Home Buyers Get Warning

From Hoover

WASHINGTON (UPI)-Buy ing a new home with government-insured mortgage? Better make certain you're not breaking the law. That's the word from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover. The Federal Housing Administration (FHA) insures mortgages on new houses and home improvements. Naturally, the PHA insists that whoever gets the loan be a good credit risk. But, according to Hoover, a number of unscrupulous rea estate salesmen and deveof the current housing boom to circumvent the letter and the spirit of the rules. The FBI has uncovered instances where a salesman has sold a house financed with an FHA-backed mortgage to someone who didn't have enough cash to make the required down payment. In one southern state, mortgage applications were drawn up to make it look as though prospective buyers had made their required $200 down payments when some in fact had paid as little as $5. As a result of this fraud. THA had to foreclose on new houses valued at more than $1 million.

Another trick is to change i poor credit risk into a good one by omitting or understating debts or creating or inflating income or savings. In one instance, a salesman valued furniture worth less than $1,-000 at $3,500 on the loan ap-car and put the car down as an asset worth more than $500. Finally he "created" a good job for the borrower, whose real job was unsteady. Often the borrower gives the salesman honest information about his finances and the salesman alone falsfies the application. But this doesn't exonerate the borrower.

"It is a federal crime to make any false statement is an application for an FHA-in-sured loan," Hoover says. "The borrower also violates the law by signing an application which contains false in-Hoover's advice:

-To real estate firms:

When choosing a salesman, earefully check his background and reputation. -To prospective house buy-ers: Be wary of anything which may sound or look a little suspicious. Think the matter over carefully. Be sure to read closely everything you "Do not be a party to any deviation from the truth, how-

Jesus, after his Resurrection, seemed able to travel anywhere in an instant of time, and then re-incarnate Himself.

This is no more radical an idea noadays than radar or space ships were just a gentle Coast Guard in 1915 when it was combined with the Lifeaving Service. A revenue cutter, "Harriet Lane," is credited with firing the first shot in the Civil War before the bombardment of Fort Sumter. During World War I Coast Guard losses were highest of all the armed services, proportionately.
