

Cotton Council, Grocers Seek To Repeal Oleo Tax

Levies Opposed For Reasons Of Economics And Health

WASHINGTON Mar. 10 (AP)—The Cotton Council today joined retail grocers in advocating repeal of federal taxes on margarine. Both groups told the House Agriculture Committee they are opposed to the levies for reasons of health and economics.

William R. Blake, vice president of the National Cotton Council, said in a statement the special taxes work a hardship against the South.

Blake noted that cottonseed oil, a prime component of margarine, is a major item in the cotton farmer's income. And he said the cotton industry itself looks to an expanded market in seed products to meet the competition from synthetic fibers. But Blake told the committee that margarine taxes handicap both cotton groups.

In the case of the farmer, he said that the average per capita income in 1946 "for all the people in the eleven states of the Southeast was $801."

"Obviously the majority of these millions can't afford much better," he added.

"It is an outrage that our federal laws should stand between these people and an opportunity to have a cheap, attractive tablespread made from a product of their own cotton fields."

Turning to the cotton industry, Blake said it "has been placed under the severest test of its history by the great expansion in synthetic fibers."

"We cannot meet the test of competition," he said, "we cannot survive, if while losing some markets we are barred by our own laws from developing others."

Tyre Taylor, general counsel of the national association of retail grocers, told the committee that repeal of the taxes on margarine "would help materially in the fight on inflation."

Meanwhile Senator Maybank (D-SC) asked Congress to repeal oleomargarine taxes.

He filed a statement with the Senate Finance Committee which said:

"Regulations are pointedly designed to restrain the free marketing privileges of one group of manufacturers. Such an archaic statute in our modern federal code makes it almost as incongruous with free trade as the slight of a mounted cavalryman riding out against a Sherman tank."

He said the present oleo taxes were levied 46 years ago when oleo's only claim to consideration was its economy.

Maybank stated "American margarine is made today from domestic vegetable oils derived from soybeans, cottonseed, peanuts and corn. Farmers of 44 states produce products from which the oils are taken. Because of the substantially increased demand for margarine, manufacturers are encouraging production of more of these farm products."

Second, an exemption from the normal 5 per cent income tax—but not from the surtax—on income from corporation dividends. Corporation earnings now are taxed twice—once in the form of the company's profits, and again in the form of earnings paid to the stockholder.

The first proposal would cost the Treasury $145,000,000 a year, Behram said. But by stimulating business, he said, the capital gains proposal would bring "increased revenues to the Treasury." He discounted the danger of inflation.

"I have never been as apprehensive as many others have been with respect to the danger of a runaway inflation of the price level," he testified. Referring to "the latest economic developments"—the stock and commodity price breaks—he went on:

"A reduction in national income, some, with a consequent shrinkage of the government's revenues, means to be a stronger possibility than the chance of a further increase in national income and government revenues."

"A moderate change in our tax structure at strategic points can go a long way to secure larger production and a continued high level of employment."

POPE SPEAKS

VATICAN CITY, Mar. 10 (AP)—Pope Pius XII, in his annual Lenten address to the Rome clergy, told them today it is their right and duty to impress upon Catholics "the extraordinary importance" of Italy's elections Apr. 18. The Pope's speech, the most forthright political pronouncement yet, placed his personal prestige squarely behind the efforts of Italy's Cardinals, bishops and priests to mobilize Catholic voters behind the Left in the coming May 18 elections.

Masaryk Dies

Masaryk's last public appearance was in the old town square Sunday, when he attend a combined birthday anniversary of his late father and the 30th anniversary of a battle in which Czech and Russian troops fought side by side. Photographs taken then made him appear harassed, haggard and worried.

His body was found in the palace courtyard at about 8 A. M. It was carried away quickly. Neighbors said the lights in Masaryk's office burned all night. Masaryk occupied a small and unpretentious apartment in the lavish foreign office-Czernin Palace. His sister, the only survivor of the Masaryk family, lives in a house near the palace.

Even while Masaryk's body was borne from the courtyard where he fell, Dr. Prokop Ditina, who was minister of justice in the previous cabinet with him, was convalescing from head injuries sustained in what police said was a three-story plunge from his villa.

Czechoslovaks gathered in little knots discussing Masaryk's death. It was a shock to those who regarded him as a possible balance wheel for the country. It was a blow also to those who believed he might be helpful in getting them out of the closely-guarded country legally. Masaryk once helped 6,000 Jews escape from German occupation forces.

The government announcement said Masaryk had "suffered an illness, coupled with infirmity, and it seems probable that in a moment of nervous disturbance, he jumped out of a window in his official flat in the (Czernin) Palace."

"Right to the last minute, he showed no sign of depression," the announcement said. "To the contrary he was full of lively optimism. The circumstances are being investigated. The government said the Foreign Minister had suffered from bronchitis recently."

Communist Premier Klement Gottwald made no immediate statement. Nor did ailing President Eduard Benes, who acceded to Communist demands for control.

The radio account said half of the text of a speech Masaryk was to have made tonight to a Polish-Czech friendship meeting was on his desk.

Masaryk, 61, was revered in Czechoslovakia as the son of Thomas G. Masaryk, liberator, founder and first president of modern Czechoslovakia. His reputation in the Communist-ruled cabinet after the coup was interpreted as a Communist maneuver to make use of his name.

His flat endorsement several days later of close cooperation with Russia, coupled with an "I am with you" message to the army and to his "Czech and Slovak brothers," however, seemed to most qualified observers here to mean that he had embraced on a definite course of action. There were two schools of thought as to what that course might be.

One felt he was playing a most dangerous double game, and the other felt he had lent himself to the new government, in the possible hope that he could steer it on a middle course and bring Moscow and the west together in the peace he always insisted must be maintained.

Masaryk first became foreign minister for the Czech government in exile on July 8, 1940. He returned to Prague when Czechoslovakia was liberated from the Germans in 1945 and kept the foreign affairs post.

Masaryk was born Sept. 14, 1858 in Prague. He completed his education at Charles University, Prague. Later he studied in Boston. He made his first visit to the United States in 1907, and worked for Charles Crane, the father of Richard Crane, who became first U. S. minister to Czechoslovakia. He remained in the United States until 1913.

During the first World War Masaryk served with the Austro-Hungarian army and was discharged with the rank of first lieutenant. After the war he entered the Czechoslovak diplomatic service and was assigned to the Czech legation in Washington as charge d'affaires, a post he held through 1919 and 1920.

He was then transferred to London as legation secretary, resigning after Munich, when he was called to Prague. For two years, 1923-24, he was a secretary in the ministry of foreign affairs. Then he was sent to London as Czechoslovak minister. He remained in London until 1938, resigning after Munich.

Later, he went to the United States, and while still in America, was named minister of foreign affairs of the Czechoslovak government in London. As such, he signed for the Czechoslovak government a treaty with the Soviet Union which renewed friendship ties of the two nations, and which gave the Czech government the right to form an army on Russian soil.

In 1945, Masaryk headed the Czechoslovak delegation to the San Francisco conference which founded the U.N.

At 61, Masaryk was a heavy-set six-foot man fluent in several languages. He famed black hair, but in a type he wore for 25 years, was absent a Masaryk trademark.

One of Thomas Masaryk's early sociological works was a thick volume in German: "Suicide As A Phenomenon Of Modern Civilization."

The elder Masaryk came to a scholarly conclusion that exaggerated individualism creates an abnormal man who, under pressures, frequently ends his life in an abnormal manner.

Constantly under the shadow of his father's personality, Jan Masaryk frequently expressed a sense of inadequacy. But he was also moved by a powerful sense of duty and was determined, to the limits of his ability, to carry on the tradition of the broad democracy his father introduced to Central Europe.

Jan Masaryk appreciated fully the difficulties of being the foreign minister of a little country between Germany and Russia, but until recent months at least he was hopeful that a balance might be kept.

He said he had a Slav heart and a western mind and he believed that his nation could be of some service in linking the East and the West. But he added: "It can be only a modest contribution because, after all, we are such a little people."

He objected to the catch phrase about Czechoslovakia being a bridge between the East and the West. He recalled the old Slav saying that a bridge is a structure over which cavalry marches, and strove with all his energies to prevent his country's becoming that kind of a connection.

"In a collision between big fellows, the little fellow must not be so close as to be smashed," he said. "But this doesn't mean that we aren't going to contribute our modest bit to improving understanding between the people."

Masaryk's friends received an impression that he had very definite promises from the Russian side that Czechoslovakia would be permitted to carry on as a representative democracy. Consequently he deplored talk of an iron curtain shutting off much of Eastern Europe, and on a recent visit to the United States he insisted in lectures that there is no such curtain.

Whether in the end he became disillusioned and felt himself betrayed is not known. He had given none of his light-hearted interviews since the Communist coup in Prague, and there were indications he was deeply shaken.

There were suggestions that Masaryk chose suicide as a means of dramatizing the plight of democrats under a regime headed for totalitarianism. Other acquaintances, however, said they believed it was just a case of a man of tenacious emotional nature overcome by a crushing sense of defeat and futility.

Alone in Czernin Palace, with a Communist action committee purging his staff and foreign policy getting out of his control, Masaryk saw that he was drifting far from the course outlined by his father and that there seemed to be no turning back.

Cold Wave

Light snow fell throughout much of the cold region, extending from the central Rockies eastward through the central plains to the middle Mississippi Valley. In parts of Oklahoma thunder storms with snowfalls were reported.

Heavy rains reported in the southeastern states diminished, but rain fell today in the eastern Gulf and middle Atlantic states.

The mercury was below normal in some parts of the Southeast in northern Texas and in the Pacific northwest. Readings in most of the New England states were near seasonal levels.

Warm weather was reported in the Florida peninsula and in southwest Texas. High readings yesterday included 79 at Tampa and Miami, Fla., and 70 in San Antonio, Tex.

"I never planned on my own future," he once said. "I have always been pushed into success. I entered diplomacy without merit or qualification. I merely chose my father's will."

Masaryk's wartime broadens was a source of consolation to the Czech people who had to bear the brunt of a German-run economy. They bore Masaryk no ill will for being out of the country.

One of his first acts upon arriving in Czechoslovakia again after World War II was to lay a wreath on the grave of Karel Capek, one of the nation's greatest writers.

When he returned to his car he found this message scrawled on a door: "We love you."

Mrs. W. E. Hollyhead was chairman of the program and introduced the quizzer, and Mrs. W. E. Satcher, who played the piano accompaniment for a number of Irish songs, sung by the entire group. Decorations were in keeping with the St. Patrick's Day theme with greenery and statils placed along the center of the tables where the chicken dinner was served. Napkins were also baskets filled with green and white mints were at each place.

Mrs. Joel S. Field presided over a brief business session, at which time members voted to sponsor a Bendix demonstration at the Randall Electric Company on Mar. 23. All members were urged to attend and to invite others to do so.

She also asked for volunteers to take part in the Cancer Education Program which is sponsored in Sanford by the Pilot Club. Members also volunteered to assist in the current Red Cross drive for funds.

Announcement was made of the Spring council meeting to be held in St. Augustine the weekend of Apr. 10-11.

A new member, Mrs. Gordon Sweeney, was welcome into the club.

At 57, Chennault is retired from the Army and heads a commercial aviation concern in China. He flew here to testify at the committee's hearings on the Administration's request that Congress vote $570,000,000 for aid to China.

Chennault's 25-year-old Chinese wife accompanied him to the hearing.

Chennault argued: "China's enormous population could furnish almost unlimited manpower for military operations if properly trained, equipped and supplied. At least the fact that they could not be dominated and trained as slave labor by Russian masters would be of utmost value to us as an asset."

"When considered and given proper weight as strategic factors in any future war, it is not difficult to understand why Russia would not voluntarily launch an offensive in Europe so long as China remains un-communized. Nor should it be hard to understand why a third World War is improbable if China remains our friend and ally."

"World peace is definitely threatened by the world wide expansion plans of the Communist leaders."

"2. A strong, independent, anti-Communist Chinese national government constitutes our only hope of halting the spread of Communism in Asia and of preserving the peace of the world. China, because of its strategic geographical position, must be included in any overall plan for resisting the spread of Communism, for if China goes Communist, all of continental Asia will quickly follow, and there will be no continental Asian bases left to us."

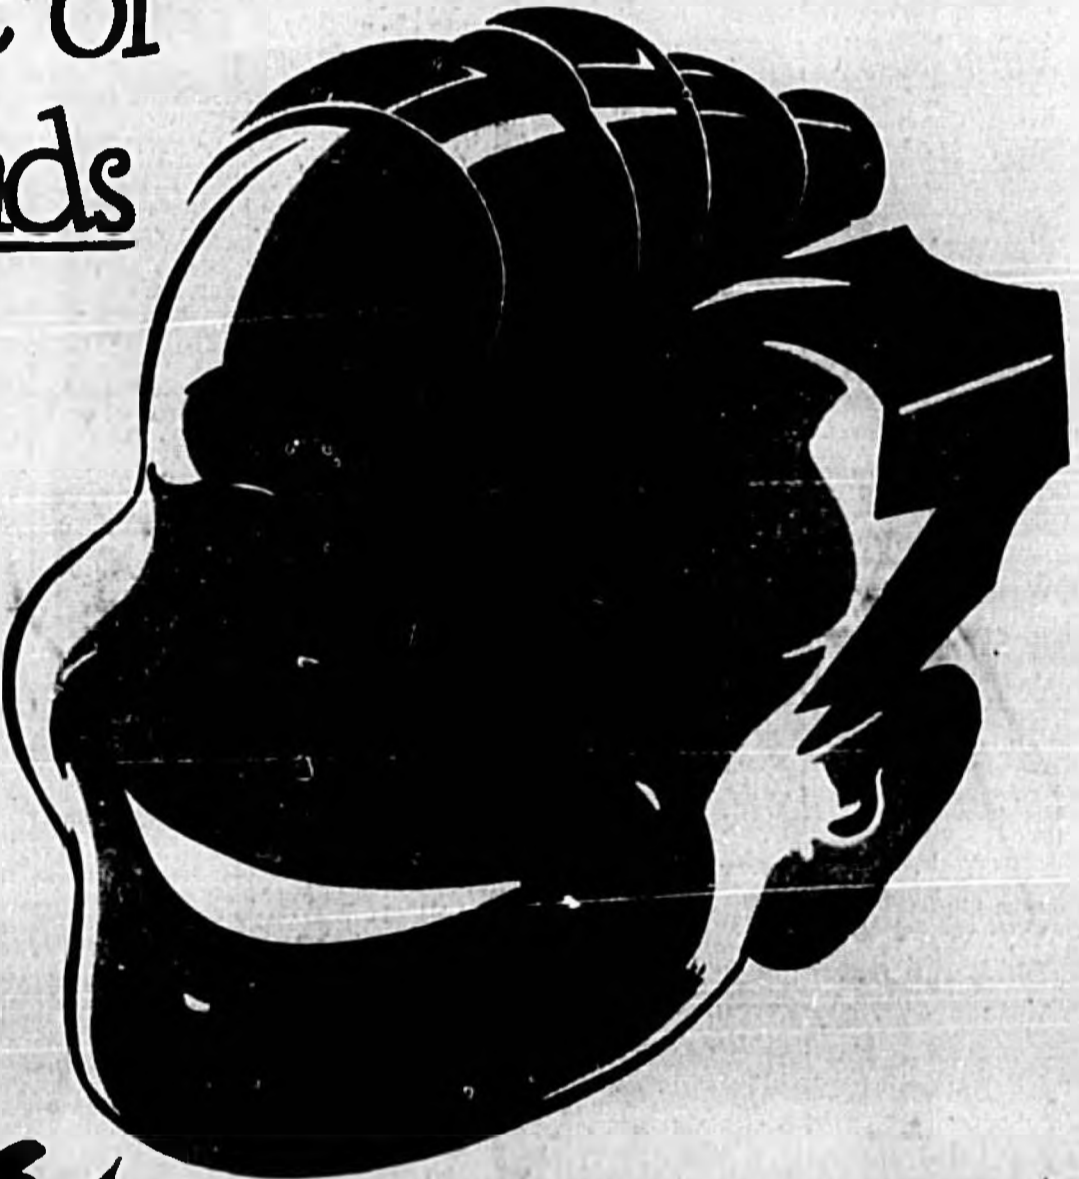

"3. After more than ten years of continuous warfare, China has almost reached the end of her resources. She must have substantial military, economic and financial aid quickly if an anti-Communist national government is to survive. The alternative is a Communist, anti-American government."

"4. Failure to provide adequate aid to China at this time will constitute the greatest failure of American foreign policy in all of our history and will inevitably set the stage for World War III."

Garsson Bros. Are Indicted For Cheating

Prosecutor Charges U.S. Was Defrauded Of Over 78 Million In War Contracts

BALTIMORE, Mar. 11 (AP)—A federal grand jury charged today the Garsson brothers and associates in their war-time Illinois munitions combine jugged their books and cheated the government.

A three count indictment returned after nine weeks of testimony before the grand jurors did not specify the amount of the alleged fraud.

But Frank H. Patton, special Department of Justice prosecutor, said the government expects to prove it was shortchanged at least a million dollars of $78,000,000 worth of war contracts.

The indictment named the Erie Basin Metal Products Company of Elgin, Ill., Henry M. and Murray W. Garsson, Allen B. Grillman, Joseph T. Weiss, and Harry S. Glick, all of Chicago.

The Garsson brothers already have been convicted of exchanging information on war contracts.

Mrs. Housholder Died Last Night Of Long Illness

Mrs. Ernest F. Housholder, resident of Sanford for 34 years, died at 10:45 o'clock last evening at a local hospital following an extended illness.

Mrs. Housholder was married to Ernest F. Housholder, local attorney and former state senator, in Sanford Apr. 11, 1917 and lived at 2044 Hibiscus Drive. She was very active in social and civic life of the community, and during World War II served as chairman of the "Red Cross" committee for the local branch.

In addition she wrote a series of articles entitled "What about your soldier" and concerning the activities of service men here and overseas, which were featured in The Herald.

She is survived by the husband, Ernest F. Housholder of Sanford; one son, Karlisle Housholder of (Continued on Page Six)

Mobile Police Probe Negro's Fatal Beating

MOBILE, Ala., Mar. 11 (AP)—Three Mobile detectives are continuing their investigation into the fatal beating of Rayfield Davis, 53-year-old negro.

Detective Capt. Tally Rollings questioned two witnesses yesterday, but declined to say what information was obtained. Rollings reported Tuesday that Horace M. Miller, 20, signed a statement he beat the negro to death in an argument over President Truman's civil rights program.

Miller is held in Mobile city jail awaiting a preliminary hearing Mar. 16.

Mihal Says Only War Can Free Romanians

NEW YORK, Mar. 11 (AP)—Nothing short of war, under existing conditions, can free his country from domination by Communists, former King Mihai of Romania says.

The handsome, 26-year-old ex-monarch, accompanied by his mother, Queen Helen, arrived last yesterday aboard the Queen Elizabeth for his first visit to the United States. He plans to remain two or three weeks.

Mihal, who told reporters that his abdication last Dec. 30 was forced by Romanian Communists, said he still considers himself Romania's rightful ruler and believes his countrymen in general remain loyal to him.

Caldwell Given $237,500 Judgment

TALLAHASSEE, March 11, (AP)—A federal court jury, including three Negro members, yesterday awarded $237,500 damages to Gov. Caldwell said the magazine for $500,000 sued announced he would give to the Florida A. and M. College for Negroes here any damages collected.

Masaryk's Death Brings Strong Repercussions Throughout Europe

LONDON, Mar. 11 (AP)—Three more Czechoslovak diplomats resigned their posts today amid repercussions of Jan Masaryk's death, Prime Frantisek Schwarzberg, hero of the Czech resistance against the Nazis, quit as first secretary of the Czech legation at the Vatican.

"It is obvious my resignation means I do not recognize the Gottwald government which has usurped power," he declared.

Schwarzberg said that, in his last visit to Prague, he talked with Foreign Minister Masaryk and found him "a broken man."

"I do not know," Schwarzberg said. "He could have committed suicide—or he could have been killed."

Dr. Emil Walter resigned as Czechoslovak minister to Norway. His note to the Prague foreign ministry from Oslo said:

"I ask the foreign ministry to accept my resignation because, under the circumstances, I do not find it possible to cooperate. As a loyal Czech I will always be at the disposal of my country."

Nicholas Gostwald, trade representative attached to the London embassy, announced his resignation, because of the policies of the Communist government in Prague.

Europe's non-Communist press hailed Masaryk as a martyr in a fight of free men against oppression. The Communist press said the Czech leader was a victim of foreign slander.

Police in the Soviet zone of Germany yesterday confiscated all papers teaching the cause of the French licensed German newspaper Kurier, which carried the Associated Press account of Masaryk's death.

"They killed him," said the rightist newspaper Le Pays in Paris. "We whose voice cannot yet be choked, we say to Gostwald and to his Kremlin masters: 'You assassinated Jan Masaryk.'"

L'Humanite, French Communist newspaper, said Masaryk was a victim of "foreign reaction's slanders." It said "He suffered deeply from the attitude of a certain number of his former friends during the recent events."

The Times of London said: "There can be no compromise in principle between the philosophy of individual freedom and of dictatorship. Jan Masaryk died a victim of this conflict."

In Berlin, the German Socialist newspaper Telegraph said Masaryk's death would result in increasing solidarity among Czechoslovaks to their Communist government.

In Brussels, Belgium, the independent newspaper La Lanterne said: "We know why Masaryk died, but we do not know how he died."

Czech Head Given Unanimous Vote Of Confidence

PRAGUE, Mar. 11 (AP)—Czechoslovakia's Communist government got a unanimous vote of confidence in Parliament today as it prepared a state funeral for Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk.

Thus, in two weeks and two days after the seizure of power, Communist Premier Klement Gottwald has had up for parliamentary approval the program for which he had battled since last summer.

When Chairman Josef Dvornik called for the confidence vote, all the 231 deputies who were present raised their hands. The Parliament has a normal membership of 300.

Ahead of the deputies is the adoption of legislation to legalize activities of the action committees which Gottwald set up at the Czech cism developed. The committees took control of the government for him and quickly began to guide every phase of public life.

State Funeral Is Arranged For Foreign Minister Masaryk

WASHINGTON, Mar. 11 (AP)—President Truman today asked Congress for an additional $55,000,000 to help tide Western Europe over until the European Recovery Program is enacted. Congress voted $540,000,000 temporary aid last fall including $18,000,000 for China. It was expected then that this money would last until the Marshall Plan was passed.

But in a letter to Speaker Martin (R-Mass), President Truman said: "Events which have taken place in Europe during recent weeks do not permit us with safety or prudence to risk a break in the supply flow at this moment. I therefore hope that Congress will find it possible to make available the needed funds before April 15."

Mr. Truman said the money is needed to permit the continued placement of contracts for essential supplies for a "brief additional interim period."

"The appropriation proposed will provide only for a very short period and extreme urgency remains for the earliest possible authorization of the European Recovery Program itself," the President added.

South Carolina Democrats Plan "Democratic Solidarity Dinner"

WASHINGTON, Mar. 11 (AP)—All is not southern revolt in South Carolina, a Textile Workers Union of America official said today. John W. Edelman, Washington representative of the CIO union, said labor groups in South Carolina will set a date for a "Democratic Solidarity Dinner" as soon as they hear from Senator J. Howard McGrath, Democratic National Chairman.

An invitation for McGrath to speak is on its way to Washington from Greenville, S. C., where a club of the Democratic Voters League made plans for "holding the state together for the Democratic Party," Edelman said.

Edelman told reporters that liberal and labor groups in the state have formed three clubs, naming the collective group the Democratic Voters League. The league, he said, takes the view that the revolt of some Southern Democrats against President Truman's civil rights program "is either phony or a sell-out to those seeking a thoroughly reactionary administration and Congress."

The league, he added, has "three functioning clubs in the state with dues paying membership already" (Continued on Page Six)

Truman Calls For More Aid For Europe

Red Cross One-Sixth Way Of $7,200 Goal

The Red Cross is but one-sixth of the way to its goal of $7,200 with $1,200 collected. It was reported today by Edwin Shindler, chairman of the fund drive in Seminole County.

Many collectors have not yet reported, said Mr. Shindler, and although progress so far has been gratifying, he urged continued efforts so that the goal will be reached by the end of the month.

One of the major activities of the Red Cross, he pointed out, is that of accident preservation since most accidents are not preventable and can be prevented by this Red Cross program is one of safety education.

The program is designed to develop awareness and to eliminate accident hazards at home, on the farm, and in a wide variety of every day activities. In cooperation with federal, civic, educational and industrial agencies in the safety field, Red Cross has been cut in half.

Shriners To Present Hospital Pictures

Matthew pictures of the 16 Shrine hospitals for crippled children throughout the country will be shown at the Shrine club meeting Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Masonic Temple. It was announced today by Edward F. Lane, president.

"This motion picture will show the wonderful work being done for children by Shriners," said Mr. Lane, "and will enable Shrine members to appreciate the opportunity of contributing toward it."

The picture will include a short talk by Frederick Kendrick, founder of the Shriners' hospitals for crippled children, and former president and past and present potentates of Monroe Temple at the meeting in Jacksonville. Every Shriner is urged to be present," Mr. Lane said.

Folsom Gets Crown As Eligible Bachelor

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Mar. 11 (AP)—James E. Folsom today gets a crown for being the Barbershop School of Modeling's version of the nation's most eligible bachelor.

Governor Folsom was recently selected by the 500 girls of the New York modeling agency as the nation's No. 1 bachelor. The governor left Montgomery today for New York, where he will meet the girls who selected him.

Later Governor Folsom will talk politics with New York Democrats and then go to Washington for discussions on state business. Saturday he will join other Southern governors at a meeting in Washington.

Nine Killed In Explosion In Palestine

Are Injured When Building Of Jewish Agency Is Damaged By Terrorist Blast

JERUSALEM, Mar. 11 (AP)—An explosion severely damaged the Jewish agency building today after a car bombing the American flag was parked in its heavily guarded courtyard.

The Jewish agency, the official organization for Palestine Jews, had nine persons were killed and 50 injured. Up to 500 persons were in the building and 50 or 60 were in the night wing, which was the worst shattered.

Hisnadi, the Jewish militia, took charge. Its preliminary inquiry indicated the explosive had been under the car's floor. The government said the Jews were blameless all police from the scene.

Haganah, informant, said a carload of an automobile and a carload of that of U. S. Consul General Robert B. MacVee, which was stolen yesterday.

Yeh Gaffie, chairman of Keren Hayeset, the Jewish National Organization Fund, was reported to have been one of those killed. He was a widely known Zionist leader of Russian birth.

Three minor officials of the agency were reported injured.

It is not yet known how the blast occurred. A spokesman for the Jewish agency told a news conference. "We are told that a car bearing the American flag and a number of plates of the Jewish Consulate drove into the courtyard just before the blast."

The driver was said by guards to be well known to them as one of the consular drivers. He had been given that permission and property of foreign consulates must be respected. For that reason, the car was allowed to (Continued on Page Six)

Student Officials 12 Perish, 1 Saved As Flaming DC-4 Crashes, Explodes

CHICAGO, Mar. 11 (AP)—A Delta Airlines DC-4 plane crashed and burned explosively last night a few seconds after it took off from Chicago's municipal airport. Twelve of 14 aboard were killed.

The only survivor was a 41-year-old mother whose seven-year-old son perished in the fiery wreckage. She screamed hysterically for her child as she was pulled from the flames.

Experiment In Youth Government Hailed As Great Success

Chasing its "Youth Government" program, the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce introduced to its membership today the winning candidates for the County officers at the noon meeting of the organization at the Mayfair Inn.

President Bradley Odham acted as master of ceremonies for the meeting and welcomed the students, county officials, school principals and teachers to the meeting. Odham said that the "Youth Government" week was designated to assist students in learning more about the qualifications for county officers and in structing the students in the duties of the many offices.

"In addition to this, the program taught many of the adult of the county that there is a lot more to qualifying for and holding county offices than they ever thought," Odham asserted.

Winning candidates expressed their appreciation to the Jaycees for sponsoring the program and (Continued on Page Six)

DeCott's Orders Probe Of Death In Highway Accident

Investigation into the circumstances of the death of William Earl of Fairford, Maine, as the result of having been struck on the Sanford Orlando highway at 8:00 o'clock last evening near the Palm Point Club, six miles north of Orlando, was ordered by Gov. DeCott's State Attorney General A. J. Hester today reported this morning by Sheriff P. A. Mero.

Mr. Earl, who was reported to have been 50 years of age, was hit after leaving the tourist cabin and attempting to cross the highway by an automobile driven by John A. DeCott, 61-year-old, president of Winter Park, who was released after giving his account (Continued on Page Six)

Two Fliers Freed Of Munitions Charge

JACKSONVILLE, Mar. 11 (AP)—Two aviators were acquitted in federal court here today of charges of illegal exportation of munitions to Cuba for use in a Dominican revolution.

The two had admitted flying a plane load of war implements to Cuba last October, but said they were told the flight must be "secret" that it had the backing of the United States and Cuba, and that they did not realize they were violating a law requiring a State Department license to export certain munitions to any foreign country.

They were Chester Miller, 35, pilot, who holds a cadetship in the Army Air Force Reserve, and who said he had been recalled to active duty next month, and Percy Cyr, 28, co-pilot, who holds a reserve majority in the A.F. Both are from Hasbrouck, N. J.

Highway Plans

JACKSON, Miss., Mar. 11 (AP)—A county supervisor told Mississippi lawmakers last night that he had been able to gravel 35 miles of road for less than the State Highway Department spent to construct one mile of gravel road in an adjoining county.

"What we need is more miles of road and less Highway Department specifications," said the supervisor, C. L. Barnett of Oktibbeha County.

Parliament Announces Agreement With U. S. To End Tax Disputes

LONDON, Mar. 11 (AP)—The government announced today an agreement with American film producers to end a tax dispute which brought a Hollywood ban on shipment of films to Britain.

Harold Wilson, president of the Board of Trade, said that the controversial 75 per cent duty on earnings of imported films "should be withdrawn as quickly as the necessary arrangements could be made."

The normal export of American films to this country will "resume as soon as possible," he told the House of Commons.

Earlier, both British and American officials said the agreement is subject to ratification by United States film executives in Hollywood.

The Labor government imposed the tax last August in an effort to save dollars. Expenditures for (Continued on Page Six)

Marshall Proposal For Restrictions Is Placed Before Little Assembly

NEW YORK, Mar. 11 (AP)—Rumors that the United States would walk out of the big power Palestine talks at the Jewish and Arab were invited to take part in the discussion. It was said that American officials would call the Arabs of Palestine and the Jewish Agency before the big power conference. Gostwald said he could not participate if the Jewish and Arab representatives at the U. S. Palestine Commission were brought in for consultation. He said Jewish-Arab consultation efforts in the past had failed.

NEW YORK, Mar. 11 (AP)—The big power talks of Palestine were resumed today amid increasing indications that American moves for Jewish-Arab consultation were failing. The U. S. delegation was not yet ready to concede failure, but top Arab leaders indicated there was little likelihood that the Arab Higher Committee for Palestine would accept the American bid to take part in the big power consultations. The American statement denied reports published here this morning that the U. S. might support a federated government for Palestine instead of partition. At the Jewish Agency for Palestine agreed.

THE SUCCESS (Mar. 11 (AP)—The United States today proposed drastic restrictions on the big power talks in the United Nations. The proposal would exclude all the issues on which Russia used the veto 22 times in the last two years.

It was laid before the Little Assembly as the first move toward carrying out a declaration made by Secretary of State George (Continued on Page Six)

Ohioans Purchase Lake Harney Land For Home, Estate

Myrtle Beach, S. C., Mar. 11 (AP)—A group of Ohioans recently purchased a 10-acre tract with a 100-foot frontage on Lake Harney, and are planning to develop a home and estate on the site. The tract was purchased by Mrs. J. H. Hutton, who is planning to build a home on the site. The tract was purchased for $100,000. The Ohioans are planning to build a home and estate on the site. Oranges Bring $1.37 A Box In New York LAKELAND, Fla., Mar. 11 (AP)—Florida "interior" oranges brought an average of $1.37 a box on the New York market today, a season high.

Premium Indian River fruit on the same market sold for $1.95.

The term "interior" is applied to all Florida citrus except that grown in the Indian River section on the East Coast, which regularly brings higher prices.

FOL prices remained in the $2 to $2.25 per box range. Buyers said they were unwilling to follow the higher trend noted in auction prices because they feared heavier picking would follow the end of current rains and would leave them overcrapped on a lowered market.

Dredging Reported Ahead Of Schedule

J. D. W. Hester is directing operations of the HBI Construction Co. in the St. Johns River, he reported that he is working ahead of schedule, and the work is starting in January. The dredging is now out in the lake, more at the rate of 3,000 feet a day, putting the 12-foot channel, and can pump 25,000 to 30,000 cubic yards of material a day.

If no unusual difficulties are encountered, he predicted, that the whole operation at Lake Monroe will be completed in about four days.

The dredge will then move down the river to remove an estimated one million cubic yards of material from the channel between Lake Monroe and a point about five miles beyond Cross Bluff. This work, said Mr. Wells, ought to be completed by the last of July.

WHAT NEED IS THERE FOR SUCH A MAD VENTURE
 WHEN THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN IS WITHIN US? GO

 CLOSE YOUR EYES AND LISTEN.
 GOD MAY HAVE SOMETHING TO SAY TO YOU. HE IS EXTREMELY CLOSE TO them, but us!

Henry Wallace's Third Party seems to be running pretty strong in Polk county. We see where it has registered 259 voters down there out of a total of 36,460.

Congratulations to Governor

The Truman announcement clears one situation—that the President might, realizing the probability of defeat in the election, withdraw his name from consideration for the nomination.
 That's out. He's in the race. The party will match to victory or go down to defeat with Truman at its nominal head.—Tampa Tribune. In to the bitter end.

The death of Jan Masaryk again raises the total of heads that have fallen before the onward rush of Red Communism. Whether he jumped to his own death, or was killed by a gang of thugs, he is a martyr to the cause of freedom and will go down in history along with a host of others who have sacrificed their own lives that liberty might live. We who take freedom to lightly in this country because we have grown used to it and no longer appreciate it, find it hard to realize what tyran-ny means to men who must live under its iron yoke. That this country will wake up and take steps to defend its most prized possession should be the hope and prayer of every freedom loving American.

The victory of Thomas E.
 Dewey in New Hampshire puts the New York Governor out in front for the Republican presidential nomination. He might not run so well in the West, and he certainly won't in the South, but hailing as he does from Michigan he might do all right in the Middle West. He has an admirable record as an administrator in New York, and also as a prosecutor, being about the only one who ever made any progress in that state against the number-crack, and for that matter, any other gambling interests, and should be a sound recommendation for him with any right-thinking citizen. However, to save our life, we can't become enthusiastic about him.

This is a time when American business everywhere is on trial, when the soapbox orator and the Communist agitator are only too eager to point out the faults and all the evils of the American system of free enterprise, but no one has been more critical of American business than American businessmen. The druggist flays the dairyman because his milk is sour or the taster causes the café owner because his egg is spoiled. The haberdasher sells socks which won't stand a first washing, says the movie operator, who never has a show before Orlando does.
 And the laundryman tears your shirts and collars to pieces and then sends you something that belongs to someone else. Your banker is a shylock and your utility manager a robber. And they all give the paper hell because it is not as big as the Communist and the Union In Germany

Unification of western Germany, a mere wishful thought a few weeks ago, seems assured by the London agreement under the United States, Great Britain and France. The joining of the French is significant, since the other two countries some time ago had reached basic agreement. With their three zones of Germany united as an economic and governmental unit, the time when western Germany will be back on its feet is in sight. Unfortunately this program will emphasize the isolation of the Russian zone, about a third of the total area, from the rest of Germany.

Notable also in the fact that Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg, becoming known as the Benelux countries through the customs union they are developing, took part in the London discussions. The Benelux countries, Britain and France are the leaders in a separate effort to build an economic and political bloc of western European nations around the Marshall Plan.

The whole future of such a bloc may hinge upon the April 18 elections in Italy. Some political writers say Italy is already as good as lost to the Communists, and to Russian control. If Italy should fall to the Communists the western bloc would be split in two, the Kremlin would have Greece and Turkey caught in a pincers, and also would have a physical gateway to France. Small wonder such importance is attached to the forthcoming elections in Italy.

Women Live Longer

Women have materially better chances than men of surviving to old age, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company reveals. The chances are about 3 in 4 that a new-born girl will reach age 65, while for boys the chances are about 2 in 3. These figures relate to the white population of the United States.

The prospect of reaching old age has increased markedly since the turn of the century, the Metropolitan observes. The girl infant of 1900 had less than 45 chances in 100 to attain age 65, whereas at present the chances are about 75 in 100. For boy babies the chances in 100 increased from less than 40 to somewhat over 60 in the same period.

The prospect is also much brighter now than in 1900 that a boy just entering employment will survive to the usual retirement age of 65 years. At age 18, the young man of 1900 had an even chance of reaching age 65, while at present the chances are fully 2 in 3. For a man at age 45 the chances are 70 to 100 of surviving to age 65, and at 55 years, the chances are 78 in 100.

"The outlook for living beyond age 65 likewise has improved," the Metropolitan reports. "Currently, white men who live to 65 can expect to live on for an additional 12½ years on the average, and for white women there remains an average of 14½ years."

It is reasonable to expect, moreover, that as additional control is gained over the infections and other conditions which bring premature death, the average length of life will be extended still further."

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By RUSSELL KAY

When we think of Florida tourist attractions our minds turn to such enterprises as Silver Springs, Beautiful Cypress Gardens, Marineland and the like, and it will probably surprise you to learn that this state has an entirely different type of attraction that annually draws more and more attention from tourists and winter visitors.

This attraction offers nothing in the way of beauty or charm.
 It has no crystal clear waters, no bathing beauties, no flowers. Instead, it is massive and ugly, noisy and dirty, and it has no turnstiles or admission charge, but in spite of this over 15,000 people have visited it this season and the number of visitors is increasing each year.

It is Florida's largest industrial enterprise, the Sugar House of the United Sugar Corporation at Clewiston. During the grinding season when the freshly cut cane is being converted into blackstrap molasses and raw sugar it is just about the busiest place in Florida.

Being a strictly commercial enterprise, no particular effort was made to attract visitors although they have always been permitted to visit the plant if they cared to do so and would apply to the management.

When Joe Ferris, public relations executive, became a vice-president of the organization and took over supervision of company operations at Clewiston, he saw an opportunity to develop a tremendous amount of good-will by catering to those who were interested enough to want to visit the sugar house so he instated a free guide service and visitors were extended every courtesy and encouraged to make a complete tour of the gigantic plant. Trained and experienced attendants take groups through the plant just as groups are escorted through the Fountain of Youth properties at St. Augustine.
 Every phase of the operation is explained in language that the layman can understand.

Guide service is provided daily for tours of the plant from 8:00 A. M. until 4:00 P. M. and this season will be maintained until May 1st. Folks who visit the plant for the first time are tremendously impressed. While people thoroughly enjoy our beautiful tropical gardens, springs and other attractions they are also interested in learning about Florida's industrial activities and after visiting the sugar house they are as enthusiastic as after a visit to some of our more beautiful attractions.

While the Sugar Corporation has never advertised the sugar house as a tourist attraction and no effort has been made to attract visitors such as is made by commercial attractions, word of mouth advertising has caused a steady increase in the number of people visiting the big industrial plant.

As a publicity producer for Florida the Sugar Corporation seems to be holding its own with Dick Pope's Aqua-bath and Pats Bennett's glass bottom boats, for

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
 AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Jan Masaryk's death has thrown much light on a question which had been puzzling a lot of us, namely, just how he appraised the situation growing out of the Communist seizure of power in Czechoslovakia.

Several days after the Red coup he gave a flat endorsement of close cooperation with Russia.
 However, he coupled this with the dramatic declaration to the army and his "Czech and Slovak brothers": "I am with you."

It was an enigmatic statement.
 Some observers thought it indicated that Masaryk had embarked on a highly dangerous double game. Others felt he was trying to steer a middle course to bring Moscow and the Western Democracies together in peace.

Well, it now seems probable that in the long and lonely hours of Tuesday night he came to the fateful decision that he was playing a futile role—that his usefulness was finished. What tipped the balance may have been his realization that his continued presence in the Communist government was giving the Reds a chance to traffic on the public's worship of his father—founder of the Republic. The magic name of Masaryk was an invaluable asset to the Communists in their efforts to solidify the country behind the totalitarian government.

Jan Masaryk may even have felt (to use the language of British Prime Minister Attlee) that "He could not endure to live in the suffocating atmosphere of totalitarianism." Indeed, it would be strange if the foreign minister weren't in a state of near despair. Still, I'm inclined to believe that he would have stayed on and fought it out, if he hadn't felt that it was better for his country if he "withdrew."

I'm trying to look at the thing objectively, and perhaps it would be easier if I hadn't known Jan Masaryk and his father and other members of the family. I haven't yet met anybody who knew the Masaryk family who didn't have a high regard for it. No more doubtfully fighter ever came out of Central Europe than Thomas Masaryk, the rebel who became father of his country. There is no reason to doubt that Jan was a chip off the old block, so far as bravery is concerned.

So it isn't unreasonable to conclude that Jan Masaryk figured it was for the good of Czechoslovakia if he disappeared. Only a few hours before his death he visited his father's grave. One wonders if the son was seeking inspiration from the wisdom of the father. Perhaps he got that help. Who knows?

The manner in which the son came doesn't in the least alter our hypothesis. The Prague government tells us that he committed suicide by jumping out of a third story window.

In any event, whether Jan Masaryk jumped or whether he met his death in some other instantaneous fashion doesn't matter.
 What does count is that in the darkest hours of Tuesday night he was made a martyr to inspire his people to fight for freedom.
 If he jumped voluntarily, he was driven to it; if he died some other way, the effect remains the same.

Whatever way you figure it, Jan Masaryk has suffered the same fate as his country. But it's my guess that his spirit will continue to march ahead of his people, along side that of his father.

Perhaps even more important is the effect of the Czechoslovak situation on the Western Democracy. U. S. Secretary of State, Marshall yesterday summed up the position in blunt language.
 He declared that Czechoslovakia is under "a reign of terror," and cited Masaryk's death as one of the things on which he bases his remark.

"There is also a very strong feeling regarding these developments and a considerable paralysis of view on the part of a great many of this country. The situation is very, very serious."

THE STATE DEPARTMENT has confirmed reports that Lydia Ruth James (left) of Hillsdale, Ind., and Mrs. Jennie Skates of San Francisco, Cal., were killed by gunfire while riding in a jeep near Saigon, Indochina. Both women were in the U. S. Foreign Service. The jeep in which they were riding was found on a road three miles from Saigon, U. S. and French authorities are investigating the tragedy. Young Soldier Dives To Death In Plane

HONOLULU, Mar. 11 (AP)—One shot is all that police have found of a young soldier they said critically wounded his estranged bride then suicide-dived a stolen plane into the sea.

Five terrified children watched the shooting. One of them, a nine-year-old girl, dared to slap the man in the face.

Detective Eugene A. Kennedy said the case is closed and that the soldier, Pvt. Samuel A. Wong, 24, certainly died in the crash dive. The plane hit the water near the inbound liner Matsushima yesterday as hundreds of passengers watched.

Big Portion Of Nation's Press Pictures MacArthur As Strong GOP Candidate

By Associated Press

A wide segment of the nation's press today editorially pictured General Douglas MacArthur as a strong candidate for the Republican presidential nomination. Few newspapers expressed surprise over the declaration of his willingness to run, or President Truman's decision to seek another term in the White House.

The New York Times said MacArthur's announcement placed upon him the obligation to make his position clear on "many great national and international issues that have hitherto been remote from his command." The Times viewed Mr.
 Truman's action as an effort to "hold the line in the face of threatened desertions, North and South. How serious these will prove to be, by convention time, and by election time, only the future can determine."

Noting the "menace" of Russia,
 the New York Daily News said the General's "obvious Red-handling ability gives his candidacy a healthy start."

The Richmond (Va.) Times-Dispatch, however, attached little significance to either development.
 "It is an odds-on bet... that neither (Truman or MacArthur) will be the next President," the newspaper editorialized.

The President's decision, said the Philadelphia Inquirer, does not silence "the opposition to him that has split the Democratic Party wide open." As for Mac-Arthur, the Inquirer declared the General's "distinguished military record in both world wars and his successful administration of occupied Japan give him undoubted strength as a candidate."

"There can be no question of General MacArthur's ability as a military leader or as a governor," commented the New York Herald-Tribune. "What remains to be demonstrated are, first, his qualification for service in a civil-and political post, and, second, his familiarity with the grave issues, domestic and foreign, which confront the next President of the United States."

New York City's other morning newspaper, the Mirror, said the MacArthur candidacy "makes an instant and spontaneous appeal to the hearts of the American people, searching as they have been for wise and statesmanlike leadership."

The Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal expressed belief MacArthur's announcement had come too late because "the more confident of party victory this year they have become, the less likely it is that the Republican nomination will easily let the nomination prize go to a complete outsider in their game."

The Los Angeles Times commented:
 "That he (MacArthur) would, if elected, be a good President few discerning citizens will deny, but whether he will win the nomination, or be considered by the Republican delegates at the Philadelphia convention are factors which must and should be determined by sober reflection."

The Providence (R. I.) Journal-Bulletin accepted Mr. Truman's re-nomination as a foregone conclusion. Regarding MacArthur, the General's military achievements have made the nation indebted to him, the newspaper said, but "we cannot regard the highest civil office in the land as a reward for military service."

If the Democrats nominate President Truman "over the protest and without the support of the South," it would "almost amount to landing the election to the Republicans on a silver platter," said the Mobile (Ala.) Register.

MacArthur, the Christian Science Monitor declared, "could be a second choice for many of the Taft people as Senator Vane-denburg would be a second choice for many Dewey and Stassen supporters."

"MacArthur's best bet is to stick to his guns—to go on doing his job and let the public decide whether to elect him or not," said the Dallas (Tex.) Morning News.

The Buffalo (N. Y.) Courier-Express said: "Recognition might be given to General MacArthur's announcement through a public sending (say by Secretary of State Marshall) of General Eisenhower's letter telling why he, as a professional military man, could not accept the nomination for the presidency if it were tendered him."

The Democrats "have no horse in the stable any better than the one they now have," the St. Paul (Minn.) Pioneer Press said, while the Richmond (Va.) News Leader had this to say to the President's decision:

"Truman has the insider's chance for the nomination and has no rival who commands national support. . . . The convention still is four months distant. Almost anything may happen in that time."

The New York Sun described MacArthur as a formidable contender for the Republican nomination, and President Truman as the only Democratic candidate who had a chance of winning the election.

"The nation, we think, will feel no special elation as a result of the Tokyo communique," commented the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

"How formidable a contender the General may become remains to be seen," said the Kansas City Star.

"America wants a 'Warrior for Democracy,'" declared the Denver Post, "but she would prefer him a civilian."

The Nashville (Tenn.) Banner called MacArthur "the outstanding figure so far" expressing willingness to accept the presidential candidacy.

Tepsic Home Scene Of St. Monica Meet

St. Monica Chapter of the Women's Auxiliary of the Holy Cross Episcopal Church met on Tuesday evening at 8:00 P. M. at the home of Mrs. P. H. Tepsic on East Second Street. Mrs. Jack MacDonall served as co-hostess for the meeting. Mrs. E. A. Dyson presided over the business meeting and sewing for the local hospital was distributed among the members.

Announcement was made of the auxiliary meeting to be held on Mar. 15 and of Quiet Day on Mar. 19. A committee was appointed to work on the Easter decorations for the church. Plans were discussed for the annual bridge party to be given by the auxiliary and a picnic was planned for members of the chapter for Mar. 31 at the Sanford Elks' Club.

At the conclusion of the business program consisting of questions to be answered by members was presented by Miss Carol Stone. The questions were on the "Child in Home." Following the program a sweet course was served in the garden.

Those present for the meeting were Mrs. Ava Davis, Mrs. Wallace Phillips, Mrs. Gordon Bradley, Mrs. Irving Feinberg, Mrs. Charles Vodopich, Mrs. Raymond Landquist, Mrs. G. D. Bishop, Jr., Mrs. Ruth Carlton, Mrs. Sam Marzina, Mrs. B. L. Richard Maxwell To Appear Here Sunday

Richard Maxwell, famous radio singer-philosopher, will make a personal appearance at the First Methodist Church on Sunday, Mar. 14, at 5:00 P. M.

Appearing with Richard Maxwell at the First Methodist Church are Mildred Young, Juillard School of Music graduate, and Margot Power, youthful CBS radio concert singer.

The program is sponsored by the church and Veterans Hospital Programs, non-profit organization which takes network radio entertainment to veterans hospitals and distributes free radios to the sick and wounded men.

Admission is free and everyone is invited to attend the program and meet these popular radio stars in person.

Seminole Hi By BOBBY PARK

Friday morning the Library Staff of Seminole High presented an exchange program with the students of Orlando High School. The program was one of variety and displayed a wide field of talent of O. H. S. There were the usual singing numbers, but they were unusual in their quality, since Seminole High has always featured many novelty acts and numbers which made the program a money success. Despite the general qualities of talent "dumped" upon Seminole High, the Library Staff will still have to put out a lot of hard work to match the excellent Orlando performance.

Monday the officers elected in the Youth Government Week program assisted the local officers in their official duties. From the talk of Walter Gardner and a couple of letters who were elected from high school they "had a big time" and received a lot of real information on how the county government is run.

Thursday the Key Club had several visitors from Kwanan. Mr. Raymond Kider, Mr. Fielding and Mr. Darpe were the guests from Kwanan and Mr. Morris, principal of Seminole High, was the guest speaker. Mr. Darpe welcomed Charles Lansing into the club as the new sophomore member. Mr. Morris commended in his speech the members of the Key Club's excellent scholastic record and the fact that in every major event, extra-curricular and otherwise, the club was well represented with members taking part. Tow, he passed the club on its excellent attendance record. Fred Rosetter, president, appointed committees to work on the redecoration of the club room.

Through the courtesy of the Florida Power and Light Company the radio and physics students of Seminole High were conducted on lecture tours of the electric plant. When the students arrived at the plant they were divided into groups of 11 with an employee of the power company for each group to answer questions and explain the purpose of each machine. The tour fitted in smoothly with the present studies of the physics class and showed working examples of principles being discussed in class at present. I presume the radio class benefitted as much from the trip as we did. I'm sure everyone has a greater respect for the great amount of cost and skillful work that produces the current we use. If the other members of the class are like me, they will have a greater respect for lights. I don't see why the workmen at the plant don't have a nervous breakdown. Thank goodness the power company has rails around the plant and not been guard rails. If there had not been guard rails at the plant and would probably be a spot on the floor there now.

There is a certain character named "Ed" who simply won't answer if "Ed" doesn't contact Leslie Harvey or some other important official at S. H. S. soon it might develop into a national crisis. Why "Ed" is wanted no one knows, but it must be extremely important. Some think it has something to do with Sam Hackett or the late Ermintrude de Lacey.

In 1942, 84 Negro U.S. children died during the first year of life for every 1,000 live births compared with 37 deaths among white children.

Social Group Has Annual Bridge Party

The annual St. Patrick's Day dessert bridge party was held yesterday afternoon by the social department of the Sanford Woman's Club at 1:30 o'clock at the club house on Oak Avenue. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. E. C. Harper, Mrs. C. L. Redding, Mrs. Herman Morris, Mrs. R. B. Beck and Mrs. A. E. Shindler.

Carrying out a green and white St. Patrick's theme the large club room was attractively decorated with lovely arrangements of spruce and greenery. The tables and napkins were formed of small green shantocks.

Prior to the bridge and Chinese checker games an election was held for a new chairman because of the resignation of Mrs. O. M. Harrison, former chairman, to the presidency of the general club. Mrs. George Wells was elected to fill Mrs. Harrison's place. Refreshments served also carried out the green and white color scheme, consisting of small individual green cakes, hot cream and coffee.

Hollywood By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Mar. 11 (AP)—Having conquered almost every kind of role, Ingrid Bergman is now eyeing comedy. She is letting it be known "that after her film with Alfred Hitchcock in England, she wants a light role. Her only previous approach to comedy was her hilarious boxing scene in 'The Heels of St. Mary's'."

Mortimer Snerd is leaving Swedish Edgar Bergen is brushing up on his ancestral tongue in preparation for his return to Sweden this fall. Mortimer has never spoken that language, but Charlie McCarthy does; in fact, he talks it better than Edgar. The ventriloquist explains that Swedish sounds better from his throat than from his natural voice.

Glenn Ford was wandering around the Paramount lot and immediately asked him why he hadn't been fitted for a shoulder holster for an untitled gun drama (he's going to do next at Columbia), he said "I guess Columbia doesn't have as much equipment as Paramount."

Hilly de Wolfe, Paramount's traveling emissary, has an offer to help open a theater in Lima, Peru. That's one trap he'd like to make, but he's too busy in "Monty Barmantide." He is also supposed to open at the London Palladium in May, but he doesn't know if he'll make it. The last time he played the Palladium he was booked for two weeks and stayed five years.

Lon Costello was discussing on the business of horse racing on "A and C Movie Breakdown" set: "You can't lose money racing horses. It costs me bucks a day to board a horse. Training expenses are extra. But almost any horse should be in the money a few times during a meeting. With the fat purses they hand out these days, you'd at least break even." If you don't mind, Lon, I'll stick to pinhole.

Humphrey Bogart and Edward G. Robinson star in my favorite scene of the week. They were sunning themselves outside the "Key Largo" set when a rubbernecking tourist bus drove by. "Look—here's Eddie Robinson get up and pointed. 'There's Bogie, too, say hello to the nice folks, Bogie.'"

Other Hollywood sights and sounds—Dane Clark crying real tears in "Sunburst"; Alan Ladd playing a 17-year-old in "The Great Out-By"; Roz Russell golfing in Palm Springs; Wayne Morris and Barton MacLane planning a hunting and fishing junket by air.

"Sitting Pretty" (TCF) will roll 'em in the aisles. In these days of heavy screen fare, it will be embraced by audiences, since it considers nothing weightier than the problems of a small town couple. (Robert Young, Maureen O'Hara) and their middle-aged baby sitter. (Clifton Webb). Need I say more?

Views Of Bachelor Life And Reasons Why They Are One

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—What is home without a bachelor? I have no idea. For ten years my household has rung with the patter of little bachelor feet.

About twice a week one or another of these refugees from a wedding calls me up at work and says: "Hey, Boyle—she's puttin' the dog pot in the little one. Come home early tonight."

By home they refer to the place where I live. "Puttin' the dog pot in the little one" means Frances is cooking a particularly good dinner. And they want me home only so they can get the grub sooner.

It has been that way ever since we were married. The home always has been a kind of feeding and repair station for unattached males who are desperately anxious either to attain or to escape matrimony. At first they were the pals of my bachelor days. Then the pals of my pals. And now the pals of the pals of my pals.

I think they came originally because they were lonely and homesick for a home-cooked meal. Frances gave them sympathy, fed them and helped a number of them to find wives. One young fellow whose pants she fixed to look like new, got in Hollywood with a swimming pool all his own and nothing that needs patching except perhaps a stray ulcer here and there.

Through the years Frances has grown pleasantly disillusioned about bachelors. It began when she learned that one of her favorites, who prided her cooking on the fact he had ever known, was missing out exactly the same way to two other guys.

It increased as she learned how much she was any help around the house. If one did turn up she could fix a high plug, dry a bag or build a bookcase, he usually was around only a short time until he got married himself.

"I am just training husbands for other girls," Frances decided indignantly.

Bachelors that come on my way seem to break down into the following types:

(1) Chronic bachelors—These are the confirmed bachelors of our social life. They brag about their own cooking and stuff at your wife's housekeeping.

(2) Life is hopeless bachelors—These are the fellows who have been rejected in love. They cater-wail briefly and then marry another dame.

(3) Fast-aid-in-bachelors—"Please, can you help me find a girl and a job, and while I'm waiting would you mind sewing on this button for me?"

(4) Drowsing bachelors—These eat your food, drink your wine, then lie on the floor absorbing all the heat from the fireplace while they gaze about the international situation.

Most of our bachelors are this comfortable "drowsy cat" type. They can stuff a good meal three days in advance, but if you ask them to run down to the store on an errand they have a lame foot.

My wife would like to see our remaining crop of bachelors put to rest by leap year, but I always like to have a few hanging around the old home town—just for contrast.

For if there is anything that makes a husband look good, it is by comparison with the average stiffles, matrimony-dodging, stinky, nose-picking old bachelor.

Nine Women Die As Flames Raze Mental Hospital

Seven Are Trapped In Early Morning Inferno In Asheville

ASHEVILLE, N. C. Mar. 11 (AP)—Nine women patients perished here early today in the blazing inferno of a mental hospital fire.

Seven of the victims were trapped helplessly on upper floors of the four-story central building of the Highland Hospital for Nervous Diseases, Dr. B. T. Bennett, medical director, reported.

Two others were evacuated by firemen who dashed into the fiery structure, but they died soon afterward.

The fire, discovered about midnight, started in the kitchen of the hospital's central building. It quickly spread to an elevator shaft and was licking the building's roof when firemen arrived.

Screams of trapped women rang out above the roaring conflagration as doctors, nurses, firemen and police ran through the blazing structure, risking their lives in an effort to save the 20 patients in the building.

They quickly huddled the rescued patients into another building where some sat silently and others yelled hysterically.

The death toll was announced by Dr. Bennett after he and hospital authorities checked the city's fire-fighting equipment.

Every available piece of the city's fire-fighting equipment was called out and off-duty firemen were rushed to the scene.

The flames, leaping high into the air, lit up a large section of this mountain resort city. About 1,000 spectators, many of them dressed in pajamas, milled helplessly around, unable to assist the trapped patients.

Two of the victims were identified by hospital authorities as Mrs. Allen F. Hippis, widow of an Asheville doctor, and Mrs. Bruce Kennedy, about 30. Names of the others were not released immediately.

Dr. Bennett said some of the hospital's most violent patients were in the destroyed building, but they were among the first to be released. He reported that most of those dying were on the top floor of the wood and stone structure.

The hospital, housed in several buildings, about three miles from the heart of Asheville, is a unit of Duke University Hospital in Durham.

It was operated for about a quarter of a century by Dr. Robert S. Carroll, a noted mental specialist whose clientele included members of prominent families throughout the nation. Dr. Carroll gave the institution to Duke several years ago.

DC-4 Crash

Meo, of suburban Oak Lawn, Ill., suffered severe burns. Both of her legs and both of her arms were broken.

All four members of the crew were killed. The plane was bound for Miami, Fla. It splashed into an orange-colored, flaming mass on a nearby prairie at 10:58 P. M. from a height of 500 to 1,000 feet, during a snow flurry, witnesses said.

It was Delta's first accident in scheduled operations since 1934. Last year the airlines averted a special citation from the National Safety Council.

"Something went wrong" and the huge craft caught fire when only a few feet above the runway, Delta's district traffic manager said. There was no further explanation.

Among the identified dead were two Chicago brothers on their way to the bedside of their father, near death in Miami Beach, Fla. The two were Harold Levy, 47, prominent criminal lawyer, and Raymond Levy, 41, an insurance broker.

The plane had a capacity of 41 passengers. At least two persons who had reservations for the flight, no. 705 with stops at Cincinnati, Ohio, and Jacksonville, Fla., canceled them shortly before it took off.

It burned fiercely for more than an hour. Some of the bodies pulled out by firemen were burned or mangled beyond immediate recognition.

Felix Smith, an airport cargo handler, said the plane "came straight down in a vertical dive and splattered and exploded on the ground," near 55th Street and Cicero Avenue.

Flames shot up 50 feet as the plane flipped to earth "like a pancake," said another witness, C. K. Firth, a gasoline dealer who helped rescue Mrs. Meo.

Relatives said Mrs. Meo, wife of a restaurant owner, was on her way to Miami, Fla., for her health.

Mrs. Meo's son's body was found clutched in the arms of another woman. Both bodies were badly burned.

An inquest was scheduled for 10:30 A. M. Friday. Coroner A. L. Brodie said a "blue ribbon" jury of aviation specialists would be summoned.

The crew members were Capt. Grover Lee Holloway, 36, College Park, Ga.; the pilot; John S. Dismay, 25, Atlanta, Ga.; and Hollywood, Fla. First officer; Miss Sue Young, 29, Fayetteville, N. C.; stewardess; and Marvin G. Hainston, 21, Avondale Estates, Ga., purser.

Among the passengers killed was Dr. E. G. Garvin, 42, physician of Blanchester, Ohio. He was en route to Cincinnati from San Francisco.

Another passenger, Miss C. Richards of Cincinnati, boarded the plane without a reservation. The airlines said she was about 17 years old and going to Cincinnati for her father's funeral today.

NEW ORLEANS, Mar. 11 (AP)—Two persons were injured when a Navy transport plane carrying 18 persons crashed-landed and burned on a fog-shrouded auxiliary air-park near Donaldsonville, La., early today.

The Naval air station here said the two passengers were reported suffering from shock.

Aboard the craft were five crew members and 14 passengers. The Navy identified the pilot of the plane as Lieut. J. L. Scoggin, USN, Dallas, Tex. The co-pilot was Lieut. John Rue, USNR, and Ensign Joe LeBauch, USN.

Both Scoggin and LeBauch were stationed at Patuxent River, Maryland.

Navy headquarters here said the plane, a Navy transport, was on a regular scheduled flight from Patuxent River, Md., to Corpus Christi, Tex. An R-5-D is comparable to the Army C-54.

British Film Tax

net earnings of American movies, leaving about $17,000,000 to be sent to the U. S.

British sources said the new agreement would modify the duty, but not the take-home figure. A U. S. film executive said the take-home total would remain the same, but that the duty would be discarded.

The American, agreeing that the balance would have to stay in Britain, said it could be used to cover advertising, production and distribution costs, and some of it could be invested in British companies.

This informant said the new agreement would run for four years, and contained provision for a joint Anglo-American film council to rule on any future disagreements.

He said the agreement also contained a reciprocal clause looking toward increased dollar earnings for British films in America. Details of these clauses were not disclosed.

Florida State News In Brief

CLEARWATER, Mar. 11 (AP)—Eighteen snipers whose names represent a cross-section of the best sailing talent in the United States were expected to flash across the starting line this afternoon at 2 o'clock as the Clearwater Yacht Club hosts for the 11th annual Midwinter International Sniper Sailing Championships.

ROTARY MEET
ST. AUGUSTINE, Mar. 11 (AP)—Lawrence Hirsch, governor of the Rotary International district 107-A (the north and west of Florida) met last night with St. Augustine Rotarians to outline plans for the district conference, scheduled for Apr. 4, 5, and 6, in St. Augustine.

High-light of the district conference will be the introduction of the nominee for the next governorship of the district.

COMMITTS SUICIDE
ST. AUGUSTINE, Mar. 11 (AP)—The death of 39-year-old Jermain Irvin Dickinson, discovered last night hanging in his Ponte Vedra home, was today reported as a suicide by Judge Charles C. Mathis, Jr., St. Johns county coroner.

A note, beginning "Another night and no sleep. My head hurts constantly." And written by the dead man, was reported as the final evidence. The death note was addressed to Dickinson's sister in Miami.

GAMBLERS THREATEN
ST. PETERSBURG, Mar. 11 (AP)—Mayor Bruce B. Blackburn said today he had asked the FBI to investigate a complaint of telephonic threats against city officials by a gambling ring.

City Mayor Samuel Johnson told a citizens meeting he told Councilman Ray Dugan and former City Manager Carleton Sharpe received "definite threats on the part of a gambling ring to remove the city manager."

CALDWELL DECLINES
TALLAHASSEE, Mar. 11 (AP)—Governor Caldwell declined today to comment immediately on a request that he call a special session of the Florida legislature to free state Democratic presidential electors from commitments to support the party nominees.

"I haven't had anything from the Madison County Democratic executive committee" which made the recommendation yesterday, he said. "Until I get it I won't comment on it."

for inviting them to the luncheon meeting.

Principal Herman Morris of the Seminole High School stated he had learned a lot about duties in assisting the students with their elections. "It was a fine idea," he said.

E. J. Laney, principal of the Lyman High School at Longwood, asserted that people must be kept informed about the duties and responsibilities of public officers and that the "Youth Government" program is an excellent way to show the students the importance of the duties.

Mrs. Mary Lee Nichols, principal of the Geneva school, declared that the program is a wonderful experience for the students.

R. E. True, principal of the Sanford Junior High School, declared "It certainly is a worthwhile project. The students at the Sanford Junior High School have learned a lot about the government functions of the county. I am sure."

Principal W. A. Teague of Oviedo said that he has an earnest desire for the "Youth Government Week" to be held during the next school year.

T. W. Lawton, superintendent of public instruction for Seminole County, asserted, "This is a practical demonstration of what is studied in our civil government classes. I believe that the best way to teach is by practical application. This was an excellent practical application."

H. B. Pope, chairman of the Seminole County Commission, praised the success of the venture and stated that every one of the county officials enjoyed working with the students, who won their elections.

Students attending the meeting included Tax Collector Hanks Register of Sanford Junior High, Clerk of Circuit Court George Herndon of Sanford Junior High, Tax Assessor High Cooper of Seminole High, Janet Ratliff of Sanford Junior High, Clyde Walker of Lake Mary, Sadye Fleming of Oviedo and Isabell LaFila of Geneva and Supervisor of Registration June Mylestrip of Lyman High.

As soon as the water gets a bit lower and hidden bars and shoals are revealed, the Coast Guard Auxiliary will make a survey of this portion of the river, and will submit their reports to the Chamber of Commerce, along with a petition from boat owners asking that the channel maintenance be resumed. Mr. Higgins revealed.

The Chamber of Commerce will then present the request and data to the government engineers. Mr. Higgins said that he had been assured by government authorities that the channel will be maintained if there is a demand to keep it in proper shape for navigation.

He said the Greenville club adopted a resolution "to reaffirm faith in the broad program of the Democratic Party and its traditional fight for the common man."

The resolution said in part: "We urge our office-holders to devote the energy they are now expending for the vilification of the Democratic Party to solving the important problems of world peace, housing, health and the unwarranted high cost of living, which problems they have so far miserably failed to solve."

"Office-holders realize full well the policies of the Democratic and Republican parties on the civil rights issue are the same and the proposed effort to leave the Democratic Party will result only in assuring the Republicans a victory," it said.

"Many reactionary Southern office-holders are using the so-called civil rights issue on racial prejudice as a smoke screen to divert the attention of the voters from their record of opposition to progressive housing, health, educational and other legislation in the interest of the working people of the South."

Governor J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina is chairman of a civil rights committee of the southern governors scheduled to meet in Washington Saturday.

Thurmond has said he does not believe Mr. Truman has a chance to be elected and that the party should choose another nominee for President.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 11 (AP)—Democratic Chairman J. Howard McGrath told party leaders today it is time to hit back hard at those who have been attacking the Truman Administration.

McGrath and key Democratic leaders from two-day party here today. The purpose is twofold: for McGrath to pep up these key men and for McGrath to get some "grass roots" advice from them on how to advance President Truman's out-in-the-open candidacy. The meeting was behind closed doors.

U.N. Veto

C. Marshall before the U. N. Assembly last September.

Marshall said at that time the United States was willing to limit the veto to questions of prime importance if the other big powers would agree. The Assembly referred the entire veto question to the Little Assembly.

In advancing its specific proposals today, the U. S. delegation conceded through a spokesman that there still was no evidence that Russia would agree to any modification of the Security Council voting procedure.

The U. S. spokesman said, however, the issue was so important it was worth trying even though there was no definite indication Russia would agree.

Russia, along with the other Slav countries, is boycotting the Little Assembly. Any changes in the veto vote, however, would have to go before the regular Assembly and then would have to be agreed upon by the Security Council, including all the five great powers.

The U. S. program listed 31 specific categories of questions which would be excluded from the veto, either as procedural matters or through mutual agreement among the big powers.

These categories include all the issues on which Russia used her 23 vetoes during the past two years. They would, in fact, limit the veto almost exclusively to enforcement measures such as economic sanctions and the use of military force.

Under the U. S. proposal, the General Assembly would be asked to call on the big powers to accept these categories and definitely exclude them from the veto.

Among the issues the U. S. proposed to place outside the veto threat were the admission of new

Citrus Spokesman Presents Stand On Market Measure

WASHINGTON, Mar. 11 (AP)—Citrus canning industry spokesmen told a Senate Agriculture Subcommittee today they don't want oranges and grapefruit to come under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act.

Pending before the committee is a bill to include citrus fruits, almonds and filberts under the law which permits the government to stabilize prices by regulating production and marketing. The measure is strongly backed by growers.

C. Howard Sweatt of Orlando, president of the Canners League of Florida, declared that the proposed bill would regiment canners and work severe financial hardship on that section of the industry.

He said previous testimony has implied "that the independent canners are out to beat down the growers and take their fruit away from them without regard to the growers' rightful desire to make some money."

"This is simply not true. The very existence of Florida citrus canning depends on an adequate supply of fruit from a healthy growers' economy—not one wrecked by losing prices and abandoned or neglected groves."

Sweatt said the citrus canning industry "is just on the threshold of a new era," and that there was a steadily growing demand for both fresh and processed oranges and grapefruit.

"It seems to me that the fresh fruit phase of the industry could well afford to get its own house in order before attempting to drag canners into a regimented program," he added.

"It is further true that in practically every case of a price break in Florida citrus, the price break comes in the fruit auction price on fresh fruit. Then the prices paid by canners may go down correspondingly. But the point is that canners do not initiate price drops, as has been implied here."

H. T. Austen, Washington attorney for the National Canners Association, also opposed the bill.

without the usual further check." The spokesman said only the driver was known to have been in the car. A second man had been reported previously to have accompanied him.

The first dozen or more foreign correspondents and two photographers who reached the scene were shut in one of the underground rooms for almost an hour. A spokesman said the reason was that photographs were not to be taken showing men with arms. Armed men were everywhere.

Jews in the building at the time said the automobile with the American flag entered the courtyard through the guarded gate with two men inside. The men parked the car, walked out past the guard and drove away in a waiting taxicab, the witness said. The building caught fire after the blast.

ing $53,634 in bribes with former Rep. Andrew J. May, wartime chairman of the House Military Committee. All three are free pending appeals on their sentences, which range from eight months to two years.

The five men indicted held various offices in Erie Basin, the Interstate Machinery Company of Chicago, and the Illinois Watch Case Company at Elgin.

The indictment set out that under the renegotiation of 1943 they were required to make financial statements and give cost and profit data to the price adjustment section of the Chemical Warfare Service in Baltimore.

"They conspired to defraud the United States government by false books, cheques and misrepresentations," said the first count of the indictment.

"They induced the government to accept a less amount of money under renegotiation of certain war contracts" than it "would be entitled to if it was not hoodwinked by the defendants' deceitful conduct."

The count complained specifically: "They agreed to use Erie money to put up new buildings and additions for Illinois Watch Case and charge it off to the government."

"They agreed the Garrison and certain of their friends and relatives" would get funds from Erie Basin and Interstate by false claims for salaries, services and travel and on false invoices and termination claims by sub-contractors.

"They agreed Henry Garrison was to get a $50,000 loan from Interstate and pay it back with a $50,000 overcharge on machinery being sold to Interstate by a third party."

"They agreed to hide and reduce the combine's profits by overstating costs and expenses. The other counts charged that items totalling $138,230 had been improperly charged to expenses of the company in the defendants' renegotiation statements."

Members of the U. N. and Council decision to whether specific questions are subject to the veto.

Stock Market

NEW YORK, Mar. 11 (AP)—Moving picture stocks led another market recovery shift today, although advances generally were restricted to fractions.

Deals tapered after one of the liveliest first hours of the past month. Plus marks were shaded in most cases near the fourth hour.

Amusements were buoyed by announcement of an Anglo-American film agreement. Aircrafts backed down following an early bulge on further talk of big government plane orders.

Professional bidding again was based mainly on the thought that the list had been oversold. Dividends and earnings were helpful. Disturbances international affairs inspired some additional selling.

Skeptics regarding business prospects, wages and taxes held aloof. In front of the greater part of the session were Paramount Pictures, Loew's, Twentieth Century-Fox, Warner Bros., U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Rubber, Goodrich, Oil Corp., Lockheed, Glenn Martin, Western Union, American Telephone, Santa Fe, Southern Railway, Allied Chemical, Transcontinental & Western Air, Pacific Western Oil and Standard Oil (N. J.).

Occasional stumblers were Southern Pacific, North American, Kennecott, General Electric, Air Reduction and American Tobacco.

Bonds were narrow. Commodities improved moderately. Supported in the curb were Pacific Can (on a resumed dividend), United Shoe Machinery, Colts Mfg. and Midwest Oil. Adam Hat slipped on an omitted quarterly.

Commissioners To View New Site Of Road Development

County commissioners, following their session Tuesday accepted the invitation of Leonard Button to visit the site of a new road development running east from Seminole Drive at a point west of the Seminole Driving Track.

The new road runs south of the driving track and to a point near Little Lake Howell. A number of new homes have been built near this lake and Lake Tony in the Watt's subdivision, and there is a possibility that the new road may in the future be a state road link between Orleand and Longwood. The road will serve also the growing Casselberry developments.

Mr. Button asked the Commission to change the precinct lines so that his home and other homes nearby would be included in the Precinct that includes Fern Park rather than the Ovidio precinct. He now lives in the Ovidio. He was advised, said County Clerk O. P. Herndon, that this could not be done prior to the May 4 primary election.

Actions of the County Commission during the afternoon, said Mr. Herndon, included approval of a plat of Bungalow City a subdivision for negroes south of the Lockhart Subdivision in Goldsboro.

An additional $20 a month was granted the State Welfare Board toward securing additional space in the Blatch Building. The County now jointly pay the rent for the Welfare Unit.

The sum of $300 was donated to the Red Cross, following an appeal by Edwin Shinholser.

A clay pit was purchased from the Overstreet Lumber Company. The pit, for which the deed has been secured, is near Sanlando Springs.

Employment of an assistant to County Nurse Frances McDougal, RN, was authorized. The salary of County Road Superintendent Harry Cramer was increased $25 a month.

Henry Watson, abstractor, was directed to begin a title search preliminary to securing right of ways to Road 46 from the Geneva Bridge to Seminole Boulevard, to begin at the east end.

GEN. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR PRES. HARRY S. TRUMAN

MAKING THEIR ANNOUNCEMENTS on the same day, Gen. Douglas MacArthur (left) and President Harry S. Truman (right) declared they would accept the Presidency. From Tokyo, Gen. MacArthur said: "I would be recreant to all my concepts of good citizenship were I to shrink because of the hazards and responsibilities involved from accepting any public duty to which I might be called by the American people." Truman's candidacy was announced by the Democratic National Committee Chairman, Sen. J. Howard McGrath, who said: "The President has authorized me to say that if he is nominated by the Democratic national convention, he will accept and run." (International)

Railroad Group Nears Climax In Union Arguments

By MAX HALL

WASHINGTON — A group of railroad brotherhoods is nearing the climax of another marathon argument with the railroads.

These long-dragging struggles are familiar events in American history. But the brotherhoods themselves are still a mystery to many people. Let us observe them.

A railroad brotherhood is more than an ordinary union. It's four things in one:

1. Trade union.
2. Fraternal order.
3. Insurance company.
4. Loyalty club.

The Big Three

Cleveland is headquarters for the three biggest brotherhoods of men who operate trains:

1. Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, President, A. F. West, 210,000 members. Includes yardmen, brakemen, conductors.
2. Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, President, D. H. Robertson, 112,000 members.
3. Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Grand chief engineer, Alvanley Johnston, 80,000 members. Engineers and firemen.

There are two other train-operating unions: the smaller Order of Railway Conductors, at Cedar Rapids, Ia.; and the much smaller A.F.L. Switchmen's Union, at Buffalo, N. Y.

And there are about 17 unions that have members in "non-operating" railroad jobs, like clerks, telegraphers, shop workers.

The big three Cleveland Brotherhoods are among the oldest, proudest and most tradition-filled unions in the country. They are NOT connected with the A.F.L. or C.I.O. They have confined their membership to the white race.

Their conventions, like fraternal meetings, are closed to outsiders.

Officers Keep Jobs

These conventions take place every three or four years. Officers usually stay in office a long time. Whitney is 74 and has been president 21 years. Robertson is 71 and has been president 25 years. Johnston is 72 and has been grand chief engineer 22 years.

The brotherhoods work together for short periods and in various combinations. But generally they are rivals. They have fought one another to sign up new members. Their leaders have fussed and feuded.

In 1940 when Whitney's Trainmen and Johnston's Engineers went on strike, President Truman wasn't the only one to give them an unshrilled lashing. Robertson did too.

Today the situation is different. Johnston and Robertson are together in pushing their demands to the last, possible length. An emergency board appointed by President Truman is hearing the case at Chicago. The unions may strike in April—but don't bet on it.

Separate Settlement

Whitney's Trainmen (also the Conductors) broke off from the other three "operating" unions last November. They settled with the railroads for 15½ cents an hour and some changes in the working rules.

An officer of the Trainmen said the engineers, firemen, and switchmen had stuck their "feet in the sand" and would have to wait many weeks for their wage raises. Robertson said the "abrupt settlement" surprised him and was based on "confusion" among the trainmen and conductors.

An odd thing about the brotherhoods: their memberships overlap. An unknown number of men hold double membership in the Trainmen and Conductors. Perhaps 20,000 to 30,000 men belong to both Johnston's Engineers and Robertson's Firemen. Thus you

Colorful Saga Of Old Time Whalers Gives Way To New

By HILLIARD A. SCHENDORF AP Newfeatures

ELIZABETH, N. J.—The colorful saga of American whaling is running out in a new Jersey oil port.

The S. S. Anco Norse, a far cry from the tall masted whalers that sailed out of Nantucket, has brought in its annual load of sperm oil.

Its 75,000 barrels of the only sperm oil coming into the United States is worth $5,000,000. That will mean $4,000 in shares to each of the Norse seamen who were at sea for 10 months.

The modern whaler is the mother ship to a fleet of seven fast killer boats, 130-foot, 200-tonners which made their own way back to Norway after the whaling was done.

No longer do stout sailormen pull the out-of-long boats, as a man poses in the bow to drive home a harpoon by hand. The killer boats fire 200-pound harpoons with shrapnel-like charges in the lead.

Chief Officer Jacob Knudstad of the Anco Norse, recalls the expedition worked off the coast of Peru, where sperm whale is found in "families" of two or three and in large "flocks."

"The killer boats," he says, "are supplied to stay away for a week at a time. All that time, a lookout stays in the crow's nest."

When a sperm whale is sighted blowing in the distance, the cry is "blast," the rough Norse equivalent of "that she blows."

"Where away," sings the officer on watch.

"Off the starboard bow," the lookout may call down.

The high-powered killer boat leaps forward.

"Sometimes we have to track a whale for hours," recalls Knudstad. "But they have to come up for air, and every time one comes up, the killer boat is after it."

Sperm whale can stay down for as long as an hour.

Eventually, the killer boat comes within range. Then the gunner in the bow fires a 200-pound harpoon, with its explosive nose. The whale may dive, but eventually is pulled to the surface with a power winch. Another harpoon, and still another—each with a nose of dynamite—is fired into it, until it is killed.

If the boat is in a school of whales, and there are others in sight, the huge body is pumped (Continued on Page Ten)

Newhouser Credits Desire To Correct Faults For Success

By TOM CHASE AP Newfeatures

LONDON—Five out of every six persons in Britain may be affected by the Labor government's proposed gas nationalization bill introduced in Commons as the final step in a program for state ownership of the fuel and power industry.

Many homes use gas for heating as well as cooking and the British Gas Council estimates some 39,000,000 Britons are served in one way or the other.

The measure proposes establishment of twelve area boards to provide "an efficient, co-ordinated and economical system of gas supply."

When the bill comes up for debate parliamentary sources expect strong conservative opposition.

A conservative committee, under the chairmanship of Brendan Bracken, is studying the bill. The measure's large majority makes eventual passage practically a certainty.

Opposition has already been expressed by the Gas Council which claims it represents 95 per cent of the gas undertakings in Great Britain.

The council's chairman, Col. Harold C. Smith, said "nationalization of industry in this country is in the experimental stage and there is no evidence to show that such a drastic change in the structure of the gas industry is likely to confer any benefits."

Nevertheless the government is going right ahead with plans to take over the nation's 1,050 gas undertakings, with an estimated capital of 262,000,000 pounds ($1,048,000,000).

Coal mining was nationalized Jan. 7, 1947, and legislation for nationalization of electric utilities was passed in July, 1947, but transfer of properties has not yet been completed.

The proposed gas bill follows the general lines of the electricity bill. But the electricity area boards distribute only while the gas boards will both manufacture and distribute.

As to payment, the proposed gas measure provides that British gas stock be issued as compensation for stock holders on the basis of stock exchange prices.

The bill also provides that the Gas Council may issue stocks for borrowing money for capital purposes but specifies that the total sum outstanding in stock issued and in temporary loans raised apart from compensation must not exceed 250,000,000 pounds ($1,000,000,000).

Provision is also made for settlement of labor disputes, for pensions and for winding up co-partnership schemes and compensating officers.

The Azores are about 2,400 miles from New York and 1,200 miles from Gibraltar.

Most Britons Will Be Hit By Proposed Fuel, Power Bill

LAKELAND, Mar. 10 (AP)—Hal Newhouser, generally recognized as the greatest left-hander of the current era, attributes his success to a constant study of his pitching habits and a ceaseless desire to correct his faults.

The Detroit Tigers' star twirler, who at 29 has registered 131 victories in eight seasons, is one of the most conscientious students of the art of pitching. Not only does he concentrate on the weaknesses and strong points of the opposing batters, but he studies every single pitch he makes.

"I have someone count every pitch I make in every game," Newhouser confided. "I have learned through the years that if I make 100 or less pitches in a game, I'm doing good."

"I break them down to so many curves, so many fast balls, and so many change of pace pitches," Newhouser continued. "If I pitch 30 curves and get only 10 strikes on those curves, it means I'm off on my curve. Well, the next day, I practice on the curve until I think I've got it in good working order again."

Newhouser said the same thing applies to his fast ball and his change of pace pitch. He also keeps a day by day record of his pitching. He makes notes of the kind of pitches certain batters hit best and the kind they find toughest to connect with.

Hal has moving pictures taken of every game he hurls. Once home, he runs the reels of it in slow motion. When he comes to an inning in which he was hit particularly hard or catches a glaring error in his delivery, he halts the reel.

Usually he compares the "take" with another in which he made a similar effort to detect what he did wrong. Once he finds it, he practices the proper delivery in front of a large mirror until he thinks he has mastered it.

Assistant District Attorney George A. Monaghan said the prisoner, Hugh Coughlin, 22, admitted the slaying in a gun battle in a dark apartment house basement of upper Manhattan.

The cop-killer search started before dawn Tuesday and ended that night.

Coughlin, obviously in pain, was walking around with a bullet hole through his body when seized by police acting on a confidential tip.

Obedient Dogs Given Credit For Rescue

GALESHURK, Ill., Mar. 11 (AP)—Robert W. F. Bloomfield's two dogs understood his command to "go all marine," he was rescued from beneath his automobile which pinned him down.

Bloomfield, 46-year-old farmer of nearby North Henderson, was jacking up his car yesterday when the jack slipped. He was caught beneath the running board.

He stood for help until hoarse, but his wife was washed clothes in the basement and did not hear him.

"Go, call mama," Bloomfield told his dogs.

The dogs ran to the basement window and barked until Mrs. Bloomfield came out. Then they guided her to her husband. Unable to raise the car, she phoned a neighbor for help.

Bloomfield suffered only minor bruises and exposure.

Mission Reports Huge German Iron Surplus

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10 (AP)—A special mission reported yesterday that Western Germany has huge tonnages of surplus scrap iron and steel while a scrap shortage is limiting steel production in the United States.

The report was made to Secretary of Commerce Harrison H. Harman sent the special industry-government mission to Germany in January to survey the scrap situation.

The mission urged vigorous efforts by the military government in Germany to obtain parts of the German surplus scrap for U. S. and Western European production. It expressed belief this surplus probably totals 10,000,000 tons.

The report said it has "been alleged, and may well be true, that there is a concerted understanding among German scrap dealers not to permit scrap to leave Germany."

The mission said also "it is held that scrap is looked upon as an important German war potential which for nationalistic reasons, is being held in Germany."

The mission said the scrap in Germany includes destroyed railways, bridges and large industrial works.

San Francisco Has Customs-Free Port

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10 (AP)—San Francisco became the nation's third port with authority to maintain a customs-free foreign trade zone, New York and New Orleans are the others.

The federal power grant was bestowed at ceremonies there.

San Francisco port officials plan to open the zone within 90 days. They are looking forward to a $5,000,000 world trade center some day to develop Far Eastern and Latin American business.

Cadillac PRESENTS THE New STANDARD OF THE WORLD!

Today, the world has a new standard by which to measure motor cars. For Cadillac has taken a great stride forward—one of the greatest, perhaps, in its entire history of automotive pioneering. As is always the case when a new Cadillac is introduced, the advancement embraces every phase of automotive goodness. The exterior appearance is wholly new, and represents the soundest principles developed in years of research. Interior design and finish are a complete departure, and add immeasurably to comfort, beauty and convenience. Performance is finer in every way, for the great Cadillac chassis and engine have been thoroughly refined. And vital improvements in factory equipment have raised even Cadillac's high standards of manufacturing. In fact, all the attributes which have contributed to Cadillac's reputation as the world's premier motor car have been made more pronounced. Regardless of the price class from which you expect to select your next car, you are cordially invited to view the new Cadillac—now on display in our showrooms. When the standard of the automotive world has been so decidedly raised, it should be of interest to everyone.

Cadillac's basic characteristics of design are fully apparent in the front view of the 1948 model. Bumper and grille are even more massive. The symbolic V ornament and crest have been pleasingly refined to harmonize with new, low hood lines.

Viewed from the rear, the 1948 Cadillac shows a complete departure in design. The full-width rear window imparts appearance and safety. Smart "radder-type" fenders, protected by sturdy bumper springs, give an appropriate touch of firmness. Note the wide, low rear fash.

Lecture Given By Florence Middaugh At Southside On Christian Science

A lecture on "Christian Science, the Science of Divine Mind," was given last evening by Florence Middaugh, C. B. S., of Los Angeles, Calif., at the South Side Primary School.

She was introduced by Mrs. George J. Scandrett, who declared: "Friends and guests, the First Church of Christ Scientist extends to you a cordial welcome.

"In the book of Isaiah we read: 'The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light.' What is the nature of light? Is it not spiritual enlightenment, the illumination of thought which follows the appearing in human consciousness of the true understanding of God.

"In her textbook, Science and Health with key to the scriptures, our leader, Mary Baker Eddy has said, 'The ray of infinite truth, when gathered into the focus of ideas, bring light instantaneously.

"Our lecturer, Florence Middaugh of Los Angeles, California, is a member of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ Scientist, Massachusetts.

The title of the lecture is, Christian Science, the Science of Divine Mind."

The following are excerpts from Florence Middaugh's address:

Revelation Throughout all ages signs of Christian Science, the Science of the Christ, have appeared. On Mount Sinai, when Moses' thought was

Official Says State Body Shirks Promise

WASHINGTON, Mar. 11 (AP)—Rep. Short (R-Mo.) said today the State Department is backing down on a promise to push oil exploration in South America.

He told a reporter the department has decided not to insist on a discussion of oil supply problems at the Inter-American Economic Conference in Bogota, Colombia, late this month. The switch in plans, he added, was made at the request of a "friendly country" which department officials have refused to identify.

Short is chairman of a House Armed Services Subcommittee studying world oil supplies. He said he had asked that hemisphere self-sufficiency in oil be a major topic at the conference.

reveals the fundamental man, in which is no "middle wall of partition," as St. Paul calls it, and no need for a mediator.

I know a woman who thought she had finished with everything worth while. She was suffering both mentally and physically. She would not go out in public, and often refused to see her friends.

Her son being somewhere in foreign fields, she eventually went to live with her daughter-in-law, also a Christian Scientist. With the help of a Christian Science practitioner and the loving cooperation of the daughter-in-law and others around her, her thought was so released from bondage that when a small position was offered her she had the courage to accept it. Almost immediately she found she was physically well. Through her evident capability and adaptability the work developed into something important and brought her into daily contact with many people. She again established her own home, and is now grateful and happy.

A friend who is not a student of Christian Science said, "No more wonderful miracle has ever been performed; she is completely well."

As a summary, and in conclusion, let me quote again from our Leader's writings: (Science and Health, pp. 470, 471). "The

Huge Tourney For Schoolboy Cagers Opens In Indiana

By DALE BURGESS AP Newsfeatures

INDIANAPOLIS — Indiana schoolboys are about finished with their basketball season's 25,000 scheduled games (estimated attendance 8,000,000).

Comes now the 37th annual Indiana High School Basketball tournament, Feb. 25 to Mar. 20. Compared with it the Kentucky Derby and Indianapolis 500-mile auto race are just street corner gatherings.

The tourney will draw an attendance of 1,300,000. The spectators will pay about $650,000 including taxes. Both figures will be records because of some changes in the first-round setup but last year's figures were impressive, too. The 1947 meet played to 1,241,500 and took in $635,000.

Fifty newspapers and 36 radio stations will report this year's finals.

Other states have high school tournaments with more teams than Indiana's 780. The Hoosier state differs from the others in having the biggest attendance, an unseeded draw, no classification of teams and four week-ends of eliminations.

It's for schools of all sizes, both public and church-operated. Indiana's tourney piles up the biggest attendance because of the huge gymnasiums available throughout the state for eliminations leading up to finals in Butler University field house. Seventy-two gymnasiums will be used in sectional meets that reduce the field to 64 teams. Sixteen gyms will be used March 6 for regional tourneys and four March 13 for semi-finals.

Butler's field house, used each of the four week-ends, seats 15,000. Iowa has 10,500 seats for its sectionals, but lacks the early-round space of Indiana gyms. Field houses at Muncie, Purdue University and Indiana University, used two or three week-ends, have a total capacity of 27,000.

Indiana has almost as many gymnasiums as the corn cribs. Hoosiers already were wild about the game when the schoolbuilding boom of 1920-30 came along. Every crossroads school has a big gymnasium.

L. V. Phillips, Commissioner of the Indiana High School Athletic Association, has theories about Hoosier's notorious enthusiasm for basketball.

He points out that the association took over the tournament in 1912 and supervised every phase of the eliminations from certifying referees to dividing the receipts. The organization is non-political and answers only to the state's school principals.

"I think one of the secrets of the Indiana tournament's popularity is the fact that there never has been a seeding classification," Phillips says. "Every team enters the tourney on the same basis as every other team. The small schools would rather upset a big one now and then than to win a Class B tournament every year."

It's sudden death elimination and any team that scores less points than another is out—regardless of how it happened. "Time and again the little teams have beaten the favorites. For example, Lafayette and Washington High of East Chicago were considered about the best teams in the state in 1946. Flora defeated Lafayette and Culver defeated Washington.

Last year we moved one regional tournament site from Anderson to the new Tech gym to Butler field house. The idea was that the additional room would be needed for fans from Anderson and Technical High School of Indianapolis.

"As it turned out, neither Anderson nor Tech got to the regional round. The four teams that arrived were Pendleton, Fortville, Southport and Clay-ton—combined enrollment, 1,500."

There was no difficulty in filling Butler for the regional, though. In fact, the demand for tickets is Phillips' biggest headache. There never are enough to fill the requests. They are distributed among the schools by a rigid formula.

A few years ago the secretary of the Indiana State Athletic Commission (no connection with the IHSSA) persuaded the speaker of the State House of Representatives to get two tickets to the state finals. The Speaker managed to get the tickets but the Commission Secretary didn't get to them.

The Governor, unexpectedly had a distinguished guest and confiscated the Secretary's tickets.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you uncomfortable, it may be a warning sign that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys filter out waste from the blood. If they fail, waste builds up in the blood. This causes back pain, leg pain, loss of appetite and energy, swelling of the face, hands and feet, and a general feeling of weakness.

Central Florida Fair Hailed As Success

ORLANDO, Mar. 11 (Special)—Directors of the Central Florida Exposition, which ended its 16th annual Fair at Orlando last week, have received the official report of the week's activities showing that the 1948 exhibit was the best in its history with a record attendance of 108,566 for the six days.

President R. M. Shearer stated that this figure topped the best previous attendance record by more than 4,000. This year's Central Florida Fair had additional county exhibits from Volusia and St. Johns Counties for the first time, in addition to those from Brevard, Lake, Orange and Seminole Counties.

The directors passed a resolution expressing their appreciation of the wholehearted cooperation of all exhibitors and those individuals who worked so hard to make the annual event a success. They also officially thanked the people of Central Florida for their support and patronage of the big educational exposition.

When I was at college we used to make wonderful sandwich productions—three layer ones with different kinds of fillings: rolled ones with amaranth or water-cress; checkerboard tidbits with white and graham bread. They were perfect for large teas and they always made a hit.

One of the secrets of their mass production was the way we cut the bread. We'd get long sandwich loaves, cut off all the crusts and slice the loaf the long way. Then these long slices could be buttered and filled with one long spread of the knife and they could be easily layered and cut into strips, squares or triangles of practically any size. Next time you want to make a lot of good-looking sandwiches try this assembly line method and see if you don't enjoy it. A Washington Birthday party loaf can be decorated with little hatchets made out of strips of pimiento.

There's another point to remember in sandwich making: use softened butter or margarine. It may be softened by letting it stand for a while in a warm room or by creaming it with a wooden spoon. If you have an electric mixer you'll find it does a fine job of creaming the fat, too. Never use melted butter because it soaks into the bread, doesn't go as far and just doesn't taste as good. A frosted three-decker sandwich loaf, is of course a wonderful thing to see and to eat. It's a meal in itself and will do beautifully for the main dish at a buffet luncheon if you accompany it with salad and dessert. In serving it buffet be sure to use appropriate serving pieces so that your guests will find it easy to help themselves. There's nothing I dislike more than having to struggle to get something off a platter with an inappropriate small spoon or fork! I've used a regular cake or pie server, for these sandwich loaves and find it does beautifully.

Sandwich Loaf

- 1 unsliced loaf of bread
3 3-ounce packages cream cheese
3 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon finely grated onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
Slice the crusts from all sides of the loaf. Cut loaf lengthwise into four slices. Spread the first layer with chicken-tongue filling. Cover with another slice of bread. Spread it with egg filling. Cover it with a slice of bread. Spread the slice with crabmeat filling. Top with remaining slice of bread. Mix well the cream cheese, which has been left at room temperature to soften with milk, onion and salt. Frost the loaf with the cream cheese mixture.

Chicken-Tongue Filling

- 1/2 cup ground cooked tongue
1/2 cup ground cooked chicken
1 tablespoon prepared brown mustard
2 tablespoons minced onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons minced green pepper

2 tablespoons mayonnaise
Combine the tongue and chicken with the remaining ingredients and mix well. Makes about one cup of filling.

Egg Filling

- 3 chopped hard cooked eggs
2 teaspoons prepared brown mustard
2 tablespoons chopped stuffed olives
4 cups minced celery
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 tablespoons mayonnaise
Combine the ingredients in the order listed and mix well. Makes about one cup filling.

Crabmeat Filling

- 1 (6 1/2 oz.) can crabmeat
4 tablespoons minced celery
2 teaspoons prepared brown mustard
3 tablespoons chopped pimiento
1 teaspoon finely grated onion
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
Combine the contents of the can of crabmeat with the remaining ingredients. Makes about one and one-fourth cups of filling.

Fruit Canners Ask That They Be Left Alone

Texas, Florida Canners Oppose Bill To Place Them Under Marketing Pact

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12 (AP)—Florida and Texas citrus fruit canners told a congressional committee today they don't want government controls over marketing of their product.

"All we want is to be left alone," said G. O. McDaniel, president of the G. O. McDaniel Company of Edcough, Tex.

A Senate Agriculture Subcommittee is considering a measure by Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) and nine other senators that would include canners of citrus fruits under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act. This sets up controls and regulations for marketing of farm products.

J. Logan Bloodworth, representing the Cherokee Products Co., Fort Pierce, Fla., testified this legislation applied to canners would be impossible.

"The proposal would penalize efficient canners," he said.

J. Adams Bruce, president of Bruce's Juices, Inc., Tampa, Fla., said the problem of surplus citrus would be solved "by finding new markets and increasing consumer use."

School Board Asks Youth Government Be Tried Annually

Supt. T. W. Lawton and the members of the County School Board have approved by the Youth Government program, which for the first time in the history of Seminole County, school pupils yesterday actually participated and assisted in a board meeting, that they recommended that the program, initiated by John Krider, continued in the future to educate children in practical civics.

A resolution of appreciation for the many years of service rendered to the public schools by Dr. E. D. Brownlee, was adopted. Dr. Brownlee recently retired after 35 years of service as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

The board accepted the $500 bid of the Rev. Douglas Charles, Presbyterian pastor, for one of the surplus school buses which will be used for church work. Joe Corley and John Krider, accounting for the bid to the meeting to make the bid.

A report from trustees who had visited schools during the past month was received, and it was recommended that as many replacements and repairs be made in negro schools as well as other schools as finances will justify, said Mr. Lawton.

Speaking concerning the Youth Government, Supt. Lawton declared: "It was the judgment of the County Board of Public Instruction (Continued on Page Five)

High School Band To Give Concert Sunday

The Sanford Bandshell, which has maintained a "reputational silence" for a long time, will be revived with stirring march melodies Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock when the Seminole High School band, numbering 41 boys and girls, will give a concert under the baton of B. E. Black, band director.

The program is being held under the sponsorship of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, and the public is invited to attend. The band recently scored a second division rating in competition at Ocala in spite of the handicap of the lack of uniforms and certain instruments.

J. C. TRULUCK DIES

J. C. Truluck, 78, father of Mrs. W. R. Dwyer and J. H. Truluck of Sanford, died this morning of sudden illness at his home at Ocala. S. C. He was a frequent winter visitor in Sanford. Burial will take place soon in Ocala, according to word received by relatives here.

OLEO TAXES

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12 (AP)—The National Grange, one of the largest farm organizations, told Congress today that special taxes on oleo are needed to protect both consumers and the dairy industry.

Kenneth S. Bagshaw, chairman of the Grange Executive Committee, made this argument to the House Agriculture Committee. That group is considering 18 bills to repeal all federal taxes on oleo-margarine.

Meyers Convicted On Perjury Charge

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12 (AP)—A federal court jury today convicted Maj. General Bennett E. Meyers on charges of inducing a witness to lie to a Senate committee. The wartime deputy Army Air Forces purchasing chief was found guilty on all three counts of an indictment. Judge Alexander Holtzoff said he will sentence Meyers Monday. The retired general could get a maximum of 30 years in prison.

President Blocks Deportation Of Romanian Doctor

Woman Surgeon Came Here From Germany On Temporary Visa

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12 (AP)—Deportation of 39-year old woman doctor who served under the Nazis in the Auschwitz and Belzec prison camps was blocked today by President Truman.

He signed a bill allowing the woman, Dr. Gisela Perl, a Romanian Jew, to remain permanently in this country.

Rep. Sol Bloom (D-N.Y.), who sponsored the bill, said Dr. Perl now lives in New York City. She came here as a lecturer in March, 1946, on a temporary visa.

The Justice Department refused to endorse Bloom's bill, saying Dr. Perl would not be subject to persecution if she returned to (Continued on Page Four)

Weight Reduction Of Celery Crates Announced

A reduction in weight classification of celery containers 8012 by railroads from a former 68-pound to 61-pound weight is expected to save shippers many thousands of dollars, particularly in the Belle Glade area, which uses this type of crate to a greater extent than the Sanford-Oviedo district, according to William C. Hutchison.

Mr. Hutchison, an authority on rates, reported that the reduction went into effect on Mar. 9 to points in the south, east of the Mississippi and north of the Potomac and Ohio Rivers, according to information received from the Florida East Coast Railway Co.

The weight of 57 pounds is continued to points of Western Trunk Line territory, which includes the states of Kansas, Iowa, Minnesota and Nebraska. The crate has 3120 cubic inches capacity and measures inside 24x20x20 inches.

Weight of the Howard celery crate shipped from Florida to official territory is 68 pounds, and to Western Trunk Line territory is 57 pounds. The container, known as No. 3610, has inside dimensions of 10x16x22, or 3,520 cubic inches capacity.

The California railroads accept celery from California to the above territory, Mr. Hutchison stated, in a container of which the inside dimensions are 11x16x20 1/2 at a weight of 50 pounds, or 3,330 cubic inches capacity. The lesser billing rate from California is being handled and relief is expected, said Mr. Hutchison.

Caldwell Asks Senate Committee To Okeh Southern Education Bill

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12 (AP)—Southerners said today the question of racial discrimination is in no way involved in their plan to set up regional universities and professional schools. They told a Senate Judiciary Subcommittee their plan has been under discussion for years—long before the present controversy over civil rights legislation.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12 (AP)—Governor Millard Caldwell of Florida today asked a Senate Judiciary Committee to approve a resolution which would give congressional consent to a regional education compact between Southern states.

"We ask no financial help from the federal government," the governor said. "All we ask is that the Congress do in this instance what it has done more than a hundred times in the past, and that is to approve the compact between the interested states and allow us to help ourselves by pooling our resources and coordinating our efforts."

Caldwell told the committee the present lack of Southern professional schools means many students must leave their home states to finish their education.

"As a natural consequence of attendance at universities outside the South, a great percentage of young men and women who have enjoyed 16 to 20 years of education at the expense of the states in our region have remained in the North where they secured the highly specialized training required to fit them for top places in business and industry," the governor said.

"The social and economic loss to the South under such circumstances is apparent."

Truman Talks With Leaders On Civil Rights

No Final Decision Is Reached But Pleas For Peace Said To Fall On Deaf Ears

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12 (AP)—President Truman reviewed with the cabinet today the state of world affairs, which Secretary of State Marshall says have reached a "great crisis." One of the topics, it was disclosed, was the move to form a Western European alliance. The chief executive met with cabinet officers after throwing the nation's full political power and prestige against the spread of Communism anywhere, including China.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12 (AP)—The Democratic National Executive committee today debated without agreement President Truman's civil rights program. Then committee members lunched with the President and Mrs. Truman at the White House.

Frank McHale, Indiana national committeeman, told reporters no official action was taken because the executive committee is not a policy-making group.

"The voice of the party is its convention," McHale said. The convention will be held at Philadelphia in July.

McHale acknowledged there was much discussion of the civil rights program. This has stirred some Democratic leaders to call for withdrawal of the so-called "Solid South" from the party's ranks. Some have urged defeat of the President, who has said he will accept the party's nomination if it is given him at the national convention.

Several southern committee members were reported to have spoken out today against the civil rights program, which proposes anti-segregation and anti-lynching legislation.

Pleas for settlement of differences within the party were voiced last night by Alabama Democratic Senators, Hill and Sparkman. But their plea, as (Continued on Page Four)

U. S. Consulate Is Evacuated Due To Unknown Threat

LONDON, Mar. 12 (AP)—Police scrutinized all visitors to Prime Minister Attlee's official residence today after an anonymous telephone caller said "No. 10 Downing Street will be blown up tonight."

Telephone company officials traced the call to a public telephone booth in a West London suburb. Several similar telephone threats to bomb public buildings recently have been made.

JERUSALEM, Mar. 12 (AP)—An anonymous bomb threat today emptied the United States consulate building, 300 yards from the blasted Jewish Agency headquarters where 13 were killed and nearly 100 were injured.

American personnel returned to their offices after an hour-long search by police failed to turn up any explosives. The consular staff had moved out after a telephone caller said in English:

"Get out of the building—it will blow up in five minutes."

The building also is used as a residence by Consul General Robert B. McAtee, Consul William Porter and Vice Consul Wells Stabler.

The death in a hospital of another victim raised the death toll to 13 in yesterday's bombing of the Jewish agency building. The agency says an Arab, driving a car stolen from the American consulate, entered the Jewish compound and ignited a bomb. Three of the dead were women.

In Tel Aviv, the Jewish Agency announced its ratification of a merger of two Jewish fighting forces, Hagannah and Irgun Zvai Leumi. Final approval depends (Continued on Page Four)

Merchants Plan Sanford Dollar Day

Directors of the Sanford Merchants Association are making plans for promotional for Dollar Day sales event to be held in the near future when they meet Tuesday at the Tourist Center. W. A. Morrison, president reported today.

The membership drive, which has set a goal of 100, was reported to be successful, and results will be announced in the near future, he said.

UNEMPLOYMENT UP

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12 (AP)—Unemployment rose sharply in February, the Census Bureau reported today. Bad weather and the fuel shortage were blamed. A census sample survey early in the month showed a 574,000 increase in unemployment since January. That put total unemployment at 2,630,000, which was 149,000 above the level of February, 1947.

Youth Government Visits County Commission

Public school pupils elected as "commissioners," "sheriff" and "county clerk," are shown as they visited the regular officials of the County Commission at its meeting, Tuesday at the Court House. Immediately to the front and left of each official is his Youth Government understudy. Left to right, they are Commissioner B. C. Dodd and Lobby Ward of Oviedo; Commission Chairman H. D. The membership drive, which has set a goal of 100, was reported to be successful, and results will be announced in the near future, he said.

UNEMPLOYMENT UP

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12 (AP)—Unemployment rose sharply in February, the Census Bureau reported today. Bad weather and the fuel shortage were blamed. A census sample survey early in the month showed a 574,000 increase in unemployment since January. That put total unemployment at 2,630,000, which was 149,000 above the level of February, 1947.

OLEO TAXES

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12 (AP)—The National Grange, one of the largest farm organizations, told Congress today that special taxes on oleo are needed to protect both consumers and the dairy industry.

Kenneth S. Bagshaw, chairman of the Grange Executive Committee, made this argument to the House Agriculture Committee. That group is considering 18 bills to repeal all federal taxes on oleo-margarine.

Babe Ruth, Sent To Florida To Die A Year Ago, Is On Recovery Road

MIAMI BEACH, Mar. 12 (AP)—Babe Ruth, the one-time King of Sport who was "brought here to die" a year ago, today is on the road to full recovery.

Florida sunshine and medical attention have worked wonders. He is big and brawny, more alert than he has been since before his operation two years ago, able to "sleep and eat better than I have in all that time."

The headaches which plagued him days and nights when he last arrived here five weeks ago have steadily diminished under the soothing rays of the tropical sun and the expert care of Dr. Walter Hotchkiss, ear, nose and throat specialist, and Dr. James Armstrong, dentist.

Young Speaks To Anderson Says Lions On Sight Conservation Stay In Cabinet

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson said today he will remain in the cabinet at least until the end of the present session of Congress and "may not get out at all."

Anderson has considered running for the Senate seat now held by Senator Hatch (D-Mex.), who has said he will not seek another term.

The secretary told reporters after a cabinet meeting that President Truman had repeated his desire that Anderson stay in the administration.

Mr. Truman told a news conference yesterday that Anderson had done an excellent job at the Agriculture Department and expressed hope he would remain.

Anderson said today he hopes that Hatch will change his mind. Hatch, who has been in the (Continued on Page Four)

MacArthur's Staff Complains Of Anti-MacArthur Vet Groups

TRENTON, N. J., Mar. 12 (AP)—An attempt to enter the name of General Douglas MacArthur in the New Jersey Republican primary as a candidate for president failed today.

Petitions for two district delegates and one delegate-at-large pledged to MacArthur's candidacy were received today at the office of the secretary of state.

Chief Clerk Ernest H. Kerr said the MacArthur slogan was unacceptable because it was not accompanied by the general's written consent for use of his name.

Britain, France, Benelux Adopt 50 Year Treaty

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Mar. 12 (AP)—Britain, France and the Benelux nations adopted today a 50-year treaty for a political, economic and military union of Western Europe intended to check the march of Communism.

Conference officials said the accord and allied documents will be signed here next Wednesday by the foreign ministers of Belgium, Britain, France, Luxembourg and the Netherlands.

The text of the agreement will not be released until the signature ceremony, to give the five governments of the negotiators opportunity to examine it closely, the officials said.

Delegates from the five countries, including four of the world's greatest colonial powers, completed their efforts on the Western Union suggested in January by British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin at 11:30 A. M. after more than a week around the conference table.

U. S. Insists On Peaceful Solution

Refusal To Consult On Partition Of Palestine Is De-nounced By U. S.

NEW YORK, Mar. 12 (AP)—The United States insisted in a special statement today that a peaceful solution of Palestine partition is required. It did not mention Russia's opposition to American efforts at conciliation between Arabs and Jews or the Russian-American difference over Palestine.

The new American declaration came to the press from a spokesman for the U. S. delegate to the United Nations. It was the second such special statement issued in two days in avowed efforts to clarify the U. S. position.

The spokesman said each of the special statements was put out to correct impressions left by published interpretations of U. S. policy.

The statement said that attainment of a peaceful solution was not being aided by the refusal of "one or more of the parties to take part in consultations."

This was a reference to an Arab boycott of partition talks and the refusal of the Jewish Agency for Palestine to take part in any discussions which might modify or kill partition.

Palestine Arabs submitted to United Nations delegations what they entitled a "black paper on the Jewish Agency and Zionist terrorism."

The Arab Higher Committee, representing the Palestinian Arabs, charged the Jews with plotting, totalitarianism and terrorism. The Arabs made no reference to the big power Palestine consultations now under way.

McCarty Governor Club Organized In Seminole County

A "McCarty for Governor Club" was organized last night at a meeting in the City Hall of friends and supporters of Dan McCarty of Fort Pierce, candidate for governor in the May 4 primary. J. C. Hutchison was elected chairman of the club; Mrs. Mary McCaskey was elected secretary, and Andrew Caraway, treasurer.

Headquarters for the club will be opened at 115 Magnolia Avenue in the near future. It was announced Mrs. Maracley will have her office at the headquarters, where campaign literature will be distributed. All those interested in Mr. McCarty's campaign are invited to visit the campaign headquarters and inform themselves of his record and qualifications for office.

"I first became acquainted with Mr. McCarty in the South Pacific," General Hutchison stated last night. "He was at that time a lieutenant colonel on the staff of General Patch. Later he went with Patch with the Seventh Army and served throughout the remainder of the war in the European theater."

Emphasizing the fact that his only interest in the campaign is sound government, General Hutchison declared that after the war he had been "profoundly impressed with Mr. McCarty's understanding of taxation and governmental problems while serving with him on Governor Caldwell's Citizens Finance and Taxation Committee."
