SYNOPSIS
A group of doctors in the Midwest suburbs of Burbank try to establish a free screening clinic despite lack of money and opposition from the County Hospital. Dr. John Blandin, a general practitioner, returns from a meeting and tells his wife Helen that enough money has been donated to set up the clinic.

CHAPTER 3
JOHN BLANDIN did "go on," catching up the threads of the County doctors' reasons for wanting the clinic in the first place. Each of the four suburbs in question was as large as many a city, he said, with homes and families in greater proportion than most municipal settlements enjoyed.

Money had been opened to serve these suburban families; doctors had come to live there, too, and had opened their offices, though most of them also affiliated with hospitals in the city.

But the doctors needed a way to reach the County people in the same fashion that the various hospital and clinic services were available—namely—to the people in the city. Three years ago, with this sort of service in mind, the doctors had formed an organization; their initial step had been to establish a night emergency clinic.

At first they rented a small store for a desk and their records, and the necessary bookkeeping. Slight emergencies had come in there, or were brought in the mistaken idea that a doctor would be present. The next step was to have one on hand. That pedicled some equipment, and the makeshift quarters were unsatisfactory for the purpose.

About that time the Country Day School gave up its property at the edge of Burbank. The doctors were asked if they would be interested in the "plant" as a permanent location. A favorable, long-term mortgage was offered them, and was accepted, hesitantly.

In the heart of the new shopping center, the location was ideal. The doctors' plan was to establish an examining clinic, a screening clinic, for well people.

If they could make a housewife take an hour from her shopping to go in for a check-up; if she would then send her husband in, and bring her children . . . there were various organizations ready to help them, the state Medical Association, the Public Health Service, the Heart and Cancer and Tuberculosis organizations.

"And with their help the clinic was started. Some day the doctors hoped to have all the equipment and personnel that they needed."

"But now," John announced abruptly, "we can do all we want to do, and it can be free."

Helen jumped. She'd grown a little drowsy during the recapitulation of the clinic's history, which was as familiar to her as the chronological record of her marriage to John Blandin.

"What changed things tonight? What's the clinic going to use for money?"

John stood up. "The same thing the Milburns use, my sweet."

Helen leaned back in her chair to study his face. "Oh," she mused, "not Alice!"

"We want our clinic," he said tightly. "And Alice—Mrs. Milburn—is ready to give us the necessary cash to set up properly, immediately."

"Not just the cash?" cried Helen. "Not just tonight—out of the blue?"

He sat down beside her, and put his hand affectionately upon her forearm. "I'll make it right," he promised. "My idea was that the clinic might get the support of the Women's Club. I had hoped the whole Club would underwrite the clinic as a financial project."

Helen kept her face smooth and her tongue still. Until tonight, John had not mentioned this idea to her; she could have told him—

"But," he was saying, a little frown between his brows, "some politics—female, and thus incomprehensible to me—it had to do somewhat with so many terms on the Club's Board of Directors—anyway, it was politics, and in the course of it—or would it be them?—the Club turned the thing down. But fortunately for us—"

He hesitated. "Fortunately for us," he repeated. "Alice took their refusal as a direct slap at her, since she was the one who was pushing support of the clinic. Just to show those women—that was her term—she has offered to finance the whole thing alone. As she can, of course."

"How much?" asked Helen.

"Enough to buy the building and equip it. Seventy-five thousand, at least."

"No strings?"

"Well, she'll be on our Board."

"Do you think you want Alice Milburn running your clinic, John?"

"She won't run it. We shall, Helen."

"Not with Alice on the Board. She'll dictate policy, if she doesn't do more. You know that!"

John smiled ruefully, and rubbed his hand up the back of his neck and head. "I know all that," he admitted. "I've given the matter some thought."

"But the money talked, of course."

"Seventy-five thousand? Maybe a hundred? Sure, it yalled. Alice is honest, and intelligent. She agreed readily when I suggested that her attorney should represent her on the Board. And if we do a good job of running the clinic, sticking to our purpose, she'll let us alone."

"I know Alice Milburn. The lavender-and-old-lace lady is honest, and she is intelligent. But where a personal prejudice is concerned, she can also be a snake in the bouquet of sweetest roses. She—she—Her cheeks were poppy red. 'I'm sorry, John,' she said contritely. 'It's definitely decided then?'"

"Yes. We chose a Board. Three doctors; I'm one of them. A representative from each of the sponsoring organizations. Mrs. Milburn, or her attorney. And one other—we called him a 'sit-ten.'"

"Choose him?"

"Tentatively. We must ask him to serve—it's Joseph Radman at the bank."

Helen began to gather her papers together. Mr. Radman might not serve; his wife belonged to the Women's Club.

"We've had another bit of luck," John announced. "As I told you, this thing's been cooking since Christmas. And it seems certain now that we shall be able to get Chad Mays to set us up and get us running in high gear."

Chad Mays . . . Helen whirled about. "Not the wonder boy!" she cried.

Taxpayers Can Count On Relief By Next Year

By VINCENT J. BURKE
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Richard M. Simpson R-Pa. said today taxpayers can count on substantial tax relief possibly this year but certainly by next year.

Simpson, a high-ranking Republican on the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, disclosed that he plans soon to introduce a bill to provide for billions of dollars worth of reductions in both personal income taxes and levies on corporation income.

Simpson said his bill would provide for a "modest increase" in the 300 personal exemptions and for some revisions in the taxation of capital gains. He said the measure is aimed at providing $3,500,000,000 to $6,000,000,000 in tax relief.

Simpson took issue with those who contend that big tax cuts must await sharp reductions in federal spending. He has been out spoken in his criticism of President Eisenhower's record-high spending budget.

"If we want to cut spending," he told a reporter, "the way to do it is to cut taxes. That will force the government to cut back spending to live within its income."

"I don't think we will ever get a substantial tax cut if we wait for a big federal surplus to develop."

He blamed the administration's record high spending budget on the fact that a sizable surplus was in prospect.

"The spenders in government saw a chance to enlarge their work areas and they proceeded to increase spending."

Simpson said he thought taxpayers would actually get relief totaling between $3,000,000,000 and $5,000,000,000 by next year. "I'm bullish on tax relief," he said.

Camerman Killed While Filming Manmade Slide

EMPIRE, Colo. (AP)—Highway crews Tuesday recovered the body of a cameraman killed when a manmade avalanche he was filming crushed him and his station wagon beneath tons of snow and rock.

Workers dug out the body of John Hermann, 26, a movie cameraman who was filming the slide on Blue Creek Mountain for the Walt Disney studios.

The body of Wayne E. Whitlock, 20, of Empire, who also was killed in the slide, was recovered Monday night. Authorities said both men were suffocated when a round from a 75 millimeter howitzer touched off the slide.

Roland Wyatt, 16, a Salt Lake City high school student who had been assisting Hermann, was caught on the outer fringe of the slide but escaped injury.

Wyatt said Highway Department maintenance men fired three rounds from the howitzer at the key point of a mass of rocks and snow on the mountains.

Howitzers frequently are used to shoot down potential slides before the accumulation of snow and rock builds up to a point where it is dangerous for traffic on the highway below. This time, however, the shot triggered a much bigger avalanche than had been expected.

Taking Life Easier Helps Hypertension

By HENRY H. HUNTER, M.D.
HYPERTENSION, or high blood pressure. Often they make pressure a widespread ailment on this day of the income tax deadline, is our most common chronic complaint. It causes more disability and death than any other single disease.

Actually, there is no need to be unduly fearful of this disorder. By recognizing the symptoms, obtaining prompt medical attention and by following your doctor's advice (among other things to take life easier) you can as a rule live a fairly normal life without much danger.

Extensive Examination
Now I don't want you performing a diagnosis on yourself. Even a doctor has difficulty diagnosing high blood pressure from symptoms alone. He must conduct an extensive examination before he is able to determine definitely whether you have hypertension.

While the following symptoms might or might not mean that you have hypertension, they usually indicate that something may be wrong. Very often it is high blood pressure.

Common Symptoms
Most common and most incapacitating symptom is frequent headaches. Although a headache may occur at any time of the day, generally those due to hypertension are around when you wake in the morning.

Headaches can be especially dangerous to a person with high blood pressure. A feeling of lightheadedness or dizziness may be an indication of hypertension. Generally, though, this particular symptom in itself isn't cause for too much worry.

Early Signs
Both physical and emotional fatigue frequently are signs of early hypertension. He is trembling, especially when it is accompanied by perspiration, palpitation of the heart and a rumbling of the bowels.

While these symptoms may mean that you have high blood pressure, they don't reveal the extent of your trouble. That's a job for your doctor.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
Q. T.: I had my gallbladder removed about eighteen months ago. Three weeks ago, I developed a pain in my stomach, under my shoulder blades and in the right side. What do you think could be causing this?

A. H.: It is impossible to tell from the description given, the cause for the pain.

Not infrequently, following the removal of the gallbladder, pains due to spasm of the bile duct may occur. It is possible that a stone may have formed in the bile duct.

You are in need of a careful study to determine the exact cause for your difficulty.

SPEAKING OF CARDS

BEAUTIFUL HAND—ISN'T IT? HE'S ONE OF MY CUSTOMERS.

We may soon become a nation of millions of millionaires thanks to the modern miracle of television. Until now strictly a participant sport, bridge and other popular card tournaments may soon be covered on television in much the same way as top events in football, bowling, baseball and other sports are presently shown. The first televising of the recent International Bridge Tournament between the United States and Italy proved that the game is an appealing one to millions of viewers watching play on their home screens. Plans are underway to let the TV camera handle at other top card tournaments.

Chocolate Peppermint Pie with No Bake Corn Flake Crust

April is the month the breakfast cereal and dairy industries are sponsoring the Fourth Annual Spring Cereal and Milk Festival to promote the food value of cereal and milk. "You never outgrow your need for cereal and milk" is the theme of this festival. A nation-wide survey found that almost half of the adult population seldom or never drink milk, one of the richest sources of calcium. In addition to calcium, the cereal and milk serving provides top-quality protein, quickly available food energy, essential B-complex vitamins, and the minerals iron and phosphorus. Recent research found that on the average, the adults observed consumed five ounces of milk per cereal serving. Thus cereal becomes an important milk carrier, especially for adults.

The ingredient use of cereal and milk is another way to include this valuable team in the daily diet. Entrees, muffins, breads, confections, and desserts can all be made with cereal and milk as ingredients. Chocolate Peppermint Pie with Corn Flake Marshmallow Crust is a delicious way to include cereal and milk in the daily diet.

Chocolate Peppermint Pie with No Bake Corn Flake Marshmallow Crust
3 tablespoons butter
1 1/2 cups marshmallow creme
1/4 teaspoon salt
3 cups corn flakes, pre-sweetened or regular
1 pint chocolate ice cream
1 pint peppermint stick or mint ice cream
1/2 cup chopped peppermint candy
Combine butter, marshmallow creme, and salt in large pan. Place over low heat. Stir constantly until mixture is smooth and hot. Add corn flakes; stir carefully until all cereal flakes are coated. Melt marshmallow over sides and bottom of buttered 9-inch pie pan. Chill. Fill with a layer of chocolate ice cream, top with a layer of peppermint stick or mint ice cream. Smooth top. Place in freezer to become firm. Garnish top with chopped peppermint stick candy. Yield: 8 servings. Note: This ice cream pie can be served without fruit.

Construction Plans In Immediate Future

Navy Reveals News

The Navy today issued a statement to the joint Washington delegation in which news of the retaining of the Sanford Naval Air Station here was released.

Congressman A. S. "Syd" Herlong Jr. in a telephone release of the statement, said that Admiral W. V. Davis, Chief of Planning for the Navy said "The original plan to replace the Sanford Naval Air Station, was based on the need for modern facilities suitable for the operation of the high performance jet aircraft situated in an area not threatened by encroachment of the surrounding population."

The statement from the Navy continued "In view of more urgent requirements elsewhere in the Navy Aeronautical establishment which prevents the immediate release of the subject facility, the decision has been made to adapt and expand the existing facilities at Sanford to accommodate the current requirements rather than to build a replacement activity in the Sixth Naval District."

John Krider, Manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, revealed the message first at the local Chamber of Commerce office, with Mayor David Gatehel, Chamber of Commerce President Clifford McKibbin, and Jaycee President George Andrew Spear listening in.

The entire Washington delegation, including Senator Spessard L. Holland, Senator George Smathers, and Congressman A. S. "Syd" Herlong made the appeal to the Navy Department to expand the local Navy Base instead of move it to some other area. Their appeal was based on economy in government operations in that a $20 to $30 million establishment was already existing here at Sanford.

Congressman Herlong said that he had been advised that construction would include new and lengthened runways, new hangars, and new barracks as well as other needed facilities at the Sanford Naval Air Station.

Cost of the construction planned for the immediate future will come to approximately $3 million. "It is in the immediate future," said (Continued On Page Ten)

Guard Unit Called Out Last Night By Test Alert

Armory May Be Built For Proposed Reserve Unit Here

Possibilities that an Armory will be built in Sanford for use by an Army Reserve Unit loomed today when a spokesman for the proposed unit for Sanford said that "with the interest of 30 men an Armory would possibly be built here."

Already, the spokesman said today, 12 new people have expressed interest in the proposed unit and an additional 10 prior service people have indicated an interest in the new organization.

Lee Moore said today that a company size unit is possible for the Sanford area with the proper turn out at a meeting to be held Tuesday night, Apr. 16, at 7:30 p. m. in the City Commissioners room of the City Hall.

Col. P. M. Grahn, Senior Advisor, United States Army Reserve, will be in Sanford Tuesday evening for the meeting and will assist in the organization of the unit.

"If an Engineers Company is established here," said Lee Moore, "125 men will be needed for full company strength."

Also attending the meeting Tuesday evening will be a recruiting (Continued On Page 10)

Chief Travasos' Navy Experiences Many, Interesting

A Navy Chief, with over 20 years service, and with the experience of visiting islands throughout the Pacific Area during World War II, retired this morning at the Sanford Naval Air Station.

However, it will be "a swapping of jobs" with Chief John W. Travasos as he leaves tomorrow for East Hartford, Conn. to work with the Pratt-Whitney Co.

Travasos has been an Aviation Mechanic throughout his Navy Career.

His log book of flight time recorded during World War II shows a running account of 1,671.3 hours of time in the air during a period of nearly a year.

An alert was sounded last night at 7 o'clock which called out the Sanford National Guard Unit, Company B, 154th Armored Infantry Battalion for a simulated mission in Fort Mellon Park.

Major Roy D. Green, Asst. G-3, Operations, for the 4th Armored Division, said "This could be a local, statewide or even further alert."

Fifty minutes after the alert was sounded, 35 men and two officers had reported to the Sanford Armory with full gear and equipment ready for duty.

At 8:37 last night, 47 men and three officers had reported, the field kitchen and CP had been set up, guards were posted and two road blocks maintained.

The huge armored tank was in operation and stationed at the Sanford Ave. entrance to Seminole Boulevard.

"This was a test with a simulated mission," said Major Green, who was on hand with Captain Volie A. Williams Jr., Assistant

Major Green said last night "The results as I see them are that within one and a half hours after the alert was sounded the mission was under control."

Guards were posted around Fort Mellon Park. They could be seen silhouetted against Lake Monroe as they paced the seawall. Both ends of Seminole Boulevard were controlled by roadblocks with machine guns and mortars set up in strategic locations so that any direction approach could be protected.

Captain Joseph D. Bryan is commanding officer of the local National Guard Unit.

Major Green, commenting on the success of the alert and mission said "The mission very probably would have been accomplished with full strength in another hour."

Members of the National Guard Unit were reporting rapidly during the evening with some of them coming from as far as Apopka.

Prizes will be awarded children who find especially marked eggs. The Jaycees are appealing for contributions of eggs for the Annual Easter Egg Hunt. Kimbrell said that those who would like to contribute to the event may call the Jaycee Information booth by Friday (FA 2-5481) and leave their name and address so that Jaycees can pick up the eggs Saturday morning.

"We will appreciate any donation to make the Annual Easter Egg Hunt a success," said Kimbrell.

Jaycee Easter Egg Hunt Set Apr. 21

The Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce has made final plans for its annual Easter Egg Hunt to be held in Fort Mellon Park Sunday afternoon Apr. 21 at 2 o'clock.

Kim Kimbrell, chairman of the Jaycee Easter Egg Hunt Committee, said that the Jaycees plan to hide approximately 5,000 eggs in a roped off area of Fort Mellon Park where children of ages one through 10 will be divided into age groups for the hunt.

American Legion Home Is Started For Oviedo Post

An American Legion Home for Oviedo Post 83 started yesterday according to word received in Sanford yesterday.

The new post home is located on the Winter Park Road directly across from the cemetery. Post officials however, said yesterday, that an additional $1,000 is needed to complete the financial plans for the construction of the home and to provide funds for the building of a roof.

To this end, the post officials said, donations are being received on a 35 horsepower outboard motor. (Continued On Page 10)

Mostly cloudy, becoming partly cloudy with widely scattered showers Friday afternoon. Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday; low tonight 66 to 64.

No Regular Mail Delivery Tomorrow

There won't be any regular mail delivery tomorrow, due to the holdup on Post Office Dept. appropriations, now being debated in Congress.

Sanford Postmaster, Joel R. Field last night pledged he would not dismiss any of his 39 employees under the present curtailment. Regular employees will continue to work full time. However seven substitutes can expect, as of tomorrow, to get in less than full week's work. Field said he did not know how the situation would develop but that career substitutes would be called on first, then the temporary substitutes.

"Substitutes will be scheduled only as needed to supplement the regular force. It is doubtful any temporary substitute will be employed over this weekend and the cut back will be sharper if the third class mail embargo goes into effect Apr. 29," Field said.

ONE FRIDAY

When we become mired in the routine of life, one day is like any other. This was just another working-day for most of the people in Jerusalem.

Three men died on Calvary Hill. One of them was the Galilean!

Business as usual in Jerusalem. Unless we understand the whole significance of what is happening we pay little attention . . .

Do you understand what happened that Friday. Do you realize WHO hung on that central Cross. Do you know WHY He died. And FOR WHOM?

There is nothing more necessary in our lives than the deep, personal knowledge of what happened that Friday . . . and the Sunday following.

Come to Church!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Courting The News

BY VIRGINIA CONN

Two of the worst paid jobs in the world are teaching and reporting. But at least as a reporter what you make depends on YOU and your ambition—as a teacher it depends on the largesse of your state and county no matter how good you are. I don't think many of us realize how serious the teacher problem is. Those who have children in school do, but how about the many young parents whose children are still pre-school? Have you thought what it may be like in a few years when your child enters the halls of learning? He may either find himself going half day, while his overworked teacher snaps at him after having had fifty children to cope with before he came on the scene, or he may be taught by an incompetent, hired only because there was no one else. Why should any man with a degree, perhaps even a Master's turn to teaching? He has a family to support, he has his dreams of the future—perhaps a new car, a week-end alone with his wife—are these things possible on his teachers salary? Not very often—and yet his classmates in High School, who never went to college is making more by tending bar, selling shoes, or driving a truck. # Garden Gate

By Meryl Truitt (Rose Circle) Sanford Garden Club

Why not try a herb garden? It takes only a small space, for a little goes a long way in the culinary field, and an herb garden can be attractive as well as useful. Some of them produce quite showy flowers. Design your garden in any way you wish, but here is one suggestion you may find interesting. Place an old wagon wheel flat on your prepared soil, using the spokes as dividers. This makes a well-controlled, small garden area. An herb garden in Florida will like partial shade.

There are no limits to the use of herbs. They are a delightful addition to our everyday cooking, but even the most enthusiastic grower should use them with discretion. A pinch of herb adds a wonderful touch to a creamed dish, salad, soup, meat or fish. Use one or try a combination of several herbs, heating the leaves or seeds in butter, oil or lemon juice before adding them to the dish. Determine what you like—some are strong flavored, others mild, and their use is a matter of individual preference. Use herbs fresh or dried. Keep an assortment of the latter on your pantry shelf. But remember, dried herbs are much stronger than the fresh, or use about half the quantity that you would use of the fresh.

Herbs are picked for drying as they come into flower, though many may be "sheared" a few leaves at a time all during the growing season. Thyme and summer savory can be picked when blooming, but they can also be clipped during any period of growth. Hang in bunches, or lay in shady, airy room. Shake off any soil, do not wash, for this would induce wilting and mildew. When thoroughly dry, crumble and place in tight, opaque containers. Packaged and bottled herbs are purchasable in most groceries but the ones put up by the amateur grower seem to retain a more delicate flavor than those put out in quantity by wholesale houses.

There are over 2,000 herbs familiar in America. We list just a few of those which grow well in Florida: Sage, Basil, Thyme, Mint, Chives, Dill, Majoram, Borage, and Summer Savory. Experiment—try some others too.

All of these herbs will grow from seed and may be started in pots and later transplanted to the garden area. However, the plants are not expensive and may be purchased from Wayside Gardens, Mentor, Ohio. With the exception of Mint, none require a particularly rich soil. The beds should be prepared about two weeks before planting, using about half sand and half humus, with a small amount of bone meal. When the plants are up about one or two inches a little more fertilizer may be added. The woody plants, such as Thyme, may be layered.

October and November are the months for planting herbs. Spend the next few months experimenting with the commercial varieties, determine what you like, and be ready to start your garden in the Fall.

Plan Income Tax Dinner For Family

Economy is the keynote around April 15th, income tax day.

For the most part, homemakers are aware of this special day and try to plan easy on the budget meals... one low in dollars and cents but yet high in nutritive value.

Meat, of course, is one of the most important items in the menu. There are many thrifty meat cuts which provide economical meals.

Reba Staggs, well versed in the field of meat and meat cookery, suggests just a few economy headlines... special dollar saving meals for the preceding April 15th.

Strips of salt pork can join lima beans in a baked casserole dish. It's a special treat when accompanied by brown bread and a vegetable salad.

Another delightful and easily prepared pork dinner is Sausage Shortcake. To make this shortcake, two layers of corn bread are put together with hot pork sausage links between the layers and on top. This dish is served with a cream gravy. The sausages are precooked on top of the range or in the oven.

There are many beef cuts that may serve you, such as braised arm or blade steaks and cream gravy served with baked potatoes.

Ground beef is always a choice selection... for spaghetti dishes, hamburgers or as a stuffing for green peppers and other vegetables.

Mr. Mrs. J. C. Jorgensen, Mrs. D. Wacker Denmark Bound

Leaving April 23 for Denmark are Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jorgensen and Mrs. Jorgensen's sister, Mrs. D. Wacker of 618 Park Ave. They plan to spend two months abroad visiting friends and relatives.

On the Jorgensens return they will spend the remaining part of the summer in Wisconsin and Minnesota visiting their daughters and sons-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Vollbrecht of Madison, Wis. and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gable of Lansing, Minn.

Both are very thrilled about traveling and stated they couldn't wait to get started.

Annexation Answer For Growth, Progress For City, It's Citizens

When a man's family increases more room must be added to his home to take care of the children. Another room must be added, maybe more property obtained on which to extend that home.

And so it is with the city. A huge family. As the city grows there must be more streets added to take care of the additional room needed to house a growing family. More territory must be added to provide the area for the expanding citizens.

That is the problem with which Sanford is faced — add more area in which to build and expand — or shrivel up and become unknown.

There have been times when our neighbors outside of the boundaries of Sanford have complained because there weren't sufficient stores with the abundance of merchandise which they demanded. How can the inside of Sanford expand and grow unless the outside edges give way to allow for the expansion.

There are a few of our neighbors who enjoy the benefits of Sanford — its protection provided by a Police Department, its water approved by the State Board of Health as safe to drink, a sewer system for sanitation, the city's ability to furnish a livelihood in jobs and opportunities, streets on which to operate automobiles, doctors for medical protection, a hospital to take care of the serious illness, schools, recreation programs, a center where people gather to work and play and discuss their problems — but they do not care to share in the cost of these benefits.

Some of our friends say "Why help pay for them when we can enjoy them without paying."

Annexation is very important to the progress of Sanford. New areas must be added to take care of the thousands who will eventually build in "The finest city in Central Florida," or even all of Florida.

It is predicted, and all indications point to the fact that the prairie will come true, that Sanford will become a city of 50 to 60 thousand citizens by 1965. The biggest percentage of these new citizens will want the services that an incorporated city provides. They do not want to live in jeopardy of fire and outside of an area protected by a well trained fire department, neither do they want their families threatened by disease because of the lack of a good sewage and water system, and they want the feeling of plenty of security with adequate police protection, and all the other features that only a municipality can provide.

Annexation is the answer to the Sanford, Seminole County and Central Florida success with the City of Sanford providing a Docks and Terminals project, more and better fire protection, extension of the sewage system, a huge new civic center and all of the other betterments which society demands today for its day to day happiness, security, and advancement.

The answer is annexation for growth and progress both for the city itself and the citizens within and around it.

Food Industry Prices

Another congressional group, this time the consumer study subcommittee, has confirmed the wide gap between the prices consumers pay for food and the prices farmers receive for basic food products. And once again we are told a new round of investigations of food industry prices will follow.

Such investigations may prove to be worthwhile, though they have not been very fruitful in the past. The fact seems to be that because of the elaborate processes and services consumers demand, food processors and marketing agencies will take and increasingly greater share of the food dollar.

This does not mean that there should not be any further investigation of retail food prices. On the contrary, that would be a good thing. Such a probe might help narrow somewhat the gap between declining farm prices and rising food prices.

As long as consumers insist on buying an increasing amount of service and convenience when they go to the grocery store, food prices will doubtless continue to rise. We no longer buy merely food; we buy pre-cooked, fancy packaging and other things in addition to the basic food items.

American consumers like it that way. They like being able to buy foods that take only a few minutes—and almost no work at all — to prepare. Since that is what we want, we have to pay for it.

Tranquilizers

During the past years, some 30 million prescriptions for the so-called tranquilizer drugs were filled for Americans. That astonishing figure underlines the need for answers to questions which have stirred controversy since the tranquilizers came into use a few years ago.

Some of the drugs have been used to treat persons suffering from severe mental illness. In many other cases, they have been used simply to quiet nerves of persons who had nothing more serious than ordinary jitters.

Medical opinion is not all in agreement as to the effectiveness of the drugs. Some doctors feel that they may be doing considerable harm, especially when they are used without medical supervision.

In cases of this kind, the layman is helpless. He has no means of determining whether the drugs are dangerous, or how effective they are. It is good to know, therefore, that the National Institute of Mental Health is undertaking an elaborate research program to determine the value and limitations of these drugs.

They may produce some firm answers to troubling questions.

New TV Station Will Rise Soon In Jacksonville

JACKSONVILLE—One of the tallest structures on the South Atlantic coast will soon rise beside the historic St. Johns River here.

Nearly twice as high as the Washington Monument, the tower of Station WFGA-TV will thrust 1,000 feet into the sky. It will be over three times as tall as the Prudential building here, Florida's highest office building.

The new Channel 18 television center, located at 1070 East

Adams Street, will cover approximately 30,000 square feet, and will be modern in design, embracing a combination of gray brick and blue glazed brick as finish material.

The 50 kw RCA transmitter, in combination with the tower and antenna, will enable WFGA-TV to radiate 315,000 watts, the maximum effective power authorized for VHF television stations under regulations of the Federal Communications Commission.

The new station will serve Jacksonville and the surrounding areas of Florida and Georgia.

Presently existing home television receivers will not have to be modified to receive black and white pictures from WFGA-TV's local or network color programs, while homes having color receivers will see these programs in full color.

George H. Hodges, president, said he believes this is the first television station initially planned and constructed for the requirements of originating color TV programs as well as transmitting network color.

AND Pilate asked Him, Art thou the King of the Jews? And He answering said unto Him, Thou sayest it. And the chief priests accused Him of many things; but He answered nothing. —St. Mark 15:2, 3. ("Christ Before Pilate," by engraver Albrecht Durer, courtesy Toledo Museum of Art.)

EDITOR Sanford Herald Sanford, Florida

The Episcopal Church in the Diocese of South Florida, which extends from Ocala to Key West, has recently conducted a development fund program which will provide funds to allow the church to expand in this rapidly growing area.

Under the leadership of the Rt. Rev. Henry I. Louttit, D. D., bishop of the Diocese of South Florida, this effort has been most successful as the financial goal was oversubscribed by a large amount.

These funds will permit the Episcopal church to now enlarge its vital work in five fields, namely: aiding mission congregations in new population centers; additions and renovations at Bishop Gray Inn for aged persons, located at Davenport; building of a year-around conference and retreat center at Camp Wingmann near Avon Park; increased work on college campuses and contribution to University of the South in Tennessee; and a tithe of the funds to overseas work.

As general chairman of this program, I take this opportunity to thank you and other members of your staff for your valuable assistance in helping us inform everyone of the effort. Your willingness to furnish news coverage of our various activities was of great help to us and the long-range results are many.

Thank you again for your interest and cooperation. Charles H. Gerhardt, General Chairman

Veterans Corner

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to questions of current interest to former servicemen and their families:

Q. I am a disabled Korean veteran and I would like to take vocational rehabilitation training in a European college. Is this possible?

A. Under the law, it would not be possible. Vocational rehabilitation is not available in foreign countries, except in the Philippines for eligible U. S. citizens living there.

Q. I have just come out of military service. Will the VA find me a job?

A. Finding employment for veterans is not one of VA's functions, under the law. What you should do is apply at your nearest public employment office.

Q. My World War II permanent

A NEW TV tuning device lets the dial for programs 12 hours in advance. Now a family can fight out at the breakfast table what shows are to be viewed that night.

The city of Hanoi, Afghanistan, has been razed and rebuilt 87 times, says a historian. What a Utopia for bricklayers!

The cucumber is 98 per cent water—more than just like the highballs served in some saloons.

Any Chinese Nationalist airman who sinks a Red China aircraft carrier will be awarded the rank of "ace," the Purmose government announces. Since there's no evidence the Communist China has a plane-landing ship this looks as though it'd be the nearest trick of the cold war.

A diet featuring carrots is supposed to be a good cold preventive. Might work on that—for who ever saw a rabbit cough or sneeze?

With the help of his owner, a California dog plays the stock market. What is the peach-a bull or a bear?

Five of the U. S. Navy's new nuclear submarines have been given the names of Scamp, Sculpin, Shark, Scorpion and Snook. They ought to be able to do plenty of mischief to a potential enemy—especially that Scamp!

GI insurance lapsed, and VA automatically continued it in force under extended term insurance. I want to reinstate my permanent policy. Will I have to take a physical examination?

A. If you reinstate within five years of the date the extended insurance would expire, you will not need a medical examination or any medical evidence of good health. If you reinstate after that time limit, you will be required to take an examination.

Q. If a school was approved to train veterans under the World War II GI Bill, will it also be considered approved to train Korean veterans?

A. Not necessarily. World War II GI Bill approved does not carry over. The school's courses will be approved specifically for Korean veterans.

Veterans living in Central Florida who wish further information about their various benefits should write or visit the VA office at 48 E. Central Ave. Orlando, Fla.

Now Hear This!

JACKY FENWICK

Had another "night out" last Wednesday. The girls played Canasta at Jimi Gold's house, and as usual, a noisy time was had by all! With the amount of "gabbing" that goes on at these get-togethers, it never fails to amaze me that we DO manage to play some cards! Nine girls were able to make it this time, so we played three to a table, "cut-throat"! Those present were: Mrs. Rosemary Finnegan, Mrs. Betty O'Conner, Mrs. Doris Shortland, Mrs. Adele Heitman, Mrs. Pat Foster, Mrs. Joan Greenwood, and yours truly. High score prize was won by Mrs. Rosemary Finnegan, and low score prize by Mrs. Joan Greenwood. When we finally gave in and admitted we had played long enough, Jimi served a delicious chocolate cake, and iced tea. Got home late, but all was quiet and serene, and I doubt if I was missed!

Hear that Mrs. Mike McFarland (Bonnie to her friends), went to Jacksonville today for a check-up. Hope everything goes "O.K." and she comes right back home.

Congratulations are in order for Mr. and Mrs. Harry Almond on the birth of a "bouncing baby boy," at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Just how important is your child's teacher to his (or her) overall development? There just isn't any doubt as to what the answer to that one is. Since this is so true, then isn't it up to "we, the parents" to see that our children have the best available? This is all leading up to a "soap-box" bit about the Better Schools Program now before the Senate and the House of Representatives in Tallahassee. Every day you read or hear about Teachers leaving the teaching profession because of low pay, etc. We can do something about it. There are two bills "on the fire" at the present time, (in the Senate it's Bill No. 50, and in the House it's Bill No. 74.) that would go a long way to correct the situation. They are not only to provide higher pay for teachers, but also better schools for OUR children. Write a letter! Better yet, write three letters! One to each of our representatives in Tallahassee. You can reach Representative Mack Cleveland and Gordon Frederick by writing to them c/o the House of Representatives, and Senator Douglas Stenstrom can be reached at the State Senate. Do it now, because NOW is when it will do the most good.

Practically my last chance to remind all Enlisted men about next Monday's meeting at 8:00 p.m. at the U.S.O. and another reminder about the square-dancing lessons at the Chiefs Club.

My husband keeps asking me NOT to refer to the "Savage Sons" as V.A.H. 5 all the time! So, just for him, the "Savage Sons" won another soft-ball game on Wednesday! They went nine innings to beat what was considered their toughest competition, Fasron 5! Hope this keeps up, as things are mighty peaceful around here!

All this business about the proposed Sanford-Titusville Canal is very new to me, and to most of us who haven't been here too long. I don't pretend to know any of the details concerning it; "I only know what I read in the newspaper"! But I have heard enough to feel that it would be a good thing for this town, and many others along the way.

And whatever is good for Sanford, and will help it grow and prosper, should be good for all of us! The reason you're getting my "choice bits of thoughts" and not strictly Navy news, is because I ran out of that after the first couple of paragraphs!

Yesterday's Scheduled Game With Winter Park Called Because Of Rain

Last Year's Field Goal Shooting Is Most Accurate Ever

NEW YORK (AP)—Field goal shooting in college basketball during the past season was the most accurate ever, and yet overall scoring underwent the most marked recession in the 65-year history of the sport.

How is this paradox explained? By the ever-increasing trend toward possession-style basketball. Guided by the successes of San Francisco's two-time 1955 and 1956 national champions and North Carolina's top-ranked Tar Heels this year, college teams held the ball for the best shots more than they ever had before.

Final official statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau showed that 4,112 major college games this season produced an average of 144 points per game, compared to the all-time high of 146.6 for 1956.

While scoring decreased, field goal and free throw shooting accuracy went up, and for the fifth straight season fewer fouls were committed.

Personal fouls averaged 36.5 per game for both teams involved, as against 37.7 a year ago. Field goal shooting went up to 32.2 per cent from last season's 27.3, and free throw accuracy to 87.3 from 85.3.

Fast-breaking Connecticut won team offensive honors with an average of 87.6 points per game, and Oklahoma A&M was the top major college defensive team for the 18th time in the past 21 seasons. The Aggies' yield of 54.8 points per game was the highest

The fired up Sanford Seminoles baseball squad, who have turned their eyes toward the Orange Belt Conference title this season despite dropping two games in conference play, found themselves twiddling their thumbs again yesterday afternoon as their scheduled game with undefeated Winter Park was called because of a steady, unrelenting downpour that flooded the playing field in Harper-Shepherd field in Winter Park.

However, coach Dave Laude said this morning that the rain did not disappoint him or his charges. "We'll reschedule the game later in the season," he said, "and in the meantime we'll have a few more days to recondition the team and get the spark we need in the pinches."

The Seminoles move back into action on the home diamond at Memorial Stadium Tuesday night when they play host to Leesburg. "Our only shortcomings now are power at the plate and response when the pressure is on," Laude said of his remarkable Seminoles.

"Man for man they can take this conference, even if it is as tough as they come in this class."

When reminded that Sanford was one of the smallest schools in the OBC Laude replied tersely, "You can only put nine men on ever to win the honor. Ohio University was runnerup in offense with 87.1 points per game, Morehead Ky. State, the previous season's team scoring champion, wound up fifth this year. Only 24 teams averaged more than 80 points per game in 1956-57, compared to 33 the preceding year.

the field at a time!" Laude said, "We have no intention of letting the old saying that you can't do well the first year in a new conference' hold us back. We're playing a calculated risk for a three-way tie in the conference for first place, and I think we're the team that can do it."

Laude said that he was somewhat disturbed about the Winter Park game being called off. "I think we could have beat them yesterday," he said. "The boys were worked up to a lather and were ready to really put on a show. I'm not worrying about their not coming through the next time, but it may be a little late."

Laude said that his strategy had been based on the past record of Winter Park. "They're always great until someone beats them, then they start to fade fast," he said. "We were going to try to be the team to beat them."

Laude explained that the game may be scheduled after the regular season, in which case a defeat in Winter Park would not have the future psychological effect. "We could have played Winter Park and beat them yesterday, I think Cocoa will take them when they play again."

Laude said that the possibility of some other team upsetting the Wildcats from Winter Park was still not out of the picture. "Cocoa is a good team," Laude explained, "and they may be able to take Winter Park the next time."

Laude reaffirmed his original statement that with a little time to work out the kinks in his baseball machine he would still field a team that would take any team in the conference.

Track Records Are Rewritten By Seminoles

The most amazing thing about Seminole High School's athletic program this year is the blazing track records that have been rewritten this week under the careful guidance of athletic director Fred Ganas and three volunteers, Jarret Murray, Gene Legg, and Ed Rudisill.

Ten school track records have bitten the dust in favor of better marks this week and it looks like the trend will continue. Ganas, with a big, enthusiastic grin spread from ear to ear after Wednesday's track meet with New Smyrna Beach that turned into a lullaby victory for the spirited warriors, thanked the three men for their services, irreplaceable, to the school. "We can never thank you fellows for what you have done for the school," Ganas said.

The report was what had been expected. "Coach, we're just glad that the boys wanted to learn, and we're more than happy with the results."

Each of the three men is a specialist in certain track events, and every afternoon they come to Seminole High and spend two or more hours working individually with the boys.

Gene Legg and Ed Rudisill are stationed at Sanford Naval Air Station.

Ganas attributed the explosion of brilliant showing by the Seminole track team as a new study in form and determination. "These fellows are specialists and they are teaching the track members the proper form for the various sports. With their help we are able to give members of the team individual attention that was never possible when I had to work with the team alone."

It was form taught by Gene Legg that made Meredith Scott hurl the discus to a new record of 119'9"; it was form taught by Ed Rudisill that allowed Ronnie Giles to push the shot put to a new school record distance of 42'10"; and it was form taught by Jarret Murray on the pole vault that cleared for a beautiful new school record of 9'10" in the pole vault.

Ganas declared in no qualified statements, it's this sort of teaching by interested people that built the type school-community relations here that we have been hoping for for a long time."

But the school records haven't ended here. With more of coach Ganas' time free he has been able to give the runners individual attention. Murray Nance blazed the 100 yard dash for a school record of 10.6 seconds this week and then turned around to tie with Mike Tammy for a new school record on the 440 yard run of 55.6 seconds. It was new attention and good

FRED GANAS, SEM track coach and athletic director smiles warmly at the reasons why 10 new school records were established for the track team this week at the school meets. Left to right, Jarret Murray, who coached Don Mathieux to a new pole vault record, Gene Legg, stationed at SNAS, who coached Meredith Scott to a new discus throw record, Ed Rudisill, also stationed at SNAS, who coached Ronnie Giles to a new shot put record, and Ganas. The three men have volunteered their time to teach the track members the sports in which they are specialists and spend an average of two hours a day with the team each afternoon. ### Millers Leave Sanford; Spring Training Season Said 'Wonderful'

The Minneapolis Millers bade goodbye to Sanford and a "wonderful" Spring Training Season here in the newly finished New York Giants Farm Training Base this afternoon as the entire team, managers and press agents boarded a train at 3 p. m. bound for Minneapolis.

Robert Beebe press agent for the Millers said, "This town has been more cordial to us than any other that we have ever been in in Florida, and that is no slam at the other towns in Florida where we have been located."

The Millers were the tops in the New York Giant Farm System under the direction of Carl Hubbell. Their Triple-A organization is the building camp for the future Giant players.

The training period here, some six weeks, was described everything from "the greatest," to our "very best yet", and on down the line of descriptive and pleasing remarks.

But they aren't just words. While based in Sanford the Millers played 20 exhibition games either in Sanford or Daytona Beach and won 12 of them, lost only six, and tied two.

The good words about Sanford will spread, and it is the hope that the Giants will come here after their contract with Phoenix, Ariz., is expired in two years.

Coach Selection Narrowed To 3

GAINESVILLE — Selection of coaches for the North and South basketball teams for the Florida High School All Star game to be played here this August has been narrowed down to three from each of the two factions of the state. Cary McDonald, president of the Florida State Coaches Association, reported this week that a preliminary vote of the Association's membership places coaches Joe Bogart, Miami Edison, Jack Declrick, Winter Haven and Joe Pigotte, Wildwood, the leading vote getters in first balloting from South Florida.

Receiving the most votes among North Florida coaches are John Baldwin, Bishop Kenny, Sam Mitchell, Vernon, and Wade Odom, Gainesville.

The game is an annual affair in Florida Gymnasium on the University campus here.

i. Bergman Has Title Role In 'Anastasia'

"Anastasia," with Ingrid Bergman, Yul Brynner and Helen Hayes heading a stellar cast, will open Sunday at the Movieland Ride-in Theatre. This CinemaScope-DeLuxe color Twentieth Century-Fox production marks Miss Bergman's return to American-made motion pictures after an absence of seven years. It was produced on a lavish scale in Paris, Copenhagen and London under the personal supervision of Buddy Adler, executive producer for Twentieth Century-Fox, and was directed by Anatole Litvak.

The line version of "Anastasia" was drawn from the successful Broadway play by Guy Bolton and Marcelle Maurette, which dramatizes the enigma surrounding the youngest daughter of the late Czar of Russia. The intriguing plot deals with the attempt of four white Russians led by Yul Brynner to pass Miss Bergman as the real Anastasia, reputedly to have escaped execution at the hands of the Red Russians in 1918, and to collect the 10,000,000 pound legacy the Czar left in English banks for her. The strange mixture of fact and fantasy gives the picture great suspense and high dramatic content.

"Anastasia" was the coldest picture ever produced abroad by Twentieth Century-Fox. It was two years in preparation and was before the cameras for more than four months. Much of the action in the story takes place in Paris and Director Litvak utilized the famous St. Alexander's Cathedral, the Point Alexander III over the Seine and many of the winding side streets of the French capital to give the picture the same scenic authenticity that Rome gave to the well-remembered "Three Coins in the Fountain." Street scenes in Copenhagen and the world-famous Tivoli Gardens there also provide interesting backgrounds. The interior scenes in the picture are equally as impressive, showing the Royal Opera House of Copenhagen, Left Bank Russian night clubs in Paris, regal ballrooms and lavish drawing rooms. They were designed by Andre Andrejew, who is credited with revolutionizing the art of film designing in England in the 1930's.

"TOP SECRET AFFAIR," a new comedy from Warner Bros., the studio which brought "Mister Roberts" to the screen, stars Susan Hayward and Kirk Douglas. It arrives Sunday at the Ritz Theatre for its premiere showing. The film tells the story of the conquest of the U. S. Army's toughest General by the hilarious maneuverings of a beautiful but-never-tougher lady publisher.

Comedy 'Top Secret Affair' To Be At Ritz

You don't have to be a linguist to become a successful actor, but it helps. Kirk Douglas, who speaks German, Korean and Hungarian for his role as a Major General in Warner Bros' comedy, "Top Secret Affair" with Susan Hayward, attests to the truth of this thesis. The film premieres Sunday at the Ritz Theatre.

Of course it's not every actor who practically has a Berlitz School in his own home. Douglas maintains a fluency in German through conversation with his German cook. His own beautiful wife, the former Parisian Anne Baydars in his French professor. They speak French together each evening during dinner.

- Q. What is the name of this cut of meat? A. Club Steak. Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified? A. It comes from the short loin and is the smallest steak in that section. The tenderloin has practically disappeared. It contains the feather bone and may or may not contain part of the rib bone. Q. How is it prepared? A. It is usually broiled or pan-broiled. Club steaks cut 1 inch thick require 8 to 10 minutes per side for rare steak; 10 to 15 minutes per side for medium done steak. Steaks cut 1 inch thick are placed 2 inches from the heat and steaks cut 2 inches thick are placed 3 inches from the source of the heat.

Public Is Invited To Organ Concert Sunday Afternoon

The public is invited to attend a concert of music for the organ of Holy Cross Episcopal Church, Sunday, Apr. 14, at 3 p. m. This is the second concert presented during this winter season in Sanford by church organist Jack Bookhardt Jr.

Music will be heard from composers from the 18th, 19th and 20th centuries. Bookhardt will be represented by his famous Toccatina and Fugue in D Minor; Mendelssohn by his Sixth Sonata; Cesar Franck's Choral in E Major will be heard, along with works of two well-known Chicago musicians, Dr. Leo Sowerby and Eric Delmar, who recently resided in Daytona Beach. The program will conclude with Louis Vierne's "Cello," based on the theme of "Big Ben" at the Parliament buildings in London.

Bookhardt came to Sanford a year and a half ago to serve Holy Cross Episcopal Church as assistant-organist. A native of Winter Park, he holds a degree in music from Rollins College.

State," one of the dealers commented.

To replace the local Sanford State Farmers' Market with the same type of building or even lesser in appearance and fire resistance would not help the local market situation, a dealer said. The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce expressed interest in the local market and the replacing of the market with a modern, fire resistant building capable of handling vast volumes of produce and merchandize with available labor.

"We are forced to use mechanical aids in loading produce into trucks which would be impossible to do with wood flooring," one of the dealers burned out in the Apr. 4 disastrous fire said.

"One of the representatives or maybe all of the representatives and our Senator will be invited to attend, and we would like to see the State Market Director and other officials attend the meeting so that we might be advised of what plans are being made for the reconstruction of the market," it was said at the meeting.

It is also expected that Nathan Mayo, Agriculture Commissioner for Florida will also be invited to attend the meeting. The meeting will be held in the City Commissioners Room at the Sanford City Hall.

Guest Soloists In Cantata Told

A cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ" by Heinrich Schütz, will be presented Sunday evening at 7:30 at the First Baptist Church.

The choir of the church will be assisted by a group of soloists from Stetson University and by a string ensemble from that institution. Those taking part are as follows: soloists, Barbara Chaney Turner, soprano; Judson Rogers, tenor; Jack H. Coldiron, baritone; Evans McCoy, bass; Martin Stinecpher, bass; and Mrs. C. A. Tucker, alto.

Oviedo Experiences Falling Epidemic

By MARIAN JONES
OVIEDO—Several months ago there was an epidemic of people falling—from ladders, steps, etc. Since that time, fortunately, there have been no mishaps until within the past week.

The night of the Fleming-Ward wedding rehearsal Mrs. J. C. Faircloth fell leaving the church. Mrs. Faircloth is able to be out but has her side taped up.

The same afternoon Mrs. J. B. Jones Jr. hurrying to open the Post Office door to let the mail carrier in stumbled and fell over a mail sack. She injured both knees, one badly, her arm and side.

Congressman Herlong, "not tomorrow."

"They will have to re-program the present plans but there will not be new legislation for the immediate construction," said Herlong.

Congressman Herlong said "I am thrilled to death and elated over the fact that the Navy has decided to do this because it is utilizing the present facilities and expanding where a base was existing."

Mayor David Gatchel, speaking to Congressman Herlong after the Navy's release had been read said "We think you've done a wonderful job, Syd."

Congressman Herlong's reply was "The people have done a wonderful job, too."

Chamber of Commerce President Clifford McKibbin commented, as he spoke to the Congressman, "You and the boys up there did a wonderful job for us."

George Andrew Speer, President of the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce said "We want to thank you for all that you and Senators Smathers and Holland have done for us."

John Krider told the Congressman "There's no way to express our appreciation for what you have done."

Krider, talking with Captain Robert Jackson following the release of the Navy's Chief of Planning said "It's the biggest news we've had in a hundred years. We're very, very thrilled," he said.

Karlie Housholder, a member of the Chamber of Commerce Armed Forces Committee said this afternoon "I am completely happy—it shows that the people of Sanford, cooperating together can accomplish what they want."

City Commissioner A. L. Wilson commented today "It is certainly gratifying news and I think it is one of our finest efforts because of the way our citizens get together with city officials, the city's leaders, and our Washington delegation to put over this job."

Captain Robert W. Jackson, by telephone, said this afternoon shortly after the release was made "I am very, very pleased with the decision and most happy that the Navy has seen fit to remain in Sanford where the Navy is loved so much."

Immediately following the release, plans were made for a gigantic rally and parade this afternoon which is scheduled to take place at 4 o'clock. The parade, which will include the City Police Department, the Sheriff's car, the Highway Patrol cars, Fire Department apparatus, and hundreds of automobiles joining in, will form at the Chamber of Commerce building to tour downtown Sanford in a loud and jubilant expression of their appreciation for the Navy's release.

Present plans for the program at the Sanford Naval Air Station are to expand the facilities within the present limits of the Air Station. Runways will be lengthened and buildings constructed to take care of the immediate need. This will include barracks, hangars and other types of building that have been in demand for sometime at the local Naval Air Station.

Telephones have been ringing constantly at the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce office with citizens asking for additional information on the expansion program of the Navy.

Roy Green of Radio Station WTRR was on hand for the release of the news from the Navy Department and from Congressman Herlong. Within minutes of the release the radio station was broadcasting the news.

One of the officials attending the release of the news at the Chamber of Commerce office today shortly after one o'clock commented "Everyone is so happy that they're nervous and don't know what to say."

It was an unexpected release of the Navy's Planning Department since it had been earlier announced that it would possibly be June

"It's hard to tell how many types of planes I've worked on," the retired Chief said in an interview. "But the first plane on which I worked was a N3N-1 Navy Trainer—and that's a long time ago."

Travassos was a flight engineer aboard the famous Mars which transported tons upon tons of cargo into the Pacific and other areas during World War II. "I had a job in the air," he said. "The loads we carried and the things we did would be a story in itself."

"I like it here in Sanford," said Chief Travassos, "and I'd like to come back to live."

"If Pratt and Whitney were to send me back to Sanford then I'd be a happy man," he said.

Residents Are Happy Over News Navy Base Will Stay In Sanford

"A new Sanford was created" said a city official Friday afternoon following the excitement of an announcement from Admiral W. V. Davis, Chief of Planning for the U. S. Navy, that the local Naval Air Station would be expanded in the immediate future.

And as plans were unfolded for the actual construction of facilities by Captain Robert W. Jackson before a group of representative citizens of the City and County, officials became more optimistic in the future of the community.

FFA Comes Back From Contest With Top Honors

The Seminole High School Chapter of the Future Farmers of America ran away with top honors in the sub-district contests held in Tavares last Friday.

Out of the eight contests held, the local FFA group took five first and one second to cop the honors for their chapter.

The winners in the sub-district contests will appear in district competition on May 3 which will be held in the Edgewater High School auditorium.

Agricultural teacher W. B. West had high praise for the boys of the Seminole High School FFA chapter. He said that there were more than 100 boys participating in the all day affair. The only contests in which we did not take a top award was softball and in quartet competition. In the latter, the local chapter did not enter.

First places and awards were taken by Roger Jimenez for public speaking; Roger Jimenez, Billy Thompson, A. J. Clements, Randall Priest, Jimmy Williams, and Billy Tesio, as a group, took first place in parliamentary procedure.

Harold Frizzell took a first place with his harmonica; in horseshoe competition the team of Keith Abney and Harold Frizzell took first place; and Roger Jimenez took first place in tractor driving. Kathy Carlos took second place in the Chapter Sweetheart contest.

"We took the cream of the crop," said West as he praised the FFA boys for their part in the contests.

The announcement came from the office of Congressman A. "Red" Earlong Jr. in Washington. However, the announcement was made jointly by Senator Spessard L. Holland, Senator George Smathers and Congressman Herlong.

Senator Douglas Stenstrom, contacted in Tallahassee where he is attending the current session of the Florida Legislature said "It's the most pleasant news I've heard in a long time. I think the whole community should be commended on the fine way they approached the matter of keeping the Naval Air Station in Seminole County."

Representative Mack N. Cleveland Jr., also contacted in Tallahassee, said "I am pleased to hear of the expansion of the Naval Air Station in Sanford."

Meeting Called April 17th

The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, dealers and brokers on the Sanford State Farmers' Market, members of the Board of Sanford City Commission and the Board of Seminole County Commissioners, as well as interested citizens, will get down to "brass tacks" in discussing the proposed replacement for the facilities which were destroyed by fire on the morning of Apr. 4.

A meeting has been called by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce for Wednesday afternoon, April 17, in the commissioners' room of the Sanford City Hall, at 2 p. m.

John Kridar, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, in making the announcement of the meeting said that Lee Thompson, Administrative Assistant to Nathan Mayo, Commissioner of Agriculture, in Tallahassee, will be present at this meeting.

Representative Mack N. Cleveland Jr., contacted in Tallahassee, said "Since we had to undergo the tragedy we should make use of it and explore fully the view of those who will use the market. We'll do everything we can to give the people what they want. There's no need, because of the urgency to go into a rebuilding program haphazardly."

Plans have been explored for the replacing of the former frame market building and platform with a modern steel and concrete structure similar to the installations in Raleigh, N. C. and Pompano.

Senator Douglas Stenstrom told The Sanford Herald by telephone that "The Chamber of Commerce, market officials, and all of those who are interested in the progress of Sanford should present a united front to the Department of Agriculture to come up with a better possible type of market."

Said the Senator "I am pushing for a concrete and steel structure rather than a frame building with consideration given to a central administration type of market similar to the one in Raleigh, N. C."

"We need a modern market to provide storage facilities that would create a year 'round market and a 15-month payroll," he said. (Continued on Page Seven)

New Government Formed In Jordan

By United Press Staff Correspondent

Hussein Khalidi, a pro-Western Palestinian, succeeded today in forming a new Jordan government, an Amman dispatch reported. The Cabinet included ousted leftist former Premier Sulaiman Nabulsi.

Khalidi's reported success in setting up a new cabinet came in the midst of these other swift-moving developments which had threatened to turn the Jordanian domestic crisis into a new Middle East war:

King Hussein ordered the withdrawal of Syrian troops from Jordan.

A Damascus radio report said Jordan warned Israel that "any act of provocation or aggression" would be met by force.

The Jerusalem radio reported that the Iraqi government had warned Syria it would take "strict military measures" if Syria intervened in Jordan.

King Hussein, strongly pro-Western himself, noted out Nabulsi last Wednesday because of his pro-Soviet and pro-Egyptian views. Hussein solidified his power Sunday by ousting remaining pro-Egyptian elements from the government and the army.

Apparent Compromise
But his acceptance of Nabulsi in the Khalidi cabinet appeared to be a compromise by both sides in the interests of Jordanian national unity.

The Damascus broadcast said that a representative of King Hussein of Jordan visited all foreign embassies and legations in Amman this morning and asked them to inform their governments that "any act of provocation or aggression by Israel against Jordan will be met by the Jordanian army by force."

68,000th Landing On FDR Made

Sanford's Savage Sons of Heavy Attack Squadron Five this week celebrated successful completion of carrier qualification exercises by carrying a cake awarded the squadron by the crew of the USS F.D.R. marking that ship's 68,000th landing.

The monumental landing occurred as VAH-5 skipper, Comdr. Joseph M. Tully Jr., completed his re-qualification in the AJ aircraft. The cake was presented to the squadron by Capt. T. W. Hopkins, commanding officer of the F.D.R. and returned to Sanford where it was enjoyed by all hands.

A milestone in Savage Son history was reached as the AJ's came aboard and recorded the first carrier landings in this type aircraft for Comdr. Ira M. Rowell Jr., Lt. Cdr. Bob Osterholm, Lt. Bob Kennedy, and Lt. (jg) Gerry Ryman and Dean in the AJ. VAH-5 is now undergoing a period of evolution, phasing out the propeller driven AJ and training its pilots to fly the Navy's new, heavy jet bomber, the AJ1 Skywarrior.

Osterholm and Ryman are the Squadron's junior pilots and were recently selected to be the youngest AJ1 plane commanders in the Navy's Heavy Attack Program. Prior to this operation, both yearling aviators had not had the opportunity to drive an aircraft aboard ship since flight training days at Pensacola. Both had been attached to VAH-5 as bombardier navigators since 1954.

Lt. Cdr. Osterholm, although not a tactical crewmember of the squadron, had to undergo complete training and qualification in the squadron aircraft before he was considered eligible to fulfill his duties as squadron landing signal officer.

A new aircraft recently seen over Sanford is the Grumman F4U Corsair which was the Navy's first line fighter during the Korean War. The single engine jet is being employed by VAH-5 as a training aircraft to familiarize the pilots with jet performance prior to receiving the Skywarrior.
