PHILADELPHIA — (UPI) — Obeying the party line is health habit No. 1 in Russia — and one result is a crop of children who are healthier generally than their American counterparts.

This is the diagnosis of Dr. Joseph Stokes Jr., president of the American Pediatric Society, who recently returned from a study tour of Russia to lay the groundwork for a long-range cultural exchange program.

"It seemed to me that the Russians do a much better job of preventive care than we do here," he explained, "and the result is that you have generally healthier children."

Dr. Stokes observed that children in the "lower-economic groups" in America often do not receive proper care because they are not taken to physicians or clinics.

"But in Russia," he said, "every baby must be brought to the hospital once a month for the first six months, then every other month up to one year, and then two to four times a year after that until the age of seven, when the school authorities take over. At that time their medical case histories are turned over to the school doctors."

"A number of phases of our medical research, however, are more advanced than over here," Dr. Stokes said, explaining that we have made greater strides, for example, in the field of rheumatic fever, which is one of the top child killers in Russia.

The No. 1 killer in the United States, he said, is accidents.

"We have so many more automobiles on the streets than in Russia. There they have more trucks, and the trucks move much slower. I can't say what it will be like two years from now."

Local FFA Sets Membership Record

The Seminole High School FFA Chapter this year has inducted more new members than in any year since the FFA started here in 1929.

Ray Rush, chapter reporter, said the "Greenhand ceremonies" highlighted the chapter's monthly meeting this week. The program for this school year was adopted at the meeting, presided over by Billy Testa, president.

A number of guests attended the session, including Ben Wiggins and Peggy Westgate, student body president. Awards were presented to outstanding FFA members and to Mrs. Randall Priest and Mrs. Winn for outstanding service to the chapter.

Letters of appreciation were authorized for Wiggins, Dr. Raymond Bass, Robert Lee, Ovedo, and James W. Smith Jr., managing editor, The Sanford Herald.

A committee was organized to plan the Christmas party, another to plan the annual sweetheart contest.

Among other items of business, FFA members voted to pay dues to join the Farm Bureau and the Seminole County Cattlemen's Association.

Wang Will Lose Pig, Patch To Reds

TOKYO — (UPI) — What may be the greatest reshuffling of human beings in the history of the world is now in full swing inside Red China, according to well-documented sources here.

With remarkable speed, the Communist regime is herding a half-billion Chinese peasants into newly-formed "People's Communes."

The movement began only last April, yet by the end of October it already had engulfed some 300,000,000 peasants.

This means that the Communist government probably will have completed the whole "sweeping movement, carrying one-fifth of the world's population in its path, in a mere seven months."

Eventually, China's rural masses will be organized along military lines in giant communes averaging 20,000 members. Each commune will be a self-contained unit, responsible for agriculture, industry, trade, education and military training within its boundaries.

Helping describes the communes as "the primary unit of the future Communist society." They are designed to wipe out "certain last vestiges of private ownership of the means of production."

In fact, they are a long step ahead of the Soviet Union's collective farms in size, in the all-embracing scope of their responsibilities and in their goal in three to six years.

How does this affect the individual peasant? For Wang Iseuh Chen, a rice farmer of Honan Province, it means sudden transformation into a full-time coalminer or iron worker.

He will become a specialized worker in a production brigade, drawing a regular salary.

His last few pigs, a cabbage patch and some apple trees will be handed over to the commune. For the present, at least, Wang will be permitted to keep a few chickens, his pet cat and his blue cotton clothing.

Wang will get a maximum of two days off each month, 24 a year. His wife will get three rest days a month, and when she's having her babies, she will rate a full month's leave from the fields. Actually, the changeover affects Wang's wife more deeply than it does him.

In Honan Province, pilot area for the commune, she is one of 7,000,000 women who were "freed" for manual labor with the establishment of nurseries and kindergartens to tend her children, mess halls to feed her and her husband and tailoring teams to take care of the family's mending.

The advent of the "People's Communes" marks the third major upheaval in Wang's life in the space of eight years.

In 1950, when Mao Tse-Tung and his "agrarian reformers" came to power, Wang got a small plot of farmland. Five years later, a suddenly resentful Chinese peasantry was swept into cooperatives and Wang lost the land.

Then, last April, China established its first commune — the "agritnik" commune in Honan Province. Wang's cooperative and 26 others were merged into this giant unit of 44,000 persons.

Wang still had some "vestiges of the means of production" — his pigs, his garden patch and his trees. Now, these will go to the commune.

Men Died, Town Dying

SPRINGHILL, Nova Scotia (UPI)—The earthquake-like shock that shattered the gas-filled Cumberland Colliery No. 2 two weeks ago and killed 74 victims in its depths appears also to have sealed the economic fate of this small mining community.

With each passing day it becomes more unlikely that Springhill ever will recover from Black Thursday, Oct. 23, 1958, when 174 men were trapped more than 13,000 feet from the pithead of North America's deepest coal mine. Only 100 came out alive, 19 of them after spending up to Collins refused to say what area of the state he thinks should desegregate first. He said that it strictly up to local school officials and not the governor.

He emphasized that state and county educational leaders should start planning for some integration now in a "frank and forth right manner." If they don't, the governor warned, the courts will step in and the state will have no control over what might result.

"We cannot think in terms of abandoning our public school system," Collins said, "ignorance is the greatest enemy known to human progress. The ranks of the nations of the world in per capita income and public health are identical with their rank in literacy."

He said "extensive educational gimmicks" have been tried and found illegal, costly and unhelpful in other states. "We must, therefore, be prepared to accept some desegregation, somewhere, sometime."

Plane Rescues 20 From Ice Island

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI)—Twenty men stranded since Sunday on an ice floe in the Arctic Ocean were removed safely early today by a C-123 plane from Thule, Greenland.

All were reported in good condition following the rescue operation carried out in 20 degrees below zero weather about 960 miles northeast of Point Barrow, Alaska.

Men had a boat with them on the floe and used it to get across the gap.

Russia Breaks Nuclear Test Ban

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—German rocket expert Hermann Oberth said today the United States is working intensively on an electric space ship and that he believes a manned space vehicle will reach the moon in "around five years."

Oberth, 64, the father of modern rocketry, also said he believes "supernatural forces" are watching the earth and have been doing so for a long time. He said, "I call these supernatural forms of life 'uraniden' and believe they are very intelligent beings."

Oberth said a flight to the moon would be by an electric space ship and that it would be launched from a space station. He said rockets driven by the fuel in current use could not make a substantial journey into space.

Air Force Delays Moon Shot Today; To Try Tomorrow

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—The Air Force corrected the "technical difficulties" that forced postponement in launching its third moon rocket early today and began preparing the 88-foot vehicle for another blastoff attempt early Saturday.

Officials declined to pinpoint the cause of the postponement, but non-military sources said the trouble was in the Thor missile section of the four-stage rocket.

These sources said the trouble was not major, but could not be corrected in time to fire the rocket within the 15 to 20 minute period during which the launching attempt had to be made. In that period the moon was lined up in just the right position in relation to the earth.

The postponement, which came only 48 minutes before the scheduled firing time at 1:22 a. m., meant that the launch team would have to start almost from the beginning in the countdown checklist, a 94-page document that includes 1,100 items.

A new system of cutting off the second stage engine of the rocket will be used this time to avoid the difficulty that caused the second moon rocket to fall far short of the lunar sphere.

Instead of the "accelerometer" built into the earlier vehicles, the second stage engine of the third rocket will be cut off by radio signals from a ground station when a computer figures the rocket has achieved the proper angle of flight at the desired speed.

Plans have been made to increase personnel after occupation of the new building, which should be completed in two or three months.

Participating in the ceremonies tomorrow will be owner John Pierro, Jerry Farrell, manager of the plant and Pierro's son-in-law; John Krider, manager of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce, and Roy Robb, manager of Carroll-Daniel Construction Co.

Rapist Will Hear Sentence Monday

DELAND (UPI)—Sentence will be imposed Monday on a 21-year-old Pennsylvania man convicted Thursday of raping a former Oak Hill housewife.

John Stanley Kemp, McKeesport, Pa., escaped the electric chair when the jury recommended mercy, but he faces a mandatory life sentence with parole after seven years.

Kemp denied being in Oak Hill Oct. 29, 1957, when the crime was committed.

The 10th State Attorney William W. Judge, said a signed confession written in the defendant's own handwriting was "a figment of my imagination." But Judge said the confession contained details of the crime which could have been known by only one person—the rapist.

The victim, a 37-year-old mother, had identified Kemp as her assailant Wednesday and told the court that she was paralyzed by fear when Kemp attacked her.

Kemp also was accused of ridding the house and stealing a pistol, $36 in cash and the woman's car and fleeing the state. He was returned to Florida in July from Pittsburgh where he was apprehended by FBI agents there.

Born May 17, 1937, in Sanderson, Fla., he had lived in the Volusia County jail. He was vociferous the next day.

U. S., Britain Say 2 Bombs Exploded While Talks Held

GENEVA (UPI)—The United States and Britain accused the Soviet Union today of breaking a tacit East-West truce on nuclear tests since the current Geneva atomic ban talks started.

The charges were made in statements issued in Washington and London. The announcements said the Soviet violations included its suspension of further nuclear tests for a year dating from the start of the talks Oct. 31.

They added that for the time being both Washington and London will continue their test suspensions in hopes of reaching agreement here with the Soviets.

The Russian violations, it was charged, came in atomic test blasts Nov. 1 and Nov. 2.

Representatives of the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union this morning began the fifth session of their deadlocked conference called to draw up a pact to outlaw the testing of nuclear weapons.

Publication of the American and British charges was expected to sharpen the tone of the present negotiations.

Diplomats said the disclosures—despite the accompanying Western undertaking to refrain from testing for the time being—were certain to increase tension in the conference room and make agreement more difficult to reach.

Western diplomats said the Soviets appeared to be stalling in the present talks, perhaps in hopes of forcing Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to come to Geneva in an effort to break the deadlock.

Food Shoppers Get Tips On Good Buys

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Increasing supplies for pork will make it a good buy at food markets this weekend.

Pork chops and chops, ham, bacon and sausage are all being featured by stores. Beef features are top-quality offerings—steaks and roasts.

Apply head the list of items to look for at fruit counters. Grapefruit and oranges are in good supply. Pears and grapes are other fruit features.

The lineup of good vegetable buys is a long one, headed by potatoes, cabbage and cauliflower, and including squash, onions and celery.

Best fish buys are shrimp, canned tuna and fish sticks.

Kittens, Mittens, and Life

"Three little kittens lost their mittens..." Bobby is thoroughly absorbed in the antics of the kittens. He will be pleased to discover that at the end of the story they find their mittens again. Like all children, he wants his stories to have happy endings.

But soon Bobby is going to find out that life's stories don't all have happy endings. Bobby is growing up, out of the land of fairies and elves, into the world of reality. Bobby must learn to meet sorrow with understanding, pain with courage, prosperity with thankfulness, defeat with hope, success with humility—he must learn to face life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

It's Easy, If You're Boo Ganas

...ing out along the road that... by Golden Lake on a Sunday afternoon, one would inevitably notice a large piece of driftwood that proclaims the residence of the Ganases.

This is the home of Boo Ganas. The house is set back from the road, a picturesque home, somewhat weatherbeaten in appearance. It is built of cedar, stained a spruce blue, and framed by flowers and plants that blend with the house, creating a time-honored feel.

The interior reflects the personality of the owner. Warm tones of earth brown fade in creamy beige in the floor, brightened here and there with a touch of yellow.

Striking fall arrangements are placed about the room. Boo is curled on the sofa behind a handsome coffee table, ready to speak of gardening with boundless enthusiasm.

The table in front of her consists of a large mangrove root which supports a polished plate glass fastened to the root with wrought iron brackets. They found the root in a swamp on Key Largo. The driftwood was larger than any her husband, Fred, dragged it back to civilization so that Boo could use the portion she desired. Trunks through the woods and swamp excursions are Boo's idea of a good time. She is humored by her husband, who understands her whims. Trips are interrupted with brief halts to obtain some specimen growing by the road.

Boo began gardening when she graduated from high school in Fort Pierce. She joined a garden club there. One of her greatest thrills, she confided, was learning to fly while she was living with her family there. She obtained a commercial pilot's license in order to take her father on business trips. She was earning an instructor's license when she was married.

Fred and Boo Ganas came to Sanford in 1946. Fred began coaching at Seminole High, where he is now athletic director. The pair became interested in orchids and grew them as a hobby. Soon Boo began to make corsages, then floral arrangements. Eventually she undertook the floral end of parties and weddings. She became a member of the Florida State Association and attended several Garden Short Courses during the summers at the University of Florida.

She is chairman of the beautification committee at Pinecrest School, a position she has held since the school was founded. The committee did all the landscaping. The Sanford Garden Club submitted this achievement to the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs and won a award which was presented to the PTA.

Down closer to the lake the Ganases are building a new home. The land is shaded with tall pines and slopes gently to the lake, which is inhabited by several ducks, all of which answer to the name of Squakie. The ducks originated with a father from a dime store, a mother that was a gift. For several summers the couple have supervised a day camp for children on this site.

The center of Boo's genius is an old workshop located in the garden. It is here that she designs Tropical Creations which are sold in several Florida gift shops. These creations are three-dimensional wall plaques, sea shapes composed of coral, sea shells, driftwood, sea pods, and dried materials.

Boo recently returned from a trip to Fort Pierce where she demonstrated Christmas arrangements to the Garden Club. Next on the agenda is the program at the November luncheon meeting of the Officers Wives Club. The luncheon will be held at the Chimney Corner Restaurant in DeLand on Nov. 12.

She will give the Navy wives tips on using native materials in Christmas decorations. She will stress use of ordinary materials in an unusual manner. While she talks her left fingers will put together artistic arrangements to illustrate her words.

It's an easy-if you happen to be Boo Ganas.

Girl Scout News Told

Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 208 of All Souls School recently held a candlelight investiture for Donna Dumont who in turn pinned her mother, Mrs. W. J. Dumont Jr., the troop's new assistant leader.

In fulfillment of troop requirements on International Relations, Mrs. Bernard Wolford, troop leader, arranged to have German exchange student Brigitte Geissler as guest speaker. Brigitte is here in Sanford on Kiwanis sponsorship and will stay with six different families during the year she attends Seminole High School.

Following this interesting talk, the members of the troop were served refreshments.

Brownie Troop 101 which meets at the Christian Missionary Alliance Church under the leadership of Mrs. J. C. Courtney is now working toward the Tenderfoot rank. Last Thursday the troop enjoyed a make-believe hike through a narrative, carrying out Girl Scout standards in safety and courtesy in hiking. This learned to lay and follow a trail. A treasure hunt was held at the end of the trail. Linda M. Lewis found the secret prize. The meeting closed with the Girl Scout friendship circle. Mrs. Homer Adams is assistant leader of the troop.

Sausage Dish Wins Approval of Family
A recipe source certain to serve often is this Vienna Sausage Casserole. What here, sausage, Vienna-style sausage, reaches what the masters of menus might call the top of the ladder. This casserole actually takes only 30 minutes baking time.

Just read over the list of ingredients in this recipe and you will see why Vienna-style Casserole has become such a delightful luncheon or Saturday night supper dish.

Vienna Sausage Casserole
2 cans (4 ounces each) Vienna-style sausages
1 tablespoon chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cups milk
1/4 cup grated sharp cheddar cheese

1 package (10 ounces) frozen broccoli, cooked
2 hardcooked eggs, chopped
1/2 cup soft bread crumbs
2 tablespoons butter, melted
Cook onion in butter until tender. Stir in flour and milk. Add milk Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add cheese and cook very slowly until melted. Cut broccoli into 1-inch pieces and place in bottom of a greased 1 1/2 quart casserole. Layer with sausage and then a layer of chopped eggs. Pour cheese sauce over top. Mix soft crumbs with melted butter and arrange around the edge of the casserole. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 30 minutes. Yield: 4 servings.

For Big Shavers
NEW YORK — LUPA — A hair is capable of soaking up one-third of its own weight in water. In so doing, it becomes soft and pliable — and 75 per cent easier to cut. So it's best to shave your legs while they are still wet from a warm bath.

Many women use soap on their legs before using a safety razor. Even easier to apply are the new foamy type creams in cans. The creams lubricate the skin. Unlike soap, they also hold the essential moisture.

A clean, new blade gives a much closer, more comfortable shave. If the blade "pulls" or misses hairs, change it.

Don't use choppy strokes. Where possible, use long, even strokes, upward or downward.

Rinse the razor frequently so that it doesn't become clogged. When finished, loosen the razor and give it a final rinsing under hot water. Shake out the excess moisture. Let it drain dry.

Even biting the blade will dull the keen 14,000-microns of an inch cutting edge considerably.

Food Is Criticized
TOKYO — (UPI) — A Japanese chef, back from a United States trip, is convinced that Americans don't eat enough fresh food.

Saahuro Mita, who in addition to his cooking skills is a noted restaurant owner, doesn't approve of food prepared from cans, freezers and ready mixes.

Mita made a demonstration tour of Japanese cooking for American housewives in California and Hawaii. He was impressed with all the new cooking appliances and supermarkets, but not what Americans make out of them.

"This is especially true of fish," Mita said. "In Japan, fish is appreciated for its freshness. That is why we can enjoy 'sashimi' (raw fish) and 'toshi' (raw fish with rice)," he explained.

The way fish is processed and pre-packaged in America, it loses its fresh taste, he added.

"I wonder how many Americans know the taste of fresh fish?"

'Committee Of 100' Too Small, Already

The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce started out to form a Committee of 100, purpose of which was to encourage industrial growth and development of the county's natural resources.

Usually, it is somewhat difficult to obtain needed members on such committees. In this case, however, the Committee of 100 already has a membership of 105. This response, we think, is indicative of the type of spirit needed in Seminole County.

The committee will hold its organizational meeting Tuesday night at the Sanford Civic Center. Mack Cleveland Jr., president of the Chamber, will preside over the session until committee members choose officers.

Although guided in its infancy stage by the Chamber, the committee will become an independent organization as soon as possible. The committee will elect its own officers and directors, committee chairmen, etc.

The Florida Development Commission, in its report on Seminole County, was critical of the attitude of Sanford residents toward new industry. Members of the Committee of 100 hope to remove this label of "we aren't interested."

The enthusiasm shown by 105 business and professional leaders can carry this committee a long way toward the goal of a better county. These will be the permanent spokesmen for this area when out-of-county and out-of-state firms come to the county to look it over as a possible site for a new business or industry.

In its report, the Development Commission said organization of such a committee was a "step in the right direction." It could be a giant step.

Secret Weapon--Elvis

Never having been an admirer of Elvis Presley, we shed no tears when the heavy-lidded, snake-hipped Mississippi truck driver was hauled off to the U. S. Army, much to the dismay of thousands of screaming adolescents.

To his credit, Elvis brushed back his curly locks and said manfully: "I just want to be a good soldier." From all reports, he is a good trooper for Uncle Sam.

But, alas! The State Department wants him, the Army wants to keep him. The struggle probably will be tougher on Elvis than being mobbed by all of those teenagers the world over.

The Army wants to keep Elvis at the wheel of the jeep he is driving in Germany. The State Department wants to use him as a weapon in the cold war. Elvis was mobbed when his ship docked at Bremerhaven, his autographs are making the youngsters around Elvis' camp rich. Therefore, the State Department says, European kids are as crazy as American kids.

Behind the Iron Curtain, Elvis is famous, too. There's Moscow's "Jet set," which pays fabulous prices for black market Elvis records and Prada neckties. East Germany has confessed to a "Presley problem." The State Department wants to encourage this by having Elvis rock 'n' roll around Europe.

As a Tulsa editor suggested, this is all right as far as it goes. But, it could go much farther. Imagine the effect of Television Free Europe showed a huge picture of Khrushchev with Presley off in one corner singing, "You Ain't Nothin' But A Hound Dog." The squeals of Communist youth might have the same effect on the walls of the Kremlin that the blast of Joshua's trumpets had on the walls of Jericho.

Officials Wonder About Whale Bone

NEW YORK (UPI)—A strange, recently dead whale bone found on a roadway in Central Park last week has been identified at the American Museum of Natural History as the rib bone of an ordinary whale, rather than the bone of an extinct mastodon. What they can't explain is: 1. Why it carried a label indicating it was the bone of an extinct mastodon. 2. How in heaven's name it came to be where it was.

NEW LAND OF PROMISE

Faiths Spanned By Episcopal Church

EDITORS NOTE: This is the eighth in an intermittent series profiling America's major religious bodies.

By LOUISE CASSELL
United Press International

Most Christians can give a quick, one-word answer when asked if they are Catholics or Protestants.

Episcopalians have a one-word answer too, but it usually calls for a lengthy explanation. Their answer is "both."

The Episcopal Church is "Catholic" in that it preserves the ancient Catholic creeds and sacraments and the liturgical form of worship. It maintains a three-fold ministry of bishops, priests and deacons, who, like the Roman Catholic and Eastern Orthodox clergy, trace their line of ordination back to the apostles.

On the other hand it is "reformed" or Protestant in that it denies the authority of the Pope, and rejects many aspects of Roman Catholic doctrine and worship which it regards as contrary to the original faith and practice of the early Christian church. Like all Protestant bodies, it accepts the Bible, rather than any ecclesiastical authority, as the ultimate "testing ground" for beliefs.

Combine Both Traditions
The attempt to combine both great Christian traditions in one body has led to inevitable tensions between "high church" Episcopalians, who emphasized Catholic leanings, and "low church" Episcopalians, who are distinctly Protestant in orientation.

But these tensions have been minimized in recent years by the rapid growth of a great middle group of Episcopalians who cherish both aspects of their heritage, and who welcome the opportunity to serve as a "bridge" between the divided branches of the Christian family.

Their viewpoint is expressed by their noted Episcopal scholar, Dr. Chad Walsh:

"If Christendom is ever to be reunited into one great church, that church will of necessity be one with sufficient scope and flexibility to find room for what is best in both the Protestant and Catholic traditions. I believe the Episcopal Church is a small-scale model of what such a church can be."
Their commitment to the cause of Christian reunion has led Episcopalians to take a leading role in ecumenical organizations such as the National and World Councils of Churches. They have also moved to strengthen ties with their own "immediate family"—the worldwide Anglican communion.

Common Prayer Book
The Anglican communion consists of some 40 million Christians on every continent whose self-governing national churches are, like the Episcopal Church in the United States, descended from the parent church of England. One of their strong bonds is the fact that all use the 400-year-old "Book of Common Prayer."

Anglican worship came to America with the original English colonists. The first church was planted at Jamestown, Va., in 1607, by a chaplain who accompanied Capt. John Smith's band. George Washington, James Madison, Alexander Hamilton, Patrick Henry and many other founding fathers were Episcopalians.

With more than 3 million members, the Episcopal Church today ranks as America's sixth largest Christian body.

Fred Othman Says

BY FREDERICK C. OTHMAN

EN ROUTE — One of the best half-dressed men ever to invade the tropics, namely, me, is on his way to commune with the friendly fish of the Virgin Islands. Hilda and I are flying south over turquoise seas (I sound like a travel agent) en route to Puerto Rico, where we'll change planes for St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands and there take a boat to St. John, where those sociable fish will get the first look at my haberdashery. You may recall my sorry announcement back in Washington that the moths had got into my old swimming trunks and there wasn't another pair in town to be had. H. Marcus of the Kingswood Sportswear Co. of New York took pity and sent me a fine, modestly colored suit as a public service. I'm pleased it wouldn't do for me to be naked at Caneel Bay. I also heard from Miss Natalie Bird, who works for a Mr. Jansen of Portland, Ore., and who said it just happened that she had three beautiful models on their way to the West Coast and that they'd drop by with suitable coverings for my sunburn. They did, ton.

Miss Bird, Miss Helen Connor, a blonde of London; Miss Fay Vitucci, a brunette of Rome, and Miss Simone Dallencourt, a red-head of Paris, flew in with a wardrobe of swimming trunks, cunning to spots, stripes, and plaids.

These feature a costume so new no other man will have one until next summer; it consists of knitted trunks running down to the knee and striped in circular fashion like a prison suit in red and white. This should startle those fish.

Director Conrad Wirth of the National Parks Service just happens to be at St. John, all of which is a national park except for 60 acres carved out by Laurance Rockefeller, who will be our landlord. So I intend to help Wirth install underwater paths — first in the world — in visitors in fancy trunks can stroll on walks about three and a half feet under water for the purpose of observing the trick fish.

Well-known special points of interest with boys so the customers can put on their snorkel masks.

swimwear their jacks, and among the denizens of the deep. Only one thing worries Wirth; these fish are friendly types and he urges the people not to scare 'em. I'll probably have to change pants to qualify.

Hilda and I intend to spend a couple of weeks looking at these fish and sitting under palm trees drinking stuff out of coconut shells, and stalling around the islands. We expect, among other things, to drop over to St. Croix, about 40 miles from St. John, where Ford Bond (remember that name? the celebrated radio personality) is general manager of the only hotel in the world without rooms for rent. His estate, the Hope Hotel, has suites, only.

He says this is the life for a broadcaster, who was on the verge of ulcers in New York. We'll have lunch with him, in any event, and let you know whether he still sounds as we remember him.

In San Juan Hilda hopes to buy her carpeting; at least, we'll buy over the Puerto Rican carpet factories, where the folks tie each knot by hand.

This, obviously will be a vacation for the Othmans and we intend to look leathery when we return. I'll be out of the paper for two weeks, but on Nov. 17 I'll be back with a first-hand report on how those fish withstand the shock.

Station Is Opened By Bay Petroleum On French Avenue

Another service station was added to the parade on French Ave. today when Bay Petroleum Corporation began its grand opening at 1800 French Ave.

Customers may register today and Saturday for prizes to be awarded Saturday night at 8. Free cold drinks will be served to visitors, and a six-bottle carton given with every 10-gallon purchase of gas.

For the children, there is an ample supply of balloons, bubble gum and candy. Already popular is the refreshment center, dispensing cold drinks, cigarettes, candy and cookies from automatic machines.

Local manager of Bay is Frank Watts, who came to Florida two years ago from Erwin, Tenn. Watts and his family live in Deland, but plan to move to Sanford soon. They have two children, Mary Ruth, 20, a student at East Tennessee State Teacher's College, and Amy, 13, a junior high student in Deland. The new manager is a former greener.

Doctors Increase

CHICAGO (UPI)—An American Medical Association directory lists more than 250,000 physicians in the U. S. and Canada, an increase of 10,000 over 1956.

New York has the most—30,746—but California leads with the biggest gain over 1956—1,467.

Twenty-eight million Americans played musical instruments in 1957, double the figure of 20 years ago.

President Returns To Normal Routine

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower turned to normal White House business today before taking off Friday on a weekend business and pleasure trip to Ohio and the West Coast.

The White House announced Wednesday that Eisenhower planned to fly to Toledo, Ohio, and Tacoma, Wash., this weekend en route to Seattle where he will speak Monday.

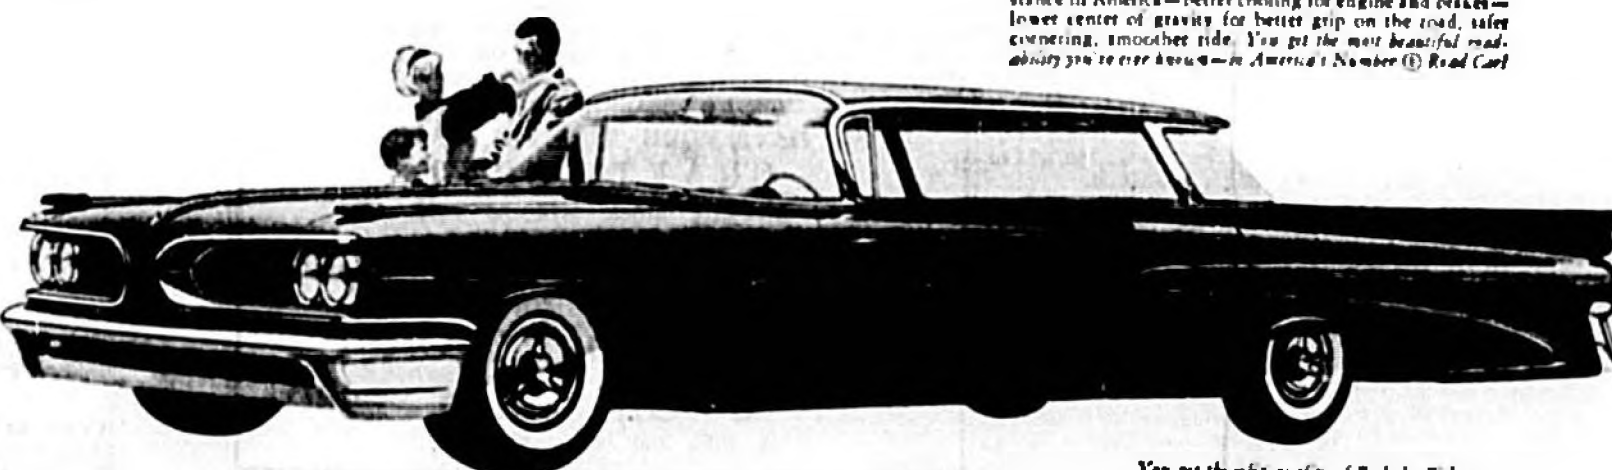

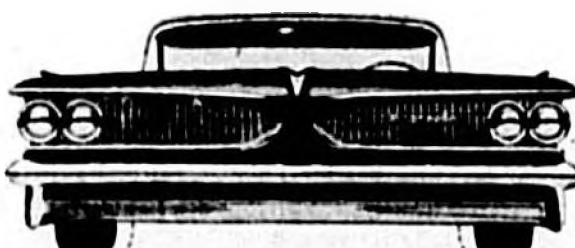

He is expected to fly back to the capital Monday night.

Seminoles To Host Leesburg Tonight

By Jerry Covington
The title-seeking Sanford Seminoles will go against the Leesburg Yellow Jackets here tonight in an effort to sew up their first OBC championship. Game time will be 8 p. m. at Memorial Stadium.

FSU Even Money To Get First Win Over Hurricanes

MIAMI (UPI)—Fast-rising Florida State sets out to do tonight what it has never done in its short football career—beat the University of Miami.

And it looks like the Seminoles, sporting a 6-2 record that includes upset victories over Wake Forest and Tennessee, have a good chance of ending the line. FSU enters the game an even money choice to whip Miami, victors in the five previous meetings of the two teams.

The Hurricanes, hoping to improve on their dismal 1-4 record, will field a revamped squad. For the first time this season, quarterback Fran Curel will not start. He will be replaced by senior Bonnie Yarbrough, a sensation as a sophomore who fell to the anonymity of the "B" team until last week.

FSU, starting without a 200-pounder in the lineup, hopes to make up for lack of beef with speed as it has done in earlier games. The Seminoles will also be counting heavily on the passing of quarterbacks Vic Princi and Joe Majors and halfback Bobby Coarad.

Leading the offense for Miami besides Yarbrough will be Capt. Joe Plevel and Bryon Blasko at halfbacks and Harry Deiderich at full.

A crowd of 32,000 is expected to be on hand at the 8:15 p. m. kickoff in the Orange Bowl. The weatherman predicts cloudy skies with a chance for scattered showers.

Realignment Plans For Minor Leagues Killed At Outset

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Plans for a drastic realignment of the minor leagues failed to reach first base today after two days of talks.

Only two concrete developments came out of the meeting. The American Association authorized Milwaukee to shift its franchise from Wichita to Louisville and the South Atlantic League added Asheville, N. C. and Columbus, Ga. to its loop.

"But that wasn't realignment," one delegate pointed out. "The Braves merely switched their franchise from one club to another in the same league and Asheville and Columbus didn't have ball clubs last year."

The talks collapsed when the American Association tried to get Fort Worth from the Texas League. The Texas League replied: "Take Dallas, Houston and Fort Worth—all three or none at all."

Fisher Gets Triple

PAWTUCKET, R. I. (UPI)—Jockey Ron Fisher scored a triple Thursday at Narragansett Park. He won aboard Blue Rock ($4.80) in the second, Reape ($33.80) in the third and Criss M. ($17.50) in the sixth.

Coast Is Pushing Grid League Move; Prospects 'Good'

By HAL WOOD
United Press International
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The wheels are grinding—but slowly—for the formation of that coast-to-coast college football association and the chances are good now that some sort of a loose organization will be constructed for the 1960 or 1961 season.

Filmut Johns, athletic director at the University of California at Los Angeles, said today he is "optimistic" over the chances for the loop.

"I think it is feasible and I'm optimistic over the chances of such an organization," said Johns. "The fine thing about it is the fact that many of the schools already are on each other's schedule."

Hold Several Meetings
It was revealed here today that "several" meetings have been held during the last few months by representatives of 12 different schools with the idea in mind of setting some kind of an "association."

Some of the representatives have attended several meetings, others just one. The schools involved include UCLA, Oklahoma, Southern California, Miami, California, Air Force Academy, Navy, Stanford, Army, Washington, Pitt and Notre Dame.

Several of these schools have stated "definitely" that they would not be interested in the conference. But a survey of the schedules for the past year and for the next few years shows that many of them meet regularly, anyway.

Suggest Divisions
Along with UCLA, the Air Force Academy and Pitt have indicated they are strongly in favor of the association. Most other schools are holding back on comment until further investigation.

Gators Ars Ready For Georgia Tilt
GAINESVILLE (UPI)—Coach Bob Woodruff says his Florida football team will be in near top physical condition Saturday when it tangles with Georgia in the Gator Bowl.

Woodruff said halfback Billy Booker, end Dan Edgington and tackle Dick Brantley and Fred Schults have recovered from injuries and will probably see action against the Bulldogs.

The Gators ended their heavy pre-game scrimmages Thursday on a muddy field. Woodruff said he was impressed with the running of sophomore fullback Bob Milby of Ocala and the quarterbacking of Jimmy Dunn.

Modern Player Better--Stuhldreher
By RUDY CERNKOVIC
United Press International
PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The best known quarterback of the 1920's hailed modern football today as a "gridiron revolution" which has produced faster thinkers, faster movers—and above all—more intelligent players.

Harry Stuhldreher of Notre Dame, dubbed "Four Horsemen" said he marvels at the way the game has developed since he played.

"These fellows today are away ahead of us," said Stuhldreher. "The teams have better coaching, better facilities. The players are faster movers and faster thinkers. But what has impressed me most is the increasing number of intelligent players."

When he became an executive with U. S. Steel in 1930, Stuhldreher ended a football career that spanned 35 years as a player and coach. After his graduation from Notre Dame in 1923, he went to Villanova as coach where he remained 11 years and spent the next 14 years at Wisconsin.

SEC Teams Jockey For Bids To Bowls

By DAVID M. MUFFIT
United Press International
ATLANTA (UPI)—With Louisiana State having just about wrapped up the Southeastern Conference title for this year, the rest of the league will spend the remainder of this month jockeying for runner-up positions—and bowl bids.

The preseason prognosticators figured Louisiana State, currently unbeaten, untied and rated No. 2 nationally, would finish in the conference's lower echelon and that Auburn, Mississippi and Mississippi State would be 1, 2, 3.

Auburn remains unbeaten but harassed by a series of injuries to key backfield personnel hasn't had a single header while posting a 5-0-1 mark. Mississippi has also lived up to expectations but couldn't cope with the rapidly rising fortunes of Louisiana state.

Mississippi State and its two-time All-Conference quarterback Billy Stacy have been twin disappointments. Stacy has been stalled and the Maroons are now only 3-1 with Auburn, Louisiana State and Mississippi yet to be faced.

This weekend Louisiana State lays its title-drive aside to take on rugged and unpredictable Duke at Baton Rouge, La. Duke is only 3-4 this season but wins over Illinois and Baylor and narrow margin losses to Notre Dame and Georgia Tech indicate Big South Carolinians have upset potential.

Auburn and Mississippi State have it at Auburn, Ala. The host team has a string of 20 straight without a loss going but will need another great performance from the nation's best defense since the offense will be strictly a patched-up affair.

Mississippi, which often has a single loss to mar an otherwise perfect season takes on Houston at Oxford, Miss., and is favored to avenge its 1-10 loss to Louisiana State. The Houston team, by league consent, will count in the Southeastern Conference standings so that Mississippi will have enough games to qualify for the title if LSU and Auburn slip.

In other intra-conference action, surprising Alabama will take its fast-growing prestige to New Orleans on Friday night to meet undefeated Tulane, unfortunately that defensively tough Florida will play Georgia at Jacksonville, Fla., and Vanderbilt and Kentucky meet at Lexington, Ky., in what should be a free-scoring contest, both Saturday afternoon.

The other non-league play finds twice-beaten Georgia Tech host to once-beaten Clemson at Atlanta and often-bet Tennessee host to small-time Chattanooga at Knoxville, Tenn.

The Southeast's two major independents, Florida State and Miami, tangle Friday night at the Orange Bowl in Miami with Florida State favored for the first time in this sixth game of their series.

Southern Lopsided Favorites
Oklahoma, ranked No. 5, is a lopsided choice to run its unbeaten streak in the Big Eight to 69 games when it meets Iowa State, Colorado is rated three points over Missouri against which Oklahoma figures to clinch the conference title and Orange Bowl bid on Nov. 15.

Oregon State, which took over the Pacific Coast Conference lead last Saturday is favored over Washington State and California in the running for the title. It is rated 18 points over UCLA in the Big Far West games.

Baylor Gets 26, Lakers Triumph
United Press International
Rookie Elgin Baylor paid his draft dividend as he clumped in 24 points to lead the Minneapolis Lakers to a 103-101 comeback victory over the Philadelphia Warriors.

Baylor, a Seattle University All-American in his first year of National Basketball Association play, led a second half drive Thursday night that gave the Lakers sole possession of first place in the Western Division.

Trailing Philadelphia 51-42, at halftime, Minneapolis outscored the Warriors in the third quarter to take the lead and maintained its winning margin as Bobby Leonard sank two free throws in the final minute.

There was no other action in the NBA. Tonight's lone encounter finds New York at Detroit.

'Bama, Tulane Get Action Started In Southeast Tonight

United Press International
Alabama and Tulane will get this weekend's Southeastern Conference football action off to what should be a slugging start tonight at New Orleans.

The Greenies have yet to beat an SEC team, while the Crimson Tide has swept over Georgia and Mississippi State and held rugged Vanderbilt to a scoreless tie. Tulane defeated Navy and Tennessee Tech, but by a single point on Texas and was beaten by Florida, Mississippi and Kansas.

It will be the fourth night game of the season for Alabama, which has developed into a defensive power under the tutelage of Coach Paul Bryant.

Other SEC family affairs match Mississippi State and Auburn at Auburn, Georgia and Florida at Jacksonville and Vanderbilt versus Kentucky at Lexington, all Saturday afternoon.

Two Atlantic Coast conference teams invade the SEC this week. Duke challenging Louisiana's perfect record at Baton Rouge under the lights and Clemson meeting Georgia Tech Saturday afternoon in Atlanta.

Mississippi will be host to Houston and the Tennessee Volunteers play Chattanooga in Knoxville, both in the afternoon, to round out the schedule.

Maxwell Leading Carling Tourney
ATLANTA (UPI)—The other day on today in the third round of the $25,000 Carling Open golf tournament—and the man the pack was out to nab was Billy Maxwell, the Odessa, Tex., sharpshooter.

Maxwell's wedge was his best shooting iron Thursday as he blazed an eight-under-par 64 over the recently-constructed Toney and Lawrence courses, which the pros say is one of the roughest in the country.

That striding 64 gave Maxwell a two-day total of 136 for a two stroke lead over his nearest rival, Bill Collins of Baltimore, Md. Collins, who shared the opening round lead with a 4-under 64, trailed the course in 70 Thursday for a halfway mark of 138.

Julius Boros, Mid Pines, N. C., the only "old pro" among the top five scorers after 36 holes, had a 6-under par 68 Thursday—and second best round of the tournament for a third place 140. Boros is one of four former Carling winners eligible for an added $5,000 bonus for a repeat title.

Boosting out that top five were Billy Casper, Apple Valley, Calif., and Bob Watson, Ardley, N. Y., who carded a 69 and a 70 for 141.

Levant Provocative, Fascinating, Writer Declares

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — Oscar Levant, the rabid critic of the Western world, appeared on the NBC TV "Jack Paar Show" Wednesday night for a half-hour. It was unquestionably one of the most provocative, fascinating, irritating, piquant, mad-brained, splendid half-hours of the TV year.

There's not much point in my getting in the way of Levant. So here are some of the things he said.

On Zsa Zsa Gabor: "She's discovered the secret of perpetual middle age. She's morally in spring in me. She does social work among the rich."

On Minnie Guggenheim's Paar regular: "He was euphoric. He thought everything was wonderful all the time — you know, like Dinah Shore."

On Dody Goodman (a former Paar regular): "I thought she was slightly overrated. For a while, I thought she was a goose caller on a hunt."

On Oscar Levant: "I'm the Boris Pasternak of Los Angeles."

More on Oscar Levant: "I'm in the middle of a breakdown. It's my fifth in two years. Even the ambulance driver is scared of me."

On Levant's children: "They have good reason to hate me. And to hate your father is quite therapeutic."

On Levant's marriage: "My wife is Irish and we have quite an emotional rage. It's from being gorrish to us they."

On the difference between Republicans and Democrats: "The Democrats give the poor a chance to become corrupt."

The Channel 5000 election night ABC-TV stayed with its regular programs one hour longer than CBS-TV or NBC-TV which led to these half-hour Trendex ratings: ABC-TV "Riflemen" 26.7, CBS-TV election 14.1, NBC-TV election 13.2, ABC-TV "Naked City" 23.1, CBS-TV election 15.5, NBC-TV election 10.2.

AMC Sets Record
DETROIT (UPI) — American Motors Corp. reported October auto sales of 26,748, the highest of any month in the company's history. AMC reported sales of 9,680 cars in the month a year ago.

Real Live Wire
DALLAS, Tex. — (UPI) — Mrs. H. D. Hathcox slammed her closet door and phoned her husband when she picked up a "vacuum-cleaner cord" and it sizzled.

He refused to believe her, so she called the police. Officer Joe Clark captured an 18-inch, dark gray snake.

Lights Going Up, Yule Season Nears

The lights are going up on First St. again, signifying the coming of the Christmas season.

While city employees are busy with the mammoth task of hanging decorations downtown, Jaycees are reaching fever pitch in their plans for the annual Christmas parade, Dec. 6.

The parade will be held on Saturday for the first time in history. At promptly 2:30 p. m. all ages of children will be taken to Patrick's warehouse on East First St. this week and are available to organizations on a "first come" basis.

The Jaycees themselves have two large floats in the parade. Naturally, one is the huge Santa sleigh carrying the grand old man himself.

Clifford Malibus, membership chairman for the Chamber of Commerce, is working closely with Tom McDonald, president of the Jaycees, to raise an additional $750 needed for the parade. Contributions are welcome.

School bands committed to the Dec. 6 affair are Seminole High, Sanford Junior High, Lynn High, Cronos Academy, Winter Park High, Orlando Edgewater High, Foster High, Leesburg High, Lakeview High of Winter Garden, Phillips Wheatley High of Apopka, Apopka High, Mt. Dora High, Florida Military Academy of DeLand and DeLand High.

Jaycees again will sell balloons during the parade to raise money for the annual orphan Christmas shopping trip through Sanford.

Luncheon Closes Feeding Classes

More than 80 representatives from local clubs and organizations consumed an "emergency" meal of beef stew, tomatoes, corn bread, ice cream, cookies and milk or coffee at Pinecrest School Saturday.

The luncheon was the final session in a mass emergency feeding course for 25 employees of Seminole County school lunchrooms. The course was sponsored by the Seminole County Civil Defense Program and the Red Cross. Lunchroom personnel were taught how to prepare simple, nourishing meals in large quantities for hungry refugees.

A. B. Peterson Sr., civil defense coordinator spoke to the group, stating that in an emergency situation many people would be without food unless the Red Cross and Civil Defense came to their aid.

The program was under the supervision of Mrs. D. H. Whitmore, supervisor of Seminole County school lunchrooms.

He told police, "as I was lying there, a group of people came up and tried to free me. I felt someone take my billfold from my back pocket but did not see who did it."

Hussein Plane Attacked By Two Syrian Fighters

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI)—King Hussein charged that two Syrian MIG jet fighter planes tried to force down his unarmed royal airplane today when it flew across Syria carrying him to a vacation in Europe.

He fled back at once to his tense kingdom and declared in a radio speech shortly afterwards that "my government will take the steps necessary to reply to this aggression in a way which will preserve the dignity of our nation."

He said a Syrian army spokesman said Hussein's plane was attacked because it flew over Syria without proper clearance from the Jordanian government.

Regular Airplane

Hussein had taken off from Amman on a well-advertised vacation flight to Europe and was on the regular civil airline when the incident occurred.

First he was ordered to land at Damascus Airport. When he failed to do so, the jets were sent up.

Miami Has Rash Of Dynamite Scares

MIAMI (UPI)—A fourth church was threatened with bombing here early today as police ordered a full-scale investigation of a rash of weekend dynamite scares.

Three large downtown churches and a Roman Catholic hospital were threatened Sunday. The latest threat was directed at Corpus Christi Roman Catholic Church. A quick police search failed to turn up any bombs.

Church officials declined to give any information to avoid publicity.

Police detailed extra men today to the task of trying to catch the anonymous callers, who included at least one woman and one man. Officers refused to say if they had any clues.

All-Out Effort

Meanwhile, public leaders and church officials called for an all-out effort by police and private citizens to nab the culprits. At least two county commissioners indicated they would offer resolutions to tighten the "bomb scare" law.

Sunday, the 20th anniversary of the bombing of the Central Baptist Church, Trinity Methodist Church, Gesu Roman Catholic Church and St. Francis Hospital in Miami Beach.

The calls to at least the two Protestant churches were believed to be the by-product of racial tensions. Negroes—uninvited—have attended services at both the Protestant churches. And Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Fla.) was the speaker at Central Baptist.

Hays, a moderate on segregation, was defeated for reelection last week by a white in-rundant who campaigned for segregation.

Community Called 'Model Of Mixing;' Probe Under Way

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI)—A dynamite blast heavily damaged an integrated 11-room elementary-junior high school building today in the mining town of Osage, which had been regarded as a model desegregated community.

Heriff Charles J. Whiston of Monongalia County said at least a case of dynamite had been touched off at two points in the main hallway of the building at 2:15 a. m. e.s.t. A section of the brick wall of the 2½-story building was ripped out and the reinforced concrete ceiling supporting the second floor was bowed.

The blast came without warning. "This is the last thing we could expect," Superintendent of Schools Charles Stevenson said. "We never had any difficulty."

The Federal Bureau of Investigation at Washington announced that E. H. Winterrowd, special agent in charge of its Pittsburgh office, was en route to Osage "to actively assist the local authorities in every way possible." The bureau said all of its facilities would be available for the investigation of the blast.

Winterrowd, the FBI said, personally will investigate any indications that federal laws had been violated.

The school served a student body of about 300 whites and 85 Negroes from the mining town and surrounding area.

Schools of Monongalia County have been integrated for about five years without incident. The building blasted today housed pupils of the first, second, third, seventh and eighth grades. Students of the other three grades used a building about 200 yards away which had been exclusively for Negroes before desegregation.

Forty per cent Negro

About 60 per cent of the 400 residents of Osage, about three miles from the county seat of Morgantown, are Negroes. More than 50 per cent of the students at the school came from the surrounding area by bus.

State Police Cpl. W. B. Snodgrass and Sheriff Whiston said the dynamite apparently had been set off by a coal miner. A 300-foot segment of wire of the type used for coal mine telephones was found leading from the explosion-wrecked corridor through a gymnasium window to a wireway at the rear of the building.

Banner Year Predicted For County Vegetables

Another vegetable season is in full swing in Seminole County and the outlook is encouraging for the state's most efficient producers.

Cecil Tucker, county agricultural agent, predicted that Seminole growers this year would top the $5.4 million in sales, $1.2 million in profit of the past growing season. He said the cost to county producers is expected to be higher than the $4 million spent in the past season.

All signs point to a $10 million or more season. The vegetable industry was a $9 million business in the past season.

Vegetables are beginning to flow to markets in a fairly steady stream. Some are running well ahead of the schedule of past seasons. Recent rains have added "insurance" to the favorable weather that growers have had thus far.

Vegetable production is a big business in Seminole County. Previous articles have discussed the various phases of the industry. This one deals with the summary of the industry.

Just what does the vegetable industry mean to Seminole County? Facts supplied by Tucker reveal that the local economy is boosted by:

A not profit to growers of $11 million; crop sales of $5 1/4 million by county growers; cash spent by growers, $4 million. These are the big figures. Here are the categories which divide the big melon:

Labor payroll for growing vegetable crops in Seminole, $567,066; fertilizer, $518,942; spray and dust, $133,533; seed, $92,924; repair & maintenance, $80,000; gas, oil & grease, $66,876; license and insurance, $39,796; interest on production capital, $39,785; machine hire, $2,259; and miscellaneous expenses, $41,106.

Total cash growing costs of Seminole vegetable producers: $1,608,193.

Cash marketing costs: cutting (or picking) labor, $439,217; packing (or grading) labor, $350,951; centalners, $697,567; hauling, $123,033; pre-cooling, $197,910; and selling, $283,866.

Total cash marketing costs: $2,352,866. Total cash spent by vegetable growers in Seminole County $3,958,560.

Tucker said practically all of this $4 million in grower expenses are spent in Seminole County. It turns over in the economy several times going for groceries, gasoline, clothing and other necessities for the men and women who make Seminole's vegetable industry the best in Florida.
