NEARING END OF CONVICT CAMP PROBE—SEN. KNABB IS UNAFRAID OF RESULT

COMMITTEE HALTS FOR WANT OF NEW FACTS IN THE CASE

WILL MEET SOON

And Go Over All the Testimony Presented to Date

(By The Associated Press) TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 10.—The legislative inquiry into prison camps operated by Senator T. J. Knabb, in Baker county, appeared last night to be nearing a sudden end. Hearings that had been scheduled for today failed to materialize and the committee deferred further meeting until tomorrow. At that time it will decide, it was stated, just what course it will follow. There were indications that this chapter in the relation of prison camp brutalities had been closed insofar as the joint legislative committee was concerned.

Members of the committee met informally today at the time of their scheduled meetings and found themselves stranded in the matter of something to work on. No more witnesses are in sight, it was officially stated, and the committee had aired publicly the records of the commissioners of agriculture's office as relating to the commissioner's troubles with Mr. Knabb's camps.

Senator John P. Stokes, chairman of the committee, said that he felt the committee had reached the crest of its authority, it having recommended the abolition of the lease system, corporal punishment, dismissal of county officers, expulsion of one doctor from the Florida medical fraternity and the discharge of a prison supervisor. Senator Stokes contended that no further good could be accomplished if the committee went any further into investigating the Knabb case.

Senator Stokes, however, said he would call the committee tomorrow to decide whether it was advisable to summon more witnesses and also to request Senator J. H. Scales to appear in connection with charges made before the committee yesterday that Senator Scales had sought information from citizens as to the sobriety of members of a sub-committee of the investigating body which visited Clara a fortnight ago.

Senator Knabb, who is a wealthy resident of McClenny, Baker county, owner of seven turpentine tracts, and a large farm, declared today he was not in a position to issue a statement presenting his side of the case. "When one is threatened to be sued for $100,000, it is best to wait for the proper time before making any declaration," said Senator Knabb.

He has taken a friendly attitude towards the investigation of his camp and said he was confident he would be given "a clean bill of health," when the matter is concluded. He further contended that he would be able to refute the testimony offered yesterday by Mrs. Thelma Franklin, who told the committee she had made a personal investigation into the Knabb camp and found barbarism was mild in comparison with conditions as she outlined before the committee.

The state senator sought today to clear up the killing of two negro women, Mary Sheffield and her daughter, residing near his convict camp by A. L. Anderson, warden of the camp. Declaring that the killing occurred almost two weeks ago and

Women Won't Stand for Harding's Proposal

(By The Associated Press) ATLANTA, May 10.—Declaring she "would not stand for the federation endorsing President Harding's proposal for American participation in the world court of justice," Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs said today. A resolution agreed on by the resolution committee would probably be modified to make clear that the principle was endorsed but not any specific proposal. This modification was made in a resolution later reported to the convention. Other resolutions were recommendations for a national legislative immigration with quotas based on census figures of 1890, and reaffirmed the federation's stand for the enforcement of all prohibition laws.

Americans Get Out of British Tournament

(By The Associated Press) DEAL, Eng., May 10.—Two American visitors and one American resident of England left with thirteen British in the British amateur golf title tournament after the fourth round this morning. They were Francis Oulmet and Dr. O. F. Willing and Douglas Grant.

that Thompson had been exonerated by a coroner's jury. Senator Knabb went into details as to what brought about the slaying.

The shooting occurred while Thompson and another employe were attempting to quiet a drunken brawl in the free negro quarters of the camp. Mary Sheffield, said Senator Knabb, and her daughter were mixed up in a fight and Thompson ordered the women to their house.

Mary jumped on Thompson with a razor and her daughter wielded a knife. He was on his knees when he opened fire with his gun, killing both women, declared Mr. Knabb.

The senator said Thompson had been warden at the camp for more than a year, while Mary Sheffield was a former prisoner. After serving out her sentence she made her home in the free quarters.

SIXTEEN MEN MEET DEATH IN OIL EXPLOSION

(By The Associated Press) CORNICANA, Texas, May 10.—Thirteen identified dead, three skeletons in the smouldering well pit and possibly scores of others to be uncovered marked the toll of death wrought late yesterday by the explosion of the giant gusher of the J. K. Hughes Development Company. Steam will be used today to extinguish the flames. This morning great billows of black smoke clouds continued their advance as far as this city, eleven miles from the well.

One man, Mr. Simonds, who was on the derrick floor with the crew, escaped by running. His clothing, not being oil soaked, did not ignite. Bird said there were between eight and ten men on the derrick floor at the time of the fire and that he thought he and Owen were the only two who escaped. Owen died a short time later.

The officials of the development company are making a check of the men working. One man said that the bodies of the dead men were where they fell when the blast occurred, and with the well still burning it would be impossible to remove them for some time.

The fire started about 9 o'clock yesterday afternoon, while hundreds were in the vicinity of the well. According to an eye witness, the crew was on the derrick floor, changing a control head, when suddenly there was a flash of fire, followed by two other flashes, the fire shooting more than 100 feet in the air. In a moment everything within several hundred feet of the well was ignited. All the trees and shrubbery around the well was saturated with oil, and the ground was quickly burned clear. A great pool of oil near the well also boiled skyward quickly. The well continued to burn and last night was flowing wide open, with the flames darting high into the air. Officials of the Hughes Development Company were ready on the ground and steps were being taken to extinguish the flames.

Other resolutions were recommendations for a national legislative immigration with quotas based on census figures of 1890, and reaffirmed the federation's stand for the enforcement of all prohibition laws.

ROLLINS MAY COME UNDER THE CONTROL OF CONGREGATIONALS AND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCHES

The astonishing fact was revealed today that it is on the cards for Rollins College to become a so-called denominational institution. As it now exists and has existed, while it is a Christian college, it is free entirely from denominational influence.

The change will be revolutionary, and if it is brought about will be prompted by two causes. In the first place, it is considered the time call for a closer union of life and religion, and it is pointed out the time to inculcate religion is in youth. And second, the college needs money to carry on its work.

The plan is for the two branches of the Presbyterian church in Florida, together with the Congregational churches, to take over the control of the institution and run it in the interest of Christian faith.

The substance of these facts was gained today from an interview with W. R. O'Neal, treasurer of Rollins, and for many years one of the main bulwarks of strength of the institution, the man most profoundly interested perhaps of all those associated with the college work.

Mr. O'Neal said the plan for the churches mentioned to take over the affairs of the institution has been long in forming, and that it has got this far: that a virtual agreement has been reached as between the college authorities and the authorities of the Presbyterian Church, North, and the Congregational churches to take over the college, and that the issue will be finally concluded at a meeting in Jacksonville on the tenth of this month of the Synod of the Presbyterian Church, South, when it will be determined what action these church authorities will take.

It was gathered from what Mr. O'Neal said that there is not much doubt but that the churches will be united on the issue of running the college.

In the event the change is made those coming into control will have to raise seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars to finance the work. If the agreement is not reached then the authorities of Rollins will have

SENATOR J. H. SCALES BRANDS NEWSPAPER REPORTS ABOUT HIM AS "UNTRUE"

(By The Associated Press) TALLAHASSEE, May 10.—Senator J. H. Scales, of Perry, rose to a point of personal privilege on the floor of the senate today to brand as utterly "untrue" newspaper reports concerning him in the past few days. He declared he hadn't allowed himself with the Putnam Lumber company or with Dr. Jones to interfere with or intimidate the committee's investigation of convict issue of this state.

ASK RECEIVER FOR ANGEHLT AT ORLANDO

Appointment of a receiver for the Orange Hotel Company, owners of the Angebilt hotel, was asked yesterday in a suit filed by E. W. and R. C. Davis for J. F. Ange and Dr. C. D. Christ, original promoters of the hotel.

The company is alleged in the bill to be unable to meet its debts. Mismanagement is also charged, it was stated by representatives of the plaintiffs.

The receivership hearing will be held before Judge Charles O. Andrews, it is assumed, close upon the adjournment of the spring term of circuit court which is now in session here.—Orlando Sentinel.

MAHATMA WILL ANSWER QUERIES

"The Eminent White Mahatma," who answered questions of an occult nature during his premier showing in Sanford, has been booked for a return engagement at the Auditorium for three days, starting Thursday May 10.

During his recent engagement here Murdock consented to make his services "wide spread" by accepting the invitation of the Daily Herald to answer questions through its columns. Scarcely had the announcement been made before hundreds of questions poured into the office. Questions pertaining to business transactions, affairs of the heart, missing or lost relatives, whether lover, friend, wife or sweetheart be true, questions about lost jewelry, liberty bonds, law suits, questions of every nature were asked.

It was a physical impossibility to answer all the queries—hundreds of questions were not answered owing to lack of time and space.

It is now especially interesting to know the Daily Herald has again offered its columns to this student of the occult and he will again answer a limited number of questions throughout his engagement here starting Thursday, May 10.

Those wishing to have their questions answered must observe the following simple rules:

You have the privilege of asking any question, except one, that is, where, if the answers were given correctly it would necessitate giving the name of some person who had committed a crime.

The full and complete name must be signed to your question if you wish to have it answered. (Only the printed initials will be used in the answers given publicly.)

Mail or bring your questions to the Daily Herald and address them care of Murdock "The White Mahatma." The questions will be answered in the order in which they are received and no exceptions will be made—this is positive and final.

Murdock disclaims any affiliation with the supernatural. A keen training and development of the mind is his only claim. Murdock has so well mastered his reasoning super-senses that he has made them so humbly obedient to the subconscious that he claims he receives a true and complete telepathic message from the unrecognized "dream sense" of those who consult him. Murdock's understanding of his mental faculties and those of his questioners are so perfectly co-ordinated that it would seem that he is possessed of supernatural powers.

Murdock also produces spirit pictures in colors upon an artist's canvas of any person who has ever lived, and this is accomplished without any visible aid whatever and without touching his hands or a brush to the picture. Other mysterious things this wonder worker performs are experiments in slate writing while surrounded by the audience. He apparently receives written messages from the dead to members of the audience and though Murdock makes no claims to spiritualism, self-hypnotism of the like, he tells you that you may call it whatever you please.

Questions should be sent to this office at once in order to insure getting answers.

A special matinee will be given Saturday afternoon for "Ladies Only" and girls under the age of 16 will not be admitted to this one matinee.

Osceola Encampment Granted Charter Big Meeting Last Night

Osceola Encampment, No. 9, is the newest acquisition among the fraternal orders of Sanford, and bids fair to soon become one of the best and most active. It was given its first start last night, by the Grand Encampment of Florida granting a charter therefor, and starting off as it does with the names of the most active members of the Odd Fellow fraternity on the charter roll, its future outlook seems very bright.

A degree staff from Orlando exemplified the degree work on a class of sixteen candidates, and many expressions of commendation were heard, on the efficient manner in which they did their work.

Not Known Whether Ransom Has Been Paid or Captives Rescued by Troops

(By The Associated Press) SHANGHAI, May 10.—All foreign captives held by the Suchow bandits are well and "having a wonderful time," and expect to be released soon, according to written messages received from four of them by relief workers near Lincheng which were relayed here today.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Attack by Chinese troops on the bandits who captured Americans and other foreigners has been ordered stopped by government, state department advises from American legation said the troops had been ordered to "desist from measures against bandits" and to adopt "pacific means" which insure liberation of prisoners without injury.

SHANGHAI, May 10.—Thursday (afternoon 3:15)—All foreign captives held by the Shantung bandits are being released except Chevalier Musso, an Italian attorney, according to a message from Thao Chwang signed by a relief agent named Nail and addressed to Asia Development Company.

PEKING, May 10.—Major Roland Finger and Robert Allen, United States army officers who were captured by Chinese bandits Sunday are still held, but their sons, Roland, Jr., and Robert, Jr., have been released, according to the latest official information here this afternoon.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Comment here today on the Chinese situation revealed a doubt on the part of some government officials as to the ability of the Peking government to bring about the release of Americans and other foreigners taken prisoner by Chinese bandits and to pay ransom demanded.

It was pointed out that none of Minister Schurman's reports had shown definitely what motive inspired the brigands. Whether they sought ransom in cash or recognition and immunity was said to be a question, the answer to which would throw considerable light on the central government's ability to fulfill the obligations it has assumed.

Information on this point is expected from Mr. Schurman.

While the resources available to the Peking authorities are understood to be sufficient to ransom the prisoners in cash, it was pointed out that unless the money was paid by Saturday, the progressive indemnity demanded by the diplomatic corps for every day the prisoners remain captive after that, if continued over a period of a few weeks probably would exhaust the finances of the central government.

An official report from the Peking foreign office, the first to be received here, was communicated by Minister Sze in person to Secretary Hughes today, soon after his arrival in Washington from China. The report said the Chinese government was doing all in its power to effect an adjustment of the situation, and Secretary Hughes was understood to have expressed gratification at the promise made by Peking, but reiterated his primary determination that the American prisoners should be freed, and delivered unharmed.

Reports that the bandits had released all women captives were confirmed by the receipt of dispatches from the American legation in Peking, establishing that Mrs. Seaton and Miss Auld, two American tourists from Manila, were on the wrecked train and still were unaccounted for.

Press reports from China, however, said that the two army officers had escaped and the two women were safe in Shanghai.

LOCALS

Sanford merchants don't you cry, Wall Street got it in the eye. Who'd have thought that wooden checks Could be hung round brokers' necks? Their heads no longer are inflated. For the real hicks have been located.

Capt. M. W. Lovell is home for a few days from his orange grove at Orange Bend near Leesburg. Capt. Lovell expects to come back to Sanford to remain as soon as he can arrange everything at his grove property to leave it for a time.

F. D. Merrill, of Minneapolis, Minn., is in the city making preparations for the big sale at D. L. Thraasher's. This sale, which promises to be a record-breaker, starts Friday morning, and will be advertised from here to there with large 2-page posters, a duplicate of which will appear in the Herald tomorrow. If Mr. Merrill knows one-half as much about putting on a sale as he does about getting up a striking advertisement, the sale will be a real humdinger. Watch for the announcing ad tomorrow.

You will notice a large advertisement in the Herald today telling you a few of the multitude of real bargains offered at the Piggly-Wiggly. Manager Hamrick is observing the half-holiday on Thursday, but he has adopted an easy plan to keep the total business of the week up to the former figure. He simply puts in an ad each Wednesday telling of the good things offered for Thursday morning and says he does as much business that morning with his ad as he does any other day without advertising. This is just a tip to the wise business man—and we pass it on.

LIBRARY BUILDING STARTED

The Library building has been started and the foundations are now being laid for the same. The frame building that stood at the corner of Fifth street and Oak avenue has been moved to the rear of the lot and placed thereon and the space for the new library building is now clear for the operations that will mean a fine library for Sanford. This location is one of the best in the city and is in the "quiet sector" if there is such a thing in busy Sanford, being opposite the hospital and the Central Park and on a corner that is very valuable and very beautiful, being lined with fine shade trees and on the park.

DEATH OF MRS. JANE HARPER

The death of Mrs. Jane Harper, the widow of Andrew Harper, occurred this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jennie Vaughan, on Sanford Heights. Although staying so closely at home during especially her later years in life, she had many true and loving friends who admired her strong Christian virtues, and faith. She leaves two children, the Rev. Andrew Harper of Mansfield, Pa., and Mrs. Jennie Harper, of this city, who will especially feel the keenness of her sorrow.

The funeral will be held from her late home on Sanford Heights tomorrow morning, (Thursday) at 10:30 a. m.; the Rev. Peck, of Holy Cross officiating.

DOES THE AUTOMOBILE MEAN PROSPERITY?

Counting the number of automobiles seen on one of our principal thoroughfares the other day a friend said to us that he feared they meant hardship and poverty to so many of the owners.

Perhaps for the few, but not for the many.

It seems to us that the growing use of the automobile means an increasing prosperity for the great mass of the people for they give remunerative employment to so many. The purchase price is not like money thrown away but it may be reckoned as bread cast upon the waters that will return again many fold.

This money finds its way into so many pockets—it may also be likened to the blood circulating through so many arteries and enriching all the arteries through which it passes and giving strength to the body.

The wood, steel and iron manufacturers and those who employ, get their share; the tinner, the painter and laborers in so many shops and foundries, get their share; the bookkeepers and assistants, the salesmen, the courtes, the courtes, the insurance agents and so many others (thirst); even the newspaper come in for a good size share and the state and general government are likewise participants for in this state alone the license tax has climbed up to and beyond six figures. So the purchase price acts as an endless irrigating chain enriching and making glad all those whom it touches.

Speaking of the automobile Mr. Arthur Brisbane says:

"A nation with automobiles, compared to a nation lacking them, is like a nation of creeping turtles."

Every month this nation produces more motor cars than the total number now existing in Great Britain. Think that over. We have more than ten million cars, one for every ten people. Britain has 314,769." Ocala Banner.

With his "Show of Mystic Wonders," he has made eight world tours and not long since revisited the land of his birth, where he was warmly welcomed by his Mahatma Masters, by whom he is called "The White Mahatma."

From 15,000 to 20,000 acres of citrus groves are being planted in Polk county this season, according to reports that have been received at the headquarters of the Florida Citrus Exchange. Trees are being planted so fast in the county that two crews of inspectors for the State Plant Board advise it is all they can do to keep up with them.

Foreign Advertising Representative, THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

It is 101 degrees in California and 38 in North Dakota. You can take your choice of these two or come to Florida where it is 50 nearly the year round and a choice breeze blowing all the time.

The Federation of Womens Clubs is meeting in Atlanta and some of our Sanford ladies are there. We opine they will let them know what kind of folks we raise down here in the peculiar state of Florida.

The sufferers from the recent storm along the gulf coast are getting relief through a subscription raised a few hours after the storm had passed away. You can bank on the good people of Florida putting out the money every time.

A famous astronomer says that this will be a hot summer. He is speaking of the northern states and not of Florida. There has never been a summer in Sanford at least where one could not sleep if they were situated to get the breezes that always blow from some point almost every night in the year. And this is true of almost every point in Florida.

Now for a long pull and a pull together for the boat basin, the library building, the paved streets, the sewers, the bulkheaded lake front, the many new apartment houses and all the many improvements that will be made this summer. And there are several streets on Sanford Heights that should be paved in order to make them the full length from Tenth street to Hughey. Let the good work go right along. It is making Sanford a Greater City in every way.

THE EDITOR IS AWAY.

When you read these lines the editor of the Herald will be many miles on his way toward Tallahassee where he will spend two days attending the meeting of the Florida Press Association and the Associated Dailies in the capital of the great state of Florida. The legislature has been getting through a few bills in a half hearted manner awaiting our coming and after Friday at which time we expect to reach Tallahassee there will be a noticeable change in the passage of laws and a general speeding up of the legislative machine. Of course we shall visit the two wonderful houses while there and tell the legislators what we think about things in general and nothing in particular and on Saturday night at the Woman's College the newspaper men will tell the legislators what they think of them but our big time will be taken up with problems of the printing business in which it will be the aims of the newspaper men to grow two subscribers where one grew before and kill three anonymous letter writers where they only crippled one before.

We shall enjoy Tallahassee as we always do and enjoy west Florida as we always do and expect to stop all along the way and sample the various kinds of drinking water—using it for the radiator only and we shall also stop and see all the newspaper men on the way home and expect to reach Sanford again some time during the late summer or fall. If any bill collectors call during our absence the office cat will inform them that we will be away until next Christmas but in reality it will not be quite that long.

And it is good to get away from the grind of the daily newspaper office for a few days and see something new. While we are gone John McWhorter will write some editorials, Dr. Carpenter will write some, and Harry Neel will do his part, and Bob Pearman of the Chamber of Commerce will fill the paper with news items and all our friends are invited to do likewise.

HOT SUMMER?

This summer will be a hot one, despite the late spring which has been caused by the sun giving off 4 per cent less heat than normally. So predicts Dr. Charles F. Brooks, the astronomer.

The reduced heat of the sun was to be expected, says Dr. Brooks, as a customary part of the "11-year sun spot period" which reached its greatest development in 1917 and recedes to its lowest point in 1923.

Brooks points out that the sun every 11 years normally goes through a period of excessive activity and then a recession from it. When Old Sol is hitting on all cylinders, sun spots appear. Those wane when the sun slows down and its engine cools. Not scientific terminology, but we trust we've interpreted it so it is understandable by the millions who are tremendously interested in the weather but haven't time to "study up" on astronomy.

These spurts of activity (increased heat followed by sub-normal heat) are staged by the sun every 11 years. There was an abnormal radiation of heat from the sun in 1906 the same as 11 years later in 1917.

The next cycle will have its climax in 1928.

Dr. Brooks says: "There is a paradox that 'the cooler the sun the warmer the earth.' The period of sun spot maximum is one to two degrees cooler than otherwise."

One scientific explanation is that when the sun has a mild chill, as at present, its ultra-violet rays have greater opportunity to escape through the sun's atmosphere. These ultra-violet rays form a blanket of ozone around the earth, far overhead. This ozone blanket absorbs and holds much of the heat which the earth radiates or gives off. (The radiation is what makes the nights cool even after a hot day.) The earth's heat starts returning back into space and the ozone blanket tends to keep it near us, the same as a thermos bottle.

So, says Dr. Brooks, there probably is at present a reduced loss of the earth's heat through space, despite a reduction of the amount of heat we're receiving from the sun. The ozone, former overhead by nature to counteract the sun's chill, works like asbestos around a steam pipe.

"The net result," Dr. Brooks concludes, referring to the coming summer, "should be a higher temperature, considering the world as a whole, than at the time a year or two ago when the heat received was greater."

Even the facetious who say, "Ain't nacher wonderful!" will have to marvel at nature's marvelous system of checks and balances revealed in this ozone insulation now forming above our head to compensate for reduced sun-heat and keep us from acute suffering.—Tampa Times.

WORTH WHILE SESSION.

A Philadelphia judge gave a wealthy clubman a sentence of ten years in the state penitentiary after he had pleaded guilty to having killed three persons with his automobile while driving his machine while he was intoxicated. The court took the view of the situation that solitary confinement would be the "very worst punishment this man can suffer in the constant thought he has snuffed out three lives."

The punishment may seem severe to some people, but it is hardly out of keeping with the crime. Something has to be done with reckless and careless automobile drivers. Those who attempt to run their cars while in a state of intoxication, are almost as much of a public menace as a man would be who gets drunk and runs amuck with a loaded gun. We have come to the place in our lives as a people when if we refuse to learn the lesson of being careful we shall have to pay the price for our disregard for the laws of the state and nation. There are accidents of course which perhaps are impossible of avoidance. The law takes care of such affairs. But in the case of this Philadelphia man it was necessary to teach a worthwhile lesson not only for his own good but for the good of others.—Exchange.

A Citrus Marketing Machine planned to conform with Florida Conditions

In organizing and building up the Florida Citrus Exchange, we, the growers who compose it, have been determined to develop a sales machine capable of handling to advantage all the grapefruit and oranges we produce.

We have recognized fully that our profits depend upon the advantage to which we sell the bulk of our production—we have realized that we cannot make money just by selling a small part of our output at high prices.

Also we have kept in mind the large proportion of goldens and russets, as compared with brights and fancy fruit, in the grapefruit and orange crop of Florida—a proportion not likely to be materially changed in the early future.

Consequently, we have builded our sales department to give equal efficiency in handling citrus fruits of all grades. So well have we succeeded that now it is unnecessary to sell any one grade for less than the fruit is worth in order to get fine prices on another grade.

We could and would do much better for ourselves if we did not have to offer our fruit in competition with the lower prices almost constantly offered by non-cooperative and speculative marketing agencies. And you, who sell through them, would make more money.

Your interests and ours are identical. The interests of no privately-owned marketing concern are allied with your interests. When you sell through any of the speculative or non-cooperative agencies you lose money for yourself and for every other Florida grower.

Why not next season try what cooperative marketing can do for you on citrus fruits?

There are no stockholders, no dividends or individual profits, no initiation fees or dues in the Florida Citrus Exchange. You can become a member if you will but cooperate. Consult the manager of the nearest association or sub-Exchange or write the business manager at Tampa, Florida.

THE COUNTRY NEAR SANFORD IS VERY ATTRACTIVE

The country in Sanford vicinity is well worth considering. This fact is proven by the many investments being made by outsiders. The Wekiva river section in Lake county, but bordering Seminole, is the particular section of which we wish to speak. It lies about ten miles of Sanford near the oil and sand road that leads into Sorrento, borders along the Wekiva river and black waters, which has once been famed as the Indian's haunts and Spanish grants—much of this property is now owned by Mr. Joe Cameron, of Sanford, is the proud possessor of one thousand acres, and Judge T. Pickett Warlaw, of Orlando, eight thousand acres. These two men purchased what is known as the Spanish Grants. Numerous other persons own lands here but of smaller volume than the above mentioned. A concern from Vermont has just recently made investments here, and have located and operating a saw mill, and it is estimated that enough timber is available to keep the mill going for five years. The lands in this section are identical the same as Sanford's whose supremacy through publicity is known throughout the states. There is tens of thousands acres of these raw lands in this suburban district, as fine as the south ever could own, equal in fertility to Florida's best part has already had the timber cut and sawed, while others stand in virgin forest. This community is thinly settled so far, and mostly the settlers are homesteaders or have purchased their belongings from original home-owners, their homes are still as the primal days, also their patches are small, but the yield is great considering the output. These lands at the present time are selling at a very nominal price, really, considering the fertility of soil, nearness to good roads to Sanford and future greatness in store, these lands are now "dirt cheap." In a few years the fate of increased value is doomed to fall on this particular fertile region, and the ones who have an insight of future values, will be immensely rich. Outsiders one by one are seeing the opportunity which now exists in this district, and are becoming owners of both large and small tracts. The time is not far, evident, when by the hand of man backed with coin, this country will be put into a producing state whereby the state's wealth will greatly increase.

This district has the advantages of the famous flowing wells, which Sanford also boasts.

Man is not necessarily selfish but at the same time, he may invite you to think so. The people who live in this district never comment on its worth and only as a matter of fact take life as a song. Possibly we would not be exaggerating when we say that to us the yearper as in a "garden of plenty," joy and ease, for today and rest for tomorrow.

It is true their homes are not luxurious, but meagre and just what they want. "They work not, neither do they spin." The writer some time ago was permitted the pleasure of a little talk with one of a family who lives in this section. How is hunting? Is there any game? The answer came back in an unconcerned way, "Seen a few quail lately," "saw a turkey down near the river last winter." If you are any sportsman, how dare you try it out in this locality unless you want to come home with bear, turkey or deer. Of course, one's eyes are made to use and if we are any judge, this district is one of Florida's best hunting grounds and will be until it is more solidly developed. We do not blame the natives not to boast of their territory, neither do we blame them for not inviting you into their hunting grounds, for if they did how soon might it be gobbled up. Of course we feel we would be more charitable in our treatment to others if we had such a paradise at our feet. Yet history does not teach us we would. So we do not credit the people of this locality with selfishness but we do say they seem a little secretive.

Indeed, this Sanford, Wekiva river section, or whatever it pleases you to call it, is a beautiful, bountiful, magnificent world, on which you are surrounded on every hand by new beauties for the eye and grandeur for the mind. The wealth of nature is surely spilled by a beneficial providence in this territory.

Progress is sure coming this way and when time gets this district perfected in development, the owners will then, no doubt, say "I am the heir of the twentieth century and great is the Creator who planned it so. Therefore it behooves every man and woman to meditate on present values, opportunities and future possibilities of the Wekiva river section, west of Sanford, Fla.

These facts represents that Sanford is the "City Substantial" and this is a part of her outlying opportunities and territory, which is just over in Lake county and part in Seminole.

MRS. E. C. BRAY.

FLASHES OF FLORIDA FACTS.

By Moses Folsom. More and more our highways are being used by tourists and home folks in automobiles. These highways should be beautiful with trees, and the sooner each community gets to work the sooner our roads will be beautiful, and attract more people. Florida has more kinds of trees than any other state and people from the prairie and plains states will come in greater numbers every year to see our trees and enjoy our climate if we take advantage of our opportunities to beautify.

The St. Petersburg Chamber of commerce reports that 27,825 winter visitors registered in the Sunshine City during the past season, compared with 20,294 during the 1921-1922 season. Forty-two American states and nine foreign countries were represented among the tourists.

The last biennial report of State Treasurer J. C. Luning is an interesting document. It is a financial history of the state government for the last two years. It shows that the state had on hand at the beginning of 1923 a balance of $2,459,197.78, distributed in 63 different funds. The total receipts during 1922 amounted to $14,331,600 and disbursements $11,913,011.89. It takes system, accuracy and bookkeeping to handle the money of the state. The state debt is $601,597, all at home, merely one fund owing that amount to another fund. Mr. Luning is insurance commissioner, and says that in 43 years since statistics have been kept fire insurance companies have collected in net premiums from policyholders in this state $72,740,707 and have returned in fire losses $38,113,525, or 52.4 per cent of the total collections. The state insures its own property under a fund created in 1917 and carries $4,182,292 on 23 buildings at this time with a saving of over $20,000 a year, the net profit to January 1, 1923, being $110,140.10.

Major John McElroy, the veteran editor of the National Tribune, Washington, D. C., and a former commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, recently gave Florida a splendid boost in his paper saying among other things that the "Wealth ceeds the products of the mines of California." It was through his efforts, together with his associates on the Tribune, that the flourishing towns of St. Cloud and Lynn Haven in this state were founded.

Crooked Lake, in Polk county, is now known as Babson Park, in honor of the famous northern statistician and economist, who owns a large block of property there. Roger Babson has been all over the United States, knows the conditions and shows his judgment by investing in Florida.

Military training camps for training young men between 17 and 25 years of age will be operated during the month of August at Fort Barrances, Pensacola, Fla., Camp McClellan, Alabama, and Camp Bragg, North Carolina. No expense is connected with this opportunity for an outing and training. Write to Col. R. L. Boyd, Jacksonville, Fla., for particulars.

The Florida legislature has passed a law to substitute electrocution for the hanging in the infliction of the death penalty. It provides a location of the electric chair, and it is thought that it will be at the state prison farm at Raiford, with 25 persons to be summoned as witnesses.

A. I. Root, the veteran editor of "Gleanings in Bee Culture," the 50th anniversary of which was celebrated in January, died April 29, at his summer home, Medina, Ohio. For many years he had spent his winters at Bradentown, Fla., where he had a fine home. Mr. Root was an earnest advocate of bee culture in this state and never missed an opportunity to say something good about Florida. He was past 80 years of age and left Bradentown for his Ohio home early in April. His influence for good will linger long in the world.

Altogether the New England states are a little larger in area than the State of Florida but the legislatures of these states have combined membership of 139 senators and 1,399 representatives. New Hampshire leads in number of lawmakers with 24 senators and 404 representatives. Rhode Island has 39 senators and 100 representatives.

Henry Nehrling of Naples, Lee county, the well known botanist, is writing a series of articles for the American Eagle of Estero, on shade trees for south Florida. Among them he names the Banyan tree of India, one of the most celebrated trees of the world, where often one individual tree will shade and occupy an acre or more of land and rest on a hundred or more stems, the main stem or trunk often having a diameter of fifty to sixty feet. Prof. Nehrling has one growing on his grounds, but it is still young.

According to the report of one of the great building corporations, engaged in keeping tab on American construction, Florida for the first quarter of 1923 lead the south in per capita building operations. The figures give the value of building contracts awarded in this state in January, February and March at $14,451,000.
