Nearly 20 Per Cent Cut In City Electrical Rates Is Submitted

Power Company's Head
Submits Proposals
To Commission At Meeting Wednesday
Savings Of $20,000
Yearly Is Estimate

Consulting Engineer
Advices Against City
Owning Own Plant

An offer to reduce Sanford's electric rate nearly 20 per cent, which is estimated to mean a saving of approximately $20,000 annually is before the City Commission, following a meeting Wednesday afternoon at which S. R.
Humphrey, president of the Florida Power and Light Company, a subsidiary of the American Electric Power and Light Company, presented and submitted a scale of rates for light and power, which he declared the company was prepared to effect with the meter readings.

Following submission of the offer of lower rates, Joseph E. Craig, city engineer employed by city to report on the advisability of Sanford taking over its plant, told the commission in a written statement that under present conditions he thought it unwise for Sanford to attempt to put its own plant at this time.

11 Cent Rate Offered Sanford's general rate now is 12 1/2 cents and Mr. Inch's proposal for a rate of 11 cents on the first 100 kilowatts with a sliding rate to eight cents for additional amounts of current.
Under a long and informal discussion in which members of the commission and members of a committee of the Chamber of Commerce were engaged, Mr. Inch's proposal was taken under consideration, among those of the Chamber of Commerce joining in the discussion were A. P. Connelly, E. F.
Hobbs and Frank R. Forster.

Mr. Inch called attention to the fact that only four per cent of the plants of the country are city owned, and he declared that where a big plant is used in the city, the rates are on a sliding scale, lower than at Jacksonville. He stated that the benefit of municipal ownership is that a very advantageous rate can be secured, which would mean a considerable saving in the total work that is to be started.

Mr. Craig addressed the meeting and said that the city engineer, Gaines and Mr. Sara-sin, which he said, other cities which he also cited and which municipal ownership had proved unprofitable. He said that the conditions in each place, before adoption of the commission, Mayor Lake asked Mr.
Humphrey to put his offer in written form and asked Mr. Craig to make report to the commission on the question to be definitely decided at a later date.

Proposal Of Inch
The condensed proposal of Mr.
Humphrey was as follows:
The rate to be submitted herewith is subject to the approval of the city, and we propose to beginning with June, 1925, attached rates include scheduled for general lighting, power, street and street lighting. These rates represent very substantial reduction over the rates now being charged, averaging a reduction of 20 per cent or approxi-

MACHADO GOES INTO OFFICE AS HEAD OF CUBA

Recently Elected President
Takes Oath As Cuba's Fifth
President in Brilliant Ceremonies Held on Wednesday

Festivities Continue
For Next Four Days

New Cabinet Headed by Caspedes, Also Takes Office;
New Executive Is a Mason

HAVANNA, May 21.—Gerardo Machado became Cuba's fifth president Wednesday when he took oath of office in the reception room of the presidential palace before assembled foreign diplomatic missions, members of the supreme court, Ex-President Alfredo Zayas and prominent men in political and financial circles.

A great crowd gathered filling the streets and open spaces all around the palace. When the president appeared on the balcony to greet the people his campaign slogan
"A pie, on foot," greeted him.

The Cuban national anthem was sung by 2,000 school children led by the general staff band and a salute of 21 guns was fired. The Mexican cruiser Anahuac joined in the salute.

Shortly after noon President Machado, Senora Machado and Secretary of State Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, left the palace with Ex-President Zayas and his wife to accompany them to the Zayas home.

The vice-president-elect, Carlos de la Roca, took the oath earlier in the day in the senate chamber.
Family interested spectators
The most interested and pleased of the spectators were Senora Elvira Machado de Machado, wife of the president, and his three daughters, Senora Angela Alvarez; Senora Berta Machado de Sanchez; Abahl, daughter-in-law of the Cuban ambassador to the United States, and Senora Landelina Machado de Grau, with her little daughter.

Congratulations to the new president poured into the palace from all over the world.
Among those received was one from President Coolidge and one from the King of Spain.
Festivities will continue until Sunday.

Wearers Of Gray, Becoming Fewer In Number Each Year, Plan To Abandon Reunions

DALLAS, Tex., May 21.—Veterans of the Confederacy prepared today to surrender to their opponents. A resolution to discontinue the annual reunions because of the advanced age of the survivors and to hold departmental reunions instead was made at the thirty-fifth reunion opening here Wednesday. The plan was considered in detail tomorrow.

A resolution offered by Col. J.
B. Lewis, of Anderson, S. C., and General W. H. Cely, of Greenville, S. C., indicated that the veterans themselves recognized that the inevitable dissolution is at hand and that they cannot long continue the general gatherings that have brought them together for the last 35 years to recount the battles which they fought for the Confederacy.

The dues from the camps, and the contributions from the officers of the camps, brigades and divisions are not sufficient to cover the necessary expenses at headquarters in New Orleans.

Amendment Is Necessary
The resolution provides that a committee of one from each of the 17 divisions be appointed to meet in their respective department headquarters to consider this plan and report at the next annual reunion. A constitution amendment would be necessary to make the plan effective.

Proposal to discontinue the general gatherings.
The time is drawing near, if not already at hand, when we should not our houses in order to meet the changes that are necessary at this date," reads the resolution.

"Our numbers are being rapidly diminished by the passing away of our comrades. Each year adds to the infirmities of our members, who are left with us. The expenses of transportation are burdensome, and the distances to be traveled in order to attend our annual reunions are too great, and the strain of the long trips on the extremes of our territory are too exacting to be borne by the majority of those who would otherwise make the effort.

The plan is to have reunions in three departments, each department then to send delegates to an annual convention to be held in New Orleans, La., the headquarters of the veterans Association.
Each of the 17 divisions of the organization would be represented at the annual convention by one delegate. The inability of the veterans longer to stand the strain of long travel, as well as the expense of the annual reunion, are among the reasons given for the plan. The plan was considered in detail tomorrow.

SENATE POWER
QUESTIONED BY TRADE OFFICER

SENATE POWER QUESTIONED BY TRADE OFFICER

Humphrey Declares Several Probes Ordered Were Not Within The Jurisdiction of Federal Trade Commission

Lawmakers Threaten
To Abolish Board

Statement Issued by Borah
In Which He Says Body Is Not Going to Be of Service

WASHINGTON, May 21.—
Strong indications that an effort will be made at the next session of congress to abolish the federal trade commission followed quickly Wednesday upon an address by Commissioner W. E.
Humphrey, challenging the right of the senate to direct it to make investigations of its information.

Mr. Humphrey, citing several senate resolutions directing investigations not directly relating to alleged anti-trust law violations, announced that "the question of jurisdiction under such resolutions had been submitted to the attorney general and that his opinion would be followed "until reversed by the courts."

Borah Would Abolish
Commenting on the commissioner's address, which was delivered before the annual convention of the United States Chamber of Commerce, Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, declared that "it seems to me that the best thing to do with the federal trade commission is to abolish it."

Mr. Borah, who opposed the bill which created the commission on the ground that important considerations were likely to influence official acts, was joined by other senators in the view that its action with respect to senate resolutions had demonstrated that it could not be expected to carry out the plans they regarded as leading to its establishment.

"Of No Service,"
Mr. Borah said, "that it is not going to be of any service to the country, and in the interest of economy and the interest of the people, it would be better to abolish it." Later a commission of this kind comes under the influence of factional politics and political pressure from the outside, it can be no service to the people. The commission is provided that the commission should have power "upon the direction of the president or either house of congress to investigate and report the facts relating to any alleged violations of the anti-trust acts by any corporation."
"Recalling that the senate, but not the house, so far as he knew, had directed the commission to make certain investigations, he declared that "some of the resolutions that have been passed by the senate, it seems to me, have gone far beyond our jurisdiction."

He cited resolutions by Senators LaFollette, Republican, Wisconsin; Norris, Republican, Nebraska, and Shipstead, farmer-labor, Minnesota, and asserted that "it is clearly apparent that the prime motive in all of these resolutions is to advance the personal fortunes of some person, party or class."
Used to Spread Propaganda.
"However commendable such purpose may be," he added, "congress in its infinite wisdom, has not provided for the commission and neither does congress in its boundless generosity provide funds for such work."

the St. Johns River navigation

the following message shortly after noon today:
"I was in error in my telenineteenth. The bill that was signed was a memorial to congress of United States requesting an appropriation for improvement of navigation of the St. Johns River. The bill in which Mr. Douglass is interested has not come to the gov-

In announcing Seminole quota,
Post Commander A. P. Haggard stated that the figure was small by the state organization and was based upon the population and wealth of the county. He expressed the belief that there would be little difficulty in raising the sum, which is pointed out was small in comparison with quota for some counties, whose wealth is not any larger than that of this county.

Mr. Haggard also made public a

Issue Of $204,000 Is Sold To Highest Bidder At Special Meeting Of City Commission

Seventeen Security
Houses Offer Bids

Sale Is Considered As Evidence Of High
Credit Of This City

An issue of $204,000 Sanford street improvement
bonds bearing five per cent interest Wednesday afternoon sold for a premium of $632.40
and accrued interest, according to the announcement made following the opening and comparison of bids of 15
bond companies by the City Commission.

The successful bidders were Ryan, Sutherland and Company and W. L. Slayton and Company. The bids were made on a basis of five and six per cent bonds as authorized by the commission.

The successful bid was $204,- 632.40 and accrued interest for the five per cent bonds and $215,437.44
for the six per cent bonds.

The excellent price brought by the local issue is being hailed with a great deal of enthusiasm by local business men, who point out that it is significant of the growth of Sanford and of the faith which outside moneyed interests have in the future of the city.

While many other cities are forced to issue six per cent bonds in order to find a market for them, it is pointed out that Sanford sells an issue bearing only five per cent interest and carrying a substantial premium. Members of the commission today were receiving congratulations upon the sale of the people declaring that it was also an indication of the strong financial condition of the city government.

The other bidders and their bids were as follows: Spitzer Rorick and Company $204,000 for five per cent bonds and $215,437.44 for six per cent bonds; Ryan, Sutherland and Company, $204,632.40 for five per cent bonds and $215,437.44
for six per cent bonds; Farson S o n cent bonds and $211,833.60 for six per cent bonds; Prudden and Company $202,927.32 for five per cents and $202,927.32 for six per cents; Florida National Bank, $210,712.70 for six per cents; Provident Savings Bank and Trust Company, $153, premium and accrued interest on pany of Jacksonville, $209,677.50 for

Company and the Hanchett Bond

ium of $7,490 on six per cent bonds;

Political Future Of Trotsky Is Uncertain

MOSCOW, May 21.—A general surprise is caused by the failure of Leon Trotsky, former minister of war, who recently returned from the political section, to secure a post in the Soviet cabinet, whose members, with Alexis I. Rykoff present, were re-elected today by the Union Soviet socialist republic.
It is believed, therefore, that Tro-tsky's political fate still hangs in the balance.

Lloyds, Of Underwriting Fame, To Carry Traditions Of Coffee Shop Into New $6,000,000 Home

LONDON, May 20.—Homage to the memory of "Eddie" Lloyd, who kept a little hole-in-the-wall coffee shop in Tower Street 237 years ago where British merchants began to meet for the transaction of shipping business, is to be paid by King George himself and numerous others of note on May 23. Then the king will lay the foundation stone for Lloyd's new building which is to cost $6,000,000 and will require several years to build.

The Lloyd's of those days—that is, the coffee shop—occupied but one small room, kitchen and all, and the rent was but a few shillings a week. In Leadenhall Street where the new structure is to stand entire blocks of old offices were demolished to make room for a new headquarters for the Lloyd's of today. The new building is to be one of the largest ever constructed in England.

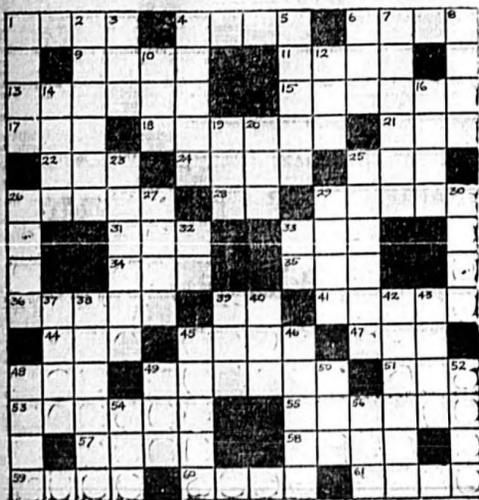

Although the business originally was confined to the insurance of shipping risks, Lloyd's today deals in nearly every kind of risk. A person may insure there, through a member, against a wet day for a picnic, crop failures, against twins, or bet against almost any sort of adventure or misadventure which might befall a human being at sea, on land or in the air during the flight of an airplane. And to this day, as a memorial to Eddie's humble little coffee house, the underwriting room—"The Room", it is called—is arranged in the style of an old-fashioned coffee shop, in which there are bulletin boards with notices of shipping arrivals, departures, casualties and other notes of interest to the shipping world. The new headquarters, too, is to have its "coffee room" as a continued reminder of Old Eddie.

In the underwriters' room also there hangs the famous Lutine bell. A single stroke of the bell indicates good news, such as when a ship long overdue is announced as having reached port safely. Two strokes of the bell signifies a wreck at sea, or some other news of misfortune.

The bell is from H. M. S. Lutine, a warship wrecked in 1799, and is one of the most interesting of the relics of Lloyd's. It is to be carried with care and reverence to the new headquarters when complete.

In 1692 the business of the shipping merchants took a more definite course, and it was decided to desert Eddie's place for larger quarters. A move was made to Lombard Street and the romance of Lloyd's began to take a form which, in time, was to make the name of the old coffee shop keeper known to shipping men in every quarter of the globe. The business grew rapidly and again in 1774 new offices were set up in the Royal Exchange in Cornhill, where they have been ever since.

MIAMI SHORES

Has as Much Frontage on Biscayne Bay
as Has the Entire Present
City of Miami

IF YOU ARE A JUDGE of Miami city property and appreciate what Biscayne Bay has meant to properties adjacent to it, you cannot fail to realize just how fortunately Miami Shores properties, as a whole, are situated.

IT IS A POSITIVE STATEMENT OF FACT that all properties lying between Miami Avenue and Biscayne Bay enjoy an enhancement of values nowhere else obtained.

THERE ARE JUST THREE great, fundamental influences that control the real estate situation in Miami Shores Properties: Biscayne Bay—Main Highways—and guaranteed improvements for the entire project, which improvements are not outlined alone in the publicity campaign but are, for the protection of the buying public, recited in the sales contracts and deeds.

AND MIAMI SHORES, as a property, embodies the three great usual desires of the home-seeker:

1. Close proximity to Biscayne Bay—
2. Ample business developments—
3. Accessibility to Miami.

THEN, TOO, ALL MIAMI SHORES PROPERTY, in fact, all that great property lying North of Sixtieth Street and West to Hialeah will, by virtue of the Miami Shores Causeway, be brought closer to the ocean than now by the county causeway.

Plans for developments include:
Causeway to Miami Beach and the ocean;
Two golf courses;
An island of 600 acres;
A beautiful yacht and country club house on the Bay.

Handle Perishables Carefully On Way To Market Advice Of Experts

GAINESVILLE, May 20.—"Handle your perishable products carefully while on the road to market," is the suggestion being passed out by specialists of the University of Florida Extension Division here. They point out that rough handling of such crops as cucumbers, watermelons and citrus may bring the entire work of production to naught by causing the matured fruit to decay before it reaches the consumer.

Extension specialists who have been in the field the past few days report that the rough handling of cucumbers in the packing house and at the car is appalling. Particularly is the way that much of the fruit is loaded on the wagon or truck and from the wagon or truck into the car a cause for thought, the specialists say.

In many cases the hampers are slung from the ground into the bed of the wagon or truck, jostling and bruising the cucumbers as they go. This slinging process is again repeated from the bed to the car and often even again from the door of the car to the ends, the field agents say.

The bruised cucumbers are subjected to decay, and it is seldom that they reach the consumer in good shape when roughly handled. Watermelon shipping season is here also, and Extension Specialists are advising that this crop be handled carefully to avoid bruising. They are also urging that the watermelons be treated to prevent stem-end rot before loading on the cars.

"Why devote so much time and money to planting, cultivating and fighting pests to produce a crop, and then throw the crop into decay by careless handling?" is the question these specialists are asking in this connection.

Aged Japanese Kills Self To Hide Error Of Imperial Officer

TOKIO, May 21.—Because he was actually only 89 years old, and not 91 years, as reported in the list of those to whom silver cups are to be presented in commemoration of the silver wedding celebration of the emperor and empress, Kinaku Tajima of Imajuku-mura, Saitama, killed himself in the traditional harakiri way.

The old man's body, with stomach ripped open was found in his room with a letter explaining that he could not accept the Imperial cup under the circumstances, and did not wish to refuse it because such action would necessitate explanation and bring someone into disgrace for making a mistake. Death offered the only way out.

Modern Girls Taking Interest In Sewing

LONDON, May 21.—The modern girl is taking a more intelligent interest in needlework than did the early Victorian, according to Mrs. Mary Antrobus, who is restorer by royal warrant of the tapestry in Holyrood, Windsor Castle and Buckingham Palace.

Mrs. Antrobus acted as one of the judges at an international needlework contest here, and is considered one of the greatest authorities in Europe on these materials. Hunting women, and the girls who play hockey and tennis and take an interest in outdoor sports are, as a whole, the women who do the best embroidery today. In the opinion of Mrs. Antrobus, Needlework fulfills a side of their lives which sports do not, she says, because sports are not creative and needlework certainly is.

STRAUS OBJECTS TO PAY

BERLIN, May 21.—Richard Strauss has decided to boycott the German Theatrical Association. He has refused Max Von Schilling's invitation to conduct a number of performances of the Berlin Opera with the explanation that he does not consider it conformable with his professional standing to submit to a conventional fine imposed by the Theatrical Association in the nature of fixing the maximum remuneration for an artist of his position.

First Day Of Big May Clearance Sale Is Record Breaker

The opening day of Yowell Company's annual May Clearance Sale proved to be a big event in the history of the store, all previous attendance and sales records being broken, according to the management.

Long before the doors opened Wednesday morning there was a large crowd gathered to get the first opportunity at the bargains offered by the store in its yearly price-cutting offer. When the store closed last night business was almost as brisk as it had been during the early morning hours.

The sale, which will continue through next Wednesday, not only is attracting many local buyers but is also drawing scores of shoppers from the outlying districts. It is declared. The fact that everything in the store has been marked down and the fact that all of the goods are of the finest quality, is proving to be a big drawing card, it was pointed out by the management, which predicts that the sale will be the biggest ever held by the store.

Bargain prices in novelty cotton goods, ladies' ready-to-wear and men's and boys' furnishings are being offered in addition to rock bottom prices on Mallinson's and other fine silks.

A May sale with August prices is the way the store advertises its appeal to those who desire to get exception values on better quality goods. Summing up the prices from $0.95 to $20 are to be found here while men's suits, formerly marked at $27.50 are now selling for $21.95 and Palm Beach suits in all sizes and colors are being sold at $12.95.

The store was closed Tuesday afternoon while employees made arrangements for the sale. Yesterday morning when the doors opened the building presented an attractive appearance with its goods and wares neatly arranged and placed in advantageous places for the buyers' examination. The display windows were pictures of beauty, the arrangement of various materials in them being especially appealing.

Bid Of 20 Per Cent Cut In City Electric Rates Is Submitted

"In addition to the attached schedules, we hereby make reference to and confirm our offer submitted to the City Commission recently for a special rate for municipal pumping, copy of which is attached hereto. This rate not only represents a substantial saving over the present rate for municipal pumping but offers an opportunity by slight adjustment of your present pumping operations, for a very substantial further reduction.

"We were advised today that you are planning the filling in of a large amount of lake front property, and we believe we shall be able to work out with representatives, a method of operating which will not only save the city of Sanford a large amount of money in the way of investment, but will also simplify your operations and represent a substantial saving in the total cost of your lake front improvements.

"As we had the privilege of explaining to your honorable body and to the citizens of Sanford, who were present at today's meeting, we are now preparing to carry out important and far reaching plans for the development of our service in this vicinity which will involve the expenditure of very large sums of money, and which will establish here a type of electric service which will be equal to any in the country. We trust that this fact, together with the voluntary rate reductions hereby offered, will be to the citizens indication to you and to the citizens of Sanford that the new owners of your electrical utilities are desirous of cooperating in the development of your city and its surrounding territory.

"We desire to take this opportunity in connection with the large number of properties, we have recently acquired throughout the State of Florida, we were unavoidably prevented from submitting this proposition to you as early as we had expected to do so, and to thank you for the consideration you have extended to us in connection therewith and for the courteous hearing which we were accorded by your honorable commission and the citizens present at the meeting held in the City Hall today."

Craig's Letter In Part

After calling attention to the necessity of looking at any lighting proposition from a county-wide rather than a city problem, Mr. Craig, in his letter to the commission, said that Sanford could never hope to build a plant which would be as efficient as the superplant outlined by Mr. Inch; that the rates offered by the company were as low as could be reasonably expected, and that in Florida there are only four or five cities enjoying lower rates than has been offered this city.

About three and one-half times as much of our cultivated crop land is devoted to growing food for our farm animals as for producing crops for human consumption.

THE BELLS OF THE NATIONS

Great Dante heard the clock-bell in his time
 "Tin-tin sanando," in his lovely South Joyous, imperious, definite, sublime,
 With Latin logic rung from Tuscan mouth
 In Ghent the carillon at midnight chants, Longfellow heard, and sang of the "Roland"
 That with Mellifluous anger, shouts and pants
 "When there is Victory in Guelderland!"

The Gauls have many a bell of voice divine;
 Sweet bells has Germany. Alas, the chief Stands broken in Schaffhausen by the Rhine:
 "Ti Schiller's "Glocke," dumb beyond relief.
 Another bell rings from the heathery heights
 Of Gynic lands—who hears its arguished sound?
 All—old bards, whose never hand rewrites
 The runes of their gray headstones srown around.

The "lin, lan, long," of twilight's dreamy bell,
 Tennyson heard, far-borne across the flats,
 With mellow plaintive anamnetic swell
 Among the giant willows and dim bats.
 Among the hoary, tortuous willows bent
 O'er the full windings of some fenland stream,
 I, standing with my rod, have known it blent
 With the long cadences of my day-dream!

From some tall tower, with windows lanceolate,
 Rang that sweet English bell in glowing deep,
 Dark grew the neighbor water, dark as fate,
 Broad-flowing, silent, mystical as sleep.
 So from old Washbourn Abbey, loud or low,
 The wedding bells pealed, in their dulcet mirth,
 On Coleridge, a long hundred years ago,
 And brought his "Ancient Mariner" to birth.

 Take a drive down Union Avenue and notice how fine the new hotel is going to look.
 Anyone can make a mistake but only a few men and no women at all will admit it.
 The trouble with most artists is that they think any painting of a girl in a one-piece bathing suit is art.
 Don't tell your little boy that it hurts you as much as him. He may counter with the story about the cherry tree.
 Well, for once, Jacksonville was asleep at the switch—Ocala Star. Jacksonville has been asleep at the switch for twenty years.
 We read somewhere the other day about a man who fell two hundred feet and got up and walked away. He must have been an elevator boy and used to it.

It's hard to believe that a Sanford man would do such a thing, but up in Sanford, Maine the other day, Frank D. Smith, a well-known electric light bulb into a gas-line tank in hope of finding a leak. A few minutes later a neighbor picked him up in a dazed condition ten feet distant. "The moral is when you start to do it, don't stop."

Regarding Community Advertising

Regretting that it cannot give space here to the entire article, The Herald is taking two or three outstanding paragraphs from the address prepared by Jefferson Thomas, the well-known advertising man, and read by Karl Lehmann, of Orlando, before the Associated Advertising Club of the World in the recent convention of that organization held in Houston, Texas.

The address was prepared for the Community Advertising Department of the convention, and in his paper Mr. Thomas took the opportunity to sound a warning against the chances for wasted money and harmful "copy", when advertising programs are in the hands of politicians or of ignorant individuals who know nothing of the real science of effective advertising.

The paper also made a reference to the kind of advertising that is being discarded by all intelligent people. And for the opportunity it gives for "drawing one's own conclusions, and lessons", The Herald is quoting here a few of the article's outstanding paragraphs, leaving the people of Sanford to agree or disagree as they see fit.

"It must be admitted", said Mr. Thomas, "that Florida land advertising of fifteen to twenty-five years ago left much to be desired. There was entirely too much of the 'Forty acres and freedom' talk; entirely too much of the 'Dollar down and dollar forever' practice. There was far too little investigation as to the real value of the land, its productive capacities and its location in relation to markets, transportation, schools, etc. As an inevitable consequence, much dissatisfaction resulted and in a few years most of the land operators found themselves in difficulties. It is an interesting side-light on the situation that many buyers of land, then considered as of doubtful worth, who kept up payments, taxes, etc., recently have been able to sell at fabulous profits."

"The period of unethical uninformed advertising of Florida land" the article continues was followed by a term of years during which the chief exploitation of the state was done by developers—men of means who carefully selected tracts of land and brought them into profitable production of farm crops, fruits or vegetables, before the transactions involved in their sale were finally concluded. While some abuses crept into this system of development, as well as into its advertising, it was immensely superior to the old plan of selling raw land regardless of its suitability for the purchaser. Coincident with this development era, there grew up, in an experimental and limited way, the practice of advertising by boards of trade and other civic bodies, the money coming in a few instances from membership dues, but more generally from special funds raised by the usual type of 'hip, hip, hurrah' campaign.

"This pioneer form of community advertising soon manifested certain elements of serious weakness," Mr. Thomas explains. "Many subscribers to the funds failed in making full payments of their pledges. The civic organizations in charge of the campaigns often neglected to sufficiently discount the subscriptions, and obligated themselves for more money than could be collected. Credit losses of advertising agencies and publishers were heavy and reaped most unfavorably on the communities. In several instances the situation became so acute that boards of trade were forced to disband in consequence of the unfortunate experience that grew out of their advertising experiences. Even when all the money was raised and properly expended, it was usually through the civic pride of a 'faithful few'—of the greater beneficiaries of the advertising contributing little or nothing to defray its cost."

"Drawing inspiration from co-operative marketing advertising, as I believe, certain far-sighted citizens of Florida then suggested taxation as a means of equalizing the burden of community advertising," Mr. Thomas said. "For 10 years or more the idea has been growing in popular favor, first gradually and later much more rapidly. There has been endless discussion of the subject, endless arguments for and against the principle, endless instances of success and lack of success in efforts for its application. First, there were advanced many sound reasons why advertising may not properly be regarded as a function of government—reasons constitutional and otherwise. Followed presentation of more practical objections based on the comparative inefficiency of advertising paid for by public funds regarded as inevitable under our carefree way of selecting men to administer governmental affairs."

Mr. Thomas, for various reasons, objects to tax-money being used for advertising, but sifted down his objection is one that all thinking people must endorse. This sound objection is based on the common knowledge that professional politicians, or office-holders who are office-holders because they can't make a success in business, are utterly unfit to be trusted with the spending of tax-money for advertising their communities.
 Sanford has had some remarkably fine advertising work through the medium of the Chamber of Commerce, but Sanford as well as the rest of Florida should keep a sharp look-out for wastefulness and fraud in the spending of tax-money for advertising programs by men incapable of getting honest returns.

MY FAVORITE STORIES
BY IRVIN S. COBB

Some fifteen years ago there landed in New York a friendless and almost penniless Russian immigrant who found lodgings on the East Side, and at once, with racial perseverance and energy set out to earn a living.
 He was of a likeable disposition, and speedily made acquaintances who sought to aid him in his ambition. One of them sponsored him for the vacant post of janitor, or shammoo, to use the common Hebrew word, of a small synagogue on a side street.
 But when the officers of the congregation found out the applicant was entirely illiterate they reluctantly denied him employment, inasmuch as a shammoo must keep certain records.
 The greenhorn quickly rallied from his disappointment. He got a job somewhere. He prospered. Presently he became a dabbler in real estate.
 Within ten years he was one of the largest independent operators in East Side tenement-house property and popularly rated as a millionaire. An occasion arose when he needed a large amount of money to swing what promised to be a profitable deal. Finding himself for the moment short of cash, he went to the East Side branch of one of the large banks.
 It was the first time in his en-

MR. FORD IN WALL STREET IN GREAT ST. PETER'S. "THE LORD HAVE MERCY" ONLY HUMAN BABIES.
 By ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright 1925)

THERE'S A NEW bank in Wall Street and Edsel Ford they say will run it. That agitates the Wall Street gentlemen, as the hens are agitated when a weazel wiggles into the coop.

HENRY FORD'S son is only a director in the parent company, the Guardian Trust Company of Detroit. But when one of the Fords gets into an enterprise, that enterprise soon becomes all Ford. Recently Wall Street sent to Detroit with the idea of taking over the Fords. Now the Fords go into Wall Street, and with more ready cash behind them than anybody else in the United States possess, they worry that home of the mighty dollar.

FORTY THOUSAND worshippers and members of the clergy from all over the world, including Cardinal Dougherty, of Philadelphia, gathered in St. Peter's in Rome and witnessed a most magnificent spectacle.
 The Pope, carried on his golden throne to the great altar of twisted columns, formally admitted St. Theresa of Normandy, known as "Theresa of the Infant Jesus," to the fellowship of Catholic saints.

THOSE WHO do not know St. Peter's, most magnificent monument to Michelangelo's supreme genius, obtain a slight idea of its size in reading of the 40,000 that easily find room inside its walls, and of the solemn procession of cardinals, archbishops, bishops, priests of all orders, up the central aisle. The procession lasted for more than an hour.

A CONTRAST between the old and the new was furnished by the thousands of candles of wax—not electric lights—with which the dome of St. Peter's was decorated, its first illumination in more than half a century, and the Pope from the throne of pure white addressing the great throng, with a modern amplifier carrying his voice to every corner of the great cathedral.

VARIOUS ROYALTIES sat on special seats reserved for sovereigns. And Timothy Healy, Governor-General of Ireland, sat on the tribune reserved for the heads of state.
 That was an interesting sight for those that remembered the days of forty years ago when Healy, in the House of Commons, was fighting for Home Rule.

INTERESTING REMINDERS of ancient days were the presents made to the Pope by the Carmelite Order to which St. Theresa belonged. There were two silver chalices with two white doves, mother with five small birds, candles and loaves of bread on gold and silver platters.
 Interesting also was the appearance of the bronze statue of St. Peter dressed for the occasion in a magnificent red robe holding in his hand the famous jewels, Tiara and gold emblem of the Sacred Heart.
 Mighty is the power of faith and imagination combined.

YESTERDAY, IN Pennsylvania, William Cavalier, fifteen years old, and a murderer, was sentenced to die in the electric chair. The sentence wound up with "And may the Lord have mercy on your soul." The reporters thought the boy winced a little at that, and at the words about "Death—electric current—passed through body—until dead." The boy smiled as he left the cell, and a few minutes later, in his court, he was playing a popular song, "Katerina," on his phonograph.

FRED LENNIG, Warden in charge of the young criminal school, listened to that music. He doesn't know what it's all about. "You may truly say the same of a system of 'justice' that sentences to death a feeble-minded boy of fifteen."

A NEW YORK lady ran a baby farm. The babies died rapidly, especially if their board bills were not paid. One poor infant dug up after burial had a fractured skull. The rate of mortality was horrible.
 If anybody kept such a farm for baby dogs or cats, the "Cruelty to Animals Society" would probably supervise and regulate it. How does it happen that the so-called Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to children knew nothing about the baby farm or its deaths?

SANFORD'S FORUM

Editor The Herald:
 What a pity Sanford did not have a delegate to represent her at the Scenic Highway Association that convened at Spartanburg, S. C. last week.
 There were 300 delegates, representing nearly 50 cities and towns of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida.
 The purpose of the convention was to perfect an organization to open and advertise a direct highway from Quebec to Miami, through the most beautiful scenic country in the United States.
 Mr. Earl W. Brown of Deland, and Mr. Mark W. Lance of Avon Park were elected vice president of the organization. Mr. Charles A. Brown of Orlando, was elected one of the directors.
 Mr. Ernest N. Smith, president of the American Automobile Association, delivered an address on the opportunities the highway would open for the South. An hour or more was given over to a series of five minute addresses by representatives of the various towns and communities along the proposed route of the highway, in which each pointed out the scenic locality he represented.
 Mr. M. W. Vance of Avon Park, one of a committee of five to recommend the scenic route between the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia and Florida. This committee was instructed to confer with the delegates representing the various communities.
 The delegates were welcomed to Spartanburg by Mr. H. B. Carlisle and Dr. M. Sample of Haines City responded to the address of welcome in behalf of the delegates. Dr. Sample also in a few words presented the enthusiastic attitude of Floridians to the proposed scenic route. He said Florida prosperity is largely due to good roads.
 Delegates from Florida to the convention were J. W. Chapman and W. W. Lance of Avon Park, G. M. Guerey of Palatka, F. M. Brown of Deland, Dr. M. Sample of Haines City.
 This route will include the cities of Miami, Palm Beach, Okeechobee, Avon Park, Haines City, Orlando, Deland, Palatka, Green Cove Springs and Jacksonville, with a feeder from St. Petersburg, Clearwater, Tampa and Lakeland, joining said route at Haines City.
 Every town represented by a delegate got the road.
 Where was Sanford's delegate?

HOT ZIGGITY
BY JEFF BAILEY IN EUSTIS LAKE REGION

I visited the Sanford Kiwanis Club Wednesday and I was very much impressed with the personality of this club. I had the pleasure of perfecting its organization in 1921 and I was impressed with the great influx of new faces in the club—mostly men from the north, who have come into Sanford with its great forward stride in the last two years.

Sanford is as far ahead of the Sanford I knew in 1921 as it is now behind the Sanford that it is to be in 1930. The new buildings, the improvements in the streets, the general and apparent alertness in business makes a city of first rating.

The new Forrest Lake hotel is going up with leaps and bounds. One man told me he put $500 in the project and that the company had bought and sold all of the adjacent property and he had received a $10 dividend check on his stock subscription before the hotel was completed. I'll say that's pretty good.

Sanford is now backing her Chamber of Commerce slogan to the last letter—"The City Substantial." Sanford looks substantial—I heartily believe she is.
 I met Judge C. C. Nesmith, formerly a prominent lawyer and jurist of Birmingham and an old acquaintance at the luncheon. He has located in Sanford to practice law—likes it fine—and with his legal ability he will undoubtedly succeed in Sanford.

CAN WOMEN DRIVE?
ST. AUGUSTINE RECORD

Can a woman drive a motor-car? And is it an unjustified slander to remark, "Must be a woman driver," when seeing a badly driven automobile?
 "Yes," is the answer on both points, given in this week's Liberty by Joseph McQuaide, traffic cop on the "world's worst corner"—Getty Square in Yonkers, New York. McQuaide believes firmly in a woman's ability to drive as well as the average man.
 "A woman is more careful than a man," McQuaide explains. "But she's more belligerent than a man after she does get into trouble."
 "I'll turn my semaphore against north and southbound traffic and see a car ignore it. Let's say a man is in ten he'll try to back up and shut up and avoid a summons, but a woman might try to back up, but if she finds her way barred by cars behind she'll get sore at those behind her and at me. I give her a summons if necessary and then she proceeds to bowl me out in expert fashion."
 "On the other hand, the woman as a whole will keep a sharp lookout for the stop and go signals. To sum it all up, I say that while women are less accustomed to driving they are more careful in driving than men."
 The case for the woman driver is clinched, according to Liberty, by the New York State Motor Vehicle Bureau with the information that of the one thousand and persons, who, between July 1, 1924, and January 15, 1925 had their driving licenses revoked for various forms of mishandling of their motors, only twelve were women.

WELFARE DEPARTMENT HOLDS LAST MEETING OF PRESENT CLUB YEAR

By MRS. E. A. DOUGLASS
The last meeting of the Welfare Department for the regular club season was held at the club house on Wednesday afternoon with a large attendance. Mrs. J. G. Sharon, the chairman, presided over the gathering.

A summary of the year's work showed the department had been very active, and that very substantial sums had been paid to the building fund, which is the club debt, and also a nice donation made to the Fernald-Laughton hospital. Mrs. E. P. Morse made a very interesting report of work done on city parks.

Mrs. H. J. Lehman as a member of the luncheon committee which has served the department during the year, reported that her committee would present the club house with some very much needed articles, such as cream pitchers and sugar bowls to be bought with money left over from the luncheons.

Mrs. A. Vaughan of the park committee, reported that attractive signs had been made for the Woman's Club park at Robinson's Springs and these are to be placed there immediately. She also asked for the privilege of purchasing receptacles for trash to be placed in the park.

A vote of thanks was given Mrs. W. H. Tunncliffe for her splendid work as chairman on the sale of the "Garden Year," the club calendar, and to Mrs. Harry H. Heaton, who so effectively handled the postal work. Mrs. J. G. Sharon, retiring chairman, spoke of the large membership of the department and asked that all dues be paid as she wished for a paid up membership for the new chairman.

Miss Abby Doudney, county nurse, addressed the club in regard to child welfare work, stating that there was urgent need for another nurse, as Seminole county was much too large for one nurse to handle all of the work. She declared it is impossible for one nurse to give the children individual attention. The matter was referred to the board of managers of the Woman's Club to be taken up later with the authorities.

Mrs. E. P. Morse, who is in charge of the county welfare work, made a fine report and the department voted to donate $25 toward this work. Mrs. J. C. Gibbs was elected chairman of the program committee and Mrs. W. T. Wheelers was elected secretary-treasurer of the department.

The program was in the hands of the educational committee, with Mrs. G. E. McKay, chairman. Miss Lillian Schwartz, teacher of home economics in the high school, put on a fashion show made up entirely of her pupils of the freshman class who compose the sewing class. These young girls made a most pleasing picture and furnished a splendid example of practical training that was really wonderful. Too much cannot be said in praise of this feature of the high school work that is doing so much in the helpful training of the young girls of this city.

The fashion show was followed with a little health play that was charmingly given, showing that the relative value of different foods is also being made a study. The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. C. W. Stokes and Mrs. Sandy Anderson, who were assisted in serving an ice course by the young girls of the high school.

COUNTY FEDERATION HAS ELECTION OF OFFICERS AT CHULUOTA MEETING

One of the most enjoyable meetings of the Seminole County Federation was held with the Chuluota Parent-Teachers Association in the new schoolhouse in Chuluota on May 16. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. R. E. Tolar, who then introduced the Rev. M. E. Gabard of Geneva, who spoke on law enforcement, and the creation of public sentiment for the Eighteenth Amendment. The Seminole County Federation heartily endorsed Rev. Gabard's proposal.

The Club Extension Chairman, Mrs. B. G. Smith, of Oviedo, reported one new club.

This being the annual election, the voting strength of the federation was found to be 28, with 5 delegates present from the Community Club of Geneva, 4 present from the Woman's Club of Sanford, 5 present from the Parent-Teacher Association of Geneva, 4 present from Oviedo, 5 present from Chuluota, 3 present from Longwood, and 2 officers voting who were not delegates. Splendid reports were given from the various clubs.

The question of securing a home demonstration agent was again brought before the federation, and the various club presidents promised their united support in keeping this movement before the commission. Miss Abbie Doudney, the county nurse, gave a most interesting report of the year's work.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Mineick of Longwood; vice-president, Mrs. W. B. Ballard; second vice-president, Mrs. Mamie Seig; treasurer, Mrs. Gibbs; recording secretary, Mrs. Tribble; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. L. Thomas; auditor, Mrs. West. Mrs. R. E. Tolar, the retiring president, gave a most interesting report of the work done by the federation during the past year. Mrs. Tolar's administration has been successful in every way, and it was with real regret that the federation gave her up as president.

Mrs. E. M. Galloway presented the Children's Code Commission bills 208 and 209, and the Seminole County Federation went on record as endorsing 208 and asking for its passage. Mrs. McCall was appointed chairman to look after the musical part of the program for each meeting.

Mrs. Leonard urged that the County Federation not abandon its summer meetings, and upon motion, the federation decided to meet in mid-summer, the date to be left to the new officers. A rising vote of thanks was given the Chuluota Parent-Teacher Association for its delightful hospitality. Preceding the luncheon, Mrs. R. E. Tolar played the "Spinning Song" from Faust.
