Statement Made By Southern Bell On Negotiations

ATLANTA (AP)—Last minute efforts were being made today to settle contract negotiations affecting some 50,000 Southern Bell Telephone Co. employes in nine southern states.

The present contract covering wage and working conditions for non-supervisory employes expires at midnight tonight.

But both sides emphasized that no strike date has been announced and that bargaining is continuing.

Spokesmen at district headquarters of the CIO Communications Workers of America said they were hopeful an agreement would be reached.

Negotiators met again with Commissioner Sloan Springfield of the U. S. Mediation and Conciliation Service after conferring all day yesterday and well into the night.

A spokesman for Southern Bell said that even if an agreement was not reached by midnight company officials expected to continue bargaining for a new contract with terms of the present contract remaining in effect for the time being.

Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co. said today the union's refusal to accept a clause to assure uninterrupted telephone service in the public is virtually all that is standing in the way of a final agreement on a new contract. The company was referring to the union, CWA-310.

Malone, personnel vice president of Southern Bell said, "The company's insistence on an uninterrupted service clause is to require the union to follow orderly procedure established in the contract for adjustments or differences during the life of the agreement."

"It is common practice for union and management agreements to include provisions assuring no work stoppage by employes as long as the contract is in force. In fact, about 80 per cent of labor management contracts today include such provisions."

"Protection of the public in this manner is particularly important in the telephone business. National defense and the public health, welfare and safety depend vitally on telephone service. It is essential that this service not be disrupted."

"There has been an average of one strike every 10 days in the original distribution. Pro-southerners League with headquarters in Fort Pierce; Conscientious American Citizens Club of Tampa and the Florida branches of the Patrick Henry Organization and the White Circle League of America.

And yesterday, about 16 people warned the principal and teachers of the elementary school there would be "trouble" if they entered the school. Principal Lloyd H. Securo and the five teachers went home and the school was closed.

Last night, pro-segregation forces in the Milford School District, at their third meeting in three days, stepped up their drum fire for a boycott of the school at a mass meeting in nearby Lincoln state police said a conservative estimate of the crowd was 750.

Attendance Takes Drop In 2 Places

MILFORD, Del. (AP)—The deepening dispute over integration of 11 Negro pupils in Milford's previously all-white high school reached another crossroad today with segregationists appealing again for white pupils to remain away from classes.

Attendance at today's session under the watchful eye of state and local police, officials expected to continue bargaining for a new contract with terms of the present contract remaining in effect for the time being.

School officials explained the low attendance by pointing to parents' fear of possible violence or opposition to integration. Just what is predominant apparently will be decided this morning, the officials said.

Meanwhile, in Marion County, West Virginia, the County Board of Education announced last night that it would "seek relief in the courts" against persons preventing integration in the small coal mining community.

The Annabelle elementary school opened Sept. 7 with 13 Negro attending classes with 157 white students. County Board Superintendent J. J. Straight said the number of white students subsequently attending classes dwindled to about half that number.

And yesterday, about 16 people warned the principal and teachers of the elementary school there would be "trouble" if they entered the school. Principal Lloyd H. Securo and the five teachers went home and the school was closed.

Last night, pro-segregation forces in the Milford School District, at their third meeting in three days, stepped up their drum fire for a boycott of the school at a mass meeting in nearby Lincoln state police said a conservative estimate of the crowd was 750.

KKK Taking Part In Petition Move

TAMPA (AP)—W. J. Griffin, grand dragon of the Klan of the Florida, Klu Klux Klan, has asked Klan district leaders to distribute petitions against school desegregation in Florida.

Griffin said the movement began under sponsorship of other organizations but after it became known the petitions were being circulated both Klansmen and non-Klansmen urged that the Klan take part.

Last week he reported there were 50,000 signatures to the petitions. He did not disclose any new figure yesterday.

Griffin, operator of a Tampa private detective agency, said the following organizations made the original distribution: Pro-southerners League with headquarters in Fort Pierce; Conscientious American Citizens Club of Tampa and the Florida branches of the Patrick Henry Organization and the White Circle League of America.

Incident J. J. Straight said the number of white students subsequently attending classes dwindled to about half that number.

$101 Is Stolen From Drive-In; 2 Vehicles Taken

Sheriff's deputies today worked to provide a definite connection between the discovery of a stolen car, the theft of another and a $101 robbery at the Movie Land drive-in theater, all occurring today morning within a half-mile area on Highway 1192.

Chief Deputy O. G. Owens said he was responding to a call at 6:20 o'clock this morning, reporting an abandoned light green 1950 Chevrolet sedan, bearing a Duval county license. It later was reported stolen by the State Highway Patrol in Orlando.

The car was discovered in ditch about 200 yards south of the drive-in. It contained a 22-caliber rifle and two small rifles.

Upon investigation Owens discovered parked cars in the field from the main room, projection booth, and concession room door of the drive-in. C. B. Schirrad, drive-in operator, reported a cash box containing $101 in silver and bills had been taken from the concession room. An outboard motor and flashlight in the projection room were not touched.

Reported stolen sometime early this morning was a bright red 1951 Ford one-half ton pickup. The truck was parked by a trailer near the Bluebird Inn approximately half a mile from the drive-in. It belonged to the Sullivan, Long and Haggerty Construction Co. and bore the number "112", on each door.

Sheriff J. E. Hobbs said he believed the stolen car was abandoned after it became stuck in an attempt to turn it around. The driver, who left the drive-in in the state pick-up truck for a getaway.

J. F. Hawkins of Jacksonville, N. C., died unexpectedly this morning.

He is the brother-in-law of Mrs. H. Wayde Rucker, and was a former resident of Sanford.

Vehicle Smashed In Wreck Woman Climbs From Fatal Auto

Two men were killed and two other people were injured in a truck-automobile crash yesterday afternoon on Highway 1792, about seven miles south of Sanford in a section of road commonly known as "Death Valley."

Dead are as follows: Clarence Simmons, 43, Negro, 525 W. Jackson St., Orlando driver of the automobile.

Paul E. Duran, 48, E. Ruby St., Lakeland.

Both of the dead were passengers in the automobile, a 1947 Plymouth sedan, which was totally demolished.

Survived were the wife of the dead white man, Mrs. Ethel Duran, 49, and the driver of the truck, a 1950 model Ford state trooper, Henry J. Bukkowsky, 43, New Smyrna Beach. Both were taken to the Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital but were not held.

Bukkowsky was released to return to New Smyrna Beach where he was to stay overnight in a hospital for observation. He complained of pain in his chest where he had struck the steering wheel in the truck.

Mrs. Duran, yesterday at the Region Funeral Home, where the body of her husband was taken, complained of an injury to her left jaw and said her right elbow and left hip had been hurt.

He left by bus shortly after 7 p.m. for Lakeland and the body was taken there later.

According to Trooper Mark Mack of the Florida Highway Patrol, the automobile was going south and the truck, north, when the two collided. He said he believes the car was over the center line when the collision occurred.

Simmons' arm was torn off at the shoulder in the crash and pieces of the body were scattered along the highway, as the car skidded about 150 feet, nose-first, overturning several times.

The truck veered across the highway, continuing north and rammed into a Velda ice cream truck, which had been parked at the side of the highway by Willis Duran, 36, Orlando, while he was on a man's spring to get a load.

Mrs. Duran gave the following account of the tragedy:

"She and her husband were hitchhiking from Jacksonville Beach, Orlando, where Duran was supposed to go to work on a new job today as a meter, when they were picked up in Inland by Simmons. Clarence at the front with Simmons and Mrs. Duran went into the back seat because they had considerable baggage with them."

"At the time of the accident, she estimated the car was going about 50 or 60 miles an hour. She had been reading a Bible just prior to the accident and was putting it back into her luggage at the time of impact."

"She said she had no idea what caused the accident and that it came without warning."

"The car tipped over once and then again, and the roof came down on her head and she was crushed down on the floor in the back. Her husband, she said, went out a front window."

"When she had finally settled on the top, she looked out a back door window and crawled out."

"She said she felt her belief in God had something to do with her being spared."

"Once, before the accident, in answer to a remark about his driving fast, according to Mrs. Duran, the driver said not to worry about anything, that the car was covered by insurance and, if anything happened, they would be taken care of."

"The thing I just hate," she remarked, "I love my good husband."

Bukkowsky said he had noticed the car coming toward him but that there had been plenty of clearance and paid no more attention to it. He said he did not know what happened to cause the crash.

He was on his way from Lake Wales in New Smyrna Beach when the mishap occurred, he said, and was traveling about 45 miles per hour.

Two registered nurses arrived on the scene while the wheels were still spinning on the overturned car. They went to Duran, who was lying in the road, according to one of the nurses, straightened him out and covered him with blankets.

Navy men came along and directed traffic.

One of the nurses said the injured man appeared to have a brain concussion because the pupils of his eyes were pin-pointed. (Continued On Page Three)

2-Day Celebration Sparks Inaugural Of Cuban Ferry

KEY WEST—(FNS) Inauguration of automobile and passenger ferry service between Key West and Cuba on Saturday, October 2, will be the occasion of a huge, two-day celebration in the almost-island city at the tip of the Florida Keys.

Following the coming of the ferry as "almost as big a thing as the opening of the overseas highway," civic and business leaders of Key West have joined enthusiastically with the city government to arrange one of the biggest festivals in the history of their famous city.

The ferry vessel, christened the "City of Key West" in ceremonies in Miami Sept. 15, will hold open house starting at noon Friday. At 4 p. m. Friday, what Key Westers are proclaiming to be "the world's largest fish fry" will begin in the yards and parking areas surrounding the ferry dock. Key West charter boat fishermen, who are staying the event, expect 5,000 persons to turn out for the affair and are planning to prepare a ton and a half of fish.

A big public dance will begin at 8 o'clock featuring the crowning of the inevitable beauty queen selected in a county-wide contest, and the appearance of scores of government officials and dignitaries.

Acting Governor Chasity Johns of Florida is expected to make the inaugural trip on the "City of Key West."

On Saturday morning, a great parade of decorated automobiles will assemble outside of the city and parade to the ferryboat dock. The "City of Key West" is scheduled to sail out at 9 a. m. escorted by a fleet of decorated charter and private boats, U. S. and Cuban Navy vessels.

A large delegation of Cuban government officials, business and civic leaders are expected in Key West for the celebration, and to make the first crossing. For the arrival in Gardena, Cuba, a tremendous welcome has been planned by the Cubans.

Only official guests will be included on the inaugural trip by the "City of Key West." The ferry will return from Cuba to Key West on Monday, and initiate regular service on Tuesday, Oct. 5. Thereafter, the ferry will sail from Key West to Cuba on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, making the return trip on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. The City of Gardena where the ferry will dock in Cuba is within a few minutes of Varadero Beach, world famous beach resort, and about 100 miles from Havana.

The "City of Key West" will accommodate 40 cars and 250 passengers, and includes among its facilities air-conditioned bar and cocktail lounge, air-conditioned restaurant, recreation room, enclosed observation deck and a shaded and open promenade deck.

One-way fare for car and driver will be $29.50, for passengers $7.50.

The woman, Mrs. Durance, was hysterical, she said.

Simmons was pinned under the car and apparently had died instantly or within a short time. His body was taken to the Burton Funeral Home.

Debris of the car and flesh were scattered along the highway. Most of the left side of the car had been ripped out and crumpled. When the car was righted the top was practically even with the road.

People urged the parents to keep their children home in opposition to integration "until the Negroes get out of our schools."

He said anti-integrationists would continue their attack "no matter what the consequences, no matter what the consequences."

Bryant Bowles, national president of the NAAWP, urged those in the crowd from towns near Milford, a southeastern Delaware community of 5,200, to hold a sympathy strike to show their sympathy behind them.

Yesterday's reopening, after a one-week shut-down, went off without undue incident. The identity of the eleventh Negro, a boy, was still unknown today.

Warrington and others were circulating a petition today calling for the ouster of School Superintendent Ramon C. Cobbs and high school Principal M. Alexander Glassmire. Warrington said a "criminal investigation bureau is being started to probe the rest of the teaching staff."

Another speaker last night, Earl Hastings, of Georgetown, Del., included 14-year-old Betty Jean Tingle, who confirmed that she signed a letter to the NAAWP stating that a Negro boy asked her for a date last Friday afternoon when the schools were closed and she was sitting on her front porch. She said she refused.

Delaware has a state law calling for compulsory attendance of children.

Beef Food Value Is Publicized

The campaign that Florida cattlemen are carrying on to convince folks that they should eat more beef is a very satisfying and promising development in this important branch of the state agriculture.

Beef cattle prices were high for several years straight running, and the production of beef in the nation naturally rose. Then when the supply reached a peak, prices began dropping and, as has been the case in similar situations with other crops and products, they dropped so low that some folks who had ventured into the cattle business or had over-expanded their operations lost money. While cattle prices were going up, so were costs of land, labor, animals, feed, and other essentials for beef production, and these costs did not drop as rapidly as did the prices for cattle.

These developments were not confined to Florida, however; they were nation-wide.

Fortunately, there are many signs that indicate that Florida's cattle industry is becoming more stabilized and, also, sounder economically than it has been in a decade or more. Cattlemen are

Convicted Killers Die Today In Chair

MILFORD—Two convicted killers, one of them a Negro boy, were executed in Florida's electric chair today.

And Supt. J. G. Godwin said that the boy, Brock, Columbia County, 17, was put to death last for the 100th time in honor of President Eisenhower.

Neither of them made any statement or had anything to say before they were taken to the electric chair.

Johnson was convicted of the slaying of Edward Fortis, Marine Corps sergeant, in 1947. Brock was convicted of killing his young son in a fit of rage after a domestic argument with his wife.

The Great Smoky mountains National Park is the site of the execution. The park is a beautiful area with rolling hills and mountains. The park is a popular tourist destination and is known for its scenic views and recreational activities.

Gettysburg Tree Hurt By Vandals

GETTYSBURG, Pa.—A tree planted on the Gettysburg battle field last month in honor of President Eisenhower has been vandalized and probably will not survive.

Superintendent J. Walter Coleman of the Gettysburg National Park said the 22-foot northern pine had been chopped with an axe or hatchet.

The incident, Coleman said, was one of several acts of vandalism that occurred over the last week end. The tree was dedicated by tank Corps veterans of World War I and II in honor of the President who was commander of the tank Corps training grounds at nearby Camp Colt in 1917-1918.

Victim Forgives, But Judge Does Not

LAWRENCE, Mass. (AP)—The girl he was accused of slaying 10 times was kinder to Joseph Persechini, 24, of Methuen, than was Judge Charles Fairhurst yesterday.

The Judge was told that candidate De Marco, 17, of Lawrence had forgiven Persechini.

Judge Fairhurst remarked that was the girl's "own private business."

He then sentenced Persechini to five months in the House of Correction after his plea of guilty to a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon in wounding Miss De Marco after she broke off their romance last June 25.

'Mysterious Lights' Shown Boys' Prank

SAND SPRINGS, Okla.—The mystery of the midnight "spook light" that has drawn free admission crowds numbering as much as 600 persons has been solved.

Last night an expensive radio and television equipment was made ready to capture the strange sequence. Patrolmen found two boys perched halfway up the cliff with flashlights and towers. Some 500 persons were present at the scene two miles west of here.

The boys, identified by officers as Eugene Anderson 19, and Jimmy Rose 17, both of Tulsa, freely admitted the light was their invention. They said they first tried it last Wednesday and repeated it nightly.

Hundreds of persons had visited the area the last two days, some arriving as early as 4 p. m. in order to get a good seat.

Stories came from all sections of the area as residents told of seeing the strange blue-green ball of light for a half century. The mystery was further clouded with an Indian legend that "a young Indian girl had been killed by her husband on the cliff and each year she returned with her dog and lantern to go to the Arkansas River for water.

France Still Needed

By refusing to ratify the European Defense Community plan France created a number of problems for the West. Experts regard the participation of German troops as essential to any scheme for defending Europe.

In the day just after French rejection of EDC there were some who thought the best course to follow would be to ignore the wishes of France entirely. Their attitude was that the French had their chance and had turned it down.

The fact is that the participation and cooperation of France is as essential to the defense of Europe as is the participation of West Germany. To go ahead and re-arm the West Germans without French agreement could do serious damage to the cause of the anti-Communists within France and might encourage French neutralists who would like to see France withdraw entirely from the side of the West.

Some of the impatience with France is justified. Yet if a workable plan for deterring aggression is to be developed in Europe France as well as Germany will have to be a part of it.

Textile Industry Tries New Tack

NEW YORK — Mergers may help the ailing textile industry. But many executives now think the real cure lies in better styling.

The aim: get the consumer to shell out a larger share of his spending money for clothes and home furnishings.

Or, in the words of one mill executive: "The textile business has been production-minded too long. What we must do now is create new consumer demands for our merchandise."

Lure a woman into changing the draperies and other decor of her home.

Make a man yearn irresistibly for a new suit, instead of trying to get more mileage out of his old so that he can use the money for some other consumer product.

For two years the textile industry has been plagued by over-production, sticky inventories, flabby prices, rising costs, foreign competition, and red-ink bookkeeping.

This has led to a wave of mergers. In the last year and a half, about 100 mills, hiring 40,000 have been absorbed by larger textile companies.

The main objects: save money through combining sales, overhead and operations; unite sales efforts and cut costs; diversify products and be able to jump quickly from one fabric or fiber to another as styles change.

Textile consumption for all purposes, from dresses to tire cords, now averages 40 pounds per person per year in America. That's up 10 pounds in 30 years. But the industry says it should go to 50 pounds to take up the slack in the present overcapacity to produce.

Styling, good merchandising and sales effort to create consumer demand will do it, says James E. Robinson, president of Indian Head Mills. He says sales of his firm's branded lines are running 15 per cent ahead of last year in dollar volume and 18 per cent in yardage.

He has a strong ally: The 40 million sewing machines in the nation's homes. And 80 per cent of his firm's output is in piece goods sold over the counter to the home sewing trade.

To meet the trend in amateur home decoration, the firm is bringing out a new line of 54-inch fabrics, offering a minimum of sewing for the housewife making slip covers and draperies.

Some larger companies are stressing diversification. Burlington Mills, for instance, for years dealt mainly in rayons. Some time

Way Down South In Sanford, Florida

By C. R. Dawson, BSA, MSA.
NEVER FAILS — You can always tell who the villains are in the movies by the way they talk — usually right behind you.

ANIMALS — It is advisable to segregate any new animal brought to the farm for 60 to 90 days to protect other animals from any disease the new animal might have. Right now, the one worrying us most is Pinkeye. "There oughta be a law" against the moving of Pinkeye animals.

STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN — A woman who denies she's perfect is looking for an argument.

LEAKS — If your roofing and siding of galvanized iron sheets are rust-speckled, it is a warning that the time has come for a paint protection job. Use zinc dust paint which is usually packaged in a two compartment container for on-the-job mixing. Thoroughly clean rust-speckled surfaces with a stiff wire brush so the paint can get a firm grip on the base metal.

RAIN — As a result of good rains during August and early September, the Seminole County citrus groves and pastures are in good shape.

STINGER — At least 2,500 different kinds of wasps live in North America but only about 50 species are pests. Some of them build their nests too close to your home or barn for personal comfort. You can lick these air borne invaders if you make aferdark application of chlordane or DDT to nests of such insects as hornets, yellow jackets, Guinea wasps and mud daubers.

Hornets and yellow jackets and their nests can be removed as a unit. Plug the nest opening with a wad of cotton soaked in carbon tetrachloride, then quickly dislodge the nest into a sack, which should be burned, buried or put into an air-tight can containing a few tablespoonsful of carbon tetrachloride.

Texas Republicans Get Party Request

DALLAS 6P — Each of the 2,000 persons who voted in the Republican primary July 24 has been asked to help with a door-to-door campaign to get more GOP votes in the November general election. Republicans say they expect some 2,000 to respond to the party call on behalf of two Dallas candidates. Each will be asked to enlist the support of 12 friends. Republican Bruce Alger opposes former Mayor Wallace Savage in the race for Congress for the seat now occupied by Rep. J. Frank Wilson. The other Republican candidate, Grover Hartl, seeks a county judgeship. Dallas County cast about 90,000 votes in the Democratic primary. The largest asteroid (minor planet) is Ceres, about 500 miles in diameter, which was discovered in 1801.

Disarming U. S. Cops Advocated

NEW YORK — Robert Fabian, Britain's most celebrated detective since Sherlock Holmes, feels it might be a good idea if American cops quit carrying guns.

"The display of firearms is to be deprecated mildly observed the ex-detective superintendent of Scotland Yard. "It incites the criminal to carry one, too."

"A firearm is not an equalizer—it is an antagonist," he said. "In his 28-year service with 'the Yard' Fabian solved a dozen murders, helped send 9 men to the gallows, more than 800 to prison."

"I never carried a gun in my life," he said, "although twice I had to take guns away from men who seemed to want to use them on me. The only weapon I ever needed was my hands."

An expert in justice, Fabian began his career as an ordinary constable. He still feels the best way to cut down crime is to put more cops out on beats, swinging a nightstick.

"But I don't go along with this gun carrying," he said. "And it's not because I'm soft either. "I'm not vicious, but I do think the pendulum has swung too far the wrong way in our treatment of criminals."

"We pamper both young delinquents and hardened criminals too much."

He never lives down the shame of it—not even with his own class."

Since retiring from Scotland Yard in 1919, Fabian has turned out two best-selling books on his experiences. "Fabian of the Yard," and "London After Dark."

He also writes a weekly column on crime for a British newspaper chain and recently completed 39 half-hour TV films, based on his own cases.

Known as "an unorthodox detective," Fabian, now in his 50's rarely employed a disguise himself. He knew thousands of British criminals by sight—and wanted them to know him by sight, too. Some he helped reform. Many became—after business hours—his friends.

"If they wanted a helping hand, I'd give it to them," he said. In 1919 after Fabian risked his life to disarm a bomb planted by Irish extremists, 50 of London's leading crooks struck off a medal.

Here are a few observations on crime by Britain's "detective of the century":

"I don't mind an honest-to-goodness crook myself. But there is too much glamorization of criminals. They don't look glamorous in a cell."

"It has been my experience that most killers do have gray eyes. People with brown eyes are more warm natured."

"Crime Really doesn't pay. A thief doesn't get very much for what he steals—only about one tenth of the wholesale value of the goods."

"Criminals who work alone are usually the most difficult to catch. It is generally easier to catch a murderer than a robber."

1954 World Series Opens Tomorrow At Polo Grounds

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1954 world series will open at the Polo Grounds tomorrow with Sal Maglie (14-4) on the mound for the New York Giants opposing the Cleveland Indians' Bob Lemon (23-7).

Both managers, Leo Durocher of the Giants and Al Lopez of the Indians, promised to make their selection known today.

Despite Durocher's known willingness to gamble, it was felt that he would pitch with his veteran ace, who was his front man in all of the Giants' clutch series.

Sports Roundup

By DAVID TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—This seems a good day to nominate the player who is destined to have the greatest influence on the outcome of the World Series. The distinction is Hoyt Wilhelm, the knuckle-balling relief specialist of the Giants, and the reasoning goes like this:

If Wilhelm can balk the Indians for two or three late innings at a stretch, the way he has baffled the best hitters in the National League all season, the Giants will in all probability win the set. If he can't you've got to like Cleveland's chances. Maybe it's not quite that simple, but it's close.

There can be little question that the right-handed North Carolinian is the greatest game-saver around today. If the circumstances are right, he will be in here nearly every day of the play-off, because he needs no rest between his heroics.

In the course of the season just closed Wilhelm strode in from the bullpen in approximately one out of every three Giants games and scored 12 victories against only four defeats, two of the latter at the hands of Pittsburgh, no less. His earned-run average was an amazing 2.15 per game and virtually nothing per inning. He has not lost a game since July 23, though he has struck his neck out 21 times in the period.

There was not quite the usual call on Wilhelm's services during the season, because the veteran Marv Grissom also proved himself a remarkably effective reliever, but Wilhelm's stretches, though, than the knuckle-baller normally excels. In the last two months, though, Grissom lost some of his effectiveness while Wilhelm was becoming unbeatle.

The Indians have seen less of the knuckler than any other Giants pitcher. Leo Durocher used him very sparingly in the spring exhibitions, because he knows what he can do when the proper time comes. Even so, our Cleveland informant says the Tribe batters are more jittery at the prospect of facing his butterfly ball. New York is about Sal Maglie's curve or Johnny Antonelli's fast one.

Millions of television fans will have a chance to see for themselves what it means to try to even catch the particular curve, for that Wilhelm throws, much less hit it. They will see catcher Wes Westrum hopping about like a cat on a hot stove, but seeking to block the thing. The reserve Giants catchers usually wear a mask when they warm him up.

Wilhelm serves his specialty with the same motion and much the same speed as his left-hand New York pitcher, but he never knows which way the knuckler is going to break.

"It doesn't matter whether you hit left or right, or whether you're a good hitter or a poor one, the thing fouls you," says Stan Musial. "It levels hitters off."

This fellow who, we say, is more likely than any other player to have a decisive effect on the series outcome, one way or the other, also represents the biggest bargain on the Giants roster. They picked him up for $2,500 back in 1947, when they drafted him from the Braves farm at Knoxville, N. C. The Giants thought so little of him that they left him open to the draft for several years and didn't bring him in from Minneapolis until '52.

Auburn Coach Says Uoff Team One Of Most Improved In SEC

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
With a weather eye on the threatening Florida Gators, Coach Ralph Jordan told his Auburn squad that they will be battling one of the most improved teams in the Southeastern Conference Saturday.

Jordan yesterday sent his charges through a workout that left only one man on the shelf. Right halfback Dave Middleton, who gained 145 yards in seven rushes last weekend against Chattanooga, was nursing a pulled muscle.

"We won on speed and pass defense," the Plainsman coach said in commenting on the 45-4 victory over Chattanooga. He lamented that his team was "gagged" by the other departments, but he said they will try to correct these faults before meeting Florida.

The Gators defeated Georgia Tech 13-12 Saturday, and the victory spurred ticket sales at Gainesville. A sellout crowd of 30,500 was expected to see the first sellout of a home opener in Gainesville.

Tech's Engineers spent the afternoon at volley ball and touch football. A mounting injury list has moved Tech coaches to consider several personnel shifts. Punting specialist Jimmy Carlen was told to learn fullback duties so he can remain in the lineup after kicking Tech will meet Southern Methodist at Dallas Saturday. Halfback Paul Rutenberry, who has a foot injury, may not be ready to play.

At Baton Rouge, Coach Gaynell Timley suspended two of the most valuable Louisiana State backs in disciplinary and morale moves. He indefinitely dropped starting halfback Vincent Gonzalez for failing to return to the dormitory by curfew. He also suspended fullback Tommie Davis for a "lackadaisical attitude on the drill field and failure to report to classes."

Don Stinson moved to Gonzalez's slot. Either O. K. Ferguson or Jerry Adams will take Davis' place. Georgia had a light workout, and Coach Wally Butts told the Bulldogs they must improve their running game in time to take on Texas A. & M. next weekend.

Coach Darrell Royal put Mississippi State's third and fourth teams through a scrimmage, but the 20

Woodruff Wonders About Inspiration

GAINESVILLE, Fla.—Coach Bob Woodruff of the University of Florida has a worry.

"The football coach wonders, after the Gators' upset over Georgia Tech, whether the team can come back one week later to reach a high peak of inspiration."

The Gators were an inspired team Saturday and the danger of their not being able to reach such a high peak again this week, he said.

"Auburn has a fine football team and undoubtedly will be one of the toughest teams we face throughout the remaining eight games on our schedule."

Bruises kept halfbacks Jackie Simpson, Bob Davis and Bob Smith, and fullback Joe Brodsky from dressing out in pads but they are expected to be in shape to play.

When famed racing trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons celebrated his 80th birthday, his Bassanio scored a longshot victory in the $50,000 Monmouth Handicap.

Notre Dame Gains Favor As Top Team In Pollsters' Eyes

NEW YORK (AP)—Notre Dame the pre-season choice took over the No. 1 spot today as the nation's sports writers and sportscasters made a quick overhaul of the rankings in The Associated Press' weekly college football poll.

The Irish, second a week ago in the first poll of the season, vaulted into the top position with solid support after their impressive 21-0 victory under new coach Terry Brennan in their season opener against Texas last weekend. Notre Dame claimed almost two-thirds of the first place votes on the 151 ballots.

Oklahoma's Sooners, given first place honors last week, settled in the No. 2 position. The Sooners placed by TCU for their second victory, had a clear edge over the rest of the field.

The Irish collected 91 first place votes and a total of 1,228 points (based on 10 points for first, 9 for second, etc.) while Oklahoma collected just 24 first and 1,221 points.

The experts merely reverted to their pre-season selections in ranking the top two teams but they jilted most of their other first week choices with puppy love abandon. Five of last week's top 10 stumbled and two—Georgia Tech and Illinois, fifth and sixth a week ago—dropped clear out of the top 20.

Iowa, with its 14-0 surprise against Michigan State, jumped into the No. 3 spot from the No. 12 berth, displacing Maryland, the 1953 mythical national champion. The Terps, idle last weekend, dropped to sixth while UCLA advanced from eighth to fourth and Wisconsin moved in at 5 from a tenth-place tie with Baylor last week.

The rest of the top 10 lines up like this: Duke, Mississippi, Southern California and Penn State.

Missing, in addition to Georgia Tech and Illinois, both dealt telling blows last weekend, are Texas, No. 11, and Michigan State and Baylor. The Longhorns would up 12th behind Baylor, with Michigan State another length back at No. 13 after being ranked No. 7.

Duke, Southern Cal and Penn State are newcomers to the top 10 along with Iowa while Mississippi moved up one notch from ninth. Penn State, the outfit that upset Illinois 14-13 wasn't even listed a week ago, while Duke and Southern Cal moved up from 18 and 15 respectively.

The top ten with number of first place votes in parentheses (points based on 10 for first, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1):

1. Notre Dame (94) 1428
2. Oklahoma (24) 1221
3. Iowa (11) 832
4. UCLA (3) 746
5. Wisconsin (7) 662
6. Maryland (3) 617
7. Mississippi (2) 612
8. Southern California (2) 209

15. Rice 102
16. Texas Tech 98
17. California 61
18. Purdue 59
19. Florida 49

Michigan State won three Big Ten titles in the 1933 season, Big Ten football (tie with Illinois), cross country and baseball.

Notre Dame Gains Favor As Top Team In Pollsters' Eyes

NEW YORK (AP)—Notre Dame the pre-season choice took over the No. 1 spot today as the nation's sports writers and sportscasters made a quick overhaul of the rankings in The Associated Press' weekly college football poll.

The Irish, second a week ago in the first poll of the season, vaulted into the top position with solid support after their impressive 21-0 victory under new coach Terry Brennan in their season opener against Texas last weekend. Notre Dame claimed almost two-thirds of the first place votes on the 151 ballots.

Oklahoma's Sooners, given first place honors last week, settled in the No. 2 position. The Sooners placed by TCU for their second victory, had a clear edge over the rest of the field.

The Irish collected 91 first place votes and a total of 1,228 points (based on 10 points for first, 9 for second, etc.) while Oklahoma collected just 24 first and 1,221 points.

Hurricanes Buckling Down To Beat Second Game Jinx

CORAL GABLES—Past their opening game hurdle with flying colors, the University of Miami football Hurricanes are now buckling down to beat a second game jinx which has sent them reeling down to the also rans the last couple of seasons.

In 1952, Miami slaughtered a supposedly strong V. M. I. team 45-0 in its opener only to get headed toward a 4-7 campaign when Alabama broke the Miami bubble, 21-7 in the second game.

Last year, game Florida State was brushed aside, 27-0 in the curtain raiser but then Baylor came along to inflict a 21-13 shocker on the home folks and Miami subsided to a 4-6 campaign.

Coach Andy Gustafson's boys had to pull out all the stops last week to keep from totaling up more than a 61-13 margin on game Furman in this year's opener, and budding hopes among Miami fans are about to burst into flower—if the boys can get past powerful Baylor this week.

Coach Gustafson's Miami team was impressive on the ground both on offense and defense but in completing only two of 10 passes while allowing Furman to clutch on to 14 losses, showed air weakness very dangerous for a club about to engage a Southwest conference aerial circus.

While the defensive weakness against air attack was not unexpected in an opener, the Hurricanes' coach was mystified at the failure of their own air arm to function. It will be a busy week coming up in the statesphere for Miami.

Miami emerged physically unscathed from the Furman tussle but also emerged untested. Stetson and Pensacola, in practice games and Furman Friday failed to give the club the rough test Gustafson had hoped to have before meeting the powerful Baylor Bears.

At the same time, Miami put several players on the check list for national and sectional stardom, Frank McDonald, All America end

Farmer Stays In Spite Of Drought

ROARING SPRING, Tex., (AP)—When it gets so dry and hot the sap pops out of the mesquite trees and even the grass burrs die in the pasture, a man begins to wonder if it isn't time to give up. That's how it is with Charles Long. Sometimes it seems as if the longest, toughest drought in U. S. history has him almost licked. But Long says: "They tell me, the old timers, that you can't run from the drought. And I've done waited too long to start scuttling."

Some of Long's neighbors have given up and moved out. He has seen others sell their land in desperation, then stay on farming as tenants. But most of them around here are trying to stick it out.

The drought is four years old in parts of the Southern Great Plains, and this year it spread east and west—as far as Georgia and Wyoming.

Last spring, high winds swept topsoil in great clouds off land where farmers had forgotten or ignored the great lesson of the 1930s—plant cover must be kept on fields or they will blow away. The Soil Conservation Service, which calls this drought the worst in U. S. history, said two new dust bowls had been carved out—one in West Texas and New Mexico, the other in Southwestern Colorado and Southwestern Kansas.

Rain fell soon after that and refilled the dust, but the summer sun kept the drought strong in many areas, burning grain, corn, cotton and tobacco. The federal government has granted aid in the form of partial payment for live stock feed to drought-stricken parts of Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Missouri, Colorado, Wyoming and New Mexico. Hard-up farmers can get emergency crop loans from the Farmers Home Administration.

It's against this background of near disaster that Charles Long is fighting to save his land.

Long's neighbors say he is a typical farmer of today's drought area. He is a far cry from the whipped-down men who fed the plains when the black dusts tore up their over-plowed farms back in the '30s.

He hasn't allowed his land to become barren, easy prey to the prairie winds. He laded out the old dust bowl and depression, and in the good years made improvements. He put electricity in his comfortable house, he bought a tractor, a pickup truck and finally a car.

Long is a wiry man of 41. He's reddish brown hair is thinning and flecked with gray. He has a drooping brown mustache, the kind you seldom see any more. Like the old frontiersmen used to wear, it won't give an opinion, he is likely to throw back his head and laugh, showing all his teeth, and say: "Now that may just be a silly man's religion."

This is what has happened to Long. An average man of the great drought country. He made only a fair crop in 1951. He did a little better in 1952 because vagrant thunderstorms wandered over part of his land and dropped heavy showers. "But where the rains missed that year, in my fields east of town," he says, "I didn't make enough to pay taxes over."

Last year his luck ran out. No rain fell. His land was so parched that for the first time he couldn't even plant. He didn't make a dime and he had to buy government emergency feed to keep his livestock going. He couldn't make his land payments.

Now, deep in debt, he is feeling lucky over half a cotton crop—a fourth of a bale an acre—and a feed crop that is so close to failure he may have to sacrifice his cattle and hogs.

"I never saw it tougher," Long says, and he has lived on this land since he was 10 and farmed it for himself since 1930 when at the age of 17 he bought it from his father. On his 700 acres, Long has 220 acres in cotton. The rest is in pasture and feed crops. He runs about 65 head of cattle and 35 head of sheep.

Long and his wife have four blonde sons—Charley and Carl, 17-year-old twins; Boyd, 14, and Rodney, 11.

Along with fighting the drought, Long has been paying doctor bills for Boyd who came down with rheumatic fever last spring. And he's trying to find a way to send the twins to Texas A&M a year from now.

Roaring Springs is a dusty town of about 435 people in the southern part of Motley County which is at the bottom of the Texas Panhandle. The town got its name from some springs three miles away. Old timers say you used to be able to hear the roar of the springs clear in town. But you can't now. The springs only murmur over a 12-foot drop.

That's the only running water around here. The South Pease River and the Tongue River are sandy arroyos.

Roaring Springs country got a rain in May but hardly any has since then.

Through the Great Plains, there probably are counties harder hit by drought and some that are better off. So Motley County is like Charles Long—typical of a land that has had too much sun and not enough rain for four years.

About half the homes in the United States are more than 30 years old.

15 Uoff Students Pinched After Riot

GAINESVILLE (AP)—Fifteen University of Florida students jailed after a riotous campus celebration of the Gators' 13-12 football victory over Georgia Tech were released on bond yesterday.

They were ordered to appear in city court tomorrow afternoon in answer to charges of shooting firecrackers, illegal possession of state property (highway signs), tampering with city property (traffic lights), disorderly conduct (by throwing cans and inciting a riot).

The whole city police force plus county officers and state highway patrolmen in the area used tear gas and fire hoses to beat a path through thousands of celebrating students on U. S. 441 along the campus Saturday night.

Students set large bonfires in street intersections and threw cans and bottles in an effort to prevent firemen from putting them out.

The 15 who were arrested were released to the custody of Max Wise, dean of students who said any university investigation will be made after the city court hearing.

Chief of Police W. D. Joiner identified those arrested as: Joe C. Fouts, Lakeland; Floyd G. Marsh, Miami; Roland K. Saffell, Detroit; William L. Johnson, Hawaii; John W. Stumbo, Sanford;

John H. Abner, South Carolina; Robert C. Whitecomb, Orlando; James M. Dell III, Gainesville; Dwyer W. Sherry, Boston; Bruce A. Bechard, Miami; Mormon D. Ladrie, Barrie, Va.; John A. Puckett, Jacksonville; Richard J. Calahan, California; and Thomas D. Anderson, St. Petersburg.

UP POSITIONS CREATED
GAINESVILLE (AP)—Three new executive positions have been created at the University of Florida following board of control approval and two have been filled: Dean Harley W. Chandler, vice president for academic affairs; and business manager George Baughman, vice president for business affairs. The position of executive vice president will be filled later.

Instead of trying to fight trouble-making deposits with so-called "miracle-additives"—inside your engine—Gulf believes in preventing them from forming in the first place. That's why Gulf, in making new Super-Refined NO-NOX, refines out the carbon-forming, "dirty-burning tail-end"—more than a cupful in every gallon. Just look at the plates in the photo above and see what a difference Gulf super refining makes!

New super-refined gasoline solves today's No.1 engine problem!

Now—Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline—the No. 1 troublemaker in high-compression engines. Result: a cleaner-burning super-fuel that gives you thousands of extra miles of full engine power... free from knock or pre-ignition.

- Starting with your first tankful this new super-refined, super-powered fuel will give you these immediate and lasting benefits:
- More complete engine protection than the so-called "miracle-additive" gasoline. Why? Because Gulf refines out the No. 1 troublemaker in gasoline (the "dirty-burning tail-end") and then treats this new Super-Refined NO-NOX to give it a complete range of protective properties. It protects every part it touches against harmful deposits—carbon, rust, gum.
- Extra gas mileage. Why? Because new NO-NOX is specially blended for the short-trip, stop-and-go driving motorists do most.
- No knock, no pre-ignition—even in today's super-compression engines. Why? Because the anti-knock power of new NO-NOX has been stepped up to an all-time high.
- Stall-proof smoothness—no more worries about carburetor icing in chilly weather, or vapor lock on warm days. Instant starts, too—and fast, fuel-saving warm-up.
- That's why new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX gives you more power-with-protection than you've ever known.

Read tests show: new No-Nox actually makes cars perform better than new... even after 15,000 miles! TRUE! After 15,000 miles per car—covering all conditions—Gulf test cars showed: Higher-than-new horsepower! Better-than-new on gasoline mileage! And not a single trace of carbon knock or pre-ignition at any time—even on the steepest mountain grades!

Dusty Rhodes Breaks Up Ball Game With Homer Into Right Field Stands

Dusty Rhodes, pinchhitter for the Giants in the last half of the 10th inning, walloped a home run with two runners on which captured the first game of the World Series for the New York team by a score of 5-2.

In the last of the 10th, Mueller struck out and Mays walked. Thompson came to bat and Mays stole second base. Thompson got an intentional walk. Rhodes batted for Irvin and slugged the ball into the right field stands. The homer broke a 2-2 tie.

Tomorrow's game will be at the Polo Ground, site of today's game.

Health Official Says Polio Type Unusual In Capital

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—State Health Officer Wilson T. Sowder said today Tallahassee has had "an unusual number of cases of an unusual type of poliomyelitis," but there is no cause for alarm.

Dr. Sowder said fortunately, in the outbreak here there have been no deaths and in most cases the disease has been relatively mild.

A virus specialist with the U. S. Public Health Service said that in preliminary tests the viruses weren't behaving like known polio viruses but that laboratory tests probably won't be completed for several months.

The number of Leon County polio cases climbed past the 100 mark today, the highest incidence in the state on a population basis, Dr. Sowder said.

Dr. Martin D. Hicklin, the public health virus specialist from Montgomery, Ala., said the mild type of polio here was similar in many respects to that experienced at Lakeland two years ago but it was difficult to pinpoint the type and strain.

Dr. Sowder and Dr. L. L. Parks, director of the Bureau of Preventive Diseases of the State Health Department, came here to consult with Dr. Hicklin and Dr. Joe Bistowah, Leon County health officer, on the outbreak.

Dr. Sowder recommended that Tallahassee residents go about their business as usual and avoid physical exertion. He said he agreed with Dr. Bistowah that large groups of out of town people should be discouraged from coming here, although poliomyelitis was "merely well spread throughout the state."

"Most people here in Tallahassee have been exposed to the virus and practically everybody is carrying the virus but most people do not get sick," he said. "And some get just a little sick."

In the polio here, there has been paralysis of the muscles but in many cases the patients have been discharged from the hospital and have gone back to work with no lasting paralysis.

Dr. Parks said his last reports showed that all but 15 of Florida's 67 counties had had some polio during the past summer.

"Four per cent of the people of Florida who have been diagnosed as poliomyelitis have died," Dr. Parks said. "There have been no deaths in Leon County."

The state health officer said he believed poliomyelitis here had reached its peak and would start declining soon although there was no way actually to know.

Meanwhile, 11 new methods are being used to halt its spread.

Report Gives Hint Of Red Assurance

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. James W. Van Fleet was reported today to have given a strong hint that he believes Red China wants into the Korean War with "assurances from someone on the Allied side that the United States would not stand all war."

The retired former 8th Army commander in Korea testified yesterday at a closed door session of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee. He was expected to go over somewhat the same ground at a public hearing.

Chairman Jenner (R-Ind.) had called Van Fleet to tell what he knows about "military opportunities lost through diplomatic intervention."

Bell-Union Meet Set

ATLANTA (AP)—Representative of the Southern Bell Telephone Co. and the CIO Communications Workers of America planned to meet at 2 p. m. (EST) today in another effort to iron out difficulties in their contract negotiations.

Bargaining talks were resumed at 1:45 a. m. today when negotiators failed to agree on a no-strike provision in the new contract.

The old contract expired at midnight. It covered about 100,000 telephone workers in nine southern states.

Chairman Lonnie B. Daniel of the union's bargaining committee said during yesterday's session that "while a strike is possible, it is not inevitable. Management would keep right on trying to reach a satisfactory agreement."

Federal Statistician Advises Culling Vegetable Planting

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Florida farmers were advised by a federal government statistician today to cut down on their vegetable planting this winter.

A reduction of 5 to 14 per cent in acreage devoted to beans, cabbage, celery, sweet corn and tomatoes was suggested by James H. Owen, Special Agent in Charge of the U. S. Agricultural Marketing Service.

Owen told members of the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Assn. at their convention here that growers had lost money on last year's surplus.

While production last winter increased about 3 per cent, he said, the net cash returns per acre were off.

Florida farmers today, he reported, receive 20 per cent less money for their crops than they did in 1949, and less than they did in 1948.

Owen, Special Agent in Charge of agriculture, was host to the convention delegates at a "cracker breakfast" this morning.

Holland said there was more legislation passed "in the interest of agriculture" than any other session of Congress, his experience and the Florida farmer came in for his share of benefits.
