Business Conducted By Junior Class

The Dramatic Club meeting Thursday, January 4, was held at Bruce Bolt's home. The meeting was called to order by the president, and due to the fact that Leroy Estridge went away, a new member, Jack Herring, was voted in to take his place in the east. This and the switching of two parts will further delay the presentation of the play, "Road to Niagra." The date, however, will be announced soon.

After the business meeting refreshments were enjoyed by Joyce Adams, Mary Martha Emerick, Winifred Lovell, Dorothy Runge, Lola Caldwell, Helen Hutchison, Leona Howard, and Patsy Hodge.

American Schools Group Aids Pupils

For over thirty years the American Schools Association has maintained free information offices for United States schools and colleges where catalogs and educational guidance which are of great advantage to all students may be obtained.

This year, besides aiding pupils and students who call at their offices, this association is extending this service to all high school seniors.

Seminole Freshmen Have Class Meeting

The meeting of the freshmen class was held on January 5, in the High School Auditorium. The meeting was called to order by the president. The secretary's report was given and the treasurer's report read. They voted and adopted a class flower, color, and motto.

Rev. John Williams Addresses Students

The students of Seminole High School were privileged to have as their guest speaker, the Reverend John E. Williams of Atlanta, Georgia. Mr. Williams' subject was "What is Life and What Does it Mean to Us."

Parent-Teachers Have Session On Tuesday

The Seminole High School Parent-Teachers Association met Tuesday Jan. 9. Mrs. F. A. Dyson presided over a short business session. The membership committee reported 105 paid members.

Mrs. E. A. K. Stone was to have had charge of the program but because of her daughter's illness she asked to be excused. Marian Allen and Clyde Ferguson sang a duet.

Business Meeting Of Drama Club Is Held

Junior Class meeting was held Friday, January 5, 1940 in the upstairs study hall. The meeting was called to order by the president, Edwin Brannan. Minutes were read by Jesse Durden and were approved. A report was given by Erma Doudrey, of the Junior Dance held during Thanksgiving. A short report was given on the progress of the Junior play. An advertising committee was appointed and the stage and property managers were named.

New Books Received By School Library

As usual, the library is receiving new books. Those received this week are interesting as well as helpful. Everyone should be interested in "This is My Story" by Eleanor Roosevelt. Also, there is "Forward with Roosevelt" by O'Brien. Then, in contrast to this type of book, there is "Daniel Boone" by James Daugherty, "Worldamous Paintings" by Rockwell Kent, and "The New Wonder Book of Knowledge" by Dr. Brownlee.

Exams To Be Given For Appointment To Guard Academy

An announcement has been received in the library of the annual competitive examination for the appointment of cadets to the United States Coast Guard Academy, at New London, Connecticut. The examination will be held at various places over the country on May 15, 1940.

The examination is open to young men between the ages of seventeen and twenty-two years. The course of instruction is basically scientific and engineering in character, so that the requirements are in general those necessary for admission to one of the better engineering colleges.

As a supplement to classroom study, practical experience is gained aboard modern cutters on annual cruises to European or South American ports.

While undergoing instruction the cadet is paid a salary of $780 per year, and also an allowance for subsistence. Upon graduation, the cadet is eligible for a commission in the Coast Guard as Ensign, with due advancements.

West Side Primary

The pupils of the West Side Primary presented the following program in observance of Arbor Day: 1. Bless America—School. 2. Story of Arbor Day—by Frank A. Meach. 3. Trees—Solo by Kathryn Hogan. 4. Bell Ringers Give Chapel Program On Odd Instruments

The High School Glee Clubs sponsored a chapel program Thursday at Seminole High School of the Mason Bell Ringers. For the opening numbers Mr. and Mrs. Mason played "Bells of St. Mary" and "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" upon the Swiss hand bells.

Following these Mrs. Mason played "Grandfather's Clock" upon the musical goblots. Two of the most interesting numbers were "Auld Lang Syne" and "Home Sweet Home" played by Mr. Mason using two flash-lights and a photo-electric cell.

Another way by which Mr. Mason was able to produce music was the Victor Theremin, accompanied by his wife who played "Old Black Joe" on the piano. The Theremin is not played by touching it but by moving the hands over it, thereby causing electrical vibrations.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason played "Long, Long Ago" on the vibrat-harp as a duet. Mr. Mason then played the "Old Spinning Wheel" and "Are You Washed in the Blood of the Lamb" on the staff bells. These bells have neither clappers nor handles. The program was concluded by the rendering of "Home Sweet Home" as a duet on the musical goblots.

Residents Are Urged To Vote For Most Courteous, Efficient Clerk

"Today is the day to cast ballots in the contest for the selection of the most courteous and efficient clerk in Sanford," Commissioner Edward Higgins, who is directing the "trade-at-home" campaign, reminded residents of Sanford, urging them to fill out the ballot appearing elsewhere in today's Herald and return it to the Herald Office not later than 6:00 P. M. Monday.

The decision of the three secret judges will be made next Thursday and to the clerk voted the "most courteous and efficient" will be given a cash award of $15. The second prize winner will receive $10 and the third prize winner will get $5.

Every resident of Sanford was asked to cast a ballot on which their selection was written. The decision of the judges does not depend solely on the results of the election, Commissioner Higgins pointed out, adding that the winner must not only lead in the voting but also must have been given a good recommendation by the committee of 20 shoppers which visited Sanford during the week to make observations for a written report including their criticisms.

Destroyers Not Defective

The impression has gotten abroad that the newest destroyers of the United States Navy are unseaworthy and that faulty design or construction of these ships represent a major failure of the naval bureau which are entrusted with the building of our fighting craft.

A widely-read Washington newspaper column and several congressmen have taken an active part in creating an atmosphere bordering on a complete distrust with those responsible with supplying America's first line of defense with war vessels.

Without any desire to condone inefficiency or dereliction where it exists in the Navy Department, we feel that it would be advisable, in the name of fairness, to point out some of the salient facts in testimony before a House subcommittee inquiring into new naval and military appropriations.

This testimony revealed that the destroyers, about which the controversy is being waged, have shown top-heavy tendencies under certain conditions. This does not mean, according to Rear-Admiral S. M. Robinson, chief of the Bureau of Engineering, that the ships are unseaworthy or that they are not battle worthy. It merely means that under the most extreme conditions, that is when fuel supply is low, ammunition is low, and when possible damage has occurred in battle, the destroyers might not have the margin of stability which the Navy feels is necessary.

This top-heavy tendency, according to further testimony could not be determined by early calculations or tests with models, but could only be disclosed by actual sea tests. Admiral Robinson pointed out that the Navy could reproduce existing models without imperfections occurring, but that when new and superior types are built there are bound to be certain adjustments necessary.

He declared that the corrective measures entailing the addition of 60 tons of dead weight steel ballast would remove any possible weakness in the matter of stability under any condition of operation. His testimony showed that the Navy, rather than being lax in its requirements, is extremely hard to please, that the addition of ballast was not the result of any inferior deficiency, but rather the result of the Navy's insistence on the widest margin of stability.

If it is only natural that in the construction of any new type of mechanical equipment, whether it be an automobile, a boat, an airplane, or a railroad locomotive, there are bound to be adjustments and changes necessary to the completed product despite the perfection of the original paper plans.

Where Is Your Puppy Tonight?

One of the most worthy gifts at Christmas time is the pet animal, a puppy, a cat, or a rabbit. Unlike the usual Yuletide present, a little pet is no mere mechanical instrument to give sporadic enjoyment for awhile and then to be discarded into the attic. The gift becomes a continuing pleasure and a growing responsibility, and parents should now take stock to see that their Christmas presents are faring.

"It would be preferable," says Mrs. Paul Beach Post, "if the children themselves could take over the responsibility involved in the ownership of a pet, if they could be taught that puppies and kittens feel pain, cold and hunger, and that they should be fed a balanced diet at regular intervals.

"Children should be taught that a dog, particularly, is very sensitive and unless he is treated kindly his spirit may be broken. They should be taught that an animal which has the love of its young master who is treated kindly will reward him with close companionship and unflinching loyalty.

If a child can be brought to a realization that his pet depends upon him for their very existence it is very probable that a protective attitude will be inspired and that he will make their welfare his responsibility. But it is the duty of parents to see that the puppy, the kitten and the bird are not neglected."

Air Warfare Continues In Europe's Skies

(Continued from page one) fourth successive day of such flights. No bombs were dropped on land, but the German flyers continuously kept up the aerial survey of London's outskirts, the southeast coast and the Suffolk, Norfolk and Yorkshire coasts.

Yesterday was the forty-seventh birthday of Germany's air minister, Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, and the British press described the raids as his "celebration." They called it a "top."

Over the Thames three British fighters struck from the clouds as a lone raider which appeared to have been hit and was last seen trailing smoke and heading out to sea with the chaser planes in pursuit. Persons on the Kent and Essex sides of the estuary saw the flight with shells bursting near the raider.

The plane which reached the Suffolk coast was a Heinkel, another Heinkel flew over York. A Dornier "Flying Pencil," a bi-motored bomber with an unusually long and narrow fuselage, was seen near the Norfolk coast. She was believed to be a mine-layer.

British fighter planes and anti-aircraft guns were reported to have forced all the raiders out to sea.

Of the ships attacked yesterday the German high command said, "three British patrol boats and one armed merchant steamer which fired on German planes were attacked and sunk. The Germans said one British plane was shot down in an air fight."

The sinking of the 1700-ton British steamer Keynes by German bombers yesterday in the North sea was disclosed when the vessel's 17 crew members were landed at a British port. They said Nazi planes attacked their ship twice, causing five direct hits. The radio operator, who was injured, was the sole casualty.

The mate of the Keynes said he saw another ship apparently bombed, with a third steamer by the 100-ton British trawler Courage also was sunk and her crew of six landed today in Britain.

Another bombing yesterday involved the 322-ton British steamer Flawine. She was taken in tow after her crew was rescued.

Three other vessels were downed by bombers in the past 24 hours, all were victims. They were the 6700-ton British, the 100-ton British, the 100-ton British, the 100-ton British.

and the Travata, 5123 tons, Italian.

HELSINKI, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Soviet Russia's air force yesterday subjected southern Finland to one of the heaviest bombings in the north and a half of war breaking Helsinki's telephone communications with the outside world and pushing a dozen other cities.

The heaviest attack came a day after a Soviet attempt to land parachute troops on the Karelian Isthmus was reported to have ended in mass death in the city.

Some 100 miles north of the capital, reported the heaviest damage was done at heavy, although there were some casualties.

Thirty planes raided Turku (Abo), southwestern Finland, through which much foreign material and heavy equipment for Finland are passing. Other cities along the Gulf of Bothnia were likewise raided.

The average age of men married in Wyoming in 1939 was 31 years; of women, 27 years.

The average value of gold handled by one Colorado mining mill in 1939 was $10.22 a ton.

Boundaries BUT NO BARRIERS. It will probably surprise you to learn that there are 855 telephone companies serving the nine southern states. The Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company is the largest, it is true. But the other 854 have the important job of serving about 1,400 southern communities which have a total of some 314,300 telephones. Southern Bell is pleased that its lines connect with the lines of these other southern companies, blanketing the South with a vast network of wires—so that boundaries between companies are not barriers to quick, South-wide telephone service. Through teamwork and friendly cooperation, these 855 southern-telephone companies work together to furnish the South with service that is fast, efficient and dependable. Rev. Williams Talks To Large Audiences

Large crowds have been attending the services of the Rev. John R. Williams at the Presbyterian Church. The services are being held at 10:00 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. every day and will continue for another week. Tomorrow he will speak at 11:00 A. M. Last night's sermon was on "The secret of Christian living." "In the midst of a troubled and perplexed world," Rev. Williams declared "those of us who feel we must struggle to live a Christian life fall to see God's plan to save us. Many live day by day thinking He has made provision for our justification but none for our sanctification; hence our struggle. But God has made provision for our sanctification; our problem is how to get hold of it. "God never intended our religious life to be a struggle. Every connection of Jesus with his disciples was made in an atmosphere of peace and rest. His stories of the branch and the vine, the sheep and the shepherd, the invitation to the weary, all depict peace and rest. "It is impossible to live a Christian life by personal will power. One can say a thousand times a day he will fall. A Christian doesn't have to fight sin and temptation; our battle is one of faith—that is to keep Jesus in Christ first in our lives and leave the battle to Him. Then we have peace, perfect peace. "As we have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him." If you have received Christ, you did so in a spirit of helplessness—helpless without Him, for apart from Christ you can do nothing. When we realize this we will perceive in our hearts how mistakenly we pray if we ask, "Lord, help me to live right; for who or what are we?" But when we pray, let us say, "Take my life, Lord, and live through me." Let us become a sort of working clothes for God to wear to accomplish His purposes. "We also received Christ by confession and repentance of sin, thus daily if and when we sin, let us immediately confess and repent to God, lest God be forced to hide from us. Again, we received Jesus Christ when we made a full surrender of our lives, so daily, we must continue to let Him from our lives all that is contrary to Him. "So, we realize, a true Christian can put on the whole armor of Christ and day by day continue to let Jesus in and will keep up in His strength alone—never doubting lest evil overtake you. When we believe Christ is able to save us, Satan can't trouble us; he knocks on the door of our hearts; he may even apologize and say, "I'm sorry; I knocked on the wrong door. "Your strength is to still with faith that enables you to be still—as little children clasping their father's hand walk joyously and confidently, so go those for whom we have the secret of Christian living. "At the home of Mrs. J. D. Callahan, 1816 East Second Street, Townsend Club will meet in the Court House at 7:30 P. M. for its regular weekly meeting. Public is invited to attend. "Sunbonnet Jane of Sycamore Lane," a three-act comedy play, will be presented at the Junior High school by the Senior Young People's League of the First Methodist Church at 8:00 P. M. Symphony Concert To Be Given At Rollins

By JOHN PALMER GAVITT The fourteenth consecutive session of the Symphony Orchestra of Central Florida will open at Winter Park next Tuesday evening with the first of four concerts. The dates of the season being Feb. 20, Mar. 12, and Apr. 2. The feature of Tuesday's program will be the fifth symphony and greatest of the symphonies of Piotr Ilyich Tchaikovsky, especially timely because this year is the centenary of Tchaikovsky's birth in Russia in 1840. There will be played also Beethoven's Concerto in E-flat for strings, the second being the talented young violinist at Brno, and the Concerto of the Rollins Conservatory of Music, where by a young man, who will be playing in a solo, was in the Curtis Institute at Philadelphia. The other composition to be given is "The Swan Lake."
