

DeGaulle Forces Win Atom Dispute

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle's regime weathered a censure motion in the national assembly Tuesday and won reluctant approval to build an independent French nuclear striking force.

The opposition, protesting the move would weaken France's ties to its North Atlantic Allies, mustered 207 votes on the censure motion against Premier Michel Debré's government.

It was the greatest show of parliamentary hostility to Debré — and therefore to De Gaulle — since the Gaullist Fifth Republic was installed two and a half years ago. But it fell 70 votes short of the majority needed to oust the government.

Failure of the censure motion meant automatic approval of the atomic force plan. There was strong speculation that if the vote had been on the military plan itself De Gaulle would have been defeated.

The bitter debate proceeding the vote reflected deep-seated resentment to De Gaulle's penchant for a strongman rule.

Titan Warhead In Record Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — An Air Force Titan intercontinental ballistic missile hurled a dummy warhead 6,100 miles over the Atlantic Monday in its longest successful test flight to date.

The missile took about 30 minutes to fly to a target in the South Atlantic off the west coast of Africa. Its range was just 200 miles short of the distance that war-ready models will be able to travel with nuclear warheads.

The shot marked the 18th success in 25 flight tests of the bullet-shaped, 98-foot tall missile since the test program began here less than two years ago. There also have been three "partial" successes and four failures.

In one respect, it was one of the most dramatic rocket tests here in many months. As the missile rose through the thin high atmosphere at a speed of several thousand miles per hour, its exhaust touched off a brilliant display of high altitude gas displays seen as far north as Virginia.

The shot is expected to lead to the first test of a Titan from an underground "silo" launcher at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., probably early in November. In that test the rocket will be raised by an elevator mechanism to ground level for firing.

Congolese Restrain Soldiers

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI)—Congolese troops pulled out of most of their positions in the city and returned to barracks on the outskirts today under Col. Joseph Mubutu's promise to the United Nations.

The UN command has reported to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld that there appeared to be a concerted effort by Belgians to regain power in the Congo, authoritative sources said.

Some of Mubutu's troops remained at strategic points. They included a cordon of soldiers ringed around Premier Patrice Lumumba's residence. The United Nations did not object to the guard.

Troops who had been roaming the city searching for arms allegedly hidden by Lumumba's supporters vanished, and others pulled out of police stations they had been occupying since last Saturday.

Mubutu, who rejected charges his men had committed the rapes and killings of the past weekend, agreed to withdraw his troops to their barracks on the outskirts of the city at the United Nations request.

In return, he was given control over the city armory which is well equipped. Though the Congolese army already was reported to have sufficient arms and ammunition, the UN command was confident it could handle the troops in the event of a fight.

Good sources said Belgians have returned in increasing numbers to political and administrative posts and UN technicians are being pushed into lower operational levels.

West Warns Reds On Berlin Airlines

LONDON (UPI)—Britain, France and the United States published identical notes today warning the Soviet Union that any restrictions on the air corridors into Berlin would create "a dangerous situation."

The notes, delivered to Moscow Wednesday, were released by the Foreign Office here. They said the West would not accept Moscow's argument that the Soviet sector of Berlin is part of East Germany.

The notes said the Soviet government would be held "fully responsible" for any consequences of interference with the air corridors.

"It is clear," they said, "from the allied control council decision that the three powers have the right to use the corridors without restriction."

The Western powers denied that they had caused any tension in Berlin. This was in answer to Soviet allegations that the powers had supported and encouraged the "revanchist" activities of West Germany in Berlin.

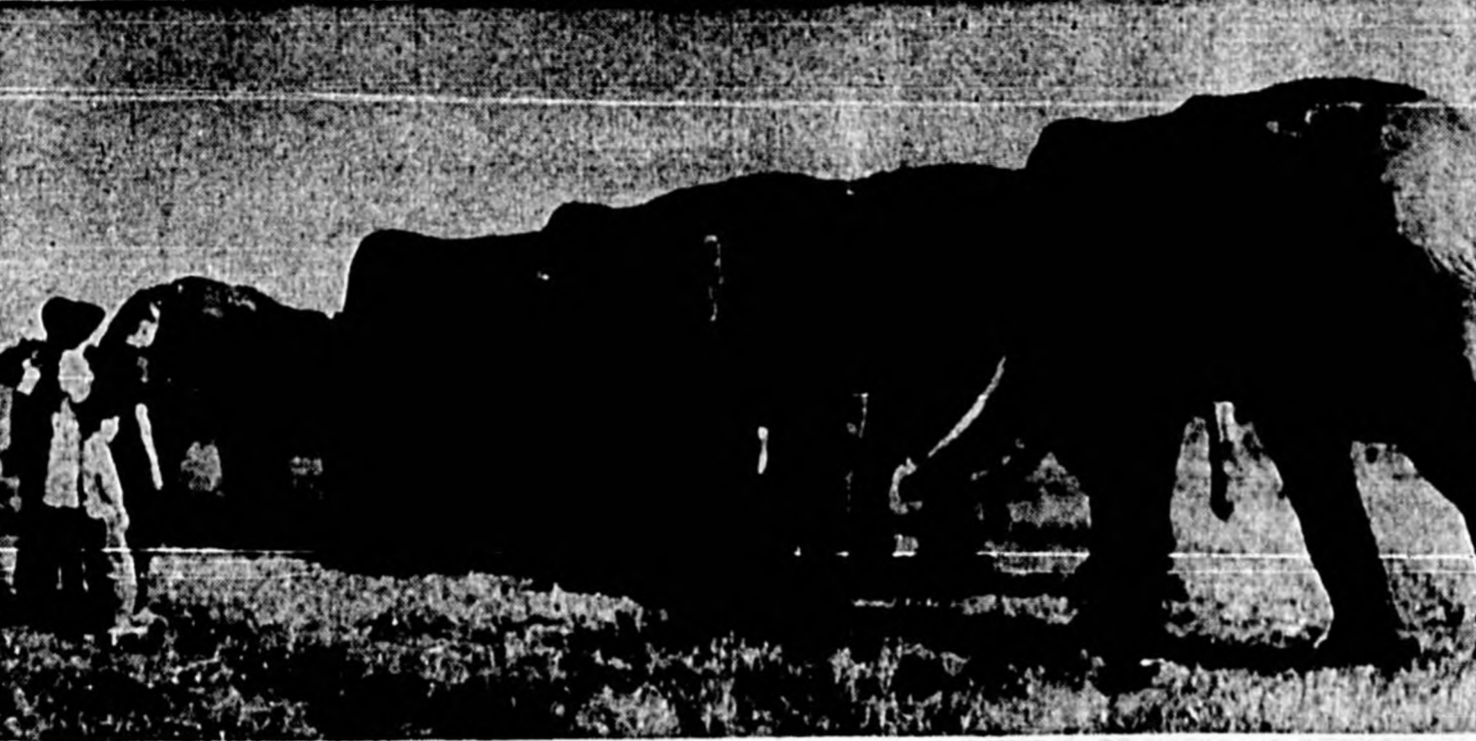

Cleanup Of Donna Debris Nears End

City work crews this week will wrap up a massive $7,500 cleanup campaign as the last remnants of Hurricane Donna will be swept off the streets.

City Manager W. K. Knoles reported that the campaign, which started seven weeks ago, will be completed Friday.

As of this morning more than 3,400 tons of debris had been picked up with 27 men working full time in the operation and nine city trucks used.

Oviedo Postpones 'Trick Or Treat'

SANFORD FARMERS MARKET has had a variety of products, but these elephants of the Cristiani Bros. Circus which arrived Wednesday are something brand new to the market. The circus units have begun arriving to set up winter quarters here and will use the market and several warehouse facilities until permanent quarters are constructed on the Circusland site. When the circus begins its next tour, its billings will read "Cristiani Bros. Circus, Circusland, Sanford, Florida." (Herald Photo)

Presidential Politics Kennedy Cites Recession . . . Nixon Plugs Atom Ban

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sen. John F. Kennedy reached for the garment workers' vote today with the charge that Vice President Richard M. Nixon and the GOP claim America "can't afford prosperity" whereas he and the Democratic party feel "we can't afford another recession."

The Democratic presidential nominee returned to New York for another intensive day of campaigning for votes which his supporters say will give him the Empire State's big bloc of 45 electoral votes.

Kennedy arrived at 8 a. m. from Detroit where he said Nixon is ignoring evidence that this recession is "slipping into its third year in six years" and not paying attention to the problems of the next generation. The senator got a rousing reception in the auto capital.

Kennedy also renewed his demand that Nixon get the administration to make public the secret U. S. Information Agency report said to show that American prestige abroad is at a new low—a condition which Nixon has denied. Nixon contends it is at an all-time high.

Today, he scheduled speeches and appearances before the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, a Liberal party rally and at a Brooklyn motorcade and evening speech in Queens.

The Kennedy camp was wearing a special glow by reason of the endorsement given the senator today by the New York Times, which has not endorsed a Democratic presidential candidate since it supported Franklin D. Roosevelt for re-election in 1944.

Kennedy scored Nixon's contention that effectively meeting all the needs the Democrats would meet would take higher taxes or inflation.

"I think we can meet these needs," Kennedy said, "and expand our economy so dynamically and run our government so efficiently that we can secure these goals without either higher taxes or inflation."

"In short, the essential difference between the Republican party and its candidate and the Democratic party and its candidate boils down to this: We both agree that this is the richest country on earth—but they say we can't afford prosperity for all the people and I say we can't afford another recession."

Vice president Nixon chugged along the whistle stop trail in Michigan today with a multi-purpose plan, including a summit conference next year, to prod the Russians into a nuclear test ban agreement.

The Republican presidential candidate, obviously in close consultation with the White House and the Atomic Energy Commission, offered his new test ban proposals as he wound up two intensive days on the stump in Ohio and headed into Michigan where the Republicans are striving to win 20 electoral votes.

The vice president added drama to his test ban proposals, normally an exceedingly grave subject for injection in a political campaign, by announcing in Toledo, Ohio Wednesday night:

"The Russians, according to government experts, may have set off a large underground nuclear explosion a few days ago, showing they cannot be trusted to observe a test moratorium without adequate inspection."

"If elected, he will ask President Eisenhower to rush his running mate, Henry Cabot Lodge, to Geneva the day after election with instructions to get some sort of test ban agreement out of the Russians by next Feb. 1 or the United States will resume underground tests 'necessary to advance our peaceful technology.'"

"If Lodge and a Soviet negotiator are able to bring an agreement 'in sight' before Feb. 1, Nixon then would be willing to meet with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan 'to make the final agreement at the summit.'"

Navy

As a fitting climax for Navy Day today, members of the Sanford Naval Air Station will be honored at the Chamber of Commerce dinner at 7 p. m. today.

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—Former Marshal Pilen Administrator Paul G. Hoffman said Wednesday more U. S. foreign aid funds should be channeled through the United Nations because the UN can do a better job since other countries "also put up some money."

Aid Illegal Parkers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Traffic Judge Albert A. Axelson suggested Wednesday the city reduce tow-away charges for illegally parked cars, declaring the present $10.25 fee was "outrageous." He said he has been helping illegal parkers out by dismissing the $5 fines against them.

Halts Shipments

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (UPI)—The Shell and Texaco oil companies have suspended oil shipments from here to the Dominican Republic. They took the action after Venezuelan trade unionists warned Venezuela would ship no more crude oil here if the Dominican sales continued.

Times Back Kennedy

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Times today endorsed Sen. John F. Kennedy for president. The Times, which supported President Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956, said in an editorial in today's edition the two chief reasons it selected Kennedy were "a matter of foreign policy" and "the present political situation here at home."

Papers Report Poll Has U. S. Second

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two newspapers reported today that a government survey showed public opinion of the United States as a world power declined in Britain and France after the May summit collapse.

The dispatches were published in the New York Times and Washington Post and Times Herald amid angry Democratic criticism of the White House for refusing to make public a secret U. S. Information Agency poll reported to indicate U. S. prestige abroad has dropped.

The Times and the Post said a USA study prepared in June found an overwhelming majority of those questioned in Britain and France felt Russia was ahead of the United States in space progress. The Times said the study also showed a majority felt the Soviet Union was the world's strongest military power.

Rain, Floods Rout 3,000 In Texas

By United Press International South-central Texas braced today for a predicted three days of generally heavy rain that threatened to bring more swirling flood waters to the area.

Floods have already driven more than 3,000 from their homes in Rio Grande City and Kennedy, southeast of San Antonio.

Damage at Kennedy, a town of 3,066, was estimated at $59,060, and at least two deaths were blamed on the floods.

City To Guard Against Vandals

City Manager W. F. Knowles said today that the city will take extra precaution to guard city property this Halloween.

State To Probe 60 Road Projects

GAINESVILLE (UPI)—The State Road Department will begin a check of 60 highways and bridges built by Cone Brothers Construction Co. with a probe of six interstate projects, most of them between Tampa and Lakeland.

The department decided to check the Cone projects following the firing of nine department engineers who admitted they received anonymous cash payments regularly in the mail. Cone is accused of sending them the money.

The 60 jobs, worth an aggregate of $28.5 million, have been built by the Tampa firm since 1936. The department will check the roads to make sure they meet proper standards.

Chief Highway Engineer Al Church said the check will be the most extensive testing program ever undertaken by a road department. Five separate agencies will take part.

Church took issue with a statement by Cone attorney Rex Farnior of Tampa that cash payments such as those made to the fired engineers were customary in the trade.

He said at least 20 contractors had assured him that this was not true.

Most of the fired engineers said cash, whisky, hants, and other gifts normally came to them as Christmas gifts from contractors. They were always accompanied by signed cards, however, they said.

The road department previously had no prohibition against this type of gift-taking, but laid down a rule against accepting any future gifts from contractors following revelation of the current cases.

At Bradenton, the Legislative Roads Committee opened a two-day public hearing today into alleged irregularities in Manatee County road building.

The hearing involves one transaction in which the state paid $11,000 for 3.8 acres of right-of-way last year, just six years after it had been appraised at $3,500.

It also involves a second transaction in which the state took a right of entry instead of buying right of way in South Anna Maria Island.

In all, 15 witnesses have been subpoenaed, but several other persons are expected to give voluntary testimony.

The public hearing is one in a series being conducted over the state by the committee headed by Sen. Scott Kelly of Lakeland.

Ceremony Friday To Start New Job Office Building

There will be a groundbreaking ceremony Friday for a new building at Second St. and French Ave. which will house enlarged facilities of the Florida State Employment Service.

Ground will be broken at 9:30 a. m., with representatives of the employment service, city and county officials taking part. The modern design structure will be built by A. K. Shoemaker Jr., John Fitzpatrick and Bob Crumley. It will be leased to the state on a five-year lease.

The employment service will use the entire building, with an anticipated increase in staff and services available to the public. Dan Hahn, manager of the local employment office, expects to have several services to offer in the new location, including job testing and others not in the present program.

"The good job that Mr. Hahn and his staff have done here has resulted in the state moving the office to larger quarters and we feel that this is a boost for Sanford," Crumley said today.

Nurses Group To Organize

The professional registered nurses of Sanford met Wednesday to discuss the organization of a Professional Nurses Club of Seminole County.

Purpose of the club will be to stimulate interest in joining with district eight of Orlando and in the future of an American Nurses Assn. District for the county.

All professional nurses, active and inactive, registered in the state and living in Seminole, or those interested in state licensure, are urged to attend the first meeting of the group to be held Nov. 7 at 309 W. 16th St.

Anyone wishing further information may contact Mrs. Pat McCoy at Dr. E. L. Lindsey's office or Miss Mildred Turner at the office of Dr. Charles L. Park Jr.

Final Word

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States would fight if Fidel Castro tried to seize America's huge Guantanamo naval base in Cuba, a high administration official has reaffirmed.

The administration believes Cuban Premier Castro has no intention of trying to cancel the treaty allowing the United States to use the base, lest American intervention topple his regime, the official said.

The administration repeatedly has said it will not give up the $70 million Caribbean outpost since Castro first threatened to renounce the 1903 treaty which gives the United States control over Guantanamo.

Bulletin

A "top rebel" agent for the State Road Department is one of the targets for investigations by a legislative committee, the committee's chairman, Sen. Scott Kelly, said today.

Health Director Outlines New Center's Program

County Health Director Dr. Clyde Brothers told members of the Coffee Club today that the new health center ranks as one of the "finest and most beautiful" in the state.

Brothers, who also introduced members of his staff to the Coffee Clubbers at their regular monthly meeting, threw a bouquet of roses to the County Commission for making the health center possible.

"Thanks to the progressive men on the commission we have one of the finest buildings in the state and with our present budget we will do everything possible to make you all proud of this building," he said.

Brothers outlined the duties of the health center staff, discussing briefly the vast immunization program, various clinics and work on controlling communicable diseases.

He also stressed the important part education plays in a better health program for the community.

"We are one of the few businesses that would be glad to go out of business, but for this we need your help," he said.

Brothers also spoke of the job done by the two sanitarians in protecting the public against health hazards.

He said that the sanitarians inspect all public buildings to make Seminoles a "safe place to live in."

Southside Shudderings

By NUSIE SPOOK
That little tinge of coolness these nights, is just what Susie Spook has been dreaming of. In some places this season denotes harvest time sparked with hayrides husking bees and other fall fun fests. In Sanford spooks young at heart look forward to the annual Halloween Carnival held each Oct. 31 at Southside School.

Yes, there's excitement in the air these days, and along with it many strange things are happening. Why just the other morning at Susie Spook's house a real spooky thing happened.

It all began when her tallest and red-haired spook was flying away to school, in the pre-dawn hours, that is. Upon finding himself outside, he spotted a dead varmint on the steps. He informed Susie who suggested he might bury the critter, but alas, the sun was coming up and he would miss the bus. This he did anyway and upon his return to the haunted house, he proceeded to bury the dead varmint.

The trusty shovel was found and the curried up, bleeding, lifeless animal carried off to a likely spot. The red haired spook placed same on the ground till a hole could be dug, when what to his wondering eye should appear, the dead varmint got up and walked away. That possum was playing possum.

Any other time this might seem peculiar, but at Halloween anything can happen. Next Monday night at Southside will be no exception. Why Pam (Mrs. David) Bach and Laura (Mrs. Andrew) Bracken are lying awake nights construing up headish stunts to scare the wits out of all who darken the door of the haunted house. And Pat (Mrs. Vernon) Hardin will permeate the air with succulent aromas from the scads of hamburgers and hot dogs that will be cooked right on the midway. Hurry, hurry, hurry spooks, the spirit of Halloween is rampant.

On top of all this, Deanna and her school of Dance will be on hand to entertain you and the wildest witches ever will circulate about to give you an icy welcoming handshake.

ENSIGN AND Mrs. Loren Garrett of DeBary, and VAI-3 entertained at a luncheon last Thursday at their home. Co-hostesses was Mrs. George Waters, and guest speaker, Mrs. Charlotte Donahue, talked on permanent arrangements for artificial flowers.

Float Deadline Set Nov. 7

Sam Skelton, float chairman for the Jaycee sponsored Christmas parade to be held in downtown Sanford Nov. 30 at 8 p. m., has announced the deadline for float entries is Nov. 7.

To date there have been 22 entries in the marching, floats and automobile units, Skelton said. He added that Jaycees expect as many, if not more, participants in the coming parade as took part last year. The 1939 parade had 80 entries. The group hopes that at least 12 bands will sign before the deadline. At present, nine have entered.

Parade chairman Dr. Tom Larsen has planned for movies of the parade to be made and the club is negotiating for the films to be shown on TV at a later date.

Entry blanks are available at the Jaycee Information Center or those wishing to take part in the event may mail in the card sent out earlier to civic clubs, schools, chambers of commerce and other groups.

NATIONALLY FAMOUS Maltese team of Dr. Vincenzo Calvaresi of Bedford, Mass., which will put on an exhibition at the Orlando Dog Training Club's 10th obedience trial on Nov. 6 at Davis Army, Orlando. These tiny irresistible snow white representatives of an ancient breed are believed to have originated in Malta thousands of years ago. They are about eight inches high and weigh between three and seven pounds.

Obedience Dog Trial Slated For Orlando Nov. 6

Have you ever watched the obedience rings at a dog show? The way these dogs of all sizes, colors and breeds contentedly sit and work will surprise you. You will see them move beside their handlers at different paces, retrieve on the flat and over jumps, pick out an article from a number of similar articles by scent only, leave their handlers, sit on command at a distance and go over an indicated jump at a signal, lie or sit in groups with their handlers 20 to 30 paces away or entirely out of sight.

An obedience trial will be conducted on Nov. 6 at Davis Army, Orlando, from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., and dogs trained at different schools throughout Florida and a number of out of state will perform. These trials are examinations to earn American Kennel Club degrees. The novice degree is Companion Dog and is earned by the dog completing his elementary training. The high school degree is Companion Dog Excellent, and the college degree is Utility Dog.

It is not easy on the handler as there will be the "clown," who realizing he has an audience, will decide to put on an act. There will be the usual comment "but he always does it at home" or "he always does it everywhere else, but in the ring at a show, he fails." There will be the brilliant performer who goes through his paces with gayety and almost perfection, and there will be the excellent, very good, the mediocre, and so on. Each dog is a personality and watching them is very entertaining. There is no trick to it, it is simple obedience.

At 5 p. m., Dr. Vincenzo Calvaresi of Bedford, Mass., will put on an exhibition with his spectacular Maltese team. The Doctor, who teaches languages in the Boston school system, was presented a Maltese in 1939 and accepted it without enthusiasm. Never having owned or for that matter wanted a dog thought them a waste of time - the Maltese in a short time overcame this prejudice and kindled the spark which brought into being the hobby of breeding, raising and training these toys until today he has produced more than 25 champions and his dogs have taken five best brace and 11 best team in 20 entries at the largest shows of Boston, Chicago and New York. The Maltese, a pure white with dark eyes and black nose and weighing not over seven pounds nor less than three is believed to have originated in Malta thousands of years ago and is said to be the progenitor of such breeds as spaniels, poodles, dalmatians, setters, chihuahuas and pekingese.

Outcome Of Doubtful States' Voting Remains Cloaked In Ifs, Maybes

By FRANK DONOGHUE
United Press International

The outcome of the presidential campaigns in the New England states, Pennsylvania and New York is cloaked in a lot of "ifs," "buts" and "perhapses."

New England is a six state region noted for its "togetherness" but not its politics. In politics, Yankee individualism creates an enigma that even the boldest bowlegger hesitates to explore.

But as the presidential campaigns rounds the final bend, it looks as if Vice President Nixon will carry three New England states — Maine, New Hampshire and (most certainly) Vermont. Of these, Maine might be a tight squeeze.

Supporters of Sen. John F. Kennedy say he will emerge victorious in his native Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut.

But they acknowledge that victories in Massachusetts and Connecticut won't be shoo-ins. In Massachusetts, for example, the electorate will vote for another "favorite son," Republican vice presidential nominee Henry Cabot Lodge.

Also, the Democratic state administration in Massachusetts has been plagued with scandals in two state agencies. Some feel the voters might penalize Kennedy in the ballot box for the Democrats' doings at the state level even though the presidential nominee is in no way involved.

New York and Pennsylvania with a whopping 77 electoral votes between them are a standoff. Both the Nixon and Kennedy camps have turned these pivotal states into horse races — with a photo finish.

The rivals know that in recent history only one presidential candidate, Harry S. Truman, entered the White House without carrying New York.

Kennedy and Nixon are both expressing confidence of winning New York's 45 electoral votes.

Nixon and Kennedy are running shoulder to shoulder as they approach the tape in Pennsylvania (32 electoral votes).

Democrats won the voter registration race in that state and have a solid campaign issue: unemployment in the coal industry. Democrats also have tightened their hold on the state government.

Pennsylvania Republicans, on the other hand, point to the fact that a Democratic presidential candidate has not been able to carry their state since 1944 when Franklin D. Roosevelt won a fourth term.

Which way Pennsylvania goes may depend on the vote in its two largest cities, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, both Democratic strongholds. Republicans are working feverishly to hold down the Democratic majorities in those two cities.

Religion has not been the factor in New England that it has been in some other sections of the nation. And Kennedy's Roman Catholicism is not expected to be a political detriment in the six-state region. However, it probably will give him a boost in predominantly Catholic areas in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut.

Pennsylvania is mostly Protestant though its governor David L. Lawrence, is Catholic. The effect is difficult to gauge in the two light hours of the campaign.

Lunchroom Manager Finds Job 'Fascinating, Rewarding'

Mrs. Lucille Fesler, manager of the school lunch program at Pinecrest School has this to say about her job:

"My work is the most fascinating, gratifying, interesting and rewarding work a person can do. When a child comes to me and says 'My, but that was a good lunch, today,' or 'Gimme lots of that 'cause I sure do like it,' or

'Will you please tell my mother how you cook such good cabbage,' I work all the harder to please them."

Mrs. Fesler is past president of the Seminole County School Food Service Assn. and is presently regional director of the fifth region. As such, she serves on the executive board of the state organization as parliamentarian and on the legislative committee. Counties included in the region are Seminole, Osceola, Volusia, Lake, Brevard and Orange.

The first in the state to do so, Pinecrest students grades one through six are choosing two of four vegetables. As a result, increased skill has been evidenced in the handling of tray, silverware, napkin and milk and there have been many less spills.

Pinecrest, too, is experimenting with a cash line—each child pays for his meal as he receives his food. A check during the first six weeks shows that from 533 children, only $7.37 has been lost.

Mrs. Fesler, as delegate from Region 5, and Mrs. Louise Hasty, Seminole High lunchroom manager, attended the national convention of the American Assn. in Washington, D. C. this month. The Florida program, considered to be one of the best in the nation, was represented by 89 delegates which was the largest number from any one state present except Virginia, one of the hostess states. Three of the Florida delegation were program speakers.

Convention training was geared to all personnel levels with one of the highlights an 832-piece exhibit which included "everything from soups to nuts" and "tablespoons to institutional dishwashers."

"This meeting was an inspiration which gave us a driving desire to come home and do an even better job" observed Mrs. Fesler in summing up the account of her work and trip.

Hymn Festival Slated Sunday

Four choirs of the First Presbyterian church will lead the congregation in a hymn festival at 7:30 p. m. Sunday celebrating Reformation Day. Rev. Grover Sewell announced.

The service will be under the direction of Mrs. George Touhy, minister of music, with Bob Crumley serving as reader to provide some data regarding the hymns that will be sung.

The congregation will have a very important part, Mrs. Touhy said, in joining the 100 choral voices in some of the Christian church's most loved songs of praise.

It is expected that a large number of worshippers will fill the sanctuary for this special event, and the Presbyterian pastor extends a warm invitation to all who would like to take part in this special worship service that will be concluded in less than an hour.

Democratic Unity At Last

One of the most heartening signs of party unity was displayed last week in Sanford when the county supporters of state Democratic candidates and members of the County Democratic Committee agreed to launch a full scale effort to work together to push for election of the full Democratic ticket.

During the past few months we have heard various grumblings around town that many Demos would back Bryant, Irwin and the rest of the state ticket but "the heck with the national ticket."

Th meeting last week, we hope, put an end to such talk.

At that meeting there was unity as campaign chairman for the state ticket discussed vote getting policies with chairmen for the Kennedy-Johnson ticket.

There were no disagreements . . . Now if we can only get the Democrats out to vote.

There's Just One Big Difference!

Differences between the political parties in an election year are hard to pinpoint. Once every four years the Republicans start talking like Democrats. The rest of the time they act like Republicans.

Underlying this strategy of politics is the fact that one party cares and the other doesn't. The theme of the Democratic Party has been service to all the people. The theme of the Republicans is service to the privileged few.

It was Senator Kennedy, and not Richard Nixon who echoed the aspirations of most Americans when he spoke of the challenges of the New Frontier of the Sixties. His call was similar in scope and theme to that voiced by Franklin Delano Roosevelt when he called for Americans to make sacrifices in the bleak days following the last Republican administration.

The Democrats look with respect to the past but with hope to the future, while the Republicans look with reverence to the past and with dismay to the future.

Th difference is between the bold imaginative leadership of the Democrats and the timid conservatism of the Republicans. Remember that next month.

WASHINGTON CALLING

LOS ANGELES—The greatest question mark in this whole election campaign is whether registered Democrats will vote Democrat on November 8. If they do then Sen. John F. Kennedy will be elected by a large majority of electoral votes, since in almost every state the Democrats have enrolled majorities that exceed the Republicans.

This is dramatized here in California where with an intensive new registration drive the Democrats have maintained their three-to-two lead over the Republicans. The totals show 4,285,230 Democrats and 2,926,408 Republicans.

Democratic leaders are saying both in private and in public that they will carry this state. They have become increasingly optimistic during the past week. Republicans are more cautious, insisting that while Vice President Richard M. Nixon may have a slight lead today the race is extremely close and it could go either way. The California 222, in the view of this observer, do seem to favor the Kennedy-Johnson ticket because of the very nature of the campaign not only here but throughout the country.

Republican hopes are based on the belief that Democratic registration means comparatively little and that, as in 1952 and '56, enough registered Democrats will vote for the Republican candidate. Democrats are convinced that party choice in registration is significant, particularly with new voters who favor the programs the Democrats stand for and which Senator Kennedy advocates in his speeches.

If the Democrats are right and this is a test of party, then the election becomes, quite apart from its meaning for the world and America's position as a world leader, the supreme — perhaps the ultimate — challenge to the Republicans. For a Republican, running as a party man, has not won a presidential election since 1928 when Herbert Hoover defeated Al Smith. And during that 32-year interval the Republicans have controlled the Congress for only six years and then by slight majorities.

Prior to 1952 President Eisenhower had no party affiliation. He was wooed by both the Democrats and the Republicans, finally accepting the embrace of the latter. But as a national hero he has always tended to take a position above partisan politics. It is in this role, as a warm-hearted paterfamilias, that at the height of the present campaign he is making his current leisurely "non-political" tour of the country. Except occasionally to give them his blessing, the president has done little or nothing to reshape and rebuild the party he belatedly chose. In short, he has been a nonpolitical president.

In the current contest certainly Nixon is no Eisenhower, nor is Kennedy a Roosevelt. That is to say, the choice is not between a powerful and popular personality and a party man marching under the party banner. It is neither 1936, when Franklin Roosevelt was running against Alfred M. Landon, nor 1956 when President Eisenhower was running for reelection against the challenge of Adlai Stevenson.

Nationwide the Gallup poll gives the Democrats an edge of 19,000,000 voters over the Republicans, based on a calculation of total registration. In states such as Pennsylvania and Delaware, where the Republicans have always led, the Democrats now have majorities. In Michigan, where registration has increased 19 percent from the total of last April, most of the increase has come in Detroit and other industrial areas that are heavily Democratic.

By Marquis Childs

The Democrats have 34 of the 50 state governors and most of the mayors of the big cities. These are hard political facts that can, and in most instances do, add up to patronage and organization. In a contest along party lines this could be the deciding factor.

But there are important qualifications. First and foremost is the religious question. In certain cities, notably here in Los Angeles, it could work against Kennedy. A flood of anti-Catholic literature is being released across the country, timed for the last two weeks of the campaign. And a generous share is allocated to southern California where, with an influx of southerners and midwesterners, this appeal to prejudice may find a response which it would not have in the East.

In some areas the Nixon organization, as apart from the regular Republican organization, is working harder and more effectively where the voters live than the Democratic organizations. Democrats will say privately that this is true in southern California where the Nixon workers are doing a thorough and tireless job at the precinct level.

Still another qualifier concerns the continuing unhappiness and reluctance of the devoted Steven-sontes. They will virtually all vote for Kennedy in the end. But they are not doing the doorbell ringing and the telephoning of past years.

Kennedy is coming back here for the first two days in November, Nixon is now scheduled for Nov. 3, 4 and 5. The Republicans will pour big money into a massive TV-radio coverage in the last 10 days. What happened in November of 1946 when a few thousand votes trickling in from California's northern counties decided the presidency haunts the dreams of both the candidates.

Readers Write

Editor,

Neither the dyed-in-the-wool Democrat nor rock-ribbed Republican is going to decide the fate of this nation in November. Nobody, pro rebely, but the iron-bound Independent who, to be sure, is not so naive as to risk his welfare or chances of survival upon the whims of that school-boyish personification of youth—Johnnie Kennedy.

Yours very truly,

THE WORRY CLINIC

by Dr. George Crane

Homer is typical of millions of otherwise good husbands whose wives mislead their most vital romantic cue. If your husband tries to revive his romantic ardor by acting hitless, you wives better follow suit and fast, or you may find yourselves in the same boat with Homer's distraught wife.

CASE 4-409: Homer H., aged 48, is a railroad official.

"Dr. Crane," his worried wife began, "I am at my wit's end. For Homer suddenly developed an affair with a divorcee. He even moved his clothes over there."

Three Minutes A Day

By JAMES KELLER

Man's best friend is definitely not a rattlesnake, a 32-year-old pet lover found out to his dismay.

The young laborer came across a reptile in the desert near Denver, Colorado, and found it such a friendly creature that he decided to take it home with him.

For several days the serpent's behavior was above reproach. On the third day, however, he posed with the snake for a photograph. Then, unexpectedly, without the slightest warning, it sank its fangs into the young man's hand. Crushed with disappointment, he told his visitor: "I can't understand it; we've been the best of friends."

Much of the world's tragedy can be traced to the confidence that well-meaning persons have placed in those whose evil intent they should have recognized.

Stick to God's truth and your own common sense and you will not endanger your welfare or that of others.

Beware of false prophets, who come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly are ravenous wolves. (Matthew 7:15)

Keep me, O Holy Spirit, from being deceived by those whose bad intentions are only too evident.

"At the start, I thought he was just out of town on business, for that was the story he told me.

"When I found out, they moved to a neighboring town. He was gone for 6 weeks. Then he came home one night and said he was sorry, and wanted to come back.

"He seemed devoted and sincere, so I relented. But two days later, he ran off to be with this other woman again.

"He still sends me money and shows a little interest in our children, but he acts confused. Should I give him a divorce?"

Men go haywire just as often as women when they pass the age of 40.

In fact, men can be terrified more easily than their wives, for the male is supposed to be the aggressor in erotic matters.

If he finds his ardor waning, he thus realizes this fact long before his dutiful mate ever senses that anything is wrong.

Wives, your husbands don't "suddenly" become unfaithful! No, that is usually the final stage of a lengthy internal debate. "I am become platonic," is the fearful idea that first sets them half crazy.

"Maybe, if we went through our old courtship experiences, then I'd perk up," is a common follow-up thought.

That's when the husband tries to revive his honeymoon behavior. He may suggest a movie date, or bring you candy and flowers.

"Guiltily conscience" is how a lot of soured wives then diagnose this unusual evidence of his thoughtfulness.

But that's usually not the case, for he is really trying to make you more stimulating to himself in order that he can remain faithful to you.

Smart wives thus recognize this symptom as the early onset of the "platonic" fright that is mankind's age-old bugaboo.

If you prosaic wives show no special alertness to this dangerous state in your husband and fail to pick up your cues romantically, then he may shift to some other more stimulating female.

"Maybe it is HER fault," he thinks regarding his wife's failure to excite him as she did 25 years earlier.

"After all, maybe I am O. K., but she just can't arouse me any more. So I'll do a little flirting on the side and see if another woman can arouse my ardor."

And the strange paramour usually can re-excite the platonic male for impotence is usually a mental inhibition.

For a few months or years, the man is then exhilarated. He feels almost like a person revived at the guillotine, for he had been almost reconciled to a permanent platonic existence, when the other woman proved that he was still young.

If a wife will pick up her cues and become more seductive, alluring and jolly, she can fight fire with fire.

The odds favor the wife almost every time, for a paramour grows monotonous, too, and ill tempered when she can't get the man's wife to free him via divorce.

Wives of men past 40, send for the booklet "How to Prevent Impotence," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

It's cheaper and more fun to stay happily married, than to be a soured divorcee!

WASHINGTON by Ed Koterba

WASHINGTON — It smells like a lumber yard — the sweet odor of fresh-cut pine boards. There's also a hint of mustiness in the air, from the bland, damp cement. And you get a whiff, too, of gasoline from the compressors.

It won't be like this three months from now. At high noon Friday, Jan. 20, the pounding, the sawing, the clanking will be but an old echo here on the Capitol Plaza.

President of the United States Richard M. Nixon — or will it be President John Fitzgerald Kennedy? — will stand and face the seated crowd of 10,500 and the thousands of standees reaching to the horizon . . .

Never will there have been the backdrop of grandeur for inaugural rites as for the 1961 ceremony. The United States Capitol will be seen for the first time, in an official ceremony, in the full majesty of its ivory whiteness.

It cost so many millions of dollars I've lost track of the count, but now that the refinishing work is going into the home stretch, she's a beauty.

The photographers will be up a tree, though, when the ceremony begins. George Stewart, Capitol architect, has put the photographers' stand 30 feet high — and there is no way to get up there except to climb a steel perpendicular ladder.

A circular staircase was outlawed because of complaints that it would obstruct the view of the privileged big shots gathered to gaze at their new hero.

Stewart says that if anybody has a better idea on how to get the cameramen up to that crow's nest, he's open to suggestions.

One thing, sure: This will be cleanest inauguration ceremony in history. The traditional overhead starrings will be gone.

The Capitol architect is draping some $75,000 worth of starrings, chaser wire around the skirt of the dome and other parts. The electrified wire gives roosting birds a jolt. Two or three jolts, says Stewart, and they never come back.

The wire is the ultimate measure. A few decades ago the people here tried what then was an extreme measure.

They got a cordon of police around the Capitol. Building armed with blanks to shoot at the birds.

The big bang scattered the starrings — but they scattered only as far as the Supreme Court Building across the plaza.

So the cops moved over there and fired the blanks. And the birds flew back to the Capitol.

Place freshly cut flowers in water almost up to the blossoms and then insert scissors under water and cut off a small portion of the stems.

Sanford Jayvees Trounce 'Cudas

The unbeaten Sanford Jayvees rolled over New Smyrna 44-0 for their fifth straight win of the campaign Wednesday.

Pacing the Sanford attack was Ron Getman who scored three touchdowns.

Getman was aided in the scoring department by Butch Riser who raced 45 yards or one score; Mike Cato, who ran 55 yards to pay dirt; Bill Lovelace who ran 12 yards and Jim Westlund on a 20 yard jaunt.

The next game for the locals will be against Florida Military School next Thursday at 3:30 p. m. It will be the final home game of the season.

Midgets Slug Port Orange

The Sanford Midgets rolled over Port Orange Wednesday night, 34-14.

Striking quickly in the first quarter, Sanford scored their first tally on a halfback dive by Steve Groover with four minutes gone in the quarter. This play was set up by Ron Hinson's interception.

Billy Higgins plunged for the extra point.

With almost the entire second quarter played in a scoreless deadlock, Al Goodspeed picked off a Port Orange serial and ran 60 yards for a TD. This play came with one minute remaining in the first half. Higgins converted again.

Opening the third quarter, Sanford went to the air, as Ron Hinson threw to Bill Kuykendall for a touchdown. The play covered 40 yards. Higgins plunged for his third conversion.

In a thrilling fourth quarter, Port Orange staged a comeback drive. Scoring on a 30 yard sweep play and a 48 yard punt return, the Orangemen closed the gap to 21-13.

But through the running and pass receiving of Higgins, who scored two more touchdowns, the Braves emerged victorious by a 34-18 count.

AL Expands To 10 Teams For 1961

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American League's expansion to a 10-team circuit in 1961 was greeted enthusiastically in the three cities involved today but drew loud squawks from Walter O'Malley of the Dodgers and Continental League founder William Shea.

Civic officials in Minneapolis, St. Paul, Los Angeles and Washington cheered the American League's bombshell announcement and indicated all-out efforts to surmount any obstacles. At the same time O'Malley shouted that "another full baseball schedule would wreak havoc in Los Angeles" and Shea called the move "one of the lowest blows below the belt in the history of sport."

Three key officials of the federal government—Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.), and Rep. Kenneth Keating (R-N.Y.)—expressed approval of the move which means that the American League will operate as a 10-team circuit with a 162-game schedule for each team in '61.

The National League, which voted expansion into New York and Houston in 1962, said through league president Warren Giles that the American League's surprise action would not change their plans. The two major leagues thus will present uneven alignments in 1961 for the first time since the American League was founded in 1900.

It was obvious that American League officials believed their invasion of the lush Los Angeles territory "evened the score" for the National League's return to New York. The AL drive to put a franchise in Los Angeles was spearheaded by Dan Topping and Del Webb, co-owners of the Yankees.

Webb is chairman of the AL's expansion committee. AL president Joe Cronin stunned the baseball world late Wednesday with the announcement of the circuit's three-pronged realignment move which:

—Transferred the Senators "lock, stock and hatbox" from Washington, D. C., to Minneapolis-St. Paul.

—Established a new franchise in Washington, thus keeping major league baseball in the nation's capital.

—Invaded the rich Los Angeles area and thus matched the rival National League as a coast-to-coast circuit.

Webb, who said emphatically "we are on our way to 12 teams," said that further details of the expansion would be worked out at the league's next meeting here, Nov. 17. That meeting will deal, among other things, with allotment of players for the new franchises. This is expected to be accomplished by use of the so-called disaster plan—the plan created a few years ago in the event a team was wiped out in a train or plane crash. It would make certain players from each existing team in the circuit available to the new clubs from a "pool."

The identities of the groups which will operate the new franchises in Washington and Los Angeles were not disclosed although Shea insisted he knew that Hank Greenberg and Bill Veck of the Chicago White Sox intended to move to the nation's capital to run that fledgling franchise.

O'Malley strongly questioned the invasion of the Los Angeles territory and said "we had hoped to get our own problems in pioneering the territory, in building our stadium, behind us before the relative move in."

"Another full baseball schedule would wreak havoc in my opinion and I'm sure that the American League will not want to offend the earlier settlers and their fans," he added.

Bill Nicholas, general manager of the Los Angeles Coliseum, said, however: "We cooperated with the Dodgers, so why wouldn't we cooperate with the others?"

Webb had pointed out in New York that the new Los Angeles team might play games in Wrigley Field if the Coliseum were unavailable.

Shea, whose attempts to lure the National League back to New York led to the formation of the Continental League, delivered a blistering indictment of the American League's move and predicted it would revive congressional legislation that baseball hopes to avoid.

Ole Miss, Bengals Sparks SEC Play

ATLANTA (UPI)—Mighty Mississippi celebrates homecoming Saturday after six straight wins on the road and the guest of honor will be those Louisiana State Bengals who two years running have smashed the Rebels' dreams of their first perfect season.

But the Mississippi-Louisiana State game of 1960 doesn't fall in the same category as their classics of 1958 and 1959.

Two years ago, both were unbeaten and when they met at Oxford with the Southeastern Conference and national championships at stake, the Bengals won, 14-0, and grabbed all the prizes.

The same situation prevailed last year when they played at Baton Rouge. LSU won in the closing minutes, 7-3, on a sensational 82-yard punt return by Billy Cannon. But an upset the following week by Tennessee killed the Bengals' chances for repeating as national champions. At season's end Mississippi was No. 2, LSU No. 3 and both had 9-1 records.

Many feel that the 1960 Sugar Bowl Game was a preview of what can be expected Saturday. In a re-match, the Rebels overpowered the injury-riddled Bengals, 21-0.

Mississippi goes into Saturday's game unbeaten and ranked No. 2 nationally. But this time, LSU has failed to follow suit. The Bengals have been stout enough defensively but their lack of offense has left them with a record of one win against four losses despite having allowed a total of only two touchdowns in the five games.

But even with the odds seemingly stacked against LSU, the game at Oxford, Miss., which will be regionally televised, overshadows the rest of a heavy southeastern slate Saturday.

On another day, the game at Gainesville would be the headliner. It matches the hefty Auburn Tigers against the daring Florida Gators. Both have lost only one game this season and both are contenders to Mississippi, which neither meets, for the SEC crown.

Florida is presently tied with Mississippi for the SEC lead. The Gators are underdogs Saturday with Auburn figured to have more power and greater defensive strength. But the gambling Gators have pulled off two upsets already this season and reportedly have the spirit to try again.

Orlick Named
DUNEDIN, Fla. (UPI)—Warren Orlick of the Tam O'Shanter Country Club in Orchard Lake, Mich., was named today as the PGA golf professional-of-the-year for 1960.

The 48-year-old Orlick, a member of the Professional Golfers' Association of America since 1932, was selected as the sixth winner of this annual award on the basis of all-around ability and his contributions to the game of golf.

No doubt about it, the 1961 Ford is a beautiful automobile. But the really big news is the way it can save you money!

For instance, in the '61 Ford you'll normally go 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications. Then, a quick, inexpensive Ford Dealer lube job (about $4.00) will get you set for another 30,000 miles. You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes with Ford's Full-Flow oil filter. Ford's powerful, new Truck Size brakes save, too, for they adjust themselves automatically for the life of the lining. And Ford's double-wrapped, aluminum muffler normally lasts up to 3 times longer than the ordinary kind.

Add to these features the fact that Ford's Diamond Lustre Finish never needs waxing, and you have a car that can save you plenty in maintenance costs. And remember, we Ford Dealers were the first to extend our warranty on '61 cars to 12,000 miles or one full year, whichever comes first. Ask your dealer to show you the details.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: This problem is not mine. It is the problem of a man who is as devoted and decent as they come. His wife told him four months ago that she was carrying another man's child. They have two of their own. Surely a man can't be expected to support another man's child? He has considered divorcing her, but that would mean separation from his own two children unless he publicly declared their mother unfit to raise them. Where would that get him? Is there any way out of this, Abby? I am more than casually interested in this man because he is my son.

CRUSHED

DEAR CRUSHED: You are correct. The problem is not yours—it is your son's. If he wants to divorce his wife, he has grounds. If he reconsiders, for the sake of keeping his family together, help him by never mentioning the incident again.

DEAR ABBY: I am 13, fairly attractive and well-liked. I just found out that I am going to have to have braces. How can I look nice with a mouthful of hardware?

DEAR TIN: Better to have a "tin grin" and a beautiful smile all your adult life than a mouthful of crazy mixed-up teeth.

DEAR ABBY: What does a man do when his wife never goes to church with him and the children? She likes to sleep late on Sunday morning and I haven't the heart to wake her. People ask me if she is sick or out of town. It is very embarrassing. When I ask her please to go to church, she says she doesn't have to go to church to save her soul. How can I get her to go?

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: If she won't go to save her soul, maybe she'll go to save your face. Try a little tenderness.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "IGNORANT AND ASHAMED": Your question is one that troubles many people... and it is nothing to be ashamed of. I cannot print the answer in my column, but will mail you a personal reply if you will send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Teenagers Want To Know," send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of this paper.

What Ever Happened To The Sound Of Kids Threatened By Parents?

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — I have been reading a Library of Congress pamphlet about a fellow who travels around the world tape-recording folk music.

Last year, the collector, Paul F. Bowles, received a grant from the Rockefeller Foundation which enabled him to spend several months in Morocco. He brought back some 60 hours of music which he has turned over to the library's archive of folk song.

One of the things Bowles wanted to record was a rare musical instrument, a sort of primitive stereo, known as the "Zamar." It is a double reed in the bass range which has two mouthpieces and two bulls-horn resonators.

Bowles finally found one at Saganen on the eastern edge of the Rif country and captured its sound alive. This was not, however, his most unorthodox specimen.

At Taza, in the southern Rif country, he recorded a medley of Moroccan tunes played by a 12-man orchestra. The sole function of eight of the musicians was to fire rifles at stated intervals.

I found the pamphlet very interesting and it set me to wishing that I could get a Rockefeller grant for a similar trip around the United States. I would like to record the sounds of parents threatening their children.

I fear these sounds are dying out in America under the precepts of modern child psychology. Parents nowadays are cautioned against threatening children lest they bruise their little psyches.

In a way this is a pity, for it is stifling the use of some of the most colorful folk expressions in our land. As a student of folk ways, I deem it a worthy project to preserve some of these expressions before they disappear from our language entirely.

For example, many is the time I've heard my mother shout: "If you don't stop that I'm going to wear you out." I regard "wear you out" as a true gem of a threat because it works like yeast on the miscreant's imagination. I always had visions of being ground to dust by an emery wheel.

In parts of the South, mothers used to tell their offspring: "If you do that again, I'll slap you from an amazing grace to a floating opportunity." This, I'm sure you'll agree, is a threat that has a poetic as well as a deterrent quality.

Georgia children of a disobedient nature frequently were warned that they would be taken to the Chattahoochee River and ordered not to jump in.

The only ingenious threat I've heard recently was uttered by a father who threatened to "get out of this chair and drop kick you across the living room."

It will be asked how anybody can know when to have dinner if one clock says one thing and one clock says another. He will be told that he might be forgiven if this occurred only occasionally but that the situation is becoming chronic.

It will be pointed to him that keeping the clocks together is merely a matter of getting the correct time from the telephone and setting the hands of the clock. That is assuming that he has not forgotten to wind the clock as he has been frequently known to do.

Even the most irresponsible man will have to give ear to the complaints and entreaties of the members of his household. He will stop whatever he is doing no matter how much more important it may seem to him than the uninspiring business of setting clocks, and get the right time from the telephone and set the clocks accordingly.

Then, if his task has been performed efficiently the clocks will strike the hour in unison. But what good does that do, if, when the clocks strike simultaneously, they make such a clamor that the strokes can't be counted and, consequently the hour they are striking can't be identified?

Mr. Billopp

Striking clocks strike the hour separately or strike them simultaneously.

If the clocks strike the hours separately it is clear that one of them must be right and the other must be wrong. The question is which is which. A mistake in deciding could mean the difference between catching and missing a bus or train.

Failure of the clocks to strike simultaneously reflects on the man of the household whose duty it is to synchronize the clocks. A report will be made to him that the clocks are not together. He will have to impress upon him emphatically that the correct time is essential to the orderly running of the household.

He will be asked how anybody can know when to have dinner if one clock says one thing and one clock says another. He will be told that he might be forgiven if this occurred only occasionally but that the situation is becoming chronic.

It will be pointed to him that keeping the clocks together is merely a matter of getting the correct time from the telephone and setting the hands of the clock. That is assuming that he has not forgotten to wind the clock as he has been frequently known to do.

Then, if his task has been performed efficiently the clocks will strike the hour in unison. But what good does that do, if, when the clocks strike simultaneously, they make such a clamor that the strokes can't be counted and, consequently the hour they are striking can't be identified?

John Brown's Raid Gets Hard Working Television Production

By FRED DANZIG
NEW YORK (UPI) — The most dramatic of John Brown's ill-fated attempts to "meddle directly with the peculiar institution" of slavery in pre-Civil War days received a busy, slant-angled, hardworking production Tuesday night in a bravura NBC-TV special.

The hour-long original drama by Robert J. Crean, "John Brown's Raid," was based on the Oct. 16, 1859, raid on Harpers Ferry, W.Va., by Abolitionist Brown and his ragged followers. James Mason dominated the hour as the wild-eyed farmer-turned-insurrectionist.

Mason's role called for disciplined, angelic eloquence. In less capable hands, this vital requirement could have been overdone with disastrous results. Cartoons and comedy could have resulted. But Mason controlled his intensity, his bold exhortations, his blind confidence in his destiny and keyed his performance to a descending scale. When, at the end, he was finally subdued and he came to see that his raid, for which he had spent "two years making plans, training men, and a lifetime praying" was a bloody failure, Mason combined a measure of despair with his still-unquenched spirit in impressive fashion.

As he lay on a stretcher, blood-soaked bandages around his head, his beard caked with dirt, Mason heard his captors say he would be hanged for treason. He roused himself and forecast that he would recover all he had lost at Harpers Ferry merely by hanging for a few minutes from a scaffold. And he added, "The end of this question is not yet." He was not referring to the cause of abolition but to the broader "Negro question" in TV, that's probably considered a bold statement. Actually, who can argue with it?

The ancients named the planet Mars after the god of war because it is fiery red. Mars' diameter is about half that of earth.

Helping Out Big
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The International Bank for Reconstruction and Development made new loans of $638.7 million in its fiscal year closed June 30. Loans of $40 million or more went to Algeria, the Congo, Colombia, India, Italy, Japan, Mauritania and the United Arab Republic.

Start Out Small
PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Carl Binson of Phoenix, new president of the American Bankers Association, has a simple formula for bank success. He says "Cultivate small borrowers. Today's borrower of $100 may be your regular $100,000 loan customer 10 years hence."

Chuluota Carnival

The second annual Chuluota Community Carnival was held Friday at the Community House. Sponsors for the event include the Community Club, Woman's Club, Retired Folks Club, Youth Club, Sportsman's Club and the American Legion Post.

Costumes prizes awarded in the children's group went to Maureen Boyle, most original; Deborah Rhinehart, funniest and Becky Smith, prettiest.

Adults taking prizes were Al Phillips, most original; O'Dell Rhinehart, funniest and Janet Berney, prettiest.

A major project of one of the sponsors, the Woman's Club, is the purchase of fire fighting equipment. Residents were particularly reminded of the area's inability to save a home from fire when Ted Morski, whose home and donut shop were burned to the ground last February, expressed his gratitude for clothing and funds given his family, by furnishing all of the donuts for the carnival.

Woman's Club members, in setting aside a large part of their proceeds from the event for buying equipment, had this to say:

"We wish to share at least a part of our proceeds to give an initial start to a fund with which to purchase fire fighting equipment. We hope that other organizations will feel such action is worthwhile and, join us in making contributions to the project."

DeBary Kadets Hold Performance

The DeBary Kadets of America drill team, under the direction of Cdr. E. H. Smith, performed for the Enterprise Parent-Teacher meeting at the school cafeteria Oct. 18.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. John Tatum, vice president, during the absence of Mrs. Bascom Carlton, president. Plans were completed for the Halloween Carnival to be held on the campus Friday under the direction of Mrs. Pat Hatchett, general chairman, who has homeroom mothers working closely with her.

The room count again was won by the combined fifth and sixth grades which are taught by Harold Weston.

Devotions were given by Rev. A. C. Summer of the DeBary Presbyterian Church.

To Plan Parties

Oviedo High students Suzanne Partin and Jimmy Jones have been elected to serve as tenth grade party representatives for Arch Hostick's home room. They will work with student representatives from other high school rooms and home room party chairman in planning entertainment throughout the year.

Construction Of North Orlando Playground To Begin On Monday

North Orlando officials were notified this week by a Silver Creek Co. official that construction of a 10-acre playground will begin Monday, Mayor Frank Fasola announced Wednesday.

They also were advised that construction of a building which will house a 7-11 store will start next week.

Fasola, Bill Deutch, builder and Joe Jackson, vice mayor, met Tuesday with Thomas Donofio of the Silver Creek Precision Co., Silver Creek, N. Y., in an all day planning session at North Orlando.

According to Fasola, the playground will be built at the corner of Edgemon Ave. and Third St. by the North Orlando and Master-builders Companies. Immediate work will begin Monday on the man-made lake to be located in one section of the area. Other facilities planned at the present time include two tennis courts, a shuffleboard court, baseball diamond and picnic and barbecue grounds. Swings and slides will be set up for the younger children.

Longwood Council Adopts Resolution On Pave Program

Longwood town council members have adopted a resolution calling for the paving of Orange Ave. from the Grant Ave. intersection east to the city limits line.

Residents gave backing to the project at a meeting held in August during which proposed plans drawn up by the town's consulting engineer, A. E. O'Neill, were shown and explained.

Cost of the paving to be done by the county following the Longwood engineer's plans is expected to be approximately $7,000.

Those residing or owning lands fronting the street, which runs in front of the new elementary school, are in pay two-thirds of pavement costs. The remaining one-third will be paid through bond sales. Assessments will be made upon a front footage basis. The special assessment may be paid within 30 days after paving is completed or may be paid through 10 equal annual payments with deferred payments hearing in percent interest per annum.

A public hearing will be held in the town hall in Longwood, Nov. 24 at 8 p. m. to hear any and all complaints of the paving resolution.

Crystal Lake Homes Development Set Soon

Residents of the Lake Mary area who have noted street work in the Crystal Lakes Homes development will be interested in a progress report from Dan Priver, developer.

Construction of the first 24 homes will begin as soon as the road is paved and curbs are put in, he said. Development throughout the area will be done in sections with the waterfront homes being built more or less by design.

Laffler and Bush, local engineers, have worked with Priver on testing the area for drainage. All waterfront construction, when underway, the builder says, will be at a point two feet higher than the high water mark for the area.

Individual septic tanks, county and state approved will be used with the Lake Mary Water Works, also county and state approved, to dispose of the water safely.

Immediate construction of four model homes will commence upon final approval, which is expected momentarily from the FHA Tampa office.

MR. AND MRS. DOUGLAS SCOTT

Needs For South Seminole Stressed

Today, members of a state survey team are finishing their long and detailed job of compiling data on proposed school sites in the county.

Although State Department of Education officials weren't talking on where the schools will be, U. J. Bennett, chairman for the team, did report that three of them will be in South Seminole.

No school board member will doubt that the south Seminole area is the fastest growing one in the county. Take a look at these statistics.

In 1951 there were 510 white children in the Lyman School — Today there are 3,328 in the four schools in that area.

We are glad to see that the state facilities team has looked this problem straight in the eye and to note that it won't be long before we'll have new schools in south Seminole.

Geneva Youth Clubs Pooling Holiday Efforts

By MRS. AUDREY JOHNSON
The Geneva Youth Clubs are combining efforts in sponsoring a

Halloween Carnival for the community Saturday at 6 p. m. at the Community Hall. Proceeds will be applied to installation of a new floor in the hall.

Hot dogs and hamburgers, pies and cakes, coffee and soft drinks will be on sale and one booth will handle candied apples, candy and popcorn.

Entertainment will include a fish pond, ring toss, dart throw, ball toss, basket ball throw, kiddie rides and a spook house where ghosts and witches abound.

Following the carnival a dance will be held in the hall, according to Mrs. John Hughey and Mrs. Hazel Prevatt, youth club advisers.

Altamonte Man Takes Top Honors

Douglas J. Scott, a resident of Magnolia Dr., Altamonte Springs, has received two of the top honors awarded by Kiwanis Clubs.

The Sanford club presented the 30-year-old member with a 10-year citation for the Legion of Honor and the 30-year pin for service as a past international officer.

Kiwanians are eligible for the Legion of Honor recognition after a 25-year membership. Each five years, thereafter, they are awarded the certificate.

Scott is a native of Brighton, England. He came to Canada where he later joined Kiwanis in Winnipeg. In 1923, as international vice president, he represented western Canada and in 1924 and 1925 he was on the international board of trustees. He transferred his membership to Chicago and in 1949 came to Seminole County where he retired from the life insurance business.

Geneva P-TO Aids Entire Community Through Project

Members of the Geneva Parent-Teacher Organization will soon mark the first anniversary of a project which serves the entire community in addition to helping the group raise funds for school uses.

Once each month, a community newspaper is published by the PTO members, bringing residents up to date on all club meetings, church activities, civic works and school news. The publication is printed near the middle of each month and circulation numbers between 75-100 copies, as the demand calls.

The project has met with such interest in Geneva that a copy of it was presented at a parent-teacher county council meeting for study by all groups.

Lake Mary Baptists Add New Rooms

Members of the Lake Mary Baptist Church are extending the east wing of the education unit to include additional Sunday School classrooms and to provide kitchen facilities.

No completion date has been set since the labor and all materials are secured through volunteer donations. Contributions of either which would greatly aid the project are welcomed.

Altamonte Post Office Bids Set To Open Nov. 29

The Post Office Department has notified Altamonte Springs Postmaster Edward N. Mitchell that the postal officials are now asking for bids to build and lease a new post office for Altamonte Springs.

The bids will be opened Nov. 29.

"This proposed new building," Mitchell said, "will replace existing facilities in the Charles E. Bradshaw Building on Altamonte Ave. Specifications call for a structure containing approximately 2,290 square feet of space with an outside loading platform and adequate space for parking and truck maneuvering."

Mitchell said he was advised that the post office will enter into a lease agreement with the successful bidder which will run for 10 years with two five-year renewal options.

Bids should be submitted to W. P. Selzer Jr., post office real estate officer, PO box 1061, Jacksonville.

CLAUDE E. HITTELL

Nurse Association Ends 1st Month

The West Volusia Home Nursing Assn. now has been in operation one month through donations received in a recent fund drive.

Service is available to those who are ill at home, those who suffer chronic illness and those returning from hospitals who need home care.

Registered nurses call at the home, stay long enough to carry out doctor's orders, make patients comfortable and instruct members of the family in continuation of care. Upon doctor's orders, the nurse is prepared to return as often as is necessary.

Patients must provide medication and dressings. A small fee is charged for regular general cases and for injections. These fees are adjusted with the nurse at the time of visit in accord with a patient's financial ability to make payment.

This home service is available Monday through Friday, from 8:15 a. m. until 4:30 p. m. by phoning REdwood 4136. For doctors and emergency requests on weekends and holidays, calls should be made to REdwood 4175.

Members of the association are planning a white elephant sale Nov. 5. Anyone having articles to donate is requested in contact with Dr. William Fidler, Mrs. Sam Grierson or Mrs. Charles Ulrich.

Wilson School To Name Royalty

The 1960 king and queen of Paula's Wilson school will be crowned in ceremonies which will climax the annual Halloween carnival at the school Friday at 5:30 p. m.

Royalty candidates are Earl Steele and June Brock, first grade; Richard Goben and Julie Frederic, second grade; Ricky Frederic and Sherry Howell, third grade and Jimmy Thomas and Deborah Howell from the fourth grade.

Other entertainment for the evening includes many rides, games of chance, booths offering various articles for sale and a variety of carnival foods.

Goldsboro School Sets Carnival

Members of the Goldsboro Elementary School Parent-Teachers Assn., which meets on the second Monday of each month at 8 p. m., report much progress under the leadership of new president, Mrs. Alfredo Wallace.

Many plans were made at the last meeting, one of which was for the Halloween Carnival to be held at the school Monday from 5 p. m. to 8 p. m.

In order to insure overall success, the school has been divided into zones including parents, pupils and teachers. Parents living within each zone are requested to furnish refreshments for the carnival according to item assignment.

Grades, zones and items are: first grade, old depot, popcorn; second grade, Castle Brewar, postage and stamps; third grade, William Clark, snow cones, soda; fourth grade, southwest road, bake sales, pies, cakes and cookies; fifth grade, school zone, candied apples and sixth grade, old railroad, fish and hot dogs.

All parents, pupils, interested citizens and friends are invited to attend and help make this the school's biggest carnival ever held.

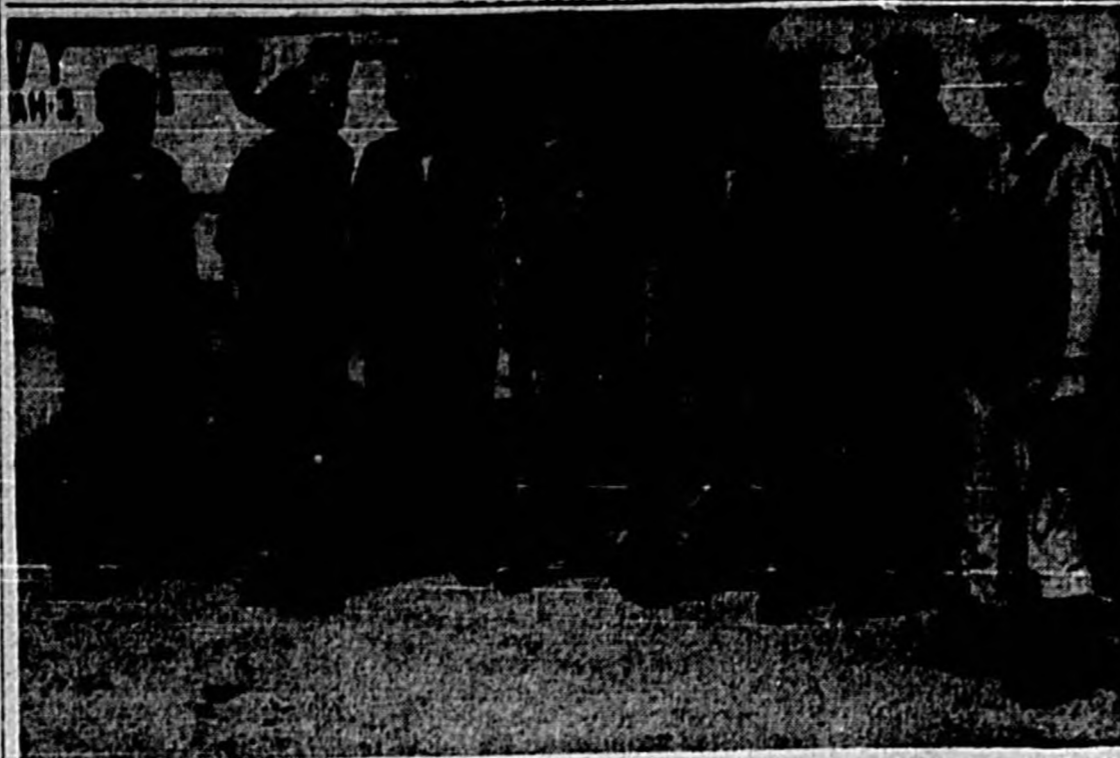

Are You Insecure On Dance Floor; Well Read This

Ronald Perry, city recreational director, has these questions to ask of Sanford residents:

"Do you have that insecure feeling when on the dance floor? Feel that everyone is watching you? Get your left foot mixed with your right and stumble across the dance floor instead of gliding gracefully with the music?"

"If you answer yes to all of these questions," Perry says, "then you need to register for the next session of ballroom dancing lessons being offered at the Civic Center by the department."

Two classes on Monday, a free one for teenagers at 7 p. m. and one for adults at 8:30 p. m. will begin Nov. 7. Adults will be asked to pay $2 for the 10 week course. Registration for instruction including the basic and elementary fundamentals of all popular dance steps may be made in advance or at the opening class.

ANOTHER FIRST was recently made by Heavy Attack Squadron Three when Capt. F. G. Edwards, (right) commander Heavy Attack Squadron One piloted the first ASD-2T "flying classroom" to drop bombs. The ASD-2T has no bomb bay and it was necessary to equip the aircraft with special bomb racks under each wing. The newly equipped aircraft will allow student bombardier navigators to drop their first bombs under the direct supervision of experienced instructor bombardier navigators before flying an ASD-1 "Skywarrior." 'Trick Or Treat' Program Set For Lake Mary Area

On Halloween evening little spooks, and goblins, spacemen and witches will ring the doorbells in Lake Mary, Sunland Estates, Little Venice, and Loch Arbor areas and townfolks will hear the familiar chant "Trick or Treat for UNICEF."

Sponsored locally by the churches of Lake Mary and nationally by the U. S. Committee for UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund Halloween program will be carried out at the same time in some 10,000 other communities. Last year more than two million American youngsters participated in the biggest project ever carried out by children to help children.

Each penny collected by the Trick or Treaters wearing the UNICEF black and orange tag can mean five glasses of milk for a needy child overseas, or the BCG vaccine to protect him from tuberculosis. A nickel's worth of UNICEF penicillin will cure a child of yaws, a crippling tropical disease.

The junior citizens of the above named areas who are participating in Trick or Treat for UNICEF will meet at the Lake Mary Boy Scout Hut Monday at 6:15 p. m. They will canvass the neighborhoods in small groups, escorted by adults who are also volunteering their time.

After the collection, boys and girls in public grades, four through six, will return to the Lake Mary school, boys and girls in public grades seven and eight will return to the Lake Mary Boy Scout Hut and boys and girls in public grades nine through 12 will return to the Lake Mary Fire Department building for UNICEF Halloween parties which will include costume contests, games, and refreshments.

UNICEF is not a give-away program. Governments that request its aid spend an average of more than $2.50 for each $1.00 received in UNICEF supplies.

Time Running Out For Navy Reserves

VAdm. W. R. Smedberg III, chief of Naval personnel, today advised high school seniors and graduates that they have until Nov. 18 to apply for the Navy's Reserve Officer Training Corps.

Applicants will take the nationwide exam on Dec. 10. The NROTC program makes it possible for a young man to earn a regular commission while studying at a civilian college of his choice. All tuition, fees and text books are provided by the Navy and an annual retainer of $600 is given the student. During the summers students travel to many parts of the world on regular training cruises.

Upon completion of the four year schooling, a commission in the regular Navy or Marine Corps is received and the officer goes on regular duty.

The program is open to all 17-year-old high school seniors and graduates who will not have their 21st birthday before July 1, 1951. Those making a qualifying score will receive a rigid physical exam early next year. From the qualifying rolls, at least 1600 will be picked to begin school next September.

NROTC also is open to enlisted men who are on active duty with the Navy or Marines, however a separate quota is established for these applicants.

Application forms are available at high schools, Navy Recruiting stations or from the Chief of Naval Personnel, Department of the Navy, Washington 25, D. C.

Orange 'Jumps Gun' On Projects

Seminole County Engineer Carl Bliss plans to meet with Orange County officials today after Orange officials "jumped the gun" on a joint Seminole-Orange emergency drainage program in Howell Branch and Wekiva basin.

Bliss and other county officials were apparently unhappy today after learning that work on cleaning out ditches in the two areas has started without contacting Seminole County.

County Commission Chairman John Krider today declined to comment "at this time" on the move, but said he has sent a telegram to Orange County engineer Fred Dewitt complaining about the start of the massive program.

"They should have had the courtesy to inform us they were starting," Bliss said. "If we should have rain for the next two weeks it could cause some serious flooding in the areas and we would get the complaints."

"Nearly all of the work on both projects would be in Seminole County, although the two streams are major drainage outlets for Orange County," Bliss explained.

"I just received recommendations on the plan in the mail today," Bliss said, adding that he would meet with Dewitt this afternoon to try to "work together and pool our resources. We would like to know what is going on," Bliss emphasized.

Both projects are expected to cost approximately $380,000 and Bliss reported he doesn't even know what Seminole County's share in the program would be.

The reports were prepared by the firm of A. P. and R. K. Michalek and A. E. O'Neill and Associates.

The reports stress that both streams need to be straightened, widened and deepened to carry off flood crests. No consideration was given in the report to conservation.

Howell Branch, according to the report, needs to be cleaned from Lake Maitland to SR 419 in Seminole County, a distance of eight and a half miles. The cost is estimated at $17,500.

Six or eight highway bridges or culverts over Howell Branch need to be replaced, the report states.

Cost of emergency drainage work in the Little Wekiva has been estimated at $180,000.

This project calls also for cleaning out a channel a distance of eight and a half miles from Lake Boice on the county line to where it empties into the Big Wekiva. In both projects, the channel recommended would be five feet deep and 18 feet wide.

Herlong Flays Cuba Policy

Congressman Syd Herlong criticized State Department tactics in handling the tense Cuban situation and, in a strongly worded speech at the Southeast Seminole Chamber of Commerce at Oviedo Thursday night, accused U. S. officials of letting "communism get the upper hand in Cuba."

Rapping the laxity of State Department officials, Herlong said "we knew when Castro was fighting in the mountains of Cuba that the commies were behind him and what did we do? As soon as he took over we recognized his government the very next day."

Herlong, apparently angry, declared "now officials have just started economic sanctions on Cuba, when that should have been done a long, long time ago."

"It is a disgrace that we did not break off relations with Cuba a long time ago instead of recalling our ambassador now when it is too late for us in Cuba," Herlong said.

"However," Herlong said "I believe that things will start popping off in Cuba soon, especially once they start marketing sugar to Russia. Do you think the Cubans will want to be paid in rubles and bartering when they have been used to the good old American dollar?"

"Cuba is in for a rude awakening soon," he emphasized, adding, "and we won't be there to help her."

Herlong also lashed out at State Department methods in handling the cold war.

"We don't know how to fight communism. We don't know how to take advantage and we have failed time and time again in the eyes of the free world because we have not utilized our propaganda methods," Herlong said.

"There is only one way to fight the Red threat and that is meet it on its own terms, which means propaganda and more propaganda," he said.

"We lost the propaganda war in Cuba, Tibet, Lebanon. Why we are just amateurs compared to the Russians when he comes to waging a totally political war," Herlong said that "unless we start doing something about it now, we will lose this total cold war."

Herlong explained that one way to meet the Communist threat was "play the way they play. I am supporting a Freedom Academy which will train agents in the free world to counteract the Red threat."

"We can't assume that because we are in the right we will win the cold war. We have to fight for it now. The Reds have taken advantage of every situation. Time is running out for us now," Herlong stressed.

Mayor Lee Gary introduced Herlong and more than 100 persons attended the meeting.

An Alabama truck driver who apparently fell asleep at the wheel of his truck early this morning escaped injury by jumping out of the truck at the last moment as the vehicle ran off the road and fell into the St. Johns River.

The accident occurred on SR 46 near the Mims Bridge, the Sheriff's office reported.

Charles Brock told deputies that he fell asleep and the next thing he knew "I saw the truck going off the road towards the river."

for helping earn these tributes." Sheriff J. L. Hobby introduced Berwin Williams of the Florida Sheriffs Bureau, who presented an illustrated lecture on the operations of worthless check passers in the state.

Williams cautioned businessmen to follow one simple guide in cashing checks—"do I know this person?"

Most bad checks can be passed because businesses do not require proper identification and make sure the credentials are valid, Williams said.

He recommended establishing a central check cashing desk in each store and maintenance of a simple card file for cashers of local checks. "And just don't cash any check because it looks good and the person with it looks good—call a bank and certify every possible bit of information you can about the individual," he warned. The sheriffs bureau has set up a system of apprehending bad check passers and their services are available through local law enforcement agencies, Williams said.

The Democratic candidate said in a speech prepared for delivery at Bethlehem, Pa., that Nixon is telling the country "we can't afford to do those things in America that everybody knows we need to do."

"It is Mr. Nixon—not I—who is downgrading America," Kennedy said. "Mr. Nixon talks of America's limitations. I speak of her boundless possibilities. We can and ought to put our great productivity to work to meet the need of our people, not ignore them."

Kennedy predicted his election on arrival at the Bethlehem-Allentown airport early today. "I don't care what time in the morning it is, we're going to beat Mr. Nixon," Kennedy said.
