

War Will Prevent DeLand Man From Receiving Medal

DELAND, May 5.—(Special)—The effect of "enemy action" upon a British life reached even into DeLand yesterday when Harold E. Clark, Stetson University law student from Jacksonville, discovered that a long-awaited Royal Life Saving Society medal is now forthcoming. Clark, active in Florida water safety drives sponsored by the American Red Cross, spent last summer as a swimming and life saving instructor in a Canadian "boys' camp," and as a result, was to have received certificates and a bronze medal for capable services from the English organization.

The mailing tube bearing Clark's two certificates—one for intermediate rating and the other for first class instructors rating in the Royal Society—also brought a letter from the Right Hon. Lord Desborough, executive head. The letter was postmarked from Surrey, and explained that destruction by bombs had forced the removal from London into temporary society headquarters. The bronze medallion, it reported, was not available due to "enemy action that has caused difficulties in supply sources of metals used in the awards." Clark was assured, however, that the medal would be on its way as soon as conditions permit.

The Stetson student, well known in Jacksonville and Volusia County Red Cross activities, was instructor at Camp Lacloche, in the province of Quebec, last summer, and plans to return there this year. The impressive certificate which he received yesterday bears the legend: "patron His Gracious Majesty the King, and declares that Clark is awarded the diploma for "having passed necessary tests and qualifying in the society's methods of life saving and resuscitation of the apparently drowned." It is believed that the Royal Society rating distinguishes Clark as perhaps the only recipient in the southern United States.

During the First World War 95 American ships were launched on a single day—July 4, 1917.

Substantial Increase For State Educational Institutions Included In Bills

Senators Vote Fireworks Ban

Greater Tax On Wine Approved In Senate; House To Get Bill

TALLAHASSEE, May 8.—(AP)—Senate and House committees today proposed that the state raise almost $12,000,000 a year—an increase of more than $1,300,000—for general operations of Florida's government.

The Senate appropriations committee brought in a bill to appropriate $11,737,866 for the next two years. The House committee in its appropriations bill proposed state expenditures $14,973 greater than the Senate committee suggested, or a total annual increase of $1,527,185.

Substantial increases for state educational institutions were included.

The Senate will consider its appropriations bill Wednesday.

The House approved 24 to 9 a fireworks ban. It outlawed fireworks in Florida except for community displays properly supervised.

The bill now goes to the Governor for his signature. The Senate also passed a House-approved measure providing for the sale of surplus property in the State.

Answers Given To Questions About Hospital

Commission Awaits Action On Changes In Hospital Act

In an effort to find the answers to the three questions asked by the Legislature, the Sanford Hospital board has been informed that the answers will be taken by the Board of County Commissioners on advertising the hospital bonds under the Legislature acts on the proposed amendments to the 1937 hospital act.

Has the second sale of the hospital bonds been advertised yet?

Has anything been done to bring in new doctors to Sanford?

Senator Housholder was sent a telegram by The Herald to find the answer to the first question. It is understood that the amendments have not been passed by the Legislature. When a statement is received from Senator Housholder, the amendments will be published.

New Airport Funds Asked By Roosevelt

Over $61,000,000 Is Requested By President For 149 New Army Flying Fields

WASHINGTON, May 8.—(AP)—President Roosevelt asked Congress today for $61,477,750 to construct 149 new airports, and enlarge 20 now being built for the use of the Army's Air Corps tactical units and for civilian purposes.

Budget Director Harold D. Smith said the airport improvements are needed because of the increase in the number of air corps facilities and to provide for an increase in the number of advanced training schools in the Army's 30,000-pilot training program.

There was no mention of the location of the proposed additional 149 landing fields and air bases. The British government and the Maritime Commission have been asked to correct last night any impression that recent British shipping losses on the Atlantic had been minor—a disputed point suddenly important in the flaring congressional controversy over convoys.

In high London quarters it was said that tonnage lost in April was nearly as high as in any previous month, apparently close to 400,000 tons. The previous peak was 463,000 tons in June, 1940.

Chairman Land of the Maritime Commission issued a statement making it plain that his previous summary of certain shipping losses was incomplete. It had said that only 12 ships which cleared United States ports had been reported sunk in the past four months. It was based on a newspaper and other reports.

There is reason to believe, he added, that actual losses run substantially greater than reported losses.

Land's original statement went in the form of a letter to Senator Vandenberg, Republican, Michigan, which the latter triumphantly produced yesterday at a meeting of the Senate Commerce Committee.

Nazi Sailors Seized In Roundup

Striking in a series of raids, squads of police and immigration inspectors seized more than 100 German seamen in New York as part of a nationwide roundup. The Germans were arrested on charges of overstaying their 60-day leave in the country, and it was reported unofficially that they would be sent to a western internment camp to join the group of Italian seamen already interned there. Some of the Nazi sailors are pictured at the New York barge office before being sent on to Ellis Island.

Lehman Receives Instructions On Army Purchases

Jacksonville Market Center Buys Produce For Blanding

II J. Lehman, manager of the Sanford State Farmers Market, has been advised by Norman K. Browne, first lieutenant who has charge of the Quartermaster Market Center in Jacksonville, of the procedure farmers must allow in selling produce to the Army and today made the information available to growers in Seminole County.

The market center at Jacksonville, one of 30 established throughout the United States, buys vegetables and fruits for Camp Blanding.

The purpose of these markets is to procure fresh fruits and vegetables for Army posts the strength of 2,000 or more and located within a reasonable distance of the market center.

In addition the buying agency also disseminates current market information to the field in order to insure the proper use of fresh produce and to secure uniformity in purchasing procedure according to Lieut. Browne.

All purchases will be for a definite quantity to be delivered to one specified warehouse on a designated day. Lieut. Browne stated: "Prices to be quoted are on a cash destination basis. The lowest responsible bidder, other conditions being equal will get the award."

After a brief discussion of the financial status of the club by Secretary Andrew Conway the fans took the floor to iron out the details of the plan. It was almost unanimously agreed that the reason for the small attendance was the 45c admission price. DeLauder was said to play a full house since a reduced price in the bleachers was provided.

Trail Of Destruction Is Said Left In Hamburg, Emden; Fires Are Started

Nazi Raider Is Sunk By British

Attack On Convoy In Mediterranean Is Reported By Rome

CAIRO, Egypt, May 8.—(AP)—The Royal Air Force announced today it had probably completed the destruction of the Iraq air force by two bombing attacks on landing fields near Baghdad.

Remnants of the ill-fated elements of the Iraq army which a week ago attacked the British-held Haifa air base have withdrawn to Hamadi, Falluja. The British reported.

The largest R. A. F. bombing for a single night's raid bumped "tens of thousands" of incendiaries and "hundreds of tons" of high explosives on Hamburg and Bremen in an overnight assault.

Some sources estimated that 300 or 400 planes were used.

In a wide-ranging expedition, warplanes flew as far as Posen, Poland.

On the home front, swarms of R. A. fighters battled another large-scale assault by the Luftwaffe from dusk to dawn—the eighth night of the stepped-up Nazi attack.

Of the raid on Hamburg and Bremen, the British said "widely spread destruction" was caused and said numerous fires were raging in the shipyards and industrial quarters of both cities.

Simultaneously, London reported the 10,000-ton British cruiser Cornwall sank a German commerce raider in the Indian Ocean, rescuing 27 British merchant seamen from the raider and taking prisoner 53 German crew survivors.

Fewer Horses

It hasn't taken the mechanization of cavalry to prove that the horse, as well as the mule, is on the way out. At least one U. S. Cavalry division is still making strenuous efforts...

What is happening in the United States Army has long since happened on the American farm. Agriculturalists have long since learned that one tractor can do the work of a number of horses or mules and more quickly.

The Census Bureau reports that in the last ten years the number of horses and mules on U. S. farms has declined from 18,737,524 to 13,931,531. Mules suffered slightly more than horses...

It is interesting to note that until the time when the automobile began to reach a fair degree of popularity, and even before tractors had come into use, the horse population had been steadily on the increase...

There is, however, one encouraging aspect to the situation from the horses' point of view. While there are fewer of them, they are of infinite better quality.

For Convoys

Collier's Weekly has gone "all out" in favor of United States naval convoys for shipments to Britain. In its chief editorial the magazine presents this statement: "We can't see anything for the United States to do but to help Great Britain to the hilt in the Battle of the Atlantic..."

"If it means some kind of convoy work for the United States Navy—well, then, that is what it means. There is this consolation, at least; that our Navy in 1917-18 did such a superb job of convoy work that not a Europe-bound American soldier was killed by German submarine action."

"Mussolini, punched by the British and the Greeks by land, sea and air, crunched with astounding rapidity. Hitler is a more successful man than Mussolini, and with all due respect to the Italian soldier, the Germans are better equipped. Nevertheless, it may be that Statism itself—not just Mussolini's brand of it—has a fatal brittleness about it."

"All in all, it looks like a long road to victory yet, and a road paved with blood and tears, toil and sweat, as promised by Churchill. Yet, as also hinted by Churchill, victory may be closer than anybody now suspects."

Editors from the middle west, many of them visiting Florida for the first time, thrilled at picking an orange from the tree, were well about our beaches and beautiful lakes, and all said they were coming back and would bring others with them.

They were tremendously impressed by the cleanliness and beauty of our towns and cities. They were delighted with the climate and with the friendliness and hospitality of our people.

They are super-salesmen and have returned to their respective homes thoroughly sold on Florida. In their wake will come a tourist throng greater than the state has ever known and Florida will not disappoint them.

Trained observers, keen for facts, these country editors didn't miss anything. They kept George Hooper, Charley Hoffenstein and the rest of the Florida folks busy answering questions and everywhere we stopped they pumped Chamber of Commerce officials for more information and begged for literature and pictures.

The party left Jacksonville in 11 Florida Motor Lines buses which closes July 15.

Stewart Says—

British-U. S. Council Proposal Revives Union-Now Talk

By CHARLES P. STEWART A Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, May 8 (Special)—The American Revolution adopted a resolution emphatically in opposition to the Union-Now movement.

The Union-Now folk favor a merger of all English-speaking countries into some sort of a confederation with a joint chief executive and a combination legislative body.

By the time the Union-Now movement was in its infancy, the various Spanish and Portuguese-speaking Latin American republics, if they wish to join.

There'd be a certain loss of present national identities, at any rate—particularly of Yankee and British identities. Those two especially would be stirred together, and the Union-Now folk themselves don't pretend to say which ingredient would predominate.

The scheme was evolved out of current war conditions, but the Union-Nowites don't propose it merely as a wartime association; they argue it as a permanency.

Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas puts it that it would mean "either the absorption of the British empire by the United States or absorption of the United States into the British empire."

Nevertheless, the Union-Now people are busy. And they're beginning to get hints of coming assistance from British sources.

There are two of the brave young G. I. volunteers, all but one of them very close to British warplanes, who were reported last of all, presumably in the knowledge of a Canadian transport. Left, in Kenneth B. Callings, of Rockville Center, L. I., a flying veteran of the World War. Right, in Harold L. Wall, with the Royal Canadian Signal Corps. Both were married, 181 persons were reported missing as result of "enemy action" on the Atlantic.

Chattering the United States should use the navy as the "backbone and fighting power" to defeat the Axis at the "present strategic moment," Secretary of the Administration approved address to the nation, Governor Paul W. McNutt, of Indiana, said he was proud of the danger involved, but that the nation be "warring democracies."

LONDON, May 10.—(A.P.) The British Admiralty announced tonight that a single British ship was damaged in repeated attacks Thursday by Axis planes on the Mediterranean fleet.

The Italian claimed bomb or torpedo hit on six warships and so many merchantmen in attacks on a strong British convoy.

The Royal Air Force, having its air offensive to high pitch attained the previous night, again last night sent powerful formations over Nazi objectives in overnight raids from invasion ports to the French coast to the heart of Berlin.

The chief target was Mannheim, a great river-rail transportation center and manufacturing city in southwestern Germany. "A successful attack was pressed home, the British and German airmen battled fiercely in dogfights high over Dover's white cliffs today, the first anniversary of Germany's invasion of the Lowlands.

Dutch airmen flying American-built bombers meanwhile carried out their first raid on German-occupied territory, striking at Namur airport there.

At London, the Admiralty said Britain, her Allies and neutrals had lost 1,098 ships aggregating 4,734,407 in the year since the Nazi invasion of Poland. Countries of which 408,124 tons were lost last month.

From the start of the war to the end of April the aggregate British, Allied and neutral losses were nearly 6,000,000 tons, as were nearly 6,000,000 tons.

New Doctor May Come To Sanford, Physician Advises

Decision Of Alabama Resident Depends On Draft Situation

Possibility that Sanford's dwindling number of medical doctors may be increased by one was today said by a physician who received a letter from a friend in Alabama stating he is considering coming to this city, provided the draft age is not violated.

The American Legion Auxiliary asked in an open letter to The Sanford Herald Tuesday what was being done to bring in more doctors to Sanford, since the Army and death have reduced the ranks of physicians by at least five in two years.

Yesterday The Herald was informed that the doctor in question is a resident of Alabama, and is a graduate of the University of Alabama Medical School. He is a member of the American Medical Association and has been practicing medicine in Alabama for several years.

Senate Group Requests Data About Strikes

Committee Chairman Says That Public Has Right To Ask Quick Settlement

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(A.P.)—Chairman Truman (D.Mo.) announced today that a special Senate committee investigating National defense had asked for all information on strikes delaying defense production in San Francisco and Detroit.

There is no time in this emergency for employers and employees to engage in interminable bickering, he said, adding that the public has a right "to expect and even to demand that the paramount interest be respected, and that labor disputes will be settled in a minimum of time."

The direct, or almost direct, delivery of American supplies to British forces in the Middle East was strongly indicated yesterday by a Maritime Commission announcement that American ships would soon be sailing into the Red Sea.

At the same time, the commission said that railroads to China would be increased in the near future, which some interpreted as meaning that American help in that country is in view with Japan would be correspondingly stepped up. Details of the sailings and of the cargoes to be carried to China, and to the Red Sea, were carefully kept secret.

The Red Sea route is an eastern approach to the Suez Canal, a vital point in the British system of empire transportation. While major fighting continued between British and Italian forces in Ethiopia, the Red Sea was defined as a "combat zone" and American vessels were forbidden to enter it.

Several weeks ago, however, President Roosevelt removed it from that classification and said American vessels could go all the way into the Suez Canal. It was taken in conjunction with recent events, the Maritime Commission's announcement was of prime importance.

Hendricks Poultry Ranch At Lake Mary

Poultry Industry Shows Gain In Seminole County

Poultry raising is a thriving industry in Seminole County, and though the chicken population of the county has increased from 14,445 birds in 1937 to an estimated 20,000 today, there is still plenty of room for expansion because Florida must import 60 percent of the poultry products it consumes.

The three largest poultry ranches in the county are those of Lee Hendricks at Lake Mary, Walter Brothers at Lake Monroe and Carl Flowers at Sanford. Together, these three ranches have over 10,000 birds.

With Alex Johnson, social scientist in charge of the Florida Poultry Survey, a reporter for The Sanford Herald paid a visit to the 20-acre ranch of Mr. Hendricks at Lake Mary the other day and saw for himself how poultry raising is done in this county.

Starting out with 300 birds and a few hundred dollars investment, Mr. Hendricks has through hard work and planning built the largest ranch in the county and the third largest in the state. Sixteen employees at Mr. Hendricks in his ranch, who are about 9,000 birds on the property at the present time, most of them white Leghorns. When the flock is put to bed in the summer it averages about 750 eggs a day. Though Mr. Hendricks has made a success with his ranch, he still doesn't advise any one to go into the business unless they are equipped with both the technical knowledge and the capital.

Gibraltar Is Seen As Next Nazi Objective

Airmen Stage Fierce Dog Fights Above English Channel; Norway Is Raided

1,098 Ships Are Lost By Allies

Losses So Far During War Revealed As 6,000,000 Tons

LONDON, May 10.—(A.P.) An informant who correctly forecast the Nazi attack on Yugoslavia and Greece predicted today that Germany's next major move would be against Gibraltar. Indications for such a move, he said, came from "certain movements" in the Mediterranean, and that Spain would be added to the list of German allies.

He added, however, that the New Spain of Spain would not be added to the list of German allies, but that the Axis would try to capture it in order to command the Strait of Gibraltar and the war in the Mediterranean.
