FINE CLASS OF THIRTY-ONE PUPILS GRADUATE FROM SANFORD HIGH SCHOOL LAST NIGHT

Sunshine and showers and music and flowers brought the commencement season of 1922 to a close last night when the fine class of boys and girls to the number of thirty-one received their diplomas from the hands of County Superintendent T. W. Lawton and their four years of good work in the high school were rewarded by the sheepskin. The high school auditorium was crowded at an early hour last night by the relatives and friends of the graduates and the lovers and patrons of Sanford High School and chairs had to be placed in the aisles and many had to stand throughout the exercises so great was the crowd. Led by the school board and the faculty the Seniors marched down the aisle to the stage singing the processional "Black and Gold" and took their places on the stage. The audience arose and sang the "Star Spangled Banner" after which Dr. S. W. Walker, of the Methodist church, gave the invocation. Hon. T. W. Lawton, county superintendent of schools, gave a brief preamble of the medals awarded during the term of school and called attention to the fact that never before in the history of the Sanford schools had so many medals and prizes been won and the record made by the high school this year was one of which the whole city and county could well feel proud. He also read a letter from Col. A. M. Thrasher offering the thirty dollars in gold each year to the member of the Senior class getting the highest average in all their studies. He then read the following list of prizes awarded and the list of scholars winning the same:

Prize offered by Welfare Department

Woman's Club for essay or play on Better Speech, Zillah Welsh, winner.

Prize offered by Welfare Department of Sanford Woman's Club for story on Better Speech, Florence McKay, winner.

Prize offered by Welfare Department of Sanford Woman's Club for essay on the "City Beautiful," Naomi Scoggin and Alice Bolly, winners.

Prize offered by Welfare Department of Sanford Woman's Club for Good Health Posters, Byron Stephens, Rodman Lehman, Sarah Malpas, winners.

National Society of Colonial Daughters, essay on Patriotic subject, Georgia Mobley, winner.

National Current Events prize, Miss Pattye Lyles, winner.

Debate, Sanford vs. Orlando, Margaret Gallagher, gold medal, ably assisted by Alice Runyan and Florence Henry.

Irvin Bacheller Oratorical Contest at Rollins College, Gayle Marshall, winner.

Mobley Scholarship Medal, Lorraine Phillips, winner.

A. M. Thrasher, $30 in gold, Senior scholarship prize, Zillah Welsh.

Sallie Harrison chapter, D. A. R. American History prize, Zillah Welsh.

D. A. R. Patriotic Act, selling flags, William Mallem.

(Not eligible for Mobley Medal, Charlotte Smith, winner last year; Georgia Mobley and Florence McKay, by request of parents).

The presentation of the medals brought forth unstinted applause from those assembled as they realized what a fine school and what fine records were being demonstrated by the awarding of the prizes consisting of medals and silver cups and cash prizes.

After a well rendered piano solo by Miss Dorothy Ray, Mr. Lawton introduced Dr. W. F. Blackman, of Lake Monroe, and former president of the Rollins College and one of the best known educators in the south. Dr. Blackman has given up the great work of education for the more pleasant and healthful and profitable task of raising cattle and other fine stock but he has lost none of his interest in the schools of the state and it is always a happy occasion when Dr. Blackman and the Sanford school children can meet. His address last night was replete with repartee and wit and the deeper philosophy of Aristotle and the political philosophy and beliefs of ancient times as applied to the nations of the earth and what brought them together and held them together. His theme was that nothing on earth but the public school system could take the millions of boys and girls of America, many of them citizens of a few weeks, and mould them into real American citizens. The public schools are the agency upon which we now rely to bind the whole people into one unit and after seeing the foreigners assembled together in schools of the lower east side of New York unable to speak a word of English Dr. Blackman said that he pictured in his mind's eye the children of Maine, California, New Mexico, Florida and the entire United States any morning all engaged in one thing—getting their lessons in the public schools. Twenty millions of boys and girls fashioned into some kind of Americans and that only through the public school system could such a great feat be accomplished.

There is no such school system in all the world and it is something of which the American boy and girl can well feel proud and of which all American citizens can feel proud. All interests converge upon the public schools regardless of religious or political faith, it is the clearing house for the community in which it is placed and the parents feel that they have a part in the school life since their children are going or have gone there and had the advantage of the public schools. Where the interests and the heart lies there is the human interest said Dr. Blackman and certainly there was more interest today in the public schools than ever before, there was more people thinking about the public schools and working for them than ever before and ere long with better laws in Florida—a change in the constitution that would give a properly constituted board the power to act that the public schools of Florida would be better than the best and that day is coming when such acts will be passed in the legislature, when our schools will have more money for better schools and more money for the pay of the teachers and it will be the best money ever spent for any purposes. Dr. Blackman closed with asking God's blessing on the state and the county and the schools that they might become greater in the years to come.

Superintendent Lawton then award-

MEMORIAL DAY OBSERVED BY SPANISH WAR VETS AND THE G. A. R.

Memorial Day was fittingly observed this morning with impressive ceremonies at Lakeview cemetery by Col. Theodore Roosevelt Camp No. 13 and the local G. A. R. comrades, in commemoration of the heroes of '98-1902 and of the sixties.

At the grave of Comrade Braxton, Spanish American War veteran, a sweetly solemn service was held, with Commander R. A. Torheun, Sr., in charge, assisted by Adjutant Harry Lewis and Rev. Paul Burhans, with the local veterans of the two wars and the auxiliary gathered around to honor their dead. At the conclusion of the ceremony, Sgt. E. A. Ball sounded taps.

A committee from Col. Theodore Roosevelt Auxiliary, No. 3, with wives and friends of the G. A. R., decorated the graves with a profusion of flowers and laurel wreaths. Assisted by Comrades Robinson, Hoakins and Robbins of the G. A. R. who placed flags upon the resting places of their departed comrades.

Following the services at the cemetery the Spanish War vets re-assembled at the foot of Park avenue, where another short beautiful ceremony was held in memory of the navy dead. Again taps were sounded and flowers were scattered upon the waters. From now on Memorial Day will be observed annually by the local camp of U. S. W. V.

The veterans and auxiliary express their appreciation for the use of cars and generous donations of flowers.

SANFORD'S TEMPERATURE

Sunshine and showery and clouds and clear skies come with a frequency these days that makes one think the rainy season is on. How much like life is the weather just now. But there is no use to worry about sunshine or shadow. We take the bitter with the sweet and even with peppers on the chute we can think of many blessings.

COMMENCEMENT

Commencement which really means "just begun" has again come around and will soon be but a fragrant memory in the minds of the class of 1922 and of their friends. Commencement week has been one continual round of entertainment, gaiety, plays, musicals, class days and interesting events so dear to the hearts of the seniors and the underclasses of the high school. This week is one that burns the brightest in memory many, many years after the commencement of 1922. How that date will remain a fixture in the minds of the boys and girls of the senior class. It means so much to each and every one of them, the turning point in their careers, the time when they will leave homes and friends and go from Sanford High either to college or the big college of life where they will take up new duties and make new friends and begin to realize something of what this life means to them. Then and only then will they realize what their high school years have meant to them and many times during their future life the seniors will wish they had spent just a little more time on this study or that study for no matter how good their marks happen to be in school Old Man Experience is ever a hard task master and it is only by experience that the lessons learned in school can be really appreciated.

Commencement in school and then the commencement of the real life in the great world of today and there has never been a time when a first class education was needed quite as much as the present day. You see the boys and girls all around you who lacking a high school education have been handicapped in so many ways. It is come to the point when an employer insists that his employees have a high school diploma nine cases out of ten. The old days of the grammar school education or none at all have passed away and in order to keep pace with their fellows the boys and girls of today must have the best education that they can get. And they can get an education if they want one for it is within the reach of everyone today regardless of their financial condition.

It is sad indeed to see some of the scholars who think they do not want to graduate from the High School and who are content to take a few studies and then drop out thinking they have enough education to tackle the world. In a few isolated cases they make good but how much better would they have succeeded if they had higher education and a diploma from the Sanford High School to help them to something better and something higher.

All honor to the fine big class of boys and girls who graduated from the High School last night. Their numbers and their wonderful record has been and will ever be an inspiration to those who follow. They have made a record of which we are all proud and they have shed luster on their school and their teachers and their parents. We are very proud of you, class of 1922. You have proven to us that the money spent on the public schools is money well spent. You have proven to us that all our interest in the public schools is going for the big things in life, for the making of better citizens, for the making of bigger and broader citizens, for the making of good law abiding, God fearing citizens and the class of 1922 gives us a pride that comes from the well doing of one of the best high schools in the state and one of the best classes that ever went forth from this fine High School.

"To the Stars" was not too high a mark for the class of 1922 to aim for it is "to the stars" they went for inspiration and it is to the stars they can look in the future. There in the heavens is their inspiration, their hopes, their joys and mayhap their sorrows but with sorrow and trouble the class of 1922 will be looking to the stars and with head up and shoulders thrown back will meet whatever comes armed cap-a-pie with that knowledge that will endure forever and surmount all difficulties.

FLORIDA THE IDEAL SCHOOL STATE

Florida has been hailed as so many things—the Winter Paradise, the Playground of the Nation, the modern Garden of Eden, the Land of Sunshine, the Land of Plenty, but we do not know if anyone ever called it what we are going to name it now—the Ideal School State.

Last week when the American Medical Association met in St. Louis, Mo., Dr. W. A. Evans, of Chicago, suggested winter vacations for children, with school classes in summer as a method of checking the winter death rate from pneumonia, influenza and other respiratory diseases. Meantime, those who can leave the lands of ice and snow and deadly winter maladies, and wish to enter their children in school in a climate where disease is at a minimum, will do well to come to Florida, where school terms are practically uninterrupted by epidemics of any kind whatsoever. The equable climate, the brilliant sunshine, which is health-giving in itself, and the comparatively mild temperatures which prevail during the greater part of the winter season—the virtue of all these things are reflected in the general health of the children, and in the splendid attendance records in the schools.

Chicago may have to work out its school problem as suggested above, but in the meantime, surely those who can winter in Florida will wish to do so and continue the work of their children in the schools of this southern clime, where the climatic conditions are so favorable, and general health conditions among children as well as grown people so universally good.—St. Augustine Record.

LOOKING TO COLLEGE LIFE AS SEASON OF EXPERIENCE

With the high school year drawing to a close the question of college attendance is holding the attention of both pupils and parents.

The average high school graduate is anxious for a college career and looks forward to it as one of life's greatest experiences. To the youthful mind the thought is touched with adventure and the romance of thrilling associations. While attaching a certain significance to the strictly educational feature of college attendance, the youth emerging from high school is fascinated by the more glamorous sides of life ahead—and this is indeed fortunate, for the solemn problems present themselves soon enough after which the high spirit of youth is forced to resolve itself into a grim determination. After the responsibility of life fastens itself securely, the world is viewed from an altogether different viewpoint. Once passed it never returns, this buoyancy of youth. In the words of Wordsworth:

The rainbow comes and goes, And lovely is the rose; The moon doth with delight look around her when the heavens are bare,

Waters on a starry night are beautiful and fair. But this I know, where'er I go, There hath passed away a glory from the earth.

Grasping the significance of these lines, youth isn't to be rebuked for looking to college life as the season for making friendships and enjoying the intensely happy associations that flourish in them; for, while text book education is important, these features are equally important. Text books are always available; "college life" is lived but once, in the exuberant hour of youth.

Ask the college graduates of yesterday what he considers most valuable, and almost invariably the reply will be received: "The friendships I made. The companionship of the fraternity. The spirit of the student body. The lesson in loyalty to an institution."

Text-books and curriculums change; the old order passeth and new customs are inaugurated—but friendship and the things that go with it remain, and inestimable is the comfort in the thought.

Parents considering the future of their children should think of these things, and in selecting almanacs for their sons and daughters remember text-book knowledge is a single requisite to education. In the bigger sense, education is the ability to live happily with yourself and with your fellowman.—Jacksonville Metropolis.

CHILDREN IN SUMMER

What are the children going to do with their summer vacation. Three months of idleness are a good deal for a mind and body growing so fast and so high.

Fun and freedom are welcome enough at first. But before long freedom becomes boredom, and fun leads to mischief. Then a little organization by mother of the family forces comes in handy.

Is there any reason why children should not have regular tasks in the summer? It is the best of all times for beginning the music lessons—warm weather limbers the muscles and the practice of the first hour in the morning is better than that of any two winter hours after school. Then there are the small household tasks. Why should not mother turn over the care and order of the porch to a small daughter? Lives there a child who does not love to scrub the porch, barefoot with the hose? Lives there a girl-child who does not love to arrange the chairs and cushions and flowers afterward?

The possibilities of shelling the peas and doing the dishes are always present. But how much more interesting is it if one child is appointed monitor of the kitchen for a week, and one of the dining-room. Then there is a personal sense of responsibility for setting the table without forgetting anything, for leaving the rooms neat as a new pin when the work is done.

These are but suggestions. For those who are old enough, there is sewing and baking. No mother needs a catalogue of weekly deeds. What a good many mothers need, however, is the organizing ability which turns over to the children not tiresome drudgery, but interesting effort. The difference usually lies in giving the child responsibility and authority over his chosen task.

Let mother take a leaf from the Scouts Manuals this summer, and everybody at home will be happier, the work will be better and more easily accomplished, and the children will attain a development mental, moral and physical, not possible in conditions of unlimited idleness.—Pensacola News.

AMERICAN COLLEGES

"They are incomparable," said a French professor the other day on the subject of American universities. He is in the country to make a study of its schools of higher learning and this eulogy came after he had seen enough of them to have basis for a valid opinion.

He was impressed with the splendid equipment at the colleges visited, particularly with the well-stocked libraries everywhere in evidence. Such equipment, together with the fact that colleges are able to draw an excellent array of professional talent gives the American student an advantage that is virtually unlimited.

So says this French professor, and no doubt his message is a cheering one to those who are in doubt sometimes as to what American colleges are up to with the vast army of students now enrolled.

On the other hand some American leaders in education are not so serenely hopeful. There are educational fields which are still somewhat new as far as the college is concerned; at least these fields have not worked to the fullest possibilities according to that schools of higher learning train these educators. They would admit for industrial leadership and for professions. They turn out good engineers and competent physicians and lawyers and dentists. But this, if one is to believe our most advanced educators, is not enough. For some years now they have said, just as they will tell the graduates next month, that they are not fitting out their students with an adequate social vision.

The ability and desire to understand and pursue the interests of the whole group, whether that of city or nation, should be the distinctive trait of the college man. It might be unreasonable to expect him to put aside altogether his own interests, but a mere insistence on his selfish interests ought to be beneath the intelligence and dignity of every individual certainly beneath those of the college man, the expense of whose training is in a great measure borne by the community.

This is an ideal on which college authorities have a right to insist.—Tampa Tribune.

The Sanford Herald says, when they get deep water to Sanford, with Orlando's help, this city can dig a canal to connect with the St. Johns. Such a project seems feasible to us, but what would happen if we had a drought such as we have just experienced? It's ten to one the canal would go dry. Bob Holly's trolley line begins to loom up as the best of the two propositions.—Reporter-Star.

Righto, old dear. And we are not spoofing the public on this proposition. The trolley line or the private railway from Sanford to Orlando is the thing.

The trucking season in Lee county is rapidly drawing to a close and likely the last shipments of any quantity will be made next week. The season has been quite a profitable one and only gives way at this time on account of the season opening up in northern sections of the state.

THE SENIOR CLASS OF '22

"AD ASTRA" PARODY TO "STAR OF THE SEA"

On to the stars, from old Sanford High,
 Give the Old School a last fond good-bye;
 Thru' the long hours of study and toil,
 The hope of the student, no sorrow can foil!
 Fearless and trusting we look up to you!
 Knowing the triumphs of Class of '22;
 Help us to follow the way you may lead,
 Give us the help we need.

CHORUS

On to the stars, our hope and our guide,
 No darkness here, your brightness can hide;
 Shine on bright stars
 To bring wisdom nigh,
 Our own dear ad astras, of Sanford High.

REFRAIN

Oh wisdom's stars shine on us now!
 To say good-bye, pray teach us how!
 Shine o'er us then when we are gone,
 And on Old Sanford High, still shine on.

SECOND VERSE

On to the stars, from Old Sanford High,
 Now we must part, must tell you good-bye.
 Teachers so kind, and classmates so true,
 And all of the friends of the Class of '22;
 Smiling and tranquil, we leave you today! (tonight)
 Leave you to walk in "Ad Astras" bright ray, (rays bright)
 We thank you for help, dear Old Sanford High,
 And kindly say good-bye.

—Mrs. L. A. Mickey.

 Mrs. R. A. Newman was the gracious hostess yesterday at a bridge luncheon at her home on Fourth street, the guests including the members of the Duplicate Bridge Club and one extra table of players.

The rooms where the tables were placed, were profusely decorated with quantities of shasta daisies and ferns. At one o'clock a delicious four course luncheon was served after which several most interesting games of duplicate bridge were played. The prizes, silk lingerie, were won by Mrs. Frank Miller and Mrs. E. F. Householder.

SIX O'CLOCK LUNCHEON
 Of the many delightful favors tendered the High School graduates, the five course luncheon given by Mrs. Thornton Friday night to the girl graduates of her Sunday School class was the most beautiful.

The class colors, garnet and gold was effectively used. A basket of garnet with the class flower, the brown-eyed Daisy, formed the centerpiece. A large bunch of poppies and streamers of garnet and gold festooned from the chandelier which cast a glow of mellow golden light over the table spread with a beautiful battenburg lunch cloth over gold and laid with plates for seven. Place cards and favors in the class colors was used.

A pretty sentiment associated with this luncheon was a large picture of Miss Erminia Houser, a member of this class who is graduating in Columbia, S. C., and could not be present but who seemed very near in the perfect likeness of her picture.

Those to enjoy this delightful occasion was the Misses Margaret Zachary, Lillian Shinholser, Marion Hand, Pattye Lyle, Esther Hughey, Mrs. D. S. Babbitt and Mrs. Thornton.

JIMMY MURPHY WON 500 MILE AUTO RACE

DAILY HERALD OF YESTERDAY SAID HE WAS LEADING ALL OTHERS

(By The Associated Press)
 INDIANAPOLIS, May 31.—Leading from start to finish, Jimmy Murphy of Los Angeles, Calif., winner of the 1921 French Grand Prix, carved his name deeper in the hall of motor fame yesterday when he flashed across the wire a winner of the 500 mile automobile race at the Indianapolis speedway before a record-breaking crowd of 135,000 persons.

Murphy smashed all records for the distance, clipping more than 10 minutes off the best previous record. His time was 5:17:30.79, an average of 94.48 miles an hour, against the old record of 5:33:55.51, or 89.84 miles an hour made by Ralph DePalma in 1915. Murphy did something which had never been accomplished before at the Indianapolis speedway and to the knowledge of racing experts never before in a race of major importance. He shot into the lead at the start and never relinquished it during one instant of five hours of thrilling driving. He was the first away, was first over the line at the completion of the first lap and was first over the wire when Captain Eddie Ickenbaker waved the flag for his victory.

LEFT OUT ON REPORT OF MUNSON MUSICALE

In the write up of the Munson musicale Monday night the Herald typo left out the name of Miss Fannie Reba Munson who played one of the most difficult as well as one of the best numbers on the program. The friends of the young lady looked for something good and they were not disappointed in the number called the Polonaise by MacDowell, being in Indian spirit of weird melody mysterious in runs, calm dignity chords etc., so suggestive of the race and their last hopes. Miss Munson gave the selection the real artistic touch and it was greatly enjoyed by the music lovers present who realized what a difficult piece it was and the hard work put on it by this artist. The piano used at the musicale was loaned to Mrs. Munson and the High School by the J. H. Hintermister Piano Co., of this city and was one of the celebrated Lester pianos and added greatly to the success of the musicale and pleasure of the performers.

ROTARY CLUB ENTERTAINED SENIOR BOYS

SANFORD CLUB WAS HOST TO THE BOYS OF THE CLASS OF 1922 LAST NIGHT

The Sanford Rotary Club was host to the boys of the Class of 1922 last night at the Montezuma Hotel and a most enjoyable time was had by the hosts and the guests. The meeting was the regular night meeting that occurs once each month and at which time much business is usually transacted and the new birds are initiated but last night was given over to the Senior boys and as they had to get to the High School to receive their diplomas they were not burdened with any business routine. Vice-President Housholder presided at the meeting in the absence of D. L. Thrasher, the president, who left yesterday to attend the national convention of Rotary Clubs at San Francisco. After the formal opening of the meeting B. F. Whitner was called upon to say a few good things to the boys of the Senior class and in his usual hearty manner made the boys feel that the Rotarians were their friends and that Rotary stood for the best of everything and the best in education.

The meeting was then turned over to the Seniors in a way and they were all prepared and answered to the following toasts:

"To the Class," Edward Henderson.

"The City Substantial," Robert Thrasher.

"The Bond Issues for Good Roads and Streets," Frederic Rines.

"The Two Million Dollar Hotel," Willard Lumley.

"A New Speedway Around Lake Monroe," William Fitts.

"The New Six Story First National Bank," Fay Lossing.

"The Sanford Herald," William Lyle Tapp.

"The New School Buildings," William Mallem.

"Tennis Courts, Gymnasium and Ball Parks," Harold Christensen.

"Our Country Club," Arthur Moore.

"The Boys of the High School," Bertram Sheppard.

The toasts were very clever and to the point and were greatly enjoyed by the Rotary members and the classmates alike. They showed that the boys of the Senior class were live wires and were keeping up with events in the City of Sanford.

Col. George W. Knight was called upon to close with a few remarks to the boys and he gave them some excellent ideas of good citizenship telling them that they were to be the future leaders in the city of Sanford and civic reform rather than politics should be their work and their aim in life. His talk was filled with the Rotary spirit and he dwelt at the close upon the Rotary axioms of "service above self" and "he profits most who serves best" and congratulated the boys upon the fact that all but two of them expected to gain a higher education by attending college.

A message to the boys from President Thrasher was read and after singing "America" and the boys giving a yell for "Rotary" the hosts and guests departed with the feeling that the night with the younger spirits had made the older men younger and the Seniors felt that the evening spent with the older folks had given them an insight into the work of the men of the Rotary Club and the men who are doing something all the time for the city of Sanford and the people of this community.

The Montezuma served the following excellent menu:

- Fruit Cocktail a la Montezuma
- Hearts of Celery
- Queen Olives

EAGLES BUILDING FIRE DESTROYS FURNISHINGS RICHARD FAMILY INJURED

A fire last night about eight o'clock in the Eagles building on Oak avenue gave the fire department a difficult job as it was in the second floor where the partitions and ceilings were all of pine and the fire was hard to get under control. The fire department was called at meal time and the fireman on duty was slow in getting water at the fire and when water was finally ready the fire had gained rapid headway and the smoke from the fat pine was suffocating, making the work of the department and the volunteers very difficult. The volunteers did noble work rushing up the stairs and rescuing the families and taking out furniture. Jim Richards and family who occupied the apartment where the blaze first started from an oil stove suffered severely, Mr. Richards and the little baby being badly burned and Mrs. Richards being overcome from fright and the smoke is in a serious condition. The Richards family and several other families lost all their furniture and M. Hogan who leased the entire second floor informed the Herald reporter that none of them had any insurance although there was insurance on the building. On the first floor occupied by the Renaud Battery Service, the storage of Oakland cars and tires of the Kent Vulcanizing Co., and the Mahoney Walker Co., the volunteers did valiant service pushing the cars out and carrying out tires and other supplies that would have been injured by the water as the flames were confined to the second floor.

All of these firms wish to thank the brave fellows who went into the fire and rendered such valiant service at a time when such service was greatly needed.

Ray Brothers have the exclusive agency for the Firestone Cord service and these famous tires can be had at Ray Brothers place on West First street at any time. Watch for their advertisement in the Herald.
