Southern Pacific Has Wreck San Joaquin Valley Flyer Six Dead, Hundreds Hurt

Fast Train Is Wrecked This Morning

RECOVERING VICTIMS

AND THE LIST OF DEAD MAY RUN MUCH HEAVIER THAN FIRST TOTAL

Los Angeles, Oct. 30.—By Associated Press—Six dead and about one hundred and twenty persons injured, many of them seriously, is the result of a wreck on the Southern Pacific in the San Joaquin Valley near here today. Wreckage of the cars is believed to cover additional bodies and up to this time the known casualties cannot be given. Wrecking crews are working to remove the wreckage and the list of dead may be more than stated in the first tabulations.

COLORADO MINERS WHO WISH TO WORK WILL BE PROTECTED BY ARMY

NATIONAL GUARD WILL BE MOBILIZED AND MINERS WORKING WILL BE PRO- TECTED

Denver, Oct. 30.—By Associated Press—The mobilization of the Colorado National Guard for the protection of the miners who desire work in case the coal strike begins on Saturday was begun today by the military authorities and full protection will be guaranteed all the miners who wish to work.

RESCUE PARTY AFRAID TO PRO- CEED WITH WORK AND CALLED OUT OF MINE

Steubenville, Ohio, Oct. 30.—By Associated Press—After battling away to within a few feet of the twenty miners entombed and imprisoned since yesterday afternoon the rescue squad of the volunteer workers was ordered out of the mine of the Y. & O. Co., mine at Amsterdam, Ohio, this morning. The officials were forced to have the squad abandon the work because they feared the explosion might occur according to word received here this morning. All hope has now been abandoned that the miners are alive.

MEAT INSPECTOR IS MOST IMPORTANT TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

CHIEF OF BUREAU OF ANI- MAL INDUSTRY IN SPEECH THIS MORNING SAYS SOME- THING

New Orleans, Oct. 30.—Health consideration alone has failed to arouse American cities to the importance of clean meat from sound animals and proper inspection of meat establishments, Dr. John R. Mohler, chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry of the Department of Agriculture declared today in an address before the American Public Health Association.

Approximately one-third of the meat consumed in the United States is not federally inspected, he declared, because it is sold within the state where it is slaughtered. The federal government has authority to regulate the handling of meat only when it is prepared for interstate shipment or export.

"If the entire meat supply of the country is to be properly inspected," he continued, "it will devolve upon the states and municipal governments to cover the field to which federal inspection cannot be extended."

The need for state and municipal regulation is shown, Dr. Mohler said, by the number of unsound animals condemned by the federal inspectors every year. He estimated that 106,122 unfit animals were used as human food from un-inspected slaughter houses last year, and declared that the actual number probably greatly exceeded that figure, as the tendency would be to send diseased animals to slaughterhouses where there was no inspection.

"Municipal and state meat inspection," he concluded, "is a field where a great deal of constructive work remains to be done. It is paramount for health reasons, and the health side appeals to many people. Yet the economic side may appeal to a great many more. Human welfare is the common cause we are serving."

N. C.—4 Arrives in Jax

Jacksonville, Oct. 29
Hundreds of Jacksonville people crowded to the city docks at the foot of Market street yesterday afternoon to see the landing of the navy seaplane NC-4, which glided into the St Johns river at 5:15 o'clock. Lieut. Commander Albert C. Read, who piloted the craft on the first trans-Atlantic flight, was in command, and the boat was manned by its original crew. It was escorted by two smaller navy flying boats, the HS-2033 and 1374. One of these in command of Lieutenant Atwater and Ensign Wolf, and the other of Lieutenant Atkins and Lieutenant Hawkins. The tender Isabel berthed at 7:45 o'clock last night.

Centennial Site Undecided

Jacksonville Oct. 29
After a luncheon hearing which lasted from 1 o'clock until after 4 and a closed executive session of several hours, the Florida Centennial Exposition Commission last night postponed final action in the selection of the city to present the Florida Purchase Centennial Exposition until next Wednesday. The commission will meet at that time at the Seminole Hotel, when it will consider details regarding the estimated cost of producing such an exposition. This matter was requested last night and will be prepared for presentation next week. No arguments by either Pensacola or Jacksonville, the only contending cities, will be heard and the commissioners will go into executive session at 11 o'clock. They will consider principally finances, the cost of producing an exposition of this character, ability of the bidding cities to finance the project and other details of corresponding importance.

Funeral of Mrs. Smith

The remains of Mrs. Marie Fair Smith, who died at her home at the Gables yesterday morning, were taken to her old home in Montgomery, Ala., for burial today. Her daughter, Mrs. Frank Milteer, of Ft. Myers accompanied the remains to Montgomery and the interment will be made in the family burial lot in that city. A short service will be held at the Gables at 2:30 o'clock.

Oil at Wakulla

Prospects for striking a gusher in the Wakulla county oil fields this morning loomed considerably brighter with the receipt here of information from that section. According to the gusher operations on the Bonheur Development Company's well No. 2 are going ahead rapidly and the hole has gone down to the 90-foot level, where a second oil vein has been opened.

This 90-foot vein, according to the letter from an official of the Bonheur Company, brought in pay bill, heavy in quality and green in color, similar to the oil of the fields of Pennsylvania and West Virginia. The first oil vein was passed through at 50 feet, this also being a pay streak.

This well will be sunk to at least 950 feet, at which depth it is believed a gusher will be brought in.

SANFORD NEEDS LIGHTS WHITE WAY, ILLUMINATED WINDOWS AND SIGNS

SANFORD CITIZEN SEES NEED OF WELL LIGHTED CITY AND TALKS ABOUT IT

Sanford is now progressing in every way and should have a white way. Do you realize that Sanford is one of the best little cities in the State of Florida and with the many improvements that are now being made it will not only be one of the best little cities of the state but will be absolutely the best city of its size in the United States. With our new hotels and remodeling of some of the other hotels here we will now be able to accommodate the tourist this winter and from all reports there will be more tourists in Florida this winter than any of the past seasons and there is no reason in the world why Sanford should not get her share and with

SOFT COAL MINERS HAVE DECIDED TO STRIKE SAT. BUT ONLY HALF-HEARTEDLY

Realize How This Will Effect Country

MAY SHORTEN TIME

SAY CHANGE IN ATTITUDE OF OPERATORS WOULD SHORT- EN TIME OF STRIKE

Indianapolis, Oct. 30.—By Associated Press—The Executive Board of the United Mine Workers met here today to finish the preparatory work incidental to the coming strike of the soft coal miners. No development could avert the strike it was stated but some change in the attitude of the operators might result in the shortening of the tie-up according to the union men. It seems from surface indications that the men want to start the strike for principle's sake and to make good their threat but that the majority of them are loath to bring disaster to the country the magnitude of which can hardly be estimated at this time and for which the government officials are making quiet preparations to combat.

When you go to some other town in the state that has a white way and then come back here to Sanford and go down a Main street about eight or nine o'clock at night and see how dark it looks, does it not make you want to get out and help get the people together and put up a white way. The merchants do not get the benefit of their displays in their windows at night on account of its being so dark that the people can not see their windows. Advertising is the greatest game in the world and if you will notice which of the merchants are doing the most business you will find it the ones that advertise.

By having a white way it would help the merchants to advertise their stock by putting a pretty display in their windows so that the people that are on the street at night will see what they have for sale. Did you ever stop to think how many people that go to the show each night and then take a walk down First street and if we had a white way ever one that goes out of their homes at night would take a walk down First street before going back home if it was well lighted up at night.

The Sanford Herald and the Seminole Bank started the white way but no one would follow them but now is the time to get together and put up this white way before the tourists come here this winter so that the tourist will go away and tell all over the United States that they have spent the winter in Sanford, Fla., and that they are going back there again next winter because they were well entertained and the little city was so beautiful lighted up at night that they felt that they were in some big city.

I understand that the Ladies that gave a carnival up in the Park several months ago made about one thousand dollars. Why not get together now and have another carnival and get permission from the city council and have it for three nights on First street and make from a thousand to fifteen hundred dollars and give this to the city to start a white way. Have a committee appointed to call upon each merchant and see if they will not help this good cause and let's have a white way for now is the proper time to have it.

I will gladly help in any way that I possibly can with the carnival or any other way if any one has any suggestions to make for I want Sanford to have a white way and I believe every one else does and all that we need is some one to get behind it and push it. Let's get together and have it now.

BUY WOOD NOW Coal Not Available and Wood Will Be Scarce

In the pleasant days, in a climatic sense, combined with many responsibilities and worries imposed upon the people, says the state marketing bureau, it is feared that consideration is not being given to a fuel supply. It is possible if conditions are not bettered this winter, that states with available timber supply will not be able to get coal, except for the necessary industries. Private consumers accordingly will be called upon to use wood.

Florida is a wooded state. There is enough down and dead trees in the forests of our state to supply any emergency. Last winter there was much discomfort from scarcity and prices at times in the larger places, went to famine heights.

Will this warning be heeded by preparedness? Labor is scarce, and the only recourse is machinery. The situation is one worth prompt and careful consideration. A cord of wood will take the place of at least a half ton of coal. Shipping this winter will take more coal than ever before, besides large quantities will have to be sent abroad.

Free copies of farmers' bulletin 715, entitled "Measuring and Marketing Woodlot Products," and of a circular headed "Emergency Fuel from the Farm Woodland," can be had by writing to the U. S. department of agriculture, Washington, or on application to your congressman. No. 715 contains a list of six other bulletins on the subject of clearing and handling timber land.

In analyzing this rate we find that 22 mills is for road purposes, 17 mills for schools, three and one-eighth for pensions for old Confederate soldiers and their widows, and two mills for building fund, which is applied on payment for the court house; the general fund covers the general expenses of the State and County, the other items are self explanatory.

It will therefore be seen that the cost of operating the county which is covered by the General Fund of five mills, is no higher now than it was six years ago, as the rate for this fund in 1914 was five mills. The increase is brought about principally by improvements on the roads and schools voted by the tax payers.

OVER THE ASSESSMENT OF LAST YEAR DUE TO RAISE IN COUNTY AND STATE TAXES RATE IS 56 MILLS

On next Saturday, November 1st, State and County taxes will be due and the tax books at the court house will be opened for the receipt of taxes, many tax payers take advantage of the discount allowed in November of two per cent, and in December of one per cent, for payment in those months. The tax rate for 1919 in Sanford and vicinity is 56 mills, which is an increase over 1918 of 15 mills. In other words your taxes on a valuation of $1,000 in 1918 were $41.00, and in 1919 are $56.00.

Government Might Curtail Use of Soft Coal In Case Strike Cuts Off the Supply

Washington, Oct. 30.—By Associated Press—Revival of the Fuel Administration deal conditions resulting from the coal strike to be called not necessary advised Garfield to the cabinet today. Garfield holds that wartime powers that body now vested in Railroad Administration which will have full authority to distribute coal to essential industries. While revival of the Fuel Administration has been urged by government officials to prevent hoarding and profiteering the Department of Justice announced it had the power to handle the situation under the Food Control Act. An Executive Order restoring maximum prices for coal will be issued by the President today. Officials would not say what the maximum had been determined upon. Secretary Lane announced at a special meeting of the Cabinet that the government would not hesitate to curtail the consumption of coal in industries fifty per cent in order that the coal on hand and that available from the unaffected non-union mines might be equitably distributed to the essential industries. The curtailment list used by the War Industries Board during the war would be taken as a basis said Secretary Lane today. Plants engaged in manufacturing munitions might be cut off entirely.

REBUILD OLD LAND

British Are Injecting Life Into Ancient Egypt.

Occupation Has Resulted In Substantial Improvement in the General Welfare of the Country—Standards of Living Raised.

The British have been in actual occupation of Egypt for thirty-seven years (although Egypt was nominally a province of Turkey up to the war) and most certainly have effected substantial improvements for the general welfare of the country. A measure of self-government for towns and cities has been realized, which is really constructive. Town awakening is contagious. When in some hoary, blinking, bleached and odoriferous old town a few individuals, aroused more or less, succeed in shaking each other up sufficiently to start a town council, and impose a tax of perhaps $20,000 a year, spending it at first on street cleaning and a few lamps, then on some gaffers (policemen) and perhaps a water tower, the adjacent towns begin casting envious eyes in the direction of the ambitious one.

Irrigation has been a special concern of the British and they have constructed the great dam at Assuan, costing over $21,000,000. Railways also have been considerably extended. Manufacturing has made small headway, but the country is essentially agricultural in character. Cotton industries may some day develop on the foundation of the excellent quality of the Egyptian cotton. Industries are showing a much greater degree of growth than in the past, such as sugar refining, paper-making, boot-making, stone work, ceramic manufacture, glass-making and chemical fertilizers. With the increasing prosperity of the country at large the towns and cities must expand and be largely rebuilt. This will lead to a development of the artisan class, as well as of the commercial and professional classes, so that the consequent demand for labor must enlist the fellahen for city pursuits. This means the higher cost of agricultural labor and a consequent raising of the standards of the fellah, both as to his methods of work and his living standards. Before the war farm labor commanded about 15 cents a day, but during the war it rose somewhat, due largely to the formation of the Egyptian labor corps for military service in Sinai and Palestine. The labor corps has been kept at a strength of about 120,000 men. Altogether something like 1,500,000 men have been relayed to this service, which is still operating most effectively.—Jackson Fleming in Asia Magazine.

On Changing One's Mind.

If you brag that, after you have made up your mind you never change it, you boast that you are standing still. Things are happening with a rush in the world these days. Forces long invisible are becoming visible. Institutions are being shaken. We have seen, for example, the fall of the monarchistic idea after centuries of unchallenged power.

If you judge people by first impressions, and hang with bulldog stubbornness to your judgments, you are certain to make mistakes.

They thought Lincoln wasn't brilliant enough to be president because he was ungainly of figure and unpolished of manner.

If you judge ideas by first impressions, you convict yourself of having an idea-proof brain.

Welcome the new idea, whoever presents it to you. Check it up with your old ideas and with your experience and knowledge.

Don't be afraid to say to the other fellow: "You're right; I'm wrong."

Don't be afraid to think.—Louisville Herald.

Royal Visitors to America.

A future king of England was the first royal visitor from Europe to land in the United States. He was Prince William Henry, afterward King William IV, who arrived in New York in 1782, a few months before the British troops left that city, the Detroit News recalls. The country, while it did not show much enthusiasm in welcoming the heir to the throne, did endeavor to prolong his stay here. In fact, tradition asserts that soldiers of the American army secretly entered New York, but were unable to find the proper opportunity to kidnap the prince.

Sixteen years after the visit of Prince William Henry, another Englishman, the duke of Kent, fourth son of George III, and father of Queen Victoria, came to the United States on a naval trip, but there is no record of an official reception.

Short and Simple Will.

By the will of Mrs. Annie Davidson of Newburgh, N. Y., recently admitted to probate at Goshen, she bequeaths 5 cents to each of her several grandchildren and the remainder of her small estate to her children. The will is written on a sheet of notepaper, the reverse side of which contains this warning: "If any one makes any trouble they will get nothing."

Soldiers' Heads Growing.

Some cynical stay-at-homes have complained that the returned soldiers have "got the big head," but the London hatters find it literally true. The sizes most in demand before the war were 6 1/2 and 6 3/4, but now they sell more hats of 7 and 7 1/4.—Vocational Summary.

PARK TO REPLACE VILLAGE

Extension of Public Domain Makes Necessary Sacrifice of Port Kennedy in Pennsylvania.

The state of Pennsylvania, through the Valley Forge park commission, has condemned by right of eminent domain the entire village of Port Kennedy, on the Schuylkill river, near Valley Forge. The place has a population of about six hundred, two churches, a schoolhouse, a home for poor children, three picturesque old mills and about 100 dwellings. All but the schoolhouse and the churches are to be torn down to make way for the enlargement of Valley Forge park, and the whole village is wondering where it is going to find new homes.

A few years ago Valley Forge park contained only 250 acres. Somebody discovered that the act of creating the park provided that it should lie within the outposts of Washington's encampment. Port Kennedy seems to come within that territory, although there has been considerable historical argument on the point.

For some years the villagers have been fighting the plans of the commission to extend the park, but now they have given up. The Rev. Rhea Coffman, pastor of the Port Kennedy Presbyterian church, is leading the movement to establish a new community. "This presents a big problem to most of us," he says. "The majority of Port Kennedy people earn their living at the near-by magnesite mills and getting away from here may mean serious financial loss. We have been organizing prospective lot buyers and have obtained an option on a 90-acre tract that is still within walking distance of the mills; 41 of our people have agreed to buy lots there."—Boston Evening Transcript.

New Cancer Theory.

Contrary to general belief, Dr. L. M. Ottoly, a prominent St. Louis physician, declared at a recent convention of the American Association for Medical-Physical Research held in Chicago that the cancer is not hereditary, not contagious and is entirely curable.

"One result of the great war," he said, "has been the great prevalence of cancer, the result of wounds and other causes. But cancer is not contagious and, like leprosy, while it may be latent in the system, does not develop in the offspring of the one affected."

"Cancer is absolutely curable, in from one to three months, if treated in its earlier stages, and for this treatment I use a pus serum made from the afflicted patient and then re-injected into the veins of the patient from whom it is so obtained. The treatment is not painful and does not confine the patient to bed, but permits of the usual work or duty each day while under treatment."

Croix De Cruller.

The big doughnut bakery which the Knights of Columbus have been operating at Coblenz, Germany, to supply the soldiers stationed in the Rhineland ever since the armistice furnished the "favorite fruit" of the several American doughboys who recently arrived home and told about the championship eating contest. William J. Long, twenty-three, a six-footer from Providence, R. I., who was awarded the "croix de cruller" for demolishing 240 doughnuts in 24 hours, easily won the contest from the ten other men who had entered the contest.

Private Long's record was a cruller a minute for the first hour. During the next three he consumed 90, and after a short rest he finished the balance. The second man in the contest ate 180, and the third man 115.

Long weighs about 211 pounds and the doughnuts which he ate were the western type made famous by a certain chain of railroad restaurants. The croix de cruller is a medal of bronze, designed after the lines of a doughnut with the number 240.

United States Ship Tonnage.

The seagoing fleet of American merchant ships of over 1,000 gross tons each on August 31, 1919, registered for the foreign trade or enrolled for the coasting trade by sea, as shown by the returns of the bureau of navigation, department of commerce, under acts of congress, comprised 2,245 ships of 8,100,008 gross tons, of which 1,538 of 6,707,820 gross tons were steel steamers, 347 of 840,611 gross tons were wooden steamers, 95 of 180,487 gross tons steel sailing ships or schooner barges, and 245 of 371,069 gross tons wooden sailing ships or schooner barges.

Looked Cumbersome to Her.

A downtown store is making an early display of blanket bath robes. An elderly woman going through the store the other day was attracted by the bold patterns and stopped at the counter to examine the garments.

"Just what are these used for, may I ask?" she said to the clerk.

The clerk informed her that they were bath robes and the prospective customer replied:

"For the love of goodness! Looks like they'd be mighty heavy if a body got into the water with them on."—Columbus Dispatch.

Big Glass Industry in Japan.

The plate glass industry in Japan has greatly expanded since the world war. Before the war about 550,000 boxes of glass were consumed annually, 420,000 boxes of which were imported from Belgium and Germany, the remainder being of home manufacture. In the past year 850,000 boxes were manufactured in Japan, of which 600,000 boxes were consumed in Japan, and the remaining 250,000 boxes were exported.—New York Tribune.

GOOD AND BAD LUCK SIGNS

Practically Every Country Has Its Favorite Superstitions Dealing With Marriage Ceremony.

Did you know that the expression, "tying the knot," grew out of a superstition? Among the Babylonians one part of the marriage ceremony was to take a thread from the garment of the bride and one from the groom and tie them together into a knot.

Russia has curious superstitions. One ludicrous one is that the bride and groom race rapidly down the aisle as soon as the bridal procession enters the church. Whoever places a foot on the cloth in front of the altar first will be master in the household.

In Spain it was considered a good omen to tie around the necks of the bride and groom a silk sash fringed with gold while they kneel before the altar, thus binding their love the stronger.

In France it is held to be unwise to allow a person older than the bride to enter the church door first. As there are other superstitions from many countries.

It is lucky for a couple to run out of church hand in hand.

The bride and bridegroom must not look about or recognize any one on going up the church aisle, for one who does it will go elsewhere for love in a short time.

The one of the betrothed pair who gets up first from the altar will always in after life be the one to get up first in the house.

It is a sign of bad luck and separation if a woman signs her maiden name instead of her new married name on the church register when she marries.

It is good luck to the couple if a pigeon alights on the church as a couple enters it to be married.

If the official clergyman has trouble to find his glasses it is a sign that one of the two before him will not bear inspection.

If the officiating clergyman makes a mistake some one is present who is opposed to the match.

It is bad luck to have a minister refuse to perform the ceremony on any excuse.

If the pastor drops the prayer book while reading the service the couple will be blessed with twins.

It is a bad omen for the wedded couple if a person in mourning passes the open church door while the ceremony is being performed.

It is lucky to marry in a ruined church.

THE COMRADE.

Are you sleeping, sleeping soundly, Comrade over there,
Where the grasses wave above you
In the summer air,
Where we laid you as we found you
With the ravaged land around you
Grim and bare?

Can you hear the bugle blowing
Faint and far away?
Can you hear the loud drums throbbing,
Hear the trumpets bray,
Hear the tribute that we render
To the souls that won the splendor
Of the day?

'Tis the day we fought and toiled for,
The day for which you died,
Underneath the flag of freedom,
The banner of our pride,
Which today is proudly flying
Over the fallen victors lying Side by side.

O! surely you shall know us
Within your narrow bed,
When battle-worn battalions
Salute the honored dead.

Dear feel the brown earth shaken
And to knowledge shall awaken
At our tread!

Wedding at High Noon

One of the loveliest church weddings of the early fall was solemnized at high noon on Saturday, at the First Methodist Church, when the marriage of Beulah May Spurling to Mr. George B. Wells, and that of her sister, Blanche Edna to Mr. W. I. T. Stringer took place among the most beautiful surroundings. The decorations centered about the chancel, which was transformed into a wonderful setting of yellow and green, with goldenrod and the trumpet flower of yellow elder; trailing vines and potted ferns, a perfect background for the wedding group. Tall vases and golden baskets of yellow elder nestled among the masses of green, while jardiniere filled with golden Rod graced low pedestals. The chancel-rail was entwined with asparagus spengeri.

The wedding music was played by Miss Julia Laing. A quartette composed of W. L. Morgan, Mrs. Claude Herjdon, and Messrs. S. O. Shinholser and J. D. Parker, rendered "Faithful and True" from the Bridal Chorus from Lohengren (Wagner.)

The wedding party entered the church from opposite sides, the maids of honor at the south entrance, followed by the little flower girls, Thelma and Ola, sisters of the brides. The father, Mr. J. E. Spurling, walked alone preceding the brides, who came in together. The ushers, Mr. Robert Cobb, and Mr. LeClare Irwin, met the grooms at the western entrance preceding them to the chancel where the party formed a pretty group. Rev. C. W. White using the impressive ring ceremony performed the marriage rites.

Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played for the recessional.

The flower girls scattered petals before the brides as the newly wedded couples left the church. They were followed by the maids-of-honor and ushers. The brides were most attractive in travelling suits of dark blue serge with accessories in harmonizing tones. Bride roses were carried by each. The maids of honor were very lovely in their pretty organdie frocks and big black picture hats, carrying arm bouquets of field daisies. Miss Lillie Ruth Spencer wearing green and Miss Esther Miller, wearing yellow, carrying out the wedding colors. The little flower girls were sweet and winsome in their lace-trimmed organdie dresses, and carried golden baskets of rose petals.

Mrs. Wells and Mrs. Stringer are the attractive young daughters of Mr. J. E. Spurling, possessing a wide popularity and charm of manner that has won for them many friends to wish them happiness.

Mr. Wells is a valued employee in the city and Mr. Stringer is a popular attaché of the consular office.

Leaving immediately after the ceremony for a honeymoon trip on the East Coast they were accompanied with rice and all the rest of the "good luck" articles. The toasts thrown by the brides were successfully caught by Misses Lillie Ruth Spencer and Miss Margaret Zuehary.

GRAND MATRON HERE

Seminole Chapter Eastern Star Has Fine Meeting

The Grand Matron of the Eastern Star, Miss Alice E. Shultz, visited Seminole Chapter on Thursday, Oct. 23. She was accompanied by the Grand Marshal, Mrs. Fish of Sarasota. The hall was beautiful with ferns and cut flowers.

At 3 p. m. the officers met for instructions in the new floor work which Sister Shultz gave in her sweet gentle manner.

At 8:30 p. m. the chapter met for her official visit and also to introduce two candidates into the mysteries of the order. The work was done in a very satisfactory manner to the Grand Matron.

The Worthy Matron then called on the secretary to give a short word picture of the life of Mother Robbins who had lived in her early days where Indians were numerous. Later when she landed in Sanford she joined the Seminoles, it having become a force of habit, she could not forsake her early associations.

Secretary then turned to an easel draped in the American flag and exposed to view and to the astonishment of Mother Robbins a beautiful photograph of herself, which was placed on the walls of the wigwam of the Seminoles.

Bouquets of the beautiful Butterfly Lillys were presented to Grand Matron, Past Grand Matron Mother Robbins and Grand Marshal. A large number were present; visitors from DeLand were also present. After the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed and homemade cake and ice cream were served by the committee. Altogether it was a most enjoyable evening.

Secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Douglas have returned after a delightful visit of several days in Polk and DeSoto Counties, driving through in their car. While on this trip they visited Lake Sterns and Sebring, and spent the week end with relatives at Lake Wales. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas are enthusiastic about the beautiful scenery enjoyed and especially that of the Scenic Highway.

On Monday evening, Rev. and Mrs. C. W. White entertained the stewards of the First Methodist Church, and their wives, at the meeting of the month. While the men conducted the business, the ladies engaged in needle work, and later in the evening delicious refreshments of chicken salad, sandwiches and hot chocolate were served.

W. A. Ginn the popular engineer who makes his home in Sanford was in the city today calling on his many friends. He is at present located in Sarasota where he has a big contract in city and county improvements.

The hot weather is still holding on. It don't seem like we are going to have any cold weather this year.
It has been the hottest weather for many years.

We had a fine rain Friday afternoon and it was needed bad on the gardens.

Some of the sweet potato crop is poor this year. Some made good and some made none. There is a great complaint of ground moles.
They are bad in some places.

Vegetables seem to be scarce in town this season. There are but few to be seen anywhere but it is on account of the hot weather.

The oranges are still splitting and it looks like they are all going to drop off. It seems like we are not going to have any left, on the trees this year but we hope so any way.

From the amount of sugar cane going by every day there must be a lot of it made. There is from

Everybody ought to get together

It ought to be carried on in the honor of our good President Wil-

We are all glad to know President Wilson is improving and truly hope he will soon be able to be with us again.

It seems like the sugar shortage hits us every Christmas so we have to have syrup cakes but we truly hope we can get enough this Christmas to bake some cakes and a few pies cant get enough now to sweeten a cup of coffee, but hope to have it soon anyway in time for Christmas cooking.

We are proud of our Daily Herald.
Just think we can get the news is one that wouldn't be proud of Sanford and our city?

Mrs. Fred Krell left Tuesday to will make good use of it when we do get it.

Well, our Freedom Day will soon be here again, the 11th of November. That will be one day that will be long remembered by everybody in this world.

Truckers and Farmers
GREAT DANGER IN POTASH
Many farmers in the North the past Summer have lost heavily, especially on potatoes by using a FER-TILIZER with a Potash content containing matter of such strength that the roots were burned and plants killed.
It is to your vital interest to use a Fertilizer that has been proved out this past season. We have the Fertilizer and the vegetables to prove it at our office.

COLLIDED WITH AUTO
Arthur Gatchell Hurt When Motorcycle Hits Jitney Bus
Arthur Gatchell received a number of bruises and a deep gash cut in his head when he collided with the Jitney Bus yesterday afternoon while riding a motorcycle. The accident occurred at the corner of Second street and Magnolia avenue as Arthur was riding on Magnolia and the jitney under the guidance of Conductor Hogan was going out Second street. The motorcycle ridden by Arthur belonged to Lee Peck and it was badly demolished. Arthur received a gash in the left side of his head and was taken to Dr. Denton's office where he was patched up and was out in a few moments seemingly none the worse for wear. Since a hog on the Ovedo road a few nights ago tried to put the jitney bus out of business and failed it is not good form to collide with this juggernaut and it is lucky for all parties concerned that no one was killed yesterday. We have not been able to learn who was at fault but it would be well for all drivers of autos and motorcycles and all kinds of vehicles to drive slower on the crossings and Stop, Look and Listen. There is a lot of fast driving and careless driving going on at present and a more serious accident is bound to happen unless the drivers of some of these vehicles are not more careful.

Magnolia Has Building Record
With the many buildings and improvements going on in every part of Sanford no one section has anything on the other but the west side of Magnolia avenue carries off the palm in the building line between Third street and Fourth street. In this block the Montezuma Hotel of course is first with all its many improvements going on. But next to the Montezuma F. P. Foster started the ball rolling by building a room and porch on his residence. A. T. Rosetter next door would not take a dare and started a large porch on his home and next to Mr. Rosetter, V. C. Collier of the contracting firm of Price and Collier could not stand to see any one getting ahead of him and he is also building a new porch on his house.

This one block on Magnolia at the present time has the building record and demonstrates that improvements started never end but keep up an endless chain and one improvement shows up the other fellow making him get busy at once in order to keep up with the procession. Let the good work go on.

ARMISTICE DAY TO BE OBSERVED IN GREAT STYLE

SEMINOLE COUNTY SHOULD GET TOGETHER FOR BIG GREETING TO OUR SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

Armistice Day is November 11 and November 11 is just two weeks from tomorrow (Tuesday) and very little time to prepare for a monster celebration but it does not take much time for the people of Seminole county to make up their minds to do something. Now is the time to talk over this idea of having something in Sanford on Armistice Day. We let the Fourth of July go by without anything and we have not had a real celebration since last Armistice Day, the first one of the kind in history. Now that Armistice Day will be a regular celebration all over the world it would ill become Sanford and Seminole county to stand back and let this day of days go by without any noise whatever.

We know we are to have a ball game between the Fats and Leans in the afternoon and this will be "some attraction" but we need other diversions and there should be a regular program arranged to take care of the morning and afternoon and night if possible. The people will come to town to celebrate if you can promise them something to keep them here and the entire countryside is interested in the keeping of Armistice Day. We owe it to the boys who fought for us if for no other reason and we should make Tuesday a Home Coming Day and try and get all our soldiers and sailor boys home for the day if possible and show them what we think of them. There could be parades and speeches, etc., in the morning and then some arrangements for dinner and then games and other amusements at the ball park before the game starts and fireworks at night and the day would be well spent and we will have done our duty in many ways. Sanford knows how to do these things and we should not get out of the habit for every time you bring people to Sanford you help those people and help your town. Get the spirit and arrange for a meeting this week to discuss the plans for a real shaking up on Armistice Day, Tuesday Nov. 11.

Blessing of New Picture at Holy Cross

At the eleven o'clock service on Sunday at the Holy Cross Episcopal Church, the unveiling and blessing of the beautiful picture presented to the church by Mr. Chas. J. Rumph, took place.

This painting, which is the work of the donor, is a copy of a famous painting of Christ in the Garden of Gethsemane, and the beauty of the subject as well as the work is greatly appreciated by the parish-peters and visitors.

This picture calls to mind the other painting in the church, that of "The Crucifixion," which was a gift of General Sanford, who purchased it in Belgium while engaged as United States minister to that country.

First Halloween Parties

Ghosts, real live ones, witches, cats, bats, jack o' lanterns, big and little formed the busy setting for the first of the Halloween parties of the week, at which Mrs. E. J. Taylor and Miss Lavinia Burns were hostesses, on Monday night at their home on Magnolia avenue.

All the old fashioned Halloween games were played, and delicious refreshments in keeping with the season, were served, consisting of "pumpkin" pie, sandwiches, fruits and coffee, while punch was served through the evening. One of the original features of the party was the big, jack-o'-lantern, which filled the fireplace in the living room. Yellow shaded lights cast a soft glow over the laughing faces of the guests, while goldenrod and daisies completed the decorations.

The "spider web" proved a source of much amusement, and when each guest had unraveled it, each found a cunning favor of black cat or yellow hat.

Awe and fear fell upon the jolly merry-makers when the ghostliest of ghosts which had been proven to be only a dummy, began its stately promenade down the hall and through the rooms, but as ghosts never come back from the other world to reveal the secrets of this life, it will ever remain a mystery how the strings were pulled to create animation in the ghost that walked.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Alexander Harold announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Muriel, to Mr. Emmett Monroe Hunt, the marriage to be solemnized Tuesday, November Eleventh at the First Presbyterian Church, Sanford, Fla.

The announcement will be of interest to the hosts of friends of the contracting parties, throughout the South.

The bride-elect is an unusually charming member of the younger society set and her many friends will regret to hear that she will not reside here after her marriage.

Mr. Hunt will be remembered as having been in the commission business throughout the Southern states, but since his release from the navy has been connected with Morris and Company of Charleston.

The many friends of Dr. and Mrs. S. Puleston and their two attractive little daughters are regretting their departure this week for their future home in Miami. Identified with the professional and social life of the city for a number of years they will be greatly missed. Dr. Puleston is one of the most successful physicians in the county and is a popular society man. Mrs. Puleston is one of the most attractive young matrons of the society set, possessing a charm and personality that appeals. Sanford's loss is Miami's gain in numbering among her residents this popular family.

Epworth League Entertainment

A jolly party of fifty or more members of the Epworth League roasted waffles and enjoyed a picnic supper on the shores of Silver Lake, Friday evening.

Swimming and boating were among the gay pleasures of the evening. Gathering around the camp fires songs and merry tales completed the fun and frolic of the occasion.

Give the world the once over

LISTEN, fellows, to some straight talk. Many a man when he gets to be 40, misses something. He may have lots of money, and a fine family but—

You can join for two years. When you get through you'll be physically and mentally "tuned up" for the rest of your life. You'll be ready through and through for SUCCESS.

There's a Recruiting Station right near you. If you don't know where it is, your Postmaster will be glad to tell you.
