The View from Hanoi

Reds Maul Militiamen; Rangers Move In Fight

By GEORGE ESPER Associated Press Writer SAIGON (AP) — Hundreds of South Vietnamese rangers have replaced government militiamen badly mauled in a series of ambushes only 17 miles east of Saigon. Officers in the field said 58 of the militiamen were killed and 55 wounded in the fighting Monday and Tuesday.

The Rangers, moving on foot and by helicopters, were maneuvering to get behind the estimated 250 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong in the Binh Son rubber plantation east of Highway 15. The enemy forces ambushed a platoon of South Vietnamese militiamen on a patrol Monday along a dirt road between the village of Binh Son and Long Thanh. The North Vietnamese, armed with mines, mortars, and rocket grenades, then cut into the militiamen who were poured in to reinforce the patrol.

The fighting tapered off by Tuesday night, but the enemy forces held its position despite U.S. and South Vietnamese bombing, officers said. Officers said it was the biggest action in Long Thanh district in two years, and the first time during that period that the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong had stayed and fought. Previous enemy attacks were by platoon-size forces on a hit-and-run basis, the officers said.

Democrats Tag Sargent Shriver

By PEGGY SIMPSON Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — In a prime-time unit show, the Democrats have handed their vice-presidential nomination to Sargent Shriver and cheered the ticket's opening swings at President Nixon and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew. "I'm not embarrassed to be George McGovern's seventh choice for vice president," Shriver said Tuesday after the Democratic National Committee added him to the ticket. "We Democrats may be short of money. We're not short of talent. Think of the comparison and then you can pity poor Mr. Nixon—his first and only choice was Spiro Agnew."

In the selection of a vice-presidential nominee, McGovern said, "the nation must wish the Republicans had made their choice with greater care." And thus the lines were drawn again, this time with McGovern teamed with Shriver in place of Sen. Thomas S. Eagleton of Missouri, who withdrew last week after disclosing that he had undergone shock treatment for mental depression in the 1960s. McGovern and Shriver were to try and sustain the momentum at a unity luncheon today with members of the Democratic National Committee, which winds up its extraordinary three-day meeting today with some ordinary business.

Check Is Proving Embarrassment

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $25,000 mystery check which was deposited in the bank account of a man accused of burglary at the Democratic party headquarters has added to "a growing source of embarrassment" for many Republicans, the Washington Post said today. The Post said Maurice Stans, the finance chairman for President Nixon's reelection campaign, has acknowledged receiving the check, but it was exchanged for $25,000 cash and he didn't know what happened to the check after that.

Stans said the cash was deposited in the Nixon campaign treasury. The Post said the General Accounting Office, which is auditing the Nixon campaign books, has found no evidence that the $25,000 was reported as a contribution by the Nixon campaign organization, or that the money was expended for campaign purposes.

End-War Vote Due Mandate

By JIM ADAMS Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — Pressures heightened on both sides today as the House moved to vote on an end-the-war mandate coupled to a foreign-military aid bill. # 44 Million In Grants Battle On Cancer Pushing Ahead

By FRANK CAREY AP Science Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — The stepped-up federal battle against cancer is pushing ahead on a variety of fronts, from fresh money for new buildings to cancer-control efforts once largely left to private medicine. In the latest development, the National Cancer Institute has awarded $44 million in construction grants to 17 U.S. medical-research institutions. Award of the grants, soon to be announced formally, means the first time in almost a decade that the government has provided funds for construction work in the cancer field.

Handgun Vote Due Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has agreed to a final vote late today on a bill that would ban the sale of handguns not suitable for sporting purposes. One major amendment planned by Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Nebr., would exempt dealers from the sales ban with the result that only manufacturers and importers would be prohibited from selling the guns. Hruska's amendment also would require approval by the Secretary of the Treasury of individual models of guns before they would be illegal.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., the bill's chief sponsor, said Hruska's changes would seriously weaken the enforcement provisions in the bill. He called Hruska's amendment a "pretext" and said he didn't know what the outcome would be. Bayh has emphasized that the bill is aimed chiefly at curbing easily concealable handguns used by criminals.

Fischer, Spassky Resume

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Bobby Fischer and Boris Spassky were expected to end the 12th game of their world chess championship match in a draw after resuming the adjourned game this afternoon. A draw would leave Fischer's two-point lead in the competition unchanged. The score at the start of the 12th game was 6½-4½, with Spassky needing 12 points to retain his title and the American challenger needing 12½ to win it.

Restrictive Covenants Suit Mulled At Winter Springs

By MARION BETHA WINTER SPRINGS — A law suit which has been filed in Circuit Court by eight litigants against the city, its five councilmen and Florida Land Company, was given a "Progress report" by City Attorney Thomas Freeman before City Council.

Residents Fighting Efforts By City To Alter Original Contracts To Lessen Area Required For Building

Freeman also told council the attorneys for the plaintiffs had discussed with him a potential settlement of the case. "Basically, the suit seeks injunctive relief against removal of restrictive covenants placed on several parcels of land, against a zoning change within these parcels and against vacating of Edgemoor Avenue. Plaintiffs include the Van Epops, Carliss, Mr. and Mrs. Christian Jurgensen Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Willie Perkerson. A Winter Park law firm is attorney for the plaintiffs. The suit alleges that the North Orlando Company developed the area and placed restrictive covenants on approximately 3,000 acres in the area setting minimum living space for development at 1,000 square feet. Florida Land Company purchased the area for $1.3 million, including the water and sewer system and gained release of the restrictive covenants in November 1971. The suit seeks injunctive relief against removal of the covenants, due to expire in 1975. The suit also alleges that the City Council changed the zoning from R-1A to R-1 in the area being questioned and the south-west portion of the city without proper notification to property owners as required by state law. The suit also alleges closing of Edgemoor Avenue was done without the governmental approval and the plaintiffs seek to have the street reopened. The suit also seeks to have further development in the area halted until the issue is resolved by the court.

Winter Springs 'In The Black'

By MARION BETHA WINTER SPRINGS — A financial report for the fiscal year ending June 30 was presented to City Council by Councilman Victor Miller. The city's assets amounted to $19,088.85; liabilities, $5,766.12. Revenue for the year totaled $7,015.80 and expenses $5,899.62, leaving a net of $1,116.18. In council action, approval was given to changes in the plan of Hacienda Village to place tool buildings in a different section and approval also was given for a buffer zone at Hacienda Village. Further approved was lighting of Winter Springs unit IV, and two bridges over Highland Creek at the Sheoak Country Club area. Affirmative vote was given to authorize Mayor Granville Brown to expend $1,000 for repairs on Fisher Road. Council acted favorably on a resolution to be forwarded to Sen. Edward Gurney supporting his stand on the state participating in revenue sharing, although not having a state income tax. Also approval was given to vacate and abandon certain roads in the PHD area of Florida Land Company which are located in the northwest section of the city at SR 419. Lastly, after much discussion council allocated $3,500 for employee hospital insurance for one year. Council has been considering various plans since April.

Bowling 'em Over

By HERKY CUSH

Monthly Tournament

Betty Natale's Florida Keglerettes monthly bowling tournament plan got off the ground last month in West Palm Beach with 57 women entering.

Top prize of $300 went to Lynn Azolino of Orlando who totaled 476 with her handicap. High game out of the money was a 254 by Nancy Corney of Seminole.

With this month's tournament slated closer to her home grounds (Bowl America Winter Park) Betty hopes to have a (and should get) greater response from the bowlers in Central Florida.

The tourney at Winter Park will be held Saturday, August 19 with three equal times set up, at 4, 4, and 6 p.m. Again a top prize of $300 is being offered with $150 going for second. And a guarantee is offered by Betty for a cash prize for one out of every ten entries.

Toyota Mixed

Ron Gilbo bested Bill Kinney by a single stick as the two each hit the BIG SIX last week in the Early Toyota circuit.

Gilbo had games of 206, 175, and 225 in his 6-6 series as his Overhead Cam team won three from Kinney's Pickups. Kinney had a 200, 196, 202 — 607. Helping the Cam was a 191 by Ron Davis.

In another match the Four Speeds swept the Land Cruisers thanks to the 203, 195 — 563 of A. Smith. The Hardtops and Sprinters split their match with K. Williams 193 and S. Kostival 177 pacing the Sprinters and O. Touchton's 188 leading the Hardtops.

John Jaco boomed games of 206 and 203 in a 577 series but saw his Crown team hit but once in their meeting with the Carolas. For the Carolas it was R. Fortney 183 and E. Ewaver 212. Other high games in the Early loop were by J. Wood 187, and F. Weston 195.

In the late Toyota loop John Jaco's 196 was tops for the Bumper Jacks who swept their match with the Wheels. High for the Wheels was 196 by Jerry Farrella. Jim Carver's 223, 199 — 556 and Alice Carver's 178 — 157 led the Sedans to a sweep of the Sparkplugs. High for the Plugs was Berry Hudley 188, 183.

The V-Eights won three from the Four Hoods with the top effort being Dave Crabtree's 203, which oddly enough came in the game the V-Eights lost. For the Hoods it was Alex Serrano 198, 220 — 594 and Ray Ceymone 196. Other high games in the League came from Jim Brewer 196 and Roy Templeton 187.

City League

Burger Chef had the big guns last week as they won four from Zales Jewelers with a total pin count that was just short of the 3,000 mark. Nick Arcer's BIG SIX on a 199, 212, 194 — 605 led the way with help come from John Bryant 211, 219 — 577 and Duke Caska 202. For the Zales team it was Jack Kanner 200 and Bill Bower 197.

Music Unlimited won four from Rich Roof Fun with only Bob Barbour's 201 and Al Bowling's 182 — 502. In the other match the Jet Lanes won three from Betty Natale Pro Shop. O. Touchton 196 — 541, Don Gorman 219 and Tom Best 192 — 597 led the lanes. High for the Pro Shop was Jim Carver 192, Mike Kearney 196 and Jim Lamb 213.

Ball & Chain

Don Witt brought the "Loose Ends" together last week and helped them win four games over the Alley Cats. Don fired games of 180, 192 and 216 for a fine 586 series and also scored the 2-4-16.

The Pin Chasers won three from the Road Runners with top effort coming from Greg Bullock 199, 200 — 552. For the runners it was Ferrell Farris 181 and Harry Almond 187.

Also turning in fine games last week were John Tillis 196, Bob Retaille 188 — 519 and Andy Bolton 190.

Sanford Plazo Merchants

Fraza won four from Publix last week behind the 234 — 578 of John Johnson but it wasn't easy. John Jaco of Publix made things a little rough with his 202, 192 — 547.

Zales split with Don's Shoes as Jim Carver had a 209 and Rob Jones a 187. For Don's it was P. Price 191, Wayne's Whannny's and McCrooney's split last week also. E. O'Neal 194, 180 and A. Martin 206 led Wayne's while L. Price 186 and J. Johnson 184 led the McCrooney's.

Rick Craven's 208 — 541 led the Jet Lanes to three wins over Eckards. U.S. Bank won three thanks to Ed Lee's 196 — 582, and Jim Kanner's 207 — 589 as HIS Shop swept Penney's.

Unprofessionals

Witt's Amoco really had a super team effort last week with everyone hitting the 300 mark but they managed to win only three of their four meetings with the All-Souls.

Leading the Amoco keggers were E. Henry 196, 196 — 569, G. Senet 211 — 568, D. Witt 194 — 546 and K. Wilkin 189 — 502. For the All-Souls team it was D. Sepp 180, 231 — 561 and G. DeMatteo 201.

Other sparkling efforts in the loop last week came from J. Jackson 190, 182 — 523, J. Bryant 191, 187, 214 — 592, Rob Jones 204, 225 — 597, H. Williams 212, 185 — 560 and J. Jaco 188.

Even LBJ Does It College Grid Recruiting...Fascinating

Editors Note: Some like it, some hate it, but no coach survives without it. "Recruiting," says one football coach, "is the most competitive part of the job of coaching." Focusing on Texas Tech and Jim Carlen, recruiting, South-west Conference style, is explored here in the first of the three-part series.

By MIKE COCHRAN, Associated Press Writer LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — "Listen, kid," says the persuasive recruiter, "you play football with us and you get it all — tuition, board, room, books, 115 a month and laundry. "Everybody's offering that," replies the schoolboy coolly. "Yeah," says the recruiter, "but this laundry clears $700 a month." Another kid appears unannounced in the coach's office, says he's 6-foot-4, 240, and wants to play football at Bedford U.

"Can you run?" "Like the wind." "Can you block?" "Like a bulldozer." "Can you tackle?" "Like a gorilla." "Well," says the coach excitedly, "you got any weaknesses?" "Yeah," says the kid, "I lie a lot."

Recruiting yards, like fish tales are not uncommon among football coaches, who vow that all's fair in love, war and the pursuit of scholarship talent. It is told as fact that a Baylor coach once happened upon a young warrior seated in a car belonging to a TCU recruiter, who was away for the moment. He climbed in, locked the door and offered his pitch while the TCU coach, returning, pounded frantically on the window. "Recruiting," says TCU's youthful mentor, Billy Tobill, "is the most competitive part of the job of coaching. There's a lot of things that happen in recruiting and don't normally happen in everyday life."

He was not eager to disclose specifics, but added: "Until you do it for a year or two, well — there's things that happen to you that you wouldn't believe. And some of the things you have to do you wouldn't believe."

An Oklahoma coach conducting a talent safari in Texas is viewed in Southwest Conference circles as an evil mixture of Jean LaFitte, Quantrell and Atilla the Hun.

Used At 'Em Pitch

McLain Gives Mathews Win

By BRUCE LOWITT, Associated Press Sports Writer

"I had the old 'em pitch tonight," Denny McLain grinned — and because of it, Edie Mathews had his best night as manager of the Atlanta Braves.

"That 'em pitch—it's the best pitch in baseball. All you do is throw it at 'em and let 'em hit it 'cause it's the quickest out of the hand."

For seven innings, Denny had been baffled at the plate, giving Houston one run, but then the Astros caught up with McLain, putting together six more hits for four runs in the final two innings.

But it was much too late. Atlanta had erupted for five runs in the first inning alone and breezed to an 8-4 triumph that gave Mathews his first victory at the helm—and in his home debut at that.

In other National League games, Cincinnati outlasted Los Angeles 2-1 in 18 innings—the longest game in the league this season—Pittsburgh defeated Philadelphia 4-2, the Chicago Cubs mipped Montreal 6-5, St. Louis edged the New York Mets 6-3 and San Francisco swept a two-night doubleheader from San Diego 15-4 and 7-3.

Tuesday night's triumph for Mathews was quite a switch from Monday night, when the Braves were clobbered 9-1 in Cincinnati only hours after he'd replaced the fired Luman Harris.

"The big difference," Eddie explained, "was that everybody on the team was a little more relaxed and feeling a little better. I know I was."

A two-run win pitch by Don Wilson followed by Dusty Baker's two-run homer did the heavy first-inning damage and Earl Williams homered in the second.

Los Angeles Manager Walter Alton was stoical after his marathon loss to the Reds that dumped the Dodgers, third in the West, a full 10 games back of Cincinnati.

"By simple deduction," he said, "we have to win 10 more than them to tie them and more than that if we're gonna beat 'em out. I'd say we were in about the same position we were a year ago—or maybe a little worse off." In fact, the and you've got his mother and daddy, who are more interested in him than anything else in their lives, and you're trying to sell them that you're the best place for him to come, and the United States bouncing around for them."

The SWC recruiting war wages year-round now. Silver-tongued coaches fan out daily from College Station, Fayetteville, Austin, Fort Worth, Lubbock, Houston, Dallas and Waco.

And Carlen feels his own program, directed by line coach John Conley, has brought about change in SWC recruiting techniques. The emphasis, more than ever, is on the personal touch.

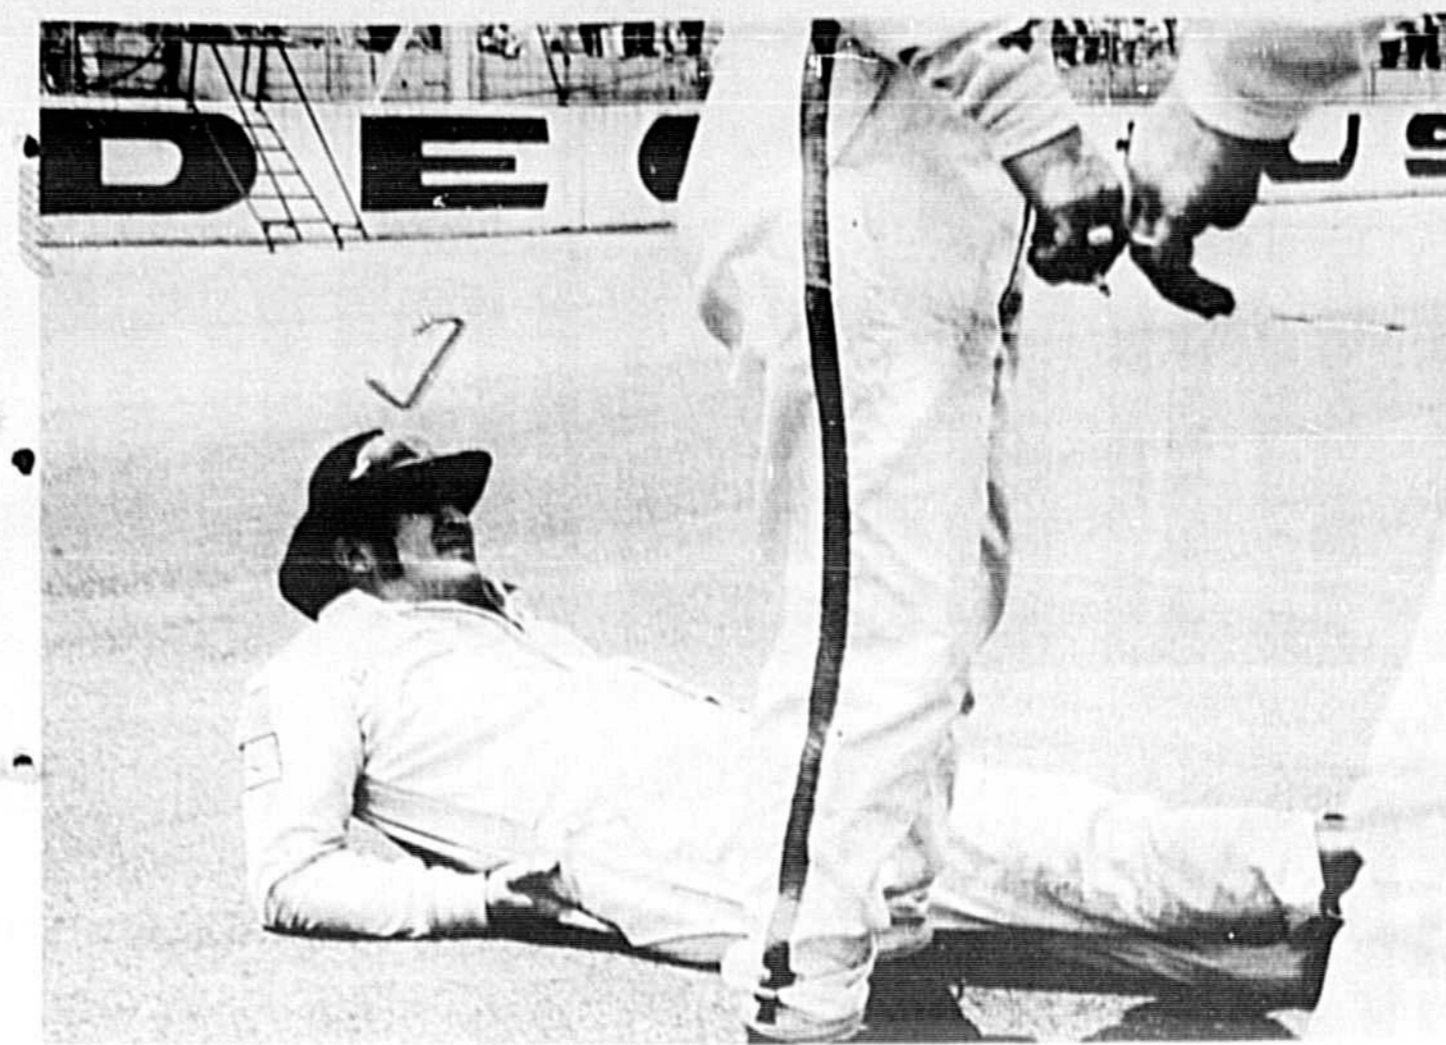

"Tomorrow," Change and the youth movement.

"You'd be amazed. Take Lyndon Johnson, for instance. He's recruiting actively for Texas in the homes of players. That's tough. There's not many schools with ex-presidents and the United States bouncing around for them."

BEFORE AND AFTER — Joe Frasson of Golden Valley, Minn., was one of the 52 drivers to compete in the recent Talladega 500 and while his attitude was somewhat different his pre-race activity resembled his post-race position. In top photo he is shown clowning and

Simple As That Jets Success Depends On Joe

By BRUCE LOWITT, Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — What it comes down to for the New York Jets—as it seems to every season—is Joe Namath.

Two years ago, Namath was knocked out of action by a broken wrist in the season's fourth game. His streak of regular-season inactivity ran to 19 games when, in the opening exhibition contest last year, he damaged ligaments in his left knee.

But he returned to the field in explosive fashion, coming off the bench to complete 11 of 27 passes for 258 yards, including touchdowns of 57, 29 and 22 yards against San Francisco in the Jets 10th game of the 1971 National Football League season.

Now he says his chronically weak knees are fine and he's ready to play full time. If Namath avoids injury, the Jets believe the spirit that he arouses on the field will give them the momentum they need for a run at the Super Bowl.

But what Namath needs, of course, is men to throw to—and that is where the Jets could be hurting.

As of now, their starting wide receivers are Don Maynard and Eddie Bell.

Maynard, a 13-year veteran, holds the all-time record for receiving yardage with 11,396 yards.

Bell, starting his third season, is exceptionally fast, but his problem is size—4-foot-10, 163 pounds. His ability to withstand the rigors of a full season without getting, as one teammate put it, "broken in half," is questionable.

The Jets thought they'd solved their receiving problems when they made Jerome Barkum their No. 1 draft choice. "They haven't really been pitching around it," the first baseman said of his lengthy slump. "As a matter of fact, they've been waiting for me to get up there."

Oakland's Williams, who

Handy Husmusen and Dave Herman and tackles Bob Solis and Winston Hill.

The defense, too, is solid providing it can avoid the injuries that hit nine of the 11 starters last year.

At the ends will be Gerry Philbin and Mark Lomas, with John Little and John Elliott at the tackles. The veteran line includes rookies in Ralph Baker, Al Atkinson and Larry Grantham, who have been playing together for seven years.

But the secondary, comprised of cornerbacks John Dockery and Earle Thomas and safeties Gus Holloman and W.K. Hicks, needs more consistency.

Steve O'Neal remains the punter, despite his 38.6-yard average last year. Bobby Hovak is the No. 1 place-kicker, although he connected on only eight of 19 field goal attempts in 1971. Grant Guthrie and rookie Richard Clemmy are challenging for his job.

The Jets haven't had a winning record the past two seasons, but with a healthy Namath, they believe this is the season that will once again make them a club to fear.

Yankees Have New Faith, They Feel Like Winners

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON, Associated Press Sports Writer

The managers of the contending teams in the American League East are almost as confused as the race itself.

"This has to be the best for us since 1961," said New York's Ralph Houk after the third-place Yankees beat pace-setting Detroit 4-2 Tuesday and clinched within three games of the top. "We're only two back in the loss column and our guys think they can win the pennant."

Will they meet them next three games and they'll be right back where they belong," snapped Detroit's Billy Martin. "As far as I'm concerned it's between Baltimore, Boston and us—and Baltimore is the one we have to worry about."

Elsewhere, the Oakland A's downed Milwaukee by a similar score, and if we get some hitting at all it should be ours."

Meanwhile, the Oakland A's sank slowly in the West and had their last shopped to two games over Chicago following a 4-3 loss to Kansas City. Manager Dick Williams growled "No comment" for the second consecutive night when queried about a skid that has seen his club drop three in a row and six of its last seven starts.

Elsewhere, the White Sox held off California 4-3, Boston defeated Cleveland 4-1 and Minnesota outed Texas 6-5 in 10 innings.

In the National League, Cincinnati edged Los Angeles 2-1 in 19 innings, Atlanta whipped Houston 8-4, Pittsburgh shaded Philadelphia 4-2, St. Louis edged the New York Mets 6-5, the Chicago Cubs beat Montreal 6-5 and San Francisco took two from San Diego 15-4 and 7-3.

Detroit's Mickey Lolich failed for the second time to become baseball's first 19-game winner when the Yankees broke a 2-2 tie with two unearned runs in the eighth inning following Lolich's bobble of Roy White's bunt.

Celestino Sanchez drove in the go-ahead run with a bases-loaded sacrifice fly and White, who homered in the fourth, scored on Ron Swoboda's second-running single.

Bow Powell drove in all Baltimore's runs with a single and a three-run homer and Pat Dobson blanked the Brewers until the eighth when Tom May lashed a two-run homer.

There is a downy gentleness about Nolan Ryan that is belied by his savage fast ball.

Ryan once studied to be a veterinarian and a friend says that a fitting image would have been Ryan cradling a small puppy in his arms.

But Boston manager Ed

speeded priorities in the clubhouse after Monday night's loss, was in a sour mood again after Kansas City's Fred Patek delivered a tie-breaking two-out single in the ninth inning.

"No interviews," he snarled at one writer. "I've got nothing to say. Get out. I saw what you write today."

The writer replied softly, "Do you want to see it again tomorrow?" and Williams cooled off long enough to warn, "I pity the club we come out of it against."

Although Patek's hit drove in the winning run, the Royals got a gift tally in the third when second baseman Tim Lincecum lost Paul Schaal's one-out base-loaded pop fly in the lights and it fell untouched. Schaal was out on the infield fly rule but Richie Scheinblum raked home from first base when the ball dropped.

Ray Johnston homered for Chicago's first run against California but the White Sox scored two decisive tallies in a second inning when Schaal's one-out

WINNING TENNIS with DAVE KORNREICH U.S.P.T.A. Professional

ANYONE FOR TENNIS ELBOW?

Tennis is a physically demanding game, but unlike football or hockey it is not a contact sport. However, tennis does produce its ankle injuries, knee injuries, and above all, elbow injuries. The "tennis elbow" is the tennis player's nightmare, and it is this injury which can and must be avoided.

The main cause of "tennis elbow" is elbow protrusion (seen in figure 1). This is a common mistake of the novice or inexperienced player. It can be avoided by keeping your arm and elbow close to the body. Never lead with the elbow!

Figure 2 properly demonstrates how your racket should drop just below the level of the ball. Then follow through with your forward swing. If it is done you will find that your shots will be more consistent and "tennis elbow" will not be part of your game!

Nolan Ryan Is Getting Things Under Control

By IHA BERTKOFF, NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — There is a downy gentleness about Nolan Ryan that is belied by his savage fast ball.

Ryan once studied to be a veterinarian and a friend says that a fitting image would have been Ryan cradling a small puppy in his arms.

But Boston manager Ed

die Kasko, whose team struck out 16 times in one recent twilight game against Ryan, said that sending a batter to face Nolan Ryan at dusk is the same as capital punishment.

Nolan Ryan, a tender-faced chap with soft brows, has created an excitement all over the California Angels since he's been in the pen since the last ramblings of the San Antonio (and he's gone as quickly as he's going to do next," said teammate Jeff Torborg. Angels catcher, "How many will be strike out? Will he pitch a perfect game?"

"Or, and Torborg was too delicate to walk four in a row, walk in a row, hit three batters and hurt balls six feet over everybody's head into the screen as he's done as recently as spring training!"

"It's really something," said Torborg. "Like the time against the Red Sox where he struck out the side in the first three innings. All of us in the bullpen were up and pressed against the fence. And we're listening to the radio, too. That's the kind of excitement there was when I was with the Dodgers and Sandy Koufax was pitching."

Ryan, a 190-pound right-hander has been leading the league in strikeouts and performing the most sensational all feats, such as striking out three batters in one inning on nine pitches.

"The batters say the same thing about Nolan's pitches as they did about Sandy," said Torborg. "Oh, I just want to see him strike out. He throws with the same velocity, although Sandy's curve was the best in baseball."

Bully, especially since he has previously been compared to a scorpion in a bruised fellow from Burma. The New York Mets in effect gave up on Ryan after four years. Last December he was traded in the deal for Tom Seaver. Ryan, "stick with the tag loop around his neck which read 'sternal propapect'," was happy to leave.

THERE IT GOES but it was only a high pop up from the bat of Tony Shefstedt of Seminole in the local team's championship clash with Clearwater State Majors Little League final. Clearwater won 2-0 and represents Florida in Southern Regionals next week.

Traffic On Airport Blvd. Mullied By City Council

By BILL SCOTT

Sanford City Commission apparently has had second thoughts about stopping heavy trucks, buses and other large vehicles from using Airport Boulevard between U.S. 17-92 and Sanford Avenue. At a recent work session it indicated it would rely on a low speed limit and police to alleviate the complaints of residents.

Commission two weeks ago instructed the city attorney to draft an ordinance stopping heavy vehicles from using the section of the roadway due to the residential congestion and the complaints of area citizens led by Natalie Emerson, who attended the commission session.

Since the action, various members of the Sanford Airport Authority have approached city commissioners seeking to stop the action that may prove damaging to the airport economy.

Chief opponent of any commission action to curtail traffic is J.S. (Red) Cleveland, airport manager, who wrote a letter to the city manager opposing the stoppage. Cleveland wrote,

Use Is Sought For Clackers

By KEN GEPFERT Associated Press Writer MIAMI (AP) — Forty-seven tons of "clackers" will never clack again, but they may live on soundlessly as gearshift knobs, lamp bases or parsenize self-defense weapons.

Miami Port Director Adam Irvin J. Stephens said Tuesday he has been inundated with suggestions on how to use the 607,968 clacker balls which have been gathered at in the seaport for a year.

"It's amazing," said Stephens. "I've been receiving 50 letters a day and must have heard from people in 30 of the 50 states."

Port officials said last week they were looking for somebody who could suggest a use for the 339,984 sets of "clackers" abandoned by a manufacturer after the Food and Drug Administration declared the toys unsuitable for children's play.

"The toy consists of two hard plastic balls connected by a 2-inch cord. With a rapid up and down motion, the balls bounce off one another producing a loud, 'clacking' sound."

After the FDA banned the bumping balls last November with a warning that they could shatter or fly off their cords, Florida manufacturer dispatched a shipment to South America. But South American officials, fearing the toys' potential danger and hustled the "clackers" back to Miami.

Faced with $3,000 in storage costs, Stephens turned to the news media in hopes of selling the unclaimed shipment. He said Tuesday he was surprised by the response to an Associated Press story.

"It was the good old American spirit coming out and saying, 'You poor man, you've got a problem. Here's a couple of ideas to help you out,'" Stephens said.

The suggestions included putting the clackers on gear shift knobs, gluing them together to form a lamp base or wall decoration, suspending them from ceilings as room dividers or unbedding them in patios or swimming pool bottoms, he said.

"Then there was a couple of women who had the idea of carrying the clackers around in their purse," Stephens said. "They figured they could give a potential mugger a pretty good shot with them."

"The one that really got me was from a teacher out west who said he wanted to use them in his physics class ... on some of his student's heads."

Stephens said port officials plan to formally advertise for bids in the next week and make enough to cover storage costs.

Any profit would go to the manufacturer, he said.

But there'll be at least one set still clacking away.

"I've already sneaked two pairs," admitted Stephens. "One hangs in my office as a reminder and the other is at home. I'm no expert, but I get a pretty good crack out of them."

Altamonte Mulls $5.3 Million Budget

By MARION BETHA

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Although admitting that final figures are not yet forthcoming, Mayor Lawrence Swofford said Tuesday that the upcoming budget for the next fiscal year will be a whopping $5.3 million. The city is holding the millage at five, which it has maintained for the past 10 years.

Mayor Swofford said the budget will be adopted by Sept. 27, and that he would have the exact figures available to council on Wednesday.

Swofford gave as the reason for not having the tentative budget available Tuesday the fact that he had been in conference most of the day with two developers from Texas who ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — YMCA may be coming to Seminole County, specifically to this municipality. Presently the "Y" has two area locations in Orlando and Winter Park.

However, the plans of the organization did not receive clear sailing when presented before yesterday's meeting of City Council, receiving some pertinent and thoughtful probing questions from Councilman Daniel Dorfman.

The councilman admittedly argued that the people who would use the facility would have to pay a fee and Moore, hesitantly, agreed this was a fact.

However, Moore said, it would be advantageous to the city to have the "Y" within its confines.

Mayor Swofford noted he would "like to see the Y" come to Altamonte and is "willing to cooperate in turning over the land."

Swofford qualified this statement with the remark that he would be amenable to the city donating 10 acres with a recreational park included, and the "Y" could build upon three or four acres. Swofford contended that the city cannot donate 10 of the 14 acres in the tract of land under consideration. Councilman Keith Nixon opined the city owes it to the people to retain a majority of the acreage.

Councilman Dorfman, "We have to tread lightly when donating city property to a private organization. What's to stop a church group from coming in here and requesting land?" Continuing, Dorfman said, "I have reservations about giving city property to a private organization charging fees."

City Attorney S. J. Davis Jr. was asked to render a legal opinion, and stated he would have to research legal points in the donation of city property to a private, non-profit organization with membership open to the public.

Dorfman moved for the attorney to conduct such research, which council approved.

Swofford said the city might get "as high as five acres with no strings attached except a reverter clause" and told the representatives of the "Y" they would have an answer from council next week as to the property donation.

Station Operator Opines: 46, I-4 Progress Slow

By JANE CASSELLBERRY

M.J. Peckham is not one to stand in the way of progress, but on the other hand he is getting pretty fed up with "progress" standing in the way of his business, which is operating Yeackle's Shell Station on the I-4 and SR 46 interchange.

He has sought relief from many officials, he said, but has been "getting the run around" and "not having any consideration for anyone's business," he charged.

He also called Congressman Lou Frey, who referred him to Congressman Bill Chappell, as the station is in his district.

Several weeks ago he was told that the road would be opened within three or four weeks, and that was done over two weeks ago, according to Peckham. Now he is told it will be another seven-eight weeks.

Peckham also complained that the entrance has not been paved where it was torn up during the construction of the road and piles of clay and dirt left behind.

A more serious problem, according to Peckham, is the fact that big sand trucks are traveling on SR 46 at speeds of 80-85 mph in the 45 mph zone and just blowing their horns at the intersection expecting other vehicles to get out of their way. Peckham pointed to the large number of accidents at the intersection, where Tuesday afternoon one of his customers had just left the station when his car was hit by a sand truck and totaled.

Another problem his customers have encountered should they try to use the SR 46 entrance is that the Florida Highway Patrol is stopping them and giving them warning tickets. Peckham stated that the directional arrows on the barricade are thoroughly confusing drivers, some ending up on I-4 instead of the old SR 46. He receives three-four inquiries an hour from motorists misled by the signs.

Annexation Okay To Join Casselberry

By KATHY NIBLACK

CASSELLBERRY Representatives for owners of three parcels on SR 436 were before the City Council again this week, and it seems that all problems with these parcels have been ironed out. The next step is the preparation and posting of an annexation order for the parcels, and this will be authorized at next week's meeting of the council.

When annexed, the parcels (totaling 179 acres) will be shifted to the city of Orange County line.

The three parcels are known as the Kasik-Woodberry-Peterson properties, and form a continuous chain of land. Problems in the past have centered around density and the difficulty of providing fire protection to this area. But the density problems have been solved, and the owners have agreed to donate a parcel of land for a fire station site. The annexation of the ordinance will be authorized on Monday night.

Mayor Curtis Brown has urged the council to take steps to annex the controversial section of Red Bug Road. Debate has raged for years as to whether this portion (to Casselberry's city limits) was in the city or the county. The county maintains that the road is the Mayor pointed out to his colleagues the need to get the property sold and on the tax rolls, but former city commissioner Dr. Vincent told today it is illegal for the city hall to be relocated to another site, since three years ago, when there was a move afoot to shift the city hall to the Sanford Airport, a motion was passed by the commission to keep the facility on the present site.

WINTER SPRINGS — The amity between the county and municipalities which began with Altamonte Springs and emanated to Casselberry in the area of cooperation, has now been passed to this city.

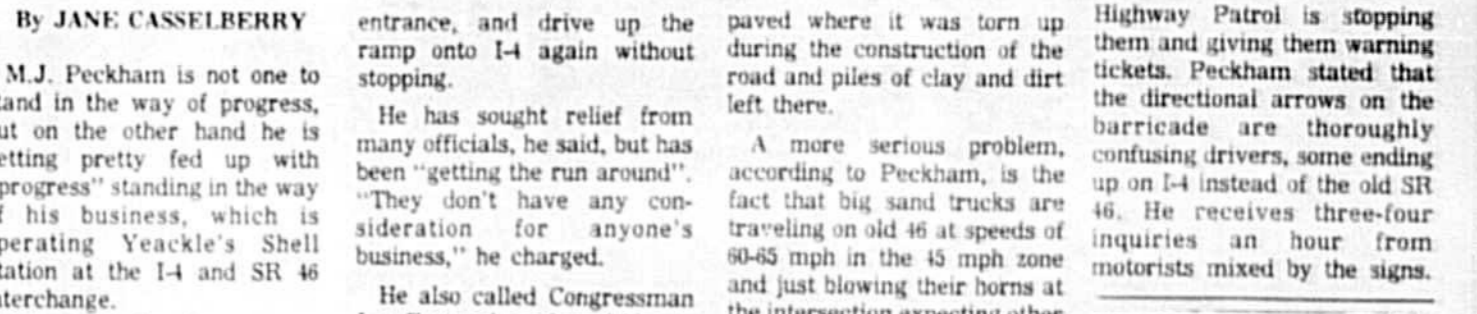

Mayor Granville Brown disclosed to City Council that a conversation with County Commission Chairman Greg Drummond resulted in the agreement by Drummond that the county plans to cooperate with municipalities upon arterial roads, with the county supplying the planning for the roads and the cities the materials.

Dr. and Mrs. George Starks have a French Mademoiselle visiting them and the story behind the visit reads like a novel.

Twenty-eight years ago when Dr. Starks was a mere lad with the Air Force his plane crashed in a small village in France.

Three men jumped together from 50,000 feet. One of them had free fall 10,000 feet because of the cold and because the Germans could spot you, the three came down in different sections. They were hidden and cared for by some of the village people at risk of their lives.

It was 300 miles to the American section and all walking had to be during the day. You had to hide at night because no one had permission to be out at night and the Germans were apt to shoot first and ask questions later. He was three months getting back.

Just three years ago (25 years after going down), Dr. Starks returned to France to find these people and thank them, and not only did so, but found the plane. The village people had deepened the hole where the plane fell and covered it up. The Starks were able to dig out pieces.

The popular bride-elect looked lovely in a pants suit of blue knit. She received many lovely and useful gifts.

Keep the maid and let the friend go

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Several months ago the day lady who came to do my laundry once a week told me she had to quit working. I tried to find a replacement for her, but no luck.

Out of the blue, the laundress of one of my friends phoned to tell me she had a free day and would love to work for me. I grabbed her.

Yesterday I received a call from this friend whose laundress is now working for her. She said she was disappointed to learn that I had hired "her" maid without first consulting her. She said had I consulted her she would not let me have her because it is a bad policy for friends to share a maid. (She uses this maid twice a week.)

I cannot understand my friend's attitude. Did I commit a crime by hiring this woman? She called me. I didn't call her.

Should I let the maid go to satisfy my friend? And what kind of a "friend" would rather have her maid work for a stranger than for me?

NAMELESS, PLEASE

DEAR NAMELESS: She doesn't "own" the maid, neither has she a voice in where the maid shall or shall not work. If you must make a choice, keep the maid and let the friend go.

DEAR ABBY: One night not long ago I picked up the telephone to make a call, and my younger brother (I'll call him Irving) was talking to a friend. The first thing I heard him say was, "Guess what I stole today!"

I was stunned and heaved a little more which I don't want to repeat. I quickly hung up. I am really stuck now. I'm afraid to tell our parents because they are the type who hit first and ask questions later. But I don't want my little brother, who is only 11 to start out on a life of crime.

Help me, Abby.

IRVING'S SISTER

DEAR IRVING: Tell Irving what you heard accidentally. Tell her to return whatever he has stolen to its rightful owner. Explain that shoplifting is a crime, punishable by law.

DEAR ABBY: Some people I know very well called up the relatives of a deceased person to whom some gifts were given and asked for their gifts back.

I was stunned and heaved a little more which I don't want to repeat. I quickly hung up. I am really stuck now. I'm afraid to tell our parents because they are the type who hit first and ask questions later. But I don't want my little brother, who is only 11 to start out on a life of crime.

Help me, Abby.

DEAR POLLY: My Pet Peeve concerns city folks who spend their vacations with those of us who live in the country. We are happy to extend our hospitality to them but if they are not well prepared for their medical and cosmetic needs. The cost of replacing such items can run to a pretty figure and getting to a shopping center promptly is not always easy. Please visitors, try to be good and thoughtful guests and we will try to be good hosts.—AUNT MARY

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—I have seen hats made from plastic bleach bottles that have been cut and crocheted together. I would like to make one of these for my mother-in-law, so would appreciate it if your reader could tell me how it is done.—MRS. J. R.

DEAR POLLY—I have help for Sherry, who has trouble with the ends of her child's shoe laces. There is a sewing needle with No. 40 or even No. 30 thread. Run this thread from the tip down as far as the metal tip went and back again to the end, then start to experiment with it around the lace with the threads as close together as you can get them. After covering the space the original tip had, you can run the thread through the hole and thread up and down inside the roll and fasten securely. Sometimes this will last as long as the shoes. It is quick and certainly inexpensive.—NELE

DEAR POLLY and Sherry—When plastic tips pull off shoe laces, I cut a 1/2-inch square from an aluminum can, shape it by bending around a nail, put this over the tip of the lace and squeeze it tightly together with the pliers. You may have to experiment a few times to get a good-looking job but it will solve the problem.—BEHNE

DEAR POLLY: My Pet Peeve concerns city folks who spend their vacations with those of us who live in the country. We are happy to extend our hospitality to them but if they are not well prepared for their medical and cosmetic needs. The cost of replacing such items can run to a pretty figure and getting to a shopping center promptly is not always easy. Please visitors, try to be good and thoughtful guests and we will try to be good hosts.—AUNT MARY

DEAR POLLY—I have seen hats made from plastic bleach bottles that have been cut and crocheted together. I would like to make one of these for my mother-in-law, so would appreciate it if your reader could tell me how it is done.—MRS. J. R.

DEAR POLLY and Sherry—When plastic tips pull off shoe laces, I cut a 1/2-inch square from an aluminum can, shape it by bending around a nail, put this over the tip of the lace and squeeze it tightly together with the pliers. You may have to experiment a few times to get a good-looking job but it will solve the problem.—BEHNE ceeded in a series of cue bids until Nancy finally jumped to seven hearts.

Nancy drew trumps with three hearts and went after spades. She cashed the king and ace and continued with dummy's king. East ducked and after long study Nancy ruffed. This play was correct rationally, but if she had been looking at all the cards she would have let the jack ride.

When West showed out, the grand slam contract became a rather poor one, but Nancy still has a chance. She led a club and finessed dummy's 10. This represented only a 25 per cent chance, but any chance is better than none, and the 25 per cent chance materialized for her.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Up to now United States world bridge champions have been largely restricted to New York, Texas, Pennsylvania, California, Illinois and Michigan.

With this year's victory in the mixed by the team of James Jacoby, Bobby Goldmann, Bobby and Helvy Wolf, Nancy Alpaugh and Heidi Noland, two ladies from Louisiana, have joined our world champion group.

Nancy Alpaugh's three-heart bid was typical of her aggressive style. Her rebid to just four hearts was sufficient in view of her previous action.

Bobby Goldman is aggressive too and could be depended on to take further action. He was not averse to the five to five clubs. From then on the bidding pro-

Wreckage Of Boat Found

Family Of Five, Friend Lost At Sea

TITUSVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Kim Powell loved the romance, the adventure and the freedom of the sea. For years he dreamed of sailing the world with his family and a friend set forth on a reef in the stormy Caribbean, the ship splintered, Powell and five others missing and feared dead.

He described his financial condition as "impecunious." Powell recited seafaring poetry and talked about a legendary $60 million Cocos Island treasure long sought after by adventurers. He said he planned to look for it, but wouldn't find it "but wouldn't it be nice?"

Daughter An, a pretty blonde, said she had packed a five-year supply of hair shampoo and talked about conducting scientific experiments with sea life during the voyage.

girl friend of Powell's oldest son, Kim, 25, stationed with the Army in Germany. The young Powell is to be discharged this month and he was to have joined the cruise in the Panama Canal Zone.

The night before departure Powell told Nassau: "You always have missings starting something like this. You're never sure you're doing the right thing. But having faith, nothing is going to happen."

The Tapiti Nui traveled down the Intercoastal Waterway, riding out Hurricane Agnes in Key West and departing there June 13 for Cayman Island and then two island resorts off Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula, Isla Mujeres and Cozumel.

Missing were Powell, 59, his wife Jo-An, 45, their children, An, 20, James, 12, Gina, 8, and a friend, Debbie Gordon, 23, all of Titusville.

They started the trip June 1 from this east coast city, planning to leisurely circle the globe in four to five years.

An ardent sailing enthusiast, Powell twice before gave up jobs to sail the sea.

A friend, Bill Nassau of Titusville, said: "Kim was a nut, nothing more than to take his family and escape from the problems of the world, just sail for the rest of his life if he could."

He recalled two earlier "abandoning" civilization trips across the waters. The first was in his early 20s when he sailed the Caribbean with his wife and a child sailed to the South Seas from California.

"I've dreamed of this for many years," said the greying, crewed Powell. "I know I should be working somewhere, piling up retirement, but I just don't want to do it. I don't ever want a job again."

FP&L Bid For Hike Challenged

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Three state agencies Tuesday challenged Florida Power and Light Co.'s request for a rate increase that could cost the average consumer between $3 and $8 a year.

Representatives of the Public Service Commission, the attorney general and the governor challenged FP&L President Marshall McDonald on an apparent conflict between the company's requested 15 percent rate hike and Federal Reserve Commission guidelines.

When Weeks said the company could always ask for a new rate increase if the original one proved insufficient, McDonald retorted that the result would be "a two-year lag for the fastest growing utility in the nation."

The PSC has recognized an 8 percent return as reasonable in two previous utility cases this year.

William Weeks, counsel for the Public Service Commission, also questioned McDonald about the company's use of lobbyists and in particular about more than $2,000 paid to attorney William Cramer last year.

During hearings in West Palm Beach, Weeks said the first rate hike in FP&L's 43-year history was necessary to keep the company financially sound. He added: He added that "recent talk of a moratorium on rate increases in Florida has caused our stock to drop 10 percent in four years."

Weeks said Price Commission guidelines warned against including "expectations of future inflation" in calculating rate increases.

He also said the company's use of a "projected test year" was a departure from state Marshall McDonald on an apparent conflict between the company's requested 15 percent rate hike and Federal Reserve Commission guidelines.

When Weeks said the company could always ask for a new rate increase if the original one proved insufficient, McDonald retorted that the result would be "a two-year lag for the fastest growing utility in the nation."

What Bernosky was doing and did is a nice example of the way in which the Sanford Police Department operates under the direction of Chief Ben Butler.

For the Sanford police department was found to be wide awake. Its Crime Scene Technician William F. Bernosky engaged in his professional duties at the market spotted a man whom he had reason to suspect driving by and gave chase.

The horrendous murder of an elderly widow in her tiny grocery store and the quick detection and arrest of the man charged with this crime is a case in point.

Her Curves Throw This Reporter

By DAVID M. BROWN

I have had the extreme pleasure of meeting and talking with the beautiful "Queen of Burlesque," Tempest Storm, and all I can say is WOW!

I talked with her in her dressing room at the Club Juana where she is currently performing nightly. She was cool and calm, sure of herself, answering my questions directly and without hesitation. I was a nervous wreck, trying to keep my eyes on hers. I dropped my pad and pencil on the floor twice. Graciously she soon realized my plight and made me feel right at home.

Born in Georgia, she later moved to California, where she got her start in the 50's with Lillian Hunt at the Palladium Theatre.

She said the biggest thing she has done was in 1959 when she played the Dunes in Las Vegas. She also has done some acting in summer stock and played the part of "Cherry" in "Bus Stop."

Miss Storm said she has had movie offers but refused them because all they wanted her to do was strip. This brought up the subject of "X" rated movies. She thinks they are "disgusting" and "porno" films have killed burlesque.

I asked her about her top measurement, if it really is 48 inches as reported? She said "no" that report is wrong because it is only 40 inches. (She sure had me fooled.)

To the question "Did she enjoy her work?" she said, "It's trying at times, but it is a living."

This fall she's going on a tour of college campuses on a campaign called "Burlesque goes to college."

Miss Storm is planning to write a book with a tentative title, "World on a String," which will be the story of her life.

Her 8-year-old daughter, Pat Ann, usually stays at home while she is on the road but she came along this time. When asked how her daughter felt about her mother being an exotic dancer she said that Pat Ann thinks her mom is the greatest and beautiful.

Tempest now divorced, said if she were to remarry it would have to be someone who is intelligent, has a sense of humor, and is able to give her the kind of life she is used to. "Well, that's me out, all I have is a sense of humor, and an appreciation for (feminine pulchritude)."

I asked her how she keeps herself in such good shape for a woman of 40. "By getting plenty of rest, eating the right foods, and I don't drink or smoke."

When asked if she has any regrets about her career or life. "No, I would do it all over again."

Farris Bryant Aids President Nixon

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Former Florida Gov. Farris Bryant says he has agreed to be national vice chairman of a committee of disident Democrats being organized by John Connally to support President Nixon's reelection. Although working for reelection of the Republican president, Bryant said he will remain in the Democratic party and support its nominees except for the presidential ticket.

For GOP Convention Protest Handbook Is Issued

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Protest leaders are trying to recruit demonstrators for the Republican National Convention with an illustrated guidebook calling for "non-violent civil disobedience" and warning participants to be prepared for mass arrests.

"The Manual for the Republican Convention" distributed Tuesday by five protest groups said the goal of demonstrations during the Aug. 21-23 GOP convention "is to isolate and defeat Richard Milhous Nixon."

The tabloid-size pamphlet urged protesters to avoid property damage and disruption of Miami Beach's senior citizen community.

"We will not provoke or attack police, national guard or our brothers who are G.I.s," it added.

But the 24-page manual laid out a step-by-step plan for "occupying" the streets surrounding the Miami Beach Convention Hall on the night President Nixon is expected to give his nomination acceptance speech.

"Four more years of Nixon and thousands of us resist and say NO!" the manual said. Using aerial photos to illustrate, the guidebook mapped out four sites where demonstrators should congregate during the convention. It speculated which areas police were likely to permit protesters to gather and the sites where arrests were likely.

Jailer Jailed In Own Jail

DADE CITY, Fla. (AP) — Tighter security precautions have been ordered at Pasco County Jail after a young jailer was arrested and accused of allowing two male prisoners inside the cells of two teen-age female inmates for the purpose of prostitution, police said.

Sheriff Basil Gaines said Tuesday jailer Cyrus Sanford Kline, 23, was confined in the jail where he had worked for three months on two charges of "allowing a female under the age of 16 to prostitute herself."

Bond was set at $3,000 for Kline and a preliminary hearing was scheduled today before Justice of the Peace George Henry.

Chief investigator James Murray said Kline was arrested on the felony charge under the two female juveniles entered him to unlock their cell doors and let in the two male trustys, aged 18 and 24.

"We could have very easily covered this whole thing up, but the sheriff felt that he just couldn't allow it," said Murray.

Chief deputy David Schneider said charges have not been filed against any of the prisoners involved, but the case was referred to State Atty. James T. Russell for investigation.

One happy difference after another

PUBLIX people know the meaning of clean. From the wide, clutter-free aisles, to the crisp "fresh-air" atmosphere, to the sparkling-free-rolling shopping carts... keeping PUBLIX clean is the responsibility of every employee. Bag boys and stockmen carry damp cloths and dusters. Spills, litter and dust are quickly removed. Floors are mopped every night and once a week a unique scrubbing machine "spring-cleans" from one end of the store to the other, scouring, stripping and sanitizing as it rolls. Then we wax, to give the floor that characteristic PUBLIX shine. It takes a lot of extra effort to keep a store PUBLIX-CLEAN, but we're glad to do it. We believe that customers appreciate the extra effort and we appreciate our customers. Cleanliness...another of the many happy differences at PUBLIX!

Souffle Is Very Delicate

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor
When you are serving a full-course main course a delicate dessert is often called for. And here we suggest an Orange Marmalade Souffle.

The souffle takes few ingredients and it's made in a double boiler. This souffle falls — it's supposed to. You can serve it warm or cold with its accompanying sauce. Either way it has delicious flavor.

ORANGE MARMALADE SOUFFLE
Custard Sauce: See recipe below.
1/2 cup orange marmalade
1 teaspoon vanilla or 1 table-spoon brandy
4 egg whites
1/4 cup sugar

Prepare Custard Sauce ahead and chill until ready to serve. About 1 1/2 hours before serving time, butter the top part of a 2-quart double boiler.

In a small mixing bowl, combine marmalade and vanilla, stirring until marmalade is softened.

In a medium mixing bowl, beat egg whites until soft peaks form. Add sugar gradually, beating until stiff peaks form. Fold in orange marmalade-spoon mixture into top of double boiler.

Cook over gently boiling water. Water in bottom part should just touch top part of double boiler. 1 hour without lifting cover. At end of cooking time, lift top part of double boiler from bottom, remove cover and let stand about 10 minutes. Souffle will fall about 1 inch. Turn out of double-boiler top into serving dish. Surround with some of the Custard Sauce.

At table, spoon into dessert dishes, pass extra sauce. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

To serve cold: Make souffle ahead; may be made the night before. Turn warm souffle into serving dish. Cover and chill. Before serving, surround with some of the chilled Custard Sauce, pass extra sauce.

CUSTARD SAUCE
4 egg yolks
1/2 cup sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons flour
2 1/2 cups milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

In a small mixing bowl, beat together egg yolks and sugar until well mixed; stir in flour.

In a heavy 2-quart saucepan, around edge. Stirring vigorously, slowly add milk to the hot milk to the egg yolk mixture, then stir warmed egg mixture into remaining milk.

Cook over very low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens enough to coat the back of a metal spoon. Remove from heat, stir in vanilla. Turn into a bowl, cover and chill.

Makes 2 1/2 cups.
Note: Any leftover sauce may be served with baked apples, fresh orange sections and other desserts.

Pudding With Berries

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor
Here is a Blueberry Strussel Pudding that is easy to prepare and popular.

The strussel topping is a little different from usual — it uses pie-crust mix and is spiced with mace and cardamom. These spices add interest, but if not at hand they may be omitted. Or, since mace is the outer coating of the nutmeg seed, you can substitute nutmeg for it. No spice that I know of can be substituted for the cardamom; it comes from the cardamom plant and is often used liberally in Scandinavian breads and pastries.

BLUEBERRY STRUSSEL PUDDING
4 cups blueberries, rinsed and drained
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 cup orange
1/4 teaspoon ground mace
1/4 teaspoon cardamom
1 package (11 ounces) pie-crust mix
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon vanilla
In an oblong glass 9x12 baking dish, 1 1/4 x 7 1/2 by 1 1/4 inches or a similar utensil mix the blueberries with 1/2 cup of the sugar.

In a medium mixing bowl stir together the remaining 1/2 cup sugar, orange and mace cardamom and pie-crust mix. With a pastry blender cut in the butter until particles are fine. Sprinkle this crumb mixture over the blueberries. Stir together the lemon juice and vanilla and sprinkle over crumb mixture.

Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until topping is lightly browned, 45 minutes. Serve warm in dessert bowls and top with vanilla ice cream and sweetened whipped cream. Makes 8 servings.

Girl Scouts have used this recipe for their camp meals.

2 cups unsifted flour, stir to aerate before measuring
1/2 cup oatmeal, dry milk solids
1/2 cup baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg
1 cup water
1 cup blueberries
In a wax paper thoroughly stir together the flour, oatmeal, dry milk solids, baking powder and salt. In a medium mixing bowl cream shortening and sugar, beat in egg. Add flour mixture and water, stir just until flour mixture is moistened; mixture will be lumpy. Fold in blueberries. Fill greased medium or large muffin pan cups about 3/4 full. Bake in a preheated 425-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean, about 20 minutes. Serve at once. Makes 12 muffins.

Hot dog days are here! Those summer days, often referred to as "dog days," might more appropriately be called "hot dog days." For it is in July and August, when temperatures soar, that the popularity of the hot dog peaks.

As an American as apple pie, the hot dog has become an important part of the nation's diet. No one need apologize for it, for the frankfurter fills more than an appetite-appearing role. Each supple weizen bread of the high quality protein of meat plus vital B vitamins and minerals.

Since many "hot dog days" are also "dog days" of the versatile and nutritious "dog" to avoid monotony. Ready for a change? Discard the bun, substitute a taco shell and add a spicy ground beef sauce. Taco Dogs
Brown 1 pound ground beef, stirring to separate into pieces. Pour oil, draining. Add 1/2 cup chopped onion, 1/2 cup catsup, 1/2 cup water and 1 package (1 1/4 to 1 1/2 ounces) taco seasoning. Cook for 5 to 7 minutes, stirring occasionally. Place 8 to 10 taco shells in a baking pan and spoon the ground beef mixture over the frankfurters. Top each with 1 tablespoon of grated Cheddar cheese. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) for 10 minutes. 8 servings.

A Classic British Chiller Catching Hold In America

By TOM HOGUE
AP News Wire Service
Clementine Paddelero, the famed gourmet writer, said of it: "One drink and you think what a pleasant lemon soda. Two drinks — and you can't count!"

She was referring to Pimm's Cup, the classic British chiller which Londoners have been quaffing for around a hundred years and which is now gaining a foothold in this country. Actually the drink is not all that strong, but at 67 proof, a couple of rounds can be stimulating.

Originally known as a gin sling, the drink was created by a tavern owner named James Pimm for his customers at the Three Crowns Pub close to St. Paul's Cathedral in London.

The drink, since known as No. 1, is made of a concentrate of 90 per cent dry gin and a mysterious blend of cordials. The actual recipe is said to be known by only seven men, all sworn to secrecy.

The firm that produces the drink says that a number of employees have a general idea of the ingredients, but only the seven chosen ones know the exact formula.

Pimm's Cup usually is served on the rocks with lemon soda, but diet-conscious Americans are taking it with plain soda or on the rocks.

The drink usually is garnished with a stick of cucumber, some mint or a European herb known as borage.

Toward the end of the 19th century, Sir Horatio David Davies, lord mayor of London and a member of Parliament, bought the Three Crowns Pub and with it the secret formula for Pimm's. Soon afterward, the drink was put up in bottles and shipped to special customers, many of them officers of the British army serving in the Middle and Far East.

During the Sudan campaign of the late 19th century, Pimm's Cup became a familiar sight at watering spots along the Nile, and soon its fame spread throughout the British Empire.

The drink has been available in American liquor stores since the repeal of prohibition nearly 40 years ago, but it has caught on mainly since World War II.

Now food-conscious Americans have begun using Pimm's as a seasoning in their kitchens. Here is a recipe we recently heard about:

4 two-inch veal chops, preferably loin
4 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons freshly ground pepper
2 tablespoons shallots chopped fine
pinch dried tarragon, thyme
4 ounces Pimm's Cup No. 1
6 ounces beef bouillon.

Pat veal chops dry and dredge lightly with flour. Fry 2 tablespoons of butter in saute pan large enough to hold four chops. Heat well over medium flame. Place chops in pan and cook about four minutes on each side. Lower flame, add salt and pepper and cook another two minutes. Remove chops to warm plate. Place remaining 2 tablespoons of butter in same pan, and saute shallots till limp. Add tarragon and thyme. Add Pimm's Cup and bouillon and boil down to 1/3 of original amount. Return chops to pan and simmer with sauce for couple of minutes. Good with chilled rose wine.

Dining Casual Colorful

By AILEEN SNOOPY

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Crisp, multi-colored, no-shapes and a more relaxing feeling spell today's table-setting mood. Whether fine china and crystal or less-expensive casual earthenware and decorative glassware are used, color and pattern really set the pace for summer dining.

Important in so much entertaining today is the multiple use of whatever dinner, pots and pans a homemaker happens to have. Few women or men who enjoy having friends in really save the so-called "good dishes" for company. Since so much dinnerware is chip and crack-resistant and machine-washable, setting a handsome table is little problem.

As noted, color and pattern often make the difference when setting a table for a brunch, outdoor barbecue or more formal dinner. For variety, a well-to-do Manhattan hostess uses inexpensive floral-patterned sheets and alternates the colors of napkins and floral centerpieces, all keyed to the sheet colors. Often she hangs matching sheets at the dining room window for more coordination. Another often uses decorative place mats on a fine Chippendale piece where only a face cloth would have been acceptable.

Although a classically formal table setting is delightful, the new mood is to create a lovely, relaxing setting at which everyone is comfortable — including the chef cook and bottlewasher.

An Apricot Spoon Cake Is Something Special

By AILEEN CLAIRE
Those dessert lovers who never have tasted a traditional plantation spoon cake are in for a special treat. Spoon cakes have a bottom layer of pudding and a fruit topping. Try one with apricot halves and almonds that rise to the top during baking. This is good hot or cool and many will insist on a lemon-flavored whipped cream as a topper served while the Apricot Spoon Cake is still warm.

Ham 'n' Yams Touch
By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

The pleasing taste combination of ham and yams is one enjoyed by millions of people where once it was considered a Southern specialty. Stretching the imagination a bit with the addition of banana, ginger and coconut makes this a dish with a tropical feeling. One also familiar to those who grow up in the lush islands that are so popular with tourists today. This is a good family dish that goes well at a party, too.

TROPICAL-STYLE YAMS AND HAM
1 cup dark corn syrup
1/2 cup (canned) apple juice
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon peel
Lemon juice, about 2 tablespoons
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
1 medium Louisiana yams, cooked, peeled and halved or 2 cans (16 ounces each) Louisiana yams, drained
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 cooked bone-in center-cut ham slice, 2 inches thick (about 2 1/2 to 3 pounds)
1 large ripe banana
1 can (4 ounces) shredded coconut

Blend corn syrup, apple juice, lemon juice, 1 tablespoon lemon peel and seasonings together in saucepan over medium heat. Bring mixture to a boil and remove from heat. Reserve 1/2 cup of mixture for basting ham. Pour remainder over yams. Dot yams with butter and cover. Place ham steak in shallow baking dish; brush generously with reserved glaze mixture. Bake yams and ham steak in 350-degree oven 20 minutes, basting both occasionally. Slice banana and brush with lemon juice. Remove yams from oven and uncover. Arrange banana slices over yams. Spoon glaze over bananas and yams. Sprinkle coconut around edge of dish to form a border. Return yams to oven and bake (uncovered) 10 minutes longer or until coconut is lightly browned.

Beef Blade Steaks Are Thrifty, Tasty Choice for Cookout
Looking for a thrifty steak for your next cookout? Select beef blade steaks and you'll save dimes or dollars, depending upon the number you need.
These steaks, cut from the beef chuck, although somewhat less tender than Porterhouse or sirloin, are especially delicious and satisfactory for broiling when cut thin and marinated, according to Reba Starks, home economist of the National Live Stock and Meat Board. Choose a bottled barbecue sauce or make your own.

AROUND THE CLOCK
By John A. Spolaki

Dear Me... must have rubbed a sore spot with our Seminole County Industrial Development Authority (SCIDA), executive director David Kelley when in a column a few days back, I made reference to a terrible stench connected with mushroom plants in Pennsylvania...
Dear David started the conversation with "you don't know what you're talking about!" Obviously Mr. Kelley has not lived in close proximity to any such plant or he would not have made such an odorous statement.

Evidently he was concerned the impact that that statement would have on his efforts in locating the "Hickman Farm Company" into Seminole County, and maybe into the Sanford area as an alternate site through the Oviedo location fell through.

Kelley said that with their new hydroponic procedure, we wouldn't have that problem. "Oh," says I, "and you have literature to corroborate that?" "No, but I'll get it," was his response.

Get the picture? I'm wrong for making a statement based on fact (and a keen sense of smell); but it's permissible for him to challenge me... even though he freely admits he's not in possession of any facts to qualify his charges.

Further, why would Orlando turn down a chance for such a good deal? Unless it's not that good a deal in the first place? And, why should the taxpayers have to approve an industrial bond for any industry contemplating the hiring of a mere 60-play employees? And, this bond in excess of $4 million?

It appears that Dear David is spinning his wheels, much the same as when he courted other companies on a recent trip up north... only to find on his return, that two or three of those "hot prospects" had gone broke since he spoke with them?

Honest, the last puzzle... what one company or industry can this county-funded operation (SCIDA) lay sole claim to having brought to Seminole County? "I don't know... maybe I'm wrong, but my first thought is that the answer will be zero!"

If you're looking for something hot... along those two industries which John Kryder of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce has been wooing... one with approximately 150 employees, and presently in production in New York State.

Or the other which will hire around 200 employees, also in production with 16 plants across the U.S., and is going to locate in the Hickman Industrial Park along 14 and SH-46.

About those deputies at Bill Guter's festivities a week ago... Sheriff John Polk called to explain the five deputies observed at the Guter fish fry were reserve deputies, and as such were not paid by anyone. Polk said for a short time, one regular deputy was on the scene to assist in the traffic situation, but non-paid reserves later took over that task.

Also, the sheriff says this same deputy assistance is available to any large group where there is a traffic control problem.

'Sea World Of Florida' Sailing Toward Orlando Opening In '73

By CARL PLAIN
Copy News Service

Sea World of Florida is sailing toward a late-1973 opening with a $9 million bank loan for the project.

The new park is being built at a 125-acre property near Orlando about four miles west of Walt Disney World, a new attraction doing turnaway business.

Proceeds of the loan from the Security Pacific National Bank will finance construction and preopening expenses of the marine park.

The unsecured loan, geared to the prime lending rate, will be repayable in seven annual installments, starting Sept. 30, 1974, said Lawrence W. Cox, Security Pacific National Bank senior vice president.

Cleveland Trust Company and First National Bank of Orlando are taking 10 per cent participations in the loan.

Officials of Sea World, Inc., said the park will be completed in 1973.

Sea World of Florida is a joint venture between Magic Mountain, an amusement park, and a 30-acre lake, is to encompass about 85 acres. The company has an option on another 50 acres for expansion of parking and for hotel-restaurant development.

"We will operate 365 days a year in Florida," said David M. DeMotte, executive vice president-secretary-treasurer. "We should be able to build and open the biggest park we've ever built without additional dilution" of the shareholders' equity. In March of 1971, the sale of 200,488 shares netted the company about $8.8 million, of which $1.9 million was lost in the sale late in 1971 of a joint venture interest in Magic Mountain, an amusement park.

"By 1974," said DeMotte, "all that extra dilution from last year's stock sale is going to be working for the shareholders." He said share earnings will rise significantly if the park meets expectations.

"All the better elements of Sea World of San Diego and Sea World of Ohio will go into it," Millay said.

He reported that the $13 million park will feature an improved water system, show, aquarium, tide pools and other features. All buildings will be air conditioned.

Design, engineering and architectural work is complete and a $1.5 million contract has been let for site development. A formal groundbreaking is due Aug. 31.

"For the full year, DeMotte said, the company is projecting revenues to more than $17 million from 1971's $15.7 million.

ON DRUGS AND HIGHWAYS — SPEED KILLS

Herald photographer Rupert Chastain was on the scene, 2 1/2 miles north of New Smyrna Beach on I-95 when this auto driven by George William Hicks of Daytona Beach last night slammed into a bridge abutment, and killed its lone occupant, P.H.P. J. W. Peadden reported that this was the 37th fatality of the year in Volusia County.

Zoo Society Balks At Contract Clause

By ANN SIECZKOWSKI

Contract negotiations between the County Commission and Seminole Zoological Society (renamed Central Florida Zoological Park and Botanical Gardens) are stymied by disagreement on the part of the society with one section.

Under the contract, drawn by County Attorney Howard Marsee, the Society is allowed to develop the 104-acre site on Lake Monroe. President Clifford Nelson told commissioners that the contract, as offered, is "entirely acceptable except for part 2, in which there is a stipulation that funds raised by the group will be placed in escrow. We would expect the county to control any funds emanating from state or federal agencies. And that much of the money already raised is presently in escrow, with the society promising all contributors of over $100 to the building fund that their donations would be returned if for some reason the facility is not built.

"We want the commission to approve all plans and specifications before any construction is started at the park, which will give you approval powers over all features. I feel that the society should contract for what goes into the park, with the county having control over the quality," Nelson entreated. "You can be assured of periodic reports on our progress on a monthly basis or at the pleasure of the board."

Nelson felt that if the county applies for state and federal matching funds for park developments, approval would be more likely than if requested for zoological gardens alone. "We would expect the county to control any funds emanating from state or federal agencies. And that much of the money already raised is presently in escrow, with the society promising all contributors of over $100 to the building fund that their donations would be returned if for some reason the facility is not built.

Commissioner Al Davis objected to the exclusion of "Seminole" from the title of the facility Nelson told him that it is impossible to attempt to raise $250,000 in Seminole County and that five counties all have an interest in this public attraction. The five counties are Seminole, Orange, Lake, Volusia and Brevard. Funds are being sought in all of these counties and "we feel it will be easier to raise these funds for a Central Florida attraction than for a Seminole attraction."

Nelson said that most of the local membership in the society currently resides in Seminole, with Lake, Orange and Volusia constituting proportionate numbers. Response from Brevard is minimal at the present time. Davis maintained that since Seminole is contributing the bulk of the financing, then there should be recognition of this fact with "Seminole" being in the title of the attraction.

Marsee and Gerald Rutledge, attorney for the society, will meet to work out details in the contested section and bring it back to the board for further consideration.

Airport Seeks 'Outside' Funds

Those private firms which are not licensed to come on the Sanford Airport and do business are not rebating a percentage of the revenue obtained from airport clients back to the Airport Authority may find themselves prohibited from doing business at the air facility unless they change their present methods.

This was the gist of a motion passed at today's authority meeting after J. S. (Red) Cleveland, airport manager, brought the matter before the group for action.

Cleveland explained such "firms as Dobbs House and Dot's-on-the-Dot food catering services are serving airport customers but are not paying anyone, anything."

W. C. Hutchison, authority attorney, stated Dobbs House pays other airports where they operate.

Cleveland said other airport operations such as car leasing, etc., were occurring without the authority receiving any monetary consideration from the proceeds.

He maintained that in the lease contracts, present airport firms are barred from other commercial operations unless a percentage is obtained by the authority.

Joe Baker questioned the airport manager on how far the situation could be carried. "If a truck comes out here selling nuts and bolts to an airport-located firm, will you require a contract from them also?"

Cleveland responded he was not talking about nuts and bolts. "I'm talking about car rentals, vending machines and restaurants services."

Baker said Dobbs House provides a service to planes but Cleveland advised "Leon Walker has a catering service here and could provide these same services."

Court Decides Tax Due On Area Motel

By BILL SCOTT

"The Sanford Holiday Inn located on city-owned property at the marina lakefront has never paid any county property taxes and, as the result of a decision just rendered in a law suit, possibly never will."

This spoke County Tax assessor Guy Allen to The Herald in a conversation held at the site of Sanford's Bram Towers, senior citizens housing project, which is also exempt from paying property taxes.

Allen stated in the presence of Dr. W. Vincent Roberts, former city commissioner, and the Holiday Inn Motel and House of Steak, privately-owned developments on the city-owned property, had never paid any county property tax since opened approximately five years ago.

"A recent court battle over whether the county can tax the facility has apparently been decided with the result that the facility cannot be taxed," Allen advised.

City of Sanford attorney W. C. Hutchison brought the suit at the direction of the City Commission, who reacted several years ago, when it was stated the then county tax assessor, Mary Earle Walker, was attempting to levy against city-owned property. The Herald contacted the attorney to divulge what tax, if any, the motel is paying to the City of Sanford and to Seminole.

Hutchison said, "Mr. Allen is correct when he says to date the Holiday Inn has paid no taxes." He explained as long as a law suit was hanging fire, no taxes can be collected, but Hutchison argued the tax assessor can now "go back" and tax the leaseholder (Holiday Inn) for the county's tax share.

Regarding the recently concluded court judgment, the attorney advised, "All the judgment says is the county is not taxable by the county since no city owned property can be taxed but the improvements contained thereon (motel and restaurant) are taxable.

In discussing the city property on which the motel is situated it must be pointed out that it is separate from the lakefront docks, which are also city-owned, but under lease to separate lessee.

As to the motel paying city property taxes, an agreement was worked out between the city and motel operators for the motel to either pay a tax or a percentage in lieu of tax, it was explained.

Hutchison said it is up to Allen to tax the motel interests but added the state statute requires him to do so.

Father, Son Sentenced

By MARION BETHA

William Griffin, owner of Bea's Antique Shop on Sanford Avenue and in Longwood, and his son, Floyd Griffin, were sentenced by Circuit Judge Richard Muldrew Wednesday.

Floyd Griffin, whose girl friend caused fear at trial proceedings by concealing a rifle in her purse, was found guilty on July 13 by a Circuit Court jury of breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony and grand larceny.

Judge Muldrew adjudicated the defendant guilty and sentenced him to a term of 20 years in state prison.

Another case in which Floyd Griffin was found guilty by a Circuit Court jury of July 13 of breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony and grand larceny, Judge Muldrew adjudicated the defendant guilty of the offense and sentenced him to 20 years in state prison to run consecutively with the above case.

William Griffin was found guilty as charged of the offense of buying and receiving stolen property on July 13 by a Circuit Court jury.

He was sentenced by Judge Muldrew, after adjudication of guilt, to five years at a state prison; two of which will run concurrently with another sentence he received, three of which will run consecutively with still another sentence in another case.

In other cases before Judge Muldrew yesterday all of the defendants received probation.

Included among these are David Wahn, who pleaded guilty on July 10 to entering without breaking, was adjudicated guilty by the court and placed on probation for five years to run consecutively with a Volusia County sentence. The state had dropped charges of grand larceny.

James Devlin, charged with sale and possession of a hallucinogenic drug, pleaded guilty on March 8 to possession of the drug, with the state dropping the sale charges. Yesterday, Judge Muldrew withheld adjudication of guilt and placed the defendant on probation for four years.

Charles Noble, charged with sale and possession of a hallucinogenic drug, pleaded guilty on March 8 to possession of the drug. The state dropped sale charges. Noble was placed on two years probation by Judge Muldrew, after the court withheld adjudication of guilt.

Gerald Paul Mack pleaded guilty on June 28 to possession of a dangerous drug. Yesterday, in the court of Circuit Judge Dominick Salk, Mack was placed on seven years probation by the court, who withheld adjudication of guilt.
