For the second straight year, the Laka Mary girls cross country team finished second in the Class 4A State Meet, but this time it was especially tough to take, as the Rams finished just one point, or one position, out of the winner's circle.

Juvenile justice hopes to dodge budget ax

By Christopher Patton
Staff Writer

During first special session, department's budget slashed by 20 percent

TALLAHASSEE — When state legislators convene Nov. 27 for a second round of special sessions aimed at solving the current $1.4 billion budget deficit, the juvenile justice department — among others — will be looking for a better outcome in the rematch.

In the Oct. 23 special session, the house and senate both passed legislation addressing the state's loss of revenues caused by the slowing economy. Neither were enacted into law because of a governor's veto.

"The compromise reached by both houses gave emphasis to the use of a large percentage of our state's cash reserves, without making enough cuts in our recurring revenue funds," stated Jeb Bush in his weekly newsletter.

Florida Department of Juvenile Justice Secretary W.G. "Bill" Bankhead said Monday he is concerned deep cuts initially proposed in juvenile justice will effect public safety if approved by the governor.

"There is some tough choices the legislature is going to have to make," he said. "I understand what needs to be done, but it can be done in a more thoughtful way where the sacrifices are shared."

In the first special session, the senate planned to trim $65 million from juvenile justice. That's more than 20 percent of the departments $290 million budget. Those cuts would translate into "significant losses" said Bankhead with more than 500

A Sanford woman escapes death despite storing her smoke detector in a kitchen drawer

By Dan Ping

SANFORD — Catherine Stokley knows the importance of smoke detectors. She had one installed in her Grove Drive home, but like a lot of people, she only checked the device sporadically.

Four weeks ago the smoke detector began beeping intermediately.

"It was beeping for a new battery," Stokley said. "I didn't have a battery right then, so I took it down and put it on the counter. It got pushed under some stuff, and then got put in a drawer. I just forgot about it."

Her absentmindedness nearly cost Stokley her life.

Early Thursday morning, a smoldering ember from a cigarette ignited a couch. Without the early warning of a smoke detector, the house quickly filled with deadly smoke and carbon monoxide. Fortunately, one of Stokley's roommates woke up to the fire and was able to get out of the house.

"He was yelling, 'The house is on fire! the house is on fire!' That's what woke me up,"

Sanford Fire Inspector Tim Robles reminds people to install smoke detectors in their homes and to check them monthly. During an investigation of an early Thursday morning fire, Robles discovered the home did not have a functioning smoke detector. The residents, who were asleep at the time the fire began, escaped without serious injuries. "These folks were very lucky," Robles said.

Stokley said.

Getting out of the house presented a problem. The house had no rear door, and the front door was in the living room, which was engulfed in flames.

Stokley's neighbor Greg

Clayton was getting ready for his job at the city of Sanford when he heard the yelling. He ran next door and was able to pull Stokley through the bedroom window.

"His actions saved Catherine Stokley's life," said Tim Robles, fire inspector for Sanford.

Of the four people in the home, three were injured, Robles said. Stokley was the Residents 'paint the town'

CASSELBERRY — More than 70 community and business volunteers put on their work clothes Saturday and spent the day painting their neighbor's houses as part of the first "Paint Your Heart Out Casselberry."

The painting program, initiated by the city of Casselberry and various sponsors, was a one-day event where volunteers painted the exterior of homes for the elderly, low-income and other families in need, said Dineé Eriksen, Casselberry Neighborhood Services Program coordinator. On Saturday, three families within the community were selected to have their homes painted for the first Paint Day.

"It was a great day," Eriksen said. "The weather was perfect, and we had more volunteers than we had hoped for. We had volunteers coming out of the woodwork."

According to Eriksen, the city of Casselberry is currently involved in an initiative to improve neighborhoods within the community. When she became the coordinator for the Neighborhood Services Program, one of her goals was to establish an annual event where volunteers helped improve the aesthetics of the city's residences.

About a month ago, Eriksen sent a utility insert informing residents about the upcoming Paint Day. Citizens who met the criteria were asked to submit applications to participate in the program. "We were basically looking at income and age," she said. "We really wanted to help seniors who live on fixed incomes."

More than 50 people inquired and submitted applications for the program. Based on the applications, a committee made site visits to determine which houses would be chosen for the first "Paint Your Heart Out Casselberry."

"We had to look at what houses, logistically, we could paint," Eriksen said. "Some of the houses we just couldn't do."

With contributions from the Rotary Club of Casselberry, Crown Bank, Home Depot and the city, volunteers had enough paint and equipment to chip,

Sanford native Roberts named Pasco County's first black judge

Sanford native Debra Roberts, an attorney for the Pasco-Pinellas judicial court, was named Thursday Pasco County's first black judge.

Gov. Jeb Bush appointed Roberts, 48, to fill the new judgeship, which will be based in the New Port Richey Courthouse. She will take the bench in January, presiding mostly over criminal misdemeanor cases.

Roberts said she is excited about her appointment, and she is looking forward to serving the citizens of Pasco County. The appointment is the culmination of her lifelong ambition to become a judge.

Equally gratifying, she said, is the historical significance of being the first African-American to sit on the bench in Pasco County.

"It's important that we have diversity on the bench," she said. Her appointment will run until 2004, when she will be required to run for election.

Roberts has been court counsel for the 6th Judicial Circuit since 1994, serving as chief legal advisor to judges and courts on issues of employment and ethi-

Crafts festival creates a stink in Longwood

By Christopher Patton
Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — A silver anniversary for the Longwood art and craft festival last weekend left several city residents asking for a divorce from the event and commissioners wondering why an ordinance trying to protect event goers didn't work.

The city commission recently passed an ordinance requiring all event participants to register their booths. Violators would have been charged with a third degree misdemeanor. The problem? There is no such thing as a third degree misdemeanor.

When a Warren Avenue resident started selling hot-dogs out of his yard during the event Longwood police did not intervene because of the faulty ordinance.

"Our intention was clear," said Commissioner Steve Miller. "Everybody knew it, unfortunately they didn't carry it out because of a loophole technicality, hocus pocus, or whatever you want to call it."

According to Mayor Paul Lovestrand, the situation could

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

Turnabout is fair play for neglectful grandmother

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law, "Vera," is a difficult person. She declares her opinion on anything and everything, and doesn't care whether it's hurtful, if it's asked for, or even if it's her place to speak up at all.

Dear Abby

She also plays favorites with her children and grandchildren. Vera has always felt it is her right to discipline her grandkids, even if their parents are present.

My husband says with a chuckle that she's too old to change, that she's got a good heart and means well. I chalk it up to her being meddling and overbearing.

Vera has treated me with disrespect during most of our marriage, many times in front of our children. In spite of this, I have never said a bad word about her in front of the children and have tried to cover for her when it was obvious she was playing favorites.

All this has not been easy, because my mother-in-law has not had a lot of time for our family. As a result, she doesn't really know our children individually. My husband is blind to how his mother's behavior has affected our kids.

Our oldest son is now a freshman at a university about half an hour from Vera's home. She remarked to me several times before he left that she is looking forward to seeing him on weekends, and that she has many chores for him to do.

When we were packing our son off to school, I mentioned this to him. He looked me straight in the eye and said: "No, Mom. Grandma treats you like dirt. She hasn't had time for me in the last 18 years. Now I don't have time for HER."

My son asked that I not give Vera his phone number. We agreed that, to be fair, I would not give anyone in the family his number, and that he would take a list of family addresses and phone numbers so he could contact relatives himself.

Abby, what do I say to my mother-in-law? I understand where our son is coming from, but I feel he should show some respect to his grandmother. He left last weekend, and Vera will be calling soon to get his number. There are going to be repercussions if I withhold it from her. Please help.

DESPERATE DAUGHTER-IN-LAW

DEAR DESPERATE: Your mother-in-law is reaping the harvest of what she has sown. Tell her that college is a big adjustment for your son — it's the truth — and that he has her number with him. In the meantime, she'll have to find someone else to do her chores.

Don't make your son feel guilty for not loving someone who hasn't loved him. His silence will deliver his message loud and clear.

DEAR ABBY: I am 20 years old. My parents have been married 31 years. My parents and I have a great relationship. Dad and I work in the same office.

I looked in my father's desk for something, and much to my surprise, I discovered two boxes of condoms. I wasn't snooping. In our office, we are always in and out of one another's desks, getting business cards or other office needs.

Abby, I can't see why my father would need condoms, especially at work. The first thing that crossed my mind is that my father may be cheating. Should I confront him?

PERPLEXED DAUGHTER IN ALBERTA

DEAR PERPLEXED DAUGHTER: If you're smart, you'll M.Y.O.B. and assume someone gave the condoms to your father as a joke. Say nothing to him about them. Possession doesn't necessarily mean he is guilty of anything.

Dear Abby is written by Pauline Phillips and daughter Jeanne Phillips.

Wekiva, Lawton, Altamonte, and Bear Lake elementary schools all are still in position to be a winner.

The top schools so far this year include English Estates Elementary School, South Seminole Middle School and Lyman High School.

to provided specific information regarding the alleged incidents. Bentley was hired on Sept. 10 as a community service officer. On Oct. 29, Bentley was promoted to the position of police officer and was currently in field training. He was suspended Nov. 16 with pay pending the outcome of the investigation.

In an unrelated matter, the city officials announced Nov. 13 that the new chief of police will be Deputy Chief Robert Merchant. Current police chief, William Liquori, announced several months ago his plan to retire in May 2002 after 19 years of service to the city and more than 43 years in law enforcement. Merchant received the nod over fellow Deputy Chief Mike Deal.

Beginning Jan. 1, Merchant will assume day-to-day operations of the department and will be working with Liquori to ensure a smooth and efficient transfer of leadership, said department spokesman Officer Derrick Becton. On May 1, Merchant will be sworn in as the 16th chief of police for the city.

"Both deputy chiefs have gone through a tough selection process and they both need to be congratulated," Liquori said in a statement released to the department. "Please take the time to shake their hands and congratulate them for a job well done."

The meeting will be in the Courtyard Heathrow. The meeting fee is $15 and includes dinner. For reservations, call the message line at 407-333-3655 by Friday, Nov. 30.

Reckline speaks to Kiwanians

Photo submitted
Seminole County Salvation Army Commander, Capt. Robert A. Reckline, recently addressed the Central Florida Kiwanians at their October Division meeting. During his discussion, he explained the community needs of area families, particularly at this time of year. Many families suddenly find themselves in a financial bind due to job layoffs or major health emergencies and are unable to cover normal expenses, such as food, utility bills and transportation. He also discussed his recent trip to New York City, where he was coordinating the feeding of firemen and construction debris removal crews at Ground Zero of the Twin Towers disaster.

scrape and paint three houses. The group also made minor repairs and renovations to help improve the appearances of the homes.

Maria and Ricardo Manrique's house on Pine Tree Drive was one of the three houses selected for the first Paint Day. The couple, who spend most of their time at home, have lived in their Casselberry home for the past nine years.

Having their house painted was a dream come true, Maria said.

"What can I say — it's marvelous," said Maria Manrique. "I was so surprised when they told me we were selected. It was the grace from the good Lord."

On a fixed income, the elderly couple did not have enough money to pay for the painting of their house. As a result of the city's neighborhood program, they now live in a freshly painted, beige home.

"It's beautiful," Maria said. Eriksen said she hopes to raise enough sponsors for the Paint Day program to be held twice a year. Her goal is to paint at least 40 homes each year.

"I think we can do it," she said. "Everybody was really excited about this first event. We are looking forward to next year."

The next Paint Your Heart Out Casselberry is tentatively scheduled for February. People interested in applying for the program can call Eriksen at 407-262-7700, ext. 1302. Businesses and organizations interested in volunteering or sponsoring the Paint Day are also encouraged to call.

Rivership Romance Cruises

Fans of ocean cruising expect fine dining, but it comes as a pleasant surprise on an eco-tour of the St. Johns River from downtown Sanford.

Bob, Evie and Robert Hopkins, who operate Romance Cruises from the Monroe Harbor Marina, say visitors to their flagship Rivership Romance regularly express surprise when they discover the climate-controlled ship's main deck is a first class restaurant. "People used to self-service buffets and limited choices on river cruises are excited first with our spacious booths and picture windows. And really excited with the seasonally-changing multi-course menus whose entrees are individually prepared, and brought by our outstanding serving staff from the gourmet galley directly to the cloth covered table," Bob says. The Hopkins' experience as owners-operators of area eating places shows in both the casual dining luncheon cruises and more formal dinner and special occasion trips back in time on the historic St. Johns.

"While we love to have visitors to Florida learn about our history and how we are working to preserve the natural beauty and abundant wildlife of the River, the backbone of our business is residents of the Central Florida region," Evie adds, "and the way to keep them coming back is quality food and service." A typical menu for one of the three or four hour Romance cruises offers passengers a choice of Chicken Breast St. John, Dueling Pork Chops, a parchment-wrapped Seafood Medley, custom cut Prime Rib of Beef Au Jus, a Tropical Waldorf Chicken Salad or, for vegetarians, the Colonel's Eggplant Parmesan. As the ship crosses Lake Monroe to head downstream through undeveloped stretches of the scenic St. Johns, guests enjoy appetizers and a full-service bar adds to the variety of drinks available.

For information on Romance Cruises visit the ship's office at the Marina or call 321-5091 or 800-423-7401 outside the Sanford area. See the ship and cruise details on the internet at www.rivershipromance.com.

Enjoy the natural beauty and abundant wildlife while experiencing fine dining and excellent service.

most seriously injured with cuts on her leg and hands requiring more than 20 stitches. Her daughter received a minor burner on her hand, mostly likely from grabbing a hot door knob as she escaped from the home. A second roommate received minor cuts on the hand.

"These folks were very lucky," Robles said. "The formula in this case — smoldering cigarette ember, no smoke detector, no rear exit — usually equals death. Rarely do you have someone say, 'I woke up and there was a fire.' Usually carbon monoxide poisoning and smoke inhalation takes effect before the person wakes up."

"This fire didn't have a lot of flames, but it had a lot of smoke," he added. "Most of the damage in the house in smoke damage, not fire damage. We were very fortunate that we didn't have a fatality here."

Robles said Stokley's experience reinforces the importance of not only installing smoke detectors, but regularly checking them.

"You should check them once a month," Robles said. "Just push the little button, it takes about 20 seconds to check it. You should also change the battery twice a year, once in the fall and once in the spring when you change your clocks."

While important all year, smoke detectors take on added importance during the holidays when the potential for fires increase.

"At this time of year, people are burning candles, they use a lot of extension cords and you've got Christmas trees strung with lights," Robles said. "You've got a lot more chances for things to happen, and you're going to need early warning."

"Smoke detectors detect the hazardous gases produced in a fire within about two minutes of a blaze beginning," he added. "That early warning is often the difference between life and death."

Stokley agrees. "If the smoke detector was working, we would have got out a lot sooner," she said.

In fact, Robles said a smoke detector would have prevented Stokley's injuries.

"Her injuries occurred when she had to climb through the broken window, not from the flames," Robles said. "If she gets that warning within two minutes of the fire starting, she walks — or runs — out the front door instead of going out the window."

There are a variety of smoke detectors on the market with different features and sensors. However, the key to elements in a good detector are fresh batteries and regular testing.

"The best smoke detector is the one that is tested monthly," Robles said. "If you go with an electric powered, make sure it has a battery back-up. And always replace the batteries, even if they've only been used during your monthly test. They're a cheap investment for safety."

In a new home, Robles recommends a smoke detector in each bedroom and one in each hallway near a bedroom. For obvious reasons, he suggests not putting a smoke detector in the kitchen, but instead putting one in the hallway or room next to the kitchen.

Detectors should be installed on a wall 6 inches from the ceiling, or better yet, on the ceiling.

"Follow the manufacturer's instructions for installation," Robles said. "That way, you'll know it's installed correctly."

For more information about smoke detectors or fire safety, call Robles at 407-302-2520.

have been serious, possibly resulting in a lawsuit if an unregistered food vendor sold tainted food at a city event.

"I can not understand why our policemen can't shut down an illegal merchant," Lovestrund said.

The problems outlined by the commission during their Monday meeting didn't end with the illegal hot-dog seller. Miller also pointed out that city's public safety director was taking extra-duty pay away from Longwood officers.

In events such as the craft festival, officers are offered detail duty to patrol the event. The extra duty is offered to officers to supplement their income, but its being "commandeered by the upper management," Miller said. Judy Putz, owner of Warren Avenue business Judy's Dolls, confronted Miller and Lovestrund during a break in the meeting about trash left behind and yard damage by the craft festival vendors.

In response to the Putz's complaints, Annie Huckeba of Orlando recorded several hours of comments from festival goers for the commission's information.

"Every one is positive," said Huckeba, who operates a booth during the festival. "Many of the businesses even said they like it because it generates revenue for them."

In other business, Commissioner John Maingot passed the torch of deputy mayor to Commissioner Dan Anderson. The position of deputy mayor routinely is circulated between the commissioners.

The city's annual tree lighting event was also announced for Saturday, Dec. 8 from 4 to 6:15 p.m. at the corner of Warren and Wilma streets. Santa and his elf will arrive at 4:20 p.m. Santa will also be available for last requests Dec. 15 and 16 at the city.

The event will include performances by Lyman High School, Xtreme Dance Studio, a barber shop men's chorus, Longwood Elementary Chorus, English Estates "Primitime Singers" and drama group, Showtime Dance Studio and Dream Catchers Longwood Girl Scouts.

department employees losing their jobs including more than 300 probation officers.

"We're a relatively new agency," Bankhead said. "We haven't had a lot of time to grow a bureaucracy. Our department is probably the most centralized."

In addition to the possible personnel cuts, the juvenile justice department is also faced with delaying the opening of more than 800 new beds in residential facilities. Required operating costs to open the expanded facilities will not be available in the proposed cuts, Bankhead said.

New programs in the juvenile justice program also risk being slashed. The new "consequence units" where juveniles find "instant correction" of one to three weeks after violating a condition of a pre-trial release or probation was proposed to be cut in the legislature's first special session.

Another new program directly associated with the local area and effected by the proposed cuts is the governor's designated Front Porch communities. Bankhead had requested nearly $1.5 million for juvenile delinquency prevention programs in for Front Porch communities throughout the state, including Goldsboro, but those funds were also proposed to be cut.

The cuts couldn't be coming at a worse time, said Bankhead, as the once criticized juvenile justice system is making positive strides. A 61 percent reduction over the past year in kids sent to adult corrections and an ever increasing recidivism success rate since 1994 are signs of progress.

"We're doing something right in the preventive system, and a part of that is having enough facilities and personnel," he said.

"A diverse bench has to be a factor in the public's perception that justice will be delivered in an evenhanded and color-blind manner," said Pasco Circuit

Judge William Webb, who is the administrative judge for Pasco County.

Chosen from a field of three other finalists, Roberts possesses the skills, knowledge and background that will allow her to serve the citizens fairly and with great integrity.

Roberts received her law degree from Florida State University College of Law, a master's degree of social work from the Florida State University School of Social Work, a bachelor's degree from the University of Central Florida, and an associate's degree from Seminole Community College.

Before taking the job as counsel for the 6th Judicial Circuit, she was a senior staff attorney for the Florida Supreme Court, where she advised the chief justice, state courts administrator, trial court administrators and the personnel director of the State Courts System. She also provided staff support to the Florida Judicial College programs and judicial conferences.

She is vice-chair of the Board of Directors of Family Resources Inc., a mentor for Pinellas County Schools and a member of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority.

Patriot girls good as gold

Lake Brantley wins 3A State
Swimming ChampionshipBy Dean Smith

FT. LAUDERDALE — Junior Kerry McFadden won the 200 Yard Individual Medley and finished second in the 100 Yard Backstroke to lead the Lake Brantley girls to the Class 3A State Championship in the 2001 FHSAA Swimming and Diving Championships at the Hall of Fame Aquatic Complex in Ft. Lauderdale on Saturday.

The Patriots had at least one entrant in every event and had 15 finishes in the Top 16 to score 250 points, enough to top runner-up Winter Park (204 points) by 46 points. Boca Raton (203), Sarasota (198) and Gainesville-Buchholz (164) rounded out the top five.

Seminole was 19th, Lake Mary 21st and Oviedo tied for 40th.

McFadden was also a member of the 400 Free Relay team that placed second, joining senior Kristen Kelly and sophomores Kim Larson and Jennifer Li. Larson and Kelly finished in the top 16 in four events, Larson finishing third in both the 200 and 500 freestyle's and being a member of the 200 free relay along with Kelly, who was third in the 100 Butterfly and 13th in the 200 freestyle.

Li was on three finalists, finishing sixth in the 100 Breaststroke and eighth in the 200 Individual Medley in addition to being on the relay team.

Sophomore Ashley Napolitano also placed in three events, finishing ninth in the 50 freestyle and 14th in the 100 freestyle and being a member of the 200 free relay.

Junior Erin Demlow was a member of the 200 free relay.

In the boys' Class 3A meet, no Seminole County swimmer won an individual event, but all five teams, Lake Brantley, Winter Springs, Oviedo, Lake Mary, and Lyman, not to mention Seminole placing two divers in the top 24, finished in the top 25.

Runners-up....again

Rams girls
second in state cross
countryBy Dean Smith
Sports Editor

TAMPA — It doesn't get any closer than this.

For the second straight year, the Lake Mary girls cross country team finished second in the Class 4A State Meet, but this time it was especially tough to take, as the Rams finished just one point, or one position, out of the winner's circle.

The difference in winning and losing was probably the finish by Lake Mary junior star Jessica Zabel.

The defending state champion, who had won the conference, district and regional titles heading into the state meet, finished 12th at the Ed Radice Sports Complex in Tampa, more than a minute-and-a-half behind champion Jessica Hellender from Cooper City.

The best finish for the Rams was a ninth by senior Astrid Claessens.

Oviedo freshman Jennifer Barringer was the top Seminole County finisher, placing seventh.

Winter Springs finished seventh and Oviedo 12th in the team standings.

The top individual run by an SAC athlete was a fourth place finish by senior Kevin Cook, pacing Lyman to a 14th place finish in the Class 3A Boys Meet.

Fourteenth place proved to be very popular among SAC schools as the Lake Howell girls were 14th in Class 3A and the Seminole boys were 14th in Class 4A.

Senior Mike Guider from Oviedo was the top local finisher. See Running, Page 2B

Several Seminole Athletic Conference teams showed their stuff in the 2001 FHSAA (Florida High School Activities Association) Florida Cross Country Championships at the Ed Radice Sports Complex in Tampa this past Saturday morning. The top local runner in all of the classes was Lyman senior Kevin Cook (top right) who ran a 15:30.53 to finish fourth, but less than 19 seconds behind the winner, in the Class 3A Boys Meet, leading the Greyhounds to a 14th place finish as a team. Lake Howell senior Omar Morales (top left) did well also, finishing 24th in a time of 16:37.57, while Seminole senior Brett Martin (right) finished 69th in the Class 4A Boys race to help the Tribe to a surprising 14th place team finish.

Symons tops Pro Modified field at Orlando Speedworld

Special to the Herald

BITHLO — The final race of the FASCAR Pro Modified Tour turned out to be a good one Friday night at Orlando Speedworld with Jerry "the Hammer" Symons making a late-race move to secure the victory in his Kelly Roofing special.

Twenty-three modifieds were on hand for the event with Tampa's Aric Almirola setting fast time and earning the pole for the 35-lapper.

Almirola jumped to the lead at the drop of the green only to see Symons quickly squeeze past for the top spot. That lead was short-lived as a caution came out for a turn one multi-car tangle.

With the line-up reverting back to the last completed lap, Almirola was back out front and he made no mistakes on the restart as Symons tried every trick in his arsenal to pass the young driver who plans to move up to the Sunbelt Super Late Models next year.

Symons had the faster car, but Almirola was doing a great job battling a loose race car and holding Symons at bay until they came upon lapped traffic. Almirola drifted high in turn four and Symons dove through the middle to grab the lead with five laps to go. Symons easily led the remaining distance with Almirola holding off a late charge from Jason Boyd to get second. Boyd was third with Junior Purcell, making his first start here in some time driving a rather interesting looking new machine, fourth and Andy Saffioti fifth. Mike Fitch, Scott Millar, Frank Polly, Tom Root, and Rob Underwood rounded out the top 10.

Rusty Ebersole wrapped up his 2001 Super Late Model championship in style by dominating the 25-lapper for the Super Late Models. Ebersole grabbed the lead from Scott Reeves on lap seven and never looked back for his fifth win of the season in Mike Garrett's potent Garrett Fastings Systems Ford Taurus. Kenny Crites finished a distant second followed by Russ Thomson, Lake Mary's Mike Good and Matt Griffin. Reeves had problems and dropped out late in the race after a good run.

Bobby Orr drove the Ugly Duckling Car Sales/Alafaya Automotive machine to his second consecutive Mini Stock win in impressive style.

Starting 16th in an 18 car field, the 15-year-old methodically picked his way to the front. When early leaders Tim Clark and Trisha Gray tangled while battling for the lead, Orr found himself in second and quickly worked his way around Bo Davis for the top spot on the restart and was never headed from that point.

Mini-Stock point champion Tim "Missileman" McPhail took up the chase but had to settle for second. Davis was third ahead of Dick Laszlo and Randy Blakeslee.

Duane Freed stayed out front all the way to capture his third Super Stock win of the year.

Being in front was the place to be as there was plenty of action behind him with numerous spins and crashes eliminating much of the field. Rick Johns used his many years of Speedworld experience to slice and dice his way back to second after some early problems followed by John Hodge, Carl See Racing, Page 2B

City considers increase in water, sewer rates

By Dan Ping
Editor

SANFORD — City Commissioners will consider raising rates and fees for water, sewer and reclaimed water services during their Monday night meeting.

If approved, the new rate and fee schedules will begin in January and continue through the end of the fiscal year, September 2002.

In general, most residential customers will see no increase in their monthly service charge or their water usage rate up to 6,000 gallons per month.

Sewer rates will remain the same at $2.20 per 100 gallons, but the monthly service charge will increase 96 cents.

Reclaimed water service charges will increase 25 cents to $3.50 per month.

First rate hike in eight years will cost average consumer about $12 annually

Usage fees will double to 50 cents per 100 gallons from 25 cents.

After September 2002, the city will increase water and sewer charges 1 percent every year.

Rate changes were proposed by Public Resources Management Group Inc. (PRMG) conducted a rate study for the city. The study noted that the city had not increased water or sewer rates since 1993. The study also determined that the existing rates will not cover the system's capital expenses through 2006.

In particular, PRMG recommends the rate changes for capital improvements to:

- Meet customer growth requirements.
- Replace or upgrade existing facilities.
- Comply with increased regulations.
- Address environmental and water quality issues.

Henry Thomas, vice president of PRMG, said restructuring the rate schedules and implementing the 1 percent annual increase helps prevent substantial rates changes later.

"It makes good sense," Thomas said. "It helps you to avoid rate shock for large capital projects."

Thomas said Volusia County currently increases its water and sewer rates 4.5 percent each year. Volusia officials are expected to lower that rate to 3.5 percent.

The proposed rates rank at about the midpoint for surrounding communities. Under the new rates, Sanford residents who use 6,000 gallons of water and sewer will have a total bill of $34.65. That's $1.59 more than Casselberry residents and $3.42 more than Winter Springs customers pay. However, it's $2.74 cheaper than Seminole County residents pay, $2.12 less than DeLand and $4.93 less than Oviedo.

The changes will be outlined in a first reading of Ordinance 3685.

Don Ping can be reached at dping@seminoleherald.com or 407-322-2611.

Store bells ring

Patty Darnell and her 7-year-old daughter Jamie Baston survey the early morning crowd at the Target in Lake Mary before taking their place in line. Store officials said more than 1,000 people were at the store when the doors opened at 7 a.m. Customers appeared to be in a buying mood as 568 transactions were completed in the first hour, that's almost 10 transactions per minute.

High-tech, past favorites top holiday shoppers' lists

LAKE MARY — Despite exceptionally high video game sales so far this holiday season, initial customer purchases also reflect a renewed interest in older games and toys, according to one local department store manager.

A new wave of technically advanced toys are more than ever present on youngsters' wish lists, but classic holiday gifts such as the Easy Bake Oven, Magna Doodle and Milton Bradley's board games have a new interest with customers, said Julie Milanovich, Lake Mary Target manager.

A couple of the unique electronic holiday toys selling briskly other than video games include: Air Snare, a pair of drumsticks that play simulated rhythm sounds; e-Kara, a microphone that turns any normal television into a karaoke machine; and Leap Pad, an interactive book that helps children read a story.

Shayna Harris of Lake Mary did some holiday shopping with two of her grandchildren Wednesday said the e-Kara "is very hard to find," but was happy to see plenty at Target.

"We're just making a list today," said Harris who is preparing for eight days of Hanukkah and present shopping for her nine grandchild-

With seven to nine tractor-trailers arriving every night to restock the toy shelves, Target has many of the holiday's hottest gifts in stock, but simi-

Students donate to Eagle Fund

By Michelle Jerla
Managing Editor

SANFORD — Goldsboro Elementary School students spent a little more time with their chores during the past few weeks in order to raise money for the Eagles in Washington, D.C.

The students raised more than $800 for the Eagle Scholarship Fund, which was established in memory of three students and three teachers from Bertie Backus Middle School who died in the hijacked jet that crashed into the Pentagon. The Washington, D.C., group was headed to California on a field trip when terrorists hijacked American Airlines Flight 77 on Sept. 11.

"After Sept. 11, everyone wanted to do something meaningful for the children affected by the tragedy," Goldsboro Assistant Principal Jeanette Malone said. "The children wanted to participate more than just giving money, so we decided to do change for chores."

The students also wanted to help a school directly affected by the tragedy, Malone said. The students decided to send the money to Bertie Backus Middle School after reading about the Eagle Scholarship Fund in the newspaper.

"It was actually ironic," Malone said. "We found out they were also the Eagles after we started raising the money. It seemed like it was meant to be."

For several weeks, the students earned pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters for doing their chores. Fourth-grader Alexandria Rouse cleaned her church to raise money, while first-grader Collin Chandler earned $5 for cleaning his room and doing other chores around the house.

On Tuesday, Malone needed the assistance of a grocery cart to carry all the change the students collected to the local Albertson's store. Since sending

Farmers Market offers unique choices

By Michelle Jerla
Managing Editor

SANFORD — People seeking an alternative this year to the traditional holiday shopping experience may want to stop by downtown's Farmers Market.

During the past two years, shoppers venturing to Magnolia Square have seen numerous changes at the market, including an increase in vendors and products. No longer is it a place just to find food and beverages. Today's offerings include crafts, plants, flowers, produce and an array of homemade gift items.

"The market has changed a lot," Market Manager Lyn Hunter said. "When it first started, we had a lot of hot dog, drink and refreshment vendors. They helped get the market started; but, they've fallen by the wayside. We now have a more diverse offering."

The Tuesday Farmers Market began two years ago to help attract people to the downtown area and to give local merchants a place to sell their wares. From 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. each Tuesday, vendors set up shop while a loyal patronage of shoppers — along with visitors to downtown — enjoy the outdoor market and live entertainment.

Patrick Smith of J & P Nursery has been with the Sanford Farmers Market since its beginning. He remembers the first few weeks when Main Street tried to get the Tuesday Farmers Market started.

"The first week, there was a hurricane and the second week, there was a tropical storm," Smith said. "It could finally open during the third week."

Smith, who sells an array of indoor and outdoor plants at his booth, is one of the few vendors who has experienced all of the changes at the market.

"It has slowly gotten better," he said. "Although the last two months have been slow, the locals still support this market."

The market's loyal following and small town atmosphere are the reasons why Smith, who sells his plants at various markets throughout the area, said the Sanford event is his favorite.
