

Fifteen Cases Are Listed On Court Docket

Five Disorderly Conduct Charges Are Reviewed By Judge

Fifteen cases appeared before Judge Frank L. Miller at Municipal Court yesterday at the Public Station, with disorderly conduct the principal charge. Five such cases were listed on the court docket.

The case against Randall Welch, charged with damaging city property, was continued. The case against W. H. McClintock, charged with drunkenness, estrated a bond of $5. P. P. Stevens, Jr., docketed on a charge of speeding, was found guilty and fined $5. The case against W. H. McClintock, who was charged with operating a business without a license, had his case dismissed, as did James Giles, who was brought up on a reckless driving charge. Buck Gardner, charged with drunkenness and found guilty, was given a sentence of 30 days in jail. These cases were all white people.

Colored persons listed on the docket include the following: Bishop Allen, brought up on a charge of investigation of petit larceny, had his case dismissed. The case against Paul Stevens, charged with disorderly conduct, was also dismissed. Charges against Frank Lathrop for disorderly conduct were continued. The case against Mrs. Princes was brought before the court on two charges, assault and carrying concealed weapons. She was found guilty on both counts and on the first was sentenced to 30 days in jail, and on the second to 60 days.

Anisley Toles, accused of disorderly conduct, had his case dismissed, as did John English, also charged with disorderly conduct. Polly Miller was docketed on two charges, carrying a concealed weapon and drunkenness. On the first charge she was found guilty and fined $25 or 30 days, and on the second she was also judged guilty and fined $10 or 30 days. The case against Sylvester Miller, accused of disorderly conduct, was dismissed.

Buyers Of Seeds Receive Protection

Buyers of vegetable seeds now can read the label and know what they're getting, according to the department of agriculture. The new Federal Seed Act as it applies to vegetable seeds shipped from one state to another is administered by the Agricultural Marketing Service. It went into effect August 9, and provides that each bag, or carton, or packet of vegetable seed must be labeled to tell the buyer what he needs to know when he buys seed.

The Federal Seed Act requires that the kind and variety of the seed be shown on each package. The crops produced must be true to name or as represented on the label. The label must show the name and address of the person or organization shipping the seed.

And—if the seed isn't up to the minimum germination required—the label must show the percentage germination at the time it was tested, the date of the test, and in plainly printed letters the words, "below standard."

Under the act, vegetable seeds must be properly labeled, honestly advertised, and honestly represented in every way.

Saying "Ain't" Ain't Going To Stop Him

FORT WORTH, Tex., Aug. 20 (AP)—State Rep. H. A. (Salty) Hall of Fort Worth, seeking reelection to the legislature, was aided by an opponent for using "ain't" in his speeches.

Selected Hall to the delight of a campaign audience:

"My opponent doesn't like me because I say ain't. I know it ain't proper to say ain't, but I know a lot of people who don't say ain't who ain't eating, and I know a man who doesn't say ain't who ain't ever going to be a state representative."

Britain Ready For Long War, Says Churchill

Admiralty announced that two German transports were bombed in Hagesund, Norway, midway between Stavanger and Bergen, on the Norwegian coast lying close to England.

It was not stated whether the transports were laden with Nazi troops which might be used in a Cross-Channel invasion.

British bombers in another 1800-mile flight over the Alps last night and early today bombed Italy's largest aircraft plants in Milan and Turin for the third time in a week, the air ministry said, while planes of the British coastal command heavily bombed the French seaport and naval air base of Bône on the Algerian coast.

The British high command said Cuneo was bombed Sunday night as well as Milan, and Turin but that damage was "insignificant." From "Why" it was reported that the port of Rome and its base had been "virtually destroyed" by the weekend British attacks.

Other British bombers struck deep across Germany and bombed the Nazi aluminum works at Rad Rheinfelden and a German chemical works at Waldshut near the German-Swiss frontier. It was stated.

German airdromes at Freiburg, Habsheim and Mulhouse also were "heavily damaged" by British bombs during the night, it was added.

The Swiss, accusing "foreign planes" of bombing a Swiss railroad station near the German border, said that one shed of the Nazi aluminum works was destroyed and that another burst into flames.

Having stepped up the pace and scope of their attacks last Friday night, the British bombers were spreading over virtually all of western Europe, attacking airdromes, aviation plants, war industries and German naval concentrations.

Germany's cat population of 450,000 before the war has been greatly reduced.

Willkie Surprised At President Roosevelt

RUSHVILLE, Ind., Aug. 20 (AP)—Wendell Willkie said last night Secretary Ickes had stated "plain and simple falsehoods," in a radio address last night and that he was astonished that the President of the United States would authorize such speech.

The Republican presidential nominee sent the following telegram to Chairman Joseph Martin of the Republican National Committee:

"Please waste no money in buying radio time to answer Ickes. It is unworthy of answer. Unable to make any reply to the acceptance speech, the New Dealers are evading issue by resort to false, patently untrue, and specifically opposed insinuation and vilification for Mayor LaGuardia. The only truthful reference to me in the whole speech is that I rent a small apartment at 1010 Fifth Avenue about a mile away from Mr. Roosevelt's town house just off Park Avenue."

party in Philadelphia and it isn't politically possible for him to back up enough now to bring them in line. Without these leads should go, there will be more Republican voting for Roosevelt this year than ever before.

Said the Republican: Why just look at the parade of toilers already—Senators Burke and "Colonel" E. J. Smith; George White, a former Democratic national committee chairman; Lewis Douglas, John Hanes and former Senator James Reed and that's just the beginning. Roosevelt split the ranks of these men of prominence, there are hundreds of thousands in the rank-and-file who feel the same way and are swinging over. There'll be more Democrats in the ranks of Republican voters in November than at any time in the history of the party.

ing equal parts of the juice of elderberries and log plums and adding a cup of sugar for each cup of juice, a palatable jelly tasting much like grape jelly can be made, Mrs. Andrews explained.

"A delicious jam results when the soft, undesirable pears which are so numerous at this time of year are combined with the pulp remaining after juice is extracted from hog plums," Mrs. Andrews stated. "This is good either on sandwiches or as a meat accompaniment."

These two new recipes were discovered after it was found that the guava crop had been almost eliminated by the freeze-kills in the work, Mrs. Andrews stated. She is a supervisor who is in charge of the canning kitchen, has been scouting the county looking for surplus truck, fruit and glass jars to carry on the work, Mrs. Andrews stated.

War Jitters Boom Music Business, Especially Pianos

CHICAGO, Aug. 20 (AP)—War jitters were credited with helping to boom the music business.

William Howard Beasley, of Dallas, Texas, President of the National Association of Music Merchants, said that manufacturers and dealers expected to sell between 135,000 and 140,000 new pianos this year, which would make 1940 the best year for the sale of manual pianos since 1925.

Makers and distributors of other instruments, he said, also reported notable gains in sales, best sellers including trumpets, clarinets, saxophones (which are returning to popular favor after a slump) and guitars.

Mr. Beasley, whose association is sponsoring the annual music industries convention, attributed the expanded sales of musical instruments to four major factors.

"The uncertainties in world affairs, emphasized by preponderant attention given to news of the European war and its implications," he said, "have led many persons to occupy their spare time with music. More and more persons are finding a release from the tenseness and uneasiness experienced today, in some sort of musical expression."

Other factors he enumerated were better music appreciation, brought about through motion pictures and the radio, improved teaching of music in the schools and the advances made in the manufacture of instruments.

Leon Trotsky Is Still Alive After Stabbing

One-Time Communist Leader's Condition Is Considered Extremely Serious

Frank Jackson Named Assailant

Attack Occurred In Study Room Where Exile Was Working

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 21.—(AP)—Leon Trotsky, exiled Communist leader who was stabbed in the head Tuesday night by a man who "called so frequently he seemed to be one of the family," was still alive this afternoon although physicians said he was in an extremely critical condition.

The 60-year-old former Soviet war commissar's assailant was tentatively identified as Frank Jackson, who, despite his name, was believed to be a Russian. Jackson, who speaks French fluently, was said to be an ardent Trotsky sympathizer who had been admitted to and given the run of the heavily-guarded Coy Coscan villa for almost a year.

Trotsky had moved to the villa two years ago after breaking with Diego Rivera, Mexican muralist, in whose home he and Mrs. Trotsky first lived after their arrival in Mexico in November in January, 1937.

The attack occurred between 4:30 and 5:30 P. M. Jackson, who had been allowed entry to the study where Trotsky was at work on his writings, struck the exile's head with a heavy "climbing tool" which was taken in a "backpack" on his long.

Trotsky was reported to have suffered a fractured skull.

Womack To Leave Today To Join Washington Club

Larry Womack, star second baseman of the Ocala Yearlings who was bought by Washington some weeks ago for $15,000 will leave Orlando today to join the Senators.

Clark Griffith, president of the Washington Club, wired Business Manager John Gansel yesterday to send Womack on post-haste with Charlie Gelbert having been released.

Griffith expects Womack to see coach Fred W. Smith in Washington before the end of the year.

This marks the first player from the State League to hit the majors from the current season's crop. Sid Hudson went directly to the majors from Sanford last year, via the same route—Gansel to Griffith.

Gansel predicts a brilliant future for the young sensation whose batting average through last Thursday was .308.

He was chosen on the All-Star team that will play Sanford Aug. 30. Hank Wayton, Daytona Beach star, will join the All-Star, ranks with Womack's departure.

Gun Club Will Teach How To Shoot Pistol

How to shoot a pistol accurately will be demonstrated tonight when the Seminole Gun Club meets at the Chamber of Commerce building at 8:00 o'clock. President Fred J. Goode and Chief of Police Ray G. Williams, both competent marksmen, will instruct.

Everyone interested in shooting, even if he hasn't a gun, is invited to attend.

The elements of good shooting, such as lining up the sights on the gun, getting correct alignment to eliminate flicking and getting a steady aim by the trigger will be explained tonight.

Perkins Family Sees Movie Filmed And Sid Hudson Play Ball On Trip

Watching a motion picture being made and seeing Sid Hudson, former Sanford star now with the Washington Nationals, pitch a one-hit game were the highlights of the vacation tour of B. L. Perkins, manager of Perkins Men's Store, and his family. Mr. and Mrs. Perkins and their children, Louise, Martha, and Brandon, returned Monday from a two-week trip to Virginia.

"We had planned to leave Richmond Friday morning," Mr. Perkins said yesterday, "but when I called up the state road department to find out the conditions of the roads, I found that no highway going out of the city was open. Flooded rivers and the highest waters since 1936 had washed out roads and bridges as far south as Weldon, N. C., on U. S. Highway No. 1."

The Perkins family was finally able to leave Richmond Sunday and had no further trouble en route home.

Visiting in Washington, Mr. Perkins said they saw Sid Hudson play against the Nationals. Playing for the Sanford Reminiscences last year Sid finished every one of the 27 games he started and with one win gained the relief role, had a 24-and-4 record for the season.

"After the game was over, I went down and talked with Sid a while," Mr. Perkins related. "He said he liked to see the people certainly do think a lot of him, as the applause at the game showed."

At Charlottesville, the Perkins family saw a football game featuring Fred McMurray and Madeleine Carroll shooting scenes for the forthcoming Technicolor picture, "Virginia." D. W. Griffith, director, was there also.

On their way home, the Perkins family stopped at Park

Nazis Likely To Lose Even If They Win

With British Fleet Destroyed, Japan, Italy May Step In To Bother Germany

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—(AP)—Indications have reached insiders in Washington that Hitler's battle for Britain is being launched against the advice of conservative Nazis and some German naval advisers.

The naval command is reported to have told the Nazi chiefs that the initial success of a direct attack is likely to cost him two-thirds of the initial force before a beach head is established on the Channel. In short, if he sends 600,000 men he'll lose 400,000 of them before he gets a perch on British soil.

Conservative thinkers are supposed to have suggested that the British can be blockaded into a peace agreement that will establish a British-Italian common front, leaving the British fleet intact, and friendly to Germany.

The conservative argument also suggests that a direct attack risks the possibility that the British fleet will be destroyed or scattered, or withdrawn to Canada or elsewhere.

And, without that fleet as a friendly force, Hitler stands to lose more than he gains by "annihilating the British Empire," as he puts it.

Here's the way they figure it out: Germany has no fleet worthy of the name. If the British fleet were destroyed, that would leave the unfriendly American fleet alone on top of the world heap with Japan and Italy right behind it.

Hitler's allies, Italy and Japan, therefore would have no means of establishing themselves as first-rate powers by grabbing control of the important ports along the coast of world capitals: Gibraltar, Singapore, etc.

And this, after Germany has done all the fighting, lost all the ships.

Left to Germany would be the "young duck" of the world, France, with its war ruin, stagnant in districts, and humbling millions.

Hitler has personally convinced Mussolini's secretary in the Molotov room, as late as July 19, that Germany's economic situation was not so badly limited by Russian aid.

And the third named Generalissimo, Joseph Stalin, has already told the world she'll tolerate no change in the status of the British Empire, and herself expect to dominate all of Eastern Asia in the future.

Thus Hitler, without a friendly British navy backing, smothered out, will be left with a Russia, Italy and Japan, none capable of doing anything in the immediate future.

Then why launch the Battle of Britain?

The key to the stroke may lie in the speech of Prof. Hans Reuter, the German ambassador in London, who said the German people hated the British and the moment was at hand for them to make a clean sweep.

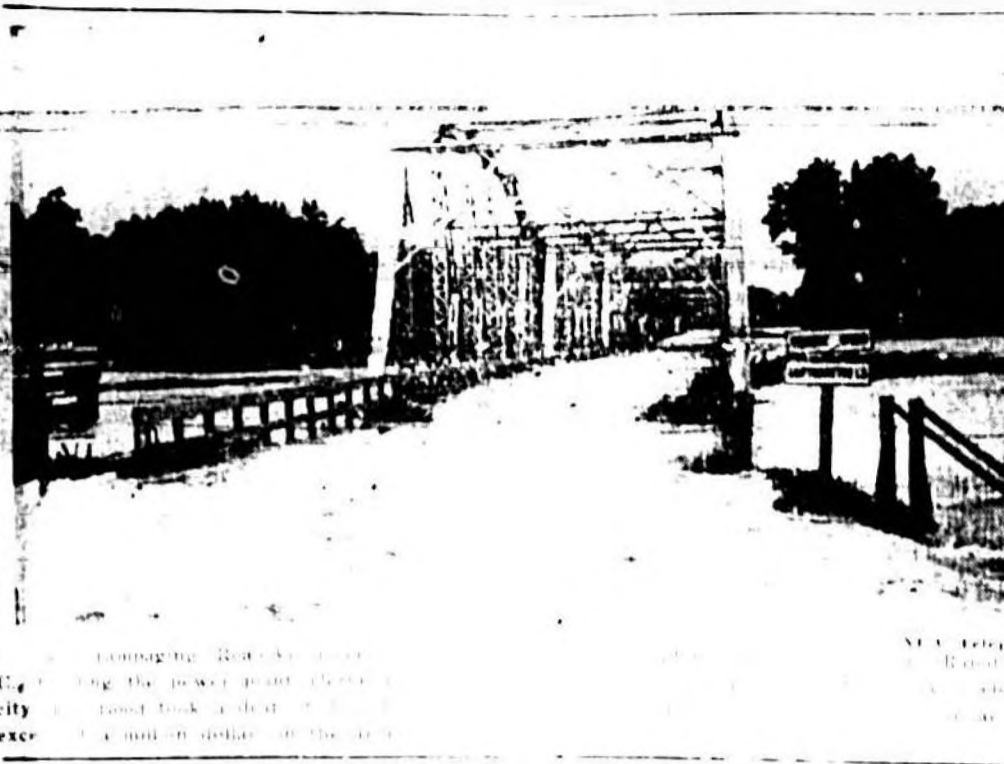

"To break England's power is to break the ruin of the empire."

It may well be possible that the radical wing of the Nazis and Hitler himself are convinced the British people will be under the strain of attack until they are driven to a total surrender and set up as a puppet state.

Mrs. Bolly Relates Experiences On Trip To Land Of The Midnight Sun

Editor's Note: The Herald regrets a typographical error in yesterday's article by Mrs. Bolly. The first sentence should have read: "I must tell you a little about Alaska, as a whole, it is not only a land of beautiful scenery but possesses almost inexhaustible resources."

The next morning as we were leaving the dining room we were approaching Digby Island on which can be seen the Canadian Government Wireless station and light-house, while just across the turbulent Skeena River, lies the little city of Prince Rupert.

Everybody was on deck watching the Princess dock at the Government floating drydock, 600 feet long, with a lifting capacity for vessels of 20,000 tons deadweight, and a large cold storage plant, where we saw immense quantities of fish.

The ables are gray this morning, and by the time the Princess lowered her gang-plank to let us off, to explore the little city of Prince Rupert, there was a light rain falling, but this did not hinder us, nor the majority of the other passengers. We walked up several flights of wooden steps to a high bridge that carried us to the city.

The first thing we saw was a nice modern school building, a cream brick, with a lovely lawn in front, and in the back a sunken garden, filled with exquisite flowers, roses in quantities, delphinium and many other beautiful blooming flowers.

Prince Rupert is the most beautiful city in British Columbia. We walked up to the top of the city, and saw the mountains in the distance.

The value of National Parks to the state in which they are located are well-known to those who have visited them. In June of this year, for instance, the Great Smokies had 128,533 visitors.

In June of this year Great Smoky Mountains National Park had 128,533 visitors against 91,342 for the same month last year; and every other of the country's great parks showed a corresponding increase in tourist registration.

Along with the construction of roads and bridges in Florida by the moving of troops and artillery in time of war, there could be improvements in the way of roads and bridges for that Everglades National Park area, if Florida leadership could be found to bring so desirable a thing to pass.

For Women Only

Once, when I was in one of the Shubert productions, there was a girl in the cast who was the envy of every woman who laid eyes on her.

"No," said the artist bluntly, "she isn't even pretty. She has a middling good figure but she carries herself superbly. And she feels beautiful. That is all. Darn clever girl! Do you know," he added seriously, "I have a theory that every woman in the world should say to herself at least once a day with great pride and even greater humility: 'I have a secret. I am beautiful; I am beloved.' And then she should carry herself as if she believed it!"

Cleo Jeter And Bill Daugherty To Pitch Against St. Augustine Tonight

Manager Bill Friel Expected To Send Charley Kane And Cecil Hutson Against Sanford Aggregation

A double-header will be played with St. Augustine tonight, weather permitting. Cleo Jeter, who was placed on the active list yesterday afternoon, and Bill Daugherty will be Manager Whitely Campbell's pitching selections for tonight's contests. Rick Gillespie was placed on the suspended list to make way for Jeter's return. Sanford was rained out yesterday at St. Augustine and under ordinary circumstances the make-up game should be played in their own park, but President Gray wired Frank Lamson, secretary of the Seminole club, and informed him that the game would have to be played here inasmuch as there are no more games scheduled here for the season. Sanford's games mark the last appearance of St. Augustine in the local park, unless the teams should meet in the one open date, August 31.

Including tonight's twin-bill, the Seminoles must play six double-headers between now and the end of the season, then comes the All-Star game, and play-off series begin without one day off.

If tonight's games are rained out, there will be no possibility to make up all of the tilts, and at least one game will be unplayed. League rules state that "games must either be made up or forfeited by the team refusing to play unless there is no possibility of playing the games." If word is the case.

Cecil Hutson and Charley Kane are expected to be Manager Bill Friel's starting pitchers.

FROM THE PRESS BOX

by BILL BINGHAM

Lean squabble was raised over the All-Star selection this morning, indicating that the fans were in agreement on the matter. The All-Star correctly down to the bat-boy. We have no name to object to the aggregation that was finally chosen because it is uniformly strong and will give Sanford a real battle. In fact the presence of the All-Star pitching staff of Hearn, Musial, Tomes, and Kennedy should make that outfit 3-2 to 3 favorites to top the contest.

However, we should like to know why Saddy Groat led Willie Skeen in the voting for center field and why Herb Bauer was nearly 200 ballots ahead of Andy Groat at first base. Skeen and Groat are both fast slycatchers, but Skeen packs much more power at bat. There is little difference in the batting averages of Bauer and Johnson, but Johnson can show up Bauer, or any other first baseman in the league, when it comes to snagging wild throws and scooping up low ones.

The only explanation we can offer is that the fans figured Sanford would be the team representative for the game and so did not bother to cast their ballots as if Daytona were in the lead.

The fans agreed with Whitely Campbell's selection of the All-Star pitcher, and what is to be said in the All-Star selection. Inasmuch as Whitely did his selection first, we'll have to give him the credit. The only position he missed was second base. He took hefty Hank Wayton at that position instead of Larry Womack. "It's a good line-up," said Campbell. "They'll be tough to beat, but I think we can do it."

Miss Mall Whitely brought in some clippings from the Rochester, N. Y., papers, she received about Sid Hudson. One was an interview with Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington club. Speaking of Sid, Griffith says, "That boy is going to be one of the game's great pitchers. He's learning fast, he is. Yes, sir, he's a smart boy. There isn't a better fielding pitcher in the league, and believe me, his 6 feet 4 inches help him cover on bunts."

That is high praise coming from the Old Man, a pitcher who stayed in the majors for years with a "nothing" ball and control. Griffith has seen Lefty Grove, George Earnshaw, Carl Hubbell, and other stars like Babe Waddell, Pennock, Matthews, and his own, Walter Johnson, so if he chooses to call Hudson a "coming great" he probably knows whereof he speaks, although there is a long road ahead.

Ducky Harris, Washington manager, says, "Sid Hudson is the finest prospect I've had under

St. Louis Beats Sid Hudson By Score Of 6 To 3

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—(AP)—Elden Auker's submarine balls were too much for Washington yesterday and the Senators lost to St. Louis 6-3 for their fifth straight defeat.

The Browns hammered the sensational rookie, Sid Hudson, for 10 innings.

Joe Grace knocked in the first St. Louis run in the third with a looping single and Harold Cliff pushed two more across with another. The Browns got two more in the sixth, one on a squeeze play and the other on Auker's double. Cliff batted in St. Louis' final run with a single in the seventh.

Miss Wingate Of St. Augustine Is Winner Of Pass

WINTER HAVEN, — A mere slip of a girl, Miss Kathleen Wingate of St. Augustine, out-flew all of the experts attached to the Florida State League and, as a result of her close study of the loop's players, she is today announced as the winner of a 1940-41 pass good for all the games throughout the circuit.

Miss Wingate, residing at 2 Masters Drive, was the first of the nearly 250 fans who sent in advance all-star team selections, to come within one of selecting the "dream team" chosen by the vote of all fans last weekend.

She correctly named every player on the squad and the position he would be chosen for, missing out only in the matter of bat-boy. She chose "Poke," the Saints' colorful colored bat-boy whereas the fans named Bill Hamner of Leesburg.

Miss Wingate's ballot was the 90th to be received by mail at the post office of the league secretary. Her pass for the rest of this season and all of next year is enroute to her from the office of League President Henry L. Gray.

One other fan, M. E. Troy, of Daytona Beach, correctly named all of the players and the bat-boy, with one exception, and would have won the pass because his entry was the fifth to be received.

However, Troy's mistake was in naming Groat instead of Hamner where the fans chose him at center. Troy placed Alabama Smith of Orlando in center.

Red Cross Awards Given Swimmers By Miss Morrison
 Red Cross certificates were awarded to 24 beginners, four intermediates, and four swimmers, who successfully completed and passed all tests, Miss Eleanor Morrison, recreational director and Red Cross instructor, announced.

Classes, however, will continue through September with a change of time after school officially opens, according to the number of school children still registered who have not completed the beginners' tests, Miss Morrison stated.

Miss Morrison expressed the hope that members would come as often as convenient until school starts to get as much instruction as possible. She also said she hoped the ladies would not become "discouraged" as they were getting along nicely.

Beginners who passed all requirements were: Miss Doris McCull, Miss Nancy Williams, Miss Olive Chapman, Miss Olive Ann Adams, Miss Louise White, Mrs. C. D. Weston, Mrs. Victor White, Miss Mary Helen Tow, Miss Betty Sloan, Miss Billie, Miss Betty Wathen.

Raid Casualties Are Believed More Than Is Announced

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—(AP)—On a basis of mathematical probability advanced by the British, it is believed that the number of casualties anticipated in the air raid precaution manual, from 46,000 to 57,600 persons would have been exceeded.

One reason the figures are subject to qualification is that the British insist direct hits on objectives have been at a premium. Another is that, caught in intensive defense, raiders frequently have dumped their bomb loads short of their objectives and fled.

The number of planes, both bombers and protective fighters, employed by Germany in the intensive bombing operations which started Aug. 15, is subject to dispute, but an arbitrary average of 500 a day would appear to be conservative in light of the character of the attack.

The ratio of fighters to bombers has been roughly 3 to 2, producing a figure of 2000 bombers for the 12 days. Each of the

Birthday Greetings

Dear Sanford Herald:
This is your birthday. Whether you remember it or not, is doubtful, for you have been so busy during the 32 years of your life that milestones may mean little to you.
You were born with the new Sanford. Your advent into the world preceded but a few months the paved streets, the fine school buildings and new churches, the immigration of many fine new people from practically every state in the Union. You at once began to advocate good roads, better living conditions, county development, improvement of the lake front and better government generally.
You have seen the farming industry grow from a few acres to one of the largest specialized farming operations in the country, requiring the biggest car icing plant in the world to furnish refrigeration for the immense crop of winter vegetables grown here each year. You have seen the development of this section into one of the highly intensified farming districts of America, with perhaps the most intelligent class of growers to be found anywhere, men who know soils, fertilization, insecticides, proper methods of cultivation, packing and marketing.
You have had your ups and downs, Sanford Herald, through the boom period and the depression years. However, you have been fortunate in having at your helm from your founder Bob Holly, to the present owners, the Dean Brothers, only high class, optimistic newspaper men. You have been a big factor in the building of a fine community made up of progressive, intelligent citizens.
May you live long and prosper.
W. M. HAYNES.

German Shore Guns Shell Long Convoy

Get Directions From Observation Plane But British Lay Down Smoke Screen

Powerful German shore batteries on the French coast, firing from a range of more than 20 miles, shelled a mile-long British convoy in the Straits of Dover today—injecting a new sting in the Nazi-proclaimed air and sea blockade of Britain.
Shells burst near the vessels, with Nazi gunners near Boulogne apparently getting their range directions from a high-flying observation plane, but most of the missiles fell into the sea.
British warships and a smoke screen to aid escape, and the convoy passed through the straits without an apparent casualty.
Nazi warplanes continued their air raids on England in scattered, small-scale attacks, while in southeast Europe Mussolini's high command reported sharp new blows against British naval forces in the Mediterranean—two warships torpedoed and two others "hit repeatedly" by bombs.
In Cairo, the war ministry disclosed that an Egyptian mobile division has already taken up positions to resist any invasion by Italian troops, who presumably would strike from Libya in the west. Large Italian troop concentrations have been reported there.
Lieut. Gen. Sir Archibald P. Waver, commander of Britain's middle east army, warned that Hitler, thwarted by England's stout defense of her island kingdom, may emulate Napoleon and "turn east in search of easier success."
Bad flying weather again hampered British and German aerial maneuvers and counter-punches. Fishermen reported three Nazi planes assaulted a British convoy off the northeast English coast, dropping salvos of bombs without apparent success. RAF Spitfires chased the raiders out to sea.
The German high command said Nazi fliers attacked 15 British airports and numerous industrial plants, ports and rail facilities in widespread strikes yesterday.
Late last night rescue squads dug in the wreckage for victims whose voices could be heard beneath the debris. An 80-year-old woman who had just been put to bed by her son escaped as her home was blown to pieces around her.
In the area where the aerial torpedo struck, it was reported, there was "not one brick left on top of another."
A short time before another Nazi dive-bomber had dropped two screening shells on the outskirts of the same town without damage or casualties.
Air raiders were reported over scattered areas of southeast England last night and early today, after 24 hours of bad weather that limited Hitler's sky raiders to sporadic hit-and-run attacks.
The air ministry said that the Germans had "found mass attacks expensive" and had returned to the small force raids which they employed previous to the aerial offensive.
Witnesses told of seeing a Nazi bomber swoop down from low-hanging clouds upon the town, its engines silent.
"As it dived I saw a huge black bomb shaped like a torpedo leave the plane," said one resident.
"The explosion shook the entire town and debris was hurled more than 100 feet into the air."
The crater opened by the torpedo was said to have been about 60 feet in diameter and nearly 2 1/2 feet deep.
The reported dropping of the aerial torpedo followed a sharp drop in the force of German aerial attacks. British warplanes had weather conditions limited the raiders in hit-and-run attacks against scattered objectives.
Air Minister Sir Archibald Waver, in a radio speech to the House of Commons today, said: (Continued on Page Five)

Civil Service Commission Now Totals Over Million Persons

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON, Aug. 22. (AP)—The number of persons working for the United States government is now well over one million.
The Civil Service Commission has given out figures for June. They add up to 1,011,066 working for you and me and Uncle Sam. Approximately 134,000 of these work in Washington, the rest over the land, or some where between Point Barrow, Alaska and Little America, Antarctica.
Something like 80,000 of these are new employees of the nation's new helpers have been added in the last year. The defense drive, of course, is given a large share of the credit. About 70,000 of these are new employees of the War and Navy Departments, the Civil Aeronautics Board and the Panama Canal zone.
This is the first time the number on the Federal payroll has gone over a million. The World War payroll peak was 987,857.
