SEMINOLE COUNTY BANK

Will Open Their Doors For Business Tomorrow Morning

The Seminole County Bank, Sanford's newest banking institution will open the doors ready for business tomorrow. For several weeks there has been hustle and bustle in the corner of the Welborne block where the new bank will be located and workmen have been busy getting the fixtures in shape for the opening day. The large shipment of books, ledgers, checks and other equipment have been delayed in transit but President Lake stated today that the bank would be open on time and everything would be in readiness for the auspicious occasion.

The public is cordially invited to attend the opening of the new bank and meet the officers and get acquainted. All the latest and best equipment for the transacting of business has been installed and the new Seminole County Bank will be ready and willing to take care of the trade on opening day.

The bank is located in the court house building at the corner of Park avenue and Commercial street and the opening of the bank will put new life in that part of Sanford and stimulate business in many ways.

Today the preliminaries incidental to the opening of a new bank are being completed and the officials and employees are as busy as bees in their new positions.

The advent of the Seminole Bank in Sanford makes three fine banking institutions for the city and four for the new county, the other bank being at Oviedo.

Blind Mosquitoes here

Blind mosquitoes have been here in great numbers for the past week, coming at night and killing the sidewalks, area ways and storm drains. They are entirely harmless and are a nuisance only in getting all over the stock of goods and otherwise proving that they are no good. As one gentleman remarked the other night, "What a blessing they do not bite."

FLORIDA LEADS IN BRICK

This State Building More Brick Roads Than Any Other

According to the Manufacturer's Record of Baltimore, R. H. Edmonds, editor—Florida—in proportion to its population—is leading the country in road building. It also gives credit to this state for leading the south if not the entire country in the construction of brick roadways.

This article which is certain to prove interesting to every Floridian, is as follows:

Florida's good work in road building keeps on apace. A few weeks ago we published a dispatch from Tampa that Hillsborough county, in which Tampa is located, had overwhelmingly voted for $1,000,000 of bonds for building 75 miles of brick highways through the county. Other counties between Hillsborough and Jacksonville have been discussing the building of similar roads with a view to making a connected highway between Jacksonville and Tampa.

A dispatch from William Pannill of Sanford shows that Seminole county is actively joining in this work of highway building. Mr. Pannill wired on Sept. 16th:

Seminole County Board of Commissioners let contract today to Wilson Construction Company of Jacksonville to pave twenty-five miles of county roads with vitrified brick. Approximate cost $200,000. Brick will be furnished by Hankinson & Hagler, Augusta, Ga.

Hankinson & Hagler wire from Sanford: Seminole county let contract today to Hankinson & Hagler of Augusta, Ga., for approximately 5,000,000 brick for the building of approximately 25 miles of brick roads. Construction work awarded to Wilson Construction Co. of Jacksonville, and to Hand Bros. of Sanford. H. S. Jaudon Engineering Company of Savannah, engineer.

A $1,500,000 issue for roads and bridges is also proposed for Escambia county, as noted elsewhere in this issue.

It now looks as if Florida would within the next few months lead the entire south, if not the country, in the building of brick highways. In proportion to population Florida is probably already leading the country in road building.

OVIEDO HAS GOOD BAND

Prof. Stumon the Veteran Bandmaster Has Them in Charge

Oviedo has a good band of eighteen members and they have their instruments and are rehearsing twice a week. Prof. Stumon of this city, the veteran band master of wide fame has the band in charge and states that the boys are getting along famously and will make a public appearance before many weeks. There is some mighty good material in the musical line in Oviedo and Geneva and the boys out there will make the Sanford Military Band look to their laurels hereafter. Prof. Stumon is very proud of his latest bunch of musicians and states that they take hold of the band proposition like veterans and have already raised about $500 for equipment.

A feature of the big fair at Orlando would be a band tournament of the different counties represented and we feel sure that Seminole with two good bands would carry off first honors.

Card of Thanks

To the friends who came to us in our hour of trouble, and contributed all that human kindness could suggest, to help and comfort, we return most heartfelt thanks, and although such devoted friendship cannot remove the sad memories that linger around our vacant chair, it brings into view the brightest side of humanity, and throws the pure light of an unselfish friendship into a darkened home. May the day be far distant when those friends who gathered around us will need similar attention, but when the time comes may they receive the same full measure of generous aid and tender sympathy they brought to our home when death was an inmate there.

Mistake of Printers

A state news item from an east coast town should have been placed under the head of state news but appeared as a Sanford item in last Tuesday's paper and as a Sanford item would be very misleading. The item was as follows:

"The city assessment rolls have been completed and show the valuation of city property, personal and real, based on a one-third valuation, to be $1,281,104. The millage was fixed at twenty-seven, which would mean that if the actual value of property was assessed, the millage would only be nine on the dollar."

As a Sanford item this would be incorrect, the latest report of Sanford being as follows: The assessment of personal property and real estate amounts to $2,924,011. This is an increase of $167,394 over 1912. The millage for the current year was placed at fourteen.

ECONOMY

Among the recent arrivals in this place is Capt. J. W. Sackett, of Jacksonville, assistant United States inspector who comes to inspect the dredge boat Florida. The Florida is being used at present to dredge the sand bars of the upper St. Johns river, and thereby make an eight foot channel up as far as Harney, a distance of about thirty miles from Sanford.

And Florida ranks high as a state. The United States geological survey bulletin says that in 1912 3,000,000 tons of phosphate were produced in Florida, worth $1,000,000.

Florida Vegetables In Great Demand

This Season Should Prove Most Profitable to Grower

Northern Commission Firms Are Getting Lines On Florida Vegetables Early In Season

That the demand for Florida vegetables will this year be greater than it has been any season during the last ten years was the declaration this morning by R. F. Hoyle, pioneer commission merchant and seedman of Miami. He bases his prediction upon the advices that he is receiving from northern commission firms who are sounding the condition of the country, and have found a great dearth of fall vegetables due to unfavorable weather conditions this summer in vegetable sections. They report to Mr. Hoyle that the outlook for business with Florida this year is particularly bright and advise the growers in this section to plant large crops. "I have been in Miami for the last fourteen years," said Mr. Hoyle, "making a special study of the vegetable business, and I can say that I believe the commission men up north are right. I have always noted that when the crops are short in the north, Florida products bring good prices, and the demand for them is strong. Consequently I believe that if the growers will put out good sized crops in this county that there will be lots of money made here this winter. Of course there are a couple of things to contend with. The cold weather must be watched, and the hurricane must be protected against."

At a recent meeting of the city council of St. Augustine that body appropriated from the next budget the sum of one thousand dollars, five hundred dollars of which goes toward the support and upkeep of the St. Augustine City Band and five hundred dollars to the publicity fund of the Chamber of Commerce for advertising the city.

These gentlemen are making a tour of the state to confer with the several county tax assessors in order to gain information that will be useful in arriving at a mode of making a more uniform assessment. It is proposed to have all counties, in time employ uniformity in assessments, but as the tax books have been made up for the current year, the commissioners are directing their energies toward securing the opinions and views of the assessors and members of boards of county commissioners in the several counties for use in making assessments in 1914.

Meeting of Charity Association

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Associated Charities and a few others who are interested in the work was held in the Congregational Church Thursday evening. A brief resume of the work brought out evidence sufficient to prove that the organization had accomplished the purpose for which it was started, that is, to help people help themselves, disbursing charity in a systematic manner and never without investigation. Twenty cases have come before the society since the last annual meeting. All have been helped. The society has never refused to do something for each applicant. During the last two months, there have been remarkably few calls, but it stands to reason the number will increase steadily as the winter months draw near. We may expect this and they will be taken care of, too. Shall it be without system or investigation? The responsibility and obligation rests upon each citizen to do his part toward taking care of the worthy ones who need help. Protection against imposters is offered through the Associated Charities. Will Sanford rally to the support of the organization? A Committee of eighteen or twenty men are fitting the office expenses. The dues $1.00 are to be paid exclusively for relief. Some desired changes are planned for conducting the business during the coming season, that are hoped to be very effective. Send in your membership dues, old or new, to C. R. Walker, President, B. F. Whitner, Jr., Treasurer or Mrs. J. C. McDaniel, Secretary.

Fletcher Will Get Busy

Reports from Washington are to the effect that Senator Fletcher will come to Florida within the next ten days or two weeks for the purpose of making preliminary arrangements for his campaign for re-nomination, and his appearance will add interest to the senatorial contest in which he and John N. C. Stockton bid fair to be the principal figures. The present session of congress has been one of the busiest of Senator Fletcher's career at Washington, and his friends declare that it has been the most useful.

Senator Fletcher's enemies do not deny that he has been very active and efficient since he was sent to the senate, and they realize that the task of beating him is going to be anything but one of the "bed of roses variety."

Will Represent Florida At Panama Exposition

Sanford Man Appointed State Commissioner Last Week

A. V. French Of This City Is Honored By Governor Trammell And Will Get Busy At Once

That Florida will have an exhibit of a creditable nature at the Panama Pacific International Exposition, which will open in San Francisco in February, 1914 and continue for a period of ten months, is now assured by the fact that Governor Park Trammell has appointed and designated Hon. A. V. French of Sanford as commissioner general for the entire state of Florida, to take care of the state's interests at the exposition. There were many other prominent residents of the state who were aspirants for this appointment, but when all phases of the various applicants had been properly weighed and considered, it was deemed best for the fifty integrals of the state to invest the responsibility for the success of the state's representation at the exposition in Mr. French.

A position of the character which Mr. French has assumed to fill required attributes of the most progressive nature; a broad view of the requisites necessary to the development of the state's industrial, commercial, mineral, agricultural and pomological resources and a knowledge of current conditions within the state that can only be secured by a long residence and constant study of that which is of the utmost potential interest to the state's expansion, and happily those various attributes are accredited to Mr. French, and it is believed that he will use them to the full measure of his ability to make a creditable showing of Florida at the Panama Pacific Exposition, California.

Mr. French comes by his hustling proclivities as a matter of heritage for it was his father, Dr. Seth French, long since deceased, who as a member of the Florida senate during the Drew administration in '76, framed, introduced and successfully had enacted into law, the first bill to be passed by any southern legislature creating a bureau of immigration with one purpose in view, and that being the setting of the state, with farmers, artisans and mechanics and the dispersing of a sufficient quantity of the state's vast domain to restore to the state of Florida.

Dr. French received the first appointment of commissioner of immigration for Florida under the act and held the positions during two administrations. It was during his incumbency of office and through the bureau of publicity that the attention of Hamilton Dabston was called to the possibilities of this state and after mature investigation Mr. Dabston and associates purchased a tract of 1,000,000 acres of lands, the majority of which was used to place the credit of the state at par, from which position it had been shaken during the war and following days of reconstruction. By this sale of lands the credit of Florida was completely rehabilitated, its paper was placed at par, and since that time such securities as the state has offered have always been taken at a premium.

Mr. A. V. French, the son of Dr. French, was a clerk in his father's office, which was located in Jacksonville, and it was from this early schooling in matters of evaluation that the foundation was laid upon which was to be performed still greater acts of importance relating to the state's continued growth and expansion. Mr. French is now organizing his forces in a systematic manner and proposes to immediately get in touch with each county, municipality, community and civic body within the state and compile such data as will always be at his command for use in working the innumerable features which will necessarily have to be taken count of. One of these features will be a Florida building, splendidly representative of the state. To make a success of the undertaking will require the moral support of every patriotic citizen in Florida. Those parties who may have suggestions to offer relating to the success of the undertaking will receive prompt replies to their queries and suggestions by addressing Mr. French at Sanford.

West Side Meeting

A meeting of the West Side Improvement Association will be held at the Robbins Nest at ten o'clock Thursday morning. As a matter of grave importance will come before the meeting, it is desired that all members be present. The Association disbanded next month. In order that the annual reports may be complete, it has been agreed to pay up all dues at the October meeting. Members will please take note of this.

Nine Banks in Lake

"Five or six years ago there were only two banks in Lake county," remarked President Holmes, of the Citizens Bank of Eustis yesterday the total was called nine.

This significant statement was made after the opening of the two banks above referred to.

The Citizens Bank of Eustis, which opened its doors six months ago, on December 17, 1912, is now the parent of two branch banks, the Bank of Mt. Dora and the Bank of Tavares.

The total capital of the Citizens Bank of Eustis is $55,000.00, and is apportioned as follows: $15,000.00 each for the Bank of Mt. Dora and the Bank of Tavares, thus leaving $25,000 to the mother bank at Eustis. The general board of directors is as follows: G. W. Holmes of Eustis, J. P. Donnelly of Mt. Dora, J. P. Felt of Eustis and Emporia, C. H. Goodenough of Clermont, Joe M. McCormick of Tavares, E. S. Burleigh of Tavares, M. V. Simpson of Mt. Dora, D. J. Caldwell of Eustis, Wm. Watt of Mt. Dora, G. D. Clifford of Eustis, J. R. Miller of Eustis.

The cashier of the Bank of Tavares is Mr. Charles L. Nutt of that city, son of Mr. R. L. Nutt and a popular young man, the cashier of the Bank of Mt. Dora is Mr. E. V. Cartledge of Rockmark, Ga., who comes highly recommended.

The first deposit in the Bank of Mt. Dora was made by one of the town's oldest inhabitants, Mrs. B. M. Bruce of Mt. Dora, aged about 70, who placed $500 in the bank. In contrast with her age, little Sara Margaret, the three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McCormick made the first deposit in the bank of Tavares.

Both banks are constructed of brick, buff brick facing, plate glass, cherry furniture and vaults, etc.

The nine banks in Lake county, two in Eustis, two in Leesburg and one each at Umatilla, Mt. Dora, Tavares, Greenwood and Clermont. We hope they will all succeed, without internal or external friction, and that no decline may result to the business, but a steady increase so that within a few years the present may triple what they are at present. The banks in the Lake region are the following: Eustis, Leesburg, Umatilla, Mt. Dora, Tavares, Greenwood and Clermont.

Birthday Party

Little Olive Newman, the charming little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Newman, celebrated her sixth birthday with a most delightful birthday party.

The day afternoon, which was greatly enjoyed by her many friends. After entering into many games, which were enjoyed by Mrs. W. C. Hill and Mrs. Samuel Hillson, the happy children were seated on the lawn, a cloth spread, and the beautiful cake, with its six pretty candles of as many different hues, was placed in the center, when little Olive went through the ceremony of blowing out the candles. Ice cream in cones and delicious cake were then served. The little hostess was most generously remembered by her many friends and was the recipient of many useful and beautiful gifts. Among these invited were Mary Elizabeth and Camilla Puleston, Maud Lake, Margaret Neal, Theodora Miller, Elizabeth Whitner, Frank Chase, Sarah Wight, Thomas Wight, Rogers and Willie Massey, Sarah May Williams, Delwin and Kenneth Hurley, Mollie and Waverly Abernathy, Helen Gonzales, Albert Connelly, May and Mildred Holt, Emily and Pierce Griffin, and Clair Jones.

Lake County's Club House

The Lake Highland Improvement Company, of West Virginia, have opened bids for their $20,000 Clubhouse on the clay road, on Lake Minnehaha, about one mile from Clermont. It is to be one of the most beautiful structures in the south. It will be opened Christmas to the public. The company owns 16,000 acres of the Black property, in the immediate vicinity, and their clubhouse will be headquarters for all visitors. After the opening of the clubhouse the and will be put on the market. It is high pine rolling land, healthy locality, penetrated by two railroads, the A. C. L. and T. & G., about 25 miles southeast of Eustis, in Lake county.

The above information was given by Mr. C. H. Goodenough of Clermont to the Lake Region on Tuesday. "If you don't believe it's healthy, look at me," said Mr. G. "I have lived there for thirty years, and though I just spent a week on the coast, it does not compare with Clermont for health, fertility and future possibilities.—Eustis Lake Region.

Sanford Public Schools Opened Term Yesterday

Largest Attendance Ever Seen In Sanford School

Have Fine Faculty This Year and School Term Promises Great Results

Sanford schools opened yesterday for the term of 1913-4 and if the record breaking attendance on opening day is any criterion of the work and attendance of the rest of the term schools are sure to have the most successful term of their history. It is estimated that more than 600 pupils will be enrolled today or before the week is ended, as some of them are coming from a distance, the fame of Sanford schools having reached to other states.

The superintendent of the Sanford schools, Prof. N. J. Perkins and county superintendent, D. L. Thrasher, were at the opening and were kept busy getting the little ones and big ones in their right places. The teachers were in their different grades and the joy of the children in seeing their teachers proved their worth and the deep love and affection with which the teachers are held by the pupils.

The faculty this year will see some new faces, although the majority of the teachers have been in the Sanford schools several years. Following is a list of the teachers:

- N. J. Perkins, A. B., Superintendent High School; Miss Clara L. Guild, A. M., Principal, Latin; Miss Alice M. Tetherly, B. L., Mathematics; J. Rowland Wildman, A. B., Science; Miss Lillian C. Gibson, A. B., English; Miss Charlotte Kates, History, Art, Science; N. J. Perkins, German Grammar School; Miss Flora Walker, Principal, 8th Grade; Miss Edna Plant, 8th Grade; Mrs. Geo. B. Dickinson, 7th Grade; Mrs. E. N. Lake, 5th and 6th Grades; Mrs. C. L. Polk, 5th Grade; Miss Carrie Ensminger, 4th Grade; Miss Eva Walker, 4th Grade; Miss Clara Miller, 3rd Grade; Mrs. Nora Moore, 3rd Grade; Miss Charlotte Kates, Vocal Music and Drawing; Principal, 1st Grade; Mrs. E. Launch Picnic Party

A most congenial party of friends left Friday morning in Mr. C. R. Walker's launch for an all day picnic. They were bound for Lemon Bluff, a beautiful spot about thirty-five miles up the river, and the picnic was given to celebrate the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Walker. A bountiful supply of good things were taken along and a most enjoyable day was anticipated by all.

Those who were invited to be of this fortunate party were Mrs. C. E. Walker, Mrs. Ensminger, Miss Carrie Ensminger, Mrs. F. P. Strong, Margaret, Isabel and Paul Strong, Mrs. Renfro, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Terhearn, Dick and Vera Terhearn, Mrs. Henry Wight, Fred, Sarah and Thomas Wight, Misses Claire Walker, Katherine and Ruth Waldron, Eva Walker, Leila Hutchinson, Master Clifford Walker and others.

Up to Tampa Tribune

The statement that all bird dogs should be registered in order that they could come under the head of being real dogs seems to have aroused the curiosity of several dog owners in Sanford and the following letter has been received from Mr. Howard:

Dear Holly: There is nothing about that "dog registering" business in the game law passed by the last legislature. You would confer a favor on many by asking the Tampa paper for its authority for the statement.

Yours truly, N. deV. HOWARD.

Fourth Annual Citrus Seminar

A large number of letters have been received in reply to the inquiry as to holding the Fourth Annual Citrus Seminar. The number of people interested in this work is greater than ever heretofore. The majority of those who have expressed themselves prefer to have the Seminar held during the week beginning October 13th. We will, therefore, begin the Seminar work on the night of the 12th, continuing through the 14th and 15th and up until the night of the 16th. This will give every one a chance to get back home again by Saturday and close up the week's work.

In the replies, the larger number of votes has been for the discussion of citrus diseases; this is closely followed by discussion of citrus insects and fertilizers; the votes for other subjects were somewhat scattering.

The Experiment Station staff is now engaged in formulating a program for the Seminar and will have this in shape to be sent out to the various newspapers in Central and Southern Florida during the coming week. Gainesville has grown to a large city, having ample hotel and boarding house accommodations for a much larger crowd than is at all likely to be present at the Seminar, so no one need remain away, for fear of not finding ample accommodations.

Very truly yours, P. H. ROLEFS, Director Exp. Station.

Jim Crow Fight

Washington, Sept. 29.—A bitter fight against alleged race discrimination in various parts of the country will be made shortly on behalf of negroes before the Supreme Court.

The Oklahoma and the Maryland "grandfather" constitutional amendments by which thousands of negroes have been disfranchised, will be attacked as unconstitutional.

An effort will be made to have the Oklahoma "Jim Crow" legislation annulled. An attempt will be made by Tennessee negro organizations to be permitted to use the name "Knights of Pythias" for negro lodges.

Dingee For Alderman

C. H. Dingee announces for Alderman in this issue. Mr. Dingee is too well known to need an introduction to the people of Sanford. He has been a resident and tax payer of Sanford for the past fifteen years and is one of the progressive business men of Sanford. Mr. Dingee resides on Sanford Heights but expects to be elected from the whole city and will represent the whole city. He believes in improvements but is conservative and will not favor plunging the city into debt that will press a burden to the tax payers. He favors the bulkheading of the lake front and other improvements in the city and his motto will be "a square deal for every citizen." This is Mr. Dingee's first fling at an official office although he has ever kept posted upon city affairs and city business. Mr. Dingee will make a formidable candidate being very popular and having a legion of friends in Sanford and his election is already predicted.

Marshal Brown Takes Office

At noon tomorrow United States Marshal John F. Horr will turn over his office to J. Clifford Brown, of Lakeland, former representative from Polk county, the nomination of Brown being sent September 17 by President Wilson to the senate for confirmation.

Marshal Horr will have his regular quarterly report ready to send to Washington and will settle all the affairs of his office at high noon, when the new marshal will take the oath of office and assume charge. The new marshal is in the city, having arrived several days ago, and will move his family here from Lakeland, as the law requires that the marshal for this district be officially at home here.

No immediate changes are contemplated by Mr. Brown in the personnel of his office, although he has had more than seven times the number of applications for positions than there are places to fill in his department.

Marshal Horr of this district, as also W. A. McGoulin, of Pensacola, united States marshal Northern district of Florida, was requested early last July to resign by Attorney General McReynolds, but they refused to do so, the terms of office not having expired.

Hand for Alderman Walter S. Hand announces his candidacy in this issue for re-election to the position of alderman of the city of Sanford. Mr. Hand has served one term as alderman and knows the needs of the city as well as any man in it. Mr. Hand is a large tax payer and a public spirited citizen of the progressive type and he favors an economical administration. Having had a two years' experience particularly his time for a return engagement as alderman and he will poll a large vote.

Reports indicate that Seminole county, the baby county of the state, is losing no time in making improvements and contracts have already been let for 25 miles of brick roads.

Reports from Postmaster General Burleson would lead one to believe that the Republican postmasters will soon be relegated to the farm where they belong and real Democrats will take the positions that belong to Democrats.

Sanford is apparently determined to have "all the modern improvements." In a short time there will be inaugurated there one of the finest and most complete water plants in the state.

After twenty-one years of newspaper activity Frank Walpole of the Manatee Record has quit the game. Frank some years ago engaged in the drug and other business and made some real money and since that time he has kicked on putting his real money into the rat hole of the newspaper business.

Hon. W. J. Sears, superintendent of public instruction of Osceola county and grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, spent a few hours in Orlando yesterday. Mr. Sears is being prominently mentioned as a candidate for congress from the fourth district.

Bob Sees 'Em Bob Holly can't find a Kentuckian with his story of the "dengue fever." It is called "snakes" in Kentucky.

"Going to bed that night with the acute feeling that the dengue was such a little thing I was rudely awakened by the same performance of the preceding night, only it was a three ringed circus this time and the elephants did their turn much better."

"Snakes big as elephants' bad brand, Bobby, bad brand. Cut it out" - Eustis Lake Region. We like Clarence Woods and hate to have anything happen to him but we hereby wish the dengue on him and hope he will have it about three whole days.

Talking about journalistic amenities and the kindly regard felt by editorial brethren for each other, we submit the following sample from the Walnut, Kansas, Eagle as about the strongest specimen we have encountered for some time: "You are the vilest, the most arrogant and the most egotistical old hypocrite and the biggest puffed-up liar that has ever walked the streets of Walnut or that ever sat in the pew of a church

There is not an honest hair in your head or an honest fiber in your body. You haven't a friend on earth or a principle that you would not turn down for a dime. You are a scoundrel, a scoundrel, a living and disturb the dead by lying about them. You have the instinct of a viper in your scabby body, and your slimy trail is strewn with failures and newspaper wrecks.

Outside of that the poor editor is probably all right. One of the hardest things for a reporter to tackle is a railroad accident. No information can be obtained from an employe, and it is folly for one to attempt it.

SMYRNA NEEDS ROADS A town without good roads leading into it will ever remain in obscurity, so far as the parts to be reached are concerned. New Smyrna is the town we refer to.

It is any wonder that more of our interior friends do not visit us in the summer time and the tourists in going to the interior of the state do not pass through New Smyrna? They are sure to travel the best road although it is the greatest distance.

There has been lots of talk about this road, but no work has been done. The road to DeLand is also sadly needed. When we want to go to that city, we must go fifteen miles to Daytona, before we turn in the direction of our destination. How many other towns in Florida would have done this way as long as New Smyrna has? Will we continue to travel these extra distances, or will we get to work and build the roads that will save us in time when traveling and put us in touch with an increased amount of travel?

MONEY MAKING GAME Fame is easily obtained these days. A week or so ago a viscountess from Europe arrived in New York and said to a group of reporters: "Americans are money mad." Immediately afterward this statement and her portrait appeared in daily papers all over the country.

In Europe it is a common accusation against them that they have. But no American who has ever been in Europe has noticed a lack of eagerness there for the root of all evil. Of course in England it is customary to say that Americans are ever in pursuit of the Almighty dollar, but nearly every Atlantic vessel brings to us Englishmen in quest of a wife with dollars. Besides did not Napoleon say that the British were a nation of shopkeepers, which is about the same thing as is charged against Americans. Possibly before she goes home the European viscountess who has said that Americans are money mad may develop symptoms in that direction herself.

PERSONAL REMARKS Talking about journalistic amenities and the kindly regard felt by editorial brethren for each other, we submit the following sample from the Walnut, Kansas, Eagle as about the strongest specimen we have encountered for some time: "You are the vilest, the most arrogant and the most egotistical old hypocrite and the biggest puffed-up liar that has ever walked the streets of Walnut or that ever sat in the pew of a church

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS The Sanford Public Schools, one of the city's most valuable assets has opened for another scholastic year and with the large enrollment of pupils bids fair to eclipse all former years in point of attendance. With the very capable corps of teachers under the direction of Prof. Perkins the Sanford schools also promise to have a better term than ever before if such is possible. The Sanford schools have the reputation of being one of the best systems in the state of Florida and that the schools this year will hold that reputation goes without saying. It behooves every parent of children in the Sanford district to take their children to the schools for enrollment. It behooves every parent to watch over the progress of each and every child, and see that they attend regular and study their lessons in school and out of school. The opportunity is before you of educating the children and taking advantage of the excellent Sanford school system and the broad gauge teachers and principal.

But the obligation of the parent does not end with the enrollment of the child; the public schools deserve more attention from parents than is usually given them. Parents, as a rule, regard their entire duty in this connection discharged in paying their tax and properly clothing and sending their children to school. There is a reason to fear that many look upon the school room as a nursery to relieve them of their troublesome children. The school cannot accomplish the full measure of its possibilities unless the parents join with teachers and directors in attention to pupils. A visit to the school now and then will show an interest in the pupils, teachers and work. We have been sadly neglectful in this respect and it is hoped that the future will bring about a deeper interest from the public than has been displayed in the past. Let us try and make this the greatest year in the history of the Sanford Public schools.

Millinery Opening Having just returned from the eastern markets where I purchased one of the finest and most complete stocks of Fall Millinery ever brought to Sanford, the same will be on display next Thursday, October 2, at my millinery parlors in the Clark building next door to the post-office. The styles are of the very latest, so get in early before the best hats are sold. 11-2t Mrs. J. H. BRUTON.

For Alderman I hereby announce my candidacy for the position of Alderman of the city of Sanford. Having served the city in this position I feel that I am qualified to give the people satisfaction. My policy is more improvements, bulkheading the lake front and a Greater Sanford. Respectfully, S. RUNGE.

For Alderman I announce my candidacy for the position of Alderman of the city of Sanford. Having served the city in this position for one term two years ago, I feel able to give the tax payer a square deal and to help in the improvement of the city. I favor bulkheading and other improvements, but believe in a wise expenditure of the tax payer's money that will not inflict a burden upon the people. Respectfully, J. D. DAVISON.

For Alderman Having served a term in the position of Alderman for the city of Sanford I hereby announce my candidacy to succeed myself in the same position. If elected, the business of the city will receive the same careful attention that it has in the past from me and economy in city government will be practiced in every particular on my part. Respectfully, WALTER H. HANEY.

For Alderman I hereby announce my candidacy for the position of Alderman of the city of Sanford. A careful, conservative administration of the city is needed for the next two years, and if elected I will endeavor to give the people a square deal and an honest administration. I favor bulkheading and other improvements, but believe in a wise expenditure of the tax payer's money that will not inflict a burden upon the people. Respectfully, C. H. DINGEE.

For Alderman Having been solicited by many citizens and friends to become a candidate for alderman I hereby announce for same. If elected I do my duty by the whole people and without favor, in the progress and a greater success than also for an economical administration and with the right associates believe we can do both; reduce taxes and also have a better city at less cost to the tax payer and with this idea in view I solicit your hearty support. Respectfully, C. WOODRUFF.

Living Cheap in Florida "It's easy to live on $35 a month in Lake Worth, the Wonder city," remarks the Herald, using large type and then giving some details regarding the expenses that a reasonable man would have in that place. From a glance over the schedule of expenses prepared it surely appears that some of the necessities of life are secured at reasonable cost in Lake Worth. The editor of the Herald shows that his story is published for the information of people inquiring about the cost of living and it makes an interesting article.

A Chiel Is Among Ye Taking Notes and Faith, He'll Prent 'Em—So Says Saunterer.

"Beware of green hosiery—it's full of aniline," says Pennsylvania's state chemist. Just how he got green hose to stand still long enough to learn that, he fails to explain.

A year ago an Oklahoma girl advertised at a cost of $11.25, for a husband. She was successful and Saturday he died leaving her $19,000 or a net profit of $18,988.75. Sometimes we think women don't improve their opportunities. Again we are sure they do.

Many farmers and others can recall the fact that when they were boys on the farm, the farmer who had two spring seats to put on his wagon for gala days, was considered a fortunate and well-to-do farmer. Most farmers then had only one spring seat and the children sat on mere boards laid across the bed. Then came the farmer who had the spring wagon, a wagon with springs under it. Then the top carriage and so on. Now it is the automobile that runs not only on springs but on cushioned tires and one automobile costs as much as thirty spring wagons used to cost. In all of this we may catch the drift of progress and also an explanation of the high cost of living. But we have to have such things now.

The postoffice department of the United States has inaugurated the parcel post service, which those who worked out the details of inauguration assert will within a few years exceed in tonnage the combined express companies of the country.

Few Americans, however, yet comprehend the vastness of this undertaking, for the simple reason that they are not aware of the extensiveness of the business carried on by the postal service before the new burden was assigned to it by congress.

Even prior to January 1 last, the post office department of the United States was by far the largest postal institution in the world, its more than 350,000 employees handling annually approximately 15,000,000,000 pieces of mail, or one-third of the mail matter of the world. The hourly average of the American postoffice was between 800,000 and 900,000 letters during the twenty-four units of the day.

At the outbreak of the civil war the total receipts of all the offices in the country did not equal those of the great office at Chicago today.

There are more than 59,000 offices, handling the mail in this country, and doing an annual business which ranges from $5, at a cross roads, in one of the southern states, to $23,000,000 on New York. The transportation of the mails alone over the railroads cost more than $50,000,000, exclusive of the $20,000,000, which is paid in salary to the 17,000 railway mail clerks. The rural free delivery service costs Uncle Sam about $43,000,000 a year, and pays back in revenue about one-third this sum. It is considered, however, one of the most efficient and beneficial branches of the service.

Despite the great care taken to deliver at its destination every piece of mail dropped into the post box or office annually, about 20,000,000 pieces, counting letters, packages, post cards and postals, find their way into the dead letter office. Oftimes money is enclosed in these "dead letters," and each year a considerable sum from this source is turned into the treasury, as well as from the dead letter sales.

While the private individual must pay the government for the handling of his mail, Uncle Sam carries free about 24,000 tons of his own mail matter each year, more than half of which is handled in Washington.

Philadelphia saves about $100,000 a year by furnishing eyeglasses free to children, especially school children. The greatest emphasis was laid upon this fact by Dr. Lewis C. Wessels in the Hygiene congress.

The figures show that about 25 per cent of school pupils are defective in vision and that parents are too poor or too indifferent to buy glasses, but in Philadelphia the children are provided with them, the bureau having the business in charge dealing with about 2,500 cases a year.

It is easy to show that defective eyesight leading also to eye strain is so unfavorable in its influence as to retard the pupil greatly who is so afflicted and to occasion mischief in a score of ways often leading into the commission of crime.

All who use glasses know that without them they would be themselves so seriously handicapped as to be unable to do business. If one cannot see well so as to be almost unconscious of obstruction to sight, one is so annoyed, irritated and hampered in work as almost to lose capacity for it, and this is true with children.

Looked at in the broad way it is an economy on the part of any community to see that the school children at least are provided with the means of clear vision. Backward students become forward when they are able to use their natural faculty after their eyes are put in condition for work. Half the time the dull or stupid pupil, as he is called, owes his position in class to lack of ability to see the text book clearly and easily.

It is a sound conclusion that Dr. Wessels draws when he says that it is an economic problem rather than a charity that is involved in this subject. If the pupil's efficiency is greatly increased the efficiency of the teacher is also increased and the city gets in larger abundance what it spends its money for.

At last there will be some activity in city politics and the boys are coming out with their announcements. I see by the paper last week that Davison and Runge are out for council and D. L. Thrasher for mayor. They are all good men and will make good officials. Runge and Davison have each served in the city council and Mr. Thrasher has served as councilman and has been identified with the city's interests for many years and knows the needs of the city thoroughly.

I understand that there will be other candidates come out in a few days and there will be two more candidates for mayor. Be that as it may, I don't think they can beat Thrasher for Mayor and while politics is something that no man can foretell in the result there is a certainty that the majority of the voters will support Thrasher for the simple reason that he is the best man for the place. There are some rumors that he will be too severe in some instances and yet his politics have always been lenient enough and he made an ideal councilman. He is true to his convictions and will let no man or set of men swerve him from the path of duty and that is certainly in his favor.

However, we shall see what we shall see, and then other men will have to go some if they beat him out. The announcements will proceed to come thick and fast now that the ice has broken the ice and there will be considerable excitement in the next few months. The first thing the voters should see that they are properly registered and the poll taxes have been paid. After that they are licensed to talk politics.

Long ago—even before her husband was inaugurated President—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson stated that she never had spent $1,000 a year for clothes. Experts in that line in London seem to have just got hold of this statement, and they are making it a subject of discussion. Mrs. Aria, who is represented as being a leading expert on the subject of woman's wear, says it depends on a woman's mode of life as to how much she shall spend on her apparel. This is true, but it is not a novel statement.

Mrs. Aria tells the world that a woman must be suitably dressed. If she goes in for philanthropy she must wear tweed and if she patronizes art and music she must wear velvet and lace.

As to the cost of dressing Mrs. Aria asserts that woman can spend and sum from $150 up, and that she can dress comfortably on from $150 to $15,000. But—here is where she must expect contradiction—she asserts that on $150 a woman would never look nice. Her vision must squint. There are a great many women whose clothes cost less than $150 a year, who look nicer than some who spend $15,000. Providence has been kinder to the former than to their more wealthy sisters.

SEMINOLE BANK OPENS

Sanford's Third Bank Starts Business Most Favorably

Saturday morning, at 9 o'clock, the Seminole County Bank of Sanford, opened doors for business. This new banking institution is located at the corner of Park avenue and Commercial street, and its opening marks another decided epoch in the business interests of Sanford, it is truly an evidence of progress and prosperity, showing an abiding faith in the future of this town and county. The increasing wealth of Seminole county demanded additional banking facilities, and to meet this demand the Seminole County Bank was organized with a capital stock of $50,000, the largest capital stock of any bank in this county. The officers and stockholders are all staunch business men of this county, and every effort will be made to conserve the best interests of the county and its institutions. The new bank starts off under the most favorable conditions, and Hon. Forrest Lake, president, was kept busy greeting his numerous friends, who went to the bank on opening day. The fixtures are handsome, and up to date; marble, with mahogany finished wood, and everything is arranged for the comfort and convenience of the patrons of the bank.

The checks are very artistic, bearing an engraving of a Seminole Indian chief. The officers are Forrest Lake, president; D. L. Thrasher, vice-president; A. R. Key, Cashier. The directors are T. E. Wilson, A. T. Rossiter, A. P. Connelly, Joseph Cameron, John Meisch, J. C. Bennett, F. L. Woodruff, N. H. Garner, D. L. Thrasher, Forrest Lake and W. H. Wight.—Jacksonville Metropolis.

ALL AROUND FLORIDA Notes of the Fruit and Vegetable Crops at Various Points

Jennings, Fla., Sept. 29.—Truck crops are looking well in this section. B. H. Alderman and Grover Cunningham have one acre of cucumbers each and they will begin to ship in a few days. Stephen Bros. will put in two acres of cabbage; B. F. Ward one acre of onions; J. K. Beaty two acres of cabbage and onions; B. T. Rape one acre of beans and one acre of English peas.

This locality is fast becoming an important trucking section.

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 29.—S. C. Ward, who has had an extended experience, in the packing end of the orange business in California and who for the past five years has been connected with the field and packing house work, has been engaged by Chase & Co. to enter their employ as superintendent of packing houses. Mr. Ward's experience in California will be utilized to improve where possible the work of the Chase & Co.'s packing houses throughout Florida.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 29.—The Cole-Winfield Fruit and Packing Co. has made heavy shipments of avocados to Chicago, Spokane and New York within the last 10 days. The fruit brings good prices in these markets. Much of it shipped this season has been of unusual large size, packing only fifteen to the crate. At Rector's in Chicago they have been handling avocados this season which they say are "the finest and best which ever appeared in Chicago markets." The Cole-Winfield Co. has already booked orders for 20 cars of grapefruit. The Jacksonville Fruit & Vegetable Co. have issued a circular letter to their agents in this state, which gives some interesting facts: This firm sold oranges in carlots last season 324 different jobbers in 174 markets in 37 states. In the grapefruit division the firm sold carlots to 105 different jobbers in 100 markets in 40 states. Of Florida commodities the firm sold in carlots during the past season 576 different jobbers in 229 markets in 46 states.

Plant City, Fla., Sept. 29.—E. W. Wiggins and Robert Daniels are having 500 strawberry refrigerator boxes made which will be ready by Dec. 1st. About that time they will make shipments of strawberries to the northern markets. The berry acreage in this section will be an increase over last year.

Panama City, Fla., Sept. 29.—The Bay County Fruit and Truckers Association, with headquarters here has recently been organized. The new organization starts with 80 members and the outlook is good for the successful development of fruit and vegetables in this section. The first crop will be lettuce, radish and cabbage from the 110 acres planted.

Valrico, Fla., Sept. 29.—It is estimated that there will be 20,000 boxes of citrus fruit in this section this season and growers are contemplating building a packing house at a cost of between $5,000 and $7,000 with a capacity of from four to five cars daily.

Summerfield, Fla., Sept. 29.—Truckers are busy planting cabbage, beans and Bermuda onions. There has been a large acreage of new land cleared and this is fast becoming an important shipping point. Truckers intend to plant a greater variety of vegetables for fall and spring shipments.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

New from the Nation's Capital by the Herald Special Correspondent

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29.—(Special)—Notwithstanding that he has been one of the busiest men in Washington since Congress convened, Senator Robert M. LaFollette has taken time from his other work to prepare for the October number of National Waterways, the magazine published by the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, a most interesting and instructive article on the "Physical Valuation of Railroads," which Congress authorized the Interstate Commerce Commission to make at the earliest time possible.

"The magnitude of the work required of the Commission," says the distinguished senator from Wisconsin, "begins to appear when it is realized that there are 250,000 miles of railroad, with all of the cuts and fills and grades and culverts and bridges to be surveyed and appraised. Then there is the rolling stock, the 50,000 passenger cars, the 60,000 locomotives in all the varying stages of depreciation and upwards of 2,250,000 freight cars, grading from the little wooden cars, placed in service in the early seventies, to the great steel ones of the present time.

Three things belong to the public at the hands of every transportation company that holds a franchise, and the government owes it to the public to secure these three things—reasonable rates, impartial rates and adequate services. On the other hand it owes it to the railroad company to see to it that it has a fair return on the fair value of its property—no more and no less. Now for the first time, the Government is putting itself in position to require the railroad to discharge its obligations in full measure. The railroads, through more than half a century have had more than their own. The people now, so far as transportation rates and services are concerned, are coming into their own."

The forthcoming convention of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, which will be held in Washington, Dec. 3, 4, and 5, gives abundant promise of exceeding in interest any previous convention of this great organization, whose slogan, "Not a Project, but a Policy," has brought untold benefits to the nation in the way of improved rivers and harbors. United States Senator Joseph E. Ransdell of Louisiana, the president of the Congress, which is second in importance only to the Congress of the United States, is authority for the statement that the program of the convention will embrace the appearance of many noted men who have made waterway problems a life long study. He hopes to have President Wilson open the Congress, as was the custom of Presidents Roosevelt and Taft, both having taken a deep personal interest in the affairs of the largest and most representative of the waterway associations of the country. The cabinet will also be represented on the program together with representatives of foreign governments, as well as heads of great transportation interests.

But very few persons realize the magnitude of the Government meat inspection service or the close scrutiny that is given all meat slaughtered. In the past seven years 377,000,000 animals were inspected at slaughter houses and 1,100,000 carcasses and 4,700,000 parts were condemned. Eight billion pounds of prepared meat were inspected and certified for export.

To do this work a force of 2,109 veterinary inspectors has been kept continuously at work at 792 slaughtering and packing establishments in 227 cities and towns. These men, through long experience, can instantly detect tuberculosis or any other disease in a carcass or can, by touch and smell detect abnormality in any organ.

Several years ago the German government bought a site for an embassy building in Washington, the land alone costing over $100,000. Not content with the present ambassadorial residence, plans have been adopted in Berlin for a $500,000 structure to be erected in the American capital in the very near future. The government of Argentina appropriated $300,000 to establish a fitting home for its minister accredited to the United States, and one of the finest residences in Washington has been purchased.

All of which is in marked contrast to the niggardliness that marks the provisions for securing quarters for American ambassadors in foreign capitals.

Need Business Roads And Less Joy Riding

Congressman Dorsey Makes Appeal For Plain People

Other News And Views Of The World In Gerald In Tabloid Form

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 30.—United States Representative Dorsey W. Shackelford, chairman of the house committee on roads, in an address before the American road congress here today, admitted that he was "not in harmony with the dominant spirit" of the congress and vigorously opposed the so-called "touring road" advocates.

"The 'touring roads' class," declared Representative Shackelford, "demands that the United States shall limit its road activities to the construction and maintenance of a few 'ocean to ocean' and 'cross country' highways of great perfection and then leave the rest of the people to build their own roads or do without, as they choose."

"The 'business' road class believe that in dealing with the roads we must keep in mind easy communication between the farms and the towns and railway stations, so the farmer may market his crops at less expense and the town dweller may get farm products more easily and at less cost."

"The 'touring roads' class desires to get away as far as possible from local control. To accomplish this a bill is now pending in congress which provides that a new office shall be created—that of public highway commissioner—who shall keep his office at Washington where he may not be influenced or even impressed by the yearnings of the people among whom the roads should radiate. The bill also provides that all questions as to location, method of construction and maintenance shall be finally determined by the commissioner of public highways."

Common Sense In Living

Use common sense in living. Most Americans would resent the suggestion that they don't use it always and everywhere. Some of them do in their ordinary affairs; more of them do not when it comes to the management of that which is most important to themselves—their health, the welfare of their bodies.

What is common sense? Analysts might differ in their definitions, but without undue technicality the use of common sense might be called the sane application of the rules that have been gathered from the experiences of life.

Presumably every sane man profits by his experiences. He does not make the same mistake twice. He guides his actions by the methods he has found out for himself to be best, or at least by what he believes are best. He realizes or should realize that he or any other man does not possess the sum total of human knowledge, but that that total is the aggregate of all human experiences and research and reasoning. He is willing to learn from others and apply that knowledge in his own affairs when he is convinced that it is the truth, even if it contradicts what he has believed to be the truth.

When through some mental process he has reached this condition of mind, he is at the starting point of common sense, just where he can and is likely to use it.

Now, apply this line of reasoning to the science of living. Science is a formidable word until you get well acquainted with it, know what it means. When you have mastered it, it is simple enough to be used familiarly every day.

It has been so clouded and obscured by the long words that students use about it, that it has seemed far above and beyond most of us, but the translation makes it possible for us to apply its truths to ourselves. For science is simply classified knowledge, the facts about created things and the ways in which they move, arranged, put in pigeon holes, so that the simplest of us can find them and use them. Having found them it is for us to use them if we know how. If we do not, it is for us to learn how.

No scientists, no set of students, have made more rapid advances in the last thirty years than the medical men. They have searched far and deep for explanations of the commonest things about the human body. Their studies have brought many cherished notions about disease, and that man puts himself fifty years in the past who clings to the notions of his fathers about typhoid, malaria, yellow fever and many other diseases. We all accept the electric light as a fact, although our fathers didn't have it. We use it because it is safer and better, if not cheaper, than the old kerosene lamp. Yet the electric bulb is no more wonderful than the discoveries that the doctors have appropriated from the great unknown for the benefit of human kind.

But there is a science of living, the possession of every intelligent man and woman, which is plain common sense. It is so simple that we don't recognize it as scientific. The man or woman who has not made a complete inventory of his or her physical possessions, who does not know the strong points or the weaknesses, who has not measured his or her physical strength, needs a guardian. HE has not discovered the safe working limit of the physical machine under his immediate control, not alone the amount of exertion he may safely undertake, but how many hours of sleep are necessary to keep the machine in good order, the amount and kinds of food it needs, what varieties agree and what disagree with it, whether or not alcohol is an unsafe poison to it, and a score of other personal particulars and peculiarities—such a man does not deserve what God gave him. He who knows these things, having taken these measurements, disregards them is foolish or wicked or worse.

It is the duty of every man to keep himself up to his highest point of efficiency, physically and mentally. He who fails in neglecting a plain duty to himself, to his family, to his neighbors and to his state. No man can live unto himself, for society is so complicated that if he is not a producer, he is a drag, a burden. Not until a man has lived out his allotted years, earning more than he spends, making the world richer and better, he is entitled to rest, to draw upon the accumulated fund of his earlier and active years.

It is just as much a duty to preserve one's health, to build it up if it be impaired, as it is to follow the Ten Commandments. Our besetting physical sins sometimes become so familiar that they seem almost to be virtues. We forget they are sins. They are temptations that turn into habits and we lose sight of the fact that they are still temptations. There is the sin of eating what we don't need, of eating more than we need and this is commonest of all the sin of drinking what we know while we are drinking is injurious; the sin of worry, the sin of overwork, of driving the machine too hard, the sin of worry, there are many of them and they all impair our efficiency, lessen our physical capacity.

Medical science has found a remedy for many bodily ills. It is searching for others. It will bring a cure or alleviation for most of them, perhaps for all except for old age, and that should not be considered, it is not an ill. Yet the doctors with all their seeking for the causes of disease and for the remedies, are doing their grandest work in applying their findings to the prevention of disease and human suffering.

The religion of common sense appeals to every man, but just as practical Christianity is not intended for Sunday use alone, so this religion should be available for every day living.

Palatka Meeting Of Waterways Association

Sixth Annual Session Will Be Held In November

Mississippi To Atlantic Inland Waterways Association Important Meeting

Palatka, Fla., Oct. 3.—Senator D. U. McFlier, president, and Leland J. Henderson, secretary, have issued the formal call for the sixth annual meeting of the Mississippi-to-Atlantic Inland Waterways association to be held in Palatka, November 17 and 18.

The work laid out by this association, composed of representative men of the Gulf and south Atlantic states, is that of constructing a canal to connect the Mississippi river and the Apalachicola and thence across the Florida peninsula to the St. Johns river and the Atlantic.

The association is working for all legitimate river and harbor improvements, but is especially interested in the project bearing its name.

Florida, perhaps more than any other state in the Union, is vitally interested in waterway improvements. In no state is there better opportunity to do what the thrifty people of the northern countries of Europe are doing—providing cheap waterways.

The railways are not equal to handling the constantly growing traffic of the country. Presidents W. W. Finley of the Southern Railway and J. J. Hill of the Great Northern are advocates of better waterways.

The time is coming when Florida will be crisscrossed and zigzagged with canals and improved rivers, streams and lakes, having outlets to the Atlantic and Gulf, and the world to an extent not possible elsewhere in the Union, and providing in connection with steam and electric roads, transportation facilities unsurpassed by any other territory of equal size in any country.

This is the subject concerning which every Floridian should become thoroughly advised. The construction of this canal and allied projects will be immensely more valuable to the people of Florida and the United States than the Panama canal.

Part of the particular project advocated by this association is now under construction, and other plans have been favorably reported by the United States engineers. In consideration of these facts, the officers of the association believe that the project will be reported in the next rivers and harbors bill if sufficient interest is manifested on the part of the people in the localities affected.

Members of congress from the states interested and all waterway advocates and citizens interested in the general development of the country are urged to be present or send representatives to the convention to be held in Palatka, and also to the Atlantic Deeper Waterways convention to follow on November 19 and 22 at Jacksonville.

Florida is honored by having president, secretary and treasurer of this important association. Invitations to attend and speak have been extended to all prominent advocates of waterways transportation in the country, besides other men of affairs, and the meeting promises to be the most successful yet held.

There are no less than fifteen American waterway associations and a vast territory is involved. The work in hand in a material way is one of the most vital before the country. The railroad is an individual or corporation proposition. The south has the natural resources and what is needed is the industry and courage to develop them. To do this properly we must first secure good transportation facilities. Nature has favored Florida with water facilities second to no other state in the Union. Are we merely to use them to fish and bathe in. In northern rivers and lakes it is often necessary to force a passage for boats, with expensive and especially constructed ice breakers. We are not handicapped in that respect down here.

Palatka is located on Florida's greatest river and enjoys a large steamer traffic, through the Clyde Line of New York, the Beach & Miller, the Hart, and other lines, besides having four different railroads—Atlantic Coast Line, Georgia Southern & Florida, Southern Railway, Florida East Coast Line and Ocala Northern connecting with the Seaboard therefore it is as accessible as any other city in the state.

Delegates and visitors to Palatka will find mills and factories of unusual interest and capacity—of which picture companies have voluntarily made films—and tributary is the only camphor industry in the United States, a large artesian well and Irish potato district, and orange and grapefruit groves, from which 200,000 boxes were shipped last year. They will find in Palatka fifteen miles of vitrified brick paved streets, a complete sewerage system, and all other conveniences and needs of the modern city.

PAOLA POINTS

Our fine weather still continues, so fine that just to see the changing shadows, made by the glorious sun and floating clouds, and breath the fresh, pure air, makes life a pleasure. The woods are growing gay with autumn flowers, it being Florida's peculiar blessing to have a wealth of bright tinted blossoms to enliven the rusty hue of foliage and grasses that have lost their summer freshness. The cool nights are already giving a yellow tint to citrus fruits, and soon the busy season of picking and packing will begin.

Miss Sarah Smith teaches at Fort Tampa City this year. Past experience makes this young lady's success assured, and all that can be said, is to wish her pleasure and profit in her winter's work.

The Zachery family are moving to their new home on Magnolia Ave., to give the girls the benefit of Sanford's excellent schools.

Mr. Fred Kaiser of Jacksonville was a welcome visitor at Twin Lakes one day last week.

One of Paola's valued neighbors, Mr. Oas W. Rantoul, after a pleasant summer spent at Cambridge, and Newburyport, Mass., has returned to his model home, "Seven Oaks," Crystal Lake.

Mr. Brown's friend and guest, Mr. Cleveland, has bought the old Moore place at Banana Lake. This was for many years the home of the Weiser family. The old house was burned some time ago and Mr. Cleveland will build a new residence immediately, and have his family here for the winter. It is very encouraging to see the places coming to life again, and all hope that Paola's future may be even more prosperous than in her Balm of Gilead "before the freeze."

Jack Booth spent Sunday with his relatives, the Bothemly family, in the city. O. S. Pearson is at home for a short vacation.

Jewish Holidays

All the Jewish places of business in Sanford were closed from 6 o'clock Wednesday evening until 6 o'clock tonight, in celebration of the Jewish New Year 5674, known as Rosh Hashonah. Nine days after Rosh Hashonah comes Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, which is regarded as the holiest day of the entire year by the Jewish congregation. The very name suggests and signifies holy day. It is the holiest fast day that survives in history, and is the culmination of the Jewish expiatory ceremonial.

With Rosh Hashonah, one of the holiest days of the Jewish ritual, begins a long list of fast and feast days, extending through next May. Following is the calendar for the year 5674: New Year, October 2; Day of Atonement, October 11; Feast of Tabernacles, October 16; Thanksgiving Day, November 27; Feast of Conclusion, October 23; Hanukkah, December 24; Purim, March 12; Passover, first day, April 11; last day, April 27; Feast of Weeks, May 31.

According to the ancient calendar this will be the twelfth year of the 23rd lunar cycle of nineteen years since the creation. Rosh Hashonah occurs this year three weeks later than last year, when it came on September 12. This is very early, and October 2 is more nearly the normal date. Last year, however, was leap year, and accordingly there were thirteen lunar months in the Jewish calendar for the year, causing much variance in dates.

U. S. Marshall Brown Assumes New Duties

Former Sanford Man Takes Office In Jacksonville

Other News Gleaned From The State For Busy Herald Readers

At an early hour Wednesday morning, Clifford Brown of Lakeland took the oath of office of United States marshal, Southern District of Florida, the oath being administered by Judge Rhydon M. Call, United States district court, Southern District of Florida. In the court chambers there were present Judge Call, the new marshal and a number of friends, as also Capt. John F. Horr, the retiring marshal, who has held office for nearly sixteen years. The first official action was the appointment of deputies at Tampa, Key West and Miami to succeed those previously holding positions as deputies. The appointments were: Arthur E. Brooks at Tampa; John M. Warren at Key West and Edwin R. Rowe at Miami.

The St. Petersburg Vitrified Brick factory has turned out a third kiln of brick burned from Florida beach sand. These three trials have been experimental and those who claim to know and have examined the brick pronounce them excellent and well adapted to paving purposes. Some of the samples are now on display in St. Petersburg. This particular kind of brick has been manufactured only during the past year, the company at St. Petersburg and one in California being the only ones engaged in the business of the making of vitrified brick from beach sand.

Plant City makes a showing in the building line that compares favorably with that of any other town of anywhere near the same population in the state. While there has not at any time been what might justly be termed a "boom," the work of building has gone steadily along and it is when it comes to be summed up that the aggregate is apparent. Within the year past two contractors alone have erected buildings amounting to $8 in value, and their work covers two brick business blocks and thirty-four residences. Other contractors have done proportionately as well.

For the past several days the bay has been literally alive with mullet. The fishermen have not been successful in catching many, however, owing to the unfortunate weather which has prevailed for a week or more. A large number of porpoise that have been ranging on the outskirts of the schools of mullets have fared better than the fishermen, and were seen yesterday by passengers on the ferry boats to the beach, slapping the mullets from the water and then catching them in their mouths as they fell—Miami Herald.

Brick paving is going down on a number of Sara ot's principal streets. Part of the project will form a boulevard loop along the bay front from the Yacht and Automobile club house to the Indian mound, east to Orange avenue, and north to Main street via Orange Pine and Morrell. Paving has already been laid near the depot and more is to follow in that section. South of town the bay shore road has been graded to receive brick for about two miles.

For the first time in twenty-five years the town of Maitland in Orange county, is without a school, no teacher having been provided for the place. In a mass meeting resolutions were passed asking the county school board to restore the school to the town. As the matter now stands, Winter Park is the nearest school and the children would be required to go some two and a half miles to get the benefits of the public school.

News comes that Miami's public schools have already begun their winter's work and already the buildings are crowded beyond their capacity. Rooms are now being fitted out in the old wooden building that did service for a school house for several years before the new Miami Central Grammar School building was erected.

The poor farm of our neighboring county of Osceola is paying dividends, and now the county commissioners over there have decided to further increase the revenue of the farm by increasing the size of the citrus grove it contains. Osceola's commissioners must be the right men in the right place.

The Baptism—Dr. Frank Crane has written some very pretty and interesting stories, but none more rarely beautiful than the following:

Clarice had a baby. It was the wonder of the island. From the old fisherman down by the beach to the Reverend Jones and Walker's up at the big hotel the baby was the subject of intense discussion. For everybody liked Clarice and her husband, who was a play-actor, and the baby was an amazing compound of the excellencies of both.

Clarice wanted the baby baptized. No priest or minister could be found on the island. "Just the same I shall have the baby baptized," said she. "I'll have Berriman to do it." Berriman was a poet, past sixty, and a beautiful failure. Physically he lived on the crusts and edges of things' spiritually he ate of the heart of the world. So one day they had the christening. And Berriman, the poet, spoke, saying:

"Beloved friends, we are here gathered, in the sight of God and in the presence of these witnesses, to baptize this child.

"Baptism is the application of water to the human body, solemnly and formally, as a symbol of the cleansing of the soul. It is a most ancient rite, and is found in all religions.

"It indicates the adoption of a candidate into the membership of the elect.

"There has always been a superior few, an aristocracy in the world.

"There is the apparent or so-called aristocracy, who as a rule are not superior at all, and there is the real aristocracy, who are a secret order known to themselves only.

"We are here to baptize this baby into the real elect, the real upper-ten, the real church, or ecclesia, or called-out.

"We will, therefore, consecrate ourselves to teach this child the upper thought in all things.

"To her flowers shall not be mere plants, but God's thoughts.

"To her stars shall be more than burning worlds; they shall be eyes of mystery.

"To her men shall not be brutes, whose labor is to be exploited; they shall be brothers, prophets, spirit flames.

"To her the sex feeling, when it comes, shall be as a lily, which, though its roots grow in common soil, yet lifts its pure petals to perfume the air, to make glad the garden, and to greet the sun.

"To her, events shall not be as the shaking of dice, the fortuity of chance, but they shall be meaningful moves of the intelligence of destiny, which guides men and things by its own perfect plan.

"We consecrate this child to reverence and against flippancy; to justice, and against all lies; to loyalty, and against deception; to love, and against all kinds of hate; to patience, and against petulance; to beauty, and against ugliness; to greatness of mind, and of heart a id of soul, and the world and to the fellowship of the entire human race, against all littleness and narrowness; to the citizenship and against all clans, exclusive sects cliques and cults.

"And this little citizen of the world and heless of the future we commend unto that God who has made no thing common and to that Master who loved no less than the whole world"

Last Friday night the choir of the Baptist church organized into a society for social purposes, besides the betterment of their music. Forrest Gatehel is the president, Miss Minnie Stewart is secretary-treasurer, Miss Ruby Betts will preside at the organ, and E. A. Gilbert will have charge of the music as director. They anticipate many pleasant and profitable evenings during the coming winter. Their regular choir school is on Friday nights from 7 to 9.

E. A. Douglass is the proud possessor of a beautiful boat which was launched last Thursday afternoon. The trim little craft is known as the Mary D. and being of generous dimensions, twenty-six feet long with a six foot beam, eighteen passengers can be comfortably seated in the glass enclosed cabin. Mr. Douglass is clerk of the circuit court and will no doubt enjoy many hours in the Mary D. on Lake Monroe and the beautiful St. Johns.
