Delegation To Protest

By HILL SCOTT

As many as 42 property owners are expected to crowd Sanford city hall tonight when the city zoning and planning board holds a public hearing on a proposal to rezone seven lots to allow for multiple family dwellings in the area between Melville and San Marcos Avenues and Fourth and Sixth Streets.

Major concern of the majority of these owners is the type of apartments a developer is expected to construct on the lots, if the zoning is changed from present R-2 (one- and two-family dwellings) to R-3 (multiple family).

Garland J. Toll, Winter Park stock broker, is proposing to construct town houses on the properties if the zoning change is granted but, according to Lynn Riner, city building inspector, the property owners are concerned that a high-rise may be built in the area.

Riner said he sent notices to the 42 affected property owners and has received calls from some indicating a large group intends to attend the session, which starts at 8 p.m.

Another matter to come before the zoning board is a progressive report from the developers of Hidden Lake planned development, located along U. S. 17-92, from Onora Road south.

Riner said he sent notices to the 42 affected property owners and has received calls from some indicating a large group intends to attend the session, which starts at 8 p.m.

Teenager Held For Narcotics

A drug arrest and loss of money from a burglary highlighted today's activities of the sheriff's department.

An 18-year-old Winter Park man has been charged with drug violations and was jailed in lieu of $10,000 bond.

Michael Glenn Davis, was arrested on two charges, sale of narcotics and possession of narcotics, after he was brought to the county jail Wednesday by his father, according to Lt. A. F. Davis, vice squad investigator.

Det. Sgt. George Abby reported the theft of $600 from the Park Ridge home of John Perkins, 145 Lake-side Drive.

Abby said the money was removed from a small metal bag by a thief who apparently crawled through a window while Perkins was away from home.

Can Bet On It... the next chairman of the Seminole Memorial Hospital Board of Trustees will be Dr. Harold Miller.

Seems like everyone wants to interview Judge Dominick Salvi. Next on the list is WDBO-TV's Central Florida Showcases... this Sunday at 10:30 p.m.

Wanna help out? If you see an attractively decorated home in your neighborhood, give me a call... and I'll pass the word along through this column.

Up north this used to be one of the highlights of the Christmas Season... going around and gazing at all the gaily lit homes.

Thinking Out Loud... We're starting to see some results of those found guilty in the courts, getting their due. However... I'm sick-and-tired of those prisoners taking matters into their own hands (via hostages, etc.) and making all kinds of demands.

They broke the law! Who says we have to guarantee them standards probably better than they could provide for themselves as members of a free society.

The next time they hold a hostage and threaten his life... he should be made to forfeit his very own life!

It's bad enough they threatened the law-abiding on the outside; and now to continue this practice while they are incarcerated is idiotic... to say the least!

WEATHER

For the 10th consecutive day, Seminole County has enjoyed temperatures above 82 degrees. Yesterday's high 86 low 61.

Mostly sunny today and Friday. Continued warm. Highs 80 to 86. Lows tonight in the 60s.

THIS "BIG A" tractor belonging to Austin Fertilizer and Chemical Company of Sanford, fell off a low-boy trailer and caught fire yesterday afternoon. Firemen from the Lake Mary Volunteer Fire Department battle the blaze. According to FHP Trooper P. C. (Phil) Wright the $18,000 vehicle was a total loss. Wright was assisted in his investigation by the Seminole County Sheriff's Department. (Gary Taylor Photo)

Pakistani Forces Surrender Indian Army Triumphs; To Cease Fire

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Indian army triumphed in its eastern front today with the unconditional surrender of Pakistani's army in East Pakistan. Then the Indian government ordered its troops on the western front to stop fighting Friday night in a unilateral cease-fire.

The Indian Cabinet's decision to call a pause in the Kashmir area was made in the face of a declaration by Pakistan's president that he would carry on the war with India until the "occupied areas are taken back."

In announcing the Indian government's decision, an official spokesman said: "We have repeatedly declared that India has no territorial ambition."

"Now that Pakistani armed forces have surrendered in Bangla Desh, and Bangla Desh now is free, it is pointless in our view to continue the present conflict."

"Therefore, in order to stop bloodshed and unnecessary loss of life, we have ordered our armed forces to cease fire everywhere on the western front, with effect from 2000 hours Indian standard time on Friday, Dec. 17, 1971."

"It is our earnest hope that there will be a corresponding immediate response from the government of Pakistan."

The time given is 8 p.m. local EST. The eastern and western fronts are separated by about 1,000 miles, as are East and West Pakistan.

Extortion Suspect Not Guilty

By MARION BETHEA

Barney Mills, North Orlando, has been exonerated by a Circuit Court jury of charges of extortion. His co-defendant in the case, Marvin McAdams, North Orlando, had a mistrial declared in his case by Circuit Judge Richard Muldrew. The jury reported to the court that it was hopelessly deadlocked in the case of McAdams. No date is set for a new trial.

The two were charged with threatening to accuse Fred McGalliard of an attempt to evade payment of income tax to the Department of Internal Revenue and to extort money. The men were charged with threatening to expose private and confidential records which had been stolen previously unless McGalliard paid them $1,000.

The trial was unusual in that the two men were arraigned on the charges only Tuesday. After entering an innocent plea, their attorney, Collis White, Orlando, told the court that a demand for speedy trial had been entered on Dec. 6. Assistant State Attorney William Eaton told the court the state was ready to go to trial, as did the defense, so stipulate, Circuit Judge Dominick Salvi then set for the following day.

In other court action, the state dismissed charges of buying, receiving and aiding in the concealment of stolen property against Eric Westbrock.

A Circuit Court jury found John George Grove guilty of auto theft. Circuit Judge Volie Williams Jr. ordered a presentence investigation and remanded the defendant to custody.

Convicted For Drugs, Defendant Ends Life

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—A 36-year-old man depressed over the possibility of a jail term for possession of drugs slipped from an Orange County courtroom Wednesday and killed himself moments before he was to have received a probationary sentence, police said.

Telling his mother he was going for a drink of water, the twice-divorced Parsella left behind the wheel of his nearby parked car, and fired one shot in his right temple, police said.

The judge said Parsella could not have had any way of knowing what his sentence was to have been.

"I take care of all cases first in which I send someone to jail, and hope those waiting and watching who are destined for probation are taught a good lesson," Edwards said.

Holidays Barred In Schools

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Florida's county school superintendents have been warned "not to endorse the religious dogma" of the holiday season.

In a memo mailed earlier this week to the state's 97 superintendents, Education Commissioner Floyd Christian noted that religious observances of Christmas or Hanukkah "constitute a form of religious teaching and are therefore unconstitutional."

However, he said schools may offer students "sensible programs illustrating the history and significance of these holidays."

He said religious scenes or the handing out of Bibles were strictly forbidden.

Court rulings barring the reading of prayers and other observances of religion in the public schools "are binding on all the states and all the political subdivisions," said the state's No. 1 school officer.

Christian said he was distributing the memorandum because of "certain alleged practices in some Florida public schools which do not conform to the decisions of the courts relating to the constitutional provision for separation of church and state."

U. S. Stepping Up Pollution Controls

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Environmental Protection Agency plans to require basic treatment of virtually all industrial discharges into U.S. waterways, even where states don't demand it.
EPA general counsel John Quarles Jr. says EPA's 10 regional administrators are being directed to apply a minimum requirement of "secondary treatment or its equivalent" to all permits for industrial-waste discharges into navigable waters.
More-stringent controls are to be imposed where required to meet state water-quality standards, he said in an interview.
Quarles said the directive "affirms and clarifies" existing policy which was not spelled out in writing before.
"The clarification," however, marks the first open establishment by EPA of a nationwide industrial treatment standard.
Administrator William D. Ruckelshaus said last April that "the federal government is responsible for establishing minimum national requirements and supervising state activities."
At that time, EPA had contracted out development of what it hoped would be specific guidelines for water-pollution controls on some 20 major industrial categories.
By July, however, Ruckelshaus concluded that mandatory guidelines were not practical.
Regional administrators, responsible for writing anti-pollution permits and enforcing existing policy, were directed only to use their best professional judgment.

Foreign Aid Fight May Delay Holiday

WASHINGTON (AP) — A funding of the foreign-aid program until early 1972, passed Wednesday by the House, is the only other piece of business remaining before Congress can quit until Jan. 18.
Earlier Wednesday, both houses had passed and sent to the White House the only other two remaining appropriations bills, a $78.5-billion measure for the Defense Department and a $52-million bill for the District of Columbia.
They also completed action on a measure providing 13 weeks of additional unemployment compensation for states with an above-average jobless rate.
The House has completed its bill providing temporary funding for modification and discussion.
Major Lawrence Swofford balked at the agreement, contending that he is opposed to furnishing $50,000 to traverse dirt roads and potholes the brush. He contended that he would be in favor of using a donated surplus truck and pump.
Swofford also maintained that the volunteer fire department does not fit the category per se, having two full time paid firemen.
In other action, Council rejected all bids on a cash register since only one company responded from the seven contacted. The others advised they could not meet the specifications. Therefore, it was recommended the specifications be modified and new bids requested.
Council authorized the purchase of two small computers for the water department at a cost of $980, and further authorized Councilman Keith Nixon to work with City Clerk State Richards to review proposals.
Adopted upon second and final reading is an ordinance adopting a uniform traffic control law as proposed by state statute, effective Jan. 1.

Rotary To Entertain Wives At Luncheon

The annual Christmas luncheon of the Rotary club for wives of the members will have as guest artist soprano Teresa Gunter, soloist at First Baptist church, Orlando. The meeting is at the Civic Center at noon Monday.
President Howard McNulty said it is appropriate that in the club's observance of Christmas that such a devout Christian should be in the spotlight presenting the program.
Mrs. Gunter is continuing her studies in voice at Florida Technological University where she is a senior. The talented pianist, Mrs. Cheryl Iborner, will be accompanist.
Rotarians were reminded that they are to bring their contributions to the Salvation Army Christmas party, not as a "ticket of admittance" but as an "opportunity to share." This has been a recent practice of the civic club.

Developers Pushed For Utilities

Zoning Director Robert S. Thron reported to the County Commission he sent a letter to major property owners and developers in the South Seminole area east of SR 436, informing them of the concern about the hold-back of development in that area due to the inadequacy of sewer and water facilities.
The zoning officer is interested in learning whether the property owners and developers might be willing to participate in financing a water and sewer survey in that area. This survey will aid the county in possibly establishing a water and sewer service district.
While General Waterworks is proceeding with its expansion, according to county projections, a moratorium on sewer hook-ups can be expected shortly after the company phase. It is completed, since most of this expansion is already committed.
In other action, commissioner approved a purchase of a truck from Prosser Ford at a cost of $305, subject to inspection and approval of Road Supt. J. C. Lavenier. The truck will be part of the pollution control office inventory.
Also approved for the pollution control officer was the expenditure of $183.25 for shelving and field equipment and name plates for personnel.
Langley Adair, pollution control officer, reported he and Commissioner Al Davis met with homeowners of the Mirror Lake area to discuss the problem of pollution and weeds in that lake. He said he advised residents of the area to form an association and make application to the proper authorities, which action might make it possible for them to obtain maturing funds for lake restoration and preservation.

Altamonte Annexes, Increases Tax Roll

By MARION BETHA
ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — In an effort to close out the year with all petitions for annexation on the tax rolls, City Council annexed upon first reading three separate tracts of land totaling 185 acres.
Mayor Lawrence Swofford told council that if the property were not annexed before Jan. 1, it would not be placed on the tax rolls until December, 1972, and the city would be furnishing service during the two years. He contended that the city is considering seven ordinances of annexation, which would increase the city's tax base by $25 million with a five-mill tax. Adopted upon first reading is an ordinance annexing 10 acres adjacent to the Royal Arms, south of Village Green Apartments. The property carries R-1 zoning and will feature cluster type homes, with a density of nine per acre. Homes will be in the $25,000-35,000 price range.
Councilman Daniel Dorfman maintained that the property will be to the city's advantage, and is compatible with area zoning. However, Councilman Thomas Radloff wished a delay to refer the matter to the new Zoning Commission and also to view the property.
City Attorney S. J. Davis expressed that "This is a good piece of property to annex."
Dorfman commented that it would "set a lot of people's mind at rest with the right kind of zoning."

Monetary Standard Being Shaped By U.S.

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — With key issues still to be resolved, the United States expects to forge a new international monetary settlement by the time the 92nd Congress reconvenes Jan. 18.
If things work out as planned, the settlement would include agreement on a new pattern of money-exchange rates, elimination of some trade barriers to U.S. goods, and some sharing of defense costs by U.S. allies.
The Nixon administration there would be ready to introduce in Congress its bill to devalue the dollar, which it agreed to do in principle earlier this week. It might also be the time for the death of the import surcharge.
U.S. officials have emphasized that any monetary settlement must be a package deal in which elimination of some trade barriers, notably by the Common Market, and sharing of defense costs are included.
But the next month will be crucial. First, finance ministers and central bankers of the 10 richest non-Communist nations gather here this week to discuss how much their currencies should be worth in relation to each other. At the same time, U.S. officials plan bilateral talks with trade representatives on stripping away barriers to U.S. exports.
Then President Nixon has key meetings scheduled with leaders of West Germany, Japan and Britain. Trade and barrier-sharing of defense costs are expected to be among topics of discussion.

Public Hearing Requested Kathryn Level Studied

By KATHY NIBLACK
CASSELBERRY — The setting of a public hearing date for the study of the lake level of Lake Kathryn was delayed this week until more information can be gathered.
Council Chairman Edith Durr requested that the council set a date for a hearing on this matter. This will be a joint hearing between the city and the County Commission to discuss the effects a proposed structure (weir) built on the county side of the lake will have on the lake level.
Mayor Curtis Blow suggested that this hearing be not only concerned with Lake Kathryn, but that the effects of this structure on the levels of all lakes in that chain be studied also. Blow suggested that homeowners on all lakes from Kathryn to Queen's Mirror Lake be notified and allowed to express their opinions on the matter.
The new structure will supposedly create a 12" difference in the levels between Lake Kathryn and Queen's Mirror Lake.
The setting of a date for the hearing was postponed until the council receives information on how long it will take to notify homeowners on all the lakes. These homeowners will subsequently be notified of the hearing date.
In further action this week, the council discussed the bid received for city cable television. Four invitations to bid on this matter were mailed out only one reply was received. This bid was received by Orange CableVision, and after discussion of the bid, council authorized the acceptance of this bid.
Council agreed to several changes in the specifications for the cable television franchise, which had been suggested by the company. Under the franchise, the city will receive 7 per cent of the gross income or homeowners on all the lakes. These homeowners will increasingly amounts thereafter. Council has authorized preparation and adoption of the ordinance and franchise agreement.

Water Plant Is Nixed By County Aide

By ANN SIECZKOWSKI
William Pinch, administrator of the county utility control office, reported to the County Commission that he had disapproved the Southern States Utilities plans for its Apple Valley water plant improvements and installation of a water main to Santalona.
Disapproval was based on insufficient information provided by the company.
Pinch reported a letter has been received from Mayor W. L. Swofford, of Altamonte Springs, stating the plans and specifications for Trailwood Estates have been approved by that city. The utilities administrator recommended that release of building permits for section 1 be issued but that no final inspections should be authorized at this time, and not until installation of water and sanitary sewer systems have been approved by the utilities control officer.
Commission Chairman Greg Drummond reported the receipt of a resolution from the City of Longwood to the State Department of Transportation and to the commissioners requesting traffic control signal at the intersection of SR 437 and Church Street in the City of Longwood. Drummond said that it had not been the policy of this board to install traffic control intersections. County Engineer William Bush was requested to investigate the matter to see if the City of Longwood might not apply some of their tax and gas funds into the project. There will be a work session on the matter following the investigation.

By Altamonte Council Oak Harbor Hearing Jan. 11

By MARION BETHA
ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Continued until Jan. 11 by City Council is a public hearing up on a rezoning petition by Willard Knott from 10-AA to planned development for property fronting west of Maitland Avenue. Although 125 residents were notified, and considerable interest anticipated, only a handful were present. Knott outlined plans for the development which will be called "Oak Harbor." A portion of the property was recently annexed into the city with the PD zoning, and the request is for the portion lying within the city limits. Admitting that the plans were incomplete, Knott presented a "general idea" explaining that there will be a small percentage of cluster rental units and patio-type homes. He continued that a central theme will predominate, which will be either Spanish or Polynesian. There will be some one and two story structures, but no commercial enterprises, Knott said. Knott continued that there will be no public streets in the development, which will have a 24-hour guard service. An electronic connection will traverse from homes to the guard. Knott also told council that there will be an "attractive" six foot masonry fence inside the property line. One area resident questioned the fence noting that one at Hidden Harbor is simply concrete block. Knott said that $20,000-30,000 price range. Knott said there would be a recreation area featuring a clubhouse and pools. Ten acres are set aside for this purpose. Councilman Daniel DeFina contended that since the plans are not conclusive the postponement was indicated, and Mayor Lawrence Swafford also felt it advisable to continue the property line.

Government Costing $3 Billion In State

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — While Florida's population was increasing by one-third from 1960 to 1970, expenditures by state and local governmental units were more than doubling and went above the $3 billion mark, the State Chamber of Commerce reported Saturday. In its weekly Business Review, the state chamber said cities, counties and state government agencies for fiscal 1969 spent a total of $1.4 billion, by fiscal 1970, total state and local expenditures had climbed to $3.5 billion, an increase of 153 per cent. During the same period, Florida's population rose from 4,952,000 to 6,780,000, an increase of 37 per cent. "Among the 16 most populous states, Florida had the highest rate of increase in population during the period, and the highest rate of increase in state and local government expenditures, surpassed only by California and New Jersey," said Ronald S. Spencer Jr., executive vice president of the state chamber. Expenditures for public education received the greatest amount of attention from state and local government during the decade, going from $463 million in fiscal year 1960 to $1.5 billion last year, an increase of 237 per cent.

Santa Flying In To County Aides

By ANN SLECKOWSKI
On action by the Board of County Commissioners, all county employees will receive their pay checks before Christmas in keeping with past policy. Days off, however, will be changed in that Dec. 21 will be a work day and Monday, Jan. 4, will be a holiday for county workers. Commission Chairman Greg Drummond said that since Monday, Dec. 27, is a holiday, the work week would be two short (only three days) if Dec. 21, Dec. 20, also were allowed to stand as a holiday. "And the people of this county deserve more days work than that from us," he concluded. The chairman also announced the appointment by Governor Reubin Askew of Charles Wall as justice of the peace to replace Judge Thomas Mahaffey, retired. In other action, Deputy Clerk Ashley Jones announced deputy sheriff bonds for Roger L. Phillips, David Bennett, Zorjan, Bobby G. Alberson, Paul Logge, Thomas Ray Curry Jr., Robert L. Kinaker, Phillip C. Callahan and David C. Lake. County Engineer W. Bush reported his survey of railroad crossings indicates there are 26 mainline crossings in the county, of which 14 have signals and gates, three signals are processed and the remainder are under investigation. Drummond asked Bush to include on a fixture report the number of crossings with two lanes and two tracks. Commissioner Sidney Vliet requested a meeting with Road Sup't J. C. Lavender and James Lewis from Authority, to determine a program of maintenance of roads to the port.

Developer Requests For Building Permits

Builder Charles W. Clayton made a repeat appearance before the County Commission at a work session in another attempt to acquire more building permits. He was allotted 80 permits some time ago and the commission contends that he has received all except three of those permits. Clayton considers that occupied houses with brook in the temporary plant be constructed for the area should be the covering criteria in numbering permits. The commission informed Clayton that permits were issued to allow building houses, that their occupancy was not a problem of the commission, but was his. On motion of Commissioner Al Davis, the three additional and final permits were granted Clayton. Attorney S. Joseph Davis, representing developers of La Estrada Apartment project told the commissioners that part of the area was not rezoned. The owner felt that he had complied with all regularities. Mike Henry, Engineer with General Waterworks, assured Davis that the area is to be included in the certified areas upon completion of their expansion program sometime in January or February. Davis requested the commission to grant building permits to his client. Commissioner Sidney Vliet said, "Mr. Davis, the problem is not with this board. It is with General Waterworks. We on this board have taken the position that the Orange County assignment of a 40-25 per cent use ratio is unacceptable to this County and we therefore, look to General Waterworks on a 100 per cent performance basis. This county may have to answer to Orange County's rule of 25 per cent for Semole and your client will have to clear that problem with them." The matter was rescheduled pending conference with General Water Works, and La Estrada developers.

Two Hostages Held 100 N. J. Convicts Rebel

By TOM CANNON
Associated Press Writer
BORDENTOWN, N.J. (AP) — Heavily armed state troopers took up posts in the Yardville Correction Center today where about 100 rebellious inmates held two hostages and controlled two wings of the prison. A prison spokesman said about 40 helmeted troopers armed with shotguns were called in on orders from Gov. William T. Cahill as "a show of force." "Communication that has taken place with the inmates involved in this disturbance will continue, but they have thus far refused to release the hostages," said G. Thomson Durand, public information officer for the State Department of Institutions and Agencies. He said the inmates had made no ransom demands. Durand said the hostages, Richard A. Sedl, 36, assistant superintendent, and Ira Friedman, 31, a guard, were believed to be unharmed. Friedman's wife, weeping as she entered the prison, arrived just before midnight. Durand refused to say how the insurrection started. It came on the heels of the Thanksgiving takeover at Rahway State Prison in which seven hostages were taken. All were released and the trouble ended after state officials agreed to hear prisoner demands. Associated Press newsmen Carl Zeitz was summoned in the newsmen from making detailed statements on the situation. But in a call to the AP early today, Zeitz said, "Don't be surprised if it lasts a few more hours. That's the way it looks to me." Durand said the disturbance, which began about 1 p.m. Wednesday, was confined to the south wing of the 10 wing in property for youthful offenders. Property damage was minimal, he said. State officials describe Yardville as a model prison, which holds 744 inmates ranging in age from 15 to 30.

Judge Steps Out After Indictment

By F. RICHARD CICCONE
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — The indictment of Federal Judge Otto Kerner, former governor of Illinois, stems from a lengthy investigation into alleged stock dealings between race track operators and a number of one-time state officials. Kerner, a 53-year-old Democrat who headed the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders in 1967, was accused in a federal grand jury indictment returned Wednesday of allegedly sharing in the profits of $350,000 worth of racing stock allegedly purchased for $70,000. He asked for and was granted relief from his activities on the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. Three former state officials appointed by Kerner during his two gubernatorial terms from 1960 to 1968 and a Chicago businessman also were indicted. The grand jury charged that the racing shares were made available to Kerner and others to gain favorable racing dates. Government officials said the investigation into Kerner's race track stock began nearly two years ago. Kerner, a longtime political confidante and close confidant of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, resigned as governor on March 20, 1968, to accept a lifetime appointment on the appellate court. Indicted with Kerner were Theodore J. Isaacs, 61, Illinois state revenue director from 1961 to 1963; William S. Miller, 70, chairman of the Illinois Racing Board from 1961 to 1967; Faith McInturf, 58, Miller's former personal secretary, and 60-year-old Joseph Knight, director of the state Banking Department from 1962 to 1968. The indictments charged that Miller persuaded Marie Everitt, former principal stockholder in Chicago Thoroughbred Enterprises, to make available to Kerner and Isaacs 50 shares of CTE valued at $300,000 for $30,000. The government charges that Kerner, McInturf, through Knight, loaned $40,000 to Isaacs and Kerner to buy the stock. Miller later arranged for 28,000 shares of Chicago Harness Racing, Inc., stock for $11,200, the figure before the state stock fund was valued at $56,000 and the profit allegedly was used to pay Mrs. McInturf.

Water Expansion OK'd By Altamonte

By MARION BETHA
ALTAMONTE SPRINGS—City Council has voted to spend at least $1 million for an elevated water storage tank and the acquisition, expansion and improvement of the private utility company which serves San Sebastian Heights. The tank, which caused much controversy by adjacent property owner Albert Musgrove, is divided into three components for bids. These were received on three separate weeks. Low bidder for the distribution mains was Central Florida Undergrowth, Inc. at $36,265.45. Low bidder for the deep well was Lockwell and Pump Company at $14,846. Low bidder for the elevated water storage tank is Pittsburgh-Des Moines at $79,000. A lower bid of $31,800 was submitted by the company for the storage tank, but was for the conventional leg type. The tank which council decided upon is a silt-type known as a hydro-pillar which has a one-million gallon capacity, 230,000 cu feet of storage space and is 52 feet in diameter at the bottom. City Engineer William Palm told council that this type of tank is advantageous in that having no legs, it is less subject to vandalism. Office space may be provided beneath the tank. The hydro-pillar is so attractive, that someone equipped the city could use it as an observation tower, charging admission. Council adopted the resolution to borrow from the First National Bank at Maitland $400,000 as an interim loan to be paid by April 15, for the acquisition, expansion and improvement of the water distribution plant. Of this amount, $250,000 will be used for the actual purchase of the plant. $250,000 The tank will be financed through excess revenues. No action was taken on awarding of the contracts for the three components subject to discussion with HUD and negotiations with the bank. Councilman Daniel Dorfman, citing the advantages of the hydro-pillar, said the city had pledged to give the residents a tank with a minimum negative effect to the surrounding area. The hydro-pillar is so attractive, that someone equipped the city could use it as an observation tower, charging admission. Council adopted the resolution to borrow from the First National Bank at Maitland $400,000 as an interim loan to be paid by April 15, for the acquisition, expansion and improvement of the water distribution plant. Of this amount, $250,000 will be used for the actual purchase of the plant.

Uncle Sam Approves Medical Charge Hike

By MARGARET GENTHY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — If your doctor now charges $15 for an office call, he can tack on another 37½ cents, but not a penny more unless the government approves it. A hospital which charges $50 a day for a room can add $3, but no more unless the government says it's okay. The Price Commission handed the medical profession those guidelines Wednesday in what is believed to be government's first attempt to regulate medical costs across the board in the United States. The American Medical Association, which has consistently fought government regulation, has no immediate comment pending a review of the guidelines by AMA officials. An AMA spokesman, Dayton Moore, said his preliminary research turned up no past effort on the part of the government to regulate medical costs. The commission's guidelines, issued in implementation of President Nixon's Phase 2 economic program, limit increases in doctors' fees to 2.5 per cent a year and in hospital charges to 6 per cent a year. To raise prices even to those cutoff points, medical professionals must prove their services have gone up in cost. The guidelines split the medical field into two divisions, institutional and non-institutional. Doctors, hospitals and other health care providers are regulated for them. In the first category, which includes hospitals and other institutions, prices may be raised only to reflect allowable costs offset by productivity increases. But prices may not be raised to reflect higher labor costs of more than 3.5 per cent. The Pay Board ceiling for permissible wage increases. Hospitals and other medical institutions may raise prices up to 2.5 per cent without notifying the government, but for rates higher than that, they must call the Internal Revenue Service and Medicare officials for approval. "We were concerned with not reducing the quality of health care in the country," Grayson said. "That was very important to us." The guidelines apply to the non-institutional category, which covers doctors and dentists including a variety of specialists, medical and dental laboratories, rest homes, blood banks, nurses and midwives.

Crewmen Saved In Jet Crash 'Tex' Connally Faces World Money Meet

By DONALD SANDERS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Likened to a Texas steamroller after his last appearance on the world financial stage, John B. Connally resumes his trail boss job Friday in the U.S. drive to rearrange international monetary affairs. Connally left foreign colleagues to off the record snuffing about Texas cowboy after his bravura performance at a meeting of financial leaders early this month. In a surprise move, the Treasury secretary let it become abundantly evident in sessions with the Palazzos Corson and the United States was willing to undertake the previously unthinkable: devalue the dollar. President Nixon's announcement Tuesday of his willingness to do so had been clearly foreshadowed by Connally's dealings. Connally, a Lyndon Baines Johnson protégé in the often rough and tumble school of Texas politics, "would be better sticking to his guns and lasso," said one European governmental source after the Rome meeting. "If Connally hadn't acted like a Texas steam roller in Rome," said another, "the Europeans probably wouldn't have formed a common front as quickly as they did." Whether the Europeans have indeed formed a common front before U.S. monetary moves may become known Friday when the finance ministers and central bankers from the Group of 10, the world's richest industrial nations, assemble here to tackle the knotty problems of world finance. For Connally, the meeting is another step in a career that has included being governor of Texas, secretary of the Navy for John F. Kennedy and attorney for the enterprises of the late super-rich oilman, Sid Richardson. Since he took office a year ago, Connally has been highly visible in the domestic economic front as Nixon's officially designated chief economic spokesman and No. 1 Democrat on the administration team. But among those concerned with international finance, he has been equally visible. At Rome, Connally had one advantage aside from his own pre-player talent as a negotiator. He was chairman of the sessions. So, when the negotiators got around to the nitty gritty of how many pounds or marks or francs or lire or yen the dollar should be worth, he abruptly suggested that they reconvene to assemble again in Washington on Dec. 17 and reconvene matters. The core of the world financial problem is that the dollar is not worth what it once was. This means that compact German and Italian autos, French perfumes, Japanese electronics and optical equipment and textiles enjoy a competitive advantage over U.S. produced items, both in this country and in world trade. Devalue the dollar, and foreign products will cost more to import. U.S. goods will then be more competitive abroad, and the costs of American tourism will increase correspondingly.

HYDRO PILLAR is the name of this $825,000 water storage tower with a multi-purpose functional silo type base which will be 52 feet in diameter at the bottom. This model shows offices which will be located in the base of the structure. (Donna Estea Photo)

Mrs. Harris also reported that SISTER had requested the assistance of the Garden Club in landscaping at the Sanford Zoo. Small shrubs and small flowering plants are needed for this project.

Discussion was held concerning the card party at the Garden Center on Jan. 16. Final plans will be made at the January meeting which will be at the home of Mrs. F. J. Esposito, 218 East Jenkins Circle on Jan. 15.

The meeting was then adjourned and the gifts were opened. Members visited with one another and admired the Christmas decorations Mrs. Smith had all over her home.

Before lunch, Mrs. T. J. Taylor asked the blessing and made all truly realize the true meaning of Christmas. This was a meeting that all enjoyed and one to look forward to each year.

TRACK TALK

with George Crossley

The World Manufacturers Championship has come up with some extremely interesting rule changes for the 1972 season. The FIA rules will include so called group two cars which will be allowed to compete for prizes and place money but not championship points.

I guess you are wondering what type of car fits in the group two category. Many of you have seen group two cars race but didn't know that they were in this category under World Championship rules. The cars I am talking about are Grand National stock cars. These cars WITHOUT any restrictive carburetor plate or device will be eligible to race against Ferraris, Porsches and Corvettes as well as other makes in 1972. This could make for some real interesting racing if we have some competitive Ford Talladega or Plymouth Super Bird in the competition.

The Grand National cars will have enough horsepower to be the fastest cars on the track but would suffer from handling problems on the road course. The confrontation between these different makes would be something to see and certainly I hope we get a chance to see something like this take place next year.

Richard Petty in winning the Texas 500 established himself again as the greatest National competitor of them all. Buddy Baker finished second with Petty's chief challenger for 1971, Bobby Allison, finishing third. Remember that in 1970 Bobby Allison will be driving a Junior Johnson prepared Chevrolet. The bad blood that existed between Allison and Petty will not be diminished if Bobby has a competitive car and I predict that Bobby and that Chevrolet will be quite competitive.

The Trans-Am series next year may be in serious trouble if SCCA doesn't attempt to rejuvenate some factory support of the five litre cars. The series was dominated this year by Mark Donohue in a Javelin as the other strong teams in the series suffered from lack of funds. Donohue and the Javelin were totally backed by American Motors. More private investors have to see the value of investing time and money in support of the auto racing without road racing or otherwise.

I said before that when Ferrari demanded that World Manufacturers races be lowered to a six hour maximum that the organizers of the 24 hours of LeMans would not change the length of time for their event. Just lately the LeMans people did it official by stating clearly that they would not, under any circumstances, alter the 24 hour race. I feel that was a sound decision. I just wish that a 24 hours of Daytona instead of a Six Hours of Daytona. Maybe public opinion can be felt and a change in position by the Daytona officials can be anticipated.

In North Orlando Sheoah Construction Now In Full Swing

Construction is now in full swing for the golf course that professional golfer Bruce Devlin and his golf course architect partner, Robert Von Hagge, will develop, own and operate.

The Devlin group's land acquisition includes 55 additional acres in four separate locations adjacent to the golf course, where they will construct 900 condominiums, townhouses, rental and garden apartments. Buildings will be a maximum of three stories high.

The Sheoah course will be suitable for international competition. It will give the average high handicap golfer a challenging place to play on a daily basis.

Greyhound Grapplers On Road

Greg Miller, Jim Brinker and Gary Miller are the three starters back from last year's club. Miller, a sophomore, is the starting 112 pounder for the Hounds. Brinker is also a sophomore and is the starting 119 pounder. Wallis will open at 185 pounds. The husky junior who started as a linebacker and halfback on the football team gained his experience last year competing in the unlimited weight class. He could be the Hounds best grappler.

POINTING out the location of one of several man made lakes to be incorporated in the setting of the Sheoah Golf Course under construction in North Orlando is Ken Ringbloom of Western Land Development.

Royals Blast Lakers

The Royals came out on top Saturday night in their first win. Juanita Hayes was the leading scorer for the Royals with 15 points. Marcia Ray had seven, Gritta Pitts and Cathy Griffith each had six.

Buckets 21 - Celtics 31. The Rockets pulled their second win over the Celtics. Ann Grieme was the high point girl with 15 points.

The first major stock car event of 1972 will be the Riverside 500 from Riverside, California in late January. This will be of special interest to us here in Central Florida as some of the major new competitors and machines go through a severe test in this grueling 500 mile race on the spectacular Riverside Road Course.

Shevin Asks To Cancel Restraint

MIAMI (AP)—Att. Gen. Robert Shevin has delayed a move to block a New York betting firm from accepting wagers on Florida horse races, but another state official says he has no intention of dropping the matter.

Shevin Wednesday asked U.S. Dist. Judge Joe Eaton to cancel a hearing on the state's request for a temporary restraining order prohibiting Off Track Betting Corp. (OTBC) from hiring agents to transmit racing information from Florida to New York.

He said his office wanted more time to study the operations of the legalized New York firm.

"We have no intention of dropping it unless something is discovered that is unknown at this point," said Richard A. Palot, chairman of the state Board of Business Regulation. "After our investigation, we intend to get back to the question of whether there is a violation of Florida law."

Shevin told Judge Eaton that representatives of his office will visit New York and Maryland within a week to investigate the operation of OTBC.

The company also has agreed to write a letter to the attorney general outlining its method of operation, Shevin said.

Shevin requested the delay after he said OTBC attorneys promised not to violate an opinion on his office issued Dec. 9, stating it was illegal for Florida horse tracks to transmit information to off-track betting operations in other states.

He said the company reported it received its racing information from newspaper accounts. OTBC started taking bets at racing at Tropical Park in Miami Monday.

Palot, whose agency filed the suit against OTBC with Shevin's office, said his "main concern" is that off track betting would divert revenue from Florida pari-mutuel windows.

"This would be detrimental not only to the state, but to the owners of the horses and the owners of the track," Palot said.

Now that the 7% excise tax is repealed, you'll save money on all of our cars. But that's nothing new from us.

For the past 24 years, Volkswagens have had the justified reputation of saving people money.

And now that the 7% federal excise tax has been repealed, you can save even more. In fact, even if you happened to have bought one of our cars before now but after Aug. 15, the 7% will still be refunded to you at your Volkswagen dealer.

If you bought one before Aug. 15, don't feel deprived.

You're still saving over the average car about $1500 on the car itself, over $100 a year on gas, and $400-knows-how-much on repairs.

Recession, Japanese-Style: It Still Appears Like Prosperity

By PETER HOWARD
Copley News Service

TOKYO — The state of Japan's economy calls up an eerie resemblance to that of the United States last year, attributed to Dorothy Parker when she was told a friend was dead: "How can you tell? He always looks like that."

With a negative twist, it is much the same with Japan, Inc. Although economists insist the nation is in the grip of a severe business slowdown, the economy looks today much as it has during the last decade of almost continuous boom.

Tokyo stores are chocked with imported and domestically made goods and business is brisk. Unemployment is all but nonexistent and wages and profits are moving up smartly in many industries.

The gross national product, which Japanese follow in the newspapers the way American football fans devour Monday morning's lines scores, is expected to rise 5.5 per cent this year (or more than 10 per cent if price inflation is added in) to a record $242 billion.

There are no wage or price controls and there have not been any Penn Central-like failures. The central bank of Japan is holding a colossal $14 billion in reserves, mostly American dollars, the largest reserve position in the world behind West Germany.

MIAMI — How can the Japanese insist they are satisfied with a recession in their own country? An American official in Tokyo explains it this way: "It's like a car that has been going along at 100 miles an hour suddenly braking down to 30. The shock is a lot more severe than if you were going 50 and braked to 30."

The analogy is apt. Japan's economy has been trading at 100 mph when they are called up in at an annual average GNP growth rate of 10 per cent or more for the last ten years.

Now it is cooling off to the 30 per cent range.

That would hardly add up to a recession in any other industrialized country. But owing to the peculiar structure of Japan's economy, it makes for hard times.

To understand why, it is important to recognize that Japan's economy—probably more than any other advanced nation—is two-tiered. The upper layer is made up of the high-technology industries which manufacture electronic calculators, computers, television sets, heavy industrial equipment, ships, cars and similar products that require big capital investments. By and large it has hidden out the recession, recent currency instability and the U.S. import surcharge with little difficulty.

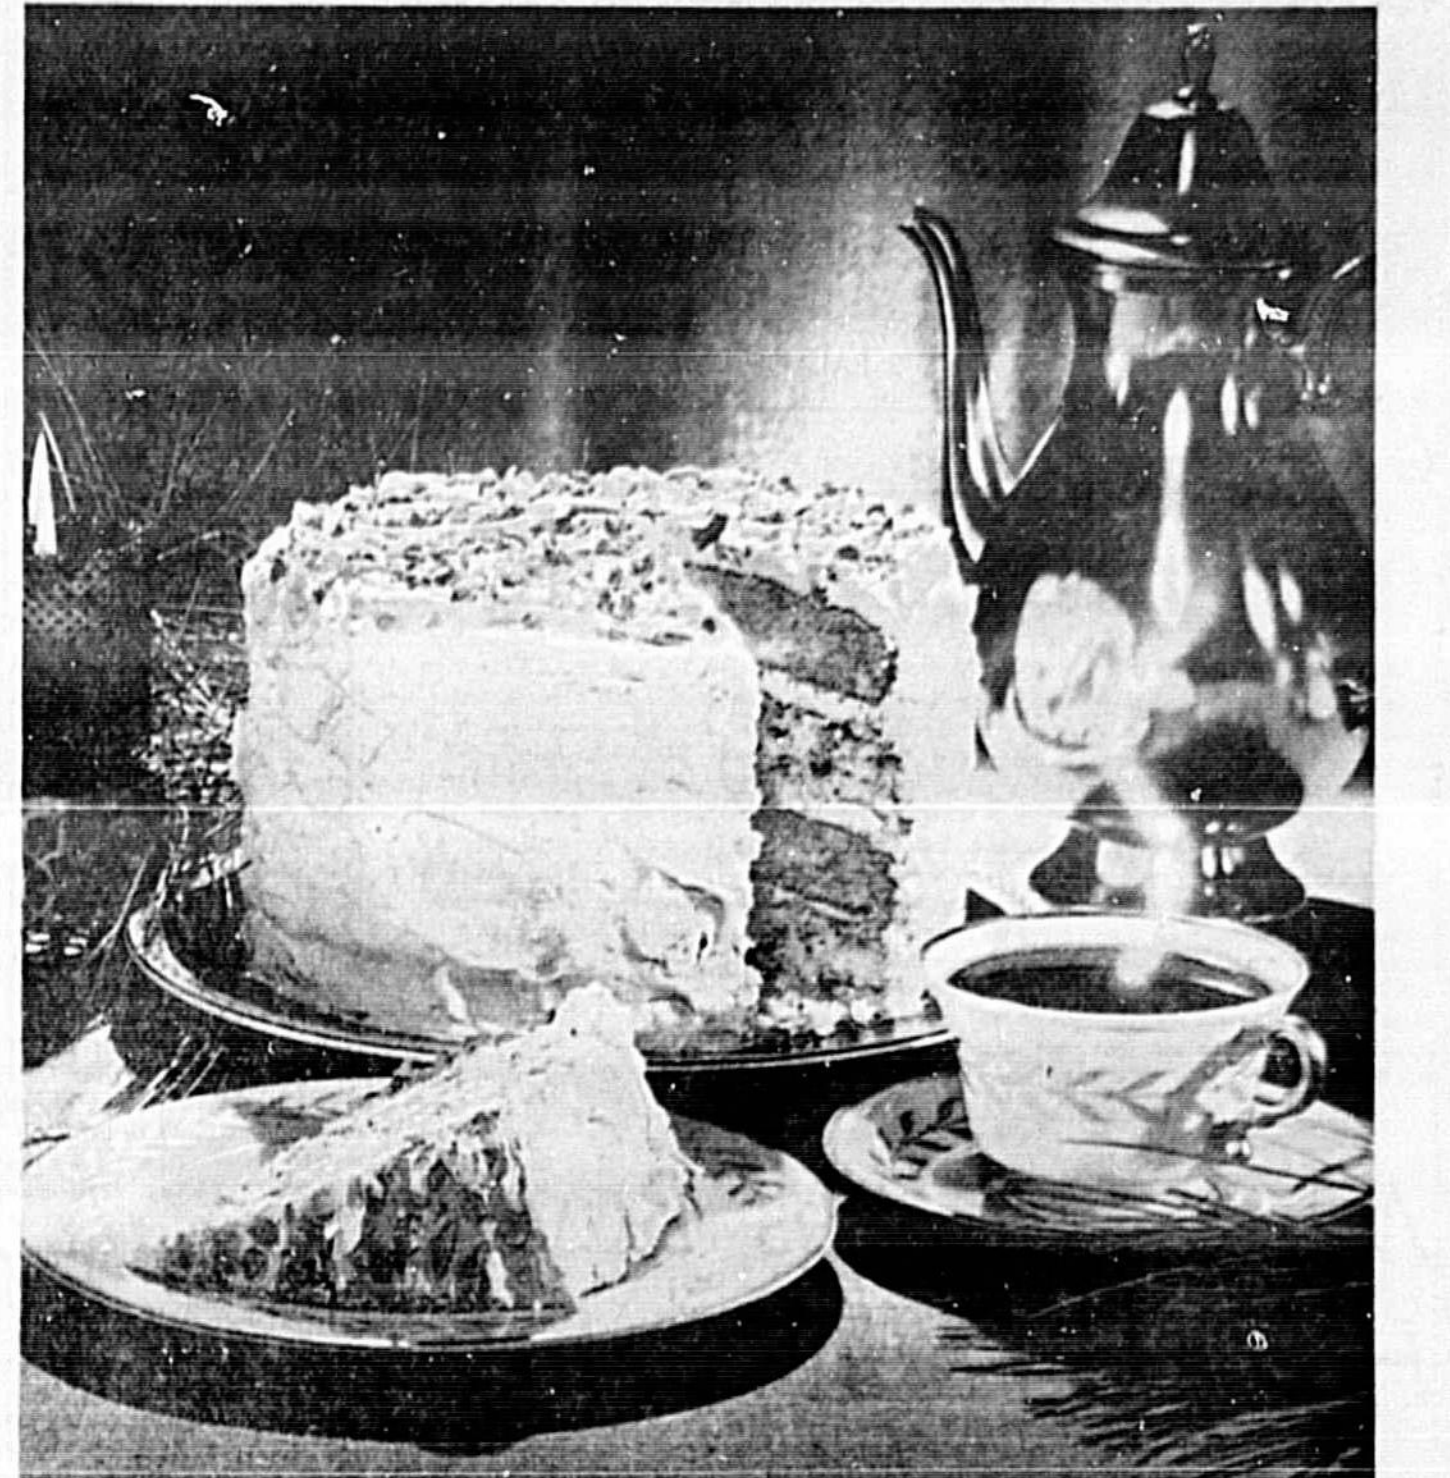

The lower level consists of mostly small firms that make cheap transistor radios, toys, such as Christmas decorations, clothes and other low cost items that utilize unskilled and semi-skilled labor. It accounts for about 40 per cent of all Japanese exports to the United States.

And it is these cottage-style industries, which operate on thin profit margins, that are bearing the brunt of the recession here.

In Tanbume city, for example, hundreds of small makers of Western tableware are verging on bankruptcy, largely because of the U.S. import surcharge.

Similarly, many small textile firms across Japan are expected to go under in coming months as a result of the new agreement limiting textile exports to the U.S. market. Most of these companies have only a handful of employees, often all members of the same family who labor in a rustic workshop next to their home.

When they are called up in at an annual average GNP growth rate of 10 per cent or more for the last ten years, they are called up in at an annual average GNP growth rate of 10 per cent or more for the last ten years.

KING'S PALACE IN COPENHAGEN

Copenhagen City Of Beauty... And Of 500,000 Bicycles

By BILL GIELOW and WALTER GIELOW

Recalling our trip to Europe last summer it seems that Copenhagen impressed us more than any other city we visited. It was a beautiful warm Sunday morning when we arrived but not "sunbathing warm" to us Florida. However, the parks were full of people stretched out on blankets in the sun. Our guide explained that this was their first hot weather and people were taking advantage of it. They have a little sunshine that is most appreciated by the populace when the old sol" does show up. During the month of January this year there was only four hours of sunshine.

The seemingly honesty of the Danes, as well as most natives of Europe, was a great surprise to us. As we were walking down the corridor to our room in the Palace Hotel for the first time we noticed that by almost every door that was a pair of newly polished men's shoes. When we questioned the doorman he explained that it was a service of the hotel to shine all the shoes each day and a guest only had to leave them at night to be picked up, shined and returned by ringing the bell. The doorman said people imagine leaving your shoes, or anything else, outside a hotel door in the U. S. A.? I don't believe anyone in our group ever got brave enough to take a chance on the free shoeshine!

Copenhagen is a city of bicycles. 500,000 of them. They are used for economy as well as convenience, and are everywhere. When we noticed that most of the bikes seemed to be "just left there", no locks, etc., we inquired about this. The guide's answer was, "They are safe; we trust each other."

Since that time we have wondered how the bicycles and shoe shiners fared with the influx of American hippies they expected in Copenhagen this summer. Our excellent Copenhagen guide told us right at first that it is "COPENHAGEN" and not "COPENHOGAN." She gave us many important facts about this great Danish city. There are 1 1/2 million people there; five million in all of Denmark, which is one million less than the State of Florida. Many new apartment complexes are being built and these are much needed. We saw one very old apartment building which we were told had toilet facilities only in the courtyard.

Good News Today: Drivers May Improve

By FRANK MACOMBER
American motorists and their passengers might be safer if the federal government heeds the recommendations of an Ohio State Highway Accident Research Team now completing a two-year study for the Department of Transportation.

What this country needs, says Helmut Engelman, Ohio State University traffic researcher and chief of the research team, is more emphasis on improving driver competence and less on developing such safety devices as air bags, seat belts and the best of safety devices if properly worn, Engelman and the team are less enthusiastic about proposed federal air bag requirements for 1976 cars.

Engelman says the team's investigation of 60 accidents shows the causes of most were driver incompetence, poor judgment of risk, inattention to the road and poor driving technique.

Inadequate road hazard warnings contributed to driver confusion in some cases, he adds. While seat belts are the best form of safety device if properly worn, Engelman and the team are less enthusiastic about proposed federal air bag requirements for 1976 cars. He claims air bags would be effective only in a direct frontal collision, a type of accident that occurs mostly at low driving speeds.

Dublin Bans Autos On Grafton Street

By EILEEN JACKSON
Copley News Service

DUBLIN — Eyes in Fire are on elegant Grafton Street in Dublin, which is serving as a national showcase for a new traffic-free experiment. The street that began as a narrow lane back in the 17th Century has long been Dublin's most fashionable shopping center.

In recent years, traffic on the narrow street became so bad that it was decided to close it for a month on Sept. 7, 1971, to traffic from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. except for ambulances, the fire brigade and Garda (police) automobiles. They marked it off with decorative planting in tubs. The experiment is still going on beyond the test month but there is much pro and con discussion on its success.

As with all vacuums, something rushes in to fill the space of something removed. Now, according to those who are against the traffic ban, the once-sophisticated street has become a haven for hippie types moving in from nearby St. Stephen's Green.

More Families Buying Homes Than Before

By JAMES M. WOODARD
Copley News Service

More families than ever before are buying homes today than ever before. And home owners are getting younger every day.

Another report, released by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) revealed that buyers of existing (used) homes last year, financed with FHA insured loans, were younger, earned less and paid less for their homes than new-home buyers. The average buyer was 33.3 years old and had an annual income of $11,268. He bought a house priced at $17,939 and made monthly payments of $207.98 (including utilities and maintenance).

Increasingly, the status-elevating fact of home ownership is important to today's families — particularly when the household head is "on the way up" in business. Some prefer the fine "existing" homes in well-established, close-in locations for which there is now good financing available. Others select a sharp, spanking-new home in the distant suburbs.

Tastes have never varied so greatly — from a mini-residence in a mobile home park to a spacious two-story estate. But one common desire prevails: ownership.

Current financing programs offered by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) and the Veterans Administration (VA) are making it possible for thousands of families to own their homes who might otherwise be only dreaming of this achievement from a rented apartment or in-laws' house.

Conventional mortgages (non-FHA or VA) are also currently showing unusual diversity and are playing an unprecedented role in helping home-buying young families with minimal incomes.

For many young families, the long-term, low equity conventional loan, with private mortgage insurance, makes a home buying feasible earlier than anticipated. It was stated in a recent report from the Research Department of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Q. We intend to remodel a portion of our home, but are a bit leery of signing a contract that anticipated. It was stated in a recent report from the Research Department of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Freshman Wins FTU Design Competition

A young Merritt Island engineering student who set out six months ago to build his own steam engine "a better way," has won a design competition at Florida Tech University with an innovative vapor-operated valve system that eliminates air pollution.

His interest in building the engine turned Stuart Kendre, 18, to a development of the unique device he has christened "Rovalve." The invention operates on the principle of expanding steam, rather than exploding gasoline vapor that drives pistons in standard internal combustion engines.

"I started thinking about a way to do the same job without polluting the air, and came up with 'Rovalve,'" said the FTU freshman. Unlike fellow students also engaged in development of designs for the nine-week course, young Kendre, who was graduated last June from Coral Shores High School, in Key Largo, took on his project single-handed. Others formed three and four-man teams to work on projects.

Further explaining his device, Kendre noted that the vapor is heated before it enters the valve. Another result of the valve, he said, is a reduction of friction. "Because there is no valve," he said, "the next step for Kendre and other members of the Mechanical Engineering and Aerospace Sciences club at FTU is to build a steam-operated auto 'from the bottom up.' The group will use the Rovalve as part of the engine they plan to design, and hope to have the car ready to enter the national 'Clean Car' contest held annually.

Kendre is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Kendre.

Rio Catholic Chapel Is Strikingly Modern

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Rio's Holy Blood Church, built in the style of modernism, is a strikingly modern — and perhaps controversial — Roman Catholic chapel in Latin America.

The left are concrete statues of the Virgin Mary and the baby Jesus. The Madonna is elongated to symbolize a pillar of the Church. The Christ child floats just above her outstretched hand, because, as Father Rodriguez explains, He came from Her, but does not belong to Her.

On the right wall, as one faces the altar, 30 concrete panels picture Christ's journey to the Crucifixion, from the condemnation by Pontius Pilate to the Resurrection. But in this church, each station of the Cross is identified not only with a biblical representation, but also with parallels from modern life.

Financier Held For Bribery

MIAMI (AP) — Dallas financier S. Mort Zimmerman was indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of engineering an attempted $40,000 bribe to an assistant U. S. attorney.

The grand jury alleged Zimmerman wanted Annie, a retired FBI agent, to "fix" the insurance case against him.

Also named as a co-conspirator was Joseph C. Hegeman, who according to federal officials traveled to Dallas last July with Dobson and arranged that Zimmerman would spend $40,000 to obtain dismissal of the indictment.

The grand jury charged Zimmerman set up a $10,000 down payment and Dobson and Hegeman flew from Dallas to New Orleans, where they picked up the cash plus another $500 for expenses and flew on to Miami.

Federal officials said Hegeman later arranged a meeting with Annie and during a lunch conversation pulled an envelope from his pocket which he tried to give to the assistant U. S. attorney.

Do-It-Yourself: Make Homes Accident-Proof

By MR. FIX
By now it comes as no surprise to be told the average home is a very hazardous place, that you are likelier to have an accident at home than you are away from home.

Larger rugs should be fastened down. Rug edges that may be curling should be tacked in place. Repair torn spots in carpeting or replace.

Use a rubber mat in the bathtub to prevent slipping. If you can, install handrails as you have something to hang onto when you climb out of the tub.

Watch out how you store things. Piles of newspapers and magazines are a fire hazard. Don't keep oily rags in the house. If you must do so, store them in closed metal containers.

Watch out how you handle appliances. Don't probe a toaster with a metal object while it is still plugged in. Don't attempt repairs or internal adjustments on any electrical items while it is connected. Use only heavy-duty extension cords.

Along The Food Trail: Swiss School Teachers Cooking Art

By THE BASCOMES
Copley News Service
ZURICH—Hotel schools with exceptional culinary departments are few and far between in today's world, but Switzerland has one of the finest. This is the Belvoir Park, founded here in 1925 operating under the direction of Walter Hammer and his wife and supervised by the Swiss Inkeepers Association.

TOYS FOR TOTS — In lieu of a gift exchange, the Women's Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars Deltona Post 10996 elected to perpetuate the Christmas spirit by remembering needy children during the holiday season. More than 50 toys donated by post and auxiliary members were turned over to the Sanford Salvation Army for distribution. Pictured with Capt. Billy Lyons of the Sanford-Seminole Salvation Army are Mrs. William Moring (left), president, and Mrs. Edward McHenry, senior vice president. (Dot Drew Photo)

Season to taste with the salt, pepper and paprika when all of the veal has been sautéed and removed to a warm dish. Now add the wine, the brown sauce and the heavy cream to the same pan, cook until it is a smooth sauce, and pour over the meat. Garnish with parsley and the Roost potatoes.

One of the most popular meat dishes in all of Switzerland is the veal and French fries, a recipe that is usually served with their equally famous Roost potatoes. To the Swiss this combination is what ham and eggs, or steak and French fries, are to the Americans. Here is the recipe as taught at Belvoir:

Cattle Rustlers Use Modern-Day Trucks

KING CITY, Calif. (AP) — because so had that the state Bureau of Livestock Identification assigned two full-time investigators to the area.

The California Cattlemen's Association reports an annual statewide loss of between 5,000 and 6,000 cattle by rustling.

Harold Eade, 63, who runs a 22,000-acre spread in the lonely Diablo mountains east of this Monterey County town, said: "The losses are getting larger and we're finding out that more and more people are getting hit."

Though the ranchers started losing cattle to rustlers five years ago, the problem recently
