Ike Sends Congress Giant Spending Program Budget

Urges New Postal Hike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower sent Congress today a "pay our own way" budget geared to the biggest tax collection year in history and the fastest Treasury surplus since 1948.

He proposed a $79,816,000,000 spending program which envisioned —

- A boom year for business and personal income.
- No tax cut this year, but a $4,184,000,000 surplus he hoped could pave the way for tax relief later — possibly in 1961.
- A new half-cent a gallon boost in gasoline taxes.
- New postal rate increases including a five-cent letter and an eight-cent airmail stamp.
- Doubled space spending with a hope of rocketing the first American into space in 1961.
- A $4 billion dollar defense program, with the accent shifting to missiles.

In the teeth of a Democratic Congress in an election-year mood to expand programs, Eisenhower proposed whittling a number of federal social welfare activities.

He phrased his philosophy this way: "I believe our people have the determination to hold expenditures in check, to pay their own way without borrowing from their children, to choose wisely among priorities, and to match sound public policy with private initiative."

Here is how the budget for the 1961 government bookkeeping year that begins July 1 stacks up against estimated spending in the current 1960 year, in billions of dollars:

Receipts	1960	1961
Spending	78.6	84.0
Surplus	78.4	78.8
Biggest single spending item is defense	41	41

The national objective — "peace with justice for all peoples."

"Our hope," the President said, "is that the heavy burden of armaments on the world may be lightened."

"But we should not delude ourselves. In this era of nuclear weapons and intercontinental missiles disarmament must be safeguarded and verifiable. The problems in achieving this — are tremendous. Yet we must face up to these problems for the only alternative is a world living on the edge of disaster."

Arson Hinted As County Hit By Rash Of Fires

Fires raged throughout the county over the weekend and arson is suspected in two of them.

Casselberry Mayor W. M. Benson said town marshal Gus Sawyer suspects arson in two Casselberry fires that flared up about 11 a. m. and 2:30 p. m. Saturday. Sawyer is still investigating their cause.

Flames roared 70 feet high in the Casselberry fire Saturday afternoon. The blaze between Seminole Blvd. and Sunset Dr. burned 14 acres of woodland and smoke billows were visible 10 miles away. Six fire trucks from Longwood, Altamonte Springs and Casselberry fought the blaze which scorched half the tall pines in the area.

Ranger Robert Leverett said the blaze was one of the hottest he had ever fought. Several times the flames jumped a 30 yard swath.

No sooner was this fire under control than Casselberry's fire truck rushed across 17-92 where another column of smoke was rising.

While these two fires were going on a Lake Mary Fire Dept. crew was stamping out another four acre fire-up on 17-96 just behind Movieland Drive-in. The Lake Mary volunteers earlier answered two calls on brush fires which burned about two acres in Ravenna Park.

Leverett came to the Casselberry fire after fighting a blaze that burned about 30 acres near Forest City. Leverett said he knew children set Wilt Bro. County ranger Robert Gray also put out a three acre fire on Highway 46 Saturday.

High winds and dry vegetation spread flames over 20 acres south of Longwood's Markham Rd. Sunday. Forest rangers fought the blaze with a tractor and water tanker. They are still investigating the cause.

Actor May Testify In Finch Murder Case

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Movie actor Mark Stevens was set to testify in the Finch-Trogoff murder trial today as a witness on behalf of slain Mrs. Barbara Jean Finch.

Stevens said he had played "many a game of tennis" with Mrs. Finch before she was shot to death last July 15. Stevens' testimony was expected to deal with threats by her surgeon husband, Dr. Bernard Finch.

The trial of the doctor and Carol Trogoff has been in recess since Wednesday owing to the illness of a juror. Scheduled to resume testimony was Mrs. Marco Halrich with whom Mrs. Finch stayed in Hollywood after alleged attacks by her husband.

Also waiting to testify were the proprietors of three apartments which Finch set up for red-headed Las Vegas where Finch was arrested the day after his wife was shot to death outside their home in West Covina, Calif.

One Los Angeles newspaper said today that apartment recordings of conversations between Finch and Miss Trogoff made by divorce investigators were still to be introduced in the trial. Prosecutor Fred N. Whitfield has said he has no knowledge of the existence of such recordings.

Others waiting to testify were two hoodlums, John F. Cody and Richard Koenig, whom the doctor and Carol allegedly contracted at Las Vegas in an attempt to have Mrs. Finch killed. They are accused of paying Cody $1,000 to do the job. He is said to have spent it on gambling without ever intending to carry out the bargain.

Miss Trogoff had been working as a waitress in the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas at the time she was shot. She is said to have been on duty the day after she admittedly went with Finch to the West Covina home. Her fellow workers at the hotel remember her as a very aloof girl and said Finch often walked alone at a table—not gambling—until she got off.

The Gall Bladder

One of the most potent contributors to a pleasant disposition and its natural concomitant, a pleasing personality is a healthy gall bladder. The number of people with gall stones is increasing. It is said that about one person in every ten or fifteen has gall stones, the number that suffer from direct symptoms when the stones become obstructed in the little tube leading from the gall bladder to the intestines, is not nearly so large. Thus one may have difficulty without that severe gall stone colic.

Three things are essential to help Nature prevent gall bladder and for that matter, liver trouble as well. First, see that the condition of nerve impulses is normal. Second, breathe deep and take bending exercises that press and squeeze the gall bladder and liver. They were meant to be kept active and pliable by such exercise. Third, eat the right kind of food.

By far the most important is to see that the nerve impulses are free and unobstructed. A spinal analysis will determine this promptly. Consult your Chiropractor for directions as to how to maintain a healthy gall bladder. Are you a Chiropractic case?

Navy Chief To Retire After 43 Years

When John Corning went down to the train station in Marine, Mich., in early 1917, to see his 17-year-old son off to enlist in the Navy, little did he know how long his son would stay.

Today Laverne C. Corning, a quartermaster chief, is one of the few men who can say he has served in the coal-burning, diesel-powered and nuclear-powered Navy.

Since that day in 1917, he estimates that he has sailed two million miles or seven times to the moon and back on everything from a 20-foot boat to a 100-foot battleship.

In the days before World War II, Chief Corning proved that tours of shore duty were few and far between. From August, 1923, until February, 1925, he was aboard ship continuously except for two short tours at receiving stations.

One of the rare holders of a good conduct medal bearing two silver stars for over 40 years of duty, he left the Navy for the Army at the end of World War I. After comparing the two for a year, he decided the Navy was best and rejoined it.

Chief Corning was commissioned an officer during World War II and was commanding officer of the net tender Moreno, which he claims was the last U. S. Navy ship to visit the Soviet Union until the recent visit of the survey ship Henry to Odessa.

After moving up the ladder to full lieutenant by 1950, he reverted back to chief.

Chief Corning came to the Sanford Naval Air Station in January, 1959, and served as semi-permanent Junior Officer of the Day until late November.

This week Chief Corning made the last move of his Navy career. He was transferred to the Naval Hospital at Chelsea, Mass., where he will be until he ends his Navy career this spring.

When Chief Corning retires, the Navy will have lost a man who not only could tell a good sea-story, but was a real inspiration to all young Navy men.

Rails Offer Some Attractive Stocks

By GORDON J. TOFFI, Manager, Security Associates, Inc.

Now that the nation and the investing public have patiently waited out the record steel strikes—with the crippling results we hope behind us—attention has been quickly focused on the railroad situation as to strike threats. Perhaps one can be avoided. Pent-up demand for steel, a good automotive outlook and gains in general business activity should provide sufficient stimulus to railroad traffic in 1960. It is hoped that wage increase talks can be settled without an all-out strike. Despite the industry's problems, a careful selection of railroad stocks and bonds discloses many situations which offer attractive and reliable yields.

A name that has been familiar to us for many years in Atlantic Coast Line. It is one of those "right in our back yard" situations. Unlike rail systems of the eastern region, ACL was not particularly hurt by the loss of steel product shipments during the steel strike since it does not depend on steel traffic for more than about three per cent of its freight revenues. With the back-to-work injunction, various freight contracts picked up in volume so that in the closing weeks of December, 1959, the company reported revenue freight handled was running 11-15 per cent above the same weeks of 1958. With general conditions being good for the company, 1959 earnings should be substantially ahead of 1958.

ACL is a 5,500 mile freight and passenger carrier with principal rail terminal points at Richmond and Norfolk, Va., Atlanta, Birmingham and Tampa and other Florida points. It operates rock, bituminous coal, gravel and sand are the leading freight revenues. Voting control of the railroad company is held by Atlantic Coast Line Company through ownership of 84.8 per cent of Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company stock.

For sometime, serious merger talks have been discussed by ACL and Seaboard Air Line Railroad. Merger proposals and terms will more likely be released within a few months before a vote is taken by stockholders and directors. Approval must also be given by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The ICC approved merger between ACL and Charleston and West Carolina Railroad, beginning January 1, is expected to save ACL more than $250,000 annually in operating costs. The proceeding was revealed by Carreau & Company of New York.

ACL owns 225,497 shares of Louisville & Nashville Railroad, of which $4.1 million is received in dividends annually. This investment in L&N is carried at a book value of $35.4 million and shows a current market value of over $68 million. Payout in dividends for the 1954-1958 period averaged 50 per share. In 1959, $2.50 a share was paid. ACL has paid same dividend each year since 1941.

Language of investing: BOOK VALUE - an accounting term. Book value of a stock is determined from a company's assets by adding all assets (generally excluding such intangibles as good will), then deducting all debts and other liabilities, plus the liquidation price of any preferred issues. The sum arrived at is divided by the number of common shares outstanding and the result is book value per common share. Book value of the assets of a company or a security may have little or no significant relationship to market value.

Washington Calling

By MARQUEE CHILDS

WASHINGTON—The Kennedy organization extending into virtually every state in the union is now being geared up for the final push to get the Democratic presidential nomination for the youthful looking Senator from Massachusetts.

The announcement by Governor Michael DeSalle that he would swing the Ohio delegation to Kennedy was a tremendous spur. It means that Kennedy is almost certain to have Ohio's 64 votes on the first ballot. Needless to say, the hardly came as a surprise to the Kennedy camp.

The same pressures that were applied to DeSalle are currently being exerted on Governor Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California. The Kennedy organization in California is one of the largest and most effective in the country.

By declaring that he expects to run as a favorite son candidate Brown had hoped to prevent his state with its June primary from becoming a battleground. He would lead an uncommitted delegation, with 51 votes, to the Los Angeles convention and thereby be in a position of great power in determining the nominee.

But in Kennedy headquarters there is a growing conviction that it will turn out rather differently. One rumor is that before the primary Brown will invite Kennedy to come in, which will be a bid to turn the organization loose for a blitz campaign. That is not likely to happen, however, and the Kennedy strategy is based on insuring that on the first ballot at the convention, or at the latest the second, the bulk of California's delegates will swing to the Senator from Massachusetts.

Brown has been listed as one of the Democratic governors who, as Catholics, have been concerned lest the religious issue be brought into the campaign with the candidacy of Kennedy, a Catholic. But DeSalle, in the same category, broke the ice. A third governor in this classification is David Llewellyn of Pennsylvania who will head a delegation with 51 votes.

If the whole picture of the Kennedy organization in all its details could be put together, and for a variety of reasons this will probably never be done, it would be a substantial force in national power and influence. It is the cause of serious muttering from the other candidates.

On "Meet the Press" Senator Kennedy said that his family's wealth did not help his candidacy since there were limits on how much a candidate could spend for his nomination. He was challenged by Senator Hubert Humphrey who pointed out that there are no legal limits on how much can be spent for the nomination nor even, strictly speaking, on how much can be contributed to a candidate. This indicates how little significance the primaries will have this year. They have been decisive in the past — Harold Stassen knocked himself out in Oregon in 1948 after he had a running start on the nomination. The Democrats in their dilemma with a basket full of candidates cannot look to voter choice in key states for the ultimate answer.

Following the formal announcement of his candidacy, according to one of Humphrey's aides, he received 4500 letters, most of them containing contributions of $1 to $10. These wider's mites added up to $3000. But in terms of a national campaign that is chicken feed.

Kennedy has challenged the other candidates to get into the presidential primaries, saying in effect that only by meeting this test will they merit the nomination. But whether Humphrey and Kennedy actually fight it out in any primary is still a question.

With New England, his Kennedy is entered in the New Hampshire primary. He might try to beat Humphrey in his own territory, Wisconsin. There are parties for Kennedy in Wisconsin, however, and the present inclination is to stay out.

California is blocked by Governor Brown. The Oregon primary is confused by the entry of Oregon's own Senator Wayne Morse. Nebraska could be a testing ground. But as a Republican state over the years, with rare exceptions, it would hardly offer conclusive evidence of Democratic sentiment.

Quotable Quotes

By United Press International

LONDON—British Minister of Traffic Ernest Marples, discussing American traffic control after completing a tour of the United States:

"It really is incredible how the American motorist obeys the lane rules. He has to, or he soon hears about it from other motorists—as I was unfortunate enough to be at one point."

BATON ROUGE, La. — DeSalle Attorney Robert L. Klempner, protesting a district attorney's expressions of doubt concerning the ability of Louisiana State University Dean George H. Meyer, charged with murdering a woman biology professor.

"It's unfair to my client, his family, the town and to LSU for District Attorney J. S. Clair Favre to be making statements he can't back up."

SANDRINGHAM, England — Patricia Green, 15, one of a group of children who got involved in a snowball fight with Britain's Prince Charles and Princess Anne.

"It took a bit of courage to snowball a real prince and princess."

MIAMI — Mrs. Alice Steel Taylor, explaining how bold that her missing husband, William, took the place of ex-convict Dr. Robert Spear on a National Airlines plane that crashed in the Gulf of Mexico May 16.

"I could have been that he (Spear) could have replaced my husband."

Assignment Washington

By ED KOTERA

WASHINGTON—As a lot of us suspected, there's a boomcrang buried in Ezra Benson's soil bank. Plainclothesmen of the watchdog U. S. Comptroller General's office dug up one example in Bottineau County, N. D. They tell how the soil bank is hitting hard-working people right in their purses.

Farmers out there, report the sleuths, have been following the Agriculture Department's doctrine of not tilling soil so religiously that they're starving out Bottineau County's merchants.

Last year the Federal government ignored the law's limitations and allowed a whopping $1,120,735 to farmers for not farming. So the farmers had little reason to buy new tools to farm with or fuel to operate tractors which merely stood idle on farms that weren't farmed.

The Comptroller's cops found that in seven townships of Bottineau County farmers got paid not to farm 35 to 70 percent of their crops.

As a result, one grain elevator, they said, will be forced to close down in a few months because of no business.

And a dealer in farm implements will soon be flirting with bankruptcy because his business was down 50 percent over past years. A dealer in bulk fuel, they reported, suffered a 30 percent drop in his business.

But, worse yet, because the farmers weren't growing surplus crops, they have become surplus workers. And they come to town looking for other jobs, the only thing there isn't a surplus of.

There was merit in the original soil bank idea, and I was wondering what would happen if it were applied to other phases of life.

Take the worst example of surpluses in our cities—the automobiles. Why doesn't somebody apply the soil bank idea to cars? Just pay all gasoline station attendants for not putting gasoline in automobiles.

But, like the farm banks, this would boomerang, too. Eventually Detroit would have to shut down its auto manufacturing plants, throwing millions of people out of work. The people wouldn't be able to pay their taxes and Uncle Sam would run out of funds to keep the car bank afloat.

There's so much talk about population explosions that it surprises me nobody thought of soil-banking parents. Every mother and father would be paid a sum for not raising children. But then, within a few generations, we'd become extinct and nobody'd be left to hand out the soil-bank checks.

I'm beginning to suspect that if the Department of Agriculture tossed an avalanche of dirt over the soil bank and buried it for good, there would be a lot of happier people all around.

Take the case of the disgruntled farmer of Colorado who reported to the comptroller's men about the practice of some of their neighbors.

"The neighbors, they said, rent land from the state at 24 cents an acre for grazing. Then they turn around and show Uncle Sam that the land is not being used for surplus crops—just for grazing—and collect $1.25 an acre on it."

SEMINOLE NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

The service team of the Seminole neighborhood of Girl Scouts met at the home of Mrs. Randall Chase in Belaire last week. This marks a turning point in girl scouting in this area as it was the last meeting of this kind. Girl Scouting has grown so in the area that the neighborhood association, of which Mrs. Chase has served as chairman since its initiation, is being split into two neighborhoods with Mrs. Chase as district chairman. Mrs. C. F. Lind was named new chairman for neighborhood 2, which includes Sanford, south of 25th, Lake Mary and Oviedo. No one has been chosen for the other neighborhood.

Reports were given by troop organizers, Mrs. W. H. Meriwether, Mrs. E. E. Austin, and Mrs. B. G. Wolford, in the absence of Mrs. R. E. Stutzman. They stated that many troops were without leaders and their efforts to draw more mothers, teachers and friends into the scouting program had reached an impasse. There are many girls interested and eager to get into troops, as well as those who were in troops last year, but leaders have not been obtained. Others attending were Mrs. Gordon Robertson, Mrs. Lewis Morgan, Mrs. Carl Schilke, Mrs. J. W. Buckler, Mrs. Richard Bauer, Mrs. Nan Jones, and Mrs. H. Osborne.

U.S., Japan Set To Sign Military, Economic Pact

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Japanese Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi, a minor league war criminal who became a major league ally, is here to sign a long-term military and economic pact with the United States.

The 65-year-old premier, who arrived Sunday night for a three-day visit, withstood the assaults of Japanese Communists and Socialists plus the vituperation of Russia and Red China to work out the new alliance against Communist aggression.

With President Eisenhower looking on, Kishi and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter will sign the treaty Tuesday afternoon in the East Room of the White House where President Buchanan received the first Japanese mission 100 years ago.

Eisenhower and Kishi will confer Tuesday morning. The president will give a luncheon in Kishi's honor following the conference and the Japanese leader then will go to the State Department for further talks.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon met Kishi at the airport and paid tribute to Kishi's unrelenting struggle to keep Asia's major industrial nations, with its population of 90 million, firmly in the camp of the western democracies.

It was just 12 years ago that Kishi was released from Bugamo prison in Tokyo where the Allies had kept him for three years as a secondary war criminal. He was "purged" from ever holding public office but this ban later was lifted.

The Japanese-American security treaty continues the right of the United States to use military forces in Japan, but under conditions which recognize full Japanese sovereignty. It replaces a pact hurriedly drawn in 1951 along with the general peace treaty which the Japanese have felt merely continued the occupation in many respects.

An attached exchange of notes gives Japan an implied veto power over the use of the United States air force in Japan. The pact also allows the Japanese to use their own military forces—45,000 men, most of them in flight or wings of the U. S. Fifth Air Force.

The agreement requires the United States to consult with Japanese officials before using these forces for hostile action in other countries or under the United Nations Command in Korea.

The treaty, subject to ratification by Congress and the Japanese Diet (parliament), is in effect for an initial term of 10 years and will continue indefinitely unless one party gives a year's advance notice of termination.

The U. S. honey crop declined seven per cent in 1959, according to estimates by the Crop Reporting Board.

Estranged Wife Of Missing Salesman Believes He Posed As Ex-Convict Listed In Air Crash

MIAMI (UPI) — Who was the mystery man who boarded the ill-fated DC-7B airliner that crashed in the Gulf of Mexico Nov. 16, killing all 42 persons on board? Mrs. Alice Steel Taylor of Tampa, insists it was her missing estranged husband, William Allen Taylor, 34.

Mrs. Robert V. Spears, the young Dallas, Tex., wife of an ex-convict doctor who booked passage on the flight, claims that if her husband were alive "he would be here with me and the babies."

Did Dr. Robert Spears, 64, whose criminal record dates back 43 years, trick Taylor into taking his place in an attempt to defraud an insurance company out of $100,000?

The FBI told a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing on the crash that the chief investigator of the Los Angeles County district attorney's office theorized that "Spears might have had someone travel for him to collect a large insurance policy for the benefit of his young wife."

Spears' Dallas attorney, Charles W. Tesmer, said Spears took out a $50,000 to $100,000 "common carrier" policy last September which was good for all commercial airline flights.

The crash investigation began to take on the hue of the Jan. 6 crash of an airliner over North Carolina in which 24 persons died. The FBI and the CAB are checking the theory that Julian Andrew Frank, a 32-year-old attorney from Westport, Conn., carried a bomb aboard the DC-7B in an attempt to defraud insurance companies out of nearly $800,000 with policies naming his wife as beneficiary.

Both tragedies involved National Airlines' flights.

Mrs. Taylor believes Spears lured her husband to take his place on the short hop from Tampa to New Orleans.

"It could have been that he (Spears) could have hypothesized my husband," Mrs. Taylor said.

"I intend to live to be 100, and I'll celebrate that birthday here, too," Tony said Sunday. "I've been a San Quentin prison man for nine on 40 years—and when I leave it will be feet first."

Prison Is Home To Old Convict

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (UPI) — Tony De Tardo has had the same address for 40 years and he won't change it for "hell or high water."

Sunday he was moved to tears when friends and colleagues gathered around to help him blow out the 45 candles on his birthday cake. It's about the same every year — except the faces change and there's another candle each time.

De Tardo has had eight offers to seek what is considered "a better life," but he politely turned down each of them.

He came here in 1920, shortly after he shot his pregnant wife to death.

"I intend to live to be 100, and I'll celebrate that birthday here, too," Tony said Sunday. "I've been a San Quentin prison man for nine on 40 years—and when I leave it will be feet first."

Hunt On For 'Mr. X' In LSU Slaying

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — Dean George H. Mickey's attorney declined comment today on a report that the educator's family had located the "Mr. X" who could have been his slayer in the murder of attractive Margaret Rosamond McMillan.

"I'm not going to comment one way or the other on something like that," said attorney Robert L. Klempeter.

The report that the man had been located in Dallas was said to have circulated among friends of the Mickey family. Mickey, 49, an internationally known scientist and dean of the Louisiana State University graduate school, is in East Baton Rouge Parish jail, charged with murder.

"Rosie" McMillan, 33, an unmarried assistant professor of biology in the LSU New Orleans branch, was slain with 19 blood-oon blows that shattered her skull. Her body was found on a private lane six miles south of Baton Rouge at 4:30 a. m. Sunday, Jan. 10. She had been a scientific protege of Mickey's for several years.

Dist. Atty. J. St. Clair Favrot announced over the weekend that on the night of Jan. 9, when she was savagely beaten, Mickey claims to have spent from 8:30 to 9 p. m. in the company of a man named, to his best recollection, Sharon, Sheridan, Sherrill, or something similar.

The district attorney said Dr. Mickey told him the man was 30 to 35 years old, five-foot-ten, of medium build, and dark-haired. Mickey said the man was from the U. S. Department of Education in Washington. The dean said he and the man discussed graduate fellowship grants over dinner at a Baton Rouge hotel.

The dean said he then took the man to the airport to board a plane for Houston, Tex. The district attorney said no one of that name or description is doing such work in the education department, that no one left the airport for Houston at the time indicated, and that investigators have concluded that "no such person exists."

Favrot called the man "Mr. X" and suggested rather sarcastically that everybody should try to help find him. He implied that he believed the attack took place during those three and one-half hours.

Deadlock Reported Over Cyprus Base

LONDON (UPI) — British, Turkish and Greek Cypriot delegates were deadlocked today over a British demand for a 125-square-mile military base on Cyprus as the price for that island's independence on Feb. 19.

The conference, which began on Saturday, resumed a gain this morning to try to work out details of the year-old agreement under which the former colony is to become an independent nation within the British Commonwealth.

But Britain says it must have a major 16,000-man military base there to be able to cope with "brush fire" wars in the Middle East and because Cyprus is necessary for NATO. The main opposition comes from Archbishop Makarios, Cypriot president-elect.

He was willing to allow a much smaller base but said Britain was trying to set up a "little Hong Kong" in the Mediterranean and that any base should be limited to about 30 square miles.

Complete deadlock might delay independence between now and the Feb. 19 target date and perhaps result in new outbreaks of violence on the island which has already seen nearly four years of bloodshed.

One of the chief objections offered by Greek Cypriots was that the base area wanted by Britain contained some of the island's most important farm land and two of the island's three underground water tables needed for agricultural development.

John Quincy Adams was elected President by one vote in the electoral college.

Pinay's Refusal To Step Down Led To Firing

By PHIL NEWSON
UPI Foreign Editor

The man-of-the-week: Antoine Pinay, fired as finance minister of France.

The place: Paris.

The quote: "Do you think I'm going to keep Jacquespoint company?"

It was the bitter remark of a man at another turn in the road of a political life which has had many turns.

It was Pinay's exit line from the government of President Charles de Gaulle's Fifth Republic when success in restoring the French economy is just over a year's time largely has been attributed to Pinay.

The reference was to Louis Jacquespoint, a member of Pinay's own Independent (Conservative) Party, who holds a post of minister of state but with little or no power.

In effect, it was an assumption of Pinay's own attitude. Pinay, a "hard money" man, was saying that either he would rule French financial policy, or he would be fired. He would not resign.

To be sure, there was one more line. It came 24 hours later, after a final conference between Pinay and de Gaulle at which Pinay reportedly refused to accept a post which represented a step down.

"I am quitting for all political and life," he said, "at least momentarily."

The letter phrase meant that Pinay believed there would be no other wing of the pendulum as there has been many times for him in the last 25 years and that once again, sometime, he would return to the "bear pit" of French politics.

It was obvious that de Gaulle let Pinay go with reluctance.

There was the possibility Pinay would lead his fellow Conservatives in the French Assembly in revolt against de Gaulle, in which de Gaulle might have to abandon all pretense of democratic procedure and rule as a virtual dictator.

There also was the risk to the French economy, of which Pinay was regarded as the bulwark.

de Gaulle offset the latter by appointment of the governor of the Bank of France, Wilfrid Baumgartner, to take Pinay's place as minister of finance. On finances, Pinay and Baumgartner think much alike.

The immediate crisis leading to Pinay's ouster sprang from a quarrel with Premier Michel Debré and the advance guard of the de Gaulle cabinet whom Pinay accused of wishing to "Sovietize" large sections of French industry by nationalization.

However, there was more. It stemmed from Pinay's dissatisfaction with de Gaulle's lukewarm attitude toward the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance and Pinay's opposition to a soft line toward the revolt in Algeria.

de Gaulle has blocked integration of French forces into NATO, the West European defense concept for which Pinay has fought since he first was premier in 1952.

His announcement that he was "retiring" from political life indicated he neither would lead nor participate in a revolt against de Gaulle now. But, significantly, he left the door open.

Ernie Ford's Corn Version Of Pinafore Is Success

By FRED BANNING
NEW YORK (UPI)—The credo of the gang-and-dance man, "always leave 'em wanting more," was practiced Thursday night when Tennessee Ernie Ford presented his entertaining condensation of "H.M.S. Pinafore."

Twelve brick members from the 57th Street and Sullivan opera were chopped up, packed tightly and crammed aboard "Pinafore" during the half-hour NBC-TV concert. It seemed as if each familiar phrase, starting as "I am the Captain of the Pinafore," "Buttercup," and "We Sail the Ocean Blue," would just start to roll when they had to end. And that noble singer, sea-picker Ernie Ford, packed the sea-tinged plot along with his usual back-porch badinage.

Speaking of the snobbery rampant in 19th Century England, Ford said "there were no holes in the fence so a rooster to get into the wrong hen house." Referring to a vision, he quipped, "that's a thinking woman's husband." Of a social butler, this comment: "His leasins is 'ver dry."

While some Gilbert and Sullivan purists might consider Ford the hour ball in the cultural gravy, I felt Ford's charming, riposte added sparkle to the production and were not disrespectful to the G-and-S opera. In fact, despite the harsh editing made necessary by the time limitation, the entire production remained faithful to the "Pinafore" spirit.

Ford, as the Rt. Hon. Sir Joseph Porter, K.C.B., conveyed a solid grasp of the stuffy role and brought out its humor.

It may have been a short pinafore, but it was well-designed and pleasing to eye and ear.

Dressing and fitting: Don Amosco captured everyone by wearing a bold striped tie on Thursday night's ABC-TV Pat Boone Show. The show had one of its finest moments with its "At the Moving Picture Ball" number, although the singer could have used more. CBS Reports presented a special report Thursday night, its controversial "The Population Explosion," first seen last November. A round-table discussion rounded out the expanded 90-minute show as Dr. Harrison Brown of Cal Tech, Dr. Colin Clark of Oxford and Paul Hoffman of the United Nations presented their respective views with calm conviction. Which is as it should be.

The Channel Swim: Bob Hope, who just signed to do the 20-minute Oscar telecast on NBC Monday, April 4, also will narrate NBC-TV's "Not So Long Ago," a nostalgic look at the years 1945-50, set for Friday, Feb. 19.

The grapevine says Sylvania Awards will go to Ingrid Bergman for her acting in "The Turn of the Screw," Laurence Olivier for his job in "The Moon and Sixpence," and the Starline Christmas musical with Leonard Bernstein. "Harrison and Son," starring Pat O'Brien as an elderly lawyer, is due for fall presentation on ABC-TV. Cy Howard created the series and DeSilla will produce it. "Reading a Loud," a half-hour series featuring world-famous people reading favorite literary works to youngsters, goes into national syndication following its debut on the five station Westinghouse Broadcasting Company network starting Jan. 26. Japan's Takarazuka dancers make their American TV debut on the Ed Sullivan show Sunday, Jan. 24.

Garden Club Starts At North Orlando

A garden club has been formed by a group of residents of North Orlando.

Mrs. Robert W. Dean and Mrs. G. E. Dorman served as co-hostesses for the organizational meeting.

Mrs. Velle Williams Jr., president of the Sanford Garden Club, met with the group to assist with the planning. She briefed them on rules and regulations and offered suggestions.

She explained that the club should be a working club, each meeting bringing forth new ideas and that its main objective should be a community project to beautify school grounds, parks and homes.

Mrs. Dean was elected temporary chairman and Mrs. Anton Kreck, temporary secretary. Future meeting dates will be announced later.

SIXTEEN SCIENTISTS, stranded on an Arctic Ocean ice station that is breaking up, were rescued. There were 28 men on the island, including 13 civilian scientists, three Air Force officers and 12 military men supporting the scientific group. The senior officer on the cracking Arctic floe was Air Force Capt. Arthur Schroeder (above), of Houston, Tex.

Prefabs Aren't New

50 Passengers Cremated As Plane Falls In Woods

HOLDCROFT, Va. (UPI) — A Capital Airlines turbo-prop plane pancaked into a dense wooded area only a few minutes away from its destination Monday night and flames cremated the 50 persons aboard. Three of the dead were children.

The British-made plane's jet-powered engines apparently failed on the last 50 miles of a flight from Washington to Norfolk, Va., and the Viscount plummeted almost straight down in a shroud of fog and drizzle.

The plane smacked into the slope of a small ravine and burst into flames. The fire raged for more than eight hours while rescuers stood by helplessly, unable even to get near enough to see if anyone inside had a chance to survive.

Troopers, deputies and rescue teams fought through a tangle of briars and underbrush for nearly a mile to reach the scene, about 20 miles east of Richmond.

It was the second major airline disaster within 12 days. A National Airlines plane disintegrated over Bolivia, N. C., Jan. 6, killing 34 persons. As in the National crash, Monday's disaster came without

Seminole County Hospital Budget Anticipated At $693,640 For '60

The County Commission today received the 1960 anticipated budget for Seminole Memorial Hospital which was set at $693,640.

In a statement on last year's finances, the hospital reported a budget of $688,918 with $647,318 from patients' revenues, $24,602 from tax receipts and $16,998 from contributions.

Anticipated patients revenue during 1960, according to the budget, is expected to be $688,400 with tax revenue at $25,000; interest, $6,000 and contributions, $5,000.

In other business during the meeting, Commissioner Vernon Dunn requested that County Clerk David Gatchel write a letter to the Orange County commissioners urging them to speed up action to join in a program of eliminating flooding in areas of South Seminole and Orange Counties.

The commission today said that this county is "ready to go" and set up a special drainage district but is waiting for word from the Orange County board to work together on the program.

The board also authorized John Kridler to negotiate with the Over-

$30 Million To Be Added To Tax Roll, McCanna Says

Funds For Field Work Asked By Assessor

County Tax Assessor Richard McCanna today told the County Commission that he expects to add $30 million to the tax roll this year and asked the board for additional money to carry on a large scale field review of new homes.

McCanna told the board he wants to increase his field crew staff from three to five men. He said that 2,000 to 3,000 new homes have been built in the county in 1959 and all these have to be measured and checked.

In a letter to the board, McCanna said that "due to the greatly increased scope of operations in the tax assessor's office it will be necessary for the board to provide additional funds for this office's operations during 1960."

McCanna pointed out that another reason for lack of funds in addition to the increased amount of work is a new schedule of commissions which has been brought into effect due to the high level of assessments.

Snow Storm Leaves Long Trail Of Death

The new year's biggest snow storm, leaving a trail of death from Texas to the Great Lakes, struck at New England today with up to eight inches of snow. Heavy snow warnings were issued for New Hampshire, Vermont and Maine. Sleet and freezing rain were forecast for Massachusetts and Connecticut, and light snows hit New York State and Pennsylvania.

The storm originated in Texas Saturday night and swept up the Mississippi Valley with paralyzing snowfalls and sub-freezing weather.

It claimed at least 31 lives, in highway accidents, freezing, cold weather, obstructions and heart attacks.

As schools and highways began to re-open in the midwest and northern plains states, three to eight inches of snow hit the Northeast. Two inches fell in southwestern Virginia today.

High drifts still blocked a few roads in Colorado and Nebraska. Schools had been closed in Omaha and Lincoln, Neb., and in many small towns through the storm area.

Northerly winds following the storm pushed temperatures down by as much as 20 degrees to the low 30s from Georgia to Virginia. High winds were common from Pennsylvania southward to Texas.

The zero to 10-degree range covered most of the area from the Dakotas to Kansas. The mercury plunged to 10 to 15 below in the Rockies and coast to the one near the Pacific Coast.

Blount has been close personal friend of the McCarty's for over 30 years. While McCarty took a course at the law school at Stetson University he resided at the Blount home.

The president scheduled a 30-minute conference with Kishi and other Japanese officials prior to the signing ceremony.

Board Agrees To Buy, Install SR 436 Light

The State Road Department today notified the County Commissioners that there is not enough money in the budget to install a traffic light at the intersection of SR 436 and U.S. 1792 so the board decided to purchase the light at a cost of $12,500.

Money for the purchase will come out of secondary road funds. Commissioner Vernon Dunn said the board that "no one life is saved at the critical intersection, the price is cheap."

In other road business, the board agreed to ask the SRD to place Red Bug Lake Road and a portion of SR 46A in the secondary road system because of the high traffic counts on both roads.

The board also heard a request for paving a portion of Lakeview Ave. in Lake Mary because of the heavy traffic and poor condition of the road.

Commissioner Lawrence Bradford told James Avery Jr. of Lake Mary that the board would stabilize and improve the road in the near future.

Avery said he had a petition with 77 names on it asking the county to improve the road.

The board authorized Engineer Robert Davis to let all county road crews work 16 hours a day under the present good weather conditions to carry on all the needed road work in the county.

The board also agreed to spend $900 to build 10x22 double signs on U.S. 17-92 advertising Big Tree Park.

County Democrats Meet Wednesday

The group will also plan to promote voter registration starting March 6 when county registration books open.

Moore, who escaped from a prison road gang in 1955 had served a half year of his term. He confessed his escape when Deputy W. E. Seeborg arrested him on a vagrancy charge Thursday.

It'll Be Cold

The first full-fledged cold wave of the winter past an end to summer weather in Seminole County today.

Temperatures dropped to 40 degrees over the county last night and early this morning but no frost was reported.

Cold weather is expected to continue tonight, with freezing weather in some portions of Central Florida.

Around the state, temperatures dropped to freezing over the extreme north portion early today. And the weatherman said it would be colder tonight.

Readings as low as 22 were forecast for tonight in the panhandle region with a freeze likely over much of the northern tip of the peninsula.

Even tourist-jammed Miami was warned to brace for nighttime temperatures in the 40's.

Casselberry To Post New Street Speed Limit Signs

The Casselberry Town Council last night decided to post signs on Seminola Blvd. setting the speed limit at 24 m.p.h.

The council set speed limits on other town roads at 25 m.p.h. and ordered an ordinance drawn up to this effect. The councilmen agreed that the speed limit on Hwy. 17-92 through town would remain 35 m.p.h.

The council also decided to delay discussion of a group of Negro residents about annexation to Casselberry until the group makes a formal request. Mayor W. M. Benson said that a group of Negroes living toward Allamonte Springs had asked about coming in since Monday.

Getting Casselberry's rules in order, the council voted to have town attorney Len J. Collins get information on a good ordinance covering issuance of occupational licenses.

Former Navy man and Ringier priest expert Ed Pender was named assistant town marshal. He will serve one day a week to give Marshal Gus Rawner a rest and will take over during Rawner's vacation.

The town fathers also said that the rule which says that a fence shouldn't be higher than four feet is a violation of state law which demands 4 1/2 feet for swimming pools. Hilbard Casselberry said there are six-foot fences in town. The council voted to have Collins find out what fence height Winter Park requires.

The town fathers also said that Collins should review the Casselberry garbage collector's contract to give the collector an exclusive collection right.

Finishing off the nearly three hour meeting the council postponed Alfred Dewey building a sewer and took time out for a meeting some time.
