Rails' Fight

(Continued From Page One) Freight rates increase are becoming increasingly difficult to maintain a reasonable margin of profit. The Milwaukee Railroad, he said, last year "assumed almost $2,000,000 in its operating costs for "crossing protection and maintenance of public improvements." These, he said, "were proper charges many years ago but because of changed conditions should now be shifted to those who receive most of the benefits." Crowley said the government's war-imposed transportation tax "discourages business and tends to limit the haul." "In no sense is transportation a luxury," he said. "The wartime desire to conserve space for personnel and defense materials is no longer in vogue, and the tax on transportation should be repealed." He said the road's 1948 volume of freight traffic is expected to be about 10 per cent under last year and passenger traffic seven per cent less. The 1947 freight rate increase will void the Milwaukee Road about 4.7 per cent, Crowley said. All members of the board of directors and all elective officers were re-elected.

The same newspaper said Hankow authorities had ordered ships to that area to pull upriver about 100 miles by Thursday when a blockade will be imposed on the river south of Hankow. Sin Wan Pao said the exodus of noncombatants had been going on for a week. Few foreigners chose to remain in Hankow. Most of them are heads of companies such as oil firms with large property holdings. About six Americans still are there. The paper added two-thirds of Hankow's shops were closed and that an "underground peace movement was afoot." Forces of the Red Manchurian army, Lin Piao, have been at the edge of Hankow for weeks. The Central News Agency in a Hankow dispatch said General Pan Chung-Hsi, Hankow commander, had advised all foreigners to leave. Pan described the situation as "urgent." Sin Wan Pao said also that Communist forces had intensified attacks on the outer edge of Tsin-tung, where the United States has had a naval base for months. (U. S. naval ships at Tsin-tung have been ordered to remain ready to leave at the minute the Reds take Tsin-tung.) Gun fire was said to be audible in Tsin-tung. Gun flashes were reported seen from the roofs of tall buildings. This may mean the Reds have closed in on Tsin-tung. Previous reports placed them 25-30 miles away from the north China port.

Commission Meet

(Continued From Page One) what he termed crippling freight rates between here and Jacksonville, and said that shipments are now being diverted by truck from Tampa because of the water rate savings. Orlando growers are likewise receiving larger benefits on the water route, and Tampa is reaping the harvest, he said. W. A. Laffler, manager of Chase & Co., warned against the City getting in a "competitive business," disclosed that he had personally lost money in operating a boat on the St. Johns and suggested that if the City does get the terminal to look carefully into who operates it, and to investigate handling costs. Marion Ruben, laundry operator, pointed out that without the vision of Sanford civic leaders the Farmers Market project might have been killed, and told of the large cluster of packing houses and business projects that had sprung up near the market. "We knew what the market would do because we investigated beforehand," interposed Mr. Sawyer. Fred Hill, attorney, disclosed that he had made a survey in 1939 that showed advantages not only to Sanford of a terminal, but to nearby counties such as Volusia, Lake and Orange and declared that the warehouse should be able to pay it own way. Chamber of Commerce President John Ivey pointed out the reduction in gasoline transportation costs afforded by river terminal facilities here. G. K. Goff, freight expert, declared that the river project is commendable, but warned that rates may soon be cut substantially by trucks and rails. Jack Hall, president of the Sanford Merchants' Association, declared that he had talked to railroad men, who he said could see the benefits of the terminal here. Roy Holler, insurance agent, stated his belief that the terminal and warehouse would be a benefit to this section of the state. Karlisle Housholder termed the project a live one, warned against possibility of stores becoming vacant, and declared, "I feel that the St. Johns River is our main stake; it never has been worked as it should have been." W. A. Morrison, Ford dealer, and Kiwanis president, declared that he favored the project, and expressed confidence in the ability of Mr. Willis whom he has known as a large line operator for many years. H. H. Coleman of the Florida Power and Light Co. said that he believed everybody would benefit from the project which he declared had been started 40 years ago. W. C. Hutchinson, rate traffic expert, declared that if rail rates are to be reduced it will probably be on fresh fruits and vegetables and not on canned goods. Referring to the terminal he declared: "If we overlook this opportunity, we may not have it again." H. James Gut, former mayor, declared, "Even if it cost $200,000 a year for several years, the terminal would be of immeasurable benefit to us. We spent years and money getting the lakefront developed." Mrs. Ruth Scott, president of the Pilot Club, who was present with a delegation from the club declared: "I personally think we will miss a great opportunity if we do not have the terminal." Jack Ratigan, Plymouth dealer, declared that prior to the meeting he had not reached a decision on the matter, but now wished to add his endorsement of the project. W. H. Williams, realtor, said he is 100 percent for the project. O. P. Mathews, government agricultural official, pointed out that this section cannot expect much more farming industry and to expand must do something else. If the terminal had been established here 10 years ago, he said, we would now have citrus and feed plants here. Mr. Higgins again spoke in favor of the project and referred to the difficulties and opposition met when $50,000 was needed to get the new Municipal Airport started. He pointed out the benefits that resulted from the coming of the Navy and later the New York class.

Legislation Action

(Continued From Page One) no details. Debate on the central purchasing bill delayed Senate consideration of the Governor's bond program to rewrite the laws governing the Florida citrus industry. "He has the power of life and death, to appoint Supreme Court justices and a road board that spends $30,000,000 a year, but you don't want him to have 'the power to appoint this man,'" Mathews declared. Senator Walker, a member of the governmental reorganization committee which drafted the Senate bill, immediately took the floor and denied the charge. Mathews said he believed the committee bill is better than the one introduced giving the Governor full control over central purchasing. He said he has not "seen the slightest hostility against the Governor" by the committee. Mathews' amendment was voted down yesterday and his motion for reconsideration, delayed further action of the bill until today. Senate President Brackley left the rostrum to speak on Matthews' amendment. He declared the Governor and the Senate should share the responsibility for central purchasing, and decide every two years whether it is "good or bad." He declared he had observed considerable "back scratching" by the Cabinet, and added he probably would "do the same thing if I was out of them." Senator Sheldon of Tampa said Senator Sturgis of Ocala, got the Governor's bill and "introduced it in committee." He said the Senate was setting a new precedent because of "some pet power," Sturgis declared Sheldon's remark was "improper and untruthful." He said the bill was sent to him as chairman of the governmental reorganization committee. An attempt to stall off a central house Finance committee vote on the Administration's tax program until a total has been run up on spending was defeated in the House. By a vote of 61-33, the House tabled a resolution by Rep. Ollman of Seminole and several others that would direct the Appropriations Committee to announce a total for the General Appropriations Act by May 17. It also would have directed the Finance Committee not to vote on

Congress Action

WHAT WESTERN DIPLOMATS discussed plans for talks with Russia on the lifting of the Berlin blockade, the Airlift into Berlin continued to operate at top efficiency. When the Russians imposed the blockade on June 21, 1948, the United States Air Force and the British Royal Air Force immediately began to fly food, fuel and other necessities into the German capital. Within a short time, daily tonnage carried by huge planes climbed over 1,000. At present more than 550 flights are made each day with delivery capacity of 5,000-5,500 tons. As shown on the map, two corridors are used for entrance to Berlin and one for an exit. The planes fly exact patterns and altitudes, with fixed speeds for climbing, cruising, and landing. Whether or not the Airlift will be abandoned or curtailed has not been disclosed. (Central Press)

Consumer Income

(Continued From Page One) since 1947. Wages in non-durable goods industries were about the same as in March last year. Payroll declines also occurred in construction, farming and trade. The Department said rising unemployment compensation payments are cushioning the decline in wages and salaries. Jobless benefits, it said, have offset nearly one-third of the drop in worker earnings which has been going on since November. Another factor cushioning the earnings fall in March was the beginning of veterans bonus payments by the state of Louisiana, the Department noted. For the first three months of 1948, consumer income was at an annual rate of $216,770,000,000 compared with $219,000,000,000 in the fourth quarter of 1947.

Rural Common Sense

GOOD PASTURE NEEDED TO RAISE GOOD STOCK. No matter how good your stock is to begin with, you can't raise good cattle on poor pasture. It's true, of course, that some kinds of cattle fare better on inadequate pasture than others, but, generally speaking, good pasture is necessary with livestock. Good pasture in Florida usually means planting of improved grass plants or grasses, fertilizing them, avoidance of over- or under-grazing, and suppression of weeds. Pasture is as much a crop as corn, tobacco, or any other crop that is raised on the farm to help provide a livelihood for the farmer. For the production of meat and milk depends on it. So it should be treated accordingly and managed according to proved methods for maximum results, for maximum production of meat and milk. While Florida has made great strides in improvement of its pastures during the past decade as a result of the assistance given to farmers by the Agriculture Conservation Program, there are thousands of acres of pastures in the state that are inferior and inadequate for the stock that graze on them. The best time to plant pastures will do well to consider planting improved permanent pastures during the next few months—during the "rainy season," which is the best time for planting Patino, Bermuda, and other nutritious and productive grasses for the state as a whole, rainfall is heaviest during June, July, August, and September and newly planted grass has a better chance to survive and grow than during drier periods. In northern and north central Florida, it's best to plant grasses by the end of July, but plantings may be made in the rest of the state up to September. Now is the time—before planting begins—to make preparations for planting improved pastures during the rainy season. Proper fertilizer should be obtained, the best grasses for the particular soil to be used should be selected, and arrangements should be made to obtain seed or planting material, and other details connected with the job should be attended to now. Time, labor, expense, and planning are necessary to establish and maintain good pasture, and careful attention to details will hold production costs to a minimum and provide a good chance for success with this important crop. The city of Troy, in Ann Arbor, said to have been named for King Troy, was in existence before 1600 B. C. It was renamed Illium about 1214 B. C.

Bill To Remove Rent Controls Passes House

Green Cove Springs Senator Introduces Plan To Give War II Vets State Bonus

TALLAHASSEE, May 11.—(AP)—The bill to take off all rent controls in Florida was easy House approval in the Legislature today by a 64-22 vote.

If the Senate agrees, and the Governor doesn't carry out his threat to veto the measure, it would result in lifting of all ceilings within 15 days after it becomes law.

The Senate finally got down to work on the controversial Administration bill to rewrite Florida citrus laws, but it recessed in the middle of debate without taking a vote on any feature of the measure.

First move of the opponents was to strike out all provisions that would require labeling canned and processed citrus fruits with a grade based on fruit quality.

The House broadened its Commission investigation to include all colleges in the state—private as well as public.

An originally set up, the committee had authority only to determine whether there are communitarian activities at the University of Florida, Florida State University and Florida A. and M. College for Negroes—all state-supported institutions.

Rep. Collins of Sarasota told the House today the University of Tampa faculty member who appeared before a legislative committee in a special session last September gave testimony which "led us to think" he might have communitarian leanings. He did not name the faculty member.

The special session gave the Progressive Party and the Dixie Democrats space on the 1948 election ballot.

Collins said he plans to introduce a resolution to permit the House five-man investigating committee to continue its work after (Continued on Page Three)

Venus, Three Year Old Lion, Moved To Allen's Farm

Venus, three and a half year old female lion, just didn't want to leave Sanford this morning and roared protests at having to leave her birthplace, the Sanford Zoo in order to be taken to Ross Allen's animal farm at Ocala in exchange for a three year old male lion.

C. G. Davis and about five City employees had considerable difficulty in trying to get Venus to leave her cage and enter a small mesh wire cage. A stream of water was played on her and she reluctantly entered the small cage and was placed on a truck.

City employees, trying to place and fasten a canvas tarpaulin on the front of the cage, had to watch out as Venus leaped right and left uppers. She also roared her displeasure at the social injustice of placing a cage of four rascals on the truck also.

The truck was drawn up in front of the Police Station where attendants tried to induce Venus to come to the back of the cage so that Police Chief Roy G. Williams could take a good picture of her. The lioness, skying from possible newspaper publicity, shrunk back under the tarpaulin and refused to have her picture taken.

When the truck started to roll away, Venus gave a last longing look at the Zoo. She was born of Queeny and the late Leo.

The new lion, a south African male, was scheduled to be brought back in the truck this evening.

AFL Head Says Truman Emphatically Favors Repeal Of Taft-Hartley Law

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—AFL President William Green said today that President Truman told him "emphatically and frankly" that he still favors outright repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act and a return to the Wagner Act with only slight amendment.

Green, talking with newsmen after a White House conference, said Mr. Truman was optimistic that his labor program will be through "without much change," despite initial setbacks in Congress.

Green said he told the President that the AFL, representing nearly 8,000,000 members, had yielded on the Taft-Hartley repeal legislation to allow several amendments—including 30-day seizure of strike threatened plants or mines.

The Administration's compromise labor bill, prepared after conferences of congressional leaders with Mr. Truman, called for the use of injunctions in national emergency disputes.

Green said the AFL never had agreed to the injunction provision and does not want it now.

"We don't like strike breakers," Green said, "but we were willing to compromise on that."

The AFL's executive council meeting in Cleveland next week, he said, will plan intensified efforts to "influence Congress to see our point of view." He added that the approaching Cleveland meeting was his reason for visiting the White House.

Green predicted there will be "action" on the Taft-Hartley repeal at this session of Congress but would not venture to guess when it will come.

Miami Newspaper Exposes Numbers Racket In City

MIAMI, May 11.—(AP)—The Miami Daily News said in a copy-right article today that a million and a half dollar a year numbers racket was "flourishing in Miami and spreading like a cancer."

The newspaper said between 250 and 300 persons were involved and that "this racket, like the bookies, pays protection to operate."

There are about 20 "pickup" men, with 16 to 18 persons under them, who actually sell the numbers to "suckers," the paper said, adding:

"The pickup men are their sellers just before noon each day to pick up the numbers slips that have been sold. They deliver them to one or two of two headquarters addresses."

The paper said each pickup man, averaged about $1,000 a week in sales.

Meanwhile Miami City Manager O. P. Hart was reported ready to testify before the new State County grand jury.

He also was expected to order uniform policemen to enforce all gambling, liquor and prostitution laws. (Continued on Page Three)

Sea Lice Plague Surf Bathers In Water At Miami

MIAMI, May 11.—(AP)—Those beachgoers who are enjoying the sun and sea at Miami today may be plagued by a little-known, but very annoying, sea louse.

The cause is unknown but the result is all too clear. Bathers who come in contact with the waterous little beastie are subjected to an unmerciful itch for the next four or five days.

There are more home cures for "sea lice" than there are for hiccups, but none apparently has conclusively rid the victim of the inflammation.

Thus, so far, is the only sure cure—the louse goes away in about four days.

They have no regular habits. They come in the spring or summer. Sometimes they stay only a few days—or a few hours—and sometimes hang around for weeks. Whatever they are, they're too tiny to see with the naked eye.

Dr. F. G. Walton Smith, chief of Miami's marine laboratory, says there are several unproven theories about the bothersome buggers, but so far no definite conclusions.

One theory is that they are minute fragments of jelly fish. There is also the possibility they are a microscopic single celled organism. (Continued on Page Three)

Carnival Glee Marks End Of Berlin Block

BERLIN, May 11.—(AP)—The last hours of the Berlin blockade ticked away tonight in a spirit of celebration and deliverance from events which brought the East and West almost to the brink of war.

The end of the 327-day siege of Berlin was set for one minute after midnight, which is equivalent to 5:01 P. M. in Eastern Standard Time. Trains and trucks lined up near the border between the British and Russian zones of Germany.

The dropping of roadblocks will start them along the 100 miles of Russian-controlled territory that makes an island of Germany's greatest city.

Sixteen freight trains were ready, along with scores of trucks, automobiles and busses. The trains from the West carry coal and food—the thing that the 2,000,000 Western Berliners have gotten only through the night of the American British airlift in the last 10 months.

At the same time the Western Powers will relax their counter-blockade. They said they kept Germany from flowing into Western Europe from the Eastern zone. But it is the Russians who take a diplomatic defeat out of the Berlin blockade. Western leaders say the Russians, not reckoning with the airlift, thought they could squeeze the west out of Berlin.

It was like a county fair in Helmsdorf today as this usually sleepy border town awaited the midnight starting signal. Traffic jammed its winding streets. Its ancient hotels were filled.

British and American troops which will direct the resumption of Berlin-bound traffic were almost outnumbered by the photographers, correspondents and photographers here to describe the event.

Entrants in the highway today were told to describe the event.

Forces Who Ousted Hague Asks Court To Hold Records

JERSEY CITY, N. J., May 11.—(AP)—The fusion forces who ousted the Democratic organization from control of Jersey City sought a court order today to require the records of Frank Hague's administration.

Frank V. Kenny, leader of the triumphant fusion forces, said he wanted the municipality's books seized so that he would inherit the "sins of the Administration which term is expiring."

Kenny said he had instructed his attorneys to ask Superior Court Judge William J. Brennan, Jr. for the impounding order this afternoon.

Kenny, outlining Hague's record and who was ousted by the Democratic chief, had yesterday smashed the Jersey City organization's attempt to delay the election.

He had termed the election a political machine in the history of the United States. He said today he wanted to start with a "clean slate" so the same charge could not be leveled later against him.

Hague, no longer "the law" in Jersey City, was one of the last big city political bosses. His only comment on the outcome of the election was a 12-word statement issued this morning.

"The people wanted it that way," Hague said, "so it's all right with me."

Police said neither man had a license to drive. They described themselves as James W. Campbell, 35, and Harry J. Cloran.

Divided House Group Okays Modified Bill On Veterans' Pensions

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—A divided House Veterans' Committee today approved a modified pension bill adding about $100,000,000 to existing veterans' benefits over the next 30 years.

The new bill in effect liberalizes and writes into law regulations of the Veterans Administration already in force for disabled and needy veterans. It is a follow-up to a $100,000,000 measure which failed to pass.

The final Committee product contained an amendment by Rep. Teague (D-Tex.) limiting pensions for veterans able to work more than half time.

Businessmen's Responsibility To Community, Company Is Outlined

NEW YORK, May 11.—(AP)—What more should a businessman do for us than supply us with a good start at a reasonable price?

Answers are at hand today from widely divergent walks of life.

From Pope Pius XII, who has strong views on businessmen, employees and their relation to society. From Dean Donald K. David of the ten corporation executives.

But most companies feel that they now show the proper responsibility, or are doing their best to show it. They also feel that the still widely held conception of businessmen as selfish exploiters of the public is no longer deserved.

True, many a businessman stumbled onto this course. He entered community service through self-preservation. He wanted to have a hand in shaping community. (Continued on Page Four)

BIBLE VERSE TODAY

We cannot hide our real selves from the infinite. We should approach him frankly and sincerely, and obey him and love him.

The Legislative session is over half through, but it has at last passed one good measure. It has voted to abolish continuing appropriations, and the bill has been sent to the Governor.

Night driving is dangerous driving. Remember that when you drive at night. Drive carefully. Last year, although there were only one-third as many automobiles using the highways at night as in the day time, there were 40 percent more fatal accidents.

In Joliet, Ill., a 13 year old girl admits she pushed her 7 year old playmate into a drainage ditch, held him under water until he drowned. Why did she do it? "I don't know."

A circuit court judge in Miami explains how gambling rackets operate. In the Miami area, he says, they do an illegal business of $100,000,000 a year. That, of course, does not include horse and dog racing, jai alai or other legal forms of gambling.

President Truman says that the trouble with Congress is that it has too many Byrds. Unfortunately, it has only one Byrd, who has been saying over and over again that government waste and extravagance will lead to national bankruptcy.

Debate in Congress has begun on President Truman's FEPC bill prohibiting discrimination in employment on account of race, religion or national origin. Ignorance, prejudice, intolerance is a terrible thing, no matter where you find it.

End Of The "Michigan"

Historic relics are not so numerous that the loss of any is to be taken lightly. Word comes of the failure of efforts to save the historic warship U. S. S. Michigan, which since 1928 has been moored off Erie, Pa. The vessel is to be sold for scrap.

Built in 1843, the Michigan was the first iron ship constructed by the United States Navy. Teams of oxen hauled the iron parts through the forest from Pittsburgh to Erie where the ship was put together. Just before the Civil War she was sent to Beaver Island in Lake Michigan, where a Mormon colony headed by James J. Strang, "King Strang", was threatening violence against its leader.

Now, after this long and honorable career, she is to be broken up. Those who treasure the physical things which link the past to the present, and help us to remember what the past was like, will hate to see her go. But when comes the end of any good life, whether of house or person, ship or tree, the only thing to do is to rejoice that it was good while it lasted, say good-bye with a smile and turn to the next thing coming up.

Headache

Few human afflictions have been so much maligned and so frequently doubted as the headache. Nevertheless there still appear to be times when having a headache is preferable to performing some impending social chore.

When a friend remarks that the ache is "all in your head", he may not be just making an unappreciated pun. A study at Columbia University and Montefiore Hospital in New York City, covering two common types of headaches, led to the conclusion that while the headache may be unquestionably physical the causes are likely to be mental.

The two types studied were headaches resulting from tension and those occurring as an after-effect following injury. Strangely these two kinds were found to be similar in nature and to respond similarly to treatment.

What does this discovery mean for the unhappy sufferer from chronic headache? It may mean little for the immediate future. But some day, when doctors have delved more deeply into this line of reasoning about headaches, they may be able both to relieve the pain of the headache with a pill and also to remove its cause, not with the keen edge of the scalpel but with the deft touch of psychiatry.

Good Health

Americans enjoyed exceptionally good health during the first three months of 1949, with mortality from all causes combined at a lower rate than ever before in the country's history.

All-time lows for this part of the year were shown in the death rates from the following diseases: the communicable diseases of childhood as a group, influenza and pneumonia, tuberculosis, syphilis, diarrhea and enteritis, appendicitis, and the diseases of childhood.

The mortality from heart and related diseases was lowest in a decade, and even the mortality from the diseases of the coronary arteries, which has increased continuously for many years, showed a slight decline.

The Metropolitan notes that the external causes of death like the diseases, have had a favorable record so far in 1949.

"The death rate from all accidents combined was somewhat lower than a year ago," the Metropolitan statisticians reported. "New minimum death rates were recorded for home and for occupational accidents. Motor vehicle fatalities are running slightly higher than last year, although well below either 1946 or 1947. Homicide is down slightly, and suicide is somewhat higher."

The Tree Is The Real Thing

A few days ago, I bought some strawberries at a roadside stand. They were the biggest, nicest berries I have ever seen -- that is the top layer. The rest of the box was absolutely worthless.

I imagine people have bought apples and peaches from more or less unreliable sources and suffered the same experience. In fact, I have known business to operate on that same principle. However, they were usually busy hunting new customers because they were unable to hold the old ones.

In business, this is the day of high-priced, appealing ads and high-powered public relations departments. Every effort is made to appeal to the customer. All this is done to build a reputation for the firm or for the firm's product.

In dealing with people, and I believe it is the same with business firms, your reputation is what they think of you. However, nothing has been said about character and firms have character as well as individuals. Character is what you really are.

Abraham Lincoln said -- "Character is like a shadow. The shadow is what we think of it. The tree is the real thing."

Perhaps if we gave more thought to our character and the character of our business, we wouldn't have to worry so much about our reputation.

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Britain's crown colony of Hong Kong off the southeast coast of China is only a pinpoint on the map of Asia, but it could become a mighty cause of strife between England and the Chinese Communists if the Reds conquer the country.

The reason is that this famous island through endless centuries, belonged to China until John Bull acquired it after winning the "Opium War" between Britain and China in 1839-41. Indications are that the Chinese Communists intend to reclaim Hong Kong and neighboring territory on the mainland -- a total of more than 300 square miles.

The London Daily Mail sums up "the danger confronting Britain in China" like this: "The siege in the west is over, but the shooting, but how soon will the siege in the East begin? 'Hong Kong may become another Berlin.'"

The Mail is doubtful if enough is being done to protect Hong Kong against possible aggression and calls for joint Anglo-American action, saying: "Hong Kong after all is a vital link in the American Pacific frontier stretching from Japan to the Philippines. x x x The Russians may have lost one round in the West, but they hope to recover this lost ground through their Allies in the East. If we realize in time that Hong Kong is the new political symbol of our resolve to resist Red pressure, Russia may lose here as well."

The British government already has taken steps to meet contingencies. Defense Minister Alexander told the House of Commons a few days ago that Britain was sending substantial land, sea and air reinforcements to Hong Kong. This was during a debate on the Communist shelling last month of four British ships along the Yangtze River at a cost of 12 British lives. Alexander added: "While we have scrupulously endeavored to avoid being involved in war on the Chinese mainland, we are no less resolute in our attitude as regards territory for which we hold a direct responsibility."

Hong Kong, with its fine harbor, is one of the great centers of international trade. The colony consists of three parts. There is the island of Hong Kong which has an area of 32 square miles and contains the capital city of Victoria. Then there is the neighboring peninsula of Kowloon, a little more than three square miles in size, which was ceded to Britain in 1860 after the Anglo-French war against China.

And there are the so-called new territories, containing 350 square miles, which China leased to England for 99 years in 1898. Thus the territory actually belonging to Britain consists of the island of Hong Kong and the Kowloon Peninsula. Since the new territories are leased they presumably will revert to China in 1998 (under normal circumstances unless the lease is renewed).

Well, now, could Britain defend this possession if the Chinese Communists should make an attack on it in force? That certainly raises a great big question. Hong Kong is highly vulnerable to attack from the mainland because its huge population of something like 1,000,000 is largely dependent on the hinterland for food supplies. It would be difficult to feed a besieged Hong Kong by sea and the operation could only be carried out under cover of big scale naval and air operations.

In short, it strikes us that defense of Hong Kong against an all out Communist attack would involve a major war. That likely would mean another world war. A decision along those lines may be what Britain will be up against.

WINGED VICTORY

Nation's Business

Continued From Page Three... Affairs, rather than leaving them entirely to politicians. He was making a desperate attempt to mend his public relations fences. The public had become too convinced that all business men belonged to the "public-be-damned school" and were out only to get "all the traffic" they could.

Many companies began to combat this idea. Of course, there still are examples in management, especially among the older executives, of businessmen who hold firmly to the belief that "if you want it done well do it yourself." Hence, they put no faith in community efforts, preferring to work things out themselves. And there still are men in business who believe strongly in the trading axiom of "devil take the hindmost!"

But there is a growing list in every community of businessmen who are leaders in public affairs of companies that support or initiate projects for the welfare of all. Even that, of course, can be traced right back to self-interest. It is founded on the doctrine "what's good for the community is good for business." But this is a doctrine, now standard in many plants and offices, that would have sounded strange indeed to the robber barons of the last century.

Dean David puts the responsibility of businessmen this way: "More technical competence in the affairs of business and in administration is not enough to qualify a businessman for either success or leadership. His actions affect society in very significant ways. To be a leader he must manage his enterprise in such a way that his business will constitute a useful part of the intricate pattern of our social and economic life."

Pope Pius calls upon both employer and employee to develop "a strong reaction against the temptation for each to look to his own advantage at the expense of others x x x and to the detriment of the common good."

Chinese War

Automobile owners were forced to pay special defense taxes amounting to $30. Five more Shanghai "subversives" were scheduled to be executed late in the day.

Chinese groaning under their burdens were not as lucky as foreign vehicle owners. The Chinese had to give up enough of their machines to give the garrison 900 trucks and 300 jeeps. Foreigners managed to gain exemption from this edict.

A new "soak the rice tax" was rumored about ready for collection. Municipal authorities were reported drafting a measure calling for the requisitioning of all public and private stocks of export goods. The goods would be sold to finance fuel for Shanghai.

Reports from cities occupied by the Reds during their drive south say the Reds are requisitioning rice all along the line. This would be out reports the Reds, who now claim to be advancing at the rate of 24 miles a day, are living off the land.

More bad news for the government appeared in the Shanghai newspaper. It carried a dispatch from central Formosa, Ching Kai-Shek's island bastion 100 miles off the Fukien coast, that the normally rich Taichung area was facing a drought. Water in the Sun Moon Lake was reported falling rapidly.

British Woman Finds German Life Hard

BY GEORGE ROULTWOOD
AP Newfeature.

Kiel, Germany—A British woman who married a German has found living conditions here "far, far worse" than she imagined.

She is determined to remain living as a German, virtually cut off from contact with her fellow countrymen in the occupation zone.

She is Fran Sybil Lorenz, aged 30, born in London, north of England, formerly the wife of a major in the British army.

Mrs. Lorenz met her 23-year-old German husband when he was a prisoner of war in Barkham, England, and now lives in one and a half rooms in the tiny house of her German in-laws near Kiel, where she joined her husband three months ago.

Here are her impressions of the new life as she wrote them for the official "British Zone Review."

"Friends and family opposed my plan to come here and live as a German. This I can understand. My beloved father and cousin were killed in war with Germany."

"But on the other hand, I was expecting to be welcomed by a German mother-in-law whose only daughter had been killed by a British raid on Kiel two weeks before the war ended."

"I was relinquishing my nationality to be without status or any of the privileges granted to British people here, and I wondered what the future life in Kiel would hold."

"Now I know."

"I know that conditions are far, far worse than I ever imagined, but I know, too, that we intend to remain here."

"Kiel is a barren, bomb-torn city whose people are slowly becoming aware that they are once more human beings. They have long been too underprivileged to give serious thoughts either to a past or political future. They are glad to be left alone to build up their shattered lives."

"Personal Anglo-German relationship does not really exist."

"British personnel here are not helped by the anti-German opinion so freely sponsored in our daily news papers. The two countries are too closely related by blood to treat each other with tolerant good humor; it still remains a rather serious and distressful affair."

"I find it impossible to give up anything resembling a hot and cold diet on the ration. We have at the most two meat meals a month, no bacon whatsoever; the fat ration is far too small; fish is poor; eggs are unobtainable, honey, macaroni, bread and potatoes are the staple diet and with the exception of potatoes, all of equal or more rationed."

"This diet of starch is highly unsuitable for a small child, but at present she is healthy in contrast to many of the small people seen here with facial expressions beyond their years."

"As to the clothing question, Britons who think they have been expert with our 'make do and mend' during and since the war, would be amazed to learn the interesting possibilities of the army blanket, or the number of times the same wool can be used, reaped, strengthened and used again."

For a crisp-tasting salad serve thin slices of onion rings and oranges on shredded salad greens with a tangy French dressing, add a ring of green pepper as a garnish.

Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, May 11 (AP)—The movie double feature gets a formidable foe in Walt Disney's 'A. Mark Twain didn't say it was Charles Dudley Warner anybody complains about the weather, but nobody does anything about it. The same goes for double features.

Fans' brief about parodied preferences, but they continue to buy the 2 for 1 bargain show. To those who would really like to see something done about it, Disney offers some hope.

The cartoon wizard has started a series of half-hour films called 'True Life Adventures.' The first is an exciting bank of outlandish, 'Soal Island,' 'Coming up The Life of the Beaver' and 'The Atom,' said Disney.

"I claim the public would rather see 30 minutes of exciting entertainment than two hours of million-dollar bonbons."

"I often run two or three million-dollar pictures at my house and do you know what my kids do after the television set and turn on Hopalong Cassidy for some real entertainment."

Fans admitted he would have trouble getting some theater managers on the idea of running a feature, a half-hour subject and some shorts. He had a job on coming RKO, too.

"They wanted me to lengthen the 'Adventures' into features but I would have to pay them and they would be less interesting. The idea, 30 minutes is a good length for showing them in schools."

"And," he added with a glint in his eye, "television."

Last weekend saw a strange sight in Las Vegas. The silver-plated Nevada pie are taken upon the press preview of a picture called 'The Lady Gambler.' This has been licensed to a big company's endorsement of 'The Last Weekend' a few years back.

Indeed, the new film does for gambling what 'Weekend' did for drinking. Just as Ray Milland was a sucker for vice, Barbara Stanwick falls for a pack of cards. Milland wound up in the alcoholic ward, and Stanwick sinks to shooting loaded dice up an alley.

However, 'The Lady Gambler' fails to reach the height of 'Weekend,' perhaps because a bottle seems more modest than a roulette wheel.

Las Vegas is described in the picture as a town of 'quick one rings, quick draws' and 'quick money.' But if that would do for vice, it can't be outdone. Hollywood press members were pleasantly entertained at Hotel Flamingo and Last Front, where all facilities for gaming were readily available.

After a night backing the over-armed bandit, I agree with Stanwick—gambling is hell.

Las Vegas had a cold winter, but warmer weather has brightened the business outlook. The film crowd continues to patronize the spots. The first face I saw upon arriving was Vic Mature's. The last was Mickey Rooney's, who is helping Martha Vickers wait out her six weeks for a divorce.

The town offers dozens of neon-lighted casinos that operate all night and all day. One wonders that there are so many suckers.

Brushes made of pure bristles are almost worth their weight in gold these days. Due to continuing chaos in China, they are hard to obtain, paint manufacturers report.

Sanford Giants Drop 5 To 1 Contest At Municipal Park As Umps Chase 2 Players

Locals Are Scheduled To Play Hosts To Palatka A's Tonight; Piet Blasts Homer

By ARTHUR BECKWITH, JR. Herald Sports Editor. The Sanford Giants play hosts to the Palatka Athletics tonight at Municipal Park here last night.

The Giants play hosts to the up and coming Palatka Athletics, and tomorrow evening the Sanfordites move to DeLand for a twin bill with the DeLand Red Hats.

Base Umpire Phil Taylor sent Charlie Pepio to the showers in the top of the eighth frame last night, and seconds later waved Manager Hal Gruber to the club house. Pepio and Gruber receive honors for being the first and second players to be ejected from a contest for the Giants this year.

Following the game, Carl Butler, Gainesville first baseman, reported that he saw no reason for Pepio or Manager Gruber being thrown out.

"Pepio just protested the umpire's decision at a play at second base, and the first thing I knew Taylor was waving Pepio off the field," Butler is reported to have said.

"I heard the entire discussion, and there were no bad words of anything, until after Taylor threw Pepio out," Jimmie Turnage, the St. Augustine hot boy declared. Gruber was charged for inquiring why Pepio was thrown out.

St. Augustine lead the contest in the second inning on singles by Piet and Stan Karpinski, and a long fly ball by Pete Gasper to score two runs. Manager Piet banded his home run with none on in the fourth.

Sanford's single tally came in the seventh on a single by Jim Jones, a walk issued to Pepio, who came in to bat for Joe Malenowski, and walks issued to Henry and Len Matte, who batted for Ben Wilbur. Sanford's starting pitcher, Joe Schultz, tossed the two final innings.

Diamond Dust Manager Hal Gruber announced last night that May 23 would be "Ladies Night" at the Municipal Park. Sanford and Leesburg meet in a single game that night. Additional plans for the night will be announced later. Manager Frank Piet missed a fly over the third base bleachers last night, and after the Sanford fans had yelled and screamed in an attempt to get the Pies' skinner to miss the ball, Piet stuck his tongue out at the fans. Some fans say they saw his seventh ball game of the year for the Gainesville G-Men last night. He has been with the club 13 days.

Sanford fans received another "bird's eye view" of ESI, umpiring last night at the Municipal Park. Something certainly needs to be done about the poor work being done by the men in blue this year. We believe this year's crop is the worst since the war. President Butler, you are up to bat....

Tulane, Florida To Meet In SEC Match

NEW ORLEANS, May 11—(AP)—Tulane and Florida, South-eastern Conference tennis stars, tangle in a last-minute match today before the curtain rises tomorrow on SEC championship play here.

The Green Wave netmen, favored to win the SEC tourney for the third straight year, will try to preserve their undefeated record in today's tilt with Florida.

The Gators, however, fresh from a 3-3 tie with Louisiana State yesterday, are regarded as strongest contenders for Tulane's SEC crown in the championship tourney.

Ten conference teams will throw 42 of SEC's best netmen into play when the tourney opens at 10:00 (CST) tomorrow.

On hand will be netters from Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, Georgia Tech, LSU, Mississippi, Tennessee, Vanderbilt and Tulane.

Perennially strong Vandy will feature Kermit Stengel in the No. 1 spot.

Ed Adams of Tech and M. B. Wheeler of Georgia will be heavy contenders.

Heads Of Three Dixie Conferences Report No Revolt Against 'Code'

ATLANTA, May 11—(AP)—Heads of the Southern, Southeastern and Southwest conferences say no revolt against the National Collegiate Athletic Association's sanity code is in the offing.

Two Southern sports writers predicted in their columns yesterday that resentment against the code in the South might bring an open break with the NCAA this month.

The writers were Johnny Bradberry of the Atlanta Constitution and William Keefe of the New Orleans Times-Picayune.

The code is a sore spot with many Southern college officials, but presidents of three Dixie conferences said withdrawal from the NCAA is not the answer.

Representatives of Southern colleges will meet here May 28 to discuss amendments to the code, adopted in January, 1948. The amendments are to be submitted to the NCAA.

"There is no indication of a rebellion on the part of the South-eastern conference," said Mr. Blake Van Leer, president of the SEC and of Georgia Tech.

"Count the Southwest conference out of any rebellion against NCAA's sanity code," said Dutch Meyer, Texas Christian University coach and president of the National Football Coaches Association.

Meyer's stand was shared by Dean R. A. Leflar of the University of Arkansas, Southwest conference president, and James S. Stewart, conference executive secretary.

Dr. George Eppley, president of the Southern Conference, said improvement of the sanity code is the aim of the Atlanta meeting—not a rebellion against it.

"We want a workable, practical code," he said. "And to be allowed to do for athletes all that can be done for other students."

Van Leer agreed, declaring: "The spirit of the meeting here will not be one of name calling but an effort to get a more workable setup which all schools could abide by."

The code has been approved by 400 colleges. Violation means suspension from the NCAA.

Athletes may be given financial aid under the code only if the same aid is available under the same conditions to all students of the college.

Before the code was adopted, SEC colleges gave grants-in-aid to promising athletes—principally football players—graduating from high schools. The grants consisted of tuition, room and board, books, laundry and $10 a month spending money.

Dr. K. E. Lieb of the University of Iowa, NCAA president, said he saw no reason to comment on the matter "until any opposition becomes definite enough to know just what is under consideration."

Valdosta Blasts Waycross In Two G-F Loop Games

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS Valdosta nipped Waycross in both ends of a doubleheader, 3-2 and 6-4, to take a firmer hold on top honors in the Georgia-Florida League.

Both games of another doubleheader were taken last night by the Cordale Indians, who won 11-3 and 13-8 over the Moultrie Athletics.

A third twin bill—Tallahassee at Thomasville—was rained out. In the only single game played in the loop last night, the Albany Cardinals defeated the Americus Phillies, 16 to 5.

All games were marked by the scarcity of errors as players bore down to make their defenses airtight.

And in all but the Americus-Albany game, the hits were few and far between. The Indiana Indians hit safeties off in a big third inning to give them the lead for the first time.

The Athletics scored three in the first and two in the third. The Indians bounced right back, and four in their half of the fifth and added a pair in the eighth.

In their second game, the Athletics got 13 safeties to Cordale's 11, and were charged with six errors and to the Indians' two. The Indiana countered seven runs in a big third inning to give them the lead for the first time.

The Athletics scored three in the first and two in the third. The Indians bounced right back, and four in their half of the fifth and added a pair in the eighth.

Card's Sam Breadon Dies In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, May 11—(AP)—Sam Breadon, the David Harum of the baseball world, is dead.

The 72-year-old former St. Louis Cardinal owner died of cancer at St. John's hospital last night. His wife and their daughter, Mrs. Robert E. Guss, were at his bedside.

Funeral arrangements were not announced immediately. In 27 years as head of the Red Birds, including some lean ones in the old days, Breadon led the club to nine pennants and on six occasions went on to a World Championship.

From a $200 initial investment in 1917, Breadon built up the club to a $2,000,000 organization—the amount he is reported to have received from Robert Hannegan and Fred Saigh in 1947. Saigh later bought out Hannegan.

Breadon became president of the Cardinals in 1920 after he had purchased a majority of the stock. He replaced Branch Rickey who had been president. Rickey held his other job of manager.

In 1925 Breadon brought Rickey into the front office where the pair made the best office team the sport has seen.

Together they started the farm system under which minor league clubs were helped financially or bought outright. Through this system the Cardinals got the players who carried them into so many pennants and the money that put the club on a sound financial footing.

Ball Hits Men

MCALESTER, Okla., May 11—(AP)—The usual procedure of man hit ball was just about reversed in a Class D Souther State League game last night.

It was all ball hit man, as Ardmore leant McAlester 7-5. Eight batters were hit by pitched balls. Six Ardmore players absorbed bruise-making pitches. Second baseman Chuck Klein bare the brunt of the wild tosses. He was hit twice.

Michigan State's three varsity football coaches all are graduates of other schools—Clarence Mum from Minnesota, Forest Evanschewski from Michigan and Hug Daugherty from Syracuse.

Employ, Southern Conference prey, said improvement of sanity code, not "rebellion" against it, would be aim of a three-conference session May 28.

Montreal—Sid Abel, captain of Detroit Red Wings, was named most valuable player of 1948-49 National Hockey League season.

Baseball—Sam Breadon, 72, former owner of St. Louis Cardinals baseball team, died of cancer after lingering illness.

TALLAHASSEE, May 12.—(AP)—Reg. Bridges of Calhoun today proposed an appropriation of $100,000 for construction of a stadium at Florida State University. A similar bill has been introduced in the Senate by Senator Hivers of Chipley. The University has no stadium of its own. It plays its home football games at Centennial field in Tallahassee, which also is used as a baseball diamond and for high school games.

TALLAHASSEE, May 12.—(AP)—The Florida Senate passed by a 34-2 vote today Governor Warren's citrus bill to provide a taste test and revamp many citrus laws. The first vote came after two days of argument and after the supporters of the measure beat down every attempt to wreck the measure by amendment.

Closest opposition came in a move to exempt bulk truck shipment from groves from provisions of the bill. The vote defeating the truck amendment was 19-17. Only Senators King of Winter Haven and Moore of Sebring voted against the final bill. Discussion was spirited in the amendment by Moore to let truckers back their vehicles up to (Continued on Page Two)

Atlantic Pact Door Slammed Tight On Spain

Senate GOP Leader, Vandenberg, And Truman Back Acheson's Firm Stand

WASHINGTON, May 12.—(AP)—Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, Republican leader in foreign affairs, said today: "I am not in favor of Spain's entry into the North Atlantic Pact." This unqualified stand followed strong anti-Franco statements yesterday by Secretary of State Acheson—remarks which President Truman endorsed today at a news conference.

Together, they apparently slammed the door tight on any possibility of Spain's entering the Atlantic Alliance. But there remained a difference over sending an ambassador to Spain. Both Vandenberg and Senator Connally (D-Tex.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, have said they favor having an ambassador to Madrid.

Acheson's position—backed up by President Truman—is that whether or not this country has an ambassador there is unimportant in itself. But the withholding of an ambassador, Acheson said, has become important as a symbol of the disapproval of other nations for Spanish Fascism.

Vandenberg gave his views on Spain during hearings on Senate ratification of the pact. At present, the Foreign Relations Committee is (Continued on Page Three)

Truman Stands By Demand For $4 Billion Tax Increase As Legislative Opposition Mounts

Commie Armies Open 2 Attacks In Shanghai Area

WASHINGTON, May 12.—(AP)—The House Banking Committee approved 14 for 7 today the Administration proposal for a multi-billion dollar program of slum clearance, low-rent housing and farm housing aids. The bill provides for construction of 1,050,000 low-rent housing units in seven years, as President Truman requested. The Senate recently passed a housing bill cutting the number of these units to 810,000 in six years.

Banking Chairman Spence (D-Ky.) said the legislation will come to a showdown vote in the House next week and "it will pass beyond any doubt." The committee voted in closed session, but some members said all 11 for the measure were Democrats and all seven against it were Republicans. Six members were absent.

And Senator Taft (R-Ohio) predicted defeat for a large part of President Truman's legislative program. He said the Democratic 81st Congress is as opposed as the Republican 80th to the President's "basic philosophy of government." As an example, the Senate's 60-40 policy chairman and eight of the 13 members of the Senate Labor Committee are opposed to Mr. Truman's national health insurance program. This majority might prevent the plan from reaching the Senate floor.

Taft told a lumberman's meeting that the greatest failure of the 81st Congress is as opposed as the Republican 80th to the President's "basic philosophy of government." (Continued on Page Three)

Mison, according to Myers, said they came to Hillsborough because the heat was on in Polk county. Governor Cracks Down On Culbreath

TALLAHASSEE, May 12.—(AP)—Governor Warren today warned Sheriff Hugh Culbreath of Hillsborough county that he will suspend him from office if there is another assassination attempt on Florida in front of his home on the Sabbath Day. He said "the attempted assassination of Arthur Velasco" last Sunday afternoon "is alarming in the extreme. A malicious attack was made upon this citizen of Florida in front of his home on the Sabbath Day while his wife looked on. A more brazen and lawless crime has not been committed in this state. A crime so bold could be committed only by professional criminals. Professional criminals can exist only under conditions of lax law enforcement. Law enforcement requires the government to take care that the laws be faithfully executed," and added "I therefore, call upon you to enforce the law in Hillsborough County."

The Shanghai garrison reported holding firm. A force southwest of this great Asian city had reached Shantung, a band of 25 miles southwest of Shanghai. Government troops there were reported holding firm. From the central China Hankow front Central News Agency described fighting of "unprecedented fury raging." But from the size of losses involved this action seemed to be on a small scale.

The Shanghai garrison ordered all government departments out of Shanghai within two weeks. They would put the southwest part of the Red forces and the northwest force about equal distance from Shanghai. Mrs. Walker Tells Business Women Of Human Rights Needs Of Hospital Are Explained By MacDonald Bryan

Mrs. Amelia Hines Walker, internationally known for her work for Equal Rights for Women and chairman of the international relation committee of the National Woman's Party, last night told the Business and Professional Women's Club that she believes the National Congress will pass an amendment removing women from the category of their husband's "goods and chattel" and make them equal with men as far as human rights are concerned.

Mrs. Walker, who is wintering in Winter Park, was introduced by Mrs. Sally Mero Williams, BWPW president, and her talk was broadcast over Station WTRR. "It is encouraging to me to know that the people in Florida put more than $70,000,000 in Savings Bonds last year and 1948 sales in date are running well ahead of the same period in 1948. Gearhart Eiser Reported To Be Ship Stowaway

WASHINGTON, May 12.—(AP)—Immigration Commissioner Watson Miller said today a stowaway aboard a Polish ship off a coast has been "positively" identified as Gearhart Eiser, missing army Communist.

The 33-year-old Eiser, who is facing two possible jail sentences in this country, disappeared last week from his home in New York. He was free on $2,000 bail. The liner Ratus, which sailed from New York six days ago, later radioed that a German stowaway aboard identified himself as Eiser.

Miller told reporters "we have a positive identification." Asked for details, Miller said the stowaway gave his birth date and place and they corresponded to our records of the fourth date and place of Eiser. He added "I don't suppose any ordinary stowaway would be coming around with Eiser's birth date and place." When newsmen asked whether Eiser got aboard the ship, Miller said "It's a strange procedure. One would wonder how he got on the boat."

Asked how Eiser was discovered aboard the vessel, Miller said he got on Saturday, he may have gotten hungry. Eiser, who also was awaiting deportation proceedings, has been coming to get out the country for a long time. Neighbors reported he had not seen him around his apartment since last last week.

The Justice Department has been investigating his disappearance and Scotland Yard detectives are waiting for the history to be sent to Southampton. Eiser has admitted a Communist but denied being the No. 1 Red in this country, as alleged before the House Committee on Un-American Activities. He even sought help from the United States to leave the United States voluntarily and return to his native country.

He said his wife recently had been having a seven month, 192 a month apartment in New York with other people. Occupants of the apartment did not answer to a bell when newsmen went to call on her. (Continued on Page Four)

Small Tomato Grows On Potato Plant

What appears to be a small green tomato is growing on a potato vine in the yard of Mrs. and Mrs. R. F. Hubbard, 2014 Lily Court. The plant is one of one of Irish potato plants. Near a line of Irish potato plants, Mrs. Hubbard has a row of tomato plants. Mrs. Hubbard, soil conservationist, who viewed the plant this morning stated that the tomato-like growth might be the result of a cross with a sort of wild tomato vine which grows in the vicinity. More can be told when the plant, now several months old, is nearer maturity, he said.

J. W. Wilson, entomologist at the Central Florida Experiment Station, when informed by telephone of the plant, stated that potato plants sometimes grow seed pods that closely resemble small tomatoes. The growth of the Florida State Bank at Sanford, was born in Blountstown, Fla. and moved to Sanford in 1944 after attending Washington and Lee University.
