'Who Asked Us If We Wanted This?'

Residents Rake Authority On Expressway Plans

By Kathy Tyrity
Herald Staff Writer

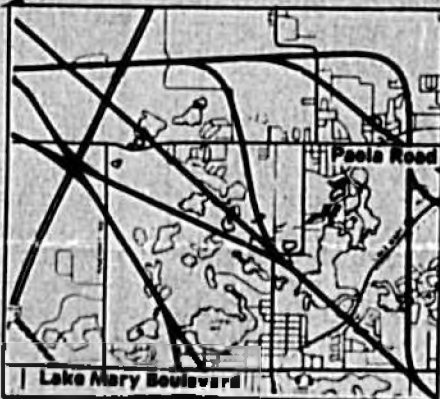

More than four hundred residents of the Idyllwilde area, including Ravenna Park, Loch Arbor, the Oaks and Country Place, implored the Seminole County Expressway Authority Tuesday to consider a more easterly route for the planned beltway than any yet proposed. And they grilled Authority member Bill Kirchhoff on getting a method for a county-wide referendum on the issue.

"Who asked us if we wanted this expressway?" echoed comment after comment. But when Kirchhoff was pointed out in the audience and asked about the possibility of a referendum, silence fell. He was mum.

"What would the mechanics of a referendum be?" asked Dave Fall of Ravenna Park.

"Speak up, Bill," several others said when no answer was forthcoming. Kirchhoff told organizer Peggy Mergo he was there simply to observe.

Mike Gray, a Sanford attorney and resident of the area, was also present and was asked by some residents to look into the question of a referendum. Gerald Brinton, executive director of the Expressway Authority, said he didn't know what the process would be.

Another fiery presentation came from a Sanford Police lieutenant who said the expressway would cut off major roads and divide the city into north and south.

Lt. William L. Bernosky said he (police) wouldn't be able to get to many homes as easily, and some perhaps not at all.

"Why rape a major municipality?" he asked. "These consultants may tell us we want an expressway, but nobody sure as Hell asked me if I want it," he said. Police Chief Steve Harriett said today, however, he had no knowledge that Bernosky was going to appear at the meeting, and added: "I have not been consulted," as to the impact on police services. Harriett said as far as he knows, Bernosky was there as a private citizen who resides in the area.

After Bernosky's comments, the audience burst into one of many rounds of applause.

When asked for a show of hands as to how many people oppose the expressway going through Sanford at all, every hand went up except the consultants' and those making the presentation.

"Why have a city being raped by an absolutely 'South' and absolutely 'North' section?" Bernosky asked. "How can in-

Single Gunshot Wound Killed Seminole Man

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

A Southeast Seminole County man found dead in his apartment early Monday was killed by a single gunshot wound to the head, according to the findings of a Tuesday autopsy performed in Sanford.

Herbert Maurice Meisner, 52, of apartment 802, Seminole North Apartments, 9575 S.W. Road 438, Winter Park, died Saturday in the bedroom of his home. He lived for sometime after having been shot, according to Seminole County sheriff's investigator Ralph Salerno. Meisner was last seen alive Saturday morning, Salerno said.

Salerno said after Seminole County firefighters, who returned to Meisner's home at about 9:30 a.m. Monday after an initial visit about 24 hours earlier, found his body, it was apparent from its condition Meisner had lived for a time after having been injured.

On both visits to the apartment firefighters reported fumes from flammable liquids inside the home. On the second trip, sheriff's Capt. Roy Hughey said, the firefighters also found that a small fire had been set and apparently burned itself out in the livingroom, where carpet was scorched. Meisner's body, partially hidden by a blanket, was found by firefighters on that second visit to the home, where he lived alone.

Before the autopsy, Salerno said, he couldn't say what caused the bruising, swelling and coagulation of blood that had formed within Meisner's face. He had also exhaled blood. The autopsy, performed at Central Florida Regional Hospital, established that the gunshot caused those injuries. At first, Salerno said, he thought Meisner, who had lived long enough after the shooting to inhale fumes in the

Court Limits Privacy Rights Of Public Workers

From Staff And Wire Reports

A Supreme Court ruling limiting the privacy rights of public employees suspected of misconduct indicates the court would look unfavorably on random drug testing, legal experts say.

The high court ruled Tuesday that government employees have some rights that employers may search file cabinets or even desks when there is reason to suspect wrongdoing.

The city of Sanford plans to establish a policy of employee drug testing, but it is not expected to include any random testing.

Fran Diedrich, the city's personnel officer, said the drug testing program has received the approval of the city attorney and is ready to be considered anytime by the city commission.

That program calls for the testing of all employees to be and the testing supervisors believe there is reasonable suspicion an employee is abusing a drug, Ms. Diedrich said.

Reasonable suspicion, she said, would be among many things the witnessing of drug possession, impaired motor skills or slurred speech.

The high court's decision, which for the first time sets a standard for searches by public employers, could influence the debate about drug testing of government workers, which opponents have charged violates the Fourth Amendment ban against unreasonable searches and

Under the standards announced by Justice Sandra Day O'Connor, an employer need not have probable cause or a warrant to conduct a search — such as the ones required of police looking for criminal evidence — but merely "reasonable grounds for suspecting that the search will turn up evidence that the employee is guilty of misconduct."

Searches also are appropriate, the court said, "for non-investigatory work-related purposes such as to retrieve a needed file." The court employers could not rummage through purses or worker's other personal belongings.

In a footnote, O'Connor said the Airport Concerned About Role In Sanford Wastewater Program

Sanford airport is the heart of a proposed effluent treatment plan Sanford is considering to meet demands by the state that it stop dumping treated effluent into Lake Monroe.

The proposed plan was presented to the Sanford Airport Authority Tuesday during a luncheon workshop meeting at the airport. The same plan is scheduled to be presented to the city commission Monday afternoon during a dinner workshop session starting at 4:30 p.m.

Sanford has been seeking ways to meet the Department of Environmental Regulations' March 1989 deadline since the site it had hope to purchase, Yankee Lake, was sold to the county in late 1985 for a similar purpose. That sent the city scrambling for alternative sites and two have emerged, one being the airport along with other city-owned land and the second site, 2,200 acres of private property near Lake Jesup. While negotiations are being conducted on the price of the Lake Jesup land, the city is refining plans to spray treated effluent on city property.

Frank Faison, Sanford City Manager, told the authority that the city has to proceed as though the plan including the airport is the only plan the city can follow to meet its 4-million-gallons-a-day treatment problems. He said the purchasing of other properties for spray disposal should be considered long-term solutions. He said such a purchase could also interfere with Sanford's funding of the city-property plan.

If the city could change its treatment method and then spray the treated effluent, or "gray water," on city parks, Mayfair golf course and the airport, it could just meet DER's requirements, said Bill Simmons, Engineering and Planning Director. Even with the new

Zoo Turns Table On April Foolery

NEW YORK (UPI) — It's April Fool's Day, and the Bronx Zoo says if it has to be at the mercy of pranksters, it might as well make some money.

This year, when callers dial the zoo and ask for Mr. L.E. Funt, or Sally Mander, they will be switched to a group of volunteers.

When a prankster calls up and asks for Mr. G. Raff, for example, the volunteer will say something like, "Mr. Raff is being fed right now, but you have reached the Bronx Zoo." Zoo official Louann Brewer said, "Then they ask the caller for a donation."

Chilly Task

Members of the Sanford fire department climb into Mill Creek Tuesday to look for a 4-year-old boy who disappeared into the creek's flood waters Monday. Missing and believed drowned is Daniel Bradshaw Jr., son of Inez Paige of 29 William Clark Court.

Several dozen searchers braved cold temperatures and continued the hunt for Bradshaw today and dragging of Lake Monroe began. The boy fell in while trying to hop across a 4-foot section of creek, which flows into Lake Monroe.

Baby M Now Melissa Stern

HACKENSACK, N.J. (UPI) — Baby M has a new name and a new mother today under a judge's landmark ruling that upheld the legality of surrogate parenting and rebuked the woman who tried to reclaim the child she bore under contract.

In a decision that will be appealed, Bergen County Superior Court Judge Harvey Sorkow on Tuesday stripped surrogate mother Mary Beth Whitehead of all parental rights to Baby M — including visitation — and awarded custody to the biological father, William Stern.

Stern's wife Elizabeth then adopted the baby in the judge's chambers after his 121-page decision was read. The couple legally named the year-old girl Melissa, and said they were eager to begin raising her — out of public view.

"This is the happiest day of my life," a tearful William Stern said. "I'm so happy. Betsey, you're a mother now."

Elizabeth Stern, a pediatrician who testified she feared becoming pregnant because of her multiple sclerosis, said the legal battle left her feeling sorry for Whitehead, who she and her husband hired to bear a child for $10,000.

"I have empathy for her," Stern said. "She gave us a beautiful daughter."

Whitehead had no immediate comment, remaining secluded in her Brick Township, N.J., home after what may have been her last visit with Baby M just 90 minutes before the ruling. She is expected to hold a news conference Thursday.

Whitehead's lawyers filed a notice of appeal and asked the Appellate Division of Superior Court to reverse Sorkow's decision to cancel the twice-weekly visits with Baby M that Whitehead has enjoyed since September.

Sorkow's decision, even if upheld by the New Jersey Supreme Court, is not binding outside the state. But it is potentially influential because he is the first judge to make the Solomon-like choice between a surrogate mother and the couple who hired her.

The judge ruled on two questions — the surrogate contract and custody. He decided Whitehead "renewed" on the contract, which he said was protected by the Constitution and did not violate state laws that prohibit baby selling.

In deciding the contract issue, Sorkow also "explicitly rejected the concept that adoption and surrogate parenting are the same type of situation," eliminating Whitehead's argument that New Jersey adoption law allowed her to

POLICE

IN BRIEF

After Hours For The Beer Sale, So He Takes It Away For Free

Jeff Offenberger, 30, a clerk at The Little Food Town, 710 Lake Mary Boulevard, Sanford, reported to police that on Sunday at about 3:40 a.m. a man entered the store, went back to the beer cooler and picked up a 24-can carton of Busch beer and brought it to the counter. Offenberger said he told the man that he was not permitted to sell the beer to him because it was after 2 a.m. but the man picked up the beer carton and walked out of the store without paying for it, according to a police report.

Disorderly, And Has A Knife

A man arrested on a disorderly intoxication charge after allegedly yelling at and cursing employees and customers at Winn-Dixie, First Street, Sanford, at about 6:30 p.m. was also charged with carrying a concealed weapon after Sanford police reportedly found a knife in his pants pocket.

Houston Lett, 45, of no specified address, has been charged in the case and was being held in lieu of $100 bond.

Burglaries And Thefts Reported

A homemade trailer loaded with five sheets of plywood and other wood supplies was stolen from K-n-D Trailer Manufacturing, 2901 E. Celery Ave., Sanford, between Saturday and Monday. A sheriff's report said owner Kenneth F. Ireland, of Geneva, valued the trailer at $900 and said the other items have a combined value of about $460.

Alan D. Kelling, 33, of 134 Teriwood Court, Winter Park, reported to sheriff's deputies that a .22-caliber handgun valued at $200 and $200 in change were stolen from his home Monday.

Sheriff's deputies have names of possible suspects in the theft of $594 from the till at Majic Market, 5555 Red Bug Lake Road, Casselberry. A security agent for that company reported that the account of that store shows the cash disappeared between March 19 and 23. The loss was reported to sheriff's deputies Monday.

Two computer keyboards, a disc drive and a gasoline can with a combined value of $1,620, were stolen from a portable classroom at Spring Lake Elementary School, 695 Orange Ave., Altamonte Springs, between March 25 and Monday, a sheriff's report said.

Gloria T. Jacobsen, 62, of 290 Lake Seminary Circle, Maitland, reported to sheriff's deputies that a $1,835 generator was stolen from a storage shed at her home between Feb. 1 and Monday.

A Pontiac Catalina valued at $600 was taken from the parking lot of The Western Sizzler Steak House, 2900 Orlando Drive, Sanford, on Saturday between 4 p.m. and around midnight. William Sweeney, 44, of Deltona, the car's owner, told police.

St. James AME Church, 819 Cypress Ave., Sanford, was broken into sometime between Friday evening and early Saturday and a wet/dry vacuum valued at $200 was taken, Robert Epps, 71, the church caretaker, told police. Entry was gained by breaking the lock of the south basement door, a police report said.

Seminole Gives $304,000 To Schools For Sites Work

The Seminole County Commission Tuesday approved giving the school board $304,000 from an obsolete Voluntary School Impact Fee Fund to improve the sites and parking for Lake Mary Elementary School, Midway Elementary and Red Bug Elementary.

The fund will have $286,000 left in it, and the county commission will hold a workshop in May to look at other school projects for its use. The state has declared that counties can't collect such fees in the future, and the school board is now considering enacting its own mandatory impact fee schedule for schools.

Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff made the stipulation on the approval that serious consideration be made to giving Midway Elementary an access of State Road 46, and the motion for approval passed unanimously.

The commission also went forward with its $45 million revenue bonds for water and sewer. Bids were approved, and the interest rate was set at 7.4 percent. All the commissioners except Barbara Christensen agreed now is the time to proceed with the bids. Mrs. Christensen thought interest rates may improve if the commission waited.

In other action, the commission authorized the county administrator to negotiate for a sewer service agreement and/or acquisition of Lake Monroe Utilities. Those customers have requested sewer capacity from the Seminole County Northwest Regional Facility.

Fireworks Found In Car, Three Arrested

Three Altamonte Springs men who were in a car loaded with fireworks have been charged with possession of fireworks.

The three attracted the attention of Seminole County sheriff's deputy Brent Davison when he was investigating a report of harassing phone calls and a packet of firecrackers having been thrown at a home at 244

Nob Hill, Altamonte Springs. Davison pursued the suspects' car, because it was traveling slightly past that home at about 3:40 a.m. Tuesday as Davison was taking a report on the complaint about the phone calls and the fireworks toss, which had occurred a short time earlier.

Davison stopped the suspects at a convenience store on Sand Lake Road, near State Road 434. The suspects were searched and their car searched for weapons. Under the passenger seat of the car Davison reported finding a packet of fireworks. In a rear area of the car he reported finding a bag containing three pounds of fireworks.

The three occupants of the car were arrested. Released on $500 bond each to appear in court April 8 were: Adrian R. Rodriguez, 21, and Robert Wayne Price, 20, both of 643 Lemonwood Court, and Eric William Buckley, 18, of 509 Boxelder Ave.

Highway Bill Showdown Set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House, with most Republicans abandoning President Reagan in overriding his veto of an $88 billion highway bill, set the stage for a Senate showdown today that both sides said was too close to call.

The Senate planned to vote on whether to override Reagan's veto after two hours of debate on the legislation that includes a provision allowing states to raise the speed limit on rural interstates to 65 mph.

The Senate was left to decide whether the five-year, $88 billion highway and mass transit bill would become law over Reagan's objections after the House voted 350-73 Tuesday to override his veto — far more than the two-thirds majority needed.

Of the 177 House Republicans, 102 voted against the president, including House Republican leader Robert Michel of Illinois and the rest of the party's leadership. Rep. Norman Sisisky of Virginia was the only Democrat to break party ranks and side with Reagan.

Central Florida congressmen voted along party lines with Democrats Bill Chappell and Bill Nelson voting for the override and Republican Bill McCollum voting against. McCollum voted for the highway bill but said he felt he needed to support President Reagan's veto. McCollum also said Tuesday that he supported the provision in the bill for an exit on Interstate 4 at State Road 46A in Seminole County.

Senate Republican leader Robert Dole of Kansas, who postponed a vote Tuesday because two Republican members were absent, said the vote was "too close to call." Senate Democratic leader Robert Byrd of West Virginia agreed.

"It'll be close," Byrd said. Both Dole and Byrd declined to predict the outcome, but Senate sources indicated each side was one or two votes short, with perhaps four senators still undecided or uncommitted. If all 100 members vote, 67 votes are needed to override Reagan's veto.

White House chief of staff Howard Baker said during a visit to Congress Tuesday he was "guardedly optimistic" the Senate would side with Reagan.

The president and his supporters regard the vote to override his veto as a test of his emergence from the Iran-Contra scandal, but some congressional leaders accused him of simply picking an unnecessary fight with Congress.

Tuesday, Byrd criticized Reagan's action, saying, "Government by veto is not leadership. It's confrontation. 'What we have here ... is the White House attempting to show the president is back, rehabilitated by vetoing a very important bill,'" he said. "How many jobs do we have to lose before the president is rehabilitated?"

Supporters of the highway bill warned 800,000 jobs and the entire summer construction season would be lost if Congress did not override Reagan's veto, and they disputed Reagan's claim the measure was a "budget buster."

The legislation, bogged down since October when the old highway program expired, was written to allow states to raise the 55 mph speed limit to 65 mph on rural stretches of interstates — about 70 percent of the nation's 42,500-mile interstate highway system.

Reagan favored the speed limit provision but opposed financing for 152 local road and bridge projects in the bill and said its $18 billion for mass transit projects was too much.

House Speaker Jim Wright, D-Texas, said Tuesday's vote to override was "a very gratifying victory" and praised Republicans who abandoned the president for standing up to "the blandishments and pressure from the White House."

Baker, who attended a luncheon with GOP senators while the House debated the highway measure, said Reagan had a lot more invested in the battle to sustain his veto than his presidential prestige.

"He, in effect, has drawn a line in the sand and said, 'This far and no further' because if you don't veto this $88 billion bill where do you draw the line? That's not picking a fight with Congress, that's reserving the presidential prerogative to try to restrain America's spending," Baker said.

Baby M Ruling Met With Joy, Outrage

A court decision awarding Baby M to her father elated advocates of surrogate motherhood, enraged feminists who said it paves the way for exploitation of poor women by the rich and prompted calls for laws on surrogate parenting.

The ruling Tuesday upheld a $107,000 contract in which Mary Beth Whitehead agreed to bear a child for William and Elizabeth Stern. The Sterns were awarded custody of Baby M, the 1-year-old girl they named Melissa, and Whitehead was denied visitation rights.

There have been some 600 surrogate parenting arrangements in this country since 1979, but Whitehead was the first woman taken to trial for trying to break her contract.

Bruce Rappaport, head of the Center for Alternative Reproduction in San Francisco, rejoiced in Tuesday's decision.

"We are going full steam ahead, matching the very special young women who can do this, who give this special gift, with couples who want the extraordinary joy of raising a child," he said.

Noel Keane, the Michigan lawyer who arranged the contract between Whitehead and the Sterns, called the decision by Bergen County Superior Court Judge Harvey Sorkow in Hackensack, N.J., "a milestone."

"The fact that it was not declared an illegal arrangement makes many people feel very good — especially those at home with a child. They must have been thinking, 'What do I tell my child if this turns out illegal,'" said Keane.

But women's rights advocate Betty Friedan said the decision could lead to the creation "of a breeder class" of women.

Lillian Rubin, a psychologist and feminist in El Cerrito, Calif., called the decision "outrageous."

Tour To Offer Horticulture Tips

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

An educational tour of Gateway Gardens on Geneva Road for those involved in the horticulture industry, or just interested in it, will be held April 7. The tour was organized by Seminole County Cooperative Extension Agent Uday K. Yadav and is sponsored by the Florida Cooperative Extension Service of Seminole, Orange, Osceola and Lake Counties.

There is no charge for the tour, which is intended for growers of woody ornamentals and nursery managers and landscapers, but anyone interested in the nursery business is welcome, Yadav said. Pre-registration is required. Yadav suggests those attending plan to carpool, dress casually and wear comfortable shoes for walking.

The objective of the tour is to introduce innovative and practical ideas used successfully in a field production nursery. The adoption of new ideas, innovative approaches and workable solutions to production and marketing problems are important for continued success in the nursery business, Yadav said.

Gateway Gardens, located at

State Road 426 and Oklahoma Street east of downtown Oviedo, is owned by Charles H. "Chazz" Cox. Cox started in the nursery business in 1957, after graduating from the University of Florida with a degree in agriculture.

The name, Gateway Gardens, dates back to the garden center by that name that Cox opened at the "Gateway to Orlando" on Orange Avenue. In 1961, after an increase in the landscaping part of the business, and because he was unable to buy quality landscape materials locally, Cox decided to buy 20 acres in Oviedo to grow his own landscape plants.

In 1983 the landscape business outgrew the garden center so much that he closed the shop and moved the business full-time to Oviedo. Over the years, Cox continued to expand until he gained 70 acres contiguous to each other. Over the next 10 years, Gateway Gardens continued to acquire what land they could and today totals 150 acres, 135 in production.

Yudav said Cox's philosophy when he decided to become a grower was to grow quality trees in specimen sizes and large container material in four gallon size. This is still Gateway Gardens' philosophy.

Over the years, Gateway Gardens has been instrumental in introducing and experimenting with new plants and trees that its managers thought might grow well in Central Florida. Yudav said they have been successful with Ulmus parvifolia, Pyrus kawakami, Liquidambar orientalis and Tabebuia avellanae in the tree line. In the container material they are known for their many varieties of dwarf jasmine, Agapanthus Peter Pan, juniper, "Nick's Compact" and Zamia furfuracea.

Registration for the tour will be from 8 a.m. to 9 a.m. and coffee and refreshments will be served. There will be group tours from 9 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. followed by a break and refreshments. Tours will resume at 10:45 and continue to 11:30 a.m. followed by a question and answer period on sales strategy.

The tour of the field area will emphasize maintenance, planting, fertilizer and chemicals, new and different plant material and digging trees. In the container area, topics will be soil mix, container selection, maintenance, fertilizer and chemicals, and new and different plants. In the propagation area soil mix and containers, fertilization and maintenance will be discussed.

Tour guides will include Jolene Christensen, Kathy Cox, "Chazz" Cox, Andrea Long, Ronda Gliginas, Harold King, Gina Jaeger and Jim Jack.

No Vigilantes In Philippines

Philippine President Corazon Aquino risked the wrath of some of her military commanders by outlawing vigilante groups and civilian paramilitary groups.

Even her Defense Secretary Rafael Ilo and armed forces Chief of Staff Gen. Fidel V. Ramos thought Philippine citizens should be armed. Since the country's 200,000-member military had failed to wipe out leftist insurgency in the country, they reasoned that citizens should be enlisted in the war against communist guerrillas. Wasn't it a good idea for the townspeople to help the army by banding together and defending themselves?

However appealing those arguments, Aquino wisely concluded that vigilantism — under any guise — can be as destructive as the rebellion it is supposed to put down.

She had only to look to Central America to witness the tragic toll of unbridled civilian violence. In Guatemala, for instance, the military government unleashed paramilitary forces in the 1960s to help the army stop rural communist guerrillas. But las fuerzas incontrolables, the uncontrollable forces, as they were called, struck indiscriminately. They killed not only the guerrillas but intellectuals, trade unionists, teachers and villagers who sold food to the rebels. They triggered a cycle of violence and revenge of killings that makes the country all the more difficult to govern, even today.

Guatemala is not an isolated case. The legacy of private armies and paramilitary squads is reflected in the chaos and bloodshed from San Salvador to Belfast to Beirut.

It must not get out of hand in the Philippines. The Civilian Home Defense Force, the paramilitary network created by deposed Filipino leader Ferdinand Marcos, should be dismantled. Let the professional army keep the peace.

Base Deadlock

If the Spanish were hoping that the visit of Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger would break the current deadlocked talks between Washington and Madrid on the removal of the military base agreement, they now know better.

The talks center on four major facilities — three air bases and the naval base at Rota — that the United States first negotiated for in 1953 during the reign of the late fascist dictator Gen. Francisco Franco. And that is the key problem as far as the Spaniards are concerned. These bases are widely seen as an affront to Spanish nationalism and a distasteful reminder of the brutal Franco regime and U.S. support for it.

Moreover, the Socialist government of Prime Minister Gonzalez successfully campaigned to keep Spain in NATO in last fall's referendum based on the promise that he would reduce the size of the U.S. military presence (currently 12,500 personnel).

For its part, the Reagan administration sees any reduction in U.S. military forces in Spain as weakening NATO in general. Many Spaniards, however, see the bases and a wing of F-16 fighters based just outside Madrid as having more to do with U.S. military concerns in the Mideast.

It is important to remember that Madrid is not demanding a complete pullout of U.S. forces — just a reduction. Nor is this an act of militant anti-Americanism; Madrid wants to be treated as an equal. Also the primary concern for the United States should be in maintaining Spain as an effective member of NATO and keeping the bases open for use by the alliance. All of those points could be in jeopardy if the United States remains inflexible.

Swimming Pool Will Solve Many Problems

By Bob Ball

Do we need a Swimming Pool in Sanford for the Children and families, or do we not? Do we pay for a swimming pool and other recreational facilities now, or do we pay for them later in other forms: such as additional police force to combat juvenile delinquency? We can always find money for more police cruisers, to fight the drug problem, more money to try and stop the many robberies, the rapes, purse snatching, etc. But some would say that we cannot afford money to give the youngsters something constructive to do. We cannot afford to take the kids off the streets and give them something to do that would not only be body building, but would be building moral character by learning to associate with a different class of people than what they might be normally associating with: By being a part of a real team; by participating on a swim team; by going to swim team meets; by being a part of something bigger than standing on the street corners and serving an apprenticeship under the older boys, learning to be dope pushers, etc.

Yes, I had the dubious duty to tour part of the property of the Sanford Housing Authority last Monday night with two other men, to see first hand what is going on out there in the dark shadows and on the street corners. It was a mind boggling experience that will really open a person's eyes as to what the problems are all about. No way would I go out there alone and no one should go without being in the company of enough people to guarantee their safety. I saw the area where the young person was shot, I saw the gang who was approaching the car, and my car was approached but I didn't slow down to see if they wanted to sell me some dope or knock me in the head for my wallet.

But the most distressing part of the experience was to see the young people out there, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 years old with nothing better to do than follow the older boys around and learn the tricks of the trade. To serve their apprenticeship for the dope trade.

I would not for a minute try and make some one think that a simple thing such as a swimming pool, a swim team, an outdoor area where teenagers could go at night to dance or have fun in a right manner will stop the drug or crime problem in a month or so. But I can't help but wonder what those young people on the street corners at night, learning the dope trade, will be doing five years down the road. How much money are we going to be spending then to lock them up? How much money will we be spending then to build new jails to hold them? How much money will we be spending then for more judges, more court rooms, etc. to try these young people and to lock them up? Maybe, just maybe, all because we felt like we couldn't afford them a suitable alternative to standing on the corners learning the dope trade, or the ways of breaking in and stealing.

I will have a lot more to say on this subject in the near future, but right now I want to urge all of you to jump on the band wagon, help us put this idea over for more recreation for the people of Sanford, both young and old. For it might not come up again for a long time.

Bob Ball is a Sanford businessman who heads a committee to bring about the construction of a municipal swimming pool in Sanford.

JEFFREY HART

President Protects Program

For the next two years, the Reagan administration will be protecting the policies it has already established and the gains it has made, rather than pushing forward with new initiatives.

This would be true even without the Iran affair after the Democratic gains last November gave them control of the Senate. The popular mandate for the Reagan revolution was at least partially withdrawn.

On my scorecard the president did well in his press conference. He was vigorous, articulate, humorous, and won the riptide contest. When he left the podium, his choreographed antagonist Sam Donaldson asked him whether he was going to "do some reading." "Yes," Reagan replied, "you ought to try it sometime."

Much of Reagan's press conference substance was persuasive. It is true that the Iran probe did begin as a strategic move, not as a free-lance, wild-card caper. We were trying to make contact with less intransigent Iranians. It is plausible that this did "deteriorate," as the president said, into an "arms for hostages" deal.

A question mark does hover over his earlier statements that no third nation was involved — Israel, Saudi Arabia and others were involved. But a correction was immediately issued, and this may have been a misunderstanding about what was being asked.

The "smoking gun" now being focused upon by the media is whether the president knew about some relationship between the Iran deal and funds for the Nicaraguan resistance.

On the face of it, it does not seem to me to have been illegal if Iranian and/or Saudi Arabian money went to the Nicaraguans — but Reagan himself has now shifted that matter from one of legality to one of his own credibility. He has repeatedly said that he did not know about it. North and Poindexter say they were obeying orders.

So be it. The only official besides Reagan, superior to North and Poindexter was Donald Regan. He may well turn out to be the last fire-door between their testimony and the president's credibility. Regan is no John Dean, but Nancy may have been haasty in pushing him out.

Regan has made a fine start, but it's a defensive game for the next two years, before, in John Kennedy's words, he passes the torch to the next generation.

Syria Aided Terrorists In Kilburn Murder

By Jack Anderson
And Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — Syrian complicity in the kidnapping, detention and eventual murder of American hostage Peter Kilburn was established beyond doubt by intercepted telephone conversations, we have learned.

The phone interceptions by the National Security Agency were part of a bizarre — and almost successful — plan by the U.S. government to ransom Kilburn with millions of dollars in greenbacks that would self-destruct within three to five days after delivery to the kidnappers. The ransom deal fell apart with the U.S. air strike on Libya on April 14, 1986. Kilburn's body was found three days later on the outskirts of Beirut.

Kilburn, 60, was a pro-Arab librarian at the American University in Beirut when he was abducted on Dec. 3, 1984. We reported part of the Kilburn tragedy last November, writing: "The frustration and ultimate futility of trying to ransom American hostages with arms or money was tragically demonstrated last spring (when Kilburn's captors grew) tired of waiting for the $3 million the Reagan administration was raising."

Now we have learned the whole incredible story:

In 1985, a Canadian of Armenian background contacted the FBI and offered to act as intermediary with Kilburn's kidnappers, a Lebanese criminal gang. The Canadian established his good faith by producing a Kilburn identity card.

The FBI took charge of the negotiations, assisted by the CIA, the Pentagon and Lt. Col. Oliver North of the National Security Council staff. The first step was to monitor all of the Canadian's international telephone calls, when he was in Europe as well as in Canada. Thus at every stage the Americans knew the other side's negotiating tactics.

The Syrian government's involvement quickly became clear. Most of the Canadian's phone calls were to people in Damascus, at least one of whom was a Syrian government official.

action of their legislatures.

The chief significance of the California vote lies in the sheer magnitude of approval. The 73.2 percent vote for Prop. 63 is clear evidence that the public is aware of the erosion of English and wants our common language safeguarded by law. This cannot be passed off simply as a sentiment peculiar to Californians. The three-to-one approval ratio strongly suggests that an initiative to declare English the official language would win in any state in which the issue would be allowed to come before the voters.

Nationally, the ELA victory was widely reported and commented upon in the press. The fact that the measure won in every county in California, that it attracted a majority in all major political groups (Republicans, Democrats and Independents), and that many language minority voters supported it, did not go unnoticed.

These indications of broad-based support will encourage citizens and politicians in other states to follow California's lead. U.S. ENGLISH — the Washington, D.C.-based membership organization leading the movement to win official protection for English — has had numerous requests from state lawmakers for assistance in introducing legislation in their states.

As former U.S. Senator S. I. Hayakawa, the Honorary Chairman of U.S. ENGLISH and the California English Campaign, has observed: "The English Language Amendment is a form of insurance that Californians will remain united by one language, not divided by two."

Leftist Offensive Via Debt

WASHINGTON — For several years, Latin American countries have threatened a moratorium on debt payments. This first step in this direction was taken Feb. 20, when Brazil suspended interest payments in its enormous commercial foreign debt.

Discussions are under way to renegotiate the repayment terms. If these aren't successful, we will see other Latin countries stop payment on the huge sums they owe to U.S. banks. The effect of this widespread default will carry throughout the U.S. banking system, to many large money center banks in the U.S. that have had foreign loans and poor cash reserves.

Americans are concerned with the turmoil in Central America, but Brazil's action should alert the U.S. public to the country's importance in this hemisphere. This industrial giant of South America has tremendous economic potential. Its large property-owning class is fully aware of the importance of maintaining its ties with the U.S. and maintaining a free economic system.

But Brazil is being subject to a war from within by radical organizations and political movements, as is the case with many free countries. There's real danger of subversion by these elements. Indicative of this is Brazil's reestablishing ties with Communist Cuba, the source of revolutionary disturbance throughout the hemisphere.

Brazil is a major exporter of armaments, and communist Angola in Southern Africa is negotiating with a Brazilian arms company. Angolan Minister of Foreign Trade Ismael Gaspar Martins is urging that President Sarney of Brazil visit Angola to discuss a "peace zone" in the South Atlantic. This is a proposal advanced by the Soviet Union. Recall that the Angolans have on their soil a large Cuban army which keeps the communist regime in power and threatens Namibia so the south.

Brazil has cultural links with all the former Portuguese colonies in Africa, and is interested in expanding its influence. Last year, a task force of the Brazilian Navy was sent to Nigeria in West Africa. There's nothing wrong with this if Brazil continues to be part of the free world. But if Brazil were nudged in a Marxist direction, it would be welcome by revolutionary forces inside Brazil.

A Wonderful Gesture

The recently approved Westalde Project will add a positive appearance to that area as well as complement the city of Sanford as a whole.

Therefore, it should behoove everyone who is civic-minded to become involved and it certainly would be fitting and proper if those persons who owned the farms, packing houses, fertilizer plants and crate factories during the Agricultural revolution would make a generous contribution to help defray the cost of the study.

As a native of this city, I know most, or perhaps all of those souls who labored long hours for very, very low wages.

You see, my parents who are dead, were part of this era. And there are people who still live in that area, as their survivors.

Hence, it would show a great deal of sensitivity and man's humanity to man if those most fortunate individuals would help in this endeavor.

This is not to offend anyone. Just an objective suggestion.
Commissioner Bob Thomas
City of Sanford

In the wake of the landslide victory for Proposition 63 in California, I am frequently asked by members of the press to assess the significance of the vote and predict what passage of the English Language Amendment (ELA) means for California and the rest of the nation.

California became the first state to declare English its official language by a citizens' initiative and the second to do so by constitutional amendment, Nebraska being the other. Georgia, Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia have made English their official language by

Japan Trying To Head Off Trade War

TOKYO (UPI) — Japan, stung by the addition of U.S. trade sanctions to its already shirp domestic problems, mapped plans Tuesday for retaliation but at the same time scrambled to head off a damaging trade war.

As the dollar plunged to another post-war low — 145.65 yen — Japanese government and business leaders urged swift action to ease a trade confrontation with Washington over computer chips.

The proposals ranged from expanding domestic growth to a government-led buying spree of disputed import items such as supercomputers. Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone asked for an "epoch-making" economic program to appease U.S. demands.

But officials said a priority was to persuade the United States to withdraw its plan to slap 100 percent tariffs on up to $300 million in Japanese electronics goods over Japan's failure to honor an accord last year on semiconductors.

Ministry of International Trade and Industry officials, preparing for "emergency consultations" next week in Washington, said they could not go beyond existing measures to end "dumping" of chips at below fair value and to improve the 8 percent share of the Japanese market held by U.S. chip makers.

Although acknowledging the American share in Japan has not increased, they said they hoped to show that under government guidance, Japanese chip manufacturers have stopped overproduction that led to a glut of low-priced chips.

"We believe the result is appearing," said Osamu Watanabe, the director of the trade ministry's Americas division. "The U.S. decision was based on February research. This is April."

Officials from the Ministry of International Trade and Industry and the Foreign Ministry said retaliatory measures are being considered beyond scrapping the semiconductor accord entirely or complaining to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade council, a Geneva-based international trade rules body.

Among possible targets, officials said, are tariffs on U.S. agricultural products, some of which Japan pays higher than world market prices for. "We are having to pay for them," a ministry official said. Japan imported $5.3 billion in American-produced food in 1986.

But other officials admitted

Japan has little practical room to maneuver. Because 40 percent of Japan's exports are bought by Americans, the Japanese would likely be the losers in a trade confrontation. Worse, a battle between the free world's two biggest economies could start a global recession.

"That's what everybody's worried about," said Nick Akers, an analyst at the Tokyo office of the investment banking firm Goldman Sachs.

Japanese leaders indicated they hope to cool the atmosphere before Nakasone visits Washington in late April for talks with President Reagan. The two have had a close relationship that had previously helped fend off American anger over the trade deficit with Japan.

$59 billion last year.

The government is already in disarray, troubled by an outcry over a proposed sales tax that has paralyzed parliament and held up the budget. With the high yen restraining growth, officials said Tuesday that unemployment in February was 2.9 percent, only marginally below a postwar high of 3 percent in January.

The pressure for added economic stimulation has inflamed debate over whether to abandon a cherished goal of eliminating deficit spending by 1990. Demands on government ministries have kindled squabbling among the armies of bureaucrats who hold key decision-enforcing powers in Japan.

"There was already considerable confusion in Japan," a senior Foreign Ministry official said. "This latest situation has increased that confusion."

But almost in unison Tuesday, government officials began floating plans to satisfy U.S. demands that the Japanese government ease its tight-fisted fiscal policy and spur the domestic economy.

The Kyodo News Service reported Nakasone's economic package. Including increased public works spending, would also move to open foreign penetration of Japanese markets, including for U.S.-made supercomputers, a major trade issue in which the leading American maker, Cray, claims to have been shut out.

Why Syria Welcomed Carter

By David Zenian

DAMASCUS, Syria (UPI) — Wherever he went in Syria, former President Carter was welcomed as an honored guest. No one seemed to care about his role in the Egyptian-Israeli peace agreement that almost shattered the Arab world eight years ago.

Carter said he was "deeply impressed by the friendship" and the "surprising and gratifying experience" he had in Syria last week.

In Damascus, like in the northwestern city of Aleppo, Carter was received by crowds. Many people waved; others shook his hand. Syrian President Hafez Assad met him three times during his three-day visit — a rare display of hospitality by the Syrian leader.

Carter was no longer seen as an "ugly American" who engineered the first peace agreement between an Arab state and Israel.

Carter has been to Syria before. He met Assad in Damascus in 1983, four years after the Camp David peace agreement between Egypt and Israel.

Western diplomats say while the reception then was cordial, the Syrians went out of their way when Carter returned to Damascus last week as part of a Middle East tour that also included stops in Algeria, Egypt, Jordan and Israel.

"The most striking thing was the fact that Assad saw Carter three times ... They had more than five hours of talks. Assad never meets a visitor more than once, yet he met Carter three times," said an Arab diplomat.

The key reason for the reception seems to have been Syria's desire to get out of the isolation imposed by the United States and Britain.

London broke diplomatic relations with Damascus in November after a court convicted a

Jordanian-born Arab of trying to blow up an Israeli passenger plane at Heathrow airport. Britain accused Syria of masterminding the bombing attempt.

Washington, acting in solidarity, withdrew its ambassador from Damascus, accusing Syria of supporting terrorism.

Syria denied the charges, dismissing them as part of what one Syrian official characterized as a British-American "conspiracy aimed at destroying Syria's leadership role" in the Middle East.

"They thought they could achieve something by isolating Syria," the Syrian official said.

Pushed aside by Washington, the Syrians deployed their resources to get back into the Middle East equation. Assad even sat in the same conference room with Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak in January at the Islamic Summit in Kuwait to appease moderate Arab states.

Western diplomats said it was this feeling of isolation that prompted the Syrian leader to give Carter the red-carpet treatment. So serious is the Syrian concern over its isolation that it apparently made no difference that Carter appears to have little entree to the Reagan administration.

While Carter often said he had no official mandate and did not represent his government, the former president acknowledged he would report his findings to the Reagan administration on his return home this week.

"The Syrians needed their voice to be heard in Washington, and looked at Carter as the man who might help them to do that. Only time will tell if this has been achieved," said a Western diplomat.

The great tax headache.

First Union's great IRA cure.

The new 1987 tax laws might be a headache for some, but you can still get immediate relief with a First Union IRA. Through April 15, you can claim a full $2,000 IRA deduction from your 1986 gross income. (Up to $4,000 for a married couple.)

First Union IRA CDs can be opened with as little as $100 and are insured up to $100,000 by the FDIC, so your savings are protected. But if you're a self-directed investor, you may want to use your IRA to purchase stocks, bonds, or other investments. And you pay no taxes on the interest your IRA earns until the money is withdrawn. Which means an IRA is still very valuable to you. And that should give you great relief.

Three Marines Now Held In Sex-And-Spy Scandal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Three Marines who guarded the U.S. Embassy in Moscow were in jail cells today, two formally charged with spying and the third a suspect in the sex-for-secrets scandal that has spurred investigations and tainted the image of the elite corps.

The web of intrigue involving Soviet women spread Tuesday with the disclosure that the former deputy commander of the embassy's Marine contingent, Staff Sgt. Robert Stanley Stufflebeam, had been arrested as a "possible suspect."

At the same time, the Marine Corps formally lodged eight charges, including one of espionage, against Cpl. Arnold Bracy, arrested a week ago. Conviction of spying could mean the death sentence for him and Sgt. Clayton Lonetree, who was arrested in December and faces 24 charges.

Stufflebeam, 24, of Bloomington, Ill., was accused of "associations with Soviet women on several occasions" while deputy commander at the embassy from May 1985 to May 1986, part of the time Bracy and Lonetree also were there.

Immunity Grants Delayed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Independent prosecutor Lawrence Walsh has more time to build his criminal case in the Iran-Contra scandal now that he has delayed Congress in granting limited immunity from prosecution to four more witnesses.

Spokesmen for the select House and Senate committees probing the scandal said Tuesday that Walsh has won a 20-day delay against immunity grants to four men who could lead investigators along a paper trail detailing the scheme to divert U.S. arms sale profits from Iran to the Nicaraguan Contra rebels.

U.S. District Judge Aubrey Robinson signed an order granting the delay to Walsh, who is working independent of — and in some competition with — the two congressional panels eager to begin public hearings in the case May 5.

Trade War With Japan Denied

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration emphatically denies that proposed U.S. retaliation against Japan will result in a trade war between the two countries.

"In my opinion, we're not even close to a trade war," U.S. Trade Representative Clayton Yeutter told the House Agriculture Committee Tuesday.

Yeutter also said the dramatic decline in world financial markets earlier this week was a "gross overreaction" to the White House announcement Friday that it would slap $300 million in tariffs on Japanese imports in retaliation for Japan's "dumping" of semiconductor chips at below-market prices and refusing to open its computer market to American firms.

Emigration Deal To Aid Trade

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A deal brokered by American Jewish leaders in Moscow to let thousands of Jews emigrate from Russia to Israel could lead to repeal of two U.S. laws restricting trade with the Soviet Union, Jewish sources said.

The deal worked out in Moscow last week would allow 10,000 to 12,000 Soviet Jews to fly from Moscow to Bucharest, Romania, then directly to Israel.

The agreement was brokered by World Jewish Congress President Edgar Bronfman and Morris Abram, chairman of the Presidents of Major American Jewish Organizations.

Kidnappers Say Hostage's Health 'Deteriorating,' Renew Swap

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Moslem extremists holding American Alann Steen hostage said his health is "deteriorating day after day" and they renewed their offer to trade Steen, two other Americans and an Indian-born U.S. resident for 400 Arabs jailed in Israel.

A statement signed by the Islamic Jihad for the Liberation of Palestine and delivered to the An-Nahar newspaper Tuesday accused the four hostages of spying and said "investigations have begun into their crimes."

In a statement last week, the group reported Steen was seriously ill.

Tuesday's statement noted, "The condition of Steen is deteriorating day after day despite continuous (medical) treatments given to him."

First American Adviser Killed

EL PARAISO, El Salvador (UPI) — Leftist rebels killed at least 42 soldiers and a U.S. military adviser, the first killed in action in El Salvador, in a major attack military observers said proves the guerrillas remain a formidable adversary.

The attack on the army's Fourth Brigade headquarters at El Paraiso was the most important recent offensive by the rebels in their nearly 8-year-old war against the U.S.-backed government.

"It was a blow that was studiously carried out, taking time to figure out all the details," Co. Gilberto Rubio, commander of El Paraiso, told United Press International inside the still-smoldering barracks.

At least 42 Salvadoran soldiers and U.S. Army Staff Sgt. Gregory Frontus, a U.S. adviser, were killed in the attack. Thirty-five Salvadoran soldiers were wounded. There was no report of rebel casualties.

Thatcher On Whirlwind Tour

TBILISI, Soviet Union (UPI) — British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher, leaving behind the serious business of dissidents and arms control, arrived in the Soviet republic of Georgia today for an eight-hour whirlwind tour.

As she stepped from the ramp of an Aeroflot TU-154, she received a warm handshake from Georgian Prime Minister Otar Cherkhezia and a smart peck on the cheek and a bouquet of roses from two youngsters in traditional Georgian dress.

Eight women dressed in white and eight men in black riding boots and maroon jackets with daggers tucked in their belts served as her official honor guard.

Thatcher held a breakfast meeting at the British Embassy with dissident Josef Begun, his wife, Inna, and Rose Ioffe, whose husband, Alexander, is staging a hunger strike to press for permission to leave the Soviet Union.

Report To School Board

Pay Study Suggests New System For Non-Managerial Personnel

By Genie Lindberg
Herald Staff Writer

The Seminole County School Board received a pay study Wednesday recommending non-managerial positions be eliminated from the district's A-Base salary schedule (for employees not represented by a union) and that a separate salary structure be set up for non-managers.

The consulting firm of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co. of Miami conducted the study for approximately $30,000 in response to concerns about the salary schedule outlined by the School Board. The board is paying for the study from its budget.

John Bloedorn, from the firm's Chicago office, presented the report's recommendations to the Board in a work session that lasted approximately two hours and told the board the recommendations were supportive of a sound, cost-efficient and simplified salary program.

If the salary program is adopted by the board at a June work session, partial implementation is expected to begin July 1, 1987, which would be a pilot program involving some school administrators.

The report defines managerial employees as those who perform jobs that are not of a routine, clerical or ministerial nature and require the exercise of independent judgment — superintendents, supervisors reporting to superintendents, principals, and administrative assistants to a superintendent or principal.

Over the years a number of positions had been added to the A-Base Salary Schedule because they did not seem to fit anywhere else. As a consequence, positions that were more administrative support in nature had been embraced by the salary structure for administrator positions, Bloedorn said. Positions suggested for removal from the A-Base salary schedule include such positions as clerical and instructional aides, executive secretaries, administrative clerks, community resource specialist, executive secretary to superintendent, finance manager, programmers, school nurses, textbook manager, warehouse accountant and other non-managerial positions.

In the consultant's proposal, Bloedorn said, movement through the salary schedule for non-managerial employees would be based in part on pay-for-performance.

He said the goals of performance assessment are to provide an opportunity for employees and their supervisors to discuss job responsibilities so that both understand the expected job results. Also sought is an opportunity for employees to discuss and obtain assistance in solving problems encountered on the job, as well as a sound basis for pay, retention and promotion decisions, the report says.

The study recommends a performance rating scale with three levels: Above, At or Below Expectation. While each rating is carefully defined, it must be stressed that the "At Expectation" rating means the kind of performance expected of every member of the district, Bloedorn said.

"It does not mean average. It means meeting the district's high standards," he said.

The objective is to help the individual be "At Expectation" in performance throughout the year, he said.

According to the report, the salary schedule starts lower than the current A-Base program but goes higher with the mid-point salary being higher than the existing A-Base mid-point.

Lake Mary Elementary School principal Elizabeth Paul, president of the Seminole Association of School Administrators (SASA), asked the board to allow time for copies of the report to be distributed to county administrators for review so that they could then have the opportunity to respond to the board with their own recommendations, if necessary, by mid-June with adoption soon after.

The salary of the superintendent of schools, Robert Hughes, is not impacted by the study.

Superdome Grades 'A' For Excitement

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The NCAA basketball championship has been played twice in the Superdome, and those two games were decided by a total of 2 points.

So the huge stadium must certainly be given an "A" for excitement.

But now that the Superdome has hosted another extravaganza, there may be a few new questions raised by the NCAA about the advisability of holding its No. 1 event in front of almost 70,000 people.

When Indiana and Syracuse won their semifinal battles with Nevada-Las Vegas and Providence last Saturday, there were 64,959 people filling the Superdome. It was the largest college basketball crowd in history.

When the Hoosiers and Orangemen faced each other for the national title Monday night, nowhere near that many people came to watch even though the same attendance figure was announced.

There were estimates as many as 20 percent of the seats in the upper deck of the Superdome were vacant when the Hoosiers downed the Orangemen 74-73 in one of the NCAA's better championship contests.

The upper-deck tickets had a face value of $10, but spectators told of buying as many as five tickets in that section for a total of $5 Monday night.

It is the NCAA's position that if people want to be a part of the Final Four, even though they have a terrible seat, then they should have a chance to do so.

Basketball

Not everybody is in agreement. "I think most coaches would rather play in smaller arenas," said Syracuse coach Jim Boeheim, who has that opinion even though his team plays its home games in the Carrier Dome.

"At first I wasn't in favor of the domed stadiums," said Indiana coach Bobby Knight. "But I have decided that the more people who see the games the better."

But is more better?

There may be some concern about the fact that so many seats went unused Monday night. The NCAA may ultimately decide that it is not in college basketball's best interest to have empty seats at a championship game — even though there are so many that are filled.

When the Superdome first bid for and received the 1982 Final Four, officials of the building were prepared to put on the event with a 45,000-seat configuration.

That number could eventually be looked upon with more favor by the NCAA.

Other than the empty seats, there were few glitches in the production of the 1987 Final Four.

"It went incredibly well," said Superdome marketing director Bill Curl. "The only bumps we had were little ones."

There will be no empty seats next year when the Final Four takes place in Kemper Arena in Kansas City. It is one of only two "small" arenas scheduled to host the event in the foreseeable future.

From there the Final Four will go to Seattle's Kingdome and then Denver's McNichols Arena.

Syracuse Demise Came At Elusive Free-Throw Line

By Fred Lief

United Press International
NEW ORLEANS — In some ways, it looks so easy.

There are no players to whack at your arms. There are no opponents to cut past and no zones to break. Just you and the ball and the basket 15 feet away. It does not get more fundamental than this.

But foul shooting, for all its simplicity, can be a treacherous and elusive art. And Syracuse, which lost 74-73 to Indiana for the NCAA title Monday night, needs few reminders. When the Orangemen went to the foul line, they might as well have been grabbing at smoke.

Foul shooting is mystifying stuff — half schoolyard swagger, half Zen. All action stops and the player is left alone, although thousands in the stands may cry for blood.

In football, a kicker faces similar obstacles. But he must deal with the snap, placement and a ton of rampaging flesh from the other side of scrimmage.

A golfer may stand alone on the 18th hole eyeing a 10-foot putt. But, in golf, the roll of the green makes for a different putt each time.

Penalty kicks in hockey and soccer are wonderful moments of isolation. But the goalie and the shooter are part of the same equation, each never entirely alone.

Maybe in archery or bowling or riflery can the equivalent of foul shooting be approached. Who knows? Down the stretch, the Orangemen might have fared better at the line with a bow and arrow.

In the final 3-43, Syracuse took six foul shots and missed four times. For the game, they were 11 of 20, a 55 percent rate of which no junior high school team would be proud.

In no way is this to belittle the Orangemen and their accomplishments. They played far better than anyone anticipated in a season following the loss of three top players, including Dwayne "Pearl" Washington.

Sherman Douglas took over the point and teamed with Greg Monroe to form an excellent backcourt. The frontline of Howard Triche, Rony Selkaly and Derrick Coleman was one of the best. The coach, Jim Boeheim, finally shook an image he never deserved — an inability to win the big game.

But foul shooting has vexed Syracuse this season — the team shot 84 percent — and never more so than against Indiana. The last two minutes served as the signature on the Orangemen's death certificate.

Selkaly makes a layup while fouled to put Syracuse up 70-68. He misses the free throw and Keith Smart ties the score on a reverse layup. Triche sinks an off-balance shot with 57 seconds left and less than 20 seconds later is fouled. He makes the first shot cleanly but barely reaches the rim on the second. Still, the Orange are in command, leading 73-70 with 38 seconds left.

But Smart responds with a pull-up jumper. After the basket, he fouls Coleman with 28 seconds left. The first attempt of the one-and-one by the freshman forward is hopelessly off. Indiana calls time, looks for Steve Alford, finds Smart along the baseline and leaves New Orleans a winner.

"We had confidence in Derrick," Selkaly said. "We've struggled all year with our free throws."

Added guard Joel Katz: "You can't pinpoint it to (the free throws). If Smart misses that shot, no one talks about our foul shooting."

There is no cure for bad foul shooting, no magic elixir to drive out the demons.

Knutson's Clutch Hit Lifts Lady Lions

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

CASSELBERRY — Running with reckless abandon, Jill Knutson came barreling into third base, only to find a teammate already standing on the bag. A somewhat embarrassed Knutson scrambled back to second in time to avoid the out and the jeers of the crowd.

It is not Knutson's baserunning escapades, though, that the Oviedo Lady Lions will remember from Tuesday afternoon's game. Earlier in the bottom of the sixth inning, the junior outfielder delivered the hit that drove in the winning run in a crucial 5-4 Seminole Athletic Conference victory over Lake Brantley's Lady Patriots before 81 fans at Red Bug Park.

Oviedo reclaimed sole possession of first place with the win as it improved to 4-1 in the SAC and 13-5 overall. The Lady Lions have a nonconference game today at Red Bug against Kissimmee Osceola. Lake Brantley is now 3-2 in the league and 8-5 overall. The game between Lake Mary and Lake Howell was canceled Tuesday so Lake Mary goes to one-half game behind Oviedo with a 3-1 SAC mark.

Oviedo came back from an early 4-1 deficit to draw even after three innings and it remained 4-4 until the bottom of the sixth. With two outs, Mikki Eby ripped a double to left center and Cheryl

Softball

Buntz then reached on what turned out to be the most costly Brantley error of the game. Knutson, hitting in the 10th spot in the order, then stepped up and poked a base hit to right field to score Eby for a 5-4 Oviedo lead.

"Jill (Knutson) is hitting number 10 but she's not a number 10 hitter," Oviedo coach Jackie Miller said. "She is a strong hitter and she came through with a big hit for us today."

Oviedo was held to seven hits in the game while the Lady Patriots managed just five.

"We're running through some tough times right now," Lake Brantley coach Renny Betris said. "We've shifted our lineup around a lot and we came out stale today after not practicing since before Spring Break."

Oviedo took the early lead with a run in the bottom of the first. Corrie Lawson led off with a base hit and Jodie Switzer followed with a walk. Caroline Chavis then grounded to first baseman Kim Robinson and Lawson motored around third and scored on the unsuspecting Robinson.

Lake Brantley came up with four runs on three hits and two Oviedo errors for a 4-1 lead in the top of the second.

Michelle Weston walked to lead off the frame but was forced at second on Robinson's grounder. Pam Wittig followed with a base hit and Robinson scored when Wendy Vickery reached on a two-base error. Kristin Bates then singled to load the bases and Chris Calabrese looped a single to left to drive in Wittig and Vickery also scored on the play on an Oviedo error. Bates scored the fourth run of the frame on Stacy Brandenburg's RBI groundout.

Oviedo came back in the third inning with a three-run rally that knotted the score at 4-4. With one out, Switzer reached on an error. Chavis walked and Jessica Bradley slapped a double down the first base line to score Switzer. Chavis then scored on Anna Hollis' sacrifice fly and Bradley scored the tying run on another Brantley error.

Oviedo then played outstanding defense the rest of the game until Knutson came up with the big hit in the bottom of the sixth. The big defensive play for the Lady Lions came in the top of the sixth. Tina Wilson led off the inning with a single and took second on Weston's groundout. Robinson then hit a shot back to Switzer on the mound and she threw to first for one out and first baseman Teri Coe then unloaded a perfect throw to Hollis at third to nail Wilson for the inning-ending double play.

Tribe Tries To Continue Hex Over 'Hounds

Seminole Athletic Conference baseball returns today and tonight with three interesting matchups.

• At Casselberry, Lake Howell's Silver Hawks can move into first place with a victory over Lake Mary's Rams. Coach Birto Benjamin will send unbeaten right-hander Greg Hill (6-0) against Lake Mary's unbeaten Anthony Laszala (5-0).

Coach Allen Tuttle's No. 5-ranked Rams are 4-0 in the SAC while Lake Howell is 4-1.

• At Longwood, Seminole's Fighting Seminoles hope to continue their hex over Lyman. Coach Mike Ferrell's Tribe whipped the 'Hounds twice in a preseason tournament.

Lyman coach Bob McCullough has tapped right-hander Dale Stevens for the mound assignment.

• At Altamonte Springs, coach Mike Smith's resurgent Patriots host Oviedo's slumping Lions. Brantley won two consecutive to take third place in the Greater Greyhound Invitational Saturday, one a 5-4 decision over the Lions. Oviedo, 10-5, fell out of the 3A rankings after losing twice last week.

Oviedo coach Howard Scott said he would pitch right-hander Mable Bowers while Brantley will counter with lefty Greg Ebbert or right-hander Randy Green.

Four consecutive days of rain forced the cancellation of all but two prep athletic events on Tuesday.

In baseball, DeLand at Lyman and Trinity Prep at Lake Howell were both called off due to wet grounds. The DeLand-Lyman game has been rescheduled for Saturday afternoon at 1 while Trinity and Lake Howell will play Monday, April 13 at 3:30 p.m.

In softball, the Seminole Athletic Conference game between Lake Howell and Lake Mary was canceled and has been rescheduled for this Friday at 4:30 p.m. at Lake Mary High.

In track, the Seminole at Palatka boys and girls dual meet was canceled and will not be rescheduled.

Lady 'Noles Turn Back Lyman, 13-9

By Scott Sander
Herald Sports Writer

Before Spring Break, the Lyman Lady Greyhounds' softball team had lost all 13 of its games, and looked lackluster in the process.

Lyman coach Lisa Carlson decided to give her team the week off during the break. "We didn't have a single practice," Carlson said. "When you are playing as bad as we were, I thought the time off would probably help us."

The week off appeared to have helped Lyman as Lyman played well, but still lost to Seminole, 13-9, in Seminole Athletic Conference softball action on Tuesday afternoon before 99 chilled fans at Fort Mellon Park.

"I was really pleased with the way we played," Carlson said.

Seminole improved to 6-4 overall and 2-3 in the SAC. Lyman dropped to 0-14 and 0-5.

Seminole pitcher Lori Bird went the distance for the 'Noles as she gave up nine hits and registered her second win of the season. Lyman pitcher Dana Garrett (0-14) gave up nine hits, while walking eight.

Seminole coach Lance Abney said he to par," Abney said. "This was the first time that a lot of these girls touched a softball in over a week. It feels good to get a win in the first game back, though."

The contest was not a defensive gem by any standpoint as Seminole committed nine errors while Lyman committed six. "I kind of expected us to have some errors, Abney said. "Lyman played a good game, though. I was surprised with how well they can hit the ball."

Seminole first baseman Sheri Peterson led the Seminole offense as Peterson went 2 for 2, with a single and a solo homer. "I hit the ball pretty well today," Peterson said. "I still think that we have a good shot in the conference."

Vikki Oliver had a pair of singles for Seminole.

Lyman's Wendy Fretwell led the Greyhound offense as Fretwell went 2 for 3, with a single and a two-run homer. Kim Chapmond also had two hits for Lyman.

Both teams didn't waste any time getting on the board as each club scored five runs in the first inning. A pair of errors and a single loaded the bases for Lyman. Chapmond singled, scoring Tammy Wright and Sarah Price. Shannon Talley then reached on a two-base error, allowing Chapmond to score. Fretwell then lined a bullet that rolled to the left-field fence for a two-run round-tripper. Seminole retaliated, however, in the bottom of the frame to knot the game up. A pair of errors and a single loaded the bases. A walk forced a run in. A ground ball by Nataasha Beasley scored a second run and kept runners on second and third. Another walk loaded the bases. Yet another walk forced a run home. Amy Hawkins then singled, scoring Natasha Strickland and Shelly Sanders.

Lyman took a brief lead in the top of the third with a run. With the bases loaded, Garrett reached on an error, scoring Gwynn LaDuke.

Seminole tied the game up in the bottom of the third. Hawkins reached on an error, scoring Sanders from third.

The 'Noles broke the game open with five runs in the bottom of the fourth. Two walks and a single loaded the bases. Another walk forced a run in. Peterson then reached on error, allowing Bobbi Osborne and Beasley to score. Bailey and Peterson took second and third on the play. Bailey then scored on a ground out, moving Peterson to third. Peterson scored when Sanders singled.

Lyman didn't quit, though, as the Lady 'Hounds scored twice in the top of the fifth and once in the sixth. An error and a single put runners on first and second. Talley then doubled, scoring Price, and moving LaDuke to third. Fretwell then singled, scoring LaDuke.

In the sixth, LaDuke doubled, scoring Niki Jarrett, and making the score 11-9.

Seminole put the icing on the cake in the sixth with a pair of runs. Peterson hit a line-drive homer to center for her first round-tripper of the season. Two walks and a single loaded the bases. Kim Walsh then singled, scoring Strickland.

Minnesota Axes Hatcher; Acquires Speedy Gladden

United Press International
 Veterans Mickey Hatcher, Dave Collins and Len Barker lost jobs Tuesday during a flurry in which major-league teams moved closer to finalizing their rosters for Opening Day.
 Hatcher, an outfielder who had been with the Minnesota Twins since 1981, received his release. He has a .281 lifetime batting average but was hitting just .151 in nine exhibition games this spring.
 The Montreal Expos said goodbye to Collins, who had been competing for the left-field job in the absence of Tim Lincecum.

Baseball

Barker, who pitched a perfect game in 1981, failed to win a spot in the Expos' starting rotation.
 In other moves, the Twins obtained outfielder Dan Gladden as part of a five-player trade with the San Francisco Giants. Minnesota also will receive a minor-league player later. The Twins gave up minor-league relief pitchers Jose Dominguez and Ray Velasquez and a minor-league player to be named.

 The Twins also announced they did not tender a contract to outfielder Billy Sample, an invited player who spent last season with the Atlanta Braves.
 Minnesota has 31 players in camp and plans to cut to 24 by April 7.
 The Toronto Blue Jays announced they have outrighted outfielder Rob Ducey to Syracuse of the International League. The Blue Jays also returned infielder Alexis Infante to Syracuse.
 The Chicago White Sox reached their 24-man Opening

ALMANAC Expos Cut Collins; Open For Raines?

Today's Baseball Almanac
 United Press International
 Today is April 1, 1987. Opening Day is 5 days away. The Montreal Expos cut outfielder Dave Collins, creating more speculation that free-agent outfielder Tim Lincecum will return to his old club May 1. The Expos had signed Collins, also a free agent, as protection against losing Raines but dropped him because he failed to show his old speed.
Trainer's Room
 Stan Jefferson, the San Diego Padres' rookie center fielder and leadoff hitter, is day-to-day after spraining his left ankle Monday rounding first base during an exhibition game against the California Angels.
Queue of the Day
 "I never was into drugs." — Vida Blue in a radio interview. The former major-league pitcher spent three months in jail three years ago on a drug possession and use charge and underwent a month-long drug-rehabilitation program at an Oakland hospital last November.
 Joe Cowley, making his debut in a Philadelphia uniform, pitched six strong innings in an exhibition game against the Pittsburgh Pirates and gave up one unearned run. The former White Sox right-hander walked six, struck out six and surrendered three hits.
Contract Watch
 The Boston Red Sox rebuffed the latest contract proposal by the agent for holdout pitcher Roger Clemens. According to Boston General Manager Lou Gorman, Clemens' agent, Alan Hendricks, agreed to the club's standing offer of a $500,000 base salary for this season, but only if the Red Sox agree to a $1.5 million base for 1988 and include a new $150,000 incentive clause for games started. Clemens, the 1986 American League Most Valuable Player and Cy Young Award winner, is baseball's only contract holdout and the team has been fining him $1,000 per day for the past 20 days.
Transactions
 Chicago (AL) — Sent pitcher Scott Nielsen and outfielder Kenny Williams to Hawaii of Pacific Coast League (AAA).
 Cincinnati — Returned catcher Terry McGriff and pitcher Bill Scherrer to Nashville of American Association (AAA).
 Minnesota — Released outfielder Mickey Hatcher; traded minor-league relief pitchers Jose Dominguez and Ray Velasquez and minor-league player to be named to San Francisco for outfielder Dan Gladden and minor-league player to be named; did not offer a contract to outfielder Billy Sample; assigned infielders Alvaro Espinoza and Ron Gardenhire, outfielder Billy Beane, and catcher Pat Dempsey to Portland of Pacific Coast League (AAA).
 Montreal — Released outfielder Dave Collins and pitcher Len Barker.
 Pittsburgh — Waived outfielder Mike Brown and assigned outfielder Tommy Dunbar to minor-league camp.
 Seattle — Released pitcher Pete Ladd and infielder Dave Stapleton; waived outfielder Steve Henderson from Calgary of Pacific Coast League (AAA); sent pitcher Dennis Powell to Calgary.

Nettles Cracks 6th Spring Homer

United Press International
ORLANDO — Graig Nettles, who has hit safely in his last 11 at-bats, clubbed a two-run homer Tuesday to help the Atlanta Braves to a 12-7 Grapefruit League victory over the Minnesota Twins.

In the past three games, Nettles has hit six homers, three doubles and a pair of singles to improve his batting average to .457. He also has two walks in his streak.

Nettles cracked his seventh homer of the spring in the sixth inning Tuesday — a two-run shot that capped a four-RBI game. Nettles was originally invited to the Braves' camp as a non-roster player and will probably make the club as a backup third baseman and first baseman.

TAMPA — Fred McGriff, whose last seven hits have been home runs, paced a 22-hit Toronto attack with a pair of homers to power the Blue Jays to a 15-8 exhibition romp over the Cincinnati Reds.

McGriff, playing in his hometown, slammed a three-run homer off rookie Norm Charlton in the sixth inning after hitting a solo shot off Charlton in the fifth.

MIAMI — Eddie Murray drove in two runs and Cal Ripken Jr. collected three hits to lead the Baltimore Orioles to a 6-4 triumph over the Texas Rangers.

Alan Wiggins started the first inning off losing pitcher Edwin Correa, 0-4, with a walk — his fifth straight over two games. Wiggins went to second on an infield hit by Rick Burleson and scored on Ripken's double to right. Burleson scored on Murray's groundout to first.

Baseball

and Ripken scored on a sacrifice fly by Ray Knight, who was playing for the first time since March 22. Knight has been sidelined with a kidney stone problem.

WEST PALM BEACH — Canadian outfielder Larry Walker, called up from the minor-league camp for the day, drove home three runs to help the Montreal Expos to a 7-3 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Right-hander Floyd Youmans pitched seven innings and earned the Expos' Opening Day assignment Monday in Cincinnati. The 20-year-old Walker, who hit 33 home runs in Class A with Burlington (Iowa) and West Palm Beach last year, is expected to play for Double A Jacksonville in the Southern League.

SARASOTA — Walt Terrell improved his spring training record to 4-0 and Matt Nokes drove in three runs in the Detroit Tigers' 6-4 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

Terrell's spring ERA is 1.67 in six games. He pitched seven innings and gave up home runs to Harold Baines in the first inning and Ron Hassey in the fourth. Ron Karkovics hit a homer for the Sox in the ninth inning off reliever Mark Thurmond, who earned his first save.

Nokes, one of four catchers on the roster, drove in the first two runs with a second-inning double off loser Neil Allen, 0-2. He added an RBI groundout in the sixth.

ST. PETERSBURG — Terry Pendleton hit a two-run homer in the ninth inning and the St. Louis Cardinals rallied for a 6-6 tie against the New York Mets in an exhibition game called after 10 innings.

Jim Lindeman of St. Louis had three hits, including his fourth home run of the spring. Lindeman, hitting .379 in the Grapefruit League, hit a 450-foot homer off New York's Ron Darling in the fourth inning.

Pendleton's homer came off New York reliever Jesse Orosco after Lindeman had opened the ninth inning with a double. The game was called because the Mets had no more pitchers available.

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. — The Chicago Cubs took advantage of a Giants fielding lapse and scored four runs in the ninth inning to beat San Francisco 6-5.

Leon Durham and Jody Davis opened the ninth with singles against Giants reliever Keith Comstock. One out later, Shawn Dunston singled home Durham. Chico Walker then lofted a flyball between Giants left fielder Jeff Leonard and center fielder Randy Kutcher.

Both Giants let the ball drop between them: Walker was credited with a double and Davis and Dunston scored to tie the score. Ryne Sandberg then singled home Walker with the game-winning run.

Herald: Miami Tops NBA Hopefuls

MIAMI (UPI) — Miami tops the list of possible NBA expansion franchises, while an announcement this week could contain a surprise on the chances of a team in Charlotte, N.C., a published report said Tuesday.

Citing unnamed sources, The Miami Herald reported that the NBA will announce Thursday the recommendation of its five-member expansion committee.

The announcement will specify the NBA's order of preference for cities hoping for expansion franchises and will narrow the timetable for when each city would be admitted to the 23-team league.

A spokesman for the league confirmed commissioner David Stern "will give an update this week regarding expansion," but declined to give details.

The Herald reported that Miami is the leading contender for the first franchise to be awarded for the 1988-89 season, followed by Minneapolis and Orlando. A source said the announcement "might contain a surprise" about Charlotte's chances.

The NBA has said it will add up to three teams by 1990-91.

The recommendations of the expansion committee will be sent to all 23 members of the NBA's Board of Governors. A final vote will be taken April 22 at New York, at which time the league will officially welcome its new members, at a cost of $32.5 million for each expansion team.

Castle's Corrective Cures To Resist 'Tennis Burnout'

Even the most avid tennis player among us sometimes gets tired of playing tennis. Many players have been hitting the tennis ball for 10, 20 or maybe even 30 years.

Now, it seems that after all those years on the court, it's just no fun — the thrill is gone. Psychologically speaking, you have "tennis burnout."

Its symptoms are many. You feel like it's a giant effort to play a match or have a practice session. You get distracted easily and find it difficult to concentrate. You don't feel like moving the old feet to get a wide ball and the errors just flow off the racket.

This leads to frustration and even less fun with tennis than before. This was never a problem for the first 10 or 15 years that I played the game. Indeed, every match or every practice was a delightful experience and I couldn't wait for the next one.

Those were the days of improving and learning and competition. After more than 20 years of playing, teaching and watching and just being totally involved with tennis, I find that sometimes it's just not as much fun or as important as it was.

When I feel this way, it might last for a few days or a few weeks but it is common to all players who have been playing for many years.

This "tennis burnout" is real and can visit you at any time. I must say that it never stays with me very long though, because I have several methods of dealing with it and putting it down. In fact, when I do go back to playing I feel more eager than ever and usually play better also.

Here are a few things that have worked for me in dealing with the tennis blahs. Just call them Castle's Corrective Cures to Resist "Tennis Burnout." They might even help you.

• Don't stop exercising just because you have stopped playing tennis. This is the worst thing you can do. If you don't want to play tennis for while try another activity. Something that is fun and will keep you in good shape until you start playing tennis again. I like to jog, play basketball, ride my bike or swim. Some like nautilus,

Larry Castle
 SANFORD HERALD TENNIS WRITER

walking or aerobics. Any of these are good companion exercises for tennis. (I would not recommend handball or racketball because these games can really mess up your tennis stroke.)
 • If you are burned out with tennis it may be because you lack incentive to play better. You may be playing with the same one or two players every time you play. Play some new people. Better still — play a tournament or two. Nothing whets the appetite for wanting to play more than playing a few tournaments.
 • If you mostly play doubles, start playing some singles a couple of times a week. The reverse is also often stimulating to a stale tennis life.

• Buy a new racket. Even if you don't need it. I have found that this works wonders and really puts life into a tired game. It makes you concentrate more and feel that you are playing better than ever before.

• Watch a good match on TV or some of the local tournaments. We all get pumped up watching the really good player play. We can't wait to get on the court after watching Wimbledon or the U.S. Open.

Most of all remember that "burnout" is normal for veteran tennis players. Don't worry, it usually doesn't last long and you will come back stronger and having more fun than ever.

IN BRIEF

Karma, Omens Have Edmonton Back On Championship Trail

United Press International
The Edmonton Oilers learned last year not to trust winning streaks and favorable odds. Perhaps this year they should choose instead to put faith in karma and omens.

The Oilers, whose designs on a Stanley Cup dynasty was undone by a fluke goal scored into their own net last spring, have already clinched their playoff spot, home-ice advantage and the Smythe Division championship.

Last spring's upset loss to the Calgary Flames after a season of dominance has chastened Edmonton, which has been unable to solve Calgary since. The Oilers defensively point to last season as an example of the meaninglessness of a regular-season jinx.

Now, just when the Oilers most need a sign of changing fortune, the defenseman who scored the fateful goal into his own net in decisive Game 7 of the semifinals last May has scored a fluke goal of his own.

Steve Smith scored 2:29 into overtime Tuesday night when the puck rolled up the stick and along the arm of Winnipeg Jets goalie Pokey Reddick to clinch the Oilers' 5-4 victory. With the playoffs a week away, the goal could not possibly be perceived as restitution for the horror of last spring but perhaps as a sign of good things to come.

In other games, New Jersey topped Pittsburgh 5-3, Boston edged Quebec 4-3, the New York Islanders topped St. Louis 4-3, and Washington defeated Toronto 4-2.

Grand Prix Loses Lendl, Mac

CHICAGO (UPI) — Perhaps the Red Cross should sponsor the Chicago Grand Prix.

Before the tournament even commenced, Ivan Lendl and John McEnroe withdrew with physical ailments. Tuesday night, a tense match between No. 2 seed Jimmy Connors and unseeded Todd Wiltsen was halted when Wiltsen retired midway through the third set.

Wiltsen, the 23-year-old who upset Connors at last year's U.S. Open, had been suffering from the flu the previous three days. He was strong enough to beat Connors in the first set with a 7-3 tiebreak score but fell apart after a 22-point third game in the second set, which Connors won 6-2.

Lendl withdrew from the tournament after having his knee operated on to repair his tendinitis. McEnroe withdrew because of a painful hip injury suffered in Brussels last week.

Tim Mayotte, who was moved from second to third seed with Noah's entry, breezed past Derrick Rostagno 6-1, 6-1, in the match following the Connors-Wiltsen match.

Also winning Tuesday was No. 8 seed David Pate, who defeated Brad Pearce 6-2, 6-4. Other winners Tuesday were Paul Annacone, Bill Scanlon and Todd Nelson.

ICBA Rally Falls Short, 51-47

The ICBA Seminoles made a gallant comeback but fell short, 51-47, to eventual champion Meigs County, Tenn., in the semifinals of the Daytona Beach YMCA 13 and Under Tournament this past weekend at Daytona Beach Mainland High School.

The Seminoles of coach Mickey Norton rallied from a 12-point deficit in the second half and the lead changed hands eight times in the fourth quarter before Meigs County finally pulled away.

All-Tournament selection Bobby Anderson led the ICBA with 15 points while David Brock and Theron Perkins added 10 apiece and Chuckie Atkins contributed nine. Mark Bellhorn had 10 rebounds and Anderson grabbed nine.

Howell Club Captures 4 Firsts

Lake Howell's wrestling club, under the tutelage of Joe Corso and John Brady, took a fourth-place finish in the Sarasota Wrestling Tournament Saturday.

The Silver Hawks had four first-place finishes: 7-year-old Aaron Brady at 50 pounds, sophomore Maurice Smith at 85 pounds; eighth grader Marquette Smith at 165 pounds; Lake Brantley sophomore Scott Meredith at 122 pounds.

Second places were recorded by sophomores John White (105) and Dave Petrone (132). Third places went to freshman Ralph Valle (125), sophomore Kevin Garrett (132) and junior Sean Kobla (142).

Brady said eighth grader Steve Burson, sophomore Greg Fagan and Brantley junior Tim Randolph. The grapplers will go to Gainesville this weekend.

Festival's 'Mad Genius' Dies

MIAMI (UPI) — Earnest Edward Sells, the so-called "mad genius" who created the Orange Bowl Festival and made it what it is today, died at his home after a long illness.

Sells, 86, died Tuesday night. He had been in a coma since Friday.

Sells organized Miami's first football classic in 1933 and turned it into the nationally famous event that includes a New Year's Eve parade and a spectacular halftime show. He was one of the first inductees into the Florida Sports Hall of Fame.

Mandlikova Slips Past Smylie

PISCATAWAY, N.J. (UPI) — Top-seeded Hana Mandlikova, struggling with her serve, rallied past Australian Liz Smylie 3-6, 6-2, 6-3 in a first-round match of the $150,000 Women's Indoor tennis championships.

Mandlikova, ranked No. 4 in the world, complained to chair umpire Judy Popkin about line calls throughout the one hour, 44 minute match. She will meet Marianne Werdel in the second round.

Italian Cane Knocks Out Cash

MILAN, Italy (UPI) — Pat Cash, who won a men's grand prix tournament over the weekend in France, Tuesday was knocked out of the first round of the $345,000 Fila Trophy tennis tournament by Italy's Paolo Cane.

Cash, the No. 4 seed here, was ousted 6-3, 7-6 (7-4).

Stocks Sharply Lower

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices opened sharply lower today in heavy trading of New York Stock Exchange issues, as the market reacted to news that major banks have raised their prime rates.

The Dow Jones Industrial average, which rose 26.28 Tuesday, was off 26.56 to 2278.13 shortly after the market opened.

Declines led advances 1,227-97 among the 1,569 issues crossing the New York Stock Exchange tape.

Early turnover amounted to about 21,021,000 shares.

Stock prices closed higher Tuesday as the market showed signs of making a cautious recovery from a two-day retrenchment that dropped the Dow Jones Industrial average nearly 100 points.

After the market closed, two major banks announced increases in their prime commercial lending rates to 7 3/4 percent from 7 1/2 percent. Analysts have said that a rise in interest rates would put significant downward pressure on stock prices.

Ricky Harrington, technical analyst with First Interstate Securities Corp. in Charlotte, N.C., said he expects the market will meet resistance around the 2300 level and will have "to back and fill" in early April before retesting the 2400 level late in the month.

Dollar On Rise As Gold Declines

By United Press International
The U.S. dollar opened higher on all major foreign exchanges today. The price of gold moved lower.

In earlier trading in the Far East, the dollar buoyed by the Bank of Japan's continued intervention recovered substantially against the Japanese yen in active trading.

The dollar closed at 146.90 yen, up 1.25 from Tuesday's record low close of 145.65.

Dealers in Japan noted the Bank of Japan was believed to have purchased more than $500 million in Tokyo to shore up the dollar.

Dealers in London said the dollar was given a boost by some U.S. banks raising their prime lending rates from 7.5 percent to 7.75.

They said the hike, coupled with fairly favorable U.S. economic statistics Monday, created moderate customer interest in the Far East.

In European trading, the dollar opened at 1.8175 German marks in Frankfurt, up from Tuesday's close of 1.8051.

telligent people do this to a major city?"

Others got up to demand medical and police services on both sides of the beltway and an emergency helicopter.

They pooh-poohed "consultant studies" and encouraged everyone to write to the seven members of the Expressway Authority to protest.

The Seminole County Expressway is proposed to run from Interstate-4 in the north county and swing southeasterly through Orange County, connecting with the Bee Line Expressway and into Orlando International Airport.

A western beltway on the other side of I-4 down to Orange County is also proposed. It would extend through Seminole County five miles, crossing the Wekiva River either at State Road 46 or the old railroad crossing, going into Lake County, and Apopka, and tying to the Florida Turnpike.

Another study is being done on taking that road from the Florida Turnpike south to the west side of Walt Disney World and tying into I-4 again at the Polk County/Osceola county line.

Brinton said the route in Seminole County could be confined to the south portion of the county and stop at the County Road 427—U.S. Highway 17-92 area south of Sanford. That is one alternative the Expressway Authority has directed its staff to study. When he mentioned that option, the audience responded with applause.

When a dozen or more residents asked that the beltway not be built through Seminole County at all, Brinton added that the Authority has always had the 'No-build' alternative to consider.

If a beltway is needed around a major metropolitan district, the residents argued, it should go around Sanford too — not through it. "Sanford is a growing area, too, not just Orlando," said Denny Dunn.

Brinton told the group the expressway's biggest demand would be from drivers from the Sanford area going south and then coming back north — and that's the reason the road is proposed to go right into the city.

Sanford Mayor Bettye Smith, who is a member of the Authority and whose home is situated in one of the proposed routes, told the crowd not to believe two of the rumors that were circulating.

"One is that they're going to get your property whether you want them to or not. I assure you the decision has not been made," she said. "The other thing I'm hearing is that the rich people are going to get their way. I can't tell you how much this many people can accomplish," she said. She encouraged them to make their points clear at the meeting and on paper to the Authority.

Residents asked why Lake Mary homeowners were made aware of the proposed routes six months ago, while Idylwild residents read about them in the newspaper three weeks ago.

A petition was also circulating to voice objection to the second most northerly route option, called "E-E", that goes through Idylwild. That route would also bisect a school district, which the parents protested. A total of 424 signatures had been gathered by 10 p.m.

During the first week of May, public meetings are scheduled at which the three or four most desired routes will be discussed. During May and June those routes will be considered and studied. And in July the route most desired will be recommended. In the third week of July, the Expressway Authority will be asked to choose its best route. After the route is picked, no land use changes or building permits will be issued along that corridor.

Informal appraisals are being done to determine the cost of acquiring each of the 68 possible routes. Then, formal appraisals will be done just prior to construction, at which time displaced residents will be given compensation. But, as one resident said, they will have to stay in their "terminal houses" until construction is about to begin.

In late 1989, construction is scheduled to begin on the southerly portion, and take about 18 months. Then the next phase will be built in the early 1990s, with completion north to I-4 scheduled as soon as money is available.

Attorney Mike Gray wanted to know why the school board was allowed to share their "secret" building sites and get a look in advance at the route choices. He said all school business such as that is a matter of public record.

Ernie Butler wanted to know why all the fuss was being made "when plans haven't even jelled yet."

Don Jacob and many others wanted the expressway built near the Sanford Regional Airport and much farther east. Brinton told them it would not make an easy connection to I-4 that way, without going into Volusia County.

When told about the criteria for choosing the route — such as bypassing sensitive wetlands like Spring Hammock, a man got up to protest, saying, "You mean I'm going to lose my home so a turtle can keep his?"

Another woman suggested Brinton simply had not seen what the route will do to the Idylwild area homes. "Have you been there? Come tomorrow and I'll show you."

reconsider after the baby was born, said Gary Skoloff, the Sterns' lawyer.

Noel Keane, an attorney whose Infertility Center of New York arranged the contract between the Sterns and Whitehead, said the judge has "broken new ground and written new law."

The judge based his custody ruling largely on his conclusion that the contract Whitehead signed was legal and binding. But he was also brutally frank in his assessment of the woman herself.

"She's not a good custodian to her (two older) children. She would not be a good custodian to Baby M," Sorkow said.

The judge rejected the diagnosis of some expert witnesses that Whitehead suffers from an untreatable "mixed personality disorder," but said he found her "manipulative, impulsive, exploitative ... and also untruthful."

Sorkow said he believes Whitehead lied on the witness stand when she denied knowing the contents of a court order granting temporary custody to the Sterns when she fled to Florida with the baby last May.

Sorkow ruled that surrogate contracts do not violate New Jersey law and, in fact, are constitutionally protected by the right to privacy cited by the Supreme Court in the Roe vs Wade decision legalizing abortion.

"The surrogate parenting agreement is a valid and enforceable contract under the laws of New Jersey," he said. "If the right to reproduction is protected (by the right to privacy), the means of reproduction are also protected. This court holds that the protection extends to the use of surrogates."

The judge rejected the argument that the $10,000 fee, which Whitehead has never accepted, amounted to baby selling.

"He can't purchase that which is his," Sorkow said of William Stern. "The fact is, the money to be paid a surrogate is not being paid for the surrender of the child to the father."

Whitehead's chief lawyer said he considered Sorkow's decision "totally unfounded in the law" and said he was confident of winning on appeal.

"The judge's anger at Mary Beth Whitehead came through in his decision," lawyer Harold Cassidy said. "What is extremely disappointing is that this court ... views this lady as a surrogate uterus, not taking into account that she has a brain, she has a heart, that she has emotions."

There have been some 600 cases of surrogate motherhood in the United States, but Whitehead, 29, a housewife, was the first taken to trial for trying to break her contract to bear an infant for a childless couple.

apartment, might have been poisoned by carbon monoxide.

The smell of fumes coming from Meisner's apartment, coupled with a lightning-caused fire Saturday morning in another apartment at that complex, caused neighbors to call for firefighters to investigate the source of the fumes, Salerno said. Investigators found flammable liquid had been poured inside the home and two containers, one believe to be holding about a pint of gasoline, were found in Meisner's home.

There was also evidence that an attempt had been made to set a fire inside the apartment, but the fire burned itself out, sheriff's Capt. Roy Hughey said.

The case is being investigated as an arson as well as a homicide, he said.

Meisner had lived in that apartment for about two years. He had moved to Seminole County from Ft. Lauderdale and was unemployed, Salerno said.

ruling does not address the "proper Fourth Amendment analysis for drug and alcohol testing of employees."

But Robert Tobias, head of the National Treasury Employees Union that has filed suit to stop such testing programs, said the court's language indicates the court would allow drug testing only of workers suspected of drug use.

Justices Harry Blackmun, William Brennan, Thurgood Marshall and John Paul Stevens dissented.

Cook Of The Week

'Pink Lady' Prepares Traditional Recipes That Tell Fascinating Stories Of Heritage

By Dorothy Greene
Herald Correspondent

Not too many people can say that the house they were born in is now in the national registry of historical homes. Sara Epstein, our Cook of the Week, is the lucky woman who cherishes that little bit of history in her background. Preserved in a famous artist's sketch, Cornhill Street in Annapolis, Md. is among Mrs. Epstein's keepsakes and hangs in a special place in her Sanford home. "My father was in the Navy," she recalls, "and a Navy doctor came to the house and delivered me. I thought it was interesting that all the houses on that street are now in the national registry."

The oldest of three children, Mrs. Epstein says, "I'm happy to say that both my sisters, Esther Cohen and Rona Snyder, live in Sanford now, too. My father was a ship's tailor," says Mrs. Epstein, "but we couldn't use the machine because we'd get the threads all messed up, so we didn't learn how to sew. My mother wouldn't let me in the kitchen, so I didn't learn how to cook. I had to learn how to cook the hard way and I still don't sew." With a wink, she adds, "My husband does all my sewing."

When she was about 3 years old, her family moved to Easton, "which is the Colonial capitol of the eastern shore of Maryland," says Mrs. Epstein. "It's a very lovely town and a lot of famous people have lived there. John Charles Thomas, the famous opera star, had a home there and performed in the local theater at times. Robert Mitchum had a home there and often came into my father's tailor shop, and Hervey Allen, the author of Anthony Adverse, lived in Easton, too."

People didn't take vacations in those days, according to Mrs. Epstein, but families would spend precious time together on outings. "About once a month, on a Sunday, we'd go to a place in a different county called Tolchester, Maryland, I guess about 40 miles from where we lived. The boat came over from Baltimore and our relatives would come on it, my grandmother, my aunt and uncle and cousins. It was an amusement park with bath houses and picnic tables. We had a galvanized wash tub and we'd stop at the ice house and get a bucket of ice for the watermelon, the babies' food, the milk and the perishable things. We'd spend the day there."

After high school, our cook spent a year at State Teacher's College near Baltimore, then went on to business college. "Then I got a job with the Cat's Paw Rubber Co. in Baltimore," she says, "which is still in existence." The cat's paw is a recognizable symbol on the heels and soles of shoes.

"My mother was a wonderful cook," says Mrs. Epstein. "She came from what was Austria in those days, at the time Franz Josef was Emperor, and her parents had a bakery. She had to learn how to cook, and it was her job to go to the marketplace once obtained his license to practice medicine in Florida, he received much help and encouragement from Dr. Tolar, a practicing physician in Sanford at that time. "and in one day," says Mrs. Epstein, "he rented his office, rented a house, and in about a month's time, we joined him." As a family practitioner, Dr. Epstein has administered his medical expertise in Sanford ever since.

In the past 37 years, Mrs. Epstein has been active in many community causes, including her 31 years of volunteer service as a "pink lady" at the former Seminole Memorial Hospital and presently Central Florida Regional Hospital. "That's my main outlet," she says. "I enjoy that. I meet all kinds of people. That's where my husband spends a lot of his time, and so it gives me a good perspective of what goes on there." As president of the Sanford Jewish Community, Mrs. Epstein oversees the group's efforts in raising funds for contributions to various causes, Jewish and non-Jewish. Approximately 30 members give to the United Jewish Appeal, a Jewish home in Jacksonville, and the Manna Haven facility in Sanford. Mrs. Epstein is an avid reader and has enjoyed playing Mah Jongg with friends. One of her favorite "rules to live by" is simple and to the point — Happiness is contagious, be a carrier.

When the schedule permits, Dr. and Mrs. Epstein love to travel and have visited Expo 70, Japan, Russia, Denmark, Ireland and Norway. Their last trip was to eastern Europe where "we went from country to country in a bus with a big American flag on the back," she says. The most memorable and heart-rending part of the trip was visiting Krakow, Poland during Rosh Hashana, the Jewish New Year, where the house of worship was sparse and run down, but served the older generation of Jews still clinging to their faith. "There aren't any young people there," says Mrs. Epstein. "There was just a handful of older people."

Mrs. Epstein and her husband enjoy three meals a day together. "He comes home for lunch every day," she says. "He's had a heart operation and is also a diabetic, so I have had to adjust some of my recipes." Our cook also likes to prepare many of the traditional Jewish recipes that are so much a part of her heritage and which also tell fascinating stories, such as

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas William Maliczowski

Linda Vallie Lee, D.W. Maliczowski Exchange Vows

Linda Vallie Lee and Douglas William Maliczowski, both of Sanford, were married Feb. 14, at 6 p.m., at the First United Methodist Church, Sanford. The Rev. George A. Bule III performed the double ring ceremony.

David McGhee, organist, played traditional nuptial selections and accompanied soloist Cindy Lee who sang "A Wedding Song" and "Evergreen."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Grier Lee, 1901 Magnolia Ave., Sanford, and the granddaughter of Mrs. Miriam Shull, Sanford. The bridegroom is the son of Cdr. (USN, ret.) and Mrs. William Maliczowski, 118 Laurel Drive, Sanford.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows an ivory lace over satin gown fashioned along the princess silhouette. The fitted bodice featured an off-the-shoulder neckline trimmed in satin with a full tea-length skirt. Her headpiece, a picture hat trimmed with Venise lace and embroidered with seed pearls, was accented with moline poufs and veil. She carried a cascade of white Phalaenopsis orchids and baby's breath showered with ivory satin streamers.

Katherine L. Dingle, Crystal River, attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore an all-over Daphne rose, tea-length gown with ruffles defining the off-the-shoulder sleeves. The princess-style bodice flowed into a full flounced skirt. Her headpiece was a shallow crown lattice hat of matching Daphne rose with pearl trim, moline poufs and streamers. She carried a bouquet of rose silk lilies, daisies and baby's breath with an ivory bow and streamers.

The bridegroom's father served as best man. Groomsman was Rick McMurray. Ushers were Glenn Robinson, Jim Lee, brother of the bride, Dennis Dingle, brother-in-law of the bride, and Jamie Dingle, nephew of the bride. The bridegroom wore a navy blue Cambridge tuxedo with matching cummerbund and bow tie. The best man wore a full navy dress uniform. The groomsman and ushers were attired in navy blue Cambridge tuxedos.

Rachel Sutherland, flower girl, wore an ivory lace gown.

Following the wedding, Sanora Clubhouse was the site of the reception. Greeting the guests were Joyce Sawyers and Lawanda Sandon. Others assisting were: Doris Gormly and Vickie Gormly, pouring punch; Katherine Fletcher, Mattland, Keene Ivy and Laverne Hamilton, Tuskawilla, cutting and serving cake; and Paige Cassidy, Washington, D.C., and Karen Wells, Asheville, Ohio, bride's book.

Floating hostesses were: Ruth Ann McCormick, Orlando; Jennifer Fletcher, Mattland; Linda Douglas, Crystal River; Emily, Molly and Jenny White, Crystal River; and Kim Gormly.

Bird seed were distributed by Tiffany Gormly and Larissa Connor. Entertainment at the reception and dance was provided by "Finesse" with Cindy Lee as soloist.

Coordinating the reception were: Chris Connor, Dent Love, Sharlene Lambert, Nancy Hall and Carol Galloway.

The bride and her sister and niece, Kathy and Lee Dingle, catered the buffet reception.

Following a wedding trip to the Florida Keys, the newlyweds are making their home at 113 W. 15th St., Sanford, where the bridegroom is self-employed as a tennis professional and the bride is owner-operator of Taylors Natural Foods, Zayre Plaza.

the Haman Hat (Hamantashen) cookies. The story of Haman, the mean prime minister, is told in the book of Esther. The cookies are traditionally served on Purim, considered the happiest day of the year for Hebrew children. Children enjoy biting off the corners of these three cornered cookies to express their confidence that they will outlive every Haman.

Included in the list below is a dietetic recipe for Dr. Epstein's favorite oatmeal-raisin cookies:

HAMANTASHEN

Cookie dough for the Hamantashen:

- 2 1/2 cups flour
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup margarine
- 1 egg
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- prune-apricot-nut filling (recipe follows)

In bowl, combine flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. With pastry blender, cut in margarine until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Stir in egg and orange juice, mixing just to combine. Gather in a ball, wrap and chill well. Roll out on lightly floured board to 1/4 inch in thickness. Cut into circles about 3 to 3 1/2 inches in diameter. Put about a teaspoon of filling in the center of each. Bring edges together to form a triangle, pinching them to seal. Leave a small opening in center of the cookie. Bake on greased cookie sheet for 8 to 10 minutes at 400° until golden brown.

Prune-Apricot filling:

- 1 package (12 ounce) pitted prunes
- 1 package dried apricots
- 1/2 cup chopped nuts
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1/2 cup sugar

In saucepan, bring to boil pitted prunes, apricots, 1/2 cup water and lemon juice. Cover and simmer until prunes and apricots are very soft. Remove from heat. Mash or chop well. Stir in sugar and nuts.

OATMEAL-RAISIN COOKIES

- (Dietetic)
- 1/2 cup non-fat dry milk
- 1/4 cup ice water
- 1/2 cup raisins
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup brown SugarTwin sweetener

- 1 egg
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 cup flour
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup rolled oats

Whip non-fat dry milk with ice water until stiff peaks form, 4 to 5 minutes. Boil raisins in water for 2 minutes, drain; reserve liquid for later use. Sift together dry ingredients. Combine butter, SugarTwin, egg and vanilla. Beat 1 minute at medium speed. Add liquid from boiled raisins. Add dry ingredients. Beat 2 minutes at low speed. Stir in rolled oats and raisins. Fold in whipped non-fat dry milk. Drop from teaspoon 2 inches apart onto ungreased cookie sheet. Bake at 375° for 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 3 1/2 dozen.

SWEDISH COFFEE CAKE

- 2 cups flour
- 2 cups brown sugar

Microwave Magic

Pasta Dishes Add Interest To Menu

Pasta was first introduced to America by Thomas Jefferson. In a variety of forms it has been a popular food ever since. From good, comfortable homey macaroni and cheese to pasta primavera, pasta is "in." Hardly a menu can be found that does not have some pasta dishes on it. Try some of these pasta combinations to add interest and variety to your menu planning.

PASTA AND CHEESE
2 cups uncooked elbow macaroni (8 ounces)
3 cups hot water
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cooking oil
2 packages cream cheese
1/4 cup butter or margarine
3/8 cups water
2 tablespoons chopped fresh parsley
1/2-3/4 teaspoon basil
1/4 teaspoon salt
Fresh ground black pepper
* 1/2 cup Parmesan cheese

Combine 3 cups boiling water, salt, oil and macaroni in a 2-quart casserole. Microwave on 100% power 8-10 minutes or until pasta is tender, stirring several times. Drain and rinse and return to casserole. Add cream cheese and butter to macaroni. Microwave on 100% power 2-3 minutes or until cheese and butter are softened. Stir slightly to mix with macaroni. Add water, parsley, basil, salt, pepper and Parmesan cheese. Mix lightly. Microwave on 100% power 3-4 minutes or until heated through. *Freshly grated Parmesan cheese from the dell or from an Italian market is a must for this recipe. The kind from a cardboard container will not give the best flavor.

Fettucini is Italian for an egg noodle (pasta). For a quick pasta dinner casserole this can't be beat.

FETTUCINI AND HAM
Microwave 8 ounces fettucini noodles in 3 cups boiling water. 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon oil 8-10 minutes. Drain and rinse, set aside. Microwave one 10-ounce package frozen peas in package for 4-5 minutes or until tender. Drain and set aside. Combine 1/4 cups half and half or milk, one tablespoon flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, dash of garlic powder, dash of black pepper in a 2-quart casserole. Mix until smooth. Microwave on 100% power 4-5 minutes or until mixture boils and thickens, stirring several times. Beat one egg and stir into sauce. Mix in noodles, peas and 1 1/2 cups cubed cooked ham. Cover. Microwave on 100% power 5-6 minutes or until heated through. Sprinkle with grated Cheddar cheese (1/2 cup). Mix lightly and serve. Leftover turkey or chicken can be substituted for the ham.

A classic that is made easily in the microwave oven.

PASTA PRIMAVERA
8 ounces mostaccioli
4 cups hot water
1 teaspoon oil

Midge Mycoff

Home Economist
Seminole
Community College

1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups broccoli pieces
2 cups cauliflower pieces
1 cup thinly sliced carrots
1 medium zucchini, sliced
2 tablespoons water
1 clove garlic, minced
10 cherry tomatoes
1 cup half and half
1/2 cup Parmesan cheese
1 teaspoon basil leaves
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Combine mostaccioli, water, oil and salt in a 2-quart batter bowl. Microwave on 100% power 10-12 minutes or until pasta is tender. Stir several times. Drain. Rinse in cold water, set aside.

Combine broccoli, cauliflower, carrot, zucchini, water and garlic in a 3-quart casserole; mix lightly. Cover. Microwave on 100% power 11-13 minutes or until vegetables are tender-crisp. Drain, add pasta, tomatoes, half & half, Parmesan cheese, basil leaves, salt and pepper. Microwave on 100% power (uncovered) 2-3 minutes or until heated through.

Lasagne that is really easy since the noodles don't require pre-cooking. It's a vegetable main dish.

MEATLESS LASAGNA
1 pound sliced zucchini
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 small onion, chopped
1 tablespoon butter
1 can (15 ounces) tomato sauce
1/2 teaspoon basil leaves
1/2 teaspoon oregano leaves
1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
1 egg
1 carton (12 ounces) creamed cottage cheese
3 uncooked lasagna noodles
2 cups shredded Mozzarella cheese
2 tablespoons Parmesan cheese

Microwave on 100% power zucchini in one quart casserole 9-10 minutes or until tender. Drain. Sprinkle with salt; set aside. Combine onion and butter in one quart casserole. Microwave 1-2 minutes or until onion is transparent. Stir in tomato sauce, basil, oregano and garlic powder. Microwave 5-6 minutes or until boiling and flavors blended, stirring at least once. Beat egg, mix in cottage cheese. Spoon about 1/4 cup sauce into 10x8-inch baking dish. Layer half the zucchini, all the lasagna noodles and the cottage cheese mixture, and half the Mozzarella cheese, the remaining zucchini and sauce. Cover with wax paper. Microwave on 100% power 8 minutes or until noodles are tender. Sprinkle with remaining mozzarella and the Parmesan cheese. Let stand 10 minutes before cutting into squares.

Manicotti shells are easier to stuff before cooking. The recipe combines Italian and Mexican in one easy to prepare dish that is sure to please.

MEXICAN MANICOTTI
1 pound ground beef
1/2 can (16 ounce) refried beans
2 tablespoons chopped onions
1 package taco seasoning mix
1 teaspoon oregano leaves
2 cups shredded Monterey Jack cheese
10 manicotti shells
1 can (15 ounce) tomato sauce
2 cups water
1/2 cup sour cream
3 green onions, sliced
1/4 cup sliced ripe olives

Mix together ground beef, beans, onion, oregano, 1 1/2 tablespoons seasoning mix and 1 cup cheese. With fingers press this meat mixture into manicotti shells. Arrange in 12x8-inch baking dish. Microwave on 100% power tomato sauce, 1 cup water and remaining taco seasoning mix in a 4-cup glass measure 6-8 minutes or until steaming hot. Pour over shells.

Microwave (100%) 14 minutes, turn each shell over. Add remaining 1 cup water. Cover. Reduce power to 50%, microwave 16 minutes longer or until shells are tender. Let stand covered 5 minutes. Spoon sour cream onto shells. Sprinkle with remaining cheese, green onion and ripe olives.

Petite Walks For March Of Dimes

Kids help kids. That's what children at La Petite Academy child care centers across the country will be doing when they conduct "Petite Walks" to benefit the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation.

Children at all 550 centers of La Petite Academy will get friends, neighbors and relatives to sponsor them in the short walks to raise funds for the fight against birth defects, the nation's number one child health problem.

In Central Florida, the Petite Walks against birth defects will take place throughout the community from April 6 through April 10. Contact the La Petite Academy nearest you for more information on their "Petite Walks."

Nana Robertson, Divisional Director of the La Petite Academy, said, "We strongly believe in the La Petite Academy theme of 'Kids helping Kids.' That's why we're conducting Petite Walks for the March of Dimes again this year.

Last year, $6,928 of the national total of $250,000 raised by La Petite Academy Petite Walks was raised locally. This year, the national goal for the child care organization is to surpass $250,000.

Money collected in pledges helps support March of Dimes programs in birth defects, research health care services and education.

For more information about the "Petite Walks" contact the March of Dimes at 849-0790.

Infection Of Tonsils Can Cause Bad Breath

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — My problem with bad breath has really become a barrier to interaction with co-workers, family and others at close range. I have noticed that small, foul-smelling, ivory-colored particles come out of my throat occasionally. What are these particles and where do they come from? If they are the cause of my bad breath, how do I get rid of them?

disease, certain medications and some female conditions, such as ovarian cysts.

Menopause will not affect the home pregnancy test, because women who are not pregnant do not excrete HCG. However, if a woman became pregnant during early menopause, the test would

DEAR READER — The tonsils are lymph glands at the back of the throat. They are believed to help protect us from bacteria that are introduced into the upper respiratory tract.

With time, the tonsils may show signs of repeated infection. The glands swell, become scarred and develop crevices or crypts, like wrinkles on a prune. If the tonsils are not removed at an early age — and current opinion suggests that they should not be — they can develop painless, chronic infection. This produces a soapy form of pus that can fill up the crypts. This infection will cause a foul breath odor. On occasion, pieces of infected material can be coughed up or released from tonsils that are chronically inflamed.

Antibiotics are not particularly useful in treating this infection because the drugs cannot readily penetrate the tonsils. I've found that tonsillectomy is the preferred approach. This will get rid of the tonsils, crypts and all, and remove the source of throat infection. Ask your doctor to refer you to an ear, nose and throat specialist to see if such surgery is best in your case.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Would a home pregnancy test be accurate if one is going through menopause?

DEAR READER — Home pregnancy tests measure human chorionic gonadotropin. This hormone is produced by a pregnant woman starting about two weeks after fertilization. HCG is excreted in the urine and can be identified by the chemicals in the pregnancy kit. The test results can be affected by kidney

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

When South first sorted his cards, he thought that his side might be able to make a part-score contract. That certainly seemed probable when his partner opened the bidding. After West's two-diamond overall, North's two-spade rebid and East's competitive three-diamond bid, he was not so sure. If his partner lacked heart support and had the black suits, perhaps the best bet was to try to set three diamonds. But that view quickly changed when North carried on to three hearts. Now it was clear that North had a decent hand with three-card heart support. The fact that he had bid clubs and spades marked him with at most one diamond, so the hand figured to play quite well. South bid four hearts, just as any of us would.

A low spade opening lead would have created a play problem that we might not have had room to discuss. Declarer would be all right if he took a winning view in the heart suit, but he would be on shaky ground if he played to his heart ace only to see West show out. With the ace of diamonds lead, there was little trouble. Declarer ruffed in dummy and did play a heart back to his ace. Even with the bad split, it was still simple enough to make 10 tricks. Declarer led a club up to dummy's king. West took the ace and led a spade. Now declarer tried to cash dummy's club king, which East ruffed low and declarer over-ruffed. A low diamond was next ruffed with dummy's queen of hearts and East was left with only two heart tricks.

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY APRIL 2, 1987

Your prospects in the year ahead look very bright both materially and aesthetically. Over the coming months you may become involved in some of the happiest experiences of your life. ARIES (March 21-April 19) You're going to be the recipient of some good news that will require time to be fully appreciated. Don't let negative evaluations make less of it than it is. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Matchmaker set can help you understand what it might take to make the relationship work. Mail #2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. TAURUS (April 20-May 20) An unprofitable development can be reversed today if it is handled wisely. Don't accept a losing proposition as something that can't be transformed. GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Hang onto your hopes because things have a way of working out to your ultimate advantage today. If one door is closed, another will be opened. CANCER (June 21-July 22) It doesn't matter who else believes you today, provided you believe in yourself. Let your achievements prove others wrong. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You'll be fortunate today in dealings you have with a prestigious individual. However, make a friend of him or her first and talk business later. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Lady Luck will play a role in your financial affairs today, but she may not extend her favors on one with whom you are associated. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You'll handle large issues in stride today, but petty or frivolous irritations authored by co-workers could have you Get going. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Be selective in your choice of social companions today. Give a wide berth to an individual you suspect might want something from you materially. PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Durability and quality should take precedence over price or fads pertaining to any major purchase you make for your home today. Shop wisely.

Boys And Their Toys Can Cause Countless Tragedies

DEAR ABBY: It was a beautiful spring day in Ellsville, so I went for a walk in my neighborhood park. Through the trees I saw three boys with several pellet guns intently tracking something. There was a flutter of feathers, several barely aimed shots, then some peals of laughter.

Dear Abby

I was so angry and upset that by the time I found the badly injured bird I was speechless. When those boys saw the tears in my eyes as I picked up the dying creature to humanely put it out of its misery, I think they knew.

So, if you are looking for the first robin of spring in my neighborhood — it's dead. I buried it down by the creek.

KAREN KRUMREY, ELLISVILLE, MO.

DEAR KAREN: Your letter moved me to tears. Those three cruel, misguided boys in Ellsville may not see this, but it will be seen by the parents of an untold number of children whose toys include pellet guns that could conceivably injure a family pet, blind a child, or kill the first robin of spring.

It is the responsibility of parents to raise moral children to have reverence for life and to respect all living creatures. And why must children "play" with guns, anyway?

DEAR ABBY: Please print this:
An Open Letter to Wedding Guests:

After eight months of planning, and several thousand dollars, my daughter's wedding was beautiful. Thank you all for coming.

Unfortunately, some of you will not receive a thank-you note for your lovely presents. The reason should be obvious: the practice of bringing a gift to the reception is becoming the norm rather than the exception. Very late in the evening, after the newlyweds had departed, the caterer had been paid and the reception was over, the family was faced with loading hundreds of presents into the too few remaining cars. Naturally, when the gifts were unloaded, some had cards attached, some did not. And don't forget the loose cards found on the floor, on tables, etc.

So, if you receive a note thanking you for the "lovely present," don't blame my daughter for not specifically mentioning your gift. She has no idea who gave her that place setting of sterling silver. We have loose gift cards, and we have gifts with no cards. How can she possibly thank each of you?

Incidentally, the guests who (properly) sent their presents to our home before the wedding received a thank-you note by return mail!

MOTHER OF THE BRIDE

DEAR MOTHER: Your open letter appears to have been written by a woman with a closed mind.

There is no excuse for the cards to be "loose," lost or dropped on the floor; the thoughtful bride asks a member of the family or a close personal friend to see that the cards and gifts are kept together in an orderly fashion. And by the way, it is not considered "improper" to bring a wedding gift to the reception.

DEAR ABBY: In response to "Looking Heavenward," who asked you whether she would be united in marriage with her first love in heaven, or would she be stuck with her "worthless" husband: That question has been of concern for many centuries.

According to the writings of Matthew in the New Testament, Jesus was asked this question regarding a woman who had been married to each of seven brothers: "When the dead rise to life, whose wife will she be?"

Jesus answered that when the dead rise to life, they will be like angels in heaven, and will neither be married nor given in marriage.

Food for Thought

Here's a healthier pie crust that tastes just as good as any other: combine 1/2 cup shredded wheat cereal, crushed, with 1/2 cup toasted flakelets, chopped, 3 Tbs. melted margarine and an egg white. Pat into a greased pie pan and bake at 375° for 8 to 9 minutes.

Smart cooks keep the gravy hot, so it can warm the roast turkey, beef or whatever that's probably cooled by the time everyone is served.

Try broccoli cheddar. Instead of too-rich hollandaise sauce, top vegetables with 1/2 cup mayonnaise lightened with 2 Tbs. sour cream, and a few drops of sesame oil. Garnish with toasted sesame seeds.

Finest olive oil is extra-virgin; it has the lowest acidity. Extra-virgin and virgin oils are best for salad. Pure olive oil, which has been refined to remove impurities, is fine for cooking.

The easy way to skin a tomato or onion: dip in boiling water for 30 seconds, scoop it out and immediately plunge into cold water. Pull off the skin with your fingers and a paring knife.

IN BRIEF

Fertility Doctor Says He Was Visited By Suspect

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — A fertility specialist says a woman charged with abducting an infant and killing the baby's mother visited his office, but investigators refused comment on whether an inability to conceive may have played a role in the abduction.

Wendy Zabel, 23, visited the office of Dr. David Friedline in early September, Friedline said Tuesday. He said he treated her only once.

"She came in because she wanted to try to get pregnant and that's the area I deal with," said Friedline, an obstetrician-gynecologist who specializes in fertility. "She never came back for a follow up of the treatment."

He declined to comment further, saying his records have been taken by prosecutors.

Presidential Retreat Opens

KEY WEST (UPI) — The official transfer of the Little White House, a vacation residence of presidents beginning with Harry S. Truman in the mid-1940s, was completed Tuesday before hundreds of visitors.

Visitors streamed through two green iron gates at the Truman Little White House, ending a tradition in which the entry was used only for U.S. presidents vacationing at the house.

Key West Mayor Tom Sawyer and the new Truman Annex owner, Boston developer Prilam Singh, pushed open the gates after Capt. Raymond F. Sullivan, commander of the U.S. Naval Air Station in Key West, gave Singh the deed to the former Navy base and the key to the "Presidential Gates" in a ceremony attended by hundreds.

Assistant State Attorney Arrested

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — An assistant state attorney arrested on charges he accepted money from lawyers in two separate cases is free today on his own recognizance.

State Attorney Ed Austin of the 4th judicial circuit said Baker King, Austin's personal friend and long-time assistant state attorney, was arrested on two charges of unlawful compensation Tuesday after a four-month investigation by authorities in north Florida.

Austin said one charge involves King's acceptance of money from a defense lawyer in a St. Johns County case, in the 7th judicial circuit. The second charge involves King's acceptance of money "in relation to a pending criminal case in Duval County," Austin said.

He refused to specify the cases, and did not say how much money King, a 15-year assistant state attorney, accepted.

Legislative Bills Cost $640,000

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Legislature will spend about $640,000 producing copies of proposed bills during the 1987 session, House and Senate officials say.

House and Senate bill production directors Jim Lowe and Robert Kennedy predicted Tuesday legislators would file about 3,200 bills during the 60-day session. Each bill will cost an estimated $200.

The two houses will also print daily calendars of each day's meetings — the House prints 3,500 a day, the Senate 2,500 — at a combined cost of $200,000 a year.

Expensive, but worth the cost, said House Clerk John Phelps.

"The purpose of all this is to inform the public, and we never want to tell someone they can't get a bill or a calendar because we have run out," Phelps said. "We tend to err on the side of caution."

The House, which has 120 members to the Senate's 40, will produce the majority of the bills. With a week left until the session's April 7 start, House Bill Drafting Director Lowe said his office had already printed 700 bills.

"In recent years, they (House members) have filed about 1,800 bills a year," Lowe said. "We are about on line with the last couple of years."

"We're talking about a lot of paper here," Kennedy said.

During an average session, about 500 bills will pass both houses and become law. The governor usually vetoes a few bills each year, but seldom more than two or three.

The session itself will cost about $40,000 each day for salaries, supplies, printing and other items. If the session does not run overtime, that figures up to a two-month cost of $2.4 million.

The Senate has an annual budget of $15 million. The House's budget is $25 million.

Easter Brunch

Simple Meal Makes Holiday Cozy

By Alleen Claire
NEA Food Editor

Ancient civilizations used to herald the arrival of more daylight and the blossoming of spring by offering feast dishes to their goddess, Eostre.

Today Christians throughout the world celebrate Easter Sunday, which marks the resurrection of Christ. This most holy day is devoted to prayer and thoughts of a new beginning.

Easter egg hunts for the children and gay floral arrangements of tulips, crocuses, lilies or hyacinths heighten the aura of spring freshness. Some families and friends still gather for elaborate after-church dinners on this meaningful day of renewal and joy. The trend, however, is to use more simple preparations, such as this brunch menu.

MORNING ZEST

4 cups orange juice, chilled
4 cups tomato juice, chilled
1/2 cup green chilies, finely chopped
1 tablespoon horseradish
4 to 6 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
Fresh lime slices, for garnish

In blender's large container, combine orange juice, tomato juice, lime juice, chopped chilies, horseradish and Worcestershire sauce. Cover and blend until smooth. Refrigerate until ready to serve in chilled glasses. Garnish with lime slices. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 8 (10-ounce) servings.

BERRY RAINBOW

2 (10-ounce) packages frozen raspberries or strawberries
3 cups tea
1 quart orange juice
1 cup lime or lemon juice
1 cup crushed pineapple
Sugar to taste
2 quarts sparkling mineral water or club soda
Quart vanilla ice cream

Thaw berries. Sieve or strain, then mix in a large pitcher with tea, fruit juices, pineapple and sugar. Refrigerate, and just before serving, add sparkling water and stir. Pour into glasses filled with ice cubes or scoop of vanilla ice cream. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 quarts, about 10 to 12 servings.

QUICHE PROVENCE

1 (9-inch) baked pie shell
1 medium onion, sliced
2 medium tomatoes, cut into wedges
1 cup sliced zucchini
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon oil
1 teaspoon garlic powder, optional
1/2 teaspoon basil leaves, crushed
1/4 teaspoon pepper
6 eggs
1 1/4 cups half-and-half or milk

In large omelet pan or skillet, cook onion and green pepper in oil over medium heat until tender but not brown, about 5 minutes. Stir in tomatoes, zucchini and seasonings. Cook uncovered an additional 10 minutes, stirring frequently. Drain well. Set aside in bowl.

Beat together eggs and half-and-half until well blended. Pour into pie shell. Spoon in reserved vegetable mixture. Bake in preheated 375-degree oven until a knife, inserted near the center, comes out clean. 30 to 35 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes before serving.

NOTE: To bake pie shell, line unbaked pie shell with 12-inch square of aluminum foil and, for weight, fill with rice or dried beans or peas. Cover shell rim with edges of foil. Bake in preheated 450-degree oven until edges turn lightly browned, 10 to 15 minutes. Lift out foil and filler. Cool shell on wire rack. (NOTE: You can also use a frozen, deep-dish style pie shell.) This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 servings.

HAM WITH FRUIT-RICE DRESSING

3 tablespoons brown sugar
1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup chicken broth
2 cups cooked rice

3/4 cup sectioned oranges
1 cup diced tart apples
1/4 cup seedless raisins
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 ham steaks (8 ounces each)

In 2-quart saucepan, combine and heat sugar, cloves, butter and broth. Add rice, fruit, and salt. Mix well. In skillet, grill ham steaks until browned. Place rice mixture in a baking pan and top with steaks, or spoon dressing between the steaks. Cover and bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 servings.

SHRIMP SANDWICHES

2 cups cooked small shrimp
3/4 cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 1/2 teaspoons curry powder, optional
1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
Salad greens
1 package (8 ounces) frankfurter rolls

In bowl, combine all ingredients except salad greens and rolls. Arrange salad greens on rolls; top with shrimp mixture. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 sandwiches.

APRICOT PASTRY ROLL

3/4 cup salad oil (not olive oil)
1 cup sugar
3 eggs
1/4 cup warm water
4 1/2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon nutmeg

In a large mixing bowl, blend oil and sugar. Beat in eggs, one at a time. Stir in water. Sift dry ingredients together, then spoon lightly over the egg mixture. Combine two mixtures thoroughly, and then use fingers to shape into a large ball of pastry. Divide in quarters and reshape each quarter into a pastry ball. (This pastry may be used immediately, without having to be chilled.)

Filling:
1 cup orange juice
1 pound dried apricots, snipped in quarters
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
1 orange, peeled and diced
1/2 apple, peeled, cored and diced
6 tablespoons sugar
1/2 cup golden raisins
1/2 cup toasted, shredded coconut
1/3 teaspoon melted margarine
3 tablespoons cinnamon/sugar

In a medium saucepan, combine orange juice and apricots. Bring to boiling point; cover. Simmer 5 minutes, then remove from heat and allow to stand until juice is absorbed. Combine apricots with remaining ingredients, except for margarine and cinnamon/sugar. (If mixture seems "runny," add 2 tablespoons of cake crumbs or cornstarch.) This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 2 cups filling.

To make pastry, sprinkle cloth-covered pastry board with flour. Also lightly flour a "stocking" covered rolling pan and roll one of the pastry balls into a rectangle about 10-inches-by-8-inches and about 1/4-inch thick. Spread pastry with about 3/4 to 1 cup filling, leaving a 1-inch pastry border all around. Roll up snugly and tuck pastry ends under.

Place on greased cookie sheet. With a sharp paring knife, make a few slits in the top, about 1-inch deep (to allow air to escape and prevent pastry from cracking). Brush top with melted margarine and sprinkle with cinnamon-sugar. Bake in a 350-degree oven for 30 to 35 minutes, until golden. Cool on a wire rack before cutting into slices.

Repeat above technique with second pastry roll. Both rolls may be baked at the same time on a cookie sheet, since the pastry does not spread in baking. Or for future use, keep remaining pastry in refrigerator or freezer. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 2 rolls.

How Sweet It Is.

There's no better way to start the day—or end a meal—than with something delicious from the Publix Danish Bakery. Choose a Danish pecan coffee cake: 135 flaky layers and a sumptuous, old-fashioned filling. Or chewy, deep chocolate brownies with honest-to-goodness fudge frosting. And that's just a taste of what you'll find waiting for you at the Publix Danish Bakery, where we bake from scratch—all day, every day.
