

Rain Aids Lookouts in Defeating DeLand, 4 to 0

Torres Allows Reds But Trio Of Safe Blows

Bistruf Hits Triple; McMullen Collects Pair Of Bingles

By E. H. CULLUM

Aided by a torrential rainfall in the first half of the ninth, so much that the game had to be called, the Lookouts took a 4 to 0 contest from DeLand here yesterday.

McMullen, on the mound for the Reds, limited the locals to six hits but the Lookouts succeeded in bunting three of them in the first for three runs and two in the third for another tally.

With two out in the first, David beat out an infield hit just beyond pitcher's box. Cates doubled, Davis going to third. Bistruf was passed intentionally. Torres blasted a single to right field scoring Davis and Cates, Bistruf hitting at third.

away, allowing Bistruf to score.

The fourth run of the day came when Langston doubled to center and went to third on Davis' fly to center. Cates hit a grounder to Robertson who threw out Langston at the plate. Bistruf then pelted a triple to center with Cates scoring. Malby singled to short right but was tagged out attempting to steal.

The remainder of the game McMullen settled down and turned on the heat, only one hitter getting as far as first.

That was on a walk in the seventh.

Torres hurled a splendid game, limiting the Reds to three hits for the eight innings. DeLand was unable to register a single hit during the first five frames.

Only in the sixth with one out did the visitors threaten to score when McMullen singled to short right and was forced at second by Didrickson. Then Welch hit a roller and all hands were safe in an attempt to get Didrickson at second. Bolding ended the attempted rally.

With two away in the eighth, McMullen pitched his second hit of the day, a single. He went to third on Didrickson's blow to right. Other letters went down in a row to ward off the threat.

A high wind sprang up at the beginning of the ninth and swept the diamond causing Torres trouble. It slowed up his fast ball.

A rain of doubles and triples showered off the DeLand bats and Torres was yanked in favor of Wright. But before the lanky

Rally In Tenth Gives Saints 3 Winning Scores

Palatka Unable To Tally But Three Off St. Augustine

St. AUGUSTINE, July 18.—St. Augustine rallied with three runs in the tenth inning here yesterday to defeat Palatka, 4 to 3, in the Florida State League.

Held scoreless after the first inning the Saints chased Dopey Dean from the mound and belted the winning run off the relief hurling of Lowe in the extra frame.

McGowan, batting for John Schneider, who held the Palatka to five hits during the extra inning contest walked to open the tenth with the Saints trailing, 1 to 3. Bonner cracked a single to center, his third hit of the game, to send McGowan to third. McGowan scored on an infield out and Bonner advanced to third. McGowan scored on a squeeze bunt by Fitzgerald scored Bonner with the tying run as Lowe relieved Dean on the mound for Palatka. On the play Gura threw wild to first and the Saint manager was safe. Then Dave Swindell drove a hit down the left field line which rolled through Jodie White and Fitzgerald scored from first with the winning run.

It was a wild tenth frame which saw Palatka break a 1-

George Andrews singled with the bases loaded to knock in two runs.

Off Dean and Lowe the Saints corralled eight hits as compared to the five blows which the Azaleas collected off Southpaw Schneider. Lowe got credit for the loss, although he pitched to only two men.

Leslie's Balky Putter Is Brought To Perfect Form

Jefferson, Mo., Lad Downs Jack Munger On Last Green In Western Amateur Golf Tournament

OMAHA, Neb., July 18.—(AP)—Young Paul Leslie, of the Jefferson City, Mo., Leslies, made a balky putter operate to perfection yesterday on one all-important green, the thirty-eighth to overcome Jack Munger, Dallas, Southern amateur champion, in the five-star thriller of the Western amateur golf title tournament.

All square due to a spectacular 22-54-66, six under par for the Happy Hollow Club layout and the best round of the tournament, by Munger in the afternoon, as they finished the regulation 36-holes under the same tireless Nebraska sun, they moved onto extra duty. The first overtime hole was divided in par four, and when Leslie's second shot on the thirty-eighth stopped 40 feet from the cup, with Munger only eight feet away, the black-haired Missourian's chances of reaching the semi-finals appeared gone.

He stepped up with a putter that had flapped him on numerous occasions during the day, drilled the long curling putt into the can for a birdie three. Munger's bid for a life-giving birdie missed the cup by a fraction of an inch.

Leslie's sparkling putt gave him the right to meet Chicago's Johnny Lehman, the tournament favorite, in a 36-hole semi-final today.

Lehman although lacking the brilliance that characterized his shooting during the last two days, functioned steadily to overcome another Dallas youngster, Len Schumacher, in a stubbornly fought match, one up in 36 holes.

The day also was marked by the upset defeat of one of Thursday's heroes, Fred Haas, Jr., of New Orleans, 4 and 3, by Don Fraser, tall Oshkosh, Wis., who survived the first day of matches where his more famous neighbor, Walter Cupper, Johnson's Coahoma and Rodney Biles, of Dallas, both sank and all failed to reach the best and ultimate II from the best and ultimate III. However, shooting the course in a under par for the 36 holes.

U.S. Turf Queen To Be Crowned Today In Arlington Meet

CHICAGO, July 18.—(AP)—The 1936 queen of the American turf will be crowned at Arlington Park today with the eighth running of the $37,000 added Lassie Stakes, richest race for two-year old fillies in the world.

There is grave danger, however, that the fillies may have the spotlight taken away from them and switched over to a secondary race, involving 2-year olds, engaging in a final preparation for next week's $30,000 added Arlington classic.

This mile and an eighth gallop includes four of the leading candidates for the Arlington Special. It will pit Granville v. Mr. Bones in a race that the East and West alike has been waiting for since the two finished noses apart in the Belmont Stakes, in New York. Two of the best Western three-year olds, Hollywood and Count Morse, also figure as contenders.

The Lassie Stakes at six furlongs attracted the usual fashionable field. Entries include 15 thoroughbreds.

Boat Pilots Crack Four World Records

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., July 18.—(AP)—Power boat drivers christened the annual regatta of the Havre de Grace Yacht Club with four dashes of world record speed yesterday.

H. S. Eklof of Baltimore, accounted for two records, George B. Ward, Jr., of Wilmington, Del., for one, and Joe Monigie, also of Wilmington, for another in mile trials for inboard runabouts.

In a final trial, Eklof sent his 12-cylinder, 8-carburetor, Boatline II, over the Susquehanna River at an average of 56.815 miles an hour to shatter a mark he had registered only an hour or so earlier in the unlimited class.

Besides the six both two large shower bath rooms, and the hot air and massage rooms, the new Olympic swimming tank includes a Finnish steam bath.

Austria, Germany Given Equal Chance

LONDON, July 18.—(AP)—Australia and Germany were even money favorites last night to win one of the grandest battles in history beginning today for the right to challenge England in the final of Davis Cup tennis competition.

Germany, seeking its first chance to face a top contender in history, will rely on smooth-striding Baron Gottfried von Cramm, all-England finalist for the last two years, and veteran Henner Henkel.

McMullen Steals Home As G-Men Down Islanders

Colorful Battle Of Pitchers Ends In 4-3 Leaders, Loss

GAINESVILLE, July 18.—McMullen's stealing home in the eleventh inning with two men down gave the Gainesville G-Men a 4-3 win over the league-leading Daytona Beach Islanders here yesterday afternoon.

The contest was a pitchers' battle from the start. The G-Men collected five hits off Brewer, who went the entire route for the Islanders, while the visitors were getting to Ferruzzi and McNamara for four hits. McNamara, who relieved Ferruzzi in the fourth, after the Islanders had scored three runs and gotten two hits, did not give up a hit until the tenth inning.

The G-Men scored their first two runs in the second on no hits, the third was added in the fifth on a triple by McDougal and McNamara's long fly to right.

The three Daytona Beach runs came in the fourth inning. Anderson and Morton drew free passes. On a fielder's choice by Frank E. Morton was out at second. Anderson taking third, Dillingham then emptied the bags with a long drive over the left field for a home run.

The G-Man, who are now resting in second place, play the St. Augustine Saints today.

Bottomley Retires As Road Trip Ends

BOSTON, July 18.—(AP)—"Sunny Jim" Bottomley, first baseman for the St. Louis Browns, announced yesterday he was retiring at the close of the Browns' present trip.

He said a strained back had bothered him for the past two years and, aggravated by this season's playing, was forcing him out of the game.

Bottomley, one of the higher priced baseball players since 1922, came up from the minors to the St. Louis Cardinals in that year. He starred for the Cards for 10 years, when he was traded to the Cincinnati Reds.

At the beginning of this season the Reds did not renew his contract, because of his back injury, and Bottomley went over to the Browns in the American League.

Alf Watson, Australian Olympic hurdler, 29, has been competing for 14 years.

OLD PEOPLE find way to keep breath wholesome

Halitosis (bad breath) quickly yields to Listerine, safe antiseptic and deodorant.

Other causes of stomach disturbance, food fermentation, or the wearing of false teeth, all people frequently have halitosis (bad breath). No wonder others consider them a nuisance.

But new Listerine has found that the regular use of Listerine will often overcome offensive mouth odors due to the fermentation of tiny bits of food on mouth, teeth, or dental plate surfaces.

This safe antiseptic and quick deodorant works quickly. It cleanses mouth, teeth, and gum surfaces. Halts fermentation and putrefaction, a major cause of odors, and then counteracts the odors already formed.

Try using Listerine every two or three days. See how much more wholesome it leaves your mouth. How it restores your breath. Listerine Pharmaceutical Co., St. Louis, Mo.

Dixie Turns In 15th Victory Of Season

The great hurler, recovering from a blow on the head received last Saturday when Edgemoor Whitlock of the Giants caromed a line drive off Dean's skull, knocking him unconscious, went in as a relief hurler in the sixth.

The Spanish Revolt

The present revolution in Spain is not an attempt on the part of communists to seize control of the government; it is not a share-the-wealth movement, or a radical effort to take possession of property which belongs to someone else; it is not an uprising of the unemployed, or a revolt against the tyranny of a king. Spain has been through all that. The present revolution is an effort on the part of people who have had enough of radical government to place control in the hands of conservative leaders. In all probability if the revolt succeeds, the old Bourbon monarchy will be restored. When depression fell upon the world in the latter part of the last decade, largely as a result of the World War and the spirit of extreme nationalism and economic isolation which developed after the war, Spaniards were prone to blame their troubles upon King Alfonso, who personally had reigned over Spain for many years, and whose family had reigned for many centuries, just as in this country we blamed the depression upon prohibition, J. P. Morgan, Hoover, or some other bogoblin. So the Spanish people revolted, kicked Alfonso out and set up a new form of government. Since then, things have gone from bad to worse, instead of getting better, as the revolutionists promised. The loss of confidence in the government resulted in worse business conditions, and poor business caused more unemployment and more strikes. All of this led to additional revolts against the government. Alfonso quit in April of 1931. By August of the next year, conservatives went on the warpath in a futile attempt to restore the monarchy. Then in January of 1933 communists combined with other radicals in an attempt to throw out the liberal government. In July of the same year another attempt at revolution was put down with the arrest of five hundred plotters. Other revolts broke out in December of 1933 and in October of 1934. By May of this year, the extreme radicals were in complete control of the government. But they have not as yet been able to accomplish any of the miracles which they promised when Alfonso was ousted in 1931. There is still hunger and starvation. There is still unemployment and poor business. Neither the liberals, the socialists, or the communists have been able to give the people what they want—Utopia. So now they are revolting again, this time to go back to the old monarchy of Alfonso. It has been a year and a half that we get no country anywhere. Men are drafted, sent to the front, go through hell for a few years, kill each other, are maimed and crippled, or die. Nations spend their people's money by the billions, buying arms, and ammunition, building airplanes that won't fly and ships that sink as soon as they set out to sea. And then after all the fighting is over, the statesmen and diplomats of the various countries sit down around a council table and decide to do what they should have decided before the fighting took place. Revolutions are very much like that. They get nobody anywhere. They only make matters worse. And the most that anyone can hope for is that after years of turmoil and bloodshed, conditions will settle down about where they were before.

Infantile Paralysis

In combating the spread of infantile paralysis (poliomyelitis, to you) in Tennessee, Alabama, and Mississippi, the U. S. Public Health Service has discovered a new method of attack on the dread disease which promises to place it alongside smallpox, diphtheria, and other similar afflictions of the human race which are no longer necessarily disastrous. The new method consists of an alumpicric acid nasal spray which is now being tested on humans in an epidemic for the first time, though it has previously been tried out extensively on monkeys with amazingly successful results. Though the disease has been known to be in existence for over a thousand years, this is the first time that anything approaching a successful preventive has been in use. "Polio" is outranked by measles, tuberculosis, and certain other diseases in the death toll it exacts, there being last year, for example, 800 deaths from this cause as compared with 75,000 from tuberculosis, says the United States News. "But because of its paralytic effect, public health officials rank this cause of human suffering with tuberculosis, accidents and congenital illness. The Public Health Service began its study of the disease in 1910. This was made possible by the discovery a year earlier that monkeys could be made to contract the disease, so they became the subjects of experimentation. Today, they are still the only animals known to be susceptible. Although various preventives and aids for cure have been developed as a result of the laboratory research, none so far has proven to be of any real value. It is hoped, therefore, that the nasal spray will meet the need."

THE RAILROADS AND SCARCITY

The economist who studies current problems from a railroad standpoint has some advantages over those who study them from a political, agricultural or industrial standpoint. Not being directly subject to foreign competition at home or abroad, the railroads have no reason for having selfish predilections or prejudices for or against high protective tariffs. Not being a productive industry themselves, they have no reason, good or bad, for imagining that they can gain by any temporary or permanent restriction of any kind of production. Whatever the agricultural or industrial economist may see, it is plain to the railroad economist that the prevailing economics of scarcity is fraught with peril to every class of the people of the United States. Again, as two years ago, the New Deal policy of fostering scarcity by restricting production in agriculture is being aided by a widespread drought. The cooperation of nature with the artificial measures of the New Deal threatens a shortage of foodstuffs, abnormal increase in the cost of living, and retardation of recovery. Consequently, there is a vigorous renewal of attacks by anti-New Dealers upon the New Deal economics of scarcity, its tendencies and effects. From a railroad standpoint it is easily apparent that the present tariff policy of the United States is itself based upon the very economics of scarcity that most industrialists denounce when applied to agriculture. And that it has been one of the principal causes of the depression and its prolongation and thereby of curtailment of railway traffic. Since the war this has been the greatest creditor nation that ever existed, and has needed to import much more than before the war if it were to be able to export even as much. By advancing its tariffs in 1930, contrary to every consideration of sound economic policy, it has curtailed its imports, and thereby inevitably and automatically curtailed its exports, especially of farm products. Inability to sell its surplus farm products abroad caused supply of them to exceed demand, and the accumulation of surpluses that reduced farm prices and curtailed the ability of farmers to buy from industry. This automatically retarded buying from and production in industry, and caused depletion of government resources to reduce production by restrictions. The result of restricting exports is to reduce the demand for domestic products, and to reduce the ability of domestic producers to sell their products abroad. The result of restricting imports is to reduce the demand for domestic products, and to reduce the ability of domestic producers to sell their products abroad. The result of restricting exports is to reduce the demand for domestic products, and to reduce the ability of domestic producers to sell their products abroad. The project, personally advocated by the President which refused to "stay dead" although it was supposed to have been mortally stricken by its loss in Congress as a number of occasions. The late Senator Duncan U. Fletcher of Florida, the project's congressional sponsor, worked assiduously to the very hour of his death last June to have it continued with federal funds, but it was knocked out of both the Interior annual supply bill and the second deficiency appropriation bill. What was considered the final death-knell was struck on the very day Senator Fletcher died, June 17, when Senate and House conferees threw out the canal amendment to the deficiency measure. Actual work on the canal will halt about Aug. 1, for all available construction funds will have been exhausted at that time. The surveys will be made, it was emphasized by Army engineers, under specific direction of an act of Congress, the Rivers and Harbors Act of 1935. The engineers, it was explained, started carrying out the provisions of that act, but never finished because "local interests" of Florida requested that the work be halted pending the gathering of further data. These explanations were made in elaboration of the announcement at Ocala, Fla., the other day by Lieut.-Col. Stephen B. Somerville, United States Army engineer, in charge of the canal project, that engineering and geological investigation would go on after the canal digging stopped. This research, he explained, would continue until the canal was considered again by Congress.

Texan Says Cotton Reduction Policies Injured The South

CHICAGO, Ill., July 22.—New Deal policies of restricted cotton production have cost the South tremendous economic losses, and there have been no real benefits, A. B. Cox, director of the bureau of business research of the University of Texas declares in an article published in the June issue of the Journal of the American Statistical Association. The cut of 12,000,000 bales under the Bankhead Act and the A. A. during the years of 1933, 1934 and 1935 resulted in a total loss to southern workers and in unproduced cotton seed of $215,000,000, he estimates. "The total amount of effective employment destroyed by this ill-conceived policy that the best way to get more is to do less, is staggering," Mr. Cox writes. "It has meant the loss of about $33,000,000 in cotton picking, $44,000,000 in cotton ginning, $47,000,000 in transportation, $58,000,000 in compressing, warehousing, merchandising and other marketing costs made up mostly of labor. Cotton production would have resulted in the production of about 5,000,000 tons of cotton seed, having a manufacturing value of about $29,000,000. These items do not include preparation of land, planting, cultivation and hoing. The writer also declares that there has been no actual increase in the price paid for cotton, but that the gold price upon which cotton must be sold to the world market has remained stationary. Hence, the seeming increase in domestic prices is due purely to devaluation of the dollar. He points out that while the United States has drastically curtailed its cotton crop, the amount produced in the entire world has remained approximately the same since the five years prior to the restriction.

Rebellion In Spain Halted By Loyalists

Theaters and cafes in Madrid were ordered closed with thousands of Spanish soldiers and militia-men patrolling the streets.

Conflicting and confusing reports by the government and rebels made difficult a precise evaluation of conditions. References in Gibraltar estimated 200 persons were killed in Lohena, Cuba province, during the night.

Former King Alfonso of Spain departed from Madrid, Czechoslovakia, for an unannounced destination.

An air bombardment of Barcelona, largest city of the area, was reported yesterday. Government planes also were attacking Murcia cities, while the rebels claiming control of all Spanish Morocco as well as the Canary and Balearic Islands, were reported landing troops in south Spain to aid allies already rising up in many cities.

In Spain itself, the fascists appeared to have a strong grip on Seville, metropolis of the south. The rebel garrison commander, Oviedo and Burgos, in the northwest, as well as Cadix and Valladolid, were in the hands of the opposition.

Corporate Earning Shows Wall Street Better Business

A rising tide of corporate earnings gave Wall Street yesterday feather tangible evidence of business improvement.

A gain of 36.8 percent in second quarter profits over the same period last year was shown in a compilation by the Associated Press of the first 45 statements of reporting companies. For six months, earnings were up 35.6 percent over the showing for the comparable period last year.

Earnings of the group in the three months ended with June totaled $41,140,038 against $29,891,267 in the 1935 period. The half-year total was $72,901,116 against $53,738,295 in the first six months of last year.

Acceleration of the untrend in business earnings was indicated on top of the sharp gains chalked up on the steady climb of industry from the depression depths.

Conspicuous for gains were such companies as Westinghouse, General Electric, United Fruit, Johnsonville and the United Corp.

Search Broadened For English Boat Missing 43 Days

fly up and down the Florida west coast from the St. Petersburg base.

It was the fourth day of fruitless search by the Coast Guard. Three gunboats of the U.S. navy joined the hunt yesterday. They combed the waters around the south and western shores of Cuba.

The 110-foot Nunoca has no radio. It had provisions for four or five days but is now thirteen days overdue at that base.

Capt. J. L. Eden, an old Caribbean pilot, whose 17-year-old son, Harold, is among the missing passengers, went to the coast guard base and told officers there where he thought the Nunoca ought to be.

He put his finger on a spot on a map of the Caribbean and said, "Look for it there." He took his usual route and quickly figured the wind drift and currents. "It ought to be there," he said, pointing.

But Captain Eden was told the Caribbean was out of the range of the coast guard, that its vessels could not leave territorial waters. It was suggested that the search would have to be continued by the Cuban navy and Cuban planes.

Backing Captain Eden's opinion, seafaring folk here said whatever caused the Nunoca's disappearance happened before it rounded Cape San Antonio at the western tip of Cuba.

In that event it would have drifted westward and southward and southward toward the tropical coasts of Yucatan and Honduras in an area not even traversed by ships.

Had something went wrong the Nunoca passed the Cape San Antonio light, all were agreed it would have been sighted by now.

But Captain Eden was still optimistic of its safety. He believed it might still be drifting or had reached shore in an isolated coast.

City Regulation Of Liquor Law Upheld

TALLAHASSEE, July 20.—(AP)—The Supreme Court today ruled Florida cities have the power to make reasonable rules regulating the sale of liquor. It upheld a St. Petersburg ordinance prohibiting liquor stores to remain open after 10 o'clock at night but permitting hotels with 100 or more rooms to sell liquor to guests until midnight.

The Court said this is a reasonable exemption to the 10 o'clock closing ordinance and is not discriminatory.

Cooper And Metz Deadlock In Open Links Meet

Course Record Is Shattered As 63 Strokes Are Used

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 25.—Harry Cooper, hard luck golfer of the National Open, blazed in with a spectacular 63-72 late yesterday for a tie with Dick Metz of Chicago in the $5,000 St. Paul Open Golf Championship.

Cooper, three times winner of the rich stakes, entered his second playoff in the seven year history of the tournament. He lost to Johnny Revolta and Laffoon in the 1934 playoff.

The handsome, 27-year-old Metz, a consistent leader for three past smashing days, finished well ahead of Cooper with 63-73—87.

Only such a performance as the amazing 63 Cooper unleashed as he shattered the course record on the morning round could tie or beat him.

Abe Espinosa, Laffoon, Bill Mathorn, Johnny Bulla and Revolta all fell away before the sprinting leader, but Cooper, who watched Tony Manero snatch away his "euro-fire" title in the National Open, played his second round at par and gained a tie.

Espinosa's 279 was a good enough for third, Laffoon, also from Chicago, was fourth with 280, while Revolta and Horton Smith, Chicago, and Byron Nelson, Ridgewood, N. J., tied for fifth at 281.

It was a clean sweep for a great brigade of Chicago sharpshooters now touring the summer money circuit.

Such outsiders as Manero, Walter Hagen, Lawson Little, Halp, Guldahl and Jimmy Thompson were content with small prizes or nothing at all.

Cooper and Metz, who were expected to split the total prize money of $1,350 awarded winners of the first two places, began their 36-hole playoff at 10 A. M. today.

Metz, consistently good since he became a money player, began hammering closer to the top in every major tournament. But even his two straight 60's on the opening days failed to put him among the front-running favorites and only today, when he posted a morning 66, six under par, was he considered a likely challenger.

Cooper's title rested heavily on the thinning crown of his head as he started the morning round.

Visitors Watch Dress Rehearsal In Olympic City

BERLIN, July 25.—(AP)—Visitors by the thousands from Berlin and the provinces jammed the huge Olympic stadium and the Olympic swimming stadium yesterday for the final full-dress rehearsal prior to the opening of the international games Aug. 1.

Races were run and field events held among German athletes exactly as though the games were in progress. In order to make things more realistic, the announcer even had Cunningham and Lovelock wearing a thrilling race in the 1500 meters.

Officials announced that all arrangements for the start of the competition were perfect. The loud-speaker system, however, still sounded somewhat tin-panny.

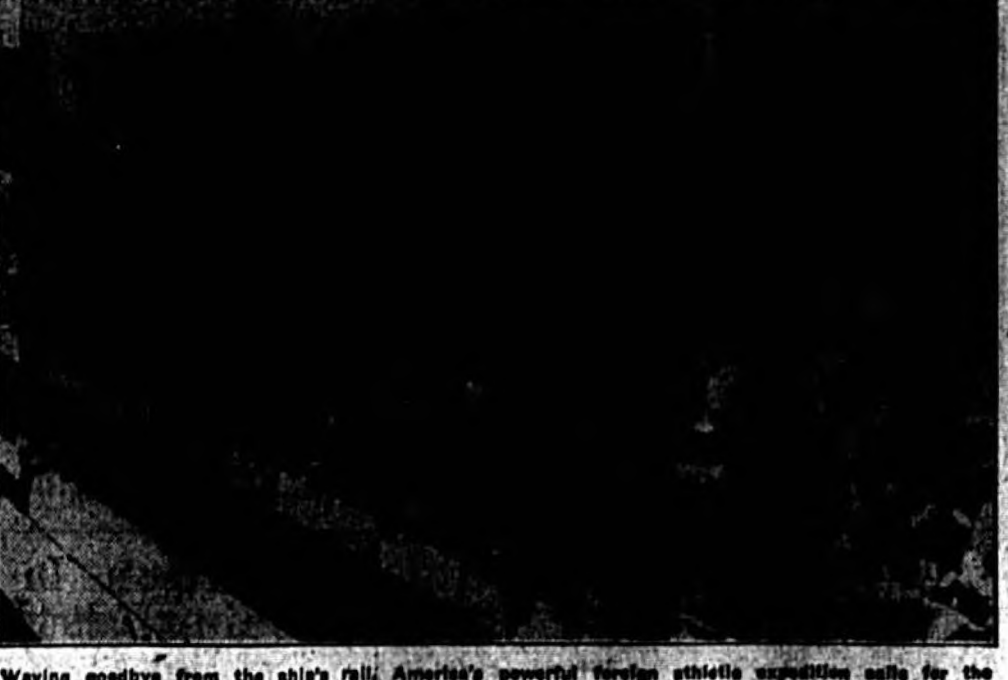

While the heat forced most of the athletes from competing nations to content themselves with light exercises, the squad of Philinos held a lengthy workout in the swimming pool for the benefit of the packed stands. Their performances indicated they have much ground to make up, since the cool wave passed.

Oarsmen from Canada, meantime, loosened their muscles with a practice in the Gruesau, while waiting for the remainder of the Dominion team to arrive.

Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, minister of propaganda, in a proclamation, asked all Berlin residents to hoist Nazi or Olympic flags, or the flags of competing nations, from July 29 to Aug. 20.

"Germany," he declared, "will prepare for the 1936 Olympics as hardly any land did for the games before."

White Sox Take Eight Games On Week's Road Trip

NEW YORK, July 25.—(AP)—In one of the heaviest-hitting and loudest fielding weeks of the current campaign, the Chicago White Sox and Cleveland Indians ran off with nearly all the honors in the big leagues for the seven-day period ended yesterday.

The Sox, with their most impressive show on the road in years, swept the eight games they played, climbed from sixth place to a tie for fourth in the American League, and led both leagues in hitting and run-making with a total of 112 safe hits and 84 tallies crossing the plate.

The Indians, not far behind with one loss against seven victories, pounded out 104 hits and sent 60 runs in. In the National League, the Giants, snapping out of their slump, were the heavy hitters, bagging out 109 safeties and scoring 48 runs.

Their record of five victories against four setbacks, although good enough to pull them out of the second division, was topped by the charging Cubs, who moved into the lead by winning six of their seven games and scoring 48 runs.

Among the first Olympians to arrive, the Aussies were officially welcomed to two brass bands and extended every courtesy. But, when they were taken to their Olympic Village building, there, right on the front, was the word: "Worms."

The leader of the Australian delegation hustled to the British embassy.

Then came the explanations. Every house in the Olympic Village bears the name of some German city.

Worms is a city on the Rhine, made famous by the Diet of 1811, before which Luther declared: "Here I stand; I cannot do otherwise. So help me God, Amen."

Lookouts Play Saints Today In St. Augustine

Rain halted the scheduled game between Sanford and Daytona Beach there yesterday afternoon, and the locals are slated to tangle today with St. Augustine in the Ancient City, returning to play here tomorrow.

Saturday the Lookouts and Islanders started at 5 P. M. to play off a game that had been almost called off by rain. Ten innings were required and then the fracas ended in a 7-7 deadlock.

Jack Hall started for the victors but was yanked in the fourth after giving eight hits and six runs. Two hurlers for Sanford, Mole and Hayes, allowed the league leaders only nine hits between them.

The Lookouts tallied four of their markers in the first inning, two in the second and one in the eighth. Daytona Beach got three in the second, one in the third, two in the fourth and one in the eighth.

Kid Berg Makes American Debut On Wednesday

NEW YORK, July 25.—(AP)—Jackie (Kid) Berg, the latest British state importation, makes his current American bow this week when he clashes with Aldo Spoldi, Italian lightweight champion, in a 10-round bout at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, Wednesday night.

Another outstanding attraction on the week's national boxing program is the 15-round bout at Dallas, in which Patsy Barron of Birmingham, defends his National Boxing Association featherweight championship against Baby Manuel of Miami, also on Wednesday night.

In the Ebbets Field show, Cleto Locatelli, Italian welterweight, meets Jimmy Leto of New England in another 10 rounder on the same card.

Leo Lonaki, the Aberdeen Assassin, makes the first start in his comeback campaign, against Pat Silvers of New York, in an eight-rounder at Chicago, Monday night.

Aussies Worried Over Sign Posted Above Berlin Home

BERLIN, July 25.—(AP)—The word "Worms," printed in large letters on the facade of the Australian team's Olympic Village house, led this protest to the British Ambassador.

But it was just a temporary misunderstanding, and no hard feeling exists now that the assis have explained.

NEW YORK, July 25.—(AP)—Mike Jacobs is considering Max Baer, Jack Sharkey and Al Ettore as possible opponents for Joe Louis when the Brown Bomber hits the comeback trail here next month.

Baer, now packing them in on an exhibition tour of the Southwest, is seeded No. 1 choice, with the acquire of Chestnut Hill in the second spot and Ettore, three-time conqueror of Leroy Haynes, as the other alternative.

Louis and his managers have put their O. K. on all three. It is immaterial to the negro whom he fights. All he wants to do is get back in the ring and show the fans the Schmeling thing was all a mistake.

Clouds Hover Over Part Of Drought Area

The drought had done staggering damage in some states, they said, but it was not nearly as devastating or widespread as the 1934 disaster.

Weather Bureau crop forecaster agreed with the railroad men that a good corn crop was still possible and that fair yields would be made in other crops in some sections.

The result, they said—always counting on moderate to heavy rains—would be that crops would be cut enough to give the farmers as a whole a good price at a good quantity. His income, they went on, would be better than on a market flooded by bumper yields.

Even in the heart of the drought furnace, with thousands of farmers dependent on WPA for a livelihood in the Dakotas, Montana, Wyoming and Minnesota, observers saw hope of saving something from the ruin.

Spring wheat in the fertile Red River Valley in North Dakota and Minnesota—"Nation's bread basket"—was the last to feel drought, scorching breath. The railroad men reported "prospects excellent" in irrigated sections of northern Colorado, Wyoming and Western Nebraska. The winter wheat crop, harvested now, was "better than expected" almost everywhere. In 1934, it was a failure. The rest of the 1936 Spring wheat, however, was gone.

As far as cattle were concerned, C. B. Denman, of Farmington, Mo., president of the National Livestock Marketing Association—500,000 members—said "the drought hasn't been on long enough to force heavy receipts."

Dr. Townsend Walks Out On Suit Hearing

Pension Plan Founder Tells Questioning Lawyer 'It's None Of Your Business'

Gomer Smith To Resign Position

Mid-Western Region Organizer Throws Support To Demos

CLEVELAND, July 21.—(AP)—Dr. Francis Townsend walked out on the deposition hearing on the Townsend Plan today, telling Benjamin Sacharow, attorney conducting the hearing, "It's none of your business."

Sacharow was taking depositions in a suit he filed Friday in behalf of the Rev. Alvin Wright, Cleveland, deposed Townsend, a national vice-president of the movement, seeking their removal and the accounting for more than $1,000,000 in the organization's funds.

When the attorney started to question Townsend, the latter walked out. Sacharow said he would have Townsend cited for contempt.

Dr. Townsend emerged late from a post-convention meeting of the Townsend Board of Directors and named Gomer Smith, of Oklahoma, to resign "in the near future" as a national vice-president and director.

Smith assailed the Rev. Charles C. Coughlin of Detroit, for his criticism of President Roosevelt during the convention and Townsend then demanded Smith's ouster from the old age pension group's ranks.

John J. O'Connell, former secretary of the group, said Townsend's "John J. O'Connell" regional organizer, has resigned and will not resign."

Chief Cleveland estimated the damage to be less than $25. The call was turned in at 8:45 A. M.

Charges of reckless driving lodged against Harry Gray, revealed yesterday in the city of a $10 fine or 10 days in jail. He was arraigned in municipal court before Judge Miller.

Plans for a Coronado Beach picnic Thursday will be given Wednesday night by the Sanford Lions Club during its semi-monthly meeting at 7 P. M. in the Mayfair Hotel.

"Whistlin' Willie" Back On Job In Florida Exhibit

Sanford Negro Played On Major Bowes' Amateur Circuits, Now Attracting Attention In Cleveland

By RUSSELL KAY
CLEVELAND, July 21.—Mayor of you folks remember "Whistlin' Willie," the colored boy who was featured on Major Bowes' program last winter. Well, after making a tour with one of the Major's amateur units, Willie is back among the palms and orange trees again at his old job of bathing the flowers and dusting off the Florida Exhibit.

You remember, when the Major asked Willie what his ambition was, he replied, "Well sub, I guess Major, I'd most like to have me a pair of spats like da gentlemen wear and a sure enough 'white folks' bath tub."

Well, that startling and unexpected answer just about bowled the Major over, the audience howled, and Willie went over like a ton of bricks. For the balance of the time our exhibit was in progress in New York, Willie proved to be an outstanding attraction.

One hundred and thirty-five pairs of spats came to him from generous listeners, while two bathtub manufacturers offered him the best that money could buy in the way of bathtubs. Willie still has the spats and a pea-green, modernistic bathtub that could hold its own in anybody's mansion.

News photographers and camera men have been chokin' away at Willie ever since, while retemperatures rose over the corn belt today with cessation of showers which broke the heat wave and to an extent loosened the grip of the drought.

Forecaster J. R. Lloyd predicted no rain of consequence today or tomorrow in the drought area. Forest fires blazed in Montana, Upper Michigan and Canada. Wind and rain storms early today cut a path through Fort Worth and Dallas, Texas, causing damage estimated at $100,000 to the Texas Centennial Exposition at Dallas.

CHICAGO, July 21.—(AP)—Temperatures rose over the corn belt today with cessation of showers which broke the heat wave and to an extent loosened the grip of the drought.

Forecast J. R. Lloyd predicted no rain of consequence today or tomorrow in the drought area. Forest fires blazed in Montana, Upper Michigan and Canada. Wind and rain storms early today cut a path through Fort Worth and Dallas, Texas, causing damage estimated at $100,000 to the Texas Centennial Exposition at Dallas.

City officialdom today had been invited to Daytona Beach to attend a celebration in connection with observing the city's 60th anniversary and the Chamber of Commerce's 25th birthday next Monday.

The Sanford Lodge 62, F. and A. M. will convene at 8 o'clock tonight to confer the fellowcraft degree on one initiate. All Masons are urged to attend the meeting in Masonic Hall. Refreshments will be served after the ceremonies.

Park Avenue Will Remain Home Region

Commission Says Majority Of Property Owners Could Lift Business House Ban

Until a decided majority of improved and unimproved property owners in the residential district of Park Avenue indicate a desire to open the thoroughfare to business buildings, the avenue will remain as it is today, the City Commission decided last night.

The decision followed presentation of petitions representing two sides of a question, that contingent wishing the street opened and that faction which sought to ban business there.

Controversies were opened two weeks ago when G. W. Spencer asked permission to erect a filling station at the intersection of Park and Thirtieth.

Individuals appeared before the Commission with personal pleas both for and against the proposition.

Mrs. Rhoda B. Ewing, a property owner in the vicinity, pleaded against the "influx of business establishments, pointing out that in another instance a gas station erected near her holdings greatly depreciated the rental value.

On the other hand G. H. Brown said Park Avenue is where the "blood of travel" flows and consequently thought business should be allowed to establish there.

F. E. Bole concurred with Mr. Brown, asserting that the "town must grow." G. A. Speer, Sr., and Morris Spencer were both in favor of lifting the building restriction now existing.

Morris R. Smith declared that "great crimes are sometimes committed in the name of progress," adding that the admission of business sections to Park Avenue might be classed as such.

Ed Lann was against the proposed opening, suggesting that if business is to be extended to the avenue, it should begin at the point where it now halts and pushed out as the demand requires.

Herbert W. Messer handed the Commission a petition disapproving the movement, pointing out that a majority of improved property owners are in opposition.

Last night's meeting was held jointly with members of the City Planning Board who previously had recommended that no permit be granted for the gasoline station.

Col. E. S. Lytle, stationed here with the 124th Infantry of the Florida National Guard, will be transferred to duty in Miami about Aug. 25. It was announced today.

Col. Lytle, a Regular Army officer, explained that there are three units of infantry based in Miami at present which have no regular officer in charge.

The colonel pointed out that he will continue his connections with the 124th Infantry at his new post.

Junior Chamber Seeks To Bring Firemen To City

Will Contact Chiefs In Over 10,000 People

Sanford's Junior Chamber of Commerce last night initiated a movement to bring America's retired firemen here for the winter season.

Arrangements were made to contact fire chiefs in all United States cities boasting a population over 10,000, and to obtain from these department heads names of men, now retired, who have served under them.

No figures were available today on the number which would qualify under the Junior Chamber's proposal, although it was understood to be high.

Officers of the organization pointed out that five retired firemen were winter visitors here last season.

In the United States, it was said, a firemen fund is created to care for department men after a certain period of service.

The Chamber accepted an invitation from Campbell Thurnell, state vice-president in the Central Florida District, to attend a Monday luncheon in Orlando when State President Charles Mitchell of Vero Beach will pay his official visit to this area.

Andrew Carraway, local president, said Mr. Mitchell will make his official call on the Sanford unit Monday afternoon although there will be no assembly of members.

A bench committee consisting of Clyde Ramsey, D. K. McNair and J. H. Truluck today were contacting merchants regarding the placement of benches along the business streets of the city.

Under a proposal advanced sometime ago, business house owners will pay for the seating facilities to be erected in front of their establishments.

U. S. Soil Plan Moves Rapidly, Nears Enactment

New Applications For Participation Arrive By Mails

County Agent C. R. Dawson today began the titanic task of classifying, qualifying and checking data by which more than 50,000 Seminole County farm acres will be included in the federal soil conservation program.

With a stack of work sheets, indication of conservation participation, already on hand, the mails are bringing more daily and adding to the steadily mounting average total.

While the deadline for filing work sheets fell yesterday, Mr. Dawson is still accepting applications and will attempt to get them pushed through the Department of Agriculture under whose jurisdiction the conservation program is being operated.

The plan is designed to rest the soil, according to bulletins which the department publishes. Growers are paid certain cash considerations for planting certain kinds of crops, or for leaving their land vacant for a specified length of time.

Another method by which one may obtain his government payment is through treatment of land with approved chemicals.

As an illustration, Mr. Dawson pointed out that a grower will be paid somewhere in the neighborhood of $60 per acre for omitting the production of celery on any portion of his land up to 15 per cent of the entire area.

In the section where celery is omitted, other kinds of crops may be planted.

On citrus lands the chief conservation method is the application of chemicals to the soil.

Northern Spanish Provinces Fall To Pamplona Rebels

Ruling By High Court Gives City New Bond Angle

Present Debt Service Levy Is Attachable By All Creditors

A Florida Supreme Court ruling of July 15 has developed another twist in the Sanford municipal bond situation according to information which has been placed before the City Commission.

The court, in deciding the case of A. M. Lester against West Palm Beach, held that debt service levies made by any municipality and on its own free will for a specific creditor is attachable by any other creditor.

Locally, the situation is applicable to the holders of 15 percent of this city's bonds who are not represented by the Bondholders' Protective Committee.

This small group is able, under the court decision, to lay legal claim to its pro rata share of the 15-mill levy which the City authorized to meet the obligation in the hands of 85 percent of the bondholders, or those who are represented by the committee.

An agreement with the committee made it possible for the city to levy a 30-mill municipal tax, the proceeds from which are divided equally between the two parties.

It has been pointed out that had the levy been forced by a mandamus, only the party securing the compelling order could claim the revenue.

City Attorney Fred R. Wilson said there had been no move on the part of the minority to attach any part of the levy.

The City Commission last night took the Supreme Court ruling under consideration for study, possibly to determine its course in the future should emergencies arise.

Elton J. Moughton, architect, today had submitted to city officials plans for a $1,000 clubhouse and dressing room proposed for Municipal Athletic Field.

Under the original plan, the building would be 70 feet long and 20 feet wide. Special sports enthusiasts have suggested that the length be increased to 90 feet so that a major league team might be accommodated here.

Proponents of the enlargement move have pointed out that the City is in a possible position to bring a major league club here for spring training year after next provided adequate field facilities are available.

The City Commission last night discussed the proposal to submit the completed plans to the WPA in the near future.

Commissioners found a way by which the City may escape with the least possible cash contribution. They propose to use materials from the city dock building which has been ordered torn down.

Conflicting Reports Confuse Observers Of Morocco Revolt

Copyright 1936 by the Associated Press

VERA, Spain, July 21.—All of Navarre and Guipuzcoa provinces of Northern Spain, including the City of San Sebastian were reported today to have fallen into the hands of rebels from Pamplona.

Reports from Perpignan, France, said a bitter conflict between rebel soldiers and loyal government forces in Barcelona left at least 300 dead. Government planes bombed the city, reports said, but the rebels continued to fight.

French correspondents who reached Bordeaux, France, from the scene of the rebellion said the northern rebel army had advanced to a point only 35 miles from Madrid, capital of Spain.

Conflicting reports on the activities of loyal troops and the rebels and the rigid censorship imposed on news made it difficult to determine who actually is winning.

The government radio announced repeatedly it is in command of the situation but sources outside the capital told of rebel gains in many places following the opening of the revolt in Spanish Morocco Friday.

MADRID, July 21.—(AP)—Armed masses of peasants and workers concentrated in five marching columns today and thrust toward rebel strongholds while thousands of civilian militiamen formed a cordon which circled around Madrid.

Mr. Dentzel, Mrs. Lingle's father, received minor bruises and scratches. Sunny Lingle, 7-year-old son of the injured woman, escaped with no injuries.

Mr. Lingle left late yesterday for the scene of the accident. He was accompanied by Max Stewart, local insurance representative, Ralph Wright, Sanford automobile dealer, also made the trip.

Word of the crash was received by Chase and Company with which Mr. Lingle is affiliated. Details as to how the mishap occurred were lacking today.
