HITLER GAINS IN DIET BUT IS NOT SUPREME

Bitter Campaign For Control Of Govern- ment Sees Fascists Still On The Outside

BERLIN, Apr. 25.—(A.P.)—Adolf Hitler's national-socialists (fascists) became the strongest political party in five German states, including Prussia, which also constitutes two-thirds of Germany, in diet elections yesterday, but nowhere did they prove strong enough to take over the government alone.

While in Anhalt, and possibly in Wurtemberg, they were almost certain to head rightist coalitions, they apparently failed to gain a place in the cabinets of Prussia, Bavaria and Hamburg.

A bitter campaign for supremacy between the republican government factions and the fascist legions of Hitler, who only two weeks ago failed to win the German presidency from von Hindenburg, ended with three fatalities, a number of other casualties and minor disorders.

All parties concentrated their efforts on Prussia on the theory that "whoever controls Prussia controls the Reich." Here the Fascist Nazis made a phenomenal gain from nine seats to 159 at the expense of the German nation. (Continued on Page Two)

Golfing Army Will Start Tuesday On Membership Drive

Two divisions of an Army of 38 Sanford men and women golfers will begin a two-day drive for annual membership in the Sandown Country Club, starting at 9:00 o'clock tomorrow morning.

One division of six teams with three members to a team, will be under Captain Henry Watson, while another division of a like number of teams and persons will be under Captain Charles Dunn.

It is estimated that at least 250 memberships will be needed to operate the club during the next several months, and each team is expected to bring in at least 25 memberships. Individual membership in the club is $19 yearly, while family memberships are $20, prices which are said to be lower than at any golf course in Florida.

The drive ends Wednesday night when all workers will meet at the Chamber of Commerce office to report their success. Workers are expected to meet at trade body offices tomorrow morning to receive final instructions for their part in the drive.

Members of the Blue Division under Captain Dunn are: Team 1, Captain Fred Bender, Lieuts. Al White, E. J. Meyer, Homer Harris; team 2, Captain H. Faville, Lieuts. Hawkins Connelly, A. W. Eppa; team 3, Captain Vivian Speer, Lieuts. W. A. Leffler, H. J. Lehman; team 4, Captain E. F. Houholder, Lieuts. F. L. Woodruff Jr., Phil Perkins; team 5, Captain G. W. Spencer, Lieuts. S. Puleston, W. C. Hill; team 6, Mrs. Daisy Lewis, captain, Lieuts. Helen Marentette, Mrs. H. M. Watson, and Mrs. E. F. Houholder.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD

Funeral services for the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Brooks, who died Friday night after a brief illness, were held Saturday morning at the Sylvan Lake Cemetery, near Paola. The infant is survived by her parents and a sister, Miss Ann Brooks. The Brooks family resides on the De Land road, and has lived in this vicinity for the past three years.

Scores Injured As Tornado Does Havoc

MEMPHIS, Apr. 25.—(A.P.)—Scores of persons were injured by a tornado in Shelby county today that caused considerable damage and left a possible death toll of seven.

BOWLING GREEN, Apr. 25.—(A.P.)—A windstorm, accompanied by severe lightning, torrential rains, and hail swept a half dozen Southern Kentucky counties today. One man was injured in Warren county, another was shocked by lightning in Adair county, roofs were blown off buildings in a wide area. Power and light lines were crippled closing industrial plants. Tobacco beds were ruined by the rain and Green River rose rapidly.

ROOSEVELT MADE VICTIM OF STERN POLITICAL FORAY

Lawyer Says His Nomination Would Cost Democrats Victory

NEW YORK, Apr. 25.—(A.P.)—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt was made the target for a vigorous political attack by a noted lawyer yesterday as he departed, optimistic and smiling, for the governors' conference at Richmond, Va.

Thomas L. Chadbourne, attorney and self-labeled progressive Democrat, gave out for morning paper publication a letter saying the nomination of Roosevelt for the presidency would not only cost the Democratic party an opportunity for victory, but also would alienate "thoughtful and independent-minded Democrats."

When Roosevelt left he remarked he just had talked with a newspaper correspondent (the Sacramento Bee) from California where a spirited primary campaign is in progress for Speaker Garner, Alfred E. Smith and him Wednesday.

Asked about the outlook, the governor lifted his hat on political comment long enough to say: "Everything looks fine in California."

Meantime, Jessie Isidor Straus, department store executive and intimate associate of the governor, announced formation of a Roosevelt business and professional league to further the New Yorker's candidacy.

Chadbourne's letter was addressed to Homer Cummings, former Democratic chairman and Roosevelt supporter.

Roosevelt's speech of April 7, in which he advocated relief for the "little man" saying funds of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation were "not for him," Chadbourne said, "convicted him of a cheap opportunism bordering on downright demagogery."

"In that speech," Chadbourne continued, "he betrayed a willingness to play upon the irritations, suspicions and bitternesses of these

National Guard Play Will Be Given Friday

For the first time in the past several years the Sanford unit of the Florida National Guards will sponsor a local talent play, which will be presented Friday night at the Sanford Woman's Club according to an announcement made this morning.

The play, "His Wives," will include the Farnstock players, a group of local actors who will make their appearance in this three act comedy for the first time for a Sanford audience.

Rehearsals have been going on for almost two weeks under the direction of Paul Tuttle who today said that he is confident that the cast selected for this presentation will give one of the best performances "His Wives" ever made.

According to opinions expressed by those witnessing several rehearsals, each of "His Wives" will guarantee many interesting and individual situations which are expected to produce the results for which the play was intended by the author. There will also be special features between acts.

The first act will begin promptly at 8 o'clock Friday night, Apr. 29. The seating capacity of the Woman's Club is large enough to accommodate almost 500 persons, sponsors of the play said, when assuring Sanford residents that "they should not miss 'His Wives'".

Head Of Associated Press Sees Fine News Coverage Despite Business Losses

NEW YORK, Apr. 25.—(A.P.)—Newspapers of America "have not shirked their duty to the public of publishing news in adequate form" in spite of present conditions, Kent Cooper, general manager of the Associated Press, said today in his annual report to the board of directors.

"To maintain the standards reached in recent years all publishers had to sustain severe losses," Mr. Cooper said. "Although advertising revenues have fallen off tremendously circulation has not decreased materially. Sustained circulation in such times show the newspapers have established themselves as a necessity."

The Associated Press held its annual meeting today and the American Newspaper Publishers' Association will hold a convention tomorrow to Friday. Directors of the North American Newspaper Alliance did not today.

Reorganized credit structure and re-formation of national confidence were called for by Secretary of War as "two weapons which must be forged to turn back the tide of destitution." The Treasury chief, addressing the Associated Press meeting, said "the only way I know to bring adequate relief to the people of the United States is to get in motion forces that make economic recovery possible."

He was taken into custody by the federal men Saturday night, on his release from detention in connection with the Clarke case, was tried after several hours.

He was brought to the county jail shortly after midnight, and questioned through the day, only to be freed last night.

Federal agents said Lancaster was questioned at length about an alleged conspiracy to smuggle narcotics from Mexico into the United States at Nogales, Ariz., but expressed their conviction that he was not a party to such a conspiracy.

He was under contract, Lancaster told the federal officers, to fly for a concern which he learned after signing the contract, planned to smuggle Chinese alum and other gold from Mexico into the United States by a plane route.

Lancaster said he withdrew from the contract as soon as he learned he was to fly aliens from Mexico to a point on the Gulf of Mexico and that they were there to be transferred from plane to boat for smuggling in to the United States.

The agents said Lancaster gave them every assistance in their investigation of the narcotics smuggling angle.

With Mrs. Jessie Keith Miller, his flying partner for two years and the finance of Clarke until the hearing Thurs. evening, Lancaster went to her home where he and Clarke lived immediately after his release.

Both declined comment as to the occurrences of the past six days, and as to their plans for the immediate future.

Lancaster and Mrs. Keith Miller were arrested after they reported to police that Clarke, who was visiting the woman's life long with her collaboration, had been found in the bedroom he and Lancaster occupied. Clarke died eight hours later.

They were questioned at length by State's Attorney N. Vernon Hawthorne, who during the process of the investigation, (Continued on Page Four)

Many of the same group were described as having participated in a pool on Radio, about the same time, which was also on the ball end of the market.

Committee agent said yesterday they had information about a score of other pools on the market within the last three or four years, some supposedly on the bear side.

Members of the committee feel that the only way to find out how these pools really operated is to examine the books of the Stock Exchange and participating brokers. This, however, will require more money and more experts.

One of the angles some members are particularly anxious to investigate is in the connection between the pool operations and market specialists.

Briggs testified Saturday that M. J. Mehan, market specialist for Radio, was in the pool on that stock. Bernard E. Smith, another witness, said Mehan participation in the pool was through his wife.

LANCASTER IS RELEASED IN CLARK DEATH

Federal Agents Give Him Clean Bill On Smuggling Count; State Still Probes

MIAMI, Apr. 25.—(A.P.)—Lieut. W. N. Lancaster in custody since Thursday in connection with the fatal shooting of his room mate, Baden Clark, 26, and with federal agent inquiry into an alleged smuggling project, was released by the latter last night.

He was taken into custody by the federal men Saturday night, on his release from detention in connection with the Clarke case, was tried after several hours.

Newly Organized Lawn Tennis Club Will Hold Meeting

Election of permanent officers and discussion of important business will feature a meeting of members of the newly organized United Lawn Tennis Club to be held at the City Hall Wednesday at 8:00 o'clock.

According to one of its organizers, the club has for its purpose the promotion of tennis playing activities in Sanford, and the creation of opportunities whereby adults and children will be able to play during a regulated time.

Consideration of the health and recreation of a young and active population, is also an objective of the club, while good fellowship and respect for tennis rules and the foundation stones of the club are announced.

Plans for an extended membership drive and the appointment of standing committees on construction, tournaments and entertainment, will form a major portion of the evening's business.

Charter members of the club, who are expected to meet are Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Steele, Mr. Ross Adams, Mrs. Mary Rawlin, Mrs. Maxine Stevens, Mrs. Margaret Wright, Margaret Adele Rines, Ruth Wells, and E. Cotter, Herman Morris, T. W. Lawton, R. M. Mason Jr., W. J. Morrison Jr., D. L. Harper, W. E. Mallon, A. D. Bridges, Roy Holler, Edwin Shindler, and Dr. H. W. Becker.

SANFORD MEETS ATTONA BEACH TOMORROW

Buddy Lake To Pitch
For Locals In Third
Tilt Of Ball Season

PETER SCHAUER

Unbeaten by two defeats, Manager Joe Barnes' Sanford entry in the Central Florida Baseball League tomorrow afternoon entertains Mike Bolch's Islanders in a contest at Municipal Park starting at 3:30 o'clock.

Buddy Lake, who toiled against Deland last Sunday may be sent to the hill against the Islanders, who will offer their ace, Olin Hutto, if Lake doesn't start. It will be big Cal Dennis, whose right arm is in perfect condition and whose knowledge of Daytona batmen is unequalled.

Each of Lake will be a ball club minus the services of Bob Pittman, Pete Schirard and Shorty Cox, but a ball club which was good enough to snare Joiner of Cocoa for 10 solid hits last Thursday. Pittman and Schirard are on a road trip with the Gators, and will not be back until next Thursday, just in time for the Fed's game against New Smyrna in that city. Cox has gone to Lake Placid to accept employment, and may not be back this season.

Manager Barnes has added three players to his list during the week, old Tom Phillips and young Hal McCormack, a pair of right-handers, and Joe Kenny, manager of the Eckerson Canning plant, and Central Florida State League leader. This trio will be on the field tomorrow, although Manager Barnes has not indicated if he will use any one of the trio.

The lanky manager is satisfied with the work of his new catcher, Homer Tillis and with the performances of Frank Taylor, Kentucky lad, and Deb Grant, the Ocoee flesh, who were at third and short respectively in Cocoa Thursday.

Jack Reed will be in center field tomorrow afternoon, together with Roy Barnes' left and Cal Dennis in right. That trio, representing batting and fielding strength, will take care of the Islanders without trouble. Manager Joe says.

The Islanders come here tomorrow with a win and a loss, both close shaves, with one run separating victory and defeat. They have yet to don their hitting clothes, despite the fact that they have made 16 hits in the two games, off New Smyrna and Winter Park batters. For some amazing reason, Wally Shannon, Allan Mobley, and Olin Hutto, last year's league leading batters, have failed to get a hit so far, and, when they do start hitting, you may say that the Islanders have their hitting clothes on. Oddly enough, Buddy Lake has always been able to handle that trio with ease, and if he does it tomorrow, he'll be going just about what Lawrence Chubbs of Winter Park did to Cocoa in the opening game, putting a jinx on them.

The game begins at 3:30 o'clock at the same time that Deland plays in Cocoa, and New Smyrna in Winter Park. Umpire Rodenbaugh will be back of the plate, while Morris Spencer will patrol the sacks.

OH YEAH!

By PETER SCHAUER

Coach Leonard McLucas' Seminole High track team will be on the way home from Gainesville before this column is ready by many Seminoles, some of its members probable new champions or winners of various events. In qualifying yesterday, McLucas' team, among 300 others from all sections of Florida, placed in five of the 15 events. Hendry Lyles, who won high point trophy at the Ocala district meet last week, was a finalist to the 100 yard dash as well as one of nine qualifiers in the 440 yard run. John Stanley made the fastest time of the day, 2:87, in the 220 yard low hurdles, one of six out of 30 to qualify. He also qualified in the 120 yard high hurdle event, winning the first heat, to be one out of eight qualifying. Melton Ware qualified in the discus throw, being one of eight out of 30 qualifying.

the school during the past two years, and the school seems to set a precedent in having more than two men in the state meet. Under Coach McLucas' group of boys who ordinarily might have been limited to spectators at football and basketball games, are now being given ample opportunity to enter sport events of every type. The boys are taking advantage of this opportunity too, for Seminole High's athletic teams are consistently large, with the enthusiasm of the participants remaining throughout the season, whether they make the team or not.

Bill Terry, the Giants' eliminated first sacker, promised his teammates a record of some sort just one month ago yesterday. Did he keep his promise? In a big way, for when he hit a homer off Dudley, of the Phillies, in the Giants' 13 to 6 victory yesterday, it made the sixth homer Bill had scored in four games. That record brought him to a tie with Babe Ruth, Chuck Klein, and Ken Williams, for the modern home run run total of consecutive games. Incidentally, Bill is the National loop batting leader today, having scored 17 hits, 11 runs, in 40 times at bat during nine games for an average of .425. John McGraw's 30th year as manager of the Giants may be another pennant-winning year if Bill and the rest of his ball players hit the old apple as they have during the past few weeks. The Giants to win the flag, as I said before.

Dribbles: The veteran Burleigh Grimes, recently traded from St. Louis to Chicago for infraction of training rules, is laid up with an attack of the flu; The Reds have failed to get more than seven hits in but one game since the season began; American League batter have scored 46 runs—against 23 by the National loop, since since the season opened; The Braves will furnish the opposition when the Cardinals raise the World Series pennant in that city on May 18; the Cards snapped a six-game losing streak by beating the Pirates 5 to 3 in 10 innings yesterday; The Braves lost the services of "Art the Great" Shires, who broke his leg in the ninth inning of the Braves' victory over the Roosters yesterday. He had been hit on the nose by a batted ball in the first inning too; Five Cleveland batters couldn't stop the hard-hitting Detroiters, who secured a firmer grip on first place when they batted out 22 hits for a 16 to 3 victory yesterday.

Here's something you've never seen before. The first 10 batting stars of the Central Florida League as the 1931 season ended. The list includes all players appearing in 25 of the 40 games played, and you'll find old Red Martin right at the top, Sanford club morguls are said to be scouring the countryside looking for Red and his bat. Let's hope they land him. The records:

By the way, did you know that Wally Shannon, of Daytona, went to bat 163 times last year, one more time than any other player in the league? And that he and Breeze Provost, of Cocoa, each led in scoring runs, with 35 each? That Shannon got 61 hits, seven more than any other player last year? That Murdock of Cocoa had a better percentage as a pitcher than

Olin Hutto, often called the best hurler in the league? Murdock won 11 and lost one game, for a year's percentage of .317, while Hutto won 11 and lost three games, for an .800; that Murdock was the home-run king of the league with five, with Olin Hutto second with four? that Bob Pittman and Breeze Provost tied for triples, with six each? that Allan Mobley, of Daytona, led in doubles with 16, followed by Culbreth of Cocoa, with 12? . . . ### An Unsolved Tragedy

Was it suicide or was it murder as the result of a love triangle? These are the questions which are being asked by investigators and the public regarding the death of Haden Clark, 26-year-old writer of Miami, in the home of Mrs. Keith-Miller, noted British aviatrix. In the room with him at the time of his death was Capt. W. N. Lancaster, another British flier, who says he was awakened by the report of the gun.

Evidence pointing towards suicide was contained in two notes which Clark is supposed to have written, both on a typewriter, one signed with the letter "H," the other, with the name "Haden." One was addressed to Mrs. Keith-Miller, the other to Capt. Lancaster, and both expressed sentiments which indicated Clark contemplated killing himself.

There were certain discrepancies in the case, however, which made acceptance of the suicide theory not an open and shut proposition. For instance, there were no finger prints on the typewriter, indicating, perhaps, that the keys had been wiped off; Clark's body was found with a pistol in his hand which was underneath his body; the pencil with which Clark is supposed to have signed the notes is alleged to have had blood on it, afeat a mortally wounded man would have found difficult to accomplish.

These discrepancies, viewed in the light of the fact that Clark and Mrs. Keith-Miller planned to marry, that Mrs. Keith-Miller and Lancaster had been associated in aviation enterprises and in a love arrangement, and that, when he heard of Clark's intention, wired him not to marry until he could arrive from St. Louis to be in the wedding, have tended to add less weight to the suicide theory.

It is hard to account for any psychological reason why a young man in good health, on the eve of a matrimonial venture should take his own life because of economic difficulties, as the pox, which he is purported to have written, revealed. For every suicide there should be a reason and that is what the investigators in this case must find. Perhaps there is some hidden motive which has not been learned yet that will reveal a solution for the tragedy.

The Appeal Of Florida's Climate

Millions of people all over the United States are continually learning that the climate of Florida will add a dozen years to almost anyone's life. As this knowledge becomes increasingly widespread, more and more out-of-state residents are making it a part of their regular annual program to visit Florida for a few weeks, while others are establishing permanent homes in this state. High taxes have done much to hurt this home buying movement in Florida, but fortunately no way has yet been found to tax our climate.

Considering Miami's bid for tourists, the Miami Herald says: "It was a hard task that various patriotic people, working through boards of trade, chambers of commerce and civic organizations, undertook, but by scientific and generous advertising through a large number of different mediums, an ever-increasing clientele was developed that became permanent visitors to the city, seeking rest and recreation far from the wintry blasts of the North. Miami is now known all over the world as a winter resort not approached by any other city or section. Hard, persistent, intelligent advertising and the advertising given it by the thousands of well pleased visitors established its reputation and made its winter business a permanent one."

"Heretofore, we have emphasized the beauties of our climate and situation, attractions. There is, however, another feature that ought to be dwelt upon in all the advertising being sent out and methods of spreading information should be adopted that will reach the millions who might come to Miami and receive relief from ills from which they suffer and which they cannot obtain anywhere else."

"Much has been said recently in press and before civic organizations of the value of the violet ray in relieving and curing diseases. To put it into lay language, there are, according to scientists who have studied the matter the world over, certain conditions of sunlight here, that cannot be found anywhere else."

"By exposure, under competent direction, to the sun's rays, on the beaches or in private solariums, much benefit for many ailments has been found. Many of the cures reported are little less than miraculous, all attributed to the peculiar influence of the violet ray upon the human body."

"As a health resort, scientists tell us, Miami is incomparable, and it is that fact that should be told about everywhere and in every form of advertising. If the people of the United States could be made to understand what a great measure of curative value outdoor life in Miami has, there would be a great a health business built up as has been created in the winter visitor business."

SANFORD, TWENTY YEARS AGO

The new uniforms for the Sanford Ball Club have arrived and are on exhibition in the window of the Sanford Shoe & Clothing Co. The uniforms are grey flannel with a fine stripe running through them and the name, "Sanford, in big letters down the front of the shirt of a black lapel."

Mr. Michael Puleton and Mrs. D. S. Thobert entertained several of their friends at a delightful luncheon party Wednesday at which time a delicious five course luncheon was served at the home of Mrs. Puleton. After the luncheon the ladies were entertained by their dainty, fancy work. The girls who helped the luncheon were Mrs. E. G. Kehler, Mrs. B. W. Herndon, Mrs. F. J. Gonzalez, Mrs. Robert A. Newland, and Miss Laura Fish.

Add to the many new houses now in the course of erection in this city is that of Mrs. Allen Jones, soon to be started on the first lot recently purchased on Park Avenue. George Venable has the contract and will start at once on a building that will grace this already famous Avenue of Homes.

Mr. Alton Whitehead, of Tampa where he will be the guest of Mrs. Mary Collier, Capt. R. P. Whittier, of Chatanooga, has been the guest of his daughter, Mrs. E. O. Chase, and son-in-law, Mr. P. Whittier, Jr., for the past three days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Park Silcox could not be induced to leave the state as his opponents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Hedges would continue the race of Governor Carlton, and the former to be relieved.

YOUNG MAN ABOUT DOWN

By I. SPARKY KENNEDY—AN EDITORIALIST

Out to the hospital they keep a scrap book of everybody printed about the jarnt but they never write in it anything I write about them which is hospitalism. This new Browning society troubles me no little... do they hold their meetings in the Beany Rest?... McHale, McHale the gag's all here again... Merrill, the Merchants who rate this coln for me last Wednesday came within a pint of giving it a bad name... The way I hear it is that that drug store on the corner of Holstein and Main decided it was bad location... so they moved to another corner of Holstein and Main... Oh yams!... Guess I am the only guy in town that doesn't expect to be able to pick up a date with one of these Gary Flanders... I can't fool with Fords... Lincoln, a. k. a. even gizmos... Every time Your Davis speaks he gains some votes... for the other guys... Most theater managers start out as usher... so no wonder... By the way, the Lyric will show Frankenstein in May... the Lyric is a small theater since it keeps the village from having only three... and will the town be big enough to start a howl over Scarface like they are doing in the borgs like N.Y.Wk., Florida, one of the seven states that has a govt censorship... if it really functions come wonder what such shows as Tahitian would be like before hand... oooh... It won't be long before the local shoemakers will start sponsoring them that broadwalk concert... They complain that this settlement hasn't any picturesque ruins but just wait until one helluva storm hits that broadwalk or an crazy too... Both Eastman is the borg's most promising artist, most as promising as some politicians... Have it definitely understood even if names do make a swell coln this dept. will not print the city tax list free or also, people's and state's (democratic) parties, which suffered crushing defeat.

The only other party gaining in Prussia was the communist, which now has 60 as compared to its former 48. The social democratic (socialists) were heavy losers, dropping from 137 to 61. The Catholic centrists lost four seats.

The Hitlerites polled 7,444,000 votes in Prussia, the socialists, 4,261,000; centrists, 3,241,000; communists, 2,920,000; German nationals, 1,427,000; people's party, 328,000; state's party, 291,000; economic, 170,000; smaller parties, 270,000.

The final results distributed the votes in other states as follows:

Wurtemberg — National socialists, 328,000; social democrats, 200,000; centrists, 284,000; communists, 118,000; German national, 254,000.

Bavaria — Bavarian people's party, 1,272,000; national socialists, 1,271,000; social democrats, 684,000; communists, 259,000; German nationalists, 122,000.

Hamburg — National socialists, 331,000; social democrats, 226,000; communists, 119,000; state's party, 81,000; German nationalists, 32,000; People's party, 24,000; centrists, 10,000; economic party, 2,000; Christian social, 1,000.

Aschaffenburg — National socialists, 72,000; social democrats, 29,000; communists, 10,000; German nationalists, 10,000; People's party, 2,000; economic, 1,000; smaller parties, 1,000.

The final results distributed the votes in other states as follows:

When the Bank of Utica closed there were Seminole County School funds in the sum of $16,842.43 deposited in that bank.

The Superintendent's office held security in the sum of $7,191.91. The security returned $7,191.91, leaving a balance of $9,650.52 unsecured. No claim was filed by the Superintendent within the time for filing and the school did not participate in the dividend of 10 per cent paid by the bank on Feb. 22, 1931, nor will they participate in any future dividends.

When the new Prussian diet assemblies it will probably bring about the immediate fall of the present coalition headed by Premier Otto Braun and Minister of Finance Karl Severing.

Thus its real trouble—how to form a new workable coalition—would begin.

The national socialists, with four minor opposition parties, command only 12% of the 630 seats. Only 1% of the neutrals' 67 members joined in such a coalition would be a majority, so if faced, having 1% socialist and 6% communists as the opposition.

If the neutrals refuse to ally themselves with the Nazis, their Premier might may be able to continue, with the aid of sufficient neutrality on the part of the communists. At any rate, the present coalition will continue to represent a new minority-supported by 1% percent of the diet, as was agreed.

Premier Braun and Herr Severing, the neutrals, were among the neutrals who supported Hitler's election.
