 said Mr. Dawson.
 The newly formed Seminole Association adopted exactly the same platform as the Orange county growers in respect to citrus prices after President Higgins had told of the success of the two growers' meetings held in Orange county and of the enthusiasm stirred up.
 The resolution points out that of the Florida's 90,000,000 box crop, 89,000,000 boxes must yet be disposed of; that by establishment of four prices small growers may gain $100,000,000 and thereby vitally affect the economy of the state.
 W. G. Killbe, county commissioner and grower, stated that since Governor Caldwell has refused to call a special session of the Legislature to aid the growers, the growers should persuade state senators and representatives to hold a special hearing.
 He also urged repeal of the state law that compels growers to put their products through a packing house for out-of-state sale and advocated a law that would enable growers to sell fruit direct to truckers, or where and when they please.
 Lew Minders of Longwood stressed the importance of immediate action by growers. W. O. Roucher also called for quick action to keep growers from ruin. A. Clemens asked for removal of restrictions on sale of fruit to truckers. Lew Arnold declared: "The small growers are in this thing to the bitter end."
 Everyone at the meeting was invited to join except packers and shippers, said Mr. Dawson. Growers declared that they "are not fighting anyone, but just trying to keep from starving."
 Mr. Higgins, Orange County Association president, stressed to the growers the fact that there is no campaign for them to sign up or pay dues, but that each for himself will decide not to sell oranges at less than $1.25 box.

3,000 Letters With TB Seals Are Mailed

More than 3,000 letters containing Christmas Seals have been mailed in order to receive contributions which will enable the Seminole County Tuberculosis and Health Association carry on its work in combating tuberculosis. Mrs. C. R. Dawson, president, announced today.
 "I urge every individual receiving these letters to post their return mail as quickly as possible so that the Christmas Seal Sale may reach its goal and accomplish its purpose," she said. The program of this Association is made possible only by the purchase of Christmas Seals, and therefore I urge you as citizens to help us carry on the important work that is being done right here in Seminole County."
 The TB office has planned to stagger the Christmas Seal Sale mailing for the next 10 days. Mailing houses that wish to use seals may obtain them by calling 794 and the seals will be delivered. New people whose names might not appear on the mailing list are asked to telephone the office and seals will be mailed.

Marshall Gets Check

 his office for a few days. The tests lasted many days longer than expected, then, but Marshall added said they were of a strictly routine nature and that his basic health was good.
 Today, McDermott was asked whether his chief is again in Walter Reed. He replied that Marshall had been living there with some exceptions since he returned from Paris Now, McDermott said, Marshall "is undergoing in the next few days some further tests and examinations and hence he will not be at the office."
 McDermott recalled that Marshall attended a football game in Roanoke, Va., last Thursday and spent last weekend at his Leesburg, Va., home. Otherwise he has been at work every day but beginning today will spend all his time at the hospital for the "next few days."
 Asked whether there was any relationship between this development and Marshall's possible resignation, McDermott replied, "I stick to what I said."
 Asked whether Marshall's condition was serious or routine, he said "So far as I know he's in for a physical check-up."

Texas Stockman

 Police Capt. Frank Reynolds said that Jinkens' action was the most heroic he ever had seen. He said that the steer running amok among the huge crowd might have trampled many.
 Jinkens was aboard his horse awaiting his turn for an exhibition of how a cowboy and a quarter horse "cuts out" a steer when Jack Hart of Marshall, Tex., made a pass at the steer.
 The steer sliced, ran for the fence and cleared it at a bound, into the space between the wall and the stands where spectators crowd to watch the exhibition.
 Jinkens sized up the situation immediately. He moved his horse to the wall, and he leaped from the saddle over the wall and onto the steer. He thrust his fingers into the animal's eyes, hump around its neck and brought it to its knees.
 "Then I crashed it into the fence a couple of times to stop it," Jinkens said, "and guided it through a near-by gate into the show ring."

Cold Weather

 the south as river flood crests moved downstream, carrying the threat to middle and southern portions of Georgia and Alabama. Flood warnings still were posted from North Georgia to Southern Alabama. Flood waters posted over thousands of acres of low land in South Carolina.
 Across the country, generally, fair and colder weather prevailed today. The mercury dipped to near the zero mark in some parts of the country's coldest belt, which extended from the Rockies over the north central region. Low marks included 3 above at Baltimore, Mont., and Eagle, Wyo. The coldest weather extended into North Texas. There was some light snow in Northern Minnesota and blustery weather was reported along the Washington Coast.
 Snow fell in some eastern areas yesterday, including New York, Pennsylvania and Maryland. The fall measured four inches in Western Maryland but crews of workmen kept highways open.

Mme. Chiang Requests U.S. Aid For China

Chinese First Lady Arrives in Washington Aboard Truman's 'Sacred Cow'

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. (AP)—Mrs. Chiang Kai-shek, first lady of China, arrived today to seek new American backing for China's hard-pressed Nationalist government.

The Chinese first lady was met at the airport by Mrs. George F. Marshall, wife of the Secretary of State.

Ambassador Wellington Koo and other embassy officials also greeted her.

Madame Chiang arrived at 10:00 A. M. from San Francisco aboard President Truman's former personal plane, 'The Sacred Cow.'

Top American administration officials were missing. The State Department sent Walter Bultman, chief of its office for Far Eastern Affairs.

Madame Chiang left immediately with Mrs. Marshall for the Marshall home at nearby Leesburg, Va., without a word to reporters on her unofficial mission or other subject.

She will be Mrs. Marshall's guest there for the time being. There was no immediate announcement of her plans.

As she stepped from the plane, Madame Chiang was greeted first by H. King, former Chinese premier minister who is her brother-in-law. Then she was welcomed by Mrs. Marshall. They exchanged greetings and almost immediately drove away, accompanied by Stanley Woodward, chief of protocol for the White House and State Department.

K. W. Yu, secretary to Chiang Kai-shek who accompanied Madame Chiang from Shanghai, said she would spend all of today at the Marshall home. Ambassador Koo said he would confer with Madame Chiang there later today.

At the White House, presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said that Mr. Truman was represented at the airport by his Air Force aide Col. Robert Landry.

In reply to a question, Ross said he did not know with whom in the government Madame Chiang might confer.

Safety Statistics Are Outlined At Kiwanis Meeting

G.W. Carr Says Drunk Drivers Cause Most U.S. Wrecks

Out of every 57 automobile accidents in the United States last year, 54 were caused by drivers under the influence of liquor, according to National Safety Council statistics.

George W. "Bill" Carr, former educational director of safety for Kentucky and present resident of Holly Hill told Kiwanis at the Kiwanis Center today.

More than 20 percent of drivers and 29 percent of pedestrians involved in fatal auto accidents last year had been drinking intoxicating liquors, he declared.

He told of his work in safety education among motorists and the youth of Kentucky under the administration of Governor "Happy" Chandler, who had appointed him to the post. He cited the effective traffic work of 5,000 uniformed schoolboy patrols, and of the great reduction in accidents in that state as the result of the safety campaign.

Every time the pendulum of the clock swings at times, a person is injured in an automobile accident in the United States, Carr asserted, and that number is increasing. Last year, one out of every three born today will be either killed or injured in an automobile accident before reaching the age of 21. Five times as many die in auto accidents in the United States in one year as in the rest of the world, he said.

He also in reply to a question, Ross said that the State Department official who had been expected to accompany Madame Chiang would not be present.

Teenage 'Ring' Is Revealed In Newark

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 1. (AP)—Seven teenage boys were in custody today in connection with what police said was a drug-paying theft club which netted $8,000 in two years.

Detective John Frederick McGrath and Detective Robert Griffith said yesterday about half the loot was found in the clubhouse in the cellar of the 16-year-old leader's house. All the youths are from good families and ranged from 12 to 18 years of age.

The club divided up the take and the boys explained to their parents they got the money by working in bowling alleys as pin boys, the detectives said.

Police said the club was discovered after a janitor reported five boys acting suspiciously near Newark Academy last Friday. Police picked up three of the youths, and questioning led to four others.

McGrath and Griffith reported the youngsters also stole seven guns, discarded one and distributed the rest among friends.

Auto Death Toll Hits 25,720 In '48

CHICAGO, Dec. 1. (AP)—The nation's automobile accident record kicked off a smooth course in October and headed into the final lap of 1948 with a death toll of 25,720.

The traffic fatalities up to Nov. 9, with an increase of eight per cent in October, compare with 28,080 for the first 10 months of 1947.

The October toll of 3,290 -- a record month since 1929 -- virtually wiped out safety gains reported for the first three quarters of 1948. There were 3,050 traffic deaths in October, 1947.

"The nation is relaxing at the steering wheel," said Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council. "If November and December show a percentage increase as large as October, we are not going to save a single life this year."

Some 20,000 Estonians have taken refuge in Sweden since Soviet Russia absorbed them. Half of them had fled before the outbreak of the war. The other half fled during the war.

NAM Director Raps Flaws In U.S. Economy

Bunting Says Inflation, Insecurity, Inadequate Thrift Must Be Corrected

By H. C. JOHNSON
NEW YORK, Dec. 1. (AP)—Earl Bunting, managing director of the National Association of Manufacturers, today rapped inflation, security and inadequate thrift as three flaws in the American economy that the people must correct.

Bunting keynoteed the opening session of the NAM's 57th annual Congress of American Industry at the Waldorf Astoria.

The Congress has adopted national unity as the design of its three-day meeting. NAM's last national session since the Democratic victory in the national election. Businessmen, industrialists, labor leaders and government officials will strike the keynote of cooperation at the meeting, which ends Friday night with an address by Secretary of Commerce Sawyer.

Sawyer said in Washington yesterday, following a conference with President Truman, there is no reason for business to fear the administration's plans for fighting inflation. He stated that his speech here would give some idea of the anti-inflation program the President intended to carry out.

Frank Noyes of Associated Press Dies At Age Of 85

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. (AP)—President Truman said today the death last night of Frank B. Noyes, a dominating figure in American journalism, was a national loss.

At the age of six, he sold newspapers across the nation. He was an active journalist for 60 years, rising to the top of the publishing field in Chicago and Washington.

In a letter of sympathy to the family, Mr. Truman joined with other news editors, publishers and others in paying tribute to Noyes for many years president of the Associated Press.

Among other tributes were Attorney General Tom C. Clark, in the message, "Frank B. Noyes is a great American." Secretary of Agriculture Brannan. "The leadership of Frank B. Noyes in developing over the years wider and more thorough coverage of news about our government, its activities and its policies is a national loss."

Air Force May Have To Wait 2 Years For B-49 Flying Wing Units

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. (AP)—While the Air Force has big plans for its bombing units, it may be more than two years before it can form any combat units of its largest and longest-range jet, the B-49 Flying Wing. Thirty of the big jets are on order, but even estimated today it will be 1951 before enough are on hand for use by squadrons and groups.

The B-49 weighs 213,000 pounds and is designed to carry "over 15 tons" of bombs. Yet it is rated only as a medium bomber because of its 1,800 mile radius.

When converted, they will be designated RB-49s and used for long range, high speed reconnaissance. Experts explain that even though the general structure and layout is the same as the RB-36, the performance of the B-49 will be somewhat different.

The Air Force currently has only one "heavy" bomber, the standard engine B-36, which has a designed radius of "over 3,000 miles." Its intended range (the total distance flown) is 10,000 miles.

In fact, one B-36 has flown about 3,000 miles and some Air Force officials now talk of ranges up to 12,000 miles with 10 tons of bomb. The Air Force ordered 34 of the huge bombers from Consolidated Aircraft, of which about a score have been delivered.

Two groups of B-36s have been formed. They are based at Carswell Base, Fort Worth, Tex. The remainder are based at Barksdale, La.

GOP Head Says Party Must Slug With Demagogues

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. (AP)—The Democratic and Republican national committees today issued a joint statement calling for a "slug" with demagogues.

Gov. Thomas H. E. Dewey, in a hard-hitting letter to party workers yesterday, urged them to "dig in" to the "real" fight with the demagogues.

"We have had a fight with the radical demagogues and their alien philosophy of government," he declared, "but we have not lost the war."

That message was sent from his Democratic campaign, Senator J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island.

Approximately 100 Republican leaders at a national conference last night urged party workers to "dig in" to the "real" fight with the demagogues.

Rockefeller Center Erects Huge Tree

NEW YORK, Dec. 1. (AP)—Rockefeller Center proudly put up its 90-foot Christmas tree today but declined any idea of competing with California. The tree went up in sunny, brisk weather. The temperature was in the 60s. Hundreds of sidewalk superintendents were on hand. Ice skaters spun around the rink just below the giant tree, tallest ever erected here. Electric lights and ornaments as big as basketballs were placed on the upper part of the tree before it was raised with a crane. Two weeks ago little Redding, Calif., laughed at pretensions of New York and Los Angeles in the Christmas tree championship. It said its 1948 tree would soar 98 feet, topping Los Angeles' entry by three feet.

Citrus Shipping Regulations To Be Debated Tuesday

LAKELAND, Dec. 1. (AP)—The Federal Citrus Marketing Agreement Committee will meet Tuesday to consider citrus shipping regulations, previously set up for the three weeks' citrus season Monday.

Frank Seymour, secretary of the committee, said the special meeting was called in response to demands from several sections of the state which want to ship citrus fruit.

The regulations, which allow movement only of No. 1 grade fruit, oranges, grapefruit and lemons.

The coming weeks normally are among the best of the year for demand and price because buyers are stocking up for the Christmas holidays.

Female Institution To Get Classy Name

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 1. (AP)—Florida's new female correctional institution near Ocala may get the less penal sounding name of "Forest Hill."

Another suggestion made at a meeting of the institution's advisory committee was "Sugar Hammock" because that is the local name for the spot it is being built.

However, the committee declined to recommend to the state cabinet that the contractor be allowed to erect a highway sign at the building site with the name "Forest Hill" in big print.

Warren Names Schott To Head Beverage Group

DAYTONA BEACH, Dec. 1. (AP)—Governor Elmer F. Wheeler today named Lewis Schott, 27, Daytona Beach attorney and municipal judge, to be director of the State Beverage Department during the forthcoming administration.

Schott, a native of New Jersey, attended the Citadel in Charleston, S. C., and was subsequently graduated in law from the University of Florida. He is a veteran of World War II.

Following his graduation he was associated with Alfred A. Green of Daytona Beach for a year, and later formed a law partnership with James T. Nelson. He was appointed municipal judge in 1947.

Schott married Marcia Whitney of Jacksonville, also a graduate of the University of Florida law school. They have one son, David Whitney, age 16 months.

In announcing the appointment, Warren said:

"The beverage department collects beverage and cigarette taxes and enforces the beverage laws. Last year, it collected $21,400, 000.58 in beverage taxes, and $12, 326,789.00 in cigarette taxes. This was the state's second largest source of revenue, exceeded only by the gasoline tax which yielded $42,823,870.25.

"Certain beverage laws are designed to protect public morals, particularly the morals of minors. It is important, therefore, that these laws be strictly enforced. This is my intention."

World Plan For Wheat

A new effort to make an international wheat agreement is planned by the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization, meeting in Washington. President Truman told the group he has reason to hope the next Congress may be more willing to have the United States join in such an agreement than was the last one. Apparently Russia and Argentina would still be missing if an agreement should be reached this winter.

The purpose is to stabilize the amount and price of wheat moving in world trade for five years. It is hoped that more wheat would then be produced, since growers would know in advance that there would be an export market for a certain quantity of wheat at an established minimum price. More trade in wheat also is viewed as an influence which might stimulate other commerce, and lead to other agreements for increasing it.

As long as the aim is abundance, wheat trade agreements should be good. Unquestionably there is need for more wheat in the world, and for better distribution of it. The same is true of other foods. However, in the long run there is likely to be a situation in which the world price drops below the treaty price. Then comes a tug-of-war between the aims of producing more and of supporting prices at a fixed level. A plan should be ready for that situation.

In the past history of the world, market surplus of food always has been the result of inability of people to buy it, rather than of having more than was needed. That should be borne in mind when agreements are made to hold prices at some fixed level over a period of years, or to curtail production.

Angus Steer Named Best At Stock Show

CHICAGO, Dec. 1, (AP)—Cattle at the 45th International Livestock Exposition are "unsurpassed anywhere." The champions selected are great champions. That is the opinion of A. D. Weber, chief judge of the famous show, in its fifth day.

Weber, first American cattle expert chosen to judge of the show since it began in 1900, selected "Old Gold," an Aberdeen Angus as grand champion steer.

The 1,200 pound glossy black animal, entered by C. E. Yoder and sons, of Muscatine, Ia., was chosen yesterday from among the two Angus and two Herefords in the finals competition.

Vote Recount Gives Demos Another Post

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1, (AP)—A vote recount giving Democrats another House seat in New York boosts to 33 the edge they will hold over Republicans in the House in the new Congress.

The line-up, on the basis of the New York recount showing John C. Davis (D) elected over incumbent Hamilton Fuller (R) in the 35th (optate) district, will be: Democrats 263, Republicans 170 American-Labor 1, vacancy 1.

The vacancy, also in New York, is in a normally Democratic district (Brooklyn) which had been represented by the late John J. Delany (D), who died after the election.

 dent will lay before Congress in January.

Binding called for cooperation between industry and government and between management and labor in addressing more than 750 businessmen and industrialists in the Waldorf Astoria's grand ballroom. NAM expects more than 3,000 will attend the Congress.

Optimism in the immediate future of business appeared to be the prevailing mood of the audience as they applauded Hamilton's call on "all groups and all opposing forces to put teamwork first with the public interest as the one paramount measure." "Capitol and labor would be lost without each other," Hamilton said.

Matthew Wall, vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, said that destruction of the free and voluntary organizations of labor will "drive the masses" to legislative and political measures "with shackles of statism increasing and curtailment and negating the rights of all."

Court Is Asked To Integrate State Bar

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 1, (AP)—The State Bar Association today asked the Supreme Court to require all Florida lawyers to become members of a self-governing professional organization.

In its petition for an "integrated bar," the lawyers' group said a poll of Florida attorneys had drawn 1,311 votes in favor of the action and 500 against. It reported that on September 15, 1947, there were 2,700 lawyers in the state including members and non-members of the present bar association. The Supreme Court rejected a similar petition in 1938. The bar association said in its present petition the earlier request "may have been prematurely filed."

BIBLE VERSE TODAY

NO ANTISEPTIC IS NEEDED IN THE LIFE WHOLLY COMMITTED TO GOD. The fear of the Lord is clean, enduring forever.—Ps. 19:9

The City of New York is planning to install parking meters as a means of unloading the traffic congestion. First thing you know they may come around to a lot of Sanford's more progressive ideas.

Rep. Thomas wants the "payroll padding" charge against him dropped... not because he is innocent, you understand, but because the grand jury was improperly drawn, and the statute of limitations has outlived the charge.

Friends of automobile dealers get their automobiles first, an investigation in Washington reveals... And so do Congressmen. Human nature, it seems, is pretty much the same no matter what you find it.

Sanford residents, formerly of Due West, S. C., will be interested to learn that Dr. W. L. (Buck) Presly has just been awarded a gold medal as the outstanding family doctor of the year by the American Medical Association.

Buried Million

The question which immediately pops into the taxpayer's mind, on reading of the discovery of a buried dump of war-time airplane engine parts variously valued at one to six million dollars, is "Who paid the bill?" The unpleasant guess is that the federal government probably paid it. The reader also is likely to wonder whether they were buried to hide some one's blunder.

As this appears to offer a juicy subject or investigation, it probably will be looked into, and it should be. Regardless of whose money is involved, if it is true that the parts are for types of aircraft engines still in use, and if they were fit for use when dumped, then the waste is inexcusable. Not only money was wasted, but also scarce materials and productive time. If the end of the war made the parts useless, and it was not worth while to salvage them, then the items can only be charged off as one of the absurd but perhaps unavoidable costs of war.

The incident should not be investigated with the chief aim of making a scandal, or of exposing the persons responsible, although if there has been criminal negligence or fraud it should be punished. The primary purpose of probing it now should be to find out why it occurred, so that such waste can be prevented in the future.

Stock Mart Snaps Out Of Down Trend

NEW YORK, Dec. 1, (AP)—The stock market snapped out of a downward trend today and advanced fractions to 2 points or so. Trading expanded to the fastest rate in a couple of weeks.

Wall street quarters offered a variety of reasons for the recovery, including a let-up in tax-selling, and bargain-hunting influenced by the fact the general level of prices is now near the low of the year. Steels, rails and motors made the best showing.

Among gainers were U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, General Motors, Chrysler, Studebaker, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Baltimore & Ohio, Nickel Plate, Atlantic Coast Line, Standard Oil of California, Shell Oil, Mission Corp., Montgomery Ward, Douglas Aircraft, Union Carbide, American Woolen, and Eastern Air Lines.

Gainesville Row

 Ocala police in holding Coach Buster Bishop and trying to remove him from his place on the sidelines. The police refused to believe that Bishop was the coach even after being so informed by several persons, Buchholz claimed.

Buchholz also took issue with the Ocala police actions in chasing the Gainesville cheerleaders off the sidelines and said that it had been reported one policeman attempted to draw a gun on the crowd.

During the mele with Bishop on the sidelines, Ocala scored a touchdown to break a 0-6 tie and win the game, 13-6.

Buchholz asked an apology for the "misconduct" of the Ocala police and assurance that no similar incidents would happen again.

Mayor Green in his letter of reply stated that he had investigated the reported incidents and found no basis for the Gainesville claims and that the statements made by Buchholz were "a gross injustice to the Ocala police," which, the Mayor added, "I have long taken considerable personal pride."

 strike breakers." He did not explain the connection between his charge and today's disturbances.

The GIO United Steel Workers called a strike at the plants Sept. 7 in a demand for contract changes. Wages were not an issue. About 700 employees originally were involved. The company claimed, however, that 500 returned to their jobs in a recent back-to-work movement.

Chief Hecht said about 30 of 40 cars roared into Edlamonson about dawn and barred streets around the plants. The raiding squad over-turned about a dozen other cars, he added.

The raiders began throwing bricks through plant windows and into parked cars, the officer added.

Tampa Parents Ask Release Of Coach

TAMPA, Dec. 1, (AP)—The Hillsborough County School Board tomorrow will receive a school trustee request for suspension of James E. Hughes, Plant High School football coach, pending a public hearing on formal charges for dismissal.

A committee of parents last night accused Hughes of misconduct and incompetence in a demand for dismissal presented to the trustees. The trustees voted to forward the charges to the school board with a recommendation that the school board file such charges against Hughes.

The parents accused Hughes of using physical violence and abusive language on students on the football practice field.

Hughes told reporters today "I have never seen a more vicious and unwarranted attack than that made against me last night. I am going to fight it to the end."

Future For Polls

A quick newspaper check in four cities, three in the Midwest and one in the East, gives professional poll takers a few figures from which to say that the people think the polls should be continued.

The polls have served useful purposes in the past and probably can do so in the future, provided they do not again assume the aura of great importance which somehow had settled over them before the November 2 debacle. This experience should have a healthy effect on both the poll takers and their reading public. Opinion surveys are not flawless; they are not accurate, decimal-point statistics; they are not authoritative pronouncements of the state of mind of the American public.

The polls should not be expected to determine the outcome of elections in advance. Their use should not be to guide the course of legislation, or of the administration of government. If their limitations are kept in mind, they can continue to be interesting and useful as indicators of trends of thinking. They are no more than that.

 this year as in the past. However, he reported slight change has been made in letter designations for various type vehicles. Letter suffixes also will be used in counties having heavy sales, he said, because of space limitations.

The price of private passenger automobile tags ranges from $1.00 to $4.00, according to county. It varies for commercial vehicles and trucks, according to use and weight.

Livingston, who will take office upon the inauguration of Fuller Warren as governor, said he plans to spend as "much time as possible" this month in learning the duties of commissioner.

Governor Caldwell previously said he was willing to appoint Livingston as Kilgore's assistant so he could be more familiar with the office activities and routine.

However, Livingston said personal affairs will prevent him from assuming any official duties until January.

Jan. 15 is the deadline for use of 1947 tags, unless an extension is granted by Warren after he takes office. No extension has been granted for the past several years.

Meanwhile in Nanking, two Nationalist army groups were reported separately trying to establish a "new defense line to save the army capital from advancing Chinese Communists."

Diplomats expect to hear from the government — perhaps within 24 hours — that Nanking is no longer safe for them. Despite government denials, it was learned reliably such a warning is being prepared.

These developments came as the government abruptly cut its air link with isolated Suchow some 200 miles northwest of Nanking and deployed its forces for a battle to save the northern capital city.

A new defense line was reported under construction on the southern bank of the Hwai River, about the approaches to the lower Yangtze valley and 100 miles northwest of Nanking.

The line is anchored to Pengpu, on the rail line midway between Nanking and Suchow, and is being manned by the bulk of some 85,000 troops in the Sixth and Eighth Army Groups.

Those groups are the last major Nationalist force standing between Communist armies and Nanking.

Heavy bomb groups (B-36s) two; medium bomber (B-29s and B-50s) 13; light bombers (A-26 and, when they are ready for assignment to units, jet-powered B-45s) three; fighters (standard F-47s, F-51s and jet F-80s and F-84s) 26; tactical reconnaissance (planes of moderate range) four; long range reconnaissance (B-29s converted for camera and mapping work) four; troop carrier eight.

A heavy bomber group consists of 18 planes, medium 30, light 45. A fighter group averages about 75 planes.

Informed authorities say that six B-29 groups soon will have converted B-29 tankers flying with them. The size of these groups will be expanded from 30 to 45 bombers, with 20 tankers to refuel them in mid-air to extend their range.

On the basis of the budget for the current year, the air force planned to build up to 66 groups by next June 30. This would be done by adding five more B-29 and two more long range reconnaissance groups.

President Truman, having been safely elected over Governor Dewey following the latter's appeal for unity, now says "Me too" to the Governor's program. Calling for "teamwork on the domestic scene," the President says to State Labor Commissioners, "Only as we maintain and improve our teamwork on the domestic scene can we meet our world commitments and build world teamwork to achieve recovery and lasting peace." We are glad to see that the Administration now recognizes this simple-basis fact. Ever since 1945 The Herald has carried at the top of its front page the slogan, "In Unity There is Strength."

Advocates of World Government meet in the Sanford Court House to hear Dr. George Saute of Rollins College explain the aims and objects of the organization. Each nation would sacrifice its sovereignty over international policies, give them to the World Government, but as the sovereign states of the United States gave to the federal government control over foreign affairs. Thus controversies arising between nations would be settled by world legislative bodies or World Supreme Courts and wars should become obsolete. This may seem a ambitious program in the light of United Nations failure, of current controversies raging throughout the world, if ever anything is to be done.

LIMA BEAN CASSEROLE

1 cup chopped green pepper

The conference in the morning will take place in the small coffee room with registration starting at 9:00 A. M. and the opening of the meeting at 10:00 A. M. Immediately following the luncheon the group will gather at the new Garden Club building which is under construction at Mellonville Avenue and First Street where cornerstone ceremonies will take place.

11 Schools Represented On '48 AP All-American Team

Fischer, Bednarik, Walker Are Repeaters On First Team; Justice Is Named

By TED SMITS
Associated Press
General Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (AP)—Despite college football's domination trend in 1948 towards subordinating the individual to the team, heroes performers stood out across the land to constitute The Associated Press All-American team.

But unlike All-Americans of recent years, no college in 1948 contributed more than one man to the first eleven, not even those great power teams, Michigan and Notre Dame.

Three first team men are back: Bill Fischer of Notre Dame at tackle; Chuck Bednarik of Pennsylvania at center; and Donk Walker of Southern Methodist at the backfield.

Geographically the All-American reflects the middle-western domination of the sport. Four from the first team come from that area, two from the east, two from the south, two from the southwest, and one from the Pacific coast.

Virtually all the several hundred Associated Press staff writers, newspaper sports editors, and broadcasters who joined in nominating the team agreed on five men—Dick Rifeburg of Michigan at end, Buddy Burris of Oklahoma at guard, Harkness Charlie Justice of North Carolina, Fischer and Walker.

The rest of the first team members had sharper competition for their posts: Barney Poole of Mississippi at end, Leo Nomellini of Minnesota at tackle, Rod Franz of California at center, and Bill Baker of Army at half back.

Michigan, Notre Dame and California, rightfully, are the only teams to place men on more than one team. In addition, Rifeburg at first team end, Michigan, is represented in the second team backfield with its sophomore sensation, Charles Ortman, of whom great things are predicted.

Back of Notre Dame's Fischer is Emil Sisko in the second team backfield and Leon Hart at third team end, all sterling performers.

California's Jack Jensen, a highly regarded back, is on the third team with Franz on the first.

Two Platinum System Sharpshooters of this year over bestowing All-American honors centered on the merit of recognizing men who played only offense or defense under the spreading "two platinum" system.

Separate defensive and offensive All-American first teams were proposed. Should the present cleavage widen this could become a possibility. For the present, however, to deny acclaim to men such as Justice, Rifeburg and Stuart merely because they were used primarily as offense seems unfair.

All are great enough athletes to play defense if needed.

The rest of the first team is made of men used throughout the game.

As might be expected at the end of a highly successful college football season during which no first rate team went unscored on, and the greatest emphasis was put on offense, contention for backfield honors was keen.

The entire second team backfield—Slyde Scott of Arkansas, Ortman of Michigan, Sisko of Notre Dame, and Johnny Rauch of Georgia—is of first team caliber.

Walter Stewart, who has watched plenty of ball carriers from his vantage point in Memphis, Tenn., says of Scott that "we have never studied an athlete who could buckle into the line with such dazzling velocity—with so little cost motion as such high-kneed venom."

Leading the first team backfield are probably the only genuine, dyed-in-the-wool triple-threat all-around performers left in this day of specialists—Charlie Justice of North Carolina, a 165-pound throwback to the days of infrequent substitutions, and Donk Walker of S.M.U., three pounds heavier. Both run, pass, and punt—and block and tackle as well, when necessary.

Justice, a 24-year-old junior, who was in the Navy during the war, and married, and the father of a young son, is modest off field, but a terror on it. "His play and leadership are an inspiration," says his coach, Carl Snaveley. Typical of his versatile play was his performance against Georgia, defeated by North Carolina, 21-14.

Justice scored three touchdowns, one on an 84-yard punt return. He completed 13 out of 22 passes for 198 yards, and averaged 42.5 yards on four punts.

Justice is a tricky runner, accomplishing by shiftsiness and hip-wheeling what others do with ball strength.

Art Murakowski, on the other hand, gains ground through terrific speed and strength. The 195-pound power-house of North-western's backfield splits opposing lines wide open, and once in the clear he cannot be hauled down. He plays both offense and defense, is 23 years old, served in the Navy, including rough action on a destroyer mine layer at Okinawa.

"Murakowski has terrific speed," says his coach, Bob Voigts, "and he's as good a defensive back as there is in the Big Nine Conference today. He's exceptionally fast on trap plays and his speed makes him very good on end sweeps."

Darling of Texas is Donk Walker of Southern Methodist, a 21-year-old junior. "He is one of the greatest players of all time in the southwest," says his coach, Matty Bell. Walker served in both the Merchant Marine and the Army.

In the first eight games of the season Walker carried the ball 91 times for 412 yards, passed 37 times with 23 completions for 238 yards and six touchdowns, and averaged 43.4 yards on 21 punts. He returned eight punts for 118 yards and three touchdowns.

Walker reserves Justice as a runner, using his interference effectively and fending tacklers out of position.

Fourth member of the first team backfield is a solid, hard-running successor to Glenn Davis at West Point—Bobby Stuart, five feet, seven inches, and 175 pounds. He has to his credit one of the longest of all touchdown runs, 103 yards—an important factor in his team's 26-20 defeat of Pennsylvania.

"He is a great team player with spirit and drive," says Coach Earl Bark of Army. "Playing his last year at the Point, he had a net gain of 826 yards by rushing before the Navy game, averaging 7.6 yards for each try."

At end is the star of one of the nation's great teams, Dick Rifeburg of Michigan. He is six feet, three inches, 197-pound senior, whose level was so high that individual merit often was lost. In Big Nine conference play, the tough-tackle there is, he gained more than 500 yards on passes, scoring four touchdowns, and made 72 yards in ten end-around rushes.

Rifeburg's ability to get behind the secondary, plus his catching skill, is the basis of his playing style. A long-striding runner, he made many over-the-shoulder and off-balance catches.

Seventh Year for Poole
At the other end is George Barney Poole, the smallest back at Rifeburg, but weighing 229 pounds. This is his seventh and last year of college football. He played one year as a Marine V-12 trainee at North Carolina, three at West Point with the great teams of 1944-46, and three at Mississippi.

His experience gives him an edge on his opponents. Between plays he seems almost sluggish and uninterested, conserving his energy for action. On defense, he can crash into opposing backfields almost before the ball is snapped, and as a pass receiver his size and speed make him a terror. "He's a great football player," says Coach Johnny Vaughn.

At first team tackles are two giants, Leo Nomellini is six-foot-two, 24 years old, 250 pounds. He served 19 months in South Pacific in the Marines, and is a junior at Minnesota. The heaviest lineman on the squad, he is great at recovering fumbles. The team calls him "Leo the Lion" because of his roaring voice. "The closest thing to Bronko Nagurski in sheer physical prowess I've seen since Nagurski," says Coach Bernie Bierman. Nomellini played tackle on Tulane Nearly Dominates Soph Team of S.E.C.

By STERLING SLAPPEY
ATLANTA, Dec. 1 (AP)—The Tulane Green wave nearly dominates the Associated Press 1948 All-Southeastern sophomore football squad by supplying more than one-third of the players on the first team.

Using the first and second sophomore teams as a model, Tulane should lead the conference for the next two years. In addition to four men on the first team the wave placed two men on the second eleven.

Alabama, Tennessee and Georgia Tech are represented with two players each on the first team and Kentucky with one.

Paul Len, Tulane's 220-pound tackle from New London, Texas, received 60 votes, more than any other player, and therefore is elected captain of the first year varsity men. Len also is first string tackle on the AP All-Southeastern.

Second place in voting went to Georgia Tech's top tackle, field runner, Bob McCoy of Chattanooga. Tom McCoy, guard, Denny Doyle of Tulane and tackle Bob Gain of Kentucky won squad positions on the All-Southeastern in addition to being first stringers on the sophomore team.

Besides Len and Doyle, other Tulane players on the first sophomore team are backs Joe Ernst and George Kniek.

Alabama's Ed Salem counts on a backfield which is a close second to the regular All-Southeastern backfield.

Tech's other sophomore star is end Dick Havin. Tennessee's two members are end Bud Stewart and guard Ray Ekus. In addition to Salem, the Crimson Tide represented by center Pat O'Sullivan.

The 1948 sophomores are selected for the Associated Press by Southeastern head coaches and sports writers.

HARDLY A STRANGER
DETROIT (AP)—Halfback Earl Maves, who headed the Detroit Lions of the National Football League, hardly came as a stranger to Elm coach, B. McMillen. In 1946, Maves sprinted 70 yards for a touchdown that enabled the University of Wisconsin to beat McMillen-concocted Indiana 14-7.

Teams Are Selected For Cigar Bowl Tilt

TAMPA, Dec. 1 (AP)—St. Thomas College of St. Paul, Minn., loser of only one game this season, today was selected to oppose the powerful Missouri Valley Vikings here in the annual New Year's Day Cigar Bowl game.

J. Rex Farquhar, chairman of the selection committee, and the St. Thomas Tommies were chosen after heavy consideration for the Bowling Green (Ohio) team and Wofford College of South Carolina.

Pete Marone, brother of the Philadelphia Eagles' guard, Duke, is one of the top prospects on the Villanova college freshman team. He is 220-pound tackle.

HOW DOES KEYSTONE COMPARE WITH OTHER BUSINESS?

What about also—just how big a "concern" are Keystone clients putting money into when they purchase a Certificate of Participation in a Keystone Fund? At the beginning of 1948—

Of all (930) life insurance companies, only 43 had larger admitted assets than Keystone.

Of all (14,714) commercial banks in the U. S. only 94 had deposits greater than Keystone's net assets. Of all (533) Mutual Savings Banks, only 22 had deposits greater than Keystone's net assets.

Of all (1,370) corporations on the New York Stock Exchange, only 67 had as many shareholders as Keystone.

Based on a Federal Board study of the number of investors one out of every 120 investors in the entire country is a shareholder in one or more Keystone Funds.

Bailey Says English Has Had Progressive Term In School Office

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 1. (Special)—When State School Supt. Colin English turns over the reins of the State Department of Education on Jan. 4 "he will have completed a 12-year term noted for its great progress in education in Florida," Superintendent-elect Tom Bailey said today.

"Although many factors enter into the improved educational picture in Florida," Bailey said, "English should receive much of the credit for providing the necessary and spirited leadership.

"As Florida's state superintendent of public instruction since 1936 he has led the state school system through some of its most trying days. And from a system rated as one of the lowest in the nation, he has helped it grow into one of the best in the country," the superintendent-elect declared.

Bailey said Florida's system of public education is now the pattern for many other states and the state's reputation for an excellent education system is now nationwide.

In a summary of English's 12-year term as Florida's top school man the State Department of Education has listed four major gains made in the last 12 years.

1. The quality of classroom instruction has improved. The state school department says the courses now offered Florida school children are more comprehensive and the teaching methods are better.

2. Better "supporting facilities" such as school buildings and training aids are in use in the schools. Expansion of the school bus, school lunch, and school building programs are named by the department as "great education gains."

3. Educational funds are more wisely spent, according to the school department. Money for education is spent where it will do the most good, they say.

4. Although $200,000,000 worth of school building construction and repair is still needed the capital outlay provisions of the new school bill and the establishment of the state-aid principle of helping counties build and repair schools has been of great assistance," the report says.

5. "Great progress" has also been made in school building planning and construction during the last 12 years, the report continues.

6. The bill, based on the principle of "equal opportunities for all school children," raised the state's contribution to education from $18,000,000 a year to a top of $40,000,000 for 1947-48 and a top of $42,000,000 for 1948-49.

The department says all these resources of the State Department of Education were thrown into the Citizens Committee program. But, they point out, the greatest credit for the bill goes to the legislature, the civic groups and the newspapers of the state who joined in the fight.

In addition, the department reports, no major program of education presented in the last 12 years has been defeated.

And Florida now has two "firsts" in education.

Florida's teacher salary average of $2,682 leads the south and ranks 18 in the nation, according to a survey made by the Missouri State Teachers association.

More than 78 per cent of the state's teachers now hold four-year college diplomas, according to the education department. And superintendent-elect Bailey has estimated 90 per cent of the teachers as college-trained in 4 to 6 years.

In addition, Florida leads the nation in the percentage of students in the school lunch program. More than 33.3 per cent of all Florida school children get their noon meal at school, a U. S. Department of Agriculture survey shows.

7. "The three representatives desire to make it clear that they must reserve entirely the position of their governments as regards any resolution which may subsequently be submitted to the Security Council after the committee have reported."

The Goodyear Blimp "Mayflower" is scheduled to make an overnight stop at Sanford today. W. B. Ellerbe, of Rockey's Tire Shop announced this morning. The blimp is enroute from its home base at Akron, Ohio, to its Miami winter base. Plans call for the ship to land at the Sanford Municipal Airport where it will be available for public inspection after 3:00 P. M.

Berlin Attacks

Branigin's latest procedure for establishing a separate administration in the Soviet sector claiming jurisdiction over the entire city.

"The three Western Powers cannot agree that they should be bound to submit to all Soviet measures which add to and intensify the Soviet blockade or which interfere with the city administration, while the Soviet remains uncommitted to any restraint," the note declared.

"The three governments therefore repeat the reservation of their right, declared to the Security Council when the Berlin question was submitted to that body, to take such measures as may be necessary to maintain in these circumstances their position in Berlin pending the outcome of further efforts of the president of the Security Council."

In accepting the proposal to establish a committee of neutral experts to study Berlin currency and trade problems, the Western Powers made a further reservation.

can be seen that the Beverage Department vitally affects the welfare of all the people of Florida. "Because of the nature of the business over which the beverage director has supervision he should be a man of high morals and unflinching integrity."

"Nobody in the liquor industry has asked me to appoint Lewis. He has no entangling alliances with the liquor industry. He is free and unfettered to do his full duty to the state and to the liquor industry. He has a heart and a head which will enable him to do so."

"I have carefully considered his age. He has the maturity and sound judgment of a middle-aged man. Two of the present justices of the Florida Supreme Court were circuit judges when about 27 years of age. With Judge Schott as director, the Beverage Department will be operated fairly and efficiently."

James T. Vucelle of Vero Beach prescribes is state beverage director. The position pays $8,000 a year.
