NEW WARNING AS ISSUED BY HUGH JOHNSON

Recovery Administrator Says He Wants Everyone Under Eagle in Two Weeks

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—(AP)—To employ the country over today went an indirect but renewed warning that Hugh Johnson, recovery administrator, wants everybody under the Blue Eagle in two weeks.

With that goal in mind he appointed a special board to consider and speed the temporary application of many pending codes that fix minimum wages and minimum hours for many trades.

When two weeks has expired the administrator plans a concerted appeal for consumers to buy only from men who are entitled to display the Blue Eagle.

The hope is that the board may speed the study of many pending codes and order into temporary effect as many of them as are acceptable. Later all will be studied and modifications made if any are necessary before they are promulgated by the President and made permanent.

After the enormous pressure of the last week with Johnson and his staff working from 12 to 15 hours daily, there was a letup yesterday during which the administrator of the wide-spread movement to raise purchasing power through increased wages and greater employment surveyed the progress.

Summing his staff about him, Johnson conferred at length upon important but undiscussed plans for a general offensive to bring all of industry into the Blue Eagle.

He gave approval in temporary wage and hour provisions for the magazine and primary, electrical storage and wet primary battery and paperboard manufacturing in (Continued On Page Five)

CENTRAL EUROPE HINDERED MEET SAYS JAMES COX

Last Of U.S. Delegates To London Economic Parley Back Home

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—(AP)—James M. Cox, former governor of Ohio, on his return yesterday from London said the world economic conference was hampered somewhat by Central European countries' "internal difficulties" and which were "not ready" for the parley.

Mr. Cox, last of the American delegates to leave the scene of the discussions, said the conference was called too soon.

"No one could have foreseen the developments in it," he said in the liner Europa. "Therefore no one is to blame. The world just was not ready for it."

The Central European countries are troubled with unbalanced budgets and have been refused aid from the Bank of International Trade until they achieve a balance of trade.

The Ohio publisher described European business conditions as improving, but added that he saw no sign that Europe was on "the brink of war" as reported by Henry Morgenthau recently upon the latter's return from the Conference.

"I saw nothing of it," Mr. Cox said. "I like to know who would finance such a war. How can we do it? We don't want to challenge Mr. Morgenthau's views."

Returning with Mr. Cox was Octavio Ferrera, secretary of state in the Machado government of Cuba. He declared the economic conference a failure because, among other things, "the Nationalistic policy of France kept her from entering into international commitments."

Mr. Cox and Senor Ferrera said they expected to return to New York for a few days before returning to their homes.

SALARIES INCREASED

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—(AP)—An 11 percent wage and salary increase to 15,000 employees, effective Aug. 1 was announced yesterday by the Western Electric Company. The announcement said all men and women employees, whose hourly rates and salaries were ranging up to $3240 annually would benefit by the increase.

First Annual Central Florida Farm And Home Institute Is Scheduled

Alex R. Johnson, vocational agriculture teacher of Seminole County, today called the attention of all local farmers and growers to the approaching sessions of the First Annual Central Florida Farm and Home Institute for men and women.

These sessions, to be held in Orlando on Thursday and Friday of this week at the Magnolia Street School, will be open to the public without cost. Because annual Farmers' Week at Gainesville had to be abandoned this year, it was decided to carry the same messages which have been released at Gainesville to the various agricultural localities wherever possible.

The Farm and Home Institute is the result and for two days this week, a wealth of valuable data and information as to last minute findings upon farm and grower problems is available to the grower.

The Institute opens at 10:00 o'clock Thursday. It will be divided into three sessions. One will be devoted to truck crops; another to poultry, and a third to subjects interesting to women.

Speakers and their subjects are as follows:

AUSTRIA ASKS PERMISSION TO ENLARGE ARMY

Nation Seeks Shorter Enlistment Period And Larger Number Of Men To Serve

ROME, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Austria wants to increase her military strength and has privately asked the governments of Great Britain, France and Italy for permission to do so. It was learned in an authoritative source yesterday.

Her present long-term professional army, the Austrian government explained in making the petition, limits the number of young men doing military service very narrowly and thus reduces the national spirit among a Austrian youth.

A much shorter enlistment period is desired by the Vienna government in order that a larger number of men may serve in the army in successive classes, thus considerably increasing the number of trained men at any given time. The army strength of 200,000 prescribed by the treaty of St. Germain would not be enlarged.

If permission were granted Austria to make this army service modification, commentators believe it would be a significant move having important bearing upon the armament limitations clause of the Paris peace treaties as regards Germany, Hungary, and Bulgaria.

The treaty of St. Germain which ended the war settlement as regards Austria, abolished compulsory military service, but that country and limited the army to 30,000 men. It provided that Austria's army officers must receive actively for twenty years, and that twelve years as the minimum enlistment period for soldiers.

The Austrian authorities expressed belief that it is long up the Nationalistic spirit would assist Austria to maintain her independence and prevent the growth of sentiment toward Anschluss, or union with Germany.

Man Involved In Big Kansas Shooting Held

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Federal authorities announced today they are holding Louis Stacy as the man who plotted the attempted delivery of Frank Nash, convicted at Kansas City and they learned the identity of a gangster who killed five persons in the attempt.

They named Vern Miller, one of the gunmen who killed Nash and four officers in a wild shooting fray at Kansas City Union Depot and said the other gunmen are known to them. They said the attempted delivery was planned in Stacy's house but he took no part in the shooting.

Seminole County Day At Chicago's Fair Big Success

Seminole County Day at the Century of Progress Exposition yesterday was a big success. Photographed Karl Lehmann, today secretary from the Florida exhibit late last night.

Approximately 70,000 visitors passed through the Florida Hall to witness an augmented display of Seminole County products, including a display of stuffed wild ducks native to this county.

Scores of Seminole County men and women called during the day, practically all of them finding time to register their names.

Among those serving at various Seminole County exhibits during the day were City Commissioner, H. J. Lehman, Rodman Lehman and Howard Long, while Mrs. H. J. Lehman acted as hostess at the Florida tropical home in another part of the grounds.

During the day, seven programs of entertainment were offered to the public, including two radio broadcasts dedicated to Seminole County.

Delegation Seeks Closing Of Georgia Tobacco Marts By Martial Law If Needed

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Tobacco sales in Georgia during the first four days of the marketing season totaled 9,153,517 pounds, about 2,740,000 pounds under the entire 1932 sales, at prices ranging from 11.50 to 14.75 cents per pound on 12 of the state's 15 markets.

H. K. Ramsey, statistician of the state department of agriculture, in announcing the official figures yesterday said details of information had not been received from a state-wide average of prices could not be calculated. He said average prices would be announced at the end of the season.

Average prices during the first week of the 1932 season were reported last year at 10.15 cents for 2,234,058 lbs. mts.

Meanwhile, a delegation headed by Speaker E. Rivers of the state house of representatives, was en route to Atlanta from Valdosta to demand the closing, by martial law, if necessary, of tobacco markets in the state by tomorrow. Ramsey said that week-end that the way the tobacco crop was bought was the "biggest skin game on the face of the earth" but said if he should close the markets it might not help the growers, since other states in the southeast also grow tobacco.

Tilton led the state last week in pounds sold, 1,316,404, by an average of 14.31. The top price hour went to Greenville, Ga., where 1,062,263 pounds sold at an average of 14.30. No live sold 1,040,082 pounds at an average of 14.30, and (Continued On Page Five)

ATHENS, Ga., Aug. 8.—(AP)—V. G. Hawkins, deputy United States district clerk, said yesterday that four men under arrest here confessed they engaged in a gun running venture with arms stolen from the arsenal of the University of Georgia military department, and that some of the weapons were sold to "Cuban rebels."

LONG FACTION GIVEN BLOW IN VOTE RE-COUNT

NEW ORLEANS, La., Aug. 8.—Breaking new defiance in Senator Huey P. Long's political kingdom, which is Louisiana, District Attorney Eugene Stanley yesterday charged 18 election commissioners with certifying false returns from last November's general election.

Stanley also served notice that he would ask Judge Frank E. Ehrhart for permission to open every one of the 262 ballot boxes used in the election, and to have the votes recounted in an open session of original-jury court.

The district attorney is aligned with an anti-Long faction that is pressing hard in favor of the investigation, after several successful court maneuvers during the past week.

Senator Long, whose forces won all the victories in the election, has promised "proper protection" to all 1,018 commissioners who served in the election. Fifteen commissioners were arrested last week and placed under bonds of $1,000 each. Yesterday's action brought the list of accused commissioners up to 33.

The charges resulted from an open court investigation and a recount of six ballot boxes last week. Twenty-five citizens requested the boxes in court and found wide discrepancies. Where a Long-sponsored amendment to the state constitution had been given 2,149 favorable votes and 220 opposing votes in official returns from these six boxes, the citizens counted only 1,721 votes for the amendment and 1,372 votes against it. Commissioners indicted yesterday had gazed at those six boxes.

A new grand jury was chosen yesterday to replace the jury dissolved by Judge Ehrhart last week after it had struck up two terms of martial law and political turmoil in its efforts to quash the pending investigation.

Julian R. Miller, a cotton merchant, was named foreman of the new jury. All jurors were questioned thoroughly about their political tendencies, in an effort to secure an unprejudiced body.

Senator Long remained quiet yesterday after issuing a handwritten week-end, classifying his political enemies as "rats, buzzards, snakes, snakes, and snakes."

A committee from the local post of Veterans of Foreign Wars visited the Senator and presented him an honorary membership in the post, in recognition of "his faithful service in behalf of veterans."

In a statement to the press, the committee said that "while actual sheets upon their bulletins and little politicians what their knives to be in on the bill, the veterans are going to do their bit in behalf of the man who has taken up the veterans' fight."

SHOLTZ TELLS OF ECONOMIES THAT HE PUT IN EFFECT

Predicts State Will Vote Overwhelmingly Wet In Election

COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Governor Sholtz of Florida, here to inspect Florida national guard troops in summer training, told yesterday of economies put into effect in his state and predicted it would go overwhelmingly "wet" in the repeal election.

"It is my opinion," he said, "that when Florida votes on repeal of the 18th Amendment on Oct. 10, it will go wet by a majority of two and a half to one."

Outlining state measures to "save within our means," and relieve the burden of the taxpayer, Governor Sholtz said, "The funny part about our economy program is that I am making it work."

Business-like methods are the keynote of his administration, he said, explaining:

"I am not interested in politics. I feel that I have a job to do and I am doing it in a business-like way."

My theory," he said, "is that we should live within our income. If you have only 50 cents, spend only 50 cents. In giving the taxpayers every possible relief rather than looking for new things to tax. Everybody is looking for new sources of revenue. We have 1.00 much government."

He cited, among direct measures to benefit the taxpayers, the exemption of homesteads and small property owners.

He pointed out that the state has no bonded indebtedness. The economy program already has been well turned to the counties which he characterized as "terrible."

Commission Meeting Lasts Few Minutes

A scheduled City Commission meeting held at the City Hall last night lasted not more than 15 minutes.

Three of the Commissioners—Mayor V. A. Spear, S. O. Shinholtzer and W. A. Leffler—were present, and after this group had approved the sending of a letter to the Florida Power and Light Co. in which it was set forth the number and location of street and white-way lights that are to be cut off for the present, the meeting was adjourned until next Monday night, a regular meeting night.

Welfare Board Costs Submitted In Report

The cost of operating the Seminole County Welfare Board during the month of July was $221.63, of which amount $118 went to Mrs. Helen T. Morse, according to a financial report submitted to the Board of County Commissioners yesterday.

The Board had a balance of $24.16 on July 1. During the month the only income was $250 from the County Commission. Deducting the expenses of the month, there remained a balance of $54.53 in the treasury at the end of July.

Machado's End Is Seen In Troubled Cuban Situation

HAVANA, Aug. 8.—(A. P.)—One wounded person died today bringing to 21 the known fatalities from yesterday's riotous political disorders here. The capital was quiet today. Army forces have been withdrawn from the city following an outbreak of firing yesterday in which more than 100 were wounded in addition to the number known killed. The disorders came as a climax to a week of agitation and strikes.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—(A. P.)—Swift conclusion of Cuba's long controversy between President Machado and the opposition was expected today in circles here cognizant of the situation in the island republic. Yesterday's rioting, the president's defiance of an emissary of President Roosevelt, reports from Havana that army officials are cooling in their support of Machado and the belief among officials here that he has lost the battle have been cited in support of predictions that he will leave his office.

Twenty-six persons were reported killed and 100 wounded, though in disorders which followed military occupation of the city, the report of President Gerardo Machado is the utterance of all political factions that he will immediately.

Responding to an administrative request, the congress yesterday passed a resolution authorizing the president to "take such measures as may be necessary to maintain order and prevent the spreading of strikes in the island."

There was no waiting for that authority to act the military force in helping to control the situation, however, for, in so far as could be learned, did the administration comply with the technical formality of having the president sign the bill and send it to the Official Gazette for publication.

Half an hour before the Senate gave the bill its unanimous approval, military forces trained through Havana streets. Machado and every other government building. The sound of heavy firing rang through the streets.

Later in the afternoon the ABC opposition society broadcast a report that Machado had decided to resign. Thousands rushed to the streets, yelling, singing, embracing one another and flinging their hats in the air. Some took of their shoes and threw them away.

Their rejoicing was not long. From the Third Police Station 50 uniformed policemen rushed hurriedly to the capital, before (Continued On Page Two)

County Board MAKES APPEAL FOR SALES TAX

Commissioners Send Plea To Governor For Consideration

In a resolution now being prepared by their attorney, members of the Seminole County Board of Commissioners espouse the sales tax cause and make appeal to Governor Sholtz that he give careful consideration to the plan of a general sales tax at once.

The Commissioners endorsed the plan at their August meeting in the Court House yesterday. The sales tax plan was termed "equitable and practical," and a means of "furnishing the solution of our tax difficulties."

The resolution itself will be sent to Tallahassee tomorrow.

The meeting was occupied largely with the routine matters coming before the Commissioners monthly, such as the reading and approving of reports from various county employees and departments.

Major share of the discussion revolved itself around the Fitch bill, and the fact that it is now necessary to revise the estimated budget which was published recently and base the estimated ad valorem tax revenue upon the assessed valuation of all property in the county, including that which returns to the tax roll under the terms of the Fitch bill.

The Commissioners decided to adjourn their meeting until Saturday morning when they will discuss the new budget and if possible, whip it into shape on that day.

Interest was manifested, but no action was taken, on a letter from Comptroller J. M. Lee in which he recommends that "your budget reduce your millage to the very lowest possible minimum and especially so if the Fitch bill is held to be constitutional."

Comptroller Lee's letter also included the following paragraphs: "High was said about economy during the campaign of 1932; also during the legislative session of 1932. However, unless the result of that clamor is reflected in a reduction in the demand upon the people for governmental cost, there has, in truth and fact, been no economy."

"It is my opinion that if we re-

Local N. R. A. Program Is Far Ahead Of Those In Many Other Localities

The Army of men and women who have undertaken the task of educating the Sanford public as to the why and wherefore of the N. R. A. program is far fully 100 percent ahead of the work of organizations in Jacksonville, Savannah and Waycross, stated R. L. Glenn, local railroad brotherhood official, upon his return from a short business trip to those cities.

"I'm tickled to death with set-up and the amount of work we've already done," said Mr. Glenn. "You've no idea of the amount of hickering and goggling that have threatened the life of Army organizations in other towns. It is my opinion that we've made more progress here than in any other city in the state, and as a consequence, we're going to feel the results before they do."

His statements were made before he had learned that at noon today, a group of local women who yesterday set out to meet at employ in filling out a questionnaire relating to the number of unemployed persons in the community, had turned in over 100 questionnaires.

These questionnaires were not made public. They will be discussed at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the N. R. A. Army, probably tomorrow, and the tabulated results sent to Washington under instructions from National headquarters.

Meanwhile, the question of opening and closing hours of restaurants yesterday afternoon, a group of Sanford advocates that they would, effective this morning, go back to their old hours of opening and closing. They indicated that they will employ additional help at once or as quickly as possible.

Reports from the Re-Employment Headquarters where names of unemployed are being gathered purely for statistical purposes show that at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, 901 white and colored persons' names are on file.

The Army campaign as far as its speaking program is concerned is moving along smoothly. E. E. Dighton was a speaker at the Mills Theater last night; P. E. Wilson addressed Sanford Rotary today, while tomorrow noon S. O. Shinholtzer will talk to Sanford Kiwanians.

Rate Reduction Upon Citrus Is Continued

TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The State Railroad Commission today announced that railway lines voluntarily have agreed to extend until June 1 of next year the 15 cents a hundred pounds freight rate reduction on carload lots of citrus. The standard box of citrus weighs 48 pounds, the commission said.

Florida's crop last year was approximately 22,000,000 boxes. A voluntary reduction of 12 cents a hundred pounds on carload lots of over 144 boxes was put into effect by the railroad last July. It expired June 1, but today's decision means that it has been re-extended and extended until June 1 of next year.

Celeryfeds Break 6-Game Losing Streak By Winning 2 To 0 Over New Smyrna

Playing spiritedly under their new pilot, the Sanford Celeryfeds broke a six-game losing streak at Municipal Park yesterday afternoon by scoring a 2 to 0 victory over the New Smyrna Crackers after a hurling duel that was a credit to both Cal Dennis, the winner, and young Dick Brower, the loser. It was the fifth shut-out the Crackers have suffered at the hands of the Feds this year but it was a far different Cracker team that lost yesterday, a team that had twice as much spirit as any Cracker team appearing here this year.

The Feds won their game with recourse to very much heavy hitting. They were able to get but six hits off young Brower all afternoon, and two of them were scratch hits. Brower's delivery was unmovable until he changed his style of throwing, and oddly enough every time he threw overhanded, a Fed batter connected for a hit, or else fled out to the far reaches of the field.

The Crackers were absolutely helpless against old Cal Dennis who now has won four games out of seven pitched. The first 12 men to face Cal went out in order, while only one of the four men who reached base got to second.

The Crackers opened the fourth at McCrory got a sharp single through short, but a fast double play snipped any scoring chance. A Cracker single came in the fifth and seventh, and a lucky one came in the eighth, but no damage was done.

The Feds put men on second and third with two out in the second on a pair of errors but Chapman failed to shove over one of the runners.

After Dennis struck out in the third, Bonner singled into right field. He stole second, watched Cruse strike out, and scored on Maxwell's fine single into center.

Chapman drew a walk in the fifth and Dennis sacrificed him to second. Bonner came through with a double to left field, scoring Chapman. Cruse and Maxwell went infield outs, however.

The Feds missed a scoring chance in the sixth when Abbott who had singled and gone to second on Beck's error reached third when the Cracker infield let Barnes' bunt hit lay on the ground too long. With none out, Harrison attempted to bunt Abbott home. Harrison missed the ball, and a few moments later Abbott was run down between third and home as Barnes went to second. He died there as Peis Schirard, batting for Mize, was an infield out.

The last Fed run came with two out in the eighth. Brower struck both Maxwell and Abbott out. Barnes drew a pass, however, and Harrison doubled to score Barnes from first before Schirard fouled to Monroe.

Sparkling fielding by Harrison, Bonner, and Cy Cruse helped make the game interesting if a trifle slow.

Tomorrow afternoon the DeLand Reds come here for the third game of the five game series. Lefty Geiger is almost sure to get the pitching assignment, with the catching problem to be in the hands of either Schirard or Mize.

The game is to start at 5:00 o'clock so that all merchants and employes who close their stores at that hour may come out to witness what promises to be a good game.

see Greenfield, late of the major leagues, as well as because of the close race for the Central Florida League pennant, a packed stand saw a hurling duel decided by a triple.

Cocoa has scored once in the second and the Islanders tied it up in the third. Greenfield continued the master of the situation to protect the deadlock, while the Islanders got to Baker for three singles and a base on balls in the seventh for two runs, Red Burnsted driving them in for a 3 to 1 lead.

But Greenfield, who had shut out Cocoa from the second on, blew up in the ninth. Headley scratched an infield single and went to second on a bad throw. Frise tripled him home. Baker walked. Howard singled Baker to second and he and Baker advanced on a sacrifice. Baker was caught at the plate on Provost's single, but Howard scurried home with what proved to be the winning run, almost tramping on Baker's heels as he tore across the plate and to beat Catcher Holton's tag.

The Islanders made a game stand in the last half of the ninth that got the tying run on second but it died there.

SHOTGUNS, RIFLES BLAZE IN STRIKE OF MILK DEALERS

New York's Governor Acts To Stop Recurrence Of Disorders

ALBANY, Aug. 7. (A.P.)—Declaring he had no intention of calling out the national guard, Governor Lehman sent telegrams to the sheriffs of 57 upstate counties in New York today directing them to appoint sufficient deputies to quell the milk strike disturbances. Troops were held in readiness while deputies guarded the milk plants.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 7. (AP)—Shotguns and rifles blazed yesterday as strikers and non-strikers clashed on the fourth day of the milk war in the Rochester area marking the most serious outbreak since the opening of hostilities. One man was wounded and two women assaulted in chases. The acute turn of the strike in third with none on gave them the other marker. Medical secured their run in the sixth on a single, a fielder's choice, and a double by Bob Moyer. This game was played in the short time of 45 minutes.

The game was featured by the pitching of both Driggers and Williams. Driggers got a better start than Williams but after the first inning the game steadied down and became a regular pitcher's duel. Driggers got the best of the duel by striking out nine men and allowing only four balls to go out of the infield. Williams struck out only one man and seven balls were hit out of the infield.

Bob Moyer did most of the hitting by getting two doubles out of two trips to the plate. Today's game is to be played between Edgewood and Firestone.

ORLANDO, Aug. 7.—The Orlando Tigers clung to first place in the Central Florida League by downing the Leesburg Bruins in a hard fought contest here yesterday, 4 to 2. It was the sixth consecutive victory for Manager Nell Williamson's charges.

Pitching his first game in more than two weeks, Lefty Flora limited the Bruins to six safeties while his mates pounded Big Bill Ferrazzi for nine hits. Coppa and Hancock were credited with the only extra base knocks, each polishing long triples.

The first three Tiger batters hit safely in the first inning and Moore scored on Coppa's fly to center. They chalked up another in the second on MacMullen's hit, Williamson's sacrifice and Moore's drive to left. Orlando registered its final pair in the fifth on Maltby's walk, Coppa's triple and Reed's Texas leaguer to center.

Sanford Juniors Beat Edgewood Players 14 To 0

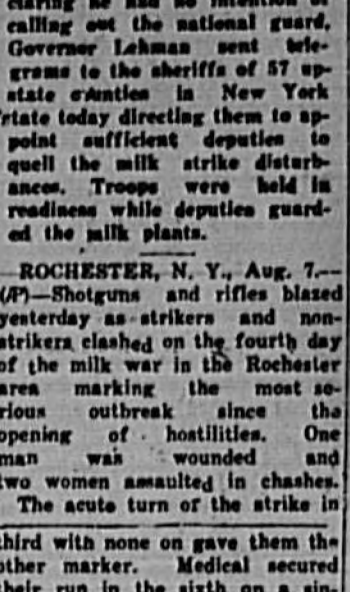

By GEORGE STOVALL

One of the closest diamond ball games to be played on the Lake Front Diamond was played Friday night between Edgewood and the Medical Detachment. Both teams managed to get only six men on base, but Edgewood provided the punch to secure runs and four of their six men came across the plate.

The Edgewood boys got to Gilbert Williams in the first for three hits, a walk and an error to score three of their runs. A home run by H. E. Odham in the

THE HIGH CALLING.—Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect.—Matthew 5:48.

THE BURDENED ANT.—The world is much wry and yob Gaudes are gay with mignonite. By many a wall Are hollyhocks tall And almost an every tree branch swings A bird, so blithe of heart he sings The world is freighted down with care Yet fruit is ripening everywhere. The golden grain Upon the plain Waves in the gentle summer breeze And mourns no by-gone luxuries. Today across my patch of grass I watched a black ant homeward pass. To my surprise Full twice its size Was the great burden which it bore. Yet it came to look for more. Again it tugged and pulled and strained. Nor can I say it once complained. To be alive To toil and strive With courage seemed delight enough. Ants must be made of rugged stuff! By Edgar A. Guest.

It has about reached the point in Sanford where business men don't care whether their customers pay their bills or not if they will only show a disposition to worry about it. What Tampa business men are wondering is how they are going to give this country a good five cent cigar and at the same time pay the prescribed minimum wage scale.

"Have you signed the blanket code?" "Yes," replied the worried department store manager, "but what about the sheet and pillow code?"—St. Petersburg Independent. Better leave that to the Klan. Uncle Sam is appropriating millions and billions with a lavish hand, but what we would like to know is, how is he going to pay it back?—Palm Beach News. Oh well, may be he won't have to, Sanford didn't.

The big oil companies want the government to look after their interests by price-fixing. As far as the consumer is concerned, state legislators have been doing their best along this line by means of gasoline taxes. Strange as somebody made a mistake when they painted that the Moon. He should be a white eagle, or a brown eagle, or perhaps a red eagle. General Johnson says that when stores are found that are violating the President's Agreement, the little time given will have to come down. And with public sentiment what it is, that would be like killing the goose that lays the golden egg.

That very little hurricane that blew across Florida a week ago Sunday almost without being noticed at all finally wound up in the lower Grandd valley in Texas and resulted in damage being done to the extent of $1,000,000. You never can tell how far a blow will go.

Mark Wilson who is generally looking out for the interests of Florida citizens has recently announced that he is willing to guarantee the government's bonds at 100 percent.

Keep Money Moving

Men are actually being put back to work. Payrolls are being increased. Even in Sanford. The progress may not be as rapid as many of us had hoped. There are still hundreds of unemployed in our community. And there are many others who are not being paid as much as their employers would like to pay them. But we must remember that this is the off season in Sanford and in Florida. This is the time of year when men ordinarily are being laid off, not put back to work. The winter season, when the tourists are beginning to arrive and when citrus and celery are ready for the market, is usually the time when employment is increased in this state.

Nevertheless, the President's plan of reducing hours of labor without a corresponding reduction in compensation, is having a good effect locally. Men who formerly worked fifty or sixty hours a week are now working thirty-five or forty, and they are still being paid as much as they used to be paid. Other men are being hired to do the work made available by the reduction in hours of labor. We happen to know of one instance where two men were formerly employed at $8 and $5 respectively and were on the job about thirty hours a week. Now their hours have been cut in half, two additional men have been employed at half time and they are all paid at the rate of $14 a week.

Under any such circumstances the employer has to take it on the chin for the time being. The additional employment and the change in hour schedules in this case represents an actual increase in payroll of $29 a week, or $1,508 a year. The continuance of such additional costs depends entirely upon the success of the re-employment plan and additional business revenue. No concern can keep on paying out more than it takes in and continue to stay in business. The receipts of any business will have to justify payroll increases or the wages sooner or later must come down.

This is where the consumer will have to do his part in order to make the plan a success, and the consumer in a majority of cases is the employee. He is the one whose hours have been reduced and whose wages have been increased. He is the one who stands to benefit most from the success of the plan. He is the one who will lose most if the plan fails. It is up to the employee, as much as to the employer, to make the President's recovery program work. And the President is certain it will work if everybody does his part to the best of his ability.

The way in which the employee can help was explained very clearly Sunday by General Johnson in a talk to Cleveland grocers. General Johnson called upon all consumers in the country, employers and employees alike, to buy all they can afford to buy. "It is what we buy and have and use that makes the increased business upon which the whole program depends," he said. "No employer can go on increasing payrolls without increased business. . . you ought to buy because buying supports your job."

And then there is another reason why people should buy now, as General Johnson himself points out. "These higher wages will make higher prices just as sure as the sun sets and it will make them soon. If you do not want to start buying now just because buying is your part in the common purpose, you should start because buying just now is the best business you should engage in. Turn your money into things because, almost before you can draw a breath, the things you want will be worth more than the money you can save by not buying."

So there are two reasons why consumers should spend the money which they are now receiving in new wages or higher wages. They should spend to support the job they have been given, and they should spend because they can buy things for less money now than they can a month from now or six months from now. And they should spend their money at the stores which are displaying the Blue Eagle and which are co-operating with the President's program by furnishing additional employment.

No Short-Cuts

What to do about lazy readers apparently has been solved, so some people think, with the development of phonograph records, which play continuously for an hour and sixteen minutes. With the possibility of extending the playing time to three hours about 35,000 words could be recorded upon both sides of the disk, reading at an average speed of 200 words a minute. At this rate the New Testament, for instance could be reproduced in five or six hours and an ordinary length novel could be transcribed on two or three records.

Those who are interested in this enterprise foresee the day when phonograph records of literature will supplant library collections. They believe that if all a person had to do in order to digest a book is to start a little machine operating and to sit back in one's chair and listen, that the world would soon become extremely literary, with every cow puncher or steel worker would be on speaking terms with William Shakespeare or Lord Byron.

Unfortunately those promoting this easy and effortless manner of acquiring acquaintance with books have blundered badly. They have failed to realize that it is much more difficult to understand the spoken word than the printed word, and that a person would have to be more alert and attentive to get anything out of hearing a book read than by reading it himself.

One can imagine the difficulties of trying to find out what it was all about if one who hadn't read Macbeth and was hearing it for the first time on a phonograph record. The reading of most good literature is a tedious process requiring concentration and continual reference to notes. There is no easy route to the assimilation of the thoughts and knowledge one can get out of worthy books.

The only places where this new development would be of much use are for blind people and for those who are already widely read and who could understand and get enjoyment out of "hearing" a book they had read before. For these who can't see and who have not learned the Braille system of reading, these literature sound-recording machines should be a blessing.

F. J. Connelley, one of Sanford's popular citizens, is looking after business interests in Orlando today. Miss Mamie Loring, of Leesburg, is spending some time here at the great of relatives. At present she is visiting Mrs. Nellie E. Lee at her country home. Henry Hight has returned from a trip to many points in the North and is ready to take up the position of riding in the Sanford and surrounding territory of a bicycle.

THE NATIONAL RECOVERY ACT

By ROGER BANSON

Here is a proposal question for each reader to consider: "Suppose your winter supply of coal is being sold at $9 to $10 a ton by a coal dealer signed up under the National Recovery Administration with an insignia over his door and if you can buy the same quality at $7 per ton from a non-member of the National Recovery Administration, from whom would you buy your coal?" Your answer to this question will probably be what most other people will answer. Upon this decision will depend the success or failure of the blanket code, of which we read so much today.

The real crux of the code lies not in the shorter work week but in the minimum wage of $56 per week, but rather in the agreement to do your trading and to purchase your goods only from members of the National Recovery Administration. It is going to be a tremendous temptation to purchase at the lowest possible price irrespective of the wages paid. The National Consumers League, a most worthwhile group, have been fighting human nature along these lines for 40 years with very little success. It is still possible to buy goods with the National Consumers' label in every department store of the land; but unfortunately these stores sell a very small percentage of goods with such a label. People are just human enough so that they will not pay the slight additional cost. Union labor has tried the same principle by having goods stamped "Union Made," but even members of the unions themselves do not demand goods with this label. They seek cheap goods to save a little money.

So long, therefore, as the blanket code is voluntary it will result in a tremendous amount of bootlegging—that is, bootlegging of commodities. This will be especially true in large cities where goods are made in thousands of lots and tens of thousands of homes. In other words, selfish people will see a great opportunity to undersell competitors by not joining the National Recovery Administration. These bootleg goods will get into stores and finally reach the ultimate consumer who will never know under what conditions they were made. Hence, the insignia may become in some communities a "not to buy" sign, or rather an unmistakable mark of higher prices. I therefore, say this new blanket code will be a real test as to the selfishness of the American people. I am convinced that manufacturers and employers in general will be glad to join the movement and adopt the code; but the real question is whether you and my other readers are willing to make a personal sacrifice and pay a little more for goods manufactured under decent working conditions. I sincerely hope you are.

There is one feature to the code which I feel should be added, namely: It will be necessary to make some arrangement for the employment of young people just out of school at less than the minimum wage. Otherwise it will be very hard on boys and girls struggling to get their first job, and on other inexperienced and inefficient people. Every employer is willing to agree to a minimum wage of $14 per week, but he is not willing to pay this to boys and girls just out of school when he can get experienced people for $14 per week. This means that unless the law is amended, it will result in a large number of people being thrown out of work and more efficient people employed in their places. Perhaps this is part of the administration's plan, but I can not believe it. This defect could, however, be easily remedied by applying for an exemption "the wage" for these young people.

which thousands of the demonstrators had gathered. Mounted officers (likely joined them. Plans were made and sub-machine guns fired, several and several killed, several and several wounded. In other parts of the city similar scenes occurred. Many of the killed through carried Cuban flags. Their demonstrations met the same quick, reared and behind from around the great white capital. Deaths fell, dead or wounded.

The city was grimly quiet last night while almost hopeless efforts to count the dead and wounded went on. A heavy check showed 16 dead and more than 100 wounded. Many of the latter were struck by bullets which ricocheted from the pavement and from the sides of buildings.

Be busy were hospitals that there were some to answer the telephones. Police earlier in the day gave orders that no information of any sort concerning wounded should be released. Despite the action of Machado it was learned authoritatively that the executive will leave office today.

Facing what was freely described as the gravest situation in Cuba's history as an independent nation, representatives of the opposition, Liberals, Conservative and Popular parties agreed yesterday that there could be no solution of the political situation while Machado remained in office.

A commission of five Liberal party representatives called at the palace to inform him. The president replied, it was learned on the highest authority, that he was ready to leave office if the people so wished, but that he would not quit as the result of any "foreign intermeddling."

This reference was interpreted in political circles to refer to the mediation efforts of Sumner Welles, United States ambassador, who has been engaged for some time in an attempt to placate political difficulties. The American envoy, previously had revealed that he had suggested a "formula" for the settlement of the present situation, which he described as very grave. This solution was understood to provide that Machado take a "leave of absence."

Georgia Likely To Buck Extrajudicial Of Florida Man

ATLANTA, Aug. 8.—(AP)—A recommendation that Clegg Thigpen not be extradited to Florida was made yesterday by Governor Talmadge by Tom Linder, the governor's executive secretary.

Linder said Thigpen was charged with inciting to commit perjury in Florida county, Florida, but that the evidence showed officers had delivered to Thigpen his bond. Thigpen appeared at the hearing but the prosecution did not put in an appearance, Linder said.

The governor's secretary said he was told that Thigpen apparently had pleaded guilty under an agreement that the sentence would be suspended, and that his bond had been returned to him, but that the court had not yet acted on the suspension of the sentence.

"From the testimony, it appears that Thigpen, a native of Washington county, Georgia, and highly recommended by some of the best citizens of that county, was a justice of peace in Florida and as such held a preliminary hearing in a case where a negro shot his wife, who was not hurt badly," said Linder. "Afterwards, it appears, the negro woman and her husband agreed to drop the case on payment of the wife's doctor bills, and that Thigpen was criticized for not going ahead with the case. In other words, it seems to be a family row, and I was shown newspaper clippings indicating that officers were criticizing for their settlement of the case with Thigpen. I am recommending to the governor that Thigpen be not extradited."

The governor was out of town yesterday.

Musical Production Is Showing At Milane

"It's Great To Be Alive", the new musical production from Fox plays a one-day engagement at the Milane Theater today. It is reported as a rollicking romance, with one of the most unusual plots ever unfolded on the screen. The story revolves about the possibility of all the men of the world being removed—except for one who at the moment, is a castaway on a desert island. The millions of women all over the globe, realizing that here is an alarming situation, set about to rectify it. What actually occurs is said to be the basis for more hilarity than has been seen in many a month. Raul Roulien, star of the South American stage and screen, makes his debut in this picture as a full-fledged Hollywood star. He has been playing in Spanish productions at the Fox studio, but will be remembered by many as the romantic traveller who played opposite Janet Gaynor in "Delicious". In "It's Great To Be Alive", Roulien has the more-than-enviable role of being the one man wanted by every woman in the world.

The cast in support of Roulien, includes Gloria Stuart in the feminine lead, Edna May Oliver as the famous scientist, Herbert Mundin in the leading comedy role, Joan Marsh, Dorothy Burgess, Emma D. Inn, Edward Van Sloan and Robert Grieg.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lossing and family, of San Angelo, Texas, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lossing, 610 East Third Street, returned this morning to their home.

Home during the month of July was $14.80, reported R. L. Dann, superintendent of the Home before the Board of County Commissioners yesterday.

On July 1, he stated, there were 37 inmates, both white and colored. During the month two of these inmates died, and the registration as of Aug. 1 was 35 inmates.

During July, 211 gallons of milk were produced at a cost of nine cents per gallon; 80 1/2 dozen eggs were produced at a cost of 19 cents per dozen, and 46 pounds of butter were produced.

The cost of operating the home for the month was $458.70, so that the average cost of feeding one person each day was 12 cents, and the average cost of feeding and housing each person per day was 12 cents.

Business Outlook Is Seen As Encouraging

The business outlook is encouraging, that is the business outlook as reflected in the statement of scores of Southern physicians who with Dr. J. T. Denton, of Sanford, attended the Southern Pediatric Seminar at Saluda, N. C., during the past few days. Dr. Denton declared that the Seminar, before which more than 35 prominent pediatricians were speakers, was pretty well attended although the ranks of attending physicians was noticeably thinner than in previous years. Weather conditions were ideal during the 10 day stay at Saluda.

OUTSIDE MILK TO HELP AID SUPPLY FOR NEW YORK

Action Taken To Forestall Shortage Due To Seven-Day Strike

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 5.—(AP)—All city health officers of New York state yesterday were given permission by the state health commissioner to allow the importation of milk from outside the commonwealth to forestall a shortage resulting from a seven-day-old strike of independent milk producers.

Dr. Thomas Parran, Jr., the health commissioner, is one of the three members of the state milk control board, whose classified milk price system brought opposition from disaffected farmers and precipitated the strike.

Earlier in the day, Governor Lehman, who has been asked by several upstate sources to call out the national guard as a result of sporadic outbreaks of violence that have sent nearly a dozen troopers to hospitals and resulted in injury to scores of farmers, declined to do so. Instead, he wired sheriffs of the 57 counties outside New York City, telling them to appoint as many deputies as necessary to quell strike disturbances.

"Law-abiding citizens, lawfully conducting their business, must be protected," he told them bluntly. While peace prevailed in general over the extreme northern and western counties, milk dumping was pursued in eastern, southern and central New York. More dairy plants closed yesterday.

Lieut. Gerald D. Vaine, in command of state police in the Rochester area, said he had been informed of details of a plot to dynamite bridges and culverts on all highways leading to Rochester and stop all milk shipments.

Acting on the governor's suggestion, sheriffs of at least seven counties swore in approximately 700 extra deputies. Herkimer had the most, with 100.

Rotary Luncheon Is Scene Of Talk On N.R.A. Program

A three-minute N. R. A. program talk by F. R. Wilson, a vocalist, was the feature of a luncheon talk on "Health" by Rotarian S. Puleston, and the reading of a report from Rotarian B. L. Maltbie on the International Rotary convention at Boston were the features of a program presented at the Valdez Hotel today for Sanford Rotarians.

"We can do nothing better than to support the President with everything at our command," said Mr. Wilson in his brief talk. "President Roosevelt has put some new theories of government into practice and we believe that they are sound."

After outlining the plan of the N. R. A., Mr. Wilson concluded with President Roosevelt's statement that "This plan will work if we want it to work."

In his talk on "Health," Rotarian Puleston stated that a helpful rule of life is to "Keep discards out of our life if we want to live longer and be happier."

Those attending the meeting were Mr. Wilson as a guest, and milk, designed to give the producer a larger share of the consumer's dollar, was to be presented to Governor Lehman last night or today by leaders of the Empire Dairywomen's Protective Association in western New York.

At Albany, Charles H. Baldwin, chairman of the control board, said in a statement that prices for the farmer have nearly doubled since the board's creation last spring and while "the price to the farmer is not yet adequate" there had been progress.

A few farmers at widely scattered points were carrying shotguns to guard their milk trucks yesterday but no shooting was reported.

In general, peaceful persuasion took the place of violence.

Albany and Schenectady counties were involved in dumping disorders for the first time. Amsterdam, largest city in Montgomery county, experienced its second milkless day. Women were among the crowd of 300 dispersed at Richfield Springs. One of them threw a bottle at a milk truck and police swung their clubs, but struck none but men.

Closing Of Georgia Tobacco Markets Is Urged By Group

(Continued From Page 1) Valdosta, fourth market to sell more than a million pounds, had sales of 1,266,310 pounds. Detailed figures on sales were not available from Valdosta, Ramsey said. The prices paid at the warehouses there, however, ranged from 11.77 to 13.29 cents per pound.

The markets on which Statistician Ramsey announced official average prices today were: Adel 13.40; Baxley 13.02; Blackshear 13.74; Douglas 12.08; Hahira, 13.12; Hazlehurst, 12.90; Moultrie 13.30; Nashville 14.75; Statesboro 12.90; Tifton 14.34; Vidalia 11.90; and Waycross 12.62.

The range of average prices at the other three markets were: Metter 11.69 to 11.73; Pelham (one warehouse reported) 9.46; and Valdosta 11.77 to 13.29.

Tifton's growers got $193,040 out of the first four days' sales; Nashville $149,915; Moultrie $137,838; Blackshear $83,160; Douglas $107,351 and Adel $71,267.

sold two to representatives of the "Cuban rebels."

On the second expedition against the arsenal, they said, they got the four tripods required by the Cubans for the sale of the other four Browning guns. They also stole "several square tin boxes."

Dumping these alongside a highway near Athens, the men returned the rifles, which they took to Gooch's farm and stored in a corn mill. Gooch confessed that the following day he removed the rifles from the corn mill to the loft of his home.

The men said that as soon as the rifles had been left with Gooch, they returned to Athens, picked up the tripods and started for Florida. At Americus, Ga., Elmore and Kinard had an argument and "split up." Elmore and Sorrow went on to Miami.

Sorrow said he then started back to Athens. He was arrested on his return here Sunday night.

Sorrow said he had been promised $25 apiece for helping in the theft of the six Browning guns but that he had received nothing.

Laundry Lessons

CARE OF WASHABLE GLOVES

GLOVES are kept in better condition if washed before they become badly soiled. The rubbing that is necessary to remove heavy streaks and spots is likely to remove some of the surface finish as well as to loosen the dye in kid and leather gloves, thus causing them to fade. Avoid harsh soaps.

To Wash Gloves Safely

1. Prepare tepid or cool suds, using mild, pure white soap, or flakes. Never use home-made soap. A little borax will soften very hard water.

2. The gloves, on the hands should be placed in the suds and washed quickly by rubbing the soiled parts with a soft brush dipped in suds, or between hands. After wetting with suds, lay gloves flat and rub. Silk and woolen gloves may be soaked for a few minutes, but kid and leather gloves should be washed as quickly as possible.

3. Squeeze suds out, without wringing, and rinse several times in lukewarm water. Double "finger" gloves may be given a light sud-rinse, but washable kid and leather should be rinsed free of soap.

4. Blow fluffs smooth and lay flat on towel to dry. To dry quickly, stuff loosely with tissue or absorbent paper after blowing.

County Board Makes Appeal For Sales Tax

(Continued From Page 1) due to the millage levied for 1933 and thereby held out hope and assurance to the taxpayers of Florida, we will realize a far greater reward in cash collected than we would should levies be increased.

"Let's show our faith and confidence in the taxpayers of Florida by refusing to levy against them more than an amount actually necessary to sustain government, anticipating payment on the part of every taxpayer for the year 1933 and trust them to keep faith with us."

The Commissioners approved the action taken by members of the board of the Upper St. Johns River Navigation District, who, in July, had petitioned the Commissioners to make a two mill levy for the District during 1933-34.

Following an investigation into the funds and accounts of the Agricultural Department, it was voted that no further expenditures be made out of the Agricultural Fund until all old bills are paid and that no bills be made in the future until the money is available. By resolution the Commissioners authorize the transfer of $100 from the Fine and Footwear Fund to the Road and Bridge Fund. The money is to be used in purchasing a tractor.

For the magazine and periodical plants a minimum wage of 40 cents an hour for men and 35 cents for women was fixed for workers in manufacturing processes, with a 25-cent minimum for women doing clerical work. The battery code provided a 40 cent an hour minimum unless the wage on July 15, 1929, was less, in which case that would become the minimum unless it was below 50 cents an hour.

COLORS

The majority of bottled carbonated beverages are colored with caramel (burnt sugar) or carmalum, used with other coloring agents. Food color manufacturers in this country are analyzed by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture and no harmful substances are found in coloring beverages, unless it has been certified as wholesome and pure. Food colors would be harmless even if consumed in greater quantities than they ever are. Ne-Hi uses only certified colors.

ACIDS

DON'T BE MISLED. In bottled carbonated beverages the acids are principally citric and tartaric edible organic acid made from citrus fruits and grapes. These same acids occur widely in many fruits and are responsible for much of the pleasure and food value of fruits. They are probably the reason, or part of the reason, that Ne-Hi beverages have an appetizing value. If you have an acid system, drink Ne-Hi orange, Ne-Hi Lemon and Lime, Ne-Hi Grape or Ne-Hi Root Beer. The citric acid in them will help counteract the acid in your system.
