

Dora Cured Apathy Toward Hurricanes

The general apathy which was prevalent during the approach of Hurricane Cleo was noticeably absent during the approach of Hurricane Dora. Red Cross and Civil Defense officials stated in a report released Friday.

"Considering Cleo as a 'preparation exercise', it was apparent that many hints were worked out and that all operations and cooperation of the local police, sheriff, forestry, Civil Defense and Red Cross went off smoothly," the report continues.

"Shelter operations were greatly improved with little resulting confusion. Weather bureau and Navy weather men were most courteous and prompt in reporting their evaluations of the storm," the report reads.

"It is believed that preparations for Hurricane Dora were sufficient in the degree that human casualties would have been relatively minor had we received the full force of the storm," the report concludes.

To date, 13 claims for storm damage assistance have been filed with the Red Cross.

Admiral Richard F. Byrd made an unescorted trip around the world when only 12 years old, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Junior College Hearing Set

Seminole County's request for a feasibility study on a junior college for this area will be heard Tuesday in Tallahassee.

Seminole County School Superintendent R. T. Millwee made the announcement after being notified by James L. Wattenbarger, director of the State Board of Education's Division of Community Junior Colleges.

The request for the study was recently made by the Seminole County School Board upon the recommendation of the Seminola County Chamber of Commerce.

Classes Reopen In Seminole County Schools

Seminole County schools reopened this morning following a three-day layoff due to the passing of Hurricane Dora and the water it left in its wake.

Schools were not open Wednesday because of the storm. They were closed Thursday because of the torrential rains which fell throughout Seminole County and closed again Friday because of the dangerous conditions which still existed.

These conditions, explained Friday by Superintendent R. T. Millwee at flooded areas, some water damage in some school buildings, some power lines still down and the danger of trees toppling over because of excess water, led the School Board to also close the schools Friday.

This decision was reached late Thursday afternoon. Millwee said that since schools began earlier than usual this year there are now numerous opportunities to make up the three lost days to get in the 180 days required by the State Board of Education.

Residential Zone Farming Banned

Sanford City Commissioners Monday were forced to throw out in its entirety a proposal by the Zoning and Planning Board which would have permitted restricted agriculture within residential zones of the city, in a five-hour meeting lasting until 1 a.m. today.

The proposal met with opposition from property owners

These almanac editors are uncanny.

One of our Clock Winders has a calendar almanac actually published for another section of the south. Nevertheless the weather forecast — done some two years before — we understand — for last Tuesday was "stormy" and "gales" were predicted for last Wednesday.

"Clearing" was forecast for last Thursday and Friday, "cooler" for Saturday and "pleasant" for Sunday.

Almanacs can be taken for what they're worth. Some people believe they're pure guesswork — others put a lot of stock in them. As for us, well — we'll simply say again, they're uncanny.

Speaking of almanacs we've just noted that the Star Spangled Banner was written 150 years ago last Sunday. With no disrespect to the national anthem intended, one Clock Winder quipped "It's a good thing Francis Scott Key wrote it or we'd have no world series, pro football games, etc."

Seminole County's 23 public schools and its vocational school reopened Monday morning after a four-day layoff because of Hurricane Dora.

The storm, according to Supt. R. T. Milwee, did little damage to any of the county's school plants. Milwee said, however, there were reports that some ventilators were blown off some cafeteria buildings and in other schools there was slight water damage.

Bus transportation supervisor Herbert Muse said that all buses were able to make their normal runs Monday despite flooding of roads in several sections of the county.

School Administrator Walter Teague reported that as of Friday Seminole County school enrollment had passed the 15,000 mark and had hit a total of 15,131. Teague added, "I'm still confident that we will reach the 15,900 total by Christmas."

It's statistic time again on gasoline sales in Seminole. In August, 1963, seven-cent gas tax collections in this county amounted to $88,296. In August of this year it was $106,157. It was almost a $20,000 hike. In July of this year collections were $93,111. By the way, gallons pumped totalled 1,516,531.

As for sales tax collections in Seminole. During August of 1964 the total was $95,727 compared to $78,801 during August of 1963. This year's August figure, however, was almost $10,000 less than July, 1964.

ONLY 16 Days Left To Register For General Election

from one R1AA section of the city, (the Rose Court, Lily Court section) who claimed they had 47 signatures on a petition to reject the proposal.

The opposing property owners objected to possibilities of heavy trucks, farming equipment, use of pesticides, commercial enterprises, greenhouses, etc. (all of which were expressly prohibited by the proposed addendum).

A motion was made by Commissioner M. L. Raborn to change the wording of the proposal to eliminate the R1AA sections from the proposal, but this was voted down by other commissioners who said there should be protection for all persons in all zones and not just wealthier property owners in the R1AA zones.

Commissioners pointed out to the property owners that the intent of the Zoning and Planning Board's proposal was to try to permit some use of more than 500 acres of land lying inside the city limits, which is not suitable for homes, because it is muck land or low-lying land, which would be suitable for groves, forestry, small truck gardens or farms, under stringent regulations.

City Crews Praised For Storm Efforts

Hearty commendations were expressed by Sanford City Commissioners at their meeting Monday for the work of the city crews during and after the recent hurricanes.

Commissioners authorized overtime pay of $999 to workmen and expressed their appreciation of the hard work and devotion to duty of the men who stayed on the job all during the storm to help keep streets clear and assist the power company and telephone company in the clearing of trees off lines.

Commissioners also commended the police and fire departments for their work during the storm.

SHA Water Rates To Be Redrafted

City Commissioners voted Monday to notify the Sanford Housing Authority at once that its present five year contract on water rates will not be renewed and a new contract must be drawn in which they will be expected to pay the same rate as all other customers.

The Housing Authority water rates operate under a contract whereby all water usage is added together to put them in the "over one million gallon" bracket. Recently a rate increase was authorized for this group.

Harper Calls For Meter Removal

E. C. Harper Jr., candidate for City Commission, stated today parking meters must be removed from the City of Sanford. "The time has come to remove every obstacle which creates resistance to shopping in the downtown area."

"The meters have served their purpose and are as outdated as the Model 'T' Ford. Shoppers now have a clear choice of buying where parking is free, or paying to shop," Harper further stated, "I think it is time the shopper is invited to buy in downtown Sanford without paying for the privilege and the merchant is given an opportunity to compete on an even basis."

Should the parking meters be removed as Harper urges, Sanford would join a number of other communities which have banned them. Chief of the Florida cities to remove the meters is St. Petersburg where officials term the removal a success.

Estimate Sets Sanford Loss At $23,000

Damages to public and private property in Seminole County and its six municipalities was estimated at $242,300 by public officials who met Monday afternoon with County Civil Defense Director, A. B. Peterson Sr., Red Cross Disaster Chairman, A. B. Peterson Jr., and a three-man committee from Area Civil Defense program headed by Director L. M. Ballard.

The Seminole County Board of Commissioners, represented by Chairman James Avery and members John Alexander and John Fitzpatrick, figured the county's public damage at $100,000 and private damages at an estimated $75,000.

Paul Bates, civil defense chairman from Casselberry, pegged public damages in that community at $11,000 and said damages to private property could run as high as $20,000.

City Manager Pete Knowles of Sanford said this city sustained public damages estimated at $8,000 and to private property at $15,000.

Longwood public damages were set at $3,700 by Mayor Al Lormann while private damages would run an estimated $5,000. At Altamonte Springs, Mayor Lawrence Swoford told officials that public damage in his community would hit $2,100 and private about $500. Meanwhile, public damages would run about $2,000 with no estimate of private damages available was reported by North Orlando Mayor Irene an Epeol.

No report was available from Oviedo. However, Mayor Lee Gary did say that thus far he knew of no serious damages in the area.

Ballard, along with Dr. S. D. Doff and Leo W. Sheumaker, both from the State Board of Health, said that the survey they were making in this eleven-county area would result in a report to Gov. Farris Bryant, who in turn, would ask President Johnson to release emergency funds for disaster relief.

County Engineer William Bush, County Road Department Supt. J. C. Lavender, North Orlando's Civil Defense chairman Art Rhodes, along with Archie Montgomery from the Florida Bureau of Public Roads and State Road Department representatives Paul Pappas and Ed Hollifield were present.

LAKE MONROE has spilled over the seawall in portions of the city and officials report the crest is yet to come. The water went over the barrier on Seminole Boulevard sometime during the night and was near the paved roadway late this morning. (Herald Photo)

Lake Monroe Spills Over Wall

Lake Monroe has spilled over its banks in one section of the seawall—a remnant of hurricane Dora continue to flow into the huge pond of water.

The seawall east of the bandshell is unable to contain the water and sometime during the night it lapped near the roadway on Seminole Boulevard.

The lake level gauge at the end of Park Avenue continued to record the rise in the area. The crest period is not expected before late Wednesday night or sometime Thursday.

No estimate of the total rise expected was available. Meanwhile, the water level at other lakes, rivers and streams in the county continued to rise. Flooding was reported in many sections of the county.

Lake Harney and adjacent areas were heavily hit by the high water. A number of families have either fled from their homes or are wading through deep water as they commute to work or school. City officials today expressed deep concern should a northerly wind develop across Lake Monroe. This would assist greatly in pushing the water still further over the seawall and could create a much more serious situation.

The lake generally reflects an ominous threat to adjacent land areas as the water nudges against the top of the seawall.

The water level of the St. Johns at the Geneva bridge this morning was reported at seven feet, five inches and rising at the rate of two inches a day. However, another report from Tommatobee, south of U. S. 50 indicated that it appeared that the water level was beginning to drop in that area.

County workmen this morning began clearing Gee Creek in an effort to lower the level of Lake Kathryn in Casselberry. The creek, engineers anticipate, will enable high waters to flow into Lake Jessup.

County Commission Chairman James Avery Monday afternoon told area Civil Defense representatives that "another four-inch rain and we'll have a first class disaster."

But despite it all, fishermen can be seen throughout the daylight hours standing or sitting near the lake edge, hoping to catch their next meals.

Their luck ranged from good to spotty, a check this morning showed.

Casselberry Passes Finance Ordinance

By Julian Stenstrom Associate Editor

Casselberry's Board of Aldermen Monday night put its initial stamp of approval on a finance ordinance which will govern the town's fiscal operations.

Earlier this year the town council adopted a budget—the first in the municipality's history. If and when the newly proposed ordinance is officially adopted, budget and fiscal procedures will be regulated by it.

During a conference called prior to the official convening of the monthly meeting, the board heard a report by Paul Bates, Casselberry's director of civil defense. However, a letter from Bates estimating costs of damages to public facilities in Casselberry by Hurricane Dora caused Councilman George Howard to walk out of the meeting.

Howard contended that the letter should not be read since the council was not in official session but the board's acting chairman, Cliff Overman, announced he would read the letter anyway and Howard left. In the letter Bates estimated public damage in Casselberry at $11,000. The council approved the first reading of an ordinance regulating hours for the sale of alcoholic beverages which would permit the sale on a package basis between 7 a. m. and 9:30 a. m. and from 1 p. m. until 2 a. m. on Sundays.

When a suggestion from the audience was made that the ordinance provide no sales between the hours of 7 a. m. and 9:30 a. m. be permitted the council announced the ordinance would be posted for 30 days before a second reading.

In other action, the council established a special fund for repairs on facilities damaged by Hurricane Dora; decreed that Town Clerk Mary Hawthorne would not be responsible for keeping minutes of meetings of the Council's administrative committees; approved a request from Attorney Ken McIntosh that separate books be established for minutes, ordinances and proclamations and resolutions; tabled a request from the German-American Club for a private club license to sell alcoholic beverages and tabled a request for rezoning property for the location of an air conditioning plant and a chemical factory.

The council also agreed to consider plans for a new youth center, named Carl Fox to the community's road board, appointed Joseph Laird to the post of street light committeeman, and heard acting Mayor Lunn express the town's appreciation for the vast amount of volunteer services rendered to the community during Hurricane Dora.

Study OK'd On College

TALLAHASSEE — The State Department of Education's Division of Community Junior Colleges today approved a request for a feasibility study to be made to determine whether Seminole County is eligible for a junior college.

James L. Wattenbarger, the division's director, said that the study will get under way immediately.

Present to substantiate the request presented this morning were R. T. Milwee, superintendent of Seminole County's school system; Byron Kimball, co-chairman of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce's long range planning committee and chamber manager John Krider.

Milwee declared that "We are extremely pleased that the Division of Community Junior Colleges recognizes the apparent necessity and advisability of making a study to determine the need for a community junior college in this area of Central Florida."

"An institution of this sort is badly needed since it will provide an opportunity for many high school graduates in this area to continue their education."

Kimball stated that a community junior college in this section would accomplish three things: "It will provide the first two years of college, vocational education and adult education."

Philly Riot Laid To Three Black Nationalists

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Three Black Nationalists were accused today of inciting a bloody, three-day riot in North Philadelphia's "jungle" two weeks ago by spreading reports that police had beaten a Negro woman to death.

The reports had a "fission effect," police said, spreading swiftly through the densely populated Negro area and culminating in a weekend of bloodshed, violence, vandalism and plunder.

Abbyasina Hayes, 34, who operated an Asian-African Culture Center under the name of Shayk Muhammad, and Raymond Hall, 24, who bills himself as Yuseff Abdulla, were picked up outside the center on their return from Washington, D. C., Monday night.

The third suspect, identified as Florence Mobley, and described as a 22-year-old unwed mother, was to surrender to police today, investigators said she was the Negro woman who stood atop an overturned refrigerator at the start of the uprising and allegedly encouraged the mob to loot stores.

The trio was named in specially prepared warrants written to preclude problems of civil rights violations. The warrants were issued by Judge Vincente Carroll as a result of two weeks of intensive investigation by a specially schooled police team. Although FBI agents, ordered by President Johnson to investigate a chain of Negro riots in northern cities, were in Philadelphia they had no part in the arrests.

Assistant Police Commissioner Richard Edwards said the trio "seized the opportunity" to set off the riots when police began to forcibly remove an automobile in which a woman was arguing with her husband and blocking traffic at an intersection.

Edwards said Muhammad and Abdulla, bearded and wearing keffiyehs, argued with officers at the scene until a crowd gathered. He said they then shouted and chanted their malicious rumors and whipped the crowd into a screaming, uncontrollable mob. He said Florence Mobley showed "defiance of law and order that was brazen."

Rural Group Forms For LBJ, Humphrey

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Nearly 200 farm and non-farm men and women representing all areas of rural life are members of the National Committee of Rural Americans for Johnson and Humphrey announced today by Robert W. Scott of Haw River, N. C., committee chairman.

Membership includes Republicans, Democrats and Independents, Scott said. Serving with farm men and women are small-town bankers, businessmen and professional men as well as town and county officials, he added. The list also carries the names of representatives of farm organizations cooperatives and commodity and soil and water conservation groups.

"The tremendous response we have received from these rural leaders is an indication of the enthusiastic support for President Johnson and Senator Hubert H. Humphrey," Scott declared.

Organization of state and county committees of Rural Americans for Johnson and Humphrey is now under way. These will also be bi-partisan in makeup, the chairman said. Serving with Scott at the helm of the national committee are Vice-Chairman Mrs. Mary Conner, Iowa, Kansas, a Democrat; and Charles Mahoney of Jordan, Montana, a Republican.

Florida members on the committee include M. L. Beasley, Jacksonville; Doyle Conner, Tallahassee; Colin English, Tallahassee; Ben Hill Griffin, Frostproof; Alfred McKethan, Brooksville; Robert Rutledge, Lakeland; and Stuart Simpson, Monticello.

Board Buys Lot Adjacent To Lyman High

The Seminole County Board of Public Instruction has acquired one-seventh of an acre of property adjacent to Lyman High School.

The strip of land has been needed for some time, according to Supt. R. T. Milwan, but officials were unable to come to terms with the owner. Recently the board had the property appraised and notified the owner it would proceed with condemnation suit.

The board and the owner agreed to the appraisal figure of $1,200 plus whatever the cost of condemnation proceedings would have been.

Firemen Go On Fireless Calls

City firemen responded to two house alarms Monday but in neither case was there any blaze. The first alarm at 1:40 p. m. was to Coleman Circle in Pinecrest when smoke from a trash fire was noticed near a house. The second call was at 10:24 p. m. to 2001 Grandview Ave. but again no fire was found.

THE LITTLE OLD LADY AND THE 1929 CHEVY. Just like the used car dealers say, this car was only driven 15,000 miles by this little old lady. She locked it up in the garage in 1929 where it has reclined for 35 years. She sold it Saturday—to a used car dealer, of course. He hauled it away on a trailer. It could use a new set of tires. After 35 Years She Agrees To Sell Car

Training Union Enjoys Party

By JoAnn Hays

Rev. and Mrs. M. D. Jackson entertained the Adult Training Union Department of the First Baptist Church of Geneva at their home last Friday.

Several Bible quizzes were conducted by Rev. Jackson and Mrs. Bobbie Braddy supervised quizzes on flowers.

Mrs. Jackson, assisted by Mrs. Braddy and Mrs. Cader Hart, served refreshments of iced tea, cake, nuts and mints.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hays, Mr. and Mrs. Cader Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Allen, Mrs. Helen Alderman, Mrs. Audrey Johnson, Mrs. Marge Ward and Mrs. Bobbie Braddy.

finally gave in Saturday and sold her 1929 Chevrolet to an "old car buff," Ed Verost of Winter Haven and Daytona.

Mrs. Simon, who declines to reveal her age or much information about herself has lived in the ancient, two-story unpainted house at the corner of Eighth St. and Myrtle Ave. as long as anyone can remember.

She used to drive the 1929 Chevy, which she bought in 1927 from Percy Mero, until the Depression hit in 1929. Then she parked it in the garage, where it has been since then. The gauge only registers 15,000 miles — the classic example of the used car dealers sales pitch about the "like new" used car "driven by a little old lady."

Although she hasn't driven it in 35 years, Mrs. Simon was reluctant to part with her ancient auto, and the buyer said he had "ickered with her about it for the past four years.

Verost has a number of other old cars, but this will be the oldest Chevrolet in his collection. He owns used cars lots in Winter Haven and Daytona Beach.

Verost promised to come back and "take Mrs. Simon for a ride" when he gets the car running again.

The buyer told the Herald Monday he "almost had it running" Sunday, but a spring broke.

Verost offered to trade Mrs. Simon a used Pontiac for her car, but she declined saying she might consider a "smaller one."

It is understood that Mrs. Simon and her late husband, who in Sanford ran a grocery store here some years ago.

In recent years, Mrs. Simon has become somewhat of a recluse, living in the boarded-up house and shunning all outsiders, though she takes a little walk each day, and answers questions brightly and sharply — if she chooses to do so, though she doesn't like people to pry in her business.

The welcome was given at the luncheon by Archie Hummcutt and the invocation by Opal Westmoreland.

This planned luncheon meeting is planned monthly with occasional guest speakers and films. One of the DECA students will give a report on his or her job each month.

LBJ In 'Non-Political' Talk To IAM At Miami

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson flew to Miami today on his second "non-political" trip in five days to the Sunshine State.

The purpose of the fast, six-hour round-trip was a speech by the President in Miami Beach before the nation's fourth largest labor union—the International Association of Machinists (IAM).

The speech was scheduled for about 11:45 a. m. EDT.

The IAM was prepared to give Johnson a big welcome. The 900,000-member organization already had endorsed him for election to a full White House term.

The President's plane left Andrews Air Force Base, Md., at 8:06 a. m. EST on the two-hour flight to Miami. The trip opened a heavy week of travel by the Chief Executive from coast to coast.

Wednesday, he will set out on a two-day journey to the Far West, with stops in Montana, Washington, Oregon, California, and the Canadian province of British Columbia.

The Chief Executive's trip to Florida aboard a 12-place Air Force Jetstar was not characterized by the White House as political or non-political.

Press Secretary George E. Reedy indirectly alluded to the non-political tag by asserting that Johnson was "accepting an invitation to address a labor union convention."

Johnson was in Florida last Friday, when he made a hurried trip there and to Georgia to observe damage from Hurricane Dora.

The President still has not announced any detailed, avowed campaign plans. He flew to Detroit on Labor Day to address a rally which is the traditional scene of Democratic presidential campaign kickoffs. And he was in Harrisburg, Pa., Thursday to speak at a Democratic fundraising dinner.

Arthur Edge gave his seventh; Dale Owens, Richard Jones, David Berrien, L. R. Eubanks, six; Russell Fehrmann, six; Walter Britton, four; Edward Robertson, Sammy Hills, Bernard S. Kiddy, Thurward Solley, Cecil L. Ondalety, David Grimm, three; Harvey Payne, David Loper, Glen McKendree, Samuel Morrow, George Fisher, John Underwood Jr., Charles Kampf, William Back and James Smith, two pints.

Women Conduct Phone Campaign

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson and Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey set in motion a broadscale voter campaign in a conference telephone call to a woman in each state and the District of Columbia Monday.

The First Lady and the Vice Presidential nominee's wife, in the first of a mounting pyramid of phone calls and letters as part of a nationwide "Tell A Friend" campaign, personally urged citizens to participate in the crucial 1964 Presidential election "for the peace of the world and continued prosperity at home."

Highlighting the important part that can be played by women from their own homes in the vital decision to be made at the polls November 3rd, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Humphrey spoke directly to the women at their private residences. Each of the 51 women contacted was asked to call or write 10 friends in a multiplying chain of calls to get all citizens registered now and to the polls on November 3.

Co-chairmen of the "Tell A Friend" grass roots campaign to get out the vote are Mrs. Marian M. Driver, of Falls Church, Va., and Mrs. Dorothy S. McDiarmid, of Vienna, Va.

Museum To Open Friday Night

Frederick W. Sleight, director of Central Florida Museum, has announced that the Museum's exhibit areas and Planetarium will reopen to the public Friday night between the hours of 7:30 and 9:30 p. m.

Of key interest with the opening night will be an exhibition illustrating original Spanish pieces of eight, doubloons, and other pieces explaining the aspect of the Spanish treasure routes around the coast of Florida, in the light of recent treasure discoveries on the East Coast. This exhibition will be of keen interest to central Floridians.

Also showing for the first time will be a sample series of the Ranger 7 photographs of the moon as well as a new exhibition concerning the Air Rescue services of the United States Air Force and a collection of paintings done by William Orr of personages associated with the early space program and Air Rescue.

By Donna Estes
A total of $1,201.07 was collected in Seminole County in Sunday's Teenage March Against Leukemia according to reports from Mrs. Sylvester Eldin, district leader, who said that this total more than doubles the amount collected last year.

The total is expected to go even higher as the march has not been completed in some areas and will be continued through next Saturday.

Although this year's goal in the whole of Central Florida was set for $6,500, it has reached $9,650 to date and is expected to reach $10,000 upon completion of the drive.

In Florida... after a swim, beer is a natural

On a hot summer day, a dip in a cool stream can be wonderfully refreshing. Equally refreshing when you're relaxing afterwards with friends is a hearty glass of beer. There's hardly another beverage around that suits what you do for fun as much as beer. Camping, hiking, or just lounging on a lawn chair—beer brings to each just the right touch of extra good living.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.

North Orlando Youths Enjoy Stay At Conservation Camp

By Margaret Cooby
Although the 1964 summer vacation from school is past history and classes have resumed again and are well underway, the Harich children can't help but daydream over their books about the exciting, interesting and fun-filled two weeks they spent at the Florida Youth Conservation Camp on beautiful Lake Eaton in the Ocala National Forest. The campsite lends itself perfectly to acquainting young campers with Florida's nature and all its wildlife resources.

First to go off to camp was Franz Harich, 15-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. Jakob Harich, of 31 South Cortez Avenue, North Orlando. He was among the hundred boys between the ages of 10 and 16 to participate in the jam-packed program sponsored by the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

Their schedule started before seven each morning and included just about everything you would want to know about camping from campcraft, wilderness survival and nature study to boating, hunting, swimming, riflery, and Franz's favorite activities of canoeing, archery and swimming. Fishing techniques were presented and, as is customary, the day began with a vigorous set of callisthenics. However, in all aspects of nature lore, "conservation" was the prime consideration and the youngsters gained a healthy respect for the tremendous value of Florida's natural resources.

On Waterfront Achievement Day, Franz won a certificate for having completed his training in swimming and was rated "best in breast stroke."

Dr. and Mrs. Harich left bright and early on Saturday morning to make the pleasant automobile trip to the Camp to bring Franz home, only to return in time to make the same trip back up to the Camp the next morning in order to register their daughters, Hermine, 13, and Wilma, 12, for the two weeks during which girls took over.

Hermine and Wilma participated with enthusiasm in the same program mapped out for the boys. Hermine won a certificate for proficiency in riflery although she especially enjoyed the swimming and canoeing sessions too. A unique experience for Hermine was spending her stay at the Camp

In a tent—unlike her brother Franz' unique experience of falling into a swamp, which is discussed with the same delight as Wilma's "getting into trouble over talking in her cabin too late after lights out."

In spite of the fact that Wilma's favorite periods included archery and "lunch, and social time at the canteen," she became an expert on knots and was presented with a gold lent peg for coming in first in a knot tying contest.

Although daily rains fell on the camp, the youngsters' spirits were not dampened and they enjoyed the full, strenuous days with their wildlife projects and nature studies. They met and made many friends from all over the state of Florida and eagerly look forward to renewing old acquaintances around the campfires at next summer's "adventure in the outdoors" at the Youth Conservation Camp.

Police Probe Two Thefts

Two thefts which occurred during the night are being probed by police.

Someone broke into an ice cream machine at the H. B. Owen Gulf Service Station at Park Avenue and 15th Street and a small amount of ice cream was taken.

The second theft was at Dennis's pool room at 311 Sanford Ave. when someone ripped a lock from a front door, broke open a cigarret machine and made off with an unknown amount of money and cigars.

Brisson Goes To Convention

A representative of at least one local funeral home is in Miami Beach for the annual convention of Florida Funeral Directors Association which opens Wednesday.

R. Gordon Brisson of Brisson Funeral Home, a past president of the association, left for the convention which will run through Friday.

William Gramkow of Gramkow Funeral Home says he intends to take part in at least part of the meetings.

"Candid Chatter"

By Doris Williams
Society Editor

BRIDES ARE HERE to stay and will always be in "vogue" regardless of Father Time intervening. As compared with rare old vintage, they improve with age and maturity and become distinctive and discriminating. We turned the calendar back a few years and paid a "pop-in" call on a gal who came to Sanford as a bride in 1907.

MRS. OSSIE FIELDS

"What are you doing with the camera, Honey?"

"Oh, it's just part of my standard equipment."

Our bride of yesterday is Mrs. Ossie Fields, who presently resides in the home she and her husband, now deceased, built some 55 years ago on West 17th Street. The handsome antique (and old at that) furnishings feature solid maple love seats and elegant marble topped tables. We did some rapid mental calculations and calculated some of the pieces are well over a century, constructed with wooden pegs, and virtually indestructible. (Just happen to know of a modern house with modern furnishings which are falling apart).

"Why all the questions, Sugar?"

"Just 'cause I'm nosy."

"Miss Ossie" is a remarkable person. Her background reflects a true "southern belle," known to many only through some of our southern folklore. Chatting about "back when" was fascinating, and the sparkle and gleam in her eyes made the conversation entrancing. They really "lived it up back then" and used their minds and hands to every possible advantage. She goes all out for modern conveniences, but thinks some of the younger generation have it too easy with automation and push buttons and are unappreciative of the true meaning of living by not exercising their imaginations to productive creativity.

Ill health has handicapped "Miss Ossie" physically, but this gal is so mentally alert that she would no doubt outwit some of our modern "skull jockeys." Some years back, she fell and broke her hip, which resulted in her becoming crippled. A heart condition hampers many of her activities and cataracts on her eyes have resulted in near blindness. Recent hospitalization revealed she is diabetic, but nary a complaint as she looks toward the brighter side with astounding optimism.

"You sure are nosy today, Sweetie."

"Yea'm, bein' nosy is part of my job."

There are three Fields offsprings. They were all born in Sanford, and know every slick and stone around town. Clarence is now living in Pompano Beach and Louise Barthlow (Mrs. Bob) lives in Longwood. Mary Rawlins, who is a member of the medical profession is now in temporary retirement and taking care of her mother during her convalescence.

"What job, Honey?"

"Aha, you don't know, do you?"

"Miss Ossie" is a Methodist, and was in the midst of all activities "back then." Understand she was quite a social butterfly, and could possibly give our modern debutantes some constructive briefing. She was a wizard at bridge, and played not too long ago with the aid of her magnifying glass, stating she was too slow and it was not fair to the other players.

"Now Honey, you're not going to put any of this in the paper, are you?"

"Weell, Miss Ossie, now don't get so nosy, and quit twistin' my arm."

So when the PLOMS (poor ill' ole' me sickness) develop, a few minutes chat with "Miss Ossie" is more stimulating and tranquillizing than any of man's manufactured products. She possesses some of the wisdom of Solomon, the strength of Gibraltar, and the tranquil faith of a monastic monk. It is time to look homesmellin' stuff recently sampled sends 'em way, way out.

OVERHEARD IN THE Herald dark room. Bill Vincent said he sure would be glad when all this weather cleared up so he wouldn't have so many pictures to make and could get a roof on his dog house.

"Again, Bill, whattsa matter, you getting uncomfortable out there?"

THE NEVER-NEVER Land of women's fashions is where folks rush in and angels fear to tread, or is it thread?

No matter, the point is that for generations, women have been living up to their fickle reputations with high hemlines, low hemlines, plunging necklines, barback frocks, the new look, the old look, the straight look, the rounded look, short shorts and ity-bity teeny-weeny yellow polka dot bikinis. Nor has it been confined to clothing. Hair styles have done a flip-flop with such hair-raising fashions as the Italian cut, feather cut, bouffant, teased, beehive, beetle-cut, up-swept, down-swept and in colors ranging from silver platinum to geranium red.

All of these fads and fancies have been endured and the snickers, smirks and smiles were enjoyed out of bearing range of the fashion conscious females. Now comes the ultimate — the topless swim suit and the "shock frock" or (why not come right out and say it!) the bare-bosom look. These styles, it has been observed, are for the woman who has everything. Well, there aren't too many women around who have everything and those who do can be a bit reluctant about displaying it. It is far better to let some things be a fabric of the imagination than to remove the fabric and destroy the image. Could be there's a layer of padding under the outer layer. There now, we've gotten that off our chests — oops, we're slipping!

SHIRLEY SCHILKE is a masterpiece with conversation, and a recent chat with her revealed the Ladies Auxiliary of Bambola Memorial Hospital (Pink Ladies) have something big in the making for some good entertainment for our fair city. Know if Madam President Shirley is behind the scenes, it will be a "big thing."

VIRGINIA PETROSKI, Sanford Welcome Wagon hostess, invites all newcomers to our area to a "welcome coffee" on Friday, September 25, at 9:30 a.m. at the Robert Thornell home on 420 Sabuums Drive. This is an open invitation to all newcomers and members, so all you new gals in town, plan to join in the fun and make yourselves known.

MRS. FINLEY NASH, president of the BPOE Does reminds all members of the lavish luau scheduled for Saturday, September 26. Keep on reading the Herald for more explicit details.

EVA GAHOR, stage and television celebrity, will narrate a fashion show, Thursday, September 17, at 8 p.m. at the Municipal Auditorium in Orlando. High fashions will be flaunted in all directions, and the dialogue in the script for "If I Were President" promises to be delightfully different.

DEBBIE FROM DORA — double feature showing at the local drive-in cinema when Dora was howling the loudest — "Raw Wind in Eden" and "5 Miles To Midnight."

Teenage neighbor, paying nocturnal visit:

"Night, hope to see you around tomorrow."

Mathinks this kid is sick, with his genuine concern, and follow up with, "don't dig ole' buddy."

"Weell, uh, y'know, Dora is supposed to be like a lotta' other females — you know — loud and full of wind." Ught

DESTRUCTIVE DORA had cut the power lines, was ungraciously attempting to gain illegal entry to invade the domestic tranquility of Sanford homes, had played havoc with and literally pulverized many nervous systems, but newspaper work has to go on. A local mama was carefully winding the alarm by inadequate candlelight when teenage slaughter comes up with, "Don't you think Dora will be rouser enough?"

These ill' gems of wisdom from the mouths of babes bring out homicidal tendencies in mamas, and the urge to commit murder too.

A FOLLOW-UP ON SONI WERNER—We recently featured Soni, the glanor gal in "Candid Chatter." Here we see Soni, the marksman, before she departs for a wild boar hunt. The water burning episode was hilarious, but the night the steaks caught fire, Soni grabbed the portable fire extinguisher, and had the situation well in hand in nothing flat. "Other girls get diamonds and furs for gifts, but I'm different. I get a fire extinguisher and cook books."

A modified chapel train fell gracefully at the back of the bell shaped skirt. The imported veil of silk illusion was attached to a tiara of pearl pearls, and the bride wore a single strand of heirloom pearls. She carried a cascade bridal bouquet of white carnations and mums showered with dainty blue satin streamers.

Miss Sandra Aucoin attended the bride as maid of honor, and was attired in a maize sheath with matching accessories. She carried a nosegay of yellow carnations tinged in gold. The bridesmaid, Miss Sherry Corbello, sister of the groom, was dressed identically to the maid of honor.

Paul Placek served the groom as best man, with Larry Corbello serving as usher. Mrs. Placek chose for her daughter's wedding a pastel blue metallic dress with white accessories and an orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a taupe ensemble of royal blue lace with blue accessories and an orchid corsage.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Gies on Sunland Drive with Miss Evelyn Hasty, Mrs. Mary Brooklyn and Mrs. Hera Perkins assisting.

For her going away outfit, the bride was attired in a green and black pin striped suit with white accessories. Following a wedding trip to the Florida east coast, Mr. and Mrs. Corbello are residing in Lake Charles, La.

All signs show that diamond jewelry once limited to the few, is now wanted and bought by the many. The Jewelry Industry Council reports, more and more new and delightful designs are being shown. The first diamond, of course, is the fancy diamond ring. After that comes the diamond pin, followed by diamond earrings, bracelets or watch. To round out the wardrobe of sparklers: a diamond necklace, the piece de resistance.

DESTRUCTIVE DORA did her darndest to disrupt things around here last week. She succeeded in getting the Checkmates Fashion Show cancelled, and rescheduled for October 9th, but rehearsals for the USO Benefit Show, September 26th are still going on schedule.

Rehearsals were held Monday night, and another one is set for Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the Ballroom, under Elaine Orasi's direction, and the sponsorship of the Tigerettes. Quite a number of fine acts have been signed up and we have seen several very good between-the-acts skits that promise to be hilarious as well as clever.

Tickets are now on sale at Special Services on the base, at Touchton's Drugstore downtown and from any of the Tigerettes members.

OFFICERS AND WIVES of VAH-13, the Wing's newest squadron had their first get-together in Sanford recently, when they met at Spencer's Restaurant for dinner.

Twenty-two men, 20 wives, and two bachelors met for cocktails and dinner, with the skipper Cdr. "Tony" Nolte and his wife Maggie and the proposed exec. Cdr. Deane Webster and wife Mary Lou acting as hosts for the occasion.

VAH-13, transferring here officially from Whidby Island, and the USS Kittyhawk, is in training with the RA-5C, and has been padded out by some men from VAH-3.

HAIL AND FAREWELL as men of the station come and go was the occasion of a Pool Party September 4th with Capt. Chandler Swanson presenting silver trays as farewell gifts to Lt. Elmer Haupt and his wife Alice; Lt. Harry Gentry and wife Jackie; CWO George McGowan and wife and Lt. Jig Bruce Baumrucker who are all being transferred except Baumrucker who is getting out.

Given the "right hand of fellowship" and a "welcome aboard" were Capt. Edward Anderson, new senior medical officer and his wife Mickle and Lt. Jig Robert Gable, new Navy Exchange officer and his wife Ann.

THE AFTERBURNER was the scene of the Sept. 3rd coffee of the Station Wives which was hosted by Jackie Gentry and Esther Plapp. Autumn colors formed the theme of the center piece and in the serving dishes, with delicious homemade strudel, donuts and coffee.

Ann Gable was welcomed as a new member and Dayle Homes attended her first meeting. Door prize was won by Margaret Ann Feldsmeyer.

Mrs. "Dinkle" Shively, wife of the new station exec. attended her first meeting, too.

It was reported that Operations Officer, Lcdr. Ed Christiansen has returned from the Jacksonville hospital where he underwent surgery and is recovering nicely.

Next bridge will be held at Louise Sharpe's on September 21st.

A HIGHLIGHT of the coffee and business meeting of the RVAH-9 officers' wives at the Afterburner recently was the reading of a letter from former skipper's wife Norma Shipman.

Hostesses Joan Greenwood and Barbara Dunn and chairman Dossie deGanahl welcomed new member Kitty Snyder and presented a farewell gift to Clarence Lynch.

Conversation piece at the coffee was the new cookbook which is just out and has created a lot of excitement. It is to be on sale at the benefit bridge scheduled for Sept. 24th.

Next event for Nine wives will be a bridge at the Afterburner, Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. with Barbara Dunn, hostess.

SEPTEMBER got off to a busy and delicious start for Checkertail Officers' Wives, according to publicity chairman Sue Jamison.

co-hostess Betty Quillin serving such an array of food and beverages that "the girls began to look guilty as they returned to the table for the umpteenth time."

"The agenda for the business meeting was as crowded as the table and new president Sue Kennedy found herself with quite a list to discuss," continues Sue in her communication.

One of the main subjects was the planning of a chuck wagon party for Sept. 25th. Not only will the girls come garbed in western attire, but will bring their own specialties of western and Mexican food for the buffet. Betty Quillin has offered her "hacienda" for the occasion and she will be assisted by a committee of four - Jo Moloney, Betsy Beeton, Betty McCracken and Dee Munday.

Next on the calendar will be a dessert card party at Sue's house, Thursday at 8 p.m. Sue says she is looking for wall stretchers with a reservation list of four tables of bridge and one of Tripoley.

NAVAL OFFICERS WIVES CLUB is most anxious that you don't forget about the big benefit bridge party scheduled for Sept. 24th at noon, to raise money for their good works and charities. The girls are concerned because reservations are not coming in like they should, what with hurricanes and one thing and another.

So if you plan to go, for heaven's sake, line up your partner and call Mrs. W. E. Markely or Mrs. E. L. Ebbert and make your reservations, today. (Sorry, Jo, we can't put in the phone numbers or the cost of tickets.)

The NOWC promises lots of good things to eat and prizes of all kinds. Please bring your own cards, though. Civilians are particularly encouraged to attend, so be sure to invite your civilian card-playing friends to this event.

SPECIAL FEATURE at the Benefit Bridge will be the display of the new cookbook called "Recipes On Parade," which is said to have 2,000 fabulous recipes from all over the continental U. S., Alaska and Hawaii.

Everyone who has seen it tells us that is most interesting and has culinary treasures for every occasion from the simplest snack to the most festive dinner party.

"There are many rare recipes that produce food entirely different from anything you have ever eaten, yet are simple to make and require no fancy ingredients," Jo says.

You can order yours now from NOWC President Evelyn Fitzpatrick or at the bridge.

As an indication of the popularity of the cookbook - the girls of RVAH-9 have already ordered 50 of them! (It's not that they don't know how to cook - it's that endless search for "something different" and this book has lots of "different" recipes.)

IF YOU missed the big sale which took place at the Thrift Shop today, just remember that all summer merchandise has been marked down to clearance prices.

There are lots of nice things in all sizes for the whole family, says Jo Watson, and she advises that in addition you might find little things, like "just the right size zipper to replace that broken one, or that special button you have been looking for, all at give-away prices."

She suggests that if you are thinking of Halloween dress-ups and costumes you might come up with a real original creation out of odds and ends at the Thrift Shop. All profits of the little shop go to charity, you know.

Off-White Walls Leading Color In Decorating

NEW YORK (UPI) — Off white heads the list of the top 10 wall colors in home decorating in 1964.

Lemon yellow is a close contender, reports a paint company, Benjamin Moore, in its regular analysis of popularity in home decorating colors.

Greens show in a variety of hues and tints, the company said. Neutrals are predominantly earth tones and identified by such names as stone, bark, pebble and sand. Beige still is in the upper half of the list but seems to be losing some of its glamour. Also among the best sellers are antique gold, citron, light blue, stone gray and a soft, bluish pink.

Lady Florist Blankets Nags With Bouquets

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N. M. (UPI)—Mrs. H. H. Shiers lavishes flowers on the winning horses at Ruidoso Downs.

On occasion she has worked 36 hours, without even a coffee break, to supply the floral horsehoses and other beautiful buds that go to doll up the victors at this race course.

Mrs. Shiers has flowers delivered to her shopping center headquarters from such points as Florida, Washington and Denver. She estimates at $200 the cost of a 36-inch floral horsehoe with 200 roses, six orchids and several hours work.

"I never made a bouquet in my life till we came to Ruidoso about 14 years ago," Mrs. Shiers said. "The first couple of years I dealt merely in the sale of cut flowers, for high school dances and such occasions as Easter. Now we supply the race track, funerals and conventions as well."

Her husband runs a pharmacy next door and three teenaged daughters help their parents tend to both pills and petals.

Household Hints

Sprinkle salt on meats cooked in the broiler after browning, suggests the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association. The reason — salt tends to draw juices from the meat to the surface and this delays browning.

Pipe cleaners are handy gadgets for closing plastic bags, cleaning the pressure cooker vent, fastening plants in place.

Beef, lamb and pork liver give extremely high nutritive returns for the money spent.

Teeners' Diets Lack Nutrients For Motherhood

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One out of every four mothers bearing a first child is less than 20 years old.

A startling statistic? Yes. But not nearly as startling, says Dr. Evelyn Spindler, extension nutritionist in the U.S. Department of Agriculture, as the fact that about half the teen-age girls in the nation have diets poor in some essential nutrients. "This makes them ill - equipped for motherhood."

ANNETTE Funicello, 22, of Mickey Mouse Club fame urges teens to pamper their skin. She too was faced with a "breaking-out" problem, but with careful use of cosmetics, proper creams and cleansers, and a proper diet, she won the battle with a lot of hard work. "How I wish I had listened to my mother, which 99 per cent don't. A teenager shouldn't rush growing up. Too many bleach their hair too early, and wear makeup too old for them. It makes them look ridiculous."

Nut breads make nice gifts. Make days ahead, then wrap in foil and freeze.

To estimate paint quantity for a specified wall area, work out the total square footage of the walls to be covered. Then multiply the height by the length of each wall. Subtract the door and window space. Allow about one gallon of paint for every 300 square feet of room area.

Is Auto Pact Inflationary?

Automobile manufacturing holds such a central position in the nation's economy that whatever happens in Detroit sooner or later affects the private economies of virtually every American.

Whether or not the new three-year settlement between the United Auto Workers and Chrysler Corporation will have a pebble-in-the-pond inflationary effect, the remaining months of 1964—and the outcome of contract negotiations in steel and other industries—will probably tell.

Business observers have generally approved the auto contract, terming it only "mildly inflationary." They have especially praised its liberalized pension provisions, which will tend to make more room for younger workers.

But a little inflation, like the camel's nose under the tent, can lead to bigger things.

The Chrysler settlement exceeds the wage-increase guidelines that were set up last January by President Johnson's Council of Economic Advisors. The council's rough rule is that total compensation to a particular industry's employees, including fringe benefits, should not exceed the national average increase in output per man hour.

In other words, if national productivity goes up by, say, 3 per cent, average wages can safely be raised by 3 per cent.

The auto settlement does exceed this average, by a large margin. But it is not out of line with worker productivity increases within the auto industry itself. So it is not, on the surface, inflationary.

The auto makers are said to be rich enough to absorb the new costs without contemplating raising prices. But they may try to boost prices nevertheless.

This is not the only consideration to worry about. There is another recommendation by the economic council. This one urges that, in the interests of economic stability, those industries enjoying a greater rise in productivity than the national average should cut their prices. If they don't profits tend to pile up and offer a natural temptation to workers for "strongly intensified wage demands."

This in turn can set up pressures for wage hikes in other industries—industries which, lagging in productivity, might have to raise prices to meet the increased costs. Then hello, camel!

Unfortunately, management has usually been reluctant to cut prices in the face of rising profits and general prosperity. It has preferred to have its bigger cake even if it must share more of it with labor—and even though a price cut in a vital industry like automobiles would be a form of wage increase for everybody, company employees and customers alike.

The auto workers have done all right. And even if a little "mild inflation" should set in, they are guarded against it by their escalation clause tied to the cost of living index.

The auto makers (it is assumed that Ford and General Motors will follow the pattern set by Chrysler) have done all right, too. Business could hardly be better, and for another three years it should be undisturbed by serious labor problems.

Now all we have to think about is the country.

Thought For Today

Therefore you have no excuse, O man, whoever you are, when you judge another; for in passing judgment upon him you condemn yourself, because you, the judge, are doing the very same things.—Romans 2:1.

Justice has nothing to do with expediency. Justice has nothing to do with any temporary standard whatever. It is rooted and grounded in the fundamental instincts of humanity.—Woodrow Wilson.

"How Do You Suppose We Can Get Him Off That Pedestal?"

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

CASE T-474: Jackie Q., aged 21, is a recent coed college graduate.

Apparently she has absorbed the superficial attitude of many of the younger psychology professors, for note her remarks to her editor:

"How this Dr. George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D., ever became a syndicated writer is beyond me!

"He is extremely out of touch with reality and makes very misleading statements.

"For example, he recently said: 'You readers may also be good psychologists even though many of you have never had a single year of college, for you can acquire a wealth of practical information about human relations just by watching people.'

"Mr. Editor, although I have a college degree in psychology, I could never presume to call myself a psychologist until I have earned an advanced degree.

"The field is far too complex to allow the man on the street to be a psychologist by observation!"

Nitwit Psychologists This girl reflects the naive attitude of all too many cloistered professors who cannot practice what they teach.

In the first place, observation is the basic means by which all scientific data are derived.

Newspaper editors, doctors, advertising men, salesmen and you smart mothers may not have majored in college psychology at all.

Yet you are generally shrewd Applied Psychologists who can often run circles around the "ivory towers" professors of psychology.

For most of them can't even make a speech that would merit a $50 fee, yet many of you experienced businessmen can hold an audience spellbound!

Dale Carnegie graduates can usually far surpass the average professor of psychology at public speaking, yet the typical college psychology prof sneers at the Dale Carnegie courses because Dale lacked a Ph.D.

This coed says I am out of touch with reality, yet I receive 1,000 letters daily from you fellow Americans who outline your current crucial problems in human relations.

Does any of Jackie's profs have 1,000 contacts daily with the American public?

And how many of her profs could equal most of you life insurance agents or auto salesmen at influencing people?

How many profs could handle the varied psychological duties of any modern newspaper editor, whether he be running a daily or a weekly paper?

The usual psychology professor tries to pat himself on the back by using polysyllables and confusing his students with insipid circumlocutions.

The real professors of psychology are those who are teaching Applied Psychology or similar practical courses, for they can practice what they teach.

But the bulk of them just mouth an esoteric jargon to prevent laymen from understanding what they say. (Actually, even the profs themselves seldom know what they are talking about, or they'd be able to put it across simply and effectively.)

Jesus thus indicted the typical psychology profs when he said, "They strain at gnats and swallow camels."

They piddle over minutiae yet miss the basic truths of human behavior.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Concern that the 1964 campaign will be shot through with smears seems to be bothering the top figures in both major parties.

President Johnson took some cognizance of the problem in his acceptance speech. To a sentence which included the words "The growing forces in this country are . . . not the forces of bigotry and fear" he added two more: "and smear."

Sen. Hubert Humphrey, his running mate, cautions against "gutter" politics in the weeks ahead.

The GOP nominee, Sen. Barry Goldwater, has been echoed by other Republicans in forecasting an extremely bitter campaign.

In a few days both national chairmen will follow past official performance and sign the Fair Campaign Practices Code, which formally aligns the two parties on the side of decent campaigning. Yet no Democratic or Republican leader appears to doubt that the code will be quickly breached.

The Fair Campaign Practices Committee, a financially frail but still enduring organization which probes this field under the guidance of such distinguished figures as Charles P. Taft, voices new worry that false charges involving racial issues and political extremism will play a considerable role in the fall campaign.

In its fourth biennial "State by State Smear Study," the FCPC says on the racial matter: "It is certain that candidates' attitudes and postures toward integration will be discussed intensively for years, especially in southern general and primary elections.

"Only total absence of realism would permit one to hope that such discussions will be fairer in the South than the poor-to-moderate record of the northern states."

As for extremism, the committee's latest report—basically a review of 1963 malpractice—indicates concern that charges of "radical rightism" may this year and henceforth be as wildly flung as those of "far leftism" have often been in the past.

Says the committee: "Loose labeling of everyone to the right of one's own position in the spectrum of radical rightism can only pollute the political atmosphere until no rational argument can be heard."

The FCPC found, incidentally, that both in 1962 and 1960 "soft on communism" was a favorite campaign smear tune. It notes that "soft on (John) Birchism" is in 1964 the "emerging epithet" at the opposite end of the scale.

The committee sees trouble ahead, too, in what it brands as "audio forgery"—the growing practice of altering tape recordings of a candidate's voice to distort the meaning of what he says.

Cited is a 1963 gubernatorial campaign in which Republicans used 30-second spot announcements which seemed to put the late John F. Kennedy—through his own voice —on record as favoring a general racial "mix."

The tape actually sliced out 28 pages of text between the President's opening words—a simple greeting to newsmen—and the language dealing with a "mix." Stripped away was a long question from a reporter. It made clear that Kennedy's words about a "mix" reflected his view that Negroes in decades to come would be mixed in their voting—dividing their support between the two parties.

The FCPC warns lawmakers and enforcement agencies to be on increasing alert this year and later for this devastating distortion through use of the candidate's own voice. It is highly tempting in this era of electronic campaigning.

Letters

Editor, Herald:

We are happy to hear that you are for Linden B. Johnson, so are we and a lot of others.

The Republicans were in for two terms so the Democrats are entitled to their term in office. Linden B. Johnson is a fine president and he is humanitarian and knows his business.

We are looking forward to visiting the Democratic headquarters in Sanford so we can get Johnson, Humphrey plus and buttons.

Now is a good time for every body to practice the golden rule.

Growing plants and flowers under artificial light may sound rather ridiculous to Floridians who think of horticulture as strictly an outdoor pursuit.

However, Florida, like many other growing areas, is experiencing a switch to apartment living, particularly in our larger cities. While the area surrounding the modern apartment structure may be beautifully landscaped, those who dwell there miss their own personal garden and the thrill of tending it.

The window sill flower box or indoor potted plant testifies to the desire in the hearts of apartment dwellers for a garden of their own and a chance to exercise their green thumb.

In recent years the growing of all manner of plants indoors under artificial light has become popular in some of our larger northern cities. It is being done quite successfully.

To meet the demand for information concerning this growing new hobby, Vernon Johnson and Winifred Carriere recently published a book on the subject entitled "An Easy Guide to Artificial Light Gardening for Pleasure and Profit."

From it plant and flower lovers will learn the progress that has been made in this direction and learn how they can have a magic garden in their apartment or anywhere in their home with the aid of special soil treatment and artificial light.

So wide has the interest become that a number of the nation's leading florists and nurserymen are growing plants especially for this purpose and providing detailed instructions for the preparation and care of such indoor gardens.

City apartment dwellers can now create their own indoor garden where plants thrive the year 'round. Where they can have chrysanthemums blooming at Easter, cut annuals for Christmas bouquets, or grow rare orchids and many other exotic plants.

You will find them in old converted aquarium tanks that have been remodeled and provided with artificial light usually from fluorescent bulbs, or they become an entrancing center box in the bookcase, or as hanging baskets equipped with circular fluorescent fixtures.

The book is divided into two parts with detailed information based on the latest research that explains light and darkness in plant growth, lamps and equipment, how to construct the light garden, what to plant, how to feed and nourish for best results and so on.

It is written in non-technical language and with clear illustrations. It gives easy steps for installing inexpensive lights, tells how to use the latest equipment and shows how to transform bookcases, fireplaces, glass aquariums, unused furniture and cheerless windows with brilliantly glowing, easily maintained and low cost indoor gardens.

Every plant enthusiast will welcome this illuminated guide to a fascinating hobby. It is published by Hearst's Press, Inc., 118 East 28th Street, New York 16, N. Y. and sells for $4.50.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — We are truly living in a vicious society. Ghost writers, substitutes, alternates, understudies, proxies, stand-ins and other types of super-numeraries flourish and abound these days.

I would not hazard a guess as to how far this trend might go, but something happened to me this week that may have approached the perimeter.

A lady press agent called from Hollywood and asked would I like to interview Cara Williams, a television actress who is about to be launched in a new situation comedy series.

As you may be aware, the networks frequently send actors and actresses around the country to talk with television columnists and other wise publicize new shows.

I don't happen to be a television columnist, but I don't stand on technicalities if I have reason to believe an interview will be culturally and intellectually stimulating.

"Is Miss Williams pretty?" I asked.

"Yes, indeed," the press agent said. "A beautiful redhead."

"Okay," I said, "I'll do it. When will she be in Washington?"

"I was coming to that," the press agent said. "This is a different kind of personal appearance tour. Miss Williams herself won't be there."

"How's that again?"

"Miss Williams doesn't like to fly, so she is staying here in Hollywood. We have arranged for another redhead to represent her in all the cities she would have visited if she had been making the tour herself.

"We will have a redhead in Washington call on you and you can ask her the same questions you would have asked Miss Williams."

"That sounds wonderful," I said. "It should be almost as much fun as peering through a keyhole with a glass eye."

Ture to the script, a red-haired young woman came to call on me.

"I'm Jackie Parsons," she said, "and I'm here for your Cara Williams interview."

It turned out that Miss Parsons is employed at the local gas works. She moonlights occasionally, and landed this job through a secretarial agency.

Miss Parsons is not as pretty as Miss Williams' picture, but I doubt that Miss Williams' picture either. In fact, Miss Williams may not be as pretty as Miss Parsons' picture.

Anyway, it was an interesting interview and I intend to tune in "The Cara Williams Show" every week—provided I can get someone to watch it for me.

I'm one guy who can't feel sorry for poor, tired, abused Willie Mays, who makes $110,000 a year for two and a half hours in the summer sun and complains, "Why can't I get a day off? You fellows get three weeks' vacation every year." ... So what does Willie call the six months' sista between baseball seasons? ... Don Hoak, who hustled as much as anybody, says he played two full seasons without an inning off and never varied his weight more than half a pound. ...

Hoak, released by the Phillies this spring, is doing advance scouting for the club — in both leagues. He watched a Baltimore - Chicago series and judged the Robinsons who try both clubs: Floyd of the White Sox — "good hitter but very bad arm, unsharable." ...

Brinks of the Orioles — "tough ball player, reminds me of Al Rosen, may be chubbier up and punches home-ers to right field." ...

Rafael Osuna, Mexico's No. 1 tennis player, last year's American champ and one of the world's great amateurs, is within three semester hours of his bachelor's degree from the University of Southern California. So he'll go back to school this fall for the one course he lacks — in English. When he came to USC in 1959, he didn't speak a word of English. He took a six-months crash program and then forgot he needed a course in it for his degree. ...

"The toughest play of all to call," says American League umpire, Ed Runge, "is a steal of home. You can't get into position because you're behind the catcher and watching the pitch, and the biggest part of umpiring is getting the right angle." ...

Alvin Dark's trouble with the Giants probably started the first day he took over the club when he called the Latin-American players together for a huddle and decreed, "No Spanish is to be spoken on the field." ... Considering the fire he has been under, Alvin has remained remarkably placid (or resigned). If I'd let what's been written about me bother me," he said, "I'd never have lasted long in this game. I was lucky. I broke in with the right town — Boston." ...

Minute interview with Duke Snider, ending his major league career: "I'll probably go back to the Dodger organization (from the Giants), in a scouting or coaching job." ... Would you manage in the Coast League? ... "I sure would." ... Playing manager? ... "You kidding? If I could play, I'd stay right here." ...

Don Carlisle, the quarterback of last year's national champions at Texas, couldn't cut it with Green Bay as a defensive back (released on waivers), but he has one distinction. He's the only man, admits Vince Lombardi, the Packers have signed to a no-cut contract during his regime. Which means he gets paid regardless. ... Lombardi also provided a little insight on the unloading last winter of Jim Ringo, his all-pro tackle: "He shouldn't be unhappy with me. He asked to be traded." ...

An assistant coach on the Packers said last summer: "If Dave Hanner plays tackle for us, we're in trouble." ... Well, the 15-year veteran is at his old defensive stand, and Lombardi says, "He's our solid man. I'd hate to be without him." ...

Between you and me, a sign of the decreasing gap between the two pro grid leagues: I'd take the New York Jet backs — Matt Soell, Bill Mathis, Mark Smolinski — over anything the Giants have been able to put together this year ... and if an AFL team ever went with a 3-10 quarterback who came out of the Ivy League and was known primarily for running (like the Giants have with Gary Wood of Cornell), the NFL would snicker, "Weak league." ...

Lions To Meet Zephyrhills In Oviedo Friday Night

Added Contest To Give Squad 10-Game Slate

By Julian Stenstrom
Herald Sports Editor

If there is such a thing as the home club having an advantage it'll be in favor of Oviedo High School.

The Lions will play five of their first six games at their home park — John Courier Field in Oviedo — before hitting the road to meet three of their last four opponents.

But the big news in Oviedo today is the fact that the Lions will lift the curtain on this year's grid season not next Friday night, Sept. 25th, as originally scheduled, but this Friday night.

Oviedo High's athletic director, Paul Mikler, announced this morning that the Lions will meet Zephyrhills Friday night at Courier Field.

"We tried to line them up for a contest last season," said Mikler, "but they said they were lined up. Then, they called and asked us to play them. We wanted a 10-game slate so we said yes and signed the contracts."

Oviedo, entering only its third season of high school football, will come up with almost all veteran eleven this fall. During their initial season the Lions grabbed two victories, both unexpected. Last season the Lions won four when they expected to win only two. This season, playing with a veteran team and not as difficult a schedule as they played last year, the Lions are expected to be quite potent.

Head Coach Arthur Scott feels that his club's one problem — depth — will not pose a threat to having a good season if the Lions can remain aloof from injuries.

Some observers have even given the Lions the possibility of going undefeated this year. That's a big order for a school in only its third season of football. But on the wing of Jim Courier, the Lions' first general, Oviedo could make it.

At any rate, local observers are giving the Lions the best chance of any of the county's four high schools of coming up with the best win and loss record.

The story will begin to unfold Friday night, 8 p. m. at Courier Field.

Panthers Work For Ocala Tilt

By Bob Thomas

The Crocra High Panthers resumed practice last Thursday and Friday after having been KO'd by Hurricane Dora for several days. However, practice was held in the gym, and practices in the gym is never like it is in the field. Head Coach Willie Holt and his staff held split practice, worked on pass defense and ran through offensive plays.

Practice Monday consisted of kickoff returns, blocking, and scrimmage. Time is running out for the boys from Pantherland who will meet head on with the Wild Bulls of Ocala Friday at 8 p. m. in Sanford's Memorial Stadium.

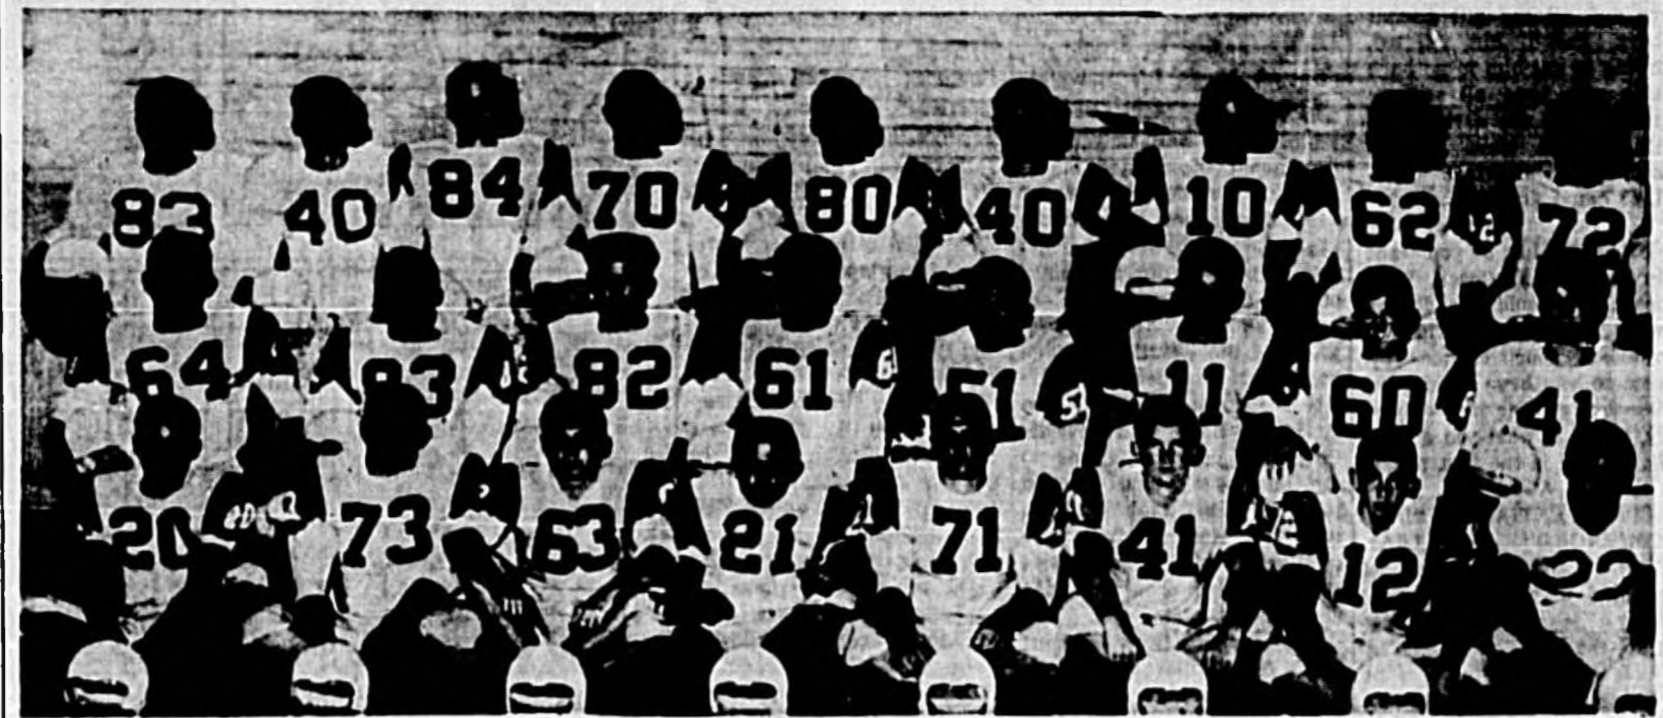

Holt seemed somewhat gloomy over having been flooded by inclement weather for a number of days. "But that is part of the game," he said. Fans are sure the boys of the Orange and Maroon will be ready when the whistle blows to begin the contest.

MODEL T ANCESTOR

NAPLES — The first swamp buggy was made from the chassis of an old Model T Ford. Today's buggies are equipped with four-wheel drives, and a variety of power plants including ex-Cadillac engines. Buggy races are held twice a year, in the fall and February.

BEARDESS? PAY A BUCK

NAPLES — It costs Naples' male residents a buck to be beardless during the preparations for the annual Swamp Buggy Days. Beardless residents either pay the buck or spend time in a roving calaboose — the Bushman's Jail. Most men, with beard-objectioning wives, prefer to pay the dollar, which helps stage the celebration.

THE 1964 OVIEDO HIGH LIONS will open the Fall grid campaign Friday night at John Courier Field when the Seminole County eleven hosts Zephyrhills in the season's curtain lifter. Coached by Arthur Scott, the Lions are expected to come up with the best of their three seasons of football to date. They will play a 10-game schedule, six at home and four on the road. Strikes And Sparer

Many Newcomers Are Pounding Pins In Local Bowling Leagues

By John A. Spolaki

Words can't express the gratitude of the local bowlers towards the Sanford Herald and its sports editor, Julian Stenstrom.

Julian was on hand as our master of ceremonies Friday night at which time the plaques were presented to the First Annual Sanford Herald All-Seminole County Bowling teams, both for men and women.

After seeing that wonderful "spread" in The Herald yesterday, you can readily see why the bowlers are so enthused with the folks at The Herald.

On behalf of the bowling world, "a kindly thank you." I believe it's obvious for you bowlers but I'll say it anyhow. Now you really have something to set your sights on for the coming season.

And now that the leagues are back in action in full force, I'll be able to fill you in on the "weekly stars" once again.

A perfect example would be Jean Kreck's hot night in the Sand Spurs this past Friday. Jean shot a 217 scratch single and finished the night with a 350 scratch series. How's that for pounding the pins!

The Friday Mr. and Mrs. League has quite a few new faces joining in on the fun this year. We'll try to single some of them out for you, but in the meantime it's a couple of old hands who are showing us how it's done!

Clarence Henning had a fine series of 606 which included two games of 215 and 211. Leading the "Mrs." was a familiar face, Jane Spolaki with a 171/300 scratch series. (I'd rather you didn't ask my scoring, please.)

One of the hottest bowlers in our town would have to be George - Oh Swann. For the first two weeks of City League bowling George is averaging a cool 214.

This past week his series included games of 182, 219 and 216 for a 617. On his opponent's team, Lake Monroe Inn, Big John Uhr was losing that strike ball also 'cause he finished 13 pins behind George with a 604 set.

Harold Herbst, bowling for American Legion Post 33, shot the high single in the league, a big 308. This league looks like it's going to be a thriller all the way.

The Thursday Night Mixed Combo League started their hoop with a flourish, thanks to Phil Zueli's pin-bombing. Phil slammed home games of 224, 222 to finish with a 610 series. (How's it feel to carry a 203 average, Phil. ... even if it is for just one night's bowling?)

Oh, almost forgot about mentioning some of those new folks in the Mr. & Mrs. League. Welcome to Jane and Erroll Parks, Ann and Don Peacock, Mary and Roy Sierman, Ann and Bob Gabel, Norma and Joe Pickens, Bonnie and Dan Srecky, Elsie and Dave Oldham and Shirley and Art Moore.

That's the Friday group and now a tip of the hat to our married couples of the Sunday League, especially those newcomers.

A great big hit to Shirley and Dan Siglin, Eloyce and Fred Hollen, Andy and Eve Sime, Dutch and Thelma Unger, Bob and Helen Ache, Lewis and Joyce Dorion, Tom and Mary Hunter, Pete and Mabel Duggan, Ben and Bernice Chada, Dick and Colleen Sandlin. The more I go through these yellow sheets, the more I realize that almost everyone's a newcomer to this league. Well, let's continue anyhow.

Dick and Ellen Keefe, Charles and Alice Lansing, Bill and Sue Baggerly, Fred and Jo Brown, Dick and Mary Hopkins and Andy and Rose Patrick.

Looks like the only repeaters are the Kenners and the Kreck's.

Some of the highlights of the Kegler's League show the names of Magio with a 1681/341 and Stankiewicz 210/366 high for the CPO 2 Lashes team (what kind of a name is that?), on the other CPO team, Ken Martin came through with a 210 high single.

Just missing that 600 series was Curtis Abney of the Seminole Memorial Hospital League. Curt's been a hitting mule with shots like 203, 200 and finished with a 592 series. In this same happy group, Cleo Williams shot a respectable 508 series. One of these days I'll try to list the names of these teams for you. Reason I'm not about to right now is that they're all abbreviations — and some of those letters have me more than mildly curious.

That'll take care of it for this week. How's that average of yours coming along? A little rusty from a long layoff? Don't press yourselves if you're having a problem. Remember, there are free bowling lessons on Saturday mornings at 11:30.

O's Nip Twins; Hike AL Margin

By Fred Dews
UPI Sports Writer

Iron man Ken Rowe may be just what the doctor ordered to breathe new life into the Baltimore Orioles' over-worked bullpen crew.

A 6-foot, 2-inch, 205-pound righthander, who set a record for organized baseball by appearing in 84 games for Spokane of the Pacific Coast League this year, Rowe reported to the Orioles Monday afternoon and six hours later found himself in the middle of the American League pennant race.

The Orioles and Minnesota Twins were tied at 3-3 going into the top of the ninth inning and Manager Hank Bauer needed a relief pitcher. Harvey Haddix was unavailable because he worked Sunday, Stu Miller has been hit hard in recent outings and word came back from the bullpen: "Dick Hall doesn't have it."

"Okay," said Bauer, "Let's have Rowe."

Rowe, who pitched briefly for the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1963, retired the Twins in order and gained credit for his first American League victory when the Orioles pushed over a run in the bottom of the ninth.

Luis Aparicio's sacrifice fly delivered pinch runner Bob Saverine with the winning run after the bases were filled on Johnny Orsino's single, a sacrifice, an intentional walk and Johnny Goryl's error.

SHS Preps For Opener

SHS Athletic Director Fred Gans said this morning that student tickets for the Seminole High - Titusville High football game will go on sale Wednesday morning at the school's main office.

The contest will be played Friday night at Titusville, 8 p. m. Gans says he has been advised that all student tickets must be obtained in advance of the game.

No student tickets will be sold at the box office Friday night.

The Seminole High grid squad held the first of four important workouts Monday with passing and punting drills.

Co-captains Joe Farless, Dave Noel, and Ronnie Hinson led the squad through conditioning exercises featuring backwards pushups, sit ups, and jumping jacks.

The Tribe went through a hard hitting scrimmage specializing on pass offense and defense. The scrimmage included yard gaining passes by Hinson, chief quarterback for the Tribe. Hinson is primarily a quick passer, but also has a long ball that went for a good number of tough downs last season.

Bill Kuykendall, Danny Tills, Larry Watson, and Buddy Burton all caught the kind of passes that should gain yards for the Seminoles.

Before the scrimmage Back Coach Dick Williams put the backs through pass drills, and Line Coach Jim McCoy ran the line on blocking positions.

The Seminoles will be ready to knock heads this Friday when they meet Titusville in the season's opener. The members of the Terrier's squad include: Ends — Bob Grierson senior, 163; Larry Zimmerman junior, 163; Tommy Edwards senior, 190, and David Howitt senior, 175.

Fullbacks — Glen Long junior, 173 and Sam Wortham junior, 170.

The Terrier's backfield has an average weight of 157 and the line averages 182. The Seminoles' backfield has an average weight of 154 and the line averages 187.

Parents Give School Board A Lengthy Q. And A. Session

By Julia Stenstrom
Associate Editor

Usually when a delegation of parents appears before a Seminole County School Board meeting they're unanimous as to what they want the board to do.

This was not so last Thursday afternoon when some 20 parents of Southside Elementary School children appeared.

The group talked about three things:

They wanted to know why bus transportation to the school had been eliminated.

They wanted more protection for the pupils at street crossings.

Finally, they wanted to know why the opening hour of the school was changed to 8 a.m.

Here's how the discussion went:

Dr. A. W. Epps Jr., board member: "We had 1,448 courtesy riders. The law says we aren't supposed to have any. We were going to cut out all courtesy riders. But Herbert Euse, our transportation supervisor, said we could still carry some in certain areas where buses were not transporting maximum loads."

Mrs. Wade Singletary: "How long have we had this transportation problem?"

Dr. Epps: "Ever since we've had transportation."

R. T. Milwee, schools superintendent: "Transportation people from the state will make a survey in November and perhaps they can help us."

Parent: "If some courtesy riders were cut off why shouldn't they all be?"

Dr. Epps: "That was our original intention until we found we could have some children ride, particularly the little ones."

Question from parent: "Why can't we set up a fare system for children within the two-mile radius?"

Milwee: "That could be done, but it would take an act of the legislature."

Parent: "What about these traffic hazards? The only place my children can cross Sanford Avenue at a light is on First Street. I've found we don't have police at some crossings because just as school is taking in they're changing shifts. It's terrifying to see some children trying to cross Sanford Avenue with all the traffic in the area at that time."

Parent: "There's no sidewalk in my area and the kids are crossing peoples' yards. First thing you know they're going to chase then off. I'd like to know, in view of the taxes we pay, why we have no money for transportation?"

Board Chairman Dan Wright: "I ran for this office on a platform of eliminating deficit financing and we've made progress. But we've also had a population explosion and had to build new schools. We've gotten impact funds but not enough. We built a new school at Bear Lake and already it's too little."

Parent: "Why do you spend so much money on new libraries and cafeterias?"

Wright: "To keep them accredited. This is important if we expect funds from the state and federal government."

Parent: "I understand you bought eight new buses and stopped using four old ones. How much does it cost to operate a bus?"

Milwee: "About 30 cents a mile."

Parent: "Well, I feel that it's more important to get our youngsters to school than it is to have adult French classes at Lake Mary. What about that?"

Parent: "There's a bus parked at Southside every morning when school takes in. Why couldn't this bus be used?"

Milwee: "This bus makes three runs each morning and the driver takes a brief break before making another run. It makes one run to Seminole High and Sanford Junior High and two runs to Pinecrest. Every bus we have makes two or more runs each morning."

Question: "Why did the hours change?"

Milwee: "The school made that decision."

Mrs. Singletary: "But we've voted down changing school opening time every time it came before the PTO."

Milwee: "Some have said the children get more out of school by starting early."

Mrs. Singletary: "Not after they've walked two or more miles."

Mrs. Harley Nelson: "Personally, I want the 8 a.m. opening time."

Another mother: "I wouldn't complain if it weren't for the traffic. It's difficult enough in a car."

Mrs. Bob Williams: "We can get the children everywhere else, why not to school. I think mothers can arrange car pools and they can also police the crossings."

Parent: "I have to go to work at 7:30 and I'll admit I worry about my children getting to school."

Another parent: "I don't like the time. I work, too. My children get home an hour and a half before I do."

Mrs. Beverly Brown: "I have five children and a husband to get off at the same time. It's almost too much."

A mother: "It's too dark in the winter. If the 8 a.m. hour continues my child will just go to school late."

Jerry Tate: "I'm not going to let my children walk on wet days."

James Holloway: "My wife and I have six children to get off to school. I'm a fireman by trade and I tell you that if there's ever a fire at that school at taking in or letting out time it'll be a mess."

Parent: "I believe the buses we have should be used for the little children."

Bill Pixler: "My complaint is that we need more pollution at the school crossings."

Dr. Epps: "We've said a lot, but we need sound ideas. If you parents can come up with the ideas and money we'll do anything we can to help."

Mrs. Singletary: "Let me inject this: I understand the City will not franchise a bus system. I checked with one mother who found that it would cost $19 a month to provide her child with car service to and from school. And, I know one mother who sent her children to school lowship with only a short business session. "Cracker" Donaldson will be chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements and will contact the ladies for their help.

All residents of the community are urged to attend this meeting when they will have a chance to get acquainted. Donaldson reminds the people that as members of this civic body they have the chance to speak and let their wishes be known while individually they can do nothing.

Mrs. Marty Danklefs, Girl Scout Leader, has contacted the Chamber offering the help of her troop on any civic project for the year, showing real community spirit — and the Board was honored with her request and wishes to thank her publicly.

The Chamber also would like to have a representative on the Seminole County Airport committee that is pushing for an airport to be located East of Interstate 4, south of Lake Mary Boulevard and north of the proposed Belt-Line.

It was decided that the next general membership meeting, which will be held Oct. 1, will be a covered dish supper fest-

C Of C Directors Discuss Project Plans For Year

By Frances Wester

Plans to organize as a non-profit organization were discussed at the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce held Thursday night at the home of W. C. Hopkins on the Longwood Road.

Also discussed was the county budget approval for paving Lake Mary Boulevard and taking care of the drainage and pavement problem on Wilbur Avenue.

Jimmy Jones was authorized to contact the Jaycees to find out what the status is on the house numbering project that was turned over to them.

Donald Jackson was chosen to represent Lake Mary at all of the meetings of the Orange-Seminole Joint Planning Committee at their invitation for a representative.

Unemployment Compensation Pay Declines

TALLAHASSEE— State Industrial Commission Chairman Worley Brown today reported a drop of almost two million dollars in unemployment compensation payments to Florida jobless for the second quarter of 1964 compared to the same period a year ago.

Brown said payments for the second quarter in 1964 ending June 30 totaled $5,811,181 compared to $7,317,651 last year.

And Brown said that at mid-summer all angles of the Florida employment situation reflected an expanding and growing economy compared to a year ago.

Jobs were up and unemployment was down.

June nonfarm employment at 1,682,500 was 68,700 above June 1963.

Meanwhile, unemployment at 94,000 in June was 27,600 below June a year ago.

Brown said the good conditions continued through the summer.

July nonfarm employment was 79,800 above a year ago at 1,683,200, while unemployment was 21,000 below July 1963.

Unemployment compensation payments in July were better than $300,000 below July 1963.

Brown said all major industry divisions in the state registered declines in the total number of weeks for which unemployment compensation was paid during the quarter ending June 30.

Wholesale and retail trade was down 25.3 per cent from a year ago level; construction, down 34.4 per cent; manufacturing, down 13.1 per cent; transportation - communication - public utilities, down 33.4 per cent; finance - insurance - real estate, down 20.2 per cent; and services, down 6 per cent.

Our apologies to Mr. Percy Mero whom we mistakenly called "the late" in Tuesday's Herald story on Miss Isabella Simon, who sold her old 1928 Chevy last week.

When we asked Miss (not Mrs.) Simon about Mr. Mero we understood her to say he was "gone now." He is gone, but only to New Smyrna, where he lives still hale and hearty.

We are indebted for these correct bits of information to Mrs. John Salisbury, who says each Christmas she and her family take Miss Isabella out to dinner.

She recalls also that when a young lady, Miss Isabella was "one of the prettiest girls you ever saw." But she never married, according to Mrs. Salisbury.

As we said in the original story, it's a little difficult to talk to Miss Simon and we evidently misunderstood her, or she misunderstood us.

City Commissioners Monday night waived the second reading of the ordinance to adopt the $1,291,863 fiscal budget and passed it. Don't blame them for that. It takes quite a long time to recite all that extensive legal terminology which is merely a matter of form, anyhow.

A tax equalization hearing on the tax assessment roll for the City of Sanford for 1964 was authorized for Monday night. Commissioners adjourned the regular meeting, called the tax equalization board to order, adjourned it and recalled the city commission meeting to order in about 30 seconds. Reason: there was no one present wanting to have their taxes equalized.

The Sanford Garden Club's request for a quit claim deed to clear their property at Sunland Estates for a building was approved by City Commissioners Monday, except for a utility easement across the property.

A pedestrian overpass across Hwy 17-92 at Sanford Junior High would cost from $50,000 to $55,000 city commissioners have been informed by Richey Green of the State Road Department. Guess that lets that out.

Pete Knowles and Commissioners Al Wilson, Sonny Raborn and Joe Baker now plan to attend the annual meeting of the Florida Municipal League in Jacksonville Oct. 23 to 27. Speakers scheduled are Sen. George Smathers and Drew Pearson. Commr. Jim Crapps says he can't tell what he'll be doing after hunting season opens - might be in Georgia.

Pete Knowles will attend the International City Manager's Assn. meeting in Chicago Sept. 27 to Oct. 1, where he will serve on the resolutions committee. Henry Tamm will run the city while he's gone.

Salvage operations will begin tomorrow on the wreckage of an ASA Vigilante attack bomber which crashed into Lake Monroe near Enterprise last Tuesday.

The plane rests in about 12 feet of water near the north bank of the 13-square-mile lake.

Salvage barges were expected to arrive late this afternoon after a day-long voyage up the St. Johns River from Jacksonville.

The wreckage will be retrieved and transported to the Sanford Naval Air Station to be used in the investigation of the accident, which claimed the lives of two Sanford fliers.

The commanding officer of the Sanford Navy Base is in charge of the salvage project.

UAW Acts To Strike Ford

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers today gave up "non-crisis bargaining" and set a strike deadline for 10 a. m. Friday at the Ford Motor Co.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said union strategists reviewed negotiations "very carefully and with some reluctance concluded the dynamics of the situation required a strike deadline. We are giving notice of termination effective 10 a. m. Friday."

The current three-year contract between Ford and the UAW was under an open end extension and subject to termination by either side on 18 hours notice.

Reuther said that the union and company were apart in some economic areas—chiefly wage inequities—and contract matters such as production standards and working conditions.

He said the "area have not yielded to non-crisis bargaining so we hope they will yield to crisis pressure."

Reuther said the notice was given today instead of Tuesday night "because it gives us a long night of bargaining when much can be done."

Reuther repeated that no matter how attractive the union's economic package might be at Ford, "we will insist that the work condition problem be dealt with."

Reuther had said when he last Tuesday night that the UAW would return today and would announce its decision on whether it would set a strike deadline.

GOP Set To Welcome Thurman

ATLANTA (UPI) — Southern Republicans today hailed a report that Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., has decided to switch allegiance to the GOP.

Democrats generally withheld comment until after Thurmond makes his stand public.

The South Carolina conservative was scheduled to make a television address through-out his state tonight. Thurmond's office in Washington said only in speech would deal with the presidential race, but other sources said Thurmond was bolting the Democratic Party.

"This is a very significant breakthrough in support of Senator Goldwater," said Virginia GOP Chairman Robert Corber. "It will encourage all conservatives to support Senator Goldwater, certainly."

It will encourage all conservatives to withhold support from President Johnson."

Former Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett also had "no comment," but Tennessee Democratic Chairman James Peeler said Thurmond's switch "won't have any effect on the Tennessee voters. I still think Johnson will carry the state."

Vancey A. McLeod, South Carolina democratic chairman, said he had "very definite feelings about the matter, but I will reserve a statement until I see or hear what Senator Thurmond actually says."

North Carolina's Republican Chairman, J. Herman Saxon, said Thurmond is showing "real good judgment. I have always thought very highly of Senator Thurmond and this proves I have been pretty right. He is a Jeffersonian Democrat and that's what Republicans really are."

LBJ Promises To Hold Lead In Space Field

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — President Johnson got a quick look at America's newest rocket projects Tuesday and vowed never to let the nation accept second place in the space race.

"We can't be second in space and first in the world," the President told engineers and technicians gathered in the blockhouse of the world's most powerful known rocket.

"As long as I am permitted to lead this country I will never accept a place second to any other nation in this field."

As the President spoke, scientists were completing a test countdown for the 190-foot Saturn-1 super rocket that is scheduled to orbit an unmanned Apollo moonship test model Friday. Johnson paid the surprise 90-minute visit to the Cape while returning to Washington from Miami Beach where he addressed labor convention.

Salvage barges were expected to arrive late this afternoon after a day-long voyage up the St. Johns River from Jacksonville.

The wreckage will be retrieved and transported to the Sanford Naval Air Station to be used in the investigation of the accident, which claimed the lives of two Sanford fliers.

Horne Given Pat On Back

TAMPA (UPI) — House Speaker Mallory Horne, who bolted the Democratic Party to back Barry Goldwater, got a pat on the back Tuesday from the Arizona senator.

The Republican presidential nominee praised Horne for "the rare display of political courage you have shown" in serving as co-chairman of a "Volunteers for Goldwater" organization.

10,000 Out To Hear Goldwater

By Jane Casselberry

Presidential Candidate Senator Barry Goldwater received a wet welcome on his visit to Orlando Tuesday afternoon but it did not dampen the enthusiasm of some 10,000 supporters who thronged the Colonial Plaza parking lot to hear him speak.

Members of the Seminole Goldwater for President Club and other Seminole Republican groups formed a motorcade to the rally joining groups from all over central Florida.

Goldwater was introduced by Congressman Ed Gunney and his talk was of necessity extemporaneous as rain washed the ink off his soggy notes.

He commented that he didn't mind the rain as it rained so seldom in Arizona that when it does people go out and stand in it.

He scotched rumors that Florida would lose her missile bases if he is elected adding that McNamara has closed more bases in three years than Eisenhower closed in eight.

He expressed his belief that we should do more research on the military possibilities of "near space" before trying to reach the moon and planets.

Many of the greeting signs Goldwater who accompanied her husband, she was presented with a spray made from a newly developed variety of large, pale green orchids.

Before Goldwater's arrival gubernatorial Candidate Charles R. Holley and other local Republican candidates were introduced and given the opportunity to speak.

When Goldwater finished speaking, the crowd surged forward crushing each other in an effort to shake his hand.

The first to have this honor was enterprising young Danny Bridge of Casselberry.

Mediators Try To Avert Rail Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal mediators pressed efforts today to avert a threatened strike by six rail unions against most of the nation's railroads.

The National Mediation Board arranged meetings here in a drive for a settlement.

Michael Fox, president of the AFL-CIO Railway Employees Department, said no strike date has been set by the six organizations.

members that we'll give the National Mediation Board 72 hours notice before a strike," Fox said in an interview.

"No notice has been given. We still hope to get an agreement."

Fox and other union officials issued a strike warning last week to indicate their intention to trigger a walkout by 150,000 rail shop workers unless a settlement was reached.

Comptroller OKs Seminole Budget

By Julian Stenstrom

The comptroller's office of the State of Florida has put its stamp of approval on Seminole County's budget for the 1964-65 fiscal year.

The announcement was made this morning by County Clerk Arthur H. Beckwith Jr.

Beckwith said that the $2,007,325.67 budget was a record for this county even though it does not include 140 mills which are being levied for the hospital expansion program and the 20 mill for the operation of the Seminole County Health Department.

The 140 mills, Beckwith pointed out, will produce revenue for the hospital amounting to $299,870 and the 20 mill will produce for the health department a total of $11,410.

Hospital Administrator Robert Bessner this morning explained that of the $299,870 approximately $117,000 will be utilized to retire the county's $50,000 share of the cost of the plant's $1 million expansion program. The county's share will be paid in three equal installments over a period of three years and the balance of $50,000 for the total program will be provided by the Federal government's Hill Burton Act.

The $172,000 balance for the hospital is utilized for retirement of bonded indebtedness and hospital administration.

The new budget will go into effect Oct. 1 and will regulate county expenditures until Sept. 30, 1965.

Areas To South Are Waterlogged

By Harry I. Johnson

Managing Editor

Lake Monroe continues to rise — it hit the seven-foot mark at the foot of Park Avenue late last night — and flood waters have started the persistent erosion of the lake-front.

And, according to county officials, the lake will not crest for "at least two or three more days." Water to the south of Sanford, especially in the Lake Harney area, will feed into the St. Johns River, thus boosting the level here.

County Engineer William Bush reported this morning roadways to campsites and homes in the Lake Harney area are inundated and will remain so for the next few days.

He said an estimated 40 residences, with about two-thirds of them listed as campsites, are stranded by the flood water.

Bush also reported water is standing in many sections of Chuluota where lack of drainage facilities will not permit relief from the condition.

Bush said this is a continuing problem in the area and dates back to the original boom time when the homes were built.

The water is standing in streets and at intersections "and only the sun can take it away," he said.

Howell Creek and the Econ River will continue dumping flood water from the southeast portion of the county into the St. Johns River area and this in turn will push the Lake Monroe level up considerably, officials say.

County Road Sup't J. C. Lavender, in recalling the visit four years ago of hurricane Donna says he expects this year's trouble will be much less. He added, however, future rainfall could disrupt this prediction.

In 1960 Donna dumped enough water into the lake to send it spilling over the banks and as far south as the city hall and courthouse, according to Lavender.

Thus, Sanford appears — barring immediate rains — to be emerging considerably better this time than four years ago.

Meanwhile, local officials are conferring in Jacksonville with Civil Defense Director H. W. Tarkington and others on the procedure to be followed in obtaining federal assistance to cope with the current problem.

Seminole is one of 27 counties which is conferring with CD officials, and representatives of the National Office of Emergency Planning and the Army Corps of Engineers to learn the method of obtaining aid.

Contract For Waterfront Study Signed

The marine engineering firm of Maurice H. Connell and Associates of Miami met with the approval of City Commissioners Monday, and the city fathers agreed to sign a contract with the firm for a preliminary engineering study on the proposed Sanford waterfront development.

Contract is expected to be signed on Sept. 23, and survey and engineering teams are expected to begin work about October 1st.

First requirement of the study is to determine the best site for the construction of the docks, marina and landfill areas. After this, test borings will be made at three spots in the lake. Later, if deemed necessary, an economic feasibility study may be made.

The initial cost of the preliminary survey was set at $7,140, with borings estimated at about $1,000 each. If the economic survey is made, it would boost the cost another $2,230, and soundings of the river bottom could add another $1,000. The later figures may be found unnecessary, depending on findings in the first phases of the study.

City Manager W. E. Knowles indicated that the present flood stage of the lake could be a fortunate asset to the study coming at this time, as it gives a reliable indication of a factor that must be taken into consideration in construction of the waterfront development facilities.

"Flood conditions such as we have now have caused create a definite problem if they were not taken into consideration in the planning stages," he noted.

Members of the city commission instructed Harold White, who represented the engineering firm to make the study "as objective as possible."

"If your findings indicate that this waterfront development is a good idea, we want you to say so, but if it appears to be a bad idea, we want you to tell us as much," commissioners said.

Reports from the Connell firm are expected to be presented in 60 days.

Red Weapon Puzzles Western Diplomats

MOSCOW (UPI) — Western diplomats were puzzled today by Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's warning that the Soviet Union has a doomsday weapon that could cause "the destruction and extermination of humanity."

There was speculation that the weapon was a cobalt bomb, which could produce fallout clouds that would kill all life on earth, or that Khrushchev was referring Tuesday to some other kind of weapon such as a death ray.

In Washington, informed sources said the United States has no evidence that the Soviets have developed any such sensational new weapon. They interpreted Khrushchev's claim as an attempt at intimidation, probably directed against Communist China.
