

ROOSEVELT SIGNS HUGE REVENUE ACT

$417,000,000 Would Be Raised By Bill That Is Intended To Stop Loopholes in Old Law

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(A.P.)—President Roosevelt today signed the $417,000,000 revenue raising bill. The bill is intended to provide additional revenue by closing up loopholes to violators of existing laws, and adding new taxes.

Mr. Roosevelt affixed his signature in the presence of Congressional leaders and treasury and internal revenue officers. He will send shortly to Congress a message asking reconsideration of a tax on coconut oil, which he regards as unjust to Philipines.

A meeting between Secretary Morgenthau and Senate silverites yesterday to draft proposed silver legislation revealed conflicting ideas on the language of the proposed measure and before the discussion was over Senator Borah withdrew.

Borah said a tentative measure offered, apparently a draft by Secretary Morgenthau, was "entirely permissive in character and I'm not interested in it at all."

The six Democratic senators who remained expressed "optimism" and said Morgenthau had taken drafts offered by them, with him for further study and that he would report on them today. Other meetings will be held.

All agreed they were in accord with Morgenthau on a two-point program: Nationalization of domestic stocks and the acquisition of silver until it comprises 25 percent of the metallic currency reserve.

The difficulty with the plan hinged upon the wording of the silver reserve policy. Tentative bills offered by Senators King, chairman of the Senate silver group; Pittman, Thomas and Borah sought language, conferees said, which would not only authorize the secretary of the treasury to acquire the reserves, but would "direct" him to do so.

Whether the Administration would be willing to accept such forceful wording was a question, although the White House indicated earlier in the day it would regard the policy of buttressing the gold base with silver as mandatory.

The senatorial group delegated King to speak for them and the Utah senator was somewhat taken aback when he learned of Borah's frank declaration.

The Idaho senator, only Republican present, indicated he did not intend to take part in further discussions unless there was a change in the situation.

Insult Denied Cut In Big Bond Under Which He Is In Jail

CHICAGO, May 18.—(A.P.)—Samuel Insull today was refused a reduction in the $300,000 bond under which he is held prisoner in the Cook County jail.

Judge Will Sparks of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals said he felt the evidence did not entitle the defendant to any lowering of the bond which Insull's attorney, Floyd Thompson, had asserted was the "lightest" ever demanded on a defendant in any United States court.

Thompson had sought a habeas corpus writ. This Insull used to return to jail to await arraignment.

JAPAN PREPARES TO MEET THREAT OF TRADE BATTLE

Official Says Nation Ready, Confident Of Ability In Crisis

TOKYO, May 10.—(A.P.)—Confidently he has the weapons for a successful defense and counter-attack, Japan yesterday mapped an aggressive course in her trade fight with Great Britain.

"Japanese industry faces the crisis, calmly confident of its ability to meet the British challenge," said a foreign office spokesman, "and believing that this test even finally will further improve and strengthen Japan as an industrial nation."

The spokesman declared "it is entirely natural that Britain's sudden drastic action in imposing duties on Japanese imports to the British Isles and crown colonies should be deeply resented in certain quarters in Japan." He added that some Japanese companies had taken action to "commencement of hostilities without an actual declaration of war."

A triple plan of defense appeared to be Japan's program. The first step, it was indicated in high government quarters, likely will be a protest that the British quotas infringe upon the most-favored-nation clause of the Anglo-Japanese commercial treaty.

High hopes that Japan can strike a hard blow at Britain with the British Commonwealth are held by many interests, and form the second part of the campaign.

Increased trade with the dominions, which may not follow the mother country's action against Japanese goods, is to be sought.

The third and most powerful weapon available to Japan retaliation under the extensive powers held by the government in leasing held in reserve officials indicated, to be used only as a last resort.

Relief Lists Increase Over Last Season

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(A.P.)—The Department of Commerce reported yesterday that the number of families on relief as of Apr. 1 was larger this year than at the same time last year.

In its monthly survey of current business, reporting generally improved conditions in most sections of American business and industry, the department noted:

"Notwithstanding the progress made in recent months in absorbing into industry a portion of the unemployed, the number without work remains large."

"The exhaustion of individual resources, together with the demoralization of the CWA workmen, has resulted in a substantial increase in the number of families on relief as of Apr. 1 as compared to the same time last year."

BURNED TO DEATH

WROVIDENCE, R. I., May 10.—(A.P.)—Phillips Moore and two of his first children were burned to death in a fire which destroyed their home here today. The father and his two daughters had been trapped after they had helped the mother and three other children to safety.

U. S ATTITUDE ON WAR DEBTS IS UNCHANGED

Treasury Opened For Reception Of Any Payments Nations Are Able To Make

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(A.P.)—President Roosevelt opened the treasury yesterday to the reception of any war debt payments 19 European nations may find it possible to make June 15.

At the same time, he made it clear any requests for the acceptance of token payments or for a revision of terms would be considered separately, according to the ability of the debtor nation to pay.

A little later Andre Lelouvier, French ambassador, visited the state department for a conference with Undersecretary Phillips.

In Paris, Louis Barthou, the foreign minister, told a parliamentary committee the ambassador had called at the state department to ask about the Johnson law which forbids United States citizens from extending financial aid to foreign nations in default.

President Roosevelt emphasized that the traditional American attitude on the collection of war debts remains unchanged and that this country expected to be repaid the millions it loaned foreign nations during the World War.

He added, however, that it was quite willing to listen to any offers the debtor nations wished to make.

He said no official application for revision of any existing debt funding agreements had been received by this country to date.

The President said the government had laid down no rigid rules concerning acceptance of requests for loan payments, should they be offered but that each case would necessarily be considered on its merits with consideration given to all facts obtainable.

Kiwanians Hear Talk On Aquarium Details

The development and maintenance of an aquarium was discussed before members of the Sanford Kiwanis Club at the Montezuma Hotel yesterday noon by Billie McLane of Gainesville, who had been brought to Sanford to speak in the interests of the Florida Zoological Society.

When he had concluded his talk which he illustrated by exhibiting examples of various kinds of toy fish, young McLane was made the first honorary life member of the Society.

Kiwanians Gaston Edwards, Branley Buchanan, and Roy Young of the Orlando Club were among the speakers.

Those attending were: Kiwanians C. R. Mason, who presided; Ray Fox, J. L. Hart, R. A. Smith, E. B. Randall, E. H. Lane, J. G. Leonard, R. W. Ware, Harry Woodruff, Julius Dingfelder, T. W. Lawton, L. ## Jim Reed Won't Talk About His Candidacy

KANSAS CITY, May 10.—(A.P.)—Former Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, said on his arrival here today from Chicago that he had not definitely decided to seek his Democratic nomination for U. S. House in the United States district.

Asked for a definite answer, he declined to reply. Asked if there was a possibility that he would be a candidate he shrugged and said "All things are possible."

Reed's Chicago news reports said he was on his way to Chicago to see the former senator about what he would say he was contemplating.

MITCHELL BRINGS CAMPAIGN INTO SANFORD SECTION

Vero Beach Senatorial Candidate Favors Old Age Pensions

Charles A. Mitchell, Vero Beach attorney, brought his campaign for the United States Senate here today by Park Trammell into Sanfords County last night when he delivered an address on a downtown corner with a small audience before him.

Mr. Mitchell spoke primarily on the subject of the "old age pension, old age pensions, and veterans' compensation."

But he also discussed three points which he has lately emphasized: full compensation by the federal government to all growers who suffered damage during the war; the development of Florida's waterways, and a high tariff on vegetables that are imported from foreign nations.

In his introductory remarks he paid tribute to President Roosevelt and his Administration, and said that the President "As the chosen leader of the American people, had proved his right to his leadership by the results of his first year in office."

He stated that approximately 95 (Continued on Page Six)

SIX NATIONS SUFFER FROM BAD WEATHER

Floods in Canada, Norway Bring Death; Lack of Rain Burns Mid-Western Crops

The Associated Press. Floods, drought, excessive heat and forest fires left a trail of death, suffering and property loss in six nations Wednesday.

Canada and Norway were the scenes of floods which caused three deaths in the former country, and were responsible for a train wreck near Feland, Norway, in which nine persons were injured.

Hundreds of persons were homeless in Norway, as a result of high waters in the Hitter and Glimmen rivers. The Hitter changed its course and swept away a corner of the town of Reora.

The Glimmen, normally about 100 yards wide at Korken, spread over a wide area, driving farmers as well as housepeople from their residences. Hot weather added to the misery of the refugees.

In Canada bridges were wrecked, highways damaged and houses flooded by rivers and creeks in the vicinity of Port Arthur, Ontario, while in Northern Alberta the Athabaska and Peace rivers went out of their banks. Many persons north of Edmonton were reported to be living on platforms built in trees.

Floods in both countries passed their high point Wednesday and the water began to recede.

While too much water was causing trouble in those areas, portions of the United States and of Poland suffered in excessive temperatures, and there was fear of serious droughts.

Middle Western thermometers registered marks which set off local records for the month of May, and Warsaw reported a maximum of 113 degrees in some parts of Poland.

Indirectly attributed to the heat were fires in seven Polish villages, killing three persons and destroying several hundred buildings.

SUGAR INDUSTRY PRODUCTION BILL FINALLY SIGNED

Weather Promises To Make Plans More Drastic Than Hoped

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(A.P.)—The government yesterday decried the maximum production for the sugar industry under a crop control program which promptly threatened to become, by a caprice of weather, far more drastic than the President and Congress intended.

President Roosevelt signed the Jones Costigan sugar production control bill, fixing at 1,550,000 tons the quota for the continental United States producers and 200,000 tons for the cane growers.

Off-shore prohibition "quotes" were not fixed because of a crop-threatening drought prevailing in the majority of best-growing states. Until reports show whether the domestic growers will be able to fill the million and a half ton quota, Secretary Wallace indicated the quotas from the insular possessions would be left undetermined.

Pressing into use the flexible tariff provisions of the 1930 Tariff Act President Roosevelt clipped a half-cent off the sugar duty and said the amount of the processing tax levy which will be paid continental producers for cutting down acreage should not exceed this.

"This means," Mr. Roosevelt said, "that the processing of compensatory taxes will not increase, in themselves, the price to be paid by the ultimate consumers and at the same time our own sugar producers will have the opportunity to obtain, in the form of benefit payments, a fairer return from their product."

Trade Body Accounts Paid, Money On Hand

The treasurer's report, read before the Board of Directors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday night by Arthur Branch, revealed that all accounts are paid and there is a substantial balance in the bank.

The Tuesday meeting was routine in nature. Announcement was made of recent industrial developments in the city, and stress was placed on the fact that more are coming.

Resolutions of appreciation were ordered forwarded to the Garden Club of Sanford for its co-operation in providing trees, shrubs, flowers and other decorations for the trade body building and several recent trade body functions.

Those attending were: B. F. Haines, Mrs. B. F. Haines, of Altamonte Springs; Capt. C. Hallett of Fort Park; J. A. Logan of Geneva; Miss Helen Wiley of Lake Mary; Mrs. J. W. Coates, T. W. Lawton, Mrs. Charles Niblack and Mrs. Anna Tingley of Oviedo; E. H. Laney of Fossil; A. Duda, Jr., George Jakobich, Paul Lokan, Martin Stanik, Rev. Stephen M. Tuby of St. Ignace; Arthur Branson, W. ## WEALTHY OIL MAN KIDNAPED BY BOLD PAIR

Californian Snatched From Estate During Party While Friend Is Strapped To Tree

LOS ANGELES, May 10.—(A.P.)—Two masked men, brandishing pistols, snatched William F. Gettle, 47, wealthy oil man from his newly purchased estate in the foothills district of Arcadia at a midnight party declaring "this is a kidnaping."

James Wolfe, Westwood furniture dealer was left bound, gagged and strapped to a tree on the estate. His wife freed him.

Gettle was abducted after a party of ten, entertained at his estate, had left the swimming pool.

Eight members of the party had entered the house, while Gettle and Wolfe stopped in a small summer house to pull on trousers and shirts over their swimming suits.

As they bent over they were startled to hear "stick 'em up and be quick about it." Wolfe attempted to remonstrate with the men who cut him short, informing him it was a kidnaping.

Heman Smalley Dies After Firing Single Bullet Into Brain

Heman Smalley, about 60, resident of Sanford for the past three years, died in his garage apartment on East 18th Street this morning about two hours after he had fired a single bullet into his brain.

His body was prepared for burial by employees of the Federal Home. It will be sent to his old home in East Morris, Conn., on a night train.

Mr. Smalley is said to have become despondent because of ill health. Neighbors attribute this despondency to the fact which claimed his life. Sheriff J. F. McClelland, who was called to the scene within 15 minutes after the shot was fired, decided that an inquest was not necessary.

The dead man was a retired farmer who was well known in Sanford. He had spent the past four winters in this city, and he is said to have possessed a modest income. There are no known survivors.

House Group Approves Med-Fly Survey Bill

Joshua Chase of the Sanford firm of Chase and Co., was advised by telegram from Congressman Mark Wilcox at Washington this afternoon that the House Agricultural Committee had today reported favorably on the bill, already passed by the Senate, to provide for survey of losses suffered by Florida fruit and vegetable growers during the med-fly campaign.

Mr. Wilcox stated that "As soon as the report is printed and the necessary routine is completed with, I will prepare for the bill's passage on the House."

Carrying an appropriation of $10,000, the survey would serve as information only.

Other bills now are pending in both Houses to reimburse growers upon a basis of the findings of the damage investigation.

President Roosevelt has expressed opposition to federal reimbursements for losses from pests, unless the state absorbs half of the cost, and Governor Sholtz has announced that it is impossible for the state to take such action.

HOTEL MAN DIES

JACKSONVILLE, May 10.—(A.P.)—Gustav Mueller, 61, a prominent hotel man of the state, died here last Tuesday night at a hospital. He had been in ill health for several years. He had lived the major portion of the last 10 years in Miami where he was the original owner of the McManis hotel, one of the largest commercial hostels in the city. He also operated the Surfside hotel here under a lease for 10 years.

DOLLFUSS ESCAPES DEATH PLOT

Time Bomb Found At Salsburg Airport Before Chancellor Arrives For Meeting

SALZBURG, Austria, May 10.—(A.P.)—Chancellor Dollfuss again narrowly escaped death today when authorities found a high explosive bomb at the airport station here shortly before he arrived from Vienna for a patriotic front meeting.

The infernal machine contained 11 pounds of strontite, and it was equipped with a clock-work.

However, the little Chancellor appeared unperturbed by the discovery. He and Prince Ernst von Starbemberg, vice-chancellor, were showered with flowers.

The two leaders were almost mobbed by peasant girls who swarmed around them, repeatedly holding up their program through the streets.

Church Groups Must Pay Tax On Trucks

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 10.—(A.P.)—Trucks used to transport congregation members to and from church services are held out from church service tax exemption under the state automobile license law, Attorney General Cary D. Landon ruled.

Pastor E. J. Daniels of the First Baptist Church of Eagle Lake wanted to know whether he had to obtain a license for a bus owned and operated by the church solely for the purpose of transporting persons to and from church.

Property used by a church in actual religious services and for no other purpose is tax exempt, the attorney general said, but this exemption does not apply to license tags for buses.

The newspapers rock these days with the government's efforts to put men behind the bars. Many of these are vicious criminals who have kidnaped children, or have held up banks with machine guns, or have left a trail of blood behind them giving evidence of depraved killers.

Others are rich men once occupying positions of influence and respectability who now are jailed for violating the laws for defrauding stockholders, or for riding banks "from the inside."

One man now a man of Samuel Insull's eminence a few years ago could at his age suddenly turn crook and fleece the stockholders who trusted him out of millions of dollars. Had he died three years ago, the story of his life would have read like a most appropriate testimonial for the laws of opportunity. Here was an immigrant boy, who came penniless to a strange land, and made good in a big way, by dint of hard work and perseverance.

And then there are the Lake Leas. The elder was a man who had won most of the honors in life which ambition may lead one. He had served his country gallantly in war. For his daring exploits he had been awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor. In the field of statesmanship he had risen to the Senate, there in a dominant position to represent his native state. As a financier he had reached the pinnacle of success, to amass great wealth for himself and to command the profound respect of the investing public and his business associates.

But the very greatness of these men makes all the more deplorable their tumble. They were simply idols with feet of clay. When the winds began to blow they could not stand up. They fell and in their falling crushed millions of helpless people, widows and orphans, in many cases, who had trusted them. The financial losses which their debacles caused were but the least of their disasters. The effect upon public morale, the loss of confidence, the feeling engendered that all big men are crooks, are more painful consequences which cannot be estimated in mere dollars and cents.

But the Insulls and the Leas were not good men suddenly gone wrong. They were not good men to start with. Their type is not unknown in the everyday life of the average citizen. The child at school, who sees a neighbor looking up the answers in a book during an examination, knows that he has near him the beginning of a Samuel Insull. The golfer who cheats, the witness who lies, the business man who seeks an unfair advantage, are all laying the foundation for another Luke Lea.

Think how these men began their march which was to lead to jail. The first offense was small. A confirmed jailer does not begin his career of crime with a hammer. He begins as a child by throwing himself on the floor kicking and screaming, and pulling his hair out until he finally gets his own way. Nor does the insurance tax dodger begin by dodging income taxes. He begins by cheating in school.

So many times, it's the little things that count. They pile up and up, and keep piling up until they become insurmountable. Particularly in the building of a character it is important to use only the best materials. A few rotten planks at the bottom, unimportant in themselves, may wreck the whole structure. Don't neglect the little weaknesses of human nature. Weed them out. Remember the Insulls and the Leas.

Vitamin D

Be sure to feed your children plenty of Vitamin D. Be sure to give them plenty of cod liver oil, or better still, haliver oil, or viosterol. These things are not medicines, but are foods which growing children vitally need. They help to build bones, and keep youngsters from becoming bowlegged, pigeon breasted, or otherwise deformed. They also help to make strong teeth, big bodies and substantial bones. Sunshine, too, has the same effect. Give a child plenty of sunshine and plenty of viosterol and you do not have to worry about calcium deficiency.

Today's most well-informed parents, says the Tampa Tribune, "know that the general cause of bowlegs in adults is rickets in infancy, acquired before the bones were fully formed. Fewer know, however, that the same bone deficiency disease accounts for pigeon breast and malformation of the jaws and teeth, as well as bulging foreheads and short chins. Most of us who are now adults were babies before the cause of rickets—a lack of Vitamin D in the diet, or lack of sunshine which creates it in the body—was understood and it is too late to revise our beauty because our bones are already made. We do, however, feel an obligation to the next generation to provide them with good straight bones."

These facts have been available for several years and that we are now understanding them, but a large section of the human race has not yet learned them or will not act on them when informed. These rickets are like ones today among millions, and at this minute many babies are growing up with crooked bones because of the ignorance or indifference of their parents. There seems to be no practical way of surmounting this hurdle—unless human nature can be revamped, which scarcely seems likely.

In this situation a practical short cut is advised by scientists—to add to the food of everyone enough Vitamin D (which is harmless) to insure that all will receive sufficient of it. This is being done by adding it to our milk and bread—foods which most human beings consume. Milk sweetened with the purified concentrate of Vitamin D from cod liver oil is now being distributed in 68 states of 12 different states and its use will spread. It is believed. This method of reaching the multitudes has the approval of the American Medical Association. Evaporated milk as well as bread with the same addition is also available.

WHERE IS OUR MONEY?

The following editorial by E. P. O'Connell, published in "The News Telegraph" of Atlantic City on Dec. 21, 1928, was the only editorial ever printed for distinguished editor "E. P. O'Connell."

WHERE IS OUR MONEY?

It is announced that at 10 o'clock tonight, Iowa time, William Randolph Hearst, well known publisher, will broadcast an address on the subject which appears as the caption of this article. The subject is a broad one and permits of many ramifications. Likewise the query is a live one and has been for several years with many people who formerly were in comparative affluence and have found themselves suddenly in a position where money is a scarce article. The whereabouts of the money of the individual has played in rendering himself particularly unaccountable to the injuries inflicted by the period of economic stress.

Where is our money? Here, says Iowa, if competent statistics are to be believed, during the brief prosperous years of the World War period when money flowed like water into the coffers of the farmer and the business man and every one else, some $200,000,000 of good Iowa money for stopping shares in half-mythical concerns which were worth exactly their value as a piece of printed paper. During that period and shortly thereafter a good many hundreds of millions from the Middle West went into the first and second mortgage bonds of apartment hotels and the like, security issued on appraisals inflated to the sky. The most of these bonds are now worth just what the stocks we referred to are worth the value of the paper and the printing contained therein. There is no way of estimating how many hundreds of millions of money the country ever went up in smoke and vanished on this air when it suddenly dawned on us that even the most productive land in a section like ours is not worth $300 or $400 an acre. It took only the simplest mathematics to arrive at that conclusion, for even at the prices brought by farm products at their peak the return on the land in this section would not pay interest on an investment of $300 or $400 an acre. It can easily be recalled that during that hectic period it was considered a mark of provincialism not to buy a new automobile every year. A lot of fur coats and a lot of diamonds and a lot of expensive clothes for both men and women were indulged in by all classes. The wage earner suddenly spoke to the fact that by buying the installment plan he could keep up with the Joneses and he not only spent every cent he had but he pledged the major portion of his wages or salary to pay for automobiles, houses, and other articles which were worn out by the time he had completed the payments.

on a picnic Saturday to Silver Lake where they spent the day most delightfully rowing and bathing. Those who made up the party were Sidney Chase, Jr., Alfred Robson, Johnnie Nixon, Lew Park, and Arthur Dickson.

These are but a few instances, but not a few instances, which are in point. One might go on indefinitely telling of the wild days of spending and of contracting obligations without thought of the day and with little or no thought of the economic soundness of such spending. These days, we got down to cases. We checked and are still paying the bills. Like children, we have thought someone to blame for our plight, and also like children, we have sought some magic way to cure our ills, and expect the government to supply the cure. The man who contracted debts does not want to pay them just now because, in most instances, he can not pay them. In every way we have met the situation which was thrust upon us, though we had nothing to do with producing it. As a matter of fact, we had all to do with producing it. In the proportion that the individual citizen wants to pay his obligations and to take up his share of the governmental obligations, we are now whopped our taxes 100 percent in ten years. Bond issues with the same distribution of the coming of the day which characterized the individual. We could great expenditure of education, with motion pictures and swimming pools and all sorts of amusements and "frills." We erected public buildings in many cases three beyond possible needs of communities for a hundred years. Just as private enterprise overbuilt in every direction, governmental building activities got out of bounds. The people have to pay the bill. The naturalness of expenditure created fixed taxes, and taxes have a habit of cascading in bad times and bad times alike. With our incomes and our business resources depleted, our tax bill in the main has remained the same. All an echo of the period of extravagance and wild-eyed inflation which brought about our troubles. We were talking about "two cars in every garage and a chicken in every pot" and we made much about the so-called American standard of living, whatever that meant. We insisted that all the various elements of our population should attain that standard, and we installed into the minds of many people who could not afford it a desire for the things had by others were fortunate in life. Oodles of people who had no more business with an automobile than a wagon has with a five-wheeled bought car. Oodles of people began to live beyond their means. It began to look as if it would not be long until there would be no one to do the work of the country, as all were seeking the same mythical standard to which we aspired. And we still have the automobile.

The bottom went out of things. Or it might be more appropriate to say that the top was blown off. Then the people of the United States commenced to take stock. Seeking someone to blame, they listened to the fulminations of the politicians who represented the "outs," and who told that the way to cure their ills was to convert the "outs" into the "puts." This they did with their usual disregard of essentials and fundamentals. I became a pleasing fiction to attribute our plight to the tariff, and later to our money standard. The people were told that all that was necessary was to reduce the tariff which protects American manufacture and agriculture, the art word by John. Now they are being told that the way to put money into the hands of those who are penniless, and who whopped our taxes 100 percent in ten years. Bond issues his obligations and start things moving on a normal basis is to change our money. A lot of other experimental schemes are being worked out by an administration of which the people demand action. We are spending huge sums of money borrowed for the purpose, in an endeavor to squander ourselves back to prosperity. In the face of the fact that debt is one of the basic causes of our troubles, we are following the theory that incurring more debt would cure us. And in face of the fact that expensive taxation is another of the causes of our troubles, we are laying the government's tax more of the same, and the delusion that the application of all these methods will result in a cure for the trouble which we brought on ourselves, added and added by the worldwide economic upheaval.

We are a great lot of Americans. We expect whatever party happens to be in charge of the government to so manipulate the handling of public affairs as to afford us a cure for the results of our own folly. We seem to presume that it is possible for us to get well economically by the waving of some magic wand. We think we can force prosperity, and in the majority of the people of the country prosperity means a return to the hectic days preceding the stock market crash of 1929. This theory, during the last few years, has been created by a false and inflated philosophy. In the creating of this inflation we disregard all natural laws of economics, so it is but natural for us to expect to cure the trouble by the same process. But it can not be done. The only way back to solid ground and to a degree of prosperity and well-being commensurate with common sense and economic soundness will be by the application of thrift and hard work and the balancing of the budget of every individual. The wild wire days are gone forever. But a large percentage of our population still believes in Sam's Claus and in good fairies. The condition of the country in large measure can be ascertained by every citizen by looking in the mirror. Each one of us contributed his share. There is nothing new about all this. It has been the history of things in the world since the earliest dawn of civilization. Particularly has it characterized every post-war period. Humanity never learns. We have not progressed so far in our thinking after all. Where is our money? The

He said that "We must end the present situation wherein a few become immediately rich while millions face starvation."

He proposes a heavy tax on large incomes and inheritances, and he suggested that we use a portion of the money received from such a tax for the purpose of providing an old age pension system in the United States.

He pointed out that the average citizen has small chance to make more than a bare living, and that if he educates his children and contributes to the welfare of his community, he is unable to save for his old age, and that such a citizen, upon reaching his or her early sixties, is entitled to receive "A modest check each month as compensation for years spent as a good citizen in the building up of the nation."

Mr. Mitchell pointed out that the government issues tax exempt bonds in which persons of great wealth invest their entire fortunes and escape taxation and that money is placed in these securities which otherwise would come into the hands of the farmers, laboring men, merchants and professional men of the country.

He proposed that we issue currency and pay off these government bonds and thus save $600,000,000 in interest each year, which is paid by the common people of the nation.

He pointed out that such a plan would not impair the credit of the government, but that "We would simply exchange a piece of paper that does not bear interest and that can circulate among the people, for a piece of paper that bears interest and does not circulate," and that "The government would owe not one dime more than at present."

He stated that he personally favors the immediate payment of the adjusted service compensation certificates commonly known as the "Bonus" as a means of placing money in circulation.

He pointed out that the government has been and is now engaged in the spending of several times the amount necessary to pay the bonus in an effort to place money in circulation.

He said that the bonus was an obligation "We promised to pay in or before 1945," and that "It is better to pay off a debt ahead of time in order to place the money in circulation, rather than to spend the money for things that will have no permanent benefit, and still have our debts facing us."

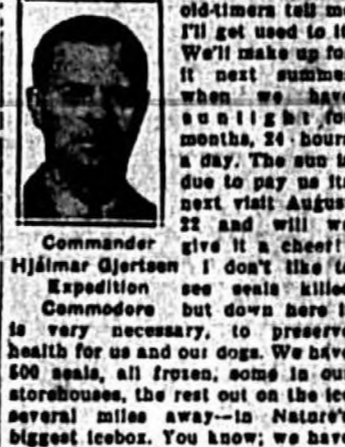

He is also opposed to cutting compensation of pensioners and low salaried government employees, and he said that savings made by such cuts should instead be made by getting higher salaries for officials and employees.

He proposed federal aid for the public school system to the full extent necessary to provide a full term and adequate salaries for teachers throughout the state, until such time as the state is able to fully and adequately finance the public schools.

He said that in past years a person knew, that if he was willing

 by C. A. ... President
22 SEALS!

LITTLE AMERICA, ANTARCTICA. April 21, (via Mackay Radio). We are like an army, digging in and getting everything ready for the big battle to come. The long Antarctic night has descended upon us and all day and night we are in a deep gray shadow. Sometimes, when the sky is overcast or a storm is raging, we are in ink blackness. Most of the time, however, it is a thick, heavy gray which lets us see a dozen or so feet away. Some days and nights we have moonlight and that helps a lot. This absence of daylight is so new to me that it gives me the willies but the old-timers tell me I'll get used to it. We'll make up for it next summer when we have a 24 hour day. The sun is due to pay us its next visit August 22 and will give us a 16 hour day. I don't like to see seals killed. Commanders but down here it is very necessary, to preserve health for us and our dogs. We have 500 seals, all frozen, some in our storerooms, the rest on the ice several miles away—in Nator's biggest icebox. You know, we have two kinds of seals down here, the Crab-eaters and the Weddell seals, and two kinds of penguins, the little Adelle and the Emperor. The Crab-Eater seals weigh about 300 pounds when fully grown, and are courageous fighters, with sharp teeth, although they can't open their mouths very wide when gobbling crustaceans and small fish. They are a neutral gray and travel over the ice like serpents. They are arrogant, active, interesting and delicious to eat, although their flesh, under the coating of fat or blubber, is very black, like all the birds and animals down here, including whales, on account of the richness of their blood. They make a funny, indescribable noise, half grunt, half moo like a cow.

The Weddell seals are much bigger, weighing 25 to 35 pounds when born, growing 50 pounds a week for the first two or three weeks, then more slowly until they reach around 500 pounds. They have no teeth but find no difficulty eating crabs and other crustaceans and fish by crushing them. They travel by wiggling along, very different from the Crab-Eaters. They are dark brown or black with bright gray spots, hair instead of fur, and make the darndest noise I ever heard—a cross between the trill of a canary and a faint moo. None of the seals down here bark like the northern seals. The Weddell seals can open their mouths prodigiously—150 degrees. And are they lazy! A few days before the sun and the seals (and all other creatures including the whales) disappeared, I ran at two seals on the bay ice, to scare them. You know the animals down here have no fear of humans, because they haven't been hunted with guns—only clubs. Well, the Crab-Eater snaked over the ice and popped into the water of an open lead. The Weddell opened one eye, looked at me scornfully, and closed it again.

I've talked with the tractor crews and the dog team men who set up our southern bases for the explorations we're going to start next spring—in October. Both groups did a marvellous job and had a horrible time doing it. Captain Innes-Taylor, William Faison, Finn Hansen and Dick Black, with their dog teams, established a big food and supply base for us 100 miles south of here. You might mark that trip on your club maps, using the proper legend for the dog teams—to Latitude 51.2 South Longitude 160.50 West.

We've got a big thrill coming later this month—if we're not beset by too many storms and blizzards. The scientists have told us there will be a lot of vivid meteor showers and they have built an observatory. So now we are all waiting to observe this show to be put on by the heavenly bodies. I'll tell you all about it.

Have you and your friends joined our club yet? Why don't you get your school teachers to enroll their entire classes, as 142 other teachers have done? The club is open to everybody interested in aviation, exploration and adventure and there are no expenses whatever to members. Simply send stamped, clearly self-addressed envelope, or in case of school teachers, the names and home addresses of self and pupils, with stamp for each, to A. C. Ables, Jr., President, Little America Aviation & Exploration Club, Hotel Lexington, 428 Street and Lexington Avenue, New York City and our big free working map of the South Pole region and membership card will be sent immediately.

"A shutdown is coming in the south. If necessary, we will shut down the entire textile industry in the south in protest against the manipulation of the coal administration."

$75,000 RANSOM DEMANDED FOR CALIFORNIAN

Gettle, Seized From Party At Estate Near Los Angeles Said To Be Alive

LOS ANGELES, May 11.—(AP)—A ransom of $75,000 has been demanded for the release of William Gettle, kidnaped Beverly Hills oil millionaire, the district attorney's office announced today.

Ernest Noon, attorney for Mrs. Gettle, informed District Attorney Byron Fite that he had received a telephone call "from a party who informed him that they had Gettle alive and wanted $75,000 ransom."

The fullest form of the law, including department of justice agents acting upon instructions from Washington, rushed last night into the search for the kidnapers of William F. Gettle as the family of the oil millionaire proclaimed a willingness to pay "any reasonable ransom demand."

Gettle, 48 years old, is a millionaire many times over. He built his fortune from the oil fields of Oklahoma and California, withdrew from the speculative activities before the crash of 1929 and retired to southern California.

Wheat Prices Soar As News Spreads Of Blistering Heat In Fields Of Middle West

CHICAGO, May 11.—(AP)—Soaring wheat prices yesterday accompanied news of increasingly severe damage to crops inflicted by prolonged drought and raging heat storms.

Fields parched by days of unrelenting heat and lack of moisture in wheat growing areas particularly in the Northwest, were reflected on the Chicago Board of Trade and other leading markets by spectacular increases in the price of grain.

After the markets had closed the Department of Agriculture released its forecast for winter wheat production, estimated at 461,471,000 bushels as compared with 491,200,000 bushels indicated a month ago.

TAMPAN REGAINS ENFORCEMENT OF EYESIGHT WITH UNUSUAL LENSES

TAMPA, May 11.—A near-miracle of modern medical science restored the vision of John W. Denton, of 3002 Argrove Avenue, by the use of "contact lenses" to correct a defect in his sight in which ordinary glasses had no effect.

Manufactured in Europe by a famous optical house, from a prescription prepared here, these lenses consist of delicate, cup-shaped pieces of glass which fit directly over the eyeball beneath the eyelids. They are held in place by suction and by the pressure of the upper and lower lids. They move with the eye and defy detection.

A person wearing them forgets that he has on glasses, and their appearance to others is that of normal eyes. They are removed only when the wearer retires, although even this is not necessary. Denton and his oculist described them yesterday as "an extra pair of eyes."

More remarkable than the manner of wearing them is the fact that in the case of Denton they have given him nearly normal eyesight for the first time in almost 10 years after every other means failed to provide satisfactory or permanent relief. Even now he is unable to read a newspaper without them, but wearing them, he can distinguish small type at a distance of several feet without apparent effort.

He first began having trouble with his eyes in 1923. Examination disclosed that he was suffering from "conical cornea," a technical term describing the curved portion of the cornea which instead of being merely slightly convex, protruded in the shape of a modified cone. This made it virtually impossible to fit him with the conventional type glasses and, in addition, eventually caused a growth on the eyeball which had to be removed by operations.

For years his sight gradually but steadily grew worse until he was unable to read even large type without holding it a few inches from his face. It seemed that he was doomed to become totally blind in the space of a few more months. Quite by chance Denton decided to make one more effort to obtain relief and as luck would have it, he visited a specialist who had had previous experience with such cases. The prescription was made up and sent to Germany. In a few weeks the lenses were returned, used, and found to work perfectly.

Under the new process, citrus fruit, some of which ripens but retains its partially green skin, is run through a vat to give it an orange color. The coloring has been employed to render the fruit more attractive and thereby increase consumption. The conference today was a closed session.

County Infant Death Rate Highest In State

JACKSONVILLE, May 11.—(AP)—Although infant deaths in Florida decreased to 1,619 last year, the lowest on record, the mortality rate increased to 65 per 1,000 live births in 1933, the highest on record, but the number of deaths was higher, 1,650.

The figures were quoted by Dr. Eugene O. Thompson, director of the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Department of Health. The mortality rate is based on 1,000 live births.

Sanford had the highest rate, 75 per 1,000 live births, followed by Ocala, 72, and Gainesville, 70. The lowest rate was in Tallahassee, 58.

The figures were compiled from the records of the State Department of Health. The mortality rate is based on 1,000 live births.

DOZEN STRIKES IN PROGRESS IN MANY SECTIONS

U. S. Efforts To Settle Cleveland Trouble Falls But Success Follows In Texas

A dozen strikes, in varying stages of outbreak, negotiation, violence and settlement, continued throughout the country yesterday.

Employers of 2000 striking gasoline station attendants in Cleveland announced they would reject a federal compromise effort but another government effort apparently was more successful as word came from Washington that the Texas longshoremen's strike had been "practically settled."

At San Francisco, however, longshoremen's unions "dug in" for a long siege.

A "sitting strike" of some 3000 workers in five plants of the Brown Shoe company in southern Illinois, with the workers reporting at the machines but refusing to operate them, continued as the Salem, Ill., workers hired a 25-cent team to entertain them as they sat.

Trouble in the coal mines popped up in a new area when 2000 workers in the Harlow, Ky., field went out, accusing employers of violating NRA code clauses.

At Cincinnati, 1100 workers in the Conington plant, which walked out as police arrested 200 workers in a night fracas.

At Buffalo, N. Y., 500 workers in the Curtiss Aeroplane and Motor company Inc. were warned to return to work by tomorrow or be struck from the payroll.

At International Falls, Minn., and Fort Frances, Ont., efforts were begun to settle a strike of 1200 mill workers.

At Hütte, Mont., 3000 employees of the Anaconda Copper Company remained on strike while federal negotiations were held.

Issues throughout were the usual ones of union recognition, wage increases and working time reduction.

Cuba Orders Trial For Seditious Story Author

HAVANA, May 11.—(AP)—Prevention of "the author of a newspaper article entitled 'We Must Kill Batista' was ordered yesterday by Roque Garriga, attorney general.

Appearing on the front page of a tabloid, El Intrusismo, the article referred to Col. Fulgencio Batista, commander-in-chief of the army.

This is the first case to be prosecuted after the government recently announced intention to punish all newspapers printing "false, libellous or alarming stories."

JOHNSON A.C.T TO BE INVOKED IN ALL CASES

Roosevelt Will Not Guarantee Token Payers That They Are Not In Default

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—Word came last night from authoritative quarters that dollar nations making token payments on their war debt installments next June 15 will not be given guarantees by President Roosevelt that they are not to be considered in default.

These officials said the President had decided that under a strict interpretation of the Johnson Act he could not give any nation which makes a partial payment on its debt official assurance that they will be exempted from its provisions.

Envoys of France, Italy, Belgium and Czechoslovakia who have made inquiries during the last three days—have been given that explanation of the present status of war debts.

Great Britain, Italy, Czechoslovakia, Lithuania and Latvia, token payments on the last due date, Dec. 15, and were assured by the President they were not then considered in default.

The passage of the Johnson Act, which prohibits any nation in default in its debt, caused President Roosevelt to seek an official opinion from Attorney General Cummings. Cummings held the five token-payment nations were not in default "at present" but gave no ruling on the future status of token payments.

Injuries Suffered By A. P. Connelly Held Not Serious

A. P. Connelly, widely known local realtor, is in the Cleveland Memorial Hospital undergoing treatment for wounds and lacerations received at his home in the Mahoney Apartments at Park Avenue and 10th Street this morning when he walked into the side of a moving truck. His injuries are not considered serious.

Mr. Connelly, who suffered the loss of his eyesight some months ago, was starting, unaided, to cross Park Avenue at its north intersection with 10th Street at about the same time that Millard Woodard, driving a Hill Hardware Co. truck northward, neared the intersection.

Witnesses said that Mr. Connelly appeared to stop momentarily, apparently listening for automobiles, and then he started across the street to walk directly into the side of the new and somewhat busless truck.

The left door handle ripped a large wound in Mr. Connelly's right arm, and the impact caused him to fall to the brick pavement where he received wounds about the head.

Dr. C. M. Mitchell, passing at the time, placed Mr. Connelly in his automobile and within a few minutes he was receiving treatment.

Mr. Woodard is said to have been driving at a low rate of speed. He said that if Mr. Connelly had continued his ordinary gait, he would not have walked into the truck.

Former Georgia Solon Dies In Hotel Lobby

ATLANTA, May 11.—A stroke of apoplexy was blamed yesterday for the sudden death of Marvin U. Moody, 59, of LaGrange, former member of the state legislature, who died a few minutes after registering at a local hotel.

Business Men Are Buying Insurance Policies Against Roosevelt's Illness, Death

LONDON, May 11.—President Roosevelt's health is so important to the world in the light against depression that business men are buying insurance policies against anything happening to him, Lloyd's revealed yesterday.

This world-wide insurance agency—long famous for its unusual policies against almost anything—has been issuing policies to men of many lands on whether he will live to see his Recovery program through company officials said.

Such an activity has the fate of the man and his policies of insurance held such universal interest—an interest, it was emphasized, rooted in the inescapable fact that as America goes, so go the nations of the earth.

Lloyd's revealed they considered the chances of assassination considerably less than the chances the President might die through natural causes.

Their policies on this unique form of insurance take the following three forms at present:

1. A premium of 5 percent against Mr. Roosevelt's death by assassination or accident.
2. A premium of 7 1/2 percent against his death by natural causes.

NRA WILL QUIT CITY'S VALUE AS EFFORTS TO AID LITTLE BUSINESS

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—An early abandonment of attempts to supervise every little business in the land was definitely indicated yesterday at NRA.

Badgered and burdened with petty code differences, Hugh S. Johnson's chief aides are studying the ground for retreat along this line. In guarded utterances, officials admit a definite reaction against wholesale code writing and issuing. They foresee some difficulty, however, in extricating themselves.

Almost unanimously they want to quit supervising strictly local service trades, such as pressing shops, barbers and bootblacks. An increasing number of officials want to junk complicated price maintenance and cost finding provisions which are giving trouble in many codes.

Two things, however, stand in the way. First, trade association groups which demanded and obtained codes so as to extend their influence over unorganized competitors, are fighting hard to hold their ground.

Second, labor in miscellaneous trades, almost unable to organize and act in concert, is ready to object mightily at being left to fend for itself.

Officials believe the two obstacles may prevent doing what many would prefer, which is to tear up what some call the "business" codes and forget them. They are therefore promoting the idea of letting all service establishments which want to comply with wage and hour terms so as to display the blue eagle, do so. Then, if the bulk of service establishments in any one city insist on a local code, they may have one. But the NRA will not urge it on them.

Buick Plant Closed Down Because Of Fisher Body Strike

FLINT, Mich., May 11.—(AP)—The Buick Motor Company plant closed here today close on the heels of a walkout of union employes in the Fisher Body Corporation, number one plant which makes Buick bodies.

Fourteen thousand Buick employes and an estimated 6000 Fisher employes are idle. It was learned from reliable sources that the plant will remain closed until Tuesday. By that time it is expected the Fisher strike will be settled.

SAMUEL INSULL QUESTIONS HIS ARREST BY U. S.

Prisoner Refuses To Acknowledge Jurisdiction Of District Court In His Case

CHICAGO, May 11.—(AP)—Samuel Insull today refused to acknowledge the jurisdiction of the United States District Court, and uttered no plea to charges of violating the bankruptcy act and using the mails fraudulently in selling his company stocks.

Brought from the county jail for his formal arraignment before Federal Judge Phillip Sullivan, the elderly prisoner remained silent and stoic while his counsel entered a plea challenging his seizure in the harbor of Istanbul as illegal, and refusing to plead his guilty or not guilty.

His fellow defendants on the bankruptcy charge, however, pleaded not guilty and without discussing the value of Insull's conviction, Judge Sullivan postponed the hearing until next Tuesday.

Insull hoped to make the $200,000 bail today.

With $100,000 on hand, Attorney Insull, Jr., bailed himself, Attorney Thompson and Insull's son, Samuel Insull, Jr., bailed for $50,000.

Insull's attorney bowed to the court's order, but in a manner of freeing the utilities operator after a second federal judge, Judge Will M. Sparks, had refused to cut Insull's bond, even though told it was the highest in American court history.

"Bond is not intended as a punishment," said the judge.

Insull, Jr., Attorney Thompson, and their aides leaned forward.

"But the government is entitled to assurance that Mr. Insull will be on hand for the trial. I will refuse his application for a reduction of bond.

"If Insull's friends will not stand bond for $200,000, they should not ask the court to stand the burden." After collecting the federal bond Insull must deposit $50,000 more on state indictment.

Georgian Object Of Attempted Extortion

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., May 11.—(AP)—An attempt to extort $5,000 from William Felton, grandson of the late Robert La Follette Senator, Mrs. Robert La Follette, after threats to kidnap his 10-year-old daughter, was revealed here yesterday by Sheriff Gaudin.

The demand was received two weeks ago, he said, but was kept secret while the sheriff and federal officers investigated.

William Felton and his sister, Mrs. Alfred Ogram of Chilton, Ga., were the sole heirs to the large estate left by their grandmother, William Felton lives two miles north of here, on the road to Tennessee, in one of the country places he inherited, with his wife and their daughter, Anna.

Ocala Candidate Has Washington Beat

OCALA, Fla., May 11.—George Washington wouldn't stand a chance with W. J. Fielding, who announced as a candidate for the state legislature here.

In his announcement Fielding asserted:

"I have never played poker, never played cards, never gambled on anything, never drunk whiskey, never used tobacco or profanity, never kissed any woman except my wife, and never told a lie."
