LONDON, Dec. 18.—The ward movement in the condition of King George which was broken by a slight slip late Monday, was progressing favorably, but only this afternoon, it was noted by Buckingham Palace officials.

The King is still in a state of extreme exhaustion. He took his last walk just four weeks ago and has not been able to do so since. In the King's condition late yesterday was at attempt to discontinuance of the use of sedatives. No sedatives have been administered in 18 hours. The physicians are trying to keep the King going about them.

A more favorable bulletin on the condition of King George was issued by the royal physicians yesterday afternoon.

In spite of the King having had a disturbed night, there is a slight improvement in both the mental and physical conditions," the physicians stated.

Mr. Hugh R. Flory, who was present at the palace, said that he had learned that the King had been unable to get out of bed for two days.

During the disturbance caused by the King's collapse, the Queen had been unable to leave the palace, although she was present throughout the entire period.

Mr. Stanley Hewitt, who was present at the palace yesterday morning, said that the Queen had been unable to leave the palace throughout the entire period.

Mr. Hewitt added that although the King had been unable to get out of bed for two days, he was able to move about the room during the entire period.

Murderer Of Florida Student Has Escaped

High State Tribunal
Upholds Court Here
In L. K. D. Inc. Case

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 18.—(INS)—Police today were convinced the negro slayer of N. V. Lyon Gasque, 20 year old student of the University of Florida, had made good his escape from the city.

It was officially stated the cabin will remain with the cabin of premier Stanley Held over the Christmas holidays the various numbers can told into competition should emergency arise.

First Program Given
With Address System

The municipal public address was used for the first time night with only a small audience present. The entertainment was more the nature of a test of the apparatus that at a later date a full dedication would take place.

A number of spectators, picked from the eastern radio hookups, were last night and many expressed delight with the entertainment.

E. F. Hostetter said this meant that another program will be given within a few days.

20 YEARS OR MORE

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—(INS)— Rico, 18, "the slayer" who confessed slaying his 15 year old sweetheart Alice Jost prepared to spend at least the next two years in prison.

The boy, who apparently planned to murder his girl friend in the after his trial had been over five hours, will be sentenced Thursday.

LADY NORTHEM WEDS

LONDON, Dec. 18.—(INS)—
Lady Northem, formerly Miss Jessica Brown, of Buffalo, N. Y., a Ziegfeld Folies beauty, was married here today to Vivian Collins, a wealthy young Englishman, and honorary attaché to the British Embassy in Brussels.

The story of the marriage

In a memorandum decision, with our opinion, the Supreme Court yesterday affirmed the orders and decree of the circuit court in the case of E. H. Ashford, receiver for the Seminole County Bank against Ernest Lake, A. H. Key and wife, Elaine H. Key, George A. DeLoach and wife, Myrla DeLoach, and L.
K. D. Inc., a corporation.

The tribunal affirmed the judgment of the lower court in sustaining the demurrer filed by Mr. De Loach before Judge J. C. B. Knapp of Tavares, who acted because of the disqualification of Judge Wallace W. Wright.

In the chancery proceedings, the bank receiver sought to recover certain property owned by Lake and Key to satisfy claims of indebtedness held by the Seminole County Bank. Charges of fraud were alleged in the transfer property and assignment of mortgages from Lake and Key to the L. K. D.
Inc.

CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—(INS)—
A black powder bomb damaged the home of Lawrence V.
King, senior member of the East Baptist Board. The front porch of the King home was blown away and windows within a radius of several blocks were shattered by the blast.

King and his five children, four of whom are girls, were in bed at the time. All escaped injury.
The auxiliary district trustee, who was committee man of his group, lied "polite" for the attack on his home. He said he had no personal enemies that he knew of.

GATORS' CONDUCT ON FIELD LAUDED BY VOL OFFICIALS

Clean Play And Fine Sportsmanship Are Shown In Knoxville

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA GAINESVILLE, Dec. 17.—(Athletic News Bureau)—Florida's "fighting Gators" brought forth many splendid compliments on their beautiful sportsmanship during the 1928 season, and the wonderful spirit in which they accepted the heart-breaking defeat at the hands of the University of Tennessee, occasioned widespread commendation of the Gators.

Of particular value are two letters received by Dr. John James Tidert, president of the University of Florida, from President H. A. Martin, and Dean of Men, F. M. Murphy of the University of Tennessee, in which they acclaimed the heart-breaking defeat at the hands of the University of Tennessee, occasioned widespread commandation of the Gators.

Dr. Martin wrote: "Everybody is praising your boys for outstanding sportsmanship and smart playing. Your soul would have been nourished and you seen the behavior of all of the players to their opponents. Your team has had excellent coaching in what your colleagues should stand for in strenuous athlete contests—as well as in the art of football. It excels in both."

Institution and team relationships are so much more vital to the contributions college athletes are to make to college objectives and return state objectives than who wins. The game Saturday was fine evidence of this."

In his letter to Dr. Tidert, Dean Stanley wrote: "While I know you are disappointed that your boys lost, I feel quite sure that you would have been very happy to have witnessed their exemplary conduct, both in the grand, stand and in their uniforms. It is the consensus opinion here that no group of finer boys has appeared on our field in many years. Knowing that you place more value upon conduct of this kind than upon the winning or losing of a game, I am very happy to give you these facts."

Florida's athletic teams have always been noted for their thorough sportsmanship and clean play, and in victory or defeat, their conduct has ever been praiseworthy. The messages from the University of Tennessee to Dr. Tidert are especially pleasing to all Floridians.

TILDEN BELIEVED TO HAVE PLAYED LAST BIG MATCH

Violation Of Player-Writer Rule Again Comes To Forefront

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service
Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—William Tilden, Cup, probably has played his last international game of tennis, if the latest player-writer version is written into the records in February, as planned. This decision was made in the writer's presence today by a man sufficiently identified with the game to be called him.

Tilden's usual fighting record is about 119-1. He has won 100 games in the last 100 days, and he has won 100 consecutive games in the last 100 days. The Philadelphia Cup is expected to take about 100-100, or more than the 100-100 he has won.

Another allegation was to the effect that the Tennis Association means to demand a guarantee of absolute obedience from Tilden before it will reinstate him. A third was that he would have been ineligible to resume competition at the executive committee's meeting in December 6, if it hadn't been for the action of the Philadelphia district, which vacated his disqualification.

Because he was and is a suspended player, this action was deemed to have been in bad taste, and, consequently, those members of the committee who were supposed to feel that Tilden had paid his debt to the dignity of tennis understood to have suffered a change of attitude overnight.

"Keep him on the ground while I go," is said to have been the prevailing reaction to the so-called "over act" of the Philadelphia district. And, on the ground he is. In fact, he may be half to flat on his face.

Persecution, probably is the public's estimate of the tennis association's treatment of Tilden to date. What it will trim the best now in the game is a matter of some curiosity. By the terms of the current player-writer plan, as outlined at the executive committee meeting, Tilden either will be driven out of the writing game altogether or he will be driven out of international competition.

The proposed legislation bears marks of outward innocence but actually it is not without its guile. It merely says that no player, man or woman, will be allowed to write, train, or be allowed to write, train, or be allowed to publish from the moment of his or her appointment to an American international team to the moment the matches come over. For Miss Helen Wills, the new version means nothing.

The Wightman Cup matches come only two or three days.

WAR BLAMED ON OIL

BERLIN, Dec. 17.—(INS)—German newspapers today charged that American oil interests are behind the Bolivian-Paraguayan conflict. "New York does not care for the League of Nations," commented the Communist Weltan Ahdem. War is outlawed, but oil wells are not. "Whatever the result is, all street will be the real winner in this war," said Nitzevengen.

Loughran To Fight 1st Battle Tonight In Heavy Division

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—(INS)—

Tommy Loughran, who is looking for new worlds to conquer, will make his first start as a heavyweight here tonight in a 10-round decision with "Big Boy" Peterson of New Orleans.

With the advance sale of tickets said to total close to $25,000, the show is expected to draw the largest gate of the current indoor season. It will be staged at the coliseum under the direction of promoter Mike Malloy.

Loughran is understood, will forfeit his light heavyweight crown if he steps into the ring against the weightier with a heavy-weight contract. The Philadelphian is expected to take about 100-100, or more than the 100-100 he has won.

General protest at the present time is directed toward the present political situation returning from the election as the largest individual entity in the House, but namely, refers to the combination forces of Labor and Liberalism in the Senate. Premier Baldwin would refuse to return office.

Labor's Hopes

During the recent election, it would appear that Labor is likely to be returned as a clear-cut to the Conservatives. The admission of nearly 5,000,000 new

POLITICAL BODIES OF GREAT BRITAIN GET SET FOR POLL

Campaign For General Election Next Year Occupies Much Time

Women—voters to the register—every woman over 21 is now qualified to vote—is expected to aid this state of affairs materially.

The Liberals, whose organization has been systemized and considerably improved by Sir Herbert Samuel, the best political organizer in Britain, and whose finances are almost unlimited, are certain to poll a ready 25 per cent of the electorate, far above their total of the last election. David Lloyd George believes that he will have the deciding choice when the government has to be formed. But although his position is certain to be a strong one, few believe that he will ever exercise power as Premier of Britain again.

The main weakness of the present Government is that the chief plank in their platform will be an unpopular measure for improving the status of municipal bodies. It is complicated, almost unintelligible, and what can be understood of it is bitterly opposed. Their record of foreign policy has led to great unpopularity throughout the country. Apart from this there is no legislative achievement.

Unemployment Issue

Labor, on the other hand, will take the present state of unemployment as the main issue and want a constructive program to combat it.

Political reform. In the present state of financial distress in Great Britain it is certain to make a strong appeal. The Liberals will appeal to the tax on a platform for the re-cance of agriculture in Britain. This may give them a heavy percentage of the farming vote.

Altogether, although his party seems likely to be in a small minority Ramsey MacDonald appears to be the most probable next premier of Britain.

DEVELOPS TREATY

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 18.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

PRAYER—Glory to God in the Highest and on earth peace and good will among men.

TO CERTAIN BOSTONIANS

In the Nation—
Secure on your seats you sit, the little while Yet left you of your session among men;
But ah, the insecurity of the walls;
With which you prize your carefulness again!
Again, again, and still again, till death
Shall relieve you of the tombstone in your minds,
You use the measured syllables of breath;

But naught of all that you are saying blinds
To unmerry a merciful world, O righteous five.
Though you be judge or governor or president,
You could not bear that men should stay alive
Who would not mean to life the things you meant—

But in the human heart, consider now

Secure they sit and sit, forever now.

By WITTER BYNNER

Mrs. Etta Mae Miller, mother of ten children, has been sentenced to six imprisonment for selling whiskey. It was the fourth time she had been convicted. She is the only woman called the martyr of the prohibition laws.

Dow George will again be at the Winter Park Golf Club as professional for the winter season. Sanford people remember Dow when he used to come to Sanford to play with his brother Otis George who a few years ago was the professional here.

We remember an old gag in 1918 about how the flu epidemic got started. "Someone left the window open and in-flu-enza." We sincerely hope no one leaves the window open in Sanford this winter, especially if it is going to cause any very serious draught.

Orville Wright got a big hand in Kitty Hawk yesterday. Twenty-five years ago, Wright and his brother, Wilbur, left the ground for the first time in what to a small extent resembled what we call an airplane. In this quarter of a century, Wright has seen his crude wings developed into something almost perfect.

Communists in Uruguay gave Moscow the raspberry yesterday as they made down the streets of Montevideo flanked by rows of cavalrymen marching head-to-tail. Apparently the Reds did not like Marines marching in Nicaragua. But Americans will not take offense. We assume that rude children do not know any better.

The high school student body of Sanford issued Saturday's edition of the Sanford Herald, a 24-page paper that is a credit to both The Herald and the school. Without cast any reflections whatever, Dean Deeney would do well to let students get out every edition of the paper sold the Saturday's Lake Worth Herald.

King is convalescing. The King of Britain's vast domains more easily. The people's nations are also glad. Englands are relieved as last Christmas shopping will be.

The Prince of Wales, who is recovering from a mere scratch, has decided to have a relationship with the King. He is the son of the King while the King is the son of the Queen.

Another who has been elected to a high office is George H. W. Bush, the Internal Revenue Commissioner, in now been appointed to the Board of Education.

Another type is the youngster, sometimes 14 to 16, who is selling newspapers. Some of them are girls, who in selling newspapers, claim that they have a relationship with the newspaper. These young people are not to be taken seriously, as they are not able to sell their papers.

Another who has been elected to a high office is George H. W. Bush, the Internal Revenue Commissioner, in now been appointed to the Board of Education.

Mrs. Owen's Citizenship

The Herald has never had any doubt as to the status of Ruth Bryan Owen as a citizen of the United States, but from time to time there have been broadcast throughout this district rumors to the effect that she could not meet the citizenship requirements of the office to which she was elected last month. The question was raised when Mrs. Owen first ran for Congress and was defeated; it was raised again last summer when she sought the Democratic nomination and was successful. Now since she has been formally chosen over a Republican opponent the claim is repeated.

With so much talk on the subject, the public has been misled. Some of Mrs. Owen's supporters have no doubt raised the question in their own minds and wondered what is the truth. The Herald, therefore, is pleased to repudiate definitely the claim that she is not entitled to her place in Congress. The Tampa Tribune in a timely editorial on the subject notes that all of the rumors are based on the contention that Mrs. Owen, by her marriage to a British subject, had thus forfeited citizens' rights. The Tribune's answer in part is as follows:

"The Constitution reads: 'No person shall be a Representative who shall not have attained the age of 25 years and been seven years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not when elected be an inhabitant of the state in which he is chosen.'

"Mrs. Owen was a citizen of the United States more than 25 years before she married Major Owen. An old act of Congress provided that American women who married foreigners should forfeit their citizenship. This act was repealed by an act of Congress, known as the Rogers act, which became effective September 22, 1922. The Rogers act repealed all former acts affecting the citizenship of women and provides 'that any woman who has resumed there, under citizenship lost by marriage shall have for all purposes the citizenship status as immediately preceding her marriage.'

"This act gives Mrs. Owen a lifetime of continuous American citizenship. It removes all question as to her eligibility to occupy the seat in the House of Representatives to which the people of her district have elected her."

Christmas Holly

With the approach of another Christmas season The Herald wishes again to point out to its readers a law enacted in the last session of the legislature which prohibits the cutting of holly for purposes of decoration. This law was enforced for the first time last Christmas, and it is expected that it will be even more successfully enforced this year, as a campaign of education which has been carried on during the past twelve months will doubtless reduce very greatly the number of those who would attempt to violate the law.

Florida holly, with its brilliantly green pointed leaves and bright red berries, most certainly is one of this state's most beautiful plants and has been used with great artistic effect in decorations, but this very quality which it possesses in unusual abundance has been the necessity for a law prohibiting the cutting of holly. Each Christmas season thousands and thousands of Florida families, filled with the Yuletide spirit, wishing to decorate their homes, went to the woods in quest of holly.

As a result Florida's supply was year after year being greatly depleted until the Florida Federation of Woman's Clubs, realizing that at the present rate, it would not be long until there would not be a sprig of holly left in the state set about the task of getting the legislature to pass a law against holly cutting. This law was finally passed in the 1927 session of the legislature.

Now it is proposed to have the law extended to include other shrubs and trees which are in danger of extermination. Many thousands of small pines are cut each year, almost at the seedling stage, to be used to lie presents on, in a glorious custom, but so many trees are being destroyed in this way that unless something is done about it Florida will likely be a barren state in a comparatively few years.

Those who have the real future of Florida at heart will co-operate with the Woman's Club federation in its fight to save the trees of Florida. It is fine to decorate the homes for Christmas, but not at the risk of exterminating the very thing which we consider most beautiful for such decoration.

UNDESIRABLE WINTER VISITORS

DELAND NEWS

This is the time of the year when Florida is the mecca for northern adventurers who are optimistic enough to believe they can live on their wits down here.

DeLand homes were broken into early yesterday morning and, as the owners of the residences visited say, it must have been a stranger or two strangers, as even a burglar ought to know that the gentlemen in question aren't obliged to keep their surplus cash at home these days, as the banking facilities are ample to meet their requirements.

Yesterday afternoon a stranger was soliciting alms in front of the courthouse. He was able-bodied and there seemed to be no good excuse why he shouldn't be seeking employment instead of charity. In good physical condition, he presented a striking contrast to an unfortunate musician who, a few feet away, was striving to furnish entertainment in return for a few pennies.

In addition to the burglars and the beggars, we have the usual number of house-to-house peddlers who offer questionable merchandise of doubtful value. Some of these sharpers try to induce prospective buyers to believe that unusual bargains are being offered. One will state that his stuff is salvaged from a bankrupt sale; another will claim his wares have been imported into the country without his country's Federal tax stamp, and there are even those who will only intimate that the customer can get something good because the goods were stolen.

DeLand prides itself on being a respectable, orderly community of houses, schools and churches. Many householders boast that they never have to lock their doors or windows at night. This feeling of security must be maintained. It is our hope that there will be no more reports of two residents having been broken into during one single night or morning. Residents of this section are requested to co-operate with the authorities by taking unusual precautions until we again feel confident that DeLand continues to be a secure community during the hours of darkness.

Another type is the youngster, sometimes 14 to 16, who is selling newspapers. Some of them are girls, who in selling newspapers, claim that they have a relationship with the newspaper. These young people are not to be taken seriously, as they are not able to sell their papers.

Another who has been elected to a high office is George H. W. Bush, the Internal Revenue Commissioner, in now been appointed to the Board of Education.

This Afternoon

"And the thoughts of men are widened
With the process of the suns."

With all respect to the influenza preventative described here yesterday, Dr. W. A. Mackenzie of Leesburg has one which is better because, he says, it not only cures or prevents influenza but also aids Florida grapefruit. We are not conducting a medical advice column but when as intelligent a man as Dr. Mackenzie speaks on as pertinent a subject as influenza with as patriotic a by-word as grapefruit, we hurry to our quotation marks. Here is his prescription: "Put patient to bed, give no food, plenty of water, plenty of fresh air, no purgatives, keep warm with bed clothing. Give juice of from five to fifteen grapefruit daily. Between times of grapefruit juice, foot with it; give bicarbonate of soda, first dose teaspoonful in glass of water, then quarter of teaspoonful in glass of water every three to four hours."

The influenza germ, says Dr. Mackenzie, develops in an acid medium. Grapefruit and soda render the body alkaline. For pain, influenza an occasional Ben-gay aspirin tablet is beneficial!

The last time we saw Dr. Mackenzie he was running for governor of Florida. The most recent written word from his pen which we read appeared in his daily column of comment in the Leesburg Commercial and had to do with the unwholesomeness of the masculine line. The last news story of him which we saw reported his selection as head of an important financial institution in Leesburg. Upon what meat does this man feed? We can see his appetite is strong. Instead, the state's expenditures in four years have increased practically three-fold.

A well-informed Floridian communicates to the Tribune his belief that the present expenditures of the state can be reduced $10,000,000 annually, without affecting seriously the efficiency of the government or its various agencies.

Certain it is that the state's "overhead" must be materially reduced, whether to the extreme stated or in lesser degree. But it must be done.

If a careful survey of the state's present governmental machinery could be made, it would reveal numerous cases in which expenses could be cut many thousands of dollars—and the people would never note the difference so far as the operation of the government is concerned.

As one instance, the state now has more Circuit Courts than it

The last time we saw Dr. Mackenzie he was running for governor of Florida. If a careful survey of the state's present governmental machinery could be made, it would reveal numerous cases in which expenses could be cut many thousands of dollars—and the people would never note the difference so far as the operation of the government is concerned.

The great task of the incoming administration, aided by the next Legislature, will be to wade into this intolerable situation and "clean out" the unnecessary and extravagant bureaus, boards and agencies which have brought the state in a few years from a cash surplus of millions in its treasury to the emergency of borrowing a half million dollars to pay current expenses.

The state government must be "put on its feet." In this Governor Carlton will have a wonderful opportunity and an unavoidable responsibility.

We have inspectors for this, that and the other thing, who, if they kept on the job, could do all their work in one month and have 11 months left for rest, recreation and "talking politics."

It is to be hoped, though, that the Kellogg treaty will be ratified, because it does place another obstacle in the path of war, even though it may prove to be a slight one. It is another case in which "every little bit helps." And this is true. If this treaty is accepted in good faith by all the nations and lived up to probabilities of war will be almost entirely removed.

The position of the United States in this matter is a bit nebulous. It is difficult to make other nations believe that we really want peace in view of the fact that the extensive navy building program is in the senate at the same time as the Kellogg treaty, nor, indeed, can a large number of people in this country reconcile the two.

THE KELLOGG TREATY

TAMPA TIMES

Unless something has occurred between the writing and printing of this to upset the schedule the Senate is now considering the Kellogg peace treaty. Senator Borah has predicted that the treaty will easily meet the approval of the Senate. Senator Reed, of Missouri, is reported as seeing danger of "entangling alliances" for which he has such disdain in it, and there are those whose guess is that the Senate will not ratify it without reservations. Were we compelled to hazard a forecast in the premises it would be that Senator Borah's view of the outcome is the correct one.

This treaty was formulated by representatives of Germany, the United States, Belgium, France, Great Britain, Northern Ireland and all parts of the British empire which are not separate members of the League of Nations, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, the Union of South Africa, Italy, Japan, Poland and the Czechoslovak republic. Its essential articles are:

ARTICLE I.—The High Contracting Parties solemnly declare in the names of their respective peoples that they condemn recourse to war for the solution of international controversies, and renounce it as an instrument of national policy in their relations with one another.

ARTICLE II.—The High Contracting Parties agree that the settlement of all disputes or conflicts of whatever nature or of whatever origin they may be, which may arise among them, shall never be sought except by pacific means.

A Play That Liberty Profession

Tampa Times

Newspaper men who have been in New York, and apparently Frank B. Noyes, President of Associated Press, has to say this. That it is a good newspaper reporter and on newspaper profession must be admitted by fair-minded persons. Mr. Noyes is at present at Columbia University, and the latest form of criticism attack that has come to my attention was when I went to the theater a few nights ago and one of the so-called newspaper plays of which newspaper men are fond of talking.

Of this I can only say that I have been a working man for nearly 50 years, and served in almost every capacity in newspaper work in Tampa and Chicago. In that time I have known thousands of newspaper men. If this play gave a picture of real newspaper men anywhere near as bad as it is, never come in contact with them. To me the picture was as to be funny. But even as tragic. I hate to see a lot of cent men maligned and ridiculed that may not know that court reporters are not illiterate, heartless, black-mailing, but on the contrary are entirely trustworthy individuals who are doing their best.

This play pictures the newspaper reporter as drunkard, gullible and garrulous. It makes him stupid and offensive. Oaths before the lines are practically every scene. The concluding episode is unthinkable of a good enough to hold a responsible position on a newspaper. We are glad that Mr. Noyes has given a well-considered opinion of this sort misrepresentation. It is unfortunate that the play appears to be a success, scheduled for a long time. Its authorship and trends should be resented by self-respecting newspaper men everywhere.

Biking permit issued in Plant City during the month of November totalled $5,855, according to figures compiled by G. C. Calfee, building inspector. The large permit was for $1,000 on the building being constructed by the H. C. Calfee Co. in Plant City.

SUCH MUFFINS ARE TOO GOOD TO LAST

So rich and good and yet so light—they almost seem to flutter to the plate. And next time you glance at them, there isn't even one left for "polite-ness" sake!

They're delicious—just as easy to make as to eat!

For Snowdrift it's creamy—it takes almost no time at all to spoon out of the can and measure. It saves your time when you're making cake or pie or biscuit too. Snowdrift is so fluffy you can almost fold it into the other ingredients just like beaten whites of eggs.

Try it in all the things you bake. Just see how snow-white and beautifully fresh it is in the air-tight can. You know to look at it that it must make food taste good.

PLAIN MUFFINS

1 Cupful Snowdrift + 1/2 Teaspoonful Salt
3 Cupfuls Baking Powder + 1/2 Cupful Sugar
2 Cupfuls Flour + 1/2 Cupful Milk + 1 Egg

Six the Snowdrift, gradually adding the eggs and the raw, well-beaten. Mix together the dry ingredients and add them alternately with the milk to the first mixture. Drop into muffin pan well oiled with Snowdrift and bake from twenty-five to thirty minutes in a hot oven (375 degrees F.).
