Surgeons Amputate Kennedy Boy's Leg

WASHINGTON (AP)—Doctors amputated the right leg of 12-year-old Edward M. Kennedy Jr., son of the Massachusetts senator, above the knee today in hopes of arresting bone cancer.

Friday, President Nixon called Georgetown Hospital and spoke with the senator and his son. Dr. Truman press secretary said the senator and Mrs. Kennedy were "ideally touched by the President's thoughtfulness."

PERSONALLY, I take great pleasure in looking to the future as opposed to reflecting on the past. However, it is interesting when you come upon something like the following.

Reported in The Herald on Oct. 6, 1971, reporting the appointment the day before E. Thom Rumberger as county attorney replacing Harold Johnson (now a county judge), Commissioner Al Dimas questioned what he termed an inference in Rumberger's resume that he (Rumberger) will not attend all commission meetings.

Martial Law Imposed By Greek Chief

ATHENS (AP)—President George Papadopoulos slapped martial law on Greece today and vowed to restore public order in what he said was "a dangerously explosive situation" created by bloody clashes between students and police.

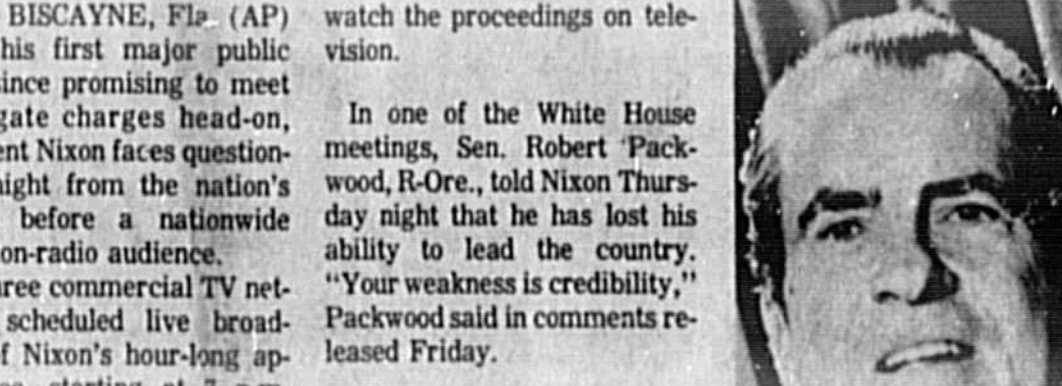

FIRST CAR IN WRECK... Driver seriously hurt

All airline flights to and from Athens were canceled. Papadopoulos imposed a curfew from 4 p.m. until Sunday morning on the capital in an effort to keep demonstrators off the streets.

Nixon To Confront AP Editors Tonight

KEY BISCAIYNE, Fla. (AP)—In his first major public move since promising to meet Watergate charges head-on, President Nixon faces questioning tonight from the nation's editors before a nationwide television-radio audience.

PRESIDENT NIXON... Talks tonight

Earlier, a bank ripped down the heavy iron gates at the center of a crowd of visitors, including his parents, aunts Eunice Shriver and Pat Lawrence, cousin Joseph P. Kennedy III, and some Kennedy friends, including the senator's college classmate Claude Hoodon.

Ecologists Hit Nixon On Pipeline

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon's signing of the Alaska oil pipeline bill has prompted new criticism from the environmental groups that held up the project for three years with court action.

Askew: Keep Digging

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Florida Gov. Reubin Askew today told newsmen not to give up "your ceaseless digging for imperfections in government wherever they may be found."

Such litigation is now blocked under terms of the pipeline bill but the environmentalists have 60 days to challenge its constitutionality. Meanwhile, Secretary of the Interior Rogers C.B. Morton said the Interior Department would be ready "in 30 days, give or take a few weeks," to issue a permit for the project.

Lee Returns But Finds Home Gone

By E. W. LEE
 Capley News Service
PANMUNJOM, Korea — Thomas Wolfe was right. You can't go home again.
 In my case, it proved true, physically as well as psychologically.
 I returned here after an absence of nearly a quarter-century in America, but my home town Kaesong lay beyond my reach.
 Kaesong was just south of the 38th Parallel before I left for the new world. By the time the bloody civil war ended, it had come under the control of the North Koreans.
 Looking north, I could see the Pine Ridge, the landmark of my childhood, with its peaks shrouded in the gathering summer storm clouds.
 I was born under a grass roof near the mountain which towers over the ancient capital. I was standing at the northernmost United Nations guard post on the south side of the Bridge of No Return, the only open road to North Korea from the south, through which the ragged army of POWs trudged to freedom some 20 years ago. This bleak Military Armistice Commission seat was the closest point to Kaesong, which lies eight miles yonder beyond the Military Demarcation Line dividing the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ). DMZ stretches 151 miles across the divided peninsula.

 Much had happened during my long sojourn abroad. By the time the 37-month-old war ended in truce, 300,000 North Korean troops and 225,784 South Korean counterparts were dead. An additional 1.4 million South Korean civilians died. Also killed were 33,629 American GIs fighting on the U.N. side, while 200,000 Chinese Communist troops died on the northern side.
 What happened to most of my relatives, childhood playmates and schoolmates in Kaesong? Many were killed, wounded or just vanished, I was told. Rumors, vaguely confirmed, indicated that nearly all my relatives were relocated in the hinterland of North Korea.
 I took the 35-mile ride with a guide to Panmunjom, where since 1953, a military commission has supervised the longest armistice in modern history. We approached the Freedom Bridge over the placid Imjin River, the only link to the Panmunjom site from the Republic of Korea.

Deborah L. Rockey Becomes Bride Of James M. Fritts

Miss Deborah Lynn Rockey, and James Matthew Fritts both of Gainesville, were united in Holy matrimony Saturday, Nov. 3, 1973 at 10:30 a.m. at the First United Methodist Church, Gainesville.

Official officiant at the double ring ceremony, was Rev. J. E. McKinley.

The church was decorated with arrangements of white gladioli, candleabra with white burning tapers and a white kneeling bench was used. Family pews were marked with white satin ribbon bows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Stanley Rockey, Gainesville, and the granddaughter of Mrs. E. S. Rockey, Sanford. The groom is the son of Maj. and Mrs. Chester Hood Fritts (USMC ret.), of Willard, Md.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal-length gown of English cotton Nottingham and organza with fitted bodice, high ruffled neckline and long sleeves. Her floor length mantilla was edged in lace and she carried a cascading bouquet of white roses, baby's breath and greenery with long satin ribbon streamers.

Maid of honor and bridesmaids were the Misses Kathy Dukes, Pam King and Marilyn Rockey, sister of the bride. They wore formal length gowns of deep yellow organza, flowers in their hair and carried baskets of mixed flowers in shades of orange and bronze.

Best man was William Cantin and usher-groomsmen were John Cashman, and Pat Rockey, brother of the bride.

The bride's mother chose a rose colored ensemble with matching accessories and the groom's mother wore a pale green dress with matching sheer jacket. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. E. S. Rockey, wore a royal blue dress with matching accessories. Both mothers and grandmother wore orchid corsages.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held in the University Union Building. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated in blue, green and white.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Walt Disney World, Busch Gardens, in Tampa and other points of interest in Central Florida. The groom is employed as a mechanic by the University Medical Center and the bride by the General Electric Plant, both in Gainesville.

Out-of-town guests from the Sanford area included Mrs. E. S. Rockey, Mrs. Katy Corley, Miss Avis Stenstrom, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Stenstrom Jr., Mrs. Doris Ellerbe, Mr. and Mrs. Wickham B. Ellerbe and Jack Flynt.

Gala Champagne Ball To Herald Holidays

By DORIS WILLIAMS
 Society Editor

Belles will reign and bells will ring on Saturday, Dec. 8, to officially herald the opening of the Holiday Social Season. It's that exciting time of year... the Ninth Annual Champagne Ball, sponsored by Seminole Mutual Concert Association to defray expenses of presenting high-caliber concerts in promoting the cultural growth of Seminole.

This year's glittering gala will take place in the plush club house at The Forest, Lake Mary.

In command of the festivities for the evening is Jerri Kirk with Liz Helfrich as the co-chairman... along with their husbands, Bill Kirk, and Dr. Norman Helfrich.

From 8 to 9 p.m., ball patrons will be served champagne and hors d'oeuvres as the hospitality hour begins with flourish.

Dancing will follow, from 9 p.m., until 1 a.m., to the music of Hal Tillotson and his "Sounds Interesting" orchestra.

Somewhere shortly after the stroke of 12, a catered buffet will feature the ultimate in gourmet cuisine for the complete enjoyment of the revelers as another beautiful ball draws to a close.

The formal affair promises a surprise decorating touch and the last word in elegance.

In addition to the champagne hour, Mayfair Country Club will cater other sparkling refreshments.

SMCA board members and their spouses assisting with the ball are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burney, hors d'oeuvres; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mebane, music and hospitality; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jackson, decorating.

Busy as bees getting the paper work and invitations underway are Mrs. Richard Elam, Mrs. A. C. McReynolds and Mrs. R. N. West Jr.

Reservations are limited to 125 couples and will be accepted on a first-come, first serve basis through advance checks only mailed to Mrs. Boyd Coleman before Dec. 1.

See you there!

Historical Panorama Famous American Women Portrayed

The pages of American history unfolded and famous women came to life in a fast-paced historical panorama, "Distaff Revue," directed by Mildred M. Caskey, and presented by members of Deltona Woman's Club and guest players.

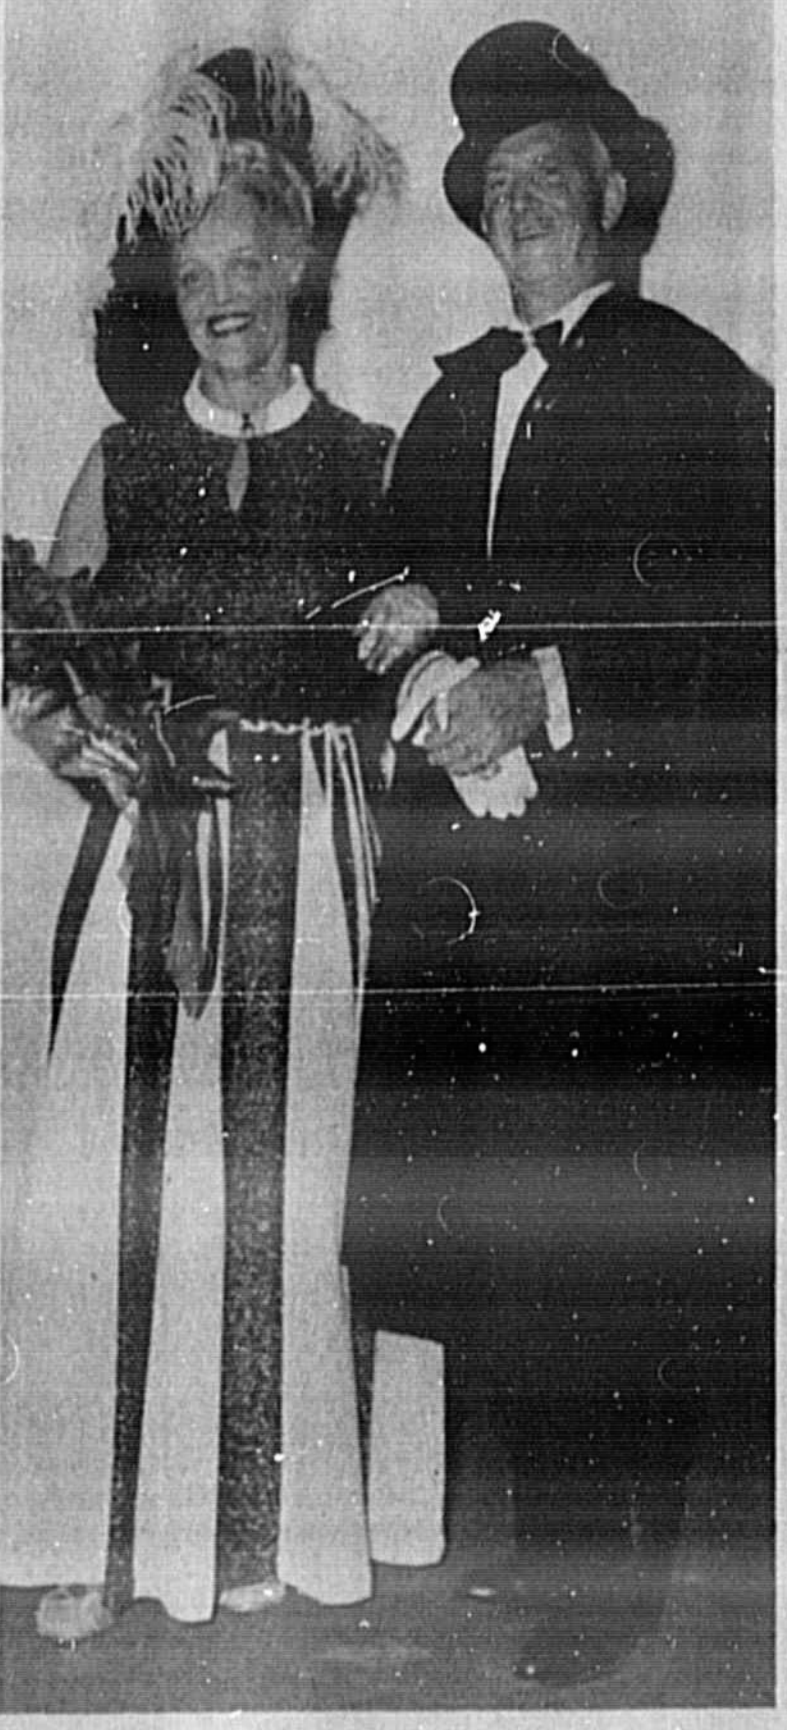

With a sell-out recorded way in advance of the two performances, the production ran the gamut from Betsy Ross through to Women's Lib and Billie Jean King.

"Distaff Revue," heralded by critics as sensational, featured a pot pourri of singing and dancing combined with segments of serious drama and slapstick comedy.

The performance incorporated the talents and behind-the-scenes activity of nearly 200 persons.

Champagne Ball

Treasures to bring pleasure and excite imagination of those planning to attend this holiday season's most exciting social event. The Seminole County Mutual Concert Association proudly presents the Eighteenth Annual Champagne Ball at 7:00 p.m. on Saturday, December 8, 1973 at Mayfair Country Club.

Norma, a vision of loveliness in her holiday gown and a matching jacket of polyester. Bobbie knit accented in red captures the admiring glance of husband LeRoy Robb who is equally handsomely attired for the gala event ahead. LeRoy is the president of LeRoy Robb Construction Co.

Mrs. John Hancock admires the beautiful silk flower arrangement created by Jane Besserer, manager of Interiors by Berta Hall, at the Sanford studio on Orlando Dr. just across the street from their former location. Mrs. Besserer is ready to assist you with home decor and gift ideas from the elegant collection of home furnishings available at both the Sanford and Winter Park Studios.

There'll be rings on her fingers at the Champagne Ball for Mrs. Norman Helfrich (Liz Paulucci). Her only problem is deciding just which one. John Kader, owner of Kader Jewelers seems to enjoy adding to her dilemma.

"It won't drive you to the poor house, but it will drive you to the Champagne Ball!" so says Jack Davis, sales manager at Bill Baker Volkswagen, Sanford. Jack is shown here displaying the outstanding features of this glittering yellow VW to Susie Ray — a perfect "bogy" for this lovely belle of the ball!

Mrs. Angeline (Angy) Taylor chats gaily with Mrs. Melvin Kidder as she models her ball gown amid the splendor of an authentic Carlton McLendon Victorian period grouping at Romels. The furniture features hand carved solid mahogany frames and velvet upholstery. The lamp is an authentic reproduction of a Gene with The Wind original by Julie Art. Mrs. Taylor is coordinator of audio visual services in Seminole Co. and a deliana member of The Mutual Concert Assn. Mrs. Kidder, right is co-owner of Romels Furniture.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schumacher, one of Sanford's most popular couples are planning to attend the Champagne Ball. For the gala Bonnie "Mrs. Schumacher" is bequippingly feminine in the lovely creation chosen from the complete selection at Holly, downtown Sanford. She was also pleased to find all the complementary accessories there... no need to shop further.

Any hostess would be proud to entertain in a home tastefully decorated from the fine collection at Phil Deere of Sanford. Phil and Peggy Deere take pride in the warm informal atmosphere they have created in their new facility. In addition they have acquired the services of Peter DiBona, one of the areas most knowledgeable Professional Interior Decorators to assist you in all phases of home decorating. Plan a visit soon after the ball.

George Weld and wife Valerie toast cheers to the Mutual Concert Association for their efforts towards the cultural growth of the community. Valerie and her sister Miriam Rye are co-owners of The School of Dance Arts. "Here's to a gala evening at the Champagne Ball."

'Tis The Season of Party Hair-Do's! June Bagwell, seated, gets set for the social whirl with a new and very becoming Hairstyle by Yvonne's Hairstyles, 2021 French Ave. Standing (l-r) admiring their work are Jewel Goolsby, Mabel Duggan and owner Yvonne McCollough. Call one of these lovely ladies for an appointment TODAY and look your best for the holiday season.

Tiny bubbles in the wine... Tiny bubbles that make you feel fine... but they can't compete with the sparkling smile and personality of Ms. Ginny Sladit, your mixologist at the Mayfair Country Club. Ginny's special touch will add much to the gala occasion!

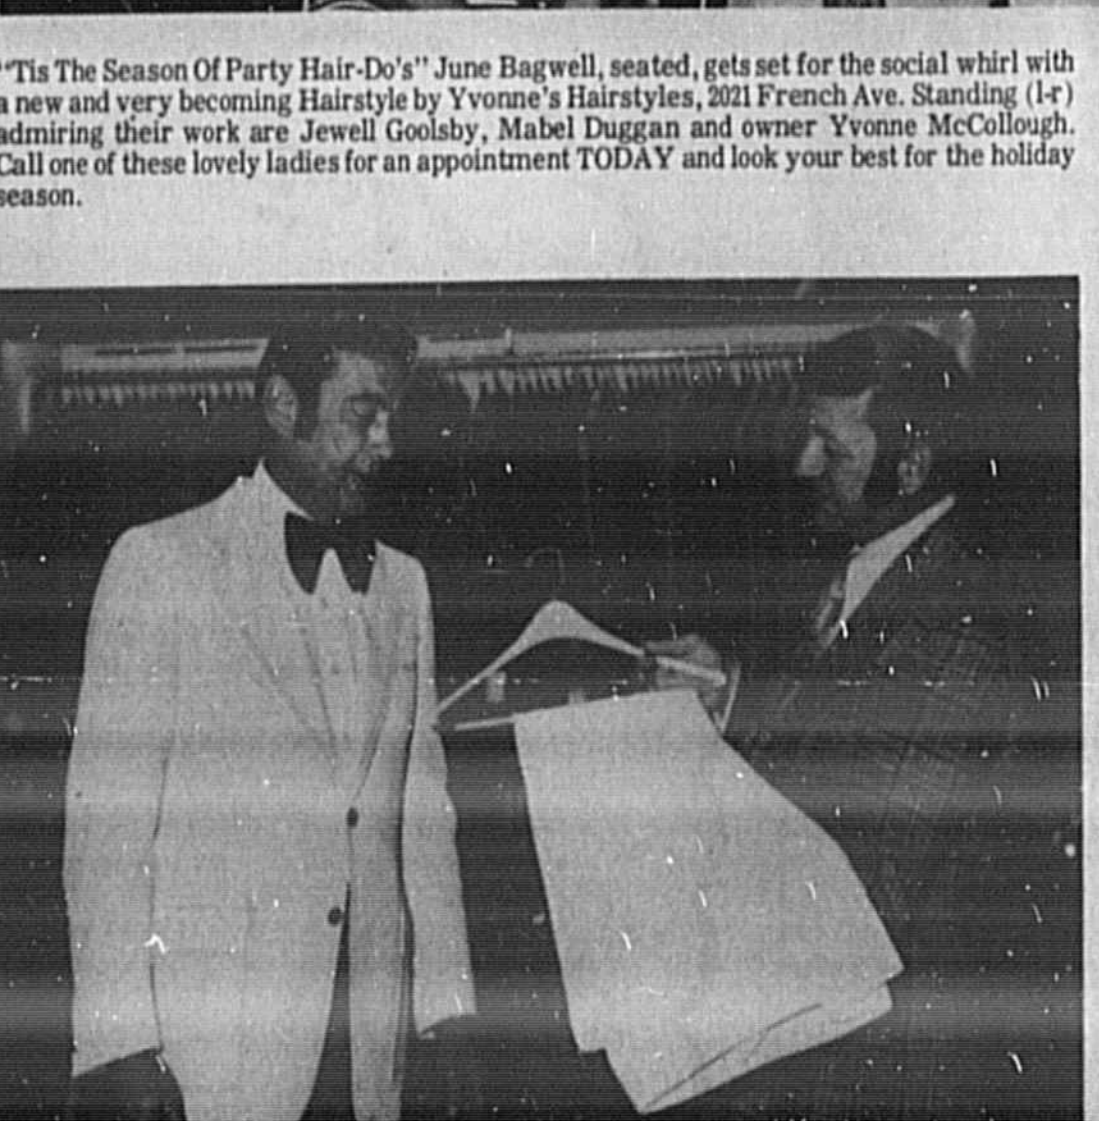

Star light, star bright! Milady's Christmas wish is bound to come true with a sparkling, bee-you-tee-ful creation from the Holiday Showcase of Fashions arriving daily at Merry Bee's, 1915 S. French Ave. The dazzling creation modeled by Mrs. Franklin Clontz features a glittering gold sleeveless jumpsuit topped with a majestic green floor-length, imported, semi-sheer opera coat, lavishly embellished with exquisite gold metallic designs. Perfect for the Champagne Ball or any Holiday Happening!

We don't know who the lucky girl will be but we're sure she will be pleased with her Champagne Ball coverage from Sanford Flower Shop. James Ryan, administrator Seminole County Port Authority, looks at one of the beautiful orchids that are always available there. You may always be assured of an excellent selection of the freshest flowers available at Sanford Flower Shop in downtown Sanford.

The petite and attractive Mrs. Woodrow "Via" Clark is quite obviously pleased with the selection of formal accessories displayed at Knight's Shoe Store, downtown Sanford. Don Knight, owner shows her a particular silver slipper that is sure to add the finishing touch to her Champagne Ball gown.

"Fashion Rage Of The Year." Frank Voltino, left, tries on one of Capp's Men Stores' versatile Johnny Caron, double knit suits. Mike Capko, right, owner of Capp's, explains how coat can be worn separately or as a sport coat. Also note the distinct contrast stitching that highlights the coat. You will have this and many other trend setting fashions to choose from at Capp's Men's Store, come by and see Mike or one of his fashion conscious salesmen today, and be sure you are tailored for any occasion. Capp's Men's Store, downtown Sanford...

If treasure's your pleasure plan a "hunt" at Gifts by Nan, hidden away in a special corner at Gator Ace Hardware. The only thing you can't "pirate away" is the warmth and friendliness of Boyd and Nellie Coleman, owners. The Colemans have been supporters of the Mutual Concert Association since its inception.

Dorothy Williams, home economist at F.P.I. models the ever popular black halter formal for evening wear. The gown of 100 pct. Quiana nylon is ideal for the Champagne Ball and other evening affairs of the season. The crystal earrings by "Hobe" worn by Dorothy enhances the gown. The Village Shop has an exciting collection of after Fives for your holiday festivities. Loungewear, sportswear, lingerie, daytime dresses and last but not least an excellent selection of costume jewelry as well as handbags for daytime and evening.

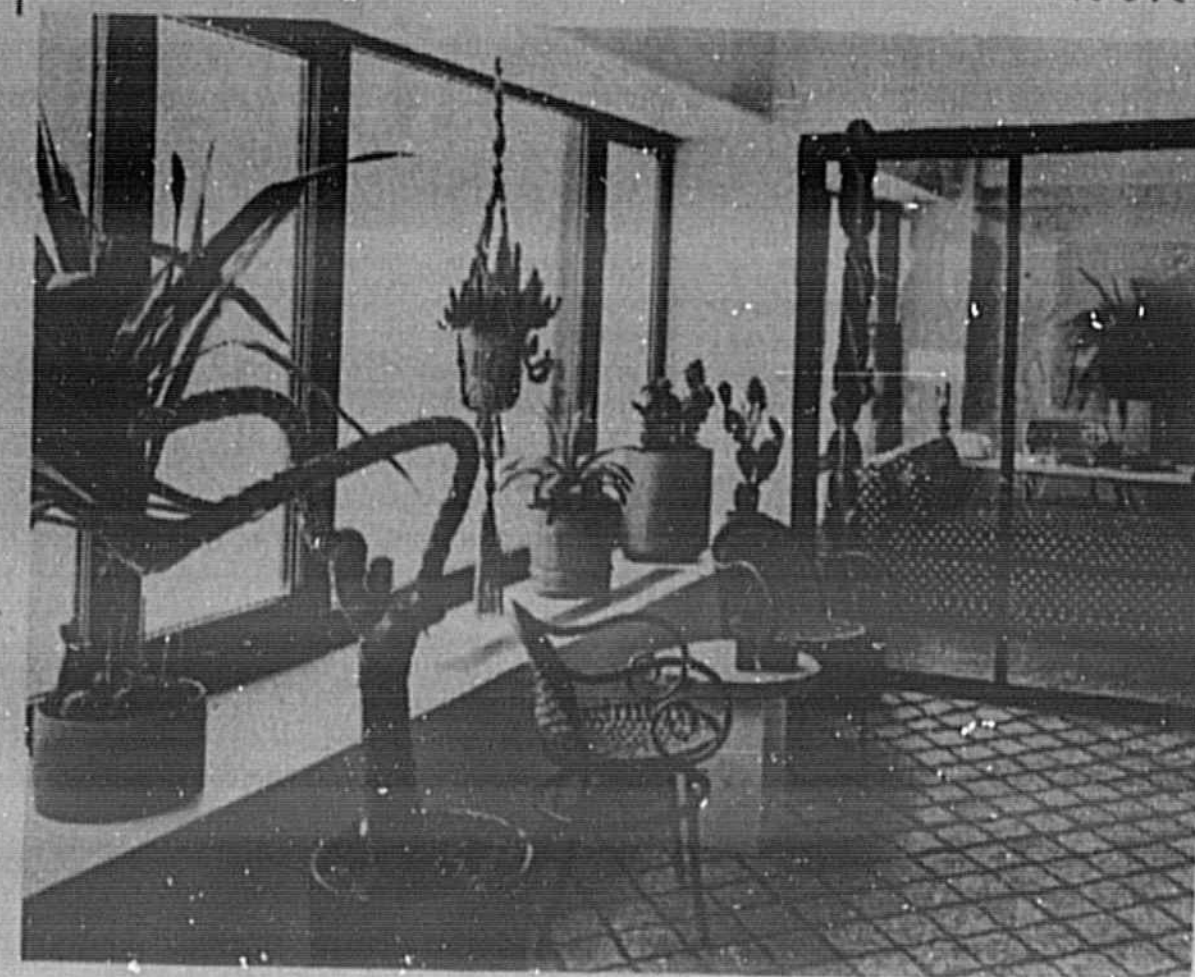

Betty Wallace, an active member of the Mutual Concert Association, is ready for the ball in a long black lamé formal from Mary-Esther's, specialists in evening and after five gowns and accompanying accessories. Betty, an I.P.N. at Seminole Memorial, holds a real estate license and is a private pilot.

Real Estate Question Box

By JULIAN STENSTROM

Editor's Note: Do you have a problem or a question dealing with real estate, taxation, planning, zoning, etc? If so, share your question with our readers.

Dear Mr. Fix: I am a licensed real estate salesman. I have always been under the impression that any real estate broker whose office is a member of the Orlando-Winter Park Multiple Listing Service must submit all exclusive listings he obtains to the MLS operation.

Dear DRH: There're several very good reasons. Initially, the area to be served by such a plant would take in part of Sanford, the City of Lake Mary, and a vast unincorporated area of Seminole County.

Dear BYN: Yes, the City of Sanford does have a Board of Adjustment. Members of this Board are appointed by the City Commission.

Dear Q: I want to install asphalt shingles on the outside walls of our house. I have a pretty good idea of how to do this, but the one thing I would like to know is whether they can be applied over the wood siding now on the house.

Dear Q: I would like to see that it is securely attached everywhere. The one difficulty you may find is cutting asphalt shingles. There are several ways to do this, but most of them require some skill and lots of practice.

Many Seeds Treated To Help Insure Growth

By FRANK J. JASA County Agricultural Agent

The nation's food supply, a great extent, depends on a steady supply of healthy seed. With millions of insects, fungi and bacteria intent on destroying seed after it's planted, seeds are treated with chemicals to give them a fighting chance to grow into plants for our dinner tables.

Dear Mr. Fix: High up on the list of emergency situations that call for fast repairs is a burst water pipe. A stopped drain is a nuisance and messy but you can stop, think about it and carry out necessary repairs.

Dear DRH: A piece of rubber like pipe or an inner tube or an old bicycle tire (both of which can be placed over the hole and held in place with a hose clamp. A piece of garden hose slit and wrapped around the pipe and held with a clamp is even better.

Dear Q: We have an old birch table with a finish on it that looks like varnish. My wife wants me to take off the old finish and give the table a limed effect set back as she saw on some furniture in a department store. How is this done?

Dear Q: I could tell you, but it wouldn't do any good with the kind of table you have. The finish she is talking about is limed effect set back. As the term implies, it is used principally on oak or, at least, on a wood with open pores.

Parthenon still needs fixing

Lord Elgin, for instance, hauled much of the best work off the Acropolis, but his objects were never reaching England. Later, the objects retrieved from the debris were put on display in the British Museum. He even made off with one of the Caryatid maidens supporting the south portico of the pedimentum temple on the Acropolis.

- ARIES (March 21-April 20) A tense week with many unknown factors plaguing you, particularly Tuesday, Wednesday, Late week — opportunity for clearer thought. Nevertheless, move with much caution.
- Taurus (April 21-May 20) Sunday your best day, but very explosive. Tuesday, Wednesday OK for lighter social interests. Thursday, Friday, hold hazards. Keep an open mind till all the facts come through.
- GEMINI (May 21-June 21) Take it easy. Try not to give into your first impressions. Restlessness could carry you into dangerous zones if you don't maintain balance. Weekend ahead — dubious.
- CANCER (June 22-July 22) Avoid unnecessary risks Tuesday, Wednesday. Follow your views and intentions on Thursday, Friday. Next weekend can be on the weak side. Shun projects that tax your strength.
- LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Work and how you handle it is significant. It can have a good deal of influence on your future even if you don't see how all this time. Just do your best as you see it.
- VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Sunday, Monday indicate you should act on matters that concern you. There may, if necessary, be some changes, estrangements. Things can take a new direction unexpectedly.
- LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) An important week. Some of the trends of the future may be coming to light. Thursday, Friday seem to be the days when you can affect balance, preparing to move forward.
- SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Urgent matters may require attention this week. Thursday, Friday can probably furnish you with your best judgment. Decision-making seems best on those days, but relax a bit.
- SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) The week improves as you go along with a good weekend terminating it. You are warranted in assuming a more optimistic attitude. Intuition will be working better.
- CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Play it cool. Don't take position that you can't alter in the face of changing circumstances. Sidestep legal complications, if possible. Keep your efforts constructive.
- AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Sunday radical. Don't overdo it. Remains of week, things will begin to stabilize. You should be able to get back to more routine matters. Saturday friendly.
- PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) The week can start out with some confusion. Judgments can be difficult. Sit back, allow the chaos to take form, shape itself up. Things will be clear by next weekend.

THIS WEEK'S TOP PRIZE QUESTION:

ALAN CASTELIN OF MOBILE, AL ASKS: "WHY DO BIRDS TAKE DUST BATHS?"

MANY BIRDS LIKE TO TAKE DRY BATHS IN DUST OR SAND. THEY CROUCH DOWN ON THE DRY GROUND AND SCRATCH AND FLUFF AND SHAKE THEIR FEATHERS UNTIL THEY ARE FULL OF DUST. THEN THEY PREEN THEMSELVES BY "COMBING" THEIR BILLS OVER THE FEATHERS TO MAKE THEM LIE SMOOTHLY. MANY PEOPLE WHO WATCH BIRDS THINK THAT THIS IS THE WAY BIRDS GET RID OF DIRT. BUT THAT'S NOT THE REASON. BIRDS TAKE DUST BATHS TO KEEP THEIR FEATHERS WELL-GROOMED FOR FLYING.

DEAR POLLY — I am sure all the girls are aware of many uses for baking soda, but I discovered a new one. I was quite upset when I found that someone had marked on my closet door with red, green and blue wax crayons. I did not want to use an abrasive remover. I applied baking soda with a damp paper towel and rubbed the marked surfaces till all marks were removed. — MRS. J. H. T.

DEAR POLLY — I carry a three-pound coffee can full of sand in the trunk of my car and find a bit of sand behind the rear tires helps me to back away from a snow-packed curb. — MRS. F. H. C.

DEAR POLLY — Where there are children cookies disappear very quickly. Older people eat them more slowly but also like having a variety of cookies. Take two, three or even more different packages, open and mix them all up and then put in plastic containers (half-gallon ice cream containers work well). Put containers in the freezer. When wanted, the cookies thaw quickly and are ready to eat in minutes. — MRS. H.

DEAR POLLY — I used colored desk blotters to line my kitchen cabinet shelves and drawers. They come in many colors, absorb moisture, are quite inexpensive and last a long time. I think they are more satisfactory than paper. — SHIRLEY.

DEAR POLLY — Use your long, narrow leftover strips of double knit fabric for trim on pillows, bedspreads and even dresses and jackets. Sew them to squares of cloth, using different lengths, and then put the squares together. In fact, all sorts of novel arrangements can be worked out with them. — MRS. E. S. B.

DEAR POLLY — I have a wonderful use for the plastic tops off the new potato chip cans. They just fit over the tops of the mugs I have hanging on my mug tree, so the mugs are always dust free and ready to use. — MRS. K. G. T.

UAW, GM Agree On Contract

Details Unavailable In Agreement That Completes National Bargaining With Three Major Automakers

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers and General Motors Corp. reached tentatively agreement on a new contract today shortly before the old pact was to expire, union officials said.

Word of the settlement was relayed by UAW officials in Indianapolis, Ind., Lordstown, Ohio, and Pontiac and Flint, Mich. There was no immediate announcement here from negotiators, who had continued contract talks through the night. Sources said final contract language was being worked out as the 10 a.m. deadline passed.

"Yes, there's been a settlement," said Dallas Sells, UAW regional director in Indianapolis. "We just got a call, but we don't have any details of the settlement."

The agreement would complete national bargaining with the three major automakers. Agreements were reached earlier with Chrysler and Ford.

Tony Zone, president of Local 1112 at the GM Vepr plant in Lordstown, Ohio, said he received word of the settlement at 8:15 a.m. EST, less than two hours before the contract was to expire.

Negotiations continued through the night in an effort to reach agreement before 10 a.m., when a series of "ministrikes" against individual GM plants was expected to begin.

No details of the reported settlement were available immediately. The UAW represents 415,000 GM workers.

A spokesman for the union at the Lordstown plant, one of those listed to be hit with a "ministrike," reported earlier that the local had been told to "hold tight" while talks continued here in the early morning hours.

The union has said there will be no national strike.

Herring's Letter Blisters Vihlen

Dangers To Life, Property Told

By CHRIS NELSON
Herald Staff Writer

SEMINOLE COUNTY Commissioners and staff today poured over details submitted at their request from the State Attorney Abbott Herring's office on allegations of dangers to life and property stemming from Herring's probe into the building department and the electrical review board.

The hundreds of pages of testimony to the state attorney, and a blistering cover-letter from Herring to Commission Chairman Sid Vihlen Jr. were hand delivered to Vihlen by Chief Investigator Jack Fulenwider late Friday afternoon.

Herring, responding to two weeks of public demands by the commission that details be submitted, forwarded testimony which led to the grand jury indictment, but not testimony before the grand jury itself.

Challenged by commissions for specific instances of danger to life and property, Herring said his office personally inspected only one project — Shadowood Village, a residential cluster in The Springs, outside of Leesville on SR 64.

Other specific locations detailed in the transcripts, and included in a list attached to Herring's letter, are: a private residence in Sweetwater Oaks, English Woods, Sterling Park, Mayberry Club on Lake Howell, Green Meadow Apts., Cherry Wood Apts., Stebbins School of Dance, Fair Lanes Bowling Lanes, and the Sportsman's Den night club, outside Casselberry.

The Sportsman's Den was hit by a fire six months ago which, sources say, was caused by electrical problems.

Ms. Dando noted in order to challenge the courts

Herring said he and the grand jury, in the nine other instances specified by his covering letter and the transcripts, based their remarks solely on sworn testimony from past or present building department employees.

"Two of those testifying have since resigned.

"I have made reference to page numbers of sworn testimony dealing with specific locations where fire hazards and unsafe conditions exist," the letter reads, continuing "I am sure you can appreciate the fact that this testimony deals with the tip of the iceberg and not a complete coverage of the problem area."

A quick reading of portions of the transcripts, particularly that of building inspector Douglas Kerr, confirms the debate held several weeks ago between the commission, the inspectors, the review board and the uniform code committee, in which sloppy building practices were more the cause of inspector's displeasure than were outright violations of the electrical code.

Commission Vice Chairman John Kimbrough, whose Nov. 6 letter to Herring requesting details prompted Friday's release, said he and the commission were not interested in quibbling with details, but identifying hazardous conditions, if any, and correcting them.

Kimrough said he will recommend the commission hire an outside expert to accompany a county inspector to each of the sites listed for an unbiased opinion on what violations exist, and what precautions can be taken.

Herring, in his letter, says that Fulenwider and then-electrical inspector Will LaPointe visited and photographed Shadowwood Village, and confronted the foreman with "photographs of violations of the code."

"The electrical foreman on this job admitted to the violations, but he said 'this is the way we have always done it.' You saw these photographs on September 25, 1973," the letter reads.

Herring's reference to the September meeting was to a verbal briefing he gave Vihlen and Marses of the details of the report submitted in writing Friday afternoon.

Vihlen, who previously gave 9, 1973.

Sanford Mother Of 4 Challenges Election Law

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

A young Sanford mother of four, with State Sen. Lori Wilson as her inspiration, announced today her independent candidacy for the county commission seat held by John Kimbrough in November 1974 elections and her intent to challenge state election laws requiring qualifying fees.

Paulette Dando, 31, employed as a laboratory technician with the county's pollution control office, said, "I intend to qualify for the office one way or another. If my court action is not successful, I will try the petition route and if not successful there, I will borrow the money and qualify."

She insisted the requirement that those who do not pay the qualifying fee must gather signatures carrying one per cent of the registered voters signatures is equally prohibitive.

Ms. Dando noted in order to challenge the courts

PAULETTE DANDO
... To challenge the courts

gather the 1,400 signatures she would have to acquire a voters' list which costs more than $400. According to Supervisor of Elections Camille Bruce, one may look at the voter rolls, but may not copy any information. A voters' list can be purchased, however, for one cent per name.

"I sincerely feel any governing body that has to make decisions affecting large numbers of people, cannot make unbiased decisions as long as its membership is limited," she said.

Ms. Dando said with only the financially well-off and those with vested interests able to qualify because of high fees, types of candidates are limited.

"I've been concerned with the government and working with the county, especially in the area of health, welfare and pollution," she said.

In the county's history although women have served in many offices, the county commission has never had a female member.

"Our election laws require no qualifications based on honesty, intelligence or the ability to make decisions," she said, maintaining politics today is associated in peoples' minds with under the table passing of money and dishonesty. "The American people and Seminole Countians want to believe in their government."

"I am not afraid to stand up for what I believe and truly follow the principle that it is not whether you win or lose but how you play the game," she said.

Lake Mary Candidate Quits, Endorses Smith For Mayor

By JEAN PATTESON
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — Barney Byrd, one of four candidates for the office of mayor in the Dec. 4 municipal election, withdrew from the race today.

Byrd "urged all his friends and supporters to back Charles R. Smith for the office."

Byrd is employed at the county's sanitary landfill operation. County personnel policy bans county employees from seeking public office unless they take leaves of absence. Byrd had requested the county waive the policy and action on the request was expected within the next week.

Byrd's withdrawal leaves three candidates running for the mayor's office. Candidates in addition to Smith are Mrs. Margie Hess, a hardware store operator, and the incumbent, Donald Jackson, a prime mover in the city's incorporation efforts last summer.

Qualifying To Close On Tuesday

CASSELBERRY — The qualifying period for candidates seeking the 13-months remaining in the unexpired city council term of the late Richard Wirz will close Tuesday at 5 p.m.

Candidates who have qualified to run in the special election scheduled for Dec. 4 at the same time as the mayor's office and two other two-year council seats will be filled are Charles Glascock, Paul Johnson and John Salmon.

Incumbent Mayor Bill Grier is being opposed for the chief executive's office by former councilman Harry Sambrook. For the open seats on the city council voters will choose two winners from a field of four candidates.

Vying for the seats are Edith Duerr (1), David Smothers, John Yarnitz and John Zacco (1).

Weather

Heavy snow warnings were posted for the mountains of Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico and parts of Montana. Snow was rapidly accumulating in the mountains.

Retirees Face Park Eviction Within 15 Months

By JEAN PATTESON
Herald Staff Writer

Residents of the Seminole Trailer Park in Fern Park met this morning to hear assurances from Michael Alexatos, trustee for the new owners who purchased the park Nov. 1 for $500,000 that residents will not have to move from the park for at least 15 months.

In a letter mailed to all residents shortly after the sale, Alexatos told residents former owner and manager of the park, Ed Flower, would continue as manager for at least one year. Alexatos said the owners did not anticipate any changes in management for at least one year, and in the event of any change they would receive a minimum of 90 days notice.

He told them under no circumstances would there be any change in the property's status as a park prior to 1975. He said he could give no assurances the property would remain a park after '75.

Residents were informed their rent would be raised to $50 a month, and Alexatos said this morning he hoped the rent would not have to be raised "too much more" during the coming year.

There is great consternation among the residents, all of whom are retired, as to where they will go should the park close after that time.

There are few trailer parks in Seminole and Orange counties which will accept trailers over two years old, and the resale value on used trailers is low.

Flower said the few parks in Seminole county which will take older trailers do not cater for his type of older and retired clients.

"There are parks, but who wants to live in them," commented one resident. Another said he has been to every park in the county but no one will offer him even $2,500 for the trailer he purchased new for $2,500 six years ago.

Flower said the refusal of the Seminole County Commissioners to rezone land for new trailer parks was to blame for the problem. Facing Seminole Park residents.

"There's a bunch of men on the Commission who don't care what happens to you. They think you're trash, and I'm at the bottom of the barrel because I run this place," Flower told residents today.

Flower said he would do everything in his power to help relocate those persons who want to move to different parks. He said he would waive his usual five per cent fee to help persons who want to sell their homes and dispose of their trailers.
