Indeed, it may be likened to the oft-quoted remark of "The King of Siam," expressed with the raised eyebrow of Yul Bryner, "it's a puzzlement!" One thing is certain. These five commissioners are breaking some new trails, facing courageously some cresting challenges and demonstrating a welcome departure from the one-man rule which has been endured by the commission in past years. This week there was, as an instance, the second the newly adopted afternoon-evening-night sessions. During it the budget for the fiscal year start-

The commissioners have set in motion some further into the future than they are doing now and give sober thought to the demands for area-wide public services which cannot be satisfied by patchwork water-sewer services, fragmented police operations and limited fire protection.

Consolidated area government are words that incite emotions which are far from being cool, calm and collected. Not only in Florida where the pioneers in such forms of government have been quite opposite in theory and application, but nationally this means of solving such challenges are under deep

We welcome the new activity within the county commission operations. We believe that some greatly needed and new thinking has been indulged in. We are sure, however, that the emphasis must continue to be laid on the most efficient, the most effective and the most economical means of conducting this $10 million busineess.

We trust this is where the county commission is heading and that they will not be diverted by inner or outer pressures.

"Apparently you consider it censorship when the government deletes certain information from the public domain but it is only editing when the news media do the same thing. Why?'

There is one obvious answer: Neither the New York Times and other newspapers which printed the "Pentagon Papers" nor the CBS Television network, which produced the highly controversial "Selling," are governments.

They do not have the power to tax. They do not have the power to make laws. They do not have the power to conclude treaties with foreign governments or to draft young men and send them overseas to fight in undeclared wars. Until such time as they do have these pow-

SCHOOLS OPEN

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 7th

A Summer of breezing through school zones is coming to an end and every one of us must make a special effort to remember to slow down, watch the school zones and crossings, and above all remember that children don't think like adults! The right traffic decisions are up to you! Could you ever forgive yourself if in a careless moment you ended a child's school term hardly before it began. An alert eye and an automobile under perfect control could very easily save some child's life today; could it be yours?

1 Killed, Six Hurt In Traffic Mishap

One person is dead and another in serious condition following a threecar accident on SR 436 south of Casselberry yesterday afternoon, Raymond Edson White, 16, of 7732 Grevillea Drive, Orlando, was killed in

The death car, a 1966 Chevy II driven by Daniel Gary Sullivan, 23, of Orlando, was attempting to pass a 1969 Dodge Dart Swinger, driven by David Randall Sweat, 19, also of Orlando, The Chevy II ran off the road and came back on striking the right front of the Dodge, causing both drivers to lose > control of their vehicles. The Dodge rolled over twice and same to rest in the median. All five occupants of the death car were thrown out and the car rolled 51/2 times into the path of the third vehicle involved. The car came to a stop with the deceased underneath.

Robert J. Berry, 49, of Maitland, his wife, Etta Mae, 43, and a daughter, Karen 12, were not injured as Berry cut to the right and went into a ditch to avoid contact with the death car, Damage to Berry's Dodge Charger was estimated at $500.

Sullivan is in the intensive care unit of Florida Hospital in "serious" condition, Julia Pearce, 15, also a passenger in the death car, is in "satisfactory" condition. Nick White, 18, borther of the deceased, and Delbert Wallace, 20, also were passengers in the Chevy Il and were treated and released at Florida Hospital. Sweat and one of his passengers, Eric Sands, 18, You think he wrote that espe- of Orlando, were not injured, while another passenger, cially for those of us who have Lee Brockel 19, suffered minor injuries. A witness told authorities that the two cars aper, while most everyone else is parently were drag racing or attempting to drag race off enjoying themselves? Hap- at the time of the accident, Both cars were "totaled."

Troopers Robert Lovering and C. L. (Tommy) Tomlinson are investigating the recident, According Already received two replies to Tomlinson, both Sullivan and Sweat have been to Friday's inquiry about a charged with reckless driving.
