

Amphibious Units Played Big Part In Winning War

First Landing Made At Guadalcanal; Sea, Land, Air Forces

By JOHN L. SPRINGER
AP Newsfeatures Writer

One phrase—unknown to most Americans at the time of Pearl Harbor—sums up the story of victory in the Pacific.

The phrase is "amphibious operations." It means the ability to send troops against strongly fortified coasts and wrest them from the enemy. It means the combining of sea, land and air power in a precise coordination never before seen in war.

Although history books can cite many previous landings in enemy territory, never were there so many in such short time as in the U. S. sweep across the Pacific. And never were invasions successfully carried out against such firmly defended areas.

Started At Guadalcanal
America's first amphibious landing was made at Guadalcanal in August 1942. The technique was developed along the New Guinea coast, at Tarawa and the Marshalls, in the Marianas, the Philippines, Iwo Jima, Okinawa and some sixty other places along the 6,000-mile path from Hawaii to the Japanese mainland. To the lessons learned in island-hopping were added the techniques proved at North Africa, Sicily, Anzio and the Normandy beachhead.

The series of Pacific invasions was necessary to establish advance bases along the route to Tokyo. The Marshalls and Guam became great naval stations; Saipan, Iwo and Okinawa provided airfields for the bombing of Japan; the Philippines gave the land mass and harbors from which direct assault against Hirohito's homeland could be mounted. Other bases were taken to remove potential thorns in the U. S. supply lines.

Followed A Pattern
"Amphibious operations" followed a pattern that even the Japanese came to understand perfectly.

The enemy learned to worry about invasion when planes from America's vast carrier armada began appearing regularly, bombing airfields and military installations and sealing off possible battle areas. Then the mighty guns of battleships and cruisers took over, pouring tons of shells onto enemy strongpoints while U.S. bombers well dug into the beachhead before the numbed Japanese answered back. But sometimes—as on Iwo Jima—the bombardment continued for days while the landing force struggled for a foothold.

Once the beach was cleared bigger craft moved in, laden with tanks, heavy guns and thousands of other pieces of equipment needed for the inland push. Airfields were established, often within hours, and swarms of land-based aircraft took up the offensive. And the foot soldiers gained a grip, the issue no longer was in doubt.

Sea-Air Mastery Essential
Many factories contributed to the success of these island drives. Guadalcanal's drawn-out campaign proved the need for complete sea and air mastery around the battle area. In succeeding operations carrier airpower virtually cleared the skies before ground troops raced in. Warship support was intensified, slashing enemy attempts to get reinforcements.

Tarawa taught the need of unrelenting bombardment in advance of landings. Thereafter Japanese-held islands were battered to an extent never before possible in naval warfare.

The problem of co-ordinating all the air, sea and land factors involved in an operation was solved with astonishing precision. Some 1,600 ships were assigned to the Okinawa invasion, for example—some coming from Guadalcanal, some from Leyte, some from the Marianas, some even from the west coast. Despite great differences in speeds and distances, they got to their assigned places at the proper moment.

"Fleet trains"—the almost incredible armada of supply ships, floating docks and maintenance vessels that enabled the fighting ships to remain at sea for months—made it possible to spring invasion after invasion with bewildering speed.

Glory For Carriers
Most of the ingredients of amphibious action were unknown or untested before the war. The aircraft carrier reached its glory in this type of campaign. The rockets that blistered enemy strongpoints were shortly before mere drawings on a blueprint. As the ocean sweep gained momentum more than 90 types of landing craft were perfected in the theater and material ashore in fighting position. New methods to speed the unloading of supplies on open beaches were developed.

Many military heads shook negatively even in 1944 when considering the possibility of amphibious war on such a stupendous scale. But there was no other way. And now well it works. Can be repeated by any who in war remain of Tokyo.

The Chinese and Japanese use masks instead of push-up in the theater.

NOT EVERYONE TORE OUT INTO THE STREETS to cheer the news of Japan's surrender. Before the altar of St. James Cathedral in Brooklyn, N. Y., as in churches of all faiths throughout the city and world, worshippers gathered to offer prayers of gratitude that the war at last was over and peace had come.

War Fund Leader Describes Scope Of Agency's Work

OHLANO, Aug. 17. (FNS)—Walter L. Hays, president of the Florida Division of the National War Fund, stated here this week that a survey indicated that many people have little knowledge of the wide scope of the work being carried on by the various agencies supported by the fund.

Hays pointed out that not only does the fund care for the needs of the U. S. and U. S. Army, Navy, United States Marine Corps, United States Coast Guard and the American Red Cross, but it also directly serves our fighting forces at home and abroad, but in addition it cares for the needs of 17 other agencies directly serving our Allies, including Belgian War Relief, United China Relief, American Relief for Czechoslovakia, American Denmark Relief, American Relief for France, Greek War Relief, American Relief for Holland, American Relief for Italy, United Lithuania Relief, Friends of Luxembourg, American Relief for Norway, Philippine War Relief, Polish War Relief, Russian War Relief, United Yugoslav Relief, Refugee Relief Trustee, and the U. S. Committee for the care of European Children.

The National War Fund, Hays explains, came about through the efforts of a united nation-wide effort and a single campaign for funds rather than the costly and annoying practice of permitting each agency to conduct its own campaign with one drive following on the heels of another, or more often several being carried on at the same time with duplicate cost, waste of effort and public annoyance.

Under the National War Fund, the public is enabled to make its contribution at one time for all of these needed and worthwhile agencies and in view of the fact it should be liberally supported when the appeal is made.

He points out that the termination of fighting in Europe has actually increased rather than lessened the work of most of these agencies, since their work begins where the combat forces leave off, and the manner in which they perform will have much to do with the establishment of a just and lasting peace.

The Florida Division of the National War Fund has set up an able and efficient organization and our quota can be quickly and easily met if the public fully understands its purpose, the imperative need it represents and will make their contributions promptly when called upon.

RURAL COMMON SENSE

By Spuds Johnson

Farm people have an enormous stake in successful control of inflation. A runaway price situation during the war, or while the pressure for civilian goods and services continues during the early postwar period, would spell disaster for many farmers and their families.

Many farmers naturally find good reasons why prices on their products should be permitted to go up. Some persons seek to make political capital of this by supporting courses to ease or eliminate price controls. It is important for them to remember that any decided rise in prices and wage rates during this period would add greatly to farm costs as well as farm prices. As long as food shortages continue, most farm products very likely could hold their own as prices were given free rein, but that situation is only temporary. When war demands taper off, shortages of farm products are likely to be replaced by surpluses. Prices are allowed to get out of hand now, farm prices then may nose-dive while many items of farm expenses stay up. Inflation control needs to remain effective now if distress later on is to be avoided.

The days of agricultural depression and the talk of farm relief are still fresh in our minds. Much of the difficulty of the 1920's and 30's arose out of the inflation of the last war period. Farmers surely do not want to repeat that experience. Inflation control now helps protect them against that danger.

Farmers have another real interest in inflation control. One of its purposes is to enable persons with modest incomes to get their share of scarce goods. The farm population includes large numbers whose incomes are relatively low. Inflation control is a real protection to them, as long as there is danger of prices getting out of hand.

Farm land prices on the average the country over have been rising steadily during the war. In some areas the increase has approached boom proportions. A lifting of price controls before the danger is past would open the door to a speculative boom. This would lead to piling up of mortgage which in many cases would be out of line with long-run farm earnings. Such a feat would spell foreclosure and disaster for many farmers when the inevitable reaction sets in.

Many farmers who normally would have retired have remained on the job to help meet war needs. A larger than usual turnover of farms consequently is in prospect after the war. Many of those taking over will be most unfortunate if these transfers take place at inflated land prices. No one contends that the control of prices and wages has been

Perfect By and Large, However, Uninformed Citizens Will Agree That It Has Been Reasonably Well Done Considering the Difficulties Involved. Few, if Any, Will Want Controls to Continue Any Longer Than Needed, But This Is Not the Time to Ease Up. While Controls Need to Remain in Force During the Danger Period, Individuals Also Will Do Well to Bear in Mind That Self-Restraint Remains an Important Weapon Against Inflation.

The Tammany Society formed in 1789, which was to become Tammany Hall, took its name from an Indian chief with a view to conciliating hostile Indian tribes on the outskirts of the town. It did not become a political party institution until the time of the Jefferson administration.

White House To Proclaim Real V-J Day

When Japan Signs On Dotted Line, Truman Will Go On Air; No Legal Holiday

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20. (AP)—The White House said today that V-J day will be proclaimed on the date of Japan's signing the surrender terms. President Truman plans to make a short radio address on V-J day. It will not be a legal holiday. Efforts are still underway to unscramble some difficulties resulting from the President's declaration, later retracted, that last Wednesday and Thursday were legal holidays. The question of pay and overtime pay for those days has arisen.

Truman today ordered that time and a half be paid all war workers who were on the job last Wednesday and Thursday. He did not say, however, if those who took the holidays, should be paid for their time off.

Ceiling prices on gasoline and fuel oils will be reduced soon in 17 states on the eastern seaboard and in the District of Columbia, the OPA announced.

The nation's traffic death toll mounted to 89 yesterday and Saturday, the first weekend since gas rationing ended and most states lifted the 35 mile an hour speed limit. The deaths included Tennessee, 2; Florida, 2; Kentucky, 1.

The official death toll of Presidential plans for a reorganization of the Government's labor welfare functions to meet the immediate, pressing problems of peace came into the open today.

Creation of a new Department of Public Welfare, in line with President Truman's purpose of bringing all possible Federal activities under the wings of the cabinet, was known to be spotted prominently on the remodeling blueprint.

Formation of a Bureau of Labor Relations in the Labor Department, under the President's close friend and former Senate colleague, Secretary Lewis B. Schwellenbach, also was among the first concrete proposals.

The Secretary of Welfare, if the plan were approved, would be the first new member added to the Presidential cabinet since 1913, when the Department of Labor was established.

Welfare Agency
The Welfare Department would include the Federal Social Security agencies, the Public Health Service, the Office of Education, and probably the Children's and Women's Bureaus, now part of the Labor Department. Schwellenbach reportedly would like to rid his department of the latter two agencies.

Senator Boyle Outlines Work At Rotary Club

About Three-Fourths Of Caldwell Bills Pass Legislature

Senator Lloyd F. Boyle told the Rotary Club today that the result of the recent legislative session as a moderate extension in the powers, a sharp increase in that cost, and a mild improvement in the quality of government, in a talk in which he outlined the various measures passed by the Legislature and explained the appropriation bills.

Introduced by Mayor Edward Higgins, who characterized him as the youngest senator in the Legislature, "who served with distinction and made an enviable record," Senator Boyle said that after the floor, he was able to get about three-fourths of his program enacted, but that on the whole he thought the Legislature handled the Government pretty roughly.

Explaining the difficulties of getting any revenue bills passed before May 1 when a packed Finance Committee had prevented them from reaching the floor, Senator Boyle said that after the rules were changed the Legislature passed the cigarette tax bill, raising $2,000,000 more for the state, the beer tax bill, raising another $5,000,000 and the liquor tax bill raising another $3,000,000. These, with the exception of a slight increase in making licenses, were only revenue measures passed, he said.

Pointing out that one significant fact about this Legislature was that it passed fewer bills than any other Legislature in recent history, Senator Boyle said that it appropriated $5,100,000 more for schools, $3,057,000 for increasing teachers' pay, $5,000,000 for the state building fund, $2,500,000 for tuberculosis hospitals which was reduced by the Governor, $500,000 for the state advertising fund, $350,000 for a state census, $150,000 for veterans aid, and $638,000 for the various departments of state government.

Other bills passed by the Legislature included a provision that homesteads up to 40 acres of state of county lands would be given to veterans, bills authorizing a state budget director and a state purchasing agent, one calling for a constitutional amendment to abolish continuing appropriations.

Cash Payments Hit New Peak At Tobacco Market

Live Oak Sales Total $3,472,000 For All Time Record

JACKSONVILLE, Aug. 20. (Special)—The heaviest cash payments ever made on the Live Oak tobacco market were reported for the bright leaf auction season which closed this week, said William L. Wilson, director of State Farmers' Markets, in his week-end crop and market report.

"Live oak's sales totaled $3,472,000 which was more than two hundred thousand dollars above the next best preceding season from the revenue standpoint although the 1944-45 season handled 1,000,000 more pounds than a million pounds under the 1939 record on volume. Live oak sales pushed the State total up by 4,284,000 pounds and added $1,704,776.04 to the cash payments received to Florida growers since the two markets opened, July 24."

"Attention is turning now to preparations for the handling of the 1946 crop in North Florida, and to increased production on production of Fall and Winter fruit and vegetable crops in Central and South Florida. Lake City and Starke markets are expected to handle a good volume of produce this season, and reports from throughout the producing area indicate the outlook is satisfactory."

"The Dade City State Farmers' Market, handling exclusively live oak eggs and poultry for that section of Florida, has had an exceptionally good year, particularly in view of wartime conditions," said Director Wilson.

Lille E. Ellis, manager, has reported that the Dade City Market's total for the fiscal year ran to $350,000 in eggs, which was only a cut-back of $50,000 from the preceding year which set an all-time record for eggs and poultry. "July sales on the Dade City Market showed an increase of $653.19 over June. This improvement trend being general over the State should give consumers a substantially improved supply," said Ellis.

Britain Said Ready To Cut Debt To U.S.

Lend-Lease Shown As Making Difference Of Life And Death In England

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20. (AP)—American diplomatic and financial officials were obviously jolted today by an unofficial London proposal to scale British debts by half, and to give the remaining dollar— with U. S. money—and give 1.0 U. S. for the rest.

"Trial balloon" was the most frequent expression used. But the suggestion, advanced by the London Economist, influential financial publication, also was taken as evidence that the British realize they must make some sort of settlement quickly.

The sudden termination of the war with its attendant cut-down on lend-lease is the reason for the new pressure. One treasury official said a billion dollars or so a year in lend-lease civilian food from America has been making the difference between living and bare existence in England.

It was learned last night that notification of the end of lend-lease is being given to the British immediately. It will be some time before Denmark and other former suppliers of the British market basket get into full-scale lend-lease again, even if the British can pay.

The very size of the figures in the Economist's article were surprising here. The publication disclosed British external debts of some $10,000,000,000 whereas the total used here has been around $12,000,000,000. Financial experts pointed out that the Economist must have been consolidating debts of every description and age, and not just those included in the war.

The Economist figured on $5,000,000,000 as a virtual grant from this country to make the "cash payment" for such a sum, it said clearly, there could be only one source—the United States. It argued that "simple reasons could be found" in bringing such a allowance under the lend-lease system, without specified conditions of interest or repayment.

The biggest figure reported here as having had even informal discussion recently failed on the British was talked of as a straight loan rather than an indefinite grant. "Post-War Aid Pledge."

In the July debate which preceded the passage of the British War Reliefs Act, the British International Monetary Plans, Sen Taft (R., Ohio) asked whether the late President Roosevelt had pledged the British $5,000,000,000 in lend-lease besides that they could get from the monetary stabilization fund and the international bank. Sen Wagner (D., N. Y.) said he did not know that the British had asked for any post-war help at all.

FDR/Is Quoted Against Hebrews In Palestine

Washington Denies Statement Made By Arab League Head

ALEXANDRIA, Aug. 20. (AP)—The Arab League declared today that President Roosevelt had promised King Ibn Saud that he would not support the Jews in Palestine.

Accompanying Roosevelt's visit from Yalta said no such pledge ever was mentioned by the President or any of his press aides. They recalled that Roosevelt, in the Saudi Arab Kibard held long conversations about a war-time plan with other persons present.

Jewish leaders are seeking to make Palestine a Jewish national homeland. President Truman's series last week he had said the question of Palestine would be many Jews as possible would be let into Palestine.

Assam Bey's statement expressed bewilderment why Truman would bewilder the Palestine Jewish immigration which leaders at Potsdam said:

"We would like to remind you (Truman) of one of the last promises made by Franklin Roosevelt, when he put his hand in the hand of King Ibn Saud, and promised he would not support the Jews in Palestine."

Jacksonville Sailor Found Asleep In Car

A sailor who gave his name as Burice R. Peters of the Jacksonville Naval Air station, was arrested on the Sanford lakefront drive at 6:30 o'clock Sunday morning by Patrolmen I. L. Gillyard and H. T. Giffey, who found him sound asleep in a 1941 Dodge two door sedan.

The car had been reported stolen from the Lee Motor Company of South Daytona. The ignition had been shorted by lock. The car was out of gas and it was found that Peters had no driver's license, no car license tag, no ID or liberty card or identification. The case was referred to Shore Patrolman J. E. Willard. Three brand new tires were found in the car's luggage compartment.

Unemployment Is Increasing As Cutbacks Made

Compensation Offices Are Crowded As Aid Is Widely Sought

Unemployment is increasing as cutbacks are made in government agencies, it was reported today by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The Bureau said that the number of people seeking aid from compensation offices has increased sharply in recent months.

The increase in the number of people seeking aid is a result of the cutbacks in government agencies and the resulting loss of jobs.

The Bureau also reported that the number of people who are unemployed for more than six months has increased significantly.

The Bureau said that the government is doing everything possible to help the unemployed, but that more must be done to create jobs.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

BUT RECITING A FORMAL PRAYER WHEN WE ARE HEAVY ASLEEP IS A WASTE OF TIME. James 5:16: The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much.

The Doorstep (From Voice)

The lifted step, the knuckles on the door, The light within to blot the night's slumber, Why do I pause, what am I waiting for? The moment pinned between the ticking clock, Speeds to tomorrow mocking as it goes, Stravens in the blood insists upon the knock, But hearing down the dark the echoes still, Of unwise fates how can I be sure? Even the huntsman eager for the hill, Learns little at the death not known before.

JOHN RITCHIEY.

Production! That is to be the salvation for post-war doldrums.

Melbourne Times. And the key to production is work.

Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker says that regular commercial airplanes will soon be flying from Miami to New York in four hours. But who would want to go to New York in four hours?

Congress is expected to launch a program for tax reduction when it convenes next week. Tax reduction may be the difference between going broke and continued operation for many a little business.

The Tampa Tribune tells us that the automobile of the future will have a private telephone on every dashboard. And the tired business man's last place of refuge will be sacrificed to the cause for progress!

Chairman Walsh of the Senate Naval Affairs Committee has asked for a complete investigation of the Pearl Harbor attack. Now that the war is over, it would be interesting to know just why Admiral Kimmel was sacked.

A lot of war workers like a lot of service men are going to find life pretty tame in the post-war period. After all, when a fellow has been working on an atomic bomb for three or four years, what can he do for excitement?

The national speed limit of 35 miles an hour has been lifted and motorists will be restricted only by state laws which in Florida permit 50 and by their own good judgment which should tell them that you can't drive 50 miles an hour in an old car on worn out tires with even a fair degree of safety especially when the number of cars on the highway is being suddenly and drastically increased. Drive carefully at the highway's toll, it will match the battlefield casualties.

We hope that suitable plans are being made for the construction of a county-owned hospital as soon as construction materials and labor are available. And while we are on this subject, what is being done with respect to the portable purchase of the hospital equipment and supplies in the Dispensary at the Naval Station is closed. That is one of the finest equipped hospitals in this part of the state. It would be a crime for local people not to retain this equipment for local use.

Heard a fellow say the other day that there were some places of business he was going to remember in this post-war world. Evidently someone in that state at some time or other had asked him if he didn't know there was a war on. Well, now we hope that is not the prevailing attitude of the general public. We have a paper for complaint against certain business houses, but as there is cause for complaint against certain clerks, certain waitresses, certain labor organizations, certain roads and highways, but we hope the American public will charge it up to the government and abandon all thought of any other party to give the post-war world a better future.

A New Slogan

Now that the war is over the time has come for the Herald to change its slogan.

For several years we have been carrying at the top left hand corner of our front pages these words from Patrick Henry: "If we wish to be free; if we wish to preserve inviolate those inestimable privileges for which we have been so long contending—we must fight!"

And now if we wish to be free, if we wish to preserve inviolate those inestimable privileges for which we have been so long contending—we must stop fighting, we must have unity.

And so for the time being at least, we have adopted as our new slogan these words: "In Unity There is Strength—To Protect the Peace of the World; To Promote the Progress of America; To Produce Prosperity for Sanford."

If the Big Three powers stick together, in spite of enemy threats to divide them, in spite of differences in ideology and political and economic philosophies, in spite of financial clashes in the highly competitive world of business and industry, there is no reason to fear another war for generations to come.

If the various racial and economic groups in America work out their problems in an atmosphere of mutual respect and confidence, in spite of agitators who would turn Gentiles against Jews, blacks against white, capital against labor, and vice versa, there is every reason to believe that America is on the threshold of the greatest period of industrial and cultural progress the world has ever known.

If in Sanford the various elements which compose our rather cosmopolitan population and which on so many occasions in the past have worked against each other to the detriment of this city, can compose their differences and unite for any project good for Sanford and Central Florida, this city is sure to enjoy the prosperity which was for so long denied to it.

And so, we're for unity—"In Unity There is Strength."

Egyptian Independence

Britain's Labor government is already facing new problems. Egypt is asking for complete independence. The Egyptian government has just officially demanded evacuation of all British troops from Egyptian territory, annexation of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, and abolition of all financial and economic restrictions.

While these demands are sponsored by the Wafdist party, which has always been the party of independence, they are now said to be supported by all groups, including those controlling the government.

The most ticklish proposal is that for the annexation of the Sudan. The object is to control the free flow of water in the Nile, although to do this completely, Ethiopia, where the Blue Nile branch rises, should also be annexed. The Sudanese, however, do not want to be ruled by the Egyptians. In this dispute Great Britain is left in the middle.

The British naturally want to protect the Suez Canal. If a zone adjoining the Canal could be left in British hands, the Atlee government, with its belief in self-rule, might find it possible to grant the other Egyptian demands. If it does not, more will be heard from Egypt.

Protective Power

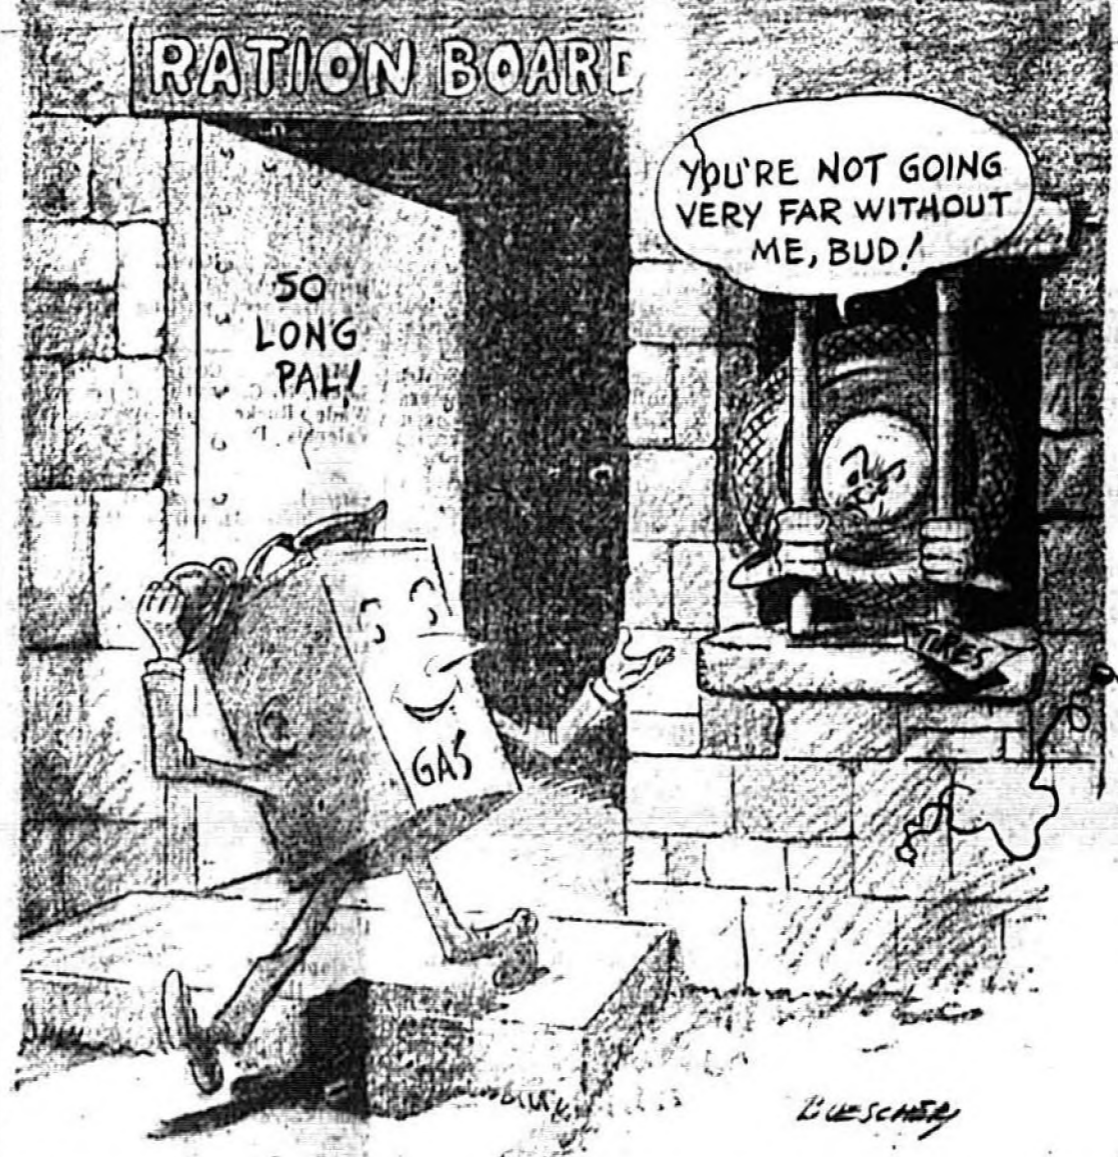

Our government is no wocommitted to a policy of permanent self-protection of American interests throughout the world. To this end, President Truman has announced, the United States will acquire and hold all the bases which American experts consider essential for the purpose. This will be done not arbitrarily, but under arrangements "consistent with the United Nations Charter", which is the present and future standard of international principles and procedure.

Before this last war, and the clear facts growing out of it, such a declaration might have been received by most of the world with distrust and resentment. But if there is opposition in any quarter now, it is not apparent. The United States today has more strength and prestige than any other nation, and apparently is more trusted not to abuse its power. It will be to the enduring interest of our government, and of all the people of this honorable and powerful nation, to make sure that the trust is never abused or perverted.

Pfc. James R. Lloyd Returns From Europe

Pfc. James R. Lloyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lloyd of the Country Club Road, arrived home last Friday from the European theater where he had served for more than a year with the 17th Airborne Division and its spending 30 days leave here. He wears two stars on his collar before he was inducted. He is a graduate of Orlando High School and a member of the Orlando Poetry Society.

Migraine May Be A Symptom of Liver Trouble

Unless a doctor is consulted the people who suffer from migraine headaches receive little relief except from sedatives. The cause of these severe attacks has never been definitely established. Research, however, has resulted in the belief that there is a relation between a sluggish liver and migraine attacks. A physician's diagnosis and treatment will assist in clearing up a condition of liver or gall inactivity. Relief from migraine headaches frequently follows.

We were sitting around the campfire of Ed Crumple's barbecue last Saturday night, finishing our beer and hot dogs while Ed strummed the guitar... picking out old, friendly songs. Seen everyone was singing. The harmony wasn't too good... but the spirit was a spirit of friendship and good humor. And it made me think how music—music of the people—overcomes barriers of prejudice and intolerance. A Yankee folksong or an English carol or a Southern melody—they all speak a common language of the heart... bind folks together... help us forget our grudges. From where I sit, music can help to make the whole world kin. Maybe we ought to have a lot more of it... Informal songs around the fire, and in the home. And it's sure true that a melody glass of beer fits into the picture. It just naturally goes with that kind of music. Joe Marshall'

Meeting Is Held By Baptist Circle

Mrs. S. C. Dickerson, chairman presided over the meeting of the Circle No. 4 of the First Baptist Church held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred Meyer at Floral Heights.

The meeting was opened with a prayer followed by an explanation of the circle's "Margaret Fund" work - The Education of Sons and Daughters of Baptist Missionaries.

Victory Dance Given At USO Building

The USO was beautifully decorated Thursday and in honor of Victory there was open house all afternoon and in the evening one of the biggest and most successful dances in the history of the USO here.

The program was carried out under the direction of acting director Marcus Frantz and the decorations which included red, white and blue streamers, palms and flowers, were arranged by a committee of hostesses with Mrs. Edward F. Lane, Mrs. S. C. Graham and Mrs. Joder (amateur) in charge.

The evening dance with the Sanford Naval Air Station in charge, playing was a colorful affair and the room was lit by colored lights and spot lights, arranged as to give an indirect lighting effect.

CARD OF THANKS We want to express our sincere thanks to our friends and loved ones who came to us during the illness and passing of our dear wife and sister for the lovely and generous floral offerings for the prayerful songs and the words of condolence.

Miss Lois Caldwell Weds Ens. Harrison

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Caldwell of Jacksonville, formerly of Sanford, announce the marriage of their daughter, Lois to Ens. Warren Eugene Harrison, USN, of Sanford, which took place Aug. 14 at All Souls Episcopal Church in Miami Beach. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. P. Mitchell Taylor.

The church altar was decorated with quantities of white asters, gladioli and tuberoses and seven-branch candelabra. Miss Bertha Foster, organist, rendered the program of appropriate nuptial music.

The bride was lovely in a wedding gown of net and lace with an inset of wide lace accenting the square neck and with rounded necklines. The long full skirt of net ended in a train and she carried a white prayer book with white orchid marked with satin streamers. The shoulder length veil fell from a crown of aed pearls.

Mrs. Julian Burrell Hudgins, school friend of the bride, acted as matron of honor. Her gown was of pale blue tulle and she carried an old-fashioned bouquet of sweetheart roses.

The bride's mother wore a floor-length gown of grey crepe with purple orchid corsage, while the groom's mother chose a gown of pale blue tulle with orchid corsage.

Mrs. Dewey Mathews Gives Birthday Party

Mrs. Dewey Mathews of West First Street honored her daughter, Miss Irma Mathews, with a birthday celebration on Thursday. The room was decorated on the occasion with pink flowers and lace ferns. A large birthday cake centered the lace covered table.

Mrs. M. C. Hagan Entertains Circle

Mrs. M. C. Hagan entertained members of Circle No. 4 of the First Baptist Church on Monday evening at her home on Magnolia Avenue.

The meeting was opened with a prayer, followed by Mrs. F. E. Bole giving the devotion. In the absence of Mission Study leader, Mrs. Volz Williams, the lesson was given by Mrs. J. G. Mitchell.

Short talks on Stewardship by Mrs. J. M. Leonard, Mrs. W. D. Gardiner and Miss Allie Trifon were enjoyed. Mrs. M. S. Nelson read an article on prayer and attending prayer meeting.

Refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. Bole, Mrs. H. J. Truluck, Mrs. Gardiner, Mrs. Leonard, Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. Hagan and Miss Trifon.

Formal Surrender Expected By MacArthur In 10 Days

The Japanese asked MacArthur to call off the attack, but there is no indication that the Supreme Commander as much as acknowledged the message.

Dozen Men Participate. Six Japanese emissaries and six Americans participated in the first deliberations.

The U. S. Navy was represented by Rear Adm. Forest P. Sherman, assistant chief of staff for planning in the Pacific.

Besides Sutherland other Army officers were Major Gen. Stephen L. Chamberlain, assistant chief of staff, Major Gen. Charles A. Willoughby, MacArthur's intelligence officer, Major Gen. Lester Whitlock, MacArthur's supply officer, and Brig. Gen. Donald R. Hutchinson, chief of staff of the Far East Air Forces.

Willoughby reported the Japanese to the City Hall, worked the battle of Manila but since a statement for use as general headquarters.

Escort planes howled as the cable reached the City Hall here a small crowd of soldiers waited. The soldiers shouted at the sound of the strain when the silent as the cables drew up and the Japanese stood out.

The Japanese, still grim walked in the wide staircase past the American guards armed with rifles and pistols.

As the Japanese filed past not a muscle moved in the face of the American guards although most of them were combat in uniform and many had participated in the battle of Manila, here this same C. G. Hall was one of the centers of the enemy's assistance.

Prospects are bright however for an early cessation of combat. The Japanese are expected to surrender within 10 days.

The war has been over for a long time but for a lot of people it won't be over for a year and a half.

A poll of airline and military officials showed pessimism that war will end by Sept. 15. Early forecasts predicted that the war would end by Sept. 15.

Director Wilson.

"The war has been on the world's battlefields—but much remains to be done on our home fronts. If this Nation and its Allies are to make secure the victories achieved by our fighting forces it is most essential that we do our share toward feeding the hungry peoples around the world. This is a matter of material, as well as humanitarian importance. To fail in provision of at least minimum food requirements in those areas where peace came too late for any hope of producing adequate crops this Summer and Fall, might easily mean the starvation of countless numbers of people, and the creation of chaotic conditions which would largely nullify our military achievements. We have fought and won the Second World War to preserve civilization and permit its progress—and food for the hungry through the coming Winter is an essential to such a victory. That means that Florida farmers, and housewives have a greater opportunity than ever before. By producing and conserving food, they will be helping to a big way. The removal of canned products from rationing should not be allowed to curtail efforts toward food production and conservation in the slightest."

"The fact that rationing is in effect and essential have been suspended until January has had a fine effect upon growers in the Washburn area, manager John C. McKenna of the Washburn State Farmers' Market has reported. "As a consequence he has received practically a normal price for his produce."

Quality of lines offered on the Florida City Market is improving and increased volume is expected. "Latest reports from the Jay Live Stock Market in extreme northwest Florida tell of the handling of 125 head of cattle and 193 hogs in a day. The cut brought a total of $3,947.70. The hogs, $3,278.23. Cattle prices were recorded as follows: Steers, $6.25 to $11 per hundred pounds; calves, $7.00 to $16; heifers, $8.75 to $12.00; bulls, $6.25 to $16.

The Arcadia State Livestock Market sold 272 head of cattle, including a considerable number of calves, August 14. Prices ranged as follows: Good calves, $10 to $13 per hundred; common calves, $5 to $10; yearlings, $4.30 to $11.70; cows, $5 to $10.90; steers, $7.60 to $11.20; bulls, $7.00 to $9.90.

J. D. Kelly, Arcadia Market manager reports that the demand was strong for all grades of cattle but they were very few top grades in the sale. We expect better quality cattle and

Greece Reported Recovering From Ravages Of War

By William B. King AP Newsfeatures

ATHENS—Under the leadership of a hard-headed banker Greece is recuperating from its ravages with a plan of controlled economy which has shown excellent results in its first two months. The United States Relief and Rehabilitation Administration deserves its share of credit but the central figure in Greece's recovery is Kyriacos Varvaresos, deputy prime minister and minister of supply. A large man with browned features and snow white hair sitting behind his desk as governor of the Bank of Greece he looks like the president of the First National in any large American city. Varvaresos plan will rise or fall on the government's ability to collect mountainous taxes levied on the affluent merchant class. There are grumblings against him. Some government officials call him an economic dictator. "Pessimists say his fixed prices can't be enforced."

Situation Vicious But this was the economic situation Greece faced when Varvaresos joined the nonpolitical Voulgaris cabinet, with the understanding he would be given a free hand with the recovery program. Through the occupation and liberation, merchants had amassed money by maintaining speculatively high prices on available goods while production no longer existed in a war-strangled industry. Speculation in gold and foreign currency was rife.

The government, with no sources of revenue, was forced to meet expenses by issuing new money. There was no control over the distribution of any food except that imported by UNRRA. Prices rose until only one class could buy. Whole sections of the population were forced on to relief. Salaried people repeatedly demanded high wages which when granted only gave prices another boost upward.

And so the wild inflation which caught Greece to economic shame. Program Executed Varvaresos set into effect a three-point program: (1) To provide the government with an income from the economic activity of the country; (2) To force this income into public economy immediately, and (3) To oblige the rich to reduce the purchasing power which allowed them to hog the consumption of all but relief goods.

First the drachma was revalued to start coming in after the first of September as we will start our second selling season after that date.

used to place it on a sound international basis. There is now an international demand for such agricultural products as tobacco and currants. Greek agriculture always has been a producer of luxury foods while the country has had to import other foods. Food control prices, issued weekly, are based on availability and other changing factors. A special economic police force sees that fixed prices are maintained. Wages Increased At the same time wages have been increased. To finance the plan extremely high taxes, designed for immediate collection, were clamped on the group which profited during the periods of economic crumbling. A monthly tax on business rents is unmercifully high. Faced with the heavy tax, merchants must also increase their activity and turnover, another thing vitally needed to pump life into the Greek economy. Merchants who increase prices to meet the tax face jail.

Greece has made much less progress toward political stability. There are 33 political parties in Greece but nobody knows much about them except the names of their self-styled leaders, since political life has just been revived for the first time since 1935. (Ball elections, planned for this year no one can know the popular following of any parties.)

Swimming Star Once Was Dropped As Interest Failed

By FRANK ECK AP Newsfeatures Sports Writer

NEW YORK—"Once I was scared and once I was heart-broken," said Betty Lachok, 18-year-old Akron, Ohio, schoolgirl who holds the national senior and junior women's long distance swimming championships. "But outside of that I guess there's not much to say."

The Firestone Club's soft-spoken mermaid "was scared" when Harry Minto, now her coach, suggested she become interested in swimming and she "was broken-hearted" when Minto dropped her from the team for not showing enough enthusiasm. Both incidents happened within the short space of 16 months.

Today Betty Lachok is regarded by her Garfield (Ohio) High School classmates as the swimmer most likely to succeed—meaning that 19-year-old Ann Curtis, the nation's outstanding female swimmer who holds the Sullivan award, will be in for some tough competition.

Betty was just another girl taking advantage of the Firestone Club's open house recreation program early in 1943. One day Harry Minto entered the natatorium to speak with his wife, Dorothy Minto, who is in charge of women's activities at Firestone. He saw a 15-year-old girl struggling in the water. There was something about the kid that attracted Minto. He watched her as she left the water and saw a pair of long arms, unusually large hands and feet that should be able to churn enough water for speed swimming.

Mr. Minto asked me to come to his office," says Betty "I was scared when he asked me if I'd like to go out for the team so

I asked mother and she gave her consent the rest seemed easy, but then I got into the water Mr. Minto didn't know what he had let himself in for. I was the rankest sort of a beginner and didn't even know how to breathe properly. It seemed like I was always getting water in my mouth."

But it didn't take Miss Lachok long to learn how to breathe and the water that had been getting into her mouth soon was getting into her opponents' hair. "I'll never forget last fall," says Betty as if to admit she had made a mistake "Harry put me off the team because I just wasn't doing my best. He told me that if I was willing to practice for six weeks I'd be placed back on the team. It made me realize that it takes constant practice to be a successful swimmer."

In 1941 a traveler coming down the Missouri river reported that his boat was tied up three days while thousands of buffalo crossed the river.

The first time a world's heavy-weight championship fight was broadcast was in 1921 when Jack Dempsey fought George Carpentier in Jersey City.

A 19-mile coastal belt on Kyushu between Moji and Yawata had prewar metal-working plants that turned out one-third of Japan's production of pig iron and half of her steel.

Estimates of the date when American supplies of high grade, readily useable iron ore in the United States will be exhausted range from 10 to 40 years in the future.

The first known white man to visit Quebec was Jacques Cartier, French navigator, in 1535.

LUMBER RESTRICTIONS BEING LIFTED RAPIDLY

Information received this morning indicates that Priorities will not be required in buying and selling lumber if it does not interfere with any rated orders that the Mills or Dealers might have on hand.

All restrictions on plywood are expected to be lifted today or tomorrow. Order L-41, the order which restricts the amount of building that can be done without special permit is expected to be cancelled within two weeks.

While there is not any large stocks of lumber on hand now, we do have a large stock of boards, 1x4 to 1x2 pine on hand. Hope to have our stock filled up on everything in lumber within a short time now, so that we will be able to give our customers the same "Sudden Service" that we did before the war.

To all Plymouth, DODGE, DeSoto and CHRYSLER owners—

These are the facts as we see them:

1. YOUR NEW CAR MAY BE MONTHS AWAY

Some new cars may be made this year. But the number will be limited and it will be months before everybody who wants a new car will be able to get one.

That means it is in your interest to keep your present car in shape for what may be thousands of miles of additional driving. And your dealer wants to help in every way he can.

2. TAKE YOUR CAR TO THE MAN WHO KNOWS IT BEST

He's the Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer. He knows the car from bumper to bumper and he has many reasons for serving you well. He has the experience, equipment, mechanics and factory-engineered parts - everything needed to give you a dependable job.

So telephone or see your Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer and set a date for whatever service is needed on your car. You will find that it is an idea that pays dividends. A little spent for care now can save a lot of time, trouble and expense later.

More Nylons And Tires To Be Had Soon

Government Relaxes Controls On Short Items And Moves To Hold Prices Down

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (AP)—New tires, nylon stockings, new radios—the government dropped the good news about all three into American laps today. A 100 percent jump in rubber production in the next 90 days may mean more tires for civilians, government officials said.

The OPA administrator thought it could hold most new peacetime goods at or near 1942 prices. But manufacturers contend 1945 production costs demand higher prices than 1942 prices.

Nylons may be back in circulation by Thanksgiving. The government has released controls on nylon and rayon. The WPB said there will be 34 million radios by Christmas. Rent ceilings are expected to end in areas where army camps close, or war plants shut down.

The OPA indicated next points will be reduced next month.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (AP)—The Government unwrapped a big bundle of news for American homes and business today.

Your rent ceiling—if you live in certain places—may come off very soon. They'll go where wartime swollen populations dwindle. Not elsewhere for months.

OPA indicated next points would be reduced, beginning next month. Agriculture Secretary Anderson already had said meat rationing would end soon.

Nylon stockings will be back by Thanksgiving, or at the latest by Christmas. So says WPB. It revoked the order controlling production of nylon and rayon.

Credit will be back by Thanksgiving and a half million radios by Christmas—maybe WPB says the only limiting factor in making radios from now (Continued on Page Five)

Naval Training Stations To Keep Going For Year

JACKSONVILLE, Aug. 22 (AP)—Naval training of newly-designated aviators will continue without reduction at the present rate in order that personnel may be prepared for service with the fleet. Rear Admiral Ralph Davison, chief of Naval Air Operational Training, said yesterday in a circular letter addressed to commanders of the command.

On September 1, the letter said, the input to pre-flight training will be reduced and maintained at 130 students per week. This reduction, however, will not be felt until about 1946, when the Chief of Naval Air Operational Training proposed to maintain the following stations: Naval Air Station, Jacksonville; Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Cecil Field, NAAS, Green Cove Springs, NAAS, Mayport, NAAS, Banana River and NAS, Miami.

At the meanwhile Naval Air Operational Training Command will operate to full capacity. Admiral Davison pointed out, with an input of approximately 180 pilots of the command. Post-war training plans for combat air crewmen have not been definitely decided.

The mission of Naval Air Operational Training Command shall continue to be to process newly designated Naval aviators, and other designated personnel, through an advanced training program in order that such personnel may, on completion of their operational training, be ready to be transferred to the most competent fleet in the world. Admiral Davison's circular letter pointed out.

Naval air training shall continue on the pre-flight, primary, training, basic, and Naval Air Operational Training Command of varied training with present training facilities. However, the 300 pilots of the command have been operating on a seven day week, but commanders of their operational training, be ready to be transferred to the most competent fleet in the world. Admiral Davison's circular letter pointed out.

Officers and men of the command were praised for their part in preparing Naval aviators for combat duties.

Jap Envoys Arrive, Bring Flowers for Mac

When the 16-man Japanese surrender arrangement delegation landed at Ito Shima, off Okinawa, pomp and ceremony on the part of the Japs was the order of the day. Two of the Jap emissaries may be seen near the plane. At left, one of the crewmen of the Jap plane is shown with a bouquet of flowers evidently Jap peace offering. The envoys went from Ito to Manila in an American C-54 transport. After the Manila talks the Jap delegation headed back to Tokyo with the surrender terms. Official U. S. Navy Radiophoto. Ration Board To Local Homesites Aid Consumers In Will Be Given To Post-War Period World War Vets

Gasoline and fuel oil rationing, a necessity of war time, could last week at the Seminole County Price and Rationing Board, an indication that all rationing may, likewise be eventually terminated, together with the need of intricate system bookkeeping and record filing.

A. B. Peterson, secretary of the Seminole County Price and Rationing Board, who in early 1942 started the Rationing Board with a single desk and one stenographer, Mrs. Roy G. Williams, said who has since weathered an increased sea of administrative details and a barrage of directives filed at him daily from many government bureaus, is now standing by for further service to the community.

Rationing may be pointed out, but there is still a big job to be done in the field of price control aiding merchants and the consuming public through the difficult transition period from war to peace.

Mr. Peterson said that the gasoline and fuel panel members will be asked to assist merchants in an even bigger job than was the allocating of gasoline at the time Miss Beanie C. Zachary and Miss Mabel Sherman had charge of what is now the deserted and idle gasoline department at the Armory.

"The transition period can be dynamite if it isn't handled properly and our citizens all help," Mr. Peterson asserted, and pointed out that in 1920, after the last war, a serious wave of inflation swept America with the result that 100,000 businesses failed and nearly one-half million farmers lost their farms.

"We can't let that happen again," he added.

For this reason, rationing of many items will have to continue after V-J Day," said Mr. Peterson, and price ceilings will have to remain fixed for some time to come.

The Caroline Panel consists of M. W. Wilkins, Glenn Lingo, W. A. Patrick and John Nessel. The Executive Board of the Rationing Board in this county consists of J. C. Dubois, chairman, E. B. Hays, W. S. Wilkins, E. R. Randall, Jr. and Lester W. Dungan, of the Sanford Naval Air Station.

The Price Panel consists of E. B. Randall, Jr. chairman, C. E. Riebel, Frank Shandor, G. E. (Bud) Smith, Lloyd F. Boyle, Walter Haynes and Fred W. Ball. The regular price panel assistants are Mrs. Charles G. Jones and Mrs. R. A. Cobb, who check prices at various retail outlets.

Community Service Members who are interested in being on the chairman, W. J. Taylor, press relations, R. L. Deane, Guy Mann, man's club, Mrs. James Mangum, Women's Club, F. W. Lawson, School, Lee Liberty, community, Mrs. H. A. Cobb, who check prices at various retail outlets.

4 Lost Fliers Of Doolittle Found In China

Held In Peiping As Prisoners Of Japs, They Helped Bomb Tokyo In April '42

CHUNGKING, Aug. 22 (AP)—Four of the lost airmen who bombed Tokyo in the historic raid led Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle in April, 1942, have been rescued by a daring American team which dropped from the skies on Japanese-occupied Peiping, it was announced today.

Even as the news of their rescue was radioed to Chungking, it appeared that arrival here of another American soldier-hero, Lt. Gen. Johnathon M. Winwright, was being delayed by Japanese in the Mukden area who were possibly fearful of doing anything that might get them into difficulties with the Russians.

A parachute team sent by Office of Strategic Services liberated the four fliers, who had been charged by the Japanese with held pending notification of their next of kin. Their names were withheld.

The message radioed here said the fliers now were in the Grand Hotel at Peiping and were receiving the best care possible. They are in such serious condition from lack of food and medical care that they will be unable to travel by air. He is receiving appropriate medical care, the message added.

It was possible that the four were the only survivors of eight Tokyo raiders whose capture was disclosed by the war department more than a week after the raid. President Roosevelt announced that on March 17, 1943, the U. S. government had learned through neutral sources that the death penalty had been pronounced on the captured airmen after their trial and severe punishment. The sentence was commuted for some and carried out for others, the President said.

The raid, led by Lt. Gen. (then Lt. Col.) James H. Doolittle, was staged on April 18, 1942. The eight men captured were Lt. George Barr Madison, Wilbur William Glover Farrow, Washington, D. C.; Lt. Robert L. Hite, Earth, Tex.; Lt. Robert J. Meder, Lakewood, Ohio; Lt. Chase J. Bushman, Hyrum, Utah; Lt. Donald E. Hallmark, Dallas, Tex.; Cpl. Jacob B. Deshaizer, Madras, Ore.; Sgt. Harold A. Spatz, Lebo, Kan.

At the meeting the conditions under which the fliers will be given out will be determined, he added. According to G. W. Spenser, attorney who drew up the bill which was introduced to the Legislature by State Senator Lloyd F. Boyle, the City bill provides that the city Commission may give City building sites to honorably discharged veterans.

Certain conditions and limitations are contained in a reversion clause in the deed, he said, and applicants are required to build on the site within a certain limited time after the conveyance. The County bill contains the same provisions as the City one except that it also provides for conveyance of acreage. Amounts to be decided by the commission.

Veterans desiring lots of acreage under the plan should make application to either the county or City Commissioners through H. N. Sayer, city clerk or county clerk O. P. Herndon.

Movie To Be Made Of Treasure Hunt

Walter J. Cooper, former Sanford resident, now living in Greenville, recently wrote that the Seminoles treasure hunt project is getting along fine and that the Associated Press will really have some big news about this some day.

Meanwhile, an Ocala AP dispatch announced that "Huwantreasure Hunt," an article about Florida and Mr. Cooper's salvaging operations, together with the story of previous attempts at treasure hunting, which was written by John Maloney of Silver Springs, will be made into a movie.

Mr. Maloney has been advised by his New York agent that the movie rights were sold to Hay Wallace, producer and director formerly with Paramount and Warner Brothers.

Among the pictures he has produced are "Casablanca," "Little Caesar" and "Yankee Doodle Dandy."

GENEVA FAVORED

LONDON, Aug. 22 (AP)—Geneva is favored by many Allied Diplomats as the seat of the United Nations Security Organization. One Allied official said today the site depends primarily on Russia. There are few main difficulties barring the road to established diplomatic relations with Russia and as a neutral Switzerland is not a member of the United Nations.

CHARTER DEBATE

LONDON, Aug. 22 (AP)—Prime Minister Atlee called for ratification of the World Security League Charter in the House of Commons today, as both houses of Parliament began a separate debate of the covenant. In the House of Lords, Lord Chancellor Jowitt said: "The charter contains the difference between life and death for civilization as we know it."

MacArthur Is Expected To Land In Japan On Tuesday

As a Jap Comes A-Bowing

General MacArthur is expected to land in Japan on Tuesday. He will be accompanied by a large staff of military and civilian advisors. The Japanese government has announced that they will receive him with the highest honors and will provide him with a safe and comfortable journey. MacArthur is expected to arrive in Tokyo, where he will meet with Japanese officials and discuss the terms of the Japanese surrender. The Japanese government has also announced that they will provide MacArthur with a large amount of money and other resources to help him in his duties. MacArthur is expected to remain in Japan for several months before returning to the United States.

Local Champs Are Badly Mauled By Yowell Ball Team

'Master Mind' Humiliated As Team Goes Down 13 To One

Master Mind Charles Morrison underwent an impressive and crushing defeat at the hands of the Yowell team on Tuesday evening at Municipal Softball Field as his team was downed 13 to one by the Yowell team which scored in every inning except the first.

In the sixth inning of the contest the Yowell team scored three runs to pitch to the Yowell team on by a terrific clash between the Yowell team and the Master Mind team got their lead in the first inning but the Guardians got four in the third frame to overtake them and take the lead.

A bright spot of evening the Yowell team today had regained the stellar catch of the Yowell team. The Yowell team was the stellar catch of the Yowell team. The Yowell team was the stellar catch of the Yowell team.

Mr. Morrison today had regained the stellar catch of the Yowell team. The Yowell team was the stellar catch of the Yowell team. The Yowell team was the stellar catch of the Yowell team.

In spite of the awful beating given his "Master Mind" Morrison today had regained enough buoyancy of spirit to predict that his team would beat the Yowell team in the opening game Thursday night when a big crowd is predicted to see the final school and old games of one of the best softball seasons ever enjoyed in Sanford.

The second tilt Thursday night will be a terrific clash between the Yowell team and the newly rejuvenated and rampaging State Guard team.

The scores:
Prisoners 100 0 0 0 0 2
Yowell 0 11 2 4 1 13 11
R 11
H 11
State Guard 0 0 4 1 0 2 6
