He declared that he was impressed by this spirit of "fair play" by the "old timers" and pointed out that "in the general run of things people nowadays reach out to grab." He asked co-operation of the pioneers in determining policies for the next session of the State Legislature, and paid tribute to their "rugged individualism" which, he stated, had made this country great.

Toni Russe Sings In introducing Judge Stenstrom Mr. Evans pointed out that Isaac Terwilleger and the Judge's grand-father, N. J. Stenstrom, were competitors in the milk and vegetable business in Sanford about 85 years ago.

Judge Stenstrom declared that he represented the business men; and farmers of Seminole County when he paid tribute to the pio neers whose efforts had made the! county prosper, "We realize and recognize our heritage and will carry on to build a better Seminole County," he said. He revealed that his paternal grandfather had come here from Sweden and raised 10 children; that his father had spent his life in this county, and expressed the wish to spend hi own declining years here.

Mr. Housholder spoke of the "golden age" when youth is passed, when the individual no longer seeks to strive for self alone, but seeks to do something for mankind. "In that, we get the peace of mind that God intended," he asserted. In humorous vein, he told of filibusters in the U. S. Senate 1.50 - 5.00 State Farmers Market and declared that he was thinking of making a speech before the State Legislature which he once served, with the idea to "stop all speeches."

Mrs. James Smith, 80, daughter of the late Isane Terwilleger, a pioneer of Seminole County, delared that her father shipped the first celery grown in 1897 and revealed that she had helped in the planting of it during the Fall of 1896. The celery was grown on farm located on the north side of West First Street just west of the stone bridge over the creek. Mr. Terwilleger and A. C. Harrold originated the sub-irrigation system now in use in the county,

Fred R. Wilson told the pioneers that he joined them in being happy on that occasion and stated that the people of Seminole County hold all of its pioneers, past and present, in loving memory.

ments, in collusion with the gov-ernment of Russia, are not imple-menting the military clauses of the peace treatly."

The three treatles were to be supervised by the Allied Powers for a period of 18 months, which ended yesterday, McNeil said during that period there have been "violations of the human rights, military and seconds. rights, military and economic clauses by all three ex-enemy countries."

The British minister said Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin "assures the house that we fully; maintain our rights to invoke the treaty machinery at any time in the future."

Treaty provisions allow Hungary an army of 65,000 and a 5,000-man air force of 90 planes. Bulgaria is allowed a 55,000-man army, 1,800 men for antiaircraft defense, 5,200 airmen with 00 planes, and 3,000 seamen with 7,250 tons of shipping. Romaina was to have 120,000 land troops, 5,000 airmen manning 150 planes, and 5,000 seamen for a 25,000-ton favy. None was to have heavy

"Whenever Britain or the United States has attempted to invoke the peace treaty by calling a meeting of representatives of the three Allied Powers with a view to concerting action, the Soviet representative has refused to attend," McNeell said, All three treaties guaranteed freedom of religion, press, speech and public meetings to all persons.

Denmark, Iceland, Italy And Portugal To Enter Pact To Curb Aggression

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS Four more nations were expected today to line up under the North Atlantic Defense Alliance, details of which will finally be made public

Denmark, Iceland, Portugal and Italy were invited today to join the United States and seven other nations in the pact--a treaty designed to curb aggression.

Inclusion of Italy would be a triumph for France and the United States. Britain, abbetted by Canada and the low countries, has object-ed that Italy's entry might extend the alliance too far southward and expose the members to unnees-sary risk.

The American and British governments contended that Italy's pro-Western outlook and her strutegic position make it necessary to include her. In Rome, Communist members of the Chamber of Deputies held up a vote on the treaty with so all-night talking marathon.
