

SEMINOLE GUARDS HAD INSPECTION AND ATTEND CHURCH

RETIRE COMPANY CALLED TOGETHER ON SUNDAY

Sunday was the first time that the Seminole Guards have turned out as a full company and as per orders to attend inspection on that day the squads from Geneva, Oviedo, Longwood, Altamonte, Chuluota and Sanford were all here.

With their rifles shining and all the uniforms in neat condition the full company marched from the armory to the Elks Club where inspection of arms was held by Captain Dinger and Lieut. Turner and Maxwell. After the inspection the men were lined up on the steps of the Elks Club where Photographer Welsh took a picture of the entire company.

The men were then marched to the armory where their arms were stacked and they marched to the Presbyterian church for services. Special music and a sermon by Dr. Brownlee made up a morning for the Guards that was not only of benefit but was greatly enjoyed. Dr. Brownlee took for his text, "Put on the full armor" and his sermon was based upon patriotism, love of country and love of religion and church. He paid a high compliment to the Seminole Guards and praised them for their unselfish devotion to duty in this time of war when service in the watchword.

After the services at the church the Guards marched to the armory where they were dismissed for the day. Many compliments were passed upon the men as they passed in review on the streets and their equipment and soldierly bearing was noted by the many people gathered on the streets to watch their movements.

There were about one hundred men in ranks and they were a fine looking lot of men and men who looked like they could give a good account of themselves if occasion ever required their services.

The county commissioners are to be congratulated upon giving the county this fine organization and the officers also deserve great praise in bringing up the men to such a degree of proficiency in such a short time.

The county precincts showed up most favorably at the inspection and these various squads over the county are doing good work. Much of the praise is due their officers for their untiring efforts in getting the men in shape. The non-commissioned officers of the various out of town precincts are as follows:

Serg.—R. W. Lawton, Oviedo;
Serg. Lewis T. Entzinger, Longwood
Serg. Fred Robbins, Geneva
Corp. Geo. E. Bates, Altamonte
Corp. M. S. Averette, Chuluota
Corp. J. C. Párlin, Oviedo
Corp. C. L. West, Oviedo
Corp. W. H. Hartley, Longwood change its telephone rates in Sanford, Florida.

The Railroad Commissioners of the State of Florida to the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company.

TAKE NOTICE that on Wednesday, March 13th, 1918, at 10:00 a. m. the railroad commissioners of the state of Florida will be in session at the court house in the city of Sanford, Florida, then and there to hear and consider your application for a change and increase in rates for telephone service in Sanford, Florida, and to fix and establish rates therefor and to consider such other matters as may arise in the premises.

And at the same time and place, you and all other parties legally and rightfully interested will have an opportunity to be fully heard.

Witness the hand of the chairman of the said railroad commissioners, affixed in open session and by their order, at Tallahassee, the capital, this 5th day of February, A. D. 1918.

R. Hudson Burr,
Chairman

At 10:15 the hearing will be held for Geneva and at 10:30 for Oviedo on the same day.

CATTS AFTER SLACKERS

Wants Idle Men and Women To Go To Work

Tallahassee, Feb. 8.—Men and women in Florida who are not at work will have to explain their idleness to the sheriff first and then if the explanation is not satisfactory the judge will hear the case for Governor Catts has issued the following letter to all sheriffs which will no doubt have a tendency to make the sheriffs exert every effort possible:

February 5, 1918.

To the Sheriffs of the State of Florida:

Dear Sirs—It has been brought to my attention that there are some slackers among the idles whites and blacks while the country needs every one to work and do their bit, so that we may go over the top, not only in France, but in America.

I again call to your attention the provisions of the Florida law concerning slackers and ask that you see that there are no vagrants in your county, and if men will not work, after warning put them on the hard roads of the county where they can do their bit and can be well fed and taken care of. Kindly give this your personal attention.

Also look well into the matter of vagrant, idle and immoral women within the length and breadth of your county, and see that they have no habitation within the limits of this state, as the Secretary of War and Secretary of Navy are forcing us to keep our state clean in regard to this matter.

Let us this year do our duty, nothing but our duty, and our whole duty along these two lines, as well as root out all blind tigers and drunkenness from this state.

With best wishes for our state and nation, I am,

Yours very truly,
Sidney J. Catts, Governor.

TO RAISE TELEPHONE RATE

Sanford, Geneva and Oviedo Are Due to Pay More Money Unless—

The Southern Bell Telephone following along the line of other corporations are trying to raise the rates as this seems to be a pleasant diversion during the troublesome war times. As to whether this rate will be raised or not remains with the people of Sanford, Geneva and Oviedo and they are requested to be in this city on the dates specified below to meet with the railroad commissioners and show cause why this Southern Bell Telephone Co. should not be allowed to increase their immense earnings during the time when the people are paying more money for everything to eat and wear. There will be some facts and figures on both sides of this question and maybe the telephone company can show cause for an increase and maybe they cannot. The following notice has been sent to The Herald by the commissioners:

In the Matter of the Application of Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company to increase and

SEIZE CAR LOAD AND ORDER THEM KILLED

There are still a few farmers in Florida who do not or who will not realize that the Texas cattle ticks are not only a menace to the Florida cattle but are preventing the cattlemen from making the money that they should make in the present war time prices. Not only are they losing money on the ticky cattle but they are losing their cattle and in many instances the government is confiscating the cattle condemned on account of the tick fever and the condemned cattle are killed and dumped. The following official communication from the Department of Agriculture is proof sufficient of what the government thinks of the menace of the cattle tick:

U. S. Dept. of Agriculture,
Bureau of Animal Industry,
Local Office.

The condemnation of a train load of cattle at one time on account of preventable disease would attract wide spread attention, but more than a train load of cattle were condemned last year on account of Texas fever.

The annual report for year ended June 30, 1917, made by the Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry to Secretary of Agriculture, David F. Houston, shows that the whole carcasses of 811 cattle and 664 calves, suffering from Texas fever were condemned by government inspectors at slaughter houses having such inspection, as unfit for human food and dumped into the rendering tanks.

Reports from reliable cattle owners throughout Florida indicate that the losses on undipped cattle have been very heavy during the present year, but that tick free and dipped stock have withstood the unfavorable conditions very well.

All losses, both in death or emaciated condition of cattle caused by cattle fever ticks, is a wanton waste of valuable food stuff and should be stopped by eradication of the cattle fever ticks.

If the readers of this newspaper are interested in the conservation of live stock and the development of the resources of this county they should get actively to work. Fat ticks on diseased cattle do not make money for anyone.

The Bonita, one of the many fine yachts that ply the St. Johns river in the winter, tied up at the city dock yesterday for several hours loading supplies and getting mail. The Bonita is 95 foot gasoline launch with 23 feet beam and two 25 H. P. gas engines. The boat belongs to Charles Smith, a well known banker of Philadelphia and he and his family were aboard. The Bonita carries a crew of five and is seaworthy in every respect. She was bound for Lake Harney and the upper waters of the St. Johns river.

Death of Mrs. Sauer

Mrs. G. Sauer died suddenly at her home in the Bishop block this morning of heart trouble. Mrs. Sauer had been a resident of this city for many years and leaves two children here to mourn her loss. Joe Sauer and Mrs. Mallett. Mrs. Sauer came to Sanford from Cincinnati where her family reside and had been in business here, being in the De Mont building for many years and was well known to the people of Sanford. The arrangements for the funeral have not been made, but the interment will probably be in this city.

BIG FAIR OPENS TODAY AT ORLANDO

SEMINOLE WILL HAVE BIG DISPLAY THIS YEAR

The stage is set for the Sub-Tropical Mid Winter Fair, and all indications point to the most successful fair in the history of Orange county. The streets are gaily decorated with the national colors, and any stranger arriving in Orlando could tell at a glance that it is fair time in the City Beautiful. Exhibitors are working over time preparing their booths and their exhibits. The school teachers of the county are decorating the educational building and varied and interesting are the exhibits of the school children of Orange county.

A car load of the finest birds in the county arrived yesterday afternoon over the Atlantic Coast Line from Interlachen, and will be exhibited by their owner, Mr. Chas. Francis. Mr. Edwards has shipped in a fine lot of stock from the Laughlin place in Zellwood, and prize specimens of Berkshires have arrived from different parts of Florida and the United States. The Johnny J. Jones shows are greater and better than ever, having added many new and startling attractions.

Program Sub-Tropical Fair

The program of the Fair cannot be given in exact detail for there is bound to be something doing every moment of the time.

Even before the opening day the wheels will start to go round, for on Monday night the executive board of the American Poultry Association will hold its annual meeting, and chicken forms a very large part of the exhibit.

Tuesday morning at ten o'clock Johnny Jones' famous band will give a half hour concert on the corner of Orange avenue and Pine street.

At ten-thirty a concert will be given at the assembly tent on the Fair grounds, and at the conclusion of this concert the Fair will be formally opened by Governor Catts.

By this time most of the exhibits will have been placed and the general round will be made by the sight-seeing public.

And there will be much to see, for every department will be filled up with interesting and instructive exhibits.

The morning will be taken up with several free attractions before the grand stand and the afternoon with the races, which begin at the early hour of 2:30.

At night—the American Poultry Association will hold its season in the tent.

About 8 o'clock the $300 fireworks display will be given, and this should be seen by every person in Orange county, as well as by everybody else, for it will be a show never to be forgotten for magnificence.

Wednesday morning at the usual hour the band concerts and the opening of the Berkshire Congress, with speakers of national prominence.

Demonstrations will be given throughout the day by the Red Cross division, the food conservation department, the domestic science department of the Orlando high school and the Orange county canning club, assisted by the county and state superintendents.

In the afternoon the races and the meeting of the Florida Barred Plymouth Rock Association and later the gold and silver medal contest of the W. C. T. U. in the tent.

Thursday morning the band concerts followed by the Berkshire Congress and the demonstrations of the various departments as before stated.

In the afternoon the races and the meeting of the Florida State Swine Association in the evening.

Friday will be Educational Day and the band will lead the big school parade which will include all the public schools of Orange county, the Cathedral School for Girls, the kindergarten, Rollins College, and Montverde Industrial School, and it is fully expected this will surpass last year's parade.

Upon arriving at the grounds the schools will sing patriotic songs and at 11:30 the patriotic cantata will be

Letter From France

The following letter from Lieut. Rafford to his mother here will be interesting:

France, Jan. 15, 1918.

Dear Mumsey:

This time I have been forced to wait longer to write to you than I wanted to. Heavens, the work I have been doing!

Don't think I have told you very much about the part of France I am in now and of course I cannot really tell you very much. However, it is a very backward part of the country, the most backward in France I suppose and that is certainly saying a great deal because France as a whole is fifty to a hundred years behind us, so that almost puts this part of France back in the medieval ages. The camp where we are is a very famous one. Napoleon used it for one of his armies, in fact he was trained here himself. There is nothing around here but a few villages and a monastery and I am writing this in a private dining room in a cafe in the largest village in this section, about 300 people I imagine. Like all French villages the streets are mere crooked paths with the house built against one another. The women wear little flat pieces of lace on their heads in place of hats and everybody, men, women and children wear wooden shoes. I am going to try and send a pair of them to Rosamond soon, though of course she need not wear them.

Last night just as I was getting ready to go to bed an orderly brought me an order from regimental headquarters appointing me officer of the range guard today. You see we have to guard the entrances to the target area so that the French men won't go wandering around them and get blown to bits. It doesn't seem that it would be necessary to place a guard to keep people out of places that are being shelled, especially as they all know where they are but these French people are very peculiar people and you never can tell what they are going to do. So I had to get up a little before 4 o'clock and come out here, through the rain and sleet, as always. However, I have a pair of good rubber boots, a nice warm raincoat and heavy fleece lined gloves so I am all right especially as I have just finished a hearty breakfast of an omelette, pain grille, doux tasse de chucholat, etc beaucoup vero de l'eau.

Lovingly your son,
Walter.

One thousand acres of muck land are being cleared and drained at Lake Parker, three miles from Lakeland, for planting in rice. It will take 2,000 bushels of seed to plant this tract. Previous experiments with rice in this section gave a yield of forty bushels to the acre, and it is expected that the profit from the straw alone will pay the cost of raising the crop.

The Ocklawaha Valley railroad

PRESIDENT WILSON TELLS WHOLE WORLD WHERE AMERICA STANDS

IN WAR FOR EMANCIPATION AND NOT FOR GAIN

Washington, D. C., Feb. 11.—President Wilson, addressing congress in joint session at 12:30 o'clock today replied to the recent speeches by German Chancellor von Hertling, and the Austrian foreign minister, Count Czernin.

Following the custom inaugurated with other addresses of its kind, the speech will be cabled by the government to all the principal capitals of the world. In this way the government hopes to get the answer to Hertling and Czernin to the ears of the people of Germany, Austria and Russia.

Chancellor von Hertling's statement, the President said, was very vague and confusing, and leads to practically no conclusion. It was very different in tone from Count Czernin, which the President said had a very friendly tone.

The President reiterated that the United States had no desire to interfere in European affairs and would disdain to take advantage of any internal weakness or disorder to impose on another people.

All the way through the President drew a parallel between the pronouncements of Chancellor von Hertling and Foreign Minister Czernin and his hearers drew the conclusion that the President decidedly considered Czernin's utterances as being more favorable than Hertling's.

"Czernin seems to see the fundamental elements of peace with clear eyes and does not seek to obscure them," said the President. "Count Czernin probably would have gone much farther had it not been for the embarrassment imposed by the presence of Germany."

He reiterated that the United States was in the war and would put forth its whole strength in this "war of emancipation."

Territorial settlements must be for the benefit of people concerned and not merely adjustment of rival states' claims.

The test of whether it is possible for the belligerents to go on comparing views, the President said, was simple and obvious and the principles to be applied, he said, were as follows:

- 1—Each part of the final settlement must be based on essential justice to bring a permanent peace.
- 2—Peoples and provinces are not to be bartered about like chattels to establish a balance of power.
- 3—Territorial settlements must be for the benefit of people concerned and not merely adjustment of rival states' claims.
- 4—Well defined national aspirations must be accorded all possible satisfaction.

A general peace upon such foundation can be discussed, said the President. Until such a peace can be secured we have no choice but to go on. These general principles, he said, have been accepted by everyone except the military autocrats in Germany.

Russia Has Quit

Amsterdam, Holland, Feb. 10.—Russia has declared the state of war to be at an end and has ordered the demobilization of her troops on all fronts, according to a dispatch received here from Brest-Litovsk, dated Sunday.

The dispatch follows: "The president of the Russian delegation at yesterday's (Sunday's) sitting stated that while Russia was desisting from signing a formal peace treaty, it declared the state of war to be ended with Germany, Austria-Hungary, Turkey and Bulgaria, simultaneously with arrangements for complete demobilization of Russian forces on all fronts."

wishes to extend the thanks of the organization to Mr. Carnes for the use of the hotel and also for his kindness in assisting in every way possible to make the ball and card party the success it proved to be.

WOMAN'S CLUB

A most interesting general business meeting was held at the Club House on Wednesday afternoon...

After the reading of minutes of previous meeting by secretary, Mrs. Watson the routine of business was taken up...

Mrs. J. W. Dickins presented a very concise and comprehensive report for the trustees in which she outlined the transactions of the Club...

Mrs. Gwynn Fox, chairman Music Department announced Artists' Exchange Day to take place at Club House on afternoon of Feb. 19th...

Chair-stated that in absence of Mrs. Fernald, chairman Red Cross work of the Club, she would ask that those listed for surgical dressings work on certain days would try to keep the appointment...

Mrs. Moughton, chairman Welfare Dept., reported that at a called meeting of the department the nominations for chairman and member on elections committee of general club were respectively Mrs. Moughton and Mrs. Charles.

Chairman also announced a rummage sale to be soon, date given later, and that the department is to observe Patriotic Day on Feb. 20th...

Mrs. Schultz, chairman of Social department, reported the department getting along nicely and read three letters from young men enlisted in the service...

Mrs. Berry, chairman Home Economics reported that work progressing satisfactorily, demonstrations of certain food products being conducted at homes of members...

Mrs. Berry stressed the point that other counties expected to make a creditable showing at the fair and it is her hope that Seminole county will prove herself no less able or willing in this respect than the rest.

Mrs. Morgan, 1st vice president and chairman of finance of the General Club gave a report on finance which while encouraging in many respects showed plainly that the incidental expenses of club were a trifle out of proportion...

The matter of nominations of the following officers for ensuing year was taken up and ballots turned over to Mrs. Morgan, chairman...

The secretary gave a resume of war work accomplished by club which briefly might be given as follows:

The initial distribution of Food Cards; president, chairman Liberty Bonds issue for county, presented sale of bonds to club members...

This is in brief the contents of Mrs. Douglass' first report to headquarters.

The Social Department will hold its meetings in club rooms on Wednesday, Feb. 13th.

BUDGET OF OPINION "JUST BETWEEN YOU AND ME."

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A CHIEF IS AMONG YE TAKING NOTES AND FAITH, "HE'LL PRENT 'EM"—SO SAYS SAUNTERER.

What Did You Do? Did you give him a lift? He's a brother of man, And bearing about all the burden he can. Did you give him a smile? He was downcast and blue, And the smile would have helped him to battle it through. Did you give him your hand? He was slipping down hill, And the world, so I fancied, was using him ill. Did you give him a word? Did you show him the road? Or did you just let him go on with his load? Did you help him along? He's a sinner like you, But the grasp of your hand might have carried him through. Did you bid him good cheer? Just a word and a smile. Were what he most needed that last weary mile. Did you know what he wore in that burden of cares, That is every man's load and that sympathy shares? Did you try to find out what he needed from you, Or did you just leave him to battle it through? Do you know what it means to be losing a fight, When a lift just in time might set everything right? Do you know what it means—just a clasp of the hand, When a man's borne all a man ought to stand? Did you ask what it was—why the quivering lip, And the glistening tears down the pale cheek that slip? Were you brother of his when the time came to be? Did you offer to help him, or didn't you see? Don't you know it's the part of the brother of man To find what the grief is and help when you can? Did you stop when he asked you to give him a lift, Or were you so busy you left him to shift? Oh, I know what you meant—what you say may be true— But the test of your manhood is, What did you do? Did you reach out a hand? Did you find him the road? Or did you just let him go by with his load?

—Holman A. Deew.

Along with the high price of foodstuffs and other troubles the telephone company wants a raise in rates. Well, thank goodness, the most of us can get along all right without telephones and if about half of the people would cut them out the telephone company could cut down expenses considerable. I am always sorry for the big corporations that have to struggle along with a scant thirty per cent dividend.

It is a good time for the city to save money by cutting out some of the street lights. Also a good time for the citizens generally to cut out lights. Help the electric light company to save money since they have raised the rate on lights.

I do not know anything about the culture or the profits of the cantor bean but if raising them will help the government then it is up to us to raise a few even if there is no fortune in it. The government man will tell you all about it at the court house tonight.

Sanford needs a food administrator to straighten out the kinks of the government orders and keep the prices right. Other counties have them and they are something that should receive the support and assistance of all the people in the county. The state administrator has his hands full and the different counties should have an assistant administrator to take up the local issues while the war prices and restrictions are in vogue.

One of the finest ways for the merchants of Sanford to get acquainted with the people of Seminole county is to join the Board of Trade and mingle with the people of the county at the various meetings. The country people are noting that very few of the business men of Sanford take an active part in the Board of Trade, leaving all the actual work to a few of the members. And yet these same business men wonder why they do not get more trade from the country. I can tell them that if they would meet the country people half way and act like they wanted their trade they would get a larger share of it.

Are you cooperating with the Food Administration because you have to or because you want to?

Do you call yourself a loyal American citizen, anxious for the speedy triumph of the American cause, the success of its brave soldiers abroad and welfare of its fine people at home, and yet dare to hold back and whine and quibble and say you can't or you don't want to, or you must first know the reason why, when you are called upon to conform to requirements?

Are you only willing to follow orders as long as it suits your convenience, your pocketbook, and your individual views, or are you man enough and American enough to say: "That which is best for my country is best for me. I will follow the call of my trade; serve as it is demanded of me; do what is required; stand fast for the good of the whole, regardless of my own apparent interests. My country and its needs first, my business and its advantage last. Come what may, I will not falter or fail in this hour of trial."

On your answer to such questions as these will depend your status in this country now, in the time of action, when each man's help is needed, later, in the time of judgment, when each man's record is reviewed.

In God's name stand up and don't be a skulker.—Northwestern Miller.

EDITH CAVELL'S COUSIN IN ARMY

Seeks Vengeance for Brutal Murder of His Boyhood Companion.

NOW IN THE SIGNAL CORPS

Rejected Many Times by Recruiting Officers in United States and Canada on Account of Small Size—Wants Blood for Blood.

Camp Gordon, Ga.—There is one lad wearing khaki in this camp who entered the army with a fixed determination to avenge a deeply seated private wrong.

He is Lawrence R. Cavell of Chicago, first cousin and boyhood companion of Edith Cavell, the English Red Cross nurse whose execution at the hands of a German firing squad in Brussels sent a thrill of horror through the world.

It was no easy matter for young Cavell to break into the army. Not until after several vain attempts, both in the United States and in Canada, did he succeed in getting himself straightened out on the first quarter of the course which he expects to lead to the satisfaction of his desire for revenge.

At the time of the murder of his cousin he was only eighteen and small for his years. His father had been engaged in business in Chicago since he had transplanted the family from the native heath in the county of Kent, England, some years before. Kent was also the ill-fated nurse's home, and as a very small boy young Cavell had developed an admiration and affection for his cousin, some ten or fifteen years his senior, that bordered almost on adoration.

Rejected by Canada. Inexpressibly shocked by the news of his cousin's atrocious death, the boy immediately presented himself to the agents of the Canadian recruiting forces in Chicago for enlistment in the overseas service, but he was rejected on account of his age and size—he was many pounds overweight. He even went to Canada and brought all the political influence he could compass to bear in order to carry out his purpose, but again was turned down.

No one could have halted the entrance of America into the war with more real joy than he. It would give him his long awaited opportunity to gain some recompense for the murder of his cousin, he thought. He was again doomed to disappointment. A recruiting officer told him that he was too small. Nothing daunted, he carried his case to Washington in person and the matter was placed before the war department through an influential army officer in Chicago.

Permission was given him to volunteer in the signal corps, and this he did in Chicago, last June. He has just been transferred to Camp Gordon as a member of the outpost company of the 317th signal battalion under Major Hemphill. Eagerly devoting himself to his duties and apt to learn, he already has been scheduled for the rank of top sergeant in his company. He also has developed his physique until now he is as hardy as the best soldier in the army. He hopes for a transfer to the aviation section, as it is the goal of his ambition to hurl bombs on the Boches from the air.

A visitor to Camp Gordon this week to see his son, Cavell's father called on Captain Allen of the outpost company and recited the story of Lawrence's long baffled determination of revenge, a thing the boy himself had been too modest to do.

Like Older Sister to Him.
The father said the lad had been brought up in the same house in Kent with Miss Cavell, and that her relationship to him was rather that of a devoted elder sister than of a cousin.

"It matters not what branch of service I am in," the boy told his father. "I shall die satisfied only when I have drawn blood for blood, and I pray God to live to see that day. I expect to. He will answer my prayer."

"Edith was murdered without a hearing in cold blood by the Kaiser. She was an English girl, and they sang the hate song over her dead body. I expect to sing the song of hate over the dead bodies of Germans. No sacrifice is too great, no punishment too severe, no hardship too trying; death itself a coveted reward, just so I am permitted to put bullets into German hearts, as that firing squad under orders put them into my cousin's heart. I am in the war for a purpose and I shall accomplish it."

Deeply grained as his hatred of the Teuton race had grown, Mr. Cavell said that his son had no quarrel with individual Germans. Scores of them in Chicago, he added, had expressed to his family their horrified resentment of the execution of Miss Cavell.

JANE ADDAMS SEES VISION

Says Sympathies of Women Will Be Developed by Demand of Human Needs.

Washington.—That the sympathies of women will be developed by the tremendous demand of human needs is the opinion of Miss Jane Addams. "The response of women to an international situation which calls for daily, uninteresting, boring, conserving, will re-orientate the notions of what human relations mean," she said in a talk before the national council of women in Washington recently.

"Look beyond the petty details of food saving, and see a vision of the wonderful chance of responding to human needs, feel enlisted in the service of internationalism, while following the routine of conservation," is Miss Addams' message to American women. She is speaking twice a month, in different parts of the country, for the United States food commission.

Plant Three Avocado Trees On Your Place; Better Still, Plant A Grove This Season

Owners of bearing avocado groves are making enormous profits. The delicious nutty flavor of the avocado, and its wonderful food value, have created a demand that for years to come will exceed the supply.

This season plant avocados—a grove, if possible. Even a few trees will mean ready money, besides supplying this delicious food-fruit for home use. Take advantage of the opportunity now.

Every Home in the Citrus Belt Should Have a Few Trees

We offer the choicest varieties—Mexican for the colder sections, Guatemalan for intermediate, and South American for extreme South Florida. For economic as well as other reasons every home owner should plant at least a few avocado trees—with a Calamondin, Lemon or Lime tree for acid.

By planting early-maturing, medium and late varieties you can have ripe fruit practically every month in the year. Plant Avocados—the investment will pay big.

New 1918 catalog, now ready, fully describes avocados. Tells about varieties, how, when and where to plant, and gives much other information. Write today for free copy.

NOTICE

The Federal Reserve Banks in its efforts to build up Credits recommend the use of TRADE ACCEPTANCES to cover all purchases where credit is extended. The large amount of open accounts carried by merchants of farming communities represents money that is taken out of circulation, so far as local financial needs is concerned. If these credits are put in the form of negotiable paper, it will increase the bank accounts and make for a healthier condition all around.

Therefore, with a view of keeping abreast of the times, and as a matter of personal protection and community interest, we the undersigned have agreed to use the TRADE ACCEPTANCE in extending credits.

WOMAN'S CLUB

Report of Mrs. Dickins

The following report was written by Mrs. John W. Dickins, the former president of the Woman's Club, and read by her at the February business meeting, as the financial report of the trustees of the Club:

Madam President and Club Members:

While financial statements of the club's affairs have been given from time to time, it seems we have reached the point when a general resume seems fitting as well as advisable, as the time has come when, besides being an incorporated organization, we are about to take over a valuable property in our own right, and a thorough understanding concerning our property holdings should be of interest to every club member, and it should be our pride as well as a splendid opportunity and responsibility to care for and protect it, not only for our own good, but also for the uplift and pleasure of the community. We should ever remember that this club house is our very own to do with as we will, and it should be our desire to develop it and use it so that it will do the most good for the greatest number in our home city and county, of Seminole.

In the summer of 1914, we were without a home or a prospect of one, and nearly every member of the club felt that the money which we were paying for rent should be invested in a permanent home. But how to do this was the problem. Then, unexpectedly came the opportunity to purchase this building from the Presbyterian congregation, but the amount in our treasury would not begin to cover the expense. There had been some talk among the board members of purchasing the old Baptist church, but we found that could not be done. Mrs. J. N. Whitner learned that this building could be purchased for a comparatively small amount and brought the matter to the attention of the president of the Woman's Club, Mrs. John W. Dickins, who immediately appointed

Mrs. Whitner chairman of a committee to find ways and means. The time in which a decision was desired was limited to a very few days, and help was needed. Our thoughts turned to the Library Association, for we knew they had no permanent home, though possessing a small building fund. After consultation with the president of the Library Association a meeting of the board of the Woman's Club and the Library Association directors was called, and after much deliberation it was decided to purchase the property on which this building stands, and the church building, which was moved to this lot, each organization being equally interested, as neither organization was able to purchase the property independently. It might be well to state at this point that as the meeting was held in the summer, the board was compelled to act for the club, owing to the absence of so many members from the city, or lose what has proven to be an unusual, and perhaps the only opportunity to have a club home of our own. The building fund, or at least the greater part of it, had come to the Woman's Club from the Welaka Club, but before taking any step toward spending this amount, your president and another member of the board made a personal canvass and secured the consent and signatures of the Social Department members who were then in Sanford.

Since the Library Association owned a lot on Park avenue it was thought by Mr. J. N. Whitner who, together with your president was entrusted with the drawing up of an agreement to be submitted to both organizations that the property though owned jointly by the two organizations would eventually be taken over by the Woman's Club, and provisions for doing so were made in the contract, two years being given the club in which to make this decision. This agreement representing with the approval of the representatives of both organizations, a contract was then duly drawn up by a lawyer, and signed by the president and secretary of the Library Association and by three trustees from the Woman's Club. These trustees, Mrs. J. W. Dickins, president, Mrs. W. D. Turner, first vice president,

Miss Laura Fish, now Mrs. E. M. Galloway, and our present president, then ex-first vice president were authorized by the board of the Woman's Club to act for the board until this matter was finally settled. As neither the Woman's Club or the Library Association was incorporated at the time, though I believe the Library Association was then applying for a charter. Mr. D. L. Thrasher, then a member of the board of directors of the Library Association, generously advanced the first $100.00 in order to secure the lot, which was to be purchased from M. F. Robinson for $1200.00, and the matter was given to the Realty Trust Company to hold in trust until the property at some future time should be taken over by one or the other of the organizations interested.

Improvements were found to be necessary in order to put the building in condition to be used. The plaster had been badly broken in moving, lights had to be installed, the partitions were essential, the walls had to be painted and veranda built. Then it was decided that a private entrance was necessary for the Library, and as the club treasury was at that time out of funds the Library Association paid to have this done, $31.29.

At the expiration of the two years the board decided that since we had expended so much on the property, and since, also the Woman's Club was here to "stay," that the wise thing to do was to become incorporated and take over the property, refunding according to terms of contract, the initial payments made by the Library Association with 4 per cent interest. This amounted to $369.85, though the Library owed $360.00 in rent and this amount deducted made check paid Library Association $309.85. It was also decided by board that money would be borrowed from a bank to pay Mr. Robinson the balance owing him, and the trustees were empowered to act, as the Club had disbanded for the summer, and it was impossible to secure a quorum of the club members. Steps accordingly were taken to secure the money, and after many and varied transactions we have at last secured the loan.

Now, thanks to the kind assistance of Judge E. F. Housholder we are on the map as an incorporated organization—legally "we exist," own property, empowered to enter suits and be sued. By steady determination, plus work and patience, we have now attained prominence, for we have passed through all the stages of intricate business and incurred responsibilities enough to keep us busy for awhile, at least. Your splendid president has been untiring in prosecuting this transaction, the work of making this transfer of property and has overlooked no detail. As I look back over the past since the beginning of this struggle for a club home, I realize very keenly that but for the help of two of our best friends who have since passed away, Mr. C. R. Walker and Mr. J. N. Whitner, this home may not have been possible. Both men had visions of what the women of this club could do and would do, and I feel sure that they would have endorsed our every effort to attain our desire.

Mr. Alfred Foster, representing the Realty Trust Co. has shown every courtesy possible and he for the company has conducted affairs for the club and Library Association entirely without compensation.

And, now to use a bit of terse but expressive slang—it is "up" to every member of this Woman's Club to "carry on" this splendid work of ours, not only for today but into the future, not only for the members of the club, but for the community, yes and even for the nation, for the woman's clubs throughout the country are now a recognized power, and they are also a "hope" for the struggle after the war. They are now and always have been behind every good movement for the national welfare, and they are unquestionably the strongest ally of our grandest international organization, the Red Cross Society of the world.

The above financial statement relative to the club property will prove of interest to many:

THE TRADE ACCEPTANCE

The "Trade Acceptance" plan is becoming very popular among the dealers and merchants of Sanford as is evidenced by the advertisement appearing elsewhere in this issue.

The trade acceptance is a credit plan recommended by the Federal Reserve banks of the country and wherever it has been tried it has proven very successful.

Being somewhat new in this country it is not thoroughly understood by many business men although it is in reality very simple.

For instance, Farmer Jones wishes to buy a ton of feed or a plow from Brown & Co. on time, knowing that he will be able to pay for his purchase in sixty days.

Brown & Company can now take this draft to the bank and either discount it or leave it for collection. At the end of sixty days it is charged to the account of Mr. Jones.

THE FISH LAWS

The word has gone forth that the bridle has been taken off and all fishing laws are lax on account of the war and the necessity of providing more fish.

THE LOGICAL CANAL ROUTE

Boards of Trade for seventeen Florida cities are asking the government to develop for inland canal purposes the St. Johns river, and connect it with the Indian river by a canal from Lake Harney to Titusville.

A petition asking that this be given immediate attention has been sent to the members of the Florida delegation, and to the proper federal authorities urging that this be done.

It is signed by the following city organizations: Sanford Board of Trade, DeLand Commercial Club, Orlando Board of Trade, Kissimmee Board of Trade, Palatka Board of Trade, Lakeland Board of Trade, Gaines City Board of Trade, Green Springs Board of Trade.

Also by the Associated Boards of Trade of the Sevier Highlands, the last named being composed of the towns of Avon Park, Sebring, Dundee, Lake Wales, Frostproof, Lake Hamilton, Crooked Lake and Haines City.

The government surveys and estimates all point to the St. Johns river route as being the logical, and the business route, with a cross canal from the St. Johns river upriver to the Indian river—Lake Harney to Titusville.

The Tribune believes that tomorrow there will also be a canal connecting the St. Johns river with the many lakes and streams in "Alpine Florida" and from there by easy steps to the west coast.

In the petition being sent to the authorities and the Florida delegation in Washington, the following language is used, stating clearly the reason why the demand for this routing is made.

"The St. Johns is the natural, scenic, economic, commercially, and strategically important route. It is the natural route, because of its nature provided rivers and lakes. It is the scenic route, as you can only know by a trip over the St. Johns. It is the economic route, as shown by the engineers' estimates. It is the commercially important route, because 90 per cent of the population and area will be benefitted by a waterway north and south through Florida would be served by this line.

AN UNFAIR CONDITION
Notwithstanding Florida stock raisers received far more for their cattle, sheep and hogs this year than before in the history of the industry in the state, still they received on an average far less per head than the average in the United States for the same time.

counts somewhat for the lower prices paid. The story of the difference paid the farmers of Florida, and that of the country on an average, should be one that will stop the expensive, useless peanut fattening of Florida hogs.

What is true of hogs is duplicated in milk cows and other cattle. The Florida price for milk cows was $53, while the United States average price was $70.59. And these figures are true, although probably the highest price paid in the United States is paid in Florida for a good milk cow.

Beef cattle in Florida last year brought $22.20 per head, while for the United States the average was $40.88. Again, it is largely the fault of the cattle man in this state, for his carelessness in handling and keeping his beef herds.

The Florida sheep brought $3.40 as against the $11.62 for the sheep average in the United States. This time there seems to be no real reason for the difference and this should be looked into.

It is noticeable that the only animals bringing a higher price in Florida than in the rest of the United States are horses and mules—the two things the state must have and the two things which have as yet not proven profitable to raise here.

From these figures sent out by the government it is evident that it is time for Florida livestock raisers to get awake. Tampa Tribune.

Board of Trade
Tonight is the monthly meeting of the Board of Trade. The place is at the court house and the time 7:30 o'clock.

We thank the Tampa Tribune for the lengthy and intelligent editorial given our efforts in regard to the St. Johns river and the deepening of this natural stream.

Next Tuesday night about forty Sanford citizens will return to Geneva for the purpose of organizing an auxiliary. Already there is need for one. Oviedo opens up with 18 members and Geneva will likely do as well.

Mr. Merchant, are you a member of the Board of Trade? If you are under some misapprehension as to the work being done, tell any of the members or the secretary about it and may be we can clear away your uncertainty.

At Lyric Friday
A jingling, joyful comedy, with sparkling music and pretty girls is what is promised all who see "The Million Dollar Doll" at the Lyric next Friday, Feb. 15th, when she makes her appearance in this city.
A company of recognized musical comedy stars and a "Real Beauty Chorus" which sings haunting tunes with pretty sensational dances, in costumes of great beauty, which present a riot of color, will present this new musical comedy. There has never been a show which has received more flattering press notices, and the unanimous approval of the public, and the verdict wherever this comedy has been presented is always the most favorable. This new Twentieth Century play will be the attraction at the Lyric for one night only and you cannot afford to miss it.

AMERICAN RED CROSS TO ENROLL 24,000,000 SCHOOL CHILDREN IN JUNIOR AUXILIARIES

To the School Children of the United States: A Proclamation

The President of the United States is also President of the American Red-Cross. It is from these offices joined in one that I write you a word of greeting at this time when so many of you are beginning the school year.

The American Red Cross has just prepared a Junior Membership with School Activities in which every pupil in the United States can find a chance to serve our country. The school is the natural center of your life. Through it you can best work in the great cause of freedom to which we have all pledged ourselves.

Our Junior Red Cross will bring to you opportunities of service to your community and to other communities all over the world and guide your service with high and religious ideals. It will teach you how to save in order that suffering children elsewhere may have the chance to live. It will teach you how to prepare some of the supplies which wounded soldiers and homeless families lack. It will send to you through the Red Cross Bulletins the thrilling stories of relief and rescue. And best of all, more perfectly than through any of your other school lessons, you will learn by doing those kind things under your teacher's direction to be the future good citizens of this great country which we all love.

And I commend to all school teachers in the country the simple plan which the American Red Cross has worked out to provide for your co-operation, knowing as I do that school children will give their best service under the direct guidance and instruction of their teachers. Is not this perhaps the chance for which you have been looking to give your time and efforts in some measure to meet our national needs?

(Signed) WOODROW WILSON, President

September 15, 1917.

Of the Junior Membership of the Red Cross, Mr. Henry P. Davison, Chairman of the War Council of the American Red Cross, said:

"I believe a program has been made out here which is the most important single movement that was ever started in America for the protection of the American public and the future of the people.

"When I was talking with the President about the program I then said that I believed that nothing in the Red Cross was as important as the Junior Membership work, and that alone from the standpoint of our own people."

Under the slogan "Every School a Red Cross Auxiliary and Center for National Service," the Junior Red Cross has perfected plans for the enrollment of every school child in the United States, as a member of a Red Cross Auxiliary, the date of the campaign being from Lincoln's birthday, February 12, to Washington's birthday, February 22.

The Junior Red Cross is a branch of the American Red Cross through which every school in America is given the opportunity to carry on authorized Red Cross work by forming a School Auxiliary, upon the payment of twenty-five cents membership fee for each pupil enrolled in the school or by a pledge of satisfactory service in Red Cross work. It is the only agency which is approved by school authorities to enlist the children in patriotic work during the war. All other organizations must work through the medium of the Junior Red Cross, whose services have already been requested by the United States Food Administration and by the War Savings Stamp Committee, of which Frank A. Vanderlip is chairman. The schools, however, are not the only units in which School Auxiliaries may be formed. The other educational units which have been recognized as suitable centers in which to organize Junior Red Cross work are Agricultural Clubs, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Night Schools, Sunday School classes and such authorized educational centers as may be properly organized under the supervision of the local representatives of the Red Cross Chapter.

The United States Department of Agriculture has already offered to use the Agricultural Clubs for Junior Red Cross work. Every child who is enrolled in a School Auxiliary is entitled to wear a Red Cross pin, although not considered a regular member of the Red Cross.

Conference at Washington.
A conference of prominent educators and persons interested in the work of the Junior Red Cross met in Washington, D. C., January 7th and 8th, at the call of Dr. Henry N. MacCracken, National Director of the Bureau of Junior Membership. The presiding officer was Dr. John H. Finley, Commissioner of Education for the State of New York, and prominent among those in attendance were Dr. Phillander P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education; the Red Cross Committee appointed by the National Education Association, consisting of Dr. Finley as Chairman, Mrs. Mary C. Bradford, President of the N. E. A. and State Superintendent for Colorado, Professor Marion L. Brittain, State Superintendent of Georgia, Dr. Francis G. Blair, State Superintendent of Illinois, and Dr. Margaret McNaught, Assistant Commissioner of Elementary Education of California, and the War Savings Education Committee appointed from the N. E. A., consisting of Dr. Finley as Chairman, Mrs. Bradford, Professor F. B. Pearson, State Superintendent of Ohio, and Professor John D. Shoop, Superintendent of Schools of Chicago.

The keynote of the Conference was an effort to define the function of the Junior Red Cross, which was stated by Dr. MacCracken to be, First, Educational, Second, Productive, and Third, Financial, in the order of importance named.

The following are the members of the Honorary Advisory Committee: Bernard M. Baruch, Council of National Defense; Mary C. C. Bradford, President National Education Association; Carrie Chapman Catt, President of the National Suffrage Association and Woman's Committee Council of National Defense; P. P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education; His Eminence James Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop of Maryland; Walter F. Gifford, Director of the Council of National Defense; Samuel Gompers, President American Federation of Labor; Henry John Heist, Chairman, Executive Committee World Sunday School Association; Herbert C. Hoover, United States Food Administrator; Julia Lathrop, Chief Children's Bureau, United States Department of Labor; Eva Perry Moore, President National Council of Women; Herbert Putnam, Librarian of Congress; Frank E. Vanderlip, Chairman of War Savings Committee, United States Treasury; Frederick Walcott, Food Administration; Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles, National President of the Federation of Women's Clubs.

Dr. Phillander P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education, stated that he had carefully investigated the program of the Junior Red Cross and had decided that it was the organization most practically fitted to enlist the interest and activity of the school children of America into a systematized program of practical patriotism.

State Advisory Committees.
State Advisory Committees to the Junior Red Cross composed of men and women prominent in educational work have already been appointed in the five states of the Southern Division as follows:

Tennessee: S. W. Sherrill, State Superintendent of Education, chairman; A. A. Kincannon, School Superintendent of Memphis; W. E. Miller, School Superintendent of Knoxville; C. H. Winder, School Superintendent of Chattanooga.

Georgia: M. L. Brittain, State Superintendent of Education, chairman; C. H. Bruce, School Superintendent of Macon; O. B. Gibson, School Superintendent of Savannah; Chancellor David C. Barrow of the University of Georgia; Mrs. John W. Rowlett, State President of the Parent-Teacher Association.

Florida: W. N. Sheets, State Superintendent of Education, chairman; J. E. Knight, School Superintendent of Tampa; F. A. Hathaway, School Superintendent of Jacksonville; Dr. A. A. Murphree, President of the University of Florida.

North Carolina: J. Y. Joyner, State Superintendent of Education, chairman; C. B. Harding, School Superintendent of Charlotte; John J. Blair, School Superintendent of Wilmington; Dr. Edwin K. Graham, President of the University of North Carolina; Mrs. Thomas W. Lingle, Dean of Women of the University of North Carolina.

South Carolina: J. E. Swearingen, State Superintendent of Education, chairman; A. B. Rhett, School Superintendent of Charleston; Frank Evans, School Superintendent of Spartanburg; Dr. W. S. Currier, President of the University of South Carolina.

Red Cross Worker Honored By Nurses Association

Miss Jane Van De Vrede Nominated Director For 1919-1920.

Miss Jane Van De Vrede, of Savannah, director of the Bureau of Nursing, Southern Division, American Red Cross, has recently received word from Mrs. Charles D. Lockwood, chairman of the nominating committee of the American Nurses Association, of her nomination as director of the association for the term of 1919-1920.

This is one of the highest honors that can be given a member of the nursing profession and comes as a recognition of Miss Van De Vrede's splendid service. The nomination will be confirmed at the association convention the first week in May.

Appropriations For Relief Work In France Announced By Red Cross War-Council

The Relief work of the American Red Cross in France is already well under way, and appropriations for this work to the amount of $39,519,259.60 have been made by the Red Cross War Council to cover the period from the time when the United States entered the war up to April 30, 1918. Of this amount, $14,019,889.50 is for military relief, under which head comes everything pertaining to hospitals and hospital supplies, canteen service, and arrangements for the recreation and comfort of the American soldiers when off duty.

For civilian relief, including aid to refugees, care and prevention of tuberculosis, care of children, re-education of maimed and blind soldiers and general relief work in six districts of the devastated area, a total of $25,664,821.15 has been appropriated. The bureau of supplies and other administrative bureaus will receive $3,359,541.75. Under this head come all transportation facilities, the department of engineering, the expenses of 27 warehouses and insurance on goods stored therein, as well as all office expenses in France.

Under the head of miscellaneous activities, for which $3,583,346.20 has been appropriated, come such things as relief of the families of sick and wounded French soldiers, all emergencies, the American ambulance fund, food for the French people, the Red Cross health center and other similar work.

In addition to this amount, an appropriation of $7,063,649.12 has been made for the purchase in the United States of supplies for shipment to France.

Of this appropriation, only a very small percentage goes for salaries as more than 3-4 of the Red Cross workers in France are volunteers, a great many of whom even pay their own expenses. It has been estimated by the War Council that for every dollar donated to the war fund, $1.02 is spent in direct relief, the .02 being interest.

Red Cross To Enter New Field Of Service In Army Camps Of America

At the suggestion of Secretary of War Baker, the American Red Cross is about to enter a new field of service in the army camps of the United States, a field in which they are already working in France, the Bureau of Communication between the men in the hospital and their families at home. This will necessitate building a Red Cross house in every army camp in the country and securing for each house a man who will keep in personal touch with every man who is admitted to the camp hospital, as well as a sufficient stenographic force to handle the letters dictated by these men and to keep their families constantly informed as to their condition and progress.

Col. William Lawson Peel, General manager of the Southern division, has just received letters from W. R. Castle, Jr., director of the Bureau of Communications, and from Harry B. Wallace, assistant director-general of military relief, explaining Secretary Baker's plan and asking for suggestions as to men in this division who are qualified for the positions of responsibility at the camps. Colonel Peel announced Thursday at a meeting of his bureau directors that the Southern division would co-operate in every way with the national organization and that work would be begun at once to assist in carrying out Secretary Baker's plans.

The directors of the work in the Red Cross houses will be under the authority of the Red Cross Field Directors in the various camps, who in turn are under the supervision of Z. Bennett Phelps, director of military relief for the Southern division.

Secretary Baker says in his letter: "Since the American Red Cross has already established in France, in accordance with an army order, a service to keep families in America in personal touch with their boys, ill or wounded in the field, it is suggested that this service be extended to the camps in the United States. American Red Cross representatives at the camps, here, as in France, would have access to daily lists of admissions and evacuations from the hospitals, and so far as it is in accord with necessary medical rules, would be allowed to talk with sick men. They would be expected to keep families constantly informed as to the condition and progress of the men in the hospitals, to write letters for men unable to write themselves, and in general to fulfill that clause of the Red Cross charter which designated the society as 'a medium of communication between troops in the field and their families at home.'"

Harold Janvrin, utility infielder of the Boston Red Sox baseball team, is now a member of the Three Hundred and First Signal corps at Camp Devens. His enlistment leaves Larry Gardner and Everett Scott the only infielders on the team.

CALL OFF SPORTS AT PENN

State College to Close Institution Early to Release Undergraduates for Farm Work.

All spring sports will be abandoned this year at Pennsylvania state as a result of the college authorities' decision to close the institution April 23 in order to release the undergraduates for farm and factory work.

There will be no lacrosse, soccer, tennis, or outdoor track meets. Possibly a few intercollegiate baseball games may be played early in April, before the college term ends.

SUGAR BOWL LOOTING NOW POPULAR FAD

Cleveland, O.—"Madam, kindly remove your hat from that sugar bowl."

It is perfectly permissible for waiters to so address women patrons found looting the sugar bowls, County Food Administrator North assured them.

Complaints have been numerous the past few days that women dropped into downtown lunch-rooms, ordered a cup of coffee and a piece of pie (check, 15 cents) and then walked out with their hands full of sugar cubes. It has become almost an epidemic and the restaurant men, not wishing to offend, applied to North for a remedy. But North did not recommend subtle diplomacy on the part of the waiters.

SNOW HELPS IN THE SOUTH

Planters Will Reap Benefit of Extension of Snow Line in South This Winter.

Memphis, Tenn.—Planters will benefit to the extent of many thousands of dollars as a result of the snow line extending far into the South this winter. Agricultural experts contend that where land is covered with snow during the winter months it is more productive the following summer. Freezing weather has extended to the Gulf coast and snow has fallen to the depth of several inches over most of the southern states.

DID JOE GANS LAY DOWN TO M'GOVERN?

Veteran Ring Fans Still Argue About Ancient Battle.

"Old Master" of Lightweights Admitted He Had Entered Into "Gentlemen's Agreement" Before Chicago Encounter.

It was 17 years ago that Joe Gans, the "old master" among the lightweights, was knocked out by Terrible Terry McGovern in Chicago. That battle has been and still is the subject of rabid discussion among boxing bugs, and the anniversary revives the old question, "Was it a fake?"

Gans himself admitted that he had entered into a "gentlemen's agreement" before the battle, and by its terms was to succumb gracefully before the onslaughts of the Brooklynite in the fourth round. He declared that he had found McGovern able to administer more punishment than he cared to take, as he himself was under an agreement not to do anything in the way of real retaliation, and he therefore decided to quit in the second round instead of the fourth.

That may be the real explanation of the matter, but there are still many admirers of Terrible Terry who steadfastly believe that he administered a real knockout. Certainly the colored man gave an excellent imitation of a man who has assimilated a hotter punch than he could stand. The newspaper scribbles were practically unanimous in crying "fake," but nobody believes that Terry had anything to do with the fixing. The Brooklyn whirlwind always fought to win, and no suspicion ever attached to his career. Gans, great fighter and thorough "gen" man of color" as he was, was mixed up in many affairs that were a trifle shady, to say the least.

In signing to meet McGovern in Chicago on December 13, 1900, Gans had agreed to stop his opponent within six rounds. A lot of "wise" money was wagered on the result, and it was some time before Gans was able to get back into the good graces of the sporting fraternity. Eventually he triumphed, and defeated Frank Erne for the lightweight championship of the world at Fort Erie, Ont., in 1902. He defended his title against Jimmy Britt and defeated the Californian, he whipped Battling Nelson at Goldfield, but lost his title to the Dane. Considering the Gans-McGovern fight as genuine, it gives the negro the distinction of being the only champion in the history of the ring to be knocked out and afterward recover his title.

HASTENED RUSSIAN COLLAPSE

"We must not overlook the fact, that Russia collapsed, not because of the Germans on her borders, but because she failed to organize and feed her own citizenship; the food administration announced.

"We must be warned that if we are to emerge victorious from this war we cannot risk the collapse of another of our associates in this war from this cause. "Anybody that is looking for the collapse of the German people on the food question had better turn around and look at the moon, because the results will be the same. Germany is in no more danger of collapsing on that score than we are, if as much."

SPORTING BINGLES

Major leagues are now composed of fourteen big league teams and two Philadelphia clubs.

War can't hurt baseball in the smaller towns. It is of minor importance.

New York Giants will demand a White Soxless world's series next fall.

No one will be able to accuse Bill Baker and Connie Mack of being war profiteers after next season.

There won't be any handouts after the season opens.
