THE ARMISTICE DANCE

Though the rain dampened things generally the climax of a more than successful day was reached in the dance last evening at the Court House. The halls and stairway were beautifully decorated in palms and the ball room was indeed a gay and festive scene tastefully decorated in a profusion of palms, moss and streamers of blue and gold. The pergola was also attractive in hanging moss, golden rod and shaded lights.

Hartzell's orchestra of Lakeland, furnished the best music Sanford has had the opportunity of dancing by for quite a long time.

The D. A. R.'s assisted the Legion in receiving and caring for the guests. Delicious punch was served by them throughout the evening and sandwiches and coffee were served at a late hour.

There were one hundred and seventy-five couples present at the dance and the riot of color of the gay costumes and large number of men in uniform made a wonderfully attractive picture.

There were two prizes given, one of $15 for the couple with the most attractive costumes, which was won by Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Holly, in gypsy costume, and a prize of $10 for the couple dancing best which was won by Miss Wight dancing with Mr. Muro.

PHILLIPS-RAND

St. Luke's Cathedral was filled this morning at 11:30 o'clock by many friends whose deep interest centered in the wedding of Miss Edith Ralston Rand and Welborn C. Phillips, the marriage service held by Dean Glass and the benediction pronounced by the Rt. Rev. Edwin G. Weed, D. D. Miss Helen Way played a beautiful organ postlude, and immediately before the service Miss Louise Holt sang "At Dawning," by Cadman, her clear, sweet tones rendering this selection most effectively.

The ushers, Messrs. Julian Harris, Gerald Hurlburt, Jack Branham, Leigh Newell and Douglas Phillips, led the bridal party, entering the Cathedral from the west door. Mrs. Miller Phillips, matron of honor, was followed by the bride's maid, Miss Helen Hurlburt, the latter immediately preceding the bride who entered on the arm of her father, Mr. Frederic H. Rand.

The groom, attended by his brother, Miller Phillips, entered from the vestryroom, meeting the bridal party at the choir steps where Dean Glass had the first part of the brief, beautiful service, the final part held at the chancel rail where at its conclusion the young couple knelt to receive the benediction from Bishop Weed.

With the beautiful strains of the wedding march, the bridal party left the church, going direct to the Rand home on Osceola street, where friends crowded to offer heartfelt good wishes and congratulations.

The church was decorated with quantities of beautiful wild flowers, white jessamine and asparagus fern. High above the altar were masses of white and golden blossoms amid soft green, with the same simple yet effective decorations in the choir and on the pews down the center aisle.

Miss Anna Rand greeted the guests at the door of the Rand home, and Mrs. Whitman within introduced them to the receiving line, comprising Mr. Rand, Miss Elizabeth Rand, Bishop Weed, Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Phillips and the bride and groom. A delicious two-course buffet luncheon was served. Mrs. Jas. G. Glass and Miss Marion Cary-Elwes pouring coffee and a number of her near friends assisting in the serving. Exquisite roses and asparagus fern were used with beautiful effect in the large rooms at the home, and all attending enjoyed this happy, informal gathering.

No formal invitations were issued, only the personal message given to friends who could be reached in this way.

Much merriment attended the cutting of the wedding cake by the bride, Miss Grace Warlow receiving the coveted ring, Miss Lucy Gage the dime, while the thimble, unfortunately exposed to view in slicing, was disavowed by all the girls. An eager group waited the throwing of the bride's bouquet from high on the stair-case, Miss Ella Slemons capturing this prize.

Early in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Phillips slipped away by auto, their destination and length of absence unknown.

Especially becoming was the bride's dainty gown of white lace and net, head trimmed, over white satin, with white lace hat and exquisite shower bouquet of white roses. Her traveling suit was an imported costume of dark blue with leather trimming and a becoming blue hat to match.

The matron of honor and bride's maid both wore white lace gowns and carried pink roses.

Both the bride and groom are well known and most popular here, and their friends rejoice that Orlando will continue to be their home.

Mrs. Phillips is the youngest daughter of Mr. Frederic H. Rand. Her sisters, Misses Elizabeth, Anna and Mary Rand, Mrs. Percy Morton and Mrs. Evelyn Maurey, were all here for this event, as was her brother, Frederic H. Rand, Jr., of Miami.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Phillips and is one of Orlando's energetic and efficient young business men.

A host of friends unite in tendering earnest best wishes to this young couple.

Bishop Weed has been a close friend of the Rand family for many years and his presence at this time, to attend the Veterans' reunion, was especially welcomed.—Orlando Reporter-Star.

Six Kinds of Safety

Have you every paused to consider the safety of the bank where you deposit your money?

The first consideration is the capital, which should be ample to meet the requirements of the community the bank is to serve.

The next question to consider is the officers in charge. They should be men of experience, high character and successful. Without men of ability no institution can succeed.

Then there is the question of confidence. The public should have confidence in the officers and in the bank.

These three principles determine the success of a bank.

We adopted these principles in the outset of our career and we expect to live up to this high standard and increase our usefulness to the community as the years go by.

We Offer You:

- 1ST: LARGE CAPITAL AND WORKING RESERVE.
- 2ND: TRAINED MEN IN CHARGE—MEN OF SEVERAL YEARS EXPERIENCE.
- 3RD: THE CONFIDENCE OF THE PUBLIC, WHICH IS PROVEN BY THE DAILY ADDITION TO OUR LINE OF DEPOSITORS.
- 4TH: PROTECTION BY TWO EXAMINATIONS EACH YEAR BY THE STATE BANKING DEPARTMENT, TWO AUDITS EACH YEAR BY AN INDEPENDENT RECOGNIZED PUBLIC AUDIT COMPANY AND TWO SWORN STATEMENTS SUBMITTED TO THE STATE COMPTROLLER BY THE CASHIER, GIVING THE BANK'S CONDITION IN DETAIL, ALL OF WHICH INSURES REGULAR, SYSTEMATIC AND THOROUGH OPERATION OF THE BANK.
- 5TH: THE ADVICE OF A COMPETENT BOARD OF DIRECTORS, WHO MEET WITH THE OFFICERS REGULARLY EACH MONTH AND ADVISE THEM AS TO THE OPERATION OF THE BANK.
- 6TH: INSURANCE OF ALL DEPOSITS EVERY DAY OF THE YEAR, THIS IS A PROTECTION NOT COMMONLY FOUND IN BANKS AND IS AN ABSOLUTE PROTECTION FOR YOUR FUNDS, IN ADDITION TO ALL THE OTHER USUAL SAFEGUARDS.

THESE ARE REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD DO BUSINESS WITH US, AND WE BELIEVE THAT NO BANK CAN OFFER BETTER INDUCEMENTS.

Well, "hit" rained all right.

But then what is rain to the American Legion?

We had the parade all right and it was some parade.

There was one of the largest crowds here that Sanford has seen for some time.

And this demonstrates that Sanford should pull these stunts about once every two months. Get the crowds coming.

We did not have any Armistice Day celebration last year but it is sure and certain that Campbell-Lossing Post will pull one each year from this time on.

The editor knows he missed some of the floats yesterday and if so please tell us about it for we want to give everyone credit for what was one of the best parades that has ever been pulled off here. We were simply too busy to get it all and be in the parade also.

We just had a bit of Brest weather yesterday to let the boys remember the "duck boards" and other things that made them feel homesick while they were over there. It was not much like Florida weather but we need the rain and the cooler weather and maybe we should have pulled Armistice Day or some similar celebration several weeks ago and brought the rain sooner.

Sanford should have one of the most successful seasons of her career this year. There is everything to make it successful and despite the high cost of growing crops the farmers should realize good prices for all of their stuff. And again the Herald would urge the growers to put up nothing but good stuff, ship nothing but a guaranteed pack and see that your stuff goes out right at least. Then it is up to the railroads and the refrigerator people to do the rest.

The American Legion will keep us all more patriotic for being in our midst and this reminds us that so many people kept their hats on at the park yesterday while the band played the Star Spangled Banner. Have we lost our patriotism since the war or did the soldiers and sailors keeping on their hats confuse the people? The military do not remove their hats and merely stand at attention but the people present at any public gathering should uncover whenever the national anthem is being rendered and this should always be your motto as long as you live.

IN FAIRNESS TO MERCHANTS.

The present drop in prices of merchandise is confusing in a way as most people reading them expect the Sanford merchants to drop their goods the same hour the articles appear in the papers. This, of course, is not to be expected and any fair-minded person will easily understand that it would mean the ruin of the merchants who have bought goods on the high market in order to keep a good stock on hands. The decline in prices will have to be met gradually in order that the merchants can get the present stock of goods moving at a price that while it may mean no

J. P. says "WHY GAMBLE IN UNCERTAIN ALLURING STOCKS YOU KNOW NOTHING ABOUT? YOU MUST REALIZE THAT THE LAW OF ACTION AND REACTION COVERS ALL SUCH INVESTMENTS AND IN 99 CASES OUT OF EVERY 100, IT IS THE LAW OF REACTION IN WHICH YOU LOSE. IF YOU HAVE MONEY, INVEST IT IN A STRONG AND RELIABLE COMPANY WHICH IS GROWING AND PRODUCING AND A NECESSITY TO THE GENERAL WELFARE OF THE COMMUNITY, CITY AND STATE. THERE IS NONE SAFER, OR BETTER. THE SOUTHERN UTILITIES COMPANY WITH GENERAL OFFICES AT PALATKA, FLORIDA, IS A COMPANY OF THIS CLASS AND I STRONGLY RECOMMEND THE 8 PER CENT CUMULATIVE PRIOR PREFERRED STOCK AS A SAFE AND CONSERVATIVE INVESTMENT. THERE'S NONE BETTER."

profit will not mean a heavy loss. The Tampa Tribune sums it up as follows:

"Associated Press dispatches from Northern markets for some time past have been carrying notices of declines in the prices of various commodities in all lines, with the result that merchants report an attitude on the part of the public of expecting a corresponding decrease in price on commodities which the merchants now have in stock.

"In fairness to the merchants it is well for the public to remember that stock which merchants now have on hand was purchased from eight months to a year ago when the market was almost at its height.

Tampa merchants in all lines are taking losses right now on their goods in order to meet, insofar as they are able, the price declines that have come in the market since their goods were purchased.

"To sell the goods that were purchased a year ago on the rising market at prices quoted in recent market reports would result in ruin of many merchants, and the fair-minded public must take this fact into consideration.

"The fair-minded citizen will purchase what he needs now at the reductions which are being offered by practically every merchant in Tampa. A thorough investigation on the part of this paper leads us to believe that in many instances local merchants are selling their goods at actual cost in order to meet the recent price declines—and no one could ask for a greater sacrifice.

"To buy now—not recklessly, but sufficiently to supply one's immediate needs—is the only means of maintaining business conditions in Tampa that will be of direct personal benefit to every citizen of this city, regardless of his vocation or holdings in the community."

EDUCATING THE PUBLIC.

Certain members of congress have been stirring up a mess in Washington over what they term a waste of public funds in the publication of bulletins by the various departments and bureaus.

Not having seen any of the said bulletins, we are unable to pass judgment upon their value as educational mediums. And we presume the education of the public is the primary object of their publication.

But if the government or congress is desirous of disseminating useful information relative to agriculture, health, science, or other subjects, there is one way, and one only, of reaching the people who pay the bill. That way is to use the columns of the public press and pay the publishers a fair price for the space consumed.

Practically every citizen of normal intelligence reads the newspapers. This is a newspaper age and the people are lost without them.

Government information disseminated in this manner would reach the great mass of the people, those for whom it is compiled at great expense, and would be put to practical purpose in the extension of knowledge and the greater development of the country.

To educate the public you must first reach the public, and there is no arm so long or voice so loud as that of the press.

PEOPLE OR BOSSES.

Why continue the old method of party conventions for the selection of candidates for the presidency?

Why not let the voters of a party record their own choice of a candidate at the party primary and have the result certified by the county clerk to the national committee of that party, instead of sending delegates at great personal expense to a convention to say what their constituents have already said?

If some such law could be enacted we would be rid of the iniquitous convention rule entirely, and unscrupulous delegates would no longer be able to dicker and trade and effect secret combinations for their own personal gain, as we strongly suspect is frequently the case.

The framers of the constitution intended that every voter should enjoy a free and inalienable right to an expression of his choice in the selection of public officials. It was not intended that his choice should be warped and twisted by party chiefs behind closed doors, as if too often the case under the convention system.

Here is an example: A dozen or so men may be running for the nomination within a certain party. One of these men may receive a greater number of all of the votes cast at the various primaries than any other candidate. It would seem that in all fairness he should be entitled to the nomination. If not, why ask the people to express a choice at all?

Yet in the convention, because of the large number of candidates and the numerous scattering votes, he may be one or two votes short of the necessary MAJORITY of all votes cast by the delegates. If he is unable to entice the delegates of some other candidate away from their allegiance, he loses the nomination.

And right there is the weak plank in the whole convention structure. It lets the bars down for all kinds of dicker and bartering and selling of delegate votes, possibly resulting in the nomination of some unknown quantity whom the people do not want at all, but whom the bosses think they can control if he is fortunate enough to win the election.

Of course, to abolish the convention system would deprive the party chiefs and bosses of their control of the nomination, and possibly of their control of patronage after election. But the chiefs and bosses are few, while the common voters are legion. Why should the few override the wishes of the many in this, presumably free country? Why be brass ridden when we can just as well be self governed? Why not let the people be the people, instead of being pawns of men who think of themselves first, of votes next, and of their country last of all?

SOBER JUDGMENT SHOULD PREVAIL

In our endeavors to restore normal conditions in this land of chaos sane and sober judgment should prevail.

We have agitators in our midst whose sole apparent aim is to destroy our established system of government.

We have others who are consumed with unrest, are out of harmony with prevailing methods, and yet are true and loyal at heart.

We must learn to differentiate between the two.

The one must be curbed or destroyed, while the other should be conserved and nurtured back to a healthy state of mind.

There is much to perplex and exasperate us all, but nothing to cause a palsy of alarm.

It has taken years of work and wisdom to create the greatest nation on earth. It will not be wrecked in a day.

Energy, perseverance and sober judgment will in time restore conditions to some more satisfactory basis, but only time and patience can bring about this result.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Hotel men of this city will partake today of a 25 cent meal on Ellis Island. This resulted from expressed skepticism over the statement that the chefs on the island could get up a 25 cent meal and still make a profit.

It was recommended today that hostesses cut the price of bridal suites, both as an aid to matrimony and to help reduce the high prices.

Hon. Forest Lake is home for a few days from his labors in the state road department in various parts of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Younts have moved into their new bungalow recently purchased from the George W. Knight Co., on Magnolia avenue.

Miss Clifford Sasser and Miss Hannah, of Eustis, were among the out-of-town visitors to the city last night attending the Armistice dance.

The sidewalks have been finished on Magnolia avenue beyond Tenth street as far as Thirteenth street and the streets are now being graded.

All of the hotels were filled with visitors yesterday, many coming here from a distance to see the Armistice Day festivities and the dance last night.

Misses Nell Lane and Elizabeth Abney, of DeLand, spent the week end with Miss Norma Herndon, coming over for the Armistice Day celebration and ball.

The Hartzells and their bunch of real musicians were in the city yesterday calling on their Sanford friends. They furnished the music for the Armistice ball last night.

The city street force is busy drawing lines for the automobiles to park on the streets. This is a step in the right direction and on busy days and nights will give all the cars ample parking space and allow less waste space by careless parking.

Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Nash and mother, Mrs. E. H. Hoyt, of Haverhill, Mass., are in the city the guests of the Valdez and are looking for a home expecting to spend the winter here. Mr. Nash was here about one year ago and is delighted with the prospects around Sanford.

The many friends of J. L. Gallagher were glad to see him here yesterday. He is the leader of the Klammie band and expects to spend the winter there. The lack of a band here yesterday demonstrated that Sanford needs a band and should have one for just such occasions and for weekly concerts.

Seth Woodruff has arrived home from Pennsylvania where he has been for the past two years and will spend the winter in Florida, preferably near Sanford. Mrs. Woodruff and the baby preceded him here several months ago and they will make their home with grandpa and grandma, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Woodruff, for some time.

AT THE STAR THEATRE TODAY

W. W. Hodgkinson presents LOUISE GLAUM in "SAHARA"

"SAHARA" SOUL-STIRRING THRILLING THROUGHOUT

The Star Theatre presents tonight and Saturday what the management believes to be the most dramatic, soul-stirring drama set in the most lavish, colorful and artistic settings the screen has ever seen. This picture is "Sahara," starring Louise Glaum. C. Gardner Sullivan, the most famous of all photoplay authors, wrote "Sahara," which is a big Hodgkinson picture presented by J. Parker Read, Jr., and supervised by Allan Dwan.

Louise Glaum plays the role of Mignon, the darling of Paris, on whom her American husband, portrayed by Matt Moore, has wasted his fortune. He takes over an engineering job on the Sahara desert and Mignon, against her wishes but lured by the promise of a visit to Cairo, accompanies him and dwells in a luxurious tent on the burning sands. But six months of the sand and the praying Arabs drive her to such an utterly depraved state of discontent that she leaves her husband and goes to Cairo with Baron Alexis (Edwin Stevens).

Years later she finds her husband, demented and a victim of drugs, and her child, begging in Cairo. He has sworn to kill the woman who wrecked his life. She, with every desire fulfilled except that of happiness, is moved to her first deed of real, loving sacrifice—the return of her husband's mind though it means her death! She does all in her power to cure him, and the day comes when she is recognized—What then of the butterfly who found her soul? Of the man who suffered a living death for the love of an unfaithful wife? Of the child who missed a mother's guiding hand when it was most needed? The climax will grip, surprise and please you.

RED CROSS WAS THERE.

In the articles about the parade in yesterday's Herald the Red Cross car and the Red Cross girls in the parade was left out. The Red Cross car was one of the finest in the procession being all in white and trimmed in red crosses. The car was driven by May Thrasher and she was accompanied by Miss Helen Peck and Mrs. Ernest Betts, who as the nurse relieving suffering humanity had Dick Maxwell dressed as a grandfather, Billy Morse and Miss Thelma Eaton as crippled children and the float was very realistic.

The senior and junior classes of the Sanford High school went as Red Cross nurses and marched bravely over the entire line of march on foot with "Bill Marlowe" as the Red Cross dog marching in the lead and the girls and the dog attracted much attention.

On the Bryan Reo truck among the little girls the names of Ruth Henry and Louise Wells were left off the article.

There were a number of cars in the parade not decorated for the occasion but did not come under the head of decorated cars and it would take a newspaper with 100 pages to give the list of names of all those who took part in the parade as it was a mile long at least and was pronounced one of the best parades of the kind that has ever been promoted in Sanford.

PRIZES AWARDED FOR DECORATED CARS

The prizes for the best decorated floats in the Armistice day parade were awarded today as follows:
First prize, Edward Lane.
Second prize, R. S. Holly.
Third prize, John Smith, Gulf Refining Co.
