COMMITTEE TO VISIT SANFORD ON STATE TOUR

Invitation Accepted By Rivers and Harbors Body To Make City Enroute North Channel Project To Be Surveyed

Thirty People May Comprise Party In Trip On St. Johns

Members of the Rivers and Harbors Committee of the United States Congress today accepted an invitation from the Sanford Chamber of Commerce to make a survey of the proposed deep channel project between this city and Palatka, according to a telephone message received at the office of the Chamber today from Secretary E. J. Trotter, who with J. G. Ball, met the committee in Jacksonville this morning and extended the invitation.

Members of the committee, together with the wives of several of them, will number about 30, according to estimates of officials of the chamber and plans are to be made for their entertainment within the next few days.

According to tentative plans, the committee is to make a flying visit to the lower east coast, then turn out to Lakeland and from the latter city a motor tour to Sanford is expected to be arranged. A trip to the St. Johns to Jacksonville is to complete their Florida tour.

Efforts to have the committee visit Sanford have been made for several weeks past and upon assurance from Washington that it was to visit the state, local officials prepared to invite the members to this city and to lay before them the project for the deepening of the St. Johns channel between Sanford and Palatka.

A report showing the traffic and tonnage on the river during the past year has already been sent to the committee through the local Chamber. It was sent following an adverse report submitted to the United States Engineers by the government engineer's office at Jacksonville. Both reports are expected to be reviewed here by the committee.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 28. —(AP)—On route to south Florida for a combined holiday and inspection tour, members of the congressional rivers and harbors committee and others passed through Jacksonville this morning.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 28. —(AP)—Thieves entered a hotel room here last night and stole between $6,000 and $7,000 in jewelry from Mrs. Marion Hays, young New York widow, police announced today.

Mrs. Hays told officers she left the door to her room unlocked because a woman friend at another hotel had telephoned that she would come over. Falling asleep, she awoke to find that her jewels which were kept in beaded bag had been taken.

Police said Mrs. Hays had probably been "spotted" by the thieves while sitting in the lobby during the day. One of the pieces stolen, a twin stone diamond set in platinum, was valued at $3,000 by Mrs. Hays.

EXTRA GUARDS ARE WATCHING TEXAS SLAYER

Rancher Who Confessed That He Murdered His Family Of Eight Is Closely Guarded Following Suicide Attempt

Man Has Admitted Five Other Killings

Hassell Tells Police That He Does Not Know What Made Him Commit Crimes

FARWELL, Tex., Dec. 28. —(AP)—Extra guards today were assigned to watch George J. Hassell, Texas Panhandle rancher, who is confined in the county jail here following his confession to the slaying of 19 persons.

Charged with murder following his admission that he killed his wife and her eight children and placed the bodies in a dugout on his ranch near here, three weeks ago, Hassell last night confessed to slaying a woman and three children in California three years ago. He refused to reveal the names of the California victims or to comment on the crime other than to say "It was a good job," the sheriff said.

Hassell was recovering from self-inflicted knife wounds, which physicians believed at first might prove fatal.

A little more than a year ago he moved to a ranch near here after marrying his brother's widow. Authorities have reopened an investigation of his brother's death. The brother killed while working Oklahoma with Hassell, who said he had killed him.

Hassell said in a statement that he did not know why he killed his wife and stepchildren. He declared the slayings followed a quarrel with his wife after she charged him with intimacy with her oldest daughter.

"I grabbed a hammer, where it came from I don't know, I struck her and she fell to the floor," Hassell said in telling of the slaying of his wife. "The smallest baby then began crying and I reached down and choked it. Then I secured a stocking and tied it around the baby's neck. I don't know why, but when I saw what I had done, I decided I had best go on and kill the whole outfit."

The children ranged in age from 2 to 21 years. Some were choked and others shot.

Sanford Realtors Send Thousands of Circulars on City

A four page folder, with three pages showing pictures and facts concerning Sanford and Seminole county, together with a map of the state, is being used as stationery by Baldwin and Brown, Sanford Realtors.

Forty thousand circular letters, containing information about the trucking lands of this district have been sent out from their office, on the descriptive folders, during the past few months, according to J. D. Brown, who stated today that a large number of inquiries concerning the district have come to his office.

The two inside pages of the folder are devoted to pictures of Sanford's residential section, of celery cutting, and of the Hotel Forrest Lake. Descriptions of the land and information concerning farming costs are given. Statistics on celery production, for the past few years are included.

On the back page is a map of the state, with Sanford prominently displayed. Around the map is a description of Seminole County.

New Cook County Sheriff Says He Will Clean Out Hell Holes If They Exist

CHICAGO, Dec. 28. —(AP)—Charles E. Graydon, became sheriff of Cook county today with the promise that if there are any "hell holes" in his jurisdiction, as some members of the county board that elected him think, he would root them out.

"I have been reliably informed" said William Busse, a board member, as he voted for a successor to Peter M. Hoffman, who resigned because he said the prohibition act could not be enforced here, "that Mr. Graydon has pledged himself to clean up the 'hell holes' of the county towns. Therefore, I vote 'aye.'"

Sheriff Graydon's term will extend until the next county election, which will be in June.

Hoffman who has held political office in Cook county since 1898, recently was acquitted of charges of conspiracy to defeat justice after he had served 30 days in jail for contempt of court in connection with charges he had allowed undue privileges to two beer runners.

In a formal statement, Hoffman said that for four years "in the face of overwhelming difficulties," he had striven to force the prohibition law, but that "the odds have been too great."

In assailing the statute he said that as a private citizen he would "join the large number of courageous men and women who have organized to bring about a change in this law, which has been forced upon an unorganized majority by a selfish and misguided, but organized minority."

Hoffman's regular term already had expired, but he continued in the office because of the death of P. J. Carr, the Democratic sheriff-elect.

ILLEGAL SEIZURE OF LIQUORS LAID TO 2 DRY AGENTS

Simmons And Crumley Are Under Bonds Charged With Forcing Way Into Private Homes In Key West Raids

KEY WEST, Fla., Dec. 28. —(AP)—Prohibition Agents W. H. Simmons and W. C. Crumley were at liberty today under bonds of $1,000 each after their arrest by county officers on charges of having forced their way into a private residence without a warrant.

The two arrests came after a group of federal authorities from Miami and Tampa had swooped down on six residences and business hours here yesterday in a series of raids in which more than $20,000 worth of liquor was reported seized. No arrests were made by the government operatives.

The two prohibition agents were taken in custody on complaint of Raoul Vasquez, who charged that the federal officers forced entrance to his home on warrants issued for admittance to the residence next door. Vasquez also claimed the pair made their way into the bathroom of his home against the remonstrances of Mrs. Vasquez, who was said to have been within bathing.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 28. —(AP)—J. H. Lee, deputy prohibition administrator here, has no official information relative to the arrest of two prohibition agents at Key West on charges of breaking and entering following a series of raids yesterday.

It was reported that the men had appealed to him for aid.

"My only information is a telegram from men working there stating that they had confiscated 500 cases of whiskey. I am waiting on an official report."

"W. M. Simmons, in charge of the Lake Worth office, and W. C. Crumley, group head at Tampa, were operating in Key West yesterday. I do not know what men they had with them."

BANKRUPT R. R. LINE ACQUIRED BY NEW GROUP

Reorganization Plans Call For Railroad To Be Taken Out Of Receivership And Construction Of Extension

Lancaster Williams Head Of Purchasers

Georgia-Florida Road Has Operated With Difficulties Under Court Receivership

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28. —(AP)—Reorganization plans by which the Georgia and Florida railroad will be taken out of receivership, and a new line 56 miles long constructed from Augusta, Ga., to Greenwood, S. C., were approved today by the Interstate Commerce commission.

The receivership over the Georgia and Florida system began in March, 1915 and was conducted until his death by the late John Skelton Williams. His brother R. Lancaster Williams was largely instrumental in preparing the reorganization plan by which a new company will take over the entire enterprise, and undertake the Greenwood extension which, the commission's decision today said, would give the system a prospect of operating profitably in the future.

The Georgia and Florida Railroad Company, which will acquire the system, was permitted by the order today to issue $9,000,000 in six per cent preferred stock, 100,000 shares of common stock of no par value and $6,500,000 in bonds. In addition it will guarantee payment of interest and principal as to $750,000 in equipment trust certificates and $792,000 in receivers' certificates. The face value of all these obligations is $3,850,000 less than the par of securities which were outstanding in the company when it failed.

During recent years under the receivership the railroad has operated with difficulty, but has shown improvement, the commission observed. The extension to Greenwood will give it a new northern outlet and add efficiency to its operation as well as give it an opportunity to increase traffic. This construction will cost $2,181,000 and the new security issues approved are expected to provide funds to this total, as well as serve for exchange with the securities of the allied railroad.

Lord Darling Raps Undergraduate At English University

LONDON, Dec. 28. —(AP)—Lord Darling, speaking at the annual dinner of the Gray's in debating society, took a fling at Cambridge undergraduates who recently offered a resolution that women ought to be "abolished."

"In my opinion," said his Lordship, "it is a pity the resolution was not passed before they were born."

The undergraduates' action was taken at a meeting of the Cambridge Union society. A. B. King-Hamilton, arguing for the resolution charged that the women of today were "as double faced as their ancestors."

"Rather than grow old," he said, "a woman dyes when young. She bangles her arms, bingles her hair and bungles her face."

Defending the women A. C. Townsend, made a long dissertation on highly civilized ways in which they rode bicycles, and ate chocolates. They did powder their faces, he admitted, but he pointed to the advice of Nelson: "Trust in God and keep your powder dry."

The resolution lost, 164 to 191. Since the debate King-Hamilton has received 335 abusive letters from women, Townsend, who championed the women, has six proposals of marriage.

Lotta's Heir?

A share in the $4,000,000 estate of the late Lotta Crabtree, actress is sought by Mrs. Carlotta Cockburn, of San Gabriel, Calif. (lower). At the surrogate's hearing in Boston on Mrs. Cockburn's attempt to break the will she and Mrs. Annie Russell, of Tucson, Ariz., (upper), the decedent's niece, were recent witnesses. That she also is a niece of Lotta Crabtree is the basis of Mrs. Cockburn's suit.

Six were reported dead in Kansas, five in Mississippi and in Tennessee as direct result of the flood. Three thousand driven from their homes in the flooded areas have been estimated at more than a million dollars.

The products of thousands of acres were being transferred to the lowlands of Kentucky and Tennessee as a result of flood stage on the Ohio river, with an expected further rise of five feet before crest. Much ungathered corn has been ruined.

END OF FIGHTING IN NICARAGUA IS NEAR, IS REPORT

Decision Of President Diaz To Withdraw Government Troops From Lagoon Area Is Regarded As Significant

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28. —(AP)—Termination of the situation which led Rear Admiral Julian Lameter to land American blue jackets and marines at Cabezas was thought to be nearer today by Washington observers after reading the news dispatches and meagre official reports from Nicaragua.

They regarded as particularly significant in this respect, the decision of President Diaz to withdraw the conservative government troops from the Pearl Lagoon fighting zone and the spread of neutral zones established by Admiral Lameter for protection of Americans along the east coast, which has been dominated for some time by the liberal forces.

Official accounts of the four-day battle at Pearl Lagoon, in which the Diaz troops were defeated, were lacking in Washington, but a dispatch from Managua last night placed the liberal strength at 1,550 well armed against 1,900 in the withdrawing force and quoted the American collector of customs at Bluefields, as saying 500 Mexicans had been reported fighting with the victors.

Washington authorities hold that the landing of the naval force at Puerto Cabezas and Rio Grande bar does not amount to intervention in the Nicaraguan civil strife but nevertheless, agents of the Sacaia government here and at Mexico City insist that it is intervention and have found a supporter in that connection in La Nacion, published at Santiago, Chile.

DEATH TOLL FROM FLOODS IS PLACED AT 4 States Completely Stricken Area Parrying Today More Heavy Rain

Property Loss Over One Million

Rail Service Remains Crippled As Washes Out

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 28. —(AP)—With the dead in three southern states at 13, and approximately 600 homeless as a result of flooded streams, Arkansas, Mississippi, Tennessee and Kentucky prepared today for more rain. Property loss in the flooded areas has been estimated at more than a million dollars.

Six were reported dead in Kansas, five in Mississippi and in Tennessee as direct result of the flood. Three thousand driven from their homes in the flooded areas have been estimated at more than a million dollars.

The products of thousands of acres were being transferred to the lowlands of Kentucky and Tennessee as a result of flood stage on the Ohio river, with an expected further rise of five feet before crest. Much ungathered corn has been ruined.

Rain was forecast for southern state today and white waters of many of the streams had begun to recede. A prehension was felt in some sections over the aspect of the downpour. Tomorrow, rain will be generally fair weather.

Only in a few very isolated spots has relief work been hindered according to available reports.

Train service has been crippled, with some sections entirely stopped, while others have been hampered by the many detours. This is especially true in Tennessee and Mississippi.

The larger rivers of Tennessee were still rising today, but of the smaller ones were getting back to normal, a general condition in Mississippi was reported to be improving.

The lowlands along the Ohio river in Kentucky and Indiana just beginning to be badly flooded, but property damage not estimated as great as in neighboring states.

The greatest property damage was said to be in Nashville, where nearly a hundred city blocks flooded, hundreds of houses and some of the great damage to crops in territory.

Railroad officials predicted no definite predictions regarding when trains would again get on regular schedules, though they were certain.

Tris Speaker and Ty Cobb Move to Capital as Defense Prepares Case

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker moved on to Washington today, presumably to look over the bats in the federal dugout hopeful of finding one with which to knock "out of the park" the charges thrown at them by Dutch Leonard, former American League pitcher.

Neither Speaker nor the attorney who accompanied him would offer an explanation of their trip to the capital, but the fact that Speaker and Cobb planned to be in Washington at the same time was regarded as significant.

Cobb, who left his Augusta, Ga., home, with the din of enthusiastic approval of faith of his townfolk in his integrity still reigning was equally reticent. Cobb, however,

Melhorn Is Winner Wade and Warner Of San Jose Meet Compliment Each And Prize of $500 Other on Elevens

SAN JOSE, Calif., Dec. 27.—(AP)—"Wild Bill" Melhorn of Chicago left here today with first prize money of $500, the San Jose Country club course record, the title of Santa Clara valley open golf champion, and the conviction that he has overcome the jinx responsible for his frequent "crack-ups" at the height of his game in tournament play.

Yesterday he turned in a final round of 65, five below par and one better than the course record, to win the 54-hole $2,000 Santa Clara valley open golf tournament with a total of 207. Tommy Armour of Washington, D. C., with whom he played the final round, was leading the field of golf experts with 138 at the end of the second round, four strokes better than Melhorn.

While the gallery alternated between applause for Melhorn and curiosity as to how soon he would "crack," Bill proceeded in the first nine holes to overcome Armour's lead and in the second nine to pile up an advantage of four strokes over him. Armour finished the final round with 73 to win second place with 211 for the 54 holes.

Melhorn shot three birdies on the first nine of his last round and three on the second nine, taking pars on all the others except the ninth, on which he was one over par. On the seventeenth and eighteenth greens he missed birdies by less than an inch.

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 27.—(AP)—With both coaches admitting the other has attained high degree of perfection in handling gridiron machines for the game between the University of Alabama and Stanford University here New Year's day, speculation has been centered mostly on the mental attitude of the players.

Glenn (Pop) Warner, grizzled Stanford mentor, fears his men are not taking the coming tilt seriously enough. He blames the Christmas holidays and a series of examinations.

Wallace Wade, who brought his Alabama team to Los Angeles with 150 routs, has expressed confidence in his eleven, but believes he is to match wits with "the greatest living football coach" and must present a "smart" team Saturday.

Recalling Warner's record at Carlisle, Pittsburgh and Stanford, Wade declared the veteran mentor had been responsible for many of the outstanding plays used throughout the football world and that it was reasonable to expect "Pop" might spring some new surprises.

The Alabama team will train this week at Los Angeles, while Warner says he will attempt to direct the minds of his charges back to serious football with several hard practices here.

Fate Of Shift Will Be Decided By East's Coaches In Go to Ham

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—(AP)—The fate of a colorful modern contribution to football, the shift, is before eastern gridiron coaches and officials, gathering here this week for annual meetings.

The maneuver, which already has been appreciably curbed in the Western conference by a new rule which compels teams to come to a two-second stop after moving their lines, will be up for discussion with the point after touchdown, the huddle and the forward pass penalty at sessions extending over a four-day period.

The initial conclaves today brings together members of the Eastern Association of Intercollegiate Football officials. Meeting of the coaches follow tomorrow and Wednesday, while on Thursday the National Collegiate Athletic Association will have its annual meeting.

Oil King Dances a Jig and Whistles as He Wins Golf Hole

ORMOND BEACH, Fla., Dec. 27.—(AP)—When John D. Rockefeller sinks a 20-foot putt he quotes poetry, whistles and dances a jig.

The aged man won the second hole from four companions yesterday after making "just about the best drive," he could remember and a putt George Von Elm would have sighed to achieve. It was then that Mr. Rockefeller quoted poetry and danced a jig.

Just what the millionaire said a moment later on the third hole, when he took a nine, is not a matter for record, but the Rev. Dr. C. Woolfkin, of New York City, was along so it must have been just blank verse.

Dr. Woolfkin, Cyril James, of Lowell, Mass., a close friend, and Mr. and Mrs. John Dick, of Toronto, Canada, made up a "fivesome" with Mr. Rockefeller.

Latoz Will Risk Title On Saturday

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—(AP)—A world's welterweight championship battle and a semi-final round featherweight elimination fight top this week's festive menu, with Peter Latoz risking his 167-pound division diadem at Wilkesbarre, Pa., in the titular engagement. He will start the New Year next Saturday by defending his place at the peak against hard-hitting Sergeant Sammy Baker, of New York, in a 10-round bout to a decision.

The survivor of the featherweight bout, bringing together Red Chapman, of Boston and Benny Bars of Philadelphia, here on the same day, will produce an opponent for Honey Boy Fitzgibbon. The victor in the three-cornered series will be recognized in the east as successor to the throne formerly occupied by Louis (Kid) Kaplan.

Basketball Has A Popular Appeal

Proposed Third Major League Cause Of Considerable Talk in Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 27.—(AP)—The proposal, advanced by New York representatives of a projected third major baseball league to lease or buy the two-year-old $2,000,000 University of Pittsburgh stadium as a playing field for a contemplated Pittsburgh entry has aroused considerable comment.

The proposal has never been submitted to the board as a whole, but the 30 trustees evidently are in the attitude of "listening to" an offer which might benefit the city by an monetary way without burdening the college's use of the structure. One took an optimistic view, declaring that use of the stadium for professional baseball should not even be considered.

Another trustee as well as a number of baseball men who know the dimensions of the stadium, asserted its playing field was entirely too small for baseball.

Barney Dreyfuss, president of the Pittsburgh club of the National League, said he had no knowledge of the project and "less interest."

Charles (Deacon) Philippe, hero of the first world's series of the Pirates more than 20 years ago was among those who said they did not see how a third league could pay because of the enormous outlay.

The third league interest offered $2,100,000 for the stadium, it was said by the trustee who gave out word of the offer. The money given, he said, was if the New York result put the proposal in writing it would be submitted to the board of trustees. This was several months ago, according to trustee, who said nothing more had been heard from the promoters of whom was said to be "Tex Rickard."

ENTIRE FICTION GROUP SCOURED FOR SCENARIOS

Many Excellent Stories In The Classics That Remain To Be Filmed, Say Experts

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—(AP)—Millions of words from the prolific pens and typewriters of authors past and present are garnered by the play hungry motion picture industry of yield its yearly crop of scenarios.

Virtually all modern fiction is cast into the mill which turns out an ever fruitful harvest of screen drama. What appears to be the stuff is stored away for further sifting as necessity arises.

There are many excellent stories in the classics of the drama and literature yet to be filmed, said Winfield R. Sheehan, of Fox Films, and others whose task is to find suitable story material for the screen express similar belief.

Say Material Inexhaustible

"The public has proven that great classics can be filmed over every ten years because of the popularity of new screen faces and because of improved technique in the making of the product," Sheehan asserted.

"We have the whole range of fiction and drama from the classics to the best sellers of the present to draw upon," explained Mina Lewton, chief of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's reading department, "but the movie audiences seem to prefer the modern stories lately."

Another inexhaustible supply pointed out is in the increasing output of authors whose works are found in the bookstores, magazines and on the stage. Some of the greatest features from the standpoint of public patronage, script readers said, have been the original stories written expressly for the films and from this source many will be contributed annually.

Good Story Not Enough

"A good story isn't the only requirement for a good picture," Florence Straus, of First National Productions, has found. "The difficulties of filming, the necessity of avoiding controversial sex, economic, racial and religious themes, and the objections raised by the production forces of the industry, are all factors that must be considered."

It was the third period, the score was 10-10, the fourth down with two yards to go and the ball inside the 15-yard line.

Would Friedman try a plunge for the needed two yards, would he attempt a drop kick, as which he is most proficient, or would he try a pass over the goal line? Earlier in the game he had completed such a play on the fourth down.

Trying another pass over the line was a nifty play that took courage. He invited plenty of censure from the second-guessers. He took the chance.

A pass, Friedman to Hoffman, resulted in a touchdown. Michigan needed those seven points to win by a margin of one.

Friedman drew praise because he had succeeded. If he failed it would have been different. However, strategy that is good in success should be equally good even though it fails.

Strange Coincidence? What a strange coincidence it would be if Pittsburgh won the pennant in the National League and Detroit in the American!

These two clubs are now managed by Owen Bush and George Moriarty, who in the days when Detroit was winning pennants, starred at shortstop and third base, respectively.

To make the situation all the more unusual, these two players were the peppercorns of the Tigers, also roommates as well. Now they are managing mighty strong ball clubs in the rival major leagues.

In those days Hughie Jennings would supply the pepper from the Tiger bench and coaching lines. On the field Bush and Moriarty would pull it.

Ride 'Em, Cowboy

In the old days riding your own teammates as well as the opposition was a part of the game. In baseball, to "ride" some one means to carry on a torrid conversation with or about that individual without being very choice as to your vocabulary.

Hughie Jennings was a believer in the theory that the infield should keep up a constant chatter, and should the pitcher not be going any too well, direct it squarely at him with a host of sparkling innuendoes.

Will you recall, how Moriarty and Bush used to get after the Tiger pitcher start of (Donovan) Mullin, Saunders, Willett, Siewer and Killian, all of them big husky fellows, not over six feet or better.

It seemed perfectly proper for Moriarty to take the pitchers to task for he is a first-footer himself, but as the "midwest" Bush would verbally "ride" 'em, I always wondered if he was going to get away with it. He did.

Aggressive Leaders

With managers of the type of Bush and Moriarty, the Pittsburgh and Detroit clubs should stay in

Results Decide

Strategy in sports is judged solely by results. That is unfortunate. Fear of being picked by the second-guessers makes for safety first methods rather than take-a-chance.

In baseball, if a manager sends in a pinch-hitter and he delivers, the move is lauded to the skies. If he fails, particularly if he strikes out, it is argued the regular player could have done no worse.

In football, if a player picks up a bounding ball and runs through a broken field for a touchdown, it is considered very smart. If he happens to fumble and the opposition recovers under the shadow of his goal, it is invariably regarded as a "bonehead."

Second Guessing

Some of the recent big games offer an interesting study in football strategy judged by results.

In the Illinois-Penn game, which the former won by the score of 23-0, a drop kick by Frosty Peters being the deciding factor, a second-guess situation arose.

In this instance, on a fourth down Penn had a yard to go on the Illinois 15-yard line. Penn had been gaining rather consistently and the Quaker signal-caller decided to shoot the works—try a plunge for a yard and then go for a touchdown.

Penn failed by inches to make the first down. The second-guessers took Murphy of Pennsylvania, who called the play, to task, insisting he should have given Paul Scull a chance to try for a field goal that would have at least evened the count.

The fact that Scull won the next two games from Penn State and Columbia by a field goal caused all the more growling over the Illinois incident.

Friedman's Courage

For the Michigan-Ohio State game, Coach Benny Friedman of Michigan was controversial

Fox Hunters Given Two Severe Blows

LONDON, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Huntmen seeking the elusive fox have been dealt two severe blows, by a court ruling and an incident in the field.

Thomas Vaughan, owner of Fulby farm, near Norwich, refused to allow the Cheshire hunt to proceed on his property and challenged any number of the field to hunt him. His words followed, but there was no fight and no more hunting. This is a rare occurrence in England, where fox hunting has been carried on for centuries without interference by the farmers.

An injunction was issued restraining Henry W. Selby, Lovdovics, master of the East Kent hunt, his huntmen, whippers-in PRAYERS—Thou art my portion, O Lord, I have said that I would keep Thy words.

UNTITLED

I feel I know not what thou art, but know that thou and I must part.

And when or how, or where we meet again to me's a secret yet.

Life! we've been long together through pleasant and through cloudy weather.

This hard to part when friends are dear.

Perhaps 'twill cost a sigh, a tear;—Then steal away, give little warning.

Retainer Fees For Worthy Lawyers

Ostensibly to clear the court dockets so that business can be carried forward more expeditiously, Miami attorneys are advocating a rule that would permit no lawyer to take a case without a substantial retainer's fee.

The older, and presumably more efficient, attorneys point out that young fellows trying to become established and old failures trying to get enough business to pay their office rent will take cases they know will either never come to trial or be lost, for their clients. Such cases never should be started, the better class lawyers insist. And they assume that the good-sized retainer's fee will make the average man think well before undertaking a lawsuit.

This proposal is true. It is also probably true that young lawyers will undertake to create business rather than have none at all. But many a just cause would be refused aid in the courts if every man had to pay a lawyer before that lawyer took hold of his case. Many a retainer's fee has secured nothing but a place in a lawyer's filing cabinet for valuable papers. Many a big first fee has meant nothing in the way of obligation to the attorney who accepted it.

If the Miami bar association had a way of insuring honest efficient service for the man who employs an attorney, then it could talk more convincingly about the value of requiring substantial retainer fees.

Or maybe that is exactly what is intended in the resolution. A man who must pay a substantial sum to obtain the promise of service from a lawyer naturally would hunt up the most experienced man he could hire with his money.

Can it be that there is some foxy grandpa work in that Miami bar association?

1926, A Knight Who Has Won His Cause

Soon old Nineteen-Twenty-Six will be gone. He has no opportunity to obtain a few days longer stay, regardless of how much might be added to the old year's record "if there were time."

It comes natural for most people to personify the Old Year and the New Year and Father Time. Instead of picturing the New Year, for instance, as a great area of land opened for the plowing, the planting, the tilling; or instead of picturing the New Year as a stretch of ocean leading on we know not where, our new ship at the pier perhaps, or our old ship newly rigged; or instead of picturing the New Year a great city, teeming with countless thousands of people of every kind and condition, into which we are to go as strangers to make our way—instead of any pictures of that sort, the artists will have the New Year come as a chubby baby boy, blowing his trumpet, perhaps, or carrying under his arm a new roll for the 1927 records.

And Old Nineteen-Twenty-Six will be painted a decrepit old man, limping away into the Yesterdays.

It doesn't matter, of course, what the imagery is. The closing days of a year are significant only because their going are likely to make men review the year's achievements, the year's disappointments, the successes and the mistakes. And this review sometimes brings an insight that is to greatly influence the fortunes of the coming year.

Nineteen-Twenty-Six has brought many people grave anxiety. It has been an epochal year in Florida. The aftermath of the real estate speculation blow-up and the big storms tested Florida's timbre to the top note and Florida has rung true. With the closing of the year, the state is able to show that most of the debris has been cleared away, most of the causes for anxiety have been eliminated, and, what is immeasurably best of all, it can show its people filled with enthusiastic belief in Florida's power to become the richest, as it is the happiest, state in the Union.

Florida expects to do wonders in 1927. And Florida may be depended upon to do just that. The alleged troubles that have assailed the state have unquestionably been blessings in disguise. The day will come when 1926 will be recorded as the most beneficial year in the state's history, if, as seems the case today, it has started the people of Florida into development work that has nothing in common with "get-rich-quick schemes" and "binder-boy" speculation.

Old Nineteen-Twenty-Six then need not retire in the guise of a broken old man. He can ride away on a spirited charger, a Knight in armor who has won his cause and now goes home to receive his laurel crown.

IT TOOK A statistician of the New York Central railway to point a wholesome lesson in national recklessness by comparison of English and American railroad casualties.

The English report was that only one passenger was killed in a collision while the interstate commerce commission reported 6,364 killed and 44,993 injured in American railroad accidents the same year. Further investigation, however disclosed that 298 English employees and 447 other people were killed and 2,000 were injured in various railroad accidents. The statistician then compared the 24,000 miles of English roads with 264,000 in America, and the volume of travel which gave him one fatal accident for every 183,000,000 passenger miles in England and one for every 210,000,000 in this country.—Exchange.

THE SIMPLE HEART that freely asks in love, obtains.—Whittier.

MELLETT, THE VICTOR

TAMPA TRIBUNE

As a Christmas gift to the good people of the United States comes the assurance that major crimes do not always go unpunished, even when the criminals are members of amazingly wealthy and influential crime rings like the one which in the past has exercised almost monarchical power over the affairs of Canton, O.

With reasonable promptness McDermott has been found guilty of the murder of Don R. Mellett. This is only the first conviction in the case. Others higher in the rank of criminals while lower in the scale of human beings, are yet to be tried. There will be more convictions.

The verdict for McDermott was first degree murder, but the jury included a recommendation for mercy, which means life imprisonment instead of the electric chair. One who commits a cold-blooded murder for hire deserves no mercy in the minds of the public, but possibly the jury's report is just. It may be hoped to gain further evidence from him. And certainly he is not quite so guilty as those he based higher-ups who hired him to do the killing. If they can be convicted it is safe to predict that there will be no recommendation for mercy.

The case of course is to be expected. They think they are all convicted and they are. The same is to be expected.

Picking the Wrong Horse. They Fooled Us! Certainly. We Need People. When Men Die. BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

IN NICARAGUA Uncle Sam seems to have bet on the wrong horse.

Rear Admiral Latimer, commanding American forces in Nicaragua, where they have no business, reports that the Diaz government, backed by this country, has been soundly thrashed by the so-called rebels.

SENATOR BORAH, head of the committee on foreign affairs, proposes to find out why the United States meddles down there. Perhaps he will let the people know what he knows, and especially who pulls the strings that send this country interfering in neighboring republics. Haven't we enough to attend to in the United States?

MUCH EXCITEMENT over the discovery that this foolish government was bamboozled at the famous Washington conference, and is inferior to England and Japan in sea power.

CONGRESSMAN BUTLER, head of the house committee on naval affairs, says we must build a new navy that will cost more than $40,000,000.

Japan and England have been building powerful cruisers in great numbers. "Uncle Sam," says Mr. Butler, "was fooled into scrapping more than $300,000,000 worth of the finest warships ever designed."

OF COURSE WE were fooled, and we shall continue to be fooled as long as we trust our affairs to politicians while the nations of Europe employ statesmen.

Fortunately battleships and cruisers make little difference to a nation, like ours, that has no commercial fleet worth talking about, and therefore no need of battleship convoys.

What we need is flying machines to destroy enemy shipping, and that is what we haven't got.

MEN WHO OUGHT to know see continued prosperity for 1927.

Big game, who recently handed his stockholders a $225,000,000 dividend, is cheerful.

So is Henry Ford. He ought to be. If he stopped making cars entirely he would have an income of many millions a year from the manufacture of parts for years to come.

MR. FORD SAYS there has been over-production in 1926, and worries about the difference between trade and debit.

He evidently thinks competitors have pushed credits beyond the limits of safety.

WHAT WE NEED is people, about 20,000,000 of the energetic, ambitious, best people of Europe, to come here.

The 20,000,000 would absorb in 20 weeks the really good used cars and then begin buying new ones.

They would teach some Americans who have forgotten it, the disagreeable useful art of hard work. They would eat potatoes, wheat and other things that the farmers now produce in excess, and solve our problems.

GENTLEMEN OF THE farms, you need immigration, as a department store needs customers.

And when your congressmen vote to shut out immigration they shut out those who would consume your products here at home.

WHEN MEN THINK about dying, their minds work in different ways. Some plan for fine monuments to cover their corpses.

Some plan to bribe divine justice, at the last moment seeking to spend money in a way that will keep them out of hell.

Taking Herself Out For a Joy Ride

GOOD WILL TOUR

ORLANDO REPORTER STAR

Among the good will tours of this winter that are pregnant with good for Florida is the proposed tour of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association scheduled for January.

The whole South will benefit by this tour and likewise the Illinois manufacturing district. The South is a very excellent market for the manufactured products of that hill-west district. So that the benefit will be mutual. But the greatest benefit that will come to Florida is the fact that these business men will learn the truth about Florida.

The route from Chicago will be via Cincinnati, Knoxville, Asheville, Winston Salem, Greensboro, High Point, Charlotte, Savannah, Jacksonville, thence the East Coast of Florida and back through the West Coast section including Orlando, West Coast points, such as Tampa, St. Petersburg, Clearwater and Gainesville, also will be visited.

Manufacturers' Record, one of the good friends of the South, has been instrumental in getting this tour arranged. The homeward trip will include the Birmingham district. It will bring to the attention of these manufacturers the great field open to them.

NO NEED FOR REGULATION

LAKELAND LEDGER

Discussing the question, "Shall the state license the press?" The Lakeland Times observes that "the curse of the newspaper business has been, and is, the entrance of men of sparse education, low mentality and indifferent character."

Eventually their efforts spell failure, but they usually manage to "hang on" for some time, posing as "editors." God save the mark!

building a certain following by appealing to prejudice, pandering to passion, getting enough stuff together to fill up some white paper and calling it a newspaper.

One of the unsolved mysteries, The Times asserts, is "how some of these fellows manage to get away with it."

The Ledger does not imagine it would make much difference to it if the state should require it to obtain a license, as is the case with lawyers, doctors, architects, engineers and other professions.

We have observed from time to time that a poor product, whether it be an article of merchandise or a newspaper, is not sought after and that it must be improved or be shelved.

Newspapers, like everything else, generally thrive on their merits or find the level of their mediocrity in time. The best regulator is an intelligent public.

WHAT IS A SUNSET?

BALTIMORE SUN

One of the most depressing manifestations of man's so-called rise from barbarism is his admiration for and quest of definitions. We can imagine primitive man requiring the gift of language and rejoicing in the ability to give expression to his pent-up emotions. With what rapture he must have lapped out such newfound and inspiring words as beauty, faith, art, truth, honor, duty!

His joy was not for long. Immediately rose up the prosy progenitors of the pedagogue and demanded, "What is beauty, or faith, or art, or truth, or honor, or duty?" And the poetry in man's soul was stifled, while the pedants disputed among them as to the proper definitions. This is what their labors brought forth. "Beauty—that quality of objects that gratifies the aesthetic nature."

Faith—a firm conviction of the truth of what is declared by another." Art—the skillful and systematic arrangement or adaptation of means for the attainment of some end." Truth—the state or character of being true." Honor—a nice sense of what is right." Duty—the obligation to do that

WHAT DO THE BILLIONS MEAN?

MIAMI HERALD

Out of the big stock dividend declared by the United States Steel Corporation has developed another hectic rub of trading in Wall Street. Men have gone wild over buying and selling of securities. Frantic boom prevails in which there is little sanity, except the eager greed to grab huge profits.

In consequence we hear of new fortunes made, of millions gained, of billions. To the average citizen this means little or nothing. A million is a billion in just a few figures. He can understand a hundred or a thousand. That is within his grasp. America is a nation of millionaires, and yet actually there are only a few. It is more important to know that millions of people are in comfortable

DELUXE TOURS OF ROYALTY COSTLY TO TRUNK LINES

Distinguished Foreigners In America Allowed To Travel For Nominal Cost Through The Courtesy Of Railroads

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(AP)—Supplying of special trains and cars to distinguish foreign visitors who wish to see this country in a deluxe style has become an interesting phase of American railroading.

Through the courtesy of the railroads, in many cases, members of royal families and other notables have been able to tour the United States and Canada in luxurious equipment at nominal cost to themselves. The transcontinental jaunt of Queen Marie of Rumania and the earlier visit of President Machado of Cuba are outstanding instances when the railroads themselves played host and footed most of the transportation bills.

Swedish Visitors Paid

The crown prince and princess of Sweden paid for the special car which, attached to regular trains, took them across the country on their recent visit, but the Prince of Wales and Marshal Foch of France rode in special trains that cost them next to nothing.

The most consistent user of special trains is President Coolidge, but he buys his own ticket out of a special appropriation provided for the purpose.

The government at times employs special equipment with which to transport distinguished visitors from New York to Washington and return when they pay official calls to the national capital.

More than the desire of the railroads to be courteous hosts to visiting sightseers is necessary in supplying trains at nominal cost to the guests. Under the law only railroad employees are allowed free transportation, and in order to carry Queen Marie, for example, at a $1 fare, a special tariff had to be led with the interstate commerce commission and that body's approval received.

10,000 Miles for $1

In Marie's case she paid out of her own pocketbook $1 for herself, two children and each member of her immediate party to each of the several railroads over which she traveled on her 10,000-mile tour. Railroad fares alone, at winter tourist rates, would have totaled approximately $20,000 for the nearly 80 persons aboard the Royal Rumanian.

Another huge expense borne by the roads was that incident to stocking diners and private kitchens aboard the several special cars making up the royal train. Special illustrated booklets describing the country through which the queen passed and elaborate cards also were paid for by the railroads.

Railroad men agreed that the Royal Rumanian was the most luxurious equipment ever assembled. Comprising six special cars, all of them the property of railroad presidents, and equipped with the most modern conveniences.

Historic Hotel At St. Augustine Burns

The Magnolia Hotel here, corner of narrow St. George and Hypollita Streets, in the heart of the old part of town, caught fire at 1:45 o'clock from a cause not yet determined. It is one of the largest wooden hotels in the state and is well known nationally.

Firemen have successfully quenched blazes starting in nearby buildings, and are heroically trying to save the effects of guests and furniture in the Magnolia. The fire may be gotten under control before it destroys all the hotel proper.
