

Opening Handicap Won By Dogs From Bus Males' Kennel

Third Race, Is Upset Last Night When Wind Blows Curtain Across Track

LONGWOOD, Dec. 28.—A great crowd saw Bus Males' two great young greyhounds—My Valentine Jr. and Valentine Heart—win the inaugural handicap and the Fair Oaks handicap at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club's 90-day racing season get underway last night.

My Valentine Jr. succeeded Speedy Karl another Miles dog as the inaugural winner when he outran Sibilla, an outsider, by three lengths.

Valentine Heart won the charity event by six lengths over Six Ick.

In the eighth race tonight a futurity event—Speedy Karl will match strides with Pat Mak, Dirty Omen, Lulu Bess and similar class greyhounds.

After the races several greyhounds will be schooled over the hurdles in preparation for brush races starting next week.

An act of God upset the running of the third race last night but under rule 54 of the Florida State Racing law the inspectors representing the Commission called the race good.

The man with the last curtain started out on the track as the rabbit passed. A gust of wind caught the cloth and threw the man with the canvass into the path of the greyhounds.

They knocked him against the piling. The status of the race was upset but all eight dogs finished. Although Sporting Boy, the No. 2 dog, got the worst of the curtain incident, he pulled up and came in far behind the pack.

SOONERS ARRIVE AND IMMEDIATELY DON GRID SUITS

Vols Undergo Second Workout In Miami Under Bob Neyland

MIAMI, Dec. 28.—(AP)—Pausing long enough to receive leis made of oranges from a bevy of pretty girls, the Oklahoma football team hurried direct from the station to the practice field upon its arrival yesterday for the Orange bowl game with Tennessee.

Meanwhile the Volunteers, who arrived yesterday, held their second workout, stressing fundamental blocking and tackling, and Coach Robert R. Neyland announced all future practice sessions would be held in private to avoid distractions.

He said the Tennesseans, who had been suffering from colds, were recovering quickly in the hot sun.

The Sooners' train was two hours late and they postponed registering and unpacking at their hotel until after the workout.

Coach Tom Stidham put them to work immediately on defensive formations as soon as their two buses, behind a police escort, could take them through town and across the causeway to Miami Beach.

Both teams will hold a practice session each afternoon through Saturday in preparation for Monday's encounter but they will be no scrimmaging for the Sooners—they have had none since September. Stidham said he did not believe scrimmaging was beneficial and he wanted especially to avoid further injuries.

Three of his regulars, Howard (Red Dog) McCarty and Bill Jennings, backs, and Jerry Bolton, a guard, will not be able to play. Jennings and Bolton, using crutches, made the trip but McCarty was still in a hospital.

"The loss of those three men definitely has hurt our chances," Stidham said. "Reserve strength is an important factor in hot weather. I don't know yet whether we can make efficient replacements."

Stidham said he thought possibly the prevailing odds which make Tennessee a favorite were about right but that naturally Oklahoma would be in the game to win. He said it was unusual for his team to be the underdog since Oklahoma was favored in

IN THE FIELD OF SPORTS

By JULIAN STENSTROM

The basketball season is here once more and the local Seminole quintet should rate as strong this year in Northeast Conference circles as it did last year when they won the loop title at Leesburg.

Coach Leonard L. McLucas was gloomy when the practice session started but he had a good group of men to work with and now that gloom should all be gone. Two good reports from Leesburg did make us feel a lot better and they were the scores of the initial two Leesburg court games. Read them and weep or cheer. Leesburg 16, Seminole 17; Leesburg 16, Seminole 17.

With Art Walker and Earl Hall Ferguson leading the Seminole line and Bill Jennings and Jerry Bolton leading the Orange line, there will be a tight battle. The Seminole boys have a mighty tricky offense with power in every position and mentor Wallace Wade will unlock his trunks and shoot the works at the Jones coached team.

Way down south in Miami there's going to be possibly the nation's most important battle. The crowd won't be as large as in New Orleans or Dallas but Tennessee and Oklahoma, undefeated and untied champions of the Southern Conference and Big Six, respectively, clash in the Orange Bowl, there will be a thunder heard as far north as Sanford.

Even though Tennessee boasts a varied attack featuring Bud Carson, the power of the Oklahoma line and their powerful ground attacks will be too much for the Tennessee boys. The game should not see more than 20 touchdowns and there's no right possibility that the whole thing might end in a tie. I'm sure that, we still like the Sooners.

Barkley States No Legislation Needed For Relief Boards

Kentucky Senator Favors Selection Of Non-Partisan Appeal Group By WPA Study Of Setup Asked By Byrnes Committee Will Seek Information On Existing WPA Funds

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Senator Barkley of Kentucky, majority leader, said today that if a non-partisan county board were named to investigate complaints of disgruntled relief applicants he would be in favor of having the WPA select the boards.

Emphasizing that no legislation would be needed to set up such appeal boards, Barkley said he believed that any such action probably would involve a change in the methods of the final determination of those eligible for relief jobs.

Senator Byrnes, Democrat, South Carolina, said last night he would call the senate unemployment committee into session next week to discuss the desirability of immediate changes in the administration of relief.

The committee chairman added that the group would seek information on how much WPA money remains and the truth of reports that existing funds will be exhausted Feb. 7.

The $1,425,000,000 appropriation for relief last session was intended to last until March 1. Arthur Williams, deputy relief administrator under Harry Hopkins, told reporters recently, however, that the funds would be exhausted.

Sanford Will Be Florida Office For Distributors

Warehouse Opened In Old Bakery By Balfantine Brewery

Sanford, Fla., Dec. 29.—(AP)—The Florida state office for the distribution of relief supplies will be located in Sanford, Fla., where the Balfantine Brewery has opened a warehouse in the old bakery building on South First Avenue.

The new office, which will serve eight northwestern counties in this district, the building and premises have been cleaned up and transformed into operating space for the relief supplies.

Because of its geographical location, Sanford is a logical point for distribution to the central Florida counties and it is why more of the large companies have not taken advantage of the central location of the city," Mr. Lent said.

Before his transfer to Florida Mr. Lent was employed by the Balfantine Brewery as sales manager for the state of New Jersey. Also under his supervision were Frederick H. Miller, traffic manager, who was also transferred from the New Jersey headquarters. Both are living in Sanford.

Mr. Lent stated that the company planned to take advantage of water transportation direct to Sanford from the New Jersey headquarters. Shipments will be made to Jacksonville via ocean going vessels and from Jacksonville to Sanford via the St. Johns River Line.

While distribution of the several Palfantine brands from Sanford will be made in eight surrounding counties, the local office will serve as headquarters for other distributing warehouses in Florida, all of which will be under the supervision of Mr. Lent. Distribution from the local warehouse will be made into Bayard, Volusia, Flagler, Putnam, Lake Orange, Ocala, and Seminole counties.

At present three trucks are being operated out of Sanford and the office force consists of three salesmen in addition to Mr. Lent and Mr. Miller. However, Mr. Lent pointed out that as distribution of their products increases, the forces at the local warehouse will be increased.

Both Mr. Miller and Mr. Lent stated that they liked Sanford because of its location, will some day become an industrial center for Central Florida.

Farmers' Income Drops 11 Percent As Big Harvest Sends Prices Down

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Farmer during 1938 was cushioned by a $130,000,000 jump in government benefit payments, which are expected to reach $500,000,000.

The farmer fared somewhat better than his city cousin during the recession, however, government data indicates. Industrial workers, including largely urban dwellers, received roughly 13 per cent less this year than last estimates based on department of commerce income data show, while farm income dropped 11 per cent.

Although the 1938 cotton crop was roughly one-third smaller than the record-breaking 19, 000,000-bale harvest of the year before, the south's most important agricultural staple faced the largest surplus in history.

Wheat stocks also climbed to record levels, as a result of the third largest crop in history.

LANDSCAPE WITH DEER

From Kalamazoo, Mich.
If there had been one deer staring out at the edge of the wood
And ready to fly in the fall leaf
Seldom as that happens here
In this buxom district
I would have said to the car, really Hoofbeats in the hall
Only the lips would have shown
And stretched to a ruffle the air
When there were four Spring from my horse
He with a tangle of hair
Above enormous and kind eye
Sne of the tremulant neck
Crowding close to her head, brown
Eagle
And the matronly, contented
heavy with milk
Nuzzling the lawn born a week ago
You would, any one would have been startled
Into whispering "oh!"

of maintenance of penal institutions of the State of Florida was $24.85 in 1937 compared with $12.77 in 1932. This 93 percent increase in five years is practically double the average State taxes which the average taxpayer has to pay. No wonder there are hard times.

If your business during the Christmas season was not quite so good as it was last year, it is probably no worse off than your competitors, or for that matter, any other man's business.
Figures from the Department of Commerce show that all independent stores in Florida during the month of November showed a loss in dollar sales over the same period of the previous year of exactly 3 percent. That can spell the difference between making a profit, or going in the red,
in a good many businesses.

Gerald Ash returning from a Christmas week-end spent in Jacksonville tells a thrilling story of the remarkable coyness of a bus driver under fire. One of those women drivers, not up to her usual expertness in manipulating an automobile, drove her car from a side road on to a main thoroughfare without giving the matter of possible approaching motor vehicles any thought, whatever. The huge heavily laden bus, traveling fifty miles an hour or better, was almost upon her before she could be seen, but the driver, wisely refraining from alarming on his emergency brake, picked the only clear lane through the woods between several large oak trees and finally came to a stop in a sand bank.

The driver, who had been turned the bus over and had smashed the automobile.
But then too, there are too many autobobile drivers who, like this woman, come on to the main thoroughfare without stopping.

The Lima Conference

Secretary Hull and the United States delegation to the Pan American conference in Lima, Peru, boarded their boat yesterday and prepared to return to Washington following the successful conclusion of the most important meeting of representatives of New World nations in the history of the hemisphere.

It was in such the principles adopted at Lima, throughout the nations, agreed to settle all differences among themselves by peaceful means and without resort to force, to refrain from all intervention in the internal or external affairs of another nation, to respect the sovereignty of international law, to adhere to the policy of treaties and to cultivate peaceful intellectual and economic relations among nations.

What makes the Lima conference an outstanding achievement is the fact that in a world rife with rancor and distrust, a time when the rods of hate, greed, jealousy and ambition were having a free hand in so many parts of the world, the nations of the western hemisphere are able to lay down together and discuss amicably their relations with one another.

The agreement of Argentina to some features proposed by the United States, to illustrate the problems involved.
The Argentine, being the chief competitor of the United States in the export market of wool, beef and hides. Among the basic customers of the Argentine are Italy and Germany, the two main countries of need in the Pan American solidarity pact.

The fact that the United States and Argentina resolved to sign the same table at all do a great credit to the broadmindedness of their statesmen and the peaceful policy of their foreign policies. The fact that they were able to reach an agreement which forewarns all aggressive and predatory intentions in the affairs of one nation by another constitutes an outstanding rebuff to aggressor nations.

A hallmark of the conference, the American nations will undoubtedly draw closer and closer together no only in their efforts to have peace among nations, but also in the matter of trade and cultural relations. There is no room left for expansion in South America and it may be expected that the United States will assist in every way possible the development of that great continent.

The Building Outlook

The country now promises to see a period of increasing home construction, not only in Sanford, but throughout the whole nation as well. New building which was practically stagnant in this city one year ago has during the past 12 months become fairly active, and every indication points to increasing activity as the new year gets under way.

Commenting on the amended National Housing Act of the last session of Congress, Stewart McDonald, Federal Housing Administrator, says that the outlook in the home-building industry is quite in contrast today to one year ago. The passage of the much needed amendments to the National Housing Act placed an entirely new look on the national housing picture.

"We all hoped it would produce the stimulus needed to revive residential construction," said Mr. McDonald.
"By few of us were willing to predict that the new program would be the success that it has proven in the past ten months. It was not until early Spring that its effect began to be felt. Even then we withheld optimistic claims until we were sure that it was not just a flash in the pan."

Since March 1 the Federal Housing Administration has been transacting business at a rate of approximately $190,000,000 a month. During November and December only moderate declines have been recorded in the volume of small home mortgages selected for appraisal with fees paid. This phase of FHA's operations has proven an exceedingly accurate barometer in the past and the figures would seem to indicate that many builders are not going to stop to think and wait for Spring.

Each week since November 1 construction of approximately 2,000 new single family homes has been started under FHA inspection. This does not include new homes financed under the FHA plan after completion of the construction. In addition, 80 large scale rental projects are under construction under the FHA program.

While the 1939 home-building year will get off to a brisk start, the year 1938, in spite of a poor beginning, produced more housing than any year since 1929. The new year, barring the development of unforeseen obstacles, should produce an even better record.

No man can, for any considerable time, wear one face to himself and another to the multitude, without finally getting bewildered as to which is the true one.—Hawthorne.

blessedness of life.—tingelov.

Farmers' Income Declines After Large Harvests

The government, through the Federal Surplus Commodity
Corps, therefore initiated an export subsidy in an effort to retain some part of our former world market.

Wheat and other grains were hardest hit among the major contributors to cash farm income.
A recent survey by the department of agriculture indicated receipts from this source would be 23 percent under 1937 this year.
Cotton and cottonseed accounted for the second sharpest reduction in agricultural income, an estimated 18 per cent.

Total cash receipts from all crops were placed at $3,100,000,000 against $3,870,000,000 a year ago, down 20 per cent. Crops supplied two-fifths of all the money made on farms.

Livestock and livestock products, accounting for more than half of all receipts, were comparatively stable. Meat animals —hogs, lamb and cattle—and dairy products between them showed a decline of only six per cent compared with last year.

Those two categories were by far the largest individual farm income producers.

Government benefits alone added six-one-half per cent to the farmers' income.

In the words of one of our familiar commentators, President Roosevelt has leaders have been "back to that the two leaders are

Congressmen Can Become Scholars Almost Overnight

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29. —(AP)—Don't be thunderstruck if the humble merchant you are sending to Congress to represent your district suddenly blossoms out as a scholar on the constitution or a speaker of unprecedented eloquence. Generation of previous congressmen have planned it that way.

Joe Glavin of South Boston, though many have spent all his spare time playing golf and reading the Government's Digest but in Washington his fund of knowledge suddenly expands to the limits of the universe.

Soon after his arrival Representative Glavin is advised of a congressional reference section in the Congressional Library specifically designed to help him find out what he needs to know. He is told that if he can't find it in the library he can have extra help. He is told that if he can't find it in the library he can have extra help.

Joe Glavin is not a scholar. He writes a note to the librarian suggesting that if anybody could dig up a few facts about cooling moth control the apple growers in his district would appreciate it. With a very few days there will appear on his desk a neatly typewritten sheet of facts about cooling moth control, which Congress has authorized and which amount to a few lines.

Walter Pippie, who wants out of the co-operative marketing agreement of the Matanzas, Alaska, colony because he made $11,000 in two years, may be evicted from the project in court proceedings Jan. 9.

By way of preparing for his bout with Jim London in Philadelphia, Nanjo Singh, Hindu wrestler from Calcutta, tries out a hold on a giant python, thereby exhibiting his skill and his fearlessness—we guess.

Or he may speak learnedly on women's rights and what the state legislatures have done for veterans. At the wink of an eye he can become an expert on anything from termite damage in Federal buildings to the Nazi radio invasion of South America. His quotations will be studded with direct quotations from the A. B. C. Monthly and the British Economist to describe the breadth of his reading. Truly, it is wonderful.

Whole floors of the library are staffed with research men and magazines, newspapers and governmental reports are combed for clippings on every legislative subject.

There is a serious purpose behind it all, of course. Glavin will find on his arrival in Washington that he is expected to vote yes or no on subjects the like of which he never before heard. And it probably is on public waste if he can push a button and get himself at least a smattering of knowledge on a few topics of life-and-death importance to the country or his congressional district.

INCOMPATIBILITY? POOR LONDON —(AP)—"Incompatibility of temperament" is a lovely phrase, invented by a Victorian novelist, but it does not mean anything at all. It's said Judge Langton in the divorce court.

Suicide Is Route Followed By Most Of Big Swindlers

When Bubble Bursts Cheat Kings Are Unable To Take It

By JACK STINNETT
NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—(AP)—When the bubbles burst, the swindle kings can't take it.

When F. Donald Coster, president of McKesson and Robbins, stood before a bathroom mirror in his palatial Fairfield, Conn., home and ended his amazing life of crime with a 38-caliber pistol, he became the fourth great fraud to take "the easiest way out" in the last seven years.

A fifth jumped bail and fled but was captured before his ship cleared port. In less than a fortnight of investigation Coster's financial machinations within the $86,000,000 drug firm were laid. Almost simultaneously came the discovery that the greatly respected, luxury-loving wizard of finance was really Philip Musica, twice-convicted swindler.

The house of cards which the one-time Italian cheese importer had been building for 12 years under the name of Coster crashed even before all of Coster's fantastic ups and downs could be uncovered.

Match King Tumbles. In March 1932 Ivar Krueger, the Swedish Match King and international industrialist, shot himself in his sumptuous Paris apartment. Afterward it was discovered that the assets of "one of the world's richest men" were mostly ledger manipulations running into hundreds of millions.

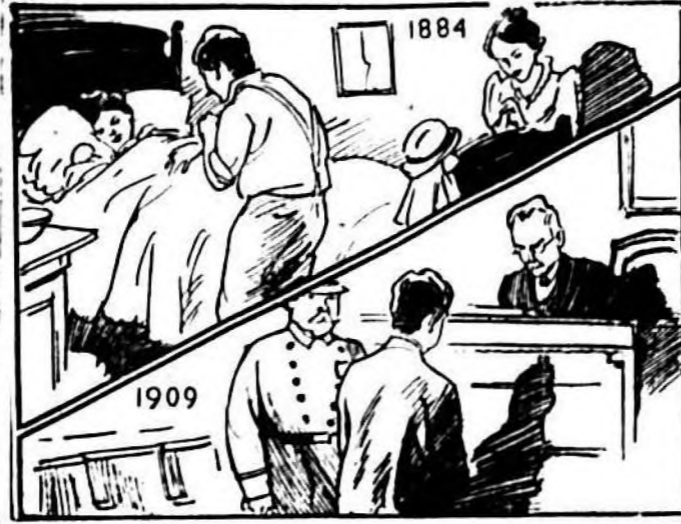

In January 1934, in a cabin in the little Alpine village of Chamonia, the body of Serge "Handsome Alex" Stavisky was found. Police announced that the central figure in the $12,000,000 French municipal pawnshop scandals had taken his own life.

In the early summer of the same year, C. C. Julian, one-time millionaire oil promoter in California and Oklahoma, drank poison in his Shanghai hotel room. He was a fugitive from federal justice, a virtual prisoner in Shanghai's international settlement, one of the few places in the world from which he could not be extradited.

Charles Ponzi is one of the few great bogus financiers of the generation who is still alive, having been deported to his native Italy in 1934. But eight years earlier when the state of Massachusetts sought to send him to prison for seven to nine years, the "little wizard" jumped bail and shipped for Genoa, Italy. He was caught when the ship touched New Orleans.

Like The Swindler. Many of the men and many of the scandals created by their swindles have had much in common. All loved luxury. Krueger's palaces and apartments were filled with art treasures; he was said to live with a check book in his hand.

Sketching A Saga Of Swindle

A career of swindling that almost out-Ponized the notorious Ponzi began when a boy was born to the Italian immigrant Antonio and Aurea Musica in 1884. He was named Philip. The boy grew up in New York's East Side neighborhood. At 25 he was convicted of being customs official. The following year he was paroled from Elmira, N. Y., reformatory by President Taft.

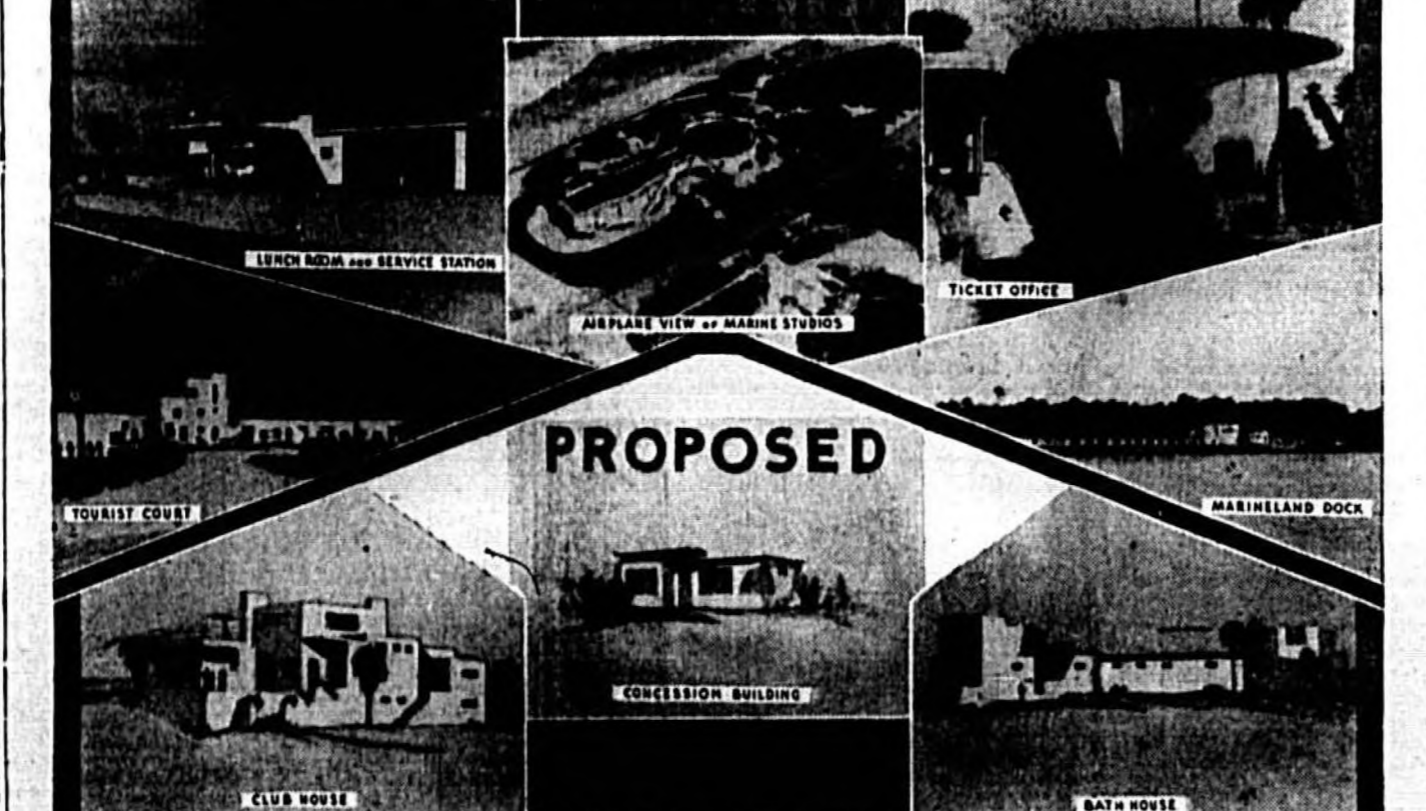

Within a year Philip Musica was rolling back with plenty of money to the high-collared, starting, along Broadway. It was those high-collared hands that brought Philip his money. He and his father formed a business hair comb and sold their product as high as $800 a pound. But their success wasn't enough; there was tampering with bill of lading and drafts on the part of young Musica.

In 1912 Philip Musica was revealed as a big-time swindler. He fled with his family. Arrested on board a vessel bound for Honduras, Musica tried suicide unsuccessfully. He got off with a suspended sentence in 1914, and sank into obscurity. In 1922, one F. Donald Coster, a hair tonic manufacturer, appeared. He bought McKesson and Robbins, Inc., made money hand over fist.

Coster's wealth pyramid, he was hailed as an executive genius. But last month Wall Street heard he was shaky. This month the company treasurer found an $18,000,000 shortage in a department Coster ruled independently. Coster's fingerprints revealed him as Philip Musica. Musica-Coster drank through the night of Dec. 15, next day shot himself to death as federal officers came for him.

"FAITH IN FLORIDA . . . TO THE TUNE OF $1,000,000!"

MARINELAND, Fla.—Faith in Florida was forcibly emphasized in this novel community this week when ground was broken for an additional hundred thousand dollar building program. During the past year over one million dollars and interests to the tune of $3,500,000.

Tragedy Follows. Suicides, riots in which more than a score of persons were killed, and murders followed in wake of French pawnshop scandals. Krueger's suicide shook several nations and the likes to investors ran into nine figures.

All but Julian and Krueger had been in trouble before. Coster-Musica was first sentenced in 1909 for bribery of customs officials; drew a suspended sentence later in connection with the "Human Hair Swindles," in which he muddled eastern banks of nearly $1,000,000 on false bills of lading for human hair importations.

3,000,000 Given Work During Fall Business Upswing

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—(AP)—Although 1938 started with a severe slump in business, jobs daily to the number of men employed, the last half year saw recovery take hold and the national working force increased by almost 3,000,000 men and women.

At the low point of the slump in May, the Conference Board, a research organization supported chiefly by large corporations, estimated 11,262,000 people were without private jobs. This was a 100 percent increase over the number only eight months earlier and lifted the jobless army to the level prevailing early in 1935.

The spirit in business that got under way during the summer, however, put millions of men back on private payrolls. Industrial activity, measured by The Associated Press seasonally adjusted index, climbed from 61 percent of the 1929-30 average in May to 94 toward the year's close, a record breaking six months rise.

Class to 15 1-2 million men and women were drawing pay checks from private employers as 1938 passed into history, compared with 42 1-2 million at the low in May, the Board estimated.

Industry accounted for practically all the improvement in employment during the last six months. Jobs provided by agriculture—roughly one-quarter of the total—showed virtually no recovery although crops generally were comparatively heavy.

The building industry chalked up the widest percentage gain over the low during the final months of 1938, employment soaring one-third.

The steady revival in this far-flung industry had an enormous indirect effect on employment generally, and contributed materially to the 18 percent advance in manufacturing jobs during
