

Bill Bailey - Where Are You?

It about time that Americans face up to something that most have been painfully obvious to most of them for many months.

Bill Bailey is NOT coming home. So positive an assertion is made by the reasonable assumption that any guy who can hold out against the tearful appeals for his return that have been made for half a century or so—with a ground swell in the past two years—can't be expected to give in now.

Whatever the real story may be behind the disappearance of Mr. Bailey, following what was admittedly a honor of a family honor, it ought to be abundantly evident by now that he was really burned up.

When he failed to yield to the first great wave of entreaty immediately after his departure, you figured that he was still good and mad because the thing was fresh in his mind and that time might heal the wound.

But when a frenzied nationwide campaign is still being waged 60 years later to induce him to let bygones, and he still plays hard to get—well, you have to conclude that he is sitting it out for keeps and that he and his fine-tooth comb are either making out like a bandit or he has departed this earthly vale. So it seems that cold realism would suggest dropping all the frantic efforts to get him back.

As a more positive suggestion, why can't the nation's singers now unite in an all-out push to find Chico?

Now what do you suppose ever became of HER?

Beauty Is As Beauty Speaks

The quote of the month—or maybe the best way to enhance it. The one attributed to a state highway engineer in commenting on a report that the State Highway Department had launched a junk yard beautification project without notifying the operator of the junk yard.

"We don't have to notify anybody," the engineer is quoted as saying. "We've got a federal law that tells us what we have to do. All we have to do is it."

Now, nobody wants to fight beauty or complain one who has faith, to side junk yard. But such an attitude on the part of what is sometimes euphemistically called a public official is hardly the way to win friends—or votes—for a state administration which is responsible for the actions of its highway department.

The public image of highway departments in general isn't—let's face it—too glittering as it is. And a "public-be-damned" utterance may not be the best way to enhance it. The gentleman who is quoted as making the statement must understand blueprints and slide rules. But he could brush up a bit on people and human nature.

Beautification projects would then be even more beautiful.

Thought For Today

For I am not ashamed of the gospel; it is the power of God for salvation to everyone who has faith, to the Jew first and also to the Greek. —Romans 1:16.

Man cannot live without faith because his relationship with the future is an affair not alone of thoughts but also of actions. Life is a continuous adventure into the unknown.—Harry Emerson Fosdick, American clergyman.

TRAP SHOOTING?

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Every high school teacher could read the weak arguments to pieces that were offered by hundreds of doctors, as recounted below. One reason why socialism is being spotted from all too many American pulp magazines is this lack of factual knowledge about our "free enterprise" system. Contrast clerical salaries in Russia or socialist England with those in the U.S.A.

Case V-404: Recently I received many critical letters from clergymen.

For I had printed the caustic comments of a minister in a small city, who was getting a salary of $4,000 per year.

"Dr. Crane," he said, "I draw only $6,000 per year but some of the dentists and morticians in my parish take in $17,500 per year."

"Yet I have spent more years in college than they have, so why shouldn't I be paid more?"

"The cause cleric quoted at the outset was confusing the 'gross' income of the dentist and funeral director in his parish.

But many clergymen may be jumped on me as follows: "Dr. Crane, you do the clergy a rank disservice. "For the average clergyman does not get a salary of $6,000 per year, as per the latest government report. Well, readers, look back to the actual comment quoted above by the irate minister who has begun to espouse Socialism.

Did he (or I) state that the American average cleric's income?

He did not!

That $6,000 was just the personal salary of that specific preacher.

Yet hundreds of clergymen indulged in a hasty (and wholly unwarranted) generalization, claiming that I had said $6,000 is the average salary for all church pastors.

Again, they have attacked me for minimizing the doctor's income.

"Dr. Crane," they protested, "you stated that the income of dentists and phys-

Letters To The Editor

I'd like to say how very much I pity people like you. Evidently you can't or won't see beyond the end of your nose. I can see you point about the fear we sometimes feel, and the property depreciation and loss above all, the noise of the night flights, but, these are some of the things that we as good citizens should grin and bear.

We are Navy and before we came here, we had never been around a jet base. I will admit it took some adjusting, but, we became used to the noise. We liked Sanford very much and decided to settle here.

We hate to see the Navy leave as a lot of our friends will be leaving, but, also with the Navy leaving, there will be a great economic blow to a very nice town and I think that there will be a greater depreciation of property and that you will be included. The property depreciation is not what I mainly wish to talk about.

The thing that grips me the most about your letter was your complaint about the noise of the planes. Mr. Thomas, you should get on your knees and thank God for those planes and the men that fly them. Those men risk their lives every day of the week to insure your freedom and your right to complain. Think of the wives and children who are no longer with their husbands and fathers because those men willingly and I repeat willingly gave their lives for all of us — you.

Mr. Betty Roberson

There's a whole of a shrinkage between "gross" vs. "net." For the average doctor must gross $17,500 now, or $20,000 per year, so why try to minimize the income of the medical profession?

Neither he nor I said that $17,500 is either the average annual "net" or "gross" income of doctors.

And, in case some of you envious clerics are imbued with the usual exaggerated idea of "net" income for doctors, may I report that their average "net" income is only $1,500 per year, as per the latest government report.

Contrast that with the $5,000 per hour that Chicago electricians draw!

And will you younger clergymen who have never had practical business experience, please get hep to "net" vs. "gross."

The caustic cleric quoted at the outset was confusing the "gross" income of the dentist and funeral director in his parish.

Editor, Herald:

As one very irate citizen I would like to answer the letter written by Mr. C. R. Thomas. First of all Mr. Thomas,

Boobytrap Kills One, Injures 3

SAIGON (UPI) — A terrorist mine planted under the rear of a restaurant exploded in front of the main gate at suburban Tan Son Nhut Airfield, killing one American and injuring three others.

The explosion probably would have been bigger but a tree next to which a three-wheeled cycle was parked took much of the blast. The body of the mine was the deadly chlorine variety, which exploded off thousands of pieces of shrapnel.

The bomb went off about 500 feet from the main gate after the cycle was parked by its terrorist driver. The injured Americans apparently were leaving the military area to go to Saigon for a few hours of entertainment. A Vietnamese civilian also was injured.

The area usually is jammed between 6 and 9 p.m. with servicemen waiting to catch taxis for Saigon.

It was the latest in a series of U.S. servicemen in Saigon. Late last week, a suicide squad touched off two plastic charges at a white hotel, 145 miles north of the capital.

Early in December, terrorists also touched off a plastic bomb in front of the Metropolitan Hotel, a U.S. enlisted men's quarters in suburban Clodom.

U.S. Marines sweeping a valley 18 miles south of their Da Nang base meanwhile accidentally burned part of a Vietnamese village to the ground today while destroying a cache of rice left behind by the Communists. Several Americans were slightly burned while putting out the blaze.

Bullies hid in the thatched walls of the huts by the Viet Cong exploded in the fire and the Marines were forced to cover. Fighting in the area, about 300 miles northeast of Saigon, was sporadic.

The self-imposed U.S. truce in the air war against Communist North Vietnam approached the two-week mark tonight with no signs of resumption. American pilots flew 376 combat sorties, but the Communists shot down a U.S. military plane.

Elderly Man Admits Firing Fatal Shots

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (UPI)—A 72-year-old man admitted firing two shots at a civilian rights worker whose body was found about 120 feet from the station.

Macon County Sheriff J. H. Sadler quoted the attending coroner, Dr. J. W. Sadler, as saying the man's youth had been harassing him.

Sadler was being held on a first degree murder charge in the slaying of Samuel L. Young Jr., late Monday night at the all-night station next to the bus depot.

Sadler said Sadler gave no details of the incident other than it resulted from an argument over the use of an employee's rest room at the station.

The coroner said the shooting occurred in this manner: Sadler said the driver of a bus that left the depot shortly after the incident witnessed a man firing a gun, but did not see anyone hit. A bus passenger reported one of his golf clubs missing.

Police said a preliminary investigation indicated that shooting occurred in this manner: Sadler and Young apparently argued over whether the youth could use the employee's rest room inside the station instead of the one that resulted from an argument over the use of an employee's rest room at the station.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: In your column recently you said that the hostess who asks if her guests want a cold drink, coffee, or a sandwich, and then asks if they would like to see the menu, is just "lousy" — and she shouldn't ask, she should get up and serve it.

Well, I'm sorry, Abby, but I can't agree with you. I am on a limited budget and I can't afford to prepare refreshments to throw out. I always ask if anybody wants anything first. And I am only too glad to serve whatever I have if it is wanted, but it bugs me to watch guests twiddle their thumbs and pretend to enjoy it when they really don't.

HUGGED IN BEAUMONT

DEAR ABBY: Just because a hostess doesn't FORCE eats on her guests doesn't mean she is lazy. Anyone who is so stupid as to refuse a cup of coffee when they really want it is lazy. Whatever happened to the simple "YES" or "NO" when something is offered? And whatever answer I get is okay by me. I don't beg anybody to eat anything in my house.

Personals

Holiday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Hastings were Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Caillat of Hazard, Ky.

L. George Harriet Jr., who is stationed at Fort Knox, Ky., spent the New Year weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Harriet, at their home, 1115 Douglas Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bullard and four children of Atlanta, have returned home after a visit with the E. W. Rogers family, 811 Park Avenue.

Recent houseguests of the Bert Hemons were their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hemons, of Marietta, Ga., and Mr. and Mrs. Ron Jones and daughter, Jessi Lynn, of Headorf, S. C.

Miss Sharon Drum has returned to Jackson Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, Miami, after spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Drum, 2418 DeCottet Avenue.

Rev. and Mrs. G. Blair McGarvey Feted At New Year's Open House

REV. AND MRS. G. BLAIR MCGARVEY and their two sons, Jeffrey and Kenneth, at the "open house" held at the Alliance Church parsonage on New Year's Day.

Open House was observed on New Year's Day from 2 to 4 p. m. at the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church parsonage, 129 Pinecrest Drive.

The new pastor, Rev. G. Blair McGarvey, and his wife were the gracious host and hostess.

Christmas decorations were used throughout the home. The refreshment table, overlaid with a pastel green linen cloth, and decorated with red and white candles in crystal holders, held an assortment of holiday goodies and a large crystal punch bowl filled with red fruit punch.

Other refreshments served to the church members and friends who called during the appointed hours included party cookies, chips and dips, candy, four d'ouvettes and coffee.

Rev. McGarvey, a native of Annapolis, Pa., attended local schools until the family moved to Deland in 1947. He is a graduate of the Deland High School and attended Strickland University, Philadelphia Bible College and Nyack Missionary College, in Nyack, N. Y. He received a B.S. degree in theology from the latter in 1956 and was graduated with a B. D. degree from Gordon Divinity School in 1960.

He served as youth director and assistant pastor for three years at the Alliance Church in Brookline, Mass., and was pastor of Winter Haven's First Alliance Church from 1960 to November 1965 when they moved to Sanford.

While in Winter Haven a new church was built with Sunday School rooms, nursery and kitchen. Rev. McGarvey also studied commercial art and presented a series of lectures in 1964.

While the couple lived in Winter Haven Mrs. McGarvey taught organ and piano and served as church pianist at the Winter Haven Church. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Miller, live in Marshfield, Ohio. She has a sister, Mrs. Susan Bernard, who is a missionary to West Iran and a younger sister, Judy, who is a student at St. Paul Bible College, in St. Paul, Minn.

The couple has two sons, Jeffrey, 10, and Kenneth, 8. Rev. McGarvey's parents, Rev. and Mrs. G. B. McGarvey, live in Deland.

FASHIONETTES

Cleanliness is the term used by gemologists to refer to pearls' surface quality. The cultured Pearl Association of America and Japan report: Disabling blotches, cracks or holes lower the gem-quality. A "clean pearl"—whether round or baroque—has an unblemished surface.

The gold standard goes to great lengths as the newest stockings sport a twinkling gold spattered design. The glittery hoisery from Hutton is suggested for wearing with festive costumes. If you want to glitter from toe to head, the firm recommends spritzing gold flecks on your hair when wearing the gold stockings.

Sidney Schur, president of Rubber Fabrics Company, a supplier to the cord industry, says women spent about $200 million during the year for "shape invariance"—all sorts of foundations. That is three per cent above the industry figure for the previous year.

Choose a simple pattern style without intricate seams or details when sewing bonded fabrics. Avoid wide sleeves and areas that need to be eased.

Color Tones Decidedly Affect Human Behavior

Everybody knows there are colors that make some people resentful and others that help people alert. But Col. V. I. Hack, a color authority, thinks we should go much further in use of colors.

For example, he said, a large woman with plump face, ankles and hands should avoid black. But a large woman with small face and hands can wear black successfully. The eyes go to the light areas, he said.

Hack is chief of training aids for the Medical Field Services School at Ft. Sam Houston. Color has applications in making a room do things for certain people, in making training or class sessions more successful, and in making certain medical areas more effective, Hack said.

"If you want people to look at certain things, as in a lecture hall, you use color a certain way," Hack said. "In total darkness for example, when you are using projected slides, red is the color of choice. Red is most visible in that situation."

Most people give certain shapes a certain color, Hack said.

"Most say the square is blue, the triangle white or yellow, the circle red and the oval violet," he said. "So, if other factors are equal, that would dictate what colors that those things are in training."

We The Women: Murial Lawrence

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: I have three children, the oldest being a girl of 13 who was born six months after our marriage. I am afraid to tell her the truth—that she was conceived out of wedlock as I know how young you people are to say, "if you could have sex without marriage, do you know that you tell the child the kind of superficial and unmeaningful truth contained in the fact that you had sexual intercourse with her father before you married him. I can't recommend it because I think that this fact is only the empty shell of truth. However, I do recommend that you try to straiten yourself out on what the real truth was and is. I urge you to seek help in discovering it by asking your local Family Service Association for case work treatment.

It is my duty to urge this self-bathing, surface truth you have been living with imperis not only your relationship with this illegally conceived child of yours but to the man, your husband, who fathered her. It is almost impossible to give whole love to a man whom we secretly regard as our partner in sin. It is as hard to give it to the child we secretly regard as the punishment of sin. So regarding life, life will not be anything but free and happy for your husband and daughter.

Cold Sardines Reflect Warm Welcome

Sardines from the icy fjords of Norway adapt themselves happily to warm welcome dishes.

NORWAY COCKTAIL DIP
1 can (3 1/2-ounce) Norway sardines
1/4 cup creamy cottage cheese
1/2 cup Worcestershire sauce
dash cayenne pepper
2 tps. mayonnaise
Drain sardines. Mash sardines with cottage cheese, lemon juice, Worcestershire sauce, cayenne pepper and mayonnaise. Chill thoroughly. Just before serving, sprinkle with paprika.

Here's another hospitality dish which can be prepared long in advance.

COLD SARDINES GOURMET
2 cups sliced potato (1 1/2 inch dice)
1 can (3 1/2-oz.) Norway sardines
4 hard-cooked eggs, cut in half lengthwise
1 cup chopped parsley
1 lemon, pared and sliced

Arrange the potato in a small oval dish. Open and drain the Norway sardines; place half the sardines (about 10) on top in a criss-cross pattern. At each end at both sides of the dish place half a hard-cooked egg. Arrange the whole peppers in four small bouquets between each egg. Place slices of tomato in the center and flank with sardines. Chill and serve.

2 tps. mayonnaise
parley bouquets

Rev. and Mrs. Joe Douthitt Honored At Surprise Party

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson

Rev. and Mrs. Joe Douthitt were pleasantly surprised recently at a party given originally for the young people of the First Baptist Church of Lake Monroe. Rev. Douthitt is the pastor of the church.

The minister and his wife were "invited" to attend the party and to come at 7:30 p. m. On arriving they found the church dark except for burning candles in the windows and around the chancel.

Young Wayne Roberts escorted Mrs. Douthitt (Bev) to the front row, where she was given a spray of red roses enhanced with a red bow and streamers.

A table, overlaid with a white linen cloth, held a huge cake shaped like an open Bible. The cake was pink and decorated in white. An oblong table, also overlaid with a white cloth, held two punch bowls.

Fred Carter served as chairman for the event. During the program he asked for testimonies to which several persons responded. The program was centered around a "Love" theme.

The church presented the Douthitts a love offering and a Christmas card booklet entitled "A Christmas Gift of Love." The booklet is described as a thing of real beauty. The true spirit of Christmas is reflected in the entire evening with the filled church people visiting among each other, talking of past and future plans. The youth of the church all wore white carnations.

Nap is one of the most important things to check when choosing a blanket. The nap should be a good depth and should not shed when brushed with the hand.

Hostess To Party New Year's Eve

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson

Miss Sylvia Giles was hostess at a New Year's Eve party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Giles in Lake Monroe.

The gay party started at 7 p. m. with a hilarious time of games. A new invention of several members of the High School Band, Claudia Hunsinger, Chal and Bill Crowell and Steven and Norman Leach caused a sensation during the evening. The invention called a "Bom-Bac" is a combination of strength, he detected, fortune telling and more facts which it reveals when asked. Dancing and listening to music also helped to occupy the evening. Delicious refreshments of soft drinks, chips, dips and sandwiches were served during the evening.

Chaperoning the group were Mrs. Giles and Mrs. Edith Jones.

Those enjoying the party were Linda Mitchell, Claudia Hunsinger, Lanier Boston, Virginia King, Bill and Chas Crowell, Norman and Steven Leach, David McGee, Wayne Roberts, David Crook, Pete Darmi, Lanna Craig, Jim Giles, Head Carter and the hostess, Sylvia Giles.

DON'T BE TAKEN

NEW YORK (UPI) — The holiday season of giving also can be the season to take the Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan New York caution.

The bureau suggested the gullible protect themselves by doing their Christmas shopping at a firm about which they have knowledge. Also, don't sign a contract to purchase anything priced beyond your means to pay; make sure solicitations from charities are legitimate before making contributions.

Cut Your Own Taxes— Claim Legitimate Business Expenses

By Ray de Crane
NRA Special Writer
In many occupations an employer uses their personal funds in the regular conduct of their business. This is particularly true of salesmen.

The tax form provides two sections where such expenses may be claimed. The first opportunity is on Page 2 of Form 1040 in the section headed "Adjustments."

Double the amount of the deduction. This is the maximum amount that can be deducted for such expenses.

Understand the distinction. Consider the expenses of two men each earning $10,000 annually. Only one of them qualifies as an outside sales-
