Police investigate bloody crime scene

One dead, one critically injured in domestic case gone awry

By Christopher Patton
Managing Editor

SANFORD — Nearly a week since the yellow crime tape went up at the Poinsettia Avenue home, Sanford investigators are still trying to piece together what exactly went wrong.

Authorities have confirmed that one man is dead and one woman is in critical condition, however, they are unsure of who attacked who as the scene appears to be a domestic situation gone awry.

"We're still in the investigation phase, we haven't draw any hard conclusions of exactly what happened," Chief Brian Tooley said. "We're not sure exactly what it is at this point, but we do have an injured person."

Police were called to 2536 Poinsettia Ave. home, near the eastside of Sanford at Sanford Avenue and 25th Street, at about 8 p.m. last Sunday. Officers found at the home a deceased Larry A. Kanous, 55, and a severely beaten Roberta Johnson, 52, who was

Fire investigators say Sanford house blaze is suspicious

A suspicious house fire that occurred Wednesday morning at the 100 block of East Coleman Circle in Sanford is being investigated by state fire marshals.

According to Mark James, a Sanford fire investigator, the fire department responded to the scene at about 2 a.m.

"The fire was fairly involved as it was through the roof when we got there," he said.

The blaze was reported to the fire department by a neighbor down the street, who tried to help knock down the flames with a garden hose before fire engines arrived.

The fire appeared to have started in the kitchen area, James said. No one was home at the time of the fire. He said the resident hadn't been home since 11 p.m. and was staying with a friend down the street when she learned of the house fire.

While much of the home suffered heat and smoke damage, the structure is not apparently a total loss.

Top bidder for the junk man's yard decorations is none other than ... Seminole County

By Christopher Patton
Managing Editor

SANFORD — There was no better show in town Friday than on the steps of the Seminole County Courthouse.

For the second time this year, the county sheriff's office was attempting to auction off collected items from Alan Davis' front yard. The notorious neighbor is referred to as the 'junk man' by many as he loaded his yard with airplane parts, scrap metal, old vehicles and about everything else imaginable in a show of defiance against county code inspectors.

However, his "political battle" is nearing an end as he was recently sentenced to prison for a year as a jury found him guilty of felony littering.

Earlier this year, Seminole County tried hauling off Davis' stuff and selling it to the highest bidder. That plan failed as the lot went for a whopping $95 and found its way back to Davis' property. To make sure that didn't happen again Seminole County was out to win some 'junk' at the auction.

"The county came prepared to do whatever it takes to make sure it didn't make it's way back out there," said Steve Olson, sheriff's

Local companies aid families of troops

By Dan Ping

SANFORD — A group of local businesses are working together to make the holidays a little brighter for military families who have loved ones overseas.

Named Operation Red, White & Blue, the effort is being sponsored by Realty Executives Orlando, Colonial Bank, Wells Fargo Home Mortgage and The Seminole Herald.

Operation Red, White & Blue is the brainchild of Mary Sabol of Realty Executives.

"The families of our troops are making tremendous sacrifices," Sabol said. "We overlook that. Most of the focus is on the troops, and it should be. But we also can't forget that our soldiers have families at home that need our help."

Sabol said the operation is working with the National Guard's Family Readiness Center in Orlando to distribute donations to needy military families. According to Chief Warrant Officer Victor

31 Oct. 2003 and Happy Halloween. We got up about 0430 and we left about 0500 to meet with CSM

Blackwood [command sergeant-major] to escort him to a prayer breakfast at the headquarters. He gave me another coin. [A special dollar-size commemorative coin, usually given by the regimental sergeant-major or commander, to a soldier in recognition of a good job]. I told him that he had already given me a coin and that I would give this one to my driver SPC Finnell. She is a good soldier, although she gets road rage and an attitude with Iraqi men.

CSM Blackwood pretty much talks to me on a one-to-one basis like we are the same rank. I guess it is because he knows dad is a sergeant-major, but it makes me feel a little uneasy because he is three ranks higher than me. The Regimental XO [executive officer] flew in on the chopper and walked up to me and greeted me by name. So I've got pretty good rapport with the headquarters group. The CSM said he is still trying to send some things out to Dad for the Sanford Museum. Me and the CSM spend a lot of time talking 2nd Cavalry history and about the Second Dragoons at Fort Mellon.

After I gave that coin to Finnell, I had the CSM give coins to the rest of my soldiers. I love my soldiers. I don't know what I would do if one got hurt. I try to take care of them and furnish their needs as well as I can. I don't want to be like those leaders in Washington who know absolutely nothing about leading soldiers in the field and see us more as simply numbers on a board.

I told you about SPC Finnell, my driver. And once again, I want to point out that all the "boys" over here are not "boys." Some of my

Trust offers historic holiday fun

By Sabrina Heise
Herald Correspondent

SANFORD — The 15th Annual Holiday Tour of Homes kicks off the holiday season in Seminole County with a tour of 17 homes in Sanford's Historic District.

The event, sponsored by the Sanford Historic Trust, features a walking tour of homes in the district decked out in their holiday best.

"The Holiday Home Tour presents the historic district in such a positive light and really demonstrates the community's common goal in bringing the district back to its old glory," said Linda Kuhn, president of the Sanford Historic Trust. "The trust's goal is to present the district as a great place to live so that's one of our main reasons for hosting this event each year."

Over the past three years the Friday evening tour, more commonly known as the Candlelight Tour, has quickly become a

Dear Mayor Lessard,
My sincere gratitude is extended to you on Wednesday, October 1, 2003 to the United States Department of Development receiver of the Sanford Housing Authority: the housing authority you are supposed to be turning around is located in Sanford, not Orlando. In an Oct. 27 letter to Sanford Mayor Brady Lessard and City Manager Al Grieshaber, Knightner addressed Lessard as the mayor of Orlando. Hm, wonder if Buddy Dyer knows anything about this?

Seminole schools seeking volunteers

The Dividends School Volunteer Program is recruiting volunteer tutors.

The effort is to make sure that all of the students in Seminole County Public Schools are eligible for higher level educational opportunities that the district offers and to reduce the gap between the highest achieving and lowest achieving students.

Tutors are trained to provide enrichment and remediation for students experiencing academic challenges and obstacles. Tutors can make a critical difference in students' achievement levels because tutors can provide these students with additional one-on-one or small group instruction. Teachers do an outstanding job of introducing curriculum material to students, and tutors are very valuable in providing practice for the students.

Teachers identify the needs of the students and provide materials for the tutors to use with the students. All tutoring is done at the school either before school, during the school day, or after school. Tutors work with students from kindergarten through 12th grades.

Seminole County Public

Schools have teacher tutor requests for the following schools: Crooms Academy of Information Technology (4), Goldsboro Elementary Magnet (3), Highlands Elementary (7), Idyllwilde Elementary (1), Keeth Elementary (1), Lawton Elementary (1), Pine Crest Elementary (1), Sterling Park Elementary (1), Wicklow Elementary (5).

The next tutor orientation is scheduled for Tuesday, Dec. 2, 9 a.m. at Seminole County Public Schools Educational Support Center, 400 E. Lake Mary Blvd., Sanford. For more information, call 407 320-0182.

favorite event of the holiday showcase. This year's Friday, Dec. 5, event occurs from 6:30 to 9 p.m. and includes a candlelit walking tour of homes, entertainment by local groups, carolers dressed in period costumes and a catered reception. Seven homes will be on display, as well as All Souls Catholic Church. A special appearance by Santa Claus rounds out the night of holiday merriment.

Special to the Candlelight Tour this year is a new exhibit of artwork from local students and residents depicting historic homes throughout the district. The works are entries in an art contest sponsored by Wharton Smith Inc., to raise awareness and promote the district.

The Saturday, Dec. 6, and Sunday Dec. 7, tours occur from noon to 5 p.m. and begins at tour headquarters found at Park on Park on the corner of South Park Avenue and Eighth Street, five blocks east of U.S. Highway 17-92. The tour showcases eight of Sanford's historic homes as well as two newly built homes in the district.

"This year we wanted to show how new homes could blend in with our historic homes in the district," explained Tony Daniels, marketing chair for the trust.

In addition to the homes, the tour will feature three porch stops that offer a place to sit and enjoy light refreshments. A person knowledgeable about Sanford history will be stationed at each porch stop. While tour visitors are welcome to sit as long as they like, these homes are not open to the public.

A new feature in this year's tour is a door decorating contest open to the entire Sanford community. In the past the Trust sponsored a holiday lighting contest but opted for a door decorating contest this year so that more residents could participate in the festivities.

Those interested in participating in the contest should submit an entry postmarked by Nov. 29. Entry forms are available at Knight's Shoes, Mollie & Me Antiques, Sanford Chamber of Commerce, Sanford Museum and The Seminole Herald. Entry forms may also be downloaded from the Internet by going to www.sanfordhistorictrust.org.

The door decorating contest includes a judge's choice award with the winner receiving a prize donated to the event by Burdines at Seminole Towne Center.

Also up for grabs is the people's choice award. Each door decoration will be photographed by the trust and displayed during the Saturday and Sunday tours.

Guests attending the tour will vote on their favorite and the top vote getter will receive the award.

Tickets for the Friday Candlelight Tour are $20 in advance and $25 at the door. The Saturday and Sunday event tickets sell for $12 in advance and $15 at the door with group rates available.

Proceeds from the event will be used by the trust to fund the purchase of reproduction street lights for the historic district.

Holiday Tour of Homes tickets are available by calling 407-263-4488 or at downtown locations including Knight's Shoes, Mollie & Me Antiques, the Sanford Chamber and the Sanford Museum.

Rat by the Tail

What if WE (Seminole County) were the great Mouse House

Looking through my birthday list, I find that Mickey Mouse will be 75 this coming Tuesday, Nov. 18. It was 1928 when he first appeared in a cartoon named Steamboat Willie, in the Colony Theater in New York City. It was the first animated cartoon with sound. (Donald Duck is younger, born June 9, 1934).

It got me to thinking — and perhaps you can think about this as well. When Walt Disney was looking for a place to establish Disney World, one of the prime areas was near Sanford. It was the land to the west of Interstate-4, (and some to the east), in the area now occupied by the Seminole Towne Center, AAA headquarters, and all the other major businesses between Sanford and Lake Mary. I believe the area on which the Central Florida Zoo is located was also in consideration.

What if this area was chosen instead of southwest of Orlando. WOW!!!! What a difference we would have in our area. First of all, we'd probably have a few more millionaires than we do now, with people selling their property to Disney for its many parks and attractions.

Had the facility developed as it has now, I would expect many longtime Sanford residents would have moved away, because of the hustle and bustle of activities, the crowds and especially the traffic.

New, younger folks would have moved in and we would have a much lower age group average than we do at present. With them would be their children which would double or triple our school population and school building needs.

There would be condos and apartment complexes all over the place for workers. We wouldn't have, as I said before, the zoo or the mall. But Seminole County would have a grand and glorious tax income — unless they established their own taxing district. But with the influx of new people and residential areas, we would still have a higher tax income, and as a result, possibly a lower millage for the rest of the local folks.

While downtown Sanford might still have many antique shoppes, there would also be stores selling Disney items, and probably some major clothing and other type businesses. Many of the longtime businesses may no longer be here, while others would have moved in. I doubt if there would be an empty store in the downtown area.

We can only wonder if places like SeaWorld and Universal Studios may have also moved close by — possibly on the other side of the St. Johns, thus expanding Volusia County in all ways, just as it has Polk County in the present location.

Back when Disney first appeared on the local scene, Sanford was a calm, small town. Only Central Floridians knew where Sanford was located. Therefore, in order to identify the location to the rest of the nation and even around the world, even though it was in Sanford, Disney may have called his complex, "Orlando Disney World" (like our airport).

Orlando may not have grown to be as big as it is now. I doubt, however, that Sanford would have grown into some major mega-metropolis. The surrounding areas would absorb most of the people.

Lark prices naturally, would be sky high, especially between Sanford and Lake Mary. And speaking of Lake Mary, with the Disney influence, that city may have disappeared, and become sort of a "Lake Mary Vista," with Disney shopping and entertainment galore, rather than the dozens of major corporations there now.

With the influx of people, our airport would have grown unbelievably. Possibly our highways would be much wider (but much more crowded). The average family income might have been higher.

Seminole County and our cities have benefited from the Orlando Disney location. We have many folks living here, paying taxes and shopping, who work at Disney, but not what we could have had.

As far as I'm concerned — I'm glad we have Disney World within close proximity — but I'm glad Mickey Mouse's driver's license says he's a resident of Orange County, rather than Seminole.

Officer Crapps is top notch with Sanford reader

To the editor: I would like to take a moment to commend Officer Bill Crapps on the professional and courteous manner in which he handled a recent automobile accident investigation involving one of my company vehicles being driven by my father, John Spolski. While it is always unfortunate being involved in an accident, the respect shown my father by Officer Crapps is sincerely appreciated. His demeanor and professionalism were an excellent representation on behalf of the Sanford Police Department. If you deem it appropriate, please feel free to convey my thoughts to Officer Crapps.

Brevard man pens poem after reading Sgt.'s Iraqi Diary

To the editor: I was born in Sanford, and now reside in Brevard County. I have been visiting my mother monthly and caught Sgt. Carlson's Iraq Diary, in The Seminole Herald. I have read it with some interest and coupled with the news events we get through the various media, it prompted me to write the following poem: Iraq Betrayal As my life ebbs away in the sand, Why oh why did I come to this land? They told me, "To set the people free," Then why have they killed me? Many of them I thought to be my friend. I can't believe they brought me to this end, But here I lie, About to die,

Where are these friends that I saved? Hiding and rejoicing as my life ebbs away. I never thought it would happen to me, Being killed by the ones I set free. If only the killing they would end, We could go home, and they could start again. But it makes too much sense to let peace reign. They would rather inflict more pain. These people aren't ready to be free, They don't understand the precepts of liberty. They are too concerned with their individual tribes, And making more money from their bribes. They don't give a rat's a about their country, As long as their tribe gets their money. I am afraid we will find, It takes a dictator to keep them in line. I hope someday they will appreciate our sacrifice.

It won't matter to me, because I will have died. Goodbye Iraq, I take my leave and say, Find peace with your liberators is what I pray. Heaving one last sigh, My life is gone...goodbye. The references to bribes in the poem, we call rewards for the capture of so-and-so. The Iraqi opponents calls it bounties. Unfortunately, I don't think democracy will work there as long as they remain tribal. Soon as we leave, the country will explode in sect warfare. It took and will take a heavy handed dictator to maintain order as there is too much pent up vengeance between the various sects. They are like the children of Israel that complained at having been delivered from Egypt only to die in the wilderness. Funny that ancient history is repeating itself, only with a different cast of characters.

Washington: The city in the bubble

Talking to Donald Regan once about his years as President Reagan's chief of staff, I asked what was the biggest problem in the White House in those days. "Everyone there thought they were smarter than the president," he said. "And I mean everyone." The same thing seems to be happening now. As our strategy in Iraq, such as it is, collapses into a level of chaos, the accounts — read finger-pointing and head-burying — of how we got into this are not about what the president thought, said or did. The accounts are about what he was told. Vice President Dick Cheney told him this. No, Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld said that. Or was it Paul Wolfowitz, the deputy defense secretary, who said...

Richard Reeves
hush of the limousine and the silent smile from the Secret Service man at the wheel, the stewards in the plane, hovering to know his pleasure, the jacket with his name embroidered as a memento of his visit to the ship or the plant, the campus or the launchpad; the visor, the ball cap, the gold shirt, the gold bag." On it goes, as men come to him with lists of whom he will see and what to say to them. That all was written about the father, George H.W. Bush, after six years as vice president. It is more true of the son, George W. Bush, after three years as president. It may be more true of Washington now, as well. The war capital has become a city of bubbles and balloons, with men and women trapped in their own safe worlds. The president's sphere is quieter and brighter, but the other players here, the Congress, the military, the diplomats, the press, are all sealed off from each other. Things have gone wrong across the sea in the war and everyone is busily pretending not to notice. The terrible thing here is the man in the great bubble on Pennsylvania Avenue may be the only one who does not actually know. He does not read newspapers or watch television, he says. Press reports and information itself are not relevant at the top. He does not talk to or listen to the Congress, they say. How would he know? Is Cheney or Rumsfeld telling him? Up on Capitol Hill in the great hall of the winds, it is business as usual — in the worst sense of that phrase. War? What war? It is the war they authorized, or at least acknowledged when they voted for it without significant debate — and it is the occupation they provided $87 billion for in a blank check, again without significant debate.

Business as usual, as it often does high on the hill, amounts to arguments over process. The energy in the congressional bubble is mostly directed toward the rules of the houses. The Democrats claim they are being cut out of governance — domestic governance — because the Republican majorities are doing their real business in closed sessions and conference committees, those secret meetings where differences between House and Senate versions are reconciled. Also, the majority in secret adds tiny clauses to reward or punish citizens outside the bubble. The Republicans claim, not without justification, that they are merely doing what the Democrats did in all those years they had the majority in both houses — and that it is the Democrats blocking progress by abusing parliamentary marginalia. But all bubbles burst, at both ends of Pennsylvania Avenue as surely as they do on Wall Street or in Silicon Valley. On the bad days, and there are too many of them now, you think we are all close to where the rubber meets the pin — and wonder how long it will be until wives and mothers, husbands and fathers begin to appear here or at the gates of military bases to demand to know when their soldiers are coming back or will be safe where they are. Everyone here hopes to be insulated from the sounds they will make.

POLITICS AT WAR: The White House is showing signs of panic

Paul Bremer was abruptly summoned from his bunker in Iraq to explain why things are going so poorly. Back in Baghdad, Lt. Gen. Ricardo Sanchez ditched the ruse rhetoric and used the word "war" to describe the escalating attacks that are killing and maiming his troops. Aides to the general said he was trying to inject realism into the debate back in Washington. President Bush had already sunk to pointing fingers at war-weary sailors, blaming them for his ill-timed "Mission Accomplished" banner. (Can you imagine the outcry if Bill Clinton had blamed rank-and-file troops for his political gaffe?) This is the mess we find ourselves in six months after the president pranced about in a flight suit on the deck of the USS

Abraham Lincoln: American-led coalition forces sustained 122 combat-related deaths before May 1 — the day Bush declared major combat operations over — but more than 180 deaths since then; a leaked CIA report contends that a majority of Iraqis now view U.S. soldiers as occupiers rather than liberators; the CIA also fears that Shiite Muslims, who were harshly oppressed by Saddam Hussein, may soon join Sunnis in attacks against coalition forces. And, of course, presidential elections will be held a year from now. Thus, the panic that engulfs the president's men. Since Bush is as much a politician as any of his predecessors, willing to put polls over principles, he is starting to put together a hasty plan to withdraw U.S. forces from Iraq as quickly as possible. (The latest Wall Street Journal poll shows 43 percent of Americans saying they'd probably vote for Bush next year, versus 40 percent saying they'd support the Democrat. That's practically a tie.) Bush has already hidden the body bags. Just before the invasion, the Pentagon banned news coverage and photography of the arrival of the coffins of dead soldiers. The president also skips military funerals. This is the measure of his leadership: He refuses to give the American public a realistic idea of the sacrifices required in war. Next year's election season could easily feature a battle of promises over who can withdraw troops fastest — Bush or his Democratic opponent. That would be ruinous. The U.S. needs to keep 100,000 or so troops in Iraq for two to five years to bring about a modicum of stability. Any less a commitment will surrender Iraq to an anarchy that would make us long for Saddam Hussein. This war has already been too much a political exercise. The invasion was a disastrous idea based on deceit and dissembling — a trumped-up cause to satisfy the imperial cravings of a bunch of powerful men. After the White House hyped the threat posed by Saddam, Democrats cravenly fell in line because of their own short-term political calculations. But now that the U.S. has destabilized Iraq, it would be unconscionable to leave prematurely in the hope of winning a few votes. An Iraq without a stable government would lapse into a multifaceted civil war — the perfect launching pad for al-Qaida. (Bush's sudden interest in getting an Iraqi government in place quickly — and getting our troops out — is replete with irony and cynicism. One of the reasons we're in this war is that Dick Cheney wanted to defeat the ghosts of Vietnam — a war he couldn't be bothered to fight because he had "other priorities" — and prove that the U.S. was big and bad once again. Wouldn't a premature retreat just be another version of Vietnam syndrome?)

The Democratic field of presidential candidates has so far found its surest footing in attacking Bush on the war, even though several of the candidates voted to support it. If Howard Dean ends up the nominee, it's hard to imagine that he would resist efforts to bring American soldiers home quickly. But these shallow political calculations could easily lead to calamity. If we clear out too soon, we may be setting the stage for Armageddon in the Middle East before 2008. And we'll be sending a message to hundreds of American families that their sons and daughters died for nothing.

The Way We Were: SHS class celebrates 50 years

I recently attended the Seminole High School class of 1953 50th reunion at the Orlando Marriott Lake Mary, and thoroughly enjoyed it as I have many friends in that class, having graduated myself in 1954.

Grace Marie Stinecpher

Several of the class-mates came to the Sanford Museum that afternoon (I work there on Saturday afternoons and Wednesdays) and I asked if I could come out that evening during their Social Hour to scope out the place. My class is having a reunion there in June, 2004. They said they'd be glad to have me attend.

I arrived at the Marriott about 6:30 p.m. and immediately found out what the place would be like during our event. Our committee had seen only empty spaces. The hotel has several banquet/meeting rooms, all in the same general area, and that night there were three other events - a wedding, bar mitzvah and another reunion. Each was sharing a part of the pre-event corridor like space outside of their own banquet room. The 1953 class was around the corner in the Orchid Room.

I visited with many old friends, many of whom I had not seen in years. And of course, I kept my eyes peeled on the room layout, etc., so I could report back to my reunion committee. I was about ready to leave when Mary Ann Bruce told me they had a no-show and asked if I would like to stay for dinner. I immediately said yes, even though I had already eaten. This was very gracious of this class and I really appreciated it. I managed to eat most of the delicious meal.

My cousin, Bobby Morris, and his wife Pat had the pleasure (?) of my company at the table, which gave Bobby and me a chance to catch up. Also sitting with us were George Patterson and his wife Betty, Luther Muse and wife Claudia, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Cowley (former SHS Band Director) and John Krider, who had to be separated from his wife, Eloise Benton Krider.

You have probably already read about the reunion in the excellent article by Mary Ann Bruce, but I can add a few things.

David VanNess acted as emcee, introducing the special guests and recognizing those who came a long distance. Rev. Joe Douthitt, husband of Beverly Benton Douthitt, asked the blessing on the delicious food. Following the meal, Jeanette Ratliff Cara gave out the many door prizes.

During the evening, there was a display of Sanford memorabilia provided by Jim Cara, son of Jan, who calls himself a Deltologist — Ephemerist. That means he collects memorabilia. He collects items from Seminole and West Volusia counties, specializing in Sanford and DeLand. He has donated several items to the Sanford Museum.

When the reunion group left the banquet room, the majority went to a lovely hospitality suite where snacks were served and there was much more visiting.

There was an excellent attendance at this reunion considering the fact that there have been 34 deaths out of 116 graduates. One of the first deaths was that of class president Terry Cordell, who was one of the first casualties in the Vietnam

Tennis Anyone?

Mother, daughter team offers free tennis lessons

By Kate Lucas
Herald Correspondent

SANFORD — A community-minded mother and daughter have formed an ace doubles team and local children are the winners.

Sally Genge, a former Seminole High School tennis coach, and her daughter, Joyce Stansberry, started Sanford Grass Roots Tennis Inc. in July and numbers are growing. Free tennis lessons are held twice a week at Chase Park and now around 35 people aged 4 and upwards attend.

"There's a huge number of children in Sanford who deserve the opportunity to learn tennis and who wouldn't normally have it," Stansberry said.

Many children from the city's poorer neighborhoods are not able to afford lessons and the not-for-profit club's founders believe that learning the game provides an outlet for their energy. It is a lot of fun and will equip them with many life skills in the process.

The children, many of whom responded to an advertisement placed at 1st Rescue Day Care, come from the neighborhoods surrounding Chase Park. They arrived "with almost no tennis knowledge, no racquets, and some without shoes," Stansberry said. But from small beginnings great tennis players are taking shape.

"Their skill level has gone up and up. It's amazing," she continues. "Now their attitude is great — they are so excited."

Matches against other Grass Roots clubs in DeLand and Eatonville are planned for the new year.

Alongside ball and racquet skills and game rules, the classes teach fitness, nutrition, self-esteem, teamwork and manners.

"The children must have breakfast before they come for the morning class," Genge said. "They know their bodies need the fuel."

The mother and daughter duo have noticed a big change in the amount of respect the budding tennis players are showing the adults, and each other. And parents, who are very supportive of the program, have reported improved motivation for win tennis scholarships that enabled them to go to college. Genge and Stansberry believe that Sanford's tennis club could lead to similar opportunities for the children attending their classes today. The self-confidence and skills they learn there will certainly give them a great shot at success in whatever field they choose.

Support for the club comes in part from a United States Tennis Association grant and they have also received help from Wisteria Realty. But more is needed. Genge and her daughter would love to have local people help this community project.

"There is more potential here than two people can manage," Stansberry said. "The club needs volunteers to teach classes, for which training is available, to assist with administration or to simply provide a racquet to replace the wooden yard sale finds that are used at the moment."

To donate time, a racquet or to find out more, call Sally Genge 407-579-4154 or Joyce Stansberry 407-323-6755.

school as some kids do not want to miss out on their tennis sessions because of poor grades.

Mills also assured those present that there are always SCSO personnel somewhere in the Geneva area, even during shift changes. Patrolling deputies spend very little time in the Oviedo substation, continued Mills, but added that the station does provide needed access to the south area with its greater number of calls for assistance.

Attendees then questioned Mills and other officers regarding a seeming increase in incidents of vandalism such as the recent graffiti damage to the Geneva Post Office.

The investigating officer explained that the post office and several other events involving a home on Pine Street, school buses, Geneva General Feed Store and the Historical Museum are most likely the work of a few individuals the SCSO is trying to build a case against with gathered evidence.

Because of foreclosure proceedings on the home involved, however, contact with an owner is difficult leaving that case with mostly circumstantial evidence and statements from less than credible sources. If the case can be proven to the state attorney's office satisfaction, then prosecution will take place on the burglary of the residence.

Questions were also raised at the meeting concerning response times, four-wheeler and dirt bike problems, a known juvenile hangout trouble spot off Avenue C, and the need for more contact

Their appearance was part of the group's community outreach effort to inspire young people to dream big, be disciplined and believe in themselves.

The group consists entirely of African American musicians who have performed extensively throughout the United States and abroad. The Ritz Chamber Players have studied with leading artists at our country's top conservatories including Julliard, Peabody, and Curtis.

They have performed with esteemed American orchestras such as the Boston Symphony, Cleveland Orchestra and New York Philharmonic.

Musicians with a purpose to perform the old masters — composers from Brahms to Mozart — as well as to be champions for performing and focusing on the African American classical musical repertoire.

Their mission is to provide the community with educational programs, and to entice audiences of diverse backgrounds and music interests.

Tom Flewellyn, chairman of Tajiri's Board of Directors said, "We are pleased that the players decided to stop at Tajiri. Their talent is immense and will inspire the students to continue their hard work."

Tajiri Arts' mission is to foster education, self-respect, self-discipline and self-worth in youth ages three through 19, through performing arts, academic enrichment and entrepreneurship. The school trains ethnically diverse, at-risk

More people in the community equals more crime

Geneva residents met recently with representatives from the Seminole County Sheriff's Office (SCSO) to discuss concerns specific to the rural community.

Since the sheriff's office community service center moved from the old Geneva Elementary 'Resource Center,' some have felt that perhaps SCSO coverage of the area had suffered a bit. Those who wished to express the desire for a stronger SCSO presence had prepared a petition to present to sheriff's deputies who patrol Geneva's streets.

New District Commander Lt. Karen Mills (with eight years of service here) addressed the more than 20 people present and laid out statistics the SCSO uses to assign deputies to the location with the most need.

Noting that the SCSO had outgrown the office at the resource center, and the repairs needed there, Mills said the SCSO chose to move to their current location — actually more central to their response area — when offered the larger offices in the city of Oviedo.

According to Mills, the district that includes the University of Central Florida and surrounding unincorporated Seminole County generates 14,493 calls while the district covering Black Hammock, Geneva, Chuluota, and unincorporated Seminole County east requires response to 9,536 calls for service in that same period of time. The Geneva area district, Mills said, has the same amount of deputies as all the other districts in the rest of Seminole County.

Mills also assured those present that there are always SCSO personnel somewhere in the Geneva area, even during shift changes. Patrolling deputies spend very little time in the Oviedo substation, continued Mills, but added that the station does provide needed access to the south area with its greater number of calls for assistance.

Attendees then questioned Mills and other officers regarding a seeming increase in incidents of vandalism such as the recent graffiti damage to the Geneva Post Office.

with officers such as was happening that night. Officers responded to each issue, offering stepped-up safety patrols, the use of two floating deputies, a clean up planned for the second weekend in November, and the scheduling of quarterly community meetings beginning in January 2004.

Mention was also made of the fact that Geneva's crime statistics simply remain at pace with its population increase, and that often lengthy quiet spells will be interrupted by crime sprees that 'come in batches' such as was seen

New laundromat to open; to help the community

My recent chat with Deborah J. Smith allowed me to hear about her latest venture. She is presently opening a One Price 24-hour Laundromat and dry cleaners. Smith says she is giving back to our community free wash days. Yes, it's true. For four hours, you don't have to pay for quality washers and professional dry cleaners with a smile. Monday, Nov. 17, and Tuesday, Nov. 18. It will continue every Monday and Tuesday in November. All licensed ministers and clergy, five percent off everyday. Check it out. Come by for special, 7 to 11 a.m. and 3 to 7 p.m., just in November. One price, prepay, $2.79. Located in Sanford/Lake Mary Plaza, 2915 South Orlando Drive and Highway 417, next to Dollar General. For pick up phone 407-328-8367, or Deltona Fountain Plaza, 777 Deltona Blvd., 386-860-8860.

Terrance Patterson (black shirt) and Allison Buchanan (holding baby) of the Ritz Chamber Players visit with members of the Tajiri Arts' School of Performing Arts & Academics during their recent visit to Central Florida. As part of Tajiri's opening for the 2003-2004 season, Patterson, clarinetist and the group's musical director, and Buchanan, featured soprano, visited the students and not only demonstrated their skills, but spent time conversing with those in attendance about their personal background and how they formed the Ritz Chamber Players. The group consists entirely of African American musicians. The Ritz Chamber Players have studied with leading artists at our country's top conservatories including Julliard, Peabody, and Curtis. They have performed with esteemed American orchestras such as the Boston Symphony, Cleveland Orchestra and New York Philharmonic.

Historical museum curator speaks to woman's club

By De Forbes
Special to The Herald

Alicia Clarke, curator of the Sanford Historical Museum showed members of the Sanford Woman's Club various issues of books and brochures available at the museum pertaining to Sanford's history as she related tales familiar to some but surprising to others.

The Woman's Club was, in fact, she said, responsible for The Tale of the Mosquito, the oldest of the publications mentioned.

Four new members were presented with traditional red roses as they were inducted into the club. They were Robin Arrowsmith, Joan Buchanan, Josi Konkell and Dondi O'Neal.

President Melinda (Mindy) Tooley presided at the meeting. Officers for the year 2003-2004 are Phyllis Hodge, first vice president; Helen Plogar, second vice-president; Pat Bowen, third vice president; Carol Dennison, treasurer; Merian Johnson, recording secretary.

Betty Jack, parliamentarian; Viola Frank, arts chairman; LuCindy Russell, education chairman; Peggy Deere, home life chairman; Patty Mahany, public affairs, chairman; Vivian Buck and Helen Polgar, house chairmen; Paul Polgar, House husband; Lisa Finnerty, Rental chairman and De Forbes, public relations.

Appeals were made by animal control for sheets and blankets for their animals and Alicia Clarke urged the members to search their attics for "anything old with the word Sanford on it." Mindy Tooley announced that member De Forbes (DeLoris Stanton Forbes) would sign copies of her 43rd published book, "The Perils of Marie Louise," at Our House Books and Coffee, 308 East Commercial Street, downtown Sanford.

Books available at the Historical Society include Seminole County: Black America Series by Altermese Smith Bentley, A History of the First Baptist Church, Sanford, 1884-1984; Sanford as you Never Knew It, by Charlie Carlson; The Early History of the St. John's River by Ed Winn; The Story of Ft. Mellon and the Second Seminole War, 1836-1842, by Christine Kinlaw/Best; and Bookertown, a Journey to the past by Charlie Carlson and Charlie Morgan. The museum also publishes an annual Sanford calendar.

Bathe', O'Brien announce marriage

Joshua Andrew O'Brien and Jenifer Leigh Bathe', of Hunter's Lake Drive, Tampa, were married April 26, 2003 at First United Methodist Church in Zephyrhills, with Reverend Ford officiating. A reception was held in Dade City.

The groom grew up in Sanford and his grandparents still live here. Joshua and Jenifer are both teachers employed by the Hillsborough County School System, at Chamberlain High School in Tampa.

The wedding cake was three-tier, navy, silver and white with butter cream icing. The dinner reception featured ham, pasta, vegetables, salad and bread.

Approximately 175 to 180 guests were on hand from Florida, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Georgia.

With music from a disk jockey, the couple had the first dance, then separating for grandfather, mother, and others.

Jenifer's motto is "Put God first. He will never steer you wrong. Patience, commitment and love."

Community pitches in for Colonial Room waitress

By Charles D. Jackson
Herald Correspondent

SANFORD — Call it small-town concern. When a person is in need of assistance, the people of Sanford will respond.

Such is the case for the barbecue benefit for Laura Dirks, an employee of the Colonial Room restaurant who has battled cancer, kidney failure and other ailments.

Well-wishers of Dirks filled the pavilion and the main auditorium of the Sanford Shriners' Club on Sunday, Nov. 2, to enjoy barbecue served by the Colonial Room staff and show their support.

Almost 500 people purchased dinners or donated money, raising more than $8,000 to help cover medical bills and lost wages of Dirks, who has been unemployed since July and hospitalized frequently. Dirks and her family attended the benefit.

"The turnout was simply overwhelming," said Angie Graham, manager of the Colonial Room and co-organizer of the event with Colonial Room owner Bill Painter, who is also a leader with the Shriners.

"A lot of (the money received) was from total strangers," Graham said. "One man donated $200 and said, 'I don't know Laura, but she's a part of your (Colonial Room) family, so I wanted to help.'"

The Colonial Room has issued a "thank you" letter to all its patrons, the Shriners, and others who supported this event. "Because of your kindness, the Dirks family can rest a little bit easier knowing their immediate financial burden has been lifted. The turnout at the benefit was overwhelming and just goes to show what fine people live in Sanford and the surrounding areas."

also suffering from a gunshot wound. She is hospitalized in critical condition, according to police.

Cleo Cohen, Sanford police spokesperson, said a daughter of Johnson's phoned police after she had been trying to reach her mother for some time. The daughter apparently went to the Poinsettia Avenue residence searching for Johnson and found the injured couple.

"We're still sorting out how the event worked out," Cohen said. "We don't know what happened first if he shot her first or he shot him."

Cohen said Sanford police did respond to a previous domestic situation at the home Sept. 20. According to the police report, the couple, which are not legally married, had been drinking during the day. When police arrived, they noticed swelling around Johnson's left eye, and she apparently sought shelter elsewhere that evening. Cohen said the case had been forwarded to the state attorney's office.

Auction

office spokesman. "They came prepared to be the high bidder. They could have gone up to $30,000."

The county spent $400 in the auction as they purchased the majority of the 500 items. The auction was split into four parts — the three tractor trailers full of assorted stuff from Davis' property, a box truck, a Ford pickup and a Mazda 626.

In all, the auction netted $1,000. It's a drop in the bucket considering more than $30,000 has been spent in hauling the junk away from the house twice and storing the stuff. At the last auction, the top bid was $95.

"It cost the taxpayers a lot of money, it really did," Olson said.

Davis' wife, Aileen, outbid several for the right to have her Mazda 626 back at a price tag of $50.

"It's my car," she said. "It has a lien, but I can have my car back."

The most bids came for the box truck, which was won by Laura Morris for $550.

Assistant County Attorney Karen Consalo pushed the price from $50 all the way to $500 before Morris pleaded with her to stop.

"We needed to make sure she was buying it for the right purpose," Consalo said after the auction.

Morris was the least bit happy the county was interfering with the auction. She said she really needed the truck to move some items.

"I had no idea it was the county at the time," she said. "I find it just annoying they would do that."

While Morris said she has no intention to sell the vehicle back to Davis, she did say she would allow Aileen to recover any items out of the truck.

"I'm going to keep the truck, but I'm going to give her the personal items back," Morris said. "She seems like a nice lady."

Guzman, director of the Readiness Center, families with loved ones deployed in the Middle East have problems making ends meet some months. The holidays can exacerbate those problems, especially since Guard members aren't drawing paychecks from their civilian jobs.

"Our focus is on helping the families, whether it be a financial problem, a pay problem or any other type of issue they might have," Guzman said.

With the increased attacks on American troops in recent months, the Family Readiness Center has become a place where families turn to for information and moral support.

"When we have incidents over in Iraq, the families want to know if their soldier was involved," Guzman said. "We try to provide them the information as quickly as possible."

"Also, a lot of these families haven't been in this situation before, as far as having their husband or son deployed," Guzman added. "Some of them are just now realizing that they need the support of others, especially to talk about what's happening."

During the holidays, most people are inclined to donate toys, and Operation Red, White & Blue will accept unwrapped toys for kids ages 6 to 16. However, many of the military families need more practical items to use around the home or in some cases donations of food.

"One way people can help is to donate gift cards from department stores or grocery stores," Sabol said. "Because of privacy and security concerns, the National Guard can't release the names or specifics about each family, so it's hard to list all of the needs a family may have. By providing a gift card, each family can use it to meet their most pressing needs."

Some families also struggle to pay utility bills.

Anyone interested in offering assistance with bills should contact Sabol directly at 407-478-2294.

Early support for Operation Red, White & Blue has been tremendous, Sabol said.

"When I meet with people to ask for their help, I rarely get all the way through my presentation," Sabol said. "Hunt Dawkins at Colonial Bank, for example, has gone out of his way to help, and I recently met with a group of executives and they said they would do whatever it took to help these families."

Those wishing to participate in Operation Red, White & Blue can do so by dropping off items at:

- Colonial Bank - 919 W. State Road 436, Altamonte

- Spring; 894 E. Semoran Blvd., Casselberry; 4699 W. Lake Mary Blvd.; 801 E. State Road 434, Longwood; and 2127 W. State Road 434, Longwood.

- Realty Executives - 4300 W. Lake Mary Blvd., Suite 1010, Lake Mary; and 2425 W. State Road 434, #163, Longwood.

- Wells Fargo Home Mortgage - 290 Waymont Court, Suite 90, Lake Mary

- The Seminole Herald - 300 N. French Ave., Sanford. Donations will be accepted at each business through Friday, Dec. 19 so that the items may be distributed to the military families before Christmas.

For more information about Operation Red, White & Blue, call Mary Sabol at 407-478-2294.

best soldiers are women, and they face the same risks and hardships as the guys, in many cases they excel above the guys. They can handle an ambush as well as any of the men. I just want to make sure they get credit.

I also have my gunner on top, in the turret, I call him "my eye in the sky" since he is up in the turret.

1 Nov. 2003 We went on another patrol in Sadir City. We had most of the cavalry out with their tanks due to the fact that insurgents were going to target elementary schools with car bombs.

This is a sick bunch of folks that would think of doing something like that. We know that some of these insurgents are from Syria and a few from Iran. Anyway, there was no incident and everything was good.

We stopped on one city street where a bunch of tanks were stopped (when any patrol like that stops, they stagger the formation and pull a 360-degree security). It turned out that one of their tanks had thrown a track and they were fixing it. Chalk up another breakdown.

We then moved on to continue our patrol. I looked out my window and saw some sheep eating garbage, a common sight here, except for one sheep, which caused me to laugh. The sheep was eating garbage like his fellow sheep, but there was one of those rubber, flip-flop, shower shoes stuck to the wool on his butt.

I forgot to mention about the other day when I was not feeling well. PFC Hildebrand, our platoon medic, said he noticed that I was under the weather and wanted to know "what was wrong." I had the flu and upset stomach, plus I was starving from not eating. My shoulder still gives me a bit of pain, but I try to ignore it.

These are the best medics I have seen in the army yet. They know their jobs and are real dedicated. I have seen them patch up bullet wounds and stab wounds in no time flat and come back with bloody DCU's [desert uniform] from their efforts. They are the epitome of medics in the army. There are five medics: SPC Jasso, SPC Valentin, SPC Edwards, PFC Hildebrand, and the senior medic SSG Sutton who we call "Doc."

Hildebrand is always ready to stick someone with an IV, and even loves to instruct others on giving an IV. He uses his own arm to do so. I would not use my arm with someone learning to give an IV, although I have given about 5 since I've been here (mostly IVs with solution for dehydration).

We have nicknamed the long robe things the Iraqi men wear as "Man Dresses." For an example of a "man dress," look on a coffee can of Hill's Brothers

Coffee, they have a guy in their trademark wearing a "man dress."

I got a nice card, and two packs of playing cards from Mrs. Christ in Lake Mary. I try to answer all those who send me cards and letters and share them with my troops.

All the letters have been very kind, and I might pleasantly add, they've all been from women! It's been my observation that most letters that soldiers get, or care-package things, are from women.

I bought a rug for $8 and have fixed my living area up. I have my own desk, a lamp, and my rug and a little more privacy for myself. I'm also video taping some of our patrols, it is going to be the real thing, nothing staged. I will send the tape home when I'm finished. It will keep you on the edge of your seat. It is turning cool here, like fall of the year. It gets down right cold at night which is a big change from a month ago.

2 Nov. 2003 It's been a bad week here and getting worse. Eighteen soldiers killed today, many got shot down in a chopper. I count somewhere between 27 and 30 American soldiers killed this past week with twice that number wounded. This is getting to be like a slaughter house. It depresses me and it depresses my soldiers too.

We are told it is about Iraqi freedom. Yeah, tell us another one. We are tired of hearing, "It's about this, no, it's about that, no, it's about the other" ... so what is it really about? How about profits and power? Are we to believe that Americans put more value on Iraqis than they do the lives of American soldiers? Something is really sick about this war.

I'm okay, but don't feel much like writing today.

Next issue: Crude oil seeps through the sand.

County schools ready for annual Teach-In Nov. 18

Area community leaders have been invited to step out of the boardroom and into the classroom for the Greater Seminole Teach-In 2003 on Nov. 18.

Held annually during American Education Week, participants can enhance learning by going into a classroom for an hour or for the day. Volunteers will be reading, tutoring and speaking about their careers, travels, hobbies, cultures and life experiences.

The goal is to have guest teachers in as many classrooms as possible that day. Last year 1,000 volunteers participated in Teach-In.

Some topics the students will be learning about from their "teachers" this year include the following: fire, seatbelt and bike safety, architecture, surveying and mapping, laser technology, pacer-makers, building motorcycles, manufacturing, internet development, athletics and training, amateur radio operators, authors, hair stylist, NASA, cake decorating, plumbing, origami, adoption, bees, and dance.

The Foundation for Seminole County Public Schools sponsor the Teach-In. For more information on Community Involvement opportunities in Seminole County Public Schools, call 407-320-0184 or visit the district Web page: www.scps.k12.fl.us.

• The Wekiva River Basin

Last year I sponsored a bill that would have enacted the 17 unanimous recommendations of the Governor's Wekiva River Basin Task Force. Although the bill passed the Senate by a 38-0 vote, the House failed to take up the bill. Recognizing that the important work of the task force must be continued, the Governor has appointed me chairman of the newly created Wekiva River Basin Coordinating Committee.

This diverse committee consists of state and local leaders, transportation officials, business owners, land owners and environmental representatives. Reaching a consensus within such a diverse group of people could be viewed as difficult. However during the August 27th and 28th meeting, the coordinating committee established the boundaries of the study area that will be the focus of the group's work by a broad consensus by the members of the committee.

The new Wekiva River Basin Coordinating Committee will explore options that protect the Wekiva springhead and surrounding environment, complete the beltway around Orlando and provide cities and counties in central Florida with the opportunity to grow within the environment rather than in place of it. These goals are not mutually exclusive and can all be achieved with hard work, creative thinking and consensus building.

For more information of the Wekiva River Basin Coordinating Committee and its upcoming meetings, please visit www.wekivacommittee.org.

• Insurance Crisis Resolved

This year the Legislature in conjunction with the Governor worked to address the growing insurance crisis in Florida by passing meaningful legislation in three major areas - Medical Malpractice, Workers Compensation and PIP (Personal Injury Protection).

The plan on medical malpractice reform reflects the continued commitment to protect access to health care for Floridians by: • Capping the amount of awards against Emergency rooms and Physicians • Encouraging quality care through preventive strategies & enhanced disciplinary action • Increasing physicians' access to affordable insurance coverage.

The "Florida Motor Vehicle Insurance Affordability Reform Act" institutes various changes that will help make PIP insurance more affordable and eliminate fraud within the system. The bill: • Provides tougher new penalties for fraudulent activities like soliciting accident victims, and presenting false insurance cards • Eliminates the $2000 PIP deductible • Provides that PIP deductibles may be recovered from the at fault driver in an accident.

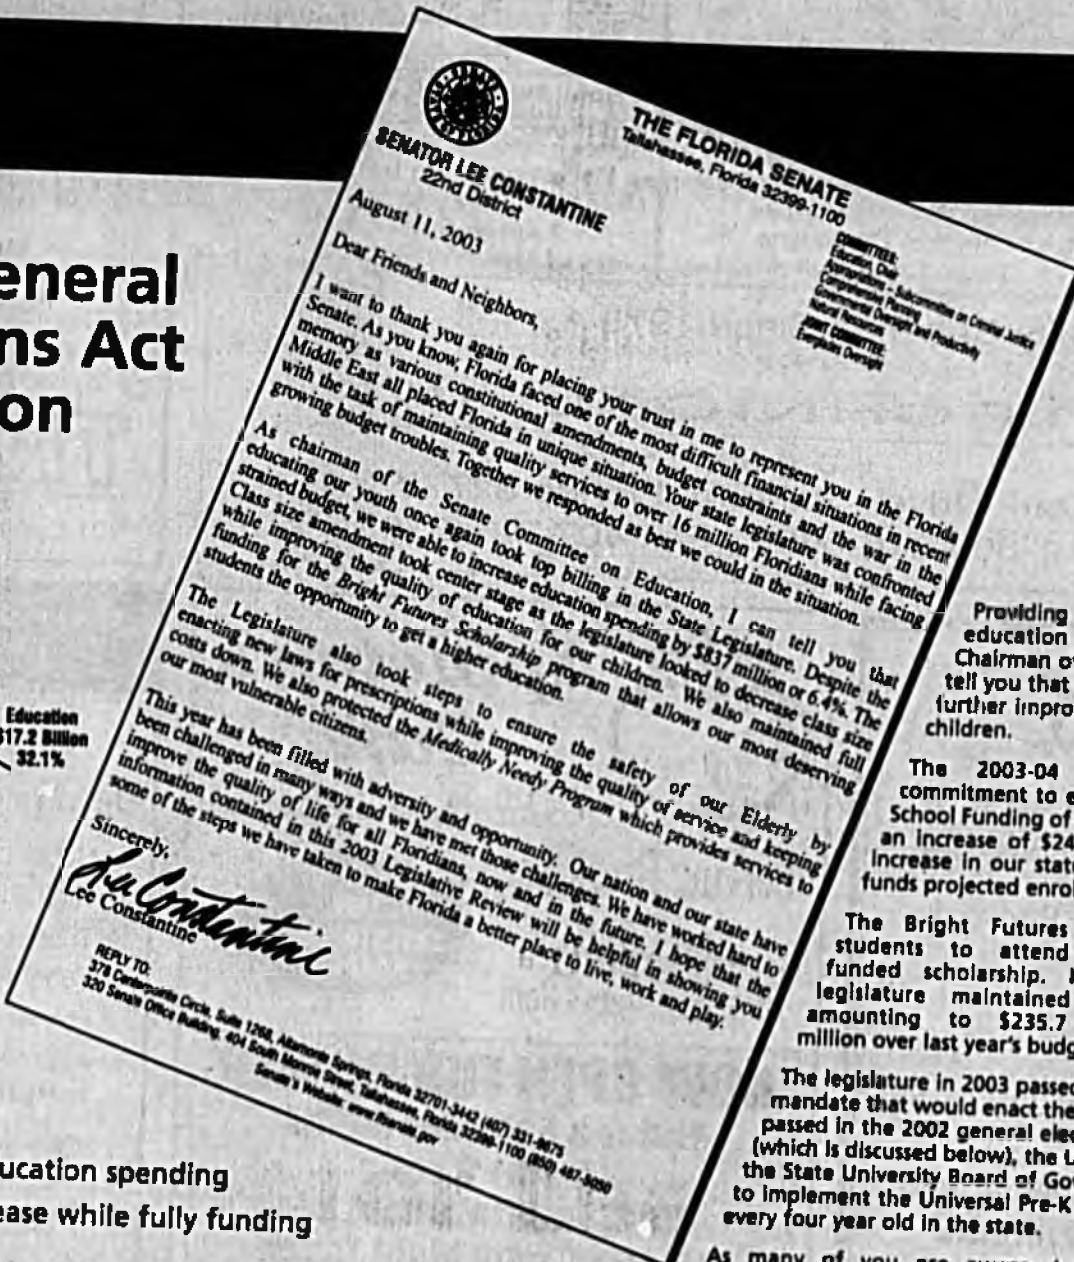

For more information on these and other insurance issues please visit www.fldfs.com.

• Water Use Permitting

The legislature streamlined the process by which two or more water management districts use water in any county, by implementing a plan that would allow the county to receive one consumptive use permit from one of the districts instead of the several that were previously required. For more information visit www.flsenate.gov.

• Real Estate Appraisers and Brokers

This year, we helped real estate appraisers become more efficient by reforming various aspects of Chapter 475. Please visit www.flsenate.gov for more information.

Quality Education for Florida's Children

Providing all of Florida's children with a quality education is our most important priority. As Chairman of the Senate Education Committee, I can tell you that the legislature took great strides toward further improving the quality of education for all our children.

The 2003-04 budget reflects Florida's strong commitment to education with an increase in the Public School Funding of $837.4 million, or 6.35%. This represents an increase of $240.80 per student and the third largest increase in our state's history. This year's budget also fully funds projected enrollment growth of 42,730 new students.

The Bright Futures program allows our state's best students to attend State Universities on a state-funded scholarship. I am happy to report that the legislature maintained full funding for this program amounting to $235.7 million (an increase of $16.8 million over last year's budget).

The legislature in 2003 passed legislation in response to the people's mandate that would enact the Education Constitutional Amendments passed in the 2002 general election. Among these is the Class Size bill (which is discussed below), the University Governance bill which creates the State University Board of Governors; and this year we will continue to implement the Universal Pre-K program that the voters approved for every four year old in the state.

As many of you are aware, I have been a tireless advocate of better education for Florida's students. I believe that this year's policies and budget reflect that commitment. For more information about this and other major education initiatives, you may visit www.myflorida.com or contact my legislative office.

• Class Size

During the 2002 General Election, voters approved a constitutional amendment designed to increase the education experience of students by reducing class size. The Senate was fully committed to responding to the voice of Florida's voters. In 2003, the legislature proposed a comprehensive package that is meant to assist schools in class size reduction through increased funding for teachers and new facilities.

The new law provides increased flexibility to local school boards through programs like corporate Scholarships, high school graduation alternatives and the Florida Virtual School. Additionally we created the Business and Education In Schools Together (BEST Program). This program is designed to help reduce the cost of operating schools for a district while maintaining a quality educational opportunity for students by encouraging businesses to house K-3 programs in facilities they own for the benefit of their own employees' children. These programs are supervised by the local school board and operate under the same guidelines as regular public schools but will pose less of a financial burden on school districts while providing an opportunity for increased parental involvement.

The Senate is committed to making sure that our children receive the highest quality education and that the schools they attend operate safely, efficiently and effectively.

For more information on this issue, please visit www.fldoe.org.

• Universal Pre-K

In the November 2002 General Election, Floridians voted by a large margin to provide a school based pre-kindergarten program to all 4 year old children at no cost to the child's parents. In 2003, the legislature set out to make that goal a reality. We have authorized a study on a new voluntary Universal Pre-K education program within that will provide eligible children with a high quality Pre-K learning opportunity.

The goal is to create an early childhood development and education program that would allow every 4-year old child in the state to enter the K-12 system better prepared to succeed in school and beyond. Learning is a continuous process and the sooner we begin to educate our children, the more productive and successful they will be. During the upcoming legislative session we will begin implementing our plans for this much needed program.

For more information on this issue, visit www.fldoe.org.

• Parental and Family Involvement

The "Family and School Partnership for Student Achievement Act" was passed by the legislature in an effort to provide parents with needed information about their child's educational progress. Parental involvement is a key ingredient to a child's success in school and this act provides a framework for building and strengthening partnerships between parents, teachers, students, principals and school board administrators.

• Living Wage

This year I sponsored and the Legislature passed an economic development bill that preempts Florida from having different minimum wages throughout its 67 counties. This bill DOES NOT affect current agreements and ordinances in any county or city. Local governments will still be able to establish a minimum wage for their own employees and there is no limit to what a private business can pay an employee if they choose to pay a higher wage.

What the law DOES DO is keep Florida from having a hodge-podge of minimum wage laws in order to provide businesses with a more stable economic environment. This law protects businesses and consumers alike and is a necessary step toward continuing to build a strong and stable economy in Florida.

To see the legislative summary for this legislation, visit www.flsenate.gov and search for Senate Bill 54 from the 2003 legislative session.

Bucs nip Dolphins in Minor decider

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

Saving the best for last. Forced into a winner-take-all Championship Game for the Minor Division (7-to-9 year olds) when the undefeated Dolphins were beaten in the final regular season game, the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Youth Flag Football League came to an end with a classic contest last Saturday at Ft. Mellon Park with the Buccaneers edging the Dolphins by the very misleading score of 20-12.

The Dolphins had done just enough to stay unbeaten through the first five games, but finally met their match on the final week (Nov. 1) when the Buccaneers used a six-yard run by Sammy Edwards Jr. in the second half to win a defensive battle, 6-0.

That left both teams with 5-1 records and set up what would turn out to be an awesome encounter.

The Dolphins got on the board first when Tom Kearney capped a steady drive of sneaks, reverses and double reverses with a 13-yard touchdown run. The extra point was no good and the Fins led 6-0.

The Dolphins were on the doorstep again on their next possession, but the Buccaneers put up a defensive stand and finally ended the threat with an interception at the nine.

The Buccaneers then drove down the field and tied the game on a 39-yard run by Devin Jones. Jones then put his team ahead when he hit Terry Seiple with a two-point conversion pass.

The Bucs threatened again late in the half, but that drive was killed by a Kearney interception and the teams went to the half with the Buccaneers leading, 8-6.

Most of the second half saw both teams controlling the ball but not putting any points on the board.

Late in the game the Dolphins finally got a drive going and moved steadily down the field with a mix of runs and sneaks by Charles Bieber, Charley Taylor and Kearney.

Bieber capped the drive with a three-yard center sneak for the go-ahead touchdown with only 34-seconds remaining.

The Buccaneers were not down, however.

The Bucs quickly drove 40-yards, using sideline runs by Jones and Josh Ford and then stepping out of bounds to stop the clock. Ford got the final honors going in for the touchdown on a center sneak.

The extra point was no good and the Bucs led 14-12.

The drama still wasn't over, however.

The Dolphins took the kickoff and drove into scoring position before Edwards picked off a pass with 10-seconds left and returned it for a touchdown to end the game and the season.

Following the final game all of the players and their parents were treated to an Awards Party cook-out with Rich Plan supplying the hot dogs and See Flag, Page 2B

Winter Springs (26-4) is back in the finals.

The Class 6A-Region 1 champions rolled over Parkland-Douglass (27-4) in straight games, 25-13, 25-16 and 25-23, Friday night to advance to tonight's (Saturday) final game in the FHSAA Girls Volleyball Championships at The Lakeland Center.

On Thursday, Orangewood Christian (29-3) showed the Bears the way, easing past Ocala-St. John Lutheran (22-4), 25-21, 25-7 and 25-22, in the Class A semifinals.

The Rams were to have played Tampa-Bayshore Christian (29-2), which battled past Lake Worth Christian (23-8), 25-17, 25-14 and 26-24, in the other semifinal, at 10 a.m. this morning.

Winter Springs will face powerful Boca Raton-Spanish River (28-2) in the Class 6A Championship Match at 8:30 p.m.

Spanish River romped Southwest Miami (30-3), 25-10, 25-19 and 25-16, in the other 6A semifinal earlier Friday.

Seniors Lorin Lukas and Kelsey Combes again led the way for the Bears, with Lukas pounding down 10 kills and putting up 13 digs, and Combes handing out 33 assists and digging out nine balls.

Also playing well for the locals were sophomores Brianna Barry with 14 kills and Shelby Hock with seven kills and 11 digs.

The Winter Springs defense was awesome, allowing no more than five kills to any one Douglass player (Danielle Daily and Jackie Schwartz). Jackie Rudewicz led the South Floridians with 13 assists.

Upsets abound

Three in, one out for SAC

The upsets have begun early in the football playoffs.

And the Seminole Athletic Conference were involved in three.

Winter Springs showed that last week's humbling of Lake Mary was no fluke as the Bears pulled off what will undoubtedly go down as the upset of the playoffs with a 21-19 victory over Palm Bay.

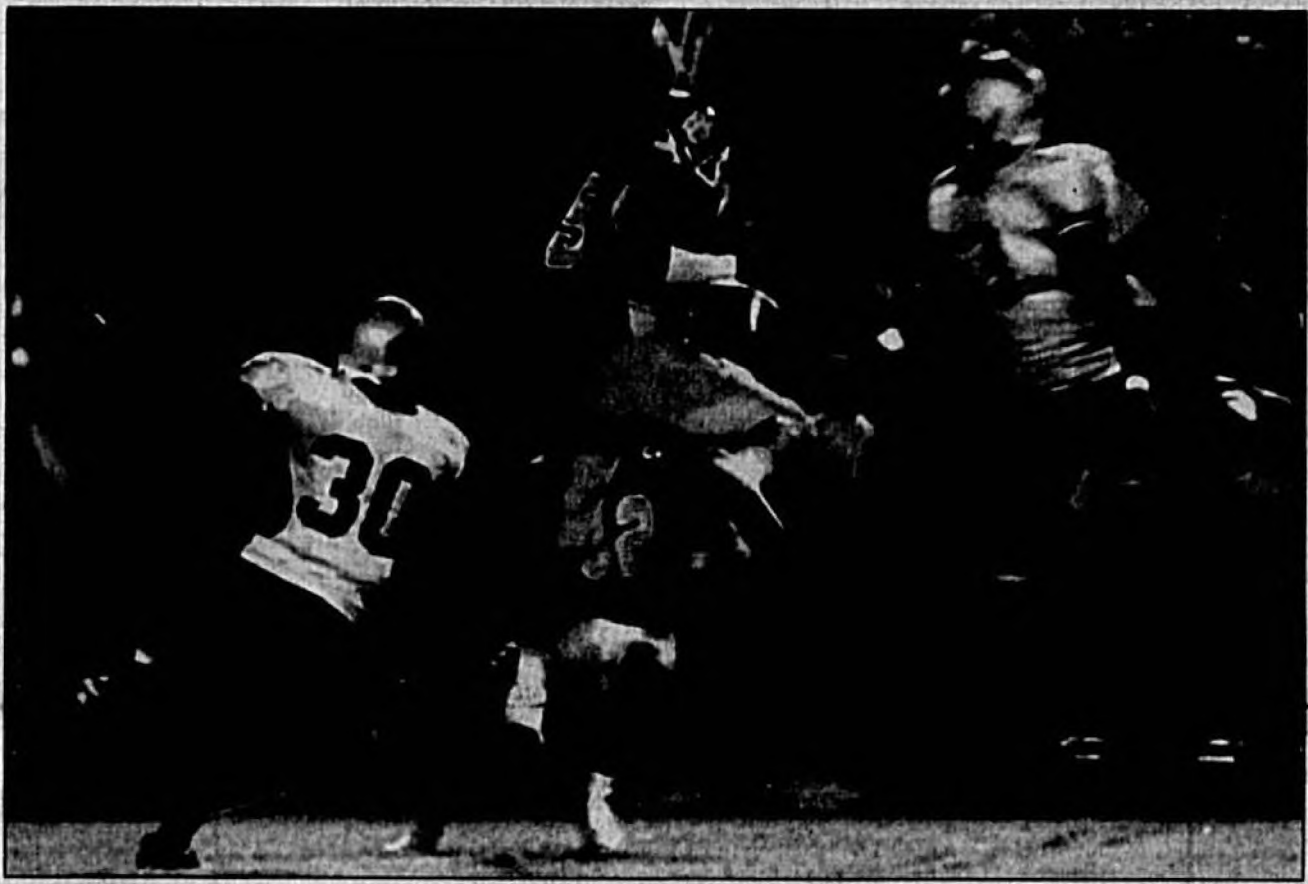

Winter Springs trailed 12-0 but had enough to come back and hand the defending Class 4A State Champions and No. 3 ranked team in the nation its second loss in a row.

What makes the rally even more improbable is that it came on the Pirates' home turf.

Lake Mary bounced back from the loss to the Bears by knocking off the No. 1 seeded team in Class 6A-Region 1, 9-1 Boone, on the Braves' home field in Orlando, 25-16.

Behind the blocking of Randy Jackson, the Rams got great running from Cameron Bateman, who ran for a touchdown. After Bateman left the game with an injury, sophomore Kashif Vallot picked up the slack, also rushing for a touchdown.

But the story of the game was linebacker R.J. Meyers, who came up with big tackle after big See Football, Page 4B

Nate Beard (No. 35, top) makes a great catch for a Lyman touchdown, but unfortunately for the Greyhounds, that would be the only score for the homeforces as Osceola put pressure on quarterback Kyle Harris (above) which resulted in dropped passes as the Cowboys upset Lyman, 20-7, at the Carlton D. Henley Sports Complex Friday night.

Life roughs up Raiders

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

The young and inexperienced Seminole Community College men's basketball team got a bad taste of what life can be like on the road last weekend.

In fact, it was "Life" that did in the Raiders. Freshman forward James Life came off the bench to score 25 points, and a swarming, aggressive Lancers defense held SCC to 31 percent shooting as host Manatee Community College (1-1) rolled to an 86-57 victory in front of about 250 fans at Hal Chasey Gymnasium in Bradenton.

"All the credit goes to Brac (Brady, MCC's head coach) and his team," said SCC head coach Stan Cromartie, a Bradenton Southeast High product who was the starting point guard on back-to-back state championship teams at MCC from 1982-84. "They have real good athletes, they played hard and their guards controlled the game. We didn't use good defensive principles, but (the Lancers) played their hearts out."

The 6-foot-4 Life was 8-for-12 from the field and 4-for-8 from three-point range as he helped the Lancers rebound from a 77-75 season opening loss at Indian River in which MCC had an 11-point lead at halftime.

The Lancers led by 13 points, 34-21, at halftime in this game but didn't go into a slump this time, making their first five shots of the second half to pull ahead 44-27. Put-back baskets by Jack Miller and Bobby Johnson midway through the second half made it 59-34 and the rout was on.

Miller scored 15 points, and center Jevon Daniel added 12. Johnson led all players with 12 rebounds, and Terrell Slater had nine assists for MCC.

Freshman T.J. Jones, who had 28 in a season-opening 91-71 victory over Palm Beach, was again the high scorer for the Raiders, who are playing with 13 freshmen on their 14 man roster, with 15 points, but he was only 7-for-20 See Raiders, Page 2B

Freshman forward Nicolas Rollins (No. 52), son of ex-NBA great Tree Rollins, had nine points and eight rebounds in Seminole Community College's 86-57 loss to Manatee Community College last Saturday. The Raiders (1-1) will be at home today (Saturday) to take on St. Petersburg College at 7:30 p.m. Admission is free.

Stetson's Snyder named Outstanding Collegiate Athlete in Central Florida

From Staff Reports

Former Stetson University baseball star Brian Snyder was selected as the Outstanding Collegiate Athlete at the 2003 Central Florida Sports Awards in Orlando.

Snyder, an All-America third baseman for the Hatters in 2003, batted .396 with 11 home runs and 55 RBI. He helped lead the Hatters (42-19) to their fourth consecutive 40-win season and fourth consecutive appearance in the NCAA Regionals. In the Atlanta Regional, Snyder hit a home run as the Hatters upset no. 3 national seed Georgia Tech 5-4. Stetson went on to defeat East Carolina to advance to the regional championship game.

In addition to his three separate All-America honors, including a first team All-America selection by Baseball America, Snyder earned first team all-Atlantic Sun Conference recognition for the second straight year. He led the A-Sun in on-base percentage (.505), hits (90), doubles (23), total bases (152), and walks (48), and he ranked among the league leaders in six other offensive categories.

Snyder became Stetson's highest-ever draft pick when the Oakland A's selected him 26th overall in the first round in the 2003 Major League Baseball draft. Snyder signed with the A's and began his professional career in Class A Vancouver this past summer.

The Central Florida Sports Awards is an annual event that recognizes the area's top professional and amateur athletes and coaches based on their overall individual or team performance from the previous year. The Orlando Regional Healthcare Outstanding Collegiate Athlete Award was one of seven awards presented at Tuesday's banquet at the Church Street Presidential Ballroom.

UCF'S STOUTJESDYK NAMED VOLLEYBALL A-SUN PLAYER-OF-THE-WEEK

Junior Middle Blocker Amanda Stoutjesdyk was named the Atlantic Sun Player-of-the-Week after leading the Golden Knights to a 2-1 week and the A-Sun regular season title.

For the week, the junior averaged 4.00 kills per game and 1.20 blocks per game, while hitting .313 in three matches.

Early in the week during UCF's 1-3 loss to Miami, Stoutjesdyk chimed in with 19-kills and four blocks.

On Friday night, Stoutjesdyk led the Golden Knights to a victory over Jacksonville with six blocks and 12 kills recording a .364 kill percentage.

With the win over Stetson on Saturday, UCF secured a perfect conference record and the outright title. Stoutjesdyk notched nine more kills and two more blocks in the victory.

This marks the first time that Stoutjesdyk has received this honor.

Stoutjesdyk currently is third in the Atlantic Sun, averaging 1.02 blocks per game and stands fourth in the conference with a .298 hitting percentage.

Stoutjesdyk and the Golden Knights (21-6, 10-0) have concluded their regular season and will return to play on November 21st, when they take on the winner of the #4 Mercer vs. #5 Florida Atlantic match on the opening day of the 2003 A-Sun Volleyball Championship in Orlando at the UCF Arena.

UCF MEN'S SOCCER PLAYERS EARN A-SUN HONORS

Sophomore goalkeeper Ryan McIntosh and redshirt freshman midfielder Alejandro Gessen headlined the list of UCF men's soccer players that garnered Atlantic Sun postseason honors, the conference office announced on Wednesday.

McIntosh was named A-Sun Defensive Player of the Year thanks to a league low 0.94 goals against average and seven shutouts - which ties him for second all-time in the school record books for most in season. Starting all of the Golden Knights 18 matches, he made 70 saves. Currently, McIntosh is fourth in career saves (169) and fifth in career shutouts (10) at UCF.

Joining McIntosh in earning A-Sun First-Team All-Conference honors were senior and fellow tri-captain Brian Malec and junior midfielder Eric Vasquez.

Seminole Community College sophomore guard Nichole Bennett (with ball) had a big road trip, scoring 29 points in a 100-70 victory over Brevard and 11 points in a 62-59 setback at the hands of St. Petersburg College.

SCC women split on road

By Dean Smith Sports Editor

What a difference a game can make.

Three days after scoring 100 points against Brevard Community College and improving to 2-0 on the season, the Seminole Community College women's basketball team was held to 59 points by St. Petersburg College in suffering its first loss of the season last Saturday.

Playing their first road game after winning the season opener 81-70 over Miami-Dade Community College at home, the Raiders got locked up in a nip-and-tuck battle with Brevard in Melbourne on Nov. 5th, leading just 40-38 at halftime.

But behind the sophomore guard duo of Nichole Bennett and Natalie Emmanuelli, and an outstanding defensive effort, SCC outscored the Titans 60-29 in the second half to win going away, 100-70.

Bennett, who had 11 points in the first half, dropped in 16 second half counters to finish with a career-high 29 points, while Emmanuelli pumped in three three-pointers and scored 15 second half points to finish with 19 for the game. Bennett also grabbed five rebounds while Emmanuelli handed out five assists.

Also having big nights were the inside duo of Rosanna Davis with 17 points and 13 rebounds and Abena Bosia with 15 points and seven rebounds.

Tina Thorpe buried six three-pointers to lead BCC with 20 points and Sharon Wiles was also in double figures with 16 points.

The Raiders looked headed for another victory last Saturday (Nov. 8) as Bennett and Davis scored nine points each and Emmanuelli seven as the visitors rolled to a 32-18 halftime lead.

But already playing without starters Danielle Jenkins and Marlana Spencer, SCC ran into serious foul trouble in the second half and the hosts were able to inch their way back into the game behind a balanced attack led by Monica Adams (nine points) and Ariel McDaniel (eight points).

The Raider lost both Davis and Lake Mary's Bryn Mosler to fouls while both point guards, Emmanuelli and Winger Springs' Misay Guadagnino, along with Bosia were saddled with four fouls.

Bennett also lost her scoring touch, being held to two second half points and the locals lost a tough one, 62-59.

Davis led all scorers with 17 points, while Bennett ended with 11 and Emmanuelli 10. Mosler did her best to keep SCC in the game, scoring all seven of her points in the second half.

SPC had all 10 of its players score with Adams (12), Courtney Wilder (11) and McDaniel (10) scoring in double figures.

The Raiders (2-1) were to have hosted the Reebok/Winning Ways Travel Team on Friday and then take a week off before heading to Ocala for the three-day Central Florida Shootout at Central Florida Community College.

SCC will return home on Saturday, November 29th to host Hillsborough Community College from Tampa in a 7 p.m. start at the SCC Health and Physical Education Center. All SCC home games are free of charge.

 matches, Malec scored a goal, the game-deciding tally against Florida Southern, and an assist for three points. Earlier this month, he was selected to the Verizon Academic All-District III First Team.

Vasquez makes his second appearance on the all-conference first-team. He led the team in shots (64), assists (9) and points (15) in the regular season and scored three goals - including the game-winner against Bowling Green on Sept. 12.

The lone UCF player on the all-conference second-team was junior defender Tim Sobczak, who started all 18 matches in the backfield and recorded no points. He was the 2001 A-Sun Freshman of the Year.

Gessen, who redshirted last season due to injury, was voted the 2003 A-Sun Freshman of the Year after playing in 18 matches in the mid-field, starting all but one. He scored his first collegiate goal in his Atlantic Sun debut against Jacksonville on Oct. 3.

Gessen and forward Chris Crissy were named to the A-Sun All-Freshman Team. Crissy was second on the team in scoring during the regular season with a team-high five goals and two assists for 12 points. He led UCF with three game-winning goals all against conference opponents.

The Golden Knights (10-5-3, 6-2-1) won the 2003 Atlantic Sun regular season championship and enter this weekend's tournament with a bye in the first round thanks to their No. 1 seed. They will play the winner of Mercer Georgia State quarterfinal match on Friday at 7 p.m. in Macon, Ga.

UCF WOMEN'S VOLLEYBALL INKS TWO RECRUITS

UCF head volleyball coach Meg Colado announced Wednesday the signing of two student-athletes to national letters-of-intent to play volleyball for the Golden Knights beginning in the fall of 2004. Giving Colado their signatures were Schanell Neiderworder of Aurora, Colo., and Maureen Perez of Vancouver, Wash.

Neiderworder is a top recruit who plays volleyball for Grandview High School in Aurora, Colo. She is an outside hitter who touches over 10 feet and should be an instant impact player within the UCF program. Neiderworder led her high school team to a second place finish in the state tournament and totaled 21 kills and just four errors in the title match. She was named to the Rocky Mountain News all-tournament team after leading her high school team to the championship match.

"Schanell is a dynamic outside hitter," stated Colado. "She possesses great athletic ability and competitiveness. She played on the same club team (Front Range) that Jenny Frank and Kelly Klinkenberg played for out of Colorado."

Perez is another talented recruit who hails from Heritage High School in Vancouver, Wash. The 5-8 setter has also led her high school team into the state tournament this weekend in Washington.

"Maureen is a gifted leader," commented Colado. "Her athletic ability and her competitive personality make her a natural fit at the setting position here at UCF. Maureen and Schanell actually played together in Colorado before Maureen moved back to Vancouver, Wash."

UCF MEN ROLL OVER ST. LEO 83-56 IN EXHIBITION WIN

Dexter Lyons and Josh Bodden combined for 42 points as the senior duo scored 23 and 19 points respectively to help UCF cruise to an 83-56 win over St. Leo in exhibition play at UCF Arena Thursday evening.

Lyons scored the Golden Knights first points of the game and Bodden added a bucket to start a 9-0 UCF run in the opening minutes. The spurt was capped off from a triple by Gary Johnson.

The Lions fought back to draw the score to 9-7 following a three by Brandon Lyngse. The Knights continued to surge however and grabbed their first double-digit lead of the half following a three-pointer by Will Bakanowsky with 10:41 remaining in the half.

Bodden got the job done, down low as he netted 13 points in the first half, including a basket just before the half to put UCF up 42-24. The Knights would take a 45-26 lead into the intermission after Johnson canned a shot from mid-court to end the half.

Led by Bodden and Lyons, the Knights shot 61 percent from the floor in the opening half and knocked down five shots from behind the arc. Sophomore Troy Lindbeck added a pair of triples in the opening stanza.

With just over four minutes remaining in the game, Lyons was able to come up with a steal and emphatically round out his scoring night with a dunk that gave the Knights their largest lead at 75-45.

Lindbeck rounded out the double-digit scorers for UCF finishing with 11, which included a team-high three shots from long range. Bodden led the Knights on the glass pulling down seven boards. UCF finished with seven free throws in 12 attempts. UCF ended the game hitting 56 percent from the floor and eight shots from three-point range.

Scott Seifert who finished with 14 points led St. Leo, while George Eshesmus grabbed a team-high five boards. St. Leo finished the game hitting 36 percent from the floor and just 2-of-12 from behind the arc. The Lions did however knock down 20 of 25 shots at the charity stripe.

UCF held the edge on the glass outrebounding the Lions 33-28.

The Golden Knights will open the regular season at home on Nov. 22 against Puerto Rico Mayaguez. Tip off is set for 7:30 p.m.

BROWN LEADS ROLLINS OVER STETSON MEN

Former Lake Howell High School star Lex Brown led Rollins College with 16 points and the Tars drained 14 three-point shots as the visitors downed Stetson, 82-70, Thursday in an exhibition game at the Edmunds Center.

Stetson took a 44-43 lead with 16:17 remaining in the game on an E.J. Gordon lay-up. The Tars responded by going on a 15-0 run over the next five minutes, including back-to-back three-point baskets by sophomore Adam Rennie, to give Rollins a 58-44 lead. The Hatters came within five points of the Tars with 7:09 left in regulation, but the Tars withheld their attack. Rollins led by as many as 15 points late in the second half.

The Tars out-shot Stetson 43.9 percent to 40.7 percent. Five Rollins' players reached double-digits in scoring. Brown shot 6-of-10 from the field, making four three-pointers, for his 16 points. Sophomore Nate Rusbosin drained three shots from behind the arc on his way to 13 points. Freshman Deon Troupe added 13 points, while Rennie and junior Eric Faber each posted 10 points. Another ex-Silver Hawk, red-shirt freshman Isaac Codrey, also started for the Tars, handing out three assists and grabbing two rebounds in 17 minutes of action.

Rollins opens the regular season tonight (Saturday), playing Montevallo at the UM Coca-Cola/Guesthouse Inn Classic. Game time is at 7:30 p.m. CST and can be heard on 91.5 FM-WPRK.

Senior Derrick Dewitt (Pembroke Pines) came off the bench to guide the Stetson offensive efforts, racking up 16 points. Senior Kevin Craig (Sugar Land, Texas) had 13 points and seven rebounds for the evening and sophomore Anthony Register (Atlanta, Ga.) helped out with 12 points and three assists.

This was the Hatters' second exhibition game as Gordon led four players in double figures with 24 points as Stetson posted a 91-80 victory over visiting Florida Tech last Friday night at the Edmunds Center.

Stetson got off to a quick start and led 46-42 at the half. Florida Tech rallied to even the score 54-54, but the Hatters went on a 16-2 run over a 4:34 span to break the game wide open. The Panthers cut the lead to single digits with less than a minute to play, but Stetson held on for the 11-point victory.

"We wanted to play a lot of guys and get as many people as we could with double-digit minutes," Hatter head coach Derek Waugh said. "Overall I'm happy we won, but we still have a lot of things we need to work on."

Gordon scored 12 of his points in the second half including a thunderous dunk with 1:07 to play. DeWitt (14 points), Register (12 points), and Mark Stiles (10 points) also scored in double figures for the Hatters.

Former Father Lopez standout Michael Pyle led the Panthers with 21 points. Ryan Maulsby scored 16 points, and Titas Valnauskas added 14 points.

Stetson is in action again on Friday, Nov. 21 when it opens regular season play versus Flagler at the Edmunds Center at 7 p.m.

Roberto Moretin (No. 13) started in the middle for UCF as the Golden Knights crushed St. Leo College, 83-56, in an exhibition game Thursday night at the UCF Arena.

FWC sets public meeting for federal shrimp relief

Special to the Herald

The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) has scheduled a public meeting to address the proposed distribution of federal shrimp relief funds. The FWC will reconvene a shrimp industry committee to address specific issues expressed by the Legislative Budget Commission regarding the distribution of federal shrimp relief funds authorized by the U.S. Congress.

The issues to be considered include: (1) the use of a portion of the funds for statewide marketing of fresh Florida shrimp; (2) the disbursement of funds based on either equal payments or volume of landings; and (3) the disbursement of funds to out-of-state fishermen.

The Commission encourages all interested persons to participate at the meeting on Tuesday, Dec. 2 from 10 a.m. - 3 p.m. at the Kissimmee Civic Center, 201 East Dakin Avenue, in Kissimmee.

Anyone requiring special accommodations to participate in the meeting should advise the agency at least five calendar days before the meeting by contacting the FWC coordinator at (850) 488-6411. Hearing- or speech-impaired persons should contact the agency by calling (850) 488-9542 to arrange assistance.

FWC SELECTS NORTHWEST FLORIDA FOR AIRCRAFT CARRIER REEF

The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) today chose to recommend a deep-water site off Escambia County to place the decommissioned aircraft carrier "U.S.S. Oriskany" for use as an artificial reef. The U.S. Navy and the U.S. Maritime Administration (MARAD) have solicited applications from states interested in receiving the "Oriskany" for sinking as an artificial reef, and a decision on which state will receive the carrier could come before the end of the year.

The Navy and MARAD have specified that they will accept only one application for the "Oriskany" per state. The FWC received and evaluated two applications, one from Dade/Broward/Palm Beach counties for a proposed site that straddles the Broward/Dade line about two miles from shore, and one from Escambia/Okaloosa counties for a proposed site about 22.5 miles south of Pensacola Pass.

A Commission decision this summer to recommend the Escambia County site for the "Oriskany" was rescinded because the Navy and MARAD recently issued new application guidelines for coastal states to receive decommissioned ships for use as artificial reefs.

The FWC again selected the northwest Florida site because it believed the application for that location best met the Navy's specific evaluation criteria for the project and is the best-suited to compete with applications from other interested states. However, the FWC hopes to receive 20 or more large combatant or non-combatant decommissioned military ships in the future to be distributed among other Florida counties.

FWC staff will work with Escambia

County officials to ensure Florida's application for the "Oriskany" will meet MARAD's Nov. 20 application deadline.

The decommissioned 888-foot aircraft carrier currently is in the inactive reserve fleet at Beaumont, Tex., but it probably will be towed to Corpus Christi, Tex. for cleaning. The "Oriskany" may be ready for deployment as an artificial reef by April or May. It will be the largest sunken-ship artificial reef in U.S. waters.

Officials believe the "Oriskany," which has been mothballed since 1975, would be an excellent artificial reef that would enhance marine life and offer superior recreational opportunities for anglers and scuba divers. Texas, South Carolina and Mississippi have indicated they also plan to apply for the "Oriskany."

LAST MINUTE ENTRIES CAN STILL TAKE GRAND PRIZE CRUISE WITH WEEMS & PLATH "ADVENTURE IN NAVIGATION" CONTEST, SPONSORED BY BOATUS

The online Weems & Plath 75th Anniversary "Adventure in Navigation" quiz-style contest is soon drawing to a close, but it's not too late to have a chance at winning the grand prize, a seven night cruise for two aboard the Star Clipper mega-yacht.

Started September 16 and sponsored by the Boat Owners Association of The United States (BoatUS), the contest's last set of six weekly navigation trivia questions will be posted online November 11, with final answers due by November 30. Winners will be notified by December 15.

"Anyone can answer all of the contest's questions right up until the November 30 deadline," said Cathie Trogdon, Vice President Weems & Plath.

Contestants can register at <http://www.BoatUS.com> or <http://www.Weems-Plath.com>. Each Tuesday for the eight week contest period, six questions are posted online for a total of 54 multiple choice questions about famous explorers, navigation methods, the storied history of Capt. Weems, and Weems & Plath products. The first contestant who answers all of the questions correctly at the end of November wins.

The contest is in commemoration of the founding of Weems & Plath three-quarters of a century ago by Captain Philip Van Horn Weems (USNR). In the early 1930's Capt. Weems was widely credited with vastly improving navigational techniques which were in essence, unchanged since the early 1800's, and his developments greatly simplified shipboard navigation and especially celestial navigation. Weems died in 1979 at the age of 90. Today, Weems and Plath is a manufacturer of fine nautical instruments in Annapolis, Maryland.

Six second-place prizes include Weems & Plath Limited Anniversary Edition brass ship's bell clocks or barometers and third-place prizes include 75 forged brass chart weights and 75 two-year memberships to BoatUS.

tackle as Boone turned its attention to Keith Rivers.

The SAC was also hit by the upset bug as Lyman saw its Cinderella season end at the hands of Kissimmee-Osceola, 20-7, at the Carlton D. Henley Sports Complex.

The Greyhounds had not lost a game to a Class 5A team all season, but suffered from costly penalties and dropped passes.

The only game that followed the script, sort of, was Oviedo, which overcame its own mistakes to outscore Apopka, 45-28, at John Courier Field.

The Lions had two punts blocked, one for a touchdown and the other leading to a 10-yard touchdown drive, and lost two fumbles, one of which led to an 11-yard touchdown drive as the Blue Darters came back to tie the game at 21-21 late in the third quarter.

But led by quarterback Lee

Sloan and receiver Jamie Rawlerson, Oviedo was able to advance to the next round.

Oviedo will take on Edgewater, which knocked off University, Lake Mary will face Jacksonville-Sandalwood, which eliminated Olympia, and Winter Springs will face Tampa-Hillsborough.

Sites for the next round of games will be announced today, check out the website at www.fhsaa.org.

Champions to be crowned at New Smyrna Speedway

From Staff Reports

The 2003 race season is coming to an end. Tonight (Saturday) New Smyrna Speedway fans will not only see the FASCAR Super Late Model, Sportsman, and Super Stock final points race but the Goodyear Challenge Late Models will end their 2003 season as well.

Last weekend saw Bobby Blake win the Open Wheel Modified Championship and Ted Vulpus take the Mini Stock Championship along with Brian Bellaw taking the Late Model Championship at New Smyrna Speedway. Now the question is, "who will be the Champions" in all other divisions.

The Goodyear Challenge Late Models have seen quite a few different point leaders but it looks to be Jerry Arturo and Rich Clouser who have the best shot at the Championship. Either one of these drivers would make a good champion and if Clouser should win, car owner Bobby Sears would see his first championship as a car owner and not driver.

Other drivers in the top ten are Larry Osteen, Joe Sumasky, Steve Smith, Sean Murphy, Jason Boyd, Jimmy Castleberry, Brent O'Neill, and Brad May. At the last Goodyear Challenge race, it was Rich Clouser who set fast time at Charlotte County Speedway and he has high hopes of setting fast time at New Smyrna.

David Rogers has won the Super Late Model Championship with B.J. McLeod in second. These two positions are set in stone however Saturday night's action will decide who places where in the top ten.

Wayne Parker holds a 24 point lead over fourth place Guy Thomas. With such a small lead, third and fourth place could go in either's favor. Joe Fitos sits fifth and will finish fifth as he has too many points to fourth and sixth place David Froelich cannot pass Fitos for fifth.

Brent Hobbs stands only 16 points behind Froelich in seventh and if Froelich does not show, Hobbs could take over sixth with a good finish Saturday night. Mark Vandevender is only 20 points behind Hobbs and he could also improve his points standing. George Murphy comes in ninth, 36 points behind Vandevender and 12 points more than tenth place Mike Finn. Depending on who shows and who does not, points could definitely change for the Super Lates.

GAME OF THE WEEK

Kentucky at Vanderbilt

Cats on prowl for bowl bid

On the surface, it might not look like it, but this week's matchup between Kentucky and Vanderbilt has a lot riding on it for both teams. Records, streaks and all-time series bragging rights all hang in the balance as the Wildcats visit the Commodores.

Vanderbilt needs to win in the worst way, to snap a 23-game losing streak and restore some confidence to a team that has been far more competitive than its record indicates. The Commodores' previous losing streak, which was snapped in 1998 against South Carolina, was 22 games, and you can bet this team doesn't want to go any deeper into that record territory.

Kentucky hopes to pull even at 5-5 and get its second conference victory of the season. The Wildcats need to win two of their final three games to qualify for a bowl game, and they want to pick up one of those victories right here, since they face Georgia on the road and host Tennessee in the season finale at home. A victory for the Cats would also even the all-time series at 36-36-4.

Commodores quarterback Jay Cutler hopes to find wideout Erik Davis in the open so he can pick up some YAC (yards after catch), which he specializes in, averaging almost 17 yards a catch this season. That would help Cutler, who needs 785 total yards in the next 100 games to pass Kurt Page (3,034 yards in 1983) as the single-season school record-holder. On the other side, the Wildcats want to keep it on the ground and involve running back Alexis Bwenge a lot more after his 89-yard, two-touchdown performance last week.

Kentucky at Vanderbilt

■ Records: Kentucky 4-5 (1-4 SEC); Vanderbilt 1-9 (0-6 SEC). ■ Series: Vanderbilt leads 36-35-4. ■ Coaches: Kentucky's Rich Brooks (95-114-4); Vanderbilt's Bobby Johnson (63-55). ■ Kickoff: 2 p.m. EST. ■ TV: None.

Key for Kentucky: The Commodores are second in the conference against the pass, so Kentucky should make a concerted effort to run it right down their throats. That starts with QB Jared Lorenzen, who is their best goal-line option, as evidenced by three rushing touchdowns in overtime in the loss to Arkansas.

Key for Vanderbilt: Just keep on throwing. QB Jay Cutler and his pair of top receivers (Erik Davis and Brandon Smith) haven't been winning many games, but they've been extremely competitive. With a running game that has never developed, passing is the only chance the Commodores have.

The Rest of the Matchups

LSU at Alabama

■ Records: LSU 4-1 (4-1); Alabama 4-6 (2-4 SEC). ■ Series: Alabama leads 43-18-5. ■ Coaches: LSU's Nick Saban (77-39-1); Alabama's Mike Shula (4-6). ■ Kickoff: 7:45 p.m. EST. ■ TV: ESPN.

Key for Alabama: Continue to get good pass protection from the patchwork offensive line. The unit gave up two sacks last week, and if they let the Tigers' defense get to QB Brodie Croyle, they will never develop the threat of a passing game. And that will allow the Tigers to load up on the run and smother RB Shaun Williams.

Key for LSU: Use defensive tackle Chad Lavalais to plug up the middle, forcing Alabama RB Shaun Williams to outrun the Tigers' quick linebackers to the outside. Fill the lanes and don't let him get those quick cutbacks that make him so dangerous.

Mississippi State at Tennessee

■ Records: Mississippi State 2-7 (1-4 SEC); Tennessee 7-2 (3-2 SEC). ■ Series: Tennessee leads 25-15-1. ■ Coaches: Mississippi State's Jackie Sherrill (180-117-4); Tennessee's Phillip Fulmer (110-27). ■ Kickoff: 12:30 p.m. EST. ■ TV: Jefferson Pilot.

Key for Mississippi State: Score points. This team has been outscored 125-30 on its recent slide, and it came to a head last week when the Bulldogs were blanked for the first time in 26 games. They had only seven offensive plays on Alabama's end of the field. A big part of that is QB Kevin Fant's inability to avoid the rush (five sacks vs. Alabama), find the receiver (two interceptions) or sustain a drive (100 yards).

Key for Tennessee: If the Vols play defense the way they did against Miami, they won't lose another game this season. The secondary, which blanketed Miami's wideouts, should have a much easier time doing the same against the Bulldogs. Pressure Mississippi State QB Kevin Fant and watch him perform just like Miami's Brock Berlin did last week under the same duress.

Illustration by Bruce Plante © 2003

Florida at South Carolina

■ Records: Florida 7-3 (5-2 SEC); South Carolina 5-5 (2-5 SEC). ■ Series: Florida leads 17-3-3. ■ Coaches: Florida's Ron Zook (16-7); South Carolina's Lou Holtz (243-125-7). ■ Kickoff: 12:30 p.m. EST. ■ TV: Jefferson Pilot.

Keys for Florida: Cut down on turnovers. Four turnovers by the Gators last week allowed Vanderbilt to hang in the game even though the Gators were stringing together some impressive drives. And keep RB Clatrick Fason busy, whether it be by the run or the pass. Since the sophomore started getting playing time, he has responded with five touchdowns in the last four games.

Keys for South Carolina: Limit the big runs. Last week, the Gamecocks' defense allowed Arkansas 130 yards on seven carries, but they held the Hogs to 118 yards on their other 41 carries. Give Florida's shifty tailbacks their yards, because they can't be completely shut down, but make sure they don't slip past defenders and break the game wide open.

Auburn at Georgia

■ Records: Auburn 6-4 (4-2 SEC); Georgia 7-2 (4-2 SEC). ■ Series: Auburn leads 51-47-8. ■ Coaches: Auburn's Tommy Tuberville (61-43); Georgia's Mark Richt (28-7). ■ Kickoff: 3:30 p.m. EST. ■ TV: ESPN.

Key for Auburn: Keep feeding wide receiver Ben Obomanu, even though he dropped a potential game-winning touchdown last week against Ole Miss. The sophomore had a career-best six catches for 150 yards, and his playmaking ability is just what this anemic passing attack needs to give the tailbacks a little breathing room.

Key for Georgia: Get wide receiver Fred Gibson to stop dropping passes and play up to his All-American potential. His confidence is low after dropping three against Florida, and his 18 receptions for 257 yards and one touchdown are unacceptable.

New Mexico State at Arkansas

■ Records: New Mexico State 3-7 (2-4 Sun Belt); Arkansas 6-3 (3-3 SEC). ■ Series: Arkansas leads 3-0. ■ Coaches: New Mexico State's Tony Samuel (29-49); Arkansas' Houston Nutt (80-49). ■ Kickoff: 2 p.m. EST. ■ TV: None.

Key for New Mexico State: Just get into scoring range and let kicker Dario Aguiniga do some damage three points at a time. The senior connected on field goals of 40 and 26 yards last week and now has a school-record career total of 44.

Key for Arkansas: Continue to open holes for either Decori Birmingham or Cedric Cobbs, and let them grind it out for the first few quarters. Wear this team out with the run, then let QB Matt Jones pick them apart in the fourth quarter after their secondary has been softened up a bit.

2-MINUTE DRILL

ALABAMA The Crimson Tide had to test its reworked line for the first time, and it looked strong against the Bulldogs. Atlas Herrion started in place of Wesley Britt (broken leg) at left tackle and Danny Marts replaced an injured Dennis Alexander at right guard. J.B. Closser got the start at center. The unit did give up two sacks, but won the battle for most of the game.

ARKANSAS Razorbacks coach Houston Nutt praised his defense against the Gamecocks, singling out true freshmen Keith Jackson, Jeremy Harrell and Titus Peobles. Not only did they keep the Gamecocks from entering the end zone, but also they showed poise by avoiding personal fouls that had hounded them in recent weeks. "They just played football in a class manner to have three penalties. That was one of our goals," Nutt said.

AUBURN The Tigers are still one win shy of their fourth consecutive season with at least five conference victories, which would mark the second time in school history that feat has been accomplished. Auburn won at least five SEC games each year from 1969 to 1972 under coach Ralph "Shug" Jordan.

FLORIDA After starting 1-2 in the SEC, four straight conference victories have put the Gators back in the hunt for the SEC Championship game. Florida needs to win Saturday at South Carolina and hope Tennessee loses one of its remaining three SEC games (Mississippi State, Vanderbilt or Kentucky).

GEORGIA The Bulldogs' offense seems to have lost its big-play ability in the last three games, some of which could be blamed on injuries at skilled positions. Georgia has managed only 10 plays covering more than 20 yards in games against Vanderbilt, UAB and Florida, and that's not nearly enough for head coach Mark Richt. "We're pecking away at people pretty good," Richt said. "What we're missing more than anything is the big play."

KENTUCKY Quarterback Jared Lorenzen has 809 career pass completions, a school record. Tim Couch held the former record of 795. With three season games remaining, Lorenzen ranks third in SEC history behind Peyton Manning of Tennessee (863) and Eric Zeler of Georgia (838).

LSU It has been reported that Tigers offensive coordinator Jimbo Fisher is being represented by Memphis-based agent Jimmy Sexton, who represents Dallas Cowboys coach Bill Parcells, Auburn coach Tommy Tuberville and LSU coach Nick Saban. Fisher's name has been linked with the head coaching job at Mississippi State, which will be open after Jackie Sherrill retires at the end of the season.

MISSISSIPPI The Rebels' victory over Auburn made them 6-0 in the SEC for the first time since 1962. Ole Miss' current six-game victory streak is also the longest since the Rebels won seven straight in 1990.

MISS STATE Kevin Fant moved into second place on Mississippi State's career passing list with 5,325 yards. He threw for only 100 yards against Alabama, but it was enough to move past Derrick Tabe, who had 5,232 yards from 1993 to 1996.

SOUTH CAROLINA Freshman running back Demetrius Summers, who suffered a concussion in the loss to Arkansas, will be evaluated this week. Athletic spokesman Kerry Tharp said he did not know whether Summers would face the Gators this week.

TENNESSEE The Volunteers' final drive of the first half against Miami, which covered 73 yards in 15 plays and ate up 9:19 on the clock, was the Vols' longest TD drive this season in terms of number of plays and time consumed.

VANDERBILT The Commodores lost possession of a 54-year-old national record when Texas Tech's Wes Walker set a new NCAA career record for punt return yardage with a 22-yard return in a 62-14 victory over Baylor. Walker has 1,739 career return yards, breaking the record of Lee Malley, who had 1,695 yards at Vanderbilt from 1947 to 1949.

Last weekend saw Brian Bellaw take his second consecutive Late Model Championship. Completing the top ten for that division which is done now for the year was Tim Clark, Mark Smith, Don Hess, Bobby Orr, Timmy Todd, Larry Osteen, Chris Lawrence, Wade Lynn with Scott Seither and Jason Boyd tied in tenth. Bobby Blake took the Open Wheel Modified Championship followed by Mark Vandevender, Matt Wheeler, Rob Underwood, Brad May, Jim "Hoot" Flynn, David Castello, Jason Boyd, David Hite and Jerry Symons. Billy Spade will win the Sportsman Championship but second and third place Dale Clouser and Ron Lucy only have 8 points between them. Clouser leads but last weekend in the 50 lapper he lost a head gasket. If both show, this will be a good pair to watch.

John Nusbaum has fourth tied up but fifth place Jim Snyder only has an eight point lead over sixth place Bill Love. This is another good pair to watch as their positions could change easily Saturday night. Mike Trocki runs seventh but is only 20 points behind Love so this too could go either way. Chris Pedulat stands eighth with a 32 point lead over ninth place Dusty Downer. Paul Colgan rounds out the top ten.

Ted "Mr. Mini Stock" Vulpius won his first Mini Stock Championship last Saturday night after 18 years of racing. Vulpius took the championship by 20 points over Tim "Missileman" McPhail. Rex Christensen's hard work paid off as he comes out third in points followed by David Castello, Ben Hutto, Ron Dubeau, Rex Hollinger, Wayne Clark, Pug Puglisi, and Bob Delmastra.

Charlie Collins goes into Saturday night with a 24 point lead in the Super Stocks over second place Ron Whaley. These two both want the championship badly so expect to see some pretty close racing.

Third, fourth, fifth and sixth places are locked up with Jeff Colburn in third, Josh Wronkowski in fourth, Mike Amato in fifth and Butch Pierce in sixth. Todd Driscoll stands seventh but only holds a four point lead over eighth place Jack Lenzen. Depending on who shows and who does not, these could change. Coming in at ninth is Ted Head but only four points behind Head is Robert Skinner who has been running really good as of late. Expect to see some really close racing in this division as the season ends.

Gates open at 6 p.m. with qualifying for the Goodyear Challenge Late Models at 6:30 p.m.. Racing action starts at 7:30 p.m. at the track located at the corner of SR 44 and CR 415, between New Smyrna, DeLand and Daytona.

STATE SENATOR DANIEL WEBSTER NAMED 38TH GOVERNOR'S CUP GRAND MARSHALL

September 11, 2001 brought Americans together. It united them in a way they had not known for some time. That year, Governor Jeb Bush was the Grand Marshall of the 36th Annual Governor's Cup event. Against his advisers wishes, he said he would come and he came. In 2002, Patrick D. Smith was the Grand Marshall for the 37th Governor's Cup race. Smith, who has won about every writing prize there was, was the Governor's choice as his stand-in.

Now it is 2003 and State Senator Daniel Webster will have the honor of being the 38th Annual Governor's Cup Grand Marshall. Although Webster is in the midst of a campaign for United States Senator, he will take November 22nd off from his busy schedule to stand-in for Governor Bush.

Webster was first elected to the state house in 1980 during Ronald Reagan's time. He was literally an unknown so much so that when the election was over, the newspaper announced he had lost but in fact he had won over a better known and better financed Democrat. Webster won two more re-election races in this district and became known as a honest, straight-shooting conservative.

Webster may share the name of the 19th century famous statesman Daniel Webster but when people in Orlando talk about Daniel Webster, they're talking about a dedicated conservative from their hometown. By profession Webster is an engineer but admits a public servant by calling Webster led Republicans to political dominance in the Florida Legislature.

State Senator Bill Posey from Rockledge said the following about his fellow statesman, "Daniel Webster is the most principled man I have ever met, not the most principled politician but the most principled person. I met Daniel Webster after my election to the Florida Legislature in 1992. Webster is a true family man who is relatively quiet, highly intelligent and deeply spiritual. Governor Bush could not have made a better choice for the 38th Grand Marshall for the Governor's Cup race at New Smyrna Speedway."

Webster is so respected in the Orlando area that he has won eight consecutive elections without a single opponent, Republican or Democrat. Webster has never lost any election.

From 1996 to 1998, Webster served as the House Speaker and was then elected to the Florida State Senate. Webster is now the Chairman of the Transportation Appropriations Committee.

Robert Hart, owner of New Smyrna Speedway, said "we are very happy to have such a special Grand Marshall as Daniel Webster. We look forward to his visit on November 22nd and appreciate his taking the time off to come."

Webster, in spite of increased duties at the State Capitol, has remained a small businessman and family man. His priority remains his faith in God and his family; wife, Sandy, six children and two grandchildren. Webster remains the head of his successful family business, Webster Air Conditioning and Heating.

DAVID STEELE WINS FINAL 2003 TBARA RACE AT NEW SMYRNA, CHAMPIONS CROWNED

Fans got double action last Saturday night at New Smyrna as the solar eclipse of the moon hung high over head and plenty of hot racing action was ground level.

The TBARA Winged Sprints made their final appearance of 2003 at New Smyrna with a lot of hopes on the line. Saturday night's action would determine who the 2003 TBARA Winged Sprint Champion would be. Would it be Keith Butler or Dude Teate?

Mark Gimmler had the pole for their final feature race in 2003. But it would be Scott Adema who jumped to the lead on the green followed by Ray Bragg, Shane Butler, David Steele, and Keith Butler. On lap 4, Wendy Mathis would bring out the yellow as she sat in the turn two wall. On the restart, Adema took the point followed by Bragg, Teate, Shane Butler, and David Steele. But it was a short night for Bragg as he brought out the caution on lap 8 when he suffered mechanical problems and stopped high up towards the wall. Bragg was pushed into the pits and the race went back green with Adema in the lead followed by Teate, Steele, K. Butler, and Wayne Reutimann Sr.

Adema does everything he can to maintain the lead but Steele is too strong and finally takes over putting Adema second, Teate third, K. Butler fourth and Reutimann Sr. fifth.

Wayne Reutimann Jr. brings out the caution on lap 23 when he has bad luck at the bottom of turns 1 and 2. Steele holds the point on the restart and takes the checkered followed by Scott Adema, Dude Teate, Keith Butler, and Wayne Reutimann Sr.

In Victory Lane, it is announced that Dude Teate won the 2003 TBARA Winged Sprints Championship by one point over Keith Butler. Shane Butler, Scott Adema, and Ray Bragg took the heat wins in the TBARA.

Mike Holt had the pole for the visiting Mini Cups but it was Sonny Saxon who quickly jumped to the lead on the green followed by Terry Tullis, David Taylor, Matt Oravets, and Don Saxon. The yellow comes out for Mike Holt and Dan Suggs as they tangle and spin.

On the restart, Matt Oravets takes the lead but it is a short one as David Taylor takes over. But Taylor has a fast moving Doug Smith on his tail and it does not take Smith long to pass Taylor and sail in front. With no further cautions, it is a race to see if anyone can catch Smith but no one can. Smith takes the checkered followed by Don Saxon, Sonny Saxon, David Taylor and Rick Svienna.

Doug Smith and Wendy Kash took the heat wins for the Mini Cups.

Support Our Troops By Helping Their Families Here At Home This Holiday Season....

Operation: Red, White & Blue

and
LAKE MARY HERALD

Participating Sponsors: Realty Executives Orlando
The Seminole Herald
Colonial Bank
Wells Fargo
and other local businesses

What: Gift Certificates, Toys, Clothes,
In-Kind Services, etc.

How: Realty Executive Orlando is teaming up with local area businesses to help the families of our troops serving in Iraq during this holiday season. Gifts will be collected at various sites in the Orlando area and distributed to those families in need.

Here's How It Works:

The Seminole Herald will run a weekly series of stories beginning Sunday, November 16. Each week the featured family will share the kinds of challenges they face now that their family member is away in Iraq. Since the troops are expected to be there indefinitely, these stories will focus on the immediate needs of these families left behind to take care of themselves. For example, some of the National Guard Troops overseas have incurred large salary decreases to fulfill their commitment to our country. Meanwhile their families are left short on cash and some having to take on second jobs just to provide the basics. Please help us help these families.

All participating locations will have a special christmas tree set up ready to receive gifts for Operation Red, White and Blue. If you'd like to participate please buy an unwrapped toy, gift certificate, etc. and place it under one of the christmas trees for a family of our troops overseas.

DEADLINE FOR DROPPING OFF GIFTS IS DECEMBER 19th AT NOON AT ANY OF THESE LOCATIONS

COLONIAL BANK:

919 W. State Road 436, Altamonte Springs • 894 E. Semoran Blvd., Casselberry • 4699 W. Lake Mary Blvd., Lake Mary • 801 E. State Road 434, Longwood • 2127 W. State Road 434, Longwood

REALTY EXECUTIVES:

WELLS FARGO: 290 Waymont Court, Suite 90, Lake Mary

SEMINOLE HERALD: 300 N. French Ave. (17-92), Sanford

Please direct any questions to Mary Sabol at 407-924-1142.

Families in need will pick up gifts anytime between December 19 and December 24.
