Plans have been made for a gala homecoming reception Sunday for the crews of the Navy's VAH-7, return from 11 months aboard the USS Essex.

Wives, children, sweethearts and friends will gather at the hangar at noon to greet the crews and planes. The rest of the contingent, with eight officers and 77 enlisted men will arrive by bus Monday.

The three planes, the last remaining AJ-37 Sabres in Heavy Attack Wing One, will rendezvous with the squadron's A3J Skywarrior and F4U Corsairs. They will be escorted home in a "welcome home" formation.

The detachment left Sanford last January for the Mediterranean and were seeing aboard the Essex when the Middle East crisis broke in July. They participated actively in U. S. peace force landings in Lebanon.

When the Essex was re-deployed to the Seventh Fleet in the Pacific the Sabres passed through the Suez Canal in August.

In early October, word was received here by analog wives of men in the Sanford Detachment that the ship had been released and would return to Mayport. On Oct. 3 she began the 15,000-mile journey back to Florida.

The trip back included stops in Singapore, Colombo, South Africa and Rio de Janeiro. While the "Go Devils" have missed only the continents of Australia and Greenland, they are more than glad to forgive their adventure for the sight of wives and children.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	I John	1	1-4
Monday	Luke	8	11-15
Tuesday	John	8	24-39
Wednesday	Proverbs	6	21-23
Thursday	Psalms	19	7-11
Friday	Luteronomy	30	11-14
Saturday	Revelation	22	1-21

Through every generation and in every nation—people have looked for peace and security. Hundreds of volumes have been written on the subject and thinkers and writers have devoted their lives to the search.

But of all these books, the Bible is most concerned with peace and security. "Fear not, for I am with you; be not dismayed for I am your God."

No man-made philosophy can banish the worries and troubles of life. But in the gospel we find assurance of His care.

God loves us. When we go to Him in humility, He cleanses us of sin. Our minds are put at ease. Peace fills our souls.

Go then to the Book that Lives. Through study, prayer and worship we will find that peace which has been granted to millions in every corner of the globe. Discover anew your life through the Book that Lives.

'They Didn't Give Students' Grades

SYLVESTER, Ga. (UPI)—One student in the Sylvester High School is of the opinion that Geoffrey Chaucer was buried in Westminster alley.

Mrs. Ethel Strangward and Mrs. Sherri Lake, who teach English and civics, respectively, Thursday released a collection of wacky answers they have found on tests recently. In addition to the "alley" blunder, there were these:

Q.—Who becomes president of the United States in the event the president dies?

A.—His son (sic).

Q.—In the play Julius Caesar, why did Caesar ask Anthony to touch Calpurnia?

A.—Because he didn't want to touch her himself.

Q.—Define anachronism.

A.—An anachronism is a kind of religion.

Q.—Explain the term "the congressman was on the fence" about the question.

A.—He was a lay man who sat on the fence instead of working.

Kathy Crosby Says Escape 'Narrow'

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Kathy Crosby, 21, the attractive wife of singer Bing Crosby, 53, narrowly escaped having her face paralyzed for life in a traffic accident this week, she told reporters Thursday night.

Mrs. Crosby, who received about a three-inch gash on the left side of her chin Wednesday when her sports car smashed into the rear of a car stopped for a signal light, said a plastic surgeon closed the wound with about 30 stitches. "I guess I didn't count them."

"The doctor told me that if the cut had been 1-16th of an inch higher, it would have struck a nerve and paralyzed me for life," Mrs. Crosby said.

At a press conference, she told reporters she and Bing went to the Beverly Hills Doctors Hospital Thursday night to see the singer's 87-year-old mother who was concerned about Kathy after hearing reports of the accident on the radio. The elderly Mrs. Crosby was in the hospital recovering from an eye operation performed Tuesday.

Kennedy Opposed By State Baptists

MIAMI (UPI)—Florida Baptists adopted a resolution Thursday which apparently was aimed at the possible presidential candidacy of Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass.), a Roman Catholic.

The resolution, adopted by some 1,200 delegates to the Florida Baptist Convention, said: "We strongly oppose the election of any high government official and particularly a President of the United States who may have any private or public oath of allegiance to any alien power."

Earlier, the delegates gave a standing vote of confidence in Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.) for "his able and Christian statesmanship" he has displayed as president of the Southern Baptist Convention.

The action came in reply to a demand by Baptist laymen in Mississippi that Hays resign because of his moderate stand on integration.

A similar attempt to line up official opposition to Kennedy was rebuffed by the Georgia Baptist Convention in Atlanta.

With only six per cent of the world's population, the United States has 68 per cent of its automobiles.

Shortage Of Santas

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—There may be a shortage of Santa Clauses here this Christmas season. Local merchants gave up plans to hold a school for Santas after only five applicants showed up.

Plant Owner Faces Charge Of Murder In Ex-Con's Death

CHESTER, N.Y. (UPI)—The president of a small manufacturing firm was held on first degree murder charges today for killing an ex-convict turned labor organizer who was leading a wildcat organizing strike against his already unionized plant.

Malcolm White, 48, founder and president of the Chester Cable Corp., confessed the slaying of Alfred F. Dugan, 32, a convicted bank robber and narcotics peddler who was acting as an organizer for Local 1, Interstate Industrial Union (Ind.). The union has been trying to win recognition over a local of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (AFL-CIO) which represents the plant's 140 workers.

A few minutes before the shooting White had told pickets before the plant within Dugan's hearing, that the labor organizer had a criminal record and "you shouldn't follow a guy like Dugan."

White drove away from the plant and Dugan followed in his own car. On a deserted road some distance away, White saw he was being followed, stopped his car and got out. Dugan also stopped his car and walked toward him, White told police, reaching into the pocket of his coat as he came.

White said he believed Dugan was reaching for a gun and opened fire with his own pistol, for which he had recently obtained a permit. He fired seven shots, he said. Dugan was found to have been hit twice, in the back. He was not carrying a gun.

White then drove back to his plant office and called state police to "come take me in . . . I just shot a man."

America's Church Services Changing

By LOUIS CASTLES, United Press International

As most churchgoers must have noticed by now, something is happening to religious services in America.

Clergymen call it "the liturgical revival." Translated from the Greek, this study means that churches are trying to restore meaning and vitality to public worship.

The specific reforms vary considerably from one denomination to another. But they fall into two general categories.

1. Churches that have fixed forms of worship—the Roman Catholics, Episcopalians, Lutherans and Presbyterians, for example—are putting new emphasis on the role of the congregation. They are seeking to make the man in the pew an active participant, rather than a passive spectator, in worship.

2. Evangelical Protestant bodies, in which each minister is free to choose his own order of service, are moving toward greater formality and dignity. They are gradually introducing robes for the choir (and sometimes the minister); organ preludes to create a mood of reverence and eliminate pre-service congregational chatter; and the occasional use of "pre-meditated" (written) prayers instead of the customary extemporaneous prayer.

Expanded Participation

A recent example in the first category was a directive issued by the Vatican last month prescribing an expanded role for Roman Catholic laity in the celebration of the mass. It calls for a number of congregational responses during low and sung masses, including joint recitation of the Lord's Prayer. It also provides for a narrator to read Scriptural passages to the congregation in English while the priest is reciting them in Latin.

A striking example of the trend in evangelical bodies is the increasingly common practice in Baptist churches of devoting an entire service to the observance of the Lord's Supper. The custom—traditionally the main feature of Baptist worship—is often omitted entirely at this service.

One common, theme runs through all of the varied manifestations of the liturgical revival. It is the conviction that worshiping God is an end in itself, not a means to an end.

SEUL, Korea (UPI)—Francisco D. Chang, a Chinese businessman from Hong Kong, said he was caught in a vicious circle.

He was jailed here when he was unable to pay a $13,540 fine for smuggling. Chang said he was smuggling only to earn enough money to pay off an earlier $17,118 fine for smuggling.

Vegetable Producers To Be Aided By Plant

Seminole County's vast and growing vegetable industry yesterday received good news. The Jet-Vac Cooler Co., Inc., plans to construct a plant here.

The plant, which will be ready for operation by Jan. 15, will enable local vegetable growers to get a higher price for their products. It also will promote more diversification in county vegetable production.

Lettuce, one of the higher priced vegetables, once was a leading Seminole County product. In recent years, however, less emphasis has been placed on lettuce, more emphasis on cabbage and other vegetables. Establishment of the vacuum pre-cooling plant here will be an added incentive to grow lettuce, officials have said.

Vacuum cooling of vegetables is an idea that has spread rapidly. Persons familiar with the process say that it insures a longer life, a higher quality and better price. Cooling by the process removes the excess moisture and field heat from plants. It does the job uniformly, whether there be one crate or one truckload of vegetables.

Vegetable production, harvesting and marketing furnish the county with one of its most important payrolls. Based on University of Florida Extension Service figures, the industry provides a whopping $8 1/2 million annually for Seminole County.

Extension Service reports show that the vegetable industry is becoming more important to the county each year. Officials have said that the cooling plant here would enrich this area greatly.

Jet-Vac officials, during preliminary discussions, said pre-cooling would put Seminole County in an enviable position so far as its competition is concerned. These officials, who are willing to invest $100,000 here without any guarantee from local growers, said that Seminole vegetables can find a "prime" market throughout the Southeast.

Vacuum pre-cooling also will give Seminole producers a better chance to supply many of the large grocery chains. This is a market that local producers haven't had too much success with.

We like the spirit of Jet-Vac officials. They did not ask for the world wrapped in a ribbon. They are willing to invest their money and take their chances. This, we believe, is according to the finest tradition of American business.

Bombing Is Needless

Miami has the jitters. Since Sunday, no fewer than 12 bombing threats have been telephoned to churches. Yesterday brought the last straw. An anonymous caller threatened to blow up the Central Baptist Church.

At the time of the call, the church was occupied by 1,000 delegates to the annual state convention of Florida Baptists. After being informed of the bomb threat, the delegates voted to remain in the building.

Some admitted they were afraid. They had every right to be. Bombing threats against churches and schools have been carried out, in both North and South. The church pastor said that delegates did not believe such a threat against Christians would be carried out.

Similar threats have resulted in dynamiting. This, we believe, is un-American. This is the type of thing one would expect from Hitler's "Black Shirts" or the most devout Communists. It certainly is un-Christian. Nobody has a right to destroy a house of worship.

Punishment for such offenders should be swift. Mercy should be out of the question when, and if, these anonymous callers are caught.

Such ill-advised activity, we believe, stems from ignorance. How else can a threat to kill 1,000 ministers be explained?

Quarter-Century Of Shining Service

By DOC QUINN
NEW YORK (UPI) — Giuseppe Tompase, questing after the American dream, came to this country 26 years ago and started out as a shoeshine boy. Twenty-five years ago he booked onto NBC, a broadcasting company of promise, in a loose but lucrative relationship.

Thursday, turning 60, having worked his way through the president's office, he found himself in the office of the chairman of the board — shining the chairman's shoes.

It was a happy occasion. Giuseppe got a gold watch and a certificate from Robert Barnoff, the chairman, honoring his 25th year of shining service to NBC. He kept repeating, "Oh, this is terrific."

Giuseppe — actually he's "Joe" to everybody around NBC — is a wiry 5-foot-3 granddaddy with graying hair and eloquent brown eyes, a man of poise, dignity, engaging charm and (Oh, well, perhaps) not employed by NBC but rambles over 10 skyscraper floors shining daily 10 pairs of shoes, most of them on NBC employees' feet.

His feet have included those of about everybody of note who has worked in the building, from the great Fred Allen to John D. Rockefeller Jr., a proprietor of the place — the RCA Bldg. part of Rockefeller Center.

How many Rockefelleres has been his customer? "Junior — and all the boys," Giuseppe said. He declined to disclose what Junior pays for a shoe shine. Matter of fact, Giuseppe is known as a man of outstanding integrity in the matter of confidences.

Seminole Students To Be On Program
Twenty-five couples from Seminole High School will appear on the Channel Nine "Band Stand" Saturday at 8 p. m.

The students were invited by station personnel to participate in the popular variety show. Local talent will also be seen on the program when Freddy Smith and John Miller, students at Seminole High, perform. Freddy will sing, accompanied by John, who will also play a piano solo.

Arrangements for the "Band Stand" appearance have been made by the student council, headed by Peggy Westgate.

He has shined shoes through wily executive sessions and, thus, been privy to many confidential utterances — and never breathed a word.

As an example of his friendship with many: "Nelson Rockefeller, the next day after he was elected governor, came in and rushed over and shook my hand. My hands were fully shoe-black, but he didn't care."

In a quarter-century of wandering in and out of studios on business, Giuseppe has been on the air many times in impromptu interviews. He first got on radio in 1937 ("I was interviewed on some kind of mishmash"), broadcast in behalf of war bonds in World War II, and has been on TV.

True Thanksgiving
Editor's Note: This is another in a series of articles on Thanksgiving, written for The Herald by pastors of local churches.

BY THE REV. IRA ENDMAN
Pastor, Free Methodist Church
THANKSGIVING IN EVERYDAY LIFE

Thanksgiving is an attitude, not a day. Roast turkey and dressing, quivering cranberry sauce, mashed potatoes with pools of butter, candied yams, and spicy pumpkin pie do not make Thanksgiving. Thanksgiving is an expression of gratitude directed to a God whom we have found merciful, gracious, and abundantly good. This expression of gratitude arises out of a heart which understands that all things belong to God first, and through His generosity, to us second.

When this is understood, then it is easy to see that the expression of this gratitude cannot be confined to an annual prayer spoken over a loaded table. Attitudes do not appear and disappear periodically. November 27 may be our "National gratitude day", but in personal attitudes it is just another one of the 365 squares on the calendar. We may enjoy a "wonderful day", but our attitudes are not representative when we are on just one day. It takes the other 364 days as well. Thus, when we give thanks one day and forget God for another year, Thanksgiving Day has become nothing more than a day off work.

If Thanksgiving is an attitude, then Thanksgiving Day is a symbol of the attitude. It is a monument, a reminder that our attitudes do not really change for a holiday, but that they should be like the last week in November. That is why we have Thanksgiving Day; to make us aware, to remind us to prayer attitudes to attain, remind us of a gracious God, who has given bountifully on not just one day, but on every day.

This year, as Thanksgiving Day approaches, we don't want to make it a "be polite to God today" day. We want to review our attitudes. If they aren't dominated by an honest, heartfelt gratitude for God's goodness to us, then we may eat from the loaded table, sit in the quiet church, join in the soaring hymns of praise, but we are not giving thanks. Make November 27 an outstanding day by using it for what it was intended: let it be a reminder that will change attitudes not for a day, but for a lifetime.

Students To Pick 'Top Ten' Books In School Library
English classes in Sanford Junior High school will select the "Top Ten" in books in the school library each month. The custom has been established to encourage interest in the library contents.

Junior High students have an hour a week in which they may browse, select a book or do reference work. In October 1361 books were checked out by students. The library also contains a fine selection of current magazines. The school librarian draws her assistants from eager students, who are learning library procedures and techniques.

Rum is colorless immediately after it is distilled and acquires its brown or golden look only after aging in wooden casks. There are two places in the world called Christmas Island, both named by mariners who sighted them at the Yuletide. One is in the Indian Ocean and the other in the Central Pacific.

Fred Othman Says

WASHINGTON — Of all the leading Democratic politicians, none has a brighter present prospect than Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois.

Interest among party leaders in Mr. Stevenson — even among some heretofore less than enchanted with him — is higher in the wake of the Congressional elections than since 1938. (In 1938 the nomination was never thought to be much more than an opportunity for some Democrat to lose gracefully to President Eisenhower.)

"Stevenson talk" is now so solid as to indicate that among a large handful of 1960 "possibilities" he is the most "possible" of all — his two defeats notwithstanding. This is reported after considerable inquiry in various party wings. Thus armed, it is now possible to predict that if 1960 is to be a "Democratic year" Stevenson can hardly finish worse than very high in the new administration.

In any foreseeable Democratic administration, should he himself not be the Chief Executive, he likely would be no less than Secretary of State, a post long of interest to him. No other Democrat is so relatively certain of having a high place.

Mr. Stevenson's new eminence results from two major circumstances:

1. The Congressional elections gave the moderate liberals a new influence in Congress relative to the past. But the returns have not been so hard at the advanced non-Congressional liberals from among whom would have come the most powerful challenge to Stevenson in 1960.

Gov. Averell Harriman lost in New York Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, though easily re-elected, was overthrown in his own ticket. Gov. George Leader of Pennsylvania let down the general Democratic offensive by losing for the Senate.

There is, in short, no longer any real possibility of a massive uprising New York-Pennsylvania-Michigan coalition at the convention to stop Stevenson in his tracks.

2. The Southerners — all but the most unreconstructed — are increasingly aware that the hands of the clock are moving toward midnight for their existing power. To retain their existing power they must avoid walking out — or being driven out by a nominee so advanced on civil rights that they would not support him and survive at home.

Stevenson is authentically moderate — more liberal than Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas but far less so than is the urban Eastern section of his party. All but the irreconcilable Southerners, it is now reckoned, could "take Adlai." From the viewpoint of the Northerners, he is at least acceptable — all save those who wish to punish the South beyond the call of duty.

It is, moreover, extremely unlikely that the South can have anything remotely resembling a free convention choice. It must make Between 1944 and 1954 — the first decade of the antibiotic era — infant deaths declined 33 per cent in the U. S. and maternal deaths went down 12 per cent, the Health News Institute reports.

Populaires To Play At Mayfair Again; Opening Nearing

Pete Bukur and the Populaires will again play at the Mayfair Inn during the coming season, according to Frank Mohane Jr., manager of the hotel.

The trio, all Sanford residents, was very successful at the Inn last year. They will play for the dinner dance Dec. 6 when Sanford residents get the annual "first peek" at the San Francisco Giants' hotel as the season begins.

The Mayfair Inn Opening, long considered "the" social event of any year in Sanford, paves the way for a busy holiday season. Announcements of the dinner dance have been mailed to several hundred residents of Seminole County.

There have been no major changes in the hotel this year. Paint has brightened the cocktail lounge, the Ratan Room, the hall and the lobby. Yellow and green have been favored this year by Mohane.

New wall fixtures to match the chandeliers have been installed in the ballroom, which last year was redecorated completely.

the most tolerable bargain it can. Thus, Stevenson looks better and better to all those Southerners who realize that they must somehow accommodate themselves to school integration.

They know he would enforce integration; but they think he would do so with compassion and understanding. In issues so passionate, how a man does a thing is almost as important as what he does.

Stevenson, in this way, is still close to the moderate Southerners, who are in genuine agony between Old South pressures and the weight of present realities.

The estimate of some able and reasonably disinterested Democratic professionals is this: Senator John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts will go into the convention the front-runner, but is likely to fall fast if he does not make it on the first ballot. Senator Johnson will hold a great power, though probably not the power to obtain the nomination for himself, even if he seeks it.

Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri will be formidable. If Kennedy fails and the pendulum swings between Johnson and Symington it is likely finally to point clearly to neither, but rather to Stevenson.

But if the ticket were Johnson for President and Kennedy for Vice President, Stevenson would be tapped ahead of time for Secretary of State, along with Symington for Secretary of Defense. And Stevenson probably would be in the same position even though the convention resulted in the selection of an advanced liberal ticket. Thus, he is unlikely in any case really to lose.

RECIPE PLANNING TOLD

Here is a how-to-do-it problem recipe planning.
The important fact presented to the homemaker in this case is leftover lamb. The solution is the creation of a main dish treat for dinner.
Let's first investigate your pantry or cupboard shelf. A can of condensed onion soup is available. Now this would add a distinctive flavor note to the meat. What could be added for color effect?
Perhaps you'll find a bottle of chili sauce in the refrigerator ready for use. Now for texture, see if you have any celery or sesame seed. In combination with lamb maybe the celery seed would be an exciting texture and flavor addition. By combining all these ingredients and adding the meat, your test is ready. Simply heat through and serve. The final check on this experiment in problem solving is the "OK" seal of approval from the family.
Lamb's Quiche
6 slices of 2 to 3 cups cubed, cooked lamb
1 can (10 3/4 ounces) condensed onion soup
1/2 teaspoon celery seed
1/4 cup prepared chili sauce
Mix onion soup, celery seed, and chili sauce in frypan. Add lamb. Cover tightly and simmer until thoroughly heated, about 10 minutes. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Frank Stranahan: Distance His Goal

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of articles on the outstanding professional golfers who will take part in the $15,000 Mayfair Inv PGA Open tournament in Sanford, Dec. 9-14. Today's article features Frank Stranahan.)

Muscular Frank Stranahan, one of the great amateur golfers of all time, hit his peak as a professional the first three months of 1958.

After a mediocre 1957 during which he won only $3144, Frank caught fire in early 1958, winning the $7000 first prize in the Los Angeles Open and totaling more than $11,000 in the first three months of the year.

One of the most diligent workers in golf, Frank attributes his improvement to several factors.

"I'm not trying to maneuver the ball so much as I used to," says the rugged Toledo, O., slinger.

"I'm practicing my short irons more and as a result am hitting more greens. I'm not swinging so hard as I used to either."

"I've become more willing to live with the game I have. Before, I was constantly trying to adapt things I saw in the games of others which I thought might help me."

"I've also been playing more conservatively the first two days. I feel a golfer should finish better than he starts."

Another thing that's helped 35-year-old Frank is a heavier driver he started using at the 1957 U. S. Open qualifier.

"Since then my drives haven't been going so far but they've been straighter," Stranahan says.

Stranahan maintains he played better last year than his winnings indicate.

His switch away from experimentation may come as a surprise to many golf enthusiasts and some of his colleagues because the couplet also has long persisted that Frank would be a better player if he tinkered with his game less.

Before he turned pro in September, 1954, Stranahan had won 16 successive All-American Amateur and five straight World Amateur titles, giving him an 11-straight streak in George S. May's event; the British Amateur in '48 and '50, three North and South and four Western Amateur titles; the Durham, N. C., Ft. Worth, Tex., Miami, Fla., and Kansas City PGA Opens; Canadian Amateur and Mexican Amateur three times.

He was also runnerup twice in the British Open, played on three Walker Cup teams and was finalist in the '50 National Amateur.

A lot has been made of the fact that blond Frank has had the benefit of excellent instruction. Frank himself maintains that Tommy Armour and Byron Nelson helped him plenty as he was learning the game and that Alex Morrison and Henry Picard assisted him later.

However, it's generally known that Frank was Ohio amateur king BEFORE he ever got a lesson from a golf professional.

Stranahan credits his dad, R. A. Stranahan, owner of the Champion Sporting Co. of Toledo, O., with helping him get started in the game. The elder Stranahan still plays in the 70's.

As a youngster, Frank resorted to weight-lifting to build up a puny physique. That he got great results is evident. Frank is an subelite strengthman, having won weight-lifting competitions. He still works out on weights as he makes the PGA tour.

During World War II, Frank was a bomber pilot. Later he attended the U. of Miami.

Frank is one of the most popular players on the tour. His colleagues respect him, too, because of his devotion to golf and achievements in the game. Despite Frank's wealth, there's not the slightest disposition on the part of any of the pros to fool Frank's taking bread out of their mouths.

A fierce competitor, Frank says he turned pro because of his desire to play with and beat the best golfers in the world.

"I have no interest in trying to be low amateur in a tournament, beating some fellow who's taken a week off from his job to compete," he says.

"You're low amateur, yet sometimes you're 12 strokes behind the winner. What do I get then? Another trophy?"

There's a world of difference between professional and amateur golf, according to Frank. "All the best golfers are pros," he observes.

"The amateurs, except for a few, don't get a chance to play enough. Right now, it's four or five times as hard to place in the money as it was when I won the Kansas City Open as an amateur in 1944."

The 5-10 170-pounder says there are about 100 fine golfers on the PGA tour. There are from 30 to 45 money places in most tournaments.

"Ten years ago," Frank maintains, "you could have been 10 strokes behind the winner and picked up a fair amount of money."

Now, in some tournaments if you're 10 shots off the pace you don't even finish in the money.

Frank says a tournament player finds it more difficult to try hard as he gets older.

"That's what you have to fight all the time," he says.

"I think I've lost some of my zeal, and the years are running out."

To be a good player, it's not necessary to do everything right, in Frank's opinion. But you must do a few key things correctly to scale the heights, he adds.

"The two most important things you must learn are mastery of clubbing and the handiwork," Frank explains.

"To be up with the leaders, you must putt well all the time. I haven't had a good putting streak as a pro. I'm a good approach putter but I think I miss more two and three-footers than anyone else on the tour."

"And if you can't drive well, you can't stay with the top boys. I don't think we have any top players on the tour who aren't wonderful drivers."

One of the longest hitters in pro golf, Frank contends he doesn't drive so well as he should.

Frank's initial win as a pro came in the 1955 Eastern Open at Baltimore. In 1957, Frank played his best golf at Baltimore, shooting 281 to tie for fourth. His second best '57 showing was in the Canadian Open where he shot 278 to tie for fifth.

Frank's married to the former Ann Williams of Dallas, a fine golfer in her own right. They have two sons, Frank Jr., 3, and James Spencer, born Oct. 27, 1957.

Bayou Bengals Set To 'Go For Broke'

By DAVID M. WOFFIT
ATLANTA (UPI)—Top-ranked Louisiana State comes to grips Saturday night with Mississippi State, the last team to beat the Tigers from Baton Rouge before they launched a nine-game winning streak—currently the longest in the nation for a major team.

Their meeting with Mississippi State at Jackson, Miss., represents more than a chance for revenge on the part of the Tigers. That game is also another stepping stone en route to the Southeastern Conference title, a Sugar Bowl bid, and a perfect season.

Mississippi State won 146 last season and ended up in a tie for third in the conference standings. The Tigers finished sixth. Pre-season prognostications figured Mississippi State to be a title contender this fall while Louisiana State was rated only in the also-ran class.

Season of Unsurpassed
But this has been a season of the unexpected for the Southeastern Conference. And, the two biggest surprises have been the success of Louisiana State and the failure of Mississippi State. They go into Saturday night's game with the Tigers unbeaten, untied and definitely favored. Mississippi State has dropped its last four conference outings.

Louisiana State has three teams of "regulars," a feared offense and a stubborn defense. The offense, sparked by halfbacks Billy Cannon and Johnny Robinson and quarterback Warren Rabb, has averaged nearly 26 points per game against some of the best defenses in the nation. The defense, manned mainly by the so-called "Chinese Bandits," has given up only six touchdowns in eight games.

Mississippi State has been a real enigma this fall. Quarterback Bill Stacy, who was expected to make the all-conference first team for a third straight year, has had an off year. The Maroon line, thought to be one of the biggest and toughest in the southeast, has become more porous week by week.

There are four other intra-conference games this weekend and three of them should be first-class shows. Fourth-ranked Auburn is favored to make it 22 games without a loss against Georgia at Columbus, Ga., and 18th-ranked Georgia Tech has its eye on a bowl bid as host to rival Alabama; and once-beaten but three-times-tied Vanderbilt will be host to improving Tulane in what is expected to be a real aerial circus.

One-Sided Contest
The Mississippi-Tennessee clash at Knoxville, Tenn., rates as probably the most one-sided conference contest. Eighth-ranked Mississippi has lost only to Louisiana State (11-0) and last week clobbered Houston 56-7. Tennessee, its famed single-wing sputtering, has lost five of seven including last week's 14-0 loss to Chattanooga.

Non-conference action finds Florida, a defensive toughie that has battled some of the best on near-even terms, host to Arkansas State and unpredictable Kentucky host to Xavier.

Among the Southeastern independents: Miami will entertain Maryland in a battle between two of the area's most disappointing teams. Mississippi Southern, No. 1 small college team, goes after its eighth straight against Virginia Tech which has the nation's total offense leader (1,090 yards) in quarterback Billy Holtsclaw; and Chattanooga, fresh from that win over Tennessee will be at Tampa.

PEANUT BOWL ACTION — Berry Brown, Golden Eagle back, made a long gain behind good blocking on this play in last night's Peanut Bowl game. Players identified are K. W. Landress (on ground to Brown's left), John Phillips (25) and Robert Murrie (50), all Golden Eagles, and Fred Jorris (13) and Butch Riser (15). (Herald Staff Photo)

Third 'Major' League Pushed

By FRED DOWN
NEW YORK (UPI) — Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N. Y.) warned organized baseball today to accept a proposed third major league as "free and equal" but baseball men stressed "orderly expansion" as opposed to the formation of an outlaw circuit.

No Dodger Signed, Buzz Bavasi Says

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Not a single member of the 1958 Dodger baseball team that finished seventh in the National League has yet been signed to a contract for the coming season, General Manager Buzzie Bavasi said today.

Bavasi, also Dodger vice president, said "in the past by this time, I've generally had at least 15 players signed for the following season."

But the Los Angeles executive was explosively clear at the end of the last season that he was unhappy with the seventh place finish and some performances.

"After we finished seventh, I was so mad that I didn't discuss contracts until I cooled off," he said at the close of the campaign, he was ready to cut the salaries of a couple of players by 25 per cent.

"That is as much as the law allows. And some other fellows would have been hurt, too," he said.

But Bavasi said this contrasted with what he called his reputation as an easy mark in contract discussions based on past years when the Dodgers were riding higher than in 1958.

Wins Auto Title

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Tony Bettenhausen of Tinley Park, Ill., won the United States Auto Club championship Tuesday despite a second place finish in the 100-mile Bobby Ball Memorial Race.

Bettenhausen was second to Jud Larson of Tampa, Fla., but was ahead on points for the championship.

Boxing Groups Split

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Boxing Managers Association has split with the Empire Boxing Managers because of a disagreement in policy. The association seeks to secure better purses and other benefits for its fighters.

Wins Net Tourney

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Noel Brown of Los Angeles, the seventh-ranked player in the nation, defeated Dave Snyder, University of Arizona tennis coach, 6-3, 6-1, yesterday to win the southwestern open tennis tournament.

Rischer Defeated

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California Tuesday dethroned Roger Rischer as state heavyweight boxing champion. The State Athletic Commission stripped Rischer of his crown when he declined to renew his California license.

ran Giles said he hoped New York would obtain a new franchise but "it will not be accomplished by threats" and Branch Rickey, reported in some quarters to be behind the new league, stressed that expansion "should be accomplished with the help and supervision of the National and American leagues."

Other sentiment, including opinions expressed by executives in Dallas, Houston, Fort Worth, Seattle, Portland, Miami, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Detroit and Milwaukee, was also cautious. Most agreed that any "war" would prove detrimental to all organized baseball and should be avoided at all costs.

Other Clubs Interested
The sensational proposal to form a third major league—inside or outside the current structure of organized baseball—was made Thursday by William Shea, chairman of the New York City Mayor's Baseball Committee which has been working to obtain a franchise since the Giants and Dodgers left town. Shea said

Shea said he had been advised by an unidentified National League official that such an independent new major league is possible—perhaps as early as 1960. Some sources reported the N.L. "mystery man" is Lou Perini of the Braves and others said it was Rickey, 78-year-old ex-president of the Pittsburgh Pirates who recently suggested an alignment similar to Shea's idea.

Shea denied his plan was a "sledge hammer" against baseball but made it clear he expected the protection of the nation's lawmakers in Washington, D. C., if the new league actually is put into operation.

Seminoles Are Favored To Defeat Barracudas

Sanford's fighting Seminoles invade New Smyrna tonight to do battle with the ever-dangerous Barracudas.

The local squad, by taking the Barracudas, can move another giant stride down the trail to a successful season. However, the job tonight may not be too easy.

Although favored, the Seminoles must put up a stout pass defense if they are to continue the headlong rush which has brought them three successive victories. These triumphs have placed the Sanford team squarely in the Orange Belt Conference title picture.

EAGLE PLAY HALTED—Halfback Berry Brown swept right end last night in a Golden Eagle drive in the Peanut Bowl game, but the Blue Raiders' Buddy Lawson (10), one of the offensive stars of the game, knocked him out of bounds after a nine-yard gain. (Herald Staff Photo)

A real aerial circus is in prospect tonight. The Barracudas, after suffering several defeats because of insufficient offense, have taken to the air in recent games. Unable to move along the ground, the Barracudas have adopted the policy of going for the "home run" of football.

Passing, of course, has come to be the great equalizer in pigskin combat. Yardage, first downs and other statistics mean little when the chips have been counted. It's the score that determines victory or defeat.

The Seminoles have developed one of Central Florida's most potent passing attacks. This should cause New Smyrna no little worry. Too, the Sanford squad has the power up the middle and around the ends to keep the Barracuda defense from getting set too well.

Cecil Dandridge, mighty mile quarterback, has a couple of the finest throwing targets in the OBC. They are Allan Swain and Gerald Jones, towering offensive ends. Add, just to keep the defense off balance, he occasionally tosses to his halfbacks, Vernon Kirk, Ray Lundquist, Lin Risner and John Lovelace.

The Seminoles' running game is one of the best balanced in the conference. Kirk is a standout halfback, one who can go the distance on any given play. Fullback Harold Stone has compiled an enviable record; he hasn't been thrown for a loss all season.

Considering the competition that Stone has faced, especially in the losing games to Daytona Seabreeze and Ketterlinus of St. Augustine, his feats have been little short of unique.

But the real story of the Seminoles' success is not complete until the chapter on the defensive line is unfolded. The boys up front have become increasingly tough. The opposition can't win if it can't score.

Sanford Will Host Recreation Group

District 11 of the Florida Recreation Association will meet Tuesday in the Sanford Civic Center. Recreation leaders from more than 20 Florida cities will attend the all-day session.

Visiting administrators and city officials will be welcomed by Mayor Marie Warner. Noted state recreation specialists attending will be Dr. Roy Lillie, Charles McCathy and Ralph Van Fleet.

In charge of the program is Howard Hohrbacker, Assistant Superintendent of Recreation at Ocala. Local arrangements have been made by Ronald Perry, Sanford recreation director.

A tour of Sanford's recreational facilities will be included in the busy schedule.

Loop Titles, Bowl Berths At Stake

By JOE BARGEN

Conference championships and bowl berths dominate Saturday's college football program with top-ranked Louisiana State and Oklahoma heavy favorites to land the lucrative New Year's Day assignments in the Sugar and Orange bowls.

LSU, one of only two major perfect record teams in the country, is a solid 15-point favorite to whip Mississippi State in a night game at Jackson, Miss., while Oklahoma, ranked sixth, is a 16-point favorite to whip Missouri at Norman, Okla.

Victory over Mississippi State would all but clinch a Sugar Bowl berth for the Bayou Bengals since their chief rivals for the Southeastern Conference title—Auburn and Mississippi—are either out of the running or about to be.

Auburn is ineligible for bowl competition and Mississippi already has lost to LSU.

Oklahoma and Missouri are tied (4-0) for first place in the Big Eight and Saturday's meeting will resolve that race. The Sooners, 6-1 overall, will be shooting for their 70th straight conference victory in this one. Missouri is 5-3 overall.

Bears Face Huskies

Clemson, another team with an eye on a bowl berth, is in a strong position to land the assignment alongside Oklahoma if it beats North Carolina State, while California, which has the inside track to the Rose Bowl berth against Iowa, can begin getting ready for the New Year's Day festivities if it defeats Washington.

Coach Frank Howard's Clemson Tigers are only seven-point favorites over N.C. State, a team which lost to Mississippi Southern, the nation's top-ranked small college team, in a tradition-laden game at Raleigh, N.C. Clemson is 6-2 overall, while State is 2-5. If Clemson loses then the race for the conference title won't be resolved until next week pending how North Carolina fares against Duke and the Tigers against Furman.

California (4-1) is favored over Washington in their Pacific Coast game at Seattle, but Washington State (5-2) and Oregon State (4-2) are in contending positions if the Golden Bears falter. State plays outside opponent College of Pacific, while Oregon State meets Stanford.

Situation Muddled

The situation in the Southwest Conference and Ivy League is somewhat muddled, but only the Southwest race involves a bowl berth.

Texas Christian and Rice are tied for first place with 3-1 records and more than likely will still be tied when they meet next Saturday. Friday TCU plays Texas and Rice meets Texas A&M.

Raiders Beat Eagle Squad

By JERRY COVINGTON

It was too much for Buddy Lawson and Butch Riser here last night as Coach Pete Schirard's Blue Raiders ran to an impressive 28-6 victory over Coach Howard Gordie's Golden Eagles in the annual Peanut Bowl football game. It was a great contest and both teams played with much eagerness. But the speed of these two players was too much for the Eagle defense.

Player Draft Set By Major Leagues Scheduled Dec. 1

NEW YORK (UPI)—Baseball's annual grab bag, the majors' draft of minor league players, will be held at Washington, D.C., Dec. 1 with noted names as Walker Cooper, Art Houtteman, and Satchel Paige among the players who might be picked.

The office of baseball Commissioner Ford C. Frick today announced "field rules" for this annual take-a-chance game which once in a great while uncovers new star but usually leads to disappointment.

For one thing, it will cost more to "play" the game this year. A big league club will have to pony up $25,000 for each player picked, instead of last year's sliding scale which had a top of $15,000. For another, more players will be available because of the big change in the rules—an unlimited number of players may be drafted from each team, instead of the old limit of one.

Even so, baseball men see little chance that the total of players picked will be much bigger than the 11 selected last year. None of those 11, incidentally, set the big league record for first choice No. 1; the Washington Senators, last in the American League, have No. 2; then come the seventh-place teams and so on. Then each team gets a second choice in the same order and this goes on until each team has no more selections to make.

The draft is held in conjunction with the annual winter baseball meeting.

The contest opened with the Eagles receiving, but it wasn't long until they passed and Bob Margolin intercepted and went 65 yards for the first score for the Raiders. Lawson ran the point and the Raiders had a quick lead of 7-0.

The Eagles took a kick from Riser and made a fine 70-yard drive and on fourth down with six yards to go, big Johnny Phillips rigged off tackle for the only Eagle score. The point attempt failed and this was the end of the Eagle offense for the evening.

The next Raider score came in the second period. On second down, Riser took the option play and went from mid field for the score. The young squad attempted to run the point but it failed. In the same period the Raiders took over on a punt and Riser and Lawson went to work again. The flashy quarterback hit Lawson in the flat and the speedster went all the way for another 50-yard TD. The point attempt failed and the halftime score read 19-6.

Both clubs fought hard in the third period and neither was able to score. On the first play of the final period, Lawson found several nice blocks and traveled 40 yards for the final score of the evening. This point attempt also failed.

It was a fine contest on part of both squads and coaches Gordie and Schirard. A fine crowd was on hand to witness this rivalry. The game could have been closer had the Eagles been able to punch over a TD in the last second of the first half. A TD pass from the four was nullified by too many players on the field. After a five-yard penalty, the Eagle attempted a pass, but it failed as the horn sounded.

Rosburg Has Record 69, Stroke Lead In Havana

By LED H. PETERSEN

HAVANA, Cuba (UPI)—The best bet today in the world's wild-odds betting golf tournament is to watch red-hot Bob Rosburg.

Rosburg, a San Francisco sharpshooter, carried a one-stroke lead into the second round of the $45,000 Havana Open golf tournament after a scintling 69 that set a record for the 7,000-yard villa real course. Rosburg had to be that good, too, because three other pro stars belated his previous mark of 71 set by Sam Snead and Ben Hogan in 1957.

Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., Doug Ford of Yonkers, N.Y., and Marty Fergol of Sherman Oaks, Calif., were the other record-breakers and shared second-place with two-under-par scores of 70.

"I played real well and those punts were dropping for me," Rosburg said. "I was mad when I teed off because my friends bet me three to one I couldn't beat Snead, so I went out to beat him and I did."

The Bo Winger pro-amateur team, which sold in the field of five teams in a Calcutta pool for $5,000, led in that two-day department of the competition with a 12 under par 57. Winger shot a 72 but his amateur partner, Robert Ornit of Cuba and Budd Mayer of Miami, Fla., brought the score down to 37 with the help of Mayer's handicap of 14. Ford's team was second in this competition with a 58.

Rosburg recorded four birdies and three bogeys while the high wind sent many scores soaring. Rosburg sank puts of four feet on the first hole, 25 on the eighth, four on the 10th and 12 on the 14th for his birdies. He bogeyed the sixth, seventh and 15th.

Snead, 46-year old favorite, three-putted four greens.

Tom Jacobs of Montebello, Calif., Chick Herbert of Farmington, Mich., Bill Casper of Chula Vista, Calif., Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., and Roberto De Vicente of Mexico City were bracketed at 72 with Winger while Ed (Porky) Oliver of Canton, Mass., Jim Ferree of Winston-Salem, N.C., Ted Kroll of Lauderdale, Fla., Jay Hebert of Lafayette, La., Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y., Julius Boros of Southern Pines, N.C., and Huck Luce had 73's.

Seminoles Hold Light Workouts

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Florida State had a light workout Thursday in full equipment and went through a dummy scrimmage against University of Florida running and passing patterns. Coach Tom Nugent also had the team smoothing out timing on FSU's own offense plays.

Fullback Fred Pickard, who had been out with a throat infection earlier this week, was running with the first team again. But guard Jerry Graham, who suffered an ankle injury last week, was restricted to limbering up exercises.

Cards Sign Watkins

CHICAGO (UPI)—Bobby Watkins, former Ohio State University halfback released by the Chicago Bears, has signed a contract with the cross-town rival Chicago Cardinals. To make room for Watkins the Cardinals asked waivers on linebacker Jerry Tubbs, who was claimed by the San Francisco 49'ers.

Heavy Bout Slatd

NEW YORK (UPI)—Heavyweight Nino Valdes of Cuba has signed to meet Pat McClurty of Tacoma, Wash., in a 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden, Dec. 19. Valdes has won his last five fights and McClurty his last four.

DOMESTIC SCENE—Here is a scene from Paramount's "Houseboat." It is just a means to a romantic end for Cary Grant and Sophia Loren, co-starring in the Technicolor production. "Houseboat" arrives at the Ritz Theatre Sunday.

'Houseboat' Will Open At Ritz Sunday

A magnetic romantic team in the attractive and glamorous persons of Cary Grant and luscious Sophia Loren sparks Paramount's Technicolor comedy, "Houseboat," which is due to arrive next Sunday at the Ritz Theatre. The film, an original story by Mel Shavelson and Jack Rose, who authored the highly successful "Seven Little Boys," among other comedies, co-stars Martha Hjer and Harry Guardino and features Eduardo Ciannelli.

Modern Washington, D. C. and the colorful, historic Potomac River are integral parts of the light-hearted story about a lawyer's dilemma when he inherits his three children through the death of his wife, from whom he has been estranged for three years. He wants to be a good father to them, but they have ideas of their own that don't include him. The plot takes on uproarious proportions when he mistakes the glamorous, runaway daughter of a visiting Italian symphony conductor for an apartment housekeeper and hires her to help him take care of the children.

Demands Dismissal Of Director, 16 Others At Prison

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A state senator who sat in on last week's investigation of Raiford Prison demanded today that state Penal Director R. O. Culver, the three top men at Raiford and 13 guards be fired.

Sen. Harvie Belser of Bonifay wrote Gov. LeRoy Collins, the Cabinet and every member of the Legislature that a top-to-bottom sweep is the only answer to the problem of brutality and confusion over the chain of command at Raiford.

Culver himself said today he will recommend that Warden DeWitt Sinclair, Assistant L. J. Swann and James M. Dunn, captain of the guards at Raiford, be fired.

And he indicated that unless the governor and Cabinet back him up, he will resign.

Collins said it is too early to be talking about firing anyone.

Belser called LeRoy Collins, the Cabinet and every member of the Legislature that a top-to-bottom sweep is the only answer to the problem of brutality and confusion over the chain of command at Raiford.

Belser also recommended that a transcript of testimony taken at the 19-hour hearing at Raiford be turned over to both state and federal grand juries for action and to the U.S. Attorney General.

Oklahoma, Texas Struck By Violent Windstorms

LAWTON, Okla. (UPI) — Tornadoes and windstorms as strong as tropical hurricanes struck along a 250-mile front in Oklahoma and Texas today.

They injured seven or eight persons and damaged schools, homes and garages. None was reported killed.

Tornadoes were reported at Lawton, Okla., Walters, Okla., and Olney, Tex. Violent winds reaching the 75-mile-an-hour velocity of hurricanes were reported at Abilene, San Angelo and Wichita Falls, all in Texas.

The tornadoes were generated by an advancing winter storm, the first of the year, that was covering the ground with snow in the Panhandle and plains of Texas.

An inch or more of snow was on the ground already and forecasters expected there would be four inches by night, along with 18 to 28-degree temperatures.

A tornado damaged a home and a farm equipment store six miles west of Lawton. Another tornado struck three miles northwest of Walters, damaging a farm home and outbuildings.

Mrs. H. K. Gore, the police dispatcher, reported that a twister damaged the high school and a nearby elementary school at Olney, Tex., 85 miles south of Lawton. Pupils were told to stay at home because the roof of the high school was damaged.

The wind blew over a trailer at San Angelo, injuring slightly a sleeping family of five. It blew over another house trailer at Wichita Falls, injuring two of three other persons.

It was first believed that a tornado hit Abilene, Tex., but it was later determined to have been a vicious windstorm. The storm at Abilene knocked three radio stations off the air.

Tickets may be obtained from students, or at the door tomorrow night.

Shine, Tickets Found By Officers

Red Plane Attacks Revealed By U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department disclosed today that Russian fighters attacked U. S. Air Force planes over the Baltic Sea and made a threatening pass at another plane over the Sea of Japan 10 days ago.

In a note delivered to Moscow last Thursday but not made public until today, the United States strongly protested the dangerous, offensive and provocative actions of Soviet fighter aircraft.

This government also bluntly warned the U. S. Soviet continued such dangerous actions "commanded by American aircraft will be under instructions to take any deliberate action which they consider necessary and appropriate."

Presumably this meant U. S. pilots would be ordered to shoot back.

Soviet fighters fired on the U. S. plane flying over the Baltic, but did not hit it. The Russian planes did not fire at the plane over the Sea of Japan.

In both cases, the U. S. aircraft withheld their fire.

This government said the plane attacked over the Baltic was flying on a routine mission. It was about 60 miles from the nearest Soviet territory at an altitude of 20,000 feet.

The Soviet fighters attacked that plane twice.

"The American aircraft withheld its fire, and fortunately was not hit despite the fact that the attacks were launched from behind and without warning," the U. S. note said.

Within a few hours after the attacks on the plane over the Baltic, a U. S. military aircraft flying over the Sea of Japan was intercepted three times by pairs of Russian planes, the note said.

The Russians made simulated attacks but did not fire.

The note said this plane was 44 miles from the nearest Soviet territory and was flying at about 32,000 feet.

The first two Soviet planes took a position 1,000 yards off the right wing of the American aircraft.

One fighter then veered toward the American plane and crossed only 100 feet in front of it.

"This was a dangerous and unwarranted maneuver involving grave risk of collision and possibly calculated to provoke fire from the American aircraft," the U. S. note said.
