Capt. Smith Returns to First Love

During the absence of Miss Guild at the high school this week Capt. R. B. Smith 's terching Latin and Aigebra. This is not the Captain's first attempt to teach the young ideas how to shoot for many years ago he started in pedagogy. Away back yonder before the great conflict tore the states saunder Capt. Smith was teaching Midway Academy in Leon county but when war's alarums bade strong men march away he censed teaching young ideas how to shoot and taught the young lads how to shoot sure enough and to learn the art of war instead of the arts and sciences. The young school teacher closed the school house door never to return and merched away in the ranks of the Seventh Florida under that grand leader Col. Robert Bullock. After one of the very severe engagements that the Senevth suffered Smith as Captain had command of the regiment and served full time until the end came at Appomattox. Not having money enough to get back to Florida after the war Capa. Smith settled in Georgia and taught school for twenty one years. He was superintendent of public instruction of Greene county for four years but his health showed signs of failing and he came to Sanford to escape the coldweather and started to raise winte vegetables at Monroe. He has removed to the city this winter and will make Sanford his future home. It is with a fact that Capt. GOOD FOR OLD ORANGE

Orange county voted for bonds last Tuesday to the tune of $600,000 and the bonds will be used to build brick roads in the county. This is a matter sincere congratulation from every other county in Florida and especially from Sen inole county, for with our brick roads in contemplation the two counties can now join hands and have twenty-five miles of brick road between the two cities of Sanford and Orlando. Several years ago the old county of Orange that then comprised all of what is now Seminole, attempted to vote a bond issue of one million dollars for brick roads, but the idea of brick roads and of bonding was most too new to be carried, although this end of the county did carry for bonds. It is well-to note at time the change in the trend of public opinion in a few years and The Herald in an article written at that time in our church this week. To prevent diseaseresist disease germs

SMALLPOX is prevented by vaccination - the injection of vaccine. DIPHTHERIA is prevented by the injection of anti-toxin.

These enable the body to produce substances which prevent the growth of smalipox and diphtheria germs in the blood.

There are many other diseases, nearly, if not quite as dangerous, and far more common — typhoid fever, the grippe, bronchitis, pneumonlia, catarrh, rheumatism, and a score of others - that can be prevented less painfully and more easily by making the body strong to resist germ infection.

Olive Oil Emuls
