Harry Cowan, 54, Believed To Have Killed Pretty Blonde When She Refused His Attention As Suitor

Man's Name Linked With $12,000 Theft

Note Left By Man Says He Was Blackmailed Out Of Money By Girl's Mother

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Harry Cowan, who described himself as "just a bad boy" despite his 54 years, lay seriously wounded in a Brooklyn hospital today.

Last night he was found a foot from the body of an attractive young woman, Miss Edith Burton, whom he had killed before he attempted suicide in her Brooklyn home.

Found under a Christmas tree with five bullets in her body, she was a victim, police believe of Cowan's anger when she refused his suit.

A charge is pending that Cowan absconded with $12,000 from a hotel in 1923. Two notes that he wrote throw some light on his character. In one, he said: "I did not go very high in public. My fault, I was just a bad boy, no matter how hard I tried to be a good one. Please forgive me, good bye." Another note, addressed to Miss Edith, manager of the Hotel Latham, said:

"I would like to give the money back, but can't because I gave it to a friend and a lady. Her mother and brother blackmailed me out of the rest."

Remors said that Cowan had absconded with the money from the hotel in 1923. He was a stenographer at the time he met Miss Burton, who was a stenographer at the hotel.

Miss Edith Burton, mother of the slain girl, who found the victims of the tragedy, said that Cowan also was known to her as Arthur Rogers and has long been an attentive caller on her daughter.

Head Of Fire Worshippers

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Jai Dastur C. Parvy, young Columbia University student, who speaks the latest American slang, and knows all the latest dances, today is on his way somewhere east of Suez to succeed his dying father as spiritual head of India's 1,000,000 fire worshippers.

Parvy, a young American, he sailed yesterday aboard the Majestic, carefully explaining that his followers are not fire worshippers, all, but that fire is merely the Zoroastrian symbol of absolute purity.

Although only 26, the future leader of his church is a doctor of philosophy and is an authority on his religion. He has been studying for the past four years at Columbia to fit himself to succeed his father.

Known among his classmates as "Jai," the young Indian is declared to be a "regular fellow," who is an expert on all the latest dance steps and a popular man on the campus. The fact that he speaks German, French, Italian, Persian, Greek, Sanskrit and Pali, the secret language of Buddhism, has not interfered with his mastery of American slang.

"I would like to marry one of our American girls,—but I cannot know," he said before he sailed.

Fellow students recalled that sometimes ago, Jai's father, an Hindu priest, decided that a French girl who married a Parsee could not become a member of her husband's church, because Zoroaster, the founder, forbade intermarriage.

"It pains my heart to leave this country," said Dr. Parvy yesterday. "Our Manhattan—this wonderful island of blue-eyed maidens, where all is beautiful—and I love it and I love the people, but I must go. I was sent here by my people that might qualify to be their religious ruler, my duty lies before me."

Chamber Of Commerce Traffic Department Stresses Necessity For Merchants To Help Railroad Agents

The Chamber of Commerce traffic department today issued a request for the merchants and business people of the city to co-operate with the railroad company in removing freight from the local warehouses in order to reduce congestion there to a minimum.

F. E. Harrison, Jr., traffic expert of the Chamber of Commerce, stated that the freight agent had doubled his night force and that in clearing the warehouse volume had been doubled.

He said that unless immediate steps were taken by the local receivers of freight to remove their shipments from the warehouse a complete stoppage would arise and cause further delay to both the railroad and the merchants themselves.

The traffic situation all over the state is reported to be unsatisfactory within the next two days, and the lifting of the express embargo on north bound shipments is said to have caused considerable relief to express shipments of fruit and produce.

Just what action will be taken by the express company relative to incoming matter has not been intimated, but many express patrons are hoping to hear news from the company to the effect that all embargoes are soon to be lifted and business placed on a normal basis.

He proposed to meet this by increased income taxes reinforced by the fiscal administration, a tax on luxury goods, higher processes for tobacco (which is sold under government monopoly), a tax on exports, and "an extraordinary loan of temporary stamp tax on sales."

Two billion, five hundred million francs of new revenue ($400,000,000) will go to the state, and two billion francs ($300,000,000) to reimburse the bank of France for advances made to the state, and the rest to balance the budget.

BOSTON, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Thirty-one years ago a 14-year-old apprentice mechanic in the Dewey N. They laughed and told him that with his 10c an hour salary he never need work over his million or retirement.

But on New Year's Day that apprentice mechanic will retire. He is Joseph S. Donovan, president and treasurer of the Donovan Motor Car Co., of Boston, distributing agency. He has made his million and intends to fulfill his promise.

The promise was prompted by the sight of an old man feebly making his way to an office where he hoped to amass more millions. He already had one million and Donovan resolved that this was enough for any man. The

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—(AP)—The financial reports of the city's largest bank, an institution rivaling the gigantic financial institutions of London, began to take vague shape today—out of the multitude of rumors in Wall Street pointing to merger of several existing banks and trust companies.

Given impetus by a $30 rise in the stock of the mechanics and Metals Bank, the report runs that a consolidation of that institution with the National Bank is imminent as a preliminary step in the building of a large financial structure. John McHugh, president of the Mechanics and Metals Bank, admits that negotiations looking towards amalgamation have been begun.

It is believed that the banks will first be paired, and then a few combined. Rising costs of banking, transactions and stoppage of needless competition are said to be the chief motives behind the movement.

Blacked Wife's Eyes

At a party here Yessinin was declared to have blackened the eyes of Miss Duncan, which prevented her from carrying out one of her programs. A similar incident was reported from Paris and the dancer was declared to have shipped him post haste back to Russia. Before departing he engaged in fistfights with a couple of ex-Russian soldiers.

Yessinin was tall and had early police in Moscow for alleged anti-Semitic speeches and spent some time in prison. Miss Duncan, who also had returned to Russia, began a divorce suit under the Soviet law and was freed from Yessinin. She is declared to have said that he was "impudent" and "moonshine" had made him crazy.

Yessinin was tall and curly blonde hair and blue eyes. At the age of 19 he was married to the dancer Ediger Allen. She was a woman of spirit, a lofty soul. He is a man of spirit, a lofty soul. He is a man of spirit, a lofty soul.

Later when Yessinin had allegedly carried out one of his pugilistic inspirations with the wife of the receiver, in general she was reported to have said:

"Everybody knows he is crazy. He is no more deserving of tears than laughter. He is better off in Russia where he is loved even if he is foolish. He can smash things in Moscow and nobody cares because he is a poet."

All has not been easy for Miss Duncan. She has been started from giving performances in the United States in Germany and in England and other countries. Her greatest sorrow, however, came in April 1923, when her two children were drowned in the River Seine.

They were riding in their mother's automobile, accompanied by a maid. The chauffeur descended from the car and the machine started and ran over the embankment and plunged into the river. The children were drowned and Miss Duncan, aged three, was also drowned.

In the Solid Central Section of Florida Is being erected a pleasure city

Mount Plymouth

In the sense one is accustomed to view such things, Mount Plymouth will be a veritable playground—a pleasure-city—provided with all the sports and pastimes that we, in this day, consider the most enjoyable diversions.

For instance:

—A magnificent Clubhouse placed on the highest point, a rolling hilltop, overlooking a vast panorama as beautiful and inspiring as can be seen in the whole State of Florida.

—An 18-hole Golf Course, as sporty as the most enthusiastic golfer could desire.

—A beautiful lake with 4½ miles of shore line sets like a turquoise jewel in nearly the center of Mount Plymouth, stocked with black bass.

—Motoring, of course, along such beautiful hard-surfaced roads as thread their way over hills and through valleys, around lakes and golf course, can be enjoyed to the fullest.

—Only 3 miles away is the Wekiwa River forest, a widely known hunting grounds where deer, wild turkey, quail and other native game abounds.

Therefore, we say Mount Plymouth is to be a pleasure-city in every sense the sportsman, nature-lover and outdoor devotee could desire of the city in which he lives.

MOUNT PLYMOUTH is being developed by men who visualize a magnificent year-round pleasure-place with the foresight, courage, energy, ambition and capital to complete the undertaking.

Located in the section of Florida that for many, many years has been regarded the "sun parlor" of America, in the midst of the most wonderful highland region dotted here and everywhere with beautiful lakes, it has everything to draw upon that can, and doubtless will make of it a perpetual pleasure city in the greatest resort region of North America.

Only 24 miles from Orlando, "The City Beautiful"; 15 miles from Sanford, the great celery center of Florida; 12 miles from Apopka, on the shore of the second largest lake in the state; 12 miles from Leesburg; 8 miles from Plymouth; 12 miles from Eustis; 7 miles from Mt. Dora; 14 miles from Tavares; 1½ miles from Sorrento—all of them thriving cities and community centers in a region noted for its luscious citrus fruits, vegetable growing and fern culture, Mount Plymouth is not lacking in contributing resources that make for growth and stability.

There is none of the doubtful or speculative features connected with this Mount Plymouth development. No inflated values. No mushroom growth. It is being built upon as firm a foundation as any city ever was begun.

The men who sponsor this development are not actuated by the lure of gold. They are Florida men, Orange County men, Orlando men,—native sons whose standing in business, social and financial realms are an open book—subject to the scrutiny of prospective investors.

Speculation Not Encouraged or Thwarted

It is not the desire of Mount Plymouth executives to encourage speculation in this property, nor to strangle it. What they do want most of all is a substantial element who will build—make it their permanent homes—populate the city with neighborly families and enjoy such intercourse as breeds friendship and hospitality for which Florida is noted.

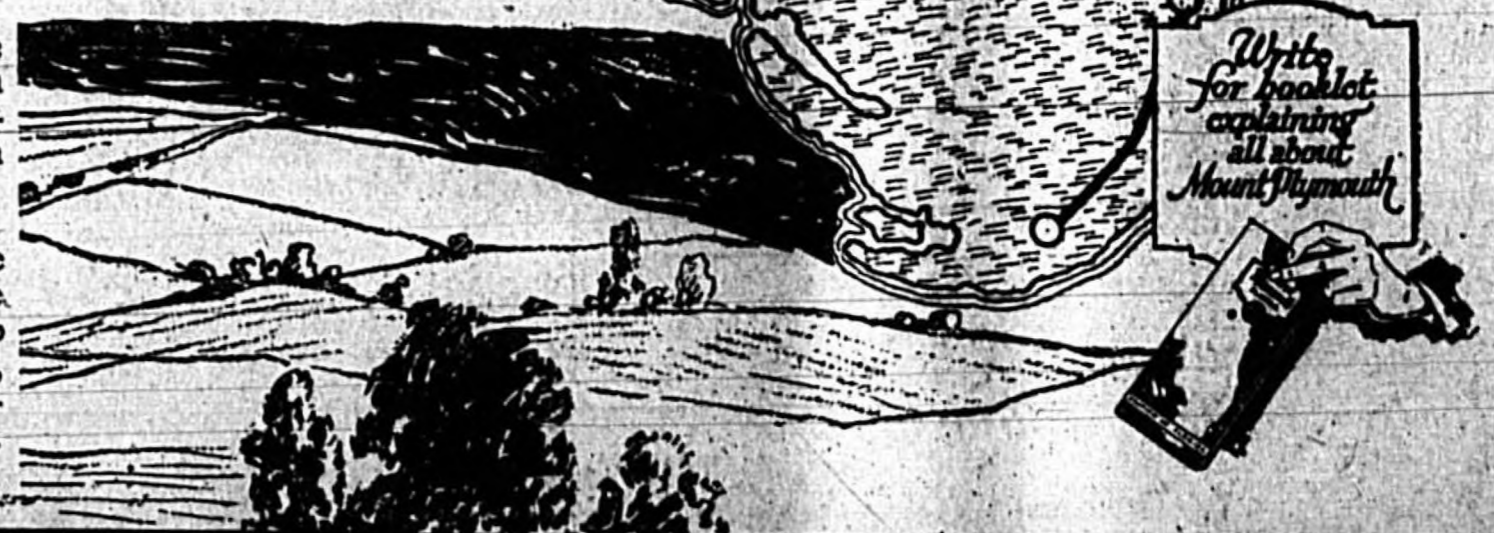

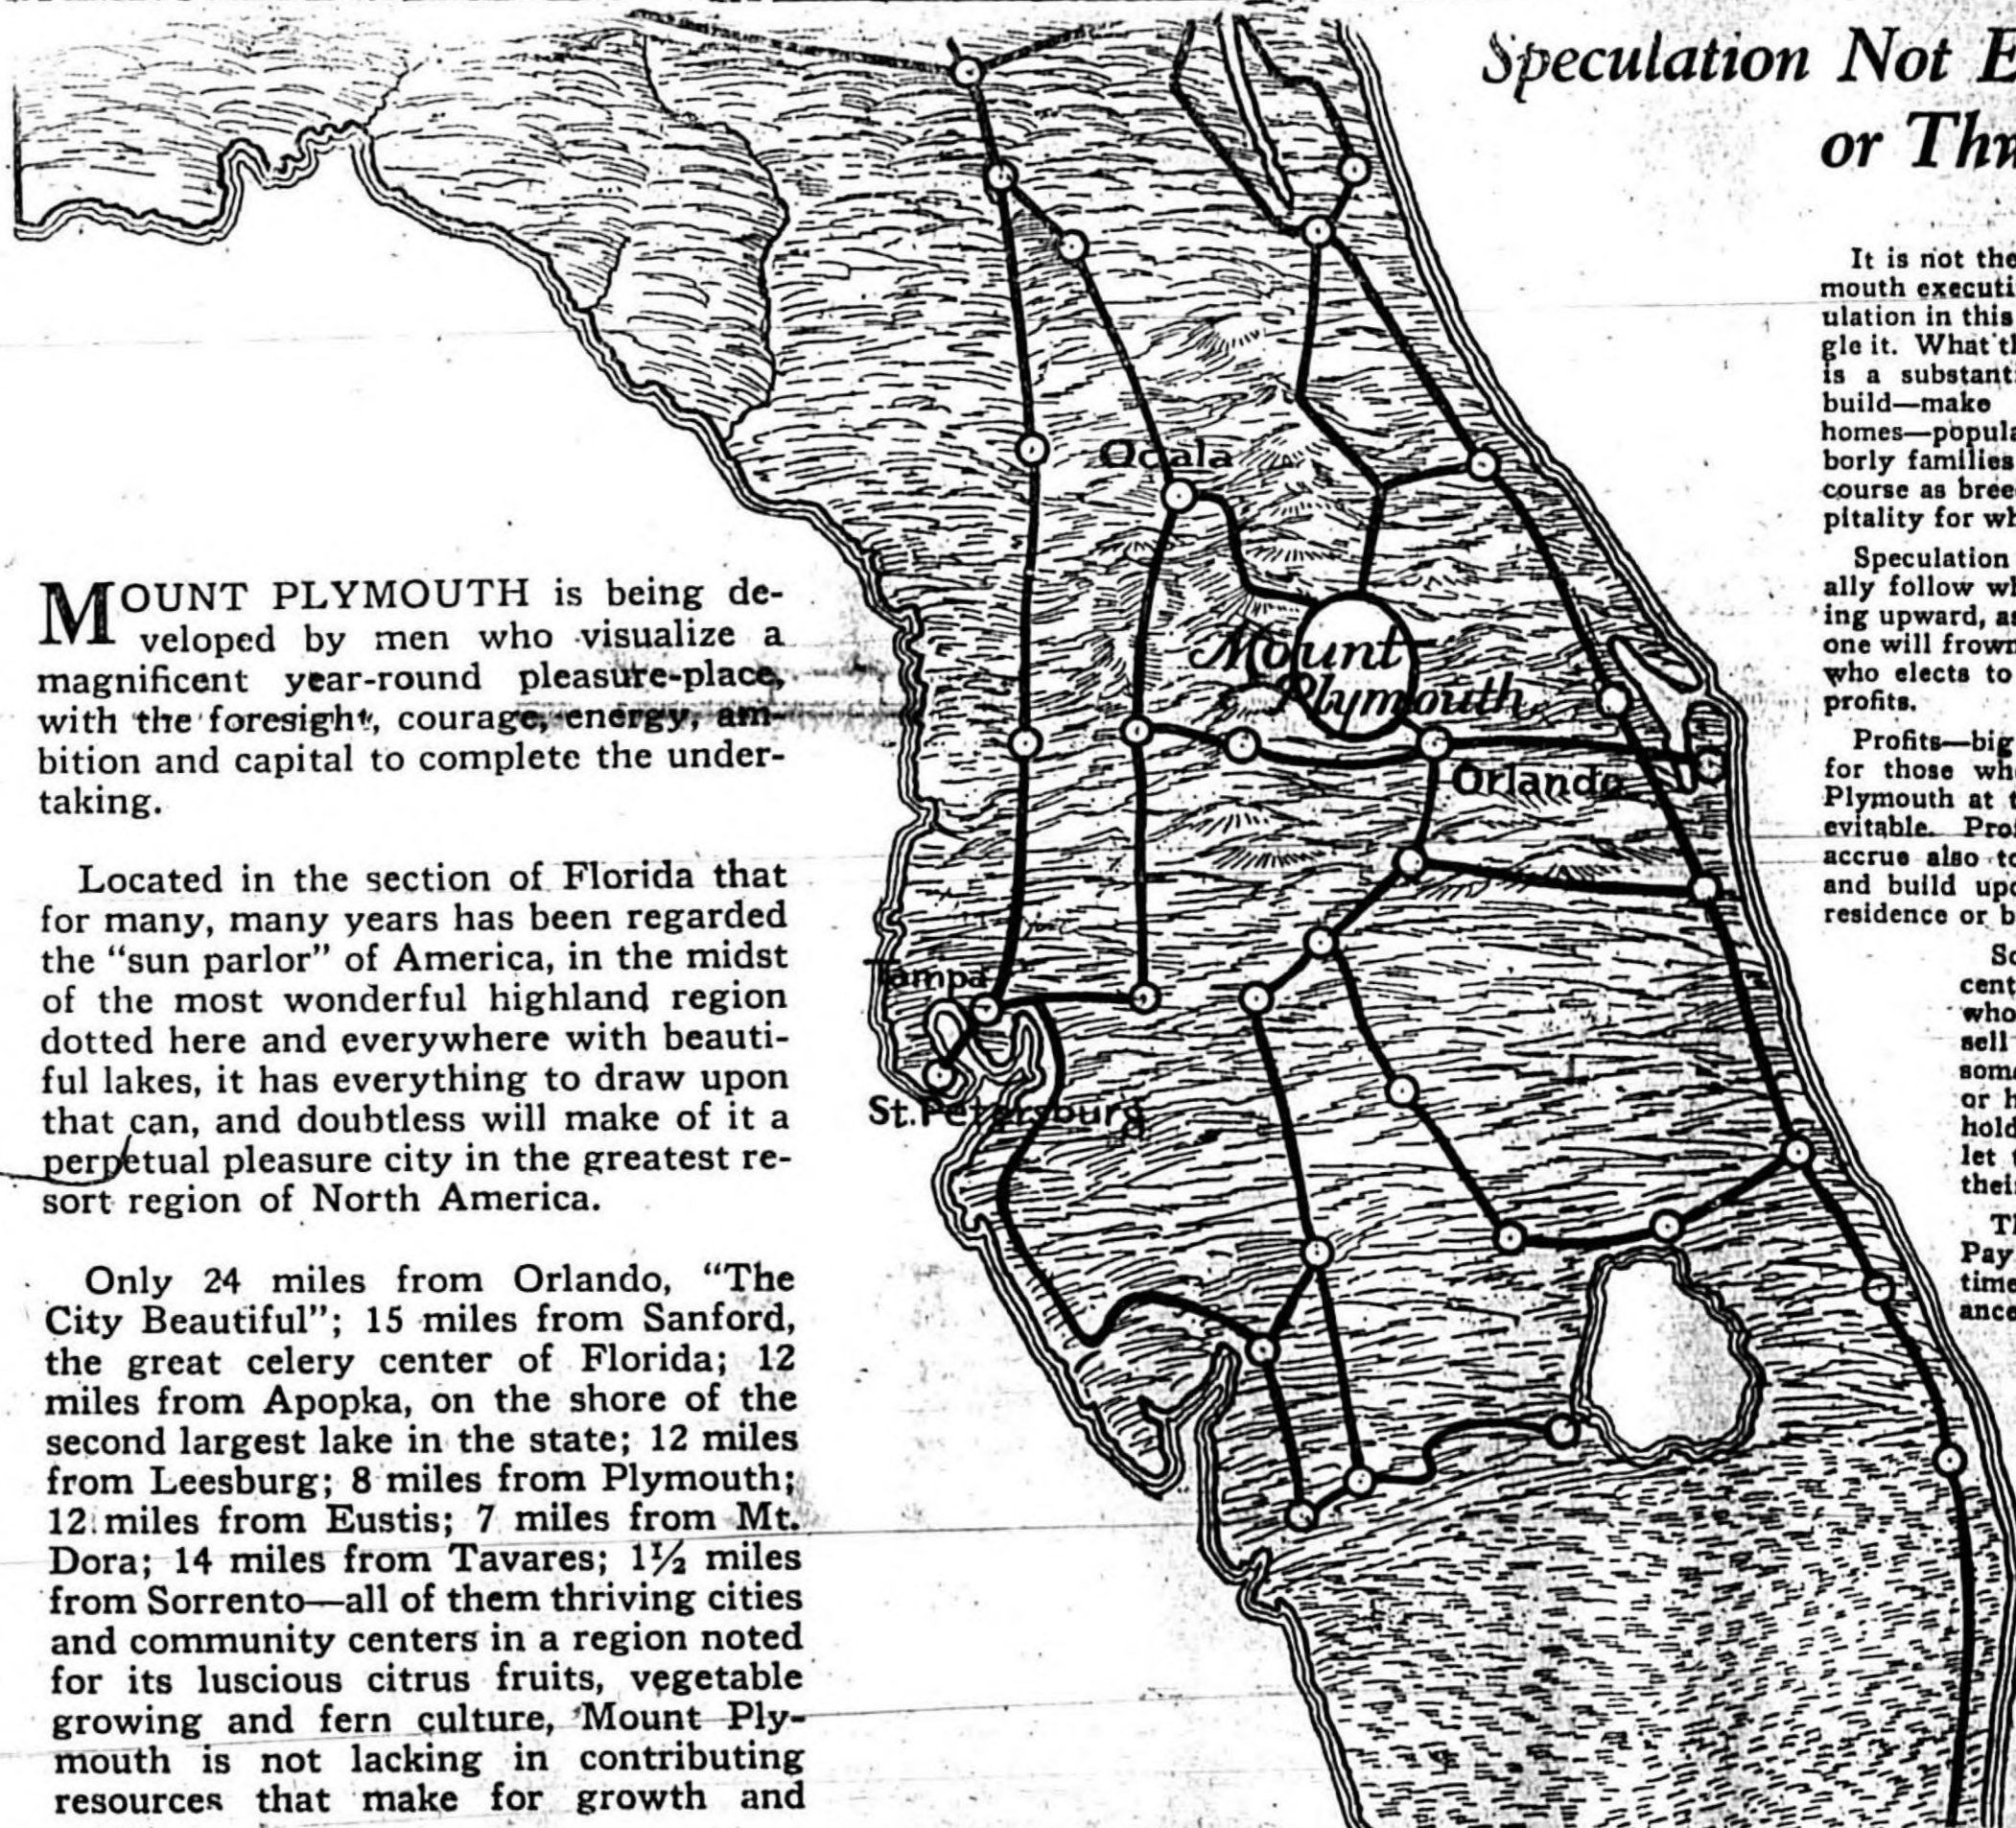

Speculation will, of course, naturally follow where values are bounding upward, as they are here, and no one will frown on the man or woman who elects to sell and pocket their profits.

Profits—big profits—are in store for those who buy lots in Mount Plymouth at this writing. It is inevitable. Profits, even larger, will accrue also to those who buy now and build upon their property . . . residence or business.

So there really is no incentive for manipulators who would buy today and sell tomorrow at a handsome profit. Better for him, or her, that they buy and hold to what they have—let the profits pyramid in their own hands.

The terms are very easy: Pay one-third down at time of purchase, the balance in two years' time.

No other section of Florida offers greater opportunity for the home-seeker, or for those who may be lured by the tinkle of coins.

To Benefit From Phone Company's Big Rate Exansion Program

The largest expenditure in any one city will be made in the Miami service area which includes Miami, Miami Beach, Coconut Grove, Coral Gables, Hialeah, and Miami Shores. The additions and extensions in this area involve an expenditure of more than $2,000,000, including $12,400 for additional long distance equipment. Officials say that telephone construction work is going forward at top speed throughout Florida, and the efforts of the Southern Bell Company to keep pace with the rapid growth of the state has attracted considerable attention. Vast quantities of material and equipment have been brought into the state, new buildings constructed and a thousand or more skilled men and women have been drawn from other sections to help work out the telephone problem in Florida, it was stated. Much progress was made during 1925, as indicated by the fact that more than 15,700 new telephones have been added and more than $6,000,000 expended for plant additions and replacements. Some of the other Florida cities where the telephone construction will go forward on a large scale during 1926 are: Boynton, $12,000; Cocoa, $78,400; Daytona Beach, $187,000; Delray, $17,800; Ft. Lauderdale, $308,200; Ft. Pierce, $90,700; Gainesville, $38,400; Jacksonville, $800,000; Key West, $5,800; Lake City, $15,700; Lake Worth, $164,800; New Smyrna, $20,000; Orange, $10,600; Orlando, $100,000; Palatka, $32,700; Panama City, $18,800; Pensacola, $278,800; St. Augustine, $61,200; Sanford, $57,000; Titusville, $12,100; Vero Beach, $54,200; West Palm Beach, $1,438,000.

WILCOX TO LEAVE HOSPITAL SOON

Reports coming from the hospital this morning on the condition of R. C. Wilcox, injured deputy sheriff, were to the effect that he would be in shape for release to his home in about three days. Officer Wilcox, said to be one of the most popular motorcycle cops employed in the county, was badly hurt Saturday, Dec. 19, when the motorcycle on which he was riding crashed into the rear of an automobile on Sanford Avenue. Wilcox suffered a broken right leg and numerous cuts and bruises on the body, in the accident. Various city and county police officers have been making regular pilgrimages to the bedside of the injured comrade and reports state that Wilcox has been the recipient of many flowers and gifts since his confinement to the hospital.

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Material breaks here in the price of wheat resulted today from a greater setback in quotations than had been looked for. Besides, many traders leaned to the view that bullish factors including latest revisions of the U. S. government crop estimates had been overestimated by the recent sharp return in values. Support from buyers was lacking, except on declines. The opening, half to 1/2c lower, new style, Dec. 1.83 1/2 and May 1.77 1/2 to 1.78 was followed by an irregular fall to 1.83 1/2 for Dec. and 1.70 1/2 for May.

Loveliness Is Third Requisite For Girls Seeking Movie Life

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Dec. 29.—The qualifications necessary in a feminine film actress are listed by executives of several movie studios here. Character is the first requisite, with personality second, beauty third and intelligence fourth. Imagination is rated fifth. Grace, poise and carriage come sixth, in the opinion of the film executives, and a knowledge of drama is held an important asset if one is to reach the top. A girl's environment is given rating, as the home life and surroundings of a potential actress carry much weight in the selection of an applicant. Age runs ninth with education and training tenth. Various ways of determining the qualifications are employed. At one studio the applicant walks the length of the employment manager's office and is scrutinized before speaking. A ruler is suspended from the wall, near the entrance. As the applicant passes it, the manager judges her approximate height. She is asked to remove her hat. Thus her style of hair dressing and the manner in which she takes off her hat are noted. Her carriage and poise are revealed when she is asked to get a book from a shelf.

Oranges, box, fancy, count and stock, 4.00@4.50, few higher. Oranges, box, choice, count and stock, 3.00@4.00. Grapefruit, box, fancy, count and stock, 3.50@4.00. Grapefruit, box, choice, count and stock, 2.50@3.50.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Heavy buying of the oil shares featured the resumption of the upward movement of prices at the opening of today's stock market. Pacific Oil fell back a point on profit taking, but Union Oil of California advanced to a new high and several others were taken in large blocks at advancing prices. Initial gains of 1 to 2 points were recorded by Hudson Motors, Dupont and Gulf States Steel.

FLORIDA FRUITS DESCRIBED BY A HORTICULTURIST

Professor Bailey, Authority of Note, Credits Florida With Thirteen Species of Choice Cultivated Berries. TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Dec. 29 (AP)—Extra species of dewberries and a host of blackberries are credited to Florida by Professor L. H. Bailey, noted horticulturist, in a recently published monograph of that fruit (genus Rubus) of North America, a pamphlet of about 100 pages, and with 49 illustrations. Three of each of the two fruits found in Florida are described for the first time in Professor Bailey's observations, and one other blackberry, described a dozen years ago, but known only from Florida. One of the new species, Rubus Mirus, is the Marvel dewberry, first discovered in a yard near Daytona, in 1908, and now cultivated in many places farther south. One of the new blackberries, Tallahasseeana, was discovered by Professor Bailey near Tallahassee, last April, while the horticulturist was visiting the capital, en route to his home at Ithaca, N. Y., after he spent the winter in South Florida.

The plants of Professor Bailey's treatise are variable and hard to classify, and some of them are apparently undergoing a process of mutation. Many, or most of them, grow only in fields, pastures, along roadsides, and so forth, where they could hardly have existed before the discovery of America, and it is probable that such plants, like many of the native weeds, have originated within historic times. Dr. R. H. Harper, state geographer, explained. The forms of Europe, Dr. Harper said, are declared to be even more perplexing than America's. The number of species in Florida, he said, are expected to increase.

Dingy street or palm-fringed plaza?

CREAM STUCCO. Scarlet hibiscus. Black iron grilles. High above, the whispering fronds of a coconut palm. A great red jar in a corner. A table set for luncheon on the cool, tiled floor. A brilliant splash of sun on the wall. Your Spanish garden? Why not?...

You can have a home in Coral Gables in the picturesque manner of old Seville, decorated in perfect taste, with a garden that takes you back to the days of Spanish domain. It will cost you no more than an ordinary home on a dingy city street—and its value must increase as the city plan matures.

Coral Gables is being built according to a plan designed by famous architects—not by politicians. Every home, club, hotel or business building must conform in architecture and planting to this plan that carries on the Spanish traditions of this old Spanish colony. While the city plan progresses, while the University of Miami is building, while the private schools, country clubs and sanitariums are breaking ground for their new buildings—property values advance. And so many substantial projects are under way that such an advance should reasonably continue for many years.

Will You Share in This Prosperity?
Home-builders from every state in the Union are erecting hundreds of houses that stabilize present values, and form a solid base for even greater affluence. You may buy but a single plot, or you may build an estate adjoining the new Miami-Biltmore Hotel in Coral Gables. But you cannot escape your share in the general prosperity that must attend the steady growth of Miami and its environs. Thousands of people have attained financial independence. It is your turn now. For the tide of prosperity for this entire district has only begun to rise.

TRIPS TO CORAL GABLES

Personally conducted trips to Coral Gables are being scheduled daily by our local Coral Gables office. Let us arrange one for you. See for yourself this exquisite city of Spanish homes and brilliant tropical foliage. Enjoy the delightful kiss of the Caribbean trade-winds.

Come with us by Pullman to Jacksonville and then by motor-bus down the famous East Coast to Miami. You pay only the railroad fare—the bus trip is our treat. Three days in a Coral Gables hotel at a special low rate. Call, write or telephone our local office for full details.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

SELF-MASTERY.—Keep back thy servant also from presumptuous sins; let them not have dominion over me; then shall I be upright, and I shall be innocent from the great transgression. Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in Thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my Redeemer. Psalm 19:13, 14.

PRAYER.—"O for a heart to love Thee, More truly as ought; And nothing please above Thee, In deed, or word, or thought."

THE LITTLE DEEDS

A little deed you do today Is better than some greater thing You dream you may someday do. The world is full of promising, But what it needs is those who bring. Cope with the thirty, what it needs, Is, after all, the little deeds. The little deeds not dreamed too long, Not planned too much, the deeds we do. Not for the praises of the throng, The little deeds that just break through. Some sky of gray and make it blue, The little deeds that do not boast, These are the deeds men need the most. The little deeds that bless mankind, The word in sorrow, cheer when ill, Upon no roll of fame you find, No page of history may fill; And yet I know they work God's will. Who do these things? they serve Him best. Whose little deeds bring peace and rest. A little deed to do today, Oh, look for that, with that content; Make sorrow glad, some sad heart ease. And pause to praise the excellent. I'm sure the brotherhood God meant, I'm sure the brotherhood man needs. In after all, the little deeds.—Douglas Malloch

MY FAVORITE STORIES

THE WHITE MAN WHO STAYED In a small town in the southern part of Kentucky no negroes are allowed. The place is exclusively white, and the whites intend that it shall be kept so. No colored man lives there and no colored man is permitted to tarry there. There are numerous places like this in the south. Some years ago the L & N Railroad decided to extend a branch line to this all-white community. Construction work was to be started at the edge of the town. An Eastern contracting firm got the job. A New England man was sent to Kentucky to round up laborers for the job. The nearest sizable town was Bowling Green. The easterner put an ad in the Bowling Green paper for a crew of laborers. A large number of negroes answered the advertisement in person. The wages he offered were entirely satisfactory but when he told them where they were to start operations a spokesman for the gang informed him that no colored persons were permitted to linger in that immediate vicinity. The Northerner swelled with anger. "Is that so?" he shouted. "Well let me tell you something: While you're working for me you're going to work right where I put you and nobody is going to interfere with you. No matter what happens, you can count on me—I'll stay with you!" Reassured by this pledge, the force signed on. After he had returned to Bowling Green on the afternoon of the following day and caught up with his breathing, one of the late employees was overheard telling an interested audience of members of his own race what had happened. "Yes, we got there early this morning and we commenced loading our shovels and picks and

Public Faith Needed

Something new under the sun has been started in California where there are earthquakes, and climate not half so good as that of Florida. Professor Terman and several fellow psychologists have dreamed of and are now proposing the foundation of a university with an endowment of five million dollars where only students of ascertained genius will be allowed to enter.

After having worked for a number of years among the school children of California, Professor Terman is convinced that certain tests which he has applied in his work, will reveal not only the quality but also the quantity of intelligence possessed by those to whom the tests are applied. That Professor Terman can really obtain the results from his tests which he maintains, is a question that will cause considerable debate.

Establishment of the university, according to Professor Terman's ideas and plans, would furnish an interesting experiment to say the least. Granting that the matter of raising the necessary five million dollars to finance the school might be an easy matter, it is hard to conceive that the experiments of Professor Terman have reached such a stage of perfection as to assure the results, which he promises.

Most everyone will grant that it is a bad plan to try to educate in the same classes pupils of widely different mental powers. When this is done, the progress which the pupils make tends to be that of the slowest. And this is the situation, which Professor Terman wants to remedy. But how is he going to do it?

The California psychologist has the good wishes of almost everyone, but it will take more than that for him to achieve success in his venture. The Professor must first prove the accuracy of his tests and then he will secure for his enterprise public faith, without which it is almost useless for him to attempt the foundation of his university.

A New Polar Flight

In May another attempt will be made to fly to the North Pole. This time it will be a non-stop flight from Spitzbergen to Point Barrow over the top of the world. Reports have it that the project has the financial backing of Henry Ford, which, if true, assures it of being carried out.

Attempts made last year to reach the pole by means of heavier-than-air machines brought out the fact that the ruggedness of the ice and the treacherous flocks in the far north constitute too great a menace for aircraft of this type. Amundsen proved that the airships he used in his expedition were unsuitable for observation work and for exploration in the vicinity of the pole.

The great Arctic explorer hopes to reach the coveted spot this year by using a dirigible from which he hopes to alight, and in which he expects to map the regions of the far north finding out whether or not there is an undiscovered continent in that part of the world.

The proposed non-stop flight over the North Pole, by airplane, may result in developing a new route for commerce. But it is a hazardous undertaking. If everything goes well, if it is unnecessary for the plane to make a forced landing, all well and good, but should a landing become necessary, the story may be a little different.

In some ways the non-stop flight seems foolhardy but experiments like this must be made if we are to know the trustworthiness of present day aircraft for ventures of this kind. The flight over the North Pole may go down in history as a pioneer expedition, and then again it may prove but a rash stunt with disastrous results.

SOME PEOPLE ARE inclined to be distrustful of Florida on the ground that it is merely a resort; but with the annual production figures running into hundreds of millions of dollars and with even greater latent possibilities, such criticism is not entirely justified. Moreover, even if we assume that the chief resource of Florida is its climate, and its chief business is that of developing health and happiness, this may be one of the greatest arguments in favor of Florida. Some of the most powerful industries in the country, and some of the industries which are most flourishing today, are based primarily on the nation's need of health and happiness. Economists sometimes fail to realize that no matter how bad the times may be, people usually can arrange to find the means to have the things which they really want most. When people have once learned about Florida they will continue to want Florida, and they will find money to go there, even at the sacrifice of other requirements.—Roger W. Babson in Review of Reviews.

As Brisbane Sees It

A Grave, Neat, Not Gandy Our Nation on Wheels Mr. Woodin, Bull Trucks Active Standard Oil By ARTHUR BRISBANE Copyright 1925, by Star Co.

OLD CHINA is becoming modern industrial by western money. Machinery in China, with her labor army at twenty cents a day, will make other nations think hard about protection.

In some ways, China retains in the way of the good old days, when Farquhar was punished by having the criminal, live lengthwise. General Kuo Sung Ling, fighting against General Chang captured and killed the latter's favorite general.

Now Chang captures Kuo and his wife, hiding in a cellar. He cuts off Kuo's legs, cuts off the wife's arms, and afterward kills them. Their heads, chopped off, are hung up to decorate the grave of Chang's favorite general.

THIS IS a nation on wheels. How long will the gasoline last. What will take its place? Twenty million two hundred thousand automobiles are in use here now. New York State comes first with 1,500,000 cars and trucks.

California is second with only a third of New York's population has almost as many. Perfect roads, thousands of miles of them, perfect garages explain that.

OUT THERE, a thrifty young couple first build the garage. They live in that, while building the bungalow, and then move from garage to bungalow, in time to make the first baby comfortable, then get the car and they are off. This is the wonderful place to live, all year round.

THE AMERICAN Car and Foundry Company, whose President William H. Woodin, a bargain at a salary of five million dollars a year, will now build motor buses and trucks.

STANDARD OIL of California, next to Standard Oil of New Jersey, is the world's greatest oil company, now that California's Standard has absorbed Pacific Oil.

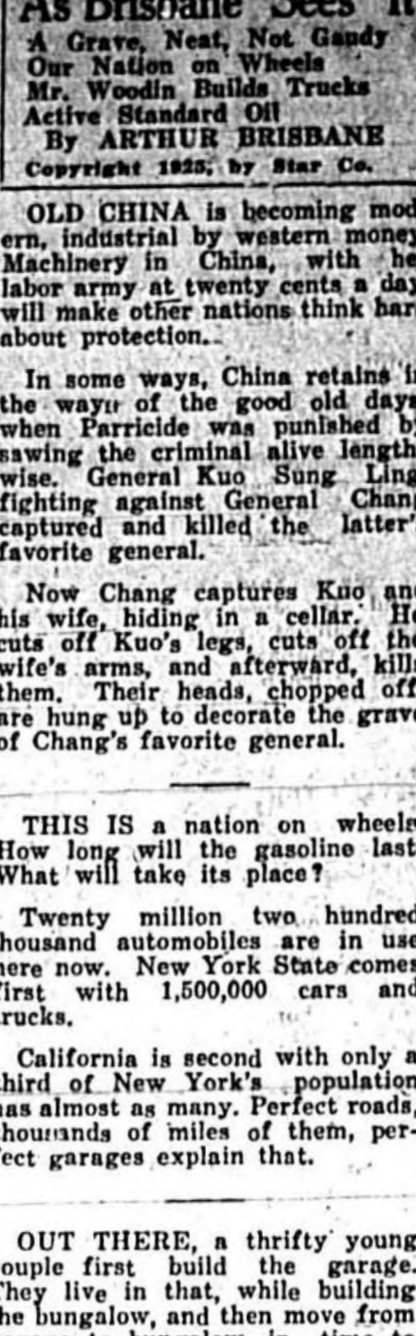

STANDARD of Indiana absorbed the American. Then Standard of New Jersey took in Magnolia Oil and celebrated Christmas, with a 25 per cent stock distribution. Now Standard of California takes in Pacific Oil, producing 55,000 barrels of crude, per day, able to produce three times as much.

WISE CALIFORNIANS that have long owned Pacific Oil stock will hold on to the new stock it will take care of them.

TO KNOW that the Rockefeller organization is a little people hunt for a little while, would come to the end of the line and sell the oil.

WHAT'S THE USE?

CARE OF POSSESSIONS

TAMPA TELEGRAPH

Before the days of the automobile, the Kentucky gentlemen took rank on the treatment of his horses. And Kentucky became famous not only for the breed of its horses but the consideration given the animal regardless of its dam or sire.

Many people in every community pretend to love some faithful dog and yet fail to care for it. They will allow it to become infested with fleas and roam around until it dies of the mange.

Most people fail to respect the mechanic also, hence you see hundreds of automobiles not a year old that ought to go into the junk pile, while on the other hand, are hundreds of machines, three or four years of age that are attractive, and doing splendid service.

Care of an automobile reflects the character of the owner. The careless, or indifferent do not fully appreciate the blessings the auto brings. They use it for a purely selfish purpose, and the utterly selfish are devoid of true pride.

GOVERNOR SMALL AGAIN

ORLANDO REPORTER-STAR

The supreme court of Illinois has handed down a decision that will make Governor Small of Illinois and his bondsmen, pay back into the state treasury something over a million dollars.

While Small was state treasurer he had the privilege, under the law of loaning the state funds out to banks at 2 per cent interest. In order to enrich himself, he and a fellow politician organized a dummy bank in Chicago and deposited the state funds amounting to more than a hundred millions in the dummy bank without any real capitalization, at 2 per cent interest and then this dummy bank loaned this vast sum to the Chicago packers at 9 per cent, thereby making a neat profit of 7 per cent on money that belonged to the state and of which he was trustee. The bank promptly went out of business after it had served the purpose of Small and his associates and was investigated by the courts.

When a new state treasurer was elected suit was brought against Small for misappropriating funds and he was indicted by a Grand Jury. At the trial he was acquitted. He was Governor of the state at the time of his trial and wielded great political power. One of his henchmen was jailed for tampering with witnesses and the jury, after the trial several of the jurymen received state appointments.

And though charges were hurled against Governor Small by leading Republicans of Illinois, and though he was opposed by so strong a Republican newspaper as the Chicago Tribune he retained his hold on the republican machinery and the crooked politicians of Chicago and was re-elected to office.

No state in the Union has had worse government, and has been the subject of so much adverse criticism as the state of Illinois. Conditions in Chicago are the result of a political machine that was so bold in its operations that it required federal action to bring the culprits to justice. Some of them are already serving prison terms for their participation in conspiracies, others are under arrest and more are to follow. Under the decision of the supreme court, Governor Small should be made answerable the same as ordinary criminals, but having been once acquitted under shady circumstances, the chances are that he is immune from further prosecutions, and the crime wave of Illinois will continue to wave under such encouragement. And this crime wave spreads to other states. The worst cities of Florida feel its light each winter.

A MICHIGAN TEMPEST

PALM BEACH POST

Fraternity men at the University of Michigan are in arms, thoroughly aroused, over the ultimatum that either they must give word, collectively and individually, that they will work against campus indulgence in intoxicants, or they must submit to a proctor system under which picked faculty members would have the duty of inspecting fraternities at any and all times and of reporting any violations of dry laws.

President Clarence Cook Little threw the bomb into the fraternal dugouts and the carnage has been frightful. Indignation meetings have been held all over the place, counter moves have been planned, reprisals plotted—all in all, the University of Michigan is well heated up about the prohibition question.

The fraternity officials claim immunity from official without a warrant on the ground that the fraternities houses are the homes of the members and that in submitting to a proctor system they would be surrendering a constitutional right.

Such an argument hardly holds water, for all that is required for the fraternities to avoid this dreaded proctor system is to give their word that they will observe the state and national laws on prohibitions. Their previous reluctance to do so can lead only to the conclusion that they are not obeying these laws and that they do not wish to be interfered with in their non-observance of them.

WHITHER ARE WE DRIFTING?

ASHEVILLE CITIZEN

On the editorial page in three daily papers which came to this desk today from widely separated parts of the country, there were published a letter from a subscriber entitled: "Whither Are We Drifting?" This and similar experiences create the impression that one of our country's leading indoor sports is the selling of pen and paper and the letting loose of a long lachrymal and lugubrious cry indicating that the pen-wielder despairs of the race, the future and the republic. The man who inquires, "Whither are we drifting?" is himself a drifter. He consoles himself for his spinelessness by imputing it to others. Having no fixed opinions or principles, realizing that he is supreme in the current of the day's affairs, he leaps forth with the, to him, astounding observation that the entire world is going hot-foot to the devil. Perceiving that he has neither the idealism nor the energy to fight any tendency of which he disapproves, he concludes that, since it is as he is and that, the forces of destruction are clean and finishing. This world consists of an inevitable plan. If drift, it would have long overthrown in the domain. The pessimist sees in women's dress fashion he believes to be unwieldy, modest, and immediate the pen to demand, "Whither are we drifting?" He has yet that old Mother Nature's fashions. He has not after the war has set no in order to accomplish of designs. There is a great reason for everything in and in this country, bound for lofty and distant. We shall reach them in time. Drifting is too easy. The world is too afford it. Far from its are marching on.

NEW YEAR'S EVE DINNER DANCE IS TO BE GIVEN AT VALDEZ HOTEL

Final plans for an elaborate dinner-dance at the Hotel Valdez on New Year's Eve have been completed by Wurt W. Warner, who today announced the engagement of an eight piece dance orchestra secured especially for the occasion.

Following the serving of a special dinner, dancing will be observed in the lobby and adjacent corridors until a late hour, and the new year will be welcomed with noise makers of every description and showers of confetti and all the other accessories usually associated with new year festivities.

Practically every table in the Valdez Grill has been reserved. Mr. Warner stated today, and it is expected that the few remaining seats will be taken before Friday morning.

The main dining saloon and the three small Orange Rooms will today be decorated in holiday colors and gay streamers and wreaths appropriate to the gala season.

Mr. Warner today stated that no pairs would be spared in his effort to make the Valdez' initial dinner-dance one of the most successful social events of the season, and one that will serve to awaken an increased interest and delight in similar entertainments.

"The Valdez will be turned over to the young people of Sanford," Mr. Warner said, "they can dance as late as they please and participate in any kind of orderly recreation that pleases them."

Christmas Services At Holy Cross Church Are Greatly Enjoyed

The annual Christmas service of the Holy Cross Episcopal Church, was held Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the church.

Encircling the chalice were small candles and vines, while delicate traceries of vines and ferns outlined the chancel and altar. On the altar were vases of poinsettias, these adding a touch of color to the artistic background. The only illumination was the light from a large electric star placed directly over the altar.

F. Whitner Sr., superintendent of the Sunday School, had charge of the afternoon program, when songs were sung and lessons read. As a customary, the children of the school brought gifts to be sent to those less fortunate, and this year quite a large box of books and toys will be sent from Holy Cross Sunday School. Rev. Merrimere Glover, rector of this parish, told in an interesting manner, just where these gifts would go and how they would be distributed.

At the close of the exercises at the church, the children marched into the chapel where a huge, gayly decorated and lighted Christmas tree had been placed. Here gifts and attractive boxes of candy were given those present.

Quite a large number of scholars, teachers and interested friends attended this impressive service.

THOUGHTS-WISE AND OTHERWISE

Today we took time to inspect all the clothes hangers in all the closets in the house. It is queer what becomes of clothes hangers and how they get in closets where they don't belong at all. Of course the trouble with most hangers when you look for light frocks or frocks with wide necks is that the frocks are apt to slip off. So we took a roll of adhesive tape and a pair of scissors and put a little roll of the tape toward the ends of each hanger. This keeps the frocks from slipping off, you know. This seems to be the easiest thing to do. However if you wind each hanger with heavy white twine toward the ends this will do it.

Hangers covered with silk are attractive. We have some that were acquired as Christmas presents from time to time or as bridge prizes. For thin frocks it is best to have the padded sort. These are easily made by covering them first with a strip of cotton wadding. You may make the cover of a length of silk or two lengths of ribbon, stitched or run together as to make a sort of double frilling at the top. The ribbon should be a little wider and somewhat longer than the hanger, so that when it is put on it will fall up attractively. I have recently seen some attractive hangers which were covered by a crocheted tube that slipped snugly on the wooden hanger. This seemed like a lot of work but they were very attractive and serviceable.

Goldenrod

The Christmas tree and program given at the Community Church Tuesday evening was very enjoyable. The church was beautifully decorated with poinsettias and palms, and the stately pine with its festoons of tinsel and popcorn added much to the Christmas atmosphere.

Mrs. M. J. Colicutt who has been in the Orange General Hospital for several weeks, will be home on Thursday afternoon, that she might enjoy the holidays with her family. Colicutt is slightly improved in health though very weak, it is said.

LeRoy Wood was dismissed from the Orange General Hospital and brought to his home this week. He is unable to use his arm yet but is rapidly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eldridge entertained at dinner, Christmas Elmer Jen and Vernacio Adriote.

Mr. and Mrs. George Parker entertained the following guests at a turkey dinner Christmas: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Parker, Misses Stella and Sibyl Doid of Orlando and...

For knitted sweaters and jumpers you may have found hanger-troublesome. They make the shoulders stick out—little bulges appearing where the hangers end. One woman I know makes rings of rattan or whalebone for this purpose. The diameter of one of these circles is about the same as the length of an ordinary hanger. The rattan or whalebone is fastened in a perfect circle and then covered. A ribbon may be stitched up and then pulled over the rattan before it is fastened. The ribbon should be long enough to slip over the rattan. A ribbon loop at one side of the circle serves to hang the hanger up. You see with a hanger of this sort there is nothing to give the shoulders the unsightly bulge produced by a regular hanger.

BRING BOYS TO UNIVERSITY

Florida Boys Wanted In Own University And Delegates From Every County Meet To Further School Plans

Dec. 29.—(P)—Representatives of county club met with Captain E. M. Yon to organize a boosters club in an effort to interest seniors in high schools of Florida in the state institution.

The delegation adopted the slogan "Every Florida boy to Florida."

The University offers scholarships to needy young men, but is discouraging the tendency toward professionalism in offering them to athletes when their parents are readily able to send them to school.

Many of the county clubs are organizing the alumni of their town to aid in the "drive". "Pep" meetings will be held in all the county high schools next Friday. Most of the county clubs are entertaining the seniors of high schools at some time during the holidays.

A state-wide plea has been made to all alumni of the University of Florida to co-operate with the men of the county clubs who have left school early to arrive at the high schools in time to hold the meetings before the holidays.

Tell the high school boys that we are willing and ready to help any needy student, but we will not professionalize by offering him a scholarship just to play football," said Captain Yon. "We want all Florida athletes to come to the University and will aid them if he actually needs it. This is your state and the manner in which you support your state institution will determine the success of it."

Captain Yon, now connected with the K. O. T. C., is an alumnus of the University.

Three Unidentified Sailors Reported Drowned During Miami Bay Front Fire

MIAMI, Dec. 29.—(P)—Three unidentified sailors were reported drowned Monday in a bay front fire here, which caused damage of approximately $25,000 to shipping wharves south of the causeway.

The blaze, of unknown origin, started shortly before noon, on the Belcher Asphalt Paving Company's dock and ignited barrels of material on a lighter moored to the wharf. Added by an immediate wind, the fire spread nearly to the S. S. Castletown, unloading cement, and southward along the wooden piers, where other large liners, both freight and passenger ships were docked.

As the fire spread to the Cast-town three members of her crew were reported to have become alarmed and jumped into the water, where they drowned without being seen again. The freighter was badly scorched and burned along her starboard side, with small damage to herself and cargo, before tugs rushed to her aid and pulled the ship to safety out in the bay.

The rapid spread of the blaze also reached the S. S. Berkshire, Merchants and Miners passenger ship, which docked early today with a full passenger list, to pull out from her docks under her own steam. Her passengers, all left the boat and only the Berkshire's crew was aboard at the time.

The danger along the waterfront was heightened by the presence of a quantity of gasoline and building material near the scene of the fire. At the same dock, at which the burning lighter and Castletown were warped, six railroad tank cars, each filled with 10,000 gallons of gasoline, momentarily were expected to explode.

Lack of locomotives to pull the cars away further increased the danger to shipping and to the crowds of spectators who had swarmed through police cordons to view the fire. At their own risk, a group of firemen and workmen tied ropes to each of the tank cars in turn and dragged all away.

The conflagration was finally extinguished and Castletown, Trenton. Motor boats and launches joined in searching that section of the bay front for trace of the men reported drowned.

HENS LAY DOWN ON JOBS DURING LAST NOVEMBER

Six Eggs Apiece Is Average Of 10,000 Fowls Entered In Unique Contest Staged By University Of Florida

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Dec. 29.—(P)—An average of only six eggs per hen was realized for the month of November in the egg-laying contest being conducted by the Agricultural Extension Division, at the University of Florida, according to an announcement here.

Nearly 10,000 chickens from 40 different Florida flocks have been entered in the contest, which was staged with the primary idea of stimulating egg-laying winter months.

Farm flocks gave way to backyard and commercial poultry in productive ability in the contest. Mrs. J. C. Perkins, Paisley; Mrs. W. H. Cook, Zephyrhills; Wilbur Walker, Live Oak; Mrs. E. T. Handy, Grand Island, and Mrs. C. R. Priest, Welaka, entered the best backyard flocks, which consisted of from one to 50 hens.

The five best farm flocks, containing from 51 to 200 birds, were entered by Mrs. White Edge, Crestview; Mrs. J. D. Hood, Santa Rosa; Mrs. G. A. Hull, Groveland; Ernest L. Heim, Wauchula, and Mrs. D. G. Robinson, Marco.

The five best commercial flocks of over 200 birds were entered by M. Welschok, South Jacksonville; W. H. Harns, Sopchoppy; W. G. Womble, Jacksonville; C. R. Kurka, Jacksonville, and G. L. Dorman, Live Oak.

Records of production are kept by entrants, and the birds are confined at home.

The contest will continue until November 30, 1926.

State Secretary Is One Of Hardest Worked Officials

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Dec. 29.—(P)—Twenty three years ago two men handled the affairs of the secretary of state for Florida. Today a score of attaches are finding it hard to crowd 15 hours' work into a single day.

When the State Capitol was in its infancy here, H. Clay Crawford, who still occupies the secretary of state's chair, was first named to the office. J. F. Dorman, Mr. Crawford's "right-hand man" was engaged as an assistant. That was 23 years ago.

Now, with Florida at its greatest height of development, Mr. Crawford and Mr. Dorman are still at the helm of secretarial affairs of the state, but a metamorphosis has been wrought about them. From a small, peaceful little office, with nothing much to do, has developed a department with a suite of four rooms. Almost daily there comes from that section of the Capitol the cry of "more space!"

The United States Bureau of Fisheries has discovered that barnacles on ship bottoms collect only on plates painted blue and black and that other colors are practically free from them.

Alcohol Is Diverted Into Bootleg Game, Declares Buckner

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—(AP)—United States Attorney Emory H. Buckner, who has policed many cabarets, is now devoting attention to the diversion of industrial alcohol into bootleg channels.

Yesterday he obtained 40 warrants as a start on his offensive against what he declared as "New York's real rum row." Within a short time he had caused the arrest of six men and two women, all connected with the Olive Trading Company, one of the largest alcohol distilleries in this country.

Mr. Buckner was asked whether the government had obtained evidence by establishing a fake perfume plant. "I cannot discuss that," he replied.

Among those arrested was Miss Frances Cannistraci, who is charged with being an alcohol saleswoman and is declared as one of the brainiest persons in the ring. All those arrested were released on bail.

Mr. Buckner said that the Olive Company, which was licensed to distill 600 barrels of alcohol a month, diverted a steady supply to bootleggers.

College Football Coaches Declare War On Professional Gridiron Game

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—(AP)—War has been declared between college football coaching and the professional game and hereafter no man who has been connected with professional play will be welcomed to the American Association of Coaches.

Any person actively engaged in any capacity with professional football after Sept. 1, 1926, shall be ineligible for membership to the American Football Coaches' Association the annual session of coaches, decided yesterday.

Another resolution would seem to sound the death knell for all-American selections, meeting the advice of E. K. Hall, chairman of the football rules committee. The resolution declared:

"That members of this association shall not select any all-star or all-American teams for any agent or agency." After appointing a committee to stabilize the profession of football coaching, it was voted that practice during the playing season shall be confined to two hours daily and that squads shall not be called together before Sept. 15, unless college opens before that date.

Mr. Hall put the future of the game squarely up to the coaches. "It lies in your hands to make it or break it," he said. "If you agree that proselyting is a bad business you can stop it. If you decide that scouting is not in the best interest of the sport, you can agree among yourselves to discontinue it. If any of the paid coaching staffs are too large, it lies in your hands to reduce them. If you are in agreement that coaching from the sidelines is not in the best interest of the game you can absolutely eliminate it."

The Chinese do not bury their dead underground until a "lucky day" comes, the corpses often being kept in wooden boxes for many days, as centers of disease infection.

TO ENGAGE IN REAL ESTATE

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Dec. 29.—(AP)—"I will be in Palm Beach, possibly all season engaging in large real estate transactions," declared former Lieut. Osborne Wood, son of Gen. Leonard Wood, in an interview at the Royal Palm Hotel Monday.

"I am representing several well known northern business men who own large tracts of land here," he added. "Several extensive real estate deals necessitate my attention and I may possibly be here through the season. I am not here socially and shall take no particular part in the social life."

Anti-Aircraft Weapon Is Being Developed By Army Ordnance Corps

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—(AP)—An entirely new anti-aircraft weapon is being developed by the Army Ordnance Corps. The new weapon is a "gun" which is a combination of a machine gun and a mortar. It is being developed by the Ordnance Corps at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md. The new weapon is being developed to meet the need for a weapon which is capable of firing high velocity shells at a range of 10,000 feet. ### Volusia County Will Hold Annual Fair In DeLand Jan. 26

DELAND, Fla., Dec. 29.—With the Volusia County Fair at DeLand but four weeks away preparations for handling the crowds that will undoubtedly be there are being made. Chief of Police Monteville is lining up a big squad of uniformed and plain-clothes men so that the usual order will be maintained. The Boy Scouts, who performed a very useful service last year in acting as guides, will again be on the job. The racetrack and free exhibition platform in front of the grandstand will have some additional improvements. The platform will be just about the same as the daylight performance. The DeLand Band will occupy the platform in front of the grandstand and concerts will be given throughout the day. The "Harry Men" and a semi-automatic short range shoulder rifle had been worked out for the infantry. A new infantry mortar, 75-mm. of great range and accuracy had been produced to replace the war time Stokes mortars. Among new artillery, General Hines noted a 75-mm. pack howitzer which "doubles the range of the present mountain gun," and a 105-mm. howitzer, a type never before provided for the American army.

Wood Consumption Gaining On Forest Growth In Nation

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Three-fifths of the estimated 800,000 acres of forests of the United States are leveled and consumption is surpassing growth of the remaining trees four times, says Professor Fred R. Fairchild of Yale University. In a paper prepared for the convention of the American Association for Advancement of Science, here December 28 to January 2, the professor, who will head the investigation provided by the Clarke-McNary Forestry Act, dwells upon taxation as particularly pertinent. In this regard he advocates the substitution of the principle of "income or yield for capital value as the basis of taxation." "Any enterprise may be handicapped or destroyed by excessive or discriminatory taxation," he declares. "Forestry is peculiarly sensitive to taxation, and finds the general property tax most burdensome." "In forestry, the major income may appear only once in every fifty or sixty years. The annual property tax, even when perfectly administered, is certain to impose an excessive burden."

N. Y. GIANTS INVADE STATE

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Dec. 29.—(AP)—The New York Giants football team, which is invading Florida for a series of five clashes will meet Tim Callahan's Coral Gables squad New Year's Day at West Palm Beach. "Red" Barron, of Georgia Tech and "Red" Roberts, flaming youth of Centre College, will be in the line-up on the Coral Gables eleven. The Giants will arrive here Tuesday.

Of 23 articles in the meat, vegetable and fruit line, wholesale prices of 12 are higher, nine are lower and two are unchanged from a year ago today.

The following quotations are those on the Chicago stock yards on meat, the department of agriculture on butter, fruits and vegetables, the Minneapolis price on flour and the Chicago produce exchange on poultry and produce.

In the main these quotations govern prices over most of the country, except where differences in freight rates made variations on prices. Dealers here, however, say all classes of fowls are much higher this year than last, everywhere.

Starting at the top of the menu, celery is about half last year's price, $1.60 to $1.75 a crate this year; $2.25 to $2.75 a crate last year.

Flour Price Remains Same
All down through the menu is a note of cheer in flour which is now and was a year ago $0.60 a bushel.

For the meats, beef is a bit lower, while pork, ham and bacon are very much higher. A rib roast and a round steak are about the same price as last year, 20 and 14 cents on pound steak, while sirloins and pot roasts are each two cents lower now, sirloins dropping from 30 to 28 cents and pot roast from 14 cents to 12 cents.

Ham is now 29 1-2 cents for a standard brand, five cents higher than a year ago. Bacon is 34 1-2 cents a pound for a standard grade, eight cents higher a year ago. Pork loin is 22 3-4 year ago. A duck or a goose is about the same as last year.

White table poultry for the home use, the pocket book is called on for considerably more than last year. Turkeys are 35 cents a pound, and 30 cents a year ago. A hen to roost 20 1-2 cents now, and 16 to 20 cents a year ago. A duck or a goose is about the same as last year.

Vegetables are taking the price, especially the Irish potato, which is now $1.25 to $1.50 a 100 pound sack and was $1.15 to $1.20 last year. Sweet potatoes are a little lower now with $2.50 to $2.75 a year ago. Carrots, string beans and cabbage are all a little higher.

Lower prices are just the same. Cabbages are now $10 to $15 a ton (Continued on Page 3)

Mayor Lake Urges Harmonious Action

All Express Confidence And Utmost Faith In Future Of The "City Substantial"

Several prominent local business men and heads of terminals were asked by The Herald today for statements relative to the needs of the city of Sanford for the year 1933. It was impressed upon them that only matters of vital importance to the growth of the city be touched upon. They were asked to stress those ideas, which in their belief, were the most urgently necessary for the coming year.

Following are excerpts from the statements issued: Mayor Forrest Lake said, "I want to see a continuation of the wonderful spirit of co-operation among our citizens for the coming year. The way in which every man, woman and child in the City of Sanford has worked together for the good of the city has been indeed remarkable, and I only hope that this co-operation will endure through the year 1933."

F. P. Forster, president of the First National Bank gave out the following list of what he considers the most important problems to be worked out: More hotel accommodations, wider streets, especially in the downtown district; improvements and extension of gas service; greater co-operation among citizens; greater participation in the various Chambers of Commerce of the county; completion of present plans for bulkheading and boulevarding the south side of Lake Monroe; recreation for tourists; provision made for the landing and supplying of pleasure boats; landing steps along the bulkhead.

Edward J. Higgins, president of the Sanford Realty Board stated that he considered the securing of means with which to encourage building within the city as being the most pressing need of Sanford at the present time. Mr. Higgins pointed out the extreme need for financial aid to builders generally, where most of the benefits to be derived from additional and legitimate building and loan organizations in the city.

Florida's weather today is cloudy with rain showers and in night, also, but not much change in temperature.

Sanford's development into a great city with its streets and terminals jutting far out in the waters of Lake Monroe to receive diversified freight for distribution over a wide area is but a matter of a few years in the opinion of Dr. G. M. Mills, who arrived here today from Hackettsville, N. J., to combine business with pleasure.

Dr. Mills appeared impressed with the agricultural activity in this section, and in commenting on the broad green fields surrounding Sanford he said that this country looked more like genuine prosperity than more artificial areas.

"The investor invading Florida at this time is not looking for the old-fashioned or Spanish stucco bungalow or landscape gardens so much as he is looking for productive fields, accessibility, transportation facilities and a
