"We get an extremely good price sed we are very happy," said litrs. Southward of the appraisal. "As a matter of fact, this is the last price we've had yot."

The city has been looking for a city hall also since last summer. Poulocci is interested in building condemniums on a 65-acre tract adjoining the prospective city hall also, according to Mrs.

In other action, the council upheld a decision of the planning and soning board by a vote of 4-1 to reject a resening request that would have allowed Landara Corp., Clearwater, to build a 60 unit apartment complex on a 20-acre site at the corner of Wilbur and Lake Mary Road.

Following lengthy discussion which included a restatement of objections to the complex by area residents, Councilman Harry Turry moved the proposal to rejected.

"We have always tried to protect our lakes," commented Turry, in explaining his motion to reject the request. "This would be in the heartland of the lakes and that's an area I would like to single-family residential."

Councilman Cair Netson was the only councilman was supported the resoning request.

He countered statements from area residents on the character of apartment dwellers.

"I have known many fine people who have lived in apartments

Tis The Season To Be Stubborn?

Seeing that chances are alim for the Seminole County Commission releating and giving a key to the courthouse to Art Beckwith Jr., clerk of the circuit court, he has gone one better: he has awarded Mr. Beckwith, a Sanford resident, with a key to the entire city.

That's the true spirit of the season and we commend Hizzoner for it. Sorry we can't say the same for the county

They seem to be regressing. Stumped for lausible, sensible, rational explanations for their stubborn refusal to give Mr. Beckwith - and other constitutional officers - keys so they can do the public business they have been chosen to do, the commission instead has fallen back on wisecracking sarcasm and paranola. It's puzzling Take, for example, Chairman Bob French's explanation (?) for his vote with the majority against Mr. Beckwith's request. "If something were stolen or damaged in the courthouse, how would responsibility be pinned on anyone if everyone had keys?" he asks. "This may be a philosophical approach rather than a reasonable reason," he concedes.

We agree... whatever he means. And then there's Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff. In his usual juvenile wisecracking manner, he has suggested giving "all constitutional officers' employees keys, which would end courthouse security, but be in the Christmas spirit."

To that we can only echo Commissioner Sandra Glenn's response: "Whoop-de-do!"
"What is this obsession with security? "I want to make sure people in the courthouse are protected," he declares. From what? we ask. We have a suggestion: If the commission is truly interested in courthouse security, it follows that no one should have a key. What the lawmakers should do is to leave a window open on a rotating basis and let only those they are sure they trust know which windows are open when. That would certainly solve any security problem they feel exists. Mr. Kirchhoff, the courthouse custodian, also has expressed pride that Seminole County appears to be the only county in the state to deprive its What's wrong with Seminole County being the only one to do something?" he inquires.

Nothing: we concede. But surely Mr. Kirchhoff's fertile imagination could come up with a more constructive example of uniqueness?

Like maybe a business-like, mature county For many, the whole key matter probably seems silly. For Art Beckwith - and us - it has become a matter of principle. What's right is right. Sure, he can secure a key from someone wants to be officially acknowledged (as do his colleagues such as Camilla Bruce, supervisor of elections) who cannot get a key — for what he is: a proven, trusted, respected public servant.

The key is only a symbol.

The only thing left to be done now is for the ommission to honor Mr. Beckwith, Mrs. Bruce and all other constitutional officers wanting keys. We suggest that the veteran commissioners -French, Kirchhoff and Williams - follow the lead of their less-experienced but clearer-thinking colleagues, Commissioners Glenn and Robert Sturm in honoring the key request.

And they might even look to Sanford's Mayor Moore for guidance.

Let's lock up the subject once and for all.

Carter: No Surgery

WASHINGTON UPI - President Carter's painful hemorrhoid condition improved enough for him to return to the Oval Office early today, and his doctor said surgery had been ruled out "unless there is a recurrence. "The president had a good night," deputy press secretary Claudia Townsend said, but added Carter had not rescheduled any of his canceled appointments. Meanwhile, members of the president's family went ahead with plans for an afternoon departure for Plains, Ga., where they will spend the Christmas holidays.

MARION, III. (UPI) - Robin Oswald, 17, former high school pom pon girl, who hijacked a TWA jet with 87 people aboard in an attempt to free a convict her mother died trying to help escape, will be charged with air piracy, authorities said today. Her mother, Barbara Oswald, 43, was shot to death in her bid to free Garrett Trappell and two other prisoners May 24 in a hijacked helicopter.

Mitchell On Furlough

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) - Former Attorney General John Mitchell, nearing the end of his sentence for Watergate crimes, left a federal prison today on a five-day Christmas furlough.

4 Prisoners Escape

LONOKE, Ark. UPI - Four dangerous prisoners, including three inmates who led authorities on a wild five-state chase and kidnapping spree three months ago, escaped early today after locking up a jailer.

Kidnapper Frees Ex-Wife

TAMPA (UPI) - Despair over a recent "divorce and concern over the treatment he was receiving at a Veterans Administration hospital led Wade Overstreet to kidnap his former wife and hold her hostage at gunpoint, Sheriff Walter Heinrich said after the woman ed unharmed Thursday. Inc year-old Overstreet released his former wife Judy about 10 hours after he had taken her hostage and surrendered himself to waiting

Cleveland: Showdown Looms

CLEVELAND (UPI) - With $15.5 million in bank notes already in default, last-minute disagreements threaten today to wreck the tentative compromise that might save Cleveland from bankruptcy, Mayor Dennis Kucinich and a hostile City Council headed for a showdown in City Hall where a vote was scheduled on a special referendum to let voters decide if the city-owned Municipal Light Plant will be sold and whether the mayor's proposed 0.5 percent city income tax increase will be approved.

Dr. Bourne Reprimanded

ATLANTA (UPI) - The state Board of Medical Examiners publicly reprimanded former White House health adviser Dr. Peter Bourne Thursday, but stopped short of prohibiting him from practicing medicine. Bourne acknowledged the board's action in a signed agreement, vowing to refrain from participating in similar violations in the future.

DEAR DICK: Please answer this question: Are the judges on "The Gong Show" qualified judges? And do the people who win go on to bigger things? JOSEPH M. GONZALES, Tueson, Artz.

The judges are as qualified as the contestants are. The truth is that, on that show, nobody's qualified. The judges are generally entertainers and they're just trying to get laughs. As to whether the winners go on to bigger things, it is not possible for them to find any less things than "The Gong Show," is it?

DEAR DICK: I'm prétty upset over the way the news media is degrading Marie Osmond. I know that she is really a nice person and I think it's wrong for people to exaggerate. The media is always looking for "catchy hings to say about nice, wholesome, clean-cut people like the Osmonds. Marie hasn't changed into a sex symbol she wouldn't want to - she's just grown up a little more. LISA BUZAN, Onaway, Mich.

You don't exactly have a question, but I'll answer you anyway. Any star becomes written about in the media the bigger the star, the more stories are written. It stands to reason that the writers try to find something new to say And, too often, some of them are reduced to inventing things Now the Osmonds are not particularly exciting people, from a news standpoint, so writers are forced to invent things. It's not good, but it's as much your fault as anybody's you Osmond fans keep asking for more and more stories, so the editors have to oblige, and the writers have to supply them

DEAR DICK: I always watch "Hee-Haw" and am wondering what became of Buck Owens' son. I think he was called Buddy Allen and I heard he was killed in a motorcycle accident. J.R., Syracuse, Ind.

You are a little mixed up. Buddy Allen, who is Owens son, is alive and well and appears occasionally on "Hee-Haw" It was Don Rich - no relation to Buck, but a close friend - who was killed.

DEAR DICK: Please belp me settle an argument. A friend of mine says that Marion Ross and Tom Bosley of 'Happy Days" are married in real life. I say they are not. Who's correct? R. CROWE, Joplin Mo.

"We're going to operate as we're supposed to under the law and provide that service. We stand ready today to do just that," said Hal H. Kantor, an Oriando lawyer representing Sanlando.

The important questions to be resolved then, are:

Should the PSC have accepted Sanlando's franchise in 1971 if no need for service was shown, despite the fact the county commission issued that franchise with or without a need being shown?

One Seathern Utilities remarks the service for the developer or WASHINGTON (NEA) — It is 6 a.m., across the way from the Treasury Department, and two worn men pull paper sacks from their heads to great the dawin. Norman Moore stands up to srinate.

Eddie Noname looks at the threats of a gray December sty; "Oh," he says, "I hate this season worst if all."

Holdays, humbug. There is a significant number of people in the nation's capital who are definitely not dreaming of a White Christman this year.

They are the humsions poor, wretched economic orphans who must live in the structs, and Yuketide or not they have little mirth for slauning in slauk.

they have little spirit for alcoping in clush.

Norman coughs, spits, and alabos his head with a yown.

Jimmy Carter's nearest neighbors are among them. Scores of temporary tramps and permanent derelicts have taken up residence on the aidewalk benches and hot air ventilators close by the White House. Some are drugged with bosse, others are merely jobless, many are sick and a few may well be dying.

Dying? Medical authorities believe 11 of Washington's street people have frozen to death in the last three win-
