
For years the people of the Soviet Union have been torn between the pie-in-the-sky promises of Soviet leaders and the hard realities of a life short on everything but spunk.

Another of those hard realities hit them this week with the announcement that promised income tax cuts had been postponed "until further notice."

These cuts, first announced in May 1960, were to have been carried out over a five-year period until all personal income tax was abolished.

In July 1961 the Communist newspaper Pravda published a new program. It promised:

"In the current decade 1961-70 the Soviet Union will surpass the strongest and richest capitalist country, the United States, in production per head of population; the people's standard of living and their cultural and technical standards will improve substantially; everyone will live in easy circumstances; all collective and state farms will become highly productive and profitable enterprises; the demand of Soviet people for well-appointed housing will, in the main, be satisfied; hard physical work will disappear;

the U.S.S.R. will become the country with the shortest work day."

Within the same 10 years, the program promised increases of 150 per cent in both industry and agriculture.

To achieve the highest living standard in the world, the Soviet planners not only promised to abolish income taxes but to lower retail prices as well.

Not even a year later, in June, 1962, the government hiked meat and butter prices 25 to 30 per cent.

When in 1960 Khrushchev announced his tax cut, he also revealed how poorly paid most Soviet workers are.

Most, he said, earned less than $100 per month. Before this week's postponement, taxes already had been abolished on incomes up to about $45 per month.

The postponement blamed the postwar boom on the "aggressive schemes of imperialism."

The truth of the matter seemed to be, as Khrushchev has indirectly admitted, the Soviet Union cannot afford both guns and butter.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and am having mother trouble. I am treated like a slave around the house. I have to do all the dishes and clean my room thoroughly every day. I am made to hang up all my clothes the minute I take them off. What are mothers for anyway? Once I decided not to do anything right, hoping my mother would get disgusted and do it herself, but she made me do it over again. Now I have to look after my brothers because the doctor said my mother needs more rest. I have my school work to do and would like to get out of the house to be with my friends once in a while. My mother reads some letters out loud to me from your column. Please be on my side so I can read your answer to her.

SLAVE
DEAR SLAVE: I'm afraid this is another one your mother is going to read out loud to you:
Anything you can do around the house to lighten your mother's burden, you should do willingly. You are getting excellent training in house-keeping, personal neatness and child care. Appreciate your mother and her efforts to make a tidy, well-organized young lady of you. You will never live long enough to repay her. And unfortunately, neither will she.

DEAR ABBY: Our Daddy is in his second childhood. He is 51 and the woman he is dating is 23, and people are talking. We are two sisters, 24 and 27, both happily married. Mamma died two years ago. We don't object to Daddy's seeking companionship, but don't you think he could find someone nearer his own age? Could he be mentally off? We are too embarrassed to discuss this with our pastor.

CONCERNED
DEAR CONCERNED: Perhaps your Daddy is a "young" 51 and the woman he's dating is a mature 23. When two "grown-up" people are mutually attracted, age is only a number. Be glad your father isn't camping on your doorstep, moping and growing lonelier and more miserable with the years.

DEAR ABBY: I am 12 years old and all my life I have wanted to be a doctor. My only trouble is I can't stand the sight of blood. I get sick at my stomach just looking at the needle the doctor is going to give me a shot with. I can't bear to put a fish hook through a worm and I get weak in the knees when I watch my father clean fish. Does a person outgrow this feeling or do you think I ought to teach school?

BRUCE
DEAR BRUCE: You'll never know until you try. Take biology in school. If you can dissect a frog without getting jumpy, you've outgrown it.

Highlights

7:30-8:30 p. m. (CBS) Mr. Ed. (Season Premiere). The popular talking horse and his sidekick, Wilbur (Alan Young), start the new season in their new time slot with a fairly funny little story about Wilbur's feigned amnesia. He is trying to get medical advice on how to treat the ailment without revealing that Mr. Ed is the real victim. Conni Haines, Larry Keating and Edna Skinner.

7:30-8:30 p. m. (NBC) Wide Country. "A Guy For Clementine." It's hard to say who is more enjoyable, Joyce Bull-fant as a determined young lady looking for her long lost dad to attend her wedding, or Noah Beery as the nomad rodeo rider who broke the halter the only time he was roped. Mitch and Andy try to help them get together, but only add to the confusion. Earl Holliman and Andrew Prince star.

7:30-8 p. m. (ABC) Ozzie and Harriet. "Rick and the Maid of Honor." The 11th season for this old-timer gets its start tonight with story about Ricky's brush with matrimony. He serves as best man at the wedding of a friend and finds the maid of honor scheming to elevate both Ricky and herself to places nearer the minister. Roberta Shore is featured with Ozzie, Harriet, David and Ricky Nelson.

8-9 p. m. (CBS) Perry Mason. "The Case of the Bogus Booky." The sixth season starter for this series concerns itself with a profitable business in books—counterfeit first editions. Maurice Mason has the shortlived role of the bookbinder who is murdered. This puts Perry on the trail of his activities when he takes the case of the pretty emphysema accused of the crime. Phyllis Love and Adam West are featured with Raymond Burr, Barbara Hale and William Talman.

8:30-9:30 p. m. (NBC) Dr. Kildare. "Gravida One." The new season for this series bodes very well if this debut is a criterion of what is to follow. An excellently presented story starring Patricia Barry as a middle-aged woman who gives both Kildare and Gillespie many an anxious moment over her deep-rooted fears that she is too old to successfully deliver her first baby. Richard Chamberlain and Raymond Massey star.

10-11 p. m. (NBC) The Andy Williams Show. Color. Premiere. There are some production shortcomings to be ironed out, but Andy Williams will fit as comfortably as an old shoe in his new series before long. He's warm, relaxed and his singing is excellent. To be honed for sharper effect are two running features of the show: Andy's ad-lib session with the studio audience and his "hometown" setting with assorted characters. Otherwise, the show is fine with good assists from guests George Gobel and Peggy Lee, plus novel choralizing by another regular feature of the show, the new Christy Minstrels.

10-11 p. m. (CBS) The Alfred Hitchcock Hour. "Don't Look Behind You." Almost unbearable suspense in this well-conceived thriller. An unknown killer maniac is running loose on a college campus. A young psychology professor (Jeffrey Hunter) sets out to trap the killer, and proactively urges his fiancée (Vera Miles) to be the bait because she's already marked as the maniac's next victim. Both stars are good, but Abraham Sofaer, as Dr. McFarlane, commendably matches their acting prowess.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

The tension on the last day of the World Championship Match was reflected in the results. We picked up 12 International Match points when the usually conservative Italians allowed themselves to be stampeded into a horrible five-diamond contract.

The bidding in the box shows how they got there. The American West's four club bid gave them a problem and they went wrong.

Also, the American defense was perfect. West opened the queen of hearts and shifted to a high club. North might have saved something from the debacle by ducking, but he could not see the eight card club suit and played his ace. East ruffed. East cashed the ace and king of hearts and led another one. South ruffed high, drew trumps and eventually went after the spades. Since East held both the king and jack there was no way for South to avoid losing to both of them and he was down four tricks for minus 700.

At the other table West opened with three clubs. North doubled and South bid three diamonds which became the final contract. The defense went the same way so he was down two for minus 100 and a net gain of 60 points or 12 IMPs for America.

We The Women: By Ruth Millet

Somewhere I read about a new gadget designed to keep the post-card-writer traveler from getting writer's cramp. With this little invention you can write several post cards at one time, instead of writing a separate message to everybody on your list.

It ought to work just dandy. After all, nothing much of a personal nature goes on a post card. And the average traveler could probably easily separate his post card list into a few groups.
There are his gourmets about the marvelous little restaurant he just happened to find or who will be impressed to learn that he dined in a really famous restaurant.

There are his nature-loving friends who will want to hear about the scenery.
There are the friends who share one of his hobbies who will want to hear about the beautiful antique he is bringing home, or the rare coin or stamp or the marvelous picture he has taken along the way, or whatever.

There are his party-minded friends who will want to hear about the night clubs he has gone to, and so on.
So with friends and relatives carefully divided into such groups, this gadget for writing a number of post cards at once should enable the weary traveler to make short work of the chore.
If he doesn't want to go to even that much trouble he can send them all the usual "Having wonderful time. Wish you were here. See you soon."
Since that is the message that 9 out of 10 post cards carry, anyway—why not turn them out in quantity,

Circle Sponsors Supper Tonight

A "Covered Dish Supper" for members and friends of the Congregational Christian Church was discussed Monday evening when the Ethel Best Circle met in the Fellowship Hall for their regular meeting. The circle will sponsor the supper and it is scheduled for today at 6 p.m. in Fellowship Hall. Serving as chairman for the circle will be Mrs. Maurice Corbett and Mrs. Harold Herbet.

Miss Ruby Booth gave the devotional and sunshine reports were given by Mrs. Ben Alfred. Cards and flowers have been sent to several of the members. She also suggested that members shower Bonnie Howard with cards. He is recovering from a bicycle accident and is still confined to the hospital, Room 818.

The Bible lesson for the evening was taken from "Bible Break" by Martha Graham, suggesting that people keep two Bibles, one in the kitchen and have a "Bible break" during the "coffee break."

Mrs. Helen Remus thanked the ladies for their help in making the reception for Rev. and Mrs. Walter A. R. McPherson such a lovely affair. Special thanks went to Mrs.

Walter Bethen for the following ode that she personally wrote in the guest book for the honored couple.

"Having you dwell among us, Fill our hearts with cheer, Greetings, welcome to our midst, We're so happy to have you here.

The paragon awaits you, The pulp and the press, Your acceptance of our call, Was the most joyful of all news.

Welcome to our friendly throng, And may we forever prove, That our doors are always open, To friendship and to love."

Mrs. Earl Moxley will be hostess to the next regular meeting, Oct. 3, at the Fellowship Hall. Refreshments of pink lemonade, angel food cake layered with pink and green ice cream, and mints were served by the hostess, Mrs. Gus Schmah to the following members:

Mrs. Ralph Louising, Mrs. Clyde Stinson, Mrs. Norma Cook, Mrs. Dale Van Dusen, Mrs. Robert Getman, Mrs. Oscar Zitrower, Mrs. Edward Simpson, Mrs. Edward Woods, Mrs. Bethen, Mrs. McPherson, Mrs. Corbett, Miss Booth and Mrs. Herbet.

Since coming to Sanford in April of 1960 she has become a member of the Jacaranda Circle and of the Sanford Art Association, serving as treasurer and presently as secretary.

Her hobbies of gardening and art are apparent from her affiliations and she is also an accomplished organist and enjoys playing, in addition to gardening and painting.

Mrs. Frissel is the mother of Floyd Richards, principal of the Lake Mary School and has two grandchildren, Sandy and David. She makes her home at 403 San Marco Ave.

MATHILDE FRISSEL

There are going to be some very young skaters in the show, posing as bunnies and squirrels and two of the cutest little "bluebirds" you ever did see.

THE FIRST THING that strikes the observer about the group of paintings now being exhibited at Senkarik's by Beth Gregory is the rich, glowing color.

Rich and royal blues, verdant earthy greens, glowing gold, deep gashes of red, warm, husky browns, mingle and swirl, accented with highlights of sparkling white.

The whole array of paintings now gracing the north wall of Senkarik's Paint and Glass Store, are almost overwhelming in their intensity.

My eyes kept returning to the "Spring Capers" scene, noting the depth and perspective from the foreground to the cabin on the hill. The sense of action as the boy tries to make the old cow go and the mother waves her arms, shouting instructions to both children, the sunlight and shadows, the woods behind the cabin seemed to open a forgotten childhood door somewhere.

The painting of the squirrel sitting on the palmato limbs is so lively you can hear the noise he makes as he crunches away on the fruit he's holding in his paws.

The boys playing marbles also seem to be caught up in mid-action, as do the Mardi Gras revelers.

True to her habit of suggesting action and movement in a picture, Mrs. Gregory even has busy people in her snow scene, which looks like a Christmas card in its gift frame.

Billhimers Enjoy Two Vacations

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Billhimer have returned home after a two-part vacation. At the end of August they attended the Southeastern Shrine Association Convention in Jacksonville for four days, then went on to Ann Arbor, Mich., where they visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Earle.

It might be interesting to note that the only warm weather of the summer arrived in Michigan with the Billhimers—and left with them, too!

After being home a week, they left for the Americana Hotel in Miami where they attended the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association's 19th Convention. As usual, the plan of activities was excellent and they say the "whole affair was most enjoyable."

Green globes in the "D'Barry Bottles" (there must be a name here in keeping with the beauty of the painting) is to me the loveliest object. The other colors in this still life, the rich blues and the reds and browns of the brick, combined as a background for that beautiful green globe just stole my heart, Mrs. Gregory.

I looked very closely at that painting to see how she got that transparent, translucent look to the green globe, but up close, the illusion disappears.

She told me she used oil and casein paint and sometimes both kinds in the same picture, but whatever she used, I like the results very much.

Go down and see them when you get a chance, readers. They'll be there a few more weeks.

Ever wonder how much you eat in a year? Well, according to the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture statistics they concluded that the average American every year eats:
161 pounds red meat
85 pounds of poultry
650 pounds milk, cheese, butter and eggs
100 pounds potatoes
144 pounds vegetables
90 pounds fruit
10 pounds breakfast cereals

In red meat alone the average American eats in a lifetime about eight steers, 10 lambs, four veal calves and 30 or more hogs. In his lifetime the average American eats the annual production of a good sized farm. Isn't that something?

You can share Mrs. Carl Swanson's favorite recipe with her. It's for Cherry Cream.

Corner

Mix 1 pound Graham Cracker crumbs (save out 1 cup for the top) with 1/2 cup melted oleo and 1/2 cup sugar. Press in bottom of pans. Whip 2 packages of Dream Whip and stir in a package of small marshmallows. Put this on top of your graham crackers. Then add 2 cans of cherry pie filling on the top. (This is filling that is already thickened). Now put the 1 cup of cracker crumbs on top and put in refrigerator. You can use 2 pans 9x9 inches if you wish. This can be made several days ahead of time.

Using your body correctly helps to get your work done more efficiently. Good posture in housework will help you to—

1. Eliminate fatigue
2. Improve your looks
3. Get rid of nervous tension and irritability
4. You can have good posture in housework by—

1. Using your body correctly
2. Having the correct working heights
3. Using the correct tool
4. Eating foods that build healthy muscles

So housework can help your posture and your posture can help your housework. Try it and see if it doesn't do just that. This was printed in a bulletin prepared by Miss Frances Cannon, assistant health education specialist at Tallahassee.

From Mrs. Velma Wells comes this Oatmeal Pie or commonly known as Poor Man's Pecan Pie.

- 1/2 cup quick oats
- 1/2 cup dark corn syrup
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/2 cup white sugar
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 cup butter, scant
- 1 cup coconut
- 2 eggs, well beaten

Mix all ingredients together and pour into an unbaked pie shell and bake in a 375 degree oven for about 40 to 50 minutes, or until a deep golden brown.

To have pretty colored coconut try putting the shredded coconut in a glass jar, just half full and add a few drops of diluted food coloring. Cover jar and shake well.

To get more juice out of lemons try heating them quickly in hot water for several minutes before squeezing.

Wicker furniture should be cleaned by scrubbing with a stiff brush moistened with warm salt water. Salt keeps the wicker from turning yellow. Try it.

Here's a suggestion from a homemaker who says she is an "oldie" and has done this for years. Take that old broom you were going to throw away, cut the bristles off, then tie an old felt hat (or scrap of flannel or carpet) around the end and you have a perfectly handy floor polisher.

Would like for you readers to send me your hints using vinegar. The suggestion has been made to print a column on hints or recipes using vinegar. Since it is an important product cleaner there are a thousand and one uses for it. So send them to me along with your favorite recipe, and I will do just that. Write me at Box 186, Lake Monroe, Fla. Do it real soon.

Question: I have some unmatched serving dishes, platters and vegetable dishes, which to me are beautiful pieces, but they do not match my dinnerware. Would it be incorrect to use these on the table with the dinnerware?

Answer: Not at all, if they are harmonious in color and style and are attractive with the other table appointments. A buffet table is ideal place to use assorted or unmatched serving pieces.

A well dressed table, like a well dressed person depends on an attractive wardrobe of things that go together. So be it with a table wardrobe. It's made up of tableware, and what do we mean by tableware? There is dinnerware, glassware, flatware and hollow ware, table linens and table decorations.

A well set table does not necessarily need to be an expensive one. Today's homemakers like variety in their table settings. They set them according to the mood of the occasion. Thus they are planned to harmonize in color and to blend with color in scale and design.

When you make cleanliness a habit, you will be habitually attractive!

PTO Goal: $1,800 Or 3,000 Books

By Donna Estes
The Longwood Elementary PTO held its first meeting of the year Tuesday night with a capacity attendance filling the entire cafeteria. H.H. Haynie, chairman of the ways and means committee, announced that the PTO goal for the year had been set at $1,800 or 3,000 books for the school library and said that he hoped this would be accomplished by various fund-raising projects in addition to soliciting funds and books from civic organizations and parents of the students.

to be held in connection with the project will be a Halloween Carnival on Oct. 27 with each room constructing and decorating its own booth with help from the parents. A prize will be awarded to the best booth. In other business the organization approved the purchase of a $10 microphone for use in the school auditorium. An interesting, and at times amusing, talk was given by Louis Kosky, principal, who spoke on a variety of subjects ranging from the needs of the library to the "unusual creatures" which are making their home on the auditorium ceiling. Kosky explained that the school is experiencing difficulty in ridding the auditorium of these "creatures" since poisonous insecticides cannot be used around the children and it has not yet been determined whether the invaders are insect or animal. Among other announcements he explained that classes this year are grouped according to reading ability with superior readers forming one class in each grade and others divided evenly to form three additional classes to a grade. He advised that Oct. 28 has been set aside as "conference day" at the school and that conferences with the parents and faculty will be arranged through appointment only. It was reported that the fourth and sixth grades are viewing the Educational TV Science program on Channel 2 while two fifth grades and one sixth grade view the Spanish class on Channel 9. A meeting of the TV instructors will be held on Oct. 11 at the Longwood school. The transportation problem was brought up by Mrs. George L. Smith who lives on Hwy. 17-92 north of the Big Tree Road and whose son, Timothy, leaves at 7:30 a. m. to catch a 7:45 a. m. bus but doesn't return home until 5 p. m. In answer to her question asking if something couldn't be done about the "bus situation," Kosky explained that due to added loads of two new schools and the fact that elementary schools are on the late schedule, a certain amount of delay is unavoidable. Mrs. Mary Thompson, clinic mother chairman, announced that she still is in need of volunteer workers and asked all interested mothers to contact her. Wayne Joiner, PTO president, warned parents that there is a 15 mph speed limit in the school area and that those found guilty of speeding would receive a $35 fine. Committee chairmen named at the meeting included Haynie for the ways and means; Mrs. Thelma Powell and Mrs. Beverly Waggoner, library; Mrs. Thompson, clinic; Mrs. Grace Flanders, beautification; Mrs. Olin Elgin, child welfare; Mrs. Gloria Ferris, membership; Mrs. Elda Nichols, public relations; Mrs. Kenneth Gano, nominating; Mrs. William Young, devotional; Mrs. Ann Riley, home room mothers; Mrs. Arthur Rhodes and Mrs. James Black, hospitality and Mrs. Nichols and Mrs. Charles Johnson Jr., program.

Forest Ranger Requests Advance Calls

By Virginia Chadwick
Florida Forest Ranger Jim McClellan of the Oviedo Fire Tower announced today that although residents are not required by law to call the tower when they burn off land it would be greatly appreciated if those in the area would do so if at all possible. McClellan advises that it costs about 25 cents a mile to check smoke from an unknown origin and that it is impossible to tell a wild fire from one being supervised. He said that the rangers are available at no charge for assistance in helping landowners legally burn off their property as the weather permits and that plowing, preparatory to burning off, also is available and is free for the first 15 minutes. After that time a small fee is charged. McClellan says that he is more than glad to be of assistance to small landowners as well as large ones and that it makes his job much easier. He asks that those needing his help or those who desire more information call him at the Forestry Service Tower.

William L. Robinsons Win North Orlando Club Award

By Mona Gristead
September winners of the North Orlando Garden Club's "Garden of the Month" award are Mr. and Mrs. William L. Robinson of Devon Ave. The garden is extremely well-kept the year 'round and Mrs. Robinson (Virginia to club members and friends) says that she has tried to arrange the plants and shrubbery around the house so that there is something green in all parts of the landscaping even during the winter months. These evergreens add to the more colorful spring and summer plants. Most of the landscaping arrangements are Virginia's own and she spends a large part of her time working with her plants. The Robinsons have won the Garden of the Month Award twice in past months and also won the "Garden of the Year" award this June. In addition they were prize winners in the beautification program last April. Since their last award they have added a crape myrtle and the comparatively new St. Augustine planted lawn, as well as the shrubbery, trees, and flowers, presents a mature appearance. Virginia, who was vice president of the Garden Club last year is historian.

INTEREST AND WORK of Mrs. William Robinson in her garden is largely responsible for the continuous attractive and well-kept appearance of the North Orlando home which has won many awards from the Garden Club. The September "Garden of the Month" award makes the third time the Robinsons have won this honor and in June they received the club's "Garden of the Year" award. (Herald Photo)

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Can We Help?

A major step towards providing fire protection for Lake Monroe, an area where three tragic fires have occurred in the past eight months, was taken last week when PTO members unanimously agreed that setting up a Volunteer Fire Dept. and getting a fire truck would be their number one project for the year. The move also has received endorsement from the Wilson School PTO in Paola and numerous offers of assistance in getting started have come from area volunteer departments, Morris Ruby, fire committee chairman, said today. Ruby, principal at both schools involved, advises that the next big step will come on Oct. 18 when the Monroe PTO will open its meeting to the entire community for discussion on establishing a fire control district and a volunteer fire committee will be appointed. Though it customarily is with despair and sorrow that schools and fires are mentioned in the same news account, their use on this occasion brings a feeling of pride and joy in our area PTO's. Our hats are off to Monroe and Wilson and the Herald adds its voice to others in offering any possible assistance.

Women's Club To Arrange For Book Drive Collections

Mrs. Olan Boutwell, chairman of the drive for library books being conducted by the Lake Mary Women's Club in conjunction with the Lake Mary Elementary School, has reported that she will arrange for collections in cases where delivery to a club member is impossible. Donations also may be taken directly to the school or left at Lillian Cordens Beauty Parlor across the street from the post office in Lake Mary. Earlier this month the club donated $50 to get the drive underway towards the ultimate goal of at least 1,000 books needed for the library to be accredited. In addition the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees this week turned over some 250 books to the school. According to Floyd Richards, principal, each book costs somewhere in the neighborhood of $2. Cash donations in any amount, however, will be welcomed and appreciated and, although books most needed are those suitable for grades one through six, books for higher grades or adults may be sold or exchanged for the desired material. General fiction or reference materials for educational purposes make ideal donations and The Little Golden Books, for first graders, and series, in part or as a whole, such as the Hardy Boys or Bobsey Twins, for the older children, are especially in demand.

Carnish will instruct in the art of cooking and Mrs. Frances Groves will be teaching childcare.

County Health Officials Address Clinic Mothers

By Shirley Westworth
Dr. Frank Leone, county health director and Mrs. Grace Fisher, county school nurse, spoke Tuesday before 14 attentive clinic mothers of the new Bear Lake Elementary School at a morning coffee in the school cafeteria. Mrs. Neel Buell, clinic mother chairman, presided. Speaking first to the group, Mrs. Fisher praised the work of the clinic mothers and told them that their work meant a lot, not only to their own children but to all of the children. "A kind word to a child when it is not feeling well will help make him a better parent and citizen in the future," she remarked. She went on to explain that the school clinic is just a first aid station and that no medication is to be administered by mouth or ear without the written permission from the doctor or parents.

The nurse reported on the dental clinic services which are available through the county health department under the direction of Dr. Eli E. White Jr. of Sanford and said that arrangements for those children who cannot afford dental treatment should be referred to the Sanford department. Dr. Leone, in his talk, stressed many of the points covered by Mrs. Fisher, pointing out that the promotion of physical, social and mental well-being of the community can be better achieved through understanding, cooperation and education. He defined public health as the art of science used in preventing diseases, prolonging life and promoting physical and mental fitness through an organized community effort, explaining that in such programs the county nurses need much help from mothers and parents since the public health staff is limited and the area population continues to grow at such a rapid rate. Stressing again that the school clinic is first and foremost a first aid station and repeating the warning against medication without written permission, Dr. Leone concluded his talk with an open question and answer period. Light refreshments and coffee were served following the program.

Stressing again that the school clinic is first and foremost a first aid station and repeating the warning against medication without written permission, Dr. Leone concluded his talk with an open question and answer period. Light refreshments and coffee were served following the program.

Casselberry Lions Win District Meet

By Jane Casselberry
Announcement has been made that the Lions Club of Casselberry was district winner of the Lions International Membership Contest for 1961-1962.

Sanford Girls Meet To Choose 4-H Projects

Sewing and good grooming will be fall projects for the Sanford Girls 4-H club, which met Saturday to make plans for the year.

Six new members met with last year's members and the new leader at the get-acquainted party held in the Home Demonstration Building.

Meetings will be held Saturday afternoons at the home of the leader, Mrs. David A. Turner.

New members of the club are Patricia Brown, Julie and June Hutchinson, Patricia O'Donnell, Brenda Phillips and Linda Wilson.

Members with previous 4-H experience are Susan E. Day, Gail Farmer, Bonnie Gandy, Sharon Sheffield and Linda King, who is also a Junior leader.

Girls interested in 4-H work can still become members of the club by contacting a member or calling Miss Myrtle Wilson, county home demonstration agent.

Plans Annual Faculty Supper

The annual get-together and pot-luck supper sponsored by the Oviedo Parent-Teacher Organization in honor of the Oviedo School faculty will be held Saturday in the school cafeteria beginning at 6:30 p. m.

Chuluota parents and children are invited and encouraged to attend the event which is held primarily to give parents and teachers an opportunity to become better acquainted.

Since it is a covered dish supper those planning to attend are asked to bring a large covered dish of their own choosing and a complete table service for each member of the family who will be present.

Retired Folks To Resume Club Meetings

By Virginia Chadwick
The first fall meeting of the Chuluota Retired Folks Club will be held on Thursday, Oct. 18, at the Chuluota Community House. All meetings of the club were recessed during the summer months of July, August and September.

The usual pot-luck supper will be held at the October meeting with members bringing a covered dish. The regular monthly schedule of the club will be resumed for the season with meetings to be held on the third Thursday of each month with E. Richardson presiding as president.

price of a portable aluminum and plywood speaker's stand bearing the Lion's emblem and which conveniently folds flat to a height of less than two inches.

Plans were made at last week's meeting for two current fund raising activities from which proceeds will go towards financing the sight conservation and youth projects carried on by the local club.

In one project a Tohatsu light motorcycle will be given away at a dance to be held Oct. 12 from 8 p. m. until midnight at the outdoor dance patio next to the Casselberry Post Office. Winner of the prize does not have to be present and if he does not wish to keep the motorcycle the local dealer will refund him its post price.

As a second project the club is sponsoring the sale of Halloween candy in bags of 100 individually wrapped pieces. The candy will be on sale with some of the Casselberry merchants by the Lion sponsored Boy Scout Troop.

John Minor, visiting Lion from the Oviedo Club, was introduced as a candidate for governor of District 25-B. Representatives of the Winter Park Telephone Co. will be present at the meeting next Thursday night to give a demonstration of direct long distance dialing.

The company has offered at this time to give one free long distance call to anywhere in the United States to someone in the local club and a contest was conducted to see who would make the call during the demonstration. Winner was James Prevatt of Howell Park who plans to transfer his membership from the Palatka Club to Casselberry.

SHERRI WILLIAMS is taking a brief rest (and a pretty pose, I might add) by one of the many Cypress trees at Beautiful Cypress Gardens.

Missile Instructors Visit Science Classes

By Jane Casselberry
Capt. Jack B. Shaw and 1st Lt. Charles Wingo of the USAF Tactical Missile School at Orlando Air Base, instructors in the launching and maintenance of the Mace Missile, visited the seventh and eighth grade science classes of Mrs. Catherine Martin and Mrs. Stanley Rhee at South Seminole Junior High last Friday.

They brought with them the film entitled "The Air Force Missile Mission" which is in color and is narrated by James Stewart. They also had a number of training slides and a scale model of the Mace.

Following his talk the Captain attempted to answer the many questions put to him by the eager young audience. Though they are no longer a part of Lyman School, these members of the former Lyman Missile Club still are vitally interested in everything concerning missiles and the space age.

At present they are busy organizing a Missile Club at the Junior High and are selecting a new name and electing officers. Fortunately, Mrs. Martin, who sponsored the club at Lyman, is teaching science at the new school and shares the enthusiasm of the students.

On Aug. 23 of this year Circuit Court Clerk Arthur Beckwith Jr. wrote a letter to five members of the County Commission who held office in 1969. He asked them to make good for those two steak dinners for the zoning board that were held without proper authorization. Serving on the board were John Krider, David Gatchel, Vernon Dunn, Lawrence Swafford and Homer Little . . . Beckwith said today that no money had been received from the five.

No doubt that fall is here . . . Using the Sanford Atlantic Bank temperature chart . . . At 5:30 a.m. temperature was 68, at 6 a.m. it dropped two more degrees . . . Don't ask me what I was doing downtown at that hour.

City and County Commission will meet Monday night to discuss water and sewer lines to the proposed Hunt Company site . . . Estimated cost according to City Manager W. E. Knowles—$67,000.

They partitioned off City Clerk Hank Tamm Jr. today . . . maybe to give him a little more peace to work on that reappraisal we have been promised.

City of Daytona Beach conducted trial covering up parking meters . . . increase of 20 percent in business reported.

There's a group of boy scouts trying to raise money with a car wash at the service station by 35th St. and Park Saturday . . . Try to help 'em.

Speaking of help . . . don't forget the rummage sale for the Little Red School House today and Saturday, sponsored by Theta Sigma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Engineer Bill Bush reported to the County Commission that his office had made a survey of the roads leading to Crystal Lake in Lake Mary. Total number of roads plotted and approved: 16, total usable and open to traffic: six. Bush says the rights of way planned for the roads are used by many citizens as though they owned the dedicated ways, for everything but access—some are even fenced off!

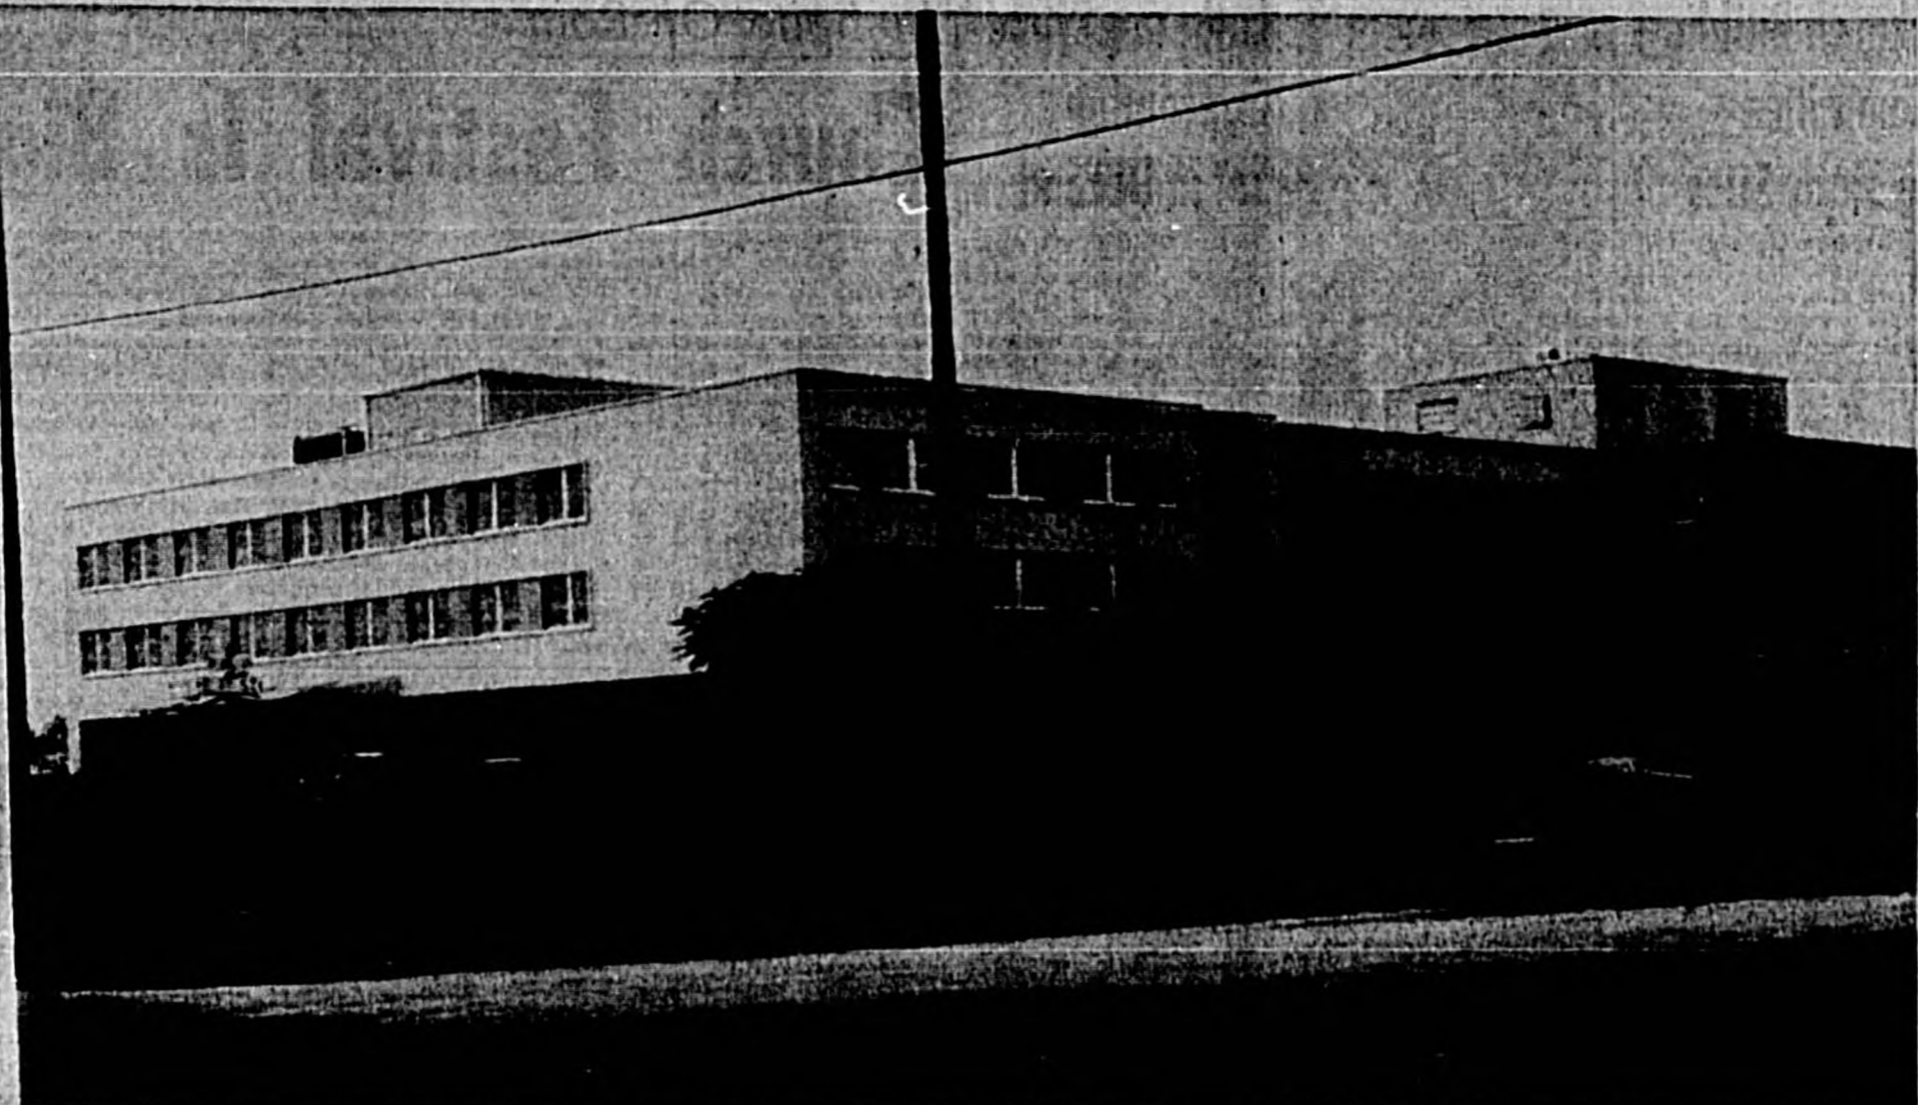

Jottings from the Jayvee Jousting: The Warrior Juniors are still jealously guarding their goal line—still uncrossed . . . The 20-0 lead toward the mid-fourth quarter gave the coaches a chance to use some of the reserves . . . Not enough, perhaps, but at least they got the taste of battle . . . Then just to test the first team, Coaches Stumpf and Colbert ran them back in with a "Let's see if you're good enough to make that touchdown that your subs have set up for you!" . . . Bing, bang, bo-o-n-n-ggg! And that was it!

Probably the best executed play of the game was the one that preceded Kosky's TD trot in the fourth quarter . . . Looked like the line PLASTERED their opposites and Hinson with two men ahead of him streaked for the goal in the left coffin corner . . . But he was picked off with yards to go . . . Kosky swept the other end to make it 29-0.

That line again looked tough and rugged . . . Felt that way, too, to the Leeburg battlers, who never gave up . . . Earl Black runs with determination . . . Trucked the leather for more than 100 yards of gain . . . Hinson's PAT's that come from his place kicks are a welcome addition to an important kicking department in the whole Seminole setup . . . Season is early, though.

The Varsity game tonight is at Apopka . . . Big convoy being assembled . . . Jayvee game next week is on WEDNESDAY in Sanford . . . Memorial Stadium . . . 7:30 p.m.

New Hospital Wing To Open Here Monday

The new $650,000 East Wing of Seminole Memorial Hospital, begun last summer will officially open for patients Monday, adding 28 beds to the hospital capacity, A. B. Peterson Sr., Chairman of the Board of Trustees announced today.

"The members of the board, along with Hospital Administrator Robert Bessner are inviting the public to inspect the new wing Saturday and Sunday with Open House hours from 2 to 4 p. m. each day," Peterson said.

The opening of the new wing will bring the present 75 bed hospital up to 103 beds and by stretching an additional 20 or more beds or 125 patients can be accommodated in time of emergency.

The members of the Board of Trustees are already hard at work on plans for the completion of the third floor, which has been planned as a step-by-step construction program. Other members of the board are vice-chairman J. W. Evans; secretary - treasurer, Andrew Carraway, Robert S. Bradford and John Schirra. Legal counsel is Gordon Fredrick.

John Burton IV was architect for the original building as well as for the wing which covers 10,000 square feet of ground space, three stories high, eventually giving more than 30,000 square feet of additional room in the hospital. The first floor and most of the second floor are now complete. Contractor for the wing was the Jack Jennings Construction Company.

Barnett Defies Courts

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Gov. Rose Barnett today again defied a federal court by refusing to appear and explain why he should not be held in contempt for blocking the admission of a Negro from the University of Mississippi.

Meredith attended the hearing, accompanied by attorneys Constance Baker Motley and Jack Greenberg of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

A large crowd gathered for the historic court hearing. In addition to Satterfield, Yazoo City, Miss., the Mississippi governor was represented by William Goodman, Thomas H. Watkins, Garner Green Sr., and Josh Green.

Barnett was believed to have remained in Jackson, his capital.

The court ordered Barnett to appear to show cause why he should not be held in contempt for blocking Meredith's entrance to the university.

Eight of the nine members of the circuit court were on the bench. The absent member was Judge Ben F. Cameron who was ill. Cameron also was the only member absent last week when the court ordered Meredith admitted to the university.

Chief Judge Elbert P. Tuttle opened the proceedings by asking: "Is there a respondent present for Gov. Ross Barnett?"

There was a long silence.

Then Satterfield advised the court that he and his colleagues represented the governor who was not present.

Force Strategy Meeting Held

It was another in a series of consultations the President and his brother have held on the situation.

Briefs Mandate To Be Obeyed-Holland

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen Spessard L. Holland, (D-Fla.), said Thursday that if Florida was faced with a court order such as that causing upheaval in Mississippi, "Our Florida people would obey that mandate as much as we would dislike it."

Holland said he thought Mississippi should obey court orders to allow a Negro into Mississippi University "even though such orders are highly distasteful."

He said in a radio interview (CBS - Capitol Clockroom) that "I attribute the situation in Mississippi to the unfortunate decision made in 1954 to use force to settle a legal problem."

The government, he said, should use every measure—"marshals, persuasion, delay"—before using force.

"In Little Rock it never came to a confrontation of one side's troops against those of the other," he said. "I doubt if it will come to that in Mississippi—I hope it won't be necessary."

He said the race situation had "worsened considerably" since 1954. "But this was predictable. It's an attempt to use coercion to force people to associate together. The more coercion is used in courts or in legislation, the worse the situation will be aggravated."

Nevertheless, he said, "I think the court's orders should be obeyed, even though such orders are highly distasteful."

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Appropriations Committee today approved funds to complete planning of the controversial Cross-Florida Barge Canal.

Krider Urges

Boost Sales Tax To Pay For Canal

John Krider, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, called Thursday for an added one per cent to the state sales tax to finance the Sanford-Titusville Canal, as a part of the total state conservation program which would include the Florida Cross-State Canal, also.

Krider brought the meeting of county leaders of Seminole, Orange, Volusia and Brevard Counties, called by Sen. Bernard Parrish, down to earth with a thud when he said, "If we wait for Federal money to build the Sanford-Titusville Canal, neither us nor our children will ever live to see it done."

Krider was emphatic that to talk about Federal funds, when 49 other states are "dipping their hands in the same pot is sheer pipe dreaming."

His proposal was to finance the project, and the cross-state canal both, by internal financing with funds acquired by the imposition of an additional 1 per cent sales tax, which would bring in an estimated $70 million which, Krider said, along with the usual $12 to $14 million handed down by the Federal government, would get the total state conservation program underway, including the two canals.

There was a discussion of possible routes for the Sanford-Titusville venture, and it was pointed out by Norman Scott, of the engineering firm Reynolds, Smith and Hills, representing Brevard County, that a southerly course, down the St. Johns River to a point below Highway 520 would be the most feasible.

Scott also concurred with Krider that the only hope for getting the project underway was a program of state financing rather than waiting for Congress to appropriate the necessary funds. The longer the wait, Scott said, the larger the amount of money needed, and soon it would be so large that it would be out of sight.

The final conclusion of the meeting was that the acquisition of suitable rights of way would get underway at the earliest possible time so the alignment of the canal can be set. This step will facilitate the acceptance of the project by the U. S. Corps of Engineers.

Definite Road Policy, Priority List Stressed

A resolution, presented by Sanford City Commissioner Joe Baker, calling on the County Commission to adopt a definitive road policy and a priority list for road construction, was passed Thursday night by the Seminole Association of Communities, at their meeting at the Longwood Elementary School.

In introducing his resolution, Baker pointed out the need for a road policy to tie the county together and dissipate the present feeling of county disunion engendered by suspected favoritism in road construction.

Another resolution presented by Woodrow Anderson, North Orlando, pledging the support of the organization to the development of the new Seminole College, to be located in North Orlando, and scheduled to open its doors next September, was also passed by the meeting.

The association heard Wilbur Stewart, Fern Park, a retired Federal Aviation Agency airport planning expert, discuss the need for a county airport and the possible locations for such an installation.

Ford 24,000-Mile Warranty!

W. A. Morrison, president of Strickland-Morrison, Inc., Sanford, today announced that all purchasers of 1963 Ford cars and trucks will receive a 24-month or 24,000-mile warranty.

The new warranty, Mr. Morrison said, represents a doubling of the 12-month, 12,000-mile warranty, with which Ford dealers led the industry in offering to their customers in the 1961 model year.

The 24,000-mile warranty was pioneered by the Lincoln Continental on 1961 models.

"Extension of this warranty to other car and truck models for 1963," Mr. Morrison said, "is possible because of continued progress toward quality and reliability goals that year after year have enabled Ford dealers to be the leader in providing products requiring less and less maintenance."
