L. STEWART DEMANDED TO WIFE'S CARE

Judge Dismisses Habeas Corpus Writ Thru Which Oilman Avoided His Arrest

Attorneys Appeal To Higher Court

Meantime Wealthy Operator Will Have Liberty Under Bond

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The writ of habeas corpus by which Col. Robert Stewart, multi-millionaire oil operator, secured release from arrest by U. S. Senate two weeks ago was dismissed today by Judge Jennings Bailey in strict supreme court.

The court's action automatically nullified the writ of habeas corpus granted by the Senate, and Deputy Attorney General John J. McHugh was on hand to take charge of Stewart's attorneys.

Stewart's attorneys, however, immediately gave notice of appeal. Judge Bailey fixed the bond at $100,000, which was immediately paid.

Stewart gained his freedom from physical detention until time as the court of appeals sits upon his appeal. It is the intention of Stewart's attorneys to fight the case clear to the United States Supreme Court, thus making a long drawn out legal struggle of perhaps a year's duration.

Stewart's lawyers will have six weeks in which to perfect their appeal from Judge Bailey's decision. Unless this work is expedited, which no one believes it will be, it is probable that the case will not be reached for argument until early next autumn.

Meantime Stewart will remain at liberty under the $100,000 bond. He is not, however, to leave the country without the permission of the court.

The status of Stewart and his wife, Harry F. Sinclair, has been largely the same as a result of today's court action. Stewart has been tried before a jury composed of the United States and sentenced to three years in jail. Stewart has been fined for the same contempt of court for the Continental Trading Agency, $3,000,000 "slush fund" propounded by the Senate Committee.

Formal indictment of Stewart contempt of the Senate by a writ of Columbia grand jury is expected almost daily. This indictment, as in Sinclair's case, will be followed by a jury trial, conviction is regarded by government attorneys as certain.

If Stewart follows Sinclair's example, there will be an appeal in that conviction, and further delays.

Woodmen Officials To Be Here Tonight For Special Meeting

Sanford Woodmen of the World have completed preparations for the entertainment tonight of two national officers, who come here as part of a tour which will take them to all of the larger camps in Florida.

The guests of honor will be Sovereign Clerk John T. Allen of Omaha, Neb., and Sovereign Escort S. A. Ferrell of New York, Pa.

Plans for a special meeting at City Hall, to which the public is cordially invited to attend, were announced early this week. The distinguished visitors will be welcomed in behalf of the city by Mayor E. F. Housholder.

They will be introduced by Judge James G. Sharan. The first speaker will be C. C. Whittier, manager of the Woodmen and Mr. Yates and Mr. Forreil will follow.

An interesting message for Woodmen and public alike will be brought by both officials. Last night the guests of three camps at Jacksonville Woodmen and their wives was pronounced one of the most enjoyable occasions in the annual of Woodmen activities of that city.

A large audience is expected for tonight's gathering. Practically every Woodman in this vicinity will be present and a large number of Sanford citizens in attendance.

Police Given Clue To 'Torch Murder'

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(INS)—The first definite clue of the whereabouts of the "torch murderer" who drugged, robbed and burned Miss Margaret Brown, a cultured governess, to death in the woods near Morristown, N. J., came today in the form of an anonymous letter. The writer of the communication admitted the murder and declared that if he is caught he will commit suicide.

COURT RELEASES ALMA GATLIN ON MURDER CHARGE

Beauty Contest Winner Gets Acquittal From Jury For Alleged Slaying Of Father And Hiding Of His Body In Cellar

REIDSVILLE, N. C., Feb. 23.—(INS)—Youthful Mrs. Alma Petty, beauty contest winner, robbed with happiness today when she discussed her acquittal of a charge of slaying her aged father and concealing his body in the basement of their home for more than a year.

The young bride of Reidsville's fire chief, weary after six months confinement in the county jail at Wentworth, and the ordeal of her grueling trial, was beamed among friends today in her home town.

"I knew the jury would believe my story, and I never once thought there would be a miscarriage of justice," the girl said. "But sometimes there was an awful, unexplainable fear of the electric chair. Just suppose—"

Mrs. Gatlin was the recipient of literally hundreds of missives of congratulations this morning. They came from far and near, from all sections of the country.

After she walked from the courtroom at 10:15 last night a free woman, she came to her former home here, nine miles from the courtroom scene at Wentworth. She braced herself to receive the verdict, and when the foreman said "not guilty," collapsed sobbing into the hands of her young husband.

Last night in the dimly lit little courtroom at Wentworth, the bride of a year, retaining her composure a moment after the verdict and smiling through her tears, faced Judge Cameron McCrea, to be discharged, and then shook hands with the jurymen and her friends.

Beside the girl when the verdict was rendered was her young husband, Eugene Gatlin, Reidsville fire chief, Miss Thelma Petty, her younger sister, and her little brother, Woodrow, who made a small fortune during the trial selling extras about his sister's plight.

Lions Club Show Expected To Draw Large Attendance

With indications that a packed house will greet its presentation, the Lions Club charity show will be staged tonight at 8:15 o'clock at the Seminole High School auditorium. The sale of tickets has exceeded expectations and a sellout is predicted by the members, according to those in charge.

The entertainment, which is under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Jones of Lakeland, will consist of two musical comedies and several specialty numbers.

The leading parts will be taken by Mr. and Mrs. Jones, who will also appear in an act of their own arrangement.

Several members of the Lions Club together with other leading amateur talent of Sanford will be seen before the footlights. A bevy of high school girls will compose the chorus, which will also be supported by a group of high school boys.

Specialty numbers will include one by Bill Henry, Orlando radio entertainer, and Frank Hussey of Lakeland, formerly connected with the University of Florida drama club. "Red" Barber will give a blackface performance and Richard Holtsclaw will sing. Hope Huff and Dr. H. W. Rucker, supported by a pretty chorus, will also appear in specialty numbers.

The entertainment is being given to raise funds with which to repair playground equipment in this city and also to provide money for donations to several welfare organizations of Sanford.

SENATE GROUP IN MINE PROBE STARTS WORK

Committee Arrives In Pennsylvania To Inspect Battleground In Economic War Between Two Factions

Miners Forced To Live In Dirty Huts

Operators Declare They Will Not Negotiate With Workers Unless Scale Is Fixed

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 23.—(INS)—The Senate Coal Committee came to Pennsylvania today to inspect the chief battleground in the bitter economic war being waged between the soft coal miners and operators.

The battle has been on since the operators declined to renew the minimum wage agreement of $7.50 a day. The sharpest fighting has centered in the Pittsburgh district. Here are located the largest bituminous coal producers in the country. These operators, declaring they cannot buck the low-wage competition in the open shop mines south of the Ohio River in West Virginia and Kentucky, have imported thousands of non-union laborers to keep production going.

No end of the clash is in sight. Operators here declared they would not negotiate with the union if they aren't promised a wage reduction. Miners' officials retorted they will not retreat an inch, or compromise one penny.

The Pittsburgh battle sector stretches fan-like around the outer reaches of the city. The mines and camps, dirty and desolate, nestle in the valleys and sprawl in pattern-less shape on the bleak, wind-swept, winter-gripped hills that overlook the sluggish Allegheny and Monongahela rivers. The general picture is heavy with deep shadows, for men are figuratively at each other's throats in the grim business of eking out an existence.

As in all strife there are wounds and suffering, so in this one there is no exception. The victims are chiefly the women and children of the striking miners. They have stuck with their men folk in what they regard not only as a deadly serious battle for a principle, but for a decent, living wage to wrest from the pits of the earth in nuggets of coal.

Operators admit the strike has brought hardships and suffering and deprivations, but say they can do nothing about it so long as the union persists in refusing even to talk about a lower wage.

Union officials go further. They charge the coal companies with employing "professional gunmen" who serve as coal and iron police under commission from Pennsylvania. They have prepared for the committee numerous affidavits telling of alleged "breakdowns, atrocities, and outrages against decency" committed by these police and by strike breakers.

Non-union workers, a large portion of them Southern negroes, live in quarters maintained by the companies. These camps are closely guarded by police and, in many instances, the camps are surrounded by high fences to prevent strike breakers from leaving or pickets from entering.

Building Program Of Navy Gets Huge Reduction Slash

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—(INS)—The ambitious $740,000,000 naval building program launched by Secretary of the Navy Wilbur some weeks ago, shrunk today to $274,000,000 dimensions, or about one-third of what was originally proposed.

The House Naval Committee brought out a bill which bore but slight resemblance to the original Wilbur program, which aimed at the construction of 74 new ships, including cruisers, destroyers, carriers, submarines, and aircraft carriers.

Only 16 new ships are contemplated in the House program, and five 10,000-ton cruisers, and one airplane carrier to cost $13,500,000. The cruisers will cost $17,000,000 each.

It was provided, however, that the ships are to be laid down in three years, and be all completed in six years.

REPORT RUMORED THAT LINDY WILL FOUND AIRWAYS

Mystery Visit To Detroit With St. Louis Capitalist Is Believed For Reason Of Forging Goltham-Detroit Airline

DETROIT, Feb. 23.—(INS)—Reports concerning organization of a new Chicago-New York airway via Detroit to be headed by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Major Thomas G. Lamphier were circulated today with the "mystery visit" to Detroit of Lindbergh.

Flying with as much secrecy as possible, Lindbergh with four St. Louis capitalists arrived last night in Detroit, where they met with Major Lamphier's quarters.

"My mission here is a purely private one and I do not wish to be interviewed," Lindbergh said. Later Major Lamphier was asked if he and Lindbergh planned to organize the new airway as reported.

"I will not deny or affirm the report," he replied. Recent public remarks of Major Lamphier's announcement of plans for a new Chicago-New York air line via Detroit, Buffalo and Ithaca, N. Y.

Asked if Edsel Ford was interested in this proposed new route and that he and Lindbergh intended to see Ford about it today, Lamphier replied: "I don't wish to say anything."

L. Martin, Winter Visitor, Is Claimed By Death At Noon

L. Martin, aged winter visitor, died suddenly at noon today at the home of W. L. Hughey, 202 East Fifth Street. Death was attributed to heart trouble and infirmities of old age.

Mr. Martin, who was 82, had complained for the past several days of feeling ill and two days ago he was compelled to go to bed. His condition gradually grew worse although he was conscious until the last, according to those who were at his bedside.

Mr. Martin had been coming to Sanford for the past several winters. This season he arrived in November, driving his car from his home in Burdette, N. Y., accompanied by S. J. Jacobs of Watkins Glen, N. Y., a long time friend. He appeared to be in the best of health and until early this month was as active as he had been for the past few years.

The deceased is survived by a son, Harry Martin of Burdette and a brother, O. W. Martin of Watkins Glen. Both have been notified and funeral arrangements have been delayed pending receipt of word from them. The body will probably be sent to Burdette.

Mr. Martin was well known here, having made many friends who were shocked to learn of his death.

EDICT OF KLAN ABOLISHES OLD ORDER FOR NEW

Imperial Wizard Issues Mandate Which Has Practical Effect Of Doing Away With Famed Hooded Organization

Knights Of Forest To Be Substituted

Evans Declares Klan Has Accomplished First Phase Of Work And Is Ready For 2nd

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—(INS)—The Klan is dead—long live the Klan! Such was the general interpretation placed today upon the edict of Hiram W. Evans, unmasking the wearers of the white robe, and setting up in place of the old hooded order of the Knights of the Great Forest.

The practical effect of the imperial edict is to do away with the mask and continue the old Klan under the new designation. There will be three "degrees" in the Knights of the Great Forest, Klansman, Knights of Kameba, and Knights of the Great Forest.

Evans explained in a statement accompanying the imperial edict that the abolition of the mask had been in contemplation and in process of being worked out for several years. The Klan, he said, had accomplished the first phase of its growth and development, and was now ready to enter the second phase. This first phase, he said, which had now been completed was to support and foster restricted immigration. The second phase is to work for the assimilation of aliens into American life.

Opponents of the Klan, however, advanced other reasons for the revolutionary changes prescribed by the Wizard. They pointed out that the Klan is in ill repute in many parts of the country, that wearing masks has now been forbidden by statute in many states, and even in those states where there is no law on the subject popular sentiment has opposed the hood.

Also, it was pointed out, membership in the Klan has been steadily dropping for months past, due to a variety of causes. Some revolutionary change was necessary to attract new members, as the old hooded order was unable to gain any converts. One example of the decline of the Klan was cited in Indiana courts a few days ago. The Klan in Indiana once had 178,000 members. It has now shrunk, according to former officers, to less than 1,000 paid memberships.

Survey Of Country Reveals Necessity Of Sex Education

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—(INS)—The "new freedom" of youth, involving the promiscuous intermingling of boys and girls of tender age, emphasizes the increasing necessity of adequate sex education in high schools, according to a national survey just completed by the United States Public Health Service.

Results of questionnaires sent to 17,000 educators have been received and will be made public soon. It was learned today. More than 6,500 high school principals who replied to questions of Surgeon General Hugh S. Cummings, declared that sex instruction is more essential now than at any previous time.

There is every reason to believe that through proper education and guidance, modern youth will come through a transition period from the old to the new order, to a plane built upon standards of today that guarantee the future social security of the nation, in the opinion of the educators.

Hoffman Boat Wins Mount Dora Event

Miss Hof-Mac, driven by her owner, W. D. Hoffman, Sanford business man, yesterday afternoon played through the water to win the 151 hydroplane event of the annual regatta of the Mount Dora Yacht Club.

The trim little craft had little difficulty in earning the victory, easily outdistancing five other boats. Taking an early lead the boat maintained its advantage throughout and as it passed the goal line was way ahead of its nearest competitor.

Miss Hof-Mac elicited much favorable comment by her performance and Mr. Hoffman congratulates placing her in other races to be held soon.

Hoover Proclaims Himself Friend Of Liquor Amendment

Kidnapers Attack Jacksonville Man

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 23.—(INS)—Stricken dumb as the result of an attack by kidnapers and robbers, Forest S. Hodges was in serious condition here today while an extensive search for his assailants was being made by police throughout the South today.

Hodges, an employe of a local cusket manufacturing concern, under a physician's care because of the serious extent of his injuries wrote his harrowing experiences on a piece of paper for police. He alleged that he was held by two robbers, deprived of $100 in cash that he carried on his person and bound and gagged and carried to Quitman, Georgia, where he was beaten until he lost his speech.

THREE PERISH AS BLAZE DESTROYS CAROLINA HOTEL

Early Morning Fire Destroys Shelby Hostelry, Injuring Dozen Guests And Causing One Million Dollar Damage

SHELBY, N. C., Feb. 23.—(INS)—Three persons were killed, one was seriously injured, a dozen others sustained minor injuries and property damage estimated in excess of $1,000,000 was caused here early today when fire destroyed the Central Hotel. The dead, J. B. Hendeyson, drug dealer, Charlotte, N. C., H. H. Carmichael, Charlotte, Henry Kerr, the hotel clerk.

Kerr, the youthful hotel clerk, gave his life in rescuing some 40 odd guests from the burning structure, making his way up and down the smoke-filled halls warning the guests by knocking on their doors and sounding the alarm.

Seriously burned, the clerk's body was removed from the hotel and taken to a nearby hospital, where he died an hour later.

A. H. Stagg, of Charlotte, was seriously injured when he leaped from a third floor window to escape the lashing flames which were enveloping his body. He was not expected to recover. About a dozen of the other guests were burned and hurt, but none of their injuries were serious, and they all were expected to recover.

The hotel register was saved. It showed about 40 guests registered. A hurried check was made in an effort to learn whether any of the other guests were missing.

Legion Drum And Bugle Corps Gets Loving Cup At Fair

The American Legion's drum and bugle corps of Sanford returned last night from Orlando bearing a large silver loving cup presented in behalf of the Central Florida Exposition, by whose invitation the organization appeared in a magnificent parade yesterday afternoon as part of the Legion Day program of the fair.

Twenty members of the 27-piece musical organization appeared in the parade presenting a colorful spectacle in their uniforms of blue and white. The corps was led by I. H. Holt, drum major. The group wended its way through the principal streets of Orlando to the fair grounds where presentation of the loving cup was made by Raymond Maguire, president of the Exposition.

The Legion Day celebration was pronounced one of the most enjoyable events of its kind ever staged in central Florida. Approximately 150 out-of-town legionnaires were present representing not only Sanford but Kissimmee, Cocoa and other nearby cities. The Orlando contingent turned out almost in full strength. The Legion section of the parade was led by the train of the Orlando Forty and Eight Society, followed by the Sanford drum and bugle corps.

Among the guests of honor were hundreds of Seminole County school children, who were enjoying a holiday granted by the school board for the purpose of giving them opportunity to visit the fair.

Cabinet Candidate For Presidential Nomination Views On Sore Issue

Letter Is Reply To Questionnaire

Fails To Answer Specifically Some Of Borah's Questions

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—(INS)—Herbert Hoover proclaimed himself today to be a friend of the Eighteenth Amendment and a believer in the enforcement of laws enacted under that far-reaching instrument—but further than that he would not go in answering the demands of Prohibitionists that he declare himself in detail with relation to the wet-and-dry question.

The foremost candidate for the Republican nomination for the Presidency expressed his prohibition views generally, but not in detail, in a brief letter of less than 150 words, addressed to Senator Wm. E. Borah (R) of Idaho, who is seeking to pin all Presidential candidates down to definite commitments upon the wet-and-dry question. Some of Borah's pointed questions, Mr. Hoover ignored entirely. Hoover said flatly he favored retention of the Eighteenth Amendment, but he did not so declare himself with relation to the Volstead Act. He contented himself on this score by merely stating that he was for the amendment and favored the enforcement of all laws enacted to carry it out.

The questionnaire was addressed not only to Hoover, but to all others whose prominence as desired candidates has warranted a specific expression of their views. It was designed to put the candidates definitely, pointedly and irrevocably on record prior to the two conventions.

It was quickly noted that in his reply Hoover did not foreclose his future on any of the pointed questions which Borah propounded. Hoover did not state specifically that he favored incorporation of any dry plank in the next Republican platform, although his general statement might be construed as covering Borah's first question. Similarly the general expression of his views could be viewed as covering Borah's second question.

On the two specific questions that were regarded as constituting the real meat of Borah's inquiry—whether he favored letting the individual states make their own regulations of intoxicating liquor, and whether he favored possible modification of the Volstead Act—Hoover was conspicuously silent. He refused to foreclose his future on these questions.

"Our country," he said, "has deliberately undertaken a great social and economic experiment, noble in motive and far reaching in purpose. It must be worked out constructively."

The last line, "it must be worked out constructively," was interpreted here as meaning that Hoover is keeping an open mind on the most question of whether prohibition is today under the Volstead Act, has been a success. Hoover apparently is not willing to declare that it is, although he is convinced of the social and economic value of prohibition in a broad sense.

Mrs. Wiggins Honors Visitors To Sanford

A most delightful social courtesy of the season was that of Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. M. S. Wiggins entertained at bridge at her lovely home on Magnolia Avenue honoring several charming visitors to the city.

Pottery bowls and baskets filled with yellow and orange calendulas and ferns were placed with pleasing effect about the rooms where the tables had been arranged for play. The bridge tables were covered with yellow cloths, while the score pencils were topped with calendulas. Further accentuating the color scheme were the tallies which were adorned with quaint Colonial girls wearing hoop skirts of yellow and green.

Leffler, Mrs. Hal Wright and Mrs. Walter S. Coleman served tempting refreshments consisting of creamed chicken in timbals, tomato aspic, champagne rolls, pickles, saltines, coffee, orange ice and individual cakes laid in yellow.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY: THE INSTRUMENTS OF PRAISE—Praise God with the sound of the trumpet; Praise Him with the psalm and harp; Praise Him with the tambour and dance; Praise Him with stringed instruments and organs; Praise Him upon the loud cymbals; praise Him upon the high sounding cymbals.—Psalm 150:3, 4, 5.

The Hour Of Moths (From "The Saturday Review") The little moths with eyes like pearls. Gaze at me through my pane. This holy night so full of wings will not be mine again.

The earth is turning toward the dawn. The stars go ever west. An early bird still half in sleep witters on the nest.

So few the moments left to be alone with silent mirth, A sole and single candle flame, Peace, and the turning earth.

So still it is that one could think His body were a tree Of lacework of a moth's white wing Whose every rib can see.

On any lovely thing whose skin Drinks the holy night And knows its beauty by a sense More delicate than sight.

The trees in worship fill the world With prayers benign and wise, Or all the alters of the night Burn the moths' cool eyes. ROBERT P. TRISTRAM COFFIN.

It seems that a correspondent for the Miami Herald was over-enthusiastic. He faked an interview with Herb Hoover and got fired for his trouble. He should take up fiction writing.

John H. Ferry, publisher of the Jacksonville Journal, and John Temple Graves, its editor, do not agree on the subject of Al Smith. Graves believes Smith could not lose the Democratic party to victory and Ferry is wrong about it.

Henry Ford has a new silver monoplane, which weighs scarcely over five hundred pounds and can land almost anywhere. Its wing spread is less than that of a chicken.

Such a plane recently completed a non-stop flight from Detroit to Titusville being bound for Miami when it ran out of gasoline. Folks will be building hangars where garages now stand in a few years.

Procrastination

Are you one of these "just-as-soon-as" boys? A local dealer told us the other day that he was going to start advertising "just as soon as business picks up." We can imagine that as a little boy he would say to his mother whenever she asked him to do anything, "All right, mother, just as soon as I finish this."

The trouble with many people is that by the time they have reached the age of twenty-one, they have so firmly contracted the "just-as-soon-as" habit, that they are never able to shake it off. They are as completely slaves to it as some are to morphine or cocaine. And the result is that they never do anything because they never get around to it.

Ellis Parker Butler, who writes for the American Magazine, says: "The trouble with me is that I never can do anything until I have done something else. I'm one of those 'just-as-soon-as' fellows, which explains why I planned for thirty-eight years to write a novel, before I ever got around to starting it."

"I set myself to write a story," he concludes, "but got out to rake the leaves off the lawn. Raking leaves suggests fixing the lawn mower, and fixing the lawn mower suggests washing the car, and washing the car suggests washing the dog, and washing the dog suggests taking a walk in the fresh air, and taking a walk suggests loafing down the street—and the first thing I know the day is done, and the story isn't even begun."

We don't know that they have, but if any Sanford people have got this terrible "just-as-soon-as" habit, we suggest that they take a strong liver tonic as a remedy. But our suggestion will probably do no one any good, because those who have the habit will, of course, get around to taking the tonic just as soon as they have done a hundred and one other things which have just got to be done.

So it goes. The person who gets ahead is the one who does things now. The merchant who finds business good when others are groaning about hard times is the one who advertises today. But the old saying, "Never put off till tomorrow what can be done today," seems to be undergoing a change into "Never put off until tomorrow what can be put off to until the day after."

Our Learned Youth

We have heard a great deal about the sophisticated youth of today, but sometimes we are moved to view the situation askance, especially when our attention is called to the results of some recent school examinations. The answers to some of the questions indicate that the youth of today, in his quest for knowledge, may absorb an unlimited number of facts but when it comes to expressing himself he presents a heterogeneous mass of words that form themselves into little gems of literature. The St. Augustine Record recently furnishes a few of these mirth-provoking results which we pass on to our readers for their entertainment.

"All the world except the United States lies in the temperance zone."

"The sun never sets on the British Empire because the empire is in the East and the sun sets in the West."

"Finally James II gave birth to a son, so the people turned him off the throne."

"The Minister of War is the clergyman who preaches to soldiers."

"Queen Elizabeth rode through Coventry with nothing on and Sir Walter Raleigh offered her his cloak."

"Henry VII was very cruel to Anne Boleyn and ironed her." (The history had said, "He pressed his suit on her.")

"Shakespeare lived at Windsor with his merry wives."

"The king wore a scarlet robe trimmed with Vermin."

"Wolsey saved his life by dying on the way from York to London."

"After twice committing suicide Cowper lived till 1800, when he died a natural death."

"The immortal William is a name applied to the former German Emperor."

"Barbarians are things put into bicycle wheels to make them run smoothly."

"A Soviet is a cloth used by waiters in hotels." (A Serviette).

"Polonius was a mythical sausage."

"The masculine of vixen is vicar."

EVEN MORE DESPICABLE

TITUSVILLE STAR-ADVOCATE

The Sanford Herald commented learnedly on the birth of a eugenic baby in Brooklyn last week. The story is that a wealthy widow selected a husband only to be the father of the baby and to step out of the marital picture before its birth.

The exchange has its suspicion of a system that allows marriage for any such purpose, and states that there can be no true union of two persons unless it is based upon love.

"Mrs. Burnham has denied any affection between her and the father of her child and her admission only serves to make their action more despicable," the editorial says. "The mating of two persons cannot be placed upon such a basis and be successful. God-made laws must be observed by the natural process of mutual attraction and society must be protected in union by lawful wedlock."

Natural laws, of course, will always be observed in the overwhelming majority of cases by the process of mutual attraction, and although the present-day system of marriage is not perfect it is without doubt the most successful arrangement that society could adopt today. That means that monogamy in conformity with the present laws of the states, while it is not always the most happy arrangement, is the best when all things are considered.

But the editorial comments less logically in the next and final paragraph: "While Mrs. Burnham," it says, "in all probability has in mind to provide her child with every advantage, she must not forget that the baby was born illegitimately and will forever have that stigma branded upon her. Even if the mother cared not for herself she should have considered the life of her child and the handicap under which it must go through life."

Who is it that will place this stigma upon the life of this innocent child? Mrs. Burnham need not have to remember that the child was born illegitimately if we follow the thought of the Sanford paper. Society, that the Herald fears for and says must have the protection of the law, will remind both the mother and the child. It will take no chances with its own reputation. The "scarlet letter" will be branded so deeply into the flesh of this little babe that it will be seen by blessed society even through its clothes. It may even be expected this supreme process of keeping separated that society has so ingeniously invented, will make it the natural progress for this brand to burn more deeply each year at the point of the hot fingers of suspicion that will point to the horror of the conditions under which the fatherless child was brought into the world.

The action of the mother and father of the child may not have been right, but when the whole narrative that is suggested by the editorial is enacted upon the earth the most despicable thing about it will not be that they made the mistake of ignoring the laws of the land and the mating laws of humanity, but that society will not look down upon the child as did the man of Galilee—will not bend from its modern witchcraft and say, "Suffer little children and forbid them not to come unto me, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven." That will be the despicable part of the tragedy.

With automobiles and airplanes becoming so commonplace it will soon be hard to find a one-horse town.—Florence (Ala.) Herald.

YES, I made it myself, but I'm talking about the tobacco. Good old Prince Albert. Cool and even-burning. Mild. Mellow. Plenty of rich, tasty body. The kind of cigarette you can make and take, end on end, from morning to midnight. P.A. is crimp-cut. It stays where you put it and burns even and cool. The taste is one you can't forget. It's like inhaling mountain air that has filtered through sun-drenched pines. You'll get poetic, too, when you try rolling 'em with P.A. The old idea of drab clothes for dry days went out with corsets, coats, and a few other articles considered quite necessary to woman's well being. There has been a radical change in colors, now light blue, green, red, or even pink replace dull and gray.

New waterproof materials have appeared. With rubberized sand crepe de Chine, has come crepe de chine which is quite to be a formidable rival, easily for cold weather. It comes in various shades of beige, tan, gray, with the reverse side in yellow, blue green and rose.

Some is using a new crepe de chine of the double-breasted, ul-type, some belted in with a fullness at the waistline on the side of the back, and some a loose back hanging quite from little plaits on the outside of the shoulders. One model with attractive pointed cape at back cut through the center.

Warmer garments there is new rain-proof leather which like sueds and comes in different shades. A rubberized crepe de chine model has a novel feature a full hood of bright plaid silk with the plain material. The hood is lined with the same plaid silk which is seen in the hood-back revers.

Circular cape of this material in light green is worn with or without waistcoat of the same. Another specialty of this house is a rain-proof coat of English tweed with rain-proof garbardin of the same.

Celery Markets

Bureau of Agricultural Economics co-operating with the Florida State Bureau of Markets. — R. E. Corbin, Local Representative.
 The shipments of celery are heavy this week and since yesterday was a holiday we have two days loading to report. There were 123 cars out of Florida on Tuesday and 109 yesterday. Shippers are getting an excellent distribution on celery at this time. While about 80 cars were billed to the large diversion points during the two days, some of these are already destined to points farther on and the remainder of the billings are scattered out one or two cars to a place in the eastern part of the United States and to several Canadian cities. The list is so long we will not attempt to give it all here.
 The demand was not very active yesterday owing the fact that most of the markets were closed owing to a holiday. The f. o. b. market however, is holding about steady from $2.00-2.25 per crate in carload lots for the most desirable sizes, with the usual reduction for small sizes and full cars of 3's discounted 25¢; washed and pre-cooled stock is bringing a premium of about 25¢ per crate.
 The Philadelphia report this morning indicates the weather as 51 raining, 20 cars arrived from Florida. The track holdings are 16 cars. Supplies are said to be moderate. Demand good, and market firm. Florida 10-inch crates 1-6 doz. are selling on a range of $3.25-3.50 with 8 doz. at $3.25, 10 doz. at $2.75, and 3 doz. mostly $3.00.

Town Of 5,000 In Britain Claims To Be Most Law Abiding

LONDON, Feb. 23.—(INS)—The town of an ancient borough in Norfolk with a population of 5,000, claims to be the most law-abiding spot in the world.
 There are figures to support its proud contention. For the nineteenth time in succession, the quarter-session court has just been held with not one to be summoned before the bar of justice charged with a crime.
 Although there are 27 saloons in the borough, there has not been a drunkenness charge entered on the docket for many years.
 "We are proud of our record," Mayor T. R. Doran said "The town is a comparatively small borough but I think the absence of crime is unequalled anywhere."
 Mayor Doran could not advance any particular reason for The town's spotless reputation, but expressed the belief that lawlessness may have been flogged out by the citizenry in the early days of the borough's existence, during the days of Queen Elizabeth.

FISTULA
 About six weeks ago a man from Winter Park came in complaining of rectal trouble. He thought he had piles, but examination showed that he had a fistula. As in most all rectal troubles, there was constipation and he had a good deal of irritation. He was nervous and greatly handicapped in his work. He was given a colonic irrigation and the fistula was treated by ambulant methods. His diet was regulated in such a way as to overcome the constipation.
 Almost immediately after beginning treatment, he reported progress, which has been continuous. In ten days he was able to leave the State. He was entirely healed, however, was normal. Operation was not needed. The address of the doctor can be obtained by anyone interested.

LEVITT KAYOES OTIS PRITCHER IN THE FOURTH

Sanford Batter Wins In Main Battle Of Armory Card Over Kissimmee Pugilist

Loser Goes Down For 9 In First Kid Harper Wins From Kid Peckham; Four Other Bouts Enjoyed

Larry Levitt, Sanford's favorite ringman, lived up to the fondest hopes and expectations of his supporters last night when he kayoed Otis Pritchier of Kissimmee in the fourth round of what was scheduled to be a ten round affair.

It was Levitt's fight from the beginning. In the middle of the opening stanza he sent a crashing left to Pritchier's chin and the latter toppled to the canvas for the count of nine. He managed to hang on until the bell and endured two other rounds of terrific punishment administered in a well-planned attack.

In the fourth, Levitt, anxious to end matters quickly, rushed at his adversary, punting him with lefts and rights. The Kissimmee batter sank beneath the rain of blows and when the referee raised Levitt's hand a thunderous applause greeted his achievement. There is no doubt about the boy's popularity which was materially increased by last night's performance.

Pritchier's showing was disappointing, especially in view of the reports which had described him in such glowing terms. This does not in the least minimize Levitt's victory.

Pritchier gave evidence of ring skill but this availed him nothing against the whirlwind attack of Levitt. The Kissimmee fighter appeared to be undetermined and not in condition to give his best.

As a result of his showing Levitt is scheduled for tougher opposition in the near future, according to Matchmaker Henry Godale of Orlando who is supervising the fights here at the Armory under the auspices of the Florida National Guard.

In the semi-final Kid Harper was given the decision in a rough and tumble battle with Kid Peckham, each of whom gave and received a lot of punishment. In the preliminaries John Rabbin lost to Kid Jerry and Leonard Beecher won the decision over P. M. Baker.

Sailor Howard and Carson Cook gave a four round exhibition and a battle royal, participated in by four boys, completed the evening's program.

HOPE FOR COMEBACK

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(INS)—The Rev. Harold C. Cutbill, the "Flying Parson" of the Boston A. A., today still cherished hopes of making an athletic comeback despite his defeat by Pinkie Soper and Edwinburne in the 800-meter run at the Masonic games in Brooklyn last night. Making his first official track appearance since his suspension six years ago, Cutbill made the good time of 2:00 1/4.

Billy Wallace Predicts Terris Will Win Battle With McLarnin Tomorrow

By Davis J. Walsh
International News-Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—(INS)—"Too many gloves and too many feet." Thus came the word to town today from Billy Wallace, one of the big shots of the division on the stand-out lightweight fight of the season tomorrow night between S. J. Terris and Jimmy McLarnin. Wallace thinks that Terris will win for the reasons quoted and his ideas rate attention, because so far as I know, he is the only man who has met both of the principals and has had an opportunity to make an intensive study of feet and gloves, mostly the latter.

He is among the growing few who have had Terris looking intently at the are lights from the flat of his back during recent fights; in fact, Sidney was a salvation army man several times during the Wallace fight—down, Billy, on the other hand, forsook the perpendicular, if I recall the matter, during his meeting with McLarnin.

Yet he says Terris, the man he dropped at least twice, is too fast for the man who dropped him. Perhaps that is the way Broadway reconciles its odds of 8 to 5 on Terris. I happen to prefer believing otherwise.

Eastern skepticism of something it hasn't seen looks the part of a more logical answer to me. The boys have heard that McLarnin knocked out Jackie Fields and Joey Sangor but this happened in California and they simply didn't see it done. They admit the general understanding that McLarnin stopped Louis Kid Kaplan but this circumstance, unfortunately, took place in the Middle West.

For all I know they may doubt that Lindbergh flew the Atlantic. They didn't see that done, either. Anyhow, the feeling of prejudice is there beyond any doubt. One writer today complained bitterly about McLarnin in failing to do his training within the city limits. He seemed to think that James had something to conceal when, as a matter of fact, the young man really has nothing to prove. He either proved it against such men as Wallace, Kaplan, Sangor, Fields, La Barba and Villa or the form sheets of boxing are utterly worthless.

The National Boxing Association must have been susceptible to the same idea, for it was only yesterday that President Demolue decided that he would rate McLarnin among the lightweight contenders if he beats Terris. In case McLarnin does, he will be beyond either help or hindrance from Mr. Donohue and all his works and poms. He will be the lightweight contender of the day and age.

Walker Wins Bout From Texas Cowboy In Los Angeles Ring

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 23.—(INS)—The plaudits of admirers rang in the ears of Jack "Cowboy" Willis of Texas today. It took heart to stand erect beneath the wilting assault of Mickey Walker, world's champion middleweight, at the state armory here yesterday, and Willis, despite the fact that the titleholder won the decision, never cracked in ten gruelling rounds.

In the sixth and seventh, the champion was a sorry sight. Blood from gashes beneath each eye trickled down his cheeks. His limbs shook. His sleek pompadour was transformed into a mass of willy disheveled locks. He staggered against the ropes and covered up as best he could. He fell into cumbersome clinches and clung on for dear life.

Walker's title was not at stake. He received $10,000 for the bout. While the Texan got $2,000 and tons of prestige and praise.

Undeveloped Men At Emory Will Be Given Special Diet

EMORY, Ga., Feb. 23.—(INS)—All underweights, all lanky and scraggy individuals in the Emory dining hall will be gathered at one table and there fed the choice bits of the modern epicure, according to Miss Percy Doddridge, dietitian of the Emory dining hall.

"We plan to establish a special table for these undeveloped students," said Miss Doddridge. "However, they will have to bring a certificate from their physician stating they are in need of such a diet in order to get a place at the table," she added.

This is a new plan at Emory University and will be put in effect immediately, according to Miss Doddridge.

Tennessee G. O. P. Booms Hoover And Taylor For Ticket

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 23.—(INS)—Herbert Hoover for President and J. Will Taylor for Vice-president is the aim of Tennessee Republicans, it was announced here by party officials who are preparing for the Sixth District Convention to be held here February 6.

It was stated that there was more party harmony this year than ever before and "internal strife" and the "black and white issue" were entirely absent. A concerted effort to place a gubernatorial candidate in the field was also scheduled to be a major issue before the convention here next Monday.

American Force In North China Now Totals Some 2,400

PEKING, Feb. 22.—(INS)—With the battle line once more drawing nearer and nearer to Peking on the Tientsin-Pukow Railway, the presence of some 8,000 foreign troops gives a pleasant feeling of reassurance to Americans and Europeans in North China.

The latest compilation shows that the United States has the largest force of all in the vicinity of Peking and Tientsin. There are 2,400 American marines and doughboys of the Fifteenth Infantry in this area. General Smedley Butler commands the Devil Dogs while General Castner heads the infantry.

Next in numerical strength comes the British with 1,900 troops while the Japanese are third with 1,800. There are 1,600 French troops and 580 Italian.

With the sloughing off of Russian agitators from the southern armies, there is every indication which the rabid anti-foreignism which the latter attempt to force upon the Chinese, has practically disappeared. If that is so, there should be little danger to Americans and other foreigners even though the southerners finally emerge victorious.
