The So To Spend Holiday Playing You Know What

GETTSBURG, Pa. (UPI)—If the rain holds off, President Eisenhower plans to celebrate the Fourth of July by playing golf. He hoped to play a round this morning and return to Washington after lunch. The famous Civil War battle area here abounded with tourists and amateur historians, some in the blue and gray of the Union and confederate armies remembering Vicksburg's famous infantry charge along Seminary Ridge. Replicas of ancient cannon blazed from the hillside not far from the Eisenhower farm and a military parade was to pass through the city during the day. The president, however, was not interested and kept his eyes on the ball for 36 holes of golf Saturday and 18 yesterday at the Gettysburg Country Club. Club pro Dick Fleischer had the honors much of yesterday and the president deferred his Sunday game until late afternoon, finishing the round at 7:11 p. m. as heavy thunderclouds approached. The president in a buff colored sports shirt and tan slacks, seemed to be playing only a moderate kind of golf. On the first hole, he took three wood shots from the tee before he got one down the fairway. He spent the weekend golfing and playing bridge with a group of close friends including his neighbors George E. Alfors, William E. Robinson, board chairman of Coca Cola, and Barry Lallhead, head of Cluett Peabody. The president went to church alone yesterday. The first lady, recuperating from an attack of asthma, spent the weekend at her Washington residence with her son, Lt. Col. John S. Eisenhower, and his family. The president and Mrs. Eisenhower leave Thursday by plane for a vacation at Newport, R. I. He will break his stay there to visit the Republican National Convention in Chicago July 26 and may not return to Washington on a regular basis until congress is back in session next month.

College Jazz Fans Turn Swank Newport Hotel Into Shamble

NEWPORT, R. I. (UPI)—The Newport Jazz Festival announced today it will sue this swank resort for $4 million resulting from its cancellation of three musical events because of a college students' riot. College jazz fans, 12,000 strong, turned this New England millionaire's playground into shambles Saturday night when they rioted because they were unable to gain admittance to the sold-out concert. The post-playground turned into a battleground when students hurled beer cans, whiskey bottles and rocks clashed with city and state police reinforced by the U. S. Marines, Navy, National Guard and firemen. The riot was put down by tear gas grenades and fire hoses. At least 125 persons were injured in the melee, none seriously. Police roadblocks sealed off the island from the rest of the state. The Newport City Council cut the five-day, seventh annual concert short after its Sunday matinee performance. It cancelled last night's concert and two scheduled today.

Lake Mary Youngster Receives Letter From Leper Colony Ask For Help

From a leper colony to Lake Mary came one of the strangest of letters describing a morbid, but sad, tale of one of the Christian world's most modern day tragedies. Susan Stallings, 13 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. H. Stallings of Lake Mary received the letter when she placed her name as a "pen pal" in the small Presbyterian pamphlet called Digest, which circulates in many parts of the world. In March of this year, Susy received a letter from a Philippine lady, whose address was listed as the Cullon Leper Colony, Cullon Palawan, Philippines. Excerpts from the letter read as follows: "I don't know how and where to begin this letter. It is pride that has barred me from doing so. One night I talked with my friends in our dormitory. "We talked until past midnight. I had no wink of sleep though I needed one. Beg, beg, the words kept on repeating—In my mind I closed my eyes wanting to evade the inevitable merciless moments that haunted me, a leper. "I rose from my bed and wrote this letter to you in the hope that you can extend a very little help. "Our condition is appalling, with few exceptions we are clad in rags. There are old men and women, children of all ages so wasted by the disease that they are anxious and eager that death would come soon. I am a part of them.

"If you could come and watch how we are treated by our non-leper brothers and sisters, you would wonder, I'm sure, why there are other Christians so lowly treated. We are the dregs, the unfortunate ones. "The great American Declaration of Independence says all men are created equal, which means that God sees into our soul. Lake Mary Served Barbecue Chicken To 300 Little League Benefited From Holiday Event

July 4 Observance Ends With A Bang

More than 300 adults and young-people watched a giant display of fireworks over Lake Monroe Monday night, climaxing Sanford's July 4 observance.

It was the largest fireworks display in Sanford's history, according to recreation officials who sponsored the event.

The aerial program featured 110 different pieces of apparatus, including multi-color shells, star shells and other shells of all sizes and shapes.

The fireworks display ended a well-rounded holiday program highlighted by a chicken barbecue and various baseball games and sporting events at Ft. Mellon Park.

A giant crowd was on hand for the barbecue with 1,300 pounds of chicken being served as well as 200 pounds of baked beans, 100 pounds of potato salad and 75 gallons of iced tea.

Longwood Volunteer Firemen, holding their first picnic in five years, celebrated the Fourth at a swim party held at the home of Carl Lammier.

Highlighting the Longwood picnic was the debuting of Mayor A. R. Lormann, who dared to go to the swim party without a bathing suit.

DeBary Civic Organizations joined in the sponsorship of a huge bazaar to celebrate Independence Day, highlighted by Kadet drill teams from Casselberry, Maitland, Sanford and DeBary marching in competition.

The DeBary group posed off the Casselberry marchers by one point to take the honors.

S. T. Dickens, based at the Naval Air Station, won the $1,000 bet donated by W. G. Miller, local realtor, with proceeds going to the Kadet troops to sponsor their coming week's camping trip.

Starting with a softball game and ending with a blasting display of fireworks, the DeBary festivities included performances by the Naval Air Station judo team, donkey rides, candy and ceramic displays and the pit lot.

Chuluota's Community Club sponsored a July 4 youth beach party and dance in addition to regular swimming activities at the beach there. Mrs. Eunice Howell and Mrs. Virginia Chadwick chaperoned the event.

A baseball game Saturday between the Reds and the Giants was the highlight of the Fourth celebration. The Giants won the ball game 14-4. About 200 people ate chicken and trimmings. The barbecue was for the benefit of the Little League.

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (UPI)—The killing of 10 demonstrators by police during rioting at Coquilville indicated today Prime Minister Patrice Lumumba is determined to crush inter-tribal rivalries threatening to plunge the new republic into chaos. Thirteen other natives were wounded Monday in the first fatal clash since the Congo gained independence from Belgium.

SALEBURG, Austria (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev set out to see for himself today how U. S. dollars helped Austria recover from the wreckage of World War II. LITTLE OAK, Ark. (UPI)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus disclaimed any knowledge Monday with an advertisement signed by a group of Louisiana segregationist leaders urging him to head a solid-South movement at the Democratic national convention. "I know nothing about it or the reasons for it," Faubus said. He said he was not contacted about the ad or the movement it endorses.

U. S. Plane Still Missing In Arctic

BODOE, Norway (UPI)—The U. S. Air Force said today a massive three-day search of the Arctic Ocean had failed to find any trace of an American reconnaissance plane that vanished with six men aboard.

The last 100-47 disappeared early Saturday on a 100-mile leg of the North Pole.

Board Asked To Stop Bonuses

County Commissioner J. M. Van Hoy today asked the commission to formally protest bonus payments in fee offices in the courthouse and to do everything in its power to stop such payments.

Van Hoy, who was authorized by the board two months ago to conduct a study of job classification and salary adjustments paid to employees of fee offices, said he inspected the books "and it seemed to me there were irregularities in salary adjustments."

Van Hoy made the remark after Circuit Clerk Arthur Beckwith Jr. and Tax Collector John Galloway submitted a base salary classification list of their employees.

Neither list had any indication of a salary adjustment but reflected the pay scales of each clerk.

Tax Assessor Mary Earle Walker informed the board by letter that she could not submit such a list at this time because of the heavy work load but agreed to do so as soon as possible. County Judge Vernon Mize also agreed to cooperate with the board.

Discussing salary adjustments or bonuses, Van Hoy said this practice should be stopped as it is a misuse of public funds. However, he added, that there doesn't seem any way of stopping a fee officer from paying a bonus out of surplus funds.

Chairman John Krider told Van Hoy that if "we have the right to inspect the books there surely must be something we can do if we note any irregularities." Commissioner Lawrence Swoford said that the paying of a bonus "seems to me an irregularity."

In submitting his base salary scale list, Beckwith told the board that upon checking "audit reports on the operation of the office of clerk back to 1943 on no occasion has there been comment made concerning the pay or pay schedule of employees in the office. I feel that this bears merit and is indicative that the auditors have approved, without criticism, this phase of the operation of the office."

Kennedy Says He Won't Step Aside For Anyone

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sen. John F. Kennedy told the nation in general and former President Truman in particular Monday he would not quit the race as a presidential candidate because of youthful strength, health and vigor is needed in the White House.

The 43-year-old Massachusetts Democrat, front runner for his party's presidential nomination, replied point by point in a television news conference to the challenge thrown at him Saturday by Truman.

The senator said he was the only candidate to enter all the primaries and had "encountered and survived every kind of hardship and opposition."

To Truman's assertion that the convention was "pre-arranged" to favor him, Kennedy said, "to the extent that I have anything to do with it, it will be an open convention — as every convention of our broadly-based party is open."

The senator pointed out that the Democratic presidential nominee had been chosen on the first ballot in all but one convention since 1932, including Truman in 1948.

"Mr. Truman regards an open convention as one which studies all the candidates — reviews their records — and then takes his advice," he said.

Kennedy said he hoped the convention would consider all prospective nominees, including those Truman named and some he did not name. He did not mention Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas by name.

To Truman's charge that Kennedy supporters used improper "pressure" on convention delegates, Kennedy said, "Not one concrete example has ever been named — I do not want any votes that have been pressured."

Four Hurt As Auto Plunges Into Lake

Four Navy men escaped serious injury Monday night when their car missed a sharp curve on Hwy. 17-92 and plunged into Lake Monroe.

The four injured were Theodore C. Carlton, James B. Peak, Wayne H. Bond and Paul R. DeRosters.

Peak suffered a broken hip and the other three received cuts and bruises. All four were taken to the NAS hospital and were reported in good condition today.

The car plunged into the lake during the heavy rain storm that hit the area from about 7 to 9 p. m.

Highway Patrolman J. L. Sikes charged Carlton, driver of the car, with driving with speed too great for road conditions.

All managed to get out of the car before it submerged. The accident occurred at 7:15 p. m. and wreckage had the car out of the water within 30 minutes.

Earlier in the day, a car driven by Edward Jackson Cameron of Sanford crashed into a vehicle operated by Reuben Joseph Eby of Winter Park at Osceola Rd., one mile south of Geneva.

Deputies said that Cameron, driving west on Osceola, came to a blind curve in the road and apparently did not see the Eby car and crashed into it. Damage to both cars was estimated at $650.

A three-car collision at French and West 13th St. was caused by the torrential rainfall. There was about $1,000 damages but no one was injured, according to police.

A United Press International tally showed at least 487 persons were killed in traffic accidents between 6 p. m. Friday and midnight Monday. Another 161 drowned and 125 died in miscellaneous accidents for a violent death total of 788.

Tampa, Leesburg Pull Out Victories In Final Frame

United Press International
Carrion finishes were the order in the Florida State League Monday night.

Both Tampa and Leesburg won their games with last-ditch rallies in the bottom of the ninth. Tampa squeaked by Orlando 5-4 and the St. Petersburg-Sanford game was a three-run last-inning rally. Leesburg outdistanced Daytona Beach 5-3, Palatka trounced Lakeland 5-3 and the St. Petersburg-Sanford game was rained out.

The Tarpons whipped Leesburg with a three-run last-inning rally capped when Bob Ingalls laid down a perfect squeeze bunt that scored Eric Rodin from third. Rodin had driven in the tying run with a single.

Leesburg capitalized on the wildness of pitcher Butch Schaefer, who walked Jim Saterdock in base in the tying run and after registering a strikeout sent in the winning tally with another base on ball.

Palatka jumped on Lakeland's Sam McDowell, Cleveland's $75,000 bonus baby, for four runs in the fourth and dealt him his first loss since he joined the club two weeks ago. The 17-year-old McDowell gave up four walks and three singles in the inning. Tommy Holmes and Bob Halaska each had two hits for the Redjags.

Tonight's games include Lakeland at Palatka, Lakeland at Daytona Beach, Orlando at Tampa and St. Petersburg at Sanford.

Powers Trial
To Be Public

MOSCOW (UPI)—Statements by a Soviet official indicate today that captured U-2 spy plane pilot Francis G. Powers will be tried publicly in a civil court rather than a secret military tribunal.

Central Committee Secretary Pvel Kozlov said the trial would be "open" and that the public would be admitted to it. Military courts are closed to the public.

The statements at the American Embassy were made at annual Independence Day celebrations.

Kozlov said someone he did not name when the American pilot was captured had captured him.

Greyhounds Play Two Here Tonight

BY PETER SCHAL
Battered by rain that fell just before game time at Memorial Stadium Monday night, Lloyd Brown and his red-hot Sanford Greyhounds will attempt the first local double-header of the season tonight starting at 6:30 p. m. Both games are slated for seven-innings of play.

The New York Yankees owned St. Petersburg Saints will supply the opposition which means that local fans will have a chance to see two "cousins" in action. Ken Sanders, one of two league hurriers with 11 victories so far this year, will start the first game, but Brown had not decided upon his second hurler as of noon today.

The Greyhounds will take the field tonight with another new player in uniform. He is big and brawny catcher Billy Bryan from Morgan, Ga. Bryan arrived Sunday from Albuquerque, N. M. To make room for him, rookie catcher Jack Bystiek went on the disabled list.

Flashy Ozzie Chavarria also returned to uniform after the week end, and, to make room for him, outfielder Mike Maloney went on the disabled list.

Brown, with three victories in four second half starts to his credit, wants a look at Chavarria and will return him to second, moving Bill Dukes, now hitting .318, to third base. Jorge Arroyo will ride the bench for the present.

The Greyhounds, paced by their new $35,000 bonus left-fielder Frank Cipriani of Buffalo, took a pair from Leesburg 9 to 6 and 8 to 5 to open the second half, but dropped one to Palatka, 9 to 7, at the Stadium Saturday night.

In Palatka Sunday night, the Hounds rapped out 14 hits to give left-hander Ron Banovic an 11 to 4 victory. Bobby Perez, and Bill Dukes each got three, four to lead the team to a 10-7 win over the White Sox, with two for five, made it 12 hits in his first 20 trips to the plate for an average of .600.

Important in the loss to Palatka Saturday night was the startling showing of Dick Was, rookie right-hander from Canisius College, Buffalo. Inserted in the ninth, the youngster fanned the first two to face him, ducked, as a lines drive went past his head into right-center for two bases, but fanned the fourth man to face him. The youngster comes highly touted, and, on the basis of his brief showing, should give Brown another starting hurler.

The first half pennant winning Lakeland Indians will be at the Stadium Wednesday night for a single tilt at 7:45 p. m., with the Greyhounds playing in Lakeland Thursday night, and in Daytona Beach Friday night. Daytona returns the visit here Saturday night, while Orlando comes next Sunday for a Ladies Night affair in which all women, accompanied by a paid adult, will be admitted free.

Yank, Pirate Pitching Doesn't Measure Up To Hitting

United Press International
That July 4th tradition about league-leaders going on to meet in the World Series sounds great, but the Yankees and Pirates would feel a lot better about it if their pitching measured up to their hitting.

Shaky relief pitching caused the Yankees to lose a game and one-half of their American League Monday.

And the bombing of Bob Friend and Roy Face in the first game of a double-header prevented the Pirates from gaining ground in the National League on the Braves and Giants.

Friend blew a 6-1 lead and Face yielded the winning run in the 10th inning as the Braves edged the Pirates, 7-6, in the opener. With Harvey Haddix pitching a six-hitter in the nightcap, Pittsburgh won, 7-2. The Pirates thus retained their 2½-game lead on Milwaukee.

Hank Aaron helped put Milwaukee back into the first game with a two-run homer off Friend and Del Crandall tied the score in the ninth with a homer off Face. Al Spangler singled home the tie-breaking run in the 10th against Face, making Spangler the winner in relief. Bob Skinner and Dick Stuart hit Pittsburgh homers.

Smoky Burgess drove in three Pittsburgh runs in the nightcap.

with a single and double. Haddix yielded only two singles after the first inning.

The Yankees also did some heavy canoodling, including the 20th homer of Mickey Vernon's career, but reliever Rudy Duren walked home the winning run with the bases loaded in the ninth to give the Senators a 9-8 win in the only single game of the holiday program.

Bob Cerv, Gil McDougald and Hector Lopez also hit Yankee home runs but the Senators twice overcame three-run deficits to win. Jim Lemon and Pete Wiseman hit Washington homers to help earn Don Lee the victory in relief.

The Indians moved to within 1½ games of the Yankees by sweeping a double-header from the Athletics, 4-0 and 7-4; the Tigers, 6-3; and the Red Sox split with the Phils, winning the first game, 5-0, and dropping the nightcap, 5-4.

In the National League, the Giants beat the Cubs 4-0 and then played a 14-inning, 1-1 tie that was halted by darkness; the Dodgers came back to beat the Cardinals, 5-4, after losing the opener, 8-3; and the Reds split with the Phils, winning the first game, 5-0, and dropping the nightcap, 5-4.

Gary Bell pitched a three-hitter and Johnny Temple's two-run single was the big blow in Cleveland's opening game victory. Catcher John Romano contributed two home runs and Ken Appenone one in the nightcap as Johnny Klippstein came to the relief of winning starter Ted Downs.

Jim Bunning gave up only three hits and Rocky Colavito hit his 14th home run in Detroit's opening-game win. Norm Cash's sixth-inning homer provided the winning run in the nightcap for reliever Don Slater. Roy Meyers hit a White Sox homer.

Boston overcame a 6-4 deficit to win the opener from Baltimore with a five-run eighth-inning rally made possible by a "home" by Orioles second baseman Mary Breeding. Baltimore again wasted away a six-run lead in the nightcap; Gerald Nolen, Sanford; and Jim Gentile each drove in eighth-inning runs.

In the NL, Jack Sanford gave up only four hits in pitching the Giants to victory over the Cubs. Bob Schmidt drove in three runs with a homer and single and Willie Mays hit his 18th homer. Orlando Cepeda's fourth-inning double tied the score in the nightcap and then the pitchers battled it out until darkness set in.

Roger Craig, making his first start since May 2, pitched the Dodgers to their second-game victory with the help of homers by Norm Sherry and Gil Hodges (his 36th). In the opener, Daryl Spencer and Walk Morry each hit a two-run homer to ease the way to Ernie Broglio's ninth victory.

A four-hit shutout by Jay Hook and Wally Post's home run gave Cincinnati its first-game triumph. Gene Conley won the nightcap for the Phils with the aid of Jim Coker's two-run triple and a homer by Frank Herrera.

Sanford Second In FSL Hitting

Sanford ended up second in the club batting honors during the first half of the Florida State League season.

The Greyhounds slammed the ball at a .330 clip, 11 points behind Lakeland.

In individual batting honors, the only Sanford batter in the top ten was Bolivar Jimenez with a .328 average. The leading hitter during the first half was James Norwood of Leesburg with a .356 average.

Cynthia Celebrates Birthday At Hawaiian Party

Miss Cynthia M. LeFils celebrated her 14th birthday with a party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. LeFils, 1115 West 3rd St.

The theme for the celebration was "A Party in Hawaii." The carpenter of the LeFils home was gaily decorated with fish nets, palms and other tropical articles.

Upon arrival each guest was given a Hawaiian Lei as a favor and to wear during the festivities. Refreshments of cake, nuts, mint and punch were served.

Those attending were Mary Jo Meeks, Mary Ruth Silvers, Joe Bogesjis, Mike Wofford, Wayne Stankiewicz, Angela Hunt, Martha Hohlitzell, Skip Eby and the honoree, Cynthia LeFils.

Place an extra handle on the screen door low enough for children to reach. They will enjoy coming in and out of the house without the aid of an adult.

For walls, it's a good rule of thumb to pin up a big sample of a color, study it from across the room under daylight and then by lamplight.

In ancient Rome, a girl who married in any color but white was believed to have doomed the marriage to misery and unhappiness. During this time, purity also was associated with white.

ANNIVERSARY PARTY—Members celebrating wedding anniversaries in June were honored by the Starlight Club at the Civic Center at their regular weekly session. The couples danced to a recording of "Anniversary Waltz" and were serenaded with a rendition of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" by Ed Alderman, accompanied by Viola Lambertson. Refreshments of assorted sandwiches, bearing the names of the honorees, were served to those present. The honored couples are left to right, Frank and Joan Johnson, second row, Libby and Lee Wakeman, Flo McQuatters, "Peanuts" Wilcox, back row, Ed and Mac McQuatters and Boots Wilcox.

GET YOUR BIKINI
Dunking time is here again. Everyone is heading for beaches, lakes, pools or just plain swimming holes — to enjoy bathing, boating, water-skiing or sun-worshipping. Whatever your choice may be, make sure you're ready for it with your new swimsuit.

So many women make the mistake of waiting till they're invited to go swimming before they shop for that bathing suit. And alas, it's late — they can't find what they want. Don't let this happen to you — get that new swimsuit right now so you'll have it when you need it.

Bathing suits will run from one extreme to the other this Summer. The bikini is bigger than ever (that is, bigger in popularity — smaller in size) and there's a new one-piece suit which covers the legs to below the knees. An especially good idea now that two-piece suits are so popular again is to supplement your classic one-piece with a lively bikini.

Write thank-you notes for your wedding presents as soon as possible after returning from your honeymoon.

Half of the women marrying for the first time marry before the age of 20.2 years.

MRS. BROCKMEYER of Enterprise received good will cards and letters from all over the country on her 90th birthday. She is known affectionately by her many friends as "Brokie." She started a bird sanctuary at the Enterprise cemetery and has a regular feeding station and bird bath there for the birds and even a guest register for people to sign who visit the birds.

Cut Those Calories, Use Cottage Cheese

Home Demonstration Agent
How to cut calories is a favorite topic of conversation and that's when cottage cheese comes into its own.

Cottage cheese from skim milk is low in calories. Some of it contains a small amount of cream added to improve flavor. In any case, it is lower in caloric value than cheese made of whole milk or cream cheese.

Since cottage cheese is also high in protein, it may serve as a substantial part of the main dish of the meal. Most important nutrients contributed by cottage cheese are calcium, protein and riboflavin.

Cottage cheese serves well as an ingredient in casserole dishes or in cold salads. Or serve it plain as an accompaniment to any meal. Here is an excellent salad that "tastes like spring":

SPRING GELLED SALAD
Make up 1 package of lime gelatin, using 1/2 cup ginger ale instead of cold water as suggested on package. Chill until spry. Add 1 cup cottage cheese. Beat until light and foamy with rotary beater.

Pour into refrigerator tray with ice cube sections removed. Chill. Cut in rectangles and serve on chicory or lettuce. Garnish with orange slices.

WASHINGTON CALLING by Marquis Childs

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK. Mont. — The deep divisions that plague both major parties are coming to light as the 48 governors attending this conference canvas the men and the issues of a presidential year on which so much seems to turn.

For the Democrats it is the old North-South division accentuated by the struggle over civil rights. It is aggravated, too, by the fact that the two leading candidates, Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas and Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts speak so positively with the accent of their respective regions.

The Southern governors, even such a moderate and fair-minded man as LeRoy Collins of Florida, have been disturbed by what Kennedy is reported to have told the Liberal Party leaders in New York—that he can be nominated and elected without the South. There seems to be some question whether he said elected as well as nominated, but the statement remains with the men of the South.

Gov. G. Mennen (Sonny) Williams took the opportunity at a press conference to say that Johnson could not carry his state of Michigan. This same opinion was expressed last November by Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California. It is the widely held conviction of the northerners that Johnson, as the Democratic nominee, would go down to defeat in the big states which have large electoral votes and would therefore lose to the Republican candidate.

At his press conference Gov. Price Daniel expressed doubt whether Kennedy could carry his state of Texas. He indicated that it would be a close thing and, following the lead that Johnson has given in his attacks on his rival, put the doubts down to Kennedy's youth and inexperience in the face of the world crisis.

It will be Lyndon to the end, Daniel implied, and perhaps even to the bitter end of a split in the party that could mean the loss of the election.

When it comes to the other party, the Republican governors have made it look as though the only split was between all right-thinking citizens and a wild-eyed maverick named Nelson Rockefeller. Gov. Harold W. Handley of Louisiana, who represents the extreme right wing of his party, intimated what he was the only loyalist pledge to Vice President Nixon. While he denied that it was calculated to embarrass Rockefeller, that was its net effect.

Rockefeller arrived at the conference just in time to be greeted by a newly formed air of only holdout. The other Republican governors either present or en route had signed or signified their intention of signing. Declining to sign, Rockefeller said at his own press conference, with the puzzled and slightly troubled air which he needs questions about his intentions and whether he is not injuring Nixon's chances in November, that his sole aim is to bring about at a critical moment in the history of the nation and the world a full discussion of the issues.

As to the long-term effect of Rockefeller's initial challenge of June 8 and his statements since, it has hardly escaped the experienced politicians here that the Handley maneuver is bound to look like another attempt to pressure Rockefeller into line. This kind of conformity enforced by the right can hardly help the party in the fall when the urgent need will be to attract independent voters and marginal Democrats. If for nothing else Nixon will thank Handley for making it clear that he acted without prior consultation with the vice president.

The national lineup is a most unequal one, with 24 Democratic and 18 Republican governors. If it had not been for the death of a Democratic governor in Maine, who was succeeded by a Republican lieutenant governor, the score would be 25 to 15.

The Rockefeller challenge is, of course, more than the protest of a disgruntled man, an ambitious man, the rich man's Stassen, as his bitterest critics would have it. In recent months the influence of the Republican right wing with spokesmen such as Handley and Sen. Barry Goldwater has made itself increasingly felt. One of the interesting phenomena is that the young Republicans are generally more conservative than their elders.

The assumption has been that Nixon, once he was nominated, would take a strong line for government intervention in various fields where the stress on economy of the Eisenhower administration has left many voters frustrated and unhappy. Once free of the necessity to stand up for Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson, he would come out with a bold farm program. But Nixon's speech in St. Louis on the national economy, ridiculing the discussion of rates of growth as "growth-manahip," a kind of silly game, has caused second thoughts about this assumption.

If Nixon cuts his political cloth at this stage to fit the right wing and the Goldwaters he may find himself after the July convention in a difficult situation. He will be handicapped in breaking out into the ground on which he must wage the election if he is to win. Or, perhaps it should be added, if he is to win short of the kind of disruptive, disunifying campaign, stirring religious and racial prejudices, that would put him under a grave handicap of distrust and suspicion.

While politics in its more pragmatic aspects of delegates and elections is what for the most part comes out of the public appearance of the governors, there is evidence that they are also thinking some sober thoughts about the deeper questions that underlie a time of troubles. Beneath the dulling expressions of party confidence they are plainly worried over whether the next president, be he Democrat or Republican, can cope with a situation that has so many frightening aspects.

WORRY CLINIC by Dr. G. W. Crane

CASE F-118: Harris V., aged 34, is a neurotic art student.

"Dr. Crane, I was discharged from the army as a psychoneurotic," he began nervously.

"Since then, I have spent over $1,000 going to doctors. But they tell me they've done all they can for me."

"But still I sit around and try to analyze myself, I guess I think too much. But I keep hoping I'll find some doctor who will cure me."

"Then I can get a job and live like normal people. So can you cure me?"

"No, I can't cure him any more than his other doctors could. For we doctors don't cure you, anyway. You must cure yourself! And the sooner Americans learn that simple fact, the less mental ailments we'll have."

"Do doctors can help you by diverting your thinking along the right channels. But you must then make the plunge."

"Wouldn't it be silly for Harris to want his doctors to teach him to swim, but always refuse to get into the water?"

"Nobody can teach you to swim. Neither could I do Harris' swimming for him, nor can anybody else, doctor or layman."

"For 'swimming' is always an individual task which the swimmer himself must perform."

"The same thing is true in mental medicine. But millions of Americans still seem to think the doctor can do their mental 'swimming,' as it were."

"So stop coddling yourself like that, instead, get into motion. For normal motion will soon lead to normal emotion."

"But I'm afraid to go to work," Harris protested, trembling. "I just can't do it."

"Why can't he do it? He's able-bodied. But he simply has stage-fright. That's no fatal malady. Everybody has stagefright when ever he tackles something out of the ordinary.

So whip up your courage. Normal people go to work in the morning. So if you feel abnormal, why not become normal again by doing what normal people do. That means go to work, regardless of your quavering emotions.

For if you go through normal motions, you'll soon begin to have normal emotions and normal thoughts.

You folks who feel you are abnormal simply need to act like normal people for a few weeks and then you'll begin to feel like normal folks.

There is no royal road to swimming or mental health. You have to earn both of these by doing the hard work yourself.

Nervous breakdowns usually develop because of a see-saw type of conflict between two deep emotions. These may be desire vs. conscience.

So get the facts. If you consult your doctor, write out your complete case to save him time.

Then face the issue. Do what you know is the proper thing, even if it seems like you will die in the process. You will not die.

Mental patients need to divert their attention upon other people and quit moaning about themselves. So join for "Compliment Club," which requires you to pay three honest compliments per day for 30 days.

For that experiment trains you to think positively and look for virtues instead of faults and vices. Meanwhile, it takes your attention off yourself. So you will soon become brave and popular and say, "Send for my bulletin 'How To Prevent Nervous Breakdowns,' enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

"One more question... Is he a Democrat or a Republican?"

The other day being sunny and beautiful, I flew off to Reno to judge a beauty contest for Miss Nevada.

There was a great deal of talk about "why do they choose you to judge a beauty contest?" But I said: "Heavenly days, this is my work. I hate this sort of thing. I envy you people who can sit home and weed the garden and take it easy."

"I know what it will be like," I said. "Living in one of those corner suites in the Mapes. Cocktail parties. Interviewing a lot of gorgeous chicks without a brain in their beautiful heads."

So, after promising to bring home a mink coat and a toy fire engine, I took off with my austere wardrobe—a dinner jacket and silk bathing trunks. Determined to make the best of it.

I must say this is one of the best times of year in Reno. The sun shone bright on the high Sierra. And the Truckee gurgled beneath my windows.

Mr. Waller Ramage, the Reno inn keeper, met me at the airport. "Everything is arranged," he said. "You can spend the afternoon in your room and—"

"I thought I would rest up for the Miss Nevada event by lazing around the swimming pool, Walter."

"Are you mad?" said Ramage. "The swimming pool is a mass of lush and lovely things who are sunbathing themselves."

"That's bad?"

"The worst thing you could do. Look at it this way: If you were judging a cake contest, would you fill yourself full of chocolate eclairs? You have to put yourself in shape to judge this beauty contest. It is important to Nevada."

It was a disappointment. But I saw what he meant. "I might run up and put a few dollars on the blackjack game," I said.

"Not blackjack," said Ramage firmly. "Our blackjack dealers are female. How about a nice lemonade in your room and a nap?"

"Can I have a magazine?"

"You can have a copy of 'Restaurant Guide.' I wouldn't rest you with Playboy."

Mr. Ramage took me to dinner. I said, heavenily days, Walter, I could take care of myself. But he said he wanted to show me the

Q. Nurse, has the patient's mental attitude improved?

A. Indeed, it has, doctor. He's stopped praying for his recovery and has started praying for your bill to be reasonable.

The editor had a mania for short lead sentences and repeatedly lectured Jim on the subject. Thurber finally ran this lead on a page one story: "Dead. That's what killer Joe Blank was when police found him in an alley yesterday."

FACT OR FABLE? by Ed Koterba

Three Minutes A Day by James Keller

Over emphasizing civic faults and ignoring good points is a mistake made too often, according to former Park Commissioner Robert Moses.

After completing 24 years of public service under four New York Mayors, Mr. Moses said: "This is a highly vocal and critical town. It allows the critics to play up everything that is sensational and harmful to its reputation and minimizes, if indeed it mentions at all, its extraordinary daily achievements and triumphs."

"It tolerates blackmailers and slanders in the name of news and lets its virtue go unpublished and unused. . . . It's a false modesty which makes no sense and does us no good."

One who is reasonable and just is pleasing to both God and man and achieves far more than sterile, unfair fault-finding.

Keep a sense of proportion by acknowledging the good points of government as well as by doing something constructive to rectify defects.

LONDON (UPI) — Britain is sending a strong protest to the Cuban government against the seizure of the Shell Oil refinery plant, the Foreign Office said today.

The Foreign Office spokesman said instructions are being sent to the British ambassador in Havana, Stanley Fordham, "to lodge a strong protest to the Cuban government against the action taken against the Shell refinery."

WASHINGTON by Ed Koterba

ISLAND, Fla. — Bob Barrows latched their bicycles and she fired at their summer home as a quick trip. Their vacation is 100 yards away.

Barrows told me, "I've driven 19,000 miles trying to find a place to spend a vacation. Now he leaned back in his chair and grinned. "This year and it—right across the street."

The permanent home is a 50-foot parked in the shade of the five Australian pines at the Coconut Trailer Park. They are second fully-furnished trailers, 15-footers. This they've parked on the street along the beach. They come here by day—some stay overnight—just to catch the tropical breezes and the waves of the Gulf coolly on their door.

The two come from Boston. Bob, a member of Sen. Leverett Saltonstall's Massachusetts legislature, looks like a former school teacher from a district sales office of a firm of flour & Company, and immediately sold his home and took to the lawn chairs for the winter.

Barrows talked about politics, that of our Union and the other people from the trailer colony would up and barrows; "I see you're back at summer home. . . . For I found me, it was like old home. Trailer families are mostly easy-going, and they make friends quickly. We first "discovered" this tiny island—officially known as Fort Myers Beach—last December when we parked our trailer here for the winter.

Just behind the Barrows I found Celta Pike, 71, on her concrete patio knitting a sweater. Mrs. Pike, a former school teacher from Wisconsin, said she got nearly 100 messages from old friends after I told her story some time ago about how she lives "like a millionaire" on a total income of $143 a month.

"But I didn't get any proposal for marriage," she said, chuckling. "I did, however," she added, "find two old gentlemen who play my game—pinochle."

Jim McDorman, who owns the Red Coconut, had a surprise waiting for us. He had reinstated our aluminum home right at the water's edge. He looked 10 years younger than when I saw him six months ago. Then, he had just "retired" after selling out his International Harvester dealership near Columbus, Ohio.

Now he's working twice as hard—and thriving on it.

Another old friend stopped by—Charlie Tucker, who, with his Mrs., had come down here a few years ago from Evansville, Ind., to find peace of mind. They found it—and a nice financial return, too.

The Tuckers opened up a dress shop and business boomed. Then, on the side, Charlie Tucker refrigerators. But there is still plenty of time to fish, or to sit on the porch of their bright yellow little home and study the once-nearly-extinct scapular roseate spoonbills. The birds glide onto the island in flocks now.

"Next time you come down," Tucker said, "we'll go tarpo fishing by moonlight. You haven't lived until you've done that."

I don't know . . . I'd say that just being down here is livin'.

An ad is needed when a machine is going too fast or too slow, or vibrating too high or too low, or making a vibrating noise which should be running smoothly, or made by turning a screw.

The question is which way to turn the screw. This can be discovered by trial and error. That is, the machine is turned in one direction or the other until it vibrates less. Instead of vibrating more, instead of lessening, the screw is being turned in the wrong direction.

When this has been discovered the adjustment can be made by turning the screw in the other direction. How far in the other direction it is to be turned? If the machine is so slow that it stops, or if it is supposed to hit scrapes something it should not scrape, or the vibrating noise down to a murmur, indicate there no longer is any power in the machine, then the screw has been turned too far.

The next step is to turn the screw gradually first in one direction and then in the other, listening carefully to catch the least speed change and vibration. But somehow in spite of the adjustment, the operation of the machine will be far from perfect. In fact the adjustment has made the trouble worse rather than better.

This will attract critics who will offer advice of it helps. They will look sadly at the person making the adjustment, realizing that he knows nothing about machinery and should never have been entrusted with it. The machine will operate very badly or not at all. So the only thing left to do is to appeal to a person gifted in making adjustments, at least a person who may be on one's pride.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What is wrong with a person who would rather lie than tell the truth? I thought Elsie was the most wonderful girl in the world. Then I started to catch her in all sorts of lies. I found out she was a housemaid instead of a stenographer like she said. She told me her parents were dead—I found out they were alive. She said she was born in one place—I learned she was born some place else.

When I catch her in a lie, she readily confesses and feels ashamed. I love this girl, Abby, and was considering marriage. But how can I marry her when I can't believe anything she says? Is lying a disease? Is it curable? UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: Lying is not a "disease"—it is a symptom. People lie because they feel inferior, inadequate and insecure. If you love Elsie, try to help her. Lying is curable—only if the liar will make a sincere effort to help herself.

DEAR ABBY: I was married three weeks ago by our minister in his small chapel. I knew at the time that I was at least two months pregnant, but I didn't advertise the fact. I am telling everyone that we were married three months ago by a Justice of the Peace in a small town near here. (I made it up because of the baby coming.) I want to know if anyone wanted to call up the Justice of the Peace in that small town and ask him if he really married us, would they be able to find out he didn't?

WORRIED BRIDE

DEAR WORRIED: Possibly. There is nothing confidential about public records. It would be up to the Justice of the Peace to reveal or conceal the information.

DEAR ABBY: My sister has two big, strong, healthy daughters, 16 and 20. They both live at home. The older one has a job. My sister's home is as beautiful as any magazine picture, but if you walked into the girls' bedroom you would get the shock of your life! It is cluttered as a pigpen. Clothes piled everywhere. Petticoats standing all around. Shoes all over. Cosmetics and magazines enough to fill a store. I asked my sister why she permitted this and she said she was through talking her heart out. She says she shuts their door and pretends the room isn't there.

Don't you think she is wrong for taking this "don't care" attitude? Shouldn't those girls be made to clean up their room? Don't print my name, just your answer, as I have been told already it is none of my business. CONCERNED AUNT

DEAR AUNT: Your sister has apparently made her decision, so don't stir up trouble where there is none. Personally, I would see to it that the girls cleaned their room and kept it tidy. But the home isn't mine, neither are the girls. And may I remind you, neither are they yours.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LOSING THE BATTLE": You signed yourself appropriately. A man has been known to divorce his wife—but he has never been known to divorce his mother.

If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. She answers ALL letters.

Wife Believes Famed Frogman Not Dead, But Captive Of Russians

By PAUL R. ALLERUP

DOVER, England (UPI)—Mrs. Margaret Crabb, divorced wife of famed British frogman Cdr. Lionel (Buster) Crabb, who is listed officially as dead, is sure he is alive.

She thinks he is working for the Russians somewhere behind the Iron Curtain—unwillingly, but perhaps not too unhappily.

Mrs. Crabb, an attractive, 44-year-old brunette, does not accept the British government version that Crabb died April 19, 1956, while diving near a Soviet cruiser in Portsmouth harbor.

She said the headless, handless body of a man in a rubber frogman's suit that was found 14 months after Crabb's disappearance, and ruled by a coroner's jury to be the commander's, was not his body.

"They showed me the corpse and I do not believe it was Lionel," she said.

A recently published book makes the same claim and has stirred up the Crabb mystery all over again. Mrs. Crabb goes along with the book.

Written by Czech newsman J. Bernard Hutton, the book "Frogman Extraordinary" claims documents and photos smuggled out of Russia prove Crabb did not die that day in Portsmouth harbor but rather was captured by the Russians.

On the day of his disappearance, the new Russian cruiser Orskanikidze, which brought then Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev to Britain for a visit, was in the harbor. A widely accepted, but never officially acknowledged theory, was that Crabb went down to inspect it.

Hutton says in his book that Crabb was taken alive and now is in Soviet hands, training Russian frogmen. There is a photo of a man in Russian naval uniform that Hutton claims is Crabb.

Mrs. Crabb told UPI in an interview that "The picture looks very much like Crabb. He is thinner, but that's only to be expected. I believe it is him."

The claims of the book "ring true" to her, she said, adding: "Many of the remarks attributed to Crabb were just the kind of remarks he would have made."

She said she knew "he would not have stayed in Russia or worked for them unless he was forced." But she added, "Once he knew there was no chance of returning home, his actual love for the sea might easily have persuaded him to instruct Russian naval cadets."

Mrs. Crabb, who divorced the frogman prior to his disappearance, was interviewed in her cliff-top home at St. Margaret's Bay near Dover, where she lives with her 14-year-old son, Michael. She supports herself and son working as a typist in the government's customs office here.

She does not plan, she said, to take any steps to prove her former husband is alive, or to seek his return from Russia if he is.

"I am happy," she said, "to believe he is safe and well."

"I cannot bring myself to think the Russians will ever let him come home," she said.

The British government plans no action in the case. Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd told the House of Commons, when questioned about Hutton's claims, that there is no reason to doubt the coroner's verdict that the body recovered in 1957 was Crabb's.

Woman To Try Glide Over Everest

LONDON (UPI)—Britain's leading woman glider pilot, Mrs. Anne Burns, 43, is planning to glide over the world's highest peak, 29,000-foot Mount Everest, next year—a feat that has never been attempted.

With her husband, Dennis, a physician, Dr. Bernard James, and London dentist Henry Pittroche, she is setting up a trust fund to finance the expedition. The cost is estimated at between $14,000 and $28,000.

Permission was given by the Nepal government for an attempt this year, but funds were not available.

The party would use a field near Mount Everest at Pokhara, which is some 25 miles from the Annapurna peaks in the Himalayas.

Pittroche, who ship out his private plane, a Miles Messenger, to tow the glider aloft. Three gliders would be taken along, including Mrs. Burns' own machine, Skylark III—one of the most modern available.

Supplies of fuel would have to be taken up to the grassy pasture which would serve as the airstrip. It is estimated the fuel would cost $2.80 a gallon. Special radio direction finding equipment would have to be installed to "home" the pilot.

Pittroche, who is 50 and has been a pilot for five years, said: "The country is barren and has no features on which it is possible for a pilot to fix his position."

"There is often a great deal of dust in the atmosphere, so a pilot cannot see far below."

Board Agrees To Try To Hold 11 Mill Tax Rate

The County Commission agreed Tuesday to try to retain the 11 mill tax rate for the county in the new fiscal year, but said any further reduction in the millage is unlikely.

"With all these budget requests for increased funds it will be difficult for any cut in millage now," Chairman John Krider said at the first in a series of hearings on the 1960-61 budget.

Krider made the remark after the board agreed to hold the millage and after Commissioner Homer Little said he would like to see the millage cut this year.

The board felt that there would be no reason to hike the millage on the basis of "conservative" figures released by Tax Assessor Mary Earle Walker on non-exempt property valuations on the 1960 tax roll.

Mrs. Walker estimated non-exempt valuations at $175,800,000. Last year's evaluations were $182 million.

Circuit Clerk Arthur Beckwith Jr. said that, based on figures supplied by Mrs. Walker, the county should receive approximately $1,983,800 from taxes.

After almost two and one-half hours of listening to budget requests, the board went over the general operating budget which is expected to be approximately the same as last year — $483,633.13.

Among the major changes in the operating budget will be an increase of janitorial service in the courthouse.

Last year only $2,600 was spent to keep the courthouse clean and this year the board plans to hire additional help.

However, budget requests were the order of the day and the majority of the officers under the jurisdiction of the commission wanted more money.

County Health Director Dr. Clyde Brothers asked the board for an additional $5,000 to employ an extra sanitarian. The current health department budget is $18,000.

Brothers stressed the need for an additional sanitarian by saying that more emphasis must be placed on inspecting restaurants and schools.

"Sanitation in some of the schools is in terrible shape," Brothers said.

Raymond Ball, vice chairman of the County Zoning Commission, asked the commission to raise the budget of the zoning office from $38,449 to $48,100. Included in the budget request was a pay hike for director Robert Brown from $6,300 to $7,800.

The county agent's office also asked for a budget increase of $2,069.70. The 1960-61 request was for $13,669.70. The request includes a raise in pay for County Agent Cecil Tucker from $2,500 to $3,500. The agent also receives $3,600 from the state.

More funds also were asked for the county home, with an increase from $26,000 to $30,000 to take care of needed repairs.

The home demonstration agent's office asked for an increase from $7,920 to $8,665.

The welfare clinic asked for an increase from $9,000 to $12,000. Civil Defense asked for an increase of funds from $6,000 to $9,000.

There were also small increases requested by the circuit judge and county judge's offices to provide more equipment and needed improvements.

The only decrease in funds was from the supervisor of registration's office from $14,000 to $9,425. The reason for the decrease is that there won't be any re-registration this year.

The biggest budget request came last week from the sheriff's office when Sheriff J. L. Hobby asked for $144,000 as compared with $151,000 last year.

Hobby asked for the increase to give deserving deputies a pay raise.

Krider said the board hopes to have the budget in final shape by the end of the month.

Ike Says Nikita Trying To Interfere In U. S. Election

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower charged today that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev is making very crude attempts to interfere in the American presidential election.

The President told a news conference, however, that he did not believe the Democrats or Republicans were going to try to take advantage of Khrushchev's intervention.

The chief executive also told reporters he would be ready after the November election to work closely with his successor, regardless of political party, to provide for an orderly transition of government particularly in the field of foreign affairs.

Eisenhower at his first news conference in eight weeks said the degree of consultation with the new president would depend largely on the wishes of his successor. But he said he was prepared to arrange for cooperation not only on the presidential level but between members of his cabinet and appointees of the incoming president.

Eisenhower also made these other high points of news:

He disagreed with New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller that the United States has declined in military, economic and psychological strength as compared with Russia.

He rejected suggestions that the American economy was now in a recession, saying the only dark spot as he saw it was currently low steel production.

He reiterated the friendship between the people of the United States and Cuba, saying that only the inexplicable actions of the government of Fidel Castro was causing trouble between the two nations. He expected to act later today or early Thursday on the bill empowering him to cut Cuba's share of the U. S. sugar market or freeze it out altogether.

He saw no reason for despair because of his canceled trips to Russia and Japan. He predicted that the new president would visit other countries and that his successor would not reflect the feelings of the American people unless he worked to the greatest possible extent for peace.

Eisenhower's conference covered a broad range of developments that have occurred since before his trip to the Far East last month and since his last news conference on May 11.

He was told that Khrushchev might make some radical new proposal on settlement of the Berlin crisis shortly after the elections, and was asked whether he was thinking of a transitional arrangement with the new administration regarding foreign affairs.

New Castro Reprisals Are Feared

HAVANA, Cuba (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro's government prepared today to seize all United States-owned sugar mills in Cuba as a likely first step in reprisal against U. S. cuts in the Cuban sugar quota.

Informed sources believed that confiscation will follow as soon as President Eisenhower signs legislation empowering him to reduce or eliminate Cuba's share of the U. S. sugar market. After that, they believe all other American property here probably will be seized.

Among the most likely targets for immediate seizure are the $300 million Cuban Electric Co., which is half-owned by the American and Foreign Power Co., and the $125 million Cuban Telephone Co., about 85 per cent of whose stock is owned by the U. S. International Telephone and Telegraph Co.

The Commodity Stabilization Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture suspended all Cuban sugar imports Tuesday in a preliminary move. There was no doubt here that Eisenhower is going to make a slash in the remainder of Cuba's 1960 sugar quota.

The sources said that as soon as the President formalizes the import cut, Castro will start a "clean sweep" of American properties here.

The first step will be nationalization of the sugar mills in accordance with the powers granted Castro and President Oswaldo Dorticos at a cabinet session that ended in the early hours this morning.

The most immediate effect of Castro's nationalization powers will be to build a hotter fire under rapidly-deteriorating Cuban-American relations.

It will intensify the latent but increasingly open anti-Americanism by Cubans as the culmination of 16 months of thorough brainwashing by Castro's propaganda machine. This has been feeding out a steady flow of "down with Yankee imperialism" themes as well as the controlled press, radio, magazines, pamphlets and speeches.

All morning newspapers here gave top billing to Castro's new power, while the U. S. Agriculture Department's action got secondary play.

Sugar union leader Conrado Beequer said Monday that 37 of 101 mills are American-owned, with a value of $23 million.

Taking over of the mills probably will mean complete cessation of sugar imports by the United States, observers believed. Cuba would thus be forced to sell exclusively on the world market. The United States would be forced—and apparently is preparing to do so—to arrange bigger permanent imports from other sugar-producing nations.

Observers doubt that when and if all remaining U. S. property here is nationalized that the United States will continue to maintain diplomatic relations with Cuba.

Kennedy Favored

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Here is how the Democratic presidential race stacks up on the basis of committed delegates and known first ballot preferences compiled by United Press International:

Another 201½ votes were pledged to favorite sons and 377 were uncommitted. It takes 761 votes to win the nomination.

Study Asked In Rail Dispute

CHICAGO (UPI) — Four big brotherhoods of on-train railroad workers proposed today that the complex dispute over the industry's work rules be submitted to a special study commission that would include carrier, union and public representatives.

Union leaders representing more than 200,000 employees announced their proposal as they went into the first preliminary discussions at national level on the controversial and bitter dispute.

CD Warnings Termed Inadequate

The Civil defense warning system in the county was termed "inadequate" by CD director A. B. Peterson Sr. Tuesday.

Peterson told the County Commission that he would like the authority to establish 15 small sirens throughout the county to warn citizens in case of any emergency and asked that the board hire a CD deputy on a full time basis.

The board asked Peterson to return next week with a complete study on where the sirens would be placed before reaching any decision. They also postponed action on the hiring of a deputy until that time.

Peterson told the board that he would like sirens placed in Lake Monroe, Longwood, Chuluota, Oviedo and other communities in the county.

He estimated that the cost and installation of the sirens would be approximately $2,500.

However, the board questioned whether these smaller sirens would do any good and asked Peterson if perhaps fewer but larger sirens would do the job.

In other business, the board agreed to open bids for equipment in the new health center on Aug. 16.

North Orlando Told Road Budgeted

The North Orlando Town Council was assured Tuesday night that improvement of the Longwood-Oviedo road is in the 1960-61 county budget.

Commissioner Vernon Dunn told the council that the work is budgeted at $150,000 and includes work on the road all the way from Longwood, where it is known as Molnar Ave., to SR 419.

Plans for a recreational area in North Orlando also were disclosed at the meeting. The plans will be completed Friday for the area in the shopping center section of the town. A baseball diamond, shuffleboard courts and picnic area will be included.

"Construction on the recreation park will start immediately after the plans are approved," Vice Mayor Frank Fasula said.

Two Events Set For Art Program

Two events are on the weekend art program at the Mansion in DeBary.

A tea from 3 to 5 p. m. Sunday will be held in conjunction with the one man show of works by Eugene White. Mrs. John Craycraft of Eustis, a member of the Art Federation board, will be hostess for the tea.

A group of artists from the New Smyrna Beach Workshop will sponsor a painting weekend at DeBary Saturday and Sunday, with Helen Hamill of that organization as hostess.

Mr. Greer was a member of the Presbyterian Church, the Presbyterian Mens Club, Kiwanis Club, Delta Sigma Phi, Pan-Atlantic Council, Masons and was a well-known pianist in local civic groups and at one time was an organist in silent movies.

He is survived by his wife, Martha, one daughter, Mrs. Charles Rose Sanford, two sisters, Mrs. Phillip Lee, North Adams, Mass., and Miss Doris Greer of Westhaven, N. J. and two grandchildren, Marjorie Lee Rose and James Leonard Rose.

Burial will take place at a later date. Gramkow Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Tougher Law Asked

BRADENTON (UPI) — Charles R. Fisher, GOP candidate for state treasurer, said Tuesday night Florida should adopt compulsory inspection of motor vehicles. Addressing the Manatee County Senior Republican Club, Fisher said Pennsylvania had used such a law to reduce accidents attributable to mechanical failure to a per cent of the total.

Two Are Injured As Car Overturns

A blow-out tire caused a car to swerve out of control and turn over Tuesday, injuring its two occupants and completely demolishing the car.

Brownie Mae Lee, a 64-year-old Sanford Negro, suffered a fractured shoulder and wrist, and James Brown Lee, 6, suffered scalp lacerations when the car overturned at the road, police said. The mishap occurred at the intersection of Geneva Avenue and Brison Avenue. No charges were filed.
