On Fighting Fires

REPORT FROM ENGINE CO. 25 By Don Smith, McCall Books, $5.95.

For those whose blood stirs and heart quickens at the sight and sound of fire engines booming down the street, sirens screaming, this book is a must. Smith is a New York City firefighter. He has been for eight years. And in his often breathtaking autobiographical book, he takes those who stand on the street and watch the big engines go by to the end of the line. To the place where the fire is. To the heat and choking smoke, to the place where death waits for the careless or unlucky.

"We can smell the smoke as the pumper turns down Intervale, and hands automatically start pulling boot-tops to thighs, clipping coat-strings closed, and putting on gloves. The pumper steps out of a building just before we reach Kelly Street. We're about to stretch the hose when there is an anguished scream from inside the building. A boy is running out of the doorway, his shirt and hair aflame.

That's just one paragraph of a 215 page book that grabs and grabs again and again. A reader with sharp eyes, often frightening, incidents drawn against a background of smoke and flame.

But the book is not all speeding to burning buildings. Smith has his eyes on ground among them. The amount of money firemen are paid, the lack of proper equipment, and perhaps most of all, false alarms.

To Smith, "anyone found guilty of pulling a malicious false alarm should be sent to jail for a year, or, if under 18, to a reformatory school." Why? Because a company answering a false alarm "not readily, but immediately, for a fire, and in the minutes it takes to die because a fire-"

By MR. FIX

Lightweight oil, the kind sold in small applicator cans, and an oil can filled with some undetermined grade of motor oil—the best of the lubricating supplies found in the average home.

Any old oil won't do the job. Neither will any old time. Lubrication should be done on a regular basis.

As for lubricants, variety is available, so that it is possible to fill any special need. Quite simply, lubrication is a process that eliminates friction between moving parts. It is generally done with oil or grease, but not always. The wrong lubricant won't do. And too much of even the right lubricant is almost as bad as none.

The lightweight oil you can find in any dime store is fine for small appliances, fans, sewing machines, mixers, anything with a light motor and some gears. If you want to apply a light film of oil to a metal surface for preventing rust, this kind of oil is ideal.

Heavier motors, other machinery will require a heavier oil. Sometimes a particular grade of oil is needed. If you want to apply a light film of oil to a metal surface for preventing rust, this kind of oil is ideal.

Lubricate lock with powdered graphite. Use spray lubricants on outdoor tools. Use grease stick on window slides. Loosen nuts-bolts with penetrating oil.

During 1971 American motorists drove more than 95 billion passenger cars on an estimated 90 billion miles, or more than 10,000 times the distance to the sun. The World Almanac adds in addition, more than 235 billion miles were driven by the more than 20 million trucks and buses in the United States.

Think Pretty Borrow Beauty From The Past

If you didn't get your annual supply of perfume for Christmas, there's Valentine's Day yet to come.

And when you think about it, in these ecology-conscious times, perfume is meaningful not only as a gift from nature, it's a gift that's real besides, and that may be a novelty.

Next to your lake fur coat of course you want the snow leopards to survive, so you lease their coats to them, those cotton suede pants that look like real suede, that fake hairpiece, your 10-carat simulated diamond, and those long, sweeping but false eyelashes.

Your perfume in fact may be the most real thing you're wearing.

The French perfume houses tell us that the great perfumes, indeed, could not exist on substitutes.

Oils from the flowers at Grasse, ambergris from the whales at sea, Indian sandalwood, the bitter-sweet of the bergamot—orange of North Africa, nut from the Himalayas and since the first Christmas, frankincense and myrrh from the Arabian terebinth tree and balsamodendron tree—these and countless other exotic ingredients are the basis of the perfume industry.

Man has not been able to satisfactorily reproduce and combine most of the natural oils and fixatives which go into formulating perfumes, according to experts at Marcel Rochas, Inc.

Early Sex Life Brings Problem

By ELEANOR RODGERSON, M.D.

Q. Do you think the birth control pill should be taken by a young unmarried student?

A. I think you probably mean, "Should contraception be used by a young unmarried student?" The answer is, "If she is having sexual intercourse, and she is running the risk of pregnancy, she certainly should use contraception."

The disadvantages of early sex experiences are being stressed often. There are not only the hazards of interrupting a pregnancy by abortion, or trying to rear a child when the mother is herself a child, but also the risk of inflammatory conditions of the pelvic organs, especially of the cervix. The earlier a woman begins her sex life, the younger she is when she begins to have problems. Cancer of the cervix is a proven development.

Confidence Vote Given Demo Chief

By Donna Estes

Vote of confidence was given to the new chairman, Mrs. Helen Fitts, by the membership of the Seminole County Democratic executive committee Thursday night. A new vice chairman of the organization was elected unanimously by the group.

Not a dissenting vote was cast to a motion sponsored by Harvey Coulter to reject a recommendation of the rules committee that the office of chairman be declared vacant since the resignation of the former chairman, John Kader.

Using precedent and by-laws as foundation, Mrs. Fitts, former vice chairman, several weeks ago assumed the chairmanship after Kader's resignation.

The rules committee, headed by Eli Subin, according to a report by D.M. Luke, decided that the chairmanship was vacant. The executive committee, however, after rejecting the report, declared the office filled by Mrs. Fitts and agreed to an immediate election to fill the office of vice chairman.

Elected vice chairman by voice vote was Kenneth Krause, of Altamonte Springs.

Mrs. Fitts, at conclusion of the voting, declined to accept a motion to remove Subin as chairman of the rules committee in favor of a more active member.

$1 Million Realty Transfer Aired

Two property sales along SR 436, north of Lake Howell Lane, in South Seminole County, have resulted in just over a $1 million transaction with transfer of title to 26.9 acres.

Fletcher Properties, of Jacksonville, an apartment house builder, bought 19.6 acres for $750,000 from J.K. Galloway, of Winter Park, and purchased the adjacent 7.2 acres for $290,000 from Albert and Nancy Beazley, Winter Park.

Although no announcement has been made to the use of the acreage, it is expected the property will be the basis for a new apartment complex, an informed source reported. Fletcher also has other apartments near Maitland.

County Commissioners Turn Thumbs Down On Article V

By MARION BETHEA

Seminole County voters will have the opportunity Tuesday to decide on the proposed constitutional amendment known as Article V. The outcome of the vote will affect each citizen.

Realizing that this is one of the most singularly important issues of our time, The Sanford Herald interviewed each of the County Commissioners for his views on the subject.

In a sort of "hiresite chat" atmosphere, reminiscent of the Franklin Roosevelt era, here is what the county's governing officials think about the issue.

Commissioner Edward Varabough... "I have no statement to make... I am opposed to it... it is going to cost the taxpayers too much money. They will bear the expense for this system. I haven't read the article, but what I do know about it my biggest objection is to the funding."

Chairman Greg Drummond... "Article V, rather than reform, is a restructuring. Unfortunately, only the pros have been conveyed to the public and the cons have not been presented."

"Before the people vote they should be aware that the lever marked 'yes' has an increased ad valorem price tag on it, contrary to what they have heard."

"When we move into the new courthouse, it will be filled beyond capacity, and Article V will require the immediate construction of an annex."

"This is for the county to fulfill the requirements of housing the many additional departments for the state, as well as expanding the existing departments."

"Our architects indicate that the shell construction alone would be $11,000,000. Unfortunately, I anticipate the public's reaction to this ramification will bring about negative reaction to a bond issue for a construction, which would necessitate direct funding for a two-year period for construction, for fear of additional ad valorem taxes."

"In addition, we must provide maintenance and some staffing from the county level."

"It would appear that revenues previously received from the clerk's office would be diverted to the state, thus necessitating additional ad valorem taxes to replace."

"Contrary to the intent of the Article V concept those states who have restructured have had a reverse effect in that the additional judge appointments to meet the increased demand were slower in coming through, thereby creating an even greater backlog than was experienced prior to the restructuring."

Commissioner Sidney Vilhen

Merchants Favor Downtown 'Look'

By BILL SCOTT

The Sanford Downtown Business Association indicated enthusiasm to a proposed downtown improvement plan at a meeting of merchants and city planning and zoning officials Thursday afternoon at the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

Gerard D. Duke, city planner, citing the need to uplift the downtown image by improving the structures, asked the merchants group to prepare its own plan to uplift the area similar to the changes that were wrought at Mt. Dora and Leesburg by the business people there.

"We need to create some bold thinking for downtown Sanford and should try to compete with other areas but let's face it you cannot compete with a Zayre's or K-Mart," Duke said.

The planner pointed out that changes already are taking place in the area, such as the senior citizens high-rise apartment, but he said the merchants and property owners should plan to capitalize on the specialty type sales to be made to senior citizens.

"M. Dora was totally devalued but they fixed up their store fronts and now are doing well," Duke advised.

Some of the needed improvements cited by the planner included take parking off some streets, one-way other streets and property plan to renovate the downtown in conjunction with the property owners.

"I suggest you plan your own thing, finance it and do it," Duke urged.

He said he figured it might cost somewhere between $6,000 to $8,000 for a good plan prepared by an engineer.

"If the city does it, then you always will think of it as the city's plan and not yours," the planner added.

Mack Larenby, city engineer, said he had been asked to do an intersection analysis to relieve the traffic lights and eliminate left turn signals.

"Downtown traffic will get worse but people are not going to fight it, they will go elsewhere," Larenby added.

Nixon Foe Covers All The Facts

primary, while Ashbrook, due to lack of funds, offered a 17-day campaign; and garnered twice as many votes as McCloskey.)

"I was waiting for Governor Reagan to step in and make a try for it, but when that didn't materialize, I felt that someone had to go... here I am."

Ashbrook called the present economic slump the "greatest in post-war history." He added that back in the campaign of '68, the promise was made that there would be a change away from the $10 billion deficit.

"Today, we have experts estimate that it'll reach $60 billion and Mr. Nixon treats it as a matter-of-fact routine."

Other areas where he challenged the present administration were in military national defense—where we are now behind the Soviets. This, according to Ashbrook, is the second greatest failure of the Nixon administration, and is again a broken promise of the election campaign pledge to "keep America militarily great."

"If elected, one of his first actions would be to dismiss Dr. Henry Kissinger, whom he described as "a one-man State Department."

Ashbrook's views on other topics included busing as the top issue in Florida, but the sagging economy would be No. 1 on the national scene; welfare should be separated into three categories of the able bodied, indigent, and welfare mothers; Vietnam War—agree on absolutes—stop the fighting only after the release of the POWs.

Gov. Askew Reports: School Busing Declining

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Citing a state Department of Education study, Gov. Reubin Askew said today many Florida school districts "have substantially less busing now than in the days of segregation."

Speaking at a Capitol news conference, Askew said the study shows that the average number of pupils bused in the past 20 years was 32 of every 100.

"This study shows that we achieved more than 90 per cent desegregation in Florida last year while transporting 35 students out of 100, only three more than the average," he said.

"And indications are that the percentage of students being bused is going down again this year," he added.

Askew said the study shows "a decline, not an increase, in the average number of miles children are being bused in Florida."

Dr. Dick Kirk, a Department of Education researcher, said the study was prepared because of widespread concern about busing—not because of Askew's campaign against the anti-busing straw vote on Tuesday's presidential primary ballot.

He said seven large counties with court ordered busing plans—Dade, Duval, Hillsborough, Palm Beach, Pinellas, Orange and Broward—were transporting only 31 per cent of their pupils.

"Apparently the number of children being transported is on the decline still today," Kirk said. He said 345,304 children were being bused this year in the seven large counties, but said he didn't have comparative figures for past years.

Askew said the study "has exposed several fallacies about the extent and hazards of busing in Florida."

"It goes a good way toward putting this issue into perspective, and I want to commend the department for initiating it," he added.

Allies Thrust Anew In East Cambodia

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP)—A south Vietnamese armored strike force of 100 vehicles and thousands of troops drove into eastern Cambodia today in a new thrust designed to destroy North Vietnamese and Viet Cong base camps.

Field reports said fewer than 5,000 troops were committed in the first day but that the force was expected to grow in phases to as many as 20,000 men by next week.

Officers in the field reported no major contact yet in the drive north of the Saigon-to-Phnom

Penh highway, about six to 10 miles inside Cambodia and 75 to 100 miles northwest of Saigon. It was the first major drive into eastern Cambodia since Nov. 22, although much smaller operations have been launched since then.

In a smaller drive under way since Feb. 1 about 25 miles farther southwest, the Saigon command said, 35 enemy troops were killed with the help of air and artillery strikes, while two South Vietnamese were killed and eight wounded.

U.S. B52 bombers softened up the objective areas and paved the way for a new South Vietnamese offensive west of Tay Ninh City in South Vietnam.

Development Ordinance Certain In Longwood

By DONNA ESTES

LONGWOOD—Two items of expense of growth which have become somewhat a "thorn-in-the-side" of the city in recent months—cost of street lighting and processing of plats—were put on the backs of land developers by the City Council Thursday night.

Council on first reading adopted an amendment to its subdivision ordinance to require builders to pay all costs of installing street lights within their developments and to pay a fee of $300 upon filing of application for plat approval to defray costs of administration and engineering.

Although the ordinance passed its first reading on a scant three-to-two vote, approval on second reading appeared certain.

Councilman William Klosky and Mayor Kenneth Brown joined forces in sponsoring the amendment, which will also reduce width requirements of sidewalks from five feet to four feet.

Voting against the amendment were Councilmen E. E. Williamson and Council Chairman Eugene Jaques. Williamson indicated, following the meeting, that his "nay" vote was due to a misunderstanding and he will vote for approval on final reading.

Jaques did not explain his negative vote.

The amendment also provides that additional fees may be charged to builders, by resolution, in the event the $300 is found to be insufficient to cover costs.

In other action, the Council took under advisement a question from builder Charles Taylor as to whether the city would consider selling its land

Services Asked For Airport

Sanford Airport manager J. S. Cleveland has recommended to the Airport Authority that the City of Sanford provide refuse service and assume responsibilities for water and sewer hookups to the airport.

Cleveland's suggestion came at Thursday's authority session but, due to lack of a quorum, no action could be taken on the request.

Cleveland said Sanford Airport users are entitled to refuse service same as anyone else, adding, "At present we have airport crews picking up garbage."

Previous to this various commercial carriers were hired to pick up refuse and garbage but none to the airport manager's satisfaction.

"I requested the city manager to provide refuse service again last week, but he stated they could not because of a lack of personnel and the need for additional city vehicles," Cleveland advised.

Later, Cleveland told The Herald he would work out the matter with Sanford City Manager W. E. Knowles.

The candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination had such a heavy schedule he had to be transported by helicopter to Maitland. The Chamber was his second lunch engagement that day and he was due at the Cape at 2 p.m. for another speaking engagement.

Although his schedule kept him on the go for 18 hours of the day he still maintained his humor.

Record Growth Seen

The Village of North Orlando, eyeing a possible record year in new construction at or near the $6 million mark, saw building valued at $42,600 in the two months. Construction dipped from $58,600 in January to $34,000 in February.

In Casselberry, construction activity climbed in February nearly 100 per cent over the January total of $22,494 to $49,870. Sum of the two months was $72,363.

Building remained at $12,000 in Oviedo at $34,900 compared with January at $361,000 for total of $725,800.

Recorded activity in Longwood was $27,720 in February added to the $156,502 in January for a grand total of $384,222.

The city in February saw construction of six single family dwellings valued at $59,811, one duplex for $21,909 and four industrial buildings at $138,000.

State Renews Efforts For Police Academy

By BILL SCOTT

Tallahassee nearly two years ago in an effort to interest the state to lease a Sanford Airport structure for a police training school. The Cabinet never has made a decision on this, although $1 million was appropriated for the school and is being held in abeyance.

In the meantime, the airport building offered to the state for $20,000 a year has been leased—but the sheriff indicated there may be other land along the lakefront that could be utilized.

If the bill passes, it would become law in June and would cost the taxpayers $6.7 million to construct and staff the facility.

Card of thanks to Sheriff John Polk said the effort by the state Legislature to establish a police academy is of interest to him since, if the bill passes, he believes it should be located in Central Florida.

The Legislature also has approved a resolution directed to Congress requesting the federal government establish a police training academy (similar to the U.S. Military Academy, U.S. Naval Academy and U.S. Air Force Academy) in Florida.

Relating to the legislation for the state-operated academy now before both state houses, Polk said, "I feel Seminole County should be the logical location for the academy."

The sheriff recalled that he and Sanford police officials, including Mayor Lee P. Moor, made several trips to LONGWOOD—Fire Chief Carl Lommier and Councilman William Klosky were given the blessing of the City Council Thursday night to speak to residents of the Woodlands, located north of SR 434, concerning annexation.

Klosky told the Council of a near tragedy in the subdivision several days ago when a house caught fire. The house was saved due to quick action of the city's fire department.

Klosky said, however, that had a fire occurred during the period the fire-fighters were battling the blaze in the development, the firemen would have had to return to the city leaving the house burning.

"We are willing to provide the area with police and fire protection, if the area is willing to annex to the city," Klosky declared. The fire chief and the councilman will seek a meeting with the civic association of the subdivision in the next few days.

In other business, Council turned over to the street committee for study and recommendation a request that a dedicated easement running between SR 427 and the railroad track be abandoned. The easement abandonment was requested to give additional parking space for a glass shop to be built at the former site of a tavern which burned down some months ago.

Agreed to supply water to the A.T. Nelson property on Marvin Avenue, outside the city. It was announced Nelson will petition for annexation in the near future.

Donna's Deliberations

By DONNA ESTES

Upurge in building activity was seen in Seminole County and the six municipalities during the month of February, statistics released from the various building departments reveal.

Activity was up some 75 per cent over the sluggish period experienced in January.

Total value of buildings constructed in the area in January was $7,536,838 compared with February totals of $4,882,789 in January and $4,790,921 in February.

If construction continued at the same rate throughout the 1972 year, totals will top the $125,000 mark by year-end. However, building is expected to escalate even more during the approaching Spring and Summer months.

Leader with little more than half of the combined construction is Seminole County areas under the control of the Board of County Commissioners at $11,672,810. Breakdown is $4,882,789 in January and $4,790,921 in February.

Of the six cities, Altamonte Springs led with $4,923,502 including $1,297,535 in January and $3,625,967 in February. The February totals included the new Crane's Roost Office Park at $1,200; Spring Lake Apartments at $492,000 and 31 single family homes at $1,538,300. The total represented 70 building permits.

Sanford, meanwhile, issued 205 permits in February for value of $1,188,208 including 44 single family dwellings valued at $508,060. In January, building permits for 168 new buildings valued at $420,918 were issued. Total value of building in the 60-day period in Sanford was $1,609,216.

what the cost to the taxpayers would be.

"I will personally vote against it and would urge all citizens to first investigate Article V upon their own, but to vote against it also," (Vihlen, in an aside, noted that all of the Bar Associations within the state have opposed the article.)

Commissioner Al Davis ... "First of all I am in favor of the concept of tying the courts and standardizing the court system so that each county and district have the same type of system.

"I am in favor of eliminating the fee system for constables and justices of the peace, which is all part of Article V, and which is good. This is the plus part of the bill.

"But the greatest negative factor is that I feel it will take the judicial system down to the 'grass roots' level; that is abolishing the JP's and putting them in a higher court and making them attorneys. This is abolishing the John Q. Citizens' right to come in and talk upon a local level, to ascertain the problem and possibly resolve it locally without all the legal entanglements.

"Having served in the capacity of a JP, I feel strongly about this fact of Article V. I resolved a great many cases which came before me before getting into formal action. The issues were resolved on a man-to-man basis.

"The primary negative point, in my opinion, is that Article V is an amendment to the constitution to the taxpayer than the present

Letters To Editor LWV Supports Court Reform

Editor, Herald:

The League of Women Voters believes that the voters should be fully informed of the spirit and intent of Amendment 1 to streamline and modernize the administration of justice. Further the Circuit Judge can establish branch courts in municipalities other than the county seat.

Efficiency—The ability of a judicial circuit to assign judges for duty in his respective circuit. Specialized divisions such as the Small Claims Courts and Traffic Courts can be established.

Professionalism—All non-lawyer judges are gradually phased-out of the judicial system except in counties of under 40,000 population. (In these small counties there are few, if any, lawyers to fill the positions.) Judges will be required to serve full time and will not be permitted to practice law or engage in any work which could conceivably result in conflict of interest. Vacancies are filled by governor appointment prepared by an independent nominating committee. These provisions raise the quality of justice, eliminate conflicts of interest in judicial procedures, and properly implemented could make our courts the most efficient and best qualified in the United States.

Increase Municipal Revenue—Since the salaries of all judges would be paid by the State, and the fines and forfeitures collected would be returned to the municipality involved, the result is greatly increased revenue for the smaller communities.

The League believes that passage of the amendment will provide the citizens of Florida a uniform system of justice that is efficient, professional, and totally responsive to the needs of a rapidly expanding population.

Students' Loan Fund On Ballot

By Marion Betha

While attention throughout the state has been focused on Article V, the judicial reform article, voters on March 14 also have for their consideration constitutional amendment 2, which is an amendment to Article VII of the Florida Constitution.

While perhaps not as widely publicized, nevertheless the amendment is of due importance.

The amendment, specifically, would add Section 15 to Article VII so that "when authorized by law, revenue bonds may be issued to establish a fund to make loans to students debt-mined eligible as prescribed by law who have been admitted to attend any public or private institutions of higher learning, junior colleges, health related training institutions, or vocational training centers, which are recognized or accredited under terms and conditions prescribed by law."

According to research performed by the League of Women Voters of Seminole County, and released by Mrs. Wayne Smith, public relations chairman, the state would issue revenue bonds, to be secured by pledges of repayment by the student borrowers and by a portion of student fees. The bonds would be payable from payments of interest and handling charges by the students.

The proceeds of each bond issue would go into a student loan fund which would be self-supporting and self-perpetuating without the use of general revenue funds, since the loans to students will be for a shorter term and for a higher interest rate than the bonds issued to raise money for the fund. Excess monies generated by the fund above the amount necessary to retire the bonds would be utilized for educational grants to eligible students.

It is especially stressed by the League that the money used would not come from the taxpayers. The program would be financed through revenue bonds backed by the loans themselves with the Federal Government guaranteeing repayment.

The proposal is for the students to repay the loans over a 10 year period following graduation or completion of their military obligation.

The amendment would assist those families who are not poor enough to qualify for direct student assistant programs, but conversely, not rich enough to send their children to college without help of some nature.

Mayor Unopposed

Our congratulations to North Orlando Mayor Granville (Jerry) Brown for being unopposed and thus assured of victory and return to office in his city. Brown, retired from the Martin-Marietta Company, has been devoting practically full time to his fast-growing company and despite his grueling hours, he continues to enjoy the political process.

And to Altamonte Springs Policewoman Cindy Perry for being selected law enforcement officer of the month by the South Seminole Jaycees. Cindy, Chief Justice East's "right hand man" is the first woman to receive this award.

Councilman Tom Radloff of Altamonte is sporting a new "Julius Caesar" type haircut and, with his colleague style attire, is the latest in fashion.

Another matter to be with Altamonte-Councilman Helen Keyser's home on SR 436 is to be replaced with an extension and expansion of the Centre Furniture Store and a warehouse for the store.

Mrs. Keyser jokingly told Council she will be moving out of her district which would vacate her seat on the board. However, some months ago, she said she would be moving her long-time home to another spot in the city.

Apartment Complex Planned

The decision is all but made in Casselberry, according to those in the know that approval will be given to construction of a 200-unit apartment complex on Seminola Blvd. The only "if" standing in the way of approval is the number of persons who show up next week at the Council meeting protesting the development.

The apartment development is to be modeled after Foxcroft-Fox by the same company that owns Foxcroft-May-Miller Properties.

Incidentally, May-Miller is also said to be planning to build its apartment complex for "Swinging Singles," plans of which were announced in an exclusive story in The Herald some months ago, in the large commercially zoned area adjacent to Grassy Lake behind the Cannon Towel Shop.

Bell Telephone Growth Sets All-Time Records

Southern Bell Telephone Company set new records last year for construction expenditures and telephone growth in the four states it serves.

In its 1971 annual report released here today, the company lists other all-time records in annual revenues, expenses, taxes and wages.

The report also shows new highs reached in total customers, local telephone customers, long distance calling, customers with one-party service, residence extensions and households with telephones.

Southern Bell operates in Sanford and 411 other exchanges in Florida, Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina.

The company invested nearly $600 million for new and improved telecommunications facilities during 1971, up $32 million from 1970. At year's end, its plant investment totaled almost $4.1 billion. It gained almost 4.1 million new customers—compared with 472,590 the previous year and ended 1971 with over 7.5 million phones in service.

Southern Bell President L. Edmund Hask said in the report, "This record growth and the record investment it required occurred despite a continuing high cost for investment dollars and a comparatively low level of earnings."

He added, "To meet our growing obligations to the public, Southern Bell must be able to obtain large amounts of money needed for expansion and improvement of service. To attract this capital, we must earn at a level that will allow us to pay a fair return to investors in our business as well as maintain our credit standing in the financial community."

Earnings on the company's stock were $2.04 a share.

Hask said that during 1971 the company made significant progress in fulfilling its ideal standard of service, which is "to provide telephone communication that is so easily accessible to everyone as quickly and smoothly" that customers take it for granted.

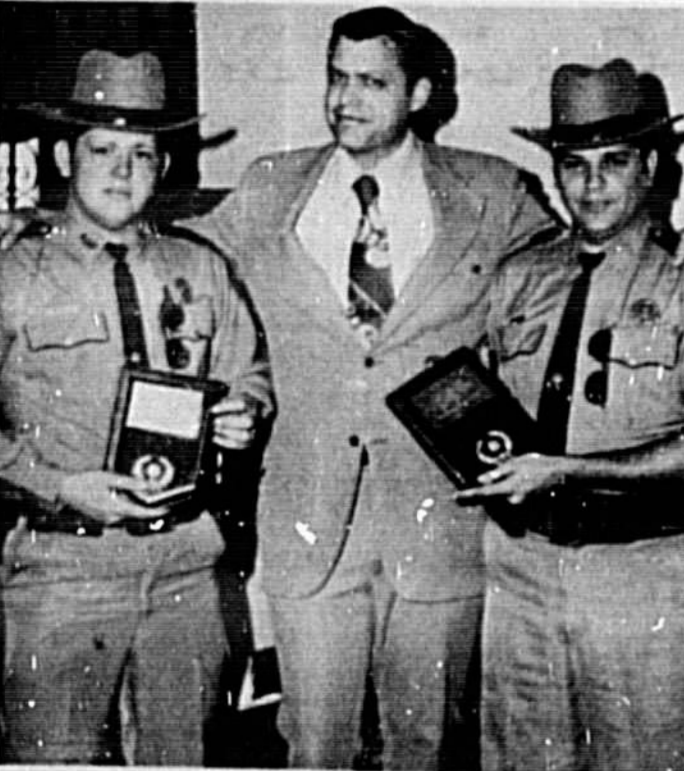

The report cites several improvements and expansion of company services during the year.

These include increased numbers of customers served by direct dialing service, T... One pushbutton calling, electronic switching system offices and traffic service position systems, called the "switchboard of the future."

There were substantial gains in Data-Phone data sets for data communications.

Custom Calling services and WATS Lines.

The report also notes that during the year the company installed its first dial-tone-first coin telephones and commercial Pictophone service.

RECIPIENTS of this month's Sanford-Seminole Jaycees Law Enforcement Award, Terry McIntyre (left) and Phil Dixon, are congratulated by George L. Crossley Jr., president, for their work in assisting in apprehension of an auto thief suspect recently. After a long dangerous chase down I-4 and SR 46 with Dixon driving and McIntyre, who was off-duty, assisting on the radio they subdued the suspect after Dixon shot his tire while traveling over 100 mph.

AP Errs In Report On Turner

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The Associated Press reported erroneously on Jan. 9 that Glenn Turner, Enterprises, Inc., is under indictment in a number of states for its investment practices.

A spokesman for Glenn W. Turner, head of the Florida-based company, said: "This is absolutely untrue. Glenn W. Turner nor any firm he owns is or never has been under indictment in any state."

The Jan. 9 Associated Press dispatch reported the granting of an "American of the Year" award by the local Lions Club over the objection of the parent organization, Lions Club International.

A number of states have initiated formal legal action involving sales practices of some Turner units. However no indictments have been returned.

VOTE AGAINST ARTICLE 5 (JUDICIARY)

(Paid for by Justice of Peace & Constables Assn. of Florida) Ralph B. Ferguson, Jr., Pres.

Editorial Comment

Passage Of Article V Is Essential

Flordians who want to create a court structure which is designed to provide evenhanded justice and to provide it on a uniform, state-wide basis, will vote "FOR" the revision of Article V in the balloting next Tuesday.

The constitutional amendment is the product of literally years of hard, sometimes bitter, and always conscientious debate and argument.

Both proponents and opponents agree on one fact: Florida's courts need re-structuring to bring them into these 1970s and do away with the duplications, complexities and inefficiencies which have multiplied in recent years.

Such moves have disturbing effects in many areas where time and tradition have allowed outmoded practices — the fee system for example — to persist.

Yet, as one of the most learned, experienced and morally guided members of the bar put it: "If carried out to fulfillment, the new Article V will assure that the fabric of justice will be whole. The innocent will be found innocent. The guilty will pay the price of guilt."

Thus, approval of the referendum would be more than a purely structural reform, it would be a long step towards bringing justice into all the courts and to do so in a manner which could do away with intolerable delays and overloaded court calendars.

Before pulling the lever and recording the vote, it is well worth to read the salient parts of the amendment. These are set forth as "reorganizing the trial courts into a uniform court system, providing standards and procedures for the selection and disciplining of all judges and establishing a system of court administration."

We are in full support of the amendment. We have consulted with leading proponents and opponents. We have noted such depth of study as has been provided by the League of Women Voters. We have received and read statements from the many segments of the judicial system who are at odds one with another.

Of first importance is the clearing up of the maze of trial courts which exists in at least 16 categories. The amendment proposes the creation of two classes. One would be the CIRCUIT handling civil cases $2,500 and over, juvenile, probate, guardianship, competency and all felonies.

The other would be the COUNTY, handling civil cases less than $2,500, misdemeanors, traffic and violation of all ordinances. Continued, of course, would be the supreme court, the chief justice of which would be the arbiter. The district courts of appeal would be abolished on Jan. 1.

1973 with the exception of municipal. These would be phased out gradually until Jan. 3, 1977 at which time all would be closed.

We believe that passage of this amendment is crucial in the extreme. Failure to take this step towards court reform this year could well set all court reform — and the case of justice — very far back.

As it is, the implementation of Article V, legislation for which is awaited, must also be described as something which will not have the same impact in every county.

In our county the concern of many, intimately associated with court affairs, is that the period — five to ten years — before full operation of all the reforms provided would be one of great trouble.

of a region where the more populous ed counties of Orange, Brevard and Volusia spill over into Seminole. This spilling includes crime and this means a court load far in excess of anything that can be handled if population count is to decide.

Case load must be the decisive factor. And this can be accomplished in various ways as the new system takes effect and proper legislative action does what it can to solve the problem.

Political Notebook

Wallace's Flame Gutters Low, Now

By BRUCE BOSSAT
HOMESTEAD, Fla. (NEA) — Alabama Gov. George Wallace today leads the March 14 Florida primary because he is the narrator-hero of a fantasy many voters in this state enjoy hearing.

The fantasy has to do with braking the pace of racial integration in the public schools — and most particularly with halting the "forced" busing of pupils to achieve that goal.

Wallace tells his listeners "that's going to come to a country some day, and it's going to come through political action."

But he is neither going to be nominated for the presidency by the Democrats, nor elected. The voters in Florida know that. They also know that busing is already widely established, that integration is well advanced.

So, with a few exceptions like his big rally in Melbourne, Wallace is not finding real fever. In 1968, his packed halls were cauldrons of hate and fury. Often they were near the explosion point.

That is not the mood now. The frenzy is gone. The crowd comes for the show — to be entertained, to recapture briefly old dreams of racial separation, to hear their stand-up man lambaste the liberals, the "dictator" courts the way comedians used to malign Yanks and Peoria.

Mostly quiet, Wallace's listeners break silence to laugh, cheer and clap at his show-biz lies: "In Washington, government departments stretch as far as the eye can see. There are thousands of bureaucrats tottering briefcases. If you look inside, maybe you'll find peanut butter sandwiches."

These liberals up there are just a little over-educated for their brain capacity... they want to do away with national defense and give money to welfare loafers... You're almost blown into oblivion by high taxes."

It's good fun, but it is indeed fantasy. When it's over, people file out as from a movie show. They know they were watching escape entertainment.

Wallace's setting is in a party filled hall in West Palm Beach, he was not "up." Responses were sporadic. His favorite gag lines seemed tired and old. They go back to 1966 in some cases.

And, while Wallace the entertainer and fantasy-spinner can still "get 'em" when he tries hard, his 1972 show is fattened because he is broad and hence more plausible presidential candidate. He offers a full kit of views on defense, foreign aid, taxes, welfare, crime.

His dogged run-through of these issues seems a contrived exercise, cross-purposes with the image of Wallace the thumper, who, before speaking one night, told: "We're gonna whup 'em, we're gonna straighten 'em out."

Too often now he doesn't strike fire. The makings of fervor may no longer be in his election or in him though he is more skilled and confident than ever, and wears his big assurance in more fashionable, better-tailored clothes.

Yet the great charade is not played out. Many love it still. They don't mind that their narrator is just that — a taller who will never be elected.

They will vote for him in droves here, plumping for the warm comfort of a symbol, for the man who can make them laugh as he carves up their adversaries and can then delivers an hour or so in the company of old dreams.

Seminole Approves Transit Concept

By ANN SIECZKOWSKI
Following a long work session and length discussion the Board of County Commissioners endorsed the concept of a transit authority and did agree to attend a meeting Wednesday at which all prospective participants will be present.

Commissioner Al Davis said he agreed with the concept of the tri-county authority but not with the recommendations as to the way the facility would be funded. Davis felt that it should carry itself and that non-users should not be required to finance it.

He also was not satisfied with the voting arrangements as outlined by Jack Glattig, executive director of the East Central Florida Regional Planning Council which is the proponent of this service.

Commissioner Sidney Vihlen, recently elected chairman of the Orange-Seminole-Osceola urban study group, said he believes the presentation is fair and equitable, that "Orange County is putting up around $370,000 and is not asking a 'red dime' except for reimbursement according to our use."

Drummond asked Glattig why the authority is taking on old buses instead of buying new ones. And Glattig said the old buses were available for about $700 each and the new ones at about $45,000.

"I have both negative and positive views on this matter of structure which presently gives Orange County and Orlando 50 per cent of the vote but should more equitably allocate votes to Seminole and Osceola counties."

Drummond said that there is certainly a need for a "mass transit system to serve the three counties.

Drummond said that there is certainly a need for a "mass transit system to serve the three counties.

He also was not satisfied with the voting arrangements as outlined by Jack Glattig, executive director of the East Central Florida Regional Planning Council which is the proponent of this service.

Commissioner Sidney Vihlen, recently elected chairman of the Orange-Seminole-Osceola urban study group, said he believes the presentation is fair and equitable, that "Orange County is putting up around $370,000 and is not asking a 'red dime' except for reimbursement according to our use."

Drummond asked Glattig why the authority is taking on old buses instead of buying new ones. And Glattig said the old buses were available for about $700 each and the new ones at about $45,000.

"I have both negative and positive views on this matter of structure which presently gives Orange County and Orlando 50 per cent of the vote but should more equitably allocate votes to Seminole and Osceola counties."

County Commission Learns

Trailer Parking A Problem

By ANN SIECZKOWSKI
A number of small items came before the County Commissioners for consideration.

Commission Chairman Greg Drummond reported he had found many of the gasoline stations in the county are turning into overnight camping trailer parks. He felt that this is potentially a dangerous situation.

Sherrill John Polk said there is no law against this practice at this time but there are patrols out at all times.

Commissioner John Kimbrough asked for a discussion on the possibility of leasing Sunland Park. The county attorney was advised to research the matter and report at a work session next week.

Polk requested a transfer of $2,300 from the county contingency account to sheriff's department capital outlay account for the purpose of purchasing a patrol boat to be used for water rescue by the department.

Commissioner Al Davis, who is commission custodian of the sheriff's department, said he would approve the transfer, since he felt that bids should be taken on any item costing this amount.

Marilyn's Merrily-Go-Round

By MARILYN GORDON

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO IVY. Ivy is my baby, youngest of three girls, and just reached 9, March 9. She is nine going on nineteen, if you know what I mean.

To celebrate this big event we will be going to Walt Disney World. No chance of forgetting this biggie because Ivy reminds us of her birthday every day for four months before the big day.

Lots of news from St. John's Village. They have a new resident manager, Robert J. Levesque. Mr. Levesque (pronounced "Levek") is a native of Boston, born of French Canadian parents, and has been in that type of work for seventeen years.

Also new to St. John's is a new social director, Ruth Turner. She has lots of ideas for exciting community experiences and activities.

The residents enjoyed a cruise on Lake Monroe in a 48' cruiser leaving from Sanford, a trip to the Naval Training Center in Orlando, and a trip to the Black Hills Fashion Play at Lake Wales. You can see they need a social secretary. Ever Jackie (you know who) isn't that busy.

You should see their library. It is on its way. Books have been put on the shelves and a big sign listing hours added to the Bulletin Board. Thanks go to the able committee of chairman Edna Elliott, Helen Reynolds, Captain and staff Alice Moore, Beula Cook, Marge McNally, Esther Kraus, Florence Hood, Mable Belton, Al McNeil, Agnes Molloy, Dorothea Lefler, and Thelma Monette.

Life is so exciting that people from far away are visiting. Recent visitors of Carol McKillip were her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nuss, from Gary, Ind. visiting Elizabeth Weakamp were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hildebrand of Brester, N.Y., and visiting the parental Conkles were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Conklin and family from West Redding, Conn. George and Eva Hicks have had the latter cousin from Carbondale, Ill. visiting them.

Two residents Earl Larson and Betty Poppleston were married last week. Much happiness to the bride and groom.

Ron Henderson, of the Optimist Club of South Seminole, was given a Lifetime Membership to Optimist International. He certainly deserves it, being one of their really dedicated workers.

Seminole Spokes Welcome Wagon will have their monthly meeting March 22 at the House of Beef in Maitland. Bill Gordon, Director of Adult Continuing Education of Seminole Junior College, will discuss the opportunities available in this community.

The South Seminole Jaycees are a busy lot. In addition to their projects of Little League and the Hunter Safety Course they are selling trash can liners. These liners, project chairman Dave D'Amico says are in the thing now, and your trash won't be fashionable unless lined with a Jaycee Trash Can Liner now. He has 70 boxes that have to be sold right away. Call Dave at 831-7722.

He suggests that you buy one for a neighbor too. HINT HINT. The time has come once again when the Jaycees have had to move their meeting place. They now meet at the Painted Horse in Casselberry.

Ann Jordan of Jaycee wives reports that a very successful rummage sale has been held. Jaycee wives are known as super salesmen.

I am looking forward to lunch with the Suburban Republican Women's Club at Otto's Hofbrau Haus in Sanford. Langley Adair, Seminole County Pollution Control officer, will speak.

If you have a green thumb, remember to write in to "PLANT A TREE DAY" at Secret Lake Park, Casselberry. They will be looking for you March 11.

Home Extension Clubs in Seminole County are very busy completing plans for their ANNUAL ACHIEVEMENT DAY. There will be fashion shows, prizes, awards for competing in different categories such as clothing construction, painting and drawing, sculpture, ceramics, stichery, crafts, food preservation, exhibits of fresh vegetables and live flower arrangements.

In addition each club will select a "HOMEMAKER OF THE YEAR" from their club membership and one will be chosen for "COUNTY HOMEMAKER OF THE YEAR."

The pageant will be on the same scale as a flower show and will feature displays on eight types of crosses as well as vocal interpretations of the seven last words of Christ and musical selections by local church choirs and groups.

Those attending the planning session included Mrs. Walton Wilkie, chairman, Mrs. Harmon Garcera, Mrs. Walter Ahlberg and Mrs. Everett Shaver.

The event will be open to the public from 1 to 4 p.m. each day of Palm Sunday weekend.

Sewing Contest Nears

By ANN SIECZKOWSKI

All teenage junior and senior high school girls who have been thinking about entering the annual sewing contest and fashion show event sponsored by Florida S' to Bank of Sanford, be advised that March 10 is the deadline for submitting your finished garment.

On March 18, there will be a rehearsal and it mandatory that all participants attend at 11:00 a.m. at the Sanford Garden Club.

And then, March 23, at 8 p.m. the big day - and if last year's show is any criteria, this year will be a really beautiful showing of incredible sewing talent by our young school girls.

Mrs. Leslie Pauline, co-ordinator of this outstanding event which spotlights the talents, has arranged for Bill Ritter and John McElmurray, two popular musicians from Longwood to entertain during the period when the judges are racking their brains to determine who, from all that array of skill, is the top banana in teen sewing.

This event is open to the public. The place is the Sanford Garden Club, the date, March 23, and the hour is 8 p.m. Come out and applaud these young people who so ably exemplify the really great youth we have in Seminole County.

The Tailored Head Returns

THE TAILORED HAIRDO is about to make a comeback, according to Helene Curtis's experts in Paris. According to them, the watchword for hair is refinement. At left, Jacques Desanage portrays his version of this look with the simplicity of a page-boy with long flowing lines. At center, he shows a version for shorter hair, which features long bangs, and gives a thick and supple feeling because of a squared-off cut. At right, Alexandre, who styles hair for some leading designers in Paris, shows a hair-do that is cut short, parted in the middle and pinned down with over-sized combs.

Dear Abby

Hypochondriac's hubby needs a doctor, too

By Abigail Van Buren
(© 1972 by Claire Thomas, N.Y. News Syndicate Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: My wife is a hypochondriac. She complains night and unfortunately, day. If one thing doesn't hurt her, something else does. She either can't sleep or she can't stay awake.

I have been sympathetic, but I am all worn out from listening to her. I can't get a good night's sleep, and the hours awake with her are a bore.

Her doctor said there is nothing wrong with her, but he keeps her well supplied with "tranquillizers" which are really just pills with nothing in them. (She complains about the "reaction" she gets from them, too.)

There is an Alcoholic Anonymous and a Gamblers Anonymous. Tell me, if there is a Hypochondriacs Anonymous?

DEAR SUFFERER: One who complains night and day about pains, imagined or real, and sleep and eating troubles, and has "reactions" from pills with nothing in them is suffering in every sense of the word. Ask the doctor who said there was nothing wrong with her to recommend a doctor who treats "healthy" people with your wife's symptoms. And don't put it off, or you'll need treatment, too.

DEAR ABBY: I am a well-adjusted male homosexual who occasionally needs a female companion to accompany me to business and social functions. Conversely, I have female homosexual acquaintances who also need a male escort for certain occasions, and therefore we "help each other out."

The problem arises when I go out with the girl as a favor to her. Should I be expected to pick up the check for the entire evening?

I have had evenings which have cost me $30 and more. I hate to be a cheap date, but I can't afford many of these outings. How do you suggest this be handled?

DEAR ABBY: We have a neighbor who is constantly painting his house. Although he has aluminum siding, he keeps painting the trim around the windows.

He uses a very small brush and keeps going round and round the house, and when he's finished he scrapes off the paint and starts to paint it all over again.

Another odd thing he does: When he paints the second story trim he leaves the can of paint on the ground, dips his little brush into the paint, climbs up the ladder and paints. And when he needs more paint he descends the ladder, dips his brush into the paint and climbs the ladder and paints some more.

I have watched him by the hour, completely fascinated. I wonder, is there something wrong with this man?

DEAR PUZZLED: Possibly not. Maybe he just enjoys the fresh air and exercise. Or likes to paint!

DEAR ABBY: I recently read an interesting letter in your column about shoplifting.

One woman said she would report a shoplifter if she saw one because unless she could provide evidence to support her accusation, she could be sued for slander. Abby, this is true but only if the accusation is made publicly.

Carroll Richter's horoscope

SATURDAY

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Now you find you have all sorts of new, imaginative and inventive ways of putting in effect the practical plans you made the past two days. But they require tip and test in order to make them saleable to the general public, or other outlets.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You find that good pals have the right ideas now. For your advancement to be sure you listen to them. Do some entertaining of close ties and their cooperation. Make this a most productive day, p.m.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) No better day than this to contract bigwig who can aid you with your business endeavors and state your aims in a forthright manner. Get into that civic work you like and are so capable at handling the firm.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You can now get into that new outfit that has long appealed to you, with fine results. You have to be more open-minded if you want the respect of experts. Evening should be spent quietly at home.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Know what your true position is with associates so you can make joint projects work out more successfully in the future. Do not bear a grudge toward one who has been acting in a strange manner. Get at the cause of things.

Trick to Ironing Shirt Collars Smoothly

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—I am answering Mrs. L. I. M. who has trouble ironing shirt collars so they are smooth on top. I worked as a quality controller in a shirt factory and we really never found the cause for the fullness in the top of a dress shirt collar and could not determine whether it was in the cutting, stitching or center pressing.

When a finished shirt was pressed, the collar was always pressed from the point toward the center and, when buttoned, the fullness disappeared.—GAL.

DEAR POLLY AND MRS. L. I. M.—I find ironing the lining and back of a shirt collar first, then ironing from the points to the center back, then turning over and ironing the top side helps eliminate the wrinkles. ALWAYS iron from the end of the collar toward the center, finish one side and then do the other and always have a firm grip on the collar.—HMA.

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—I sew for all my family and every time I put sleeves in a garment they are an inch or two larger than the armhole opening. I have tried cutting off a little on the bodice part but that doesn't help. Only my dresses and those for the sleeves. It is usually after stitching or center pressing of make pleats in them which I often end up doing, but when making a suit for my son I found the sleeves much too big for the jacket and that would not work. Does anyone have any suggestions as to how I can make sleeves fit?—MRS. R. J. S.

DEAR POLLY—My Pet Peeve is with grocery clerks in particular who are not familiar with the sale price of items and then charge the regular price for things that are on sale. I think it is part of their job to be familiar with the sale items. If all such clerks called out the prices, as they ring them up it would be easier for the customer to point out an error being made in such prices.—MRS. G. McV.

DEAR READER—This is only one of many who have written with this same Pet Peeve.—POLLY

SUNDAY

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The daytime is splendid for attending the service, lectures, meetings of your choice and for combining some very unusual and New Age ideas with those tenets that have long been found to be satisfactory, but which need a more up-to-date interpretation. Joining with friends in p.m. brings good results if you avoid arguments.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Some unexpected happiness occur in a.m. but these are only opportunities for you to get ahead faster. Do not argue with others. A higher-up is very cooperative and this helps you greatly. Get to bed early tonight.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You can enhance your position with outsiders by doing something of a humanitarian nature early, but take no chances with the public later in the day. A higher-up has a fine idea you should listen to. Take any opportunity in p.m. to get ahead faster. Do not argue with others. A higher-up is very cooperative and this helps you greatly. Get to bed early tonight.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You can get the data you need today that can help you put that new aim across that is dear to your heart. Avoid those who are antagonistic in p.m. Once your problem is solved, delve into something new.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have an opportunity to get responsibilities behind you quickly, so do not miss this. Take any opportunity in p.m. to get ahead faster. Do not argue with others. A higher-up is very cooperative and this helps you greatly. Get to bed early tonight.

And Take Your Choice You Pays Your Money . . .

By TOM WELLS Associated Press Writer CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Six tax consultants here came up with six different returns when asked for help in filling out a federal income tax return. The maximum difference was $454. One consultant said the taxpayer owed $77. Another said a refund of $277 was due. As a discoverer of errors and his wife went to the consultants for advice on filling out their joint return with itemized deductions. The couple pointed to know little about possible deductions but have the same information as that of some of the consultants found legitimate deductions, such as damage to the family car that was not covered by collision insurance. Others listed deductions such as ordinary sunglasses, which the Internal Revenue Service says are only deductible if worn on jobs where they are an absolute necessity. Some of the consultants say in advertising that they will appear with the taxpayer if he has to go to court over his return. David Kestler, chief tax auditor for the IRS office here, noted in an interview that "the person who signs the return is responsible for everything that is in it." One consultant failed to suggest many legitimate deductions that the couple was entitled to, such as the husband's alimony payments. Only one of the consultants went beyond the usual question about doctor bills and medicine costs to discover that the new man was entitled to a deduction for the cost of crutches and special shoe supports needed because of a broken leg. The deductions and the final figures weren't the only places where the tax experts differed.

WOMEN'S SOCIETY By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

Comelia's experience is typical of the way women try to appease their consciences by calling me a "Sexologist." Purely opinion in line a clock's pendulum! It swings back and forth between extremes. Now the pendulum has swung to the right and rank pornography! Case #523: Comelia D., age 25, is an active church leader. "Dr. Crane," she told me over the telephone, "our pastor in Indianapolis has suggested that we bring in an outside speaker maybe once per month. "So I suggested to our Women's Society that I hoped we could get you. "But do you know their first reaction to my idea? They exclaimed, 'Why, that awful Sexologist! How can you ever suggest such a thing?' "But when I told them you had taught the Bible Class at the Methodist Temple in Chicago for 35 years and had addressed church groups of Presbyterians, Catholics, Jews, Baptists, Mormons, etc., they did a right-about-face. "In fact, they decided we should invite you to speak Sunday morning on a Bible theme. "But see if you couldn't stay over for an evening address on 'Sex and Marriage Problems.' Isn't this rather typical of women's reactions? "WOMEN'S 'NO' Experienced men have learned that a woman's 'No' may not mean what it says. Since I pioneered the sci-

Gal Comic Kopycat

By CYNTHIA LOWMY
AP Television-Radio Writer

LEW YORK (AP)—Marlin Michaels thinks of her new series, "The Copycat," as a major and a step in the direction of a new kind of television comedy. She says she has such a vested interest in the show that she has already written the first episode.

After ABC's 17½-season reputation series, "The Mary Tyler Moore Show," Michaels is producing "The Copycat," which she says is a "satire" on the "sitcom" genre.

Michaels is working in some fast-paced comedy—she is a copywriter for a major advertising agency—she says she has such a vested interest in the show that she has already written the first episode.

All Gunning For Wallace Candidates Wrap It Up

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey and Edmond S. Muskie, criss-crossing Florida in the last full day of campaigning, say they still have a chance of defeating Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace Tuesday in the nation's second 1972 presidential primary.

Wallace, however, predicts he'll top the 11-man Democratic field and says "we have an excellent chance" of capturing a majority of the state's 11 delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington, who has made Florida a major test of his presidential candidacy, says he has a good chance of pulling ahead of Muskie and Humphrey and finishing second.

All of the candidates had busy schedules today as they campaigned in which victories will be judged both on the relative standing of the contenders in the statewide vote and on how many delegates each wins by finishing first in one of Florida's 12 congressional districts.

Humphrey started the day in Jacksonville, then headed south with stops in Daytona Beach, Tampa, Titusville and Palm Beach. Muskie started his campaigning in Tampa and planned to wind up in Miami after stops in Orlando and St. Petersburg.

Solon Frowns On District Change

By FRED VAN PELT
Exception to the stand of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce's request to "divorce" Seminole and Orange Counties as a joint legislative district, is voiced by State Rep. Walter Sims R-Orlando in a letter to the Chamber. The Chamber's legislative and national affairs committee forwarded to Sims a request that "Seminole County be made a separate legislative district based on the official 1970 census count of 83,692. It is felt that Seminole is entitled to a separate legislative district with a full time representative."

The committee continued it would rather that Seminole be associated with Brevard, Lake or Volusia County, if necessary, rather than Orange County.

Sims responded he is "uncertain as to whether your intent was to resign from the district or divorce the delegation."

Sims' letter to the committee continues: "The request, as you have outlined it, must be interpreted as an expression of dissatisfaction with the present legislative delegation, for which I am deeply saddened. It is and has been my policy to represent Seminole as well as Orange County. My personal mail and other requests from Seminole are proportionately as great as from Orange, and it is my policy to never neglect anyone. In addition, $1,200 of the $5,000 I contributed from my legislator's salary last year went to Sanford organizations."

Bomb Tip 'Dud' At Area Airport

Seminole County deputies searched all 17 aircraft at Flying Seminole Ranch on SR 419 between Oviedo and Chuluota, Sunday afternoon after a man telephoned Mrs. D. Lindsey, manager, and ordered her to have $15,000 ready before 5:30 p.m., time an explosion was set to go off at the ranch.

Sgt. Roy Hughey, Lt. Roy Rice and Deputy A. Albertson failed to find a bomb after they conducted a methodical investigation of each airplane moored at the "phone call came just about a half hour before the bomb was said to be timed for detonation."

Hughey reported the "phone call came just about a half hour before the bomb was said to be timed for detonation."

In addition to the tied-down craft, there were several other planes at Dale's repair hanger at the east end of the field which also were searched without locating an explosive.

Conduct Mock Election

Not only junior colleges and universities were engaged in straw balloting before Florida's primary elections in Florida.

The choice is yours tomorrow, seriously. I'm certain that you'll treat the selection of your choice with much deliberation, especially in the areas of the Amendments, etc.

For what it's worth... only on the Magistrate Bill would I dare to encourage your support. It means so much for the good of Seminola County.

If you're undecided on this issue... may I recommend a YES!

Agri-News And Views Farming Is No. 1, Plus Top Employer

By FRANK J. ANSA
Agricultural Agent
How does agriculture serve you other than providing food? Agriculture creates jobs in all its parts, stimulates the both the nation's biggest industry — with assets including land, water, and its largest employer — and its largest family income source.

Between 14 million and 17 million people work in some phase of agriculture, from growing food and fiber to processing and marketing the products.

Family income from agriculture is steadily more food today than 20 years ago, partly because agriculture has produced 3.3 million miles of intercity highway and 36,000 miles of improved waterways.

The American farmer is another two million people who are needed to provide the food, fiber, and family income that the nation's population of 200 million depends on.

At least there is a choice open to each of us comes the election tomorrow.

And for those of us in a position to offer a personal comment publicly, it is an opportunity to accept or disagree with views and positions taken by these hopeful candidates.

Prediction — going against every other published prognostication of the eventual results of our primary, I do NOT believe it will be a runaway for Governor Wallace. (I do expect that my phone will be hopping off the hook come Wednesday morning from a lot of "old-you-so" callers.

Smile Durn You... Didja hear about the incident which allegedly happened in 1971 at the Denver airport... a nervous hijacker P. C. Butterworth boarded a plane and hysterically demanded two dollars and twenty thousand parachutes?

You didn't read about that? Hmmm... I can't seem to find anyone else who has, either.)

Yorher's Corner Many Insects Bore Into Wood

By DAVID DEVOL
Agricultural Agent
There are many species of insects in Florida which bore into wood. Some are very destructive to the wood of buildings, bridges, and other structures.

Preventing the borers from infesting the wood of structures is a matter of prevention. The best way to do this is to use preservative treatments on the wood.

Another 20 per cent thought the date was the last day that they could get their orders in for the year.

Improvements suggested by the shopkeepers included using more preservative treatments, using better quality wood, and using better construction techniques.

ED McKEITHEN, chairman of the board of the Central Florida Farm Bureau, said that the shopkeepers were not aware of the importance of preservative treatments.

The Food Front Open Foods Dating In Markets Studied

The food front in the market study was the most significant finding. The study found that the food front is a major concern for many shoppers.

Shoppers who said they were most concerned about the food front were those who were most concerned about the food front.

Instructor Captures Art Show

By DONNA ESTES
A Longwood teenager and a Sanford art instructor won "best in show" awards in the junior and senior divisions, respectively, Sunday in the annual art show sponsored by the Sanford-Seminole Art Association at the Civic Center.

Mrs. Judy Maloney, who regularly teaches an art class, was awarded a $50 cash prize for her painting, entitled "Charity," while her 16-year-old student, Miss Darlene Rodgers, of Longwood, was given a $10 award for her painting, "Darkness." (Related photo, page 2.)

In addition, 17 silver ribbons of merit were awarded to Mrs. Gladys Altman for her painting, entitled "Relaxation," Mildred Babcock, "Florida Storm," Elizabeth Berga, "Reflected Light," Rosamond Chapman, "Woodland Springs," Carol Crumley, "Tending Their Nets," Beryl Dyal, "Ben," Jane Faler, "The Fisherman," Susanne Highsmith, untitled, but portraying an old man with a pipe; Catherine Hill, "Lazy Daze," Fred Jones, "Landscape," Nina Mizell, "Sunflowers," Jean Moody, "Country Home," Eleanor Mulson, "Jonnie's Slough," Corinne Stevens, "A Southern Beauty," and Jo Von Herbaris, "Spring," all in the senior division while in the junior division recognized with silver ribbons were Jeff Baulder for "A Winter's Walk" and Miss Dolores Wildeman for "Gretchen" in addition to Miss Rodgers.

Some 161 paintings were entered in the competition. Judges were Mrs. Joy Postle and Mrs. Dorothy Hales, both of Orlando. Mrs. Postle is a well known lecturer throughout the nation and is famous for her hard paintings. She studied at the Chicago Art Institute. Mrs. Hales is president of the Central Florida Art Association, is a water colorist and best known for portraits of children.

Dr. Lonata resigned from the trustee board in July, 1971, after an alleged general ruling cited conflict of interest in that hospital staff doctors cannot serve on trustee boards.

Receiving oil paintings as prizes were Rev. Kenneth Mullis, associate pastor of First Presbyterian Church; Mary Peterson, of Hidden Lake, and Ruby Brown and E. De Mutto, both of Sanford.

Man, 23, Held For Assault
Sanford police have arrested a 23-year-old Sanford man and charged him with the Feb. 19 rape of a 25-year-old woman.

Det. Sgts. William Lykens and Eddie Hughes reported they had charged Ronald D. Tanner, 1100 Willow Avenue, with sexually assaulting the woman in the early morning hours after first entering her apartment by a side window.

Lykens said the man was picked from a lineup of seven men by the victim after police received a tip the man had been observed in the downtown area.

The victim, mother of a five-year-old daughter, told officers she was threatened by the man who held a kitchen knife while making advances to her. She said she has feared for the life of her daughter, who was sleeping in an adjacent room at the time of the attack.

No bond has yet been set for Tanner. He was removed from the city jail to the county jail to await arraignment.

An Altamonte Springs woman told Deputy R. L. Kunkler she used a knife to defend herself against a man who entered her apartment early Sunday.

She said the man grabbed her. In the ensuing struggle, she managed to run to the kitchen where she obtained a knife. She said the man ran away after an Altamonte police car made its routine patrol on the scene.
