

Strife In Brewed For Over Five Years

So Has Led Revolt To Many Victories In Campaign

By Associated Press
Tues. of revolution sput-through five years of history before that midnight, two and a half days when Spain burst into

April 12, 1931, republicans won municipal elections.
Later, King Alfonso
went into exile and Spain was a republic, with a convention providing for the separation of church and state and division of large estates among the peasants.

In putting economic reform effect, friend Loyalists assassinations, executions, strikes, and riots rocked the land.

To put down the "Reds,"

the government picked

Francisco Franco,

"leader" of the army,

whose soldiers won the parliamentary elections of February,

Franco was "busted" to total command of the Ca-diziers. One day early in

President Azana inquired about him and was told: "He's locked in the Canaries."

Franco, in civilian garb,
"secretly" gained pasenger on a tourist plane to Spanish Morocco. And there, on

Mar. 12, 1932, the garrisons revolts spread quickly.

They flew to the Spanish mainland leg command at Cadiz.

Simultaneously army revolts

by churchmen and capi-tains of northwest Spain

the Basque and Asturias communities.

From there on, the course of the civil war falls into four sections:

Government Holds Madrid

While the northern insurgent smashed through Aran-

San Sebastian, Franco's

western army—Moors, Foreign brigadiers and Spanish regulars north to consolidate insurgent territories in west

Spain. A gathered-up Government army, mostly militia itself, west from Madrid drive a wedge between the Insurgent columns and was turned back with losses at Badajoz.

Insurgent army then had to retreat. By Oct. 21, 1932, pausing to relieve Rightist units trapped in the Alcazar at Toledo, Franco was holding at Madrid. Even Pre-

Largo Caballero had donned cloak and was in the trenches across the quiet trenches.

4. Loyalists Less Barcelona

Two days before last Christmas, the "bull" roared. With an army of 300,000 Spaniards,

Moors and Italians, Franco drove north and west from the Segre and Ebro rivers along a 100-mile front extending across northeast Spain from the French border to the Mediterranean.

Advancing 20 miles a week,

Franco's well-equipped forces reached Barcelona on Jan. 15,

1932. Next day, with scarcely a shot fired, the bomb-shocked

Loyalist capital—Spain's largest city, most important seaport and

No. 1 industrial center—submitted.

With Franco's men close on their heels, hungry Loyalist soldiers headed for the French border.

Chronology:

Ultimate Ruin Is Inevitable End For Gamblers, Mathematician Says

TAMPA, Feb. 22.—"Ultimate ruin" is the inevitable fate that faces all gamblers, if they gamble long enough. W. C. K. Brown, adult student at the University of Tampa, told the University Math club in a lecture in which he demonstrated his statement with the figures of mathematics.

"But the public does not realize this," he said. "The amateur or the occasional gambler is filled with the excitement of a temporary win, and the professional is controlled by the passion of gambling, so that cold figures mean nothing to him."

Pointing out that "this" is a math lecture and not one on morals," Brown told the club gambling is simply a question of whether you can afford it financially—and financially it means ultimate ruin."

"Gambling is a process of alternating wins and losses," he explained. "If you gamble with only one person, you may continue until one of you is financially ruined. And that may end it."

"But the whole of society is your potential gambling opponent. Hence, your asset is only the amount of money you have to start with. But you must put that comparatively small amount up against the combined assets of all society. Suppose you start with $1,000, you may win $1,000 more—and keep gambling. But if you lose $1,000, you must stop. You are ruined. If you win $10,000, you can keep on. But you may lose $10,000, and that ends it."

"If you gamble, you are pitting your limited resources against the unlimited resources of society. In the simple game of tossing a coin, heads or tails, the chances are mathematical, even that you'll win or lose. But eventually you or the other fellow will be ruined."

"Now, if you toss coins against all comers, or all of society who gamble, it will inevitably come your turn to be the one who is ruined. Even in a fair game, the chances are against you."

He said the betting on a basis of "double or quits" is stacked against the bettor.

"Suppose you owe me $1. You propose a toss-up, 'double or quits.'

That is, you'll owe me $2 or nothing. I win. Then you owe me $2. You propose 'double or quits' again, and again—and still I win."

"Now you owe me $8. I'm beginning to feel good about it."

"Then—just one time—I lost.

And I had to lose sometime. That one loss wipes out all my winnings. If all my capital were at stake, I would be ruined."

Each individual bet was fair.

But the series was unfair."

He said the so-called profesional gambler—the operator of devices and games, such as roulette, bingo, etc.—is not a gambler at all.

He said the betting on a basis

"A gambler takes a chance," he explained. "Mathematically, the operator takes no chance. His chance is only that of certain gain."

The player is the gambler. And, if the operator's chance is for certain win, then the only chance left for the player is of certain loss."

"Gambling becomes, to some people, of whom you may be one, not only a pleasure and a habit, but a growing passion, which like morphine, leads other good men and women to ruin, for whom they have lost all of their resources the tendency is to lose money belonging to others."

Fragments May Solve Fate Of Ocean Liner

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa.—(AP)—Fragments of cork and wood washed up at Keimouth, near East London, may solve one of the great mysteries of the sea—the fate of the 9,000-ton passenger ship Warratah, which disappeared in 1909 with 211 passengers between Durban and Capetown.

The Warratah was last seen off Port St. Johns by the Clan Macintyre, the two ships exchanging

Eckerson Granted Injunction Against Commissioner Mayo

Agriculture Commissioner Enjoined From Revoking License Of Cannery

Cannery's Contract Held Violation

Local Company To Contest Constitutionality Of Statute

Circuit Judge Millard B. Smith Thursday afternoon granted to C. H. Eckerson, president of the Eckerson Fruit Canners, Inc., a temporary injunction restraining Nathan Mayo, Commissioner of Agriculture from suspending or revoking the license of the local plant which began canning grapefruit juice and sections for growers' accounts shortly after the growers' cost guarantee law was invoked by the Florida Citrus Commission on Jan. 20.

A petition for an injunction was filed by the canning company president following receipt of a telegram from State Chemist J. J. Taylor of Winter Haven which reads as follows: "Vote contracts for processing grapefruit for growers' accounts have been held in violation of the growers' cost guarantee law in the opinion of chemists of the department of agriculture and the Florida Citrus Commission. You are hereby directed to cancel operations under said contracts immediately. Failure to comply will subject your license to suspension or revocation."

The injunction temporarily restrained Commissioner Mayo from "undertaking to fix and determine the price to be paid by any person, firm or corporation or association buying, marketing and processing grapefruit during the season of 1938-39 in so far as the regulation may be deemed to apply to the plaintiff in the processing of grapefruit furnished plaintiff by its contract growers, processed, canned and marketed by plaintiff for the respective accounts of said growers until a hearing in this cause can be had and until the further order of this court."

Judge Smith ordered Mr. Eckerson to post a bond of $1,000 for payment of costs "should it hereafter be determined that the defendant herein was wrongfully enjoined."

Because of the "unsettled condition" of the grapefruit market Mr. Eckerson delayed opening of his local plant until after the first of the year and declared he was forced to cancel his contracts because he was unable to pay the 20 cent minimum price for the raw fruit at the same time competing with the Texas canners in price quotations on the finished product.

Mr. Eckerson declared that the Texas efforts to peg prices have enhanced and that present canners from the two State are offering canned grapefruit juice for 45 cents a dozen cans. Minus the essential deduction for processing, this price would net the growers about 10 cents a box for their raw grapefruit, he said.

"There is no reason why we Florida canners should hold up our competitors," he said.

Declaring that he did not know when a hearing in the temporary injunction will be held, Mr. Eckerson stated that his attorney has informed him that the law is unconstitutional. He also added that he has written to the state attorney general and the U. S. attorney general.

He said he has written to the U. S. Congress asking that the bill for the cost guarantee law be suspended under the authority of the president for the amount of $1,000,000.

Hungary Signs Pact With Italy, Japan, Germany

Nation Takes Contradictory Stand By Purging Nazi Party

Mr. Associated Press

Hungary, France and Spain were battlegrounds today in Europe's conflicts between the right and left.

Hungary, taking apparently contradictory measures, signed an anti-communist pact to join Italy, Germany and Japan in alliance against communism, and at the same time banned as a menace to public safety the leading Hungarian Nazi party, the Hungarian More than 500 were arrested and the party's property was confiscated.

While the war in Spain remained in suspense, strong indications appeared that recognition of the nationalists by both Britain and France was imminent.

Premier Daladier of France stated the life of his government on a proposal for immediate recognition of Generalissimo Franco's Spanish regime.

Determined leftist opposition to French recognition of the Franco regime as the legal government of Spain last night forced the French government to bring up the question for a full dress debate in the chamber of deputies.

Political sources said Daladier himself would move the question of confidence when a leftist motion demanding immediate debate on the government's handling of the Spanish issue is introduced in the chamber.

Most political quarters, after a calculation of government supporters in the chamber, said there was little doubt that the government would win a vote of confidence.

Chairman Bradshaw will choose a vice chairman and, with Capt. Rose, work will begin on appointment of committees, and campaign meetings called for Monday.

J. G. Sharon Reports On Townsend Address

James G. Sharon, local support of Dr. Townsend, gave a report on the meeting and address of Dr. Francis E. Townsend in Babson Park earlier in the week, during the business session of the Sanford Townsend Club in the Woman's Clubhouse Thursday night.

Mr. Sharon reported that Roger Barton is apparently in sympathy with the revolving pension movement and Mr. Sharon pointed out that the support of this noted economist will be of great assistance.

All members of the club were urged to attend the Rally and the address of Dr. Townsend in the Orlando Coliseum Sunday afternoon at 2:00 P. M.

Following the business meeting an old-fashioned square dance was held with music by the Townsend Trio, Harry Gustafson, Willard Connolly and Charles DeWitt.

10 Percent Cut In Celery Deal Asked At Meet

Dark Picture Painted Of Market Outlook Though Few Optimistic Notes Sounded

A recommendation for elimination of 10 percent of the celery ready for shipment next week, with shipping holidays on Saturday of this week and Sunday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday of next week was made by Seminole County growers at a meeting in the Court House last night presided over by Guy

Scallop, president of the Seminole County Agricultural Association.

Agreeing that the present celery market is unfavorable and painting a dark picture for the future of the celery industry in Sanford section if there is a market collapse similar to last year, the growers adopted this recommendation with only nine voting out of approximately 50 percent. There were no dissenting votes.

A motion for the shipping holidays was made by Ralph Chapman, seconded by Henry Schumacher and an amendment to include the elimination of 10 percent of the crop was added by a motion from Peter Thurnen, seconded by Otto Schmelz.

The motion resulted when it appeared to be the consensus of opinion that a shipping holiday and a reduction in shipments were necessary to the improvement of the market.

The soil conservation program of the AAA was given by many present as a possible solution to the present surplus after County Agent C. R. Dawson outlined the program put into effect last fall by the AAA as a trial plan for acreage reduction in this crop.

A note of optimism was injected into last night's meeting when Capt. R. E. Rose, commanding officer of the local citadel.

Plans Are Made For Starting Campaign In The Near Future

Charles E. Bradshaw of Altamonte Springs was made chairman of the annual drive of the Salvation Army for funds with which to carry on its activities during the coming year, according to an announcement today by Capt. R. E. Rose, commanding officer of the local citadel.

Political sources said Daladier would move the question of confidence when a leftist motion demanding immediate debate on the government's handling of the Spanish issue is introduced in the chamber.

Plans for launching the annual drive are well underway and campaign headquarters have been established by the Salvation Army in the vacant store building on Magnolia Avenue between First and Second Streets.

Joint recognition of General France's regime as the Spanish government by France and Great Britain was expected to be granted after a French cabinet meeting called for Monday.

Regarding the appointment of Mr. Bradshaw as head of the drive, Capt. Rose declared that "members of the Advisory Board feel they are very fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Bradshaw. He is a wonderful friend of the Army, having had experience with this organization overseas when he saw it functioning in a fearless, untiring, and self-sacrificing manner.

"Mr. Bradshaw is a resident of Seminole County, owning a home in Altamonte Springs with business interests in Sanford, which makes him well known throughout the county. To know him is to respect his ability and the value of his services to the community," Capt. Rose concluded.

Regarding the appointment of Mr. Bradshaw as head of the drive, Capt. Rose declared that "members of the Advisory Board feel they are very fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Bradshaw. He is a wonderful friend of the Army, having had experience with this organization overseas when he saw it functioning in a fearless, untiring, and self-sacrificing manner.

J. E. Watson, traffic manager for the American Fruit Growers, agreed with Mr. Hutchison and declared that it is unfortunate that the United States was permitting her foreign policy to be dictated by other nations.

Treasury May Ask 50 Billion Debt Limit For Nation

House Group Slashes Estimated Department Expense Hikes

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—(AP)—A House committee commenced work today on another big annual supply bill, a $1,700,171,354 measure to run the Treasury and Post Office departments.

Although slashed $27,926,138 below the budget estimated by the Appropriations Committee, the measure still was $197,029,280 larger than last year's.

The Appropriations Committee made public a report on the hearings on the bill which showed that Secretary Morgenthau had testified that if Congress appropriated the sums recommended in the President's budget measure the Treasury will have to ask that the limit on the public debt be raised from 45 billion dollars to 50 billions.

The Senate Military Committee approved unanimously a bill by Senator Thomas D. (Utah) authorizing an expenditure of $10,000,000 during the next four years for the acquisition of strategic materials, many of which must be imported by this country.

With only four dissenting votes, Mary Margaret McBride, New York radio star and newspaper woman, is expected to arrive Saturday to appear on the Rollins College Animated Magazine Sunday and spend a week broadcasting nationwide programs on the Florida scene.

Miss McBride will be welcomed by a delegation of Central Florida citizens headed by Vice President Edwin O. Grover of Rollins, Secretary A. C. Slaughter, who will present azaleas from the Greater Orlando Chamber of Commerce, Secretary Carter Bradford, who will present roses from the Winter Park Chamber of Commerce, Secretary Ralph Bagwell who will present white camellia corsage from the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and a Florida exhibit guide in a colorful World's Fair uniform who will present baskets of citrus fruit from Florida Exhibit Manager Earl Brown.

Miss McBride will collect Florida material for her programs during her visit. She will make nationwide broadcasts from Orlando Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Miss Carol Irwin of Young and Rubicam Advertising Agency, New York, arrived Sunday to arrange Miss McBride's program.

No War This Spring Is Seen By Babson

BABSON PARK, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Economist Roger W. Babson predicted yesterday there will be no war in Europe this spring.

He replied in answer to a query submitted in the annual question at the Florida business conference.

"What about the labor situation in the United States and abroad?" Babson was asked. "It is improving," he said. "During the next few years will the United States standard of living increase or decrease?" was another question.

"It will decrease due to relief and other non-productive expenditure," he answered.

Nazi Propaganda

In this morning's mail with a postmark of Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, comes an interesting bit of information under the impressive heading, "Onward Christian Soldiers!"

With this Christian slogan as their battle cry, some remarkable group of individuals has gone to the trouble of warning us that "The only people who want war are the Jews". We are told that it won't be the Jews who will do the fighting, but they will be the ones who will make the profits.

"Morning, noon and night", we are warned, "the Jew-controlled press, radio and movie news-reels are flooding the country with propaganda deliberately aimed at inciting us to war. International Jew Baruch, Fellow-traveler Icke, Dorothy Thompson-Levy, Kosher LaGuardia and the whole 'Jew Deal' crowd, are 'baiting' friendly nations!"

"The German purge of Jews has been bloodless!", we learn for the first time. "Did our Jew-controlled Administration protest the torture and bloody massacre of half a million Christians by Moscow's Jew-Communist 'Loyalists' in Spain?", we are asked. "No! Not one word!"

And so it goes. "When Germany takes a few shackles from these international Shylocks, and Japan defends itself against communism, the Berchtesgau-Frankfurter-Rosenmann-Morgenthau-H'nai-B'R'h Administration of this Christian republic becomes belligerently insulting, and the Jewish-hired propagandists fill our eyes and ears with shriek, persecution, and demand WAR!"

If we are getting such unsolicited stuff, as I think through the mails, we presume that others are too. Taken in connection with Fritz Kuhn's proud boast last night in Madison Square Garden to have a million men in Nazi uniforms by 1940, it bears unmistakable evidence that the Nazi propaganda machine is getting up full steam in this country.

Americans will have to be more than ever on their guard against this sort of thing during the months to come. This particular piece of propaganda is in its crudest form, perfectly obvious to any intelligent person. There will be far subtler means employed to inflame gentiles against Jews, to stir up turmoil in this country, and render it weak and impotent through internal strife and discord.

To those who dislike Jews we have only this to say. They should remember that intolerance breeds intolerance. Any man who is intolerant towards Jews is apt to be intolerant in other respects. A man who is prejudiced in racial or religious matters is likely to be prejudiced with respect to other things. A religious bigot cannot be broad and fair minded in his social, commercial or political relationships.

We cannot persecute the Jews in this country under our traditional form of democratic government. We cannot maintain a free press, free speech, free assembly, freedom of religious worship, and equal opportunities for all in America if we deny these rights to Jews. We cannot discriminate against Jews and maintain the basic conception of our government.

In fact, to denounce this Jews is to denounce the very fundamental principles upon which our country was founded. To advocate their persecution, even to condone it, is to encourage a Nazi dictatorship for America. For only under such a dictatorship could any minority group be denied its basic rights.

An interesting cartoon in last night's paper showed an amazingly fat and jolly baby with a broad grin on his face being pelted by a stork to the startled amazement of the "U.S. Motorist". The baby was labeled $8,000,000 gasoline taxes and the caption over the picture read, "Yes, Sir, That's My Baby".

If anyone thinks that the average citizen does not pay taxes to the federal government, or that the millionaire is the only one getting soaked, for New Deal extravagances, he is not familiar with the taxes collected from the gasoline he buys at his favorite filling station.

Depression-born "temporary" taxes, the first three of which became effective in 1932, the fourth in 1934, according to the Petroleum Industries Committee, have already cost the taxpayers some $1,424,287,000. The direct sales tax on gasoline, for the average state, amounts to 39 percent. In Florida it is even higher, because the Florida's State gasoline tax is above the average.

Federal taxation alone of gasoline, not counting the gallonage levy by the individual states which in Florida is 4 cents, amounted to $248,558,000 last year. This compares with only $72,000,000 collected on gas and oil in 1932.

So if you have an automobile and buy gasoline, you're paying your federal taxes all-right, and through the nose.

10 Percent Cut In Celery Deal Asked At Meet

(Continued from Page One) that the growers did not continue the volume control program of last week. This program to throw away the 10's and XX's and strip down the larger sizes was put into effect for a two-week period beginning a week ago Monday but was discontinued by shippers at the end of the first week at a recent meeting.

Mr. Wathen added that if growers have poor quality celery at this time, they should seriously consider the AAA acreage control program, from which they could receive part of their production costs.

Walter Mewings, sales manager for the Sanford Oviedo Truck Growers, declared that next week will be a critical week in the celery market and added that over-shipping may cause a break from which the market will not recover in time to benefit local producers.

A. H. Moses, another local shipper, told the growers that the benefits to be gained by last week's curtailment program were lost in the failure to continue the program into this week as was the original plan. He declared that the truck holdings at terminal markets must be reduced and advocated a shipping holiday until next Thursday.

"Since we (Seminole County) are shipping about 85 percent of the celery at present we are our own competitors," Mr. Schmeh told the growers urging that some definite action be taken. "I can't see how many growers can hold their heads above the water next season if we don't raise the market," Mr. Schmeh added.

Urging growers to overlook selfishness and try to make something to take care of their obligations, Mr. Schmeh declared that he had been informed from authoritative sources that financials for the celery growers will be drastically curtailed next season unless something is made from this year's crop.

Ralph Chapman, local grower, declared that if Sanford is to continue as a celery producing area "we must make a profit and we must make it this year. Let's decide on a program and get out and do something about it," Mr. Chapman added.

Among the other growers at the meeting who spoke briefly were: Dr. C. W. Baker, Henry Schumacher, Otto Schmelz, J. J. Holly, Peter Thurston, Harry Thurston, Paul Johnson, Donald Dunn, Nick Zernovian, Leo Butner, Mr. Baum, H. J. Lehmann, Fred Dornier, and R. T. Cowan, local merchant who advocated an advertising program as a means of eliminating the gutted condition.

McCall Dies In Chair Claiming He is Innocent

After thinking the matter over, the judge told Rutledge, "I believe more than ever that you have no case."

Defense attorneys repeatedly sought clemency or a new trial on the fact that McCall was not tried by a jury before being sentenced. They said he was not given counsel in time for him to realize the seriousness of his guilty plea.

Airfield contends McCall should have been given a jury trial on the chance the judge might have recommended life imprisonment.

Shortly before the scheduled execution Monday, McCall was visited at his cell by Mr. and Mrs. James Bailey Cash, parents of the 16-year-old lad he absconded, and Wilson P. Cash, the boy's uncle. The Cash family would not discuss the interview but a friend said they went to make their peace with McCall.

It was not known whether McCall told them, as he has told others recently, that he was not involved in the crime but had been forced to confess by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents.

At court the youth freely admitted taking little "Bogie" from his bed and collecting the $167 the older Cash left behind a lonely road in accordance with instructions in ransom notes McCall failed to write.

McCall disliked the child's parents, he said, because they would not let him go over his mother's shoulder to prevent outcry.

He all was arrested by Sheriff

John W. Wathen, who acted as his attorney, in accordance with

Emory University Alumni Proffers Aid To Students

The Emory University Alumni Association is offering scholarships to Emory University for next school year.

An male senior (in good standing) of an accredited white high school in the states of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia is eligible to compete for the awards. Students who finish high school in January or February of this year may enter the contest.

The scholarships will be awarded on the basis of results in a general examination, which will be given to all applicants. The examinations will be given at the schools except desegregated. Complete details of the contest and the examination are on file with the superintendent or principal in each city.

Each winner will receive a scholarship valued at $300.00. Of this amount $200.00 will apply on the payment of tuition and fees for the freshman year (first three quarters at Emory) and the remaining $100.00 will apply on the payment of tuition and fees for the sophomore year (second three quarters at Emory). The grant for the sophomore year is dependent upon a satisfactory record during the freshman year.

Applications for permission to take the examination must be made to Prof. G. E. McKay before Mar. 10, and forwarded at once to the Alumni office at Emory University.

What The Young Men Are Wearing

By ERMA TEMPLE

When will What was this? What was that just passed my line of vision? I'll have to investigate this—oh, it was a shirt! You mean the kind boys wear? That they put on their backs? Why, that was a swimming vest—maybe it was to complete the tropical picture. I saw the other day on a boy's shirt front—it was a picture of a swimming vest and wavy, wavy sea and a pretty beach—all it seemed was the mid-day sun. What interests sponsored the "good" protest against classic masculinity attire? For you know there must be some reason for the drastic change in men's clothes in the last two years—changing is a precedent of the 50 years previous. Maybe after noticing nature's treatment of the bird our males just decided they weren't following the intended "order" of things by being the more beautiful sex and wanted to rival the birds for their bright plumage.

The trend seems to be toward much informality and attention getting colors and combinations, and styles that stamp themselves indelibly on the mind of the passer-by. Who would ever forget a shirt of bold blue and red plaid or one with huge orange flowers splashed all over it? There are, too, deep vintages, solid browns, navy, royal blues, green greens, and all sorts of figures and prints. I might mention by-the-way, that a royal or brown shirt is very attractive with a white belt but not especially so when used in some of the combinations shown. Even their trousers have been affected by this influence. One has no way of knowing if they are just ten minutes away from bed. Here, as in ties, gaudy colors are necessarily (to the most unobservant bystander) apparent—I saw one pair in particular given and another in similar gift the other day—shirts have taken on the aspect of demolition, further emphasizing the careless note so often relative to advanced personal indifference.

Of course, these pronouncements lead us to the subject of clothes which can be considered contrary to the laws of good taste by some, but why shouldn't we brighten up? After all, in final analysis, it's merely a matter of private opinion.

Among the bold young males who have been seen strutting and flaunting their colorful plumage before the Birds of Paradise and Peacock are Tommy Cobb endlessly and dizzyingly ringed with circles—Harry Browne alternating between rainbow plaid and being pealed with comets—"Chuck" de Wolfe walking gaily amid a field of flowers—J. Shoemaker.

The bold young males are like expressing a poetical mood—David Gatchel bursting forth in a grove of palms—Jack Woodruff telling the world of his intense belief in horoscopes—G. Heron bringing to town more fruits of cultivation in flower picturesqueness—B. H. Williams nonchalantly supporting skyscrapers—Peter Tilla going Scotch with blue and red plaid and carrying out the theme of the southland with more palms—"Slick" Ferguson blossoming forth in a flower garden—J. Riser keeping things lively and warm with a glowing wine-red—

Some people like them and some don't but if the boys themselves like them, and feel more important in them—more power to 'em!

More Than 200 Sallies Have Been Bought

The Sally Contest is progressing rapidly. Since Jan. 28, when the Sally Staff presented its annual skit which opened the contest, a total of 204 Sallies have been sold to date.

The seniors are not entered in this contest and of the three classes participating, the freshmen are ahead in actual sales and the sophomores are ahead on a percentage basis. The contest is to be judged on a percentage basis.

The business managers report the following sales:

William Gestach—Seniors—30
Mary Ellen Lester—Juniors—30
Elizabeth Dyson—Sophomores—60
Doris Newsome—Freshmen—60
Total sold 204.

There are only 156 more Sallies and the contest closes Mar. 17. The class which buys the greatest number according to percentage of Sallies wins a beautiful cup.

In Seminole High's library, is a collection of books in which you can find almost anything. Besides the books, the library has a great variety of magazines. The collection of magazines includes the National Geographic Magazine, current event magazines, and many others which are enjoyed by the students. The National Geographic is one of the best magazines, and is treasured so highly it is being bound as it may be kept permanently.

The library has all but the following issues of "Readers Digest": 1938—Issues of months of January, February, and July. 1937—Issues of months of February, May, June, October, and November. If you have one of these will you please donate it to our library? They are to be bound.

The library also has books coming from the Junior Guild. This is an organization which collects books of outstanding merit for high school students. Our library is sorry to say that it has lost two of these books. They are "It's Fun to Cook" and "The Return to Religious Life". If you know the whereabouts of these books, will you please notify the library?

Mississippi, in 1938, had 31 negro county farm agents. 33 Negro home demonstration agents, two agroforestry agents, and two club agents.

Magazine Princess Glee Club Comedy Is In Rehearsal

"Magazine Princess," a musical comedy to be presented by the Glee Club on March 9th, is now in intensive rehearsal. Chorus parts are being polished and dance routines completed. The spoken lines are, of course, secondary to the music, and are included only to create a continuous plot.

One of the dances will be a moonlight waltz for the "Sweetie Marie" number. The chorus is to be sung and a lovely dance ensemble will carry out the theme in pastel organdy frocks.

Members of this number are Doris McCall, Helen Tamm, Mary Wathen, Doris Newsome, Gladys Pippin and Evelyn Dale.

In vivid contrast is the pirate dance staged by the bold brave "pirates" of the briny deep. Complete with skull and crossbones these parts are acted by Harry Hall, John Hall, Billie Courtney, Leon Barwick, Billy Watt, and Thomas Burnell. The Gypsy Queen is Clady Ferguson, and her troupe are dancers and are Mary Wiggins, Helen Tamm, Muriel Knox and Mary Ellen Lester. A special number is to be danced by Nell Stewart and Giles Chapman.

The Comic Parts are ably filled by L. M. Telford, Orlen Farrell, Buck Ferguson, and Edwin Prudden as the Royal Policemen. Mike Saas, as the bear, is excellent, too. After all, he loses his money and has to close his fainting fit.

In the end Silas starts at the bottom and begins to climb up again, finding himself happier than ever in the process.

The Rise Of Silas Lapham Is Seen As Best Play Of Year

Almost everyone agreed that "The Rise of Silas Lapham," the most recent of the Federal Theatre Plays, was one of the best that has been presented. This play was given Tuesday afternoon in the Seminole High School Auditorium. All the school children and parents were urged to attend and parents were urged to decide whether or not these plays were to be continued. A large number was present, and judging from the applause, the play was well received by the audience.

"The Rise of Silas Lapham" is the story of the conflict during the latter nineteenth century between the newly rich and the old aristocratic families. It takes the family of Silas Lapham, who has recently become rich from manufacturing paint, and shows their struggles as they try to "catch society" in Boston.

Both daughters of Silas are in love with Tom Cory, a boy who works in their father's office and who belongs to one of the most aristocratic families in Boston. However, Tom loves Pen, the elder and asks her to marry him in spite of the opposition of his family.

Silas' new $100,000 home burns to the ground and then through a series of bad investments in the stock market, he loses his money and has to close his fainting fit.

The high scorer was a freshman, Evelyn Spivey, who rang six goals. Second high was Alice Higgins, senior, who scored four goals.

Educated Canines Will Be Presented At County Schools

Kirk Adam's "Educated Dog Show" will present several exhibitions next week in the different schools of the city. On Wednesday at 8:45 o'clock the show will be presented at Seminole High School; on Thursday at the South Side Primary at 1:45 P. M. and West Side Primary at 2:45 P. M.; Friday at the Grammar School, and at the Junior High at 2:45 P. M.

The troupe includes 18 dogs, most of which are different types of terriers. One breed to be shown is the Dandie Dinmont, similar to a dachshund.

These terriers have been trained by a new modern method, eliminating cruel and inhumane methods of the old school for dog-training. The dogs will perform several tricks which have never before been executed by any other troupe of dogs.

Kirk Adam and his troupe touring various cities of the state. The public is invited to attend this show at any school in which it is presented. There will be a small admission fee. This dog show is sponsored by the Welfare Committee of the P. T. A. under the management of Mrs. William Brumley.
