

ROY WILLIAMS HURT IN FIGHT WITH CONVICT

Police Chief Suffers Hip Injuries When Thrown From Auto During Wild Chase

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Roy Williams, chief of police here, was injured in a fight with a convict, and his hip was broken when he was thrown from his automobile during a wild chase.

Chief of Police Roy G. Williams lies on a cot in the Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital suffering undetermined injuries to his left hip and leg, bruises, and general shock as the result of an encounter with an escaped convict in the heart of Goldboro, colored settlement west of Sanford, early this afternoon.

Interviewed shortly after he had submitted to several X-ray photographs, Chief Williams related the following account of the affair:

"I received a telephone call shortly after noon from someone at the Ford Garage, telling me that a negro was reported to them as having been seen in a Ford automobile that was stolen from them some days ago, and asking me to investigate.

"With Chief Paxton, I started out to look for the automobile, and we came across it in Goldboro, just a few blocks west of the railroad crossing in the heart of town.

"Two negro girls were riding in the Ford, with the negro between them. I ordered them all to get out of the car after I had questioned them and made sure that the car was the one reported as having been stolen.

"The girls got out and the negro made as though he was about to get out when he was shot.

"The girl who was riding in the back seat of the car was shot in the back of the head and killed.

Convict Testifies That 2 Guards Indirectly Hurlled Death Threat At Mailfert

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Testimony that the two former guards on trial for the death of Arthur Mailfert had indirectly threatened the New Jersey youth with death while punishing him for attempting to escape was given at the trial today by William Roberts, a convict.

Roberts, himself serving 45 years for robbery, said he saw Mailfert placed in the sweat box first with a barrel over his body, and again with a chain around his neck and stocks on his feet.

He quoted Solomon Higginbotham, one of the defendants, as saying that he "would rather kill Mailfert than eat." George W. Courson, the other defendant, was quoted as saying he "intended to keep Mailfert in the sweat box until Christmas if he ain't dead."

Some time after Mailfert was placed in the box, Roberts said a trusty looked in, called Courson, and said "Captain, it's done." Mrs. Mailfert, the youth's mother, wept as Roberts identified the barrel, chain, and stocks, but Courson and Higginbotham appeared unimpressed.

Possible Frost Is Predicted Tonight

MIAMI, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Predictions of a possible frost in northwest Florida tonight, and dropping temperatures through the state resulted from a cold wave that is moving East over the nation, the Weather Bureau said. Peppercorn last night had a 42 which the Bureau said is the lowest mark there in 50 years as early as Oct. 6. Tampa's minimum of 60 was eight degrees lower than Boston's. A reading of 65 is expected in Miami tonight.

COUNTY RECORDS TAX COLLECTION OF 84 PER CENT

Jenkins' Annual Report Indicates Sources Of Near-Record Sum

Seminole County again occupies a high place among the Florida counties reporting their total percentage of state and county tax collections for 1931-32, for a total of 84.09 percent of the assessment of $4.09 percent of the assessment was collected when County Tax Collector Jno. D. Jenkins closed the records on Aug. 31, 1932.

From Collector Jenkins' report, presented to the County Commissioners and accepted with congratulatory remarks on the showing made, the following explanatory statements have been taken:

"The percentage of taxes collected up to Aug. 31, 1932 on the 1931-32 tax roll, for the entire roll, was 84.09 percent.

"The percentage of state taxes collected is 83.093 percent, the assessment having been $30,271.83, and the gross collection, $25,188.90.

"The percentage of county taxes collected is 83.226 percent, the assessment having been $106,230.43, and the collection, $156,175.47.

"The difference between the two figures is due to account of the Florida East Coast Railway having paid a part of their county taxes for the General School Fund, but did not pay the state taxes.

"No. 1 Special School District shows a percentage of 79.904 percent collections, the assessment having been $71,915.50 and the gross collection $57,162.90. This is the lowest of any of the special school district collections, and is accounted for by reason of a number of large items in this district having been sold for taxes, but which will no doubt be redeemed soon. Some of the largest of these items are The First National Bank building with a valuation of $45,000, the Valdes Hotel, with a valuation of $21,500.

HOOVER HITS AT CRITICS IN 'HARD WORDS'

Denounces As Intolerable Falsehoods Reports Circulated In Mid-Western Area

ON BOARD PRESIDENTIAL SPECIAL ENROUTE TO WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—(AP)—In self-termed hard words, President Hoover yesterday denounced as "intolerable falsehoods" what he said were widespread personal misrepresentations promulgated in the Mid-West in the past few weeks.

Surrounded by a crowd that pushed and shoved toward him as he spoke over the radio from the rear platform of his special train at Fort Wayne, Ind., the President said he believed sportsmanship and statesmanship called for the elimination of harsh personalities between opponents.

The speech was the Chief Executive's first since he left Des Moines Tuesday night where he said a national victory had been achieved over economic difficulties, and declared that enactment of the "democratic program" would "end hope of recovery."

Without naming the "opponents," he said the "democratic program" would "end hope of recovery."

3 Halsey, Stuart Heads Face Criminal Charge

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Three Chicago officials of Halsey Stuart & Company, nationally known investment brokers, posted bond in Federal court yesterday for their appearance at Milwaukee for trial on charges of using the mails in fraud.

They were charged with representing falsely in literature sent by mail the value and volume of a group of properties in Washington, D. C., on which the company sought to sell $13,500,000 worth of bonds.

The officials, whose names first were revealed yesterday with the issuance of removal warrants for them, were Harold I. Swift, E. Hill Litch and Daniel Upp. U. S. District Attorney Dwight Green revealed that Charles B. Stuart, vice president, and Paul M. Strickler and Leonard L. Stanley, of New York also have been indicted on similar charges.

Coast Line Head Seen Gain In Rail Business

ATLANTA, Oct. 6.—(AP)—A report that the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad will gain in business as a result of the return of gold to the United States, increased commodity prices in the South, the return of securities, easing of credit stringency, and prospects for reduced governmental costs were cited by the railroad executive as contributing to the more hopeful outlook.

RETURN OF 'AL' IS BELIEVED AS IMPENDING

Democratic Leaders In High Spirits After Smith's Talk With Roosevelt At Meet

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—(AP)—A threat to unseat the Tammany Hall chief, and a belief in Democratic quarters that the way has been paved for "Al" Smith to take up the cudgels in Governor Roosevelt's presidential drive stood out last night as results of New York Democracy's dramatic convention.

High spirits reigned in the Roosevelt-Garner camp, as campaign leaders returned from Albany with memories of the hand-clapping scene which marked the first meeting of Smith and Roosevelt since their Chicago fight.

On the heels of their joint victory in winning the gubernatorial nomination for Herbert H. Lehman, came reports the two leaders were also of like mind in their opposition to the possible nomination of James J. Walker for the mayoralty just be relinquishing at the height of ouster proceedings.

While hope grew in the states known as Smith strongholds that the 1928 standard bearer would now agree to make some campaign speeches, Smith smiled and said nothing.

His associates indicated he would wait for Roosevelt to invite him to become an active campaigner. Various national party leaders said they anticipated Roosevelt might ask Smith to do some stumping.

Out of the tangled situation resulting from Tammany's unsuccessful fight in block Lehman's nomination, came these reports, which were neither definitely denied nor confirmed:

1. That a move was underway within Tammany ranks to replace as leader John F. Curry, who in private conferences, led the fight against Lehman's nomination.

2. That Smith was being considered by some leaders as a possible organizational candidate for mayor, if an election is ordered by the court of appeals in the decision to be handed down.

3. That Joseph V. McKee, Walker's successor and son Tammany Democrat, is growing in strength as a possible (nominal) candidate, if not nominated by the Democrats.

Supreme Court Rules That Only Names Of Major Party Nominees May Be On Ballot

Vandals Dynamite New Milk Depot

BURLINGTON, Wis., Oct. 6.—(AP)—Five men early today invaded the new $25,000 milk receiving plant of the Burlington Co-operative Milk Association, kidnapped the watchman and destroyed the building by exploding two bombs. The watchman was unhurt. The blast occurred at 1:00 o'clock this morning. The blast shattered windows within a radius of 10 blocks from the plant. The five men bound the watchman and fled with him in a car dumping him a mile outside the city where he released himself. The new plant was opened Oct. 22 by farmers supplying milk to the Chicago Pure Milk Association.

B. E. F. WILL NOT RE-ENACT MARCH TO WASHINGTON

Committee Will Carry Demands For Public Recognition Of Body

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Oct. 6.—(AP)—The bonus expeditious force yesterday voted to let a committee personally carry demands for "public recognition" to Washington, after the executive committee turned down a suggestion for another march on the capital if the demands are not met.

Gathered in a dimly-lighted warehouse, the convention went on record in favor of "immediate payment of adjusted compensation certificates."

The suggestion for another march on Washington came from the floor while the petitions on the administration were being read and was greeted with a thunderous ovation. This incident sent the executive committee back into session but after an hour's wild debate it was decided not to sponsor such a proposal.

Instead, Hoke Smith, national field officer, will head a committee of 10 to present the organization's demands to President Hoover, Vice President Curtis and Speaker Garner.

The committee will go to Washington immediately after the national convention of the organization here is closed.

In the petition to be presented at Washington was also a demand there be no legislation introduced that will reduce veterans' allowances in any way, namely, in hospitalization or rehabilitation.

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The Supreme Court today handed down a decision which Attorney General Cary Landis said prohibits any political party other than the Democratic and Republican from having names of their candidates printed on the November election ballots.

In effect, the Court held that the Florida Election Laws as amended in 1931 entitle only the nominees of political parties as recognized by law to have their names printed on the General Election ballots and that at this time only Democratic and Republican parties are so recognized.

In its brief order, the Court denied H. R. Harris, Jacksonville, a writ of mandamus ordering the Duval county commission to place his name on the ballot as the Prohibition Party candidate for county commissioner.

The Court also said the right of a voter to vote for the candidate of his choice, regardless of whether or such a candidate has been nominated by any political party within the purview of statutes is not denied. In fact, said the Court, express provision is made allowing a voter to write the name of any candidate of his choice in a blank space to be left for that purpose on the ballot.

Today's decision supercedes Attorney Landis' ruling of yesterday that the Communist, Prohibitionist, and Liberty parties in Florida should have their candidates' names printed on the ballot.

3rd Large Offering Of U.S. Certificates Ready

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The third large offering of Treasury securities made necessary by maturing debt was announced last night by Acting Secretary Ballantine.

He said the Treasury would sell $400,000,000 of 3 percent 4 1/2 year Treasury notes on Oct. 15.

The notes will be dated October 15 and the money will be used to pay about $338,492,500 of Treasury certificates of indebtedness which mature on that date and about $165,000,000 in interest payments on the public debt.

The sale of the securities was explained as having been made necessary by the continued small amount of income derived from taxes.

GARNER HURLS CRITICISM AT HOOVER'S TALK

Texas Questions Sincerity Of Promises Issued By Executive; Offers No Apologies

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—(A.P.)—John N. Garner, speaker of the House and vice presidential candidate of the Democrats, replied yesterday to President Hoover's Iowa speech with a statement in which he said "broken promises cannot be explained away."

"Offering no apologies," declared Garner, "I say with all the emphasis at my command that if we judge the promises he now makes in the light of those he has made and failed to fulfill, either his sincerity or his ability to make good his latest pledges is seriously open to question."

The speaker, whose rule of the House was ingled out for particular attack in the President's address, led a group of Democratic spokesmen in issuing criticism. In succession after he gave his written statement to newspapers, Representative Byrns, of Tennessee, Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, and others gave out through the Democratic national committee, fresh broadsides against the Hoover speech.

Garner charged the President with displaying "the inconsistency that has characterized his entire administration" in the statement that he was using his good offices to prevail upon mortgage companies not to foreclose upon homes and farms.

"The President," he said, "voted jibe measure that would have assured farmers the credit necessary to prevent foreclosure. He promised that time that it would make the government a pawnbroker, and insisted that loans be made."

Sanford Kiwanians Hear DeLand Artist At Weekly Meeting

Enjoyable vocal selections by Whitfield Latta, DeLand baritone who has appeared in many important grand opera companies as a featured soloist, headlined the program presented to Sanford Kiwanians at their luncheon meeting in the Montezuma Hotel yesterday.

Mr. Latta, opening his recital with a rendition of a leading aria from the opera "Rigoletto," was so well received that he responded to five encores. His other selections were "Danny Deever," "Hard Trials," a negro spiritual, "Invictus," the dramatic poem set to music, and "Believe Me In All These Endearing Young Charms."

Rev. Paul Ellis, presiding elder of the Episcopal churches, was a brief speaker, congratulating Sanford upon its "fine location and tremendous possibilities," and declaring that "there is a wonderful spirit of courage and optimism prevalent in Florida today."

Rev. Wm. Latta of the First Methodist Church, of DeLand, also spoke briefly, centering his remarks about the asset which a live Kiwanis Club offered to a community.

Drier To Speak Here In Interest Of Howey

The Hernando County Extension-For-Governor Club as speakers, Dr. Howey, young Florida College student, will discuss the candidacy of W. J. Howey for Governor on downtown streets Saturday night at 8:30.

He will be heard in front of the headquarters on Park Street.

Dr. Howey is considered one of the finest platform speakers in the state. Last year he was a member of the Florida College debating team that toured America, being high on its list of debaters. During the summer he appeared at various meetings on featured speakers at New York City.

He will be one of a team of two representing the United States in the debate of Florida College team at the Florida College term ending, speaking over the radio on Oct. 17.

Feds-Islanders Will Play Remainder Of Games At Daytona

League Rule On Games Tied Precludes Any Further Play Here; Lake, Hutto In Tie

By PETER SCHAAL
As far as Municipal Park is concerned, and most of the fans for that matter, the Central Florida Baseball League championship series is over, for there will be no more games played at the local field.

That is the news that came back to Sanford last night on the heels of another one of those games that have been coming, with increasing annoyance since the series began.

There will be no more games because under league rules whenever a game is rained out or tied, it must be replayed at the field where it was first played. Therefore, since the Feds tied the Islanders in three games of this series, so far, three games will be played on City Island Park in Daytona. Since the series stands two wins for each team and the final winner needs four wins to grab the pennant, there isn't a chance that we fans over here will see another game unless we go to Daytona Beach.

How this action is going to affect local fans must certainly be of interest to the players of both teams who stand to benefit by any attendance at the games. There were plenty of fans along First Street this morning who declare they are through with the whole thing, most of them unable to understand why the players want to overlook the chance of drawing large crowds here, the best baseball town in the league. Personally, it is most certainly a mistake to first announce that the series games will alternate until the series is won, and now to announce that because games have been tied that they should be replayed at Daytona Beach, rules of no rules. However the moguls have decided, so if you want any more baseball, go to Daytona Beach.

From all reports, yesterday's game was a humdinger. Buddy Lake hurled a beautiful game although he did give up 12 hits during the 12 inning 4 and 4 tie. He certainly made the miserable for Shannon, Stone, and Hutto, than whom there are few harder hitters, and with sparkling fielding, including two fast double plays and sensational outfield work by Roy Harrison, he gave a splendid account of himself in his first and probably only start in the series.

It was another mound duel, and it is the third tie game of the series. Lake and Hutto started and finished the duel, with the latter naturally having the edge since he is a veteran money player. Hutto gave up only eight hits, none for extra bases, while Lake gave up 12 hits, including three doubles and a triple.

Lake had the game won in the ninth by a 3 to 2 score only to see Walter Hunter drop an easy fly ball as the tying runs came over. Harris had doubled and Shannon hit one to Hunter who had the ball only to let it fall.

Into the extra innings went the teams with Sanford scoring in the 12th only to have the Islanders tie it up in Lionel Mobley's double and Alan Mobley's single. The former added a dramatic chapter to the tilt by collapsing in front of the dug-out after he had scored. He had been suffering with a severe cold and the strain was too much for him. Darkness was falling anyhow, so they called the game.

As said before, the sensational fielding of Roy Harrison with nine put-outs and most of them hard chances, was the feature of the game next to hurling performance of both pitchers.

LOCAL GOLFERS DEFEAT DELAND TEAM ON SUNDAY

Accepting Challenge, Sanford Team Wins By Score Of 8 to 6

With only a slight degree of trouble, the Sanford golf team which last week accepted a challenge from a group of DeLand golfers to a match at the Sanford Country Club last Sunday morning, took an 8 to 6 victory over the invaders in a series of matches that were all well played and laid the foundation for several similar affairs between representatives of the two cities.

Playing as teams of two players each, the Sanford members of the tournament lost only three of the seven team matches, while gaining enough advantage in the four victories to score an 8 to 6 victory as a whole.

Scores of the teams are as follows: Howard Faville and John Herbst defeated Todd Smith and R. E. Fuller by three points. G. W. Spencer and Jim Spencer defeated Larry Bernard and Ray Spaulding, by two points. Dr. A. W. Epps and John Ludwig defeated T. R. Nilsson and J. Doyle by one point. Joe Masters and Roy Haller lost to Eddie Gilliland and Joe Adney by one point. Boh Axt and Ralph Stewart lost to H. R. Hanrahan and Spic Stanley by two points. George G. Herring and S. D. Highlyman lost to F. A. Thompson and L. R. Truesdale by three points.

Plans are now underway for a return match to be played in DeLand next Sunday, according to Alan Stewart, pro at the Country Club. Dr. A. W. Epps was the winner of a driving contest held before the tourney, turning in a drive of 280 yards.

Mr. Stewart also announced that Pug Allen, prominent DeLand golfer who has just returned from the North, was on the links during the afternoon playing as a member of a foursome that included Mrs. Allen and two women guests. Mr. Allen reports the local course in splendid condition and declared that he will be over as often as possible, bringing about golfers with him.

Last season Mr. Allen often played the local course in company with Miss Virginia VanWier, of DeLand and Chicago who last week won the National Women's Golf Championship from Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare. Miss VanWier will soon return to Florida and will again play the local links, Mr. Allen said.

Announcement was made today by G. F. Weber, of the Sanford Bowling Alleys that the first half of the winter season's five-man team bowling tournament gets under way this week. A meeting will be held tonight at the alleys at 8:00 o'clock, and rules will be discussed as well as entries announced and pairings made, he added.

T. Boff and W. I. Tyler were winners of the two-man tournament which ended last week. They had a total pin score of 506 points. In second place came H. Witte, Sr., and Fred Bolly with 487 pins, while E. Kaeserman and L. A. Renaud finished in third place with 487 points. The latter team lost to the Witte-Bolly team in a roll-off for second place.

STETSON OPENS GRID SEASON IN DELAND FRIDAY

Star Athletes From 12 Florida Cities To Be Seen In Tilt

DELAND, Oct. 1.—Outstanding athletes from 12 Florida cities will be given an opportunity to display their mettle when John B. Stetson University's "Hatter Freshmen" line up against South Georgia College at Hulley Field here next Friday night.

While declining to predict a victory for his yearling charges who will face the opening game with less than three weeks of training at their backs, Coach H. H. McQuilian is loud-spoken in praise of his squad, which he believes to offer the best material for a winning team that has been available during the eight years that he has served as coach at the local university.

In past seasons the Stetson mentor has been forced to roam far afield in search of football talent, and Florida has had comparatively few stars to star on the powerfull Hatter machines of years past. This season sees the tables reversed. With upwards of 25 athletes out for early practice it developed that the majority hail from points within the state.

Jacksonville, with six promising candidates on the roster leads the field in point of numbers, but 11 other towns are making strong bids for recognition through the entry of stellar high school performers.

Outstanding candidates for first string positions are: Backs—Schemer, Lockett, Wanske, Jacksonville; Owens, Auburndale; Ends—Paul, Tavaras; Haddock, Jacksonville; Vincent, Pahokee; Novak, Lakewood, Ohio; Centers—Lawrence, Chapel Hill N. C.; MacCalla, Winter Haven; Guards—McFarland, Havana; McGarrach, Homestead, Tackles—Law, Eau Gallie; Ingram, Jacksonville; Martin, Newberry.

Plans are already under way which insure this event being one of the greatest celebrations that west Volusia county has ever known.

Maguire Speaks To Democrats On "Government"

greatest tribute ever paid a Democratic administration was the admission by the opposition party after an investigation, that there was not a trace of dishonesty during the Democratic regime from 1912 through 1920.

He told them of the beginning of the Republican regime which "has now lasted for some 18 years, a regime of championship of the special privileges, the rights of the classes against the rights of the masses." He touched on the glaring scandals as being only one of many illustrations of Republican misrule. He termed Herbert Hoover as "the greatest promoter of 1928," and said that "Herbert Hoover in 1928 declared that 'these days of prosperity are not just an accident but due to republican regime.' If Hoover and the Republicans claim the prosperity of 1928, we also want them to claim a lion's share of the burden of our present adversity."

"It has been 140 years since our party was established," the speaker said, "140 years since Thomas Jefferson wrote George Washington that he believed too much government in business was a bad thing." The effects of government in business were briefly told.

most, inspired confidence in government," and Woodrow Wilson, "a greater man, a greater patriot, a greater statesman this country has never produced."

"The cost of government can be reduced at least 25 percent, probably from 40 to 50 percent," he said. "When the time comes for a real reform, when we need leaders to bring us back into the right business, we have chosen almost without exception, Democrats, and this year we will choose Franklin D. Roosevelt, and Dave Sholta."

He termed Roosevelt as "the friend of the humanitarian interests for years, a leader who belonged to the masses, to the moral body that make up the moral element of America, the middle class, the best people the light of day ever shone upon."

He said that Dave Sholta is "an honest man who fulfills every pledge he makes, who understands the problems of the middle class." Concluding, Mr. Maguire said: "Better the condition of our democratic party at the head of the various departments, Democrats who believe in the rights of individuals and humanity, who believe in good government. Prosperity must be from the bottom up, not from the top. We need a new deal, a new foundation, and we want to get it through the Democratic party."

Smith Shakes Hands With Roosevelt At Albany Convention

ing to Roosevelt and again joining him in another handclasp.

The uproar continued. No motion was made to call the convention to order. The first move to do so, came at 8:30 o'clock when T. Arthur Hendricks, the state Democratic committee chairman rapped sharply with his gavel and the band played the national anthem.

Herbert H. Lehman, lieutenant governor, was nominated for governor by the convention.

After invocation by the Rev. William Springer, of Albany, Hendricks announced that Albany had yielded to New York on the roll call to allow nominations to be made.

Republican Policies Saved U. S., Hoover Tells Iowa Farmers

the moment when it was certain that these destructive measures of this Democratic controlled House were stopped. Had their program passed it would have been the end of recovery. If it ever passed it will end hope and recovery."

"Do you propose to place these men in power and subject this country to that sort of measures and policies? It is by their acts of Congress and their leadership that you shall know them."

Earlier in his address, the Chief Executive recounted that he described as efforts of the administration against depression economic forces, and declared "a great national victory has been achieved."

Speaking of the drive to maintain the United States on a gold basis, he said: "We won this great battle to protect our people and home. We held the Gibraltar of world stability. The world today has a chance. It is growing in strength. Let that man who complains that things could not be worse thank God for this victory and make reverent acknowledgement of the courage and stamina of a great Democracy."

In pulling what he called the policies of the Republican party, the President listed the following 12 points:

1. Maintenance and possible elevation of the protective tariff on farm products as "the very basis of safety to American agriculture."

2. Revision of the agricultural marketing act, including repeal of the stabilization clause.

3. Creation of a program for the re-organization of agriculture so as to divert lands from unprofitable to profitable use and to avoid the cultivation of lands the chief return of which is the power-

4. Spending of the money of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway "a fundamental relief to agriculture by means of transportation."

5. Legislation to the effect that farm loans totaling $100,000,000 be made available for the purpose of making a conference of farm agents to be called "as soon as a national election is out of the way."

6. Restoration of normal terms credit to agriculture through the Federal Reserve system.

7. Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the interdependent credit and the 10 new agricultural corporations.

8. Use of Reconstruction Corporation funds to "make available for sales of farm products in new markets abroad."

9. A recommendation to the next Congress for further organization of the Federal Reserve banks, to enable them to operate in the refinancing of farm mortgages.

10. Promotion of world peace through disarmament and maintained peace as a factor in the recovery, and expansion of agricultural markets.

11. Opposition to cancellation of war debts, but the recommendation that such cancellation for the foreign debt be made on the specific purpose of increasing an expansion of the foreign markets for American agricultural products.

12. An effort to prevent the "process of deflation" in connection with farm prices, to bring things back to their real value.

The huge hall, with a capacity of nearly 10,000 seats, was virtually filled half an hour before the President arrived.

He told them of the beginning of the Republican regime which "has now lasted for some 18 years, a regime of championship of the special privileges, the rights of the classes against the rights of the masses." He touched on the glaring scandals as being only one of many illustrations of Republican misrule. He termed Herbert Hoover as "the greatest promoter of 1928," and said that "Herbert Hoover in 1928 declared that 'these days of prosperity are not just an accident but due to republican regime.' If Hoover and the Republicans claim the prosperity of 1928, we also want them to claim a lion's share of the burden of our present adversity."

"It has been 140 years since our party was established," the speaker said, "140 years since Thomas Jefferson wrote George Washington that he believed too much government in business was a bad thing." The effects of government in business were briefly told.

He declared that the Democratic party in its 80 years tenure of office has produced more able men than all the parties in American legislative ability," he said, "and despite its mistakes, has contributed more to humanity than any other party in the country." He named as five outstanding Democrats, Thomas Jefferson, James who served honorably, Madison, whose great wisdom is reflected in the Constitution, Andrew Jackson, who set the "Hick" Greenback party, and believing in integrity in campaign song, the two spokes. "Four years ago," Smith said in beginning, "we were told that the Republicans had some kind of a patent on prosperity."

"We have the very promises of nothing to eat but chicken, every laborer was to go to work in an automobile and was to wear silk socks."

"The Republicans said they were the party of integrity, the party of ability and the party of intelligence."

"The present president was held up as the great example of ability, a great engineer."

"And now what happened?"

"It must have been apparent that the collapse was due. They had advanced information. What did they do? They ducked and dodged it. They relied on divine providence to cure it."

"Mr. Borah rushed down to Washington—he's offering no advice this year—and he induced them to call a special session."

"The boys met in special session the farmer? Nothing. But they slon and what did they do as for couldn't resist taking another little bang at the tariff."

"And that tariff closed the foreign markets to us and stifled our commerce."

Smith spoke slowly and with emphasis, gesturing frequently with his right fist, forgoing the manuscript of his own speech while Smith spoke.

Smith said the President had called frequent conferences to discuss relief but that nothing had come of them, off continued his vigorous attack on the Republican administration.

"And I'm thing of that death-bed confession on prohibition," he added.

Smith stopped talking, looked toward the side of the stage.

"Hey, young fellow, on that called Al to misrepresent operators near the platform making copies of his extemporaneous speech."

The "Tourist" Season Begins

Information from the East Coast is to the effect that the annual pilgrimage of vagrants and hitch-hikers from every part of the country to the comfortable climate of south Florida is already under way.

Due to the peculiar location and formation of Florida, and the lack of any unified plan for dealing with the situation, a great deal of unnecessary expense and lost motion is encountered in the efforts of individual communities to cope with the situation.

Thus they make their way southward, until at the jumping off place of the peninsula, they have no further way to go. There they congregate in great numbers until the southernmost counties, overwhelmed by vagrants, some of whom are desperate criminals, are forced to unload them on the counties to the north.

In this way the hoboes are given a free ride through each county, and in many instances a free meal along with it. And all this, after having been helped in every way possible to get down there.

From the standpoint of cold-blooded business economics, it would be cheaper to maintain a border patrol to forbid entrance to all those unable to pay their way, or for the border counties to assume this duty on their own account of keeping hoboes out of the state.

And if we were an unemployed man, beating the pavements of New York or some other northern city, looking vainly for a job, sleeping on cold park benches, with the only fruits and vegetables in sight securely protected by plate glass windows, we would like to see someone keep us out of Florida where at least the nights are warm and the days offer every opportunity of finding nourishment, even in the form of coconut milk.

"Lame Duck" Sessions

Antiquated machinery of government too frequently creates a period of uncertainty following any national election. The presidential race, for instance, is settled in November, but the president does not take over the duties of his office until the following March.

This will be particularly true during the approaching Congressional meeting. In the primary elections which have already been held throughout the country, twenty-nine Democrats and forty-two Republicans of the recent House have failed to be re-nominated.

The situation is hardly less serious in the Senate where such well known figures as Senators Brookhart of Iowa, Blaine of Wisconsin, Shortridge of California, Broussard of Louisiana, and Morrison of North Carolina, have failed to secure the nomination of their party.

It can be readily seen that a sufficient number of re-nominated representatives will appear in the next Congress to have a vital effect on proposed legislation. A man may, because his policies have been turned down by his constituencies, sulk in his tent and do nothing while Congress is in session, creating a period of stagnation in government.

It is very evident that the continuation of these "lame duck" sessions is both unnecessary and detrimental to the best interests of the country. They could easily be avoided by simply having the newly elected Congressman take office immediately following his election. This, it seems to us, should be done.

INVESTIGATING

Republicans have been busy for another four years or so, contesting a Republican administration and a Democratic Congress.

Richard Washburn Child, former ambassador to Italy, stated this as the second most important of the reasons for his decision to abandon the Republican party and lead the Republicans for Roosevelt's league.

The application of this same principle to state government and the November election in Florida is obvious, as to legislative deadlocks with executive branch, but there is an even greater danger in such a situation.

The governor of Florida has the power to appoint the judges of our circuit courts, our criminal courts of record and other members of the state's judiciary. The choice of the voters is merely advisory. A Democratic governor visits naturally follows the expressed will of the people in such appointments.

He could do the same in appointing our state attorneys and our county solicitors, sweeping aside the deliberate verdict of the people and placing the prosecution of law violations as well as the judgment of our courts in

Convict Testifies Guards Indirectly Made Death Threat

Mallefert died of strangulation apparently from a chain, Dr. R. R. Killinger, county medical examiner, testified yesterday.

An autopsy, the examiner said, showed there was a lack of food and in Dr. Killinger's opinion Mallefert had eaten nothing for at least 12 hours.

Because of strenuous activity and lack of food the state claims Mallefert was too weak to stand upright for long and thus was hanged.

The defense has claimed Mallefert committed suicide because of his inability to escape and that he had said he preferred death to imprisonment.

Dr. Killinger's testimony proceeded over a barrage of objections from Fuller Warren and C. A. Arvielt, defense counsel.

On cross-examination the physician was asked if it were not possible for Mallefert to have strangled himself in a suicidal attempt.

"There is virtually no such thing as self strangulation," replied the medical man. "When able to aid one's self the desire to breathe is too great."

Then, attacking the doctor's testimony about lack of food, Warren asked: "Gandhi and MacSweeney went for weeks without food, didn't they? So isn't it possible for a young, athletic man to go long without food?"

"Starvation didn't cause the death," Killinger said. "As the testimony proceeded, Mr. J. M. Mallefert, the youth's mother and his brother sat leaning tensely forward to catch every word."

Course likewise was attentive but Higginbotham sat slumped forward apparently staring at the ceiling.

Film Featuring Stars Is At Milane Tonight

The role of Luana in "Bird of Paradise" can't be expected to repeat its old trick of shooting its leading woman up to a new high in the Hollywood firmament, for the talking film version, which RKO-Radio now presents, has Dolores Del Rio as the heroine, and Dolores is not exactly strange to fame. But if an unknown actress were playing the part, it would be a pretty safe bet, judging from the past record of the romantic romance, that the unknown would find in the sympathetic role of Luana her first big opportunity and the beginning of a stellar career.

Miss Dorothy Stewart. Marigolds, yellow elder, and other flowers were used to adorn the rooms where the guests were entertained. The tables from which refreshments were served were overlaid with green cloths, and other appointments were also in green.

A look at the "name" actresses who first achieved renown while playing Luana will convince the doubter. Anyone who knows the difference between balcony and orchestra knows the name of Laurette Taylor. Miss Taylor was known as "a comer" when she was awarded the part in "Bird of Paradise" which Miss Del Rio now plays. When she had played the role for the New York run of the famous Richard Walton Tully's opus, she was one of America's best known actresses. Lenore Ulric had her big chance as Luana. Carlotta Monterey, now the wife of Eugene O'Neill, had the part of the native Hawaiian girl, too. So did Basia Barriscale, noted British actress. It seemed to be a role that had a quality of endowing an actress with a tremendous appeal at the same time that it brought out her greatest histrionic ability.

SANFORD WOMAN'S CLUB OPENS NEW YEAR WITH LUNCHEON WEDNESDAY

After a summer of comparative inactivity, the Sanford Woman's Club opened its Fall season with a general business meeting and luncheon held yesterday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock at the club house on Oak Avenue with Mrs. A. M. Phillips and Mrs. Arthur Branan as hostesses. Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Branan were assisted by Mrs. S. D. Higleyman. Receiving the guests at the door were Mrs. Ralph Austin Smith, the new club president, Mrs. W. Theodore Langley, retiring president, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Branan, and Mrs. Higleyman.

During the meeting talks were made by Mrs. Langley and Mrs. Henry Wight while Mrs. H. M. Papworth, and Mrs. Branan gave committee reports. It was decided that the club will sponsor lessons in Spanish and a movement for a Girl's Scout organization as a part of its year's work. Definite arrangements for these projects will be decided upon at the next meeting.

Mrs. R. A. Smith presided over the meeting and minutes of the preceding meeting were read by Mrs. James Huff, recording secretary. Mrs. Papworth, as chairman of the financial committee, announced that he committee will have attractive hand-tinted greeting cards on sale during the fall and winter season.

As chairman of the program committee, Mrs. Branan distributed the new club year book. Interesting and enthusiastic reports and remarks were given by other officers and chairman of departments concerning their programs of activities.

In her talk, Mrs. Langley, as past president, spoke briefly of another club year and of the principles and spirit so necessary to a live club. Mrs. Henry Wight then spoke on the convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs held at Seattle, Wash. in June. She stated that she had met, personally, during her summer travel, Miss Grace Morrison Pock, the newly-elected president of the general Federation. She then read an article written by Mrs. Meade A. Love, president of the Florida Federation, who represented Florida at the Seattle convention.

Mrs. Smith announced that she had been appointed by S. O. YOWELL - DREW'S 38th
ANNIVERSARY SALE

Starting Saturday, October 8th, 9 A. M.
Closing Saturday, October 15, 9 P. M.

CASH ONLY
No Charges - No Exchanges - No Refunds
All Sales Final

"Cold Cash" is of vital importance in government circles; it is essential to manufacturers; stores need cash and so do individuals. Manufacturers ask for quick payment of bills instead of the usual terms and merchants are faced with poor collections on charge accounts. Yowell-Drew stocks are too heavy and the amount of money tied up in charge accounts too extensive. WE MUST HAVE CASH to pay our bills. Sacrificing thousands of dollars of profit on quality merchandise, Yowell-Drew announce this Cash Sale for the purpose of raising money quickly. We offer Anniversary Sale values the like of which Central Florida shoppers have seldom seen and may never see again. For 38 years Yowell-Drew's have progressed with Florida through good times and bad by fair dealing, honest values, good qualities. We are determined to keep forging ahead with every ounce of energy, ingenuity and skill at our command. Come, share and save in the greatest value-giving event of the year.

denly started the car, which was in gear. I quickly jumped on to the running board and tried to make him stop the car. Once I turned off the switch, but he turned it on again. Once I had him around the neck with one arm while steering with the other.

"The car meantime was speeding down Thirteenth Street toward French Avenue. It swung from side to side as we fought for the wheel. Once we barely missed a store building and a tree. We nearly ran into a crowd of people who were trying to dodge us.

"I finally pulled out my gun and fired once through the floor of the car. A second later we had crashed into the stone bridge on Thirteenth Street near the Hill Lumber Co. plant.

"I was thrown from the car on my left side. The negro was thrown from the other side of the car. Somehow, the pistol went out of the car along with the negro and it fell within a few feet of him.

"As I lay on the ground, trying to rise but unable to do so because my left side was paralyzed, I told the negro not to touch the gun or I would shoot him. I didn't have another gun, however, and he could have shot me easily. He was reaching closer to the gun.

"By this time a big crowd appeared. I told some negroes to pick up the gun and give it to me, but they seemed afraid of the other negro. I saw he was hurt. Someone asked me for my billy, to beat up the negro I guess, and others wanted to shoot him, but I told them not to do it. The next thing I remember was seeing the ambulance which brought me here.

The negro gave his name as Robert Howard. He said he spent 1925 and 1926 in Raiford penitentiary, and that he came to Sanford yesterday. He, too, was suffering from shock and injuries which were not determined when The Herald went to press.

The negro girls are being held in the County Jail, although Chief Williams told Sheriff J. F. McClendon, who assumed charge of the case, that they had nothing to do with the stolen car, and had obeyed his order to get out of the car.

STARKE Recently completed garage of W. A. Stern on South Walnut Street opened for business.

PANAMA CITY Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Caswell opened filling station on Gulf Coast Highway.

Felder, Mrs. Frank M. Marler, Mrs. J. T. Newby, Mrs. H. W. Rucker, Mrs. Warren Patrick, and guest, Miss Watenen, and Dr. Elizabeth Tracy.

GATORS APPEAR SLOW AGAINST SEWANEH PLAYS

Southern Eleven Get Ready For Strong Games On Saturday
GAINESVILLE, Oct. 5.—Inability to cope with the Sewaneh attack proved a stumbling block for the Gators yesterday afternoon as they took the defense against the B squad in a scrimmage which lasted until darkness. The Sewaneh, equipped with Sewaneh plays, were on the offensive throughout the session and as the day closed Member Backman expressed himself as being disappointed with the manner in which the players conducted themselves. The varsity linemen were charging through slowly, and repeatedly the Sewaneh pushed through the line on power plays for three and four yards at a clip, or dished around the flanks for short but constant gains. It was only on the regular passing game that the Gators exhibited any aptitude at all, rendering Sewaneh's aerials, as executed by the B squad, ineffective.
