

Here's Happy Thought; How About Income Tax Day On Election Day

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Somebody should pass a happy miracle postponing income tax day until Nov. 8, which is election day. This is income tax time. To combine income tax day with election day might prod the chumps among the voter-taxpayers to think before they vote.

If the chumps are able to think at all, they should think on election day about the free ride the politicians promise them in the campaign which leads up to election day. This free ride is not free, of course.

There aren't any free rides for the voter-taxpayers, including the chumps. The chumps are happy in their madness, however. They accept without thought or analysis the promises of the politicians that the rides are free. The politicians give the chumps some credit for gumption, of course. Probably too much.

However, that may be, the politicians do not attempt to persuade the chumps that free rides are really free—that no one pays for them. The politicians fear that even the chumps among the voter-taxpayers are too smart to swallow that.

What the politicians tell the chumps and expect them to believe, is this: That the free rides are free to the chumps because somebody else will pay for them. Sometimes the politicians become real frank and honest and explain to the chumps that the rides are free because they are paid for by Uncle Sam.

The chumps believe this and happily vote for free rides for themselves on the foolish belief that Uncle Sam is somebody else. Uncle Sam is all of the chumps among the voter-taxpayers and all the smart ones rolled together.

Uncle Sam is us, you, me and everyone else. Whatever the promising politician promises to give to you or to me or to anyone else for free will be paid for by us. There is no such thing as a free ride just as there never was such a thing as free lunch.

There are some citizens who live moderately well by getting something for nothing. Citizens, for example, such as bank robbers, embezzlers, pan-handlers and the like.

But these citizens are looked down upon because they transgress the laws of the land and impose gross and undue hardships on their victims. The promising politician is a villain of a lower order. If the truth were told, the promising politician imposes gross and undue hardship on multi-millions.

There should be, of course, a law against such disgraceful and anti-social conduct as that in which the promising politician indulges to gull the chumps and booby who vote the politician into office.

No such law is likely, however, because the congressional politicians would have to pass it. They've got a good thing and they won't let go until the chumps get on to them. May it be soon.

Taxpayer Had It Real Easy Making Out Forms Years Ago

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Nostalgia is not what I ordinarily feel when I sit down to prepare Form 1040. The feeling I have is more closely akin to nausea.

Nevertheless, I have been rummaging around in the good old days of tax paying in hopes it might help me face the 1960 moment of truth.

For the first few minutes that I spent immersed in the archives of the Internal Revenue Service, I did manage to lose contact with reality. But that familiar panicky sensation began to return along about the year 1912.

It was in 1962 that the government first hit upon the idea of using the income tax to separate a citizen from his earthly treasures. It had not then, however, figured out a way to separate him from his sanity at the same time.

The oldest tax return that the revenue service has preserved was filed in 1865 by a certain W. J. Dean of Breckinridge County, Ky., who was a lucky man. Dean simply listed his earnings ($2,000) and his tax ($100) and went merrily on his way, his head uncluttered by visions of Alcatraz.

In 1895, the U.S. Supreme Court, in one of those blinding flashes of reason that are all too rare in American jurisprudence, ruled that even this relatively painless form of extraction was unconstitutional.

Almost overnight, the grass turned green, the birds began to sing again and...but why continue? It didn't last. Eighteen years later, in a strange outcropping of masochism, the nation adopted the 16th Amendment and we've been in for it ever since.

I have closely examined the first Form 1040, issued as soon as the income tax was legalized in 1913, and it was easy to see how we got off on the high road to bewilderment.

The form ran to four pages, including one page of single-spaced instructions in which this milestone was firmly planted:

"The normal tax of 1 per cent shall be assessed on the total net income less the specific exemption of $3,000 or $4,000 as the case may be. (For the year 1913, the specific exemption allowable is $2,500 or $3,333.33, as the case may be.) If, however, the normal tax has been deducted and withheld on any part of the income at the source, or if any part of the income is received as dividends upon the stock or from the net earnings of any corporations, etc., which is taxable upon its net income for the purpose of calculating the amount of income on which the individual is liable for the normal tax of 1 per cent by virtue of this return (see page 1, line 7.)"

From this point, it was only a short drive into the verbal morass of Form 1040 as we know it today.

Evaporator System Makes Cheap Fresh Water From Sea

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—Chemical engineers have designed a simple evaporating system that will make drinking water from the sea for less money than any plant now in operation.

Disclosure of the new system was made today by F. C. Standford Jr., of W. L. Badger Associates, Inc., Ann Arbor, Mich. Standford told the American Chemical Society convention that a million gallon-a-day plant based on the process is soon to be built at Freeport, Tex. Fresh water should be produced from the Gulf of Mexico for about $1 a thousand gallons said Stand-

McCanna Asks End Of Taxation By Favoritism

Tax Assessor Richard McCanna, speaking in his opponent's home territory in Oviedo Saturday night, opened up his heaviest political barrage of the campaign saying that "taxation by favoritism must never return to Seminole County."

"It is unfair and undemocratic to protect one group of taxpayers at the expense of the other with utter disregard for the law. It is not democratic to afford one group freedom from taxes by lowering the assessment level just because they have the largest number of votes. We can't assess to get votes, and if assessments must be made based on the number of votes, you can count me out right now," McCanna said.

McCanna added that he did not seek "this job in October with the intention of becoming your future tax assessor but only to help out in a time of great need in the county." "I wear no man's collar," he emphasized.

Mrs. Mary Earle Walker said that she is elected to the assessor's post, she would use every effort to serve the people of Seminole County to the best of her ability.

"I was removed from the assessor's job without a public hearing," Mrs. Walker said. "All my efforts to give the citizens a fair and just assessment were thwarted by a certain few," she said.

"I will carry out the duties of the office in the best business-like way," she added.

In the District 1 County Commission race, J. C. Hutchinson said he would do everything in his power to control natural resources in the county while T. V. Brown said he would work toward better roads.

Don Bates said he was the "only individual in the race and was not taking orders from ultra-conservative or ultra-progressive pressure groups."

District 3 County Commissioner Lawrence Swafford said certain groups had approached him and said they would work "to defeat me if I bring the liquor controversy into the campaign. I will never stop in my efforts to stop the selling of liquor on Sunday," Swafford said.

A. R. Lorman urged that candidates stop using dirt in the campaign. "Let's leave the dirt in the ground," he said.

Candidate James Avery summarized his previous campaign remarks and again criticized the "sad conditions" of the county home.

However, District 3 County Commissioner Homer Little answered Avery's charge about meat being served only once a week there, by declaring that the menu at the home are posted for everyone to see and said persons at the home "are eating better meals than some people here tonight."

Avery also had a rebuttal today for County Commissioner John Krider who said last week that Avery's statement concerning the board's drainage efforts were unfair.

Avery said he thought Krider's answer to his statement was "fairly unfair" and called it "a deliberate attempt to belittle my abilities."

Krider had complained about a statement by Avery that the county board had gone to "unnecessary expense to hire consulting engineers to report he said the county drainage committee made to the commissioners April 16 concerning such services.

"I pass over my privilege of stating who is well informed as to the reports of this excellent committee," he said.

Democrats Muster Support For Medical Care Proposal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Democratic leaders searched today for four more votes to clear a major roadblock to legislation to provide medical care for old folks on social security rolls.

Liberal Democrats, who regard the controversial legislation as a must, thus far have fallen four votes shy of getting it approved by the House Ways and Means Committee.

Speaker Sam Rayburn and Leader John W. McCormack were expected to begin working today to pry some sort of a compromise health care plan out of the committee.

"Effective legislation should be enacted into law," McCormack told a reporter. "I will do all I can to get an effective bill covering at least hospitalization through the social security approach."

The original plan would provide hospitalization, nursing home care and surgical benefits for old people receiving social security. The costs would be met through higher social security taxes. It is opposed by the Eisenhower administration.

A compromise version would be limited to hospitalization insurance, with no hike in the tax rate. Social security taxes would be collected on the first $4,000 of annual earnings instead of $4,900 as at present, however.

Snow Puts Damper On Easter Parade

By United Press International
White Christmas routed the Easter Parade in parts of the Middle West Sunday.

An April storm dumped up to four inches of snow on Iowa, Nebraska and the northern Great Lakes during the weekend.

The unseasonable weather cut out telephone service, reduced visibility to zero and piled up huge snowdrifts.

The snow got so heavy in central Iowa that the Des Moines radio of the highway patrol was put out of commission for nearly two hours. Driving conditions also were hazardous in upper Michigan, which got three inches of snow during the night.

Thunderstorms accompanied by tornadoes and hail lashed a wide section south of the snow belt. At least five persons were killed. Two teenagers, a girl and a 17-year-old man were killed early Sunday when their car skidded on a blacktop road near Chester, Ill., in a heavy rainstorm and hit a concrete abutment.

One man was killed near Washburn, Iowa, when a tornado raked a highway truck stop, tipping a semi-trailer truck over a car. Another tornado swirled over Tulsa, Okla., and a one-year-old boy was killed when lightning struck his home.

Not every break would cut off the water supply for all of Sanford, Richard said. Some breaks would just cut off water from certain sections of town.

Repairing the line would have taken longer if there hadn't been good cooperation between the city water and street departments, Richard said. No emergency needs for water were reported while the line was out, he said.

Missing Capsule

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI) — A 200-pound space capsule whizzed around the earth in a polar orbit today—much to the disappointment of the Air Force. The orange crate-sized capsule stuffed with instruments was successfully ejected Saturday on the 17th orbit of Discoverer XI satellite. But it did not return to a air base near Hawaii where a flotilla of ships and planes hoped to make the world's first recovery of an object from orbit.

Beverly's Mom Faces Charges

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The mother of Beverly Aadland goes to court today for arraignment on charges of contributing to the delinquency of her slim teenage daughter.

Platinum-haired Mrs. Florence Aadland, 53, by police records but 46 by her own claim, Sunday took an Easter basket of candy to 17-year-old Beverly in Juvenile Hall.

Beverly's mother and daughter had a talk about things judicial.

"I told her the gravity of the charges against me and said I was up to her to tell the court she loved me," said Mrs. Aadland.

"Beverly told me, 'Mama, I know we were framed.'"

Mrs. Aadland was charged with five counts of contributing to the delinquency of a minor (Beverly) as the result of a wild wine-drinking party at the Aadland apartment. If convicted, she faces a maximum sentence of $1,000 fine and one year in jail on each count.

Mrs. Aadland was arrested on the charges last week and released on $1,050 bail.

Her daughter, an aspiring singer and the playmate of the late Errol Flynn, was confined in Juvenile Hall since April 9, the day William Stancic, 21, was fatally shot in her apartment.

Orlando GI Uses Truck For Easter Morning Ride

ORLANDO (UPI) — Airman William Meeker Branch's wife refused to give him the keys to their car after a Saturday night out on the town.

So Branch borrowed a 21-ton Air Force fire truck. With siren screaming, red lights flashing and police in hot pursuit, he went for an Easter morning ride.

The jaunt ended with the truck stuck in the mud and Branch in trouble with Orlando and Air Force authorities. A preliminary hearing was scheduled in Orlando city court today on the charges of reckless driving and unauthorized use of a government vehicle.

Branch, 20, stationed at Orlando Air Force Base, commanded the fire truck but after midnight Easter morning, he jockeyed the big truck around city airport run-

Sanford Without Water For 4 Hours Due To Pipe Break

A water pipe break caused Sanford to be without water for four hours this morning.

A 10-inch main broke at Celery and Willow Ave. about 6 a. m. and kept the whole town from getting water until the break was fixed about 7:45 a. m.

The 8 1/2 foot split in the cast iron pipe could have been caused by old age or back pressure by water. Public Works Director S. M. Richardson said. Sanford water and sewer department employees repaired about nine feet of pipe to get the line functioning again.

The break was not caused by construction or repair work near the line, Richardson said. The pipe was installed in 1934 or 1935.

Not every break would cut off the water supply for all of Sanford, Richardson said. Some breaks would just cut off water from certain sections of town.

Repairing the line would have taken longer if there hadn't been good cooperation between the city water and street departments, Richardson said. No emergency needs for water were reported while the line was out, he said.

Public Forum Set By Voters League

The meeting is planned to help voters determine the facts and to intelligently select their candidates in May 3 Democratic primary. Discussion of personalities will not be permitted.

Board To Consider Swim Pool Code

The proposed Sanford swimming pool code is aimed at protecting city residents against careless pool builders, City Manager W. E. Knowles said today.

The code to be submitted for the City Commission's approval next Monday explains safety factors that a pool should have. Some people think all a pool needs is a hole with a concrete lining and some water in it, Knowles said. He pointed out that poorly built pools can buckle under heavy water pressure.

The new code drawn up by Sanford building inspector M. A. Yelvington sets up standards for pool wall and floor strength.

Dickinson Raps 'Idle' State Leaders

By United Press International
Governatorial candidate Fred O. Dickinson today criticized Florida leaders for standing idly by while the federal government subsidized foreign industries to the detriment of Florida industries.

Speaking at Tarpon Springs, Dickinson said the federal government "pumped $750,000 into the Cuban sponge industry at a time when our own sponge industry in Florida badly needed help and would ill afford more foreign competition."

Another candidate, Farris Bryant, told a Clearwater audience, "I am committed to segregation, not only in our schools but in all areas of our lives. At the same time I am for providing equal but separate opportunities for both races."

Bryant also said the state had "broken faith" with senior citizens by keeping an increased tangible property tax. He advocated it be cut to its 1957 level.

Six of the candidates repeated their disagreement with Gov. LeRoy Collins on the issue of lunch counter segregation demonstrations during an appearance at Orlando.

All six, including one Republican, said they did not agree with the governor that it is morally wrong for department stores which do business with Negroes to bar them from lunch counters.

The six were Jirvey Belsler, Farris Bryant, Haydon Burns, George Downs, Jim McCarty and Republican Emerson Rupert. They were questioned during an hour-long television program by former governors Millard Caldwell and Fuller Warren.

Each candidate gave his view of the outstanding campaign issues. Their answers were:

Belsler: "Reapportionment, then segregation."

Bryant: "Adequate schools is the biggest need."

Burns: "Applying business to government returns government to the people and takes it away from the lawyers in Tallahassee."

Downs: "The same as Mr. Belsler."

McCarty: "More schools, higher pay for teachers and better highways." He said all these goals are attainable through legalized gambling.

Rupert: "Establishment of a two-party system."

In another weekend development in the campaign, the Miami Herald endorsed Doyle E. Conner Jr. for governor. The newspaper said it believes only Conner, Bryant, and John McCarty have a chance to win.

Either Bryant or McCarty would serve the state adequately, and honestly, the newspaper said. Conner planned to tour Orlando today and to speak at a rally in St. Petersburg tonight. Burns was scheduled to be in New York to sign Jacksonville City Auditorium bonds.

Thompson Named To Replace Mayo

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. LeRoy Collins today appointed Lee Thompson as state commissioner of agriculture to succeed the late Nathan Mayo.

Thompson will serve out the unexpired term until early January, 1961, when a new commissioner, elected in November, will take office.

He told a news conference he will devote much of the coming months to preparations for putting into effect of a top-to-bottom reorganization of the department.

The reorganization, which would streamline the unwieldy agency, was ordered by the 1958 Legislature with the stipulation it not take effect until a new commissioner took office next January.

Thompson, 33, has been Mayo's administrative assistant since 1957.

Two Hospitalized In Auto Mishap

Two Daytona Beach residents were hospitalized after a smash-up on French Ave. at First St. Saturday.

Seventy-year old Pierre Daniel of Daytona may have suffered a neck whiplash from the accident, police said. Henry Klains said suffered knee wounds.

The accident happened when a car driven by James Egan Cousins Jr. of Orlando crashed into the back of the Yost car at the French and First intersection, police said. Daniel was a passenger in the car driven by Marie Yost.

Cousins was charged with following too close.

It Didn't Take Elvis Long To Get Back To Civilian Life

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — An Army life was much different, didn't take Elvis Presley long to get back into the rock 'n' roll swing of civilian life.

As usual, the 28-year-old king of rock 'n' roll is hard to reach in his hometown because of his topsy-turvy nightlife. There's always a cluster of the curious outside the iron grated and brick-walled $100,000 "Graceland" mansion where the gatekeeper knows just who to permit inside.

The gate opens wide, for example, for Elvis' No. 1 girl-friend, Anita Wood, who recently dyed her blonde hair brunette to match Elvis'. Presley's hair is actually light brown, but he has kept it black here.

Elvis had some sad moments during several trips he made to his mother's grave. His mother died here in 1958 while he was in the service.

Presley will soon have a step-mother, Mrs. Davada (Dae) Elliot Stanley, a divorcee and mother of three small sons. Mrs. Stanley and her sons, who say they think they will like Elvis as a "big brother" are all house guests in the Presley's 16-room mansion.

Elvis' middle-aged father, Vernon, a former Mississippi tenant farmer, has said they will be married in the near future, but a definite date has not been set.

Each year some 200,000,000 cans of sardines are processed in canneries located on the Maine sea Coast.

Longwood Jaycee Elections Tuesday

The Longwood Jaycees will hold their annual election of officers Tuesday night.

The Jaycees will elect a president, first and second vice presidents, secretary, treasurer, membership chairman and five directors. The Longwood Junior Chamber has about 115 members now, membership Chairman Bill LaBree said Friday. A candidate must get votes from a majority of the Jaycees present at the 7:30 p. m. meeting in order to win an office.

The time for paying the annual $6 club dues is coming up. Anyone wanting to pay their dues now should contact LaBree.

Longwood Fire Volunteers To Conduct Training School

The Longwood Volunteer Fire Department will hold a training school every Sunday at 9 a. m., starting next Sunday.

The department plans to practice firefighting by burning an old car and a building. Publicity Chairman Bill LaBree said Friday. LaBree said that some department members have not been showing up for the regular Wednesday night meetings. Members who miss three meetings in a row will be dropped, he said.

The Longwood volunteers' training includes pumping from lakes through fire hoses, stretching hose, setting fires and practicing putting them out.

The volunteers want to thank everyone who has donated money to the department. About $200 has been given the department during the last few months, LaBree said. Most of this money came from persons living outside Longwood, at places where the department answered fire calls. The volunteers have fought fires as far away as Oviedo.

How About A Better Plan?

We have been following the political rallies around the county and find most of the campaigning for Seminole County offices to be on a sensible basis.

Some personalities have been examined in the usual way and none of us agree on everything that the candidates say, but that's all right. There is one point which has been raised by at least one candidate, however, that we want to say that we believe is just plain foolish.

The matter of using county funds for promotional purposes through organizations such as the Chamber of Commerce and Committee of 100 has been attacked and the candidate says he is against it.

We are for any reasonable economy in government at all levels but in this day of population and economic growth, this county has got to compete as best it can for a share of progress.

Our efforts in the scramble are somewhat limited anyway and to suggest that we not make this effort is thoughtless talking.

There are 82 counties in Florida which allocate promotional funds to their chamber of commerce each year. All of them have found this a good investment—and so has Seminole County.

If some of the candidates have a real program for making this county grow, they ought to get up and say so.

And we mean a definite plan, not just being in favor of progress. In the meantime, any who are inclined to take the popular stand of being "against" whatever is being attempted should either present us with a good plan for growing and doing better or they should shut up.

Every eligible citizen has a right to run for public office but that right also carries the responsibility of offering something to the people other than a loud mouth hollering "I'm against . . . . ."

WORRY CLINIC by Dr. G. W. Crane

CASE E-30: Anna D., aged 29, is a clerk's wife.

Dr. Crane, she began ruefully, "I never seem to catch up with my household duties."

"And my husband chides me because I am late for meetings, I guess a lot of other wives are like me, but how can I learn to accomplish more yet remain serene and unburdened, too? Or is that impossible?"

He, you can readily increase your output, yet lead a more serene, serene life, too.

First, get up 15 minutes earlier each morning.

Then you will not need to dash through breakfast, yell at the children so often, and otherwise raise your blood pressure.

"But, Dr. Crane," you may protest, "I am so tired that I need that extra sleep, don't I?"

During those extra 15 minutes, your heart probably saves three beats per minute or a total of 45 beats, and that rest for the heart is the chief value of sleep.

But if you then grow fearful at being late for work and thus scream at your family or drive extra fast to get to the office on time and grow fearful at loss of a couple of minutes in a traffic jam, your heart may beat 45 extra beats.

So you expend an extra eight beats (or more) per minute for maybe an hour, so you overwork your heart far more than you save by sleeping that extra quarter of an hour.

Indeed, you may then remain somewhat tense or anxious all the eight hours at the office or factory job.

Do get up earlier each morning if you wish to give your heart from the mad rush that may overtake it.

As a second means of increasing your output, make an agenda of the duties you wish to perform next day.

Write this list just before you go to bed. Include routine items such as washing the breakfast dishes, as well as dusting, ironing, going to the grocery store, etc.

In my own case, I find that an agenda probably doubles my own output.

For as soon as I finish one item, I don't waste half an hour wondering what to do next.

Instead, I look at my written agenda sheet and pick out a task that fits my available time or my mood.

Then, to bolster my morale, I cross off each completed item in heavy red pencil.

Housewives seem notoriously unable to match their output against the moving hands of a clock. There are occasional exceptions, but most women are much like children in lacking a "time sense."

It would be helpful for you to have your eye on the kitchen clock and see how many items you can get done per minute.

Also, imitate the efficiency engineer by better planning. Lay out your tools in a logical sequence so you don't waste steps or motions.

It would be a boon to ALL wives if they had a modern factory and let an efficiency engineer give them a brief talk, plus a demonstration.

Remember, a lot of auto accidents also occur because early wives compel husbands to drive like mad to make appointments on time.

CAVEMAN COURTSHIP-1960

ASSIGNMENT WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON—The day was one of the most important anniversaries of her life as First Lady. Mrs. Woodrow Wilson suffered a heart attack last Christmas.

Next October 15, Mrs. Wilson will reach her 80th birthday. Her spryness left her only in the last few years, though. Just four years ago she chided an old, dear friend, Washington correspondent Bascom Timmons, about his taking an elevator at a downtown hotel.

What's wrong with walking up? she had said.

It was in 1934, when the president died, that the First Lady slipped into seclusion in this home

WASHINGTON CALLING

NEW YORK—Seemingly as inevitable as the coming of spring, the movement to make Adlai Stevenson the nominee for president of the Democratic party is bound to grow in force right up until the day the convention opens in Los Angeles.

He could stop it but only by making a General Sherman type of statement saying that he would not run if nominated and would not serve if elected. This he has so far refused to do and every indication is that he will continue to decline to be, as he put it at his press conference here, a "draft evader."

The draft movement at this point has no professional guidance. It has no sanction from Stevenson nor is it likely to have. Insofar as these things ever are in the complexity of American political life it is genuinely spontaneous.

From California a draft-Stevenson organization is circulating petitions in 30 states. Headed by Arthur L. Johnson, a lawyer in San Jose, the objective of this volunteer group is to get 5,000,000 names to be submitted to the delegates when they meet in Los Angeles on July 11. In other cities across the country similar groups are springing up.

The professional political equation, with respect to Stevenson, can be put as follows: If the West Virginia primary demonstrates that the issue of religion is likely to split the Democratic party wide open, then it will be essential to find a compromise candidate who has not been involved in the struggle. Should Sen. John F. Kennedy come out of that primary with a feeling that he had been ganged up on by all the others, putting money and influence behind his rival, Sen. Hubert Humphrey, then Stevenson would be the logical choice.

That is the way it is beginning to look not alone to ardent Stevensonians but to others in the party increasingly fearful that a religious split will further complicate the party's North-South division. The upshot is a Stevenson-Kennedy ticket, the assumption being that Kennedy, despite his statements on the vice-presidency, would take second place on the ticket with Stevenson and only with Stevenson.

This, it is hardly necessary

WASHINGTON CALLING by Marquis Childs

to add, is not the view of the old party pros such as Harry S. Truman. The belief now is that Truman will come out early next month for Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri. Symington will therefore be the rallying point for many old-line Democrats who want to win with one of their own kind, and they see in Symington a compromise choice who, in his own professed belief, can unify not only the party but the country.

What of Stevenson the man, the brilliant, complex, resilient individual? How does he feel as he sees this new avalanche threatening to come down on him? You gather from talking with him that his emotions are somewhere between dread and desire.

He is a complex human being, with few of the qualities of the hard-shelled extrovert politician who can go out after the prize, whether it's the presidency or the sheriff's office, and fix on it with a snapping-turtle grip. He has both a tenacious memory and a vivid imagination and he knows, therefore, what the ordeal of a third national campaign can mean with all its torments and its risks.

On the other hand, he believes that we have reached a sort of now-or-never moment on nuclear testing and the possibility of halting the spread of nuclear weapons to fifth and sixth and seventh powers and on down the road to final disaster. While he is much too discreet, and in a sense too modest, to say so, he believes that his experience around the world has equipped him to meet the situation with courage and perhaps with the hope of success.

The view that in his University of Virginia speech he sounded like a candidate and thereby put himself back in the sweaty arena starts him. His rather surprised response is that he has been saying these things all along and why, just because he has returned after an absence of two months in Latin America, should they be taken as a political affirmation?

This is the familiar Stevenson; it is the Stevenson whom many of his detractors accuse of suffering from a Hamlet-like indecision. These are the same people who have turned away from him because, in effect, he is not another Truman out to get a snapping-turtle grip on the big prize. At the other pole are the loyal admirers who see in him the qualities of greatness that two defeats at the hands of a national hero have in no way dimmed.

As always he is troubled; deeply troubled over the religious issue and what it may do to the party and the nation; troubled at this seeming opportunity to halt the nuclear arms race may be lost. In short, in 1960 this is the Stevenson as before.

More Americans own homes than do not.

Sorority Presents Program On Homes

A program on "Architecture and Home Planning" was presented when the Gamma Lambda Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met for their bi-monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. F. Wade Tye in Wynwood. The subject of architecture was covered by Mr. Tye, Sanford architect. He talked on the architect's responsibility to the public in designing structures which are truly pieces of art rather than a building with simply an applied coating or frosting. He explained that a properly designed structure expresses its own beauty when that beauty grows from within the building itself. As a conclusion to his program Mr. Tye showed the film entitled "A Place to Worship" which emphasized truth in church architecture. Mrs. Sophia Shoemaker presented her part of the program and spoke on Mt. Vernon, the home of George Washington. She gave the history of the home and explained the construction of the estate, the beauty of its site and surrounding building and how it has become a national shrine. Mrs. Carol Dennison concluded the program on "Home Planning" by explaining the steps taken in the design of the modern dwelling. She also explained the different types of financing available in purchasing your own home. A film entitled "This is a Home" was also shown. During the business meeting it was announced that two Birthdays Place to Worship which emphasized truth in church architecture.

Covington Covers Sports

By JERRY COVINGTON

In my own opinion, if a baseball manager has determination, wisdom of the game, experience, and, above all, respect for all of his players, he has everything to produce a winning baseball club.

Saturday afternoon Robbie Robertson, new manager of the Sanford Greyhounds, arrived in town with his wife and two daughters and it didn't take long for me to see that he has all of these qualifications.

I spent the better part of the weekend visiting with him and all that can be said is that I can't wait to see him and his crew swing into action Tuesday night in Leesburg. He is a fine looking young man who is as full of enthusiasm for his ball club as has ever been displayed here in Sanford by a manager.

Robbie comes to Sanford with 12 years experience in baseball from class D all the way to AAA and he has been a workhorse all the way. He has been a "hard nosed" type ball player throughout his career and as he put it, "I had to be because I was always fighting for my job because of my size."

As an example of what he was talking about here is one story that he related that took place while he was playing for Red Treadway at Jacksonville Beach in 1942. Robbie approached Treadway at the first of the season about a fifty dollar raise and Treadway immediately rejected the request. Robbie said, "Red, you have another catcher don't you," and Red replied, "yes." "Well, fire him and I will catch all the games this season." Red fired the other catcher and gave Robbie his fifty dollar raise. Well, that year in the FSL they played a 154 game schedule and Robbie caught them all but he broke his toe in the last two weeks of the season. In fact he caught his last two games with the broken toe.

If this isn't determination I'll eat my hat.

This is the same type of ball that Robbie is expecting from his ball club this summer. He has nothing but praise for every player on the roster and he does not have a question mark in the entire lineup. He has them all swinging the bat and running so this should be the most colorful ball club ever to play in Memorial Stadium.

I asked Robbie what kind of team spirit they had and he said, "I've got a bunch of mocking birds out there. If we have three thousand fans for the opener Wednesday night and those nine on the field don't make more noise than they do, I'll release them all tomorrow."

We have the manager and he has the "horses" so look out Florida State League. There's a lot of making up to do for last year.

Greyhounds To Meet Giant Farm Team In Exhibition Tilt Tonight

By JERRY COVINGTON

The Sanford Greyhounds arrived in the city Saturday night to prepare for the lid lifter in the Florida State League Tuesday night in Leesburg.

This year the club is affiliated with the Kansas City A's and from their wonderful showing in spring training in Pensacola it looks as though we will be well represented around the league this summer.

Tonight Manager Robbie Robertson and his hustling youngsters will face Artesia, New Mexico, a Giant farm club, in an exhibition tilt that will get underway at 7:30 in Memorial stadium. This will give these youngsters a chance to get the feel of their new home and have them ready for the opening game Tuesday night in Leesburg.

Due to the ruling in the FSL that allows only one veteran to a team, Manager Robertson has been signed as a non-playing manager in order to make room for hard hitting outfielder Hinojosa, (Calypso) Bolivar. Last year Bolivar played for Robertson in the Kansas City farm system.

Robertson felt that he could have played only one third of the games because of his two fine catchers that will be in there. This prompted his decision to try it as a non-playing manager. However, if needed at any time, he can always "take off the wraps" and be in there swinging again. Bolivar is 22 years old, stands over six feet, and weighs 190. Robertson says that he considers himself very lucky to have such a fine caliber player on his squad this season.

Robertson feels that his infield is the finest that has ever come out of a spring training camp at Pensacola representing a Class D Club. Shortstop Dick Green is one of the most highly touted youngsters in the entire Kansas City farm system and with flashy fielding second baseman Ozlie Chavarria, the Greyhounds should have the best double play combination in the league. At third base, where the Greyhounds were so pitifully weak last season, Robertson is very fortunate. He has Bill Dukes, who swings a big bat at the plate and Willard Bishop who is a fine glove man. Bishop will serve also as utility infielder for the club. At first base the Greyhounds are also solid with depth. Ken Harrelson, who was signed out of a Savannah, Georgia high school for a $30,000 bonus last year is the number one man and is a potential .300 hitter in any league. Don Reed, a powerful six footer, is also a power hitter that will see plenty of action here and as Robertson puts it, "Don doesn't know his own strength at the plate. If he hits it, it will be out of the park."

In the outfield Robertson is pleased with the excellent defense that Bill Dube and Pat Sisk have been supplying all spring. Both have exceptional speed and they are both capable of throwing strikes to home plate. Mike Maloney, a six-three rookie, will also be in the lineup and as Robertson puts it, "he too can swing the bat."

Tonight big Joe Petricovic has received the nod from Robertson on the mound against Artesia. Robbie feels that Petricovic could be his sleeper this season and he could very likely be his fourth starter. He is a hard throwing right hander standing six feet and weighing 190.

Rickey Threatens To Raid Majors

United Press International Branch Rickey, heading a call for "more positive action" by baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, provided plenty of it today with a threat that the Continental League may raid the American and National leagues to get players.

Rickey, however, said such raids would be made only if the Continental League was "forced to do so."

Sets Record

PAU, France (UPI) — Jack Brabham, the Australian who won the world auto racing title last year, set an unofficial record of one minute, 34 seconds for the Pau track Sunday during trials for today's Grand Prix de Pau race for formula No. 2 cars.

Little Major League Season Gets Underway This Afternoon

Mayor Earl Higginbotham will throw out the first ball this afternoon when the 1960 Little Major League season begins at 4:30 p. m. The league has two additional teams this season with games scheduled each weekday at 4:30 and a doubleheader on Friday.

Amateur Boxer Dies Of Injuries

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — Charlie Mohr, an altar boy who became a champion college boxer, died Easter Sunday of injuries he suffered a week earlier in the ring.

The deeply religious 22-year-old University of Wisconsin senior was knocked out in the finals of the NCAA tournament here April 10 in defense of his 163-pound title. Charlie walked to his dressing room after the fight and collapsed. He suffered a massive brain injury and was unconscious until his death at 8:40 a. m. Sunday.

Indians Trade Colavito To Tigers For Kuenn

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Frank Lane finally got Harvey Kuenn from Detroit and now stands to get a lot more from Cleveland fans for trading away their "pet" home run hitter, Rocky Colavito.

American Leagueers generally agreed today that the Tigers got the better of the swap and Cleveland fans were even more sure of it. The Cleveland Press reported that the reaction of fans calling in was more than 10 to 1 against the trade.

It could turn out to be a rough deal for Lane unless Kuenn, the 1959 American League batting champion, makes Cleveland fans forget all about the home run heroics of the 26-year-old Colavito.

That's going to be no mean trick.

Colavito, probably the most popular and exciting player to appear in a Cleveland uniform since Bob Feller, bid farewell to the Indians Sunday by slamming a home run in a 2-1 exhibition game victory over the White Sox at Memphis, Tenn. The homer was his eighth of the spring.

Rocky was the big gun in the Indians' surge to second place last season even though he batted only .257. Along with that mediocre mark, however, he hit 42 home runs to tie Washington's Harmon Killebrew for the title and drove in 111 runs.

The 29-year-old Kuenn, on the other hand, led the league with a .353 average, but the majority of his hits were singles and doubles. He hit only nine homers and drove in 71 runs.

Casey Stengel, in New York, was among those who liked the Tiger's end of the deal.

"They sure got themselves a dandy in Colavito," he said.

Giants Know There's Nothing Wrong With Loes Now

United Press International The San Francisco Giants, proud owners of two quick dividends from unpredictable Billy Loes, now know there is absolutely nothing wrong with his arm or his bat, for that matter, either.

Some skeptics felt Loes had lost his stuff when the Baltimore Orioles traded him and Billy O'Dell to the Giants last December for Jackie Brandt. They thought the 30-year-old Loes was merely a "throw-in" to keep the Giants happy.

He kept them happy all right, Sunday and kept them in a first-place tie with the Dodgers too by pitching hitless ball in relief, producing a key hit and scoring the winning run in a 14-inning, 4-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Loes, credited with his first National League victory since 1955 when he was with the Dodgers, took over for Jack Sanford in the 12th and struck out four men in the last three innings.

Loes, who didn't collect a single hit with the Orioles all last season, did a perfect job at bat also. He led off the 14th with a line single to right off loser Ben Johnson, advanced to second on a sacrifice and scooped home on Jim Davenport's single. Orlando Cepeda tied the score at 3-3 with a two-run homer off starter Bob Anderson in the sixth.

The victory was the Giants' fourth in five games and the Dodgers kept pace with a 7-5 decision over the Cardinals, who dropped their fifth straight. The Braves beat the Phillies, 8-4, and the Pirates swept a doubleheader from the Reds, 5-0 and 6-3.

Home runs by Gil Hodges, Duke Snider and Wally Moon helped Los Angeles to its victory over the slumping Cardinals. Larry Sherry, the Dodgers' relief ace of 1959, started for the second time in a week and received credit for the triumph although lifted after six innings. Stan Musial and Alex Grammas homered for St. Louis. Eric Broglio was the loser.

Eddie Mathews led a Milwaukee assault on Robin Roberts of the Phils with a homer, triple and a double. Ray Boone highlighted a four-run rally in the sixth when he drove in three runs with a double. Bob Buhl limited Philadelphia to six hits, including two homers by Harry Anderson and one by Bobby Del Greco.

Pittsburgh won its eighthcap against Cincinnati the hard way, coming up with six runs in the ninth inning after trailing 5-0. Hal Smith socked a pinch three-run homer during the uprising and Bob Skinner hit a two-run homer. Bill Henry and loser Ted Wiliams bore the brunt of the attack after Don Newcombe and Raul Sanchez blanked the Pirates over the first eight frames.

Bob Friend held Cincinnati to four hits in the opener and Bob Clemente's two-run homer in the first inning was all the margin he needed. Sotirpaw Joe Nuxhall was the loser.

Named Talent Scout

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — Joseph Henry Thomas of Courtland, Ohio, has been appointed a talent scout for the Minneapolis-St. Paul club which will begin play in the National Football League in 1961.

Snead Wins Play

GREENSBORO, N. C. (UPI) — Sammy Snead won his seventh greater Greensboro golf tournament and $2,000 with a four-day total of 370.

Writer Dies

BOSTON (UPI) — Bill Cunningham, 64, nationally-known sports writer and a Boston Herald columnist for the last 19 years, died Sunday after a long illness.

Drainage District Petition Expected

The County Commission expects to set the date within 10 days for a special election on setting up a tax district in the Loch Arbor area.

Chairman John Krider reported to the board today that a petition with the names of 51 percent of registered freeholders in the area asking for the district should be in next week.

The district involved includes Loch Arbor, Little Venice and the Country Club section. The petition is being circulated in the area calling for the special election.

If the majority of the property owners favor the district, a plan to eliminate flooding would be put into effect before the fall.

Krider said the estimated cost of the plan would be $21,000. This would provide for acquisition of property, construction of drainage ditches, dams, canals and installation of culverts and drainage pipes.

If everything goes smoothly in setting up the district, the board agreed that the next step would be a tax district in the Tanglewood and Temple Terrace section.

The county agreed to join in a project with Orange County and Winter Park to eliminate flooding in that area. Money for Seminole's share would come from funds out of the tax district.

Castro Criticizes Eisenhower Letter

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro said today President Eisenhower has "no right" to speak out against him, the Cuban revolution or the Cuban government.

Castro made the statement in an interview granted CBS correspondent Richard Bates and published in full by the semi-official newspaper Revolution.

The premier also denied that he had suggested personal talks with Eisenhower or U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Hoff to seek solutions of differences between Cuba and the United States. He said his remarks in a previous interview with Bates had been distorted.

Castro charged that the U. S. government "is taking advantage of every opportunity to sow confusion" over the Cuban revolution.

"If there is someone in the U. S. government who believes he can conquer the Cuban revolution in that way he is making a mistake because the Cuban revolution without any doubt will continue without any vacillation," he said.

Castro said Eisenhower "had no right to speak the way he has spoken about the Cuban revolution and the Cuban government." Eisenhower in a recent letter to Chilean students said Castro had betrayed the ideals of the revolution.

USDA Criticized
WASHINGTON (UPI)—A union spokesman has accused the Agriculture Department of adopting a "consumer-be-damned" attitude toward federal inspection of processed meat and poultry food products. Arnold Meyer, legislative representative of the AFL-CIO Meat Cutters & Butcher Workmen, made the charge at a news conference after a House appropriations subcommittee March 14. His testimony was made public today.

Remark Contested
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Government and private aviation experts today contested Sen. Vance Hartke's contention that jet-prop airplanes—the Electra in particular—are not as safe as other passenger planes. The Indiana Democrat said accident statistics showed that two-thirds of the air crashes last year and 76 per cent of the airline fatalities in the first three months of 1960 occurred in jet-prop. Such planes have conventional propellers powered by an engine.

Passage Of Rights Bill Is Cleared

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House Rules Committee cleared the way today for final congressional passage Thursday of civil rights legislation aimed at guaranteeing the voting rights of Negroes.

The committee approved a resolution calling for House acceptance of changes the Senate made in the bill before passing it April 2.

The House, which approved its own version of the bill March 24, will receive the Senate measure Thursday on a take-it-or-leave-it basis as a result of today's committee action.

The Rules Committee, which chairman legislation in the floor, assured final House passage by permitting the House to act on the measure by a majority vote.

Without committee clearance, the House would have required a two-thirds majority to send the civil rights bill to the White House.

Troops Battle Mobs In Seoul

SEUL, Korea (UPI)—Anti-government mobs raged through Seoul today, placing President Syngman Rhee under virtual siege in his presidential palace, attacking government buildings, newspapers and police stations and setting fires.

Government troops and armored cars firing at point blank range rolled them back with heavy casualties but the mobs attacked again. Two Americans were known to have been injured.

Authorities at six major Seoul hospitals reported at 9:30 p. m. that at least 81 persons were dead and 300 seriously injured.

Republic of Korea authorities declared martial law in Seoul and five other cities as demonstrations protesting last month's national elections spread from the south into the capital itself.

The other cities were Pusan, where the Orient Press reported five dead, and Tagu, Kwangju, Taegon and Masan.

Orient Press said rioting involving 30,000 to 40,000 demonstrators still raged in Pusan as of 9 p. m.

In Seoul, the fighting came close to American Army installations and homes occupied by Americans but there was no known attack on any of them. U. S. troops were kept in their bases as a precaution.

Outside the Korean government's Anti-Communist Center the mob tried but failed to topple a statue of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

This evening, American Ambassador Walter F. Connally called on President Rhee to express "concern" over the day's rioting.

As night fell, most of the streets were quiet. Street cars stood idle, with lights burning but empty of passengers. On some streets, the dying flames of burning automobiles flickered.

The government radio warned against further violence, and ROK soldiers in full battle dress rode in jeeps, warning by loudspeaker against more mob action.

Seoul's martial regime tightened curfew regulations and banned all outdoor gatherings. Mayor Yim Heung Soon resigned, saying it was his fault that the rioting had gotten out of hand. James Wilcox, of Quincy, Mass., former president of the American Chamber of Commerce here, was shot in the abdomen while watching the riots from the roof of the Bando Hotel. A U.S. embassy spokesman said his condition was "quite serious."

Hugh F. Blaney, of New York City, chief of the U. S. Army's Seoul fire department, was hit in the forehead by a stone.

The Communist radio reported that rallies were being held throughout Red North Korea to pledge "full support" to the rioters south of the 38th Parallel.

President Eisenhower was briefed today on the rioting and martial law in South Korea, but there was no indication whether he might cancel his plans to visit Russia and the Far East.

Acting Press Secretary Wayne Hanks said the president was getting regular briefings on the Korean situation, along with intelligence reports from other parts of the world.
