MIAMI (UPI)—A group of Dade County teenagers charged today that the state is failing to do the job in the field of automobile laws.

The Dade County Student Traffic Safety Council cited nine "inadequate" laws and charged the Legislature with failing to cope with the problem.

"Are we expected to inherit the infamous traffic laws and heart-breaking highway statistics of this state?" the youths asked in a statement.

"Other states have corrected inadequacies in their traffic laws but we find our state failed to deal with them," the statement continued.

The youths said the minimum driving age should be raised from 14. They call for more uniform laws and a better system for keeping up with habitual violators.

The statement suggested that tags be sold to people and not cars. Tags remain with vehicles and sometimes are not updated for months after title transfers, the teenagers said.

They also called for a state-wide inspection law, mandatory loss of license for drug racing, uniformity of instruction and traffic courts, and a lowering of the percentage reading on the drunkometer test.

MORE THAN $1 MILLION WERE placed on deposit with the First National Bank of Maitland Saturday when the new bank observed Charter Day. President James A. Brockman said the bank will serve many South Seminole residents. J. Dan Wright of Sanford is a member of the board of directors. The architect was John Burton IV of Sanford. (Herald Photo)

Either Johnson Or Goldwater; Nobody Could Lose, Writer Says

By Holmes Alexander
WASHINGTON, D. C. — Nobody ever writes Advice to the Lovelorn for political columnists, but somebody should.

Back in the hot months of 1960, I declared that Candidate Jack Kennedy would be my "summer sweetheart," but that I doubted if my infatuation would last till the frost had touched the pumpkin.

I meant that Kennedy was the better of the two presidential candidates, but that he had some advisors and programs capable of alienating the strongest affections.

So it turned out, and in November I went to the altar with Richard Nixon, although still with a lot of Rockefeller, was the Republican with the emotional magic to stampede the delegates. In the four years since then, Goldwater has so well understood the country's needs and aspirations that even when he blunders into overstating a case, he increases his stature and proves his durability.

Now that he's announced his candidacy for the presidency, Goldwater's managers are doing what they should have done before—they're compiling his record. The bills and amendments the Senator proposed on taxation, education and labor will add up to a domestic program of eminent good sense, rational and not radical, popular without being populist. On foreign policy, his big fight was for a "reservation" to the Test Ban Treaty, which would have de-Sovietized Cuba. Goldwater goes in 1964 with a statement of principles already in being. Not another Republican in the presidential lists has anything to match it.

Derouinian also asked, "who's tending the store at the Justice Department?" He charged that Kennedy's diplomatic trip for President Johnson was "a dereliction of his assigned duty" as attorney general.

Johnson rarely lets a day go by without carving his initials on the tree of Federal frugality. He's not going to permit the Government employment to grow simply because the population is growing. He's going to make one bureaucrat do the work of several. He's going to use automation instead of mail clerks. He's going to close obsolete military bases, and even give shipbuilding back to private industry.

The other day Johnson appointed an Assistant Secretary of Labor to represent the consumers' interest, and the very next day he found a White House replacement for Arthur Schlesinger Jr. He hadn't been in office a fortnight before one of his aides told me that the President was going to take steps to bring American Patriotic Societies out of the national doghouse and into the bosom of government where, of course, they belong. How's anybody who believes in all these things going to be against Lyndon Johnson?

But for ten years Goldwater has been a daily job to the faithful few who panted for American fundamentalism. He came to the Senate, as he modestly puts it, "when the coattails were stiff," meaning that he rode in behind Candidate Eisenhower in 1952.

But Barry soon generated his own propulsion. By the time of the GOP Convention of 1960, he, and not Nixon or Rockefeller, was the Republican with the emotional magic to stampede the delegates. In the four years since then, Goldwater has so well understood the country's needs and aspirations that even when he blunders into overstating a case, he increases his stature and proves his durability.

Leftists Call New Rally In Panama

PANAMA CITY (UPI) — Leftist-led university students scheduled a "patriotic mass rally" here tonight—the second in 48 hours—to support demands that the United States agree to revise the Panama Canal Treaty.

In Washington, Secretary of State Dean Rusk said that the United States is willing to discuss mutual problems with Panama but will not negotiate under threats of violence.

He said the United States still feels the trouble in Panama "can be resolved, in the absence of violence, and with the restoration of relations and discussions between the two governments."

Advance publicity said the mass meeting at 7 p. m. EST would urge those present to "reject aggressor imperialism" and "show the world the Panamanian people are alert against the Yankee assassins."

"Aggression" and "assassination" are terms used by Panamanian extremists to describe the U. S. defense of the Canal Zone against armed marauders during last week's anti-American riots, in which at least 21 persons, including four U. S. soldiers, were killed.

State Sen. Bernard Parrish of Hawaii has made the statement "That the Board of Control has never been eager to place this institution in East Central Florida," and that's why he arranged for Dr. Kurt Debus and Gen. Leighton Davis to address a joint session of the House and Senate during the last session of the Legislature.

Apparently the Legislature didn't agree with Parrish, Debus and Davis, because they instructed the board to find a site in east Central Florida. And that's what the board is trying to do.

By the way, let's get behind the metropolitan telephone system proposal. It's imperative to remove this curtain which separates our country's northern and southern sections.

A Casselberry businessman said he would rather order a $1 part from Sanford suppliers, but it cost him $1.30, as compared to $1 from White Park. Why? The toll charge for the call.

E. A. Davis, president of the DeBarry Chamber of Commerce says that J. Edwin Larson, Florida's state treasurer, insurance commissioner and fire marshal, will address the DeBarry trade body during its March meeting.

South Seminole Junior High's new cafeteria, says Principal John Angel, opens for business Monday. Mrs. Chloé Butta will manage the lunchroom. We'll bet the students will appreciate that. It's no fun to "picnic" out of doors from a sack on days such as we've been having. We imagine they've been permitted to remain in their classrooms. But that must have been no fun either.

The Florida State Bank recently paved a parking area behind the bank fronting on Fulton St. Now, grass is growing through the asphalt.

Jim Jernigan, city director of recreation, tells us that the department's Slim and Trim class for the girls will run for 20 weeks. They meet on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, at the Civic Center. One girl is just 78 years old.

There's one good thing about being poor. It's inexpensive.

A clock watcher called to tell us that today is Ben Franklin's birthday . . . his 258th. And, as the caller said, "Doesn't seem that long ago, does it?"

New Agreement On Wall Sought
BERLIN (UPI)—West Berlin and East German officials sought a new agreement today on opening the "Christmas gate" in the Communist wall on a more permanent basis.

Western officials were not optimistic about the meeting, the second since the Communists revealed the wall after allowing West Berliners to visit East Berlin relatives during the Christmas holidays. The visits were the first since the wall was built in 1961.

Seminole Launches All-Out Drive; Offers 9 New University Sites

NINE NEW SITES proposed in Seminole County for the new East Central Florida state university were inspected Thursday afternoon and this morning by Forrest Kelley, staff architect for the State Board of Control, in advance of an on-the-site inspection by board members next Thursday. Kelley (right) was briefed by William Bush, county engineer; A. R. Peterson Jr., realty consultant; William Leffler, consulting engineer, and James P. Avery Jr., county commission chairman. (Herald Photo)

Additional Locations Inspected

By Fred Van Pelt
Seminole County university site leaders today launched a new all-out campaign to have the State Board of Control place the new East Central Florida four-year undergraduate school in this County.

Nine additional sites—over and above the original five—have been offered to the State for consideration as the "home" for the new university. Orange County has increased its offer by three new sites.

Forrest Kelley, staff architect for the State Board of Control, Thursday afternoon and this morning made an on-the-spot inspection of the nine new sites here.

He conferred earlier Thursday afternoon with Chairman James P. Avery Jr., County Commission; William Bush, county engineer; William Leffler, consulting engineer, and A. R. Peterson Jr., consulting real estate broker, all of whom pinpointed the nine new sites on a county map, making it much resemble a checkerboard. The sites are spread all through the county of approximately 1,000 acres each, some offered without charge, the balance to be purchased.

Jack Sutton, staff research analyst, and possibly Dr. Wayne McCall, Ocala, Control Board member, are scheduled to confer Saturday with Orange County site leaders and will come here Sunday for an on-the-spot inspection of the nine Seminole sites.

Board members, themselves are slated to meet next Thursday at Orlando to conduct an on-the-spot inspection of the three new sites in Orange County and the nine new sites in Seminole County. They will meet for discussion at 10 a. m. next Friday at the Cherry Plaza Hotel, Orlando. Whether they will make a final decision then is a moot question. They are slated for a monthly meeting Feb. 14 at Gainesville.

Really Board To Meet At Plaza

The Seminole County Board of Realtors will hold the monthly meeting at 6:30 p. m. Monday at the new Trade Winds Cafeteria in the Seminole Plaza Shopping Center in Casselberry.

C. F. Field, immediate past president, will induct new members. Included in the group are Herbert E. Steadman, Hugh A. McCullom, Fred N. Julian, Thomas T. Lawton, Merle W. Warner, James B. Smith, M. V. Parry, Arthur E. Christiansen, James F. Hunt, James L. McWhorter, Ira W. Southward, Mabel A. Cullen, Beasley P. Herman, W. B. Shippy, James A. Brown, James R. Smith, Clifford P. Shumway and S. C. Novak.

Raymond F. Morris of Casselberry will become an affiliate member.

The meeting will be an organizational one with A. R. Lormann, president, outlining general policies for the year and announcing committee appointments and new procedures.

Gravel Truck Driver Held

Seminole and Lake County sheriff's deputies, who have been "cracking down" on the heavy sand-gravel truck drivers using SR 46, co-operated Thursday afternoon in the arrest of an Orlando Negro.

Seminole deputies, seeking to arrest Freddy Jones, driver for reckless driving, chased him to the Lake County line and radioed ahead for assistance. Lake deputies arrested Jones.

The driver was returned to Sanford and released under $200 bond.

Longwood Council OKs Street Paving

By Donna Estes
Construction and paving of four streets in Longwood were unanimously approved Thursday night by the City Council.

A resolution, 201, provides for construction and paving of Tullis Avenue between Grant Street and Oleander Street and Oak Street between Reller Avenue and Wildmore Avenue.

Resolution 132 provides for construction and paving of Seminole Avenue and Land Avenue between Highland Street and Lakeview Drive.

Total costs involved are not to exceed $19,459 with the city to pay one-third and the abutting property owners to pay two-thirds.

The first resolution was explained for a group of property owners from Tullis Avenue who were in attendance at the meeting.

A. E. O'Neill and Associates, Orlando engineering firm, was authorized to obtain bids on the paving which are to be submitted by noon, Feb. 13.

Council agreed to purchase office equipment and furniture for the new City Hall from George Stuart of Orlando, after comparing all price quotations submitted, at a cost of $564.86.

B. L. "Slick" Helms, returning councilman who was unable to attend the Jan. 2 meeting, received the oath of office from Mayor A. R. Lormann.

R. C. Carlson was unanimously re-elected chairman of the board upon motion from Councilman John Reams.

Carlson announced that council committee appointments will be made at the next meeting which will be called.

2 Minor Fires Extinguished
The Sanford Fire Department answered two calls Thursday. A minor auto fire was extinguished on Elm Avenue between First and Second Streets. The auto, a 1957 station wagon belonging to Elton Turner, was damaged only slightly by burns from a cigarette left on the front seat.

Nixon Named Mayor Pro Tem

Councilman Keith Nixon was named mayor pro tem of Altamonte Springs Wednesday night by Mayor Lawrence Swafford who announced annual appointive positions during the regular meeting of the town council.

Committees named were planning and zoning, Lealie Winters and Robert Webb; streets and sanitation, Swafford as chairman and Bob Newell and Don Fritch; parks and recreation, Newell and Gene Stephenson; utilities, Nixon and Stephenson; community house, Mrs. Dorothy Bardeen; public buildings, Fritch and Newell; Building Commission, A. C. Brown as chairman and Winters and Nixon and Newell. Swafford, as mayor, automatically is a member of all working council committees.

The positions of clerk and police and fire chief were left open. Mrs. Bardeen is acting clerk and Russ Milne is acting police chief. A fire chief will be named following reorganization of the volunteer department.

Attorney Joe Davis was unanimously appointed to continue as legal counsel of the town.

Snow Spreads Over South

Unkled Press International
The storm that surprised Texas with record snow along across the Southland today, spreading sleet and ice on highways and dumping heavy rain along the Gulf coast.

Hazardous driving warnings were in effect for sections of Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee, Georgia and North Carolina.

The weather bureau said the threat of more heavy snow in Dixie would be reduced by rising temperatures during the day. Two inches of rain fell at Tallahassee Thursday night and more than a quarter of an inch was reported at other southern stations.

Slush and ice covered streets in Dallas and Fort Worth today after Thursday's record snowfall. Fort Worth totaled 12.1 inches, the most recorded since records were started in 1898, and Dallas logged 7.4 inches the most since 1913.

At least six deaths were blamed on the weather and storm—caused damage mounted into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Home Looted Of $300,000 In Jewelry

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Two armed men wearing cold-weather survival masks pulled a clockwork robbery at the home of wealthy socialite Mrs. Nelson Swift Morris, Thursday night and escaped with an estimated $300,000 in jewels, police said today.

Included in the loot was a 20-carat emerald-cut diamond ring which Mrs. Morris told police was jerked from her finger before she, her husband and three of her friends were locked in a closet in the rambling vacation home.

Detective Sgt. Larry Cotzin said the FBI was aiding in the investigation of the job, "one of the biggest around here in a long time."

Application For Water Urged

Altamonte Springs Mayor Lawrence Swafford today strongly urged residents who wish to receive service from the new municipal water system to make immediate arrangements for having their home connections installed.

Freedom At Stake

Almost 2,000 years ago a man was discussing spiritual truths with Jesus and the matter of loving one's neighbor became the topic of conversation.

The man wanted our Lord's idea of just who his neighbor was and the answer given is the classic one that has lived through the centuries as God's answer to this age old question.

Christ used illustrations so often and effectively. This time He told of a man who began a trip on a lonely road from Jerusalem to Jericho.

After the war he went back to China and, in 1949, the Communist took over and he spent the next four years under Communism.

Then a Samaritan who was a foreigner and one who was usually looked down upon saw this sick and dying man. He took pity on him, treated his wounds, and took him to an inn where he personally cared for him all night. He paid for his room and board and promised more if necessary.

Our Lord's point was that our neighbor is all of mankind and our helping hand of love must be extended to all people everywhere.

How are we to do this in a world so confused, troubled, rent, and torn as ours? It is my conviction that all our problems not only can be but MUST BE answered in the context of love if mankind is to survive. This is God's way and no other way will work.

The kind of love of which we speak can be put into action most effectively in the atmosphere of democratic freedom. Democracy is the greatest form of government in the world because it recognizes the dignity of the individual by allowing him freedom that they are capable of handling. I am convinced that only people living under the discipline of God can become mature to this degree.

Plato had his faith in democracy shattered when the Athenians put his beloved teacher, Socrates, to death. Plato concluded that democracy gives people more freedom than they are capable of handling and, therefore, when he saw the democracy crumbling in Greece he did not despair but advocated government by an aristocracy. He felt that human beings are innately corrupted and therefore make democracy impossible for long because of their greed and other depravities.

I believe that any "thinking man" will have to finally admit that there must be an allegiance grounded in God if democracy and freedom are to survive.

Many people are frightened, confused and without a map or compass in our country today. I have had a number of individuals to express to me the feeling that there is no way out and that doom seems inevitable. We can continue to live in a land of freedom but it is my deepest conviction that it can only be if we are disciplined by an obedience expressed in love for God and man. If this is not the foundation of our freedom then it will fall. The crumbling has already proceeded much too far but there is still time.

The remains of a bicycle, damaged recently when it was struck by a car and its young rider injured, provided a graphic display and grim reminder of the importance of good safety habits.

WEEK END TOUR of HOMES in the Sanford - Seminole Area

There's Still No Place Like Home - Your Own

One of our favorite cartoon-ists occasionally quips, "There's No Place Like Home - Absolutely No Place!" This is just as true as "Home is what you make it," meaning it all depends on the people who live there. We make our homes cheerful, restful, warm, friendly, according to our natures and personalities. But it certainly helps us to make the home what we want it to be, when we have a modern house designed to fit our family needs to start with. Our local builders are certainly offering us the most modern and well planned houses and communities.

Stenstrom Realty Now In New Offices

Stenstrom Realty, founded in 1937 by its owner, Herb Stenstrom, has moved its offices from downtown Sanford to its new location at 2565 Park Drive. The firm is holding open house activities tomorrow and officially welcoming friends and customers to its new location.

Oak Holds Top Spot As Home Flooring

Although man-made products of various kinds have become indispensable in equipping the modern home, nature remains the chief provider of such essential parts as the floors.

Floors of oak and other hardwood, long the favorite of American home owners, continue to hold their envied leadership, according to trade reports. For many years more of the nation's homes have been floored with oak than with all other flooring materials combined. Next in popularity are hard maple, beech, birch and pecan. Other hardwoods often used for flooring include walnut, cherry, ash, hickory and teak.

More than 90 per cent of the country's hardwood flooring is produced in the Southern and Appalachian regions, and about 95 per cent of the output in those areas is oak. Indications are that 1963 will go down on the books as the best year for hardwood flooring sales since 1960. In that year Southern and Appalachian shipments totaled more than $47 million board feet. Volume for the first 10 months of 1963 was well over 708 million board feet, up 5 per cent from the corresponding 1962 period. Total shipments in 1962 amounted to 701 million board feet.

The strong demand for oak also has been reflected in the industry's inventories-to-order ratio. On October 1, 1963, for example, mill inventories were 116 per cent sold. One year earlier, the mills had substantially larger inventories and they were only 78 per cent sold. The 1963 gain, though modest on the surface, is significant when considered in relation to housing construction, says Henry H. Willis, executive vice president of the National Oak Flooring Manufacturers' Association. He points out that while 1963 housing starts are expected to reach 1,545,000 units, or about 6 per cent over 1962, practically all of the increase was in apartments. Historically, apartments do not offer nearly as good a market for oak flooring as do one-family dwellings, he explains.

During its first year of business the agency was operated out of Stenstrom's home. However, in 1959 he opened his offices at 111 North Park in downtown Sanford. At the outset, the firm handled only general sales and listings.

But soon after opening the downtown offices, Stenstrom Realty rapidly began to specialize in home sales in addition to residential and commercial sales, rentals and leases. The firm's services now also include appraisals of residential, commercial and unimproved property. It handles lot sales, acreage, commercial, farm and grove sales.

In 1962 the firm was appointed by Shoemaker Construction Co., developers of its present status which consists of a half a dozen associate brokers and salesmen in addition to its office staff. Because of this growth the firm had to seek new quarters. The new offices provide the needed space plus additional room for expansion. The new quarters consists of a modern lobby, a secretarial-accounting section, manager's office, sales interview office, sales and rental office, and the owner's office. Space is provided for a conference room. The suite is centrally heated and air conditioned. Ample parking, Stenstrom says, is available for customers and employees.

Important factors contributing to the sustained demand, he points out, include a renewed appreciation on the part of home owners for the natural beauty of wood, a pronounced decorative trend toward display of attractive floors, and increased home buyer insistence on quality construction and quality features.

Saint Anne traditionally is regarded as the mother of Virgin Mary.

Socialights

Did you think Jack Frost had hit town this week? We heard one of the Jaycees chiding a couple of others about wearing a top coat on one of the colder days . . . said he wouldn't wear one, just on account of the principle involved . . . central Florida is supposed to be warm . . . he's either a good booster or made of stronger stuff than most of us . . . maybe both!!!

We had the distinct pleasure Wednesday of meeting Mrs. Jack Mathews, wife of the senator and gubernatorial candidate. She is a real charmer, has that winning way that gives you the feeling you've known her for years! Having a curious nature we asked her dozens of questions . . . she quite obviously enjoys politics, and it's a good thing . . . the senator asked her two questions at the time he proposed to her, "Will you marry me? Do you like politics?" and neither of them is quite sure which question was asked first!

She's a native of Charleston, S. C., and grew up on the outer circle of city government—speeches—etc. Her mother was secretary to the mayor of Charleston for 37 years. Gwen Mathews is a trim, neat as a pin, blonde with large blue eyes. She had attended Winthrop College in South Carolina and owned and operated a flower shop in Jacksonville when she met the senator. They have four children — John, seven, Barbara, nine, Kim, 12 and Joe, 13. She quite evidently misses the children while traveling over the state (we left her chatting with them on the phone!) but they have been told what it is all about and are apprised of all the things that happen while on this organizing tour. They have been thoroughly indoctrinated in the ways of state government for they go to Tallahassee part of the time when the senate is in session and young Joe was a page during the last session.

When we asked about volunteer work (thinking of all the organizations that would benefit by her personality and capability) she promptly replied that she doesn't make any definite commitments for she likes to keep her time free to go where her husband is . . . and taking care of four children keeps her pretty busy. She does belong to the League of Women Voters, is on the rehabilitation board, United Fund, a member of a garden circle and on many boards not requiring her presence on specific days. They are active members of the Methodist Church.

The Mathews do a lot of hunting and she loves to fish—relax with the children on the water . . . they all ski . . . and you get the feeling they're just a happy family doing the things the rest of us do . . . but you wonder how many hours are in their days!! The senator has visited 61 counties in the state thus far since announcing his candidacy Oct. 1 and she has been with him all the way, missing not more than one or two places and then only because of the children—flu, mumps, and the usual things that happen with all youngsters. She has loved every minute of it and will treasure the friends they have made all along the way. It's easy to see how she made friends . . . and will continue making them . . . especially nice thing is if she becomes our first lady of the state we think she'll remember all of them.

Mrs. Eugene Williams (Sally) has been sorely missed around town since she moved to Starke . . . last week Clayda Jones, Nell Whittern and

Joyce Sawyers drove up to spend the day.

We had the most unusual invitation to the Officers' Wives Coffee yesterday morning . . . Kay Bartholomew delivered it and we suspect she made it . . . a passport complete with number and picture and permitting the bearer to pass without delay and be extended all courtesies . . . cleverest invitation we've ever received.

We wonder how Jeri Kirk modeled like a professional at the "Focus on Fabric" program at the Home Demonstration Building yesterday . . . she has a pulled back muscle . . . or something equally painful . . . and not a soul there knew it! That's the mark of a professional or a thoroughbred, isn't it? Mrs. George Wells looked mighty charming at the same show modeling a pretty green and blue print dress. All of the models did a wonderful job and everyone connected with the program is to be congratulated.

Mrs. Brisson Program Speaker For Circle

Hibiscus circle, Sanford Garden Club, met at the home of Mrs. H. W. Seller, Co-hostesses were Mrs. John Fox and Mrs. Byron Fox. They served refreshments during an informal coffee hour.

The business meeting was opened with a prayer by Mrs. Moreland, followed by committee reports. Mrs. J. H. Fahy reported on the building committee. Mrs. L. E. Spencer and Mrs. J. V. Jones volunteered to supply flowers for the Seminole Memorial Hospital for the month of February. Members were asked to save all commemorative stamps and send them to Mrs. Henry Simpson, to be used in the world gardening program.

Mrs. Edwards will bake cookies and Mrs. John Fox will make sandwiches for the card party sponsored by the general club. The horticulture chairman gave tips on what to do in the garden for flowers and plants and how to accumulate roses for a bouquet when they bud a few at a time.

Mrs. R. G. Brisson related her recent trip to the Hawaiian Islands for the members and showed pictures of the interesting places and customs she saw. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. L. E. Spencer.

Crawford, Stack Star

Joan Crawford and Robert Stack star in "The Caretakers," running Sunday through Tuesday at the Movieland Drive-In Theater. Co-featured will be "Sweet Bird of Youth," in color and starring Paul Newman.

Double feature Wednesday and Thursday will be "Diamond Head," in color and starring Charlton Heston, and "Fareed of Adjustment," with Jane Fonda.

The triple feature on Jan. 24-25 will include a color western, "The Flesh and the Spur," with John Agar; a mystery drama, "The Haunting," starring Julie Harris, and "Whatever Happened to Baby Jane?" co-starring Joan Crawford and Bette Davis.

Not a new miracle drug nor a formula for splitting the atom, but, say many doctors, a method for reclaiming human lives which ranks high among today's miracle drugs and which some believe, has done more good than the splitting of atoms may ever accomplish. And it's absolutely free. It stands, simply enough, for "tender, loving care."

It is particularly effective in the treatment of mental patients, and it's the hero of the Hall Bartlett production "The Caretakers," starring Robert Stack, Polly Bergen, Joan Crawford, Janis Paige, Diane McBain and co-starring a host of others including Herbert Marshall and Susan Oliver.

Based upon the novel of the same name by Daniel Telfer which created something of a stir when it first appeared, "The Caretakers" is so named because it considers the two methods for caring for the mentally disturbed, particularly "borderline" cases. One is the traditional method of restraint, forcible treatments and drastic "cures." This method is exemplified in the film by Herbert Marshall as an older but well-intentioned head of a large state institution, and his head nurse, played by Joan Crawford. The other—or the TLC method—is exemplified by Robert Stack and Van Williams as two young doctors and Miss McBain as a nurse.

'Sword In Stone' At Ritz

After more than three years in production, Walt Disney brings his newest animated cartoon feature, "The Sword in the Stone," to the screen, brimming with mirth, music and magic. This fun-filled package of screen entertainment is aimed to tickle the funnybones of moviegoers everywhere and to delight the young in heart of all ages. "The Sword in the Stone" is featured now through Tuesday at the Ritz Theatre.

Based on the widely-read book of the same name by T. H. White, Disney's production relates, in a highly amusing way, the story of the legendary King Arthur's boyhood and his adventures with Merlin, the prophet, magician, and benefactor of the young king. When fate causes a scrawny young lad, with the unlikely nickname of Wart, to drop into a woodland cottage for tea, his host turns out to be a bearded, bumbling, but lovable old gentleman who can foresee great but undetermined things in the future for his young guest. While endeavoring to give the boy a practical education and prepare him for his pre-destined station in life, these two unlikely companions share a wealth of experience as they explore life beneath the sea, in the forest, and in the air. Though each situation is played for its true comedy value, some profound philosophies emerge. When Merlin changes Wart and himself into fish, they soon find themselves at the mercy of a ferocious pike. It is only after realizing the importance of brain over brawn that the boy is able to outwit his underwater enemy and escape to safety. Changing into squirrels an adjusting to life high in the treetops is not made easier for Wart and Merlin by the sudden appearance of two overly amorous female squirrels. Wart soon learns that love is the greatest force on earth; the most powerful magic of all.

Merlin the Magician, young Wart, Archimedes the Owl and a zany wolf share the early adventures and hilarity of Walt Disney's "The Sword in the Stone." The Technicolor cartoon feature is showing at the Ritz Theatre.

Twin Drive

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Handling a big hook-and-ladder fire truck requires teamwork and one such San Francisco rig has it aplenty. The driver is John Abarnes, 45, and his brother, Gene, 45, is tillerman at the rear.

Senior Students

SEATTLE (UPI)—The University of Washington at Seattle has 746 regular day-time students who are 40 years of age or older. Four students are in their 70's, 12 in their 80's, 124 in their 90's and 606 in their 40's.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: In plain words, how does a woman get a full-grown baby (her husband) to a dentist? I would hate to tell you how long I have been fighting this problem without success.

STUMPED DEAR STUMPED: Your husband (like thousands of other "full-grown" babies) is terrified of the dentist's chair, but he's ashamed to admit it. You could make an appointment for "yoursell" for a general check-up. Tell your husband you want him to go along and hold your hand for moral support. Once there, you could ask your dentist if he had a few moments to look at your husband's teeth. In this way the anticipation, which is 90 per cent of all "suffering" endured in connection with dentistry, is reduced. You'll need the cooperation of your dentist, of course, but it's worth a try.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 16-year-old girl who has been sitting regularly for a woman who lives in our neighborhood. Her husband is on the road a lot and she likes to go out in the evenings. She never tells me where I can reach her in case of emergency. She says she will call me during the evening to see how things are, but she never has. She has two children. One had an asthma attack once when the mother was gone and I had to call the doctor. I was frightened to death. I'm afraid if I told my mother and asked her advice she wouldn't let me sit for this woman any more, that's why I'm asking you, Abby. Should I continue to sit for this woman, WELL PAID

DEAR WELL PAID: You could just as well have asked your mother. My answer is the same as hers. CONFUSED DEAR CONFUSED: No. It would be otherwise. A married man who poses as a bachelor usually wishes he were one, or is acting like one.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 16-year-old girl who has been sitting regularly for a woman who lives in our neighborhood. Her husband is on the road a lot and she likes to go out in the evenings. She never tells me where I can reach her in case of emergency. She says she will call me during the evening to see how things are, but she never has. She has time West decided that he had a lot to gain and very little to lose. The lead really gave South a problem. He finally played the three from dummy. East won the trick with his ten and returned a club whereupon West undered his ace of hearts a second time. South could have made the rest of the tricks had he played dummy's king, but South was lucky at only two hands. He played the Jack and East's queen and West's ace plus the ace of clubs gave the defense their necessary four tricks. All very beautiful, but had North been allowed to play three no-trump there would have been no way to beat him.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

In an all-out attempt to get rid of the accelerated social pace at the junior high school level once and for all, one school district has done away with the junior high school and divided its education system into a five year elementary school, a three year intermediate school, and a four year high school.

Just to make sure that the intermediate school isn't a carbon copy of high school, the way to many junior highs are, a strict set of rules has been laid down.

In intermediate school there will be no pep squads, no cheer leaders, no school-sponsored functions at night, no dances, no crowning of queens or election of class favorites. An honors day with awards for academic excellence will replace football banquets and sweetheart elections. In fact, there won't be just one football team to represent an intermediate school, but teams will be expanded so that everybody who wants to can play, thereby removing the temptation to make football heroes of intermediate-age boys.

There are other rules, but these are the important ones. They should be enough to give other school districts the idea that parents and school officials don't have to sit around shaking their heads over the hectic pace that today's youngsters are pushed into when they move from elementary school to junior high in the seventh grade.

Junior highs—even the name junior high can go if necessary—and a more sensible division of students can be made, with sensible rules of what is and what isn't suitable for children of "intermediate" age.

The very name "intermediate school" seems better suited to children who are between elementary school and high school than the name "junior high," which seems to make children feel that junior high ought to be as much like high school as possible.

TABLE HOPPING BY JUDY TURNER

Here we are more than half way through the first month of the year and probably most of the resolutions have been broken by now. Let's try to keep that one about going out more often though, and for a starter, try these.

If you can't get out for dinner, go out for lunch. One of the finest places in town (and it is in town for real convenience) is the Caribe lounge. Lou reports that the lunch hours have been booming and the added help of Norma acting as waitress makes going there even more enjoyable and quick. The food is the good type that comes from Rose and Wilk's restaurant, right through the kitchen door. After being on the job almost two weeks now, Lou says that she loves her job and the people she works for. . . and this makes for a congenial atmosphere.

For nightly entertainment you won't find anything better than the kind offered at Freddie's Steak House, Carol Pettijohn is pleasing the crowds with her piano playing which makes a good background for any meal, but especially the delicious ones served at Freddie's.

Another must on your lunch list is the Capri restaurant with its restful atmosphere and fine foods. The Capri opens at 11:30 a.m. featuring its businessmen's lunchea. If you want to stop in the lounge first (or afterward) you'll see Dee Brown who does the honors behind the bar during the daytime. The night time bartender is "Gill". This all-round place furnishes entertainment on Friday and Saturday nights in the form of the Shangri La's, who according to manager Robert Raines, play the progressive sort of music.

How to have fun and win prizes in one easy lesson: Stop in at the Melodee Skating rink on Friday or Saturday night during the next seven weeks. One pair of Chicago Roller Skates will be awarded each of those nights and you might be the lucky winner.

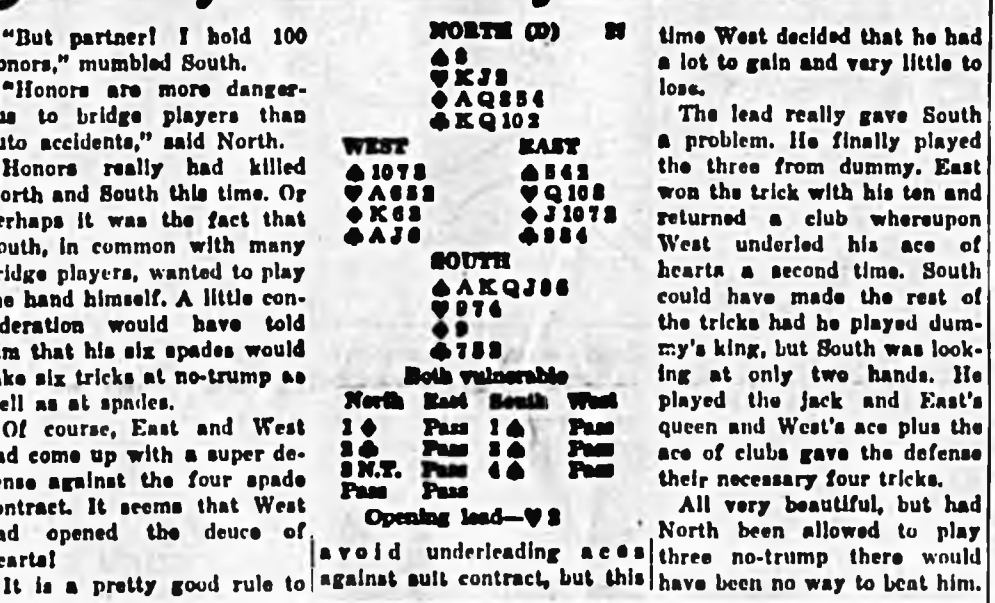

It's just the same old thing at Spencer's. Week after week they offer you only some of the best food, most delicious drinks and friendly service around. You'd go a long way before beating that winning combination and it is a good thing that Spencer's sticks to it. Remember happy hour prices between 4:30 and 7 p.m. each evening go with all the rest.

If the evening out is short and includes the kids you can treat the whole crowd by taking them to the Whataburger. Kids like hamburgers better than anything else anyway and there is chicken or shrimp for you so you can't go wrong.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

"But partner! I hold 100 honors," mumbled South. "Honors are more dangerous to bridge players than auto accidents," said North. Honors really had killed North and South this time. Or perhaps it was the fact that South, in common with many bridge players, wanted to play the hand himself. A little consideration would have told him that his six spades would take six tricks at no-trump as well as at spades.

Of course, East and West had come up with a super defense against the four spade contract. It seems that West had opened the deuce of hearts! It is a pretty good rule to

Owner Takes Pride In Staff

Herb Stenstrom, owner of Stenstrom Realty, takes more pride in his staff than for all other combined accomplishments of the business since the firm was organized in 1957.

The office manager of the Stenstrom firm is Ned N. Julian, a retired U. S. Navy commander. Julian has been with the company since 1960. He is the firm's closing agent, mortgage representative and property management broker. Julian is a registered real estate broker-associate. He and his wife, Sally, reside in Loch Arbor. They have three children, two of whom are in college and the other in high school. He is a member of the Sanford Lions Club, the Sanford Shrine Club, Bahia Shrine Temple and the Seminole County Board of Realtors.

Also associated with the firm is Merle W. Warner, another broker-associate. Warner has been with the firm since 1960, specializing in residential and commercial sales and leases. He and his wife, Ruth, make their home at 708 Park Ave. They have two sons and a daughter. Warner is a member of the First Presbyterian Church, the Shrine Club, the Bahia

Temple of Orlando, Sanford Masonic Lodge No. 62, the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, the Board of Realtors, and takes an active part in other civic affairs. He is also a former city commissioner and at one time was mayor of Sanford. Presently he serves as a member of Sanford's civil service board.

Hugh A. McCollum, a retired U. S. Air Force colonel, joined the firm in 1961. McCollum specializes in residential sales and leases and acreage sales. He is a broker-associate with the firm and a member of the Seminole County Board of Realtors. He and his wife, Evelyn, make their home at 105 Mellonville Ave. in Mayfair. He has one daughter. McCollum is an ardent golfer and fisherman.

Thomas P. Lawton, a retired U. S. Navy captain is another member of the sales staff. Lawton is a registered salesman and devotes full time to acreage, commercial, farm and grove properties. He and his wife, Laura, reside at 218 Sunrise Boulevard in DeBary. They have one son in high school. Lawton is also a member of the Board of Realtors.

James B. Smith, also a broker-associate, specializes in residential sales and leases on a full time basis. He and his wife, Hannah, live at 304 Tangerine Drive, in Loch Arbor's Idyllwilde section. Jim is a former teacher and a retired attorney.

Stenstrom, himself, a registered broker, is a native of Sanford. He attended local schools and Stetson University in DeLand. He is a member of the First Baptist Church, both the junior and senior Chambers of Commerce, the Civitans, the Board of Realtors, and serves on the advisory board of the Salvation Army.

He and his wife, the former Carolyn Patrick, and their daughter, Sharyn, make their home at 203 Tangerine Drive. Stenstrom is the son of Mrs. J. W. Salisbury of Sanford, and the late Orin H. Stenstrom. He has three brothers, Julian, Douglas and Frank, all of this city, and a sister, Ruth, who resides in Cocoa Beach.

Beginning her sixth year with the firm is Mrs. Phyllis W. Senkarik, the secretary-bookkeeper. Singled out by Stenstrom as the "finest girl Friday" in the city, she makes her home on Sunset Drive in Loch Arbor with her husband, Edward Senkarik.

Avery Drops Out Of Board Race

James P. Avery Jr., chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, today announced that he will not be a candidate to succeed himself as County Commissioner from District 3.

J. P. AVERY JR.

Avery, who has served three years as the vice-chairman and recently upped to serve as chairman for 1964, had made no secret of the fact that he would not seek re-election to the County Commission. He stated, "A formal announcement seemed necessary in order to dispel any doubts of my intentions and allow prospective candidates the opportunity to finalize their plans."

An outspoken critic of waste and inefficiency, Avery has been called the "watch-dog" of the county treasury and was largely responsible for the complete reorganization of the County Road Department, shortly after taking office in 1961.

He said, "Because of many new problems attendant to growth and rapid population expansion, my awareness of the responsibilities entrusted to me as a County Commissioner has never been felt more keenly than this, the last year of my term in office. Without the tremendous help and support of dedicated citizen committees, these problems would not have and can not be successfully resolved."

When asked about his future plans for public office, Avery replied, "My name will most probably be on the ballot for a public office but, to be perfectly candid, the press of county business has left me little time to work on my platform. However, I expect to make known my plans soon."

Avery, it has been rumored, will seek the office of tax collector, being backed by John Galloway.

Another clock watcher inquires: "Now that the library is in its new location, why doesn't it remain open for a couple of hours at least one night each week?" Good question.

A Sunland resident called to inquire about bus transportation. We had to ask for her number and promised to return the call. We called the number she gave us but we must have made a mistake in taking it down. It should call back we'll appreciate it.

Attorney Ken McIntosh delivered sermons at both First Baptist Church worship services Sunday morning when the congregation observed its annual Men's Day. But this was nothing new for Ken. He's been supplying the pulpit at the church's Oaklawn Chapel on Country Club Road for the past several months.

By the way, Gerald Covington sang at the first morning service and Leo Watson at the second. Covington is a former sports writer for The Herald.

Rev. C. C. Dees, pastor of Sanford Alliance Church, says an effort is being made to establish a Christian Businessmen's Association in Sanford. Those interested are being urged to attend a breakfast meeting, 7 a.m., Jan. 30, at Rose and Wilk's in downtown Sanford. Christian Businessmen, Inc., will have representatives present and will pick up the tab. A free breakfast? "That's right," says Dees. Okay?

Since returning from California we've "bumped" into many old friends. Space doesn't permit mentioning them all. But what a pleasure it was the other day to chat with Mrs. Gordon Dean, one of the most charming ladies we've ever known. She's the wife of one of the former owners of The Herald who also served as its business manager for many years.

If you were born in January on an even-numbered year you'd better see about that driver's license. The offices are open at Sanford Armory on Tuesdays and Thursdays. If you wait 'til Jan. 30, don't forget to take a picnic lunch.

Planning Board Is Approved By Casselberry

By Jane Casselberry
Straying from the announced purpose of Saturday's special meeting (the discussion of establishing a department of public works), the Casselberry Board of Aldermen decided to put the "horse before the cart" and instead, approved the establishing of a town planning board.

The board divided the town into seven geographical districts, each of which will choose a representative to the seven member planning board.

The board will serve in an advisory capacity offering recommendations to the council for the orderly growth of the town.

One of the first tasks confronting the proposed new department will be the reorganization of the town structure to cope with present needs and future growth with an eye to the establishment of new posts and departments and a shift of responsibilities.

Among these would be a department of public works with a full time superintendent to supervise roads, parks, sanitation, and utilities.

An interim measure until the planning board can be formed and a one action taken, it was voted to pay J. D. Self, present road board chairman, $2 an hour for time put in in this capacity and eight cents a mile for automobile expense.

Alderman Arthur Logo analyzed a chart illustrating transition from a small town government to a business like municipality.

The seven districts, which Mayor Owen Anstey emphasized are not political divisions, have been set up as follows: District 1 is made up of all those living in the area on the west side of Highway 17-92, north of Concord Drive and south of Seminole Boulevard; District 2 — the area west of 17-92, south of Concord Drive and north of SR 436; District 3 is bounded by 17-92 on the west, Sunset Drive on the east, SR 436 on the south and Seminole Boulevard on the north; District 4 boundaries are Sunset Drive on the west, North Triplet Drive on the south, Winter Park Drive on the east, including the area north of Seminole Boulevard; District 5 is made up of area between Winter Park Drive, Park Drive, Lake Drive and Seminole Boulevard; District 6 has as boundaries Sunset Drive, Lake Triplet Drive, Queen's Mirror Circle, Crystal Bowl Circle and Park Drive; District 7 includes the sections of Howell Park in the Casselberry city limits and runs from 436 to the Casselberry Utilities pumping station on Winter Park Drive.

A map will be posted in the town hall for residents who are not sure just which district they live in and copies will be made up to send to all the town's citizens as soon as possible.

The Board of Aldermen will meet in continued session at the town hall at 7:30 p.m. today to discuss the budget.

Panama Seeks Control Of Waterway

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Panama's ambassador to the United Nations wants the United States to end its perpetual control over the canal and turn the vital waterway over to his country.

Washington said that the 1903 treaty giving the United States control "in perpetuity" over the canal was "obsolete" and "repugnant to international law."

He said that if the current stalemate in negotiation continued, Panama would attempt to work out another agreement with the Organization of American States (OAS) or, failing that, would ask the UN Security Council to intervene.

N. Orlando Will Vote On New Charter Board

By Mona Grinstead
An ordinance calling for a special charter board election on March 17 in conjunction with regular North Orlando village council elections was approved Saturday at a called meeting of the council.

The ordinance became mandatory after a petition calling for its enactment was presented at the last council meeting bearing signatures of more than 40 per cent of the registered electors. It calls for the election of five qualified citizens to be named as a charter board to study, draft and recommend changes to the original village charter.

Rules for qualifying are the same as those for the council. A written notice, signed by 10 registered voters, must be filed along with a $5 qualification fee. The candidate must state position sought, age, place of residence and description of real property owned in the village. He must also be otherwise able to qualify under general election laws of the State of Florida. Winners will be determined by the highest number of votes cast.

In other business at the Saturday meeting, Ordinance 38, amending Section 10 of the occupational license fee schedules and Ordinance 31 B, adopting a plumbing code, were approved after second and third readings.

Ordinance 37, setting forth rules and regulations pertaining to the regular March council elections, was read and approved for first reading.

It was announced that negotiations had been completed for lighting to be resumed for some 38 street lights within the village.

Residents were warned by Mayor W. W. Anderson that their legal signatures must appear on voter registration books if they expect to vote in village elections.

JayCees Plan Award Banquet For Saturday

National JayCee Week observances officially began Sunday afternoon in Seminole County when the local junior trade body held open house socials at the JayCees Building located on French Ave.

Many Sanford and Seminole County citizens visited the JayCee center and viewed a display of projects the organization has conducted from time to time, awards won on past projects, and the facilities and information the JayCee building and personnel provide for tourists.

Also on display was a hand painted map of Seminole County. It was recently presented to the organization by Joseph Mathieux, local art teacher and president of the Sanford-Seminole Art Association.

During the remainder of JayCee Week, the local group will hold its annual past president's luncheon on Thursday. Many of the past presidents have indicated they will be on hand to speak briefly on the chapter's activities during their respective terms of office.

On Saturday the Distinguished Service Awards Banquet will be held at the Police Benevolent Building on Lake Monroe, State Sen. Scott Kelly will be the principal speaker for the event. JayCee officials announced this morning that all interested persons, particularly former members of the young men's organization, are invited to be present. Reservations can be made by contacting JayCee offices, YA 2-5841. No reservations can be made later than Thursday noon.

The banquet's feature attraction will be the selection of individuals who will be presented awards for distinguished service, good government, good sailor, and the outstanding young farmer. Nominations from the public are still open. The deadline, however, has been set for noon on Thursday. To make nominations the public is invited to call the JayCee offices.

Blood Donations Appeal Issued

An appeal for blood donations has been issued by the Old Glory Community Blood Bank on behalf of Mrs. Vera Rodgers, who must return the more than 20 pints of blood used in surgery for her late husband, Clarence Rodgers.

Rodgers, 46, died last Friday shortly after emergency open heart surgery was performed at the University of Florida Teaching Hospital and Clinic.

Selection May Come Friday

By Julian Stenstrom and Fred Van Pelt
With State Board of Control members expressing themselves as desirous of making a choice of a site for a new state undergraduate university, at their meeting Friday in Orlando, Seminole County Commissioners this morning made a final all-out effort to have the school located in this county.

County Commission this morning voted:

1. To re-affirm all previous commitments on the Lake Ada site, immediately south of Sanford.
2. To re-affirm all previous commitments on the Econ site, located on the Econlochatchee River north of Chulucota and east of Oviedo.
3. To present an expanded Econ site and permit the Board of Control to choose any 1,000 to 1,500 acres it chooses in the revised deal.
4. To formally present a new Tusawilla Road site, immediately south of Lake Jessup.
5. To informally present a new Lund site, formerly known as the Cameron tract, between Sanford and Ocala Airport.
6. To offer the Board of Control a recreational area consisting of 50 acres on Lake Jessup or on the old Coffee property on the St. Johns River.
7. To forward a letter to Baya Harrison, Board of Control chairman, with copies to other members, declaring the county's statement of condition of road funds to be indicated that the county can do what the commissioners say it can.
8. To make a place available to members of the Board of Control when they inspect the Seminole sites Thursday, prior to their Orlando morning session Friday.
9. To forward a letter to Baya Harrison, Board of Control chairman, with copies to other members, declaring the county's statement of condition of road funds to be indicated that the county can do what the commissioners say it can.
10. To make a place available to members of the Board of Control when they inspect the Seminole sites Thursday, prior to their Orlando morning session Friday.

Forrest Kelley, staff architect for the Board of Control, inspected sites now proposed sites in Seminole County, last Thursday. All but two of these — Tusawilla and Lund — were ruled out by local university committee members.

Dr. Wayne McCall, Ocala, Board member, and Jack Sutton, staff research analyst for the Board, inspected, from the air and from the ground, the Tusawilla and Lund sites Sunday, also looking over Lake Ada and Econ again.

"I hope we can come to a final decision, for recommendation to the State Board of Education, Friday," Dr. McCall told The Herald Sunday.

"As chairman of the Board's building committee," he continued, "I am sitting on $47 million in new school buildings and I want to get to work on that. Our staff members have other work to do, too. And, also, I have to earn a living."

Dr. McCall, favoring the Econ site, in the Jan. 10 meeting at Tallahassee, when the Board reached a deadlock, voted at that time for the Bluestone site in Orange County with Dr. Charles Forman, Fort Lauderdale, and Chester White, Orlando.

Gert Schmidt, Jacksonville; John Pace, Pensacola, and the chairman, Harrison, voted for Lake Ada.

In a compromise effort, McCall and Pace voted for the Econ.

Dr. McCall emphasized Sunday that the Board of Control will merely recommend a site to the State Cabinet sitting as the State Board of Education.

Board of Control members, after their site inspection trip Thursday in Seminole and Orange Counties, will meet at 10 a. m. Friday at the Cherry Plaza Hotel, Orlando.

Pupils Give Aid

Civics classes at South Seminole Junior High School collected $17.50 and sent it to officials at Bowling Green, S. C., for the Vicki Wray fund.

Vicki is the youngster who faces the loss of her remaining eye in an effort to halt the spread of cancer.

Auxiliary Gives $3,000 To Hospital

Seminole Memorial Hospital Auxiliary members and distinguished guests heard Mrs. Christopher Butler give an outstanding report of activities at the annual luncheon meeting at the Mayfair Inn.

Active members in the auxiliary number 132 and they contributed 20,601 hours to the hospital during the year. Awards of pins and badges were given the volunteer workers and A. B. Peterson Sr. presented engraved silver trays to Mrs. Lloyd Stafford and Mrs. J. E. Munger for having worked 500 hours in one year. Frank Woodruff, DeBary, was recognized for his 173 hours work in the X-ray department.

Mrs. W. I. Crabtree, Candy Strippers chairman, reported there are 35 active Candy Strippers and they accumulated 9,071 total volunteer hours for the year. Penny Gleason, president of the Candy Strippers, presented Mrs. Crabtree an engraved silver bowl from the girls in appreciation for her work.

Committee chairmen reported 8,000 hours given at the information desk, 4,380 in the hospital shop, 2,718 on sunshine, 52 of that number coming from Candy Strippers, and 524 "pinkies" were made for distribution in the pediatric ward. There are 256 donors in the eye bank and six sets of eyes have been sent to the

J. Hillis Miller Hospital in Gainesville. Rental TVs netted $703.50 for the auxiliary. Mrs. Butler presented a check in the amount of $3,000 to Bob Besserer, hospital administrator. Hospital equipment worth $2,500 of that amount and $500 will be used toward a scholarship for a student nurse. Besserer announced a committee will be set up to select the recipient of the award, to be given annually.

Incoming officers of the auxiliary were introduced. Mrs. Carl Schilke, president;

Mrs. G. Pearson, first vice president; Mrs. Al Hunt, second vice president; Mrs. R. Wilkins, recording secretary; Mrs. F. Swallow, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Chester R. Rieck, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Cole, parliamentarian, and Besserer, ex-officio.
