NO RADICAL REDUCTION IN PRICES

LEADERS IN INDUSTRY AND ECONOMIC AFFAIRS MAKE STATEMENTS FOR GOVERNMENT REPORT AND GIVE GOOD SOUND ARGUMENT TO SUPPORT THEM

How about prices?

This is the question which is uppermost in the minds of the people of America and the world for that matter during these times of reconstruction. So much so that the U. S. Department of Labor has asked the leading men of the industrial and financial world to state briefly their opinions on this great question.

The following opinions of these men who study matters of this nature from a broad viewpoint is well worth considering:

Statement by J. Ogden Armour
The greatest danger to our economic structure today arises from many to recognize a new and higher level of prices, based on permanently increased cost of labor, and high taxation.

Those who postpone building or buying in the hope of materially lower prices, are speculating in the future misfortune of the nation. For falling prices, when reaching the point where profit is eliminated, mean panic, depression, unemployment and other troubles.

In the final analysis 75 per cent or more of the cost of most commodities consists of labor, and reductions in the market price of commodities are, therefore, inevitably reflected in the compensation of labor.

Nothing in the labor situation warrants anyone in expecting materially lower cost of commodities in general and building in particular. Wages will be less for several fundamental reasons:

1. The practical stoppage of immigration since 1914, depriving America of the several million workers who would normally have come to our shores.

2. The retention of the nation's military and naval establishments of nearly 2,000,000 workers, which may continue for an indefinite period.

3. The creation of new industries, such as shipbuilding and manufacture of chemicals and dyes, requiring hundreds of thousands of workers.

4. The urgent demand for building and construction of every class, due to their having been forcibly held back for several years.

5. The shortage of the world's food supply.

6. The proportionately higher levels of commodity prices existing practically all over Europe.

On the one hand, then, we are facing a serious shortage of labor as soon as we approach normal industrial activity, and on the other hand there is confronting us a tremendous, unsatisfied demand for many necessities which it was difficult or impossible to obtain during the war.

Normally under such conditions we could have a flood of low-priced goods from the Old World, while now we find that prices in Europe have risen proportionately much higher than in America, and the demand for commodities and labor, to make up the wastage of war, is even more keenly felt there than here.

The manufacturer who now quotes the lowest possible price consistent with the high cost of labor, and guarantees this to be so, doing his buying freely on the same basis, ranks as our highest type of patriotic citizen. A new level of prices has been established, from which there can be no material recession until inventive genius succeeds in correspondingly increasing labor's productive capacity by mechanical means.

Statement by James B. Fox

First National Bank, Chicago
While it is my belief that the general trend of prices during the next decade may be downward, I do not anticipate any sudden or violent tumble in the near future beyond the elimination of war prices made necessary to stimulate production in high cost plants. We cannot "eat our cake and have it." We cannot immediately have low priced products with high cost labor.

At no time was honest labor more indispensable than during the war, and during that period the average weekly wage of all workers was greatly advanced.

Out of the war has come a strong realization of the value of labor to civilization, and we must accustom ourselves to the evident fact that a permanently higher scale of wages or compensation has been established for the world's worker, both skilled and unskilled.

In all lines of industry, to make a fair profit, selling prices must be in proportion to the cost of production, including the enhanced cost of labor. This fact should be recognized in buying as well as in selling.

There exists in the world today, and there will exist for some time to come, a tremendous latent demand for goods and service and a relative shortage of workers caused by the war. The high cost of living has not yet begun to recede, and it would be an erroneous policy at present to attempt to cut prices at the expense of labor.

Statement by A. Barton Hepburn, of the Chase National Bank, New York

Seventy-five to eighty per cent of the cost of all products represents labor; and as long as the minimum price of wheat is fixed by the government at $2.25 a bushel and other necessities of the wage earner are approximately as high in proportion, there is every reason why labor should contend against reduction. With a recession in the cost of living there should be a corresponding reduction in the cost of labor. The employers of labor cannot go on paying present wages, nor, indeed, any wages, unless their business continues, and it has seemed to me that the closing of certain industries would throw labor out of employment. In seeking new employment

HOSPITAL MEETING MONDAY

ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR FERNALD LAUGHTON MEMORIAL HOSPITAL ASSOCIATION TO MANAGE HOSPITAL FOR CITY

A mass meeting of citizens was held in the court house on Monday night of this week to consider the new Fernald-Laughton Memorial hospital project.

It was understood by some of the men behind the proposed hospital that there was considerable opposition to the plan as proposed. For this reason the mass meeting was called and everybody in the city invited to discuss the matter.

Some seventy-five to one hundred people were present at the meeting. The plan was thoroughly explained and the open discussion which followed found all those present, which comprised the leading men and women of the city, all heartily in favor of the plan as outlined. Short talks were made by Judge Housholder, Dr. S. Puleston, Dr. Denton, C. W. Entzinger, O. P. Swope, G. F. Smith, F. P. Forster, T. W. Lawton, Rev. E. D. Brower, E. A. Douglass and others.

They expressed a desire that the city stand squarely behind the hospital, as it fills a long-felt want in Sanford. If any were present who were previously opposed to the plan they failed to make themselves known.

A committee was appointed to plan the organization of a hospital association for the purpose of handling the institution for the city. This committee met on Wednesday evening and formed a tentative organization for the purpose of obtaining a charter for the new institution.

A mass meeting of the citizens of the county will be held at some date to be announced later, at which time a permanent organization will be formed.

The membership will be composed of citizens from all over the county and the organization will be county-wide. It is expected that every public spirited citizen will attend this meeting.

TELEGRAPH OPERATORS ON STRIKE

COMPANIES CLAIM SERVICE WILL NOT BE IMPAIRED AS ONLY A PART OF OPERATORS ARE MEMBERS OF STRIKING UNION

Chicago, June 12.—Union leaders declared last night that the first day response to the call for a nationwide strike of commercial telegraphers gave promise that the tie-up will be complete in three days, despite claims of company officials that the strike has failed.

Reports received by the Associated Press from many towns in various sections of the country indicate that commercial telegraph business was not seriously interrupted in most districts.

A statement by President Carlton of the Western Union Telegraph Company that only 166 persons, 121 of them operators, answered the strike call, brought from S. J. Koenekamp, president of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America, the remark that more than that number of Western Union employees in Chicago alone had joined the strike by noon today.

"Reports up to late today point to a 90 per cent response in the Postal Telegraph service, and a 70 per cent response from Western Union employees," said Koenekamp in a statement to the Associated Press tonight. "The east has shown up surprisingly well and in the southeast alone the number of strikers now exceeds 3,000. Telephone workers have added to the strikers' numbers in Philadelphia, New Orleans, Columbia, S. C., and Brunswick, Ga."

"When the electrical workers go on a nationwide strike Monday additional telephone workers also will go out. Railroad telegraphers in all parts of the country are refusing commercial business and trouble anew is impending in Canada because of refusal of Canadian telegraphers to handle American business."

Washington, June 12.—Declaring the strike of wire employees which began yesterday was "wholly without justification," Postmaster General Burleson said in a statement that "no amount of pressure will avail to make the wire control board extend or go beyond" rules and regulations affecting employees laid down during the war by the National War Labor Board.

Mr. Burleson said his information was that telegraphic traffic had not and would not be delayed. Government business, which makes up the bulk of that handled by the telegraph companies here, was reported moving as usual today and at the state department "it was said there had been no interruption of cable communication with Europe."

"The present strike of wire employees is wholly without justification," said the postmaster general. "It started at Atlanta, Ga., because it was claimed employees of the Southern Bell Telephone Company had been dismissed solely because of affiliation with the labor organization. The complaint was promptly referred to postoffice inspectors for investigation. While the investigation was in progress and before the investigation had time to ascertain the facts a sympathetic strike against the Western Union was called in the southeastern states. An insignificant percentage of the operatives respected this order to strike."

Wedding Announcement

The following announcement of the marriage of Miss Sarah Appleyard will be interesting to the Sanford friends of the young lady, a former resident of Sanford:

Colonel Thomas J. Appleyard announces the marriage of his daughter Sarah Elizabeth to Dr. George Augustine Marion, on Thursday, June fifth, nineteen hundred and nineteen, Tallahassee, Florida. At Home after Sept. first, 1919, 570 N. Goldman Street, Rochester, New York.

COPY OF TREATY IN AMERICA

BROUGHT TO AMERICA BY DAVIDSON OF MORGAN & CO.—CREATES SENSATION IN SENATE

Washington, June 12.—How the peace treaty reached private hands in New York and thus stirred up a sensation in the senate was established yesterday at a two hour hearing before the foreign relations committee.

Senator Lodge revealed the copy he said was shown him by Elihu Root, a former secretary of state. Mr. Root told the committee he got it from Henry P. Davison, a member of the Morgan banking house and head of the Red Cross, and Mr. Davison in turn testified it was given him in Paris by Thomas W. Lamont.

Deed conveying title to Fernald home to City of Sanford:

This indenture, made and executed this 2nd day of June, A. D. 1919, by and between Mabel L. Fernald (widow) of Sanford, Florida, hereinafter called the grantor, and the city of Sanford, Florida, a municipal corporation, chartered and established by act of the legislature of the state of Florida, and located in Seminole county, Florida, hereinafter called the grantee,

Witnesseth, That the said grantor, for and in consideration of the sum of one dollar, to her in hand paid by the grantee, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, and of the covenants and agreements herein contained to be kept and performed by and on the part of the said grantee, its successors and assigns has given, granted, bargained and sold, and by these presents does hereby give, grant, bargain and sell unto the said grantee, its successors and assigns, forever all of the following described lands and property, situate and lying and being in the city of Sanford, Florida, to-wit:

Lots One (1), Two (2) and Three (3) of Block Seven (7) of Tier Five (5) of the City of Sanford, Florida, according to E. R. Trafford's map thereof duly recorded in the public records of Seminole county, Florida; Together with all of the buildings, improvements and appurtenances thereunto belonging or in any wise appertaining, and all of the household furniture and fixtures now in the buildings located on Lots One (1) and Two (2) including the kitchen and basement.

To Have and To Hold, unto the said grantee, its successors and assigns, solely and exclusively to be used and applied to hospital purposes, and to be known and designated as the "Fernald-Laughton Memorial," and not otherwise, upon the following conditions to-wit:

First, That the said property shall be converted into and used for hospital purposes for and during the life of the said grantor.

Second, That the said grantee shall equip and maintain the said property for such hospital purposes which maintenance shall never fall below an average standard of efficiency, and shall continue during the life of the said grantor.

Third, That the said grantee shall pay unto the said grantor during the remainder of her natural life such sum of money yearly in equal quarterly payments as will equal eight per cent per annum on a valuation of said property at the value and sum of $25,000.00 which value is hereby placed thereon for the purpose of this indenture and the provisions thereof, except that out of such yearly sum herein provided to be paid by the said grantor, the said grantee shall retain the sum of $500.00 to be used by the said grantee in equipping and maintaining said hospital, the same to be a donation by the grantor for that purpose, and said yearly periods shall date from the date of the execution of this indenture, and each quarterly payment shall be made on or before the expiration of each quarterly period, except as to the $500.00 to be deducted as a donation, which last sum shall be used exclusively for the purposes herein provided and not otherwise.

COMMITTEE FAVOR KNOX RESOLUTION

WOULD PUT SENATE ON RECORD AGAINST ACCEPTING LEAGUE OF NATIONS AS PROPOSED BY TREATY

Washington, June 12.—Senator Knox's resolution to put the senate on record against accepting the league of nations in the terms of the peace treaty was reported today in an amended form by the senate foreign relations committee.

The committee struck out the final section of the resolution which would declare it a policy of the American government that whenever the peace of Europe became again threatened the United States would co-operate to remove such a menace.

The motion to amend the Knox measure was made by Chairman Lodge and had the support of Senator Knox and all other Republican members except Senator McCumber of North Dakota. No other amendments were adopted. The vote to favorably report stood 8 to 7.

A resolution reserving the right of the American congress to determine the justness of the obligations imposed upon the country under the much discussed section 10 of the league of nations covenant, meanwhile was introduced today by Senator Sterling, Republican, of South Dakota.

Efforts of league supporters in the committee to postpone committee action failed and it was predicted the resolution would be taken up in the senate early next week, bringing the league fight into a new phase.

The first motion to strike out the last section failed on a tie vote but Senator Fall, who had voted in the negative, moved to reconsider, giving the proposal a majority of one.

When Senator Knox later asked unanimous consent to present the favorable report in the senate today, Senator Robinson, Democrat, of Arkansas objected. The Arkansas senator withdrew his objection, however with the understanding that the senate would adjourn from today to Monday, so there would be no debate this week. The report then

FRANCE SAYS NO CHANGES IN TREATY

FRANCE IS FIRM IN HER STAND ON PRESENT DRAFT—LITTLE PROGRESS ON AUSTRIAN TREATY

Paris, Tuesday, June 12.—The determination of France not to countenance any material changes in the treaty with Germany was clearly defined today after the meeting of the council of four and various commissions which failed to reach any solution of the deadlock on important points on which differences of opinion have arisen.

In spite of the attempt to speedup the work of the peace conference, reports are still unavailable from commissions dealing with Schleswig-Holstein, the eastern boundaries of Germany, the Belgian frontier and waterways and harbors.

Premier Clemenceau is especially firm in his refusal to agree to the admission of Germany to the league of nations immediately. The French hold that they understood German psychology better than the allies and realize what the increasing arrogance of the Germans during the last few weeks means. They say they appreciate how much this arrogance would be increased if the peace conference should yield to the German demand for immediate admission to the league. The French, it is understood are willing that the Germans should be admitted later.

Hopes for Early Decision
Paris, June 12.—Official announcement was made after the meeting of the council of four this afternoon that there was hope of a comparatively early decision on the reply to Germany. It was said an agreement in principle was reached on the reparations clauses to the effect that no definite sum to be paid by Germany will be fixed in the treaty and that the question would be left virtually as in the original draft.

In French circles it was stated that the treaty will be much less altered than has been generally supposed.

Little Progress on Austrian Treaty
Paris, Tuesday, June 12.—Little progress is being made in the drafting of the missing articles of the treaty with Austria owing to the greater urgency of completing negotiations with the Germans. One American official who is working on the Austrian treaty, was asked today when the rest of the summary would be available, replied:

"There may not be any more. The Austrians have more now apparently than they are able to sign."

The same waiting attitude is being observed regarding the Hungarian treaty, parts of which are identical with the German and Austrian treaty and already are in print. A tentative part of the frontiers of Hungary has been prepared for submission to the council of four.

Dickson—Matthews

At the home of the bride, 815 Elm avenue, on Saturday, June 7th at 11:30 a. m. occurred the wedding of Miss Ada Dickson, daughter of S. C. Dickson, and Mr. Christopher L. Matthews, both popular young people of this city.

Rev. A. S. Peck, rector of the Episcopal church performed the ceremony in the presence of only the relatives of the contracting parties and a few intimate friends. The happy young couple left immediately for parts unknown on a wedding tour of several days. When last heard from they were at Knoxville, Tenn.

Miss Dickson has lived in Seminole county and Sanford all of her life. She is well and favorably known throughout the city and county and for the past few years has been an employee at the local telephone exchange.

Mr. Matthews is an operator in the dispatcher's office of the A. C. L. here and is very popular among the railroad employees who are all his friends. He is also part owner of the City Garage on Park avenue. The Herald joins their many friends in the best of good wishes.

Do You Want To Make an Interest- ing Test?

You are a music lover. Every normal man and woman loves good music. Do you realize what Mr. Edison has lately done for music lovers?

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

literally Re-Creates the voices of the world's great singers and the performances of the world's great instrumentalists. It gives you all that the ear can give of the art of the world's greatest artists.

By direct comparisons between the instrument and the living artists, the New Edison has earned the right to be called the only instrument which Re-Creates music. The Government has given Mr. Edison the exclusive right to use the word "Re-Creation" as applied to phonographic reproduction of music. These amazing tests between the New Edison and the artists whose voices have been Re-Created by it were made before two million people by thirty different great artists and are chronicled in the news columns of America's principal newspapers.

These tests are conclusive, but we want you to come to our store and make a test of your own.

CAN YOU FORGET?

Can you come to our store, seat yourself comfortably and forget that you are in a phonograph store? If you are able to do this, we shall give you a very wonderful experience. We shall ask you to take a chair about twenty feet from the New Edison. We shall show you a picture of a great singer—for example, Frieda Hempel, of the Metropolitan Opera. We shall ask you to recall the last time you heard a great soprano. Perhaps we shall ask you to close your eyes, or turn your back upon the instrument. Then we shall play—no, that is not the word—then Frieda Hempel will sing for you. Every quality of her glorious voice that has contributed to her world-wide success will be present in the New Edison's Re-Creation. With your eyes closed or your back turned, and with your mind open to the inspiration of the music, you will forget that you are listening to an inanimate object. You will almost feel Frieda Hempel's presence in the room. We want you to make this test. It will give you all of the rare sensations that a music lover gets at the opera or concert. It will probably determine you to become the owner of a New Edison, but you will not be urged to buy. Come to our store and say, "I want to test the New Edison."

For a Player-Piano, hear the Pianola, which reproduces the player rolls as the artists played them.

For a piano, let us demonstrate a Knabe or McPhail Grand, pianos endorsed by the world's greatest artists,

O AND BARGAINS O

This is our own original way of keeping prices down---and keeping our stock clear. One "O" stands for "Odds and Ends" and the other "O" for "Overstocked." If we had tremendous Clearance Sales we could dispose of odds and ends and overstocked goods, but we have to sell a lot of staple stock at a loss to do it and raise our prices at other times to make up the loss. By putting "O-and-O" tags on merchandise and reducing the price, we clear the "O-and-O's" only, and at the same time keep prices on regular goods down. You don't have to wait until the end of the season to get these "O-and-O" bargains, you can find them every day.

More Mileage Adjustment on Goodrich Tires

Fabrics—6,000 Miles
Cords—8,000 Miles

TO automobile owners and drivers—to Goodrich Dealers—the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company herewith declares a more mileage adjustment on Goodrich Tires—6,000 miles for SAFETY TREADS, and 8,000 miles for SILVERTOWN CORDS.

Fix these new Goodrich Adjustment figures firmly in your mind 6,000 miles for SAFETY TREADS—8,000 miles for SILVERTOWN CORDS—instead of the 3,500 and 5,000 miles respectively heretofore in force.

This new adjustment stands back of all Goodrich Tires, including Tires already purchased in the hands of user or dealer.

Goodrich Tires in actual usage are today unfolding such matchless mileage, regularly in excess of adjustment basis, that Goodrich knows it has the strongest, most durable tires the rubber industry has produced.

The Goodrich adjustment mileage is increased because Goodrich knows the mileage in its tires, and it wants to give every motorist a share in their economy.

Go to a Goodrich Dealer, and buy a Goodrich Tire, sure that with fair and square usage a Safety Tread will render you at least 6,000 miles; and a Silvertown Cord at least 8,000.

THE WELCOME RIDE

By MARGARET L. AHERN.

The two sailor lads—they were hardly over twenty—trudged along the parkway aimlessly, hands in their reef-er pockets and whistling to keep up their spirits. It was one of those rare Sundays in winter, not too cold, with a sunny blue sky. The roads were dry and hard, and although it was early morning, throngs of motorists were already starting off on pleasure trips. Many were comfortable in closed cars, while others, rosy-cheeked and bundled in furs, went swiftly by in open cars.

Jimmie, one of the boys in uniform, stopped whistling and gave a deep sigh. "If I were at home now," he began reminiscently, "I'd be greasing the old car and filling her up with gas. Then all the folks would pile in, and we would have our lunch basket—it's almost as big as a clothes hamper—and we'd be off for the day. Out as far as the Falls, maybe, or perhaps to Uncle Steve's ranch. We'd get back just before it got dark, and Hannah would have a man's size dinner all ready for us. We'd have appetites like starving steers. I can almost smell the roast beef and the gravy and—"

"Stop that," his chum, Dick, interrupted rudely. "You'll have my teeth watering!" In a minute, I've an idea, Jimmie; let's sit here by the road and trust that an auto will come along with two empty seats in it."

Accordingly, they sat down and watched the passing procession hopefully. It began to look as though they were out of luck when a gray car with two empty seats came along.

Two ladies were the only occupants, and these seemed to be having trouble. The car slowed down, chugging for a while, all the time emitting from its interior mysterious sounds that would create terror to any lady motorist's heart, and finally came to a complete stop. The driver frantically worked the spark lever and the throttle up and down and tried the self-starter, but with no success.

Jimmie smiled at his friend. "Here," he said, "Michael Earl Palmer came along quick."

The two of them hastened over to the gray car. Jimmie politely offered his services, explaining that he was an electrician in the navy and thoroughly familiar with gasoline engines.

Mrs. Windsor, the driver, had got out, opened up the hood, and was squirting oil about from a Small can rather listlessly. She sighed with relief at Jimmie's offer. "If you boys can help me out, and have nothing else to do, you shall be my guests for the day," she said gratefully.

With an instinct for finding engine trouble, and the added incentive of her promise, it took Jimmie only a few minutes to find that there was a loose connection at the ignition switch. He fixed it easily, and then, at Mrs. Windsor's request, tried the self-starter and found that it worked without difficulty.

That was the beginning of one of the happiest days Jimmie and Dick had spent since leaving home. Mrs. Windsor, seeing the eagerness shining in Jimmie's eyes, had generously offered to let him drive. She sat beside him, pointing out the roads, while Dick and her companion sat in back.

By the time they reached their destination, a country inn famous for its good dinners, the four were good friends and had exchanged confidences. The boys learned that the car belonged to Mrs. Windsor's only son, who was overseas, and that she had been driving it since he went away, but was almost discouraged by her frequent mishaps. They discovered, too, that she was as homesick as they were, and that she lived in a large house, but was considering giving it up and going to a hotel to live until her son came back.

After a delicious and hearty dinner at the inn, they all enjoyed the long drive back to Mrs. Windsor's house. She insisted that her two guests stay for supper and spend the evening. Jimmie and Dick made themselves at home immediately. They romped with a frisky collie, played the piano, and sang for their hostess. At ten they reluctantly departed for their ship, but not until they had promised to spend the next week-end with Mrs. Windsor.

And she, between arranging for a theater party at the next Saturday matinee, and inviting a number of young people to a dance at her home Saturday evening, forgot all about her homesickness and her intention of going to a hotel, and wrote her son the most cheerful letters he had received in a long while.

War Week-Ends.

It is curious to recall how many thrilling Saturdays and Sundays there have been during the war. It was on a Sunday that Germany committed her first definite act of war. On a Sunday the London Times published its telegram about the retreat from Mons, which created so painful a feeling in England. The crucial day of the second battle of Ypres, when the Germans nearly broke through with the help of gas, was a Saturday. It was on a Saturday that the earlier dispatches regarding the battle of Jutland created so unfortunate an impression, and it was on a Saturday in March that we began to realize the grim possibilities of the German offensive of that month.

Daily Fashion Hint

NOVELTIES FOR THE SMART WARDROBE.

One cannot fail to be impressed with the artistic worth of the new fashions, though they are exceedingly simple, in many instances. Combinations of materials continue a favored idea, as shown by the model to the left, composed of figured and plain foulard. The collar and cuffs are of chenille braid. Medium size requires 2½ yards figured and 4 yards plain 36-inch material.

The second design with box coat barely reaching the hips and fronts spreading apart to show a vest of silver cloth is also exceedingly smart. Satin is used for the coat and checked flannel for the skirt. Medium size requires 2¼ yards 40-inch satin, ½ yard silver cloth, 18 inches wide and 3 yards 40-inch flannel.

First Model: Pictorial Review Blouse No. 8116. Sizes, 34 to 46 inches bust. Price, 25 cents. Skirt No. 2932. Sizes, 24 to 34 inches waist. Price, 25 cents.

Second Model: Coat No. 8175. Sizes 34 to 44 inches bust. Price, 35 cents. Skirt No. 7657. Sizes, 24 to 32 inches waist. Price, 20 cents.

Humor in the Classroom.

Edith, who was ten years old, was studying her reader, and learned that fish are placed in brine before they are dried and prepared for sale. After explaining that brine is very salt water, the teacher asked why the fish were placed in it. Edith's face was illuminated with sudden understanding, and she promptly replied: "Because they are used to salt water."

Red Lead for Dry Batteries.

A dry battery utilizing red lead instead of the usual manganese compound has been patented by H. C. Gault. It is claimed that the red lead battery lasts longer than the type now in vogue may be kept inactive for months without any deterioration and may be recharged, at least ten times, with each red charge as efficient as any present battery.

ELDER SPRINGS WATER

THOMAS D. BAKER, Ph. D.
Analytical and Consulting Chemist - Professional of Natural Science
Emeritus, Rollins College, Florida
Private Laboratory of Rollins College
Winter Park, Fla., Nov. 25th, 1918.

Mr. T. O. Charles
Sanford, Fla.

Dear Sir: I have completed careful chemical analysis of the sample of water that you brought me early last week, and have obtained the following results:

Color	Clear	Chlorine	1.75 parts per million
Reaction	Neutral	Total solids	3.00 parts per million
Free Ammonia	0.00 parts per million	Hardness	23.03 parts per million
Albuminoid Ammonia	Trace	Nitrate	Trace

The absence practically of free and albuminoid ammonia in this water and its very small amount of chlorine indicates its excellent quality for household purposes. In addition to the good quality characteristics of superior household water, it possesses special features of much value, especially those of excellent natural aeration and LOW degree of hardness.

The bacteriological analysis, resulting in an average total count, in four samples of the water, of 3 bacteria per cent., and in finding no colony of other harmful bacteria, fully confirm its good quality indicated by the CHEMICAL analysis.

Of the many waters of this and other regions that I have analyzed, I have found none superior in all good qualities to that of the "Elder Water."

It ought to be true in America that no man should have the right to legislate for others who was not himself a good man.

Have you a friend? Would you help him when he needed help—would you go to his assistance in his time of need rather than wait for your time of convenience? Friendship is a noble thing in this life. I have a friend. I can depend on that friend to assist me by passing the hat for my benefit, but to assist me in time of need, be that what it may.

by lending me his presence, his every good advice, his always kind words. My friend is truly a friend. When I am in trouble he is near, when I am in trouble he is near. He is my friend. If you have a friend be to him the friend that you would have him be to you. Remember that he may have his trials, troubles and temptations in certain hours—just as you. Then be with him. Your spoken word or kindness, of consolation or friendly advice will do more for your friend than anything else any one could do. If he is in trouble be it great or small—help him to bear it, and help him when he needs it—not at your convenience. If you help at your convenience and not at his need you are then selfish, friendly to yourself and not a friend of your fellow. Remember "A friend in time of need is a friend indeed."

I didn't go to the hospital meeting the other night because I had heard there would be opposition to the hospital movement and I thought I would be ashamed to sit through some of this opposition and rather than be embarrassed I just stayed away. I am happy to know that the opposition did not appear at the meeting. This is usually the way with opposition to a good thing. When it comes to either put up or shut up, they haven't anything to say. The idea of a man in Sanford being against the hospital plan. It seems the best and quickest way to get a hospital and about the only way it can be had at present, and a hospital can be used here in Sanford. We need one. It is in keeping with the progress of Sanford. All Sanford must have a hospital. I am glad to know that Sanford has one. I am proud to know that Mrs. Fernald felt so kindly toward the city and then think that she did a truly noble thing. I am proud to know that the proposition has been met and that now we will have a sure enough hospital. I am more proud to know that the opposition—if really there was any, kept their opposition to themselves at the meeting.

I am glad to see the trees and shrubbery, etc. going up on the bulkhead. I think in time this bulkhead of ours will be a thing of beauty and a joy forever. I have talked of this for years and it does me good to see the things predicted by this column come to pass. I would suggest a further improvement on this bulkhead. Let it be levelled and planted in some kind of nice green grass put rustic seats out there, make driveways around the bulkhead—place a white way on the brink of the deep out there and a nice walk. All these things could be done and easily so. One of the first things I want the city council or some other body to do is to have the snags out in the lake either driven down or pulled out. Why mar the beauty of a thing by a few unsightly snags. Then again, if there is any chance in the world and I say there is, let's prevail upon the A. C. L. to remove their dead track from over our bulkhead. That done, a nice park for the kiddies, both young and grown up to play ball, etc. could be made over that way. I heard too the other day that somebody wanted to put a pavillion down that way. That is a splendid idea. Why not turn the pavillion idea into a real community play house idea. A floor for dancing, bowling, pool, and games of all kinds could be provided for—this idea placed on the edge of the bulkhead, extending over the water would be something grand. You community folk think it over.

The legislature has adjourned and the governor has vetoed the dog tax bill. Well, I think that is two things well done, and if the governor will just keep his veto running on some of the things the legislature has done the country will yet be saved. I think however that he could have found something more worthy of a veto than the dog tax bill. It may be that a dog tax bill would have a tendency to do away with the worthless curs that roam the country side without kith, kin or master. Be that as it may, the dog tax bill is now dead for two years, unless the ladies can prevail upon his Excellency to call a special session for the purpose of considering ratifying the suffrage amendment. If the special session should be called, the legislature would of course consider veto messages as well as any other business properly before the body. Let's hope, however, that any special session idea will not gain root and that we will have no legislature until the regular time for one two years hence. Speaking of what the legislature did, one of our dailies the other day attempted to explain what they did by setting forth the things they did not do. Among the important things not done, that every one thought would be done was the matter of re-apportionment. Another the constitutional convention matter. We might get along without a convention for awhile yet, but surely the other matter needs attention. It is true that the time ripe is for reapportionment was some legislatures ago, and many of the members get out of the question by telling you that it is not the duty of this legislature to re-apportion. It may not be, but not a one of them will admit that it does not need to be done. Maybe some day.

Lord Ashley, before the battle of Edge Hill, offered a prayer which many a man in the stress of life would do well to remember and to repeat every morning: "Oh, Lord, Thou knowest how busy I must be this day; if I forget Thee, do not Thou forget me."

If a man is discontented with this country of the free with a government invented for such folks as you and me, let him take his aunts and nieces, pack his bombs and knocks and creeses in his second hand valises and go sailing o'er the sea. If a man comes here to jabber with the other fellows work, if he's prone to be a stabber with an anarchistic dirk, let us tell him thorough our faces, we'll be happy if he chases to the foul and foreign places where his fellow loafers lurk. If a skate from Europe's allies comes to this star spangled shore hoping by his quips and sallies to make honest workers sore, let's condemn his crazy notion, let us curb his weird emotion, let us lead him to the ocean and the ship that sails at 4. War has left our people nervous, and we should reduce to junk any freak who comes to serve us with a lot of Russian bunk; let us treat him as a traitor, as a sinful agitator, let us load him on a freighter where the billows go kerplunk.—Walt Mason.

Not the Right Tune.
A certain man was angry one night and began to swear in the presence of his wife. The latter, thinking she might shame him into quitting, decided to imitate him and swore fervidly, using the same oaths that he did. He looked at her in amazement for a few minutes and then remarked, "Well, you have the same words but you haven't got the right tune."—Exchange.
